

Overwhelmed 226

Chapter 226 Shackle Of Love

Candice got up and walked to the Hope Law Firm.

She drank her coffee on her way there.

She was uncharacteristically calm after her last phone conversation with Greyson. It seemed that this time, she truly had shed all her feelings for him.

Candice had loved Greyson for a span of ten years. She was devastated when they divorced the day after their wedding. But now, she was totally unbothered. She didn't feel anything anymore every time she interacted with him.

It seemed that her feelings for Greyson weren't infallible after all.

She didn't even know when she'd started losing all interest in him.
