

Passive Skills 191

Chapter 191 Unlimited interruption?

Jitanas' channeling bar was constantly interrupted. Everyone was like fighting a dummy monster, and they fought comfortably for a few minutes.

However, after a long time, it was inevitable that there would be mistakes, especially when two stunning skills were connected.

A Zhao player didn't follow up with a skill in time, allowing Gitanas to escape from the stun state and complete the channeling bar.

Jitanas released his fear skill, and all the players within a 50-yard radius, including Zhang Shan's Panda baby, were running around uncontrollably.

ah, ah, ah, I can't control myself.

"warriors on the outside, use charge and pull the boss. we just need to hold on for five seconds."

After jitanas cast the fear skill, he did not attack anyone else, but locked his target on Zhang Shan.

Who asked him to be the one with the highest damage output, and the one with the most aggro was Zhang Shan.

Seeing jitanas charging straight at him, Zhang Shan had no intention of running away.

Unless he had been riding on the Scarlet rabbit horse the entire time, there was no way he could outrun a real-name BOSS.

Stop struggling, just wait for death.

Before the Warriors on the outside could charge and pull the BOSS, a meteor of Heavenly Fire landed on Zhang Shan's head.

He had lost his first life and could only wait for ten seconds before he could be resurrected.

The moment Zhang Shan fell to the ground, the Panda baby also returned to the pet space.

pets would not survive alone outside. they had to wait for zhang shan to revive before they could summon the panda baby again.

In other words, in these 10 seconds, they could only rely on others to pull the BOSS.

f * ck, godly equipment bro fell, and the Panda baby disappeared with him. Hurry up and help godly equipment bro up."

what's there to pull? divine weapon bro has two lives. He can't pull the first time he's on the ground. He can only wait for himself to resurrect.

f * ck, then what should we do? how long will it take for him to resurrect? " ten seconds. Warriors, take turns to charge and hold jitanas back for a while. Wait for brother artifact to resurrect.

sigh, there are pros and cons to brother divine artifact's two lives. Isn't this just a delay? if I had known earlier, I would have killed him first.

Zhang Shan, who was lying on the ground, was a little speechless. He could even do this? Was he trying to cut off his life first? It was a little inappropriate.

Although there were Warriors constantly charging at Gitanas, they still couldn't fully pull the BOSS.

In addition to the Warriors who charged forward, many other players were also knocked down by Gitanas's skills.

Ten seconds later, Zhang Shan resurrected on the spot and quickly summoned his panda baby.

Just now, he was the one who fell to the ground. The Panda baby didn't die, so there was no need to feed it.

Zhang Shan controlled the Panda baby to move forward and pulled Gitanas back, while the healers followed.

The others also quickly caught up with the damage and returned to their previous state.

"What's the mechanism behind brother divine equipment's two lives? Is it a skill or an item?"

A player asked curiously.

in fact, many people were curious, but they just didn't ask.

"It's a skill, a passive skill."

Zhang Shan did not hide anything. There was no need for that. If others knew that you had two lives, they would naturally think of ways to deal with you.

As for what the trigger was, it was not important.

how can there be such an amazing skill? why don't I have it? is it a Hunter-exclusive skill? "

Zhang Shan smiled and did not say anything.

I'm just joking, how can I tell you?

If they were to tell them that this was a passive skill that Zhang Shan had obtained from his talent, wouldn't it make the others go crazy with jealousy?

arrange for those with stun to form groups of two. When the boss casts the skill again, the two of you can use the stun skill together. It's a double insurance.

li jing said.

yeah, it's better to have two people. It's safer to use the stun skill together. It's too easy to make mistakes if we rely on one skill at a time.

"We have a lot of people here anyway, we can easily gather a few thousand stun skills."

"You guys hurry up and discuss the arrangements."

" the BOSS is about to lose half of its health. we have to interrupt it. otherwise, once the BOSS uses its big move, a lot of people will die. "

Yes, we can't let jitanas use his ultimate skill. As long as we can interrupt the BOSS 'channeling, we'll be able to kill it soon.

When jitanas's HP dropped to 50%, it started to cast again.

This time, everyone was prepared. A thief and an Archer released gouge and meteor arrow respectively to stun the BOSS.

Although, as a real name BOSS, jitanas's resistance to dizziness was very high.

Meteor arrow, which should have stunned him for five seconds, did not even stun him for a second when it hit him.

However, this didn't matter. What they wanted wasn't to keep jitanas unconscious.

Instead, he only needed to interrupt its channeling.

jitanas would restart the channeling bar, but that didn't matter.

Channeling took time, especially for Gitanas's ultimate.

It should take three seconds to cast the big move.

This gave them an opportunity to use their stun skills to delay the enemy for three seconds.

As long as the stun skills could be used steadily, they could prevent jitanas from using his big moves.

In the end, he was beaten to death.

if only I could keep jitanas unconscious. He's like a complete fool who only knows how to cast.

"He should be able to. We have double insurance."

"It shouldn't be that simple, right?"

this isn't easy. If you want to keep jitanas stunned until it explodes, you'll need thousands of stun skills.

haha, do you guys think that in the future, if we organize a few thousand people with stun skills, we can directly blow up the demon God? " you're right. Why don't your Guild try to defeat the demon God first? there's a high chance that you'll get a divine weapon.

"Are you kidding me? who can see a demon God now? Super high all-map damage, the kind that will kill you once you leave the city."

I said in the future, not now. When our HP increases, we'll definitely be able to block the demon God's full-map damage.

you're right. No matter how strong the demon God is, it's just a boss. If it's a boss, it can't escape the fate of being defeated by players, no matter how strong it is.

"that's not necessarily true. maybe the new world will design a few targets for us that we will never be able to push down, hehe."

I don't think so. If we can't, it just means that we're not strong enough. If we have a full set of divine artifacts, I don't believe we can't defeat the demon God.

"You really dare to think about it, a full set of divine artifacts? There are 200 million players in the game now, and the only divine weapon is the one in six-barreled boss's hands. How is it possible for someone to have a full set of divine weapons?"

that's right. According to the current trend, even if we play for three to five years, it's impossible to get a full set of divine artifacts.

I hope I can get more God equipment in the future. I really want one.

"Have a good dream. There's everything in the dream."

Chapter 192 preparing for the first kill

Due to the constant interruption of the channeling bar, jitanas was like a wooden stake.

Everyone was very optimistic. A BOSS that couldn't even use a big move wouldn't be that scary no matter how strong it was.

It was a good fight.

however, a tragedy soon happened.

one time, two stun skills hit jitanas at the same time.

Two misses appeared, and the stun skill was actually dodged.

"the one behind, quickly follow up with a stun. f * ck, a directional stun skill, how can it be dodged? It's too unscientific."

By the time he was ready to follow up with the next group's stun, it was already too late.

Gitanas completed the channeling bar for his ultimate skill.

with the panda baby as the center, flames suddenly burst out from the ground, instantly turning it into a sea of fire.

Everything within a 50-yard radius, including the Panda baby, fell to the ground.

After jitanas used his ultimate to knock down a large number of players, he aimed his attack at Zhang Shan.

A Heavenly Fire meteor fell, and Zhang Shan fell to the ground again.

This time, he didn't have the passive effect of rebirth, so he could only wait for the support to pull him up.

After Gitanas released his big move, the scene was very chaotic for a while.

there were plenty of people, but having more people was not necessarily a good thing, just like now.

After a large number of players fell to the ground, the people who followed up attacked while their guilds supported them.

They wanted to pull up the fallen members.

However, the place was only so big, and with so many people swarming in, it seemed even more chaotic.

Gitanas didn't stay idle. He kept attacking and knocking down the new players.

Their advantage in numbers was not displayed.

" don't panic. everyone else, retreat. warriors, go forward in groups and hold the BOSS back. resurrect six-barreled bodhisattva first. "

The God of War Li Jing had also fallen to the ground. After he was resurrected, he shouted loudly.

