Chapter 81 Kissing in the Car

Benjamin didn't say anything.

However, Elizabeth didn't want to give up such a chance. She was eager to show off her connections and said to the principals, acting as if she was a regular. "I'm acquainted with the restaurant managers, and they agreed to give me a 5% discount."

The principals praised her for her connections.

Elizabeth looked at Benjamin and continued, "This six-star hotel doesn't give discounts unless the customer has strong connections."

Being watched by their surprised eyes, Elizabeth thought that Benjamin was going to look at her differently.

She was very pleased with herself.

Humph! How could Madelyn rival her except for the appearance?

Just then, a man's low, rumbling voice rang out from the door of the hall, "Benjamin, there you are!"

It was Jonathan, the president of this hotel.

Jonathan gladly shook Benjamin's hand, and his tone was friendly, "I heard from my men that you are over for dinner. I can't believe a big shot like you would come to my humble place. I came to check it out. It was really you!"

Benjamin smiled politely. "Mr. Hunter, you're being modest!"

"Benjamin, don't call me Mr. Hunter, or I'll feel I'm being treated as a stranger! We've known each other for a long time."

Madelyn followed Benjamin to the underground parking lot.

She sat in the driver's seat and took off her high heels while whispering, "I should have brought a pair of flat shoes with me."

Madelyn's legs and insteps were beautiful both in shape and color.

Benjamin leaned back in his seat and stared at her. Madelyn got butterflies in her stomach and blushed.

He whispered, "How can you drive with bare feet? Why don't we get a room upstairs?"

Madelyn had never had sex before and was such a prude. She took his face in her hands and said softly, "Let's get a designated driver."

Benjamin didn't say anything, and his brown eyes were alluring.

Mere moments later, he reached down and held her in his arms...

Madelyn lightly punched him. "We're in a parking lot."

"The last time we kissed in the parking lot, you clung to me and didn't let go." His tall nose was against her face, and his breath was warm and got mixed up with hers.

Seeing that he got turned on, Madelyn didn't push him away.

He was very different from his usual self after drinking. He... He just let himself be overcome by absolute erotic pleasure!

He was such a marvelous kisser that Madelyn went limp in his arms after only a few kisses. She took his handsome face in her hands and kissed him madly. The passion grew in the car...

Chapter 82 Benjamin, Be Gentle With Me

Benjamin was tempted by lust and said dully as his lips rested against Madelyn's forehead, "I'll have Jonathan send a car for us."

Madelyn gently bit her lips.

Benjamin became a beast after he had some drinks...

Jonathan was solid and quickly sent his trusted driver to take them safely to the apartment.

Benjamin held back his sexual desire so long that he kissed Madelyn as soon as they got into the elevator. When they got home and Madelyn was changing into her slippers, he hugged her around the waist from behind and nibbled on her earlobe. "You look fine in this outfit."

Madelyn was astounded.

She thought she should go to take a shower and get herself cleaned up.

Benjamin carried her in his arms and kissed her with one hand pulling off her high heels. He was so aggressive and charming when he was fueled by sexual passion, that Madelyn couldn't break out of his arms...

She wrapped her arms around his neck, and her eyes were wild and tempting with passion.

He was still drunk. When he arrived at the private room at the clubhouse, he asked Caroline to come over to keep him company.

Caroline loved Daniel very much. Who wouldn't adore a handsome and generous man? Caroline leaned over, drank with him, and sang some love songs. But Daniel didn't need that. He wanted a woman to take the edge off his resentment toward Madelyn.

Yes, resentment!

Caroline, who closely resembled Madelyn, became the target of his wrath. He was not gentle at all, tormenting the girl in his arms as he buried his face in her neck and said huskily, "How am I inferior to him? Did you give him all your love? Madelyn, tell me! You tell me!"

Probably because he was so crazy, the girl cried out in fear.

Her small body trembled. "Mr. Campbell, I'm not Madelyn... I'm Caroline."

Daniel opened his droopy eyes, intoxicated.

His eyes were scarlet and a little scary.

The girl in his arms was charming, but she was not Madelyn.

