Chapter 381 The captain of the city gate guards

Zhang Shan was killing monsters out of boredom while chatting with his team members.

“You guys have been running for so long, did you guys encounter any bosses?”

what kind of boss is this? we’ve been running along the main road and didn’t even look at the monsters. How could we have encountered a boss? ” that’s right. It’s more important to hurry. We didn’t dare to be distracted and kept running.

“What’s the point of meeting a BOSS? there’s four of us, and we don’t even have a single tank. at most, we’ll just bully the purple BOSS, and we won’t waste any energy.”

“Who are you looking down on? I can’t tank the BOSS? No matter what, I’m still a strength-type profession.”

Windcloud blade said unhappily.

you? tank the boss? you’ll be lucky if you can tank a few monsters.

“That’s right, you only have 30000 HP, what’s the use? Even an orange-colored boss might not be able to take it. ” how’s that possible? let’s find an orange-colored boss and try it out later.

then you can try slowly. We still have to rush to Yu Fei’s place to accept the mission, hehe.

His friends were running and blowing at the water, while Zhang Shan could only farm monsters and watch them brag.

When it was time for dinner, he would go to the little demon’s house next door to eat.

He was thick-skinned and ate his fill. After eating, he would return to continue farming monsters.

Time passed by slowly. On the third day, they were getting closer and closer to the position of the Scout leader Yu Fei.

“Haha, we’re about to reach our destination.”

damn it, I’m so tired. Running is much more tiring than killing monsters. I don’t know why some players like to explore the map.

“Is that the same? Other people might find some surprises while exploring the map, but we can only keep running without any surprises.”

how could there be no one? didn’t we encounter a red BOSS before? ” what the f * ck? what’s the point of meeting a red BOSS? we can’t beat it at all.

Speaking of this, everyone was angry. While they were on their way, they actually encountered a red BOSS.

after all, they were constantly on the run, so they wouldn't deliberately look for monsters.

However, a red BOSS had spawned on the side of the road, right in front of their eyes.

However, what was the use? without Zhang Shan, the four of them could not defeat the red BOSS.

None of the four of them could handle it.

wind and cloud blade, who had the most hp, only had around 30000 hp. the red BOSS could kill him in two hits.

Boss Wu was the only support, so he couldn't heal all of them.

It was impossible for Zhang Shan to rush over. He had not marked a location nearby. If he were to ride on a horse, it would take more than a day.

If there was nothing else to do, it would still be worth it to run around for more than a day to fight a red BOSS.

However, his other companions couldn't possibly wait for him there forever. They still had to hurry on their way.

Therefore, they gave up on the red BOSS in the end and were too lazy to fight it. It was more important to find Yu Fei and accept the mission.

"How much longer do you need to get there?"

Zhang Shan asked in the team channel.

almost there. I'll reach Yu Fei's place in half an hour at most.

" alright then. let me know after you receive the quest. i'll teleport over. " damn, that positioning bead of yours is really enviable.

that's right. We've been running for three days, but six-barreled can teleport here directly and arrive in seconds.

"Let's not talk about it anymore. Hurry up and run."

Zhang Shan continued to farm monsters in the beast King Valley. He was about to teleport over and attack the demon Castle together.

Just thinking about it made him a little excited.

Attacking and defending a city was the most exciting thing in the game.

He didn't know if they could take down the demon Castle, but it was better if they didn't all die there.

Especially the four of them. If they spent three days running away ...

In the end, he was surrounded and fell to the ground by the demons in one move. That would be embarrassing.

he hoped that the demons in the castle were not too strong.

After all, the fact that the captain of the scouts, Yu Fei, could issue the mission meant that ...

This city-seizing mission was something that the current players could possibly do.

as long as the system believed that with the current strength of the players, they could complete the quest, there would be no problem.

Without a doubt, their five-man team was the strongest team in the game.

With Zhang Shan alone, he could sweep away countless people, not to mention that the rest of the team were not weak.

Wind and cloud blade had a divine weapon, an axe, while heart moves with me had Two Spirit weapons.

Moreover, they had three ultimate skills. They were definitely the strongest team in the game.

Even boss Wu, who was the weakest in the team, had a full set of red equipment.

Moreover, with all the support skills he had, he could be considered a top-tier support anywhere.

Even with such a strong lineup, they still couldn't take down the demon Castle to complete the mission.

It could only be said that no player could complete this mission.

It was this game that was too much of a scam. Giving them a quest that no one could complete was a pure scam.

Hopefully, that was not the case.

after about half an hour, windcloud blade called out to zhang shan in the party channel.

brother Liu Guan, we've received a mission. Come quickly.

"alright," he said.

After Zhang Shan received the message, he immediately used the positioning Pearl to teleport over. He arrived within seconds.

After everyone had gathered, Zhang Shan asked the others.

"what is your mission? Is it the same as mine?"

"Yes, destroy or occupy the demon Castle, and the mission will be completed."

"Then what's there to say? let's do it."

“What should we do? Are we just going to charge over like this?”

“Then what should we do? Do you have any good suggestions?”

I don’t know, but it’s not good to just rush over like this. That’s too reckless.

we have no choice. No one has ever attacked a city before. We don’t know what kind of strategy it is, so we can only rush through.

“Alright then. I hope that there won’t be tens of thousands of demons rushing out of the castle later.”

even if tens of thousands of Nephilims rush out, we don’t have to be afraid. What we’re afraid of is a group of bosses. If that happens, we really won’t be able to hold on.

“I don’t think so. Would the BOSS be in a group?”

who knows? it’s a Castle, after all. There must be a lot of bosses inside.

that makes sense. I hope that the bosses come one by one. That would be perfect.

in your dreams. If the bosses come one by one, we won’t have to worry about not being able to complete the quest. We can make a fortune just by killing the bosses.

“haha, i’m just thinking about it, don’t take it seriously.”

“don’t worry, we’ll just slowly approach it.”

” let’s go. there’s no use in talking on paper. ”

the five people rapidly approached the demon castle.

Along the way, they would occasionally bump into some scattered demon soldiers. Zhang Shan casually shot them down and then continued to move forward.

“Why are there monsters on this road? Shouldn’t the monsters be coming from both sides of the road in groups?”

The little fairy asked curiously.

why do you care so much? we’ll be done once we see the monsters defeated.

you’re right. We’re going forward anyway. No matter what kind of monster it is, we’ll just push through it.

The five of them killed the monsters they encountered, and it didn’t take long for them to arrive at a place not far from the demon Castle.

A small castle stood in front of them.

The entire Castle only had one gate. From time to time, demon soldiers would enter and exit the castle in groups of two or three.

Although this Castle wasn’t very big, it still had people in it. Oh, no, it should be demonic Qi.

The number of demons in the castle should not be small.

f * ck, when I was standing on the mountain, it looked like a big city. Why is it that when I get closer, I realize that this city is too small? ”

Windcloud blade ridiculed as he looked at the small castle.

“It’s alright, but it depends on what you’re comparing it to. If it’s compared to a giant city like Danyang city, this Demon Castle is naturally very small. If it’s compared to an ancient city, then this Castle should be considered normal.”

that’s right. In ancient times, a city with a radius of ten miles could be considered a big city. This Demon Castle should be at least five miles wide.