If this continued, more and more people would fall to the ground. Only after Zhang Shan's baby panda pulled on jitanas did he fall.

That was how they could steadily attack the boss.

Otherwise, if they were to rely on the warrior's charge to pull the boss, it would easily cause more chaos.

After Zhang Shan was resurrected by the support, he quickly summoned the Panda baby and quickly fed it.

"you guys stall for a while. wait for me to feed my pet before you attack."

As long as they didn't panic, the Warriors could charge forward one by one and stall for time.

It was just that when the warrior charged, it was not easy for the others to deal damage, and the aggro was easily disrupted.

They weren't as fierce as Zhang Shan. After the Panda baby pulled the boss, Zhang Shan's explosive damage output increased.

he could steadily pull the aggro, and no one could take it away from him. gitanas's aggro would always be locked on him.

After feeding the Panda baby, Zhang Shan controlled it to pull the boss.

At the same time, Zhang Shan quickly attacked and dealt damage, pulling the aggro of jitanas.

f * ck, it's finally in the bag. Good luck, everyone.

“what happened just now? Why would a directional stun skill also miss? isn’t that a stable coma?”

yeah, it’s so weird. Two of them fainted at the same time. It’s so weird.

it’s not that strange. Just like when we usually use skills to kill monsters, we will occasionally lose our skills. The two misses just now should be the same.

Oh my God, then how should we do it? I thought we could interrupt the boss ‘channeling, but it seems like it’s impossible.

“it’s impossible. if we can really interrupt the boss ‘channeling time, then wild bosses would be too easy to deal with. as long as we can have more stunning skills, no matter how strong the boss is, we can still kill it.”

yes, and the higher the BOSS ‘level, the higher the possibility of a skill missing.

so, don’t think too easily. Take it slow and do it a few more times. We’ll always be able to take down jitanas.

sigh, I was thinking of using the stun skill to kill the demon God, but it doesn’t seem possible.

stop dreaming in broad daylight. If you fight the demon God now, even if you can withstand its full-map damage, you probably won’t be able to deal any damage. I’m afraid you’ll MISS all your normal attacks and skills, right? ”

“let’s just take it one step at a time. it’s already good enough that we can defeat a level 50 BOSS, which is 20 levels higher than us.”

you’re right. We’re not even level 30 yet. It’s already a great achievement for us to defeat a level 50 real name BOSS.

it’s too early to say that. Gitanas still has 30% of his health.

After Zhang Shan’s Panda baby pulled the BOSS back, jitanas’s health slowly dropped to 30%.

he was not far from blowing it up.

“If we can take out 70% of its HP, we won’t have to worry about the remaining 30%.”

don’t worry, it won’t flip over. At most, it’ll just release one or two more big moves. It won’t affect the result.

When Gitanas’s HP fell below 30%, it started to cast again.

hurry up, use the stun skill and try to interrupt it. We’ll increase our damage output.

After the previous two mistakes, everyone was now very familiar with jitanas’s routine.

When interrupting the channeling bar, try to use the Archer’s Meteor arrow first.

A few thieves were left beside Gitanas, ready to use their stun skills at any time.

Try to interrupt the channeling.

Of course, if he really couldn't interrupt it, he had no choice but to participate in the construction.

for another round, when zhang shan resurrected and summoned the panda baby, he would continue.

While Gitanas was channeling, everyone increased their damage output as long as they could keep interrupting.

This was the best time for them to attack, because the boss would only cast a channeling bar and would not use any other means of attack.

For the rest of the time, the fight went very smoothly, until the health bar dropped to 20%.

after jitanas went berserk, they continued to interrupt the boss's channeling.

After going berserk, jitanas kept waving the staff in his hand, but it was still channeling.

No damage was dealt.

Otherwise, the Panda baby might not be able to withstand the boss's damage after going berserk.

Jitanas's HP dropped steadily, 20%, 10%, 5%.

No one said anything. They stared at Gitanas's HP and prepared their most powerful skills.

They all wanted to be the last one to kill him.

there were more than ten teams attacking gitanas. However, it was only the team that killed the boss in the end.

Only then would they be able to obtain the first kill reward.

Although the distribution of the dropped items had already been agreed upon before the battle began, it was still not enough.

However, there was no way to negotiate on the first clear reward. It was up to each person's ability. Whoever got it would get it.

The first kill of an orange-colored boss would be announced by the system. Everyone in the party would be rewarded with skill points.

Although the reward was only one skill and 100 merit points, skill points were precious and no one wanted to let it go.

They all wanted to fight for it.

Chapter 193 Rain of fire

when jitanas's hp dropped to 5%, everyone became nervous.

they wanted to get the first kill reward for the BOSS, but they were also afraid of any accidents.

Everyone was attacking jitanas while nervously paying attention to the BOSS 'channeling bar.

hold on, don't save on your stun skills. Two groups of people, we can't let Gitanas use his big moves again.

that's right, we have to keep it steady. The BOSS's HP recovery rate is very fast now. If we don't suppress it, we'll have to fight for a long time.

When the BOSS's health was low, its health recovery speed would be faster. Without a strong damage output, it would not be able to suppress its health recovery speed.

If chaos were to break out at this time, jitanas would be able to recover a large portion of his health very quickly.

Although there were so many players here, they were not afraid of any accidents.

however, it was always good to be careful. wouldn't it save him a lot of trouble if he just blew them up in one go?

To avoid going back and forth, it would be troublesome.

The two groups of four people's stun skills kept interrupting Gitanas's channeling.

Although there had been a few misses during this period, there were many stun skills, so there had never been a situation where all of them had missed at once.

As long as a stun skill was effective, he could interrupt Gitanas's channeling.

It couldn't use its big move.

Everyone was saving their powerful skills for the final kill.

The last 5% of his health was not as fast as before.

For example, Zhang Shan's berserk and fanatic skills had never been activated.

He had already planned to save these two skills for the final kill.

The skill points from the first clear were still very attractive, even though he didn't lack skill points.

However, the others in the Guild were short of skill points. Boss Wu had never had enough skill points.

If they managed to get the first kill of Gitanas, they would be able to get another skill point for everyone.

the panda baby's combo skill was a godly skill that could be used to kill the boss.

For safety's sake, Zhang Shan also kept the berserk and fanatic skills.

When Gitanas's health was empty, he would use these two burst skills to coordinate with the Panda baby's combo skill.

As long as his luck wasn't too bad, the possibility of him being the last one to be killed was still very high.

Not long after, jitanas's health bar was finally empty, and everyone prepared their most powerful skills. They were all estimating the BOSS's health.

Gitanas's total HP was 120000000, and even after its HP bar was empty, it still had 1200000 HP.

In addition, when the boss was about to fall to the ground, the BOSS's HP recovery rate was very fast. It was not easy to get the final kill by estimating the time.

Unless they had a super-powerful burst skill.

Zhang Shan did not care about this. When jitanas 'health bar was empty, he immediately activated his berserk and fanatic skills.

The bullets shot out rapidly. After activating these two explosive skills, Zhang Shan's attack speed had more than doubled.

Furthermore, the berserk skill would increase the attack power by 20%.

Zhang Shan's God-tier hand cannon was like a machine gun. The bullets shot out in a line of fire, continuously causing damage to Gitanas.

After Zhang Shan activated his berserk skill, the others also followed up with their own powerful skills.

But jitanas never fell.

1.2 million hp was not a small amount, even though they had more people dealing damage.

However, the Monsters in Heaven's Gate had a Holy demon protection state, which could reduce damage by 50%.

they would really have to fight for a few seconds to deal with this million hp.

Then it would be very difficult to grab the final kill.

After about three seconds, Zhang Shan controlled the Panda baby to use its combo skill.

After seven consecutive hits, Gitanas still didn't explode.

F * ck, there was a level suppression of 20 levels. This was really troublesome. He was not accurate.

