

Passive Skills 121

Chapter 121 The King of the Mountain

The brigand Warlock finished channeling and a rain of fire fell from the sky. The health of those who continued to attack the boss dropped rapidly.

Zhang Shan looked at his health. He was losing more than 3000 health per second, close to 4000 health.

To tank the damage for five seconds, he would need around 20000 HP, and his current HP was just over 19000.

Take a big red potion and recover 500 hp. It's a bit too much.

Five seconds later, the brigand Sorcerer's big move ended. Everyone present was basically empty of blood, but they were not dead.

the brittleskin that had run away just now ran back again and continued to attack the boss.

come on, hurry up and take down the boss. Don't let it use another big move.

it won't have the chance to use any big moves. It's going to be blown up soon.

With 50 people attacking together, the damage was frighteningly high. In a short while, the BOSS was killed. Zhang Shan did not even have time to rush. He controlled the Panda baby to get the last kill.

There were too many goons and it was a little chaotic. Without paying attention, the BOSS was directly killed.

&Lt; system announcement: congratulations to Feng Yun realm, six-barreled Bodhisattva, and wind cloud blade for successfully killing the demonized Bandit Warlock. &Gt;

skill point +1, medal +100.

"haha, i finally got a skill point."

"this scroll dungeon is really awesome. it already gave us two skill points. it's a pity we didn't get the first one."

"It's all brother one blade's fault for not letting us go over to get experience. Otherwise, we could have gotten an extra skill point."

Windcloud blade felt very wronged. How would he have known that the previous bandit leader would give skill points? he was the one who took the blame and could not refute it. Indeed, he was the one who told the others not to come over and get experience.

"There's no rush. The final boss should give us another skill point."

it's really an awesome scroll. Should we go and collect dungeon scrolls? let's not talk about equipment, it'll be great if we can get skill points.

dungeon scrolls aren't easy to get. They're rarely available in the auction house. Most people use the scrolls they get for their own use. They don't even care if they can beat it. It's a waste.

Everyone was suffering from the lack of skill points. Most players could only Max out three skills at level 30.

The boss might have more skill points, but before level 30, there were very few people who could get more than ten extra skill points.

If he wanted to learn more skills, he could only try to save up on skill points. For some unimportant skills, he could only learn them at level one or two.

his main skills had just been maxed out, so it was hard to get skill books and skill points.

” we need to find a way to collect dungeon scrolls. we didn’t know that we would earn so much. arrange for someone to post a collection thread on the forum. also, we need to keep an eye on the auction house. ”

To be able to obtain three skill points in one dungeon, Feng Yun realm was also very excited.

He was rewarded with 10 skill points, but no matter how many skill points he had, it wasn’t enough.

Only people like Zhang Shan, who relied on being passive to survive, did not need skill points. His skills had already been maxed out.

He had gotten two more skill points today, but he still didn’t know what skill to learn next. He didn’t have a suitable skill book.

There were a few Hunter skill books in the auction house, but he didn’t want to learn them. He was a Hunter who went berserk.

Only skills that could Stack Attack power, attack speed, and critical hit were what he needed. The only thing he lacked was a displacement skill.

He didn’t want to learn any of the other random skills.

boss, open the equipment and distribute the equipment to clear the monsters quickly. After that, we’ll stop for the boss.

alright.

Feng Yun realm displayed the drops.

One orange quality equipment, two purple quality equipment, and one orange quality material. That was all.

This time, the drop rate was a little lower. There was only one orange equipment. The Panda baby didn’t get the last kill, so the drop rate was a little lacking.

The three pieces of equipment were all intelligence-type, so Zhang Shan had no chance of getting them. He could only participate in the roll for the materials.

However, there were 50 people on the field, so it would be a little difficult to get the highest score.

He would just let it be. Right now, he was only concerned about whether he could get the bandits ‘passive status out. As long as he could get mad demon out of passive, he could give up on any item.

A group of intelligence-type bosses rolled the three equipment and then rolled the orange material together.

Zhang Shan casually threw out the die, 100 points.

F * ck, why did he have to roll for 100 points for a material that wasn't worth much? he better not use up all his luck.

he still wanted to farm for passive skills.

the divine artifact boss is awesome. He rolled 100 points at the start. Is he not even letting us play dice?

it's okay, you can continue to play. Although you can't roll for the materials, it doesn't affect the dice game.

let's continue clearing the monsters. The sooner we finish, the better we can fight the boss.

The five people split into groups and dispersed.

Zhang Shan and the rest had not gone far when they heard someone calling out in the team channel, ”

f * ck, what's going on? a Bandit killed me with two slashes. Come quickly, it seems like a big Boss.

Zhang Shan checked the team's information. There was indeed one person who had already fallen.

there's really a Big Boss. It's Red and its name is Mountain King. Everyone, come quickly.

...

“what the f * ck, the king of the mountain? Shouldn't that be the biggest boss in this map? You're out so quickly?”

“Let's go and gather together.” Feng Yun realm did not care if the one who killed their teammates was the final boss.

Since it was a boss, they could just attack it together and defeat it.

Zhang Shan and the rest could only continue to return. They were only happy when there was a boss to fight. It was much better than killing small monsters.

As they had not been separated for long, everyone quickly gathered together.

He looked at the BOSS, the King of the Mountain, not far away.

Zhang Shan could only sigh. The mountain bandits were really perverted. Even the damn Mountain King looked like a normal mountain Bandit.

he was also holding a vegetable knife in each hand, except for the red name of the mountain king.

he was no different from any other ordinary mountain bandits. it seemed like mountain bandits didn't care about their reputation.

They were all wretched dogs who didn't care about martial virtue.

it's really a red BOSS. Is there another red BOSS in this map? "

I don't think so. The King of the Mountains should be the biggest BOSS.

that's right. The king of the stronghold must be the most powerful. It's impossible for there to be a retired emperor.

" a red BOSS with a kitchen knife. it should be easy to deal with. it's just a dummy monster. "

"That's not for sure. Why don't you go up and try?"

"F * ck, with my small body, I'll be chopped into pieces by the King of the Mountain with two slashes."

"By the way, brother, weren't you killed by the King of the Mountain? Did you see the boss's attributes and skills?"

no, the King of the Mountains just killed me with two slashes. I didn't have the time to look at my stats. Besides, I didn't even hit the boss. I was only slashed. I can't see my stats.

"you weakling, you were cut down by the king of the mountain when you were passing by? What an unlucky child."

how can you say that he's unlucky? he should be the lucky one. It saves us the trouble of looking for the BOSS.

"Haha, you're right."

"Boss, how do we deal with this BOSS?"

"Clear the nearby monsters first. Six tubes, go and fight the BOSS. Support, pay attention to the Panda baby's health."

Chapter 122 The ferocious Mountain King

Zhang Shan controlled the baby panda to move forward. When the Mountain King saw the baby panda, it waved its two vegetable knives and rushed forward.

the two vegetable knives were sent flying, and damage values appeared on the panda baby's head one by one, and its hp was rapidly decreasing.

" holy sh * t, the mountain king is so fierce. you guys have to pay attention to the panda baby's health. "

what the f * ck, the Mountain King isn't holding a vegetable knife. It's more like a firestorm wheels. It's chopping so fast that you can't even tell that it's a vegetable knife.

“This attack speed is really f * cking amazing.”

The Mountain King’s attack speed made Zhang Shan’s eyes Go Red. If he also had this attack speed, wouldn’t he be overpowered?

He had never seen a monster with such a fast attack speed.

Moreover, the Mountain King’s attack power was not weak, either. Each of its attacks dealt around-8000 damage. In addition to its high attack speed, it was simply terrifying.

He didn’t even know if the Panda baby could take it, but luckily, there were enough supports this time.

The 10 or so supports kept on healing the Panda baby and were barely able to stabilize the Panda baby’s health within a safe range.

the Mountain King’s damage output is simply explosive. It’s the scariest BOSS I’ve ever seen with a single unit of time.

As Zhang Shan continuously fired at the Mountain King, he checked its attributes.

[demonized mountain king (red): level 30, hp 10000000, attack 5000, skill 1, vegetable knife ferocity, skill 2, mad demon, skill 3, desperate three strikes, skill 4, earth-splitting slash]

[vegetable knife ferocity: when the demonized Mountain King attacks with a vegetable knife, its damage will increase by 100%.]

[mad demon (passive): the demonized mountain king becomes even crazier after being demonized, greatly increasing its attack speed.]

