

Chapter 365: I regret not meeting you earlier (1)

The scene in the dream was a little unfamiliar. Xu Youyou had never seen it before. Not long after, she saw mo shenbai get out of the car and enter a dessert shop.

Xu Youyou followed him in curiously and saw mo shenbai walking to a seat in the shop.

The woman who was sitting on the chair looked up and saw him. She smiled gently and got up to welcome him.

Beside her sat a little girl who looked like she was carved from Jade. She had beautiful big eyes and her skin was so soft that it seemed like it would break at any moment. She was like a cute doll.

As soon as she saw mo shenbai, she immediately opened her arms and asked for a hug.

Mo shenbai bent down to hug the little girl, lowered his head to kiss her on the cheek, and then smiled at the woman next to him.

Xu Youyou stood rooted to the ground. Looking at this heartwarming and beautiful scene, her heart ached as if thousands of needles were stabbing it.

It was so painful that she almost couldn't breathe.

Xu Youyou suddenly opened her eyes, and a bean-sized tear rolled down from the corner of her eye.

She did not know when mo shenbai had woken up. He was looking at her at the moment, and his fingertips gently wiped away the tears at the corner of her eyes.

"Did you have a nightmare?"

Xu Youyou looked up and met his deep and gentle eyes. The scene from her dream flashed through her mind and she suddenly felt wronged. She turned over and lay in his arms, hugging him tightly.

No matter who that girl was, no matter who that woman was, Great White could only be his.

No one could take him away from her!

"What's wrong?" Mo shenbai noticed that something was wrong with her mood and asked with concern.

Xu Youyou buried her head in his arms and shook her head without saying a word.

Seeing this, mo shenbai did not force her. He lowered his head and kissed the center of her hair. if you don't want to say it, then don't say it. You can tell me when you want to say it later.

Xu Youyou nodded slightly.

Mo shenbai touched her head. are you hungry? What do you want to eat?"

"I'm fine with anything," Xu Youyou raised her head and said obediently.

you've slept for too long. The doctor said that you should eat liquid food to get used to it first. He'll get the kitchen to make you delicious food in two days.

"Alright," he said.

When they fell asleep, the Butler had already brought dinner over. Mo shenbai got up and went to the kitchen to prepare.

Xu Youyou also sat up and tidied herself and her pillow. When she saw the amulet under her pillow, she asked curiously, "Is this the blessing you asked for me?"

Mo shenbai was slightly stunned. After a moment, he realized that it was Fu Jianchen who had stuffed it. His lips moved slightly, and he was about to say no ...

"Thank you," he said. Xu Youyou smiled brightly and carefully put away the amulet. Grandma asked for it before, but she lost it. Great, I have a new amulet now.

Mo shenbai swallowed the words he was about to say.

Forget it, it's just a blessing of peace.

If it could really protect her, then so be it.

After dinner, Mo shenbai packed his things and saw Xu Youyou sitting up to get out of bed when he came out.

"You want to come down for a walk?"

Xu Youyou nodded. I feel like I've been lying down for a long time. I don't have any strength at all.

Mo shenbai strode forward to support her. Xu Youyou had been lying for too long, and her body was weak. There was not much strength in her legs. If he had not supported her, she would probably have to pray for the new year.

Mo shenbai helped her slowly to the sofa. She walked extremely slowly in just a dozen steps, like a little doll who had just learned to walk.

This thought came to his mind, and his thin lips couldn't help but curl up.

Xu Youyou sat down and looked up to see the curve of his lips. She pouted. "You're mocking me."

"No, I didn't," Mo shenbai squatted down and looked up at her. His fingertips gently swept her long hair behind her ears. I was just thinking about how you learned to walk when you were young. You must have been very cute.

It was a pity that they didn't know each other at that time.

He regretted not meeting her earlier, and these words had rolled in his heart countless times.

Xu Youyou smiled. I've always been cute!

"Yes." Mo shenbai nodded without the slightest hesitation.

Xu Youyou glanced at the dark twilight outside the window and said with a yearning expression, "I really want to go out for a walk."

"You're very weak right now, you can't walk for that long." Mo shenbai's beautiful big eyes were filled with disappointment as soon as he said this.

"But I can go and borrow a wheelchair to push you down," he added after a pause.

In the next second, her black and white Deer eyes lit up again.

The Golden Crow fell to the West, and the tired birds returned to the forest. The summer night's evening wind was cool.

Xu Youyou sat in a wheelchair as mo shenbai pushed her down the stairs. They walked aimlessly along the hospital Road.

There were not that many patients in private hospitals. Only two or three of them were walking in their hospital gowns.

Xu Youyou asked, "how's Zhiyun?" I just woke up and forgot to ask her. "

"She's fine, thanks to you for saving her." Mo shenbai looked down at her little head, his eyes gentle.

"It's good that she's fine," Xu Youyou heaved a sigh of relief. Then, she hesitated. then ... How is Fu jianchen? "

Mo shenbai's eyes narrowed silently, and he pursed his thin lips without saying a word.

Xu Youyou waited for a long time but did not hear him speak. She turned back to look at him and saw his sharp eyes filled with coldness in the dim light.

the White Sakura is the White Sakura, and he is him. If he didn't arrive in time to save me, I might really be dead now.

Fu jianchen had helped her time and time again and had even saved her life. She couldn't pretend to be indifferent.

Furthermore, the sins of Bai Ying should not be borne by Fu jianchen.

She didn't understand Fu jianchen's thoughts, but mo shenbai did, and because he did, he couldn't help but reject it.

"He's fine," The three simple words were already his bottom line.

Xu Youyou pursed her lips and smiled. that's good. Otherwise, I'll owe him so much that I won't know how to repay him.

Mo shenbai brought Xu Youyou around the hospital's Lounge area and sat down on a bench to rest for a while.

Xu Youyou was also carried from the wheelchair to the bench, and the two of them sat side by side.

The sky was completely dark, and the moon was slowly rising. The lights of the high-rise buildings in the distance were dim, reflecting the Milky Way in the sky.

Xu Youyou tilted her head and leaned on Mo Shenbai's shoulder. Her voice was more energetic than when she had just woken up.

"Da Bai, I really don't want to go to Paris anymore. That place is too far from you."

She could not bear to leave him behind again.

Mo Shenbai raised his hand and patted her head. "What about your dream?"

"I can also realize my dream in Mo City." Xu Youyou answered, "I'll work harder and realize my dream by your side."

Mo Shenbai pinched her earlobe with his fingers and said in a low and hoarse voice, "But I'm afraid you'll regret it."

Xu Youyou sat up straight and turned her head to meet his affectionate eyes.

"My triplets are only 22 years old. She still has a long life ahead of her. I shouldn't be so selfish. I have already seen the world but I have confined her by my side and let her miss out on so many things."

Xu Youyou's heart felt as if it had been pinched. It was sour and numb for a moment. "But what will you do if I leave?"
