Chapter 31 May the Match of Bitch and Scumbag Last Forever

Penelope was exasperated at Madelyn's concession.

She heaved out a long breath and said, "Do you know what it means if you leave the Music Center? Do you know how many quality students you have? And that many people are eager to snatch them from you?"

Madelyn knew it all.

But what could she do? She could only choke out her apology to Penelope who had provided guidance and help to her during work.

Penelope felt very fretful.

She lit a long female cigarette, looked up at Madelyn after smoking half of the cigarette, and asked, "Madelyn, did you offend anyone?"

Madelyn nodded with a heavy heart.

She knew that Elizabeth wouldn't be able to cause such great trouble to her, and the person behind all this must be Daniel! She was really curious about what other means Daniel would resort to forcing her to submit.

But now, she could finally tread on Madelyn!

Elizabeth said complacently, "Do you know why Daniel didn't touch you, Madelyn? It was because you're too reserved and boring, just like a block of wood. Men would lose their desire when they glance at you."

Madelyn looked down at the ground and said with a sneer, "Then I wish your relationship with Daniel last forever."

With that, she pushed away Elizabeth with great force and strode out of the office.

Elizabeth became so furious. But soon she became complacent again. Madelyn's family had gone bankrupt and her career had been ruined. She was just as miserable as a disowned dog. What else does she have to deserve her jealousy?

Elizabeth sat down in a good mood and sent out a message.

[Elizabeth] I bought a silk nightdress. Would you like to come to my house to have a look?

Daniel only replied to her message two hours later. And his message was cold-toned.

[Daniel] I've been very busy recently. Don't message me if there isn't an emergency.

Elizabeth felt a bit aggrieved, but at the same time, she also felt a bit sweet. She believed that she could grasp Daniel's heart. And she believed that Daniel was just making use of Eloise and that only she herself could win Daniel's heart.

Chapter 32 How Dare He Force You to Come Back to Him

Madelyn lost her job. But she didn't tell Camila about it for the time being as she didn't want the latter to worry about her.

She sat on a bench in the park alone and got lost in her thoughts.

The sunshine was perfect, but Madelyn felt very cold.

She checked the financial statement of her family and found that they would have little money left as they had to pay a large sum to Owen soon and they needed to spend some money on improving her father's life in prison.

Madelyn pulled out a thin necklace that was decorated with a light-pink diamond from under her shirt.

She caressed it for a long while in a dilemma. In the end, she still made up her mind and came to a pawn shop. The manager of the shop studied the necklace for a long while and said, "I can only give you sixty thousand it the pawn is redeemable. But if you choose to make the pawn irredeemable, I can give you more. How about two hundred thousand?"

The pink diamond was worth at least five hundred thousand dollars, but Madelyn couldn't care about it now.

She needed money!

Madelyn said with a bitter smile, "Irredeemable, please."

After a long while, she said in a trembling voice, "Hey, why didn't you discuss it with me? It's the only thing that your mother left to you. And you'd never taken it down since childhood."

Madelyn patted the back of her hand. But when she was about to say something to comfort Vivian, her phone which was put on the desk rang.

It was from the manager of the restaurant where Madelyn was a part-time worker.

Madelyn answered the call. The manager said something, and then Madelyn slowly put down her phone and said to Vivian, "I was dismissed by the restaurant."

Vivian was furious.

She snapped, "Daniel did it, right? Why is he still pestering you? Madelyn, go, let's go to find him. I must seek justice for you. That son of bitch has deceived you for four years, and now he's trying all means to force you. Will he only feel satisfied until you die?"

Madelyn stopped Vivian.

She begged Vivian not to go to find Daniel because she knew that Daniel did all this to force her to surrender. He wanted her to be his mistress!

Vivian cried and cursed, "How could Daniel treat you like that? He was engaged with Eloise and had an affair with that bitch, Elizabeth. He's so dirty. How dare he ask you to come back to him?"

Madelyn begged Vivian not to go there because she knew Daniel did all those things to force her to be his mistress.

Vivian was so angry that she cried out. "How could Daniel treat you like that? He not only engaged with the other woman but also had an affair with that bitch Elizabeth. He's so filthy. What qualification does he have to ask you to come back to him?"

