

Passive Skills 281

Chapter 281 the battle to guard the corpse

Zhang Shan looked at the players from Yunmeng city. They were like moths flying into a flame. He was a little anxious for them.

What's the point of teleporting to your deaths? I'd rather do it.

Thinking up to this point, Zhang Shan called for wind and cloud blade and asked him to organize his men to cooperate.

He didn't know where this guy had gone to.

"brother one blade, pull some people over. let's kill domineering king together."

it's not going to be easy. I've long wanted to teleport over and cut him down, but it's useless. Even if I cut him down, I can't defend it. If only I still had my big move.

don't be afraid. We can hold on. We just need more people to go over. Before the other side can react, we'll take down Subjugator and control the scene.

alright, I'll pull people in. I'll call you when I'm ready.

It did not take long for wind and cloud blade to reply.

"I've pulled over 200 people. That should be enough, right?"

that's enough. I'll first teleport over and knock down Subjugator. When you guys see me, teleport over and block the surrounding area.

"F * ck, did you go there alone? will that work?"

"Don't worry, it'll only take two or three shots."

Zhang Shan was not worried at all. As long as there was support, even if he was alone, he would not be afraid if he teleported to the middle of the enemy's group.

After the berserk skill was activated, he would be immune to crowd control skills. He could definitely hold them off for a while.

"Alright, let me know when you're ready."

"Do we still need to prepare? We'll just head over there and be done with it. "

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he teleported to the side of Subjugator and fired three consecutive shots at him. This guild leader, who had always been second in the Guild rankings, fell to the ground.

Before he could even figure out what was going on, he had already fallen to the ground.

Zhang Shan activated his berserk and fanatic skills at the same time. The violent bullets swept across the surroundings.

Were the Qin players around not prepared? That was definitely wrong.

There were always players from DreamCloud city who wanted to teleport over and cut down the tyrant king.

However, none of them succeeded.

Little did they know that Zhang Shan had teleported over, and with just three shots, he had knocked down the tyrant king.

His speed was so fast that they only reacted after the tyrant king fell to the ground.

f * ck, boss is on the ground. It's six-barreled Bodhisattva.

"Hurry up and kill six-barreled Bodhisattva and revive boss."

" six-barreled bodhisattva is too arrogant. why is he causing trouble everywhere? we must destroy him."

The players from the kingdom of Qin were enraged when they saw that the Subjugator had fallen to the ground.

all sorts of damage were dealt to zhang shan.

However, at this moment, Zhang Shan had activated his berserk and fanatic skills. His attack power and attack speed were both terrifyingly high.

Coupled with the lifesteal effect, they were able to survive for a while. In fact, they even managed to defeat a few of the support players who wanted to revive Subjugator.

Windcloud blade was leading his men, ready to teleport over at any time to provide support. He saw Zhang Shan knock down domineering King with three shots.

"Holy sh * t, that's really fierce."

"Let's teleport over quickly. Otherwise, six-barreled won't be able to hold on for long."

After he finished speaking, wind and cloud blade brought over 200 people and teleported to Zhang Shan's side, isolating the Qin players.

at this moment, the fallen subjugator was right under their feet.

If the players from the state of Qin wanted to revive Subjugator, they would have to defeat the 200-odd players from Windcloud blade.

The Qin players were like crazy, rushing towards Zhang Shan.

Windcloud blade led his men to block the enemy's path, and the group soon became tangled in a chaotic battle.

Zhang Shan's hand cannon did not stop firing. The bullets were fired continuously, knocking down the Qin players who were charging over.

The hundreds of Qin players who were originally protecting the Subjugator saw that they did not stand a chance, so they rushed over to revive the boss.

He kept calling for the other Qin players to help.

In an instant, a large number of Qin players swarmed over.

The 200 players that Windcloud blade had brought with him were all elite players with decent equipment.

However, under the assault of the large number of Qin players, more than half of them fell.

Even with Zhang Shan's strong firepower support, they could not suppress the Qin players' momentum.

f * ck! We can't even defend the corpse of the Subjugator!

he had originally thought that he would only need to deal with the hundreds of players around the subjugator. who would have thought that there would be a large number of qin players rushing over as well?

wind and cloud blade had only called over 200 people, and they were completely unable to hold out.

hurry up and call for reinforcements. Get them to teleport over as quickly as possible. If we're competing in numbers, in DreamCloud city, the domineering aura Guild is just a small fry.

In fact, they didn't even need to call for help.

Not far away, the other players from the wind cloud Guild and the players from cloud dream city saw the situation.

He just didn't understand what had happened.

"What's going on with Subjugator? Why are the Qin players all rushing over there?"

"Subjugator has been defeated. hurry up and come over to guard his corpse. we can't let them resurrect subjugator."

"Holy sh * t, the domineering King is down? Damn it, which hero is so fierce?"

don't talk nonsense. If you have the time, teleport over to support us. We can't hold on much longer.

When they heard that the domineering King had been defeated, a large number of players from DreamCloud city teleported over.

In terms of mobility, the players of Yunmeng city were 800 streets ahead of the players of the state of Qin when they fought in their own territory.

After all, they could teleport and go wherever they wanted, unlike the Qin players.

He had to run over from other places.

Very quickly, Zhang Shan and Zhou Guo were filled with Chu country players. There were players from all three guilds and many civilian players.

Not only did the Qin players not charge forward to revive the overbearing King, but they also did not kill him.

He was also being pushed back continuously, getting further and further away from where the domineering King had fallen.

haha, they don't have a chance anymore. The tyrant king is dead for sure. No one can save him now.

what the f * ck, why is the domineering King still lying on the ground? why isn't he going back to revive?

“Maybe he's waiting for a miracle.”

” miracle my ass! if he can still revive and run away, i'll delete my account and quit. ”

“Haha, maybe it's because he's thick-skinned.”

A large group of players from DreamCloud city were guarding the corpse of the Subjugator, mocking and ridiculing him.

There were still a large number of Qin players on the outside who were charging over.

although they had lost all hope, they did not plan to give up. they were determined to rush over and revive subjugator.

However, more and more Chu country players were teleporting over.

the two sides surrounded the area where subjugator had fallen and started a chaotic battle.

at this time, zhang shan was no longer guarding the corpse of the subjugator. there were already many players from the cloud dream city guarding it.

He was completely unnecessary.

Zhang Shan teleported to the front, blocking the Qin players 'momentum with the others.

Moreover, the other party was forced to retreat.

This was a sure win. Subjugator could forget about turning the tables, so it was better for him to return to the city and revive.

Chapter 282 -numb from killing

The two sides surrounded the corpse of the domineering King and began an intense battle.

however, the players of chu state had the advantage of mobility and convenience. there were people constantly teleporting over and directly arriving at the scene.

The players from Qin were pushed back step by step, moving further and further away from where the Subjugator had fallen.

At this moment, the Subjugator who was lying on the ground was also in despair.

He watched as his allies got further and further away from him, and a large group of players from DreamCloud city stepped on his corpse.

He kept mocking and cursing.

Subjugator couldn't take it anymore, so he spoke in the country of Qin's national channel.

"I'll go back first. You guys think of a way to get out."

after saying that, subjugator, who was lying on the ground, turned into a ray of white light and returned to lan tian city to revive.

haha, the domineering King has run away. Hurry up and clean up the rest of the trash from the state of Qin.

"Keep a close eye on them, don't let a single one of them go. These trash from the state of Qin, they will all go back lying down."

After Subjugator chose to resurrect himself, the remaining players from Qin lost their backbone.

It soon collapsed.

Originally, they were already on the verge of collapsing, but with someone leading them, they charged towards the place where the tyrant king had fallen.

They still looked extremely brave, but in fact, their numbers were getting smaller and smaller. There were originally over 100000 people.

in the end, there were less than fifty thousand people left.

As for the number of players from Chu State, it didn't decrease much. However, that didn't mean that the players from Chu State didn't fall.

In fact, there were more Chu State players on the ground.

But there were even more new reinforcements.

After the fall of the domineering King, some players from the DreamCloud city started to post on the game forum.

