Chapter 4 Stay Focused, Ms. Green

Since Benjamin wanted to pretend not to know Madelyn, Vivian's husband sensibly cooperated with him. "She's Madelyn Green, my wife Vivian's classmate at university. She's very talented in art and is now a piano teacher."

Benjamin chuckled and greeted, "Ms. Green."

He reached out his hand, looking very kind.

The noblemen around him had meaningful expressions. They felt somehow envious as they could tell that this beautiful lady came for Benjamin.

Someone booed, "Mr. Clark, you're so lucky."

Madelyn was a shy girl after all and she had never encountered such a situation. She reached out her hand shyly.

Her soft palm was then grasped.

Benjamin let go of her hand soon and said with an enchanting smile, "Ms. Green, would you like to play with me?"

With that, he walked toward the golf course, not leaving her any time to refuse it.

Madelyn could only follow behind him.

Behind them, Daniel who was holding a golf club looked quite gloomy.

Benjamin was in a good mood and he wasn't annoyed at all when Madelyn told him she didn't know how to play golf.

"I'll teach you."

Others knew what Benjamin meant when they heard his words. Their gazes became more meaningful.

Madelyn was not a fool. She knew that Benjamin acting intimately with her only meant one thing-

That was, he didn't like Daniel!

Standing before Benjamin, Madelyn allowed him to hug her from behind. She was wearing sports shorts today and her exposed fair was clung to his body so tightly. She could even feel the heat from his body.

Madelyn felt her face extremely hot.

"Stay focused, Ms. Green." Benjamin's thin lips were pressed again her ear when he whispered. It was like he was whispering to his lover.

Madelyn was dumbfounded.

Benjamin had grasped her hand and swooshed out the golf club.

It won applause from people around. They tried their best to fawn over Benjamin.

"Mr. Clark and Ms. Green cooperated well."

"Mr. Clark is a good teacher."

"Mr. Clark would get it into the hole in the next round."

...

Men were accustomed to playing dirty jokes and they didn't think it wrong.

Madelyn, however, got a red face.

Benjamin pressed his lips against her tender ear, chuckled, and asked, "Ms. Green, one more?"

He was very skilled and the golf rolled into the hole with only one strike.

People around them applauded again. Benjamin's handsome face looked enchanting and vigorous.

Madelyn felt a surge of emotions in her body.

She intended to seduce him today, but she was all up to his tempo.

She had an intuition that if Benjamin wanted to flirt with women, 95% of them would not be able to resist it. It was just that a man like him wouldn't degrade himself easily.

Being embraced in his arms, Madelyn won several scores.

During the half-time break, Madelyn sat beside Benjamin. He didn't talk much with her. Most of the time, he was talking business with the person next to him, and sometimes they would talk about legal affairs.

Madelyn tried to suck up to her.

She would hand drinks and towels to him from time to time. And Benjamin enjoyed her services naturally.

Vivian thought Madelyn might achieve her goal.

She pulled Madelyn into the washroom to have a private talk with her. "I haven't found that Mr. Clark is so good at flirting before. I've seen him several times at parties, but he always looked righteous."

Vivian was worried that Madelyn would get obsessed and harm herself instead because based on Benjamin's identity, it was not possible for him to marry Madelyn, not to mention that Daniel was also involved in this.

Madelyn had seen it through. She said in a soft tone, "It's at most about sex. I won't be serious about it."

Vivian finally felt relieved.

When they were about to go out, Daniel pushed open the door and walked in. He then pushed Madelyn against the wall and pressed above her, looking quite gloomy.

Vivian got anxious and reached out, trying to pull him away from Madelyn. "Daniel Campbell, what do you want to do?"

Daniel reached out to block her and then pushed her out of the washroom.

Then he locked the washroom from the inside.

Outside the door, Vivian hysterically slammed the door and cursed at him in a low voice, "Daniel, you son of bitch. How can you bully a woman? Are you still a man?"

Daniel didn't care about it at all as her reprimand wouldn't hurt him.

If he was not a ruthless man, how would he corner Madelyn after dumping her?