Madelyn was in full flow. How could possibly she have that pitiful expression on her face? Daniel gritted his teeth in hatred. He wanted to continue, but he couldn't accept other women physically or emotionally.

Even if she looked exactly like Madelyn.

Daniel rolled over to one side, slumped on the sofa, and closed his eyes. "You go out. I want to be quiet."

Chapter 83 Madelyn, Please Love Me Again

Caroline stared at Daniel.

Daniel put his elbow out over his eyes, and his voice was husky. "Get out!"

He was a mess!

He looked such a mess!

How could he get to this point?

Caroline's small face was still wet with tears. She got dressed slowly.

When she got up from the sofa, her legs were shaking, and she could barely stand on her feet. However, she didn't dare to stay and upset him. She was trying very hard to be strong right now and walked out of the private room.

As soon as she had only just closed the door, the sound of breaking glass rang out from inside.

There were cries like those of wounded animals!

To her surprise, a rough-and-tumble man had an affectionate side. The girl named Madelyn must be very happy because she was loved by Mr. Campbell...

The manager heard the commotion and scolded Caroline when he saw her. "How dare you piss Mr. Campbell off?"

The manager laughed disapprovingly.

"Well, Mr. Campbell, what century is this? How can you be so pure and innocent? Making love is as simple and common as eating and drinking coffee! The point is whether they have feelings for each other. Just like Caroline, she is innocent and young. Weren't you pleased with her last time? You're bigger than that. Give her a break."

Daniel had forgotten about Caroline. Since the manager brought her him up, Daniel asked, "Where is she?"

He remembered she was very attractive when she was crying!

The manager saw that he was still interested in Caroline, coughing lightly. "She went to another room. If Mr. Caroline likes her, I will let her drink with you next time."

Daniel did not say anything.

He was in a bad mood and continued to drink. He got loaded in the end.

He was drunk, and all he could think about was Madelyn sitting on Benjamin's lap and kissing him. Her kiss was tentative and passionate, which made Daniel mad!

He was drunk, but it was like a fire burning inside him.

He even wanted to rush to Benjamin's house and drag Madelyn out. He wanted to tell her that he regretted it and that he could give up the power the Clark family gave him. And he would no longer mess with other women--

He just wanted her to fall in love with him again!

Only when he was so drunk did he know the days when he was loved by Madelyn were the happiest of his life...

Chapter 84 Mr. Campbell, Shall I Ask Mr. Clark To Bail You Out

Daniel was severely inebriated and staggered out.

He happened to pass by Caroline's private box. The door was left cracked, and he could see inside.

Caroline was sitting in the arms of a rich young man and tamely let the man kiss her. That guy was a womanizer. He kissed her so much that her body trembled.

He had a side-angle view of Caroline and found that she looked like Madelyn.

Daniel was drunk and messed up, so he mistook Caroline for Madelyn.

He was so jealous and angry that his eyes turned red--

Madelyn was kissing another man and might be going to have sex with that guy. The wine went straight to Daniel's head, and he was so angry that his blood was pumping and kicked the door open. Then there was a scream in the room...

Daniel grabbed the weak guy by the collar and punched him.

"How dare you hold Madelyn!"

"Madelyn is mine."

"She's my wife!"

The rich man was dumbfounded when he got beat up for no reason. Then he got mad and kicked Daniel. "What the hell is wrong with you? How did your wife end up in a place like this? Are you so pathetic as to let your wife make money in a place like this to support you, a deadbeat?"

The head sat in front of Daniel and said seriously, "Mr. Campbell, what's it got to do with you if they kissed and cuddled? Do you like going to the police station that much? Hey... If there were more people like you in our district, we wouldn't need to spend all day on the streets arresting those who break the law."

They were acquaintances. It was easy to deal with it.

The head wrote a note and kindly asked, "Shall I ask Mr. Clark to bail you out?"

In the first place, Daniel didn't hesitate to refuse, but he suddenly remembered that Benjamin was sleeping with Madelyn. If Benjamin was called over... He must be unhappy!

Daniel blew smoke rings.

"Okay!"

The head shook his head and smiled, "Mr. Campbell, as the Clark family's son-in-law, you more or less should protect your reputation. You'll not be forgiven every time you do something like this."

