

Overwhelmed 9

Chapter 9 Now You Are Even

After leaving the police station, Candice returned to the Harman family's house to pack her belongings.

When she entered the house, she found that Rachel had already thrown all her things out of her room and onto the aisle.

It was a mess.

She scoffed as she squatted down, collecting her things one by one and packing them up.

Although she exposed Madilyn's act tonight, she didn't think it would help improve her situation.

Since she escaped, there was no way to prove what those hooligans had done to her.