Chapter 33 Madelyn, I Want You to Beg Me

Madelyn slightly looked down and pointed out, "He did that because of his self-esteem."

Daniel didn't love him.

It was just that he couldn't accept the humiliation of the fact that he had to rely on the Clark family, so he wanted to regain his self-esteem from other aspects. Therefore, he accurately targeted Madelyn, a woman who once loved him deeply.

Vivian felt sadder. She hugged Madelyn and said, "Just ignore him. He must have schizophrenia!"

Madelyn replied gently.

She had made up her mind in her heart. She decided to leave Gredax with Camila and her father when her father was discharged from prison and to live in the other place. However, she still felt guilty and sad. Because of her love affair, her father was jailed and Camila, who was in her later years, had to wander from place to place.

Vivian comforted for a long while. Later, she left first as she had to deal with some matters.

A worse situation was waiting for Madelyn. Daniel didn't intend to let her off. The employers of Madelyn's part-time jobs called her one by one and terminated their contract with her. Madelyn only nodded dully.

His secretary was a bit surprised and then hurriedly brought Elizabeth over.

Elizabeth had deliberately dressed up. Her tight dress outlined her sexy figure. She threw herself into Daniel's arms as soon as she entered the office and asked thoughtfully, "What's wrong with you? You look upset. And you said you were busy when I asked you to come to my house."

Daniel grasped her gracile neck, lowered his head, and began to kiss her.

His kiss was skilled and wild and it soon made Elizabeth's body soften. She couldn't help but kiss him back... The office was soon filled with their erotic moans.

When Daniel was turned on, he gently pulled Elizabeth's long hair and murmured as if she was his lover, "Did you tell Madelyn about our affair?"

Elizabeth had been caught in desire. She moaned defenselessly, "Daniel, why did you mention you? Let's go on..."

"Seems like it's true." Daniel leaned toward her cheek and gently bit it.

Elizabeth was a bit stunned.

She finally perceived Daniel's abnormality. He was very different from his usual self, but she couldn't tell what the difference was.

When Elizabeth was absent-minded, she felt a sharp pang from her scalp.

Pulling her hair, Daniel threw her out with great force. In an instant, her forehead hit the cold corner of the table and immediately bled...

Chapter 34 Daniel, You Love Her

Elizabeth was perplexed.

But Daniel didn't pity her at all. He pulled her black hair again and forced her to look at him. Then he said in an extremely cold voice, "Do you know the consequence of talking nonsense?"

Though Elizabeth felt great pain, she was more overwhelmed with panic. She finally realized why Daniel was so angry.

He didn't want their affair to be known by Madelyn!

Elizabeth didn't want to believe this. She couldn't help but mumbled, "You don't love her, do you?"

"Yes, I don't love her!" Daniel's smile became colder as he continued, "But who do you think you are? Are you qualified to involve in our affair?"

Elizabeth laughed and then cried.

The blood mixed with her tears, screwing up her delicate make-up and making her look horrifying.

She said with a light chuckle, "Daniel, you love her!"

"No, I don't."

Madelyn didn't know how to reply to the message.

She had decided to leave Gredax, so naturally, she wouldn't have any entanglement with Benjamin anymore. Moreover, she was not an easy girl...

After hesitating for a long while, she finally replied to him.

[Madelyn] Mr. Hawkins, thank you for your help during this period.

It was a simple sentence and he could immediately understand what she meant at a glance. She didn't want to have any ambiguous relationship with him anymore. Benjamin was a smart man, so he must be able to understand.

As she had expected, Benjamin didn't reply to her message anymore.

This was the result that Madelyn wanted. However, she felt a bit disappointed after making everything clear with him. She couldn't help but begin to think if it would end differently if she and Benjamin got to know each other by other means.

Then she mocked herself for thinking too much.

How would a man who had an outstanding family background like Benjamin have a future with her? They could have a one-night stand at most.

Madelyn didn't sleep well that night. But she had to wake up early the next morning as she was afraid that Camila would have doubts.

Just as she had washed herself, the door of her bedroom was opened. Camila, who had a pale face with her lips trembling uncontrollably, spoke, "Madelyn, your father committed suicide in prison!"