Although the Panda baby's combo skill had not been able to kill jitanas, Zhang Shan's own attack power was still terrifyingly high.

with the support of the two explosive skills, zhang shan's super high attack speed caused the number of critical hits to increase greatly.

All sorts of critical effects flashed continuously.

Suddenly, the bullet that Zhang Shan shot out fired a Holy shot, -98007.

A single attack dealt close to 100000 damage, and Gitanas was instantly destroyed.

The special effects of a divine artifact were still the best.

Holy Strike ignored all defense, including the Holy demon's protection.

He directly dealt 10 times the full amount of damage and destroyed Gitanas.

≪ system announcement: congratulations to Feng Yun realm, six-barreled Bodhisattva, and Windcloud cannon Wufu for killing the demonic Warlock commander. ≫

...

Skill point +1, medal +100.

f * ck, what kind of divine damage is this? 100000 in one hit is too terrifying.

so this is the effect of a divine weapon. Why else would it be called a divine weapon boss? ” sigh, we were thinking of snatching the last kill, but it's a waste of effort. One hit costs 100000. What's the point of snatching? ” yeah, even if we use our strongest skills, we can only deal about 1000 to 2000 damage. The level suppression effect of a level 50 BOSS is too strong. I can't even deal half of my attack damage.

“you're thinking too much. do you still want to deal half of your attack damage? Then where do you think you should put the BOSS “Holy Devil's protection?”

“Yes, unless it's a special effect or skill like Holy Strike that ignores all defense, we won't be able to deal even half of the damage.”

I hope so. Everyone, please prepare your gold coins.

As Gitanas had been killed by Zhang Shan, the items had fallen into the backpack of their team's leader.

However, due to the system's prior agreement, the dropped items had to be auctioned before they could be distributed.

Although the item was in Feng Yun realm's inventory, it did not belong to him.

...

Even if Feng Yun realm wanted to, he would not be able to do so. The others were not worried about this.

it wasn't a matter of character, but under the system's supervision, all small actions were meaningless.

Of course, Feng Yun realm had no intention of stealing the equipment and displayed all the drops.

there were three red and one orange equipment, one red material, two skill books, and one arsenal token.

There was no need to talk about the equipment. Although there were three pieces of red equipment, the bosses of the major guilds obviously didn't care about them.

Not to mention, these equipment were all level 50. Who knew how long it would take for them to use them?

The red material was just a bonus, so it didn't mean much.

however, among the two skill books, one of them was very impressive. it was the ultimate skill for fire wizards.

[rain of fire: cast a spell on a specific location, dealing 500% damage for five seconds.]

Mana cost: 20000. Cooldown: 12 hours.

Chapter 194 spare no expense

The fire mage's ultimate skill wasn't bad, and its damage was about the same as a Spellblade's.

However, compared to an Archer's ultimate skill, it was far inferior.

the archer's wrath of the stars dealt ten times the damage, while the spellblade's invincible slash and the fire mage's rain of fire dealt five times the damage.

However, rain of fire had a huge advantage. The cooldown time of this skill was only twelve hours.

The cooldown time was half of invincible slash and wrath of the stars, and he could use two ultimate skills a day, which was a clear advantage.

Furthermore, Fire Mages had a passive skill, heart of the flame, which could increase their base attack power by 50%.

In that case, five times the damage should be enough, and the skills would last for five seconds.

No matter when, no matter how tanky a player was, it was impossible for them to withstand the damage of a rain of fire for five seconds.

Even if jitanas did not drop any other items, just this skill book was enough.

It was a pity that this wasn't a single Guild's doing. It was the result of the cooperation of 12 top guilds.

It was foreseeable that the auction for this skill book would definitely be very intense.

The other skill book wasn't bad either. It was Gitanas' first skill, Heavenly Fire meteor.

the wind and cloud guild had obtained this skill book before when they first cleared the demon subduing platform's first floor dungeon.

the demon tribe's priest had dropped one for them before and it was given to feng yun realm.

A mage's basic attack skill that increased damage by 100% was very practical.

The key was that the drop rate of this skill was very low. Other than Feng Yun realm, no one else had used it.

Although it could not be compared to the boundless fire rain skill book, it was still considered a top-grade fire mage skill.

It was likely that the competition would be intense during the auction.

In addition to the skill book, jitanas also dropped an Arsenal token, exactly the same as the one that heart moves with me had rolled.

It was also an item that could go to the East Capital General's mansion and receive a spiritual weapon, and it was not restricted by profession.

Needless to say, no one would give up on a spiritual weapon, which was second only to a divine weapon.

The intensity of the auction competition would not be much less than a sky full of fire rain.

The most important thing was that the spiritual weapons received from the Arsenal token were not restricted by occupation, so there would be more people competing for them.

Although only the Guild leaders were participating in the auction, the members of other guilds were also interested.

Naturally, they would pay for it themselves and discuss with their guild leader to bid for the item.

Other than these three items, there were four pieces of equipment and one red material.

These things were not worth mentioning. The big shots present would not even be interested in auctioning them.

After seeing the items Feng Yun realm had dropped, everyone's saliva drooled.

Especially the fiery rain and the military warehouse order.

Ultimate skills and spiritual weapons were truly too rare.

The only ultimate skill books that had appeared so far were wind cloud Cupid's wrath of the stars, which was for internal use by the Guild.

Zhang Shan was the only one who had sneakily auctioned off an invincible slash book at the auction house.

In the entire game, there had yet to be a fourth ultimate skill book. This fiery rain was the third one.

The strength and rarity of the ultimate skill would definitely drive all the fire wizards present crazy.

It was the same for the arsenal token. Those who wanted it would definitely sell it at all costs.

"Everyone has seen the dropped items. Brother world, please start organizing the auction."

God of War Li Jing said. Since the item had landed in Feng Yun realm's inventory, he was naturally the one to host the auction.

God of War Li Jing was a berserker. He had no need for either of these skills, and it was unknown if he would be interested in the arsenal token.

"Then, let's talk about which item to start the auction with. Should we start with the cheap one or the expensive one?"

Feng Yun realm did not immediately start the auction process. Instead, he first sought the opinions of the crowd.

“Of course, we’ll auction the expensive ones first. Who would care about cheap trash? The first item will be the skill book for {rain of fire}.”

“Alright,” he said.

Feng Yun realm said as he started the auction of the skill book.

I’ll bid 100 million. If you’re interested, please bid.

Boundless fire rain skill book was something that Feng Yun realm urgently needed.

In the wind and cloud Guild, there was one divine weapon, three spiritual weapons, and two ultimate skills.

However, Feng Yun realm was the Guild’s boss. If he had nothing, he would seem to have no sense of existence.

he had made up his mind. this time, between the rain of fire and the arsenal token, he had to get one of them.

Hence, when the auction for the [boundless fire rain] skill book started, Feng Yun realm himself immediately increased the bid by 100 million.

This price could be said to be very high. It was Zhang Shan’s invincible slash skill book.

A month ago, the auction started at 100 million Yuan and it was even put up for auction.

it was targeted at all the players in the game, unlike the twelve guilds present.

“Brother under the heavens, are you in such a hurry? I’ll raise the price to 110 million.”

the big shots of the various guilds present could be said to be rich and powerful. however, a skill book had been sold for over 100 million.

It was not that they didn’t want it or they couldn’t afford it.

And he felt that it wasn’t worth it.

Since he could get the first book, he could get the second one in the future. 100 million was too expensive.

Of course, if some people thought it was expensive, there would naturally be others who thought it was not expensive.

“120 million. If anyone raises the bid, I won’t follow.”

A certain Big Shot said after raising the bid.

“150 million.”

Feng Yun realm’s underling raised the bid without a change in expression.

The price of 150 million had already caught up to the final price of Zhang Shan’s invincible slash.

Feng Yun realm was also a ruthless person. When he saw what he needed, he really did not hold back.

” brother tianxia is awesome. i’m not following. ”

“Is there anyone else? If no one else is following me, I’ll just give the skill book to myself.”