He called for the players who had gone offline to quickly come back online and beat them up.

More and more players from DreamCloud city joined the siege.

Moreover, it was not just the players from DreamCloud city. Many players from Dangyang city and Yingtian city had also teleported over.

Since they were from the same camp, the teleportation fee was very cheap, only ten gold coins.

This small amount of money was nothing to any player.

Moreover, the domineering King had already been defeated. The rest of them were just like dogs that were down.

One must know that in the game, the more people fought, the more people there would be.

It didn't matter if they were here to join in the fun or to join in the fun.

In any case, there wasn't much risk. He might even be able to kill a few Qin players if he teleported over.

Perhaps it would drop something.

Even if there was nothing, it wasn't easy for normal players to cut down someone.

Now that it was such a lively scene, why not come and join in?

Other than the teleportation fee of 10 gold coins, he did not have to pay anything.

Even if he said it out loud, he would still have some face.

I've participated in the battle royale in DreamCloud city. We defeated the domineering King.

Well, well, if that's the case, isn't it very honorable?

Although the players from Chu State who joined later were basically hoodlums.

However, if there were enough slackers, they would be a terrifying force.

There were less than 50000 Qin players left, but the number of Chu players was rising.

The number of players from Chu State who had participated in the attack might have exceeded two million.

After the Conqueror King returned, the remaining players from the state of Qin lost all their energy.

They would no longer be able to organize an effective defense, let alone get out of the DreamCloud city.

It didn't take long for them to collapse and flee in groups of three to five.

but they were destined to be unable to escape.

Each group of Qin players was surrounded by a large group of Chu players.

even though most of the qin players had good equipment.

As for the new players of Chu, they were all weak.

However, even a fierce tiger couldn't fight against a pack of wolves.

One by one, the players from the state of Qin were ganged up on and beaten down.

Zhang Shan felt that it was a little boring. There was no meaning to it.

Previously, they were fighting for their lives, but now, they were snatching people's heads.

The players from the state of Qin were no longer enough to fight. As soon as they found a player from the state of Qin, a large group of players from the state of Chu would teleport over.

f * ck, it's boring to fight over a person's life.

it's almost done. Let's go back. There's nothing left to do.

Zhang Shan said in the Guild channel.

He had already knocked down enough people today.

As for how many Qin players had been knocked down, Zhang Shan did not count. All he knew was that his hand cannon kept firing.

The bullets kept shooting out without stopping.

By a conservative estimate, he should have defeated three to five thousand people today. What a terrifying number.

He had knocked down too many people. The originally passionate Battle Royale had become numb with Zhang Shan.

don't, six-barreled boss. We're not done yet. I still want to kill a few more people.

yeah, I haven't cut down many people yet, but I fell to the ground twice. What a loss, I have to kill a few more people.

how can we go back now? if we don't kill all these Qin players, we won't return to Dangyang.

"F * ck, do you have to be so exaggerated?"

"How is it exaggerated? Killing people is as easy as cutting grass for you guys. I haven't f * cking done anything yet."

"What the hell? After fighting for so long, you haven't even killed a qin player?"

how? I'm a Taoist priest. I haven't learned any attack skills. I can only use my magic sword to cut people. How can I cut people? " brother, you're awesome. You're just an auxiliary profession, yet you still want to kill people? "

"Why can't the support be cut? I saw the other Taoist brothers "heads flying in the air with their bolts of lightning."

As long as their equipment was good enough, they could deal as much damage as the other classes.

it was even more convenient than many melee classes.

Boss Wu used the lightning strike skill to kill people continuously, firing lightning strikes one after another.

He had indeed knocked down quite a few people.

After all, Mr. Wu's equipment was the best in the game.

a full set of red equipment was extremely powerful.

although there were no divine weapons or spirit weapons.

However, in the entire game, there were only a few people who had divine weapons and spiritual weapons.

To be able to get a full set of red equipment was already very impressive. They would be top-tier combat power no matter where they were.

Zhang Shan had wanted to go back first, but seeing that everyone was in high spirits, he could not help but think, " he didn't want to spoil everyone's mood, so he decided to stay in Yunmeng city for a while longer. he would return after he had cleared out all the players from the state of Qin.

Since he had nothing to do, Zhang Shan continued to transform into a god of death, teleporting around the cloud dream city.

As long as he saw a player from the state of Qin, he would shoot them down with two shots.

Not long after, the Qin players in the city were basically cleared.

As for whether or not they had run out of the city, Zhang Shan could very responsibly say that they had not.

Before the Qin players collapsed, Freedom King had arranged for people to guard all four gates.

He would definitely not let any of the Qin players escape. As for the teleportation Hall, that was even more impossible.

There was always someone on guard there.

It could be said that as long as a player from the state of Qin was teleported to Yunmeng city, almost all of them would be defeated and lose a level.

there were almost no fish that escaped the net.

Chapter 283 the more i think about it, the angrier i get

As more and more players from the state of Qin were defeated in Yunmeng city, they chose to return and revive.

the city-wide massacre initiated by the domineering king was gradually coming to an end.

After Zhang Shan and the rest continued to sweep the cloud dream city a few more times, they did not find any more Qin players.

They all returned to Danyang city.

haha, I've been playing this game for three to four months, and today is the only day that I'm having the time of my life killing people.

Windcloud blade happily said in the Guild channel.

"How many people did brother Yidao kill today?"

who knows? who's going to count? there's no way to count. That ultimate skill of mine has already killed countless players from the state of Qin.

one slash is awesome. I just got a divine weapon and an ultimate skill, and now I'm in such a chaotic battle. It's really f * cking timely.

hehe, it's all because the domineering King didn't know what's good for him. He just happened to bump into my axe. He deserves it.

"Look at what you're saying. It's as if we won because of you. It doesn't have much to do with you, right?"

how could it not have anything to do with me? don't burn the bridge after crossing it. If it wasn't for my big move, you wouldn't even be able to go to cloud dream city. You would have fallen at the entrance of the teleportation Hall.

"Not bad, you've done a good job with one blade move."

the six-barreled boss is still the best. He teleported over and took down domineering King with three shots. He's so handsome.

that's right. If it wasn't for the six-barreled boss who took down the domineering King, this chaotic battle would have gone on for a while.

that's right. The players from the state of Qin are really strong. I don't think they are any weaker than us.

it's not strange that they're stronger than us. Those people should be considered the top group of people in the state of Qin.

"So what if you're strong? He was still beaten to the ground, and now he's even lost a level, hehe."

In contrast to the cheers and laughter of the wind cloud Guild, none of the other parties in this battle could be happy.

Even if domineering aura was defeated in the end, the Dragon King of the eastern sea and freedom King of cloud dream city would not be happy.

As for the Dragon King of the East Sea, in order to stall the players from the state of Qin, his entire Guild had been sacrificed.

Basically, he had been resurrected more than once or twice. As for the Dragon King of the East Sea himself, he had been resurrected four times.

He had lost four levels in a row. It would take him a month to get back his level.

Fortunately, he was already wearing level 30 equipment.

he would not be affected.

Otherwise, he would be crying.

They were originally level 31, but now they were only level 27. It could be said to be very miserable.

The Dragon King of the East Sea was not the most miserable one.

King Xiaoyao was the one who was miserable.

After all, the Dragon King's Guild, reigning the four Seas, had clashed with Subjugator.

The cause of this matter had something to do with them, so they had nothing to say even if they were beaten up.

However, it was different for the unfettered Guild. They were completely implicated.

Did the conflict between traversing Four Seas and Subjugator have anything to do with the unfettered Guild?

no, i didn't.

Initially, the relationship between the two guilds had not been good.

Occasionally, there would be small conflicts.

However, Subjugator did not care about that. After he entered DreamCloud city, he did not care if he was a member of the unfettered Guild, traversing Four Seas, or even an irrelevant civilian player.

they killed everyone they saw, until most of the players in dreamcloud city had gone offline.

The members of the unfettered Guild were forced to get involved, but they suffered such a great loss. On average, every member of the Guild lost almost one level.

Although they were in a slightly better state than traversing Four Seas, they were in a worse state.

