

Chapter 382: My sun (1)

Xu Youyou's eyes were slightly wet as she sobbed. "You idiot, you big idiot! I'm not your sun, and I've never been any sun. You're my sun.

It was you who gave me a ray of light at my most helpless and darkest time. It was you who gave me the courage to live on. It was you who gave me hope in life! But ... How could I forget my own light, how could I forget you!"

Tears slowly fell from the corners of her eyes, and she blamed herself.

Mo shenbai's Black eyes narrowed slightly, and he looked a little confused, as if he didn't understand what she meant.

"Moshen Bai, back then, you gave me an umbrella, and the person I fell in love with at first sight was not anyone else, but you."

The one who sheltered me from the wind and rain has always been you!

Mo Shen's long eyelashes trembled slightly, and there was surprise in his eyes. it's ... Me? "

He couldn't remember this at all.

When was it?

Where was he?

Xu Youyou nodded desperately, tears falling like pearls. you're the one who made me want to live. You're the one who made me fall in love at first sight. You're the one who made me work hard to become a little sun. It's always been you.

You always think you're in the abyss, but you don't know that you're also someone else's light.

Mo shenbai's heart was in turmoil, and he almost couldn't believe his ears. He gently wiped the tears on her cheeks with his fingertips. just because I gave you an umbrella, you treat me as your redemption.

Xu Youyou shook her head and said in a choked voice, " to you, it might have seemed like an umbrella given to a stranger, but to me, it was the only kindness I had for coming to this cold world.

Mo shenbai knew that she had once been tortured by illness and was full of despair about the world. She had no expectations, so he could more or less understand her state of mind at that time.

Xu Youyou hugged him, tears falling like rain.

da Bai, you're the one who made me re-establish a connection with this world. You're the one who made me love this world again.

Perhaps this was fate.

It was destined that he would give an umbrella to a little girl who had no desire to live on that rainy night. It was destined that the little girl would become the light in his life and bring him back to the human world from hell.

"I'm very lucky ... That person was me." Mo shenbai lowered his head and gently sucked the tears on her cheeks dry.

Xu Youyou raised her right hand. There was no ring on it. Instead, there was a band-aid.

A trace of suspicion flashed through mo shenbai's eyes.

Xu Youyou tore off the opening tape and a word was tattooed on her slender middle finger.

White.

Mo shenbai was stunned. He held her hand and his eyes were full of shock. you ... When did you get the tattoo? "

"Last night,"

Mo shenbai's heart trembled. last night? Aren't you angry at me?"

Xu Jialu even said that she was very sad and was crying.

"I'm angry, but I love you more." Xu Youyou pounded on his chest. as punishment for lying to me, I've decided to go to Paris. Do you have any objections? "

Mo shenbai shook his head. I dare not.

Xu Youyou pouted her little mouth, her expression full of reluctance. She tiptoed and hugged his neck.

"Da Bai, I really, really love you, so don't worry that I won't come back, and don't worry that I'll fall in love with someone else! Because I won't love anyone else in this life other than you."

Mo shenbai hugged her slender waist and rested his chin on her shoulder. don't worry. I'll be good and wait for you to come back.

Xu Youyou was amused by his " I'm very obedient ". She looked up with her teary eyes that were as clear as if they had been washed with water. She smiled brightly and said, " I'm very obedient too. I'll send you messages and video call you every day. I'll miss you very much too.

"Mm," muttered moshen Bai in a low voice.

Xu Youyou stood on her tiptoes and felt a little tired holding him. Mo shenbai's warm hands wrapped around her slender waist and carried her to the desk in a few steps.

With a wave of his long arm, the things on the desk were swept to the ground, and Xu Youyou was placed on the desk.

Xu Youyou raised her head and reached for his shoulder. She opened her mouth and bit him.

Mo shenbai's sword-like brows furrowed, and he looked at her little face without resisting.

Xu Youyou bit so deeply that she could almost see blood.

you slandered my Great White. This is my punishment for you. Do you have any objections? ”

He had said that he only cared about the heart that belonged to qianyue in mo Zhiyun’s body. Of course, this was one of the reasons, but after so many years of living together, she believed that Great White also had feelings for mo Zhiyun.

Last night, he had dissected the darkest side of her heart and degraded her cold selfishness ...

She felt extremely uncomfortable when she heard that.

He wasn’t as selfish as she had said, and he wasn’t that kind of person.

Mo shenbai’s thin lips curled up slightly, and his eyes became hotter. no problem. Maybe you can bite me a few more times. I like it very much.

Xu Youyou choked.

Da Bai, you’re a masochist?

Mo shenbai held her hand and looked at the tattoo. does it hurt? ”

Xu Youyou did not lie to him. She nodded obediently. it hurts so much that my eyes are dazzled. I wish I could just faint.

Mo shenbai knew that she was afraid of pain, especially when the tattoo was on her finger. It hurt a hundred times more than other places.

But she was willing to brand her name on her finger, so what did it matter if she bit him?

He lowered his head and kissed the words on her fingertips.

“Does it still hurt?”

Xu Youyou’s face heated up and she said awkwardly, ” “It doesn’t seem ... As painful as before.”

“Then what about this?” Mo shenbai kissed her affectionately again.

His expression was pious, as if he was her believer.

The corners of Xu Youyou’s lips curved up. it doesn’t hurt anymore.

Mo shenbai didn’t stop there, but gradually changed his mind.

Xu Youyou looked at the sky outside the window, her heart beating wildly. you didn’t sleep all night. Aren’t you tired? ”

“I’m not tired.”

Mo shenbai knelt on one knee, like the most loyal Knight, looking up at his noble Princess and offering everything he had.

Even if it was the most precious life.

The matter of Xu Youyou going abroad was settled. Cheng Ying and Xu Jiushi naturally did not object, but they were worried that she would not be used to her previous life, so they prepared a lot of things for her.

Food, clothes, and daily necessities were all available.

Xu Youyou, on the other hand, was focused on drawing and solving language problems.

She was good at English, but she knew nothing about French, so she had to start from zero.

Mo shenbai had specially hired a French teacher for her to fill her in.

It would be great if they didn't go to school. At least they could handle some simple daily conversations.

As for Qin zhengzhen, he was found dead in his home not long after he returned.

The police investigated and found that the deceased had sealed the door and windows and committed suicide by burning charcoal. The possibility of homicide was ruled out.

When Xu Youyou heard PEI Chuan's report, she could not help but complain, "It would be too easy on her if she died just like that."

Mo shenbai calmly picked up some food for her. eat more.

Qin zhengzhen's death had nothing to do with him. Even if she died, qianyue would not be able to come back.
