

Passive Skills 201

Chapter 201 level 31

The equipment wasn't worth mentioning, and a level 40 orange equipment was also trash. If it was put up for auction now, it wouldn't be worth a single cent.

They weren't even level 30 yet, so why would they need level 40 equipment? the red equipment could be prepared first.

Orange equipment was completely unnecessary.

However, this jumping skill book was not bad. It was a general skill book that could be learned by all classes.

zhang shan had long been envious of this skill book, but they had never managed to get it.

it would only appear occasionally in the auction house. although the price was very high, it would still be bought by others very quickly.

He had wanted to buy a [leap] skill book from the auction house several times, but he had not been able to buy it.

The leap skill was not only a godly skill for escaping. With a single leap, he would be able to advance ten yards.

He could increase the distance between him and the enemy and escape quickly.

The jump skill could also be used as an entry skill, whether it was when chasing an enemy.

It was still a surprise attack. With a jump, he would instantly appear in front of the enemy and catch them off guard.

It was just like when they had fought peerless in the Guild challenge.

The five members of peerless all had jumping skills, so they were able to reach them in an instant.

If it wasn't for the huge difference in strength, their wind and cloud Guild might have been overturned by unparalleled gentleman's jumping skill.

"I'll give you this skill book."

wind cloud blade said to zhang shan. Of course, he also wanted this skill book.

However, compared to Zhang Shan, the need for wind and cloud blade was not that strong.

After all, as a Berserker, he had a charge skill that could quickly engage the enemy.

When running for their lives, they could also rely on more HP and defense to hold on.

They were unlike Zhang Shan, a fragile job, who did not even have a single escape skill.

"Okay, thank you."

zhang shan did not hesitate and gave the jumping skill book to himself. he really needed this skill.

With the jump skill, in the future, when fighting, Zhang Shan could not just stand still and deal damage. He could also show off some of his skills and display a stronger combat power.

After the skill book was given to him, Zhang Shan immediately learned the jumping skill.

He had been saving up his skill points. Previously, he had spent 10 skill points to learn the [battle intent] skill.

He still had two skill points left. In addition to the first kill just now, he had been rewarded with another skill point.

He still had three skill points left.

The effect of the jump skill was the same at level one and level ten.

The only difference was the cooldown time. A level jump had a cooldown time of 30 minutes.

After a skill reached level 10, its cooldown time was three minutes.

Zhang Shan considered for a moment and decided not to level up his skills.

To him, the jump skill was a life-saving skill at a critical moment. The cooldown time, at least for now, did not matter much.

he could upgrade this skill when he needed it in the future.

I'll save the skill points for later when I learn other skills.

other than the leap skill book, the rest of the loot was trash.

There wasn't much to split. Each person would get one and throw it into the Guild storage to exchange for Guild contribution points.

"We're quite lucky today, we got two skill books in a row."

Boss Wu said with emotion.

"it would be great if i had this kind of luck every day."

that's f * cking daring. If that's the case, skill books would be everywhere. They wouldn't be so valuable.

"Could it be that these dizzy monsters are hard to farm, so they dropped good items?"

I don't think so. The drops in the New World are all based on luck.

no matter how good the loot of these stun monsters is, we can't farm them until today. Tomorrow, brother Liu Guan will have to go and get a divine weapon.

yes, once I go online tomorrow, I'll go to the West capital to find an Qisheng. Whether or not I can get the divine weapon, I plan on exploring the Heaven's Gate pass map first.

"We have to run around the map first. Although our Guild has many members, most of them aren't suitable to run around the map. It's easy to die Here, so it's better to rely on you to run."

Windcloud blade's words were right. Although there were many thieves in the Guild who could run around the map while invisible, there were still many players who could do so.

However, they were too slow. Even if they ran for an entire day, they wouldn't be able to cover many places.

if he was accidentally exposed, he would definitely die.

Zhang Shan did not have to worry about these problems. He could run fast on his horse alone, and his efficiency in running the map was high.

The key was that he was not afraid of meeting players from other countries. When there were few people, who would dare to provoke him?

When there were many people, Zhang Shan would naturally ride his horse and escape, not letting others catch him.

...

After farming for a while more, Zhang Shan finally reached level 31. He placed all his attribute points into agility.

Zhang Shan looked at his experience bar. To level up to level 32, he needed 50 million experience.

Compared to when he was level 31, he needed 10000000 more experience points.

An increase of 25% was truly difficult.

However, after looking at the level rankings, Zhang Shan's mood instantly became much better.

Currently, there were no players who had reached level 30, so the fastest way to level up was still heart moves.

He still needed around 2000000 experience to reach level 30. He would probably reach level 30 by tomorrow.

There were many others who were level 29, but it would still take a few days to reach level 30.

After all, leveling up from level 29 to level 30 required 3000000 experience.

This wasn't something that could be obtained so easily.

for other players, it was already good enough to get a million experience in a day.

...

And this was on The Map of Heaven's Gate. If he were to farm monsters on the map outside of the city

...

Most of the players could not even get a million experience points in a day.

The opening of the Heaven's Gate map had sped up everyone's leveling progress. Otherwise, everyone's leveling speed would be even slower.

After following Zhang Shan for a few days, wind and cloud blade had gained a lot of experience.

He was almost in the top ten of the level rankings. Boss Wu was also the same, being carried by Zhang Shan to level up.

He had already entered the top 10 of the level rankings.

Zhang Shan's farming speed was not for show. For others, it might take eight or nine slashes to kill a monster.

Zhang Shan only needed two or three shots to finish it off. Furthermore, his attack speed was much faster than the others. His farming speed was four to five times faster than the others.

even with windcloud blade and boss wu, their leveling speed was still much faster than the others.

Zhang Shan said when he was about to go offline at night.

you guys go find someone else. I'm going back to Dangyang city to log off.

alright, I hope you can get the second divine artifact as soon as possible.

"I hope so."

After the three of them stopped killing monsters, Windcloud blade and boss Wu went to find other guild members.

Without Zhang Shan, the two of them would not be able to clear the stun monsters here.

Meanwhile, Zhang Shan had returned to Heaven's Gate and was teleported to Dangyang city.

He teleported to the auction house and bought some cheap Engineering Materials before browsing through the auction house.

To see if there was anything good to bid for.

Not to mention, if he really did find another divine material, the price would not be too expensive.

It was bought by Zhang Shan for less than 100000 gold.

The divine materials that he had saved up before had all been used up, and he finally had some stock.

After a day full of rewards, he went offline to sleep.

Chapter 202 complete restoration the next day, zhang shan went online early. he teleported to the teleportation hall and then teleported to the west capital.

After leaving the West capital's teleportation Hall, Zhang Shan mounted the red Hare and ran towards an Qisheng's alchemy laboratory.

An Qisheng's alchemy laboratory was not too far from the teleportation Hall, and Zhang Shan was riding very fast.

It didn't take long for them to reach the place.

However, Zhang Shan was quickly dumbfounded. The door of an Qisheng's alchemy laboratory was tightly shut.

The door hadn't opened yet.

What was going on? did he come too early? Or did an Qisheng run away with the gold coins and materials that Zhang Shan had given him?

Zhang Shan's head hurt. Did he have to do this? it was just a mission.

why was it so difficult?

He opened the mission panel.

The mission of the shattered heart was still incomplete. He had to wait until Zhang Shan handed the shattered heart to an Qisheng.

only then would the mission be considered complete.

The mission to repair the broken ring was also going on as usual.

The mission was still there, so an Qisheng shouldn't have run away, right?

Just as Zhang Shan was thinking about how long he had to wait, the laboratory door opened and an Qisheng walked out with sleepy eyes.

Seeing that the question mark was still above an Qisheng's head, the mission could still continue.

Zhang Shan quickly went forward to talk to him.

"Master an Qisheng, I've already obtained the shattered heart you wanted.

After saying this, he took out the heart of destruction from his bag and handed it to an Qisheng.

An Qisheng said after taking the shattered heart and carefully examining it.

young man, you're not bad. You actually managed to obtain the heart of destruction.

zhang shan was a little speechless.

how could he not get it? if he did not get the heart of destruction, he would not be able to continue with the divine weapon mission.

This mission was layered in layers, and he couldn't continue even if he got stuck at one.