After Feng Yun realm asked everyone, no one raised the bid.

In the end, the [boundless fire rain] skill book was sold to Feng Yun realm at the price of 150 million.

As long as Feng Yun realm paid the 150 million gold coins, this skill book would be his.

Feng Yun realm did not bring so many gold coins with him. After borrowing from the other big bosses in the Guild, he paid 150 million gold coins evenly to the other 11 guilds through the system agreement.

The wind and cloud Guild didn’t have it. When they signed the agreement, they had agreed to auction the gold coins and distribute the items equally among the parties who hadn’t obtained the items.

Since Feng Yun realm had won the skill book, their Guild naturally did not have the gold coins.

Zhang Shan felt that he had suffered a loss. When they had signed the agreement, they should have let the 12 families split it evenly.

How would he know that Feng Yun realm was the one who won the item?

This caused Zhang Shan and the rest to gain nothing.

Chapter 195-fighting right after splitting the items

The first item, rain of fire skill book, was won by Feng Yun realm.

For this skill book, Feng Yun realm had paid a total of 150 million gold coins.

other than the wind and cloud guild, the other guilds each received more than 10 million gold coins.

excluding the remaining items, just the meteor shower skill book alone had allowed the various large guilds to make a fortune.

Of course, the wind and cloud Guild did not earn a single gold coin. Instead, Feng Yun realm spent 150 million gold coins.

it seemed to be a big loss.

However, this matter depended on how he thought about it, such as ultimate skill books, spiritual artifacts, and divine artifacts.

Things that could be encountered but not sought were not things that could be bought with money.

When you wanted to buy something, even if you had a lot of gold coins in your hands, no one would be able to sell you anything.

Therefore, to the people of Feng Yun realm, although it was a little expensive to spend money to buy what they needed, it was not a loss.

As for the other members of the wind and cloud Guild, there was no need to rush. There were still other items that had not been auctioned.

There would always be gains.

after feng yun realm paid the gold coins, he automatically received the skill book for {rain of fire} and immediately learned the skill.

Anyway, he would definitely have skill points at this time. They had just snatched it, the first kill of BOSS Gitanas, and received a skill point as a reward.

What needed to be explained here was that ultimate skills were different from other ordinary skills.

The ultimate skill could only be learned once and did not need to be upgraded. The power of the ultimate skill at level one was its final power.

“Next up is the second item, the Arsenal token.”

feng yun realm said as he finished bidding for the skill book, rain of fire. he then displayed the attributes of the arsenal token.

[Arsenal token (spirit): human warriors can use this token to receive a weapon of their profession from the eastern capital General’s mansion.]

Anyone with eyes could see that as long as they won the Arsenal token, they would be able to obtain a spiritual weapon of their profession.

unlike skill books, the arsenal token was something that everyone could use, so it was very popular.

After Feng Yun realm started the auction, everyone immediately started bidding.

“I bid 50 million gold coins.”

“60 million.”

“80 million gold. I am determined to get this military warehouse token. Whoever wants to compete with me, let’s see who has more money.”

The overbearing King arrogantly shouted.

eighty million gold coins was already a very high price for a spiritual weapon.

After the domineering King called out his bid, there was a long pause, but no one followed.

It was unknown if he was afraid of the price or if he was afraid of domineering aura.

“100 million gold coins.”

After hesitating for a while, the Dragon King of the East Sea raised the price of the Arsenal token to a new high.

wow, you're really rich. You have a lot of money, okay? I'm not following.

The overbearing King's previous look of not lacking in money immediately changed.

Although he really wanted the Arsenal token, he was not as rich as the Dragon King of the East Sea, a great sea merchant.

Therefore, he decisively admitted defeat.

after the dragon king of the east sea bid 100 million, no one else followed. the price of a spiritual weapon had actually reached 100 million.

It had to be said that the price was very high.

although spiritual weapons were very useful, they were more than one grade stronger than red equipment of the same level.

Moreover, spiritual weapons were the same as divine weapons. They would be bound to the player after they were equipped, so there was no need to worry about them dropping after they died. The level of the spiritual weapon could also increase with the level of the player.

It could be said that it was the equipment that players wanted.

However, a spiritual weapon was not a divine weapon, so 100 million gold coins was too high.

the Dragon King of the East Sea has bid 100 million gold coins. Is there anyone else who wants to follow? if no one wants to follow, this Arsenal token will belong to the Dragon King of the East Sea.

Feng Yun realm, who was hosting the auction, asked three times and no one answered. He then traded the Arsenal token to the Dragon King of the East Sea.

after he paid the gold coins, the item would officially belong to him.

After the Dragon King of the East Sea paid the gold coins, the system determined that the Arsenal token was his.

This 100 million gold coins would be divided equally among the other 11 guilds. This time, the wind and cloud Guild would get more than 9000000 gold coins.

Zhang Shan and the rest did not work for nothing. They only had a total of 500 people.

If five hundred people were to split nine million gold coins, each person would get close to twenty thousand gold coins. It was a small profit.

The two most important items had been sold for a total of 250 million gold coins. The other guilds did not obtain any items.

However, they had also earned a large amount of gold coins. They had definitely profited from this BOSS battle.

Of the remaining items, only the meteor of Heavenly Fire was worth some money. The other equipment and materials were not worth mentioning.

In the end, the Skyfire meteor was won by Black Gold for 2000000 gold coins. As for the other equipment, no one was willing to buy them.

The final price was even lower than the price in the auction house.

" alright, our cooperation is over. you can go now. of course, if you have any grudges, please feel free to do so. those from the war god guild, we're going back to farm monsters. "

After the auction of all the items ended, Li Jing led his guild members out of the venue.

In this boss battle, the war god Guild did not obtain any items. They only received around 20 million gold coins.

As the Big Brother of the gaming world, they had gained nothing but gold coins.

They probably didn't feel too good about it. Of course, it was mainly because they didn't get anything they really needed this time, so it wasn't worth it.

"Let's go."

feng yun realm said to zhang shan and the rest.

"Let's go, we're done."

Just as the other guilds were about to leave, Subjugator spoke.

hey, you guys from traversing Four Seas and the black iron Guild. Weren't you guys quite unconvinced before? don't be in such a hurry to leave.

After Subjugator finished speaking, there were still quite a number of players from the state of Qin in addition to the tens of thousands of members from the Subjugator Guild.

They swarmed forward and intercepted traversing Four Seas and the black iron Guild.

Zhang Shan and the rest were just about to leave. Who would have thought that they would be able to watch such a show? this domineering King was quite interesting.

Could it be that he wanted to challenge two guilds at the same time?

As representatives of upstart guilds, traversing Four Seas and black iron were not weak.

No matter how he looked at it, domineering aura didn't seem to have an advantage.

"what's wrong? Do you really want to fight, domineering King?"

The Dragon King of the East Sea was not a good-tempered person. Otherwise, he would not have come to Dangyang city to find trouble with Zhang Shan just because of a few words.

No matter how they looked at it, traversing Four Seas and black iron had the upper hand.

If domineering King really wanted to find trouble, he wouldn't mind fighting with domineering Guild.

“What are you talking about? let’s do it.”

Subjugator immediately led his men and charged forward, and the three guilds instantly started fighting.

Even though the Guild domineering aura only had 10000 members, they had also brought along some other players from the state of Qin.

In terms of numbers, they only had a slight disadvantage compared to the other two guilds.

Subjugator was confident that he would be able to take down both traversing Four Seas and black iron by himself.

The three guilds were in a mess. Zhang Shan and the others, who were about to leave, stopped in their tracks and stayed to watch the battle.

Chapter 196 Stunned passive

A battle of 30000 to 40000 people with tens of thousands of spectators on the side made the scene extremely explosive.

the two sides were evenly matched, and it was difficult to tell who was stronger.

However, it didn’t take long for the stalemate to be broken.

