Chapter 61 Made for Each Other

Madelyn became very bold under the influence of alcohol. Instead of being afraid, she wrapped her arms around his neck and whispered, "I'm not in the mood for cooking."

Vivian, who was watching while standing beside, felt a surge of excitement.

The sight of Mr. Clark hugging Madelyn made her blush.

Vivian wanted to stay a little longer, but Benjamin didn't like being watched. He took Madelyn in his arms and put her on the seat of his golden Bentley Continental car parked at the entrance.

Fortunately, Madelyn didn't make a scene after getting drunk and sat in the car quietly.

After closing the car door, Benjamin turned to Vivian and asked as a gesture of courtesy, "Do you need a ride home?"

Vivian didn't dare to bother him and quickly waved her hand, saying, "No, don't worry about me. Just take care of Madelyn!"

Benjamin had heard of Vivian's reputation-the woman was a drinker and party-goer. He hadn't expected her to get along so well with someone like Madelyn.

With a slight nod, Benjamin walked to the other side, opened the door, and got in the car.

The luxurious golden car drove away slowly...

Vivian said admiringly, "They are really made for each other!"

Suddenly, she slapped herself... It wasn't a dream! It was real! Her dear Madelyn had found herself an extraordinary man!

Now, he really wanted to kiss her.

Madelyn stared at his good-looking face which was just inches away. She unbuckled her seat belt, crawled over, and sat on his lap as if he had put a spell on her...She didn't know how to please him and just moaned while putting her arms around his neck.

Benjamin looked down at her and asked softly, "Aren't you supposed to please me?"

Madelyn's mind was blank.

She found herself attracted to his handsome face. She tried to kiss him, but she was not good at kissing.

Benjamin waited patiently for a while, but he could resist no longer. He unfastened the seat belt and laid down the seat.

They started making out in the car...

When Madelyn woke up, it was already 12 o'clock at night.

Sitting up in bed, she scratched her head. Gradually she remembered what happened at the bar and the passionate kiss in the car.

"Drinking always gets me into trouble."

Just as she was about to send a message to Vivian, Benjamin entered the master bedroom.

Leaning against the door, he said slowly, "You didn't prepare dinner."

Madelyn hastily got out of bed and replied, "What would you like to eat? I'll make it for you now."

Just as she walked to the door, Benjamin stopped her...

Chapter 62 We Are in Love

Madelyn thought he would be unhappy.

To her surprise, Benjamin pulled her closer and whispered in her ear, "I've already had dinner."

Madelyn blushed. He really was shameless!

Benjamin was not in a bad mood. He walked ahead to the dining room and said, "It's time to have dinner!"

Madelyn went to wash her face first.

In the restroom, she turned on the tap and splashed cold water on her face...trying to calm herself down.

She needed to deal with Elizabeth as soon as possible.

Moreover, she didn't plan to tell Benjamin about this. She had already caused him too much trouble. She knew what their relationship was like; she could just rely on him whenever she faced difficulties.

Mr. Clark's time was very precious!

After sorting out her feelings, Madelyn walked out of the room. To her surprise, she saw a table full of dishes in the dining room, far more sumptuous than what she used to cook.

Benjamin simply said, "I had the chef from the Clarks' mansion send these over here."

Benjamin chuckled.

He gently pinched Madelyn's chin, while he sounded dangerous and devilish as he said to her, "Have you ever seen someone care about a toy? As long as the toy knows who its owner is and behaves... what does it matter? Eventually, the toy will be discarded."

Madelyn was astonished.

She stared at him blankly and didn't know how to react.

Benjamin decided to explain in detail.

"Eloise has attempted suicide before, which means it's impossible to make her break up with him now! Since separating them is not an option, there is only one way left, that is, just letting her enjoy their relationship. She will get bored when it wears off. So, it doesn't matter whether Daniel is upright or a good person. All I care about is that Eloise is happy with him now."

Madelyn had mixed feelings.

Although he was talking about Daniel, she was also in a similar situation. Benjamin was good to her only for one reason.

He just wanted to make himself happy!

She fell into a prolonged silence. How could Benjamin, who was so smart, not know what she was thinking about?

