

Pampered By My Mr. Lawyer (Benjamin and Madelyn)

Chapter 14 Ms. Green, Are You Short of Money

Chapter 14 Ms. Green, Are You Short of Money?

Daniel was cruel and had no mercy on the Green family.

In just two days, all property of the Green family was frozen, including two buildings and the stocks in the name of Madelyn's father.

Daniel was sure that Madelyn couldn't last long!

The court came to seize it, and Camila was so angry that she was sent to the hospital and given an IV drip. When she woke up, she was still not satisfied, so she went to Daniel's company to make trouble.

But Daniel was not what he used to be. Camila had been making trouble for a long time but saw nobody, and she was almost sent to the police station.

Madelyn coaxed Camila and brought her back to the hospital.

Camila lay on the sickbed and said worriedly, "It doesn't matter that we are homeless, but your father still needs a lot of money to deal with the problem. Although Mr. James is an acquaintance, we still have to pay back the money we owed him!"

Madelyn comforted her softly, "I will find a solution for the money matter."

Camila felt sorry for her. She gave Madelyn a bankbook in the afternoon, which contained around 150 thousand dollars of her private saving.

Madelyn knew that it was Camila's pension money.

She clenched the bankbook and choked slightly: "I'll take it first, and later..."

Camila interrupted her, "I still have a small apartment in the outer suburbs. Although it's old, it's okay to live in. Madelyn... You must do your best to help your father in the lawsuit."

Madelyn nodded.

After Camila was discharged from the hospital, Madelyn brought her into the temporary rented house.

The house was in an old neighborhood. The 645-square-foot house had two small rooms, and the decoration was so simple that it could not be compared with the former high-end house.

After turning around, Camila settled down.

Madelyn felt so sorry that she asked Vivian to get her two part-time jobs.

However, Vivian did not agree and said, "You have already needed to work many hours, and you want to have two more jobs. Do you want to kill yourself?"

Madelyn insisted, "I'm fine."

Vivian guessed that she needed a lot of money, so she had to get her the jobs and additionally lent Madelyn all the private savings she had saved.

Madelyn kept her kindness in mind.

She went to the restaurant for a part-time job every day after work. Although she was a bit tired, she could get 75 dollars per hour.

She was good-looking and played the piano well, so the manager was willing to hire her.

It was in this restaurant that Benjamin and Madelyn met again.

Benjamin did not dine alone. He was with a very attractive woman. They seemed to be working together but with a little intimacy.

Madelyn was not surprised as such a good man like Benjamin would not lack women around him.

She had the self-knowledge that she and Benjamin were different kinds of people, so she chose not to disturb him even when she met him, and just nodded her head when she bumped into him in the bathroom and said, "Mr. Clark."

Benjamin was smoking in the smoking area, and he frowned when he saw Madelyn.

He found she had lost a lot of weight.

Her chin was pointed. Although it looked pretty, he felt like he could break it with a pinch.

Benjamin knew that the training center Madelyn worked for was very high-end, and it didn't allow teachers to moonlight outside.

He slowly exhaled a wreath of smoke.

The smoke diffused between each other. He dusted off the ashes and said, "Ms. Green, are you short of money?"

Madelyn was stunned.

She did not expect Benjamin to be willing to condescend to speak with her, and only after a moment of stagnation did she say softly, "Yes, I am quite short of money."

Benjamin immediately figured out it was because of Daniel.

He didn't grumble for Madelyn but only took a glance over her body gently.

Though Benjamin was picky, he had to admit that if Madelyn wanted to earn money quickly, it was actually very easy for her. She was not only good-looking but also gentle as she looked like a cub when she kissed and made out.

No man would not like her!

Benjamin was surprised that she could endure hardships and do a part-time job.

But Mr. Clark was respectful of women. He gently nodded and looked very captivating.

Knowing that he was letting her go, Madelyn hurried into the bathroom.

When she came out, Benjamin was no longer there, and the beautiful woman who came with him also left.

Madelyn thought that Mr. Clark should have an indulgent night.
