

Overwhelmed 54

Chapter 54 Too Bold

In that moment, Candice was barely conscious.

But she still tried to avoid touching Milton since she knew he couldn't stand it.

So she changed the direction of her fall and was about to fall to the floor.

To her surprise, a pair of warm arms caught her just in time.

Her head was spinning. She was dizzier and felt uneasy as her face turned red.

She realized that the drink she had earlier was much stronger than she had anticipated.

Candice's feet were unsteady. She knew she shouldn't hold Milton for long.

But she had no other option but to cling to him tightly.
