

Overwhelmed 48

Chapter 48 Taking Off Her Clothes

At the office.

An unusual tension hung in the air.

Pressing the print button, Raul waited for the printer to work its magic.

Without delay, the printer spat out the contract.

Handing it to Milton, Raul announced, "The electronic version of the contract has been signed and sealed."

Milton didn't hesitate to sign his name as soon as he had the document in his hand.

Once both parties had signed, the contract was officially in effect.

Candice felt helpless, knowing that there was no room for her to protest.