“damn, if that’s the case, then this castle really isn’t small. how many demons are there inside?”

who knows? we’ll know after we charge in and see the situation.

I hope we can kill our way in. Don’t get surrounded and beaten up by a bunch of demons at the city gate.

Zhang Shan summoned the Panda dumpling and took the lead, quickly rushing towards the demon Castle.

Before he could even get close to the city gate, he saw two squads of demon soldiers at the gate charging at him.

The key point was that among these two teams of demon Warriors, there were actually two orange bosses.

The captain of the demon guards.

Zhang Shan saw the demon soldiers charging towards him under the lead of the captain of the guards. He immediately stopped in his tracks.

He had to take things one step at a time and deal with the demons guarding the city gate first.

“F * ck, do the bosses here all come in groups? There are two bosses guarding the city gate.”

it’s alright. Orange bosses are nothing to us. We can kill one in less than two to three minutes.

what the f * ck? the point is that we haven’t even entered the city yet and we’ve already encountered two orange bosses. If we enter the city, how many bosses will there be? ”

isn’t that great? don’t you like to fight a BOSS? ”

I like those that can be beaten. If we get ganged up on and killed by the BOSS, would you like it? ” alright, stop talking nonsense. Pay attention to the monsters.

“Let’s clear the small monsters first.”

why go through all that trouble? let's just clear the small monsters and the BOSS.

Zhang Shan controlled the Panda tuan Zi to block in front of him, and then quickly opened fire. One by one, the demon soldiers were beaten to the ground by him.

The others also quickly stepped forward. Only boss Wu didn't stand up, as he had to pay attention to everyone's HP.

This was especially true for Windcloud blade and follow me, the two melee classes.

If boss Wu didn't heal them, they wouldn't even be able to kill the BOSS.

The two of them wouldn't be able to handle such a large group of monsters.

after fighting for a while, zhang shan's target of attack was locked onto a guard captain.

This was because Zhang Shan suddenly realized that he did not have to go out of his way to fight the small monsters.

As long as he attacked the guard Captain, his passive would naturally bounce to other monsters.

After Zhang Shan had attacked the guard Captain, a series of catapults were launched towards the boss 'surroundings.

A large number of the surrounding monsters were knocked down, and soon, new monsters rushed over.

"what the f * ck? there's such a small monster just to guard the city gate?"

yeah, this setting is very unscientific. Shouldn't there only be a few dozen monsters guarding the gate? "

"Why are you thinking so much? hurry up."

As Zhang Shan attacked, he checked the guard captain's attributes.

[demonic Guard Captain (orange): level 50, attack 6000, HP 1000000]

Skill 1, chain gun; skill 2, lethal attack.

[chain shot: the guard Captain stabs twice in a row, causing two damage.]

[critical attack: every time the captain of the guards attacks, there is a certain chance to hit a vital point of the target, dealing three times the damage.]

after looking at the captain's attributes, zhang shan's heart was calm. it was just an ordinary orange BOSS, and it was no pressure to him.

However, he couldn't be careless. This was just the opening dish. The more difficult part was probably yet to come.

The demons in the castle would not be so simple.

under their continuous attacks, the demon soldiers brought by the captain were all cleared out.

There were only two orange-colored bosses left on the scene, and they did not have much health left.

“Haha, this is too simple.”

windcloud blade said smugly as he brandished his god equipment battle axe and slashed at a captain of the guards.

don't be too happy yet. This is just the beginning. Our goal is to complete the quest, not to kill the monsters or the BOSS.

you're right. As long as we can complete the mission, it's better than anything else. The reward for this mission will definitely not be bad.

“I wonder what kind of reward the Scout leader Yu Fei will give us?”

“Will they give each of us a divine artifact?”

“In your dreams. Look at Yu Fei's pauper appearance. Do you think he looks like someone who has a divine artifact? And each of you will get a divine artifact, you really know how to think.”

then what's there to look forward to? to be honest, we don't lack anything other than divine artifacts.

don't worry, this might be the first real mission in the game. The reward will definitely be something that the players need.

that makes sense. The system will understand you. It looks like you don't need anything, but in fact, you might not even know what you're missing.

alright, I'll get a few dozen skill points. I haven't maxed out my skills.

f * ck, you really know how to think. Tens of skill points? it'll be amazing if I give you ten skill points.

To be honest, Zhang Shan did not need skill points. He did not even have a suitable skill book to learn.

But even if he didn't need it, others did.

This was especially so for heart moves. Spellblades had so many skills, and he usually farmed monsters every day. He also rarely went out to fight bosses.

Other than following Zhang Shan and the rest for group activities, it was basically hard to get skill points.

Other than heart with me, the others also needed skill points, but they didn't need them as urgently as heart with me.

It didn't take long for them to destroy the first head guard.

Skill point +1, medal +100.

Not bad, everyone got another skill point. Speaking of this boss in the castle ...

they should be bosses that no one had ever killed before. maybe they could really get a lot of skill points.

Chapter 382 Demon blacksmith after dealing with the two city gate guard captains, zhang shan looked at the drops in his backpack. they were all trash.

there were a few pieces of trash orange-colored equipment and two orange-colored materials, and nothing else.

However, this was considered a normal drop. It was already good enough for an orange-colored boss to drop an orange-colored equipment. He could not ask for too much.

After taking care of the demons guarding the city gate, everyone looked towards the demon Castle.

Everything was still normal, and there were still demons coming in and out in twos and threes.

The demons in the castle didn't seem to have changed because they killed the guards at the gate.

"That's a bit unscientific. We've already killed the city gate guards; why do these demons still access the castle as usual? additionally, no demon fighters are dispatched out of the castle anymore?"

"Don't think too much. We are playing a game, not fighting a war. Don't tell me that just because we killed the guards at the city gate, those demons are going to close the city gate?"

"that's right. if the nephilims close the city gate, how are we going to complete the quest? we can't enter at all. players can't climb walls in the game. "

"What do we do now? Are we going to rush in now?"

why don't we wait a little longer and see if the BOSS has come out yet? it should be easier to deal with it outside, but once we enter the castle, who knows how many bosses there are inside? "

"Don't be silly. This is probably a game mechanism. We just have to fight our way there."

"that's right, that's probably the case. this city-seizing mission is probably similar to an instance dungeon. the corresponding BOSS will only appear when we reach a certain level. "

"Then what's the point of talking? let's kill our way in."

since none of them had ever done such a mission in a new world, it didn't matter whether they guessed it right or not. in the end, they still had to rush over.

The five of them approached the gate of the demon Castle together.

Zhang Shan controlled the Panda bear to walk at the front. Although he was a fragile little hunter, he was still one of the five people present.

He was the meaty one, and there was also a Panda dumpling.

As for the other four, like wind and cloud blade and heart moves, even though these two were strength-type jobs, in terms of HP, they had to be careful.

Zhang Shan could leave them 18 streets behind.

Needless to say, the most meaty one opened the way.

Zhang Shan carefully approached the city gate. Suddenly, from the city gate, a few arrows were shot towards him.

the panda dumpling, who was walking in front, had 10000 damage points appearing above his head.

He couldn't figure it out. He didn't see any demons on the city gate.

Zhang Shan controlled the Panda bear to retreat quickly and said to his friends at the same time.

don't follow us. Pay attention to what's on the top of the city wall.