Players from the state of Qin were constantly rushing over to provide support, while traversing Four Seas and the black iron Guild did not seem to have any reinforcements.

The domineering aura Guild was very popular in the country of Qin. It could be said that a single call from them would have a hundred responses.

Traversing Four Seas and the black iron Guild, on the other hand, did not have such an ability, and it was unknown if they had called for any reinforcements.

In any case, they hadn’t seen any players come over to help them.

Not to mention the external support, even the players from the same country, like Zhang Shan and the others from the wind cloud Guild ...

He didn’t have the idea of helping the Dragon King of the East Sea.

They had fought with each other several times in the past. They had even fought a Guild War.

It was already very kind of Feng Yun realm not to bring his men to add insult to injury. As for helping? Then I can only say sorry.

They didn’t have such thoughts.

In the Zhao camp where the black iron Guild was, the other Central Plains steel cavalry Guild was also there and had not left.

however, they did not seem to have any intention of going forward to help.

The rise of new guilds in the game would naturally affect the interests of old guilds.

Now that domineering aura was willing to give these two new forces a beating, the others were also willing to watch from the sidelines.

He would not help either Guild, domineering aura, traversing Four Seas, or black iron, so he would just sit back and watch.

As more and more new players joined the Qin country, the Dragon King of the East Sea and the black gold rank players could not hold on any longer.

After the battle continued for over ten minutes, more and more players from traversing Four Seas and the black iron Guild fell to the ground.

At this time, the Dragon King of the East Sea and the black gold beast saw that the situation was not right and immediately called for them to escape together.

tyrant king, you win. Let's go.

It wasn't embarrassing to run away if they couldn't win. It was better than all of them falling to the ground.

even though subjugator was leading the players from the state of qin to suppress the two guilds ...

However, if the Dragon King wanted to leave, they couldn't stop him. The Dragon King of the East Sea and black Gold brought the rest of the people and rushed out.

After leading the players from the state of Qin to chase after them for a while, they stopped.

to zhang shan and the rest who were watching the battle, a huge battle had ended.

the whole process only took twenty minutes.

As the perpetual second place, domineering aura displayed their strength and appeal.

With a call, all the players in the Qin country came over to help.

On the other hand, traversing Four Seas and the black guilds were far inferior.

After the show was over, Zhang Shan and the rest left the scene and went back to their respective farming.

Running over to fight the boss, Zhang Shan had gained a total of less than 20000 gold coins. Of course, he did not think it was too little.

to be precise, it should be a very good harvest. 20000 gold coins were equivalent to 20000 blue dollars.

It would take less than two hours to make a trip and fight the boss.

Zhang Shan would be overjoyed if he could have such a profit every day.

the Dragon King of the East Sea is quite miserable. He was beaten up again, hehe.

Zhang Shan said to wind cloud blade as he fired at the dizzy monster.

“it’s not that bad this time. not many of them have fallen, and i don’t think subjugator will guard their corpses. they can even get their support to resurrect them, so they didn’t suffer too much of a loss.”

traversing Four Seas didn’t suffer much losses, but it’s embarrassing to be beaten up.

“what’s there to be embarrassed about? it’s normal that they can’t beat domineering aura. it’d be strange if they could beat domineering aura.”

alright, Speaking of which, the popularity of the domineering King is really good. He managed to call so many people to support him.

“Of course, the big guilds are all very good at managing their own forces.”

but it seems that our wind and cloud Guild can’t do it. I feel that the possibility of calling for help from the Chu players outside the Guild is not high.

Zhang Shan asked curiously. The wind and cloud Guild was one of the top 10 guilds. Why did he feel the influence of his own Guild?

“Uh, our wind and cloud Guild can’t be considered an old Guild.”

That’s right, the wind and cloud Guild couldn’t be considered an old Guild.

They only entered the ranks of the top ten guilds after defeating the world Guild.

Moreover, with Feng Yun realm’s cold personality, he did not look like someone who was good at managing a Guild.

Now, the wind and cloud Guild was ahead of the others all the way, relying on Zhang Shan to get the heroes order first.

Then, he led the big shots in the Guild to fight all kinds of bosses. This was how the wind and cloud Guild seemed to be very powerful.

In reality, when it came to overall strength and influence, the wind cloud Guild was far inferior to the war god Guild and the domineering aura Guild.

in fact, they were even weaker than peerless, just like the previous time they had clashed with the guild.

The unparalleled gentleman could call a large number of Qi players to help him in the battle, but no one from the wind and cloud Guild would come to help.

although feng yun realm had never intended to call for help, he could not call for many people.

Fortunately, although Feng Yun realm had a cold personality, he would not easily offend others.

Other than the heaven and earth Guild, no one else had specifically targeted the wind cloud Guild.

Just as Zhang Shan was chatting with wind cloud blade, he suddenly received a system notification.

zhang shan could not help but feel surprised. his luck today was pretty good.

≪ system notification: your passive King talent has gained the stun (passive) skill by killing the elite demon warrior. ≫

[stun (passive): every time you attack, there is a certain chance to trigger the stun effect, causing the target to be stunned.]

lasts for one second, 2% chance of triggering.

This stun passive was not bad. As long as it was triggered, it would stun for one second, which was much better than a headshot.

Moreover, the chance of triggering it was not bad. A 2% chance was not considered small.

...

Right now, Zhang Shan's attack speed was already very high, if he activated both berserk and fanatic skills at the same time.

There was a high chance of triggering a stun.

The most important thing was that this passive situation had come so easily. Even Zhang Shan could not believe it.

He had only been here for a total of three days, killing tens of thousands of monsters at most.

He was able to use his passive skills. These stun monsters were really powerful and generous.

Compared to the passive skills that had spawned before, other than a few that were from bosses, there was no other way.

The only thing left was the rabbit's passive. It was easier to get, and after half a day, Zhang Shan managed to get it.

He had spent a long time to get the other passive skills, especially the Army ant's Ant strength passive.

Zhang Shan had been grinding for half a month before he managed to obtain the passive skill.

zhang shan was a little surprised that it would be so easy this time.

It seemed that things like probability were not easy to talk about.

If he was lucky, he might be able to trigger the talent by killing a few monsters.

when he was unlucky, he might kill hundreds of monsters, but he might not be able to trigger his talent and obtain a passive skill.

Chapter 197 The skill book dropped by the monsters

It had easily allowed Zhang Shan to obtain a passive skill. He was very happy.

However, he did not have any thoughts of Changing Places for the time being. He did not know which Monsters in Heaven's Gate had passive skills.

If he were to rely on himself and search one place at a time, he did not know when he would be able to find a suitable map to farm monsters.

I'll farm here first and go to the West capital to find an Qisheng in two days to see if I can successfully complete the divine weapon mission.

With a divine weapon mission hanging in the air and not yet completed, Zhang Shan was a little flustered.

She was afraid that an Qisheng would cause trouble again.

Zhang Shan had already invested too much time and energy into this mission for the broken ring.

If an Qisheng gave him another mission, Zhang Shan would be depressed.

Of course, for the sake of the divine weapon, he had to complete the mission no matter how troublesome it was.

Compared to wind and cloud blade, his luck wasn't too bad. At least for the mission an Qisheng had given him, his luck wasn't bad.

And they were all things he could do.

he wasn't as unlucky as wind cloud blade, who had asked him to kill a demon general first.

Only then would he be able to start the first step of the mission, and then there would be subsequent missions.

To the current players, the mission that Lil 'ou issued was to challenge the demon general.

It was almost impossible to complete.

Not to mention the difficulty of the mission, they did not even know where the target was. They had not even seen a demon general yet.

Where could he go to challenge?

Forget it, let's not think about the divine weapon mission. There's always a way out. Step by step, no matter how difficult the mission is, it will be completed eventually.

Next, Zhang Shan and the rest continued to farm the stunned monsters. Perhaps Zhang Shan had triggered the passive King talent.