Why should I suffer such a great loss for something that has nothing to do with me?

Compared to the losses of the cloud dream city, the losses of the Qin players were very fair.

Everyone died once and lost a level, including Subjugator.

In the end, they couldn't even defend their own home.

The people who were teleported to DreamCloud city also lost a level each. It was a huge loss.

Everyone was extremely depressed.

This script wasn't right. It shouldn't be written like this.

They should have charged into the DreamCloud city and started a massacre, causing the players of Chu State to not dare to make a sound.

How could the wind cloud Guild dare to send people back to LAN Tian city to massacre the city and even kill them all in cloud dream city?

This was simply preposterous.

The more the tyrant king thought about it, the angrier he became. The more he thought about it, the more he lost. He definitely couldn't let this matter rest.

Speaking of the domineering King, who did he hate the most in new world?

That must be Feng Yun realm.

If it wasn't for this brother who led the members of the wind and cloud Guild into the battlefield.

Most of the Qin players who went to the cloud dream city might be able to return.

How could things have turned out like this? everyone who went to DreamCloud city had lost a level, and their base had been massacred.

There was no need to talk about the losses. To the tyrant king, these losses were nothing.

The key was that he had lost all his face.

It was said that it was never too late for a gentleman to take revenge.

however, he didn't want to wait a minute longer.

But what could he do? He couldn't possibly charge into Dangyang city and massacre the entire city, right?

Wasn't that courting death?

Other than slowly dealing with the wind cloud Guild in the Heaven's Gate map in the future, the only way to take revenge as soon as possible was to issue a guild challenge.

Thinking of this, Subjugator did not hesitate to start a guild War with the wind cloud Guild.

&Lt; system announcement: <> has issued a challenge to . For further information, please check the Guild channel. &Gt;

As soon as the announcement came out, the world Channel, which was already very lively, became even more lively.

When Subjugator had led his men into DreamCloud city, the popularity of the world Channel had not decreased.

this was the first large-scale attack across countries and cities.

Everyone was very concerned about the progress of the matter.

Originally, everyone had thought that with the strength of the domineering aura Guild, wouldn't they be able to crush the entire DreamCloud city?

Who would have thought that with the addition of wind and cloud, the situation would be reversed in an instant, and domineering air would be beaten to a pulp.

Not to mention the losses, but the point was that they were embarrassed. They were always second in the top ten guilds.

The wind and cloud Guild, which had been left hanging, had been beaten down.

The Guild wind and cloud was not fighting alone. Their main forces were traversing Four Seas, unfettered, and the other solo players in cloud dream city.

However, the situation was only reversed after the wind and cloud Guild joined. This was an undeniable fact.

Now that Subjugator had issued a guild challenge, it was actually within everyone's expectations.

the tyrant king had suffered such a huge loss, so of course he had to take revenge!

However, he didn't have many choices for revenge.

of all these methods, the guild challenge was the most direct and effective one.

Of course, they had to win first.

If he were to lose, then his reputation as a domineering King would be thrown to the ground and trampled on a few times.

Chapter 284 Crystal Guard mode

The Guild challenge carried a huge risk. If they were randomly selected to fight in a mode that was disadvantageous to them, they would be screwed.

In a situation where they weren't confident, very few people would initiate a guild challenge. It was still fine if they won, and everyone would be happy.

it would be a huge loss if they lost.

The world Channel:

"the tyrant king is getting bigger and bigger."

I feel like domineering King is gambling. If he loses, he'll raise the bet. Hehe.

what can he do? he has to get back his face.

"What face are you looking for? what if you lose again?"

"How can we lose? domineering aura is much stronger than wind and cloud."

” that’s hard to say. the guild challenge mode isn’t chosen by the players themselves. it’s random. if it’s a random solo mode, who can beat six-barreled bodhisattva in a solo fight? ” you’re bullshitting. There’s no 1v1 mode. The one with the least number of people is still a five-person group arena.

who knows? there hasn’t been a 1v1 yet, but that doesn’t mean there won’t be one in the future. What if there really is one? ”

“Let’s not talk about the solo mode. As long as it’s a Guild War Mode with a small number of people, no one can beat the wind and cloud Guild.”

that’s right. The wind and cloud Guild has six-barreled Bodhisattva. He alone is enough for a team battle with less than a hundred people.

that’s ridiculous. All of the participants of the Guild challenge are elites. It’s already good enough for six-pipe Bodhisattva to defeat three to five of them. How could he defeat hundreds of people like noobs? ”

“How is it exaggerated? just look at the six-barreled bodhisattva’s historical records and you’ll know. he’s fought against hundreds of people all by himself.”

“Don’t compare those noobs to the Guild elites. It’s ridiculous.”

in short, it’s not a wise choice to fight a Guild War with the wind and cloud Guild. Their small teams are too strong.

that’s right. Now, other than six-barreled Bodhisattva, wind and cloud blade also has a divine weapon. Who can beat them in a small team battle? ”

I don’t know what mode Subjugator will be randomly selected into this time. It’ll be fine if it’s a battle Royale between all the Guild members. Otherwise, he’ll be defeated again. Hehe.

he deserves it. This game has only just started, and he dares to massacre a city? ”

f * ck, you dare to say that the domineering King deserves it? be careful or he’ll kill you back to the beginner’s village.

what’s there to be afraid of? who does he think he is? even the sun has to revolve around him. He’s just an outdated internet celebrity.

“that’s right. the domineering air guild used to be quite strong, but in new world, i don’t think they’re very good. without the help of other players from the state of qin, their strength is just so-so.”

brother, how many God-tier equipment do you have on you? how dare you look down on me, Wang zheju? ”

Zhang Shan did not pay attention to the commotion in the world Channel, but he was focused on the Guild challenge issued by Subjugator.

He had no choice but to take it seriously.

If they lost, they would lose their Guild contribution points. Now, the wind and cloud Guild was at a critical juncture of upgrading to a level 4 Guild.

It just so happened that a Guild War was happening at this time, which was a bit frustrating.

It would be great if they had a few more days. By then, they would be a level 4 Guild.

Zhang Shan checked the details of the challenge in the Guild section.

Guild challenge.

[ challenger: domineering aura Guild. ]

[ challenged party: wind and cloud Guild. ]

[ challenge mode: Crystal Guard mode ]

What? What was the crystal Guardian mode? he had never heard of it before.

He quickly took a look at the introduction of the crystal Guardian mode.

Each side had five participants.

the challenger has a crystal pagoda each. destroying the opponent's crystal pagoda will be the winner.

There were a total of three paths that led to the other's Crystal Tower. Each path had three defensive towers.

They had to take down all the defensive towers along the way before they could start attacking the crystal Towers.

[note: defensive towers have very high attack power.]

The starting equipment of both sides were beginner equipment for their respective classes, and their starting level was Level 1.

The crystal Towers on both sides would create a wave of meches every half a minute. They would gain experience and money by killing the meches of the other side.

The money earned could be used to buy equipment at the crystal Pagoda or to unlock the equipment one already had.

The amount of money required to unlock the existing equipment is half of the price of the new equipment.

Other than killing the meches, there would also be new monsters in the forest.

Killing monsters could also earn experience and money.

All player skills are retained and can be used in Crystal Guard mode. However, ultimate skills are prohibited.

[resurrection mechanism: after death, resurrect at the crystal Pagoda. The waiting time for the first resurrection is one minute.]

The second time was two minutes, the third time was four minutes, the fourth time was eight minutes, and so on.

As for the challenge fee and reward, all the methods were the same. The winner would receive the challenge fee and contribution points.

'ASIBA, this Crystal Guardian mode is a little complicated. Why don't we have a five-man Group arena? that mode is so simple.'

Zhang Shan felt that this Crystal Guardian mode was very disadvantageous to him. He had two God equipment and the spiritual equipment, hand of Madas.

It would be very difficult for it to be effective in the crystal Guardian mode.

He had to slowly farm meches and earn enough money to unlock the equipment before using it.

It meant that everyone's equipment was on the same starting line, at least in the beginning.

the only good news was that the players' skills would all be retained. zhang shan's many passive skills would still be of use.