"We saw it. There are two arrow towers on the city wall."

Wind and cloud blade said to him.

Zhang Shan was a little confused. Did the others see it? why was he the only one who had not seen it?

he raised his head to look at the city gate and saw two arrow towers.

The Archer Tower was not big. If it were not for the arrow that had just been shot, no one would have noticed it.

"What do we do now? Are we going to charge forward with two arrow towers?"

Zhang Shan looked at the arrow tower and asked the others.

Judging from the damage the arrow tower had done to the Panda fighter, it should not be a problem for him to rush over with the arrow tower.

Although the arrow tower's attack speed was very fast, a single attack only dealt 10000 damage. With his HP, he could completely withstand it.

But even if Zhang Shan could hold on, the others couldn't.

Moreover, if he charged forward while taking the damage from the arrow tower, another boss would appear from the castle. then what should he do?

Therefore, he still had to think of a way. It would be best if he could take care of the arrow towers first.

Zhang Shan tried to check the attributes of the arrow tower, and he could really see it.

[arrow Tower: 1-star defensive equipment. Attack power: 10000. Range: 100 yards. HP: 1000000. Attack interval: 0.5 seconds. Effective when placed within the city.]

Although the two arrow towers were not as powerful as the six-barrel Vulcan cannon, they were still very powerful.

the arrow towers had 10000 attack power. with two attacks per second, the two arrow towers could deal four damage per second.

Only Zhang Shan and the Panda bear could withstand it. If it were anyone else, they would probably be killed the moment they got close.

Zhang Shan looked at the two arrow towers. He was considering how to take them down.

The arrow towers had health points, which meant that they could be destroyed.

Zhang Shan said to his friends.

how are we going to charge? should we destroy the arrow towers first before we enter the city? ”

The arrow tower only had a million HP, so it was not difficult to fight it. As long as Zhang Shan was in front, everyone could fight it together.

In less than a minute, they could destroy both arrow towers.

after hearing zhang shan’s question, wind and cloud blade said gloomily.

” how are we going to fight this? the arrow tower is on top of the city gate. it’s so high that we can’t hit it as melee fighters. ”

it’s fine. You two can just watch the show. Leave it to us.

The little fairy said confidently.

The gate tower of this Demon Castle was not very high. Standing at the foot of the gate, he could hit the arrow tower.

Little fairy was an Archer and her attack range was quite far. She should be able to hit her.

As for wind and cloud blade and heart moves with me, these two could probably only stand guard at the side.

They couldn’t go up the city gate tower, and the arrow tower only had one million HP, so they would be fine without the two of them.

When Zhang Shan and the little fairy fought, it would also be very fast.

“Let’s go. You’ll take down the same arrow tower I took down?”

Zhang Shan reminded the little fairy as he approached the city gate.

he was afraid that little fairy would not pay attention and attract the aggro of the other arrow tower. if that happened, she would not be able to withstand the damage of the arrow tower.

Zhang Shan, under the control of the Panda dumpling, ran quickly towards the city gate.

He planned to tank the damage from the arrow tower himself. After all, he had more health than the Panda fighter.

With boss Wu healing him, it was easy for him to withstand the damage of the two arrow towers.

When he was 100 yards away from the arrow tower, arrows were shot at him.

Each arrow dealt 10000 damage, and his defense seemed to be completely useless.

The arrow tower actually dealt full damage.

i wonder what kind of mechanism this is?

however, it didn't matter. he could still hold on for the time being.

Zhang Shan ran in front, and boss Wu followed behind him to heal.

the others quickly followed behind.

When he reached the city gate, Zhang Shan aimed at one of the arrow towers and fired.

The first shot was a Holy attack, dealing 500000 damage. With this one shot, half of the arrow tower's HP was gone.

f * ck, the six-barreled boss is really a monster. A single shot can deal 500000 damage. This can probably kill a mini-boss, right? "

Windcloud blade said nonchalantly from the side.

it's really possible. Purple bosses below level 20 have less than 500000 HP.

this is ridiculous. We're not playing the same game. This gap is simply intolerable.

"We're playing the official version, he's playing the private one, hehe."

After Zhang Shan started his attack, little fairy also joined in the attack. The two of them destroyed the first arrow tower in a short while.

He then turned to attack another arrow tower.

When he destroyed the arrow tower, not only did he not drop anything, but he also did not gain any experience.

Things like city-guarding equipment did not seem to belong to the monster category, unless it was really necessary.

Otherwise, there was no need to fight at all. There was no benefit in just wasting energy.

When Zhang Shan and the little fairy started to attack the second arrow tower, a few more demon soldiers ran out from the castle.

Windcloud blade, who had been standing idly by the side, quickly used charge and slashed at the demon warrior.

Fortunately, there were not many demon soldiers that ran out. There were only a few, and Zhang Shan did not need to clear them up.

Wind and cloud blade had easily taken care of it all by himself.

what the hell? why are there always demons coming in and out of the castle? it's making people panic. I wonder how many demons there are in the city.

“Why do we care so much? no matter how many demons there are, we’ll just kill our way through.”

Very quickly, Zhang Shan and the little fairy had destroyed the remaining arrow tower.

Now, they could be considered to have truly opened the passage to the demon Castle. As long as they passed through the gate, they could enter the city.

“Let’s go,” he said.

After clearing the two arrow towers, Zhang Shan led the way into the castle.

When they passed through the gate and entered the castle, the scene inside was completely different from what they had imagined.

There were not many demon soldiers in the castle. To be precise, there were very few demon soldiers in the castle.

At least, they did not see many of them.

He looked at the demons walking back and forth on the streets of the castle in groups of two or three.

They didn’t rush over rashly. These demon soldiers were just small fish and shrimps, not worth mentioning.

the key was what to do next?

Their mission was to destroy or occupy the castle, but what should they do to complete the mission?

“What do we do now?”

after entering the castle, everyone was a little dumbfounded and had no idea where to start.

The little fairy suddenly said.

“Look at the minimap. After we entered the castle, the minimap showed the layout of the city.”

The little demon was more careful.

At her reminder, everyone opened the mini-map and could clearly see the layout of the castle.

The key point was that inside the castle, although there were rows of buildings on both sides of the street, on the map.

Only a few buildings were marked with names.

do these named buildings have bosses inside? do we have to kill all these bosses to complete the quest?

“That’s a little too much.”

“Isn’t it good to have more? I like it when there are many bosses. They’re all experience points and skill points. If we’re lucky, we might even get some good items.”

don’t be too happy yet. We don’t even know if there’s a BOSS in these buildings.

why are you so conflicted? just find the nearest building and go over to take a look.

then go find the demon blacksmiths. They'll be closer to us.

There were five named locations on the minimap.

They were the demon race's Smithy, demon race medicinal workshop, demon race's altar, city defense garrison commander's Manor, and city Lord's Manor.

The five of them quickly ran to the demon blacksmith shop. On the way, they knocked down the demon soldiers who were walking back and forth on the streets.

it was strange that they did not attract the attention of the other bosses in the city.

this demon castle might really be a different kind of instance.

they had to push forward step by step and kill the bosses in the city one by one before they could complete the dungeon and complete the city-seizing mission.

When they arrived at the demon's Smithy.