"Master, can I start repairing my ring now?"

Oh, yes, the initial construction of my laboratory has been completed. Although I can't make high-level accessories yet, I have no problem repairing items, even if it's a divine artifact.

Hearing an Qisheng's affirmative answer, Zhang Shan was overjoyed.

from the looks of it, he would be able to obtain a second divine weapon soon.

“When will you begin repairing the ring?”

“young man, don’t worry. i just got up and haven’t had breakfast yet. Damn it, I don’t even have a servant now, and I have to buy breakfast by myself.”

Come on, I still have to buy breakfast for this divine craftsman?

“I wonder what Grandmaster would like to eat in the morning? I’ll help you buy it. ”

Zhang Shan felt that he had to settle this as soon as possible. He could not let an Qisheng waste time. If he wanted to eat breakfast, it was easy. He could help him buy it.

I heard that the breakfast at the four joyous mansion is pretty good. Can you help me buy breakfast? ”

“Alright, please wait a moment, master.”

Zhang Shan looked at the map and found the location of the four joyous mansion. He rode the red Hare and galloped over.

It didn’t take long for them to arrive at the four joyous mansion. They picked the most expensive breakfast and spent 2000 gold coins.

What the f * ck, the breakfast in the game was even more outrageous than in real life. It was so expensive.

Let’s not talk anymore, let’s quickly ride back.

After passing breakfast to an Qisheng, Zhang Shan quietly waited for him to finish eating.

“Come with me, we can start repairing the ring.”

An Qisheng said to Zhang Shan after breakfast.

‘ASIBA, can we finally start repairing the ring? zhang shan was prepared.

He was waiting for this divine craftsman an Qisheng to give him another difficult problem. This was so smooth that even Zhang Shan was surprised.

Zhang Shan followed an Qisheng into the laboratory.

The current an Qisheng’s alchemy laboratory was no longer the same as the last time Zhang Shan had come. It was no longer a dilapidated small courtyard.

now, all kinds of alchemy facilities were available.

An Qisheng came to an alchemy operating table and placed the damaged ring on it.

Then, he waved his hands and added all kinds of materials.

“The heavenly Eagle King is a hero of his generation. The heavenly Eagle accessory he made for himself can be considered the best among all divine artifacts. It’s a pity that I can only see one of the Rings. As for the other ring and necklace, I wonder where they are?”

An Qisheng said emotionally as he added ingredients to the workbench.

“Master, is there any other accessory series for this sky Falcon ring? I don’t know if the other two ornaments still exist, or if they’ve been completely damaged over the years.”

...

Zhang Shan was just casually striking up a conversation to see if he could get some useful information.

Previously, when he was conversing with Master Lu, Zhang Shan had already understood a lot of useful background information.

It was just that this an Qisheng was a little too sly. He wondered if he would tell Zhang Shan anything of value.

” the other two accessories must still be around. divine artifacts are not so easily damaged. even if they are severely damaged, as long as there are parts left, they can be repaired. ”

There really was one. If he could get the other two accessories, and Zhang Shan’s God-tier hand cannon. then, his output equipment would be at the level of a divine weapon.

“I wonder how I can find the other two accessories?”

As a Big Shot divine craftsman, an Qisheng definitely knew a lot of information. Zhang Shan had to try his best to dig it up.

“That’s hard to say. The world is so big, and the accessories are so small. It’s hard to say where they were lost. However, the three accessories of the heavenly Eagle King all have a slight reaction. After this ring is repaired, you can try to walk around and see if you can sense the other two.”

hearing an qisheng’s words, zhang shan couldn’t help but be overjoyed. was this a buy one get two free deal?

After obtaining one of the divine artifacts, he could still sense the other two. This was too profitable.

of course, this feeling is very small. Unless you are close to the target, you can’t feel it.

Just as Zhang Shan was feeling happy and thinking that it was a buy one get two free deal, an Qisheng poured a bucket of cold water on him.

Actually, this was normal. They couldn’t possibly let Zhang Shan get his hands on three divine weapons at once.

Then the other players would go crazy with jealousy.

As long as he could sense it, at least he had a better chance of finding the other two accessories than others.

it all depended on luck.

alright, don’t talk. The sky Falcon ring is about to be repaired.

After an Qisheng finished speaking, his hands moved even faster.

After placing the materials one by one on the operating table, he carefully took out the heart of crush. He added them together and placed them on the console.

Not long after, a red light bloomed on the console, and after a strange cry, the light slowly dissipated. Zhang Shan looked at the control panel and saw an exquisite ring lying quietly on the control panel. It was glowing.

An Qisheng sighed as he took out the ring from the operating table.

what a perfect divine weapon. The heavenly Eagle King is a genius, I can't even compare.

After a while, an Qisheng passed the ring to Zhang Shan.

"Young man, use it well. Don't let down the efforts of our predecessors."

"I will, master."

Zhang Shan answered affirmatively. Of course, he would use it well when he got it.

It didn't matter if it was used to farm monsters, fight bosses, or kill people.

Chapter 203 Heavenly Eagle king's ring after receiving the ring from an qisheng, zhang shan was overjoyed. he had finally obtained another divine weapon.

in the entire game, there were only two divine artifacts, and they were both obtained by him.

The other players had not even seen the shadow of the divine weapon.

In terms of equipment, Zhang Shan was already far ahead of everyone else.

Holding the divine ring in his hand and looking at it carefully, Zhang Shan could not help but be amazed.

A divine weapon was indeed a divine weapon. Not to mention its attributes, just its appearance alone was far better than other equipment.

The divine artifact ring's surface was overflowing with light, and it was extremely exquisite.

Let's take a look at the attributes.

[heavenly Eagle king's ring (celestial): physical attack 2000-2000, agility 400]

Equipment level (sealed): currently level 30. The artifact will be unsealed as the player's level increases. It will be unsealed once every ten levels.

Durability will never wear out. Bound to player six-barreled Bodhisattva, can not be dropped.

[special effect 1: power attack. Basic physical attack power increased by 10%.]

[special effect 2: shatter-increases damage by 10%.]

[special effect 3: Holy Strike. When attacking, there is a chance to trigger the Holy Strike effect. It ignores the target's defense and deals 10x the damage. The chance of triggering it is 1%.]

[special effect 4: life conversion. when attacking, damage is converted into your own health points. the conversion rate is 10%.]

A divine weapon was indeed powerful. Not to mention its attack and agility attributes, it was at least twice as strong as a red equipment of the same level.

The key was that these four special effects were powerful.

Power attack +10% basic attack power. The effect was equivalent to having an additional piece of attack equipment.

The second special effect, crush, should come from the strongmen commander's heart of crush, which increased damage by 10%.

With this special effect on the ring, Zhang Shan no longer had any regrets about not being able to farm the Hercules commander's passive skill.

The special effect of a divine equipment was similar to the passive from a talent. It increased damage by 10% and he could not ask for more.

There was no need to mention the Holy Strike. Just by looking at the name of the special effect, it was obvious that all celestial equipment had this special effect.

This special effect was super powerful. As long as the Holy attack was triggered, no matter how powerful the player was, they would all fall.

Ignoring the target's defense and dealing 10 times the damage, who could withstand this?

The only thing he was unhappy about was that the trigger rate of the Holy attack was too low.

It was only one percent. Even if Zhang Shan's two divine weapons were combined, it was only equivalent to a two percent chance of triggering.

It was still too little. It would be great if he could get a full set of divine artifacts, not to mention the other effects.

Just the fact that he could continuously trigger the Holy attack was already terrifying.

The first three special effects were all very impressive, but to Zhang Shan, he was more interested in the fourth special effect.

Life conversion, a 10% lifesteal effect, it was very powerful. It could be said that as long as Zhang Shan was not controlled ...

He was almost undying. With his damage output and lifesteal effect, who could kill him?

Originally, the purple-gold necklace that he was currently equipped with had a lifesteal effect, but the lifesteal ratio was too low.

The lifesteal ratio of the purple-gold necklace was only 3%. The same special effect was far worse than that of the divine ring.

However, the special effects of the two pieces of equipment added up to a total of 13% lifesteal effect.

With his current attack power, he could drain close to 2000 HP with each attack.