"What the f * ck, with this mode, doesn't that mean that my divine weapon battleaxe is useless?"

Windcloud blade said gloomily.

"Brother one blade, don't worry. You might not even need to participate in the Guild War this time. Without the divine weapon, you'll be very ordinary, hehe."

"Are you kidding me? how can I be left out? even if I don't have a divine weapon, my skills are still there. How many of you can compare to me in skills?"

"What did the boss say? how should we arrange the Guild War?"

Feng Yun realm was also in a dilemma, mainly because this mode had never appeared before.

There were other games that were similar to the crystal Guardian mode, but who knew if it would be the same when they fought.

However, no matter what, they would definitely choose the player with the most skills and join the battle with their class.

"Where's the little Secretary? it's been so long, why haven't we heard from her yet?"

Zhang Shan asked wind cloud blade.

If they were to choose five people to participate, Secretary Feng Yun would probably be one of them.

In terms of tanking, in the wind and cloud Guild, other than Zhang Shan's Panda bear, no one could compare to him.

Not to mention the equipment of that guy, these big shots were all similar, all of them had a set of red equipment.

It was mainly because the little Secretary had many powerful skills, much stronger than other Guardian Warriors.

Feng Yun's little Secretary went to complete the divine weapon mission. They had already fought several rounds of war with domineering aura.

there was still no news from the secretary, and he didn't know if he had found the npc that triggered the divine weapon mission.

Chapter 285 The candidates for the competition not long after secretary feng yun left for the east capital, they started fighting with the domineering aura guild.

In the Guild channel, he didn't see the little Secretary appear. He didn't know if things were going smoothly on his end.

The key was whether he had found the NPC that had triggered the mission.

Zhang Shan had never contacted his Secretary, so he could only ask Windcloud blade. After all, they were more familiar with each other.

that guy is so lucky. He triggered the divine weapon mission when he went to look for ou Zi. He's now doing the follow-up mission.

windcloud blade said enviously. previously, in order to get his god-tier battle axe, he had to delay for almost a month. how could he be as successful as his little secretary?

"Holy sh * t, it's so smooth? Is Lil 'ou going to help him repair his divine artifact?"

Zhang Shan could not believe it. This was even more successful than when he went to look for Master Lu previously, right?

"At least for now, it's going smoothly. Lil 'ou is making him buy materials everywhere."

"ASIBA, isn't that just preparing the materials to repair the divine artifact? Wasn't there any prerequisite mission? Oh right, didn't Lil 'ou ask him for divine materials? A Secretary shouldn't have such a thing."

Repairing a divine artifact required divine materials, and little Secretary Feng Yun should not have such things.

It couldn't be a coincidence that he happened to have this thing, right?

hehe, you don't say. The little Secretary really has divine materials. They got one from a BOSS before. Fortunately, it was dropped by the BOSS. Otherwise, it would have been disposed of as garbage.

damn it, the little Secretary is also a son of destiny. Is she that lucky? " that’s right. There are too many uncertainties in this thing.

Although the Guild War wouldn’t start until 8 p.m. Tomorrow, the players had to be chosen in advance.

Feng Yun realm was in a dilemma as he did not know which five people were suitable.

Of course, the first person to be chosen was Zhang Shan.

Although Zhang Shan’s divine weapon would not be of much use in the crystal Guardian mode, at least in the beginning, it would not be much use.

However, Zhang Shan had many passive skills. Feng Yun realm knew about Zhang Shan’s passive King talent.

Even if he did not use any equipment, Zhang Shan was still very powerful with so many passive skills.

After the first candidate was confirmed, he would definitely have to participate in the second one.

As the boss of a Guild, unless he was too weak, he would definitely participate in the Guild challenge.

That left three more people.

What classes should these three people choose? which three people should they choose? Feng Yun realm was in a dilemma.

“Do you guys think we need a support for tomorrow’s Guild War?”

Feng Yun realm asked with uncertainty.

This was a problem. If one only looked at the crystal Guard’s introduction, they would not be able to see the point of a support participating in the battle.

However, as a team battle, it felt like something was missing without a support.

I think we should. Not only should we bring a support, but we should also bring two support.

windcloud blade said after some consideration.

what’s the point of having a support? whether it’s the turret or the crystal turret, it’s all about the damage output. A support is completely useless.

how could it be useless? I don’t think it would require a priest to bless me with an attack.

that’s right. As for the Taoist profession, it’s very important to have a blessing that increases 20% attack power.

“Then just bring a Daoist priest.”

that depends on how we split up. There are three routes of attack, so there must be someone on each route. Not only do we have to attack the opponent’s turret, but we also have to defend our own turret. We can’t let the opponent take it down. It’s impossible to have no one in the lane.

if one person goes down each path, we'll need three people. If we have one more person to kill the monsters, we'll only need one support. Otherwise, it's best to bring two supports.

that's right, I agree with bringing two supports. We can stop killing the jungle monsters first and suppress the opponent's Lane. With a support, the suppression will be much stronger.

After wind cloud blade's reminder, Zhang Shan also felt that they should bring two supports.

In that case, he could suppress the other side and make it so that the other side couldn't get experience and money in the game.

If there was no support, who would dare to play on the line? the meches created by the crystal Towers were extremely powerful.

In the beginning, everyone was only Level 1, and they were all wearing newbie equipment.

They probably couldn't even beat the meches. It would be much easier if they had a healer.

how about this, the participants are six-Barrens, one blade, windchime, me and Qingqing, just the five of us. After we go offline today, everyone can go and understand how to play a game similar to the crystal Guardian mode.

okay, don't worry. We just need to keep six-barreled monsters getting a divine weapon, and we'll be able to push them all the way.

that's right. With the six-barreled boss 'divine weapon in hand, he can take on five of them and destroy them all.

"Let's leave it at that for now. We'll only know the specific situation when we enter the game map tomorrow."

After Feng Yun realm confirmed the participants for tomorrow, everyone had nothing else to do.

He had a good time today, but he still had to continue killing monsters. Killing monsters and leveling up was his daily routine.

is there anyone who wants to go to the beast King Valley to farm monsters? I'm afraid that the domineering Guild won't be able to take the loss and will cause trouble in the Heaven's Gate map.

what are you afraid of? let's go over together. If Guild domineering aura isn't happy with this, we'll just have to fight them again.

"Let's try to go together. It's safer that way."

feng yun realm reminded.

Who knew if the tyrant king would go crazy?

if he arranged for the qin players to guard the city gate of heaven's gate.

If the people from the wind and cloud Guild wanted to go to the beast King Valley to farm monsters, they would not be able to do so with so few people.

not everyone could be like Zhang Shan, able to use the positioning ball to directly reach the destination.

Zhang Shan considered for a moment, and followed everyone to be teleported to Heaven’s Gate.

He could use the positioning Pearl to directly teleport to the beast King Valley.

However, in Zhang Shan’s eyes, the domineering King was someone who could not afford to lose.

It would be strange if he didn’t arrange for someone to intercept and kill them outside Heaven’s Gate.

Zhang Shan planned to follow everyone to Heaven’s Gate and just escort them out of the city gate.

Then, he would mark the coordinates of the city gate. In the future, it would probably become a norm for him to fight with the players of the state of Qin.

Setting the coordinates of the city gate would make it easier for him to support other guild members in the future.

in that case, he would have used up the three locations of his positioning ball.

One was set at beast King Valley, one was set outside Heaven’s Gate pass, and one was set at Dangyang city’s auction house.

However, those at Dangyang city and Heaven’s Gate pass could be canceled at any time.

in any case, he could also reach the teleportation hall, but he didn’t have any other places to go to.

These were the three places that he had decided on for the time being.

Chapter 286 fermentation

He considered the possibility of being intercepted by Qin players on the way to beast King Valley.

Everyone first repaired their equipment, then bought enough supplies, and then teleported to Heaven’s Gate together.

All the Guild members who were planning to go to beast King Valley to farm monsters rode their horses out of Heaven’s Gate together.

Zhang Shan used the positioning ball to mark the coordinates outside of Heaven’s Gate pass.