Zhang Shan stood outside the blacksmith's shop and saw a demon inside. He was waving a hammer and hitting the iron pieces continuously.

Above this demon's head was a bright red name-demon blacksmith.

Seeing the situation in the blacksmith shop, the other companions of wind and cloud blade shouted.

"Damn, even a blacksmith is a red boss? Then wouldn't the few spots in the castle be filled with red bosses?"

"It doesn't matter if it's a red BOSS, but I'm afraid it'll be a real name BOSS."

what if there's a real-name BOSS? what are we going to do? there's only four of us. Can we even defeat a real-name BOSS? " of course not. Do you think all real name bosses are as stupid as the Zombie King? " that's troublesome. Should we call someone over to help us complete the quest? I think the city Lord will at least be a BOSS with a real name.

Windcloud blade said after hesitating for a while.

don't worry, the city Lord is definitely a real name BOSS. We don't know what the other bosses are like. If they are all red bosses, we still have a chance to take them down.

Zhang Shan answered affirmatively. However, he felt that there was no need to call for backup for the time being. They could try it themselves.

how do we deal with it? it's a real name BOSS. I wonder how strong it will be? " so what if he's strong? when we accepted the mission, didn't that Scout leader Fei say that the demon race's city Lord was injured by him? we might only need to deal with one injured and weak real-name BOSS. There should be a chance of defeating it.

Zhang Shan had just finished speaking when his friends were all shocked.

“Did Yu Fei say that? How come I don’t remember?”

“i remember my conversation with the captain of the scouts, yu fei, very clearly. he didn’t say anything.”

What?

Didn’t he say anything?

However, Zhang Shan remembered very clearly that the captain of the scouts, Yu Fei, had indeed told him that.

could it be that everyone’s conversation with the npc was different even though it was the same quest?

“Did you remember correctly? I really remember Yu Fei telling me that. Could it be that the content of our conversation is different?”

“That’s possible. Brother Liu Guan, don’t remember wrongly. Otherwise, it would be embarrassing if we saw a powerful Demon City Lord when we reached the city Lord’s mansion.”

“That’s right, at that time, it would be too late to call for backup.”

“If I remember correctly, that’s what Yu Fei told me.”

zhang shan recalled the contents of his conversation with yu fei and said with certainty.

as long as I remember correctly, we still have a chance to deal with an injured real name boss.

“Don’t think so far ahead, let’s deal with the demon blacksmith in front of us first.”

what’s there to panic about? it’s a blacksmith. You don’t have to think about it. It’s a physical dummy monster. It’s easy to deal with.

“That’s hard to say, we’ll only know after we try.”

“You guys don’t go in yet, I’ll take the BOSS.”

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he went straight to the blacksmith shop.

Out of the five of them, he was the only one who could hold off the red BOSS.

The others couldn’t do it. They might be hit by the blacksmith and fall to the ground.

Chapter 383 There is something

Zhang Shan walked into the blacksmith shop, controlling the Panda dumpling to stay at the side.

He didn’t plan to let the Panda bear go up and fight the monster.

Although the Panda ball's defense was very high, and it also had a passive skill that reduced damage, it was still very weak.

The quality of his blood was much stronger than Zhang Shan's.

However, they only had boss Wu as an auxiliary class. If he were to rely on him alone to heal the Panda team, he probably wouldn't be able to do it.

The Panda ball didn't have any lifesteal or health-recovering skills, so it had to rely on boss Wu to heal it.

It was just a support, how could he be able to add more?

It was better for Zhang Shan to tank the monster himself. His equipment had a life-steal effect, even if there was no support to add blood.

He could last for a long time alone.

his current attack power was 45000, and with boss Wu's attack blessing, he could attack at any time.

His attack power was over 50000, and with his 13% life-steal effect, if he could deal full damage, he could recover more than 6000 HP with each attack.

In addition, his attack speed was definitely much faster than the demon blacksmith.

In other words, every time the demon BlackSmith HIT Zhang Shan, he could absorb more than 10000 HP.

Not to mention that boss Wu was healing him from behind.

Even if there was no support, he would be able to take on the red boss for a long time.

As long as Zhang Shan strengthened the lifesteal effect, he might be able to defeat the blacksmith alone.

After seeing Zhang Shan enter the blacksmith shop, the demon blacksmith stopped forging.

Instead, he waved his hammer and quickly rushed towards Zhang Shan.

Damn it, did he have to be so crazy?

Zhang Shan felt that this demon blacksmith was like a madman. Its aggro range seemed to be a little too wide.

As soon as he entered the blacksmith shop, he attracted the hatred of the demon blacksmiths.

Although Zhang Shan was surprised, it did not affect the speed of his attack.

When the demon blacksmith rushed towards him, Zhang Shan quickly opened fire.

The bullets flew towards the demon blacksmith, and damage appeared above the blacksmith's head.

Almost at the same time as Zhang Shan opened fire, the demon blacksmith had also rushed in front of him.

It was seen waving its hammer and smashing at Zhang Shan.

zhang shan's head was also constantly showing damage, -21358, -23119, 102527.

The regular damage that the Nephilim blacksmith dealt to him was only around 20000, which was the damage of a normal red BOSS.

It wasn't special, so it shouldn't be too strong.

With Zhang Shan's close to 500000 hp, even if he stood there and let the demon blacksmith hit him.

It would probably take more than 20 hits to kill him.

Not to mention, his lifesteal effect could also restore a large amount of HP.

However, the demon race blacksmith seemed to have a very strong critical hit passive skill.

It had actually caused Zhang Shan to lose 100000 HP. This was not something to be underestimated.

However, Zhang Shan's total HP was close to 500000.

They would not pose much of a threat to him. Zhang Shan was still able to handle it.

After taking a series of damage, Zhang Shan's health did not seem to have dropped much.

If it wasn't for the critical hit, his lifesteal speed would almost be as fast as the damage of the demonic blacksmith.

The demon blacksmith couldn't kill him at all, at least in the beginning.

After Zhang Shan held the demon blacksmith back, his friends also rushed into the blacksmith shop.

Wind and cloud blade and heart moves me rushed over and slashed, while little fairy stood not far from Zhang Shan and shot arrows.

As for boss Wu, he was originally prepared to heal Zhang Shan.

However, looking at Zhang Shan's blood volume, it had always been very healthy.

He also used the lightning strike skill and kept attacking the demon blacksmith.

Only when Zhang Shan's HP had dropped to half would boss Wu make a move, using rejuvenation and enhanced rejuvenation continuously.

After a series of fierce operations, Zhang Shan's health was raised.

At other times, he did not need to heal Zhang Shan. Instead, he joined in the ranks of attacking the BOSS.

Although boss Wu was only a support Taoist priest, his damage was not weak.

His full set of red equipment could also reach more than 4000 attack power, and the lightning strike skill increased the damage by 50%.

Boss Wu's attacks dealt about 6000 damage each time, which was considered very strong for most players.

However, among the five of them, he was really too weak.

Boss Wu cast lightning strike again and again, and it was extremely slow.

It was far slower than the other four people, who were able to slash at a much faster speed.

Especially Zhang Shan. Every time boss Wu used a skill, Zhang Shan would be able to fire three or four shots. Their damage output was completely incomparable.

Zhang Shan continued to attack while checking the attributes and skills of the demon blacksmith.