Not to mention the players, Zhang Shan felt that he could even fight a small BOSS now.

He didn't even need to rely on the Panda baby to tank it. Such a powerful life-steal effect matched his attack power and attack speed.

Bosses below red wouldn't be able to kill him. When he had the chance, he would find a small boss to test it out.

The more Zhang Shan looked at the ring, the more he liked it.

No wonder even an Qisheng said that the heavenly Eagle King was gifted by the heavens and that the divine weapon he forged was stronger than his.

As expected, it was a top-grade divine artifact.

Zhang Shan excitedly put on the ring of the sky Eagle King. As for the red ring that he had just exchanged for.

He would put it up for auction later. Red equipment was very valuable, especially accessory equipment.

He had spent 500000 gold coins to buy a red ring at the auction house.

We can't make a loss. We'll put it up for auction at the original price, and we won't have to worry about not being able to buy it. Everyone is almost level 30 now.

The demand for such equipment was huge, and Zhang Shan might even be able to earn some extra money.

After changing into the divine artifact ring, Zhang Shan had become even stronger.

[equipment: aruge's hand cannon, Skyhawk king's ring, maidas's hand, extreme wind boots, priest's Cape, violet-gold necklace, violet-gold ring: Kasaya]

Looking at his character's current attributes, Zhang Shan was very proud.

12,000 attack power crushed all the players.

The other players had not reached level 30 yet, and the best equipment they had was a full set of level 25 red equipment.

With that kind of equipment, the attack power was probably only a fraction of Zhang Shan's. It was just over 2000. It was almost impossible to have 3000 attack power.

unless there was an existence that surpassed the red equipment, just like how his heart moved with him.

he had a spiritual-level special item and a spiritual-level weapon. that guy's attack power should be almost 4000.

As for the others, without spiritual weapons, it would be difficult for their attack power to reach 2500 no matter how high they were.

It was not even a fraction of Zhang Shan's.

Furthermore, when Zhang Shan was farming monsters, he had two additional damage effects.

one was the nemesis of the demonic race, while the other was the shattering effect of the sky falcon ring.

The two special effects added 10% damage each.

In other words, when Zhang Shan was farming monsters, his theoretical damage could reach about 15000.

Other than the basic attack power of the equipment and agility attribute, Zhang Shan also relied on various special effects and talents to obtain passive skills.

Under the stacking of various factors, his damage output had reached such a terrifying state.

If it was someone else, even if they had the same equipment as him, their damage output would be far inferior to his.

Chapter 204 No gift

Looking at his character's attributes, not only was Zhang Shan's attack power terrifyingly high, but he also had a lot of other attributes.

there were even 17 skills. if other players saw this, they would probably be in despair.

Zhang Shan felt that he was extremely powerful. It was just that his health was a little low, not even 23000.

It was similar to an average strength-type class, but compared to a Guardian, it was a far cry.

This was a hard injury, but there was no other way. Hunters were a fragile profession.

It was too difficult to increase his HP. Other than the cloak, Zhang Shan did not know if there was a second way.

The Cape that he was currently equipped with was a level 20 purple quality Cape, the priest Cape.

This cloak wasn't bad. Even now, it could be considered a top equipment.

The priest Cape had healed him by more than 16000 HP, which was much more than the level 30 blue cape.

as for the level 30 purple cape, zhang shan had not seen it before, and it was not even available in the auction house.

There might be a small number of players who had dropped it, but they had equipped it themselves and did not sell it.

Zhang Shan had no intention of buying it. He had not heard of any transaction records of the purple cape.

Even if someone were to sell it, the price would definitely be frighteningly high.

there was no need for zhang shan to buy it. he still had a level 40 purple cloak in his storage. it was the queen ant's cloak that had dropped after killing the golden ant.

When he reached level 40, he would be able to equip it.

It was just that leveling up now was too slow. Previously, Zhang Shan thought that it would take at least two months to reach level 40.

However, now that he had another divine weapon, the speed of upgrading should be faster.

When he returned to Heaven's Gate later, he would find a good map to farm monsters and kill them all.

The divine weapon mission was completed, so it was time to go back.

"Master an Qisheng, thank you for helping me repair this divine artifact ring. I wonder if I can come to you to forge accessories in the future?"

In the New World, not all divine craftsman NPCs would help players forge equipment.

In fact, there was only one fixed NPC in each city for each type of equipment, who would help the players forge equipment.

An NPC like an Qisheng probably wouldn't help players forge equipment.

Although he knew that the game's mechanism was like this, Zhang Shan still asked casually, in case his luck was good.

Then, he could come over in the future and ask an Qisheng to help him make accessories, right? he couldn't forge a divine weapon now.

can't you also forge spirit weapons?

However, Zhang Shan was still thinking too much. An Qisheng rejected him immediately.

" i only know how to forge divine weapons. other pieces of equipment are not worth my time. when the human race's luck is reversed and they can forge divine weapons, you can come and find me. "

'F * ck, is this divine craftsman that arrogant?' and he only smithed divine weapons and did not smith any other equipment.

This was just a game. If this were real life, people like an Qisheng would probably starve to death.

He couldn't forge divine weapons now, and he didn't want to forge equipment of other levels.

she really didn't know what an qisheng was going to rely on to make a living.

This divine craftsman must have become a beggar again.

zhang shan shook his head speechlessly. he didn't really want to find an qisheng to forge equipment.

It was just a casual question. Zhang Shan was still thinking about how to get the other two pieces, the heavenly Eagle King series accessories.

Right now, he was not in urgent need of decorative items. Zhang Shan was not lacking in damage output.

What he lacked was the ability to sustain his life.

There was no way to do that at the moment.

the only way to improve one's life-preservation ability was to increase one's hp and defense.

The other thing was to improve its mobility and displacement ability.

For now, Zhang Shan had a jumping skill, which could be used as an escape skill.

there was also a berserk skill, which made him immune to crowd control skills. combined with the lifesteal effect, it was a life-saving skill.

Overall, it was already very strong. It would be very difficult to make a big improvement by relying on equipment.

After the divine artifact ring was repaired, Zhang Shan dawdled around an Qisheng for a while, but he did not see this divine craftsman Big Shot say anything.

From the looks of it, there wasn't much to offer. An Qisheng wasn't as generous as Master Lu.

Back then, Master Lu had given him a spiritual weapon, the hand of Madas.

An Qisheng was probably too poor. After all, this Big Boss was a beggar before.

he probably didn't have any stock.

If he had not met Zhang Shan, an Qisheng would still be here, wandering around somewhere.

After waving goodbye to an Qisheng, Zhang Shan rode the red Hare and returned to Dangyang city through the teleportation Hall.

First, he went to the auction house to sell the red ring he had exchanged for and immediately put it up for auction at a starting price of 500000 gold coins.

After everything was settled, they continued on their way to Heaven's Gate.

after arriving at heaven's gate, zhang shan rode his horse out of the city. at the same time, he displayed the attributes of the divine ring in the guild channel.

The Guild channel instantly exploded.

"Holy sh * t, the divine artifact boss got another divine artifact? It's so unfair, I don't even have a single spiritual weapon."

you still want a spiritual weapon? I don't even have all the red equipment. It's too expensive, so I don't want to buy it.

damn it, spend some money to buy it at the auction house. Red equipment is easy to get.

"F * ck, is this spending some money? The red grade equipment on the auction house isn't cheap either."

hey, why are you guys talking about red equipment? what's there to talk about that kind of trash? look at brother artifact's ring, it's really strong.

"That's right, are all divine artifacts this powerful? This special effect is too ridiculous. A ring is stronger than all the equipment I have."

"If it's not strong, can it be called a divine weapon?"

sigh, when I saw the attributes of the divine weapon, I instantly felt that my spiritual weapon didn't smell good anymore.

Feng Yun Qing was like a mortal.

sister Qingqing, if you weren't a girl, even I would want to hit you. Don't you like the spiritual weapon? "

"That's right, Qingqing is too much."

uh, I was just saying. A spiritual weapon is far inferior to a divine weapon.

"Alright, you're a woman, so you're right. Isn't it normal for a divine weapon to be stronger than a spiritual weapon? The problem is that we don't even have a spirit tool."