Chapter 35 Driven to Desperation

Madelyn froze.

Camila's face was pale as she said again, "Your father committed suicide in the jail! He's been saved, but is in bad condition! Madelyn, please, I beg you to think of a way to let me see him! His health has always been poor, and this blow is too big!"

Camila covered her face and cried out.

Madelyn's mind was in turmoil. She couldn't believe that her father, a man of iron will, would commit suicide, as he was perfectly fine when she saw him the other day! She called Owen at once, asking him to help them see Samuel.

At the same time, Owen had also received the news and was about to discuss it with Madelyn, so he asked her to come to the law firm to talk.

Madelyn comforted Camila with this news, and the two of them hurried to the law firm even without eating breakfast.

Mr. James looked serious.

He made several phone calls in front of Madelyn and Camila, and then shook his head, "He's fine, but he can't be released on bail. He has to be treated inside."

Thinking of her relationship with David, Owen tactfully said a few more, "Ms. Green, since your father's case involves the Campbell family, you... could you approach Mr. Campbell and see if there's any room for negotiation?"

Madelyn suddenly remembered something and ran to the elevator, frantically pressing the elevator button... When she got in the elevator, her whole body trembled.

Camila... don't do anything stupid!

Don't...

Madelyn was ultimately too slow. When she arrived at the president's office of the Campbell Group, it was a mess.

Daniel leaned against the redwood desk, covering his stomach with both hands and blood continuously oozing through his fingers.

The scene was shocking!

Camila held a fruit knife tightly in her hand, and she looked like she was in a trance and spoke unintelligibly.

Madelyn's voice trembled as she called out, "Camila!"

Camila's gaze was fixed, and she murmured, "I killed Daniel. He won't harm Samuel or you anymore... Madelyn, I told you he wasn't suitable for you."

Madelyn's face was full of tears.

She gently hugged Camila and choked, "Camila, don't be afraid... I'm here!"

Daniel held his wound, and blood kept dripping down. The secretary wanted help him with the wound, but he pushed her away and asked Madelyn word by word, "Can't you see that I'm bleeding? Madelyn, you don't care if I die or not, do you?"

Chapter36 Kneeling Down and Begging! Mr. Campbell, I Beg Your Mercy

Madelyn's eyes looked hollow.

She looked at the man she once loved and felt very strange. She even wondered if she really knew him at all.

Otherwise, how could he be so cruel!

Camila didn't even dare to kill a chicken, how could she dare to wield a knife? Clearly, Daniel used words to provoke and set her up!

Madelyn spoke softly, "Mr. Campbell, I beg you to let me go, please?"

Daniel was about to say something when Madelyn knelt in front of him... Camila regained some consciousness at that moment, making strange sounds as if she wanted to stop her.

Madelyn refused to stand up, kneeling straight up. Her eyes were full of tears, making her already clear eyes even brighter. She trembled as she spoke, "Mr.Campbell, I was young and foolish when I was in love with you. I was ignorant and kept bothering you... in view of our getting along well before, could you please spare my father and Ms. Logan? Please, I cry your mercy"

Seeing that Madelyn was so humble, Camila cried out in pain.

Coming to her senses, She cried and apologized to Madelyn, wanting to pull her up.

Camila struggled desperately to fight him to the death.

Daniel let go of Madelyn and had security restrain Camila. He coldly said, "Call the police and say this Ms. Logan assaulted me and intentionally injured me!"

Madelyn grabbed his hand.

But Daniel shook her hand off and licked the blood from his lips. "Madelyn, you really made me mad!"

...

In the distance, the sound of police sirens grew louder.

Madelyn's delicate face turned pale.

Daniel won. He was despicable and shameless. He was a beast!

Madelyn closed her eyes and then opened them again, softly saying, "Please don't be angry, I apologize to you on behalf of Camila."

Daniel sat slowly on the sofa and reached out his hand towards Madelyn.

Madelyn's hand was stained with Daniel's blood. She gently...gently raised her hand and slowly handed it to Daniel.

Chapter 37 Go to My Villa Tomorrow Night, OK?