After using up all their luck, the three of them spent the whole day grinding and didn't even get two normal white trash equipment.

as for anything else that was slightly more valuable, there was nothing.

Of course, it was normal for monsters to not drop anything. The drop rate of items in the New World was very low.

Even Zhang Shan and boss Wu's luck had reached 9.

There were also no truly valuable items that dropped.

On the other hand, the two of them could get quite a lot of trash white-level equipment every day.

If he sold it to the NPC shop, he could get some gold coins and get more than 300 to 400 gold coins a day.

Zhang Shan was just thinking about how he had been killing monsters the entire day yesterday and did not get much loot.

Suddenly, boss Wu shouted.

“F * ck, I think I just got a skill book.”

“What skill book? Post it?”

Zhang Shan and wind and cloud blade said at the same time.

In the New World, any skill book would not be trash. Even the cheapest skill book would be worth one to two thousand gold.

As for the expensive ones, there was really no upper limit and their value was immeasurable.

Boss Wu showed the skill book.

[battle intent: when a hunter is in battle, their battle intent will be high, and their attack speed will continuously increase.]

Increases attack speed by 1% every 10 seconds. Maximum increase of 50% for 10 minutes. Cooldown: 10 minutes.

Mana cost: 2000, profession requirements: Hunter.

ASIBA, this skill is awesome. It can increase attack speed by up to 50%. It's so strong.

Wind cloud blade sighed.

it only increases attack speed by 1% every 10 seconds. If I want to increase my attack speed by 50%, I'll need around 9 minutes. However, this skill book is still pretty good.

To Zhang Shan, as long as it was something that could increase attack speed, he needed it all, be it a skill, a skill, or any other item.

He had so many passive skills, and the higher his attack speed, the more power he could display.

“Is this skill very good? I'll give it to you.”

Boss Wu traded the fighting spirit skill book to Zhang Shan.

zhang shan took the skill book and read the description carefully.

This battle intent skill didn't increase attack speed by 50% from the start.

Instead, it would increase gradually. From the beginning, it would increase by one percent.

After that, it would increase attack speed by 1% every 10 seconds.

It would take eight to nine minutes, but the duration of the [battle intent] was only ten minutes.

In other words, he could only maintain the 50% increase in attack speed for a minute or so.

However, this was only the description of the level 1 skill. After Zhang Shan had leveled up the skill to level 10, he would be able to use it.

He should be able to increase his attack speed by 50% in an even shorter time.

...

After carefully looking through the skill description, Zhang Shan felt that this skill was very good.

It was very suitable for him to use. In fact, as long as it was a skill that increased attack speed, he would need it.

Although this battle intent skill didn't steadily increase attack speed, it wasn't bad.

After he maxed out his skill, he could maintain it for at least five minutes, which increased his attack speed by 50%.

Taking a step back, even if it didn't reach 50%, as long as it could increase attack speed, it was good.

After carefully reading the skill description, Zhang Shan learned the fighting spirit skill and used skill points to Max it out.

After maxing out the [fighting spirit] skill, he would still have two skill points left.

The description of the level 10 fighting spirit skill remained the same.

However, his attack speed increased even faster. Every second, his attack speed would increase by one point, and he could continue fighting for 50 seconds.

It could increase the attack speed by 50%.

Hehe, it was much faster than he had imagined.

...

It was a very good skill.

"Have you maxed out your skills? How's the effect?"

windcloud blade asked.

it's alright. The rest of the skill is the same. After maxing out a skill, my attack speed will increase by 1% every second.

"F * ck, is it that bad * SS? Isn't that the same as increasing your attack speed by 50%?"

Zhang Shan thought for a while. Actually, wind and cloud blade was not wrong.

Aside from the first 50 seconds of activating [battle intent], the skill would increase attack speed by 50%.

The duration and cooldown of the battle intent skill were both 10 minutes. In other words, Zhang Shan could always activate the battle intent skill.

The only problem was that the [will of war] consumed a lot of mana. It cost 2000 mana to activate it once.

It must be known that Zhang Shan's current maximum MP was just over 1500. It was not enough to activate the battle intent skill.

Although he had learned the battle intent skill, he could not use it. He would have to wait until his maximum mana reached 2000.

This was the sad thing about adding all points to agility. He couldn't even use the skills he had learned.

He could only put it there.

"big brother carrying a blade's luck is really good. he can get such a good skill book from killing small monsters. if such a skill book were to be put up for auction, it would be worth at least a million, right?"

Windcloud blade said with envy.

"It's my first time getting a skill book from killing monsters. Maybe I'm just lucky today, hehe."

Boss Wu said humbly.

Chapter 198 Magic leaf

In the New World, the monsters would drop skill books, but the drop rate was extremely low.

in any case, other than the time when zhang shan was in the beginner village, where he had obtained a skill book from killing small monsters.

At other times, he had never seen it.

His luck was also 9, and his farming speed was extremely fast.

In the past two months, Zhang Shan did not know how many monsters he had killed. There were at least a few million of them.

As for the skill book, he had never seen it on any monsters.

If they wanted to obtain skill books, they could only rely on bosses.

He didn't expect that boss Wu would drop a skill book when he was killing monsters.

Moreover, it was a very useful skill book.

He had to admit that boss Wu's luck seemed to be better than his.

"Why don't I have such luck? I've never seen a skill book on a monster before."

Windcloud blade said gloomily.

this depends on fate. The chances of monsters dropping skill books are pitifully low.

He had gained another skill, and it was a skill that greatly increased his damage output.

Zhang Shan was very happy. He comforted wind and cloud blade.

” it’s bad enough that the monsters dropped skill books, but they also dropped such an amazing skill book. most importantly, it’s not for me to use. it’s too much. ”

“do you still need skill books? you have all of the strongest berserker skills available.”

brother six steward, you’re wrong. I’ve learned the current skills, but there are stronger skills that haven’t appeared yet. For example, the ultimate skill book for Berserkers hasn’t been dropped yet.

Zhang Shan was speechless.

He was thinking of an ultimate skill. Could the monsters drop an ultimate skill book?

Well, it was possible in theory.

Zhang Shan’s divine weapon mission items were dropped from killing small monsters. If other people killed small monsters and dropped ultimate skill books ...

It was possible.

if you want the ultimate skill book, you’ll have to fight more bosses. There are so many big bosses in the Heaven’s Gate map. If you organize a group of people to fight a few bosses, you might be able to get the ultimate skill book.

sigh, the BOSS at heaven’s gate isn’t easy to fight. There’s an additional Holy demon’s protection state. The key is that there are too many people trying to steal the BOSS. It’s almost impossible to fight the BOSS safely.

That was true. Heaven’s Gate was a public map, and the monsters gave more experience.

Players from all over the world had gathered here to secretly fight a small BOSS.

However, for super powerful real name bosses like chakra and Gitanas, they were too powerful.

It was almost impossible to kill the BOSS without being discovered.

For example, they had gone to fight Gitanas before.

It was unknown which unlucky person discovered it first, but it ended up attracting all the top guilds in the game.

Therefore, it was not easy to fight a BOSS in Heaven’s Gate map.

Unless it was like when they were raiding chakra, in a sealed map.

By blocking the entrance of the map, no one else could enter, and they could quietly kill the BOSS without anyone knowing.

As for fighting bosses in other open fields, it would be very difficult.

Even powerful guilds like the war god and the domineering aura couldn't stop the harassment of others.

"It's a pity I don't know how often you farm chakra. Would it still respawn at the same place? It would be great if it still respawns there. Our Guild can guard that map and farm monsters. Maybe we can fight a few more times."

I don't know, but no matter where it is, whether or not chakra will respawn, our Guild has to occupy a place first. It's not easy to find such a good place to farm monsters.

That's right. After I go to the West capital tomorrow and find an Qisheng, I'll ride my horse and look around The Map of Heaven's Gate to see if I can find one or two similar monster-farming maps.

Previously, Zhang Shan had been busy with other things. Once he had completed the divine weapon mission, he would have time.