"i'm going to find a big boss to fight. i'm going to get a divine weapon. i really want a divine weapon."

"What's the use of having only the quest item? doesn't someone have a divine artifact quest item? I still can't even see the shadow of the divine weapon."

Wind and cloud blade was caught in the crossfire.

His divine weapon mission was still far away, and he didn't even know where the demon general was.

He didn't even know where to go, let alone complete the divine weapon mission.

you guys are just jealous. So what if I can't complete my divine weapon quest? at least there's a start.

Windcloud blade said unhappily.

Although he couldn't complete the divine weapon mission yet, at least he had a mission.

When he found a demon general one day and beat him up, he would be one step closer to becoming a divine weapon.

compared to those who didn't even have a divine weapon or a quest item, it was a few hundred times better.

Chapter 205-running the map and finding the boss

Wind and cloud blade's divine weapon mission, even though he had made no progress, at least he still had a mission.

It's good that there's a mission.

No matter how difficult and unsolvable the mission was, there would always be a day when it would be completed.

moreover, zhang shan did not think that it would be difficult for the one with wind and cloud blade to challenge the demon general.

At best, it was similar to his heart of destruction mission.

Thinking back to Zhang Shan's shattered heart Mission, he had to clear the boss in the extreme mode to complete it.

For the players at the current stage, this difficulty was absolutely impossible.

If not for Zhang Shan, an Qisheng would have cried his heart out and gotten a strengthened diamond scroll.

They couldn't even defeat the small monsters in the extreme mode dungeon.

As for the gatekeeper boss, it was the same. If not for Zhang Shan's bug-like panda baby ...

No one could take it.

Dungeon bosses weren't like wild bosses, which could be killed by numbers.

There was a limit of 50 people to enter the demon subduing platform dungeon if no one could hold the boss.

It was simply impossible to defeat the boss and clear the stage.

If not for Zhang Shan's various coincidences, he would not have been able to complete the heart of destruction mission.

However, it was a different story for Windcloud blade's quest to challenge a demon general.

even though there might be demon generals in the instance dungeon, there was a chance that the demon generals would be there.

However, there was obviously more than one demon general. When the monsters attacked the city, each sub-city had a demon general leading the attack.

For example, the one who had attacked Dangyang city was the right general Loke, who was under the ninth Demon God.

In addition to the various demon generals that appeared when the monsters attacked the city, there should be even more low-level demon generals in the wilderness.

it was just that no one had found it yet.

Zhang Shan felt that as long as they discovered the traces of the demon general, they would organize all 50000 members of the Guild to attack together.

They should be able to pile it up to death.

Previously, they and the other major guilds had been able to defeat jitanas at heaven's gate.

It was already a level 50 BOSS with a real name. Zhang Shan felt that it was the lowest level demon general.

It should not be much stronger than jitanas.

It might be a level 50 BOSS with a real name, or even a level 60 BOSS with a real name.

He shouldn't be any stronger.

If the entire Guild attacked this BOSS together, they should be able to take it down.

The most important thing now was to find the weakest demon general.

Zhang Shan rode his horse out of the gates of heaven's Gate and galloped forward.

He planned to run around the map for a day at heaven's gate, and roughly go through the monster maps below level 50.

The Map of Heaven's Gate was huge. Even if Zhang Shan was riding on the red Hare, he would have to cover the entire map.

It would probably take at least ten days to half a month.

He didn't know how the players would advance in the future.

perhaps the game would release other mechanisms when the players' levels increased.

For example, he could be teleported to a certain location on the map of Heaven's Gate.

It was impossible for the players to run all the way from Heaven's Gate to the inside of the map.

This was completely unrealistic.

I'm going to Heaven's Gate to run the map. I hope I can find a few more good places to farm monsters.

Zhang Shan said in the Guild channel after showing off the ring.

boss, if you find a good location, remember to inform us on the Guild channel. We're still struggling to farm monsters in an open area and are on tenterhooks. When we see players from other factions, we'll be nervous.

"Don't worry, I'll let you know when I find it."

The wind and cloud Guild currently had 50000 members, and this was a safe place to farm monsters.

it was still the same spot, and he couldn't find a better place to farm monsters.

The place that Zhang Shan and the others had first discovered was not big enough. At most, it could only accommodate about ten thousand people to farm monsters there.

As a result, the new members who joined the Guild later on did not even have a safe place to farm monsters at heaven's gate.

although the heaven's gate map was huge and there were many places to farm monsters, there were many people coming and going. there were also many players from various countries 'camps.

If he didn't find a safe place to farm, he couldn't possibly fight with others every day while he was farming monsters.

Then what's the point of brushing?

there's no rush in finding a place to farm monsters. Pay attention to finding bosses, especially those real-name bosses. Once you've found them, we'll go and fight them together. If you want good equipment, you still have to rely on super bosses.

A certain Big Shot had probably tasted the sweetness of fighting a real-name boss the previous two times.

He still couldn't forget about it. However, it wouldn't be that easy to kill a real-name boss at heaven's gate.

Let's not talk about the problem of finding the boss, just the fact that so many people were there would cause such a big commotion.

the main forces in the game knew about it. the others would not let them fight the boss in peace.

Of course, it might be very inconvenient to fight the boss at heaven's gate.

However, if he really found a real name boss, Zhang Shan would not let it go.

He definitely had to inform everyone to come and try it out.

The drops of a real name BOSS were really rich.

Chakra had dropped mana pool for them, and Gitanas had even dropped an ultimate skill book and an Arsenal token.

It was simply a moving treasure trove. If they saw it and didn't fight, it would be unforgivable.

just you wait. I'll let you know when I see the big BOSS.

" i really want to fight the ultimate BOSS a few more times. i want spiritual equipment and divine equipment. "

...

"i want the ultimate skill book."

"You guys have too many requests. I just want to give you something good."

that's enough, you guys. There's no boss and you're only thinking about good stuff.

"Can't I just think about it?"

that's right. In such a big Map of Heaven's Gate, there must be a lot of big bosses. Since brother divine weapon went to explore the map, it's normal to encounter one or two.

alright, I want to fight the ultimate boss too. Fighting the mini-bosses isn't exciting at all.

what the f * ck, brother, you're getting cocky. What do you mean by a mini boss? what boss can you beat? I'm afraid you can't even beat a purple boss, right? "

f * ck, who said I'm going to fight alone? can't I just follow everyone? "

"Let's not talk about each other. We're all slackers. Without brother celestial's Panda baby, we're only good enough to fight normal red bosses. We might not even be able to beat them, hehe."

"what kind of truth are you talking about?"

That was true. In the New World, there was no weak red boss.

If not for Zhang Shan's Panda baby, even if they wanted to fight the most common red boss, they would not be able to defeat it.

It also depended on the situation. It was definitely not easy to get high-level ones, so they had to rely on numbers to kill them.

On the other hand, he should still be able to defeat the lower level bosses.

After all, Secretary Feng Yun was still very helpful.

As long as the boss's skills were not too overpowered, he should be able to hold off some of the red bosses above level 30.

As for red bosses above level 30, that would be very difficult. They would have to rely on numbers.

If they didn't sacrifice a few people, it would be impossible to settle this.

This was also the reason why red equipment was still very expensive in the game.

It was basically impossible for ordinary players to defeat a red BOSS. Even high-end players had to organize a large group of people to be able to defeat it.

how could this equipment not be expensive?

Chapter 206 how did the divine weapon come about?

as for the big shots in the guild, they hoped to fight the ultimate BOSS a few more times.

Zhang Shan expressed his understanding. He also wanted to find some big bosses to fight. Who didn't like good things?

Not to mention divine weapons or spiritual weapons, it was also good to have some skill books.

Even if it was not for his own use, he could still sell it for gold coins.

zhang shan followed the planned route and ran all the way through the heaven's gate map. on the way, he saw players from various countries, carefully forming teams of different sizes to kill monsters.

Even though it was not safe to farm monsters at heaven's gate, everyone was still willing to do so.

After all, the monsters at heaven's gate gave more experience.

Now that he was leveling up so slowly, if he didn't gain more experience, how long would it take for him to level up?

Zhang Shan would not even bother to take a look at the places where there were already people farming.

It was completely unnecessary. It wasn't that he was noble and didn't kill steal from others.