He tenderly caressed her face and said softly, "We are different! We are in a relationship, or, to be more accurate, we are in love... Madelyn, don't you find me attractive or don't you desire my body?"

Madelyn closed her eyes.

Yes! She was really into him!

Chapter 63 Am I Not Serious?

Madelyn knew she had feelings for him.

Perhaps she liked him because he had helped her out, or because she was Benjamin's handsome appearance. Regardless of the reasons, she liked him.

Moreover, she wanted him to be happy when they were together, didn't she?

Yet, it made no sense that she was feeling down now!

Madelyn lowered her eyes and mumbled, "I like you!"

Benjamin gently touched her lips with his slender fingers, like he was hitting on her.

Madelyn's face flushed, and her heart was racing.

However, she didn't forget what she had to do. With her arms around his neck, she asked, "Do I have to let Elizabeth get away with framing me?"

"Are you concerned about others' opinions?"

Madelyn, trying to please him, waited until he was in a good mood and continued, "I don't want the children I have taught to be disappointed in me and think Ms. Green is an indecent person."

Benjamin buried his face in her neck and gave a low laugh.

"Now that Ms. Green is lying under me, is that indecent?"

She hesitated for quite a while and murmured, "Five days."

Benjamin withdrew his hand, turned over and lay on his back...He decided to let her have a good rest.

In the early morning, Madelyn helped him with his tie.

Her pretty face was glowing in the morning light.

Benjamin took her hand and said, "You'll be attending the class reunion, right? You can go shopping and buy some new clothes when you have time."

Madelyn had been living on a tight budget lately.

So she said to Benjamin frankly, "That will cost a lot of money."

Benjamin smiled.

Born with a silver spoon, he found her response amusing because money was never a concern for him.

He pinched her cheek and then put on his luxurious watch, saying, "Buying clothes won't cost much. You sound like a doting wife reporting to her white-collar husband...Well, I need to buy some new shirts as the season changes. Pick out and buy some for me when you are shopping."

Madelyn knew it was just an excuse; he already had over a hundred shirts in his cloakroom.

But women always enjoyed shopping for clothes.

She thanked him.

Benjamin leaned in, kissed her, and said, "Don't be so formal with me, Ms. Green."

Chapter 64 He Can't Stop Thinking about Madelyn

Madelyn wanted to please him.

So she wrapped her arms around his neck and tenderly called him, "Daddy."

At first, Benjamin was stunned.

But then he felt like he was walking on air.

His feeling of overjoy lasted after he got to the law firm, and even Paisley noticed that Mr. Clark was in a good mood, and he looked more radiant than ever.

At ten o'clock in the morning, Paisley knocked on the door and entered his office.

With a smile, she said, "Mr. Clark, the Campbell Group's legal advisor would like to meet with you. I have checked your schedule and at four o'clock this afternoon..."

"Just tell them I'm busy!" Benjamin said flatly, "The authorities have already pressed charges against the Campbell Group for financial crimes. They are on their own now."

Paisley was a little surprised.

Although Mr. Campbell was his brother-in-law, Mr. Clark still chose to stand by.

With a professional smile, Paisley replied, "I got it, Mr. Clark."

She returned to her office and informed the Campbell Group's legal advisor that Mr. Clark had no time for their meeting.

He spent nearly half a day dealing with this, and by the time he finished, it was already four o'clock in the afternoon. His secretary brought him a boxed meal and said, "Mr. Campbell, you haven't had lunch yet! Please grab a bite."

Daniel didn't feel like eating anything.

He just said, "Let's head back to the company."

When he was about to leave the office center on the fourth floor, the exclusive elevator happened to break down, so he had to take the customer elevator.

Having a sour face, Daniel felt annoyed.

As the elevator reached the first floor, he caught sight of someone.

He saw Madelyn.

She was shopping alone, with several bags in her hands. At that moment, she was selecting which clothes to buy in a well-known men's clothing store. She looked so attentive and even gentle.

Daniel knew she was buying clothes for Benjamin.

It hurt him so much that he couldn't bear to see this anymore. He quickly left the mall and got into his car.