Even if he didn't explore the entire Sky Gate map, he should at least try to find a few more monster maps below level 50.

He still had to find a suitable monster to farm passive skills.

"Brother Liu Guan, you should be able to complete that divine weapon mission this time, right?"

"It's hard to say, but I don't think it's a big problem. After clearing the extreme mode dungeon, it should be the last quest. However, I'm just afraid that an Qisheng will cause trouble."

What are you afraid of? We'll take it one step at a time. For the sake of the divine artifact, there's no need to be afraid of trouble.

"Yes, I am."

Zhang Shan was not afraid of the trouble caused by the divine weapon mission. Even if it was a mission like Wind and Cloud Blade, which challenged a demon general, he would not be afraid.

They would be able to complete such a mission sooner or later.

He was afraid that another uncertain mission would come, such as asking him to look for someone.

He was looking for people who did not have a fixed location and could only be found by luck.

He was afraid of this type of mission that relied on luck, even though Zhang Shan's luck was high.

However, having a high luck value did not mean that it would work all the time.

...

It would be much easier to get a mission that could be completed with one's own ability. He really had no confidence in a mission that could be completed by luck.

"Wait for me here. I'm going back to Ying city to buy a special item that can increase my maximum mana."

Since he couldn't use the [battle intent] skill after learning it, he couldn't just sit around and watch. He would first go to the auction house and see if there were any special items that increased the maximum mana for sale.

Of course, there was no special item like the mana pool.

However, he only needed to increase his maximum mana by 500.

it could be said that as long as it was the trashiest special item that could increase the maximum mana, it would be able to solve zhang shan's problem of activating the battle intent skill.

then you can go back first. We'll walk around nearby. Anyway, big brother carrying a knife and I can't kill the monsters here.

The dizzy monsters here were extremely disgusting, and neither wind cloud blade nor boss Wu could farm them.

If Zhang Shan went too far away, the Panda baby would also be recalled. No one would be able to withstand the dizzy monster's words.

the two of them could only watch helplessly.

"Alright, I'll try to be quick."

...

After Zhang Shan finished, he returned to Heaven's Gate and then returned to Dangyang city through the teleportation array.

As a pass city, Heaven's Gate didn't have any auction houses or similar buildings.

They could only make simple supplies here. If they wanted to auction items, they had to return to their own cities.

After returning to Dangyang city, Zhang Shan teleported to the auction house and started searching for special items that could increase the maximum mana.

There were indeed such special items in the auction house.

when the number of players increased, all kinds of items would be farmed. zhang shan could get his hands on divine weapons and ultimate skill books.

It was normal for others to get some special items.

He looked at the price of the special item. It was really expensive. It was the worst white-level special item.

It could only increase one's maximum mana by 300, but it actually dared to start with 100000 gold coins and increase one's maximum mana by 500.

The cheapest one had a starting price of 200000 gold coins, while the cheapest buyout price was 500000 gold coins.

Zhang Shan did not have much to consider. He spent 500000 gold coins and bought one of them.

[magic leaf (green): special item. Increases mana by 500.]

Chapter 199 a small BOSS

Zhang Shan spent 50 gold coins and bought a special item that increased the maximum mana, the magic leaf.

Finally, the embarrassment of not having enough mana to activate the skill [battle intent] was resolved.

However, the price was too high. He had spent 500000 gold coins on an item that he rarely used.

When he was farming monsters, he would definitely still be equipped with the hand of Madas. Only after the duration of the skill ended would he be able to equip it.

After activating the [battle intent] skill, he would then switch back to the hand of Madas.

In this case, he could switch between special items and equipment every ten minutes.

The number of times that the magic leaf had been equipped by Zhang Shan could be counted with the fingers.

However, it was indispensable because without it, he would not be able to activate the battle intent skill.

A 50% increase in attack speed was equivalent to a 50% increase in grinding efficiency.

It was worth it to spend 500000 gold coins for this.

The current Zhang Shan, if he were to activate his berserk and fanatic skills, his attack speed would reach a terrifying level.

Not to mention the other professions, even for the same Hunter profession, the others did not even have half of Zhang Shan's attack speed.

zhang shan's hand of maedas had a fixed 50% increase in attack speed.

after activating [battle intent], he could increase his attack speed by another 10% in less than a minute.

He also had a passive skill, mad demon, which could increase his attack speed by 20%.

These three attributes would allow Zhang Shan's attack speed to be more than double that of other Hunter professions.

If he were to add on the berserk and fanatic skills, Zhang Shan's attack speed would be terrifying.

Even though it was possible for others to do the same.

However, a spiritual-level special item like the hand of maedas should be something that very few people could get their hands on.

It was the same for the battle intent skill. Zhang Shan had never seen it before in the auction house.

Even if someone managed to obtain this skill book, they did not put it up for auction, but learned it themselves.

He believed that it was an individual.

On the other hand, fanaticism skill books were quite common. As long as one was willing to pay, they could buy them at the auction house.

As for the other skills and items, they were all very rare. It should be difficult for others to get it.

After settling the issue of the maximum mana, Zhang Shan returned to Heaven's Gate and rode towards boss Wu and blade of wind and cloud.

Seeing Zhang Shan appear on the map of Heaven's Gate, wind and cloud blade called out to him.

come here, we have a small BOSS here. It's Orange. Come and kill it.

What the hell, there really was a mini-boss.

Zhang Shan was riding his horse and approaching them quickly, while checking their position on the map.

Windcloud blade and boss Wu had not gone far. They were just beside the monsters that they had stunned.

However, was there an orange-colored BOSS among these dizzy monsters?

what kind of BOSS is it? does it also stun monsters? "

Zhang Shan asked wind cloud blade.

yes, it looks similar to those dizzy monsters. The only difference is that its armor is more beautiful.

" you guys wait there for a while. i'll be there soon. be careful not to let anyone find out. "

To Zhang Shan, an orange-colored BOSS could only be considered trash. However, no matter how trashy a BOSS was, it was still a BOSS.

It would at least drop one or two pieces of orange equipment. If he was lucky, he might even drop a skill book.

It was hard to say what items would drop in the New World.

although it was said that the stronger the BOSS, the better the equipment it dropped, this did not mean that normal bosses and monsters would not drop good items.

the invincible slash skill book that zhang shan and boss wu were auctioning off was dropped when they killed the orange-colored BOSS, the demon warlock, on the second floor of the instance dungeon.

Since they had found the BOSS, they would not let it go.

moreover, the orange-colored BOSS was just right. the three of them could easily take it down.

He didn't need to call anyone.

The monsters at heaven's gate were stronger, especially with the Holy demon's protection.

Reduces damage by 50%. To the average player, the orange BOSS of Heaven's Gate was definitely not easy to deal with.

However, to Zhang Shan, this was no different. He had the Panda baby to hold him back.

boss wu was there to heal and buff.

With Zhang Shan's damage output, if he went all out, it would probably take less than a minute to take down the orange boss.

The red hares were extremely fast, and within a few minutes, Zhang Shan had reached boss Wu and wind and cloud blade.

"Where's the boss?"

When they arrived, Zhang Shan had not seen the boss.

look inside. Among the monsters, there's a monster with a different armor and a different name. It's called the Nephilim Elite Captain.

...

Boss Wu raised his hand and pointed at the crowd of dizzy monsters.

zhang shan followed the direction that boss wu was pointing at and observed carefully. only then did he realize that there was really an orange boss in the middle of the crowd of stun monsters.

The boss's armor was more distinct. Of course, to determine whether it was a boss or not, one could tell by looking at its name.

In the middle of the group of elite demon Warriors, the one with the brighter armor had an orange name. It was the captain of the elite demon Warriors.

"What should we do? this place is too empty. it's easy to be disturbed when fighting a boss."

Windcloud blade said worriedly.

"Don't worry, we just need to hurry up. There shouldn't be too many people coming to this place. Even if someone saw us fighting the boss, there should only be a few people. Don't worry."