[desperate three slashes: demonized Mountain King. Its use of the vegetable knife is at the point of perfection. It slashes three times in a row.]

The first slash dealt 100% damage, the second slash dealt twice the damage, and the third slash dealt four times the damage.

[earth-splitting slash: by slashing the ground, the damage will spread in all directions, dealing five times the damage to nearby enemy units. Effective range of five yards.]

The first three skills were the same as the brigand leader’s, but one of them was enhanced. The damage increase was now 100%.

Mad demon’s passive skill did not have any specific stats, but it must have been greatly enhanced. Otherwise, how could the Mountain King be able to slash so quickly?

The key was the Mountain King. Why did it still have the earth splitting slash? this was a God-tier skill, the nemesis of close combat.

With this skill alone, the melee players present would be basically useless when their HP was reduced to half. They could only be spectators and could not go forward to attack.

Zhang Shan brought along a group of assistants. After holding back the Mountain King, the others quickly cleared out the ordinary mountain bandits nearby.

Then, they started to attack the BOSS.

the Mountain King isn't that strong either. It's just that its attack speed is a little faster.

"F * ck, what's with your eyes? you call this not strong? Other than the Panda baby, no one else in the game can take this damage, right?"

"Yes, no one can withstand this damage."

the Mountain King's normal attack can deal around 7000 to 8000 damage, but if it uses its three-hit all-out skill, it can deal around 20000 to 30000 damage. The most important thing is that it's so fast. Who can withstand it? " fortunately, boss called a few support players this time. Otherwise, they wouldn't be able to keep up with the healing. The King of the Mountain is too strong.

let's not talk about this anymore. I have to quickly deal some damage before the Mountain King's HP drops to half. I won't be able to do anything later.

Windcloud blade said in a sad tone.

haha, this f * cking Mountain King also has an earth splitter skill. We still have to rely on our long-range damage output to fight the BOSS.

"Are we only good enough to fight magical bosses? Why do all bosses have this kind of skill?"

you're thinking too much. If you were fighting a magic-type BOSS, you'd probably die even more easily.

The Mountain King's 10000000 HP was not a lot for their 50-man party.

If they dealt damage normally, they would probably be able to destroy it in seven or eight minutes. However, if the last half of the health bar was short of melee damage output, it would take a little more time.

feng yun qing qing's curse skill would be used once every minute. zhang shan did not think of saving his berserk and fanatic skills either.

He had already activated all his curse skills when he first used them. [fanaticism skill has reached level 10.]

For six seconds, his attack speed would increase by 100%. During the skill's duration, his attack speed would be faster than the Mountain King.

The God-tier hand cannon was like a machine gun, fiercely shooting out bullets. Unfortunately, the duration was too short.

Only six seconds, six seconds of being a real man, and everything returned to normal after that.

If he wanted to show off his might again, he would have to wait for the five-minute cooldown.

Under the group's fierce attacks, the Mountain King's HP gradually dropped to almost 50%.

boss, let's move out of the way first. Otherwise, we'll be instantly killed again.

"alright. melee players, step aside and stand ten yards away from the mountain king."

Earth splitter's damage range was not large, only five yards around it. However, its damage value was very high.

With the boss's attack power, other than The Guardian warrior, no one else would be able to take it.

For bosses with the earth-shattering slash skill, once their HP dropped to 50%, the area within five yards of them would be a forbidden zone. Whoever went up to them would die.

As expected, when its HP dropped to 50%, the Mountain King immediately used the earth-splitting slash skill, and a damage of nearly 20000 appeared above the Panda baby's head.

After earth-shattering slash was used, the Mountain King followed up with three desperate strikes, almost emptying the baby Panda's HP.

Fortunately, the group of supports in the team were powerful and raised the Panda baby's health in time.

f * ck, that was close. Even the 120000 HP baby panda almost died. The Mountain King is really fierce.

it seems a little difficult to handle. After going berserk, the Mountain King will definitely be even more powerful. By then, the Panda baby might not be able to take it.

it's fine, we still have so many people. If the Panda baby dies, the Secretary will take over first. If the Secretary dies, the other Warriors will line up and charge, waiting for six-barreled Bodhisattva to summon his pet again.

After Feng Yun realm considered for a while, he made arrangements for the possible accidents.

"Sigh, the Guild's number one tank has already fallen to the point of being cannon fodder."

"So what if you're cannon fodder? you don't even have the qualifications to be one."

The Secretary was furious. Who was he looking down on? he was already very strong, but he was still a little weaker than Zhang Shan's Panda baby.

However, wasn't he much stronger than the other Guardian classes?

The Mountain King took turns to use its skills, and the Panda baby's 120000 HP was constantly dropping.

if there were enough support players on the field, they would have been unable to hold on.

It was still a little difficult to deal with it now. Fortunately, the critical hit rate of the Mountain King was not too high, so it did not trigger many attacks.

...

He should be able to hold his ground before the Mountain King went berserk.

After fighting for a few more minutes, the Mountain King's HP had dropped to almost 20%.

be careful, the Mountain King is about to go berserk. Little Secretary, be ready at any time.

No one thought that the Panda baby would last until the end. The Mountain King was too strong. Even with 120000 HP, it could not last more than a few seconds.

123 Chapter 123-crushing the Mountain King when its hp dropped to 20%, the mountain king went berserk.

After going berserk, the Mountain King became even more terrifying. Its attack speed was so fast that it made one's hair stand on end. Its two vegetable knives formed two circles of light, and no one could tell what they looked like.

He was really too fast.

Even if there were more than a dozen supports constantly healing it, and two of them had enhanced rejuvenation, the Panda baby's HP was still hovering on the edge of danger.

f * ck, hurry up! The Panda baby might not be able to hold on any longer. Everyone, try to deal more damage first.

Feng Yun Qing cast another curse skill, and at the same time, she cast a totem skill.

the totem recovered the health of nearby friendly units by percentage, and the panda baby was also a friendly unit.

He could still enjoy the recovery effect of the totem, although the recovery speed was not very fast.

However, in terms of percentage recovery, the recovery effect was the best for units with high HP like the Panda baby.

It was comparable to the amount of health added by a few supports.

With the recovery effect of the totem, the baby panda should be able to hold on for at least 15 seconds.

totems could still be increased. although the buffs on friendly units such as attack power and attack speed were not much, it was still good to be able to add a little.

zhang shan's berserk and fanatic skills had also finished their cooldown.

he also activated his berserk and fanaticism skills, causing a wave of explosive damage. the others had similar skills.

He did not hold back either and used all sorts of skills on the Mountain King. Very quickly, it lost another 10% of its HP.

haha, only one million HP left. No matter how strong the Mountain King is, it's going to die.

brother, please don't talk nonsense. Don't make us look bad.

As soon as it finished speaking, the Mountain King continuously used earth splitter and three desperate strikes, directly killing the Panda baby with a critical hit.

Secretary Feng Yun immediately used charge and pulled the Mountain King back.

Zhang Shan stopped his attacks and summoned the Panda baby again. He took the time to feed it. After the pet died, its happiness plummeted.

It had to be fed before it could fight again.

On the other side, the little Secretary pulled on the Mountain King and left in less than three seconds, even though his HP was also more than 40000.

However, against a berserk Mountain King, it was nothing. This did not mean that the Mountain King's attack power was very high.

it was just that its attack speed was too fast. it dealt thousands of damage in one hit, and the little secretary was cut down in a few hits.

the support didn't have time to heal him. the higher the tank's hp, the more effective the support would be.

Otherwise, if a tank were to fall in two or three seconds, the support would only be able to watch helplessly without any chance to heal.

after the little secretary fell, the other warriors lined up to charge, but they were even worse off. they were basically all killed in a second.

Zhang Shan was not in a hurry to call the Panda baby up. Its health had not fully recovered, and it would not be able to hold on for long.

"Support, don't care about them. First, fill up the Panda baby's blood."

what's there to add to them? they were all instakilled anyway.

The Panda baby's HP recovery was too slow, so it was more convenient to add a few more supports.

The 10 or so supports quickly restored the Panda baby's HP to full, and four or five of the Warriors who were charging had already fallen.

In less than ten seconds, other than the little Secretary who dragged on for two more seconds, everyone else fell in seconds.

From this, one could see how ferocious the Mountain King was. Without Zhang Shan's Panda baby, at this stage, no one would be able to withstand the Mountain King's damage.

