

Pampered By My Mr. Lawyer (Benjamin and Madelyn)

Chapter 25 He Seemed To Regret

Chapter 25 He Seemed To Regret

Daniel did not leave right away.

When Madelyn was pressed on the hospital bed by Benjamin and kissed, he was outside.

Daniel had seen how Madelyn looked like when she was kissing. His body was tense because of anger, like a fully drawn bowstring, ready to break at any time.

Finally...

When Madelyn couldn't help making a slight sound, Daniel couldn't bear it and punched the wall on the opposite.

Blood splattered everywhere.

Daniel's palm was dripping with blood.

But he didn't seem to be in pain, and he was just standing there with a sullen face.

For a moment, Daniel wanted to rush into the ward, and take Madelyn away while Benjamin was at present. But Daniel was aware that as soon as he stepped in, his engagement with Eloise would be void immediately.

What he had strived for so long would come to nothing in an instant!

Daniel left suddenly, and he drove to a nearly-new neighborhood.

He had lived here for two years, and the security guard still remembered him. When he drove in, the security guard warmly greeted him, "Welcome back, Mr. Campbell!"

Daniel nodded expressionlessly.

He went upstairs and opened a door. The apartment, which was about 80 square meters, reminded him of all the memories with Madelyn.

At that time, the Campbell Group was on the verge of bankruptcy, and all the members of the Campbell family were crowded in this old house. Even Gabriella, who used to be noble, had to bargain to buy some cheap and rotten vegetables in the vegetable market, let alone living a privileged life...

They had a tough time and struggled to live at that time.

In order to protect his self-esteem, Madelyn often came over to cook for him, and helped him time and again.

She was so silly!

She thought Daniel loved her, but in fact, he had been taking advantage of her all the time.

Madelyn had never figured out the truth!

Until now, Madelyn still believed that Samuel was in trouble due to her. She never knew that Samuel was just the scapegoat chosen by Daniel a few years ago, and that she herself was just a tool for him to gain Samuel's trust.

She was so stupid as a tool that in the end Daniel was unwilling to let her go.

Well, even if he managed to get what he wanted, where could he find such a silly woman who just loved him?

He wanted to keep her with him!

Then she could cook for him, rub his forehead when he was tired, or maybe he would allow her to have his baby!

Even if it would be more troublesome to find someone else to replace Samuel!

Daniel went to the balcony and took out a cigarette to puff slowly. After finishing about 4 or 5 cigarettes, he called the secretary.

"Is there anything wrong with Samuel? Is it the case acted by Mr. James?"

The secretary nodded and said yes.

Daniel spoke a few words expressionlessly.

The secretary was shocked.

She had been with Daniel for a long time and knew the relationship between Madelyn and him, so she couldn't help interceding for Madelyn at the moment, "Mr. Campbell, Ms. Green... Anyway..."

Daniel said coldly, "Just do as I said! Make sure to settle all the matter once and for all."

The secretary was silent for a moment and said yes.

Just then, there was a call from Eloise. Daniel was upset and didn't want to answer it, but Eloise kept calling. Finally, he picked it up.

"Daniel, where have you been?"

"My hands hurt so much. Can you come over and apply medicine for me?"

"My parents will come over tomorrow. Maybe they will discuss the date of marriage. Why not ask your mum to come over?"

Daniel's mind was occupied by the image of Madelyn, who was kissed by Benjamin, which made his whole body numb. Eloise was pushing him so hard that he had to reply, "I see."

After hanging up, he decided to let it go at that!

Once men became powerful, they would get what they wanted! Even after 20 years, he would not regret the decision he made today.