"Then let's do it."

After Zhang Shan summoned the Panda baby, he quickly cleared the small monsters.

The elite warrior Captain was in the middle of a large group of small monsters. If they did not clear the small monsters first, they would not be able to hit the BOSS.

The Panda baby was tanking the crowd of stun monsters, while Zhang Shan and wind and cloud blade attacked quickly.

Zhang Shan equipped the magic leaf and activated the [battle intent] skill. He then switched back to the hand of Madas.

After activating [battle intent], he could clearly feel his attack speed increase.

His attack speed increased by 1% every second. One could see with the naked eye that Zhang Shan's attack speed was increasing.

In less than a minute, the attack speed increased by 50%.

Bullets were continuously fired from the gun in Zhang Shan's hands, and a large number of dizzy monsters were knocked down by him.

"Damn, brother Liu Guan, your output has increased a lot."

yes, after activating the fighting spirit skill, I've become much stronger.

The [battle intent] skill was equivalent to directly increasing Zhang Shan's damage output by 50%.

It didn't take long for them to clear out the area near the elite team leader.

When the Panda baby got close to the boss's aggro range, the elite team leader also attacked the Panda baby with the other stun monsters.

"Let's kill the BOSS first."

When the elite team leader came out, Zhang Shan activated his berserk and fanatic skills and went all out.

There was no need to reserve any skills to deal with an orange BOSS.

He would just do it directly.

Chapter 200 Jumping skill book

As Zhang Shan went all out, the elite captain's health dropped rapidly. He did not have the face of a boss at all.

Zhang Shan attacked quickly while checking the boss's attributes.

[demon elite party leader (orange quality): level 40, attack 4000, HP 2800000]

Skill 1, charge; skill 2, stun; skill 3, random slash; status: Holy demon protection.

[charge: the Nephilim elite leader charges towards the target at extreme speed, causing damage and reducing speed for 3 seconds.]

[stun: every time the Nephilim elite party leader attacks, there is a certain chance to trigger the stun effect, stunning the target for one second.]

[random slash: the elite Nephilim Captain slashes his sword in all directions, dealing 500% damage to all targets within a 5-yard radius.]

[Holy demon's protection: a protection state that the Holy demon gives to invading demon Warriors, reducing damage by 50%. Will lose its effect after passing Heaven's Gate.]

this boss is f * cking weak. I feel like we can kill it in less than a minute.

windcloud blade said casually as he swung his axe around.

After they started to attack the elite leader, they did not see any other players nearby.

Basically, they didn't have to worry about being harassed anymore. They fought very quickly.

they were almost done with the boss, so they didn't have to worry at all.

that's all there is to an orange-colored boss. It's not strong to begin with.

ever since he had gotten his hands on the legendary equipment, zhang shan had not been too concerned about bosses below orange.

Only a red boss would make him take it seriously.

An orange-colored boss would not be able to withstand Zhang Shan's attacks for long.

His base attack was over 9000, and his title of nemesis of the nemesis increased his damage by 10%.

Boss Wu's attack blessing could increase Zhang Shan's attack power by 20%.

If all these factors were added together, Zhang Shan's theoretical damage could reach more than 12000.

Even the Monsters in Heaven's Gate were protected by the Holy demon, which reduced their damage by 50%.

Zhang Shan could still deal close to 6000 damage, in addition to his super high attack speed and various critical effects.

fighting an orange-colored boss was like playing around.

brother six steward, you're the only one who dares to say that. You don't take the orange boss seriously anymore. Even if dozens of normal players fight together, they might not be able to defeat the orange boss.

"Hehe, I was just saying."

In less than half a minute, the demon elite warrior captain's HP was reduced by half.

The boss's ultimate skill was released, and a large number of blade lights swept across the surroundings. Above the Panda baby and wind and cloud blade, damage values kept flashing.

However, it was of no damn use.

The Panda baby had more than 130000 HP. The boss's ultimate skill was no threat to it at all.

Even wind and cloud blade was fine after taking one of the boss's ultimate skills.

The elite demonic party leader's attack was 4000, while the other monsters were only attacking the Panda baby.

wind and cloud blade only took a hit from the BOSS's ultimate skill and did not even lose 20000 hp.

He had more than 20000 HP, and he was an elite Nephilim Captain. He couldn't kill Feng Yun with a single ultimate skill.

Boss Wu quickly recovered wind and cloud blade's HP.

As for the Panda baby's health, boss Wu didn't need to pay much attention to it. It wouldn't die at all.

The level 40 orange-colored BOSS could not do anything and was quickly beaten to a state of empty health.

brother Yidao, stop first. I'll let the baby panda deal one last attack to see if it can increase the drop rate.

"Alright," he said.

Windcloud blade kept his axe and retreated to the side.

He knew that the Panda baby had 10 points of luck.

Every time their Guild fought a BOSS together, Zhang Shan would try his best to control the Panda baby and get the last hit.

Although sometimes, he couldn't estimate accurately and didn't fight for it.

However, most of the time, Zhang Shan was still able to control the baby panda to kill it.

As for the effect, it was quite good. Even the ultimate skill book of the wind cloud Cupid was obtained by the Panda baby after killing the Wolf King.

All in all, the items dropped by the BOSS were much better than the others.

This was all thanks to the Panda baby's 10 points of luck.

Zhang Shan continued to attack a few more times, and when the BOSS's health was empty, he immediately stopped.

At the same time, he controlled the Panda baby and used a combo skill to directly smash the demon race Elite Captain.

[system notification: congratulations to six-barreled bodhisattva, wind and cloud blade, and daoist with a blade for successfully killing the demon elite warrior captain.]

Skill point +1, medal +100.

"Hehe, I can't believe I made an announcement and got a skill point reward.

Although there were many bosses called the Nephilim elite warrior leader, they were not the same BOSS because of their different levels and types.

The level 40 demon elite warrior Captain that they had just killed had not been killed by anyone else, so they had gotten another first kill.

At this point in the game, normal system announcements could no longer attract the attention of players.

However, as members of the wind and cloud Guild, the other members quickly saw the announcement and realized that Zhang Shan and the other two were actually secretly fighting the boss.

The Guild channel suddenly became lively.

godly equipment bro is so mean. He actually sneaked in to fight the boss without calling us.

“Uh, it’s just a mini boss. We don’t need too many people.”

the ones that made the announcement are all orange and above. Is this also a mini-boss? ” that depends on who it’s to. To brother artifact, an orange boss is not a boss, a normal red boss is only a trash boss, and only those with real names can be considered a real boss, hehe.

Zhang Shan was speechless. Did it have to be so exaggerated? a red boss was still very strong.

Zhang Shan felt that even if it was the most common red boss, the three of them might not be able to defeat it.

He was mainly afraid that boss Wu wouldn’t be able to keep up with the healing.

...

After all, the red boss’s damage was no joke.

However, if the support’s healing wasn’t strong enough, he would die sooner or later.

However, if the boss’s level was lower, Zhang Shan could still give it a try with boss Wu.

For example, for red bosses below level 30, Zhang Shan felt that boss Wu should be able to heal the Panda baby alone.

a level 30 red boss didn’t have much hp, only 10 million.

with zhang shan’s current attack power, it would not take too much time for him to take out 10 million hp.

At most, it would take ten minutes.

it’s just an orange boss, so I’m not going to talk to you anymore. Brother six steward, quickly open the equipment and see if there’s anything valuable.

Windcloud blade did not pay much attention to him. Those jealous big shots in the Guild channel only cared about the items dropped after the boss was defeated.

Zhang Shan opened his backpack and saw that there were a few more items.

“Not bad, there’s a skill book.”

“What skill book? show it to me.”

Zhang Shan displayed the dropped items.

An orange and a purple equipment, an orange material, and a skill book.

[leap: instantly leap forward by 10 yards. cooldown time: 30 minutes. class requirement: Usable for all classes.