It was really a little too fierce.

After the Panda baby's health was back to full, Zhang Shan regained control of it and pulled on the Mountain King.

At that moment, the Mountain King's HP was around 700000 to 800000. It no longer had the chance to cause any more damage.

even if the panda baby fell again, it didn't matter. they could carry it with human flesh until it exploded.

come on, let's do it quickly. Beat up the King of the Mountains.

Zhang Shan stood in place, not moving. The bullets kept shooting, and from time to time, they could even hit the critical effect.

he already had a lot of critical hits and passive special effects, plus the little wild wolf from the wind cloud cannon was also on the side.

The chance of triggering a critical hit was even higher.

The Panda baby, who had gone up again, was slashed into a dangerous state again and again. However, it was still holding on.

The Mountain King's HP continued to drop under everyone's relentless attacks.

f * ck, I don't believe it. The Mountain King only has 200000 HP left. Can it still be overturned? " stir? what are you talking about? I want to chop you to death.

" those with stun skills, attack. stun the mountain king for a few seconds and kill it. "

The reason why they didn't go up and use the stun skill was because the BOSS's stun resistance was high. It wouldn't be effective for long, so there was no need to use it.

Now that the Mountain King only had 200000 HP left, it would be good for it to be stunned for a few more milliseconds to reduce the pressure on the Panda baby.

That way, they would be able to safely destroy the Mountain King and prevent any more unforeseen circumstances from happening.

When the Mountain King was left with 1% of its health, Zhang Shan estimated the time. After two seconds, he immediately controlled the Panda baby to cast the combo skill.

...

The Panda baby waved its hands and struck seven times in a row, causing the Mountain King to explode.

&Lt; system announcement: congratulations to Feng Yun realm, six-barreled Bodhisattva, and wind Cloud Cannon for killing demonized Mountain King. &Gt;

Skill point +1, medal +100.

&Lt; system notification: your passive King talent has been successfully triggered by killing the demonized Mountain King. You have automatically obtained the Mad demon (passive) skill. &Gt;

'Haha, King Shan is such a good brother. He's so generous to use his passive skill. I finally don't have to worry about it anymore.'

Let's see how the skill is, how much it adds to attack speed, and why the Mountain King's attack speed is so fast.

[ mad demon (passive): Level 1 (acquired talent, can not be upgraded), increases attack speed by 20%. ]

F * ck, this skill was amazing. It directly increased his attack speed by 20%, which was more than the attack speed increase of his two bracers.

it was no wonder that the mountain king's attack speed was so fast. after he obtained the skill, he could increase it by 20%.

How much did the King of the Mountain add? it can't be double the attack speed, right?

This time, he had followed Feng Yun realm and the others into the scroll instance dungeon and had gained a lot of rewards. Now, all that was left was to see what kind of good items the Mountain King had dropped.

zhang shan controlled the panda baby and took the last hit. he hoped that the drop would not be too bad. unfortunately, the scroll was provided by feng yun qing qing.

She had the priority to choose an item, but she hoped that the divine weapon would not drop and let her choose it.

If that was the case, even if Zhang Shan was a person with a good mentality, he would not be able to help but be jealous.

"Boss, hurry up and open the equipment. I think we might drop some good equipment this time."

it'll definitely drop some good stuff. The Mountain King is probably the strongest level 30 red boss. It's unbelievably strong. It'd be a shame if it didn't drop anything good.

I hope it drops a divine weapon. That'll make me feel so good.

f * ck, if the divine artifact drops directly, then wouldn't it be too easy for Qingqing? I'm in such a contradictory mood.

Oh my God, I forgot that Qingqing has to choose an item first. What should I do? no, if there's a good item, Qingqing has to give a red packet, a big red packet.

"If it drops a divine artifact, I'll give you a big red packet, hehe."

f * ck, stop dreaming. Hurry up and open your equipment.

Chapter 124 Proof of Raider extermination feng yun realm did not waste any time and immediately displayed the loot.

Three red, two orange, and one red material.

It did not drop a skill book, but it did drop something that no one had ever seen before, the bandit extermination certificate.

Although the Mountain King had dropped three pieces of red equipment for them, which was definitely a huge drop, no one cared about the equipment at this moment.

everyone was very interested in the bandit suppression certificate. it was something they had never seen before, so it was very likely to be of the highest quality.

[ Bandit extermination proof: proof that you have successfully exterminated the bandit camp. Bring this proof to the eastern capital Marshal's residence to receive the corresponding reward. ]

this Raider extermination certificate can be considered a mission item. I wonder what kind of reward I will get? ”

“I can get a divine artifact.”

“F * ck, do you have to be so exaggerated, brother?”

“what kind of reward do you think i'll get?”

“this is really hard to guess. it can't be worse than a red equipment, right?”

you should at least give me a spiritual weapon. Otherwise, this Bandit extermination certificate will be too useless. Red equipment can be bought with money. Why would you want it? ” what are you guys worried about? the mission item belongs to sister Qingqing. It has nothing to do with us.

“Qing Qing, do you want this proof of clearing the bandits? Why don't you choose a red equipment? I just happened to get a red staff, it's very suitable for you.”

“Do I look like an idiot to you? Who would still want the equipment if there's a mission item?”

a certain someone still wanted to fool feng yun qing qing, but he had clearly failed.

“not all the quest items are useful. i saw on the forum that someone made a quest item and was happy for a long time, but only gave a purple equipment.”

“but there are also good ones. the six-barreled boss only got the divine weapon by relying on the task items.”

holy sh * t, after hearing what you said, I feel like it's not impossible to get a divine weapon as a reward for exterminating the bandits.

“Qingqing, you choose first.”

Although Feng Yun realm was also very envious of this Raider extermination, he had to follow the rules set.

There would be plenty of good things in the future. As long as he played seriously, he would also have a divine weapon. He was not someone who lacked money.

“Then I’ll take this proof.” Feng Yun Qing Qing made her choice without any hesitation.

Feng Yun realm did not waste any time and immediately gave her the bandit extermination certificate.

“sister qingqing, remember to send a big red packet.”

didn’t I just say that I’ll only give you a big red packet if I get a divine weapon? ”

“little rich lady, don’t be so stingy. I’ll give you a big red packet first, then go get the reward. That way, the chances of getting a divine weapon will be higher.”

” get lost. i’m born with a lucky halo. do i need to rely on red packets? ” don’t talk nonsense. Quickly distribute the equipment. Qingqing will naturally know when she goes to the East Capital.

He had three red and two orange equipment, and a red staff was the weapon of mages and witch doctors. Although priests were also intelligence-type, their weapons were magic swords and not magic staffs.

The other two pieces of red equipment were a strength-type shirt and an agility-type necklace.

As for the two orange-colored equipment, they were both strength-type.

of all the drops, zhang shan could participate in the roll of the red necklace and materials. the other items had nothing to do with him.

this was already considered good. at least there was an equipment for him to roll. even if he couldn’t roll it in the end, he could still play the die.

It was much better than the previous times.

Feng Yun realm first made arrangements to roll the orange equipment and red clothes of the strength type, then the staff.

all of this had nothing to do with zhang shan. he quietly watched them. some were excited, some were depressed.

let’s roll for the necklace. All agility classes, roll for it.

After Feng Yun realm activated the roll for the necklace, Zhang Shan rolled the die in his hand. 96 points.

This was a pretty good point. He hoped that he would have a chance to roll for it. If he did, he would be able to buy one less piece of equipment when he reached level 30.

Moreover, the attributes of this red ring were quite good.

[perfect violet-platinum necklace: level 30, physical attack 650 – 720, Agility 160, special effect 1, critical hit, special effect 2, life conversion]

[critical strike: increases critical strike trigger rate by 2%.]

[life conversion: convert 3% of attack damage into health points.]

Needless to say, the necklace's attributes did not differ much from red grade equipment of the same level. The main thing was that the second special effect was very useful to Zhang Shan.

Life conversion was a lifesteal effect. Although the lifesteal ratio was not high, it was enough for Zhang Shan.

If he dealt 1000 damage and drained 30 hp, he would usually deal around 4000 damage when he was farming monsters, which meant that each attack would drain more than 100 hp.

It was very practical, and even more useful in fighting. It was a small top-grade item.

When everyone else had finished rolling their dice, the highest was only 89 points. Zhang Shan's points were the highest, so Feng Yun realm assigned the purple gold necklace to him.

