Wenjo didn't want to delay for a second, so he turned over and got up.

But his feet were numb, his tie was still tied, his weight was unstable, and he fell straight in front of him.

"Ah Before the body is the rigid marble tea table, thought finished.

Wenqiao closed his eyes and waited for the pain to come, but unexpectedly fell into a warm embrace.

Li Fengbei put his arms around her waist, and his face seemed to be laughing at her inconsistency.

Just now I said that I didn't want to be his woman, so I started to throw myself in my arms in the twinkling of an eye

Wenqiao was embarrassed. Knowing that he looked down on her, he began to explain, "it's not what you think, my leg..."

Just then, there was a rush of cell phone rings in the room.

Both were shocked.

Wenqiao earned a little, Li Fengbei immediately released her, and walked to the desk with long legs.

Wenjo eagerly opened the tie on his wrist and grabbed his cell phone.

This is her exclusive ringtone for Chenchen. Is there something wrong at home?

Wen Qiao looked at Li Fengbei, who also picked up the phone, lowered his voice and asked, "is it Chenchen? What happened? "

On the other end of the phone, Su yue'e cried, "Qiao Qiao, Chen Chen is gone!"

"What?" "What's going on?" asked wenjo, with a sudden contraction of his heart? Where is it missing? "

"In the playground I went to the nearby canteen to buy him some water to drink. As soon as I turned around, he disappeared! "

Wenjo was completely flustered. "Mom! Don't worry, I'll come right away! "

In a flash, countless thoughts flashed through my mind, the worst of which was that those people five years ago knew the existence of Chenchen!

Chenchen has been obedient since she was a child. She takes care of her children by herself and is in a foreign country. She has cultivated high vigilance since she was a child. He will never go with strangers casually.

The more he thought about it, the more confused he was. Wenqiao put away his cell phone and walked outside the door, but he didn't notice that his high-heeled shoes were broken. His body suddenly tilted to the side, and he didn't fall until his arm supported the coffee table.

A sharp pain came from the foot. The ankle was probably dislocated and showed its teeth in pain.

There was no way to wear high-heeled shoes, so Wenqiao took them off and threw them into the garbage can.

Barefoot, without looking at Li Fengbei, he rushed out of the president's office.

At this time, Li Fengbei has no mind to manage her, because his baby daughter is missing.

His cold face was full of anger.

"Find it for me! Send everyone out to look for it! If she's missing a hair, you come to me with your head up!"

A roar, "pa" to hang up the phone.

Who is so bold as to kidnap his daughter? I'm afraid I'm tired of living!

Li Fengbei picks up his coat, calls Beiqin and walks outside the door.

When Rolls Royce mirage drove to the company gate, he saw from a distance standing on the side of the road, constantly waving, anxious to stop a taxi.

I was so anxious when I got the call that I forgot her.

Didn't you tell him just now that you wanted to take him to the police station? Now what's the trick?

But at this moment, baby girl is the biggest thing in the world.

No longer pay attention to her, Li Fengbei take back his eyes and look at the position of the cab, "Lao Li, faster!"

The bodyguards trained by the Li family are of first-class ability. Under the Li family, there is the largest bodyguard company in the world. After hearing the news that the young lady has been kidnapped, all the bodyguards from the whole bodyguard company have been sent out.

Within half an hour, the playground was surrounded by layers, even a fly could not fly out.

When Li Fengbei arrives at the playground, An'an has been taken to a safe place by the bodyguards.