Protect his reputation?

Daniel was in a trance.

Power was what he always wanted, wasn't it? Why did he lose his mind and even want to give up everything for Madelyn recently?

But alcohol now overcame reason.

He took a fierce puff of smoke. "Call him!"

The rich young man on the side finally guessed Daniel's identity. He cursed again after thinking back on this. "Damn it! What is wrong with you? You didn't spend time with your beautiful fiancée but fought me at the club. Have you lost your mind?"

Daniel was at a loss.

He didn't know exactly why he had done such a thing...

Chapter 85 Mr. Clark Is Invigorated

Benjamin had just had sex with Madelyn before he got the call.

Madelyn was knackered, but Benjamin had not had enough. He put his arms around her waist and flirted with her.

Madelyn could not stand it and bit her lip. "You... Stop it. I want to take a bath!"

Benjamin was considerate.

He said gently against her ear, "I'll run you a bath."

Madelyn's ears were light pink with some fluff, looking cute. Benjamin couldn't resist reaching out and gently touching them.

Madelyn pulled up the blanket to cover her face. She didn't want him to touch her.

"Are you shy? Who was holding on to me just now and wouldn't let go?" Benjamin put his arms around her and then yanked her out of the covers.

He wanted to tease her again...

Madelyn pleaded softly, "I don't feel well. Let me take a bath."

Benjamin gave a deep laugh. "Why are you so scared?" He ruffled her long and sweaty hair and kissed her on the forehead. Finally, he let her go, threw back the covers, and got up.

Benjamin was built, but Madelyn didn't dare to look at him.

Benjamin hung up the phone and got up to change his clothes. He knocked on the glass door to the bathroom. "I'm going out to take care of something. Go to sleep. Don't wait up for me."

Madelyn couldn't help but feel a bit frustrated.

He was leaving tonight.

Benjamin could imagine what she was thinking. He stepped on the wet floor to the edge of the bathtub and squatted down. He reached out his big hands into the water... Madelyn blushed and grabbed his arm to stop him from doing anything.

"It's business all right! I'll be back in a little while." His voice was surprisingly husky.

Madelyn was upset to see him go.

She put her arms around his neck and kissed him boldly...

Benjamin kissed her for a while, and murmured against her red lips, "I've just changed my clothes, and you've gotten me wet again..."

Madelyn blushed fiercely.

Benjamin was in a good mood, straightened his clothes, and left.

He rushed to the police station.

Charles welcomed him perkily and greeted him cordially, "Mr. Clark, I'm sorry to get you out of bed and come all the way here."

He gave a thumbs up. "It's two in the morning. Young people are really invigorated."

Chapter 86 Daniel, I'm Gonna Kick Your Ass

Benjamin managed a small smile. "Where's Mr. Campbell?"

Charles tilted his chin slightly. "Don't worry. He is well taken care of."

Benjamin strode into the room.

A lively scene was enacted there with several people sitting inside.

The rich young man was tucking into a cup of ramen and making yummy noises.

The manager and Caroline sat in silence. The girl, wearing a suit over a black camisole, was shivering all over. Hearing footsteps, she looked up and then froze.

She had never seen such a gorgeous man of great charm!

His dignified manner was in marked contrast to her incredibly messy state. She felt so bad as if she did not deserve to appear in front of him...

Benjamin's eyes fell on her face.

Her face resembled Madelyn's. Benjamin immediately figured out what was going on.

Benjamin looked at Daniel with a sneer.

Daniel met Benjamin's gaze, a touch of imperceptible defiance surfacing under his brown eyes. This subtle expression might be lost on the people around him, but not on Benjamin.

Neither of them spoke inside the car.

About half an hour, Benjamin pulled over at a beach. It was deathly silent. All they could hear was the "Get out of the car." Benjamin's voice was cold.

Daniel sneered, he followed Benjamin out of the car.

As soon as he got out of the car, Benjamin took off his jacket, unbuttoned his shirt a little bit, and struck a blow at Daniel without saying a word.

Benjamin took a swing at Daniel, who was knocked back several steps then.

He steadied himself and wiped the blood from the corner of his mouth.