"The divine artifact boss is so lucky."

he must be lucky. Otherwise, how could he get his hands on a divine weapon? "

"correct."

In the end, all 50 of them rolled for the materials together. Perhaps they had used too much luck today.

He had only rolled 12 points. Well, there was nothing for him to do.

anyway, he had already gained a lot this time, so he didn't need to care about these small details.

"Is there no reward for clearing this instance?"

I don't know. Maybe the scroll dungeon doesn't even have a reward for clearing it? " it should be. I've never heard of anyone else's instance dungeon clearing scroll announcement.

don't be too greedy. There are six bosses in the dungeon and three skill points. Why do you still want a reward? " that's right. Why would he need a bicycle? maybe Qingqing can get another divine weapon. With such a big harvest, why would he need a reward for clearing the game? "

"Alright, the work is done. You may leave."

"We've been in this instance dungeon for the entire afternoon. It's almost time for lunch."

"Let's go back to the city and wait for Qingqing's Red packet. Then, we'll go offline to eat."

"You'll starve to death without red packets."

Everyone started channeling the teleport skill to return to the city. The little Secretary and the other Warriors who had fallen to the ground earlier had already been pulled up.

They didn't need to resurrect in the city anymore, so they could all return to the city with the channeling bar.

After returning to the Guild's base, Zhang Shan immediately teleported to the auction house. He still had an item that was worth a small target, and it was still on the auction house.

although it wasn't time for the auction to end yet, he still had to take a look at the auction and see how it was going.

Zhang Shan went to the auction house to check on the progress of the invincible slash skill book.

Haha, not bad. There were a few more people bidding. The invincible slash skill book's price had already reached 150 million.

Could it be that the dream last night was real? This skill book can be sold for 200 million?

This was truly a wave of riches. Red equipment and the like were all fleeting clouds. The ultimate skill book was the high-end item that could be compared to a divine weapon.

Speaking of which, there were so many rich big shots in the New World that they spent their money without even blinking.

Regarding this situation, Zhang Shan only wanted to say that there were more rich big shots to liven up the atmosphere.

Let the price rise a little more. His dream of having a villa by the sea depended on this wave.

Chapter 125 Second place on the equipment ranking

zhang shan was still not satisfied. he closed the invincible slash skill book's auction page and checked in the auction house to see if there were any auction items he needed.

He didn't need to think about equipment now. He would think about it when he reached level 30 and see if there were any suitable Hunter skill books.

He still had three skill points that were idle and did not have any suitable skills to learn.

however, after zhang shan had looked through all the hunter skill books, he could not find what he liked. they were all not very good damage-type skill books.

For example, a fire attack that increased damage by 10% for each level seemed pretty good.

however, the cooldown time was one minute. in this one minute, zhang shan could deal a few critical hits.

What was the use of having it? Moreover, to Max out a skill, he would need 10 skill points. Wasn't that a waste?

It wasn't very useful to him, so he didn't want to waste his skill points on these skills. He would save them for now.

There would always be a suitable skill book appearing, and there were many general skills in the New World.

It was the kind that all classes could learn. Some general skills were not bad, such as the jump skill, which was a life-saving skill.

There should be other general skills appearing, so he would save the skill points for later.

After scanning through the engineering Materials at a suitable price, Zhang Shan left the auction house and teleported to the warehouse to store the purple-gold necklace.

He didn't need it now, as he could only equip it at level 30.

He looked at the time. It was still a little early for dinner. He would try to make a firework first.

He didn't even have a single point of the trainee engineer's proficiency, so he had to take the first step.

Taking out the firework materials from the warehouse, Zhang Shan teleported to the Guild base, ready to use up all the materials.

He wanted to see if he could successfully make one. As long as he made the first product, it would be much easier to increase his proficiency later on.

Arriving at the Guild workshop, Zhang Shan used his personal Guild contribution points to open the Control Panel and put a set of fireworks material on it.

After ten seconds of operation, a small spark burst out. It was a failure without a doubt. Again.

Failure is the mother of success. Once you get used to failure, success will appear inadvertently.

With his previous experience of making normal bullets, Zhang Shan was very calm. He had already collected hundreds of sets of materials for fireworks.

He couldn't possibly say that he would fail a hundred times in a row.

Zhang Shan repeated his failure over and over again, numbly placing the firework materials on the operating table.

Although each failure meant a loss of more than a dozen gold coins, there was no other way.

If he wanted to increase his life profession's rank, he could only invest more in it. As long as he thought about how he could make bullets with attributes in the future, he would be able to increase his strength.

He could still afford to invest in this.

While Zhang Shan was making fireworks in the Guild workshop, he was also in the Guild channel, paying attention to the progress of Feng Yun Qing Qing's trip to the eastern capital Marshal's residence to receive her reward.

Exterminating the bandits proved to be a good item, although Zhang Shan was not looking forward to it like the others.

Did they think that Feng Yun Qing Qing might receive a divine weapon as a reward?

He felt that it was almost impossible to obtain a divine weapon because Master Lu had said before that every divine weapon represented the luck of a race, and it was rare.

it was only after the human race became powerful that more divine weapons could be produced.

This meant that the possibility of obtaining a divine weapon in the early stages of the game was very small. Only in the later stages of the game, when the player's level had increased.

Now, if he wanted to obtain a divine weapon, he could only do what Zhang Shan had done with the hand cannon.

First, he would get a damaged artifact and then find the corresponding NPC to repair it.

It didn't sound difficult, but it wasn't easy at all. It was already difficult for players to obtain damaged artifacts.

He still had to find the corresponding NPC and prepare the materials, especially the divine materials.

only when all the conditions were met could one get a divine artifact.

To Zhang Shan, everything else was fine. He still had a damaged ring and two divine materials.

However, he did not know which NPC to find to repair it. If there was no hint on the item, he would be completely at a loss.

He was planning to wait until he reached level 30 to see if he could find a Mount. If he had a Mount, he would be able to find NPCs much faster in the city.

it would be a complete waste of time if he went to look for it now. he might not even be able to find the NPC that triggered the condition even if he spent ten days to half a month.

The bandit extermination proof in Feng Yun Qing's hands was much simpler. The goal was clear, which was to go to the East Capital Marshal's residence to receive the reward.

It would be ridiculous if such a simple procedure rewarded a divine artifact. However, even if it wasn't a divine artifact, it shouldn't be too bad.

The house of Marshal was such a big deal, they couldn't just give him some equipment and send him away.

sister Qingqing, have you received your reward yet? I'm still waiting for your big red packet.

don't bother me. The East Capital is so big, and we can't teleport. It'll take at least twenty minutes to get to the Marshal's residence.

"Why don't you come back? I'll help you run, and we'll split the reward in half."

"Go to hell!"

both the east and west did not allow players to teleport. this setting was known to everyone after zhang shan had been to the east capital once.

if it wasn't for the fact that they had a mission to complete, none of the players would go to the twin capital to find trouble.

The teleportation fee was 10000 gold coins, which was affordable for the rich bosses, but if they couldn't teleport.

In such a big city, where would the players start? therefore, if they had nothing to do, no one would go to the two capitals. The setting was too ridiculous.

hearing feng yun qing qing say that they still had to run for another 20 minutes, the others did not wait in the city and went out to farm monsters.

Zhang Shan continued to make fireworks. After countless failures, he finally succeeded in making a firework for the first time.

Haha, I finally succeeded once. I put away the firework on the workbench, and I got a firework from one production.

Forget it, it's useless anyway. I'll play with it later.

Looking at his life profession proficiency, he finally increased his apprentice engineer progress by a little.

zhang shan used up all the remaining materials and successfully made two more fireworks. he had obtained a total of three fireworks.

The apprentice engineer's proficiency had also reached three points. After using up all the materials, he packed up and prepared to go offline to eat.

He looked at the time. He had been making fireworks for so long, but Feng Yun Qing Qing still had not received her reward.

"Beauty Qing Qing, have you not received your reward yet?"

"I'll be there soon. Wait for my divine weapon to be born. Haha."

zhang shan was speechless. what a big heart. forget it, i'll wait to see the results before going offline.

Not long after, Feng Yun Qing Qing sent the attributes of a piece of equipment to the Guild channel and complained, "

Oh my God, I thought he would give me a divine weapon. He only gave me a spiritual weapon. Sigh.

"F * ck, big sister, please don't take the Versailles. You're not even satisfied with the spiritual weapon? he's now ranked second on the equipment leaderboard."