Daniel closed his eyes and told the driver to head back to the Campbells' mansion.

The secretary also saw Madelyn, but she didn't dare to mention her or ask him anything...

Gabriella was surprised to see Daniel home, and when she was about to ask him about the company, Daniel loosened his tie as he went upstairs, saying, "Mom, I'm tired and need some rest."

Seeing his wary expression, Gabriella said nothing finally.

Daniel entered his room and shut the door behind him. He lay on the bed and put his arms on his eyes. Suddenly he felt like crying, and he couldn't stop thinking about Madelyn...

Chapter 65 She Couldn't Sleep without Him Beside

Daniel suddenly rolled over.

He took over his phone and opened the hidden photo album.

Inside, there was only one photo of Madelyn.

It had been taken two or three years ago, and at that time, he used to work late into the night. Every evening, Madelyn would cook dinner for him and wait for him at home. That night, she fell asleep while waiting for too long.

She looked so innocent and sweet.

When he came back home tired, seeing her sleeping face made his heart soft.

For one reason, he took a photo of her.

Later he broke up with her and pursued Eloise, but he still kept this photo... Daniel didn't know why he did this.

Clearly, he didn't like her so much!

Also, he didn't treat her well when he still got the chance!

He kept staring at the picture for a long time until he heard knocking on the door. Gabriella's voice came from outside the door, "Daniel, we need to talk."

Daniel told her to come in and put away his phone.

Benjamin had a temper, but once they were in a relationship he treated her quite well.

"The new case I've taken is quite difficult, so I have to work late for the next few days."

Madelyn asked, "Are you not coming back for dinner?"

Benjamin said yes and added before he should hang up, "I might only have time to go home and change clothes."

Suddenly, Madelyn felt guilty for spending so much money today.

Benjamin was really busy working and ended the call quickly.

Madelyn put aside her phone, and her joy faded away while she was staring at the shirts hanging in the closet.

She had dinner alone.

She was not used to sleeping by herself. Usually, Benjamin would hug her and kiss her...

Madelyn felt a little shy.

Why would she miss Benjamin's hugs?

She forced herself to sleep, but she woke up a few times in the night. Benjamin still hadn't come back home in the morning, while Claire stopped by...

Claire knew Benjamin's work schedule well and comforted her, "Mr. Clark is often busy handling cases. Ms. Green, don't worry about it!"

Madelyn nodded.

Since Benjamin was working late and didn't have time to come back, Madelyn thought she couldn't just stay at home and do nothing. She asked Claire to make another breakfast, and she would bring it to him.

Chapter 66 You Need to Give Him What He Wants

Claire was delighted that they were in love and happily prepared the breakfast.

Madelyn went back to the bedroom room. She was going to pack up a set of clothes and bring it along to the law firm. She rummage through all his clothes, but she was too embarrassed to send the shirts she had just bought for him. Instead, she chose the ones that he often wore.

She packed his clothes in a bag and took a taxi to the Bravo Legal Firm.

For fear that she would disturb Benjamin, she called Paisley and told her why she was there.

Paisley happened to be in Benjamin's office, and she covered the phone as she spoke to Benjamin, "Ms. Green is here. She has brought breakfast and a set of spare clothes for you. She said she has put them at the front desk for me to pick up."

Hearing what she said, Benjamin, who had been reading the documents, looked up at her.

He stared at Paisley for a while before he spoke, "Go and bring them to me!"

Paisley blushed, and her heart was racing under his gaze.

Vivian, who was straightforward, started cursing before telling her what was going on, "Madelyn, you won't believe what Elizabeth has done!... She's fucking insane!"

Madelyn was shocked and asked, "What did she do this time?"

Vivian sneered, "I heard that Daniel has dumped her, and instead of seeking revenge on him, she blames it on you! Our school is an education institute, and this time, Elizabeth has not only invited the faculty of our school but also some influential parents. She wants to destroy you completely."

Madelyn could never imagine that Elizabeth would go this far.

How much did she hate her?

Madelyn was silent, and Vivian was worried about her, asking, "What are you planning to do? Has Benjamin agreed to help you?"