Benjamin kicked him again, "Daniel, you really think no one in the Clark family can handle you, don't you? If you didn't like Eloise, you shouldn't have tantalized her in the first place. She likes you so much.
Do you take pride in watching her kill herself for you?"

Daniel was kicked to the ground.

He covered his stomach in pain, but he managed to squeeze out a smile.

"I'm the jerk! I'm sorry!"

"What about you, Benjamin? Don't you know what I am? Why did you marry your sister to me? You're no better than me."

"You know that Madelyn is my past girlfriend. Why do you mess around with her?"

Daniel's eyes were scarlet...

Chapter 87 Regret It Now? You Just Find That You Love Her?

Benjamin sneered, "Let me tell you why then!"

He was standing in the whistling night wind.

With his white clothes and black hair, he got a perfect set of sharp features as Apollo.

Benjamin looked at Daniel condescendingly and uttered a snorting laugh, "Regret it now? You just find that you love Madelyn and couldn't leave her until she is with me? Well, Daniel... it's your own choice throughout, like, you set the traps for Samuel early on and you seduced her deliberately... It's not that you have no chance to repent, but that you choose the power over her again and again!"

Daniel tottered to his feet and his face turned pale.

Benjamin sneered, "You gave up on her yourself! And you sent her to me with your own hands!"

Daniel's lips began to tremble and he started to shake even. He just couldn't control it even though he wanted to.

Benjamin stared at him and gave a brittle laugh again, "Just put away your lovely look, Daniel! What have you done?"

Suddenly, Daniel kept his eyes fixed on Benjamin.

He found that there were many faint hickey marks on the side of Benjamin's neck... Obviously, the marks could only be made after a long time of kissing.

And he turned on the speaker.

Madelyn's voice was soft, "Can we do it again tomorrow night, Benjamin?"

Daniel stiffened up as he heard that. He clenched his fists so hard that his finger bones would almost broke.

Benjamin drove the car away.

Daniel was still standing by the sea, motionless.

The sea breeze just blew away those words that Madelyn had said which were engraved in his heart instead.

She said she wanted to sleep with Benjamin tomorrow night...

And she didn't force herself to say so at all. Instead, she said that in a rather sweet voice, as if she had done it thoroughly with Benjamin not long ago.

Something warm slid across Daniel's cheek.

He stretched out his hand to touch it, realizing that it was his tear.

How could he shed tears? Nonsense. What a big joke.

It was just a woman. How could she make him cry?

Love? Everyone had loved a few people before...

Chapter 88 Praise A Man Like That? Aren't You Ashamed?

It was already three o'clock in the morning when Benjamin came back to the apartment.

As he opened the door, warm yellow light just poured out from the bedroom, making the cold and luxurious decoration rather warm.

He walked into the bedroom.

Madelyn slept lightly. She woke up as he just came in. She sat up and leaned against the bed, saying with a unique and slightly hoarse voice as she was just awake, "Any midnight snack?"

"It's too late now and don't bother yourself! I'm going to take a shower."

Madelyn felt it rather strange. Didn't he just take a bath before going out?

Did he...

Seeing her rather bright eyes, he leaned over and kissed her, "What are you thinking? You think I have the energy to find someone else, don't you? Well, you just fascinate me beyond measure."

She blushed, feeling that it was improper to ask him more about it.

He took off his clothes and went into the bathroom. He just threw his white shirt on the ground. She put it into the laundry basket and decided to wash it by hand the next day...

He found her heavy cupid face which was not tacky at all. She got good features, looking gorgeous although she wore no makeup.

No wonder Daniel couldn't let go. If it were him... he might not be able to give up easily.

Madelyn woke up early in the morning.

She was alone on the bed, but there was a white rose beside her pillow with fresh dew drops dripping on the petals. She felt happy as she saw it.

She turned sideways and picked up the flower to smell it. She held it and rolled about on the bed.

She blushed because she remembered what had happened last night.

Although it was her first time and she had never had sex with a man before, she felt that Benjamin was pretty good at it and that he had more desire than ordinary man did. After doing it twice last night, to her surprise, he had no need to take a break and wanted to move on...

As she was mature, she wouldn't think hypocritically that having sex with a man was a pain.