"No divine artifact, bad rating, hehe."

"spiritual equipment is already very strong. like divine equipment, it's bound to players and won't drop. moreover, it can be used as the player's level increases. it can be used until the end. "

Qing Qing has earned a lot. She got a spiritual weapon from a Dungeon Scroll.

"I'm envious,"

Chapter 126 The effect of the fireworks

A spiritual weapon was already very strong. Its attributes were only slightly worse than a divine weapon, its special effects were half of a divine weapon, and it was also missing a Holy attack.

However, it was still enough to completely suppress the red equipment.

Zhang Shan checked the attributes of the spiritual weapon.

[sigma's blessing (spiritual item): magic attack 1200 – 1300, intelligence 180, equipment level (sealed), currently level 20. spiritual item will be unsealed as the player's level increases. it will be unsealed once every 10 levels.]

Durability, never worn out, bound to player Feng Yun Qing Qing, can not be dropped.

[special effect 1: power attack. Increases magic attack by 5%.]

[special effect 2: magic affinity. Increases mana regeneration speed by 5%.]

[special effect 3: Master of Magic. Increases casting speed and reduces skill cooldown time by 5% each.]

Its attributes could not be compared to a God equipment. Zhang Shan's hand cannon had 2000 attack power, which was 700 more than this [praise of Sigma ].

The attribute increase was about the same. The hand cannon added 200 attribute points, while this spiritual weapon added 180 attribute points. The difference was not big.

All in all, the three special effects were only half of the effects of a godly item, and it was missing the most powerful special effect, Holy Strike.

It was estimated that the special effect of the Holy Strike could only appear on equipment above the divine equipment level. It ignored the target's defense and dealt 10 times the damage. The special effect would instantly kill the target.

Even spiritual weapons didn't have this special effect. It seemed that he would not be able to get any other equipment.

hey, beauty Qingqing, where's the big red packet we agreed on? why haven't you sent it out yet? " don't be so stingy. Just send a hundred thousand or eighty thousand. Hurry up and send red packets.

"i only got a spiritual weapon, no red packet."

While the big bosses of the wind and cloud Guild were still urging Feng Yunqing to give out red packets, the other players in new world were also busy.

they also discovered that a spiritual weapon had suddenly appeared on the equipment list, and it caused an uproar.

f * ck, hurry up and take a look. A spiritual weapon has appeared on the equipment list.

"What? There really is a spirit tool being born, why didn't there be any announcement?"

that's right. Don't tell me that spiritual weapons don't even deserve an announcement? "

"By the way, why is it the wind and cloud Guild again? How did they get it? is there an inside story?"

Feng Yun realm did not hide and said in the world Channel, the instance dungeon Scroll drops the quest item and the reward from the East Capital. This might be an important way for players to obtain top-grade equipment.

" f * ck, this must be fake. i've also obtained a mission item before. i only received a red equipment from the city lord's mansion. where did i get a spiritual weapon? "

"How can it be the same? You're going to the city Lord's mansion to get your reward, while he's going to the East Capital to get his reward. There's a difference of several grades, okay?"

I collect all kinds of quest items. If you have some, bring a picture of me.

What the f * ck, someone started advertising and collecting mission items just like that? did he have to be so direct?

The big shots 'desire for top-tier equipment was a little too strong.

Zhang Shan took out a firework from his backpack. When it came to advertising, who could compare to me? the effect of a firework was very good, hehe.

"congratulations, beauty qing qing, for obtaining a spirit weapon." After saying that, Zhang Shan used a firework.

The entire world Channel was lit up with fireworks. Everyone who turned on the world Channel could see Zhang Shan's message and the effects of the fireworks.

Fireworks weren't real. They were worthless things. When used in conjunction with the chat channel, the entire chat channel would have a firework effect.

Even if it was used in the world Channel, it would have a firework effect. It was definitely a godly advertising tool.

"Holy sh * t, brother artifact, where did you get this firework effect? Does new world have chat special effects?"

Engineering was considered a less popular profession, unlike apothecaries and blacksmiths. At present, no one had made fireworks.

the others didn't know that the finished fireworks had such an effect.

an engineering product, the effect of fireworks.

Zhang Shan spent 10 gold coins and explained in the world Channel. He felt a little heartache over the money. No, he could only take a look and not speak anymore.

"Divine weapon boss, are you confessing your love to Qingqing? They even set off fireworks."

f * ck, these people's imaginations were too rich. how could he afford to offend a rich lady like feng yun qingqing?

no, let's go, let's go. He closed the world Channel. He couldn't afford to offend these big shots with rich imaginations.

After Zhang Shan walked out of the Guild workshop, he came to the front of the Guild Hall.

feng yun qing qing was holding her new staff and making a point-of-sale gesture. a group of guild members were watching. when they saw zhang shan coming over, someone asked,"

"Brother divine artifact, do you still have the fireworks from earlier? Sell one for me to play with."

What the f * ck, are these people that playful? Did he have to play with the fireworks in a game?

"there are two of them. who else wants them? they don't cost money. they're just an accessory to increase proficiency. they're worthless."

"Give me one,"

Feng Yun Qing Qing immediately squeezed forward and asked for a firework from Zhang Shan. The other one was given to the brother who had spoken first.

brother artifact, this thing is still useful. It's good to advertise in the game and chase girls. Hehe.

no matter how useful it is, it's not worth much. After my engineering proficiency increases, I can make it at will. The materials are not expensive either.

doesn't that mean you can buy it at an auction in the future? those people who do engineering will make it and sell it, right? "

...

" i guess someone else will be able to do it soon. it's not too difficult to be an apprentice engineer. we just need to spend a few thousand gold coins and some time. "

"I'll go to the auction house in a few days and buy a dozen fireworks to play with, hehe."

"Pay attention, I'm going to give out red packets."

Feng Yun Qing Qing said in the Guild channel.

The chat channel in new world had a red packet function, but only gold coins could be sent, not blue coins.

Whether it was gold or blue coins, there was no difference to the players. The exchange rate in the exchange was now close to one to one.

Even if he could exchange for a large number of them, there was no pressure at all. The player base of the entire game was particularly large. The number of players who registered last week had already exceeded 100 million, and it would only increase now.

There was enough gold to be produced, and even if they exchanged hundreds of millions of gold coins at once, there would not be too much of a fluctuation in the ratio.

a beautiful genius's spiritual weapon has been born. Let's send a red packet to celebrate.

After Feng Yun Qing Qing finished speaking, she sent out the red packet and used the firework effect in the Guild channel.

Zhang Shan immediately received the red packet. Since there was a big Boss giving out red packets, he had to be quick.

...

[ system notification: congratulations on receiving Feng Yun Qing Qing's Red packet. You have received 86 gold coins. ] he had received 86 gold coins. hehe, he had money for dinner.

"Sister Qingqing, how big is your red packet? why did I only receive one gold coin?"

"Haha, I got 500 gold coins."

"F * ck, why do I only have two gold coins?"

you guys have such bad luck. You can only get the least amount of red packets. I've already given you 100000 gold coins.

f * ck, there are only a few thousand players online in the Guild right now. It doesn't make sense for me to get one gold coin for 100000 gold coins.

"Damn loser."

"forget it, forget it. i've got the red packet, so i have money for dinner. let's go eat."

Chapter 127 The end of the auction

After logging out of the game, Zhang Shan took off his gaming helmet.

He would call boss Wu first and ask him if he was really resigning. However, it was still a little early. He should still be at work.

Who cares? he was going to get lost anyway. Even if he was still at work, it should be fine to pick up a call.

The call connected.

"Boss Wu, are you off work yet?"

"Not yet, I'll be off work soon."

"Did you tell your boss about your resignation?"

I did. The leader advised me not to leave. He even said that if I think the salary is too low, I can apply for a raise. Hehe.

“F * ck, why didn’t I increase your salary when you didn’t plan to leave? You’re only telling me this when you’re about to leave? are you f * cking kidding me?”

” that’s right. i haven’t had a raise in my salary for two or three years. it’s really enough that i’m only telling you now. ”

“Did they say when I can resign?”

I’ve told the leader to take two days off. I’ll go over to handle the handover after they’ve made the arrangements.

“Aren’t you a factory? don’t they say that factories are like that? you can just pick up a bucket and leave.”

forget it. It doesn’t matter. I won’t delay things. I’ll just go again in two days.