[demonic blacksmith (red): level 50, attack 12000, health points 6000000]

Skill 1, blacksmith hammer technique, skill 2, heavy hammer, skill 3, precise strike, skill 4, crazed devil hammer. Status: Holy demon's protection.

[blacksmith's hammer technique: demon blacksmiths use their hammers to hit iron blocks day and night. This unique hammer technique will deal double damage to the target when attacking.]

[heavy hammer: the demonic blacksmith will occasionally show his power and display extraordinary hammer skills, causing five times the damage to the target.]

[precise strike (passive): due to the demon blacksmith's daily blacksmithing, he can accurately hit a key position every time. when attacking, there is a high chance of hitting the target's vital point and dealing five times the damage.]

[crazed devil hammer: a peerless hammer technique created by the devil blacksmiths when they go crazy.]

After using this hammer technique, with the demonic blacksmith as the center, it will deal five times the damage to all targets within a 50-yard radius.

After seeing the skills of the demon blacksmith, Zhang Shan felt that he had underestimated it.

If it wasn't for his high HP, their five-man team might not have been able to deal with this demon blacksmith.

Other than the first minor skill, all the skills of the demonic blacksmith dealt five times the damage.

Who could stand this?

Fortunately, the demonic blacksmith was only a normal red BOSS, so its basic attack power was not high.

its attack power was only 12000, and with the double damage from its minor skills, it only had a little more than 20000 damage in theory.

Even if the demonic blacksmith could deal five times the damage, it would only be 100000 damage. Zhang Shan could still take it.

this was only zhang shan. if it was someone else, the tower could collapse at any time.

Moreover, the demon blacksmith's passive skill was only a critical hit passive with a certain probability.

It was not always able to maintain five times the damage, but it would only occasionally trigger a critical hit. Otherwise, there would be three or four support to heal Zhang Shan.

He was afraid that he wouldn't be able to take it.

Zhang Shan pulled the boss steadily, and the five of them attacked the boss continuously.

However, the demon blacksmith's 60 million HP wasn't so easy to take down.

Moreover, this was not the beast King Valley. The demons here were all under the protection of a Holy demon.

Damage received is halved.

With Zhang Shan's 50000 attack power, each shot only dealt 20000 damage.

As for the other people in the team, the damage they could deal was even less.

If they wanted to beat up this demon blacksmith, they would really have to spend a lot of effort.

Zhang Shan estimated that if the critical effect was more frequent, he could deal about five million damage in a minute.

With the other four added together, they could probably deal at most two to three million damage in a minute.

Considering that the BOSS had a certain HP recovery effect, they would need about ten minutes to kill the Nephilim blacksmith.

This was only the first BOSS in the castle. He didn't know if the other bosses would be more difficult.

Take it slow, as long as he could win.

Under everyone's violent fire, the demon blacksmith's HP slowly decreased.

Not long after, the blacksmith's HP had dropped by 20%.

After the demon blacksmith lost 20% of its health, it raised its hammer.

After charging for a while, it smashed down towards Zhang Shan.

A terrifying damage value appeared above Zhang Shan's head, -250673.

the demonic blacksmith used its second skill, heavy hammer, which dealt five times the damage.

The key was that when the demon blacksmith used the heavy hammer skill, it also triggered the five times critical effect of precision strike.

A single hammer strike had reduced Zhang Shan's HP by 250000. It was very terrifying. It had directly reduced his HP to almost zero.

Fortunately, Zhang Shan's blood volume was high enough. Otherwise, that blow just now would have sent him away.

The BOSS's second skill could deal 200000 damage. They had never seen such a situation before.

Even when they were fighting real-name bosses, they had never encountered such a situation.

He had to admit that this demon blacksmith was really something.

Its accuracy passive skill, when activated in conjunction with other skills, was truly terrifying.

With such a powerful injury, other than an unconventional existence like Zhang Shan, who else could withstand it?

The demonic blacksmith's hammer dealt explosive damage, which shocked everyone.

Boss Wu immediately stopped his attack and quickly helped Zhang Shan raise his health.

The others were also very surprised. Although everyone had seen the attributes and skills of the demon race blacksmith, they were all shocked.

However, no one had expected that the demon blacksmith could actually deal such a huge amount of damage.

This was a little ridiculous. When the skill was used, it just happened to trigger a critical hit.

Could it be that this demonic blacksmith also had 10 points of luck? otherwise, how could he be so fierce?

"F * ck, am I seeing this right? just now, the demon blacksmith took out six tubes of 250000 HP in one go? It's simply blinding my dog eyes."

you didn't see it wrong. Didn't you see that the blood volume of six tubes was emptied in an instant? " what the f * ck? 250000 HP in one hit? that's much more powerful than our ultimate skill.

don't compare a player to a BOSS. With your basic attack, even if it's five or ten times the damage, it's useless.

our attack power isn't good, but six-barreled's attack power is high. His basic attack power is much higher than the demon blacksmith's.

don't mention that inhuman six Guan. He's different from us. He's even stronger than a BOSS. How can we compete with him? " yeah, just now, the demon blacksmith dealt 250000 damage in one hit and still couldn't defeat six tubes. He's really strong.

six-barreled has nearly 500000 HP now. How can the demonic blacksmith kill him? as long as there are enough support, there is no BOSS at this stage that can kill him.

“What the f * ck, this is a Hunter profession? if those guardian warriors see six-barrel’s health, they’ll probably jump off a building, hehe.”

“Haha, now that I think about it this way, I feel a little better. If we’re talking about dissatisfaction, it should be those Guardian Warriors.”

Everyone kept blowing water and attacking. The demon blacksmith’s health slowly dropped to nearly 50%.

During this period, the demon blacksmith also used the heavy hammer skill three times, but it was no longer like before, when the skill was used, it just happened to hit the critical effect.

Without a critical hit, the hammer skill of the demon blacksmith could only deal five times the damage.

That was less than 60000 damage. To Zhang Shan, whose total HP had reached 500000, this amount of damage was not a threat at all.

He didn’t even need boss Wu to heal him, and he could easily survive on his own.

when the demon blacksmith’s health was left with 51%.

the others quickly backed away. the new world’s game mechanism, no matter what BOSS it was, was different.

As long as his HP was below 50%, he would definitely use his ultimate skill.

The demonic blacksmith’s crazed devil hammer was also a skill that dealt five times the damage.

Although the damage from a single move was not enough to threaten Zhang Shan, the others could not take it.

As long as they were hit by the demon blacksmith’s big move, they would fall to the ground.

Therefore, when the HP of the Nephilim blacksmith dropped to almost half, they had to retreat and wait for the BOSS to finish using his big move.

He would have to see if he could continue to come up and join the attack.

Although Zhang Shan was the only one left to deal damage, he was not much slower than when everyone was fighting together.

It didn’t take long for the demon blacksmith to be beaten to half health.

When his health dropped to half, the demon blacksmith suddenly stopped attacking Zhang Shan. He stood there in a daze.

Just as Zhang Shan was scratching his head, the demon blacksmith, who had been in a daze for a while, suddenly said, ”

It suddenly became like a madman, waving the hammer in its hand into shadows.

A large wave of damage spread out like a Gale.

After a while, the demon blacksmith returned to normal. He continued to swing his hammer at Zhang Shan like before.

