

Overwhelmed 76

Chapter 76 Broke

The lights were shining in the hall.

A man walked onto the stage, filling everyone's eyes with excitement.

Once again, the crowd erupted in whispers.

All sorts of expressions of disappointment echoed in the room.

"No, that's not him."

"Who is he?"

"I don't know. Why is he onstage? Hasn't Mr. Lopez arrived yet?"

The man said through the microphone, "Good evening, ladies and gentlemen. Thank you for attending the homecoming tonight. Mr. Milton Lopez has asked me to deliver a speech on his behalf."

The man took out a piece of paper and began reading off it.