

Pampered By My Mr. Lawyer (Benjamin and Madelyn)

Chapter 10 Many People Were Obsessed With Madelyn

Chapter 10 Many People Liked Madelyn

Madelyn was fully occupied in the days that followed.

She met Owen, who was perfectly capable. After only a few meetings with her, he got everything clear in his head.

In the spacious and bright office, Owen read Madelyn's materials carefully and smiled gently. "You are referred by Benjamin, so I'm not hiding anything from you. Put it a bit more optimistically, the sentence can be reduced to two years."

Madelyn had mixed feelings.

Owen sat idly with his arms crossed and smiled again. "Benjamin has asked for my help. But why didn't he work on this case on his own? If he deals with this case, there's a good chance he will get this overturned, and the defendant will most likely be found innocent."

Madelyn was too ashamed to talk about this, so she made up an excuse. "Maybe Mr. Clark is not available."

Owen smiled but didn't say anything.

He politely walked Madelyn to the door, which Madelyn appreciated, but she knew the courtesy she received here was all for Benjamin's fake.

Exiting the elevator, Madelyn was about to take a cab home.

"Madelyn," someone called out to her.

Madelyn turned around and saw David, sort of her acquaintance.

David and Daniel grew up together. And David started his own trading company at a young age. When Madelyn and Daniel were dating back then, she had seen David at parties a few times.

David walked up to her and casually asked, "Are you here for business?"

Madelyn was not hiding anything. "I'm here to see Owen."

David laughed. "My dad."

Madelyn was stunned.

Was... David the son of Mr. James?

David was tall and good-looking. As a cool and masculine young man, he was exactly the type of older, strong, and independent woman. He said to Madelyn, "Madelyn, how about I buy you dinner? You're my acquaintance, and I will do whatever I can to help you."

Madelyn hesitated a little bit before she agreed.

David drove the car over.

It was a red Ferrari, and it was flashy. He said in the car, "No girl has ever been in my car before. Madelyn, you are the first one."

Madelyn always felt that David was flaky!

He was overly enthusiastic!

They had only met a few times and rarely talked.

Anyway, Madelyn didn't want to offend Owen's son, so she got in the car.

After she fastened her seat belt, David asked, "What would you like to eat?"

Madelyn was not fussy, saying, "Thai food!"

David stepped on the gas.

In the car, Madelyn hardly spoke and couldn't stop thinking about the details of the lawsuit.

David didn't bother her.

He just gazed at her at a stoplight.

He had always had a thing for Madelyn, but no one knew about it.

Daniel was even ignorant of it. Daniel didn't even know that the ex-girlfriend he dumped was coveted by quite a few people. If it weren't for Daniel, there would be a lot of people out there courting her!

Half an hour later, David drove his car to a Thai food restaurant.

There were a lot of customers because the food here was delicious.

David got a window seat. When it came to ordering the food, Madelyn volunteered, "My treat!"

David laughed, "I can't believe you take the initiative to reach for the bill, Madelyn."

Madelyn knew he was kidding and said while ordering, "David, don't make fun of me. Treating you to dinner is not that big of a deal."

David reined it in a little.

Madelyn invited him for a meal solely for the sake of his father. He had a little self-knowledge at least.

He looked for a chance to hit on her again.

Just then, a stunning couple walked into the door.

The man was handsome, and the woman was beautiful.

It was none other than Daniel and Eloise.

Madelyn also saw them. She immediately shielded her face with the menu, thinking that things indeed became ridiculous when she encountered David!

David, however, was afraid that Daniel could not see him.

He took the initiative to say hello, "Daniel."

Daniel saw him and was about to speak, but his eyes glazed over. Even though the lady sitting across from David hid her face, Daniel immediately recognized her as Madelyn.

Daniel frowned. Why was Madelyn here with David?

David was kind enough to explain to Daniel, "Madelyn asked my dad to help her with her case. And I'm just asking her about it."

Men were perceptive. David just said a few words, but Daniel was able to guess what was on his mind.

David took a fancy to Madelyn. He was declaring war on Daniel!

Daniel snickered. "David, are you really that nice?"

He spoke to Madelyn then, "If you believe him, you will get fooled."

An intuitive sense of the female creature unsettled Eloise. She asked, "Daniel, you know her?"