The demon blacksmith's big move might look powerful, but it did not pose any threat to Zhang Shan.

With the demon blacksmith's basic attack of more than 10000, its crazy devil Hammer's big move had five times the damage.

At most, he could only take away 60000 of Zhang Shan's HP, unless it was the demon blacksmith, and it happened to trigger the critical effect of precision strike.

"What the hell was that? was that the demon blacksmith's big move? Why does it seem so strange?"

"who cares? the BOSS is done with his ultimate. let's continue."

"If we go up and the demon blacksmith uses his big move again, what should we do?"

"Then run! Didn't you see that the demon blacksmith was in a daze for a while before releasing his big move? If we see it in a daze, we'll run."

"F * ck, could it be that when the demon blacksmith was in a daze, he was casting a big move?"

who knows? anyway, as long as there are signs before it uses its ultimate move, we can escape in advance.

It didn't matter if the demon blacksmith was in a daze or not.

It was fine as long as everyone could see it before it used its ultimate move.

Chapter 384 Passive precision strike

After the demonic blacksmith used his ultimate skill, everyone continued to attack.

After boss Wu had filled up Zhang Shan's health, he also attacked the BOSS.

After the demon blacksmith's big moves, everyone was clear about the BOSS's routine.

What happened after that was simple. As long as they saw the demon blacksmith in a daze, the others would quickly retreat.

Zhang Shan continued to attack. After a few rounds of big moves, the Nephilim blacksmith was quickly hit by them and entered a state of frenzy.

however, a berserk demon blacksmith was just like that.

with zhang shan, the big meaty guy, steadily tanking the BOSS, the others just had to bury their heads in the attack.

They were just sitting ducks and didn't need to worry about anything.

After continuing to attack for two to three minutes, the demon blacksmith's health was empty. Zhang Shan quickly controlled the Panda ball to move forward.

To kill the BOSS, the Panda bear was the professional. Zhang Shan saw the right time and controlled the Panda bear to use a combo skill to kill the demon blacksmith.

[system announcement: congratulations to six-barreled Bodhisattva, wind and cloud blade, and heart moves with me, for successfully killing the demonic blacksmith.]

Skill point +1, medal +100.

≪ system notification: your passive King talent has been activated by killing the demonic blacksmith. You have obtained the passive skill, precision strike. ≫

Hearing the system notification, Zhang Shan was very happy. He was even happier than when he was receiving the system announcement.

The first kill of the BOSS would only reward him with a skill point. He didn't lack skill points, so why would he need that thing?

Passive skills were really useful. He didn't expect the demon blacksmiths to be so generous.

He had given up his passive skill so easily.

Moreover, this passive skill was quite good. It dealt five times the critical damage.

Although he had not seen the skill's description, he estimated that the 5x damage would not change.

Don't think too much about the trigger rate.

skills like this, after he obtained it through the passive king talent, basically had a 1% chance of triggering.

However, a 1% chance of triggering it was not a big deal.

All he needed to do was to get a few more similar skills. Every passive skill had a 1% chance of triggering.

When he had enough skills, he could also trigger critical hits continuously.

It was still powerful, but the key was that he didn't have to pay any price for these passive skills.

He didn't have to spend a single cent, not even a skill point. It was simply a waste of skills, and it felt great.

Zhang Shan took a look at the skill description.

[precise strike (passive): accurately strikes the vital point of the target, dealing 5x the damage. Trigger rate: 1%.]

After reading the description of the precision strike skill, Zhang Shan felt that it was okay.

Although it only had a 1% chance of triggering, it was still a critical hit that dealt five times the damage.

He now had three passive skills that could deal a 5x critical hit.

A heavy blow from a wild boar King, a push back from a Demon Archer, and this precise strike.

He was really getting stronger and stronger.

The demonic blacksmith had been killed, the five bosses of the city-seizing mission.

They could be considered to have solved one. In general, it was not very difficult.

He hoped that the next four bosses would be the same. He hoped that they would not be given some disgusting bosses.

Otherwise, there would be a lot to do.

They were just afraid that they wouldn't be able to beat them. After all, they only had five players and their class composition couldn't be adjusted.

it was completely up to zhang shan to tank the BOSS. if he couldn't, then there was nothing left to do.

"Brother Liu Guan, let's see if anything good dropped."

you're overthinking. It's just a red BOSS. What good items can it drop? " that's hard to say. There's still a chance that a red BOSS will drop an ultimate skill book.

Zhang Shan looked at his backpack and could not help but shake his head. The items dropped by this demon blacksmith were really trash.

Even though it was a Panda ball, the final kill still didn't have any good items.

Zhang Shan said after displaying the dropped items on the team channel.

"just a few pieces of trash."

The demonic blacksmith only gave them two red equipment and one red material.

That was all. It didn't even drop the most common skill book. It was a complete trash BOSS.

that's f * cking garbage. Let's not split it up. Let's continue to look for the next BOSS.

"Who knows, the next BOSS might drop something good."

"What good stuff do you want? isn't the mission good? As long as I can complete my mission."

you're right. The mission is the most important. I hope the Scout leader, Yu Fei, won't be too stingy.

"I don't think so. After all, he has a name."

"Isn't it normal for NPCs to have names? NPCs aren't bosses, so most of them have names."

why do you have to break my fantasy? can't you just let me look forward to it? "

" stop dreaming. we'll know when we finish the quest, right? "

"Let's go to the next BOSS."

"Then which one are we going to fight?"

do you even need to ask? of course, we're going to find the apothecary. He's closer to us.

The five of them quickly ran to the apothecary's workshop.

However, they didn't rush in rashly. Instead, they first observed the outside of the apothecary workshop.

Inside the workshop, a messy-haired demon was fiddling with some bottles and jars.

His mouth was still mumbling non-stop, and no one knew what he was muttering.

Above this demon's head was a bright red name, demon medicine master.

It was also a red BOSS without a name.

it was just a normal red BOSS, and he didn't know if it would be easy to deal with.

"What do we do with this BOSS?"

Wind and cloud blade asked Zhang Shan.

The demon medicine master wasn't like a blacksmith, who held a big hammer and looked like a physical monster.

they were usually not afraid of physical monsters. zhang shan had such a high amount of health, and he even had the lifesteal effect.

With boss Wu's healing, he could definitely take on a normal red-colored physical BOSS.

But this demon medicine master was different. He actually didn't see his weapon.

Could it be that this demon medicine master was using the bottles and jars in his hands as weapons?

"What else can I do? I'll go up and try. Pay attention to healing me."

Zhang Shan also did not know how to fight this demon medicine master.

However, it didn't matter if they didn't know. They were all reckless anyway, so they could just fight.

anyway, he had a lot of hp and wouldn't die in a short time.

He couldn't possibly say that a normal red BOSS like this could kill him instantly.

That was impossible. He had nearly 500000 HP, and it wasn't for show.

Zhang Shan walked into the medicine master's workshop. The demon medicine master inside quickly reacted.

He didn't even have time to shoot when the demon medicine master took a small bottle and threw it at him.

Damage -43681.

As a normal red BOSS, the demon apothecary's single attack could cause more than 40000 damage to Zhang Shan.

It was already very terrifying, almost twice as strong as the demon blacksmiths, and couldn't be underestimated.