With tears and blood in her mouth, Camila struggled frantically.

"Madelyn, you can't be with this beast!"

"How am I supposed to tell your father?"

Outside the door were footsteps heard, and a few uniformed people came in.

Camila was stunned for a moment, then she started screaming, "I hurt Daniel, arrest me! Take me away...I'm willing to go to jail for a lifetime! Don't touch Madelyn ...Daniel, please don't touch her!"

Camila knelt down with her head in her arms.

She hated herself for being useless and impulsive, and even more so for easily getting angry at Daniel and dragging Madelyn into this mess.

This scene surprised the people who came in.

They looked at Daniel and said, "Mr. Campell, this is..." Daniel gently held onto Madelyn's hand and forcefully pulled her to sit by his side. Madelyn was trembling all over.

He was somewhat displeased. Was she really that afraid of him?

But since Madelyn had eased up, he naturally had to give her some benefits. So Daniel casually said, holding his stomach with a tissue, "It was too chaotic just now. I may have accidentally injured myself, but our company has surveillance footage. Although there were some malfunctions, it can be repaired in a few days, and I will provide the complete video at that time."

The visitors knew what was really going on: just a love triangle!

They asked a few more questions at random and quickly left.

Camila was still distraught. Madelyn whispered, "Ms. Camila, you go take a shower. I'll make some food."

As she spoke, her arm was suddenly grabbed tightly. Camila said in a stern voice, "Madelyn, I forbid you from seeing that beast!"

Madelyn lowered her eyes.

If she didn't go...what could she do? Only to watch her father suffer and let Ms. Camila go to jail?

No, She had no other choice.

Not going to tell Camila, Madelyn planned to solve everything and send the elderly couple away, and then...it would be her and Daniel's matter!

--Daniel, it's because of you that I've come this far!

Madelyn lied to Camila, saying that she would find Mr. James to find a solution or see if Vivian had any connections. With her repeated promises, Camila felt a little relieved.

At a private hospital in Gradex.

Daniel finished treating his wound and was admitted to the ward. He changed into a loose hospital gown and had rounds of gauze wrapped around his waist.

Even so, he was still discussing business matters with his assistant.

Eloise came over.

Her eyes were red, "Daniel, who hurt you?"

Daniel couldn't say he injured himself on purpose, and he didn't want Eloise to hear Madelyn's name. So he made up a random reason, which Eloise believed and was worried sick.

Her concern was genuine, but looking at her, Daniel thought of Madelyn. In the past, Madelyn had loved him just as passionately, but today even though he was injured like this, she didn't show any worry for him or shed a tear.

Chapter 38 Benjamin Is Coming Back

Daniel felt a little downhearted.

He was leaning against the headboard, enjoying the care of his fiancée who was feeding him and serving him water... not spoiled or difficult to deal with at all!

Eloise was such a beauty, and Daniel was not a man who would sacrifice his own desires.

He told his subordinates to leave and pressed down on her body ...

With blushing cheeks, Eloise touched his chest with her slender fingers and softly said, "Get up! You are injured, and you need rest."

Daniel's gaze was intense and piercing.

It made her shiver.

Soon, in the private ward, they were hot for each other, and Daniel was very passionate. The sex ended after two hours. After the affair, Eloise, lying shyly in his arms, asked, "What's up?"

Feeling a little listless, Daniel replied, "Nothing! I just missed you."

Eloise gave him a kiss.

She leaned closer to him and said with her breath on his neck, "My brother is coming back in a few days, and I'm going to invite you over for dinner. There are several projects of my brother's company that are suitable for you. You should make a good impression on him then!"

Benjamin said with a bitter smile, "You are still making fun of me at this point?"

After hanging up, Benjamin immediately asked Paisley to book a flight for tonight, while Paisley was surprised and said, "Mr. Clark, there is a court hearing tomorrow morning."

The court hearing...

Suddenly, Benjamin realized that he had completely forgotten about it.

He had been working on this case for a month and the judgment would be delivered in the court trial tomorrow. He couldn't just leave now.

After thinking for a while, he wrote a note to Paisley.