The main thing was that since someone was going to farm here, the possibility of a boss still being here was low.

Otherwise, it would have been knocked out long ago.

In addition, there were plenty of empty farming spots in The Map of Heaven's Gate.

There was no need to snatch it.

The monster-farming map that Zhang Shan was looking for was the kind that would allow him to farm monsters safely if he blocked an entrance.

Although there weren't many such places, they could still be found on The Map of Heaven's Gate.

He just had to spend a lot of effort to find it.

In fact, the wind and cloud Guild had occupied a safe spot to farm monsters.

At present, there were a few more places with this kind of terrain.

However, they had all been occupied by other player forces.

after zhang shan ran around the heaven's gate map for a few minutes, someone finally noticed that there was another divine weapon on the equipment ranking.

The world Channel became lively again.

Now, it was not just the players who had to pay to win. Even the ordinary players had hundreds or thousands of gold coins on them.

There was no pressure at all to make his presence known in the world Channel.

As long as they didn't post continuously, normal players could afford it. After all, it was within an hour.

It only cost one gold coin to speak in the world Channel, which was not expensive.

another divine weapon has been born. Six-barreled Bodhisattva has gotten another divine weapon. He's truly a divine weapon boss.

“what? did a second divine weapon appear? Let me see.”

f * ck, the wind and cloud Guild has gone too far. They’ve almost taken all the top few spots on the equipment leaderboard.

that’s right, two of the divine weapons are from six-barreled Bodhisattva, and two of the three spiritual weapons are from the wind cloud Guild. Why are they so lucky? ”

“could there be a bug?”

you’re thinking too much. How could there be a bug? you can also get good things by fighting bosses every day.

the problem is, I don’t see anyone from the wind and cloud Guild. They are fighting bosses every day. Aren’t they all farming monsters and leveling up? ” the existence of the six-barreled Bodhisattva breaks the balance of the game. I can’t stand it. I’m going to file a complaint.

“What do you want to complain about? Don’t be a sore sight for others.”

what’s there to complain about? if you’re not happy, you can get a divine artifact for yourself.

sigh, I also want to get a divine artifact, but I don’t know where to start. Does anyone know how divine artifacts come about? ”

“How else can it be? It must have dropped from a boss.”

that’s not necessarily true. I’ve seen six-barreled Bodhisattva never fight the boss before he got his hands on the divine weapon.

that’s right. He got his first divine weapon in the eastern capital. Could it be that he got an NPC to make it after obtaining the divine weapon blueprint? ”

I don’t know. Maybe. If six-barreled Bodhisattva doesn’t say anything, we can only guess.

“why are you thinking so much? when you get the corresponding items, you’ll naturally know where the divine artifacts come from.”

“that’s hard to say. maybe we’ve found something related to a divine weapon, but we don’t know what it is. don’t treat it as garbage.”

impossible. I usually store things I don’t know the use of in the warehouse.

“Oh my God, I always throw the things that I don’t need to the store in batches. Did I miss out on a few divine artifacts? Hehe.”

“You’re thinking too much. If it was so easy to get a divine weapon, there wouldn’t be so few of them.”

sigh, I’m not thinking about the divine weapon, but there are three spiritual weapons now. Other than the wind cloud Guild, the Dragon King of the East Sea also got a spiritual weapon. Do you know how he got it? ”

“Do you even need to ask? read the forum more. The spiritual weapon of the Dragon King of the East Sea dropped something called the Arsenal token when he was fighting a BOSS. He went directly to the East Capital to get it. ”

” holy sh * t, this is so direct. it sounds so simple. it seems that i have to go and fight more bosses and try to get an arsenal token. ”

“You wish. Do you know what kind of BOSS dropped the eastern sea Dragon King’s Arsenal token? Only level 50 true name bosses would drop that.”

“What the hell is a real name BOSS?”

I don’t know, but it’s much stronger than the average red BOSS. I heard that more than a dozen top guilds worked together to defeat it.

...

” f * ck, why do i feel like everything in this game is so difficult? equipment is hard to get, skill books are hard to get, and i can’t even get skill points. ”

that’s right. If it’s too easy, we might as well play cards casually, hehe.

zhang shan did not care about all the envy and jealousy in the world channel.

he was running all the way, and groups of monsters swept past him. when he encountered foreign players, he would just charge directly at them. generally, there would not be any blind guys who would come to find trouble with him.

in the entire game, he was the only one riding a horse.

If anyone wanted to find trouble, Zhang Shan would make them lie down in minutes.

After equipping the second divine weapon, he was a little arrogant and felt that he was invincible.

he wanted to challenge how many people he could take on by himself.

Zhang Shan’s current attack power was off the charts. One shot was enough to hit a fragile profession, and there might even be an overflow of damage.

Even for a strength-type profession, it would only take two shots.

The key was that Zhang Shan’s current attack speed was very abnormal.

If he went all out, he might fire more than five or six shots in a second.

If he were to fight with the other players now, it would feel like he was using a machine gun to fight against the natives who were holding big swords and long Spears.

Don’t be too simple.

Zhang Shan felt that as long as he paid attention to his positioning, it would not be a problem to take on a few hundred people.

As they rode past the monster maps, the other players saw Zhang Shan who had suddenly appeared. Some of them looked nervous, while others didn't seem to care. They just glanced at him and continued to kill monsters.

When no one was looking for trouble with him, Zhang Shan would not stop either. He would search the monster maps one by one.

when he saw the group of monsters that no one was farming. He would observe carefully to see if there were any bosses.

As for a safe place to farm monsters, Zhang Shan ran for a long time and still could not find one.

This was normal as it was not easy to find a safe map to farm monsters.

right now, players had found no more than ten similar maps in the entire heaven's gate.

If Zhang Shan wanted to find a new location, he would naturally need some patience.

He wasn't in a hurry, he had already planned it out. He didn't believe that he wouldn't be able to find it in a day.

Chapter 207 Solo BOSS

After running for more than an hour on The Map of Heaven's Gate, Zhang Shan still had not found anything.

He had not even seen a single BOSS, let alone a safe spot to farm monsters.

it was said that there were a lot of bosses in heaven's gate, but that was only when the map was large enough.

The map was huge and there were many players. Naturally, there would be people constantly touching the BOSS.

However, if someone were to look for the BOSS on purpose, it would not be easy to find it.

Not even a single boss could be seen, and this made Zhang Shan extremely depressed.

F * ck, it was fine if he couldn't encounter the ultimate BOSS, but he could also get a few mini bosses.

Ever since he had obtained the heavenly Eagle king ring, he had not made a single sale.

Zhang Shan still wanted to try and see what level of BOSS he could take on alone.

He was a little unhappy that such a powerful life-sucking effect had not been used.

He swept through another group of monsters, but he found nothing.

Zhang Shan was about to ride his horse and leave, but he felt that something was not right.

Eh, there seemed to be a wild monster that looked a little different in the group of monsters just now.

The bosses in the Heaven's Gate map seemed to be more wretched-looking, and most of them were similar to small monsters.

Unless it was some super big Boss, it would not be so conspicuous.

Let's go back and take a look.

Zhang Shan, who had returned, carefully observed the group of monsters. Indeed, there was an orange boss among them.

It was a demon elite warrior Captain, similar to the one the three of them had fought.

The only thing was that the levels might be different. The monsters here were level 35, so the BOSS might also be level 35.

It was even weaker than the previous one, so he could give it a try alone.

Zhang Shan no longer hesitated. He immediately dismounted and summoned his panda baby.

First, they cleared the nearby monsters, then directly attacked the BOSS.

This time, he didn't let the Panda baby Tank the BOSS. Instead, he tanked the monster with his own body.

The BOSS's damage to him was around 3000, while Zhang Shan's damage was around 7000.

With 13% lifesteal, every attack he made would recover more than 1000 hp.

the key was his attack speed, which was much faster than the BOSS's.

Zhang Shan could deal two or three hits of damage, and occasionally he could even deal critical hits, which had higher damage and more lifesteal.

It shouldn't be a big problem, so he should be able to handle it.

After trying to withstand the damage for a while, Zhang Shan felt that he was safe.