And besides this damage value, after being attacked by the demon apothecary, Zhang Shan also had a poisoned status, losing 2000 HP per second.

Was he a f * cking apothecary? He must be a poison master.

Something with such high damage and poison would probably not be easy to deal with. It would be even more troublesome if there were a large number of poison skills.

Although he was a little speechless, Zhang Shan was not slow either. He held the hand cannon and aimed it at the demon medicine master, firing continuously.

At the same time, he said to his other friends.

don't come up first. Let's wait to see the demon race's medicine master's skills.

zhang shan felt that it was better for everyone not to work together. this boss looked a little strange.

it could actually release poison.

if the demon medicine master's poison was surface-level, then what if the others followed?

wouldn't he fall to the ground in an instant?

Therefore, Zhang Shan told the others not to enter the apothecary workshop first. They had to wait until he had seen the skills of the demon apothecary.

Zhang Shan continued to attack. He checked the attributes and skills of the demon medicine master.

[demon apothecary (red): level 50, attack 12000, HP 6000000]

Skill 1, potion bullet attack, skill 2, I poison, skill 3, medicine mastery, skill 4, poison mist. Status: Holy demon's protection.

[potion bomb: the demon apothecary uses potions as a means of attack, dealing double damage to the target. the poison damage will also spread to a five-yard radius around the target.]

[I am poisonous: in addition to refining life-saving medicine, the demon apothecary is also proficient in the principles of poison. All of its attacks contain fatal poison, causing an additional 2000 damage per second to the target.]

[medicine mastery: the demon race's medicine master is proficient in medicine. Each medicine attack will deal twice the damage to the target.]

[poison mist: when the demon apothecary's life is threatened, it will set up a poison mist around itself.]

All targets within the poisonous fog's range will receive 10000 poison damage per second. Effective range: 50 yards.

[Holy demon's protection: a protection state blessed by the Holy demon. Damage received is reduced by 50%. Will lose its effect after passing Heaven's Gate.]

After seeing the attributes and skills of the demon race's medicine master, Zhang Shan could not help but sigh.

This demon medicine master was really f * cking poisonous. All of his attacks were poisonous.

Fortunately, at the start, the poison damage per second was only 2000. This amount of damage was not a big problem for Zhang Shan.

As for the other skills of the demon medicine master, although they were disgusting, they were still considered normal.

It would not be a fatal threat to Zhang Shan. With boss Wu's healing, he could beat him.

Zhang Shan said after displaying the attributes and skills of the demon medicine master in the team channel.

" let's fight together. be careful not to stand beside me. the demon apothecary's attack is a small area of effect damage. the priest can just use his sword to heal me. you don't have to attack the BOSS. "

The damage of this demon pharmacist was much higher than the damage of the demon blacksmith.

He needed boss Wu to keep healing him. Otherwise, he wouldn't be able to last long with his lifesteal effect.

Although the demon apothecary was an ordinary red BOSS, its basic attack power was just so-so.

However, with all sorts of double damage, in addition to the poison damage of 2000 per second, Zhang Shan was not confident that he could last long.

however, with boss wu's healing, there would be no problem.

After all, no matter how high the damage of the demon apothecary was, he was still a magic monster, and his attack speed couldn't be that fast.

The damage done to Zhang Shan per unit of time was still within an acceptable range.

The others had seen the BOSS 'attributes and skills that Zhang Shan had displayed.

He quickly rushed into the apothecary's workshop and followed Zhang Shan to attack the demon apothecary.

windcloud blade ridiculed as he brandished his battle axe.

why is this demon medicine master so poisonous? wouldn't we be unable to continue fighting halfway through? " that's right. The demon apothecary's ultimate skill will probably last for half of its HP. It'll deal 10000 damage per second. How can we withstand it? " it's fine. The damage output of the three of us combined is not even half of six-barreled boss's. He's fighting the BOSS alone, so he won't be too slow.

although you're telling the truth, why do I feel so displeased when I hear it? are we all slackers? " haha, face reality, young man. We're just slackers.

this demon medicine master is really poisonous. Big Boss six-barrel is about to turn green from the poison.

Zhang Shan had been focused on attacking the BOSS and had not interrupted their bragging.

But how could they say that? how could they say that he had been poisoned? He really doesn't know how to use words, does he?

Although this was the truth, Zhang Shan's body was constantly emitting green poisonous wounds.

His entire body was about to change color, but he was poisoned green. This wasn't nice.

He was still single, how could he be cheated on?

"Hurry up and kill it. This is only the second boss. There's still more to fight."

Zhang Shan couldn't let them continue to be poisoned green, so he interrupted.

"what's the rush? there are only five bosses in total. it won't take long."

" yeah, we can kill one in ten minutes. if we kill all five of them together, we'll probably be able to defeat them in an hour. " don't think too highly of yourself. Not all bosses can be dealt with so easily.

what's there to be afraid of? with six-barreled boss around, no matter how strong the BOSS is, it won't be a problem.

" you're right. brother guan can even take down a real-name BOSS. what's a normal red BOSS to him? " little fairy, you're getting cocky. Since when did a red BOSS become a small one? "

"Hehe, does that depend on who you're talking to? To noobs like us, the red BOSS might be extremely powerful, but to brother Guan, isn't it just a small fry?"

"that makes sense. hurry up and fight, you guys."

Under everyone's hard attack, the demon medicine master's HP dropped rapidly.

Although they were both level 50 bosses, the demon apothecary seemed to be more fragile than the blacksmith.

Maybe the defense of the magic monster was lower.

As everyone fought, the boss's HP dropped much faster.

When his health dropped by 20%, there was no change in the demon pharmacist.

he continued to throw medicine bottles at zhang shan as usual.

The demon apothecary only had two active skills. One was a small skill, medicine bomb attack, and the other was a big skill, poison mist.

before its hp dropped to half, it would not use its ultimate skill.

Hence, he could only keep on throwing potions at Zhang Shan and using his first small skill to attack.

Although the damage done by the demon medicine master was still quite severe, it was not much of a threat to Zhang Shan.

even boss wu, who was a healer, did not have to keep healing zhang shan.

After healing for a while, Zhang Shan's health would be full, and he could still find time to attack the demon medicine master.

Although it wasn't as easy as when he was fighting the demon blacksmith.

However, it was not too far off. The main thing was that Zhang Shan was too strong. He only needed a support to coordinate with him.

Zhang Shan felt that there was no normal red BOSS that he could not defeat.

Chapter 385 The formula for the great cyclic pellet

Although the poison of the demon medicine master was very disgusting, Zhang Shan's blood volume was very high.

when dealing with such a disgusting BOSS, hp was very important.

As long as he could withstand the damage from the demon medicine master, there would be no problem in blowing it up.

after all, even though there were only five of them, they didn't lack damage output.

Under everyone's fierce attacks, the demon medicine master's HP slowly decreased.

After about five or six minutes of fighting, the demon medicine master's HP was almost reduced by half.

"Let's leave the apothecary workshop first and see what the demon apothecary's poison mist is like."

alright, let brother Guan do it alone. He's fast anyway.

" we're fighting a BOSS and we're only able to fight half of it. that's already very annoying. " what's there to be unhappy about? you can stay here and try out the power of the poison mist of the demon race's apothecary.