Madelyn didn't hide it from her and replied in a low voice, "He said the night before that he would come to the class reunion with me, but these days, he's been busy again. I'm afraid he won't have time to make it."

Vivian was speechless.

She half joked and half scolded, "You silly! No matter how busy he is, he can spare a few hours. Madelyn, remember that if you want a man to do something for you, you have to give him what he wants first..."

Giving him what he wanted?

Madelyn felt ashamed to admit that she didn't have much experience and she hadn't had sex with Benjamin yet.

Vivian didn't want to hear her excuses and just said, "Madelyn, you must win Benjamin's heart!"

Chapter 67 Are You Wearing This for Me

Madelyn's face turned red upon hearing those words.

Although she had been living with Benjamin for some time, she still felt nervous about taking control in bed.

Besides, he didn't have time to come home now.

She couldn't just come to his company...

Just the thought of it made Madelyn feel ashamed.

Actually, Benjamin was swamped with work, and he hadn't returned to the apartment for three days in a row.

How could Madelyn bother him with her own problems?

She simply continued to send breakfast and a set of change clothes every day, and Benjamin didn't say anything!

...

On Wednesday, Madelyn spent the whole day with Samuel.

In the evening, she was preparing some snacks in the apartment, which she would bring to Benjamin the next day.

While she was busy in the kitchen, Benjamin called.

She was still worried about work and asked, "Won't it interfere with your work?"

Benjamin smiled.

He deliberately dropped her hand and said, "I won't go if you don't want me to."

Madelyn's face blushed as she held him tightly and was afraid that he would just leave.

Benjamin lightly rubbed her face and teased her, "Are you so eager, Ms. Green? At least let me have a meal first. Right now, I may not have the strength to satisfy you."

No matter how cheeky Madelyn might be, she didn't dare to hold onto him anymore.

Considerately, she served him rice and soup, then picked up two steamed dumplings for him, saying, "Claire has told that you really like eating this dish. I was planning to cook it for breakfast tomorrow."

Benjamin usually ate out for lunch and dinner.

Now, suddenly having someone cook meals carefully for him felt so good!

Especially he liked her nice body as well.

Though the case he was working on was tough, Benjamin knew what he should do next now, so he was in a good mood.

In the living room, he leaned back on the sofa, browsing through the documents.

Madelyn spent a long time in the bathroom and finally gathered up her courage to come out. Tonight, she put on a champagne-colored silk nightgown for him and looked very sexy when half-naked...

Chapter 68 Benjamin Knows Women's Hearts So Well

Benjamin looked down at her.

He was staring at her with deep, captivating eyes.

His intense gaze made Madelyn shy but she still sat on his lap, held onto his neck, and whispered, "Benjamin, my period is over now."

Benjamin said nothing.

Instead, he just held her tight in his arms and kissed her passionately.

He kissed her so hard that she felt she was almost melted by his kiss. Though she could barely stand on her own, Madelyn didn't ask him to stop...

She thought they would get laid tonight.

However, after kissing and touching her, Benjamin leaned against her shoulder and panted while trying to calm himself down.

"I'm too exhausted today! Can we wait for a few more days?"

Madelyn's body trembled slightly.

She had never enjoyed making out so much before. Benjamin showed her how good this could be, but now, at this critical moment, he said he wanted to stop!

Madelyn took the invitation over and looked at it carefully.

Vivian cleared her throat, leaned in, and asked, "Did Mr. Clark agree?... I mean, despite his reserved demeanor, I think he'd do anything for you, and all you have to do is ask."

Madelyn couldn't help but think about last night.

Though they hadn't really had intercourse, she felt that Benjamin was good in bed and knew women's hearts so well.

She simply replied, "There shouldn't be any problems."

Vivian was relieved.

She nudged Madelyn with her arm and teased her, "See, I told you, it's easier to ask a man for a favor when he's satisfied."

Madelyn nearly choked on her coffee.

Vivian patted her back and shared with her what she knew, "I heard Daniel didn't plan to attend the reunion at first, but when he heard that you would be there, he changed his mind and even offered thirty thousand dollars for the drinks."

Madelyn lowered her gaze and commented with a smile, "He really didn't have to do this."