Not long after they rushed through the city gate, they saw players from the state of Qin on the road. They were stuck there, ready to intercept the passing players.

however, there were not many of these Qin players, only a few hundred. It shouldn’t have been arranged by the domineering King.

seeing the tens of thousands of players from the wind cloud guild riding their horses past, the players from the state of qin immediately scattered like birds and beasts, running faster than rabbits.

The people from wind cloud Guild ignored them and focused on running into beast King Valley.

Zhang Shan took a look. There did not seem to be any large groups of Qin players blocking the way. Could it be that the domineering King had stopped?

This didn't make sense.

it seems like the Subjugator did not arrange for any interception. I'll head to the beast King Valley to farm monsters then.

zhang shan said to wind cloud blade.

don't worry, the domineering King and the others won't be free. All of their elite main forces have lost a level today. They'll have to quickly get their levels back. As for the other noobs, no matter how many people they have, it's all for naught.

What blade of wind and cloud said made sense. It was fine as long as he was fine. It seemed like he could rest for a few days.

Zhang Shan used the positioning Pearl and directly teleported to the beast King Valley.

the entire beast king was silent. other than the dozens of men feng yun realm had arranged, they were still guarding the entrance of the passage.

There was not a single player in the entire beast King Valley.

Let's start farming, farming monsters makes me happy, I have to get to level 40 as soon as possible.

time passed by quietly. however, the players from chu had defeated the domineering aura guild's massacre in yunmeng city, as well as the guild challenge that domineering king had issued to the wind cloud guild.

On the world Channel and the game forum, the news was still spreading on the second day.

In the New World Forum, the three guilds in Chu had joined forces and annihilated the 200000 Qin players that Subjugator had brought with him in DreamCloud city.

It became a big event that exploded on the internet.

The forum was filled with posts about this matter, and everyone was discussing this issue.

Especially when Zhang Shan teleported to the side of the domineering King, and with three shots, he knocked him to the ground.

the video was later found by the players nearby who repeatedly checked the game records and posted on the forum.

It caused an intense response.

six-barreled Bodhisattva is too f * cking strong. I've seen him shoot people in the past, and I thought that he was just a noob. It turns out that even the best big shots can't withstand three shots.

that's right. Look at his damage. Every shot he takes is over 10000, and it's almost 20000. It's already very strong for Subjugator to be able to withstand three shots.

you're right. The tyrant king isn't a Guardian. How could he have so much HP? he should have almost 50000 HP.

"i don't know. maybe there's some special item that can increase health?"

no matter how much blood he had, he couldn't withstand three strikes from six-barreled Bodhisattva. A great God of his generation has fallen.

it's too early to say that he'll die. This time, it's Subjugator's fault for being too careless. He didn't consider the influence of the wind cloud Guild. He thought that he only needed to deal with cloud dream city.

"That's because he's too arrogant. You've already gone to Chu country to massacre the city, how can the wind cloud Guild not care? if we don't do anything, how will the wind and cloud guild be able to establish itself in chu in the future?"

that's right. If you think about it carefully, you'll know that the wind and cloud Guild will definitely participate in the war.

this battle has given the wind and cloud Guild a lot of attention. They've taken down the second-ranked Guild, the domineering aura, in one fell swoop.

it's not like domineering aura was defeated by the wind and cloud Guild. If there weren't so many players in DreamCloud city, the wind and cloud Guild's tens of thousands of players wouldn't be enough.

" that's right. subjugator's mistake was that he didn't choose the right battlefield. if he didn't go to someone else's city, guild wind and cloud would be like a little brother. how could he be a match for subjugator? " the wind and cloud Guild is still very strong. They have three divine artifacts and several ultimate skills.

numbers are a problem. Look at domineering King. He has millions of players following him at once. He's not like Feng Yun realm who can only command his own Guild.

that's right, the game is about having a lot of people. Feng Yun realm is too bad at management and has not been able to gather popularity.

it's a different game. Maybe he's just playing for fun and doesn't want to be the king of the game.

Other than the video of Zhang Shan taking down domineering King with three shots, which was widely circulated in the forums.

There was even a video of Windcloud blade's one-hit destruction, which had directly destroyed the defensive formation of domineering Aura's teleportation Hall in DreamCloud city.

it was also a hot topic on the forum.

The Berserker class was a popular class, and it was loved by many hot-blooded players.

How cool would it be to swing a big axe at people?

Wind and cloud blade, a destructive move, had attracted countless fans.

This was the first time in the New World that a Berserker's ultimate skill had appeared, and it was extremely powerful.

Before this, everyone had thought that the melee classes in the New World were all suppressed.

Spellblades did have an invincible slash skill, but other than their ultimate skills, their other skills weren't very useful in PvP.

The Berserker class was still alright. They had charge and a set of berserk skills. As long as their equipment was good enough, they could also kill people instantly.

However, he could only take down one at a time. After using charge, he was just a little brother.

Now that Windcloud blade had used a destructive skill, it gave the Berserker fans a glimmer of hope.

The Berserker class was still very strong.

For example, in yesterday's battle, if it were not for Windcloud blade's destructive move, the other members of the Windcloud Guild would not have been able to make it to DreamCloud city.

There was nothing else that happened after that.

Wind and cloud blade's destruction could be said to have made a great contribution.

One could imagine what would happen if all the known ultimate skill books were put up for auction.

The price of the Berserker's destruction was definitely higher than that of the other classes. It was the ultimate skill book of other classes.

There were too many people who liked to play the Berserker class, and there were also many people who were willing to spend money.

The key was the power of the destructive big move. Everyone had seen it now, and it was extremely cool.

If someone managed to obtain a destruction skill book, it would definitely sell for a sky-high price.

In this war, the wind and cloud Guild was in the limelight, and many of the players in the wind and cloud Guild became famous.

in the past, although the wind and cloud guild was one of the top ten guilds, it had never had much of a presence.

Their ranking had always been the tail of the top ten guilds.

However, things would be different from now on, if the rankings were to be rearranged.

the wind and cloud guild might not be in the top three, but it was at least in the top five.

Regardless of whether Feng Yun realm knew how to manage his popularity, the strength of his guild members was there.

No one dared to underestimate him.

Chapter 287 Mech

Zhang Shan was also aware of the explosive situation on the game forum. He even took a look at it.

however, that was all. he did not pay any more attention to it after that.

On the other hand, the members of the other guilds were very excited. After all, everyone was happy that the wind cloud Guild had become famous.

However, to Zhang Shan, there was nothing to be excited about.

After all, after the launch of the New World, Zhang Shan had become famous too many times.

After the excitement, they returned to the calm. Killing monsters was the most important thing.

In the beast King Valley, Zhang Shan, boss Wu, Windcloud blade, and heart moves continued to farm monsters in a team of four until night.

Wind cloud blade said to Zhang Shan.

it's almost eight o'clock. Let's go back and prepare. The Guild challenge will start soon. It might be a tough battle today.

"Okay, you go back first. I'll be there soon."

After Windcloud blade had finished channeling and returned to the city, Zhang Shan used the positioning Pearl and teleported to the auction in Dangyang city.

Then, he teleported to the Guild residence.

The five people who were ready to participate in the competition had all arrived.

Although they had fought two Guild Wars before, one against traversing Four Seas and the other against peerless ...

However, the Guild War this time was the most stressful one they'd ever experienced.

It wasn't just because of how strong domineering aura was.

The more important reason was the crystal Guard mode. At the start of the match, everyone's state had basically returned to a relatively fair state.

Other than retaining skills, the player's other advantages could not be brought into the challenge map.

Whether it was the equipment advantage or the level advantage.

After entering the challenge map, everything was like floating clouds.

Seeing that everyone was here, Feng Yun realm opened his mouth and said.

“After I went offline yesterday, I went out of my way to understand how to play games like crystal Guardian. The main point is to suppress the other side’s development and let the main players on our side develop.”

in other words, while we attack the other side, we have to ensure that six-barreled is developed as soon as possible? ”

that’s right. As long as six-barreled can unlock a divine weapon, we’ll win for sure.

sigh, I just don’t know if it’s difficult to unlock divine-level equipment in the crystal Guardian mode. How long will it take to unlock it? ”

” there’s no way to know. this is the first time a guild challenge has appeared in the crystal guard mode. no one knows the specific details. ”

there’s no point in us guessing blindly here. We’ll know when we enter the map.