"Fly to Gredax tomorrow morning and find Ms. Green. Here's her address and phone number. Ask her to call me!"

Paisley had met Madelyn before, so she said with a smile, "Ms. Green is very beautiful!"

Benjamin gave her a glance.

Paisley didn't dare to say anything else.

Paisley quickly left, and Benjamin continued to prepare the materials required for tomorrow's trial, but he kept trying to call Madelyn every one or two hours. However, he still couldn't get through to her even late into the night.

Finally, in the mid night, he booked a flight ticket to Gredax the next afternoon.

Chapter 39 Benjamin Is Coming Back II

Things didn't go as planned. Paisley's flight was delayed due to the plane malfunction.

In the lounge, she called Benjamin but he had turned off his phone during the trial.

It wasn't until noon when the trial had ended that Benjamin turned on his phone and saw Paisley's message. He frowned and thought for a moment.

Then, his client Jonathan sent his assistant over, who said to him respectfully, "Mr. Clark, my boss, Mr. Hunter, would like to invite you for dinner."

Benjamin put away his phone and replied with a smile, "Please extend my gratitude to Mr. Hunter for inviting me, but I'm afraid I won't be able to join you for the dinner. I have to hurry to Gredax for something important."

Just as they spoke, Mr. Hunter himself came over.

In his forties, he was a businessman who looked dashing and elegant. He shook hands with Benjamin and said with great warmth, "Benjamin, you were quite impressive in court. Since you have important things to attend to, I won't keep you. When you come to Esrand next time, let me do the honors."

"That's a deal." Benjamin replied gracefully.

Mr. Hunter valued him highly and asked his driver to drive Benjamin to the airport...Paisley, whose flight had been delayed for half a day, decided to take the same flight back to Gredax with Benjamin.

Madelyn got up and changed her clothes. Before leaving, she couldn't help but hug Camila.

Camila felt uneasy.

But when Madelyn looked up, she smiled faintly and told her that Vivian had found someone influential and that Daniel should show some respect. Then, Camila let her go.

Madelyn leaned against the door for a long time after she slowly closed the door behind her.

--She just sold herself!

Madelyn stared at the sky quietly for a long time, turned around and walked onto the bus.

By the time she arrived Daniel's villa, it was already 8 pm. Dressed in a suit and tie, Daniel was sitting on the sofa and drinking wine. The light of the crystal chandelier above reflected the glamour of luxurious crystals, making his handsome face look even more attractive!

If it were before, Madelyn's heart would flip, but now she only felt disgusted.

Daniel asked in a hoarse voice, "Where did you go? I've been calling you all day!"

Chapter 40 Daniel, We Don't Have to Be Like This

Madelyn made no response.

Daniel looked at her silently for a while, then put down his wine glass and stood up, saying, "Dinner is ready."

Madelyn said with an indifferent look, "Daniel, you don't have to do this."

Her words made Daniel amused.

He walked over to her, pinched her chin, and whispered, "You're right! We don't have to be like this. After all, you now see me as a monster!... Madelyn, do you really hate me that much?"

Madelyn stood up straight and fought her tears back.

A man like him was not worth her tears.

She stared at him and said slowly, "Whether I love you or hate you won't change anything."

"Well then, why don't you love me? At least you'll feel better, right?" Daniel asked while gently caressing her face, and surprisingly he loved the feel of her face.

He always got women, and even a beautiful fiancée now.

In the light of the entrance...

Looking beautiful under the light, Madelyn replied slowly, "Daniel, when did I ever let you down?"

With these words, she looked up at him.

Her once gentle and affectionate eyes were now full of resentment.

Daniel didn't want to see that again.

He wanted to drive her back, but Madelyn refused.

"It's raining. Won't you give me the chance of paying court to you?" He teased her.

Madelyn lowered her head and sneered, "Daniel, I've already told you that we don't have to be like this." After saying that, she pushed him away and walked into the rainy night.

Rejected by Madelyn and watching her back, Daniel suddenly had a hunch that no matter what means he used to keep Madelyn by his side, her heart no longer belonged to him.

However, Daniel didn't feel disappointed for too long.

He was convinced that he just wanted to conquer Madelyn, and he had never loved her.

Never!