'ASIBA, I'm so strong. I can even fight a BOSS alone.'

if he could solo an orange-colored BOSS now, could he really solo a demon god in the future?

zhang shan thought to himself as he attacked quickly.

He checked the BOSS's information.

[demon elite party leader (orange): level 35, attack 3200, HP 2200000]

Skill 1, charge; skill 2, stun; skill 3, random slash; status: Holy demon protection.

[charge: the Nephilim elite leader charges towards the target at extreme speed, causing damage and reducing speed for 3 seconds.]

[stun: every time the Nephilim elite party leader attacks, there is a certain chance to trigger the stun effect, stunning the target for one second.]

[random slash: the elite Nephilim Captain slashes his sword in all directions, dealing 500% damage to all targets within a 5-yard radius.]

[Holy demon's protection: a protection state that the Holy demon gives to invading demon Warriors, reducing damage by 50%. Will lose its effect after passing Heaven's Gate.]

The attributes of the level 35 Elite Captain were slightly weaker than the level 40 ones.

The skills were exactly the same.

With Zhang Shan's current damage output, a BOSS with 2000000 health would definitely be killed in less than a minute.

This was the attack speed of the {will of war}, which had not been stacked. Otherwise, it would have been even faster.

under zhang shan's powerful attacks, the elite team leader's health dropped rapidly. all sorts of critical effects appeared from time to time.

Occasionally, it could also cause a stun effect, directly stunning the BOSS.

Stun was a powerful passive skill, especially when fighting a BOSS. Normal attacks could stun the BOSS.

The thought of it was insane, but unfortunately, the trigger rate was too low, only 2%.

If he could get more of these passive skills, it would be great.

Perhaps Zhang Shan could also turn into a stun monster and stun the BOSS until he could not move, hehe.

when his hp dropped to half, the elite team leader used his ultimate skill, but it was useless.

A level 40 elite team leader could not even insta-kill Zhang Shan with his ultimate skill. Naturally, a level 35 elite team leader would not be able to kill Zhang Shan.

He had lost more than 10000 HP from the big move, but he quickly recovered it with the lifesteal effect.

In order to defeat the BOSS as quickly as possible, Zhang Shan activated his fanatic skill, the six-second true man skill.

It increased his attack speed by 100% and instantly took away a large amount of the elite leader's HP.

As for the berserk skill, Zhang Shan had no intention of using it.

There wasn't much pressure fighting the boss anyway, and going berserk could remove the crowd control.

He would try to keep them all so that he could be on guard if he encountered any players who were not smart.

Not long after, the elite captain's HP dropped to 20% and he entered berserk mode.

Their attacks were fiercer and faster.

Zhang Shan was starting to feel some pressure. before the critical hit effect was triggered.

His HP was constantly dropping.

However, as long as the critical hit effect was triggered, he would be able to quickly recover his HP.

He could still hold on and didn't need to let the Panda baby carry him.

...

While Zhang Shan was continuously attacking the elite Captain, the Panda baby was not idle.

zhang shan had been letting the panda baby follow and attack, even though the panda baby was attacking very slowly.

However, since he had nothing to do, it would be good to let it deal more damage.

Not long after, the elite captain's health was depleted. Zhang Shan immediately stopped and controlled the baby panda to use a combo skill.

The BOSS was directly blown up.

A BOSS with 2000000 HP would only have 20000 HP after it was empty.

With the Panda baby's attack power, it should be able to deal at least 40000 to 50000 damage with a combo skill.

The Panda baby steadily gave the final kill.

After the boss fell to the ground, there was no system announcement. It was likely that this type of orange Elite Captain had already been beaten by other players.

He did not let Zhang Shan get the first kill.

But it didn't matter. To be honest, Zhang Shan wasn't really lacking in skill points.

He only lacked a skill book that he was satisfied with.

Speaking of which, the skills of the Hunter profession were a little unbalanced, but the useful skills were very good.

Those trashy skills were just too trashy. Even if he did not use his skill points and just gave him the skills for free, Zhang Shan would not want to learn them.

It didn't match his violent damage output route, so it was useless to learn it.

Zhang Shan opened his backpack and checked the boss's loot. This time, it was the elite Captain that he had killed alone.

He didn't have to share the equipment with the others anymore, so he hoped that he could get something good.

However, the results left Zhang Shan extremely disappointed.

There was only one more orange equipment, one purple equipment, and one orange material in his backpack.

The drops were a little bad, and this was the baby Panda's final attack.

He didn't even have a skill book.

of course, even though nothing good was dropped, zhang shan was not depressed.

this was normal if the BOSS dropped good items every time.

then it couldn't be called a good item. he wasn't the only one who knew how to fight a BOSS.

Other players would usually fight bosses, so it was normal for an orange-colored BOSS to only drop one orange-colored equipment.

unless it was the first clear, the BOSS's drops would be better.

Chapter 208 which deity is this?

Zhang Shan was elated that he could easily solo an orange boss.

Even though this boss did not drop anything good, he was still very happy.

Being able to solo the boss had tested his true combat power. Furthermore, he had done so without the Panda baby tanking the monsters.

The blood-sucking effect of the divine artifact ring was vividly displayed. It was very practical and powerful.

If he could add a few more lifesteal effects, Zhang Shan was confident that he could take on the red boss alone.

For now, Zhang Shan's attack power was sufficient, but his health was a little low.

If the lifesteal effect was strong enough, it could make up for his lack of HP to a certain extent.

of course, zhang shan was only thinking about it. it was not easy to get equipment with the lifesteal effect.

At the moment, he had only found the lifesteal effect on accessories, and only a few accessories had this effect.

Most of the accessories, even if they were red grade equipment, did not have a lifesteal effect.

Another point was that the lifesteal effect of red equipment was a little lacking, just like Zhang Shan's purple gold necklace.

The lifesteal effect was only 3%. This was not enough to deal with a BOSS or fight.

it was only useful when farming monsters. he didn't need to rely on a support to heal or potions to replenish his health, and he could farm monsters without being injured.

to zhang shan, this little bit of effect was not essential.

What he needed was someone who could stand still and take on a group of players or a Big Boss.

If he wanted to increase the lifesteal effect, he had to think of a way to get the other two Sky Eagle King Accessories.

The other two accessories should also have a lifesteal effect.

However, this idea was a little hard to achieve. Even though the ring of the sky Eagle King would have a slight reaction to the other two accessories.

However, the entire game had so many maps, so many players, and so many NPCs.

Who knew where the other two accessories were? it was all up to luck.

There was another way to increase the lifesteal effect, which was to farm passive skills, although Zhang Shan had not yet found a monster with a lifesteal passive.

However, there were definitely some in the game. As long as he looked for them seriously, he would find them one day.

There was still a long way to go, and there were still many things to do.

He still had to get divine weapons, farm for passive skills, and get skill books. He was still far from truly becoming invincible.

Time passed by slowly. Zhang Shan quickly swept through the monster hordes and fought two mini-bosses on the way.

One was orange and the other was purple. He didn't expect that there would be a purple boss in such a Grand map like Heaven's Gate.

Even though the two bosses dropped trash, Zhang Shan was still very happy.

Not to mention that even if these pieces of trash were sold to the NPC shop, they could be sold for a few hundred gold coins. Even if there was nothing, Zhang Shan would not care.

because no one was sharing the experience, the experience given by the bosses alone was a lot. they had already fought three small bosses today.

in total, he had gained more than 10000000 experience points, which was much more than the experience points he usually gained from killing monsters.

This made Zhang Shan feel like not farming monsters anymore. Maybe he should just look for bosses to fight in the future.

He didn't need much. As long as he could find two bosses a day and kill them, he wouldn't lose out.

Killing bosses to level up was much faster than killing monsters.

Previously, he couldn't beat the boss alone, so he had to bring boss Wu to heal the Panda baby.

However, boss Wu didn't have a horse to ride, so the two of them couldn't find the boss in a large area.

Now that he could solo a boss, it seemed like he could do this for a few days.

When more players could ride horses in the future, he would go back and farm monsters.

Because at that time, the other players would also become more mobile, and if a small BOSS appeared, it might be killed by others.

Although they had already killed three bosses, they still hadn't found the map to farm them.

To be honest, it was not easy to find an ideal grinding map in the Heaven's Gate map.

