

Overwhelmed 147

Chapter 147 Strangers

"Are you done?!" Candice asked abruptly.

It came to a point where she realized how absurd she was being. She shouldn't have sat in the car listening to him disrespect her like that!

The fact that she had loved him and then seen that love trampled upon by him was the single worst mistake she had ever made.

Honestly, he left her feeling cheap.

There was no better word to describe it other than that; cheap!

Her affection for him was cheap in his eyes. Finally, he expressed his innermost thoughts.

She continued to pursue him, which made her come out as cheap.