“Alright, the price of our skill book has increased again. It’s already at 150 million, hehe.”

I’ve seen it on the forum. I really didn’t expect the pay-to-win big shots in the New World to be so awesome.

there are a lot of people playing. If there are a lot of people, then there will be all kinds of big shots. It’s not strange.

that’s true. I’m going to get off work soon. I’ll chat with you when I’m online.

after setting an approximate time to go online, he ended the call. Zhang Shan went downstairs to eat, and as usual, strolled around the streets. Being online for a long time had caused him to be tense.

He felt that there was something wrong with his mental state. He had to take more time to go out and walk, just like taking a walk.

After all, people lived in reality. Games could be used as entertainment or work, but they couldn’t really replace reality.

Looking at the time, it was almost time for him to come online.

Zhang Shan returned to his apartment and logged into the game. Not long after, boss Wu also came online.

“Let’s go. After we take a look at the auction, we’ll go and kill some monsters.”

Zhang Shan and boss Wu teleported to the auction house and looked at the progress of the auction. It was still the same as before. The price was fixed at 150 million, and no one else was bidding.

I think we’ve reached our limit. Forget it, we’ve already made a huge profit. Let’s not expect too much.

The auction would continue until 11 pm. Zhang Shan did not want to end the auction early. When the time was up, it would end automatically.

Let's continue leveling up in the ant Mountain Map.

"Alright, let's go."

The two of them teleported to the city gate and started running toward the map of ant mountain.

"Have you told your wife about your resignation?" zhang shan asked boss wu.

"i did. i have to discuss this with her."

"Your wife didn't object to it. After all, it sounds a little fake to not work in the future and rely on playing games to make money."

"She didn't believe me. I told her that we dropped a skill book and sold it for 100 million, but she didn't believe me. If she didn't know you, she would have thought that I was tricked by a scammer, hehe."

"Does she believe it now?"

"She still doesn't believe me. I've already shown her the forum, but she still doesn't quite believe me. But even I don't think it's real, let alone her. "

"Don't worry, it'll be real when we get the money after the auction."

unlike zhang shan, boss wu had started playing the game a little late and did not have much knowledge of rich big shots.

After Zhang Shan had seen the "follow my heart" reward, he had a more direct understanding of the rich big shots in the New World.

if a bounty for killing someone could be worth more than 10 million gold coins, then it was not strange for a small target to buy an ultimate skill book.

And when the bounty was set, the exchange rate of gold coins was almost twice as high as now.

With Zhang Shan and the rest's knowledge as low-level workers, it was difficult for them to understand the way the nouveau riche made money, and they could not understand their view on spending.

It was just like the story:

Two woodcutters were chopping wood. One of the woodcutters asked, " what do you think the life of an Emperor is like? " the other woodcutter said. the emperor was definitely chopping wood with a golden axe.

By the same logic, Zhang Shan and boss Wu were just two woodcutters to the real rich.

Everyone's wealth and status determined their social circle, and at the same time, it also determined their vision and knowledge.

Although information had been developed to the extreme, it seemed that any information could be obtained by ordinary people through the internet.

However, in reality, everyone could only know what they should know. They would never know what they should not know.

It was just like playing a game, but Feng Yun realm knew more than Zhang Shan.

“How do you plan to spend the money after you get it?” Boss Wu asked Zhang Shan.

let’s buy a house first. We can’t keep renting an apartment. Let’s buy a big villa, the kind near the sea.

“Are you really planning to buy a big villa? You’ll have to spend all the money you’ve just earned, and it might not be enough. You know the house prices in Pengcheng, they’re outrageously expensive.”

I’ve spent all my money. I can earn more in the future. Besides, I don’t have much to spend on after buying a house. I’m single and have nowhere to spend money.

“Don’t you plan to find a girlfriend? You’re not young anymore.”

” i don’t know how to find it. i play games every day. i can’t possibly find it in the game, right? ”

” we can find one in the game. the new world is bound to identity and gender anyway, so we don’t have to worry about running into a transvestite, hehe. ”

Zhang Shan was speechless.

However, he had to seriously consider what kind of life he should lead in the future. After all, he was not young anymore.

Of course, he had the idea of finding a girlfriend. No one wanted to be single for the rest of their life.

Previously, he was too poor, and his salary was only enough to support himself. No matter how much he thought about it, it was useless.

Now that he was in the game, he could be considered to have made some money. Logically speaking, as long as he wasn’t picky, it wouldn’t be difficult for him to find a girlfriend.

However, he didn’t want to have too much of a goal. He would just leave it to fate. Perhaps it would be good to find one in the game.

The two of them chatted as they killed monsters, quietly waiting for the auction to end.

When it was past 11 O’clock, Zhang Shan finally received the email informing him that the auction had ended.

[ auction mail: Hello, the invincible slash skill book you auctioned has been successfully sold for 150 million. After deducting the auction handling fee, it is only 100 million. ] the auction is over. It’s still 150 million. No one else is bidding. We’ll split it equally. I’ll send you the gold coins by mail.

After Zhang Shan had finished speaking to boss Wu, he sent 75 million gold coins to him through email.

okay, thank you, brother. I didn’t expect that we’d be able to make a name for ourselves by playing games after so many years. Life is really unpredictable.

“Yeah, life is unpredictable.”

“Let’s go back to the city and Exchange the gold coins for blue coins?”

well, let’s go back together and withdraw the money. We’ll find time to look for houses in a few days. We’ll settle the problem of accommodation first.

Chapter 128 Ant force

After the two of them cast the teleport spell to return to the city, they teleported to the exchange and exchanged their gold coins for blue coins.

Previously, Zhang Shan still had 780000 gold coins. After some consideration, he decided to exchange 70 million gold coins first. No matter how expensive the houses in Pengcheng were, there should be a limit.

in the future, when he was looking for a house, he would go online and look for it at 70 million. he still had to leave some gold coins in the game.

In this case, including the gold coins that he had saved up previously, Zhang Shan still had a little more than ten million left.

There was no future if he only entered and did not leave. If he encountered something he needed and did not have gold coins at the moment, he would have to transfer it in or borrow it from others. It would be troublesome.

The New World exchange was very powerful. Zhang Shan had exchanged 70 million gold coins, but it did not cause any fluctuations in the price.

The transaction was huge. The operator would take a 1% commission from the exchange and auction house, which was a terrifying amount.

“Haha, I really got the money.” Boss Wu said happily.

don’t be such a good-for-nothing, go offline and share your happiness with your wife.

okay, I’m going offline now. See you tomorrow. I don’t have to go to work anymore.

Boss Wu went offline, and Zhang Shan looked at the time.

it’s late, i should go offline and sleep.

For the next ten days, Zhang Shan and boss Wu had been farming monsters in the ant Mountain Map. During this period, they even followed the big shots of the wind and cloud Guild and cleared the second floor of the demon subduing platform instance twice.

One normal mode, one hard mode.

they did not manage to get the first clear reward in the normal mode as someone else got it first. however, they managed to get the first clear in the hard mode.

After all, the difficulty of clearing the hard mode was much higher, and other players would be stuck for a long time.

the second floor of the demon-subduing platform dungeon wasn't simple.

This was especially true for the boss of the second floor. The demonic strongman commander was really powerful. Its trample skill completely suppressed all the tanks.

Even if it was Zhang Shan's Panda baby, it was also being restrained.

However, with one stomp, it was directly sent flying, and in an instant, no one was left to tank the monster. In the end, they had to rely on other warrior classes.

he kept charging until he reached the panda baby and turned back to pull the BOSS. every time the BOSS used trample, they had to pull the aggro again, which was very difficult.

Zhang Shan had also participated in the monster siege event once. He was still first on the city defense contribution board, but his final harvest was not much.

Two times in the dungeon and one time in the monster attack event, other than getting some experience, Zhang Shan only managed to roll for a red shirt and two purple equipment.

Although Zhang Shan did not manage to get any good equipment from participating in the team activities, he had gained a lot from the auction house.

He bought another three divine materials. In addition to the two he had saved up before, he now had five divine materials.

That broken ring, he just needed to find the corresponding NPC to repair it into a divine artifact.

However, this step was the most difficult. Luck was very important. Perhaps he could find the corresponding NPC by just running around.

Perhaps after running for half a month, it was hard to say if he would still not be able to trigger the NPC. Zhang Shan had not made up his mind when he would be able to get this done.