With the speed of the red hares, Zhang Shan had not found a suitable place even after running for so long.

As he continued to sweep through the monster hordes, he suddenly discovered a dark path ahead.

Eh, where does this lead to? it seems like it should be a suitable place to farm monsters.

He wondered if the inside was sealed off, and if there was only one path? or were there other open passages?

And he didn't know the situation of the monsters inside.

What were the levels of the monsters inside? was the map big enough? were there enough monsters?

Anyway, he decided to take a look first. It was rare to find a place that seemed to be a good place to farm monsters.

Of course, Zhang Shan had no reason to let him go. It would not take much effort to make a trip.

Riding on the red hares, Zhang Shan quickly followed the dark path forward. This path was much longer than the blocked entrance at the place where they had been farming monsters.

Zhang Shan even suspected that he was about to enter a new map.

Zhang Shan, who was riding on a horse, was thinking that this small path was really quite long. Suddenly, three meteor arrows were shot towards him from the front.

'f * ck, there's someone.'

Zhang Shan realized that the meteor arrows were shooting towards him and quickly dodged. Fortunately, there were not many of them, and they did not completely seal off the road.

Otherwise, he would have fainted from the horse.

F * ck, where did this blind fellow come from? f * ck him.

Zhang Shan did not care how many people were inside. He immediately dismounted and approached.

this kind of narrow and long passage could block others, but it could not block zhang shan. the hunter profession had a natural range advantage.

With his terrifyingly high attack power and attack speed, he could clear the entrance very quickly.

After Zhang Shan got off his horse and ran a few steps, he realized that there were more than 30 people blocking the entrance of the passage.

It was the same strategy as the wind and cloud Guild's previous one. They arranged people to guard the entrance while the others stayed inside to farm monsters.

This was a monster-farming map that had already been occupied by someone.

Zhang Shan was in a dilemma. Should he snatch it away?

this kind of safe monster-farming map in heaven's gate was not like the other open places.

it could be said to be a scarce resource for grinding monsters.

If he were to Rob someone else, he would definitely have a huge grudge.

Zhang Shan was not afraid of being hated by others. He was already invincible in his heart and was not afraid of others finding trouble with him.

He was only afraid of bringing trouble to the other members of the wind and cloud Guild.

Just as Zhang Shan was struggling, the person opposite him rushed forward and shouted.

it's six-barreled Bodhisattva. Kill him. He defeated so many of our brothers last time. Today's the perfect day for us to take our revenge.

that's right. This time, six-barreled Bodhisattva is alone. He has no place to run in this terrain. Let's attack together and kill him.

seeing the other side rush up, zhang shan could not help but be shocked.

Was he really that straightforward? he really didn't care about the two divine weapons on him.

Right, what were they talking about just now?

i killed so many of them last time?

Zhang Shan had killed many people before, so who were these people?

There was still some distance between them, and Zhang Shan could not recognize the other side.

However, it did not matter. Since they were in a hurry to die, Zhang Shan did not mind sending them on their way.

Chapter 209 beast King Valley

Seeing that the other side was charging straight at him, Zhang Shan had nothing to worry about.

He had been considering whether he should snatch the other party's farming map. After all, such a farming location was not easy to find in Heaven's Gate pass.

Now that the other party had taken the initiative to stir up trouble, he couldn't be blamed. He would just do it and be done with it.

More than thirty people from the opposite side rushed forward together.

Zhang Shan had no intention of avoiding it.

What a joke. Even if there were more than 300 people, the current Zhang Shan would not be afraid, let alone 30 or so.

the other side thought that in such a narrow and long place, zhang shan had no room to move, and they could rely on the advantage of numbers.

Beat Zhang Shan to the ground.

He was really thinking too much.

to zhang shan, all he needed to do was to block the opponent's meteor arrow. other stunning skills would not have any chance of hitting him.

The two sides quickly closed in.

At this moment, Zhang Shan finally saw the other party's origin.

It turned out to be the West Mountain Guild of the Qi state. No wonder they said that Zhang Shan had defeated many of their people.

They were old enemies. On the first day Heaven's Gate was opened, the West Mountain Dragon had led his guild members and other Qi Kingdom players to block Zhang Shan, Windcloud blade, and the other two for a long time.

There was no need to say anything else. Kill them and snatch their monster-farming map.

Previously, their West Mountain Guild had planned to snatch Zhang Shan's monster farming spot.

Now that Zhang Shan had robbed him once, it was very fair, right?

As for West Mountain Guild, they had wanted to snatch it but failed. They even got involved with peerless Guild and lost a group of people.

That was their own lack of ability, and they could not blame anyone else.

When both sides were close to each other, the other side shot out seven meteor arrows.

Zhang Shan's left and right were sealed off, and he had no place to Dodge.

as the distance between them had been pulled closer this time, the shooting star arrows from the opposite side were very accurate.

If Zhang Shan did not have any other solution, he would definitely be stunned for five seconds.

however, zhang shan did not panic at all. he directly let the panda baby block the arrows in front.

He didn't even plan to activate his berserk skill to be immune to crowd control.

The Archer's Meteor arrow skill was very annoying.

However, it had a few fatal weaknesses. One of them was that it could not pass through the enemy target.

in other words, whoever blocked in front would be hit.

Zhang Shan was hiding behind the Panda baby, so the other party's Meteor arrow would at most hit the Panda baby.

Unless they killed the Panda baby, which was impossible.

zhang shan would not give them this chance.

A wave of seven meteor arrows shot out, and two of them hit the Panda baby.

He knocked him out, and Zhang Shan hid behind him, completely fine.

There were a total of over thirty people on the other side, and there were only ten archers. At the beginning, they had already shot three meteor arrows.

In other words, the other side could no longer shoot meteor arrows.

Without the threat of the meteor arrow, Zhang Shan did not care about the thirty people on the other side at all.

To him, these 30 people were not as difficult to deal with as the 30 monsters.

Zhang Shan quickly moved forward and activated his battle intent skill.

The hand cannon began to fire bullets non-stop. No matter what profession the opponent was, to Zhang Shan, it was not a big deal.

they were all as fragile as paper. the fragile ones fell in one shot, and the strength-type ones fell in two shots.

if it was a critical hit, one shot would be enough.

There were only about 30 people on the other side, so Zhang Shan did not have to consider the order.

He pushed his way through and knocked out all the thirty-odd people at the entrance of the card in minutes.

the members of west mountain guild were lying on the ground, dumbfounded. they had all fallen to the ground before they could understand what had happened.

"F * ck. The six-barreled Bodhisattva has become stronger again."

"He's definitely stronger. Don't you look at the equipment ranking? He managed to get his hands on another divine artifact."

quick, call the boss and tell everyone to come back and defend. Since six-barreled Bodhisattva has appeared, the people from the wind cloud Guild will definitely be here soon.

that's right. We can't let the wind and cloud Guild snatch our monster-farming map.

The Dragon of the West Mountain, who was farming monsters, heard that Zhang Shan had broken through their defense.

They could not help but feel a headache coming on. It was not easy for the West Mountain Guild to find a place where they could farm monsters.

It had not even been a few days of fun, and Zhang Shan had already called him in.

He had already arranged for more than 30 people to guard the passageway. Why did they fail?

...

Back then, Zhang Shan and the other two could defend the passageway with just the three of them. Why was it their turn to defend?

More than 30 people could not even stop Zhang Shan's charge. This was too much.

Of course, no matter what happened. Not a single Dragon in the West Mountain would give up on this farming spot.

This grinding spot was not only safe, but also had other benefits.

After West Mountain Guild discovered this place, they had asked their guild members to keep it a secret and to guard it strictly, not allowing any outsiders to enter.

However, with Zhang Shan barging in this time, many things were not easy to handle.

However, no matter what, they had to guard the entrance first. After all, Zhang Shan was the only one who had entered.

As long as the entrance was blocked, the other members of the wind and cloud Guild would not be able to enter this farming point.

The West Mountain Guild could still occupy this place.

After taking down all of the other party's defenders, Zhang Shan did not immediately call for the other guild members.

He still knew about the situation of this farming spot. He would decide after he went in and took a look.

...

Zhang Shan picked up the items that had fallen on the ground, and rode the red Hare inside.