On the contrary, she also enjoyed it.

There was a slight sound outside at the moment. She heard the knock and Claire said enthusiastically, "Ms. Green, Mr. Clark gave you a gift. Please get up and have a look."

Madelyn bit her lips lightly...

Oh, Benjamin sent a gift to her?

Chapter 89 You Are My Morning Dew

Madelyn couldn't wait to watch it.

She wore her long brown hair loose and ran outside with bare feet.

Claire smiled, "Just put on your shoes quickly, or Mr. Clark's heart will ache for you."

But Madelyn couldn't care less. She looked at a piano in front of the French window, feeling shocked.

Certainly Benjamin's gift was expensive. The piano was worth 20 million yuan and it had a history. Well, to put it approachable, it had royal blood.

It was said that Louis II had played it before.

The piano had a beautiful name, Morning Dew.

Madelyn touched the piano lovingly.

There was a red rose on the cover. Suddenly it reminded her that last night Benjamin hugged her after the sex and whispered in her ear, "You are my morning dew."

Her face became rosy and she was moved a bit by his romance!

Claire was rather happy to see her reacting like that and said eagerly, "How about playing it, Ms. Green? I would like to enjoy it although I am just a rough person."

Madelyn agreed softly.

She was so happy that she wished she could be by his side at the moment, so she would kiss him.
Obviously, he had the same intentions. His voice was rather hoarse as he spoke, "The meeting is about

She nodded softly.
She couldn't help touching the piano again after hanging up the phone. Now she was immersed in the great joy of her life. But how did she take it away if she left one day? She just never thought about it.
She was rather innocent, forgetting that that kind of extreme love was exactly the way a man of status kept a woman. She would be exalted to the sky when he loved her, but he would retreat cleanly when he got tired of her.
It was the spoiled one who stayed where she was.

Claire arranged the breakfast.

She said happily, "It's the foreign-style breakfast today, Ms. Green. I heard from the installer that the piano is called Louis II or something. Well, the foreign instrument should go with the foreign meal."

Madelyn laughed as she heard that.

She stroked the shiny black paint on the piano and murmured softly, "It's Louis II."

Claire laughed, "Oh, look at me."

Madelyn went back to the bedroom to wash up. She changed her clothes and went out to have breakfast. Claire handed her a card, "Oh right! A woman gave me the card early in the morning and said that she wanted to buy you dinner."

Chapter 90 She Really Likes Benjamin

Ms. Waylon?

Madelyn guessed that it was Penelope from the Music Center. Penelope used to take care of her very much, so Madelyn couldn't refuse her invitation.

Madelyn called Penelope back.

Penelope didn't mention a lot, but just smiled and said, "It's a good thing. Let's talk about it at lunch."

Madelyn was a little curious!

There were still two or three hours before lunch. Madelyn measured the size of the floor-to-ceiling curtains in the living room, took pictures of the apartment, and decided to visit the furniture store in the afternoon.

At noon, Madelyn and Penelope met in a grilled fish restaurant. Penelope liked spicy food, and Madelyn ate with her. Soon Madelyn flushed.

When they were full, Penelope got to the point.

"You know Elizabeth was boycotted by many parents collectively, don't you?"

Madelyn was stunned.

She said involuntarily, "How could it be? A few days ago, I saw her get along very well with those parents, and she looked very popular."

Benjamin quickly replied to the message.

"Yes, Ms. Green."

Seeing the simple words, Madelyn felt her heart racing. She thought she really liked Benjamin a little bit.

Madelyn felt no shame.

She thought it was normal for women to like a man like Benjamin.

After Madelyn returned to the apartment, the installer quickly came to install the curtain, and it looked better than Madelyn had imagined.

The curtain was amazing with Morning Dew.

Madelyn put flowers in the vases and spread those beautiful lace tablecloths... The whole apartment had changed a lot, and it was warmer than before.

The doorbell rang outside.

Madelyn thought it was the installer coming back and immediately went to open the door, but it was Benjamin standing at the door.

Madelyn flushed and asked, "You have the key. Why did you ring the doorbell?"

Benjamin put his arms around Madelyn's waist and pressed her against the porch cabinet...