At eight o’clock, the five of them entered the challenge map through the Guild residence stone tablet.

Before Zhang Shan could check the details of the map, he heard wind and cloud blade say.

f * ck, the domineering King is livestreaming the match. He’s so confident.

ignore it. I’ll beat him up so badly that even his parents won’t be able to recognize him. Let’s see if he’ll still stream.

Subjugator said in the live stream that this is a Guild competition, and everything is decided by strength. We won’t be able to rely on luck like before, hehe.

f * ck, that arrogant dog. I’ll let him know what true strength is.

[ system notification: one minute to the start of the match. ]

Zhang Shan did not want to bother with the arrogant behavior of the domineering King. He only wanted to understand the various details of the crystal Guardian mode as soon as possible.

Winning the Challenger League was the way to go, and talking was just child’s play.

He first looked at the entire map.

From one side’s Crystal Tower, three curved paths branched out and converged with the other side’s Crystal Tower. There was a small river in the middle.

In the middle of the three paths was a large forest.

The map wasn’t complicated. It was very simple, so he didn’t have to worry about getting lost.

Zhang Shan focused on the Crystal Tower and the purchase and unlock prices of the equipment.

at the crystal pagoda, there were only three levels of equipment. they were red equipment, spiritual equipment, and divine equipment. there were also big health potions and blue potions.

The price of red equipment was 1000 gold coins, spiritual equipment was 5000 gold coins, and divine equipment was 25000 gold coins. It was half the price to unlock one's own equipment.

All supplies had the same price. No matter if it was a health potion or a blue potion, they were all 100 gold coins a bottle, replenishing 100 health points and 100 blue points respectively.

The price was very expensive, and such a small supply was only useful in the early stages. In the later stages of leveling up, it was almost useless to replenish so little health and mana.

The key was still to purchase and unlock equipment.

On the side of the Crystal Tower, there was a battle record board. On it was the name, class, level, equipment, and battle record of all the participants.

Of course, everyone was Level 1 now, and their equipment was all beginner's equipment. Their battle records were all zero.

right now, the competition hadn't officially started yet, so no one had officially met. however, they could see the names and classes of the other team's participants through the battle record.

Zhang Shan looked at the members of the domineering aura Guild.

[ domineering King: Berserker ] [ domineering Little Prince ] fire wizard, domineering wind god, archer, domineering rain god, ice wizard, domineering sky, hunter.

"f * ck, why does domineering aura have such a lineup? four ranged players and a berserker."

...

zhang shan cried out in surprise.

"Where can i see their lineup?"

Wind and cloud blade asked Zhang Shan. He had not even looked at the map seriously.

"you can see it on the battle record beside the crystal pagoda."

f * ck, I don't even know if it's the right thing to do with two supports. I've never seen anything like this before.

"don't worry about it anymore. hurry up and buy your supplies. the competition is about to start."

everyone's starting gold coins were only 100, just enough to buy a supplement.

he could either buy a health potion or a blue potion. he didn't even have the money to buy another one.

"one blade and wind chimes, go to the bottom lane. six-guan and qingqing, go to the top lane. i'll go to the middle lane."

Feng Yun realm said as he arranged the teams.

boss, can you go to the middle lane? don't get killed.

windcloud blade said worriedly.

"It's fine. If I can't win, I'll be a little more wretched."

The horn sounded, and 15 meches were spawned at the Crystal Tower. They went to the three paths, five meches in each path.

"Let's go."

Zhang Shan and Feng Yun Qing Qing followed the meches and walked to the top road.

it took them about half a minute to see the enemy meches and the top players after passing three defense towers.

It was actually Subjugator who was going against them, and he was the only one.

A melee class actually dared to come and face him alone. He was courting death.

Zhang Shan could not help but laugh evilly as he watched him beat the sh * t out of him.

The meches from both sides collided. Zhang Shan fired at the enemy mech. -8 damage. The mech's HP was not even reduced.

Damn it, the newbie equipment was really trash, and this was even with his three passive skills that increased his attack power. Otherwise, the damage would only be five or six.

He opened the attributes of the mech.

[mech: attack 50 – 100, health points 1000]

ASIBA, the mech had 1000 health points, and Zhang Shan only had less than 10 attack points. How could he be killed?

Chapter 288-going against the domineering King

zhang shan was stunned when he saw the attributes of the mech.

How the f * ck could he be killed? He didn't have any equipment, and he didn't have a level, so his attack was only a pitiful 9.

after deducting the defense of the mech, the highest damage was only eight.

to kill a mech, he would have to hit it more than a hundred times.

Although he had a passive skill that increased his attack speed, his attack speed was much faster than others.

However, it would still take a long time for him to launch more than 100 attacks.

It seemed like he could only follow behind his own mech and wait until his mech was about to kill the enemy's.

That was the only way he could gain experience and money.

At this moment, the domineering King's live stream channel was abuzz.

It had to be said that the popularity of Subjugator was indeed very high. This was also the result of his many years of management in the gaming industry.

Wang zheju is probably done for. How did he end up matched up with six-barreled Bodhisattva? that's too tragic.

"cool my ass, would the six-barreled bodhisattva dare to attack wang zheju? Aren't you afraid of being killed by the meches?"

"this crystal guard mode is a little ridiculous. the attack and hp of the meches are so high. the players can only watch from the side."

we're just watching a show. The two sides are staring at each other. Haha.

don't be afraid. Giant king will level up faster if it's one against two. The experience is split between two people, and giant king will take all the experience.

not bad, giant king. Hurry up and increase your level so you can beat six-barreled Bodhisattva.

Although he couldn't kill the mech in a short time, Zhang Shan continued to attack.

It was better to deal more damage so that he could kill the enemy meches and then go to domineering Aura's defense tower.

As a close-combat fighter, Subjugator didn't dare to attack the meches. He could only watch from afar.

Zhang Shan didn't dare to go past the enemy mech to attack him. If the enemy mech hit him twice, he would die.

He couldn't afford to be reckless. It was just the beginning, and his attributes were absurdly low. It was better to be steady.

When one of the meches from domineering aura was almost out of health ...

Zhang Shan took the opportunity and fired.

Damn it, the attack power was too low, so he didn't get it. He was killed by his own mech.

The attack power of a mech was 50 – 100, while Zhang Shan's was only nine.

It was too difficult to land the killing blow.

However, even though he didn't get it, one of the meches on the opposite side had died.

he had even given zhang shan and feng yun qingqing experience, but he did not have money.

They had gained half a level from killing one mech. If they killed one more, they would reach level two.

At Level 2, the attack power would be slightly higher.

very quickly, zhang shan's side also had a machine with low hp. subjugator charged forward.

After a series of attacks, the mech was killed and he leveled up.

zhang shan was furious. damn it, they were bullying him for not having any useful damage skills.

Activating fanaticism, his attack speed was increased by 100%, and the bullets flew towards the domineering King.

A series of [- 8] and [7] damages appeared above Subjugator's head. Feng Yun Qing Qing also casually threw a poison skill.

After losing more than half of his health, Subjugator retreated from Zhang Shan's attack range.

Zhang Shan and Feng Yun Qing Qing didn't dare to chase after them. If they did, they would attract the hatred of the meches.

They wouldn't be able to withstand that.

giant King's moves are so cool. He managed to get experience and gold coins with just one charge.

that's right. The king is already level two, but the two trash are still level one.

two people can't suppress one person. What a waste.

the six-barreled Bodhisattva can only show off a little because of the divine weapon. Without the divine weapon, he's just a noob.

" the domineering king is mighty. he defeated six-barreled bodhisattva. "

The domineering King's gorgeous set of operations had won him countless fans.

domineering king had taken the lead. he was already level 2, while zhang shan and feng yun qing qing were still level 1.

Moreover, Subjugator had also successfully landed the last hit and earned a gold coin.