He didn't intend to fight the West Mountain Guild at the entrance of the passage. It was completely unnecessary, and he couldn't fight so many people by himself.

Although he was very strong now, it was impossible for him to stop the entire West Mountain Guild.

The West Mountain Guild was also a level 2 Guild with tens of thousands of members. They could pile him up to death.

Zhang Shan was not arrogant to the point where he could take on 10000 enemies alone.

Let's first look at the situation of this farming spot. If it's suitable, let Feng Yun realm bring his men and snatch this place over.

Zhang Shan leaped across the tunnel and entered the map. Suddenly, he saw the system notification.

[system notification: you have entered the beast King Valley.]

Zhang Shan could not help but be shocked. What was going on? This is a new map? Wasn't he at heaven's gate?

Zhang Shan was a little confused.

Although they had stayed in a sealed map before, they were still within the scope of Heaven's Gate.

Perhaps this place was an auxiliary map to the Heaven's Gate map.

Just like the area outside Dangyang city, there were all sorts of maps, but they were all within Dangyang city.

Forget it, let's not worry about this for now. I'll find a few monsters to fight and see how much experience they give.

if this place was still within heaven's gate, then the experience points should be even more.

After Zhang Shan rushed out of the passage on his horse, he saw a large number of West Mountain Guild players in the distance, running towards him.

He did not pay any attention to it and quickly passed by on his red hares. He had no intention of taking on the entire West Mountain Guild by himself.

Zhang Shan rode his horse and left the people of the West Mountain Guild far behind, galloping across the beast King Valley map.

Chapter 210-top-tier grinding spot

After Zhang Shan shook off the people from the West Mountain Guild, he continued to run around the beast King Valley. Along the way, there were Tiger monsters everywhere.

He felt like he had fallen into a Tiger's Den.

However, this map of beast King Valley was really big. Zhang Shan had run for quite a while and still had not reached the end.

In order to confirm whether beast King Valley was the one, they sealed off the farming point.

Zhang Shan ran along the edge of the map and flew all the way.

He had not dismounted from his horse to fight a monster before, so he was not sure if the monsters here were easy to fight or not. Was the experience points normal?

There was no rush. Zhang Shan felt that it was better to first confirm whether this map was sealed and safe.

If it was in other places, there would be a few big openings, so there was no need to fight over this place.

While Zhang Shan was still exploring the terrain of the beast King Valley, the Dragon of the West Mountain finally gathered his guild members and came to the entrance.

what's wrong?" the Dragon of the West Mountain asked after he pulled up the 30-odd people on the ground.

what happened just now? there were more than 30 of you blocking the entrance. How did six-barreled Bodhisattva manage to get in?"

The Dragon of the West Mountain had been wondering why they couldn't guard the entrance.

This was completely unreasonable.

In the same terrain, previously, Zhang Shan had brought along wind and cloud blade and boss Wu, and they were stuck.

The three of them stood guard, blocking the two thousand people from the West Mountain Guild outside.

why was it that when it was their turn to defend, they could not even stop zhang shan alone with more than thirty people?

Didn't Zhang Shan only have two more divine weapons than others? How could he be so strong?

uh, when we saw six tube Bodhisattva, we realized that he was alone. We were about to rush up and kill him, but we couldn't defeat him.

the guild member who had just been pulled up said in embarrassment. if they had been blocking the entrance, they might have been able to defend for a while longer. however, they had to take the initiative to attack.

In the end, they all died.

"Why are you guys rushing up? Didn't I tell you to just guard the entrance?"

The Dragon from Xishan was furious. This was great. There was Zhang Shan inside. The people from the wind and cloud Guild would definitely come over.

he didn't believe that the wind cloud guild wouldn't come and snatch such a good grinding spot.

"Actually, even if we keep guarding the entrance, we won't be able to do it. Six-barreled Bodhisattva is too strong, really."

yeah, he's really strong. He killed us with one shot. The key is that he has a long range and fast attack speed. We didn't even have time to react before we were all dead.

it's like this, six-barreled Bodhisattva is too strong. Should we take advantage of the fact that the people from the wind and cloud Guild haven't arrived yet to organize a group to surround and annihilate him? "

Those people who had been beaten to the ground by Zhang Shan. Now that Zhang Shan was mentioned, there was still some lingering fear.

The main thing was that it was too fast. They had more than 30 people, but Zhang Shan was like slaughtering chickens and sheep. In just a few moments, they were all annihilated.

no! the Dragon of the West Mountain thought for a while and refused.

"Let's not worry about six tube Bodhisattva for now. He's alone and can't do much. Most importantly, he's riding a horse and we can't catch up. our main task is to hold off the wind and cloud guild."

"The wind and cloud Guild isn't afraid. We have so many people guarding the entrance of the passage. They definitely can't get in."

"But it's impossible for us to always have so many people guarding it, right?"

there's no need to keep so many people on guard. We just need to repel a wave of them and arrange a few hundred people to defend. The rest of you can continue to farm monsters.

When the Dragon of the West Mountain was still worried about the wind and cloud Guild, he had no idea.

Up until now, Zhang Shan had not told Feng Yun realm about this matter. They had not figured out the terrain and the situation of the monsters yet.

He didn't intend to inform the other guild members.

There's no need for that. If this place isn't suitable, wouldn't it be a waste of everyone's time?

One must know that if their Guild moved, they would definitely have to mobilize tens of thousands of people. That would be a huge movement.

zhang shan spent almost half an hour before he had roughly walked around the outer area of the beast king valley.

This was a sealed map. As long as he blocked the entrance of the passage he came in from, he would be able to escape.

other people couldn't enter. now, he just had to make sure that the monsters here were easy to fight and that they gave a lot of experience.

Zhang Shan got off his horse and randomly found a few Tiger monsters to attack.

there was not a single person in the entire map.

The West Mountain Guild's people were all gathered at the entrance of the passage to defend.

Zhang Shan dismounted to fight the monsters. He did not have to panic at all.

The bullet shot out quickly. At the same time, he checked the monster's attributes.

[Enchanted Forest Tiger: level 50, attack 4000, HP 23000, skill 1, Tiger's courage and ambition]

[Tiger's courage and ambition (passive): greatly increases attack power.]

Haha, there's actually a passive skill that increases attack power. I have to get it.

Eh, these Tiger monsters don't have the Holy demon protection? Wouldn't that be much easier to fight?

while he was paying attention to the passive skills ... Zhang Shan suddenly realized that these Tiger monsters did not have the Holy demon's protection.

However, after thinking about the description of the Holy demon's protection, it was normal that these Tigers didn't have this state.

Holy demon's protection was a Holy demon. It gave a protective state to the invading demon Warriors, reducing the damage they received by 50%.

these tiger monsters were only demonized and not true demon warriors.

It was normal to not have the Holy demon's protection.

he just didn't know how much experience these tiger monsters gave.

If the EXP they gave was the same, then farming monsters here would be too much of a pleasure.

Zhang Shan quickly defeated a few Tiger monsters and looked at the experience points.

each tiger monster gave 1050 experience points.

This was already a very high amount of experience. Zhang Shan calculated carefully.

Back in Dangyang city, when he had been farming level 40 army ants, he had only gotten around 400 experience points from one.

These level 50 Tiger monsters actually gave over 1000 experience points. Clearly, they also applied the experience points system of Heaven's Gate.

'ASIBA, this is too good.'

no, he had to get his hands on this monster-farming map. previously, zhang shan had not paid much attention to it.

if it wasn't for the west mountain guild's people taking the initiative to attack him, he might not even have come over when he saw someone.

He had always thought that there were plenty of places to farm monsters, so there was no need to fight over them.

Now, he finally understood the benefits of this place.

The Tiger monsters here didn't have the Holy demon protection state as compared to the demon Warriors outside.

It was much easier to fight, but the experience was equally as much. It was such a good farming spot.

It would be unreasonable if he didn't snatch it.

Putting aside the fact that West Mountain Guild already had enmity with them, even if they didn't, they still had to Rob them.

The resources in the game were limited. If you didn't fight for them, the benefits would go to others. How could you develop in the game?

of course, he couldn't compete with the entire west mountain guild by himself. he had to ask for help.

It would be best if 30000 to 40000 people came and directly drove the West Mountain Guild away.