If he got it right, he would get another divine weapon. If he was unlucky, it would only be a waste of time.

He would think about it after a while. Anyway, he was not lacking in damage output now, so he was not in a hurry to increase his attack power with a divine weapon.

He would collect more divine materials first.

As for boss Wu, after successfully exchanging the 75 million gold coins into blue coins, he was completely free.

Other than half a day to go to his previous workplace to hand over his resignation, he would follow Zhang Shan to kill monsters every day.

Even the matter of finding a house was left to his wife to manage. Zhang Shan had already told them.

He would buy the house together and they would be neighbors in the future. He did not have any requirements for the house, as long as it was a quiet place.

of course, it would be best if it was by the sea.

Now that he had the chance to realize his childhood dream, he had to make arrangements.

Boss Wu and the others had more requirements for the house. They were mainly concerned about the children's school.

They had to find a good school nearby, even though their child was still more than a year away from kindergarten.

however, wasn't it the same for all parents nowadays? before the child was born, they had to plan for the child's future education.

"How much experience do you need to reach level 30?" Boss Wu asked.

"I'm still short of a million or so. I'm almost there."

Zhang Shan brought boss Wu along to farm monsters. In the beginning, it did not affect his experience gain.

However, now that boss Wu had reached level 28, the experience points of each monster were basically equally divided.

Compared to before, Zhang Shan's experience gained was much less.

Of course, boss Wu could also kill monsters now, and Zhang Shan was not the only one.

it was just that boss wu's speed of killing monsters was much slower than zhang shan's. his attack power and attack speed were obvious.

he was a support class, and his equipment was not good. his damage output was limited. even if zhang shan could kill seven or eight marching ants, boss wu might not be able to kill even one.

fortunately, they had a guild skill that could increase their exp gain by 10%, so the situation was not too bad.

He had to find a way to get a summoning skill book for boss Wu as soon as possible. Otherwise, he would be a little weak now.

Their damage output was too low, so they could only be purely support.

After Zhang Shan had shot down an ant queen with three shots, a notification rang out.

...

&Lt; system notification: your passive King talent was triggered by killing a demonized army ant. You have obtained the ant strength (passive) skill. &Gt;

f * ck, I've finally unlocked the Army ant's passive skill.

“the passive effect of the marching ants has been activated? Your talent is amazing, you can always get skills for free. Quick, see how the effect is?”

In order to farm this passive, Zhang Shan had spent at least 20 days farming in the ant Mountain Map.

Compared to the passive skills he had obtained before, this ant strength skill took the most time.

Let’s see how the skill works first. Hopefully, it’s powerful.

Zhang Shan displayed his newly acquired passive skill.

[ant strength (passive): Level 1 (acquired talent, can not be upgraded), increases attack power by 10%.]

” amazing, another 10% increase. if you can farm more of these skills, your attack power will be sky-high in the future. ”

it’s not bad. It’s the same as B. rabbit’s passive, which adds 10% attack power. This time, the damage has increased again, almost 400.

Zhang Shan took a look at his character’s stats. His total attack had already exceeded 4000.

It had been too long since he had upgraded his equipment.

Other than the God equipment and boots, they were all level 20 purple equipment, so it took him more than half a month to farm them.

His level had increased by about ten levels, but his attack power had not increased much.

this wouldn’t do. he had to get some good equipment and not be too idle.

I’ll wait until I’m level 30 and spend a lot of money to get a set of awesome equipment, or I’ll just buy a full set of red equipment.

He still had three pieces of level 30 red grade equipment in his storage: a shirt, a necklace, and a bracer.

He did not need to change his level 20 red boots, which meant that he only needed to buy four pieces of equipment. He should be able to get them for less than two million gold coins.

I’ll kill some monsters first and try to reach level 30 as soon as possible. I should be able to reach that level in two to three hours.

Chapter 129 Announcement spam

looking at the slow increase in their experience bar, zhang shan and boss wu worked hard to kill the monsters. they were getting closer and closer to level 30.

“after you reach level 30, are we still going to farm here? Or do you want to find another map to farm?”

Boss Wu asked Zhang Shan.

“let’s wait until we reach level 30. i’m not sure where we should go to farm them, but the passive effect of the marching ants has been triggered. we shouldn’t be staying here for too long.”

After a lot of effort, he finally managed to get the passive ant power skill. Zhang Shan had not decided which passive skill to use next.

There weren’t many monsters with passive skills. Before this, he had been looking for a type of monster that had a lifesteal passive.

Now that he had the purple-gold necklace, the lifesteal ratio was only 3%.

However, it was enough for the time being. He did not need the lifesteal passive at the moment. The key was that he had not found any monsters with the lifesteal passive.

He had been paying attention to the monster information on the forum. There were all kinds of monsters with strange passive skills, but he had not found any monsters with lifesteal passive.

Currently, Zhang Shan already had two passive skills that increased his attack power. One was the rabbit’s ability to grant power, and the other was the Army ant’s Ant strength passive.

There were also two critical special effects. One was the wild Wolf’s talent, and the other was the wild boar King’s heavy strike.

Even the passive skill that increased attack speed had appeared when he was clearing the scroll dungeon with the big bosses of wind and cloud Guild.

His luck was simply too good.

right now, zhang shan did not seem to lack anything. he was strong in all aspects, if one had to point out which aspect he was weak in.

that was that the amount of blood was a little low. it was an innate problem of fragile professions, and it was difficult to have a qualitative change.

Although the purple cloak he was wearing was of the highest quality, it might even be one of the best cloaks in the entire game.

However, the priest Cape was only a level 20 equipment. Once he reached level 30, it wouldn’t be as good, although it wouldn’t be considered outdated.

However, he could no longer be like before, where he, a fragile profession, was as tanky as a strength-type profession.

They had almost double the HP of other professions with weak defense.

In the future, this advantage would no longer exist when everyone reached level 30. This was because a level 30 cloak would provide much more HP than a level 20 cloak.

Even a level 30 blue cloak wouldn’t be much weaker than his priest cloak.

He didn’t know if there were any passive skills that increased his health limit. If only he could get a few and add a health limit passive.

Of course, he was just thinking about it. He had not found any monsters that could increase his maximum health. Even if there were, it would not be easy to farm.

If the monster's HP was doubled, they would have to farm even slower, which would affect their leveling efficiency.

It was better for him to reach level 30 first before thinking about where to go. Otherwise, he might as well just go and fight bosses for a few days.

Even though bosses were not easy to find, if one went out of their way to find them, there was still a chance of finding a few.

But then again, why hadn't they seen a BOSS even after killing monsters for so long in the ant map?

This didn't make any sense. They had never even seen an orange BOSS before, let alone a red one.

It was impossible to say that there were no bosses in such a large map.

"We've been farming here for so long, but why haven't we seen any bosses?"

Thinking of the BOSS, Zhang Shan could not help but complain.

I don't know. Maybe we haven't spawned in enough places. If you think about it, although we've been here for so long, we've been to this corner all this time. We haven't been to at least 90% of the map.

that's true. After I level up, I'll find the boss here. It's a level 40 ant-type boss. I haven't heard of anyone fighting it before. I have to find it.

"Just the two of us? even if we find the big boss, we won't be able to defeat it."

I don't care. Let's find the boss first. If we can't beat it, then we'll shake people.

After defeating another queen ant, a white light rose from Zhang Shan's body. He had finally reached level 30. It was so difficult.

&Lt; system announcement: congratulations to six-barreled Bodhisattva for reaching level 30. You are rewarded with skill point +1, merit points +100, and a Red Hare summoning token. &Gt;

&Lt; system announcement: as players have reached level 30, the Mount system has been opened. When players reach level 30, they can purchase a horse token from the taishu temple's official in the Imperial City. &Gt;

&Lt; system announcement: as there are players who have reached level 30, the public map Heaven's Gate is now open to all players. &Gt;

Players can use the teleportation circle to head to the Heaven's Gate map.

&Lt; system announcement: the World War system has begun. When the hatred between players from both countries reaches a certain level, the World War will begin. &Gt;

&Lt; system announcement: due to the increase in players' levels, the human race has continued to grow. The Nephilim race troops can no longer attack the human race's cities. &Gt;

The monster siege event will be revised. For more details, please pay attention to the official website announcement.

As Zhang Shan's level rose to 30, a series of announcements stunned all the players.

The amount of information was indeed a little too much.