However, Zhang Shan was not in a hurry. The game had just begun, and the good show was yet to come.

However, he did have to think of a way to drive tyrant king away. It would be best if he could not get any experience points.

Otherwise, it wouldn't be long before the domineering King's level was much higher than his.

That would not be an easy fight.

While Zhang Shan was still thinking about how to suppress the domineering King.

windcloud blade, who was currently at the bottom lane, kept on howling.

“i can’t go to the bottom lane. i can only watch. as soon as i go up to cut the meches, the two people on the other side keep on attacking me. i can’t take it.”

On their side, it was wind and cloud blade and wind chimes. The two of them were at the bottom lane.

The bottom lane on the opposite side was the domineering wind god and the domineering rain god. One was an Archer, and the other was an ice mage.

The two ranged players suppressed Windcloud blade so much that he had no chance to retaliate, even though windchime could heal him.

However, at level one, the amount of magic was limited, and he could only add a few mouthfuls.

therefore, he could only take the beating passively.

As for the middle lane, it was still alright. Feng Yun realm’s opponent was the domineering Prince, who was also a fire wizard.

Similar to Feng Yun realm, the two of them fought back and forth.

there was still a member of the guild, imperial. he had not shown himself, so he must have gone to farm monsters.

zhang shan didn’t know how he managed to farm them. the meches on the lane were all so fierce.

The wild monsters shouldn’t be weak, could a level one player beat them? Zhang Shan expressed his doubts.

...

Just as he was thinking about this, Zhang Shan suddenly saw a system notification.

[ domineering sky has been killed by a wild monster. ]

haha, do you think you’re a hunter who can go and farm monsters just because you have a pet?

Zhang Shan’s Panda baby was so strong that he didn’t even want to farm monsters. He couldn’t beat him at all.

Zhang Shan checked the battle record and saw that the number of deaths for domineering sky was one.

after the moment of happiness, zhang shan returned his attention to the lane.

With one shot, he finally killed a monster.

Since the start of the game, two meches had died on the other side, and both of them had leveled up at the same time.

Zhang Shan’s last hit was a success, and he received 50 gold coins.

He was still far from unlocking the divine artifact. It would cost him 12500 gold coins.

At this rate, how long would they have to play? they probably wouldn’t be able to unlock it even when the game time was over.

When the mechs were almost out of health, Zhang Shan saw domineering King standing behind them and was eager to try again.

however, his charge skill wasn't on cooldown yet. if you have the ability, then come up and i'll kill you.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan moved forward a little more. His shooting range was very far, and he was able to keep the domineering King at the back.

Dare to come up? I'll hit you the moment you come up.

Without the charge skill, Subjugator was just a little brother.

If he wanted to rely on his two legs to get the last hit, he wouldn't be able to do it even if he left his life behind.

zhang shan would not give him that chance.

Chapter 289 The first blood

As he was being closely watched by Zhang Shan, in addition to the fact that his forward charge skill had not cooled down yet, Zhang Shan's eyes were still on him.

From the beginning to the end, the domineering King didn't dare to come up and attack. He was also afraid of being killed.

Not long after, the first wave of minions from the domineering air Guild was completely cleared. Zhang Shan's side only had one mech left, which still had half of its health.

Zhang Shan and Feng Yun Qing Qing followed. The last mech walked towards the defensive tower.

They had already reached Level 2, while Subjugator had already reached Level 3.

Even if Zhang Shan's mech was still alive, the level of the domineering King was still higher than theirs.

If he ate all the experience alone, he would level up much faster than Zhang Shan and the rest.

Zhang Shan had pushed him back a few times, but it was to no avail. It seemed that the range of experience gained was very wide.

Even if the domineering King was far away, he could still get experience.

However, he didn't even need to think about last-hitting, except for the first time when Subjugator had used charge and combo to last-hit a minion.

As for the last three soldiers, Zhang Shan did not give him a chance to finish them off.

And Zhang Shan had managed to get a total of four soldiers, earning 200 gold coins. Although he was still far from unlocking the God equipment.

But at least it was a good start, at least he could get some money.

Although he was a little slow, it didn't matter. He would develop steadily for a while.

He was looking for an opportunity to deal with the domineering King.

Zhang Shan could tell that the domineering King was not someone who could remain calm.

Sooner or later, he would take the risk and charge up. At that time, Zhang Shan would have the chance to take him down.

Zhang Shan and Feng Yun Qing Qing followed the meches and pushed to the defense tower on the opposite side. Meanwhile, Subjugator was already hiding behind the tower.

When the mech walked into the attack range of the tower, an attack came and killed the mech.

F * ck, is the tower's attack so high? Zhang Shan had originally thought of looking for an opportunity to whittle down some of the health of the turret.

Even the meches with a few hundred health left couldn't take it, let alone him.

retreat and wait for the next wave of soldiers to arrive.

The Crystal Tower created a wave of meches every 30 seconds.

The second wave of meches had been created and they were on the way, but it would take half a minute.

Only then could they run to the front of the defense tower.

when zhang shan and the rest retreated, the second wave of meches had just arrived.

The meches from both sides started to fight again. Zhang Shan started to repeat his previous actions.

He kept attacking while waiting for an opportunity to land a killing blow.

after leveling up, he gained five attribute points, which was five points of attack power. in addition, he had a few passive skills that added attack power.

zhang shan's attack was now 15 points. although he was hitting the meches, it was like scraping sand. there was no damage.

However, if it was against the domineering King, then it would be a little bit of damage.

After all, even if he was a strength-type class player, he was only Level 3 and had no equipment.

He had more HP, but it wasn't much. It was less than 200 hp.

If he dared to charge forward again, Zhang Shan would teach him a lesson with bullets.

Soon, a wave of soldiers was finished. Both sides were very calm. Zhang Shan did not go past the meches to attack the domineering King.

Even tyrant king didn't dare to come forward.

I've underestimated him. He can actually keep his cool.

However, it did not matter. By the time the next wave of minions arrived, the cool down period for Subjugator's {charge} would be over.

At that time, Zhang Shan did not believe that the domineering King would be able to hold back and not come up to finish him off.

If he didn't farm, he wouldn't have money. Without money, he wouldn't have equipment. It was useless to just have levels and no equipment.

Zhang Shan now had more than 400 gold coins. With one more soldier, he could unlock a red equipment.

At that time, the tyrant king would have no chance. He might not even be able to get experience points.

Zhang Shan said to Feng Yun Qingqing when the two sides clashed.

let's get ready. I think Subjugator will come and finish him off. Let's try to kill him.

okay. I'll try to pull the hatred of the mech after I'm done with the poison. You try to kill him.

Feng Yun Qing Qing said after some consideration.

" no need to take any risks. we'll just do our best. if we can't kill him, then he's lucky. "

Zhang Shan felt that he didn't need to take the risk. The hatred mechanism of the meches was a little strange.

It wasn't that easy to pull, so they just had to attack normally.

After Zhang Shan finished farming the first minion, he also had a mech on his side, and it was about to be empty.

He deliberately didn't look at the domineering King to make him lower his guard.

As expected, when Zhang Shan's mech was low on health, Subjugator charged forward again.

This was followed by a set of combo moves, and the last hit was successful.

Damn it, he really dared to come up and court death.

Zhang Shan did not hesitate to activate his berserk skill. Fanatic had used it before, and it had a five-minute cooldown.

It was not on cooldown yet, but with the berserk skill's attack speed and attack power, it was enough.

He also had 50% attack speed from battle intent.

Although it didn't have the fanatic skill, its attack speed was still very fast.

The violent bullets swept towards the tyrant king. -15, -14, -60, a series of damage numbers appeared above the tyrant King's Head.

Furthermore, Zhang Shan's luck had exploded, and he had even managed to land a critical hit, dealing five times the damage.

In an instant, Subjugator's health bar was reduced by more than half.

After finishing off his minions, Subjugator immediately retreated.

But at this time, it was a little too late. Zhang Shan and Feng Yun Qing Qing continued to hit him with damage.

...

Suddenly, Zhang Shan fired a shot, and the domineering King immediately stood still.

The passive stun skill was used, and it directly stunned the tyrant king on the spot for a second.