Vivian looked at her delightedly, saying, "Good for you! You don't care about Daniel anymore. You are indeed in love with Mr. Clark now."

Madelyn shook her head and explained, "We're just together for now. We cannot possibly be together forever."

Vivian was about to comfort her when she saw several girls in fashionable clothes walk out of the elevator across from the café.

Vivian gritted her teeth and said angrily, "What a coincidence!"

Chapter 69 Mr. Clark Can Easily Make Their Husbands Bankrupt

Hearing what she said, Madelyn couldn't help but look up at them.

She saw Elizabeth, who was chatting with several rich ladies.

These ladies used to hire Madelyn as the piano teacher for their children, and they used to have a good relationship. However, since Madelyn's reputation suffered, they demanded her to resign.

Elizabeth was the new piano teacher.

Now, it was awkward that they met by chance. These ladies forced a smile, but they didn't greet Madelyn.

In contrast, Madelyn offered friendly greetings to them.

Elizabeth had been holding a grudge against Madelyn since she was dumped by Daniel. Now that she ran into Madelyn, it was a great chance to humiliate Madelyn in front of these parents.

Elizabeth walked over to her.

She said casually, "Madelyn, I didn't expect to meet you here! It seems like you're doing well after quitting your job. The coffee here isn't something just anyone can afford. You can't spend money like you did before, especially after such bad things happened to your family. "

Madelyn just smiled.

Elizabeth deliberately raised her voice, saying, "Are those rumors on the school forum true? Madelyn, you didn't become the mistress of an old man for money, did you?"

Those women seem wealthy and powerful, but their husbands rely on the Clark Group. Not to mention Mr. Clark's status in the legal community. He can easily make their husbands bankrupt in no time."

Thinking of him made Madelyn smile.

Trying to hide her smile, she immediately took a sip of her coffee and asked, "Is he really that good?"

Vivian teased her, "I think you should know better than me."

Madelyn refused to keep talking about this.

Right this time, Benjamin sent her a Line message which was just a short sentence.

[Benjamin: Ms. Green, did you enjoy yourself last night?]

Madelyn's face was burning. She bit her lip and texted him back.

[Madelyn: It was alright.]

Soon after she sent him the message, her phone vibrated. She got another message from Benjamin.

[Benjamin: I had a great time last night! How about we go back early from the class reunion on Saturday?]

Madelyn didn't know how to reply, and Vivian snatched her phone away. However, Vivian's eyes widened as she saw their messages... Damn! How could Mr. Clark discuss so openly such private things?

He was quite audacious!

Chapter 70 William, the Pride of Overseas Manbian

After pausing for a while, Vivian managed to say, "Mr. Clark is quite experienced."

Madelyn, who was very reserved, blushed as she took back her phone.

No matter how hard Vivian tried, Madelyn refused to give her more details.

Madelyn was too embarrassed to tell her that they slept together last night, but they didn't have intercourse. Even so, Benjamin spent a lot of time on foreplay...

Vivian wanted to tease her one more time.

At this point, a piece of news was aired on TV in the café.

Renowned pianist William decided to return to Manba after staying in Monatz for many years. He was preparing for the concert tour across several major cities.

The venue was swarmed with journalists.

Vivian said admiringly, "William is the pride of our nation! It's very difficult to get a ticket to his concert even when you are rich, and he is sought after by countless people! Who would have imagined that 25 years ago, he was just a destitute youngster struggling to pay his rent?"

Madelyn had played the piano for years and also knew about William.

She looked up to him, and her teacher had once mentioned that her style of piano playing was a little similar to William's.

Monatz?

What a coincidence!

William had also returned from Monatz.

Madelyn's heart softened as she said, "Take good care of the guest, then."

Benjamin nodded. Just as he was about to say something else, he heard an ethereal voice calling from behind, "Benjamin!"

Benjamin turned around.

Standing behind him was a man in his forties, who was charming and elegant.

He greeted him with a smile, "Mr. Bennett, it's been a long time."

This man was William, a close friend of Alexander's for many years. They understood each other and shared similar interests.

When he came back this time, in the name of having a concert tour, he was secretly looking for his own daughter...