The world Channel:

"F * ck, what the hell is an announcement spam? I only noticed that there seems to be a mount system. No, I have to get a Mount first."

brothers up there, wake up. You have to reach level 30 to be able to buy a horse from the palace's taishu temple. Are you level enough? "

f * ck, doesn't that mean that only the six-barreled boss can ride a horse now? we have to run on foot? "

I'm so envious of the six-barreled boss for having a horse to ride. I'm going to work hard to level up and buy a Mount as soon as possible.

"In order to become a part of the Arisu family as soon as possible, work hard and level up."

come on, I still need to work hard to level up. I'm only level 28, and I need 2500000 exp to level up to level 29, not to mention level 30. This is simply hopeless.

...

"f * ck, do you have to be so heart-wrenching? after what you said, i lost my motivation to farm monsters again. "

"Don't pay attention to the mounts, look at the other announcements. Speaking of which, what does a public map mean? are all the players from all the countries on the same map?"

I think so. Are there any Brave Brothers? I've already been teleported over. If you're there, can you tell me? I'm still farming monsters and not in the city.

I'm already at heaven's gate. I'm a player from all seven countries in the same map. I saw players from other countries with purple names. I really want to go up and attack them, but Heaven's Gate is a safe zone and I can't attack them. Let's wait until I get out of the gate.

f * ck, isn't it too dangerous for everyone to be on the same map? players from different countries won't get red names if they attack each other. They will only get hatred points. Wouldn't it be chaotic? "

let's not talk about it anymore. I'm going to Heaven's Gate. I can finally kill people to my heart's content. When I killed people before, my name was red. Now, I'm locked up in a small black room. It's so f * cking unpleasant.

haha, scum, your great master Liu SANDAO of the state of Qin is here. Tremble.

Chapter 130 Finally, a Mount

Seeing that the New World had finally opened up its public map, players from all countries were able to go there.

The PvP fanatic was excited. Before the public maps were opened, they could only kill local players in PvP.

If he killed one and gained 10 crime points, he would immediately become red-named, in case he was killed and returned to the city.

not only would he be locked in a small black room, but the key was that when he was red-named, the probability of equipment dropping would greatly increase.

If he didn't do well, he might even drop all the equipment he had on him, which would be a heartache.

Therefore, in the past month or so since the New World had opened, the PK between players had not been intense.

Take their Chu country for example, other than Zhang Shan's few big moves, there were no other news of any large-scale PK battle.

Even if it was a PK war that broke out because of fighting for bosses, the number of players who participated was not high.

The main reason was that the cost of pking red names was too high. No one could guarantee that they wouldn't die after they became red names.

If they were red-named, they could only secretly find a place to hide and slowly farm their evil score. They could not directly return to the city.

If he happened to be red-named and was seen by other players, they might not be able to resist coming up to cut him.

Now that the public map was open, everyone could PK to their heart's content. When they saw players from other countries, they would go up and kill them as long as they had the chance.

Killing one of them would drop equipment, which was even better than fighting a BOSS. Even if nothing dropped, as long as he didn't die, he wouldn't lose anything.

Speaking of which, Heaven's Gate should also be a monster map. How was everyone supposed to farm monsters there?

Without a large team, it seemed that they would not be able to hold their ground.

There was another problem. The start of the World War was related to the hatred between the players of the two countries.

Wouldn't he have to look for people to kill him even more crazily? this was quite an interesting way of playing.

Although the theme of the New World was the Great War between the human race and the demon race, that was just the background story.

to the players, the nephilims were just some monsters that had been killed.

The real distribution of factions was still in the various countries. Seven countries represented seven player factions.

The chaotic battle between the player factions was the real fun.

As for the monster siege, it was normal. As the players' strength increased, it would be a little unreasonable for them to stay in the city and fight the boss.

Although there were a lot of bosses during monster attacks, the players' strength continued to increase.

No matter how many bosses there were, there wouldn't be enough to kill. A change was inevitable, but he didn't know what kind of mode it would be.

Let's wait for the announcement on the official website.

After reaching level 30, agaru's hand cannon could be unsealed again. He wondered what the attributes of a level 30 divine weapon would be like.

Let's take a look first.

Aruge's long-barreled hand cannon (divine weapon): physical attack 4000-4000, agility +400, equipment level (sealed), currently level 30, celestial equipment will gradually be unsealed as the player's level increases, it will be unsealed once every ten levels. Durability, never worn out. Bound to player six-barreled Bodhisattva, can not be dropped.

[ special effect 1: power attack. Increases physical attack power by 10%. ]

[ special effect 2: hot-blooded, increases attack speed by 10%. ]

[ special effect 3: Holy Strike. When attacking, there is a chance to trigger the Holy Strike effect. It ignores the target's defense and deals 10x the damage. The chance of triggering it is 1%. ]

[ special effect 4: suppression. Has a suppression effect on targets below divine equipment. Reduces target's defense by 50%. ]

'F * ck, that's awesome. It's even doubling. It can't really be doubling every ten levels, right?'

However, thinking about it, it made sense. A level 30 RED Weapon had an attack power of over 1600.

Feng Yun Qing Qing's spiritual weapon had an attack power of 1300 at level 20. By level 30, it would definitely reach over 2000.

If Zhang Shan's God-tier hand cannon was unsealed this time, and it only added 1000 attack power, then it would only add 3000 attack power.

It wasn't much different from a level 30 spirit tool, so it clearly couldn't reflect the value of a divine tool.

Therefore, it was normal for him to grow twice as fast. Moreover, the boss's health was getting higher and higher.

If the player's attack growth was not enough, how could they kill the boss?

After the Cannonball was unsealed, Zhang Shan's attack power had increased greatly. It was much higher than other players, possibly more than three times that of others.

the advantage of having a level lead was reflected here. he was the first to put on higher level equipment.

Level advantage did not depend on the few attribute points given when leveling up. The attribute points added by any red equipment were more than the attribute points given by leveling up.

Only when he reached a higher level in the future would the attribute points he accumulated be more than the equipment.

When a divine weapon was unsealed, its attack power and agility attributes would double. Perfect.

The only flaw was that the special effects of the artifact were still the same as before.

Could it be that the special effects of the divine weapon had been fixed since it was born? Did unsealing level only increase attack power and agility?

That's fine. The special effects are already very strong anyway. It would be a little outrageous if they were to be further enhanced.

Although Zhang Shan had already reached level 30, he did not have any new equipment to upgrade.

The three pieces of red equipment were still in the warehouse and had not been brought out. As for the missing pieces, they would have to return to the city to buy them from the auction house.

His equipment could not be updated for the time being, but he still had a Red Hare. He could summon it and try riding it, hehe.

Zhang Shan used the horse token and summoned the red hares to ride.

"haha, how is it? am i handsome?"

...

He asked boss Wu after getting on the red Hare.

what the f * ck, do you have to be so smug? but this horse is really beautiful. Let's see if there are any attribute bonuses? "

Zhang Shan checked the attributes of the red Hare:

[ Red Hare: exclusive mount of an ancient general. Movement speed increased by 200%. ]

it only adds movement speed. It increases movement speed by 200%, and it doesn't add any other attributes.

"f * ck, a 200% increase in movement speed, isn't that as fast as flying? This speed is insane. I wonder how much movement speed will be added to the horses we buy in the capital?"

"Who knows? when you reach level 30, you'll know when you go to the capital."

“Then can you kill monsters while riding a horse? Let’s see if it’s a battle Mount or one that can only be used as a means of transportation.”

Zhang Shan rode on the red Rabbit horse and tried to shoot at one of the marching ants. However, he could not attack at all.

“Oh my God, it can’t attack. It’s not a battle Mount, so it can only be used as a means of transportation.”

“Even the red hares are not battle mounts? Could it be that there were no battle mounts in the New World? they get on their horses and run, while they get off their horses and fight.”

it’s hard to say. If you ride a horse and run too fast, you won’t be able to fight. There’s no chance to lock onto a target.

” that’s right. even if he could attack, he would only be able to hit him once or twice at most, unless he was stunned. ” who cares? the red Hare is handsome, and it’s enough that it can run fast. Now, it only takes ten minutes to run from Dangyang city to here. We don’t have to waste a lot of time running the map like before.

yes, that’s the most important point. The maps in the New World are all so big. It’s a waste of players ‘time to run around the map.

you can slowly kill the monsters by yourself first. I’ll go and look for the BOSS on this map.

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he rode the red Rabbit and galloped across the ant Mountain Map.