He was dead.

Zhang Shan and Feng Yun Qing Qing continued to deal damage, and after a few shots, the tyrant king fell to the ground unwillingly.

He turned into a white light and returned to the crystal Pagoda to wait for his resurrection.

[system notification: six-barreled Bodhisattva killed domineering King and gained first HP. Assist:] Feng Yun Qing.

After the tyrant king fell to the ground, Zhang Shan and Feng Yun Qing Qing both leveled up by one level. Both of them had reached Level 4.

At the same time, Zhang Shan also received 1000 gold coins.

“f * ck, killing a person gives me 1000 gold coins!”

Zhang Shan said happily in the team channel.

“I got 300 gold coins too, hehe.”

Feng Yun Qing Qing said.

the two of you are so f * cking awesome! You guys killed Subjugator, and I’m in trouble! I’m being suppressed by my enemies, and I’ve only managed to get three minions, and I’m risking my life to do so!

windcloud blade said enviously. the two players he was facing were both ranged players.

He was completely suppressed, and wind chimes couldn’t help much by the side.

Even though Windling also had a long-range attack skill, it had very little magic.

She had to keep her demon to be ready to heal wind and cloud blade at any time, so she didn’t dare to use her skills to attack.

Chapter 290 Don’t be nervous

After killing the Subjugator, Zhang Shan and Feng Yun Qing had both gained a level and both of them had obtained gold coins.

It seemed that the crystal Guardian still had to rely on killing people. There was no future in killing mechs.

the gold coins earned from killing one person were more than the gold coins earned from farming a few waves of minions, and the experience was more as well.

He had to find a chance to do it again. He just didn't know if Subjugator would dare to come back after he was resurrected.

forget it, let's not care about him. i'll unlock some equipment first.

After killing Subjugator, Zhang Shan had more than 1500 gold coins.

Red equipment could be unlocked for three pieces. If he bought it directly, he could only buy one.

After some consideration, Zhang Shan chose to buy a red flintlock and unlock The Red Necklace.

As he was not yet Level 5, the equipment he unlocked and purchased were only Level 1 equipment.

However, in the crystal Guard mode, the equipment would improve along with the player's level. The earlier they got their hands on the equipment, the more advantages they would have.

After equipping two pieces of red equipment, Zhang Shan's attack power was already very impressive.

A level 1 red fire gun had an attack power of 50, while the necklace had an attack power of 25.

moreover, the equipment would also add to the agility attribute.

In addition to Zhang's three passive skills, his attack power had increased by 30%.

now that his attack power had already reached over a hundred, if it was the domineering king, he would not dare to act arrogantly in front of him.

Zhang Shan could knock him down with two shots.

After Subjugator was killed by Zhang Shan, his live stream was filled with boos.

" f * ck! king zerju contributed a drop of his blood? "

" that's not right. didn't they already have one player killed by a monster before? subjugator should have been the second one to die. how could he only have one blood? " erhuo, only those killed by players are counted. What's the point of killing wild monsters? " you guys got the main point wrong. The main point is that King zhuojue gave out a blood first. It's going to be very difficult to play later on.

what are you afraid of? I've only died once. It's still early.

it's already so difficult to play after dying once. Six-pipe Bodhisattva will definitely update his equipment. Will Subjugator still dare to go up and face him in a laning match? "

"What line are you still going to match? go and kill the wild monsters."

the problem is, can he defeat the monsters with all his beginner equipment? "

"That's true, he can only let his teammates take him to fight the wild monsters."

“Then what’s the point? if two people go to fight the monsters, what about the top lane? Are we just giving up?”

we can only give up now. Six-barreled Bodhisattva has just updated his equipment. No one from Guild Subjugator would dare to go against him.

After clearing the meches on the other side, there were only four meches left on Zhang Shan’s side.

It was time to take on the enemy’s defensive towers and see how strong they were.

Zhang Shan and Feng Yun Qing Qing followed the mech to the defense tower on the opposite side.

Letting the meches tank the damage from the towers, Zhang Shan kept attacking the towers.

At the same time, he checked the attributes of the defensive towers.

[ defense tower: attack 500, health points 500000 ]

F * ck, what’s the point of this? if they don’t get their equipment and levels up, they might not even be able to push down a single turret.

Not to mention, they had to take down at least three defensive towers along the way before they could start attacking the crystal Towers on the opposite side.

F * ck, go kill someone. What’s the point of playing like this?

He would farm another wave of minions, unlock a pair of boots, and go kill.

after half a minute, he finished another wave of minions. the two waves of minions in front and behind were exactly 500 gold coins.

Zhang Shan immediately chose to unlock the red boots. He could run faster if he changed into the boots.

If he ran as slowly as an old man, how could he go to other routes to kill people?

Even if they ran to the bottom lane, it would probably take more than three to five minutes.

Even after changing into the red boots, the domineering King still hadn’t arrived.

he should have just resurrected. even if he wanted to come over, he would still have to run for half a minute.

Let’s not care about him for now and find someone else to kill.

He had an advantage of 1000 gold coins in equipment compared to the others. It would be unreasonable if he didn’t kill the wave of people.

As for where to kill, that would be up to them.

The others were not fools. As long as Zhang Shan disappeared from the top lane, the people from Guild Subjugator would know that he was going to cause trouble at the other lanes.

The others would definitely take precautions or simply hide under the tower, not giving him a chance.

Zhang Shan decided to first head to the opposite jungle to see if he could find the one farming monsters, Imperial.

At the beginning, that guy had been killed by a wild monster once, so he probably hadn't developed much yet.

He would take advantage of this time to mess with him again.

if they really couldn't find it, then they would just farm monsters in their jungle. Kill all of their monsters so that they don't have any left to kill, hehe.

Zhang Shan said to Feng Yun Qing Qing as he thought of this.

"I'll go to the opposite jungle to find someone to kill. You take the lane to level up. Be careful and don't die."

don't worry, I won't die. I can also unlock a piece of equipment soon.

feng yun qing qing had also just received 300 gold coins. as long as she killed four more minions, she would be able to unlock a piece of equipment.

In that case, she should have no problem keeping herself alive. After unlocking a piece of equipment, she would at least be stronger than domineering King.

after asking zhang shan to leave the top lane, the five players from the domineering aura guild immediately became nervous.

be careful. Six-barreled Bodhisattva isn't on the road anymore. He's probably going to wander around and kill people. Everyone, be careful. If you really can't handle it, hide under the tower and wait for him to show himself.

Subjugator warned in the party channel.

let's not rush it. Six tube Bodhisattva will take at least one or two minutes to get here from the top lane, whether it's from the middle lane or the bottom lane.

that's right. We don't have to be too nervous. Let's take advantage of this one or two minutes to finish him off and try to unlock a piece of equipment. That way, we won't have to be afraid of six-barreled Bodhisattva anymore.

After a moment of nervousness, the five players from Subjugator calmed down and continued to attack.

Even if Zhang Shan planned to go to the other two paths to kill, he would have to run over first. The crystal Guardian mode did not have a teleportation mechanism.

it would take time to run, so he just had to calculate the time.

subjugator thought about it and agreed. it was also good that zhang shan had left the top lane. he could continue to go to the top lane to farm money.

right now, Feng Yun Qing Qing was the only support left in the top lane of the guild of Wind and Cloud. Hence, Subjugator was not afraid at all.

With Feng Yun Qing Qing's damage, even if he just stood there and let her hit him, he would not be able to kill him in a short time.

The domineering King continued to run to the top lane, and at this time, Zhang Shan was wandering around the opposite jungle.

This jungle was a little too big. They couldn't find Domineering Sky even after searching for a long time. He didn't know which corner this guy was hiding in to farm monsters.

At this moment, Zhang Shan realized that the domineering King had appeared on the top lane again.

Hehe, since I can't find Domineering Sky, then you're just unlucky. I'll kill you again.

From the opposite jungle, Zhang Shan sprinted towards the top lane, calling for Feng Yun Qing Qing at the same time.

Don't push him too hard. Let the domineering King be more arrogant. Wait for me to come and kill him.