"Then forget it, I don't want to die yet."

The others left the apothecary workshop together when the demon apothecary's HP was about to drop to half.

boss wu was standing outside the workshop, healing zhang shan.

Now, although Zhang Shan was the only one dealing damage, he was not slow.

It didn't take long for him to reduce the demon medicine master's health to 50%.

When the demon medicine master's HP dropped to half.

It took out a huge can from somewhere and smashed it on the ground.

After a while, a large amount of poisonous fog spread out and quickly covered Zhang Shan.

Under the shroud of the poisonous fog, Zhang Shan's health dropped even faster.

other than when he was attacked by the demon apothecary, every attack would take away 40000 of his hp.

The poisonous mist could still cause him to lose 10000 HP every second. This damage was simply a little terrifying.

The only normal thing was that the demon medicine master's attack speed was not fast, and the frequency was very low.

it took zhang shan about four or five shots before the demon medicine master could hit him once.

If the demon race medicine master's attack speed was also as fast as Zhang Shan's, he would not have been able to withstand it long ago.

Even after being enveloped by the poisonous fog, Zhang Shan did not stop his attacks.

In fact, only by continuously attacking could he maintain his HP.

Otherwise, without his own attack and lifesteal, boss Wu wouldn't be able to heal him at all.

Zhang Shan kept firing while looking at the demon medicine master in the distance.

He suddenly recalled that the demon apothecary's ultimate skill had a damage range of 50 yards.

his attack range was more than 50 yards.

Then, would he be able to avoid the demon medicine master's poisonous fog if he pulled away a little more?

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan attacked while retreating, trying to open up a distance between him and the demon medicine master.

however, he soon realized that he had been overthinking it.

even though his attack range was over 50 yards.

However, the attack range of the demon race's apothecary was less than 50 yards.

as long as he took a step back, the demon medicine master would take a step closer to him, and both sides would always maintain a distance that allowed them to attack.

Zhang Shan wanted to distance himself from the poison mist to avoid its damage, but it was impossible.

Unless there was a tank, it would be more likely to hold off the demon medicine master in front.

However, it was obviously impossible now. He was the tank, and the demon medicine master had been locking his attacks on him.

Even if Zhang Shan wanted to hide, he could not.

He had no choice but to stay where he was and fight Lu with the demon medicine master.

It was better for him to carry it obediently, there was no way to use any tricks.

As for his other friends, after they left the medicine master's workshop, other than boss Wu, they could still heal Zhang Shan.

The other three people could only watch the show from the side.

Standing outside the apothecary workshop, they couldn't attack the demon apothecary.

As for entering the apothecary workshop?

They didn't have such thoughts.

looking at zhang shan being enveloped by the poisonous fog, and the damage values constantly appearing above his head, they did not have any thoughts of trying.

"Damn it, can't the demon race's medicine master stop using this big move? Are we going to keep going like this?"

Windcloud blade said gloomily as he stood outside the apothecary workshop with his axe.

"probably. it doesn't look like it'll stop."

" this isn't a poisonous mist. it's more like a halo. it's just a halo that's automatically released. "

it's really like that. As long as the demon race's medicine master doesn't die, this poisonous fog will always exist.

"What a vicious BOSS."

" then, aren't we going to have to deal with another wave of bosses? "

"What's wrong? Aren't you used to lying down and fighting a boss? If you're embarrassed, you can go to other places to farm monsters first. We're just used to lying down, hehe."

only an idiot would go and farm monsters. Wouldn't it be better to stay here and eat the boss's exp? " then what are you talking about? just stay here. It won't be long before Big Boss six-barreled can blow up the demon medicine master.

Just like that, the few of them watched the show from outside the door, while Zhang Shan attacked the demon medicine master alone.

After five to six minutes of continuous fighting, the demon medicine master's HP dropped to 20%.

as the BOSS entered a berserk state, the damage of the demon apothecary became higher, and the frequency of his attacks also became faster.

boss wu, who was standing outside the door, could no longer take a break after a few mouthfuls of blood.

Instead, he had to keep on healing Zhang Shan.

Otherwise, his HP would be in danger.

Not only was this demon medicine master much more disgusting than a blacksmith, but he was also much fiercer.

If not for Zhang Shan's ferocity, they might not have been able to defeat him.

This was only the second BOSS, and it was already this powerful.

He really did not know what the next three bosses would be like. It can't be that I really can't handle it, right?

Zhang Shan was a little conflicted.

Should I call Feng Yun realm and ask him to bring some men over to help?

if the five of them couldn't complete the city-seizing mission, it would be a joke.

However, it was also very troublesome to call for help.

This place was so far away from beast King Valley and it would take another three to four days for Feng Yun realm and the rest to rush over. This was too much effort.

Forget it, no matter if he could win or not, he had to at least try first.

as zhang shan struggled, he continued to attack the demon medicine master.

Under his continuous attacks, the demon medicine master's HP slowly decreased.

When the demon medicine master's health was about to drop to one percent, Zhang Shan controlled the Panda ball to go forward.

He was ready to kill them in one go.

previously, when the panda ball killed the demon blacksmith, he only dropped a few pieces of trash. he hoped that this demon pharmacist would be more generous.

Give them some good things, not to mention ultimate skill books and divine weapons.

At the very least, he had to give them something that could be sold for a good price.

It was useless to just drop two red equipment.

Most of the level 50 red equipment could not even be sold for 10000 gold coins. They were not worth much.

Zhang Shan saw the opportunity and controlled the Panda tuan Zi, using a combo skill to smash the demon pharmacist.

Skill point +1, medal +100.

Seeing the demon medicine master fall to the ground, Zhang Shan heaved a long sigh of relief. He had finally killed this disgusting monster.

although the demon medicine master had already been blown up by him.

however, zhang shan could not help but curse. how vicious.

A while after the demon medicine master fell to the ground, Zhang Shan's poisoned state slowly disappeared.

He was no longer a Green Hunter.

"Haha, I'm also on the public announcement."

A little demon shouted happily.

The system announcement for the first kill of a BOSS, regardless of how many people were fighting the BOSS together.

Only three names would be displayed. Under normal circumstances, it would only show the top three players with the highest damage output.

That was why the system had never mentioned the fairy's name when they were fighting bosses.

This was because in terms of damage output, little fairy would not be able to win. Wind and cloud blade and heart moves with me.

I don't know what went wrong this time, but 'following the heart' didn't go on the public announcement. Instead, little fairy's name was on it.

Could it be that the little fairy's damage output was higher than 'follow my heart' when fighting the demon pharmacist? This didn't make sense.

what's there to be happy about the last system announcement? we're regular customers of the system announcement.

Hmph, you're just a man who doesn't know how hungry a man is. You guys often appear on the system announcements, but my name has never been on them. Is my name Diandian? "

" it's already good enough that you have a little dot to represent you. why do you still need a bicycle? hehe."

"get lost, i want to be famous too."

what's so good about being famous? if you don't live up to your name, people will chase after you and kill you every day. Everyone wants to kill famous people.

"How could this be? Brother guangzi is so famous, but I don't see many people chasing after him."

no normal person would cut him. Those who chase after six-barreled are fools, the kind that don't want to die fast enough.

"Haha, that makes sense."

"Brother Guan, quickly check if anything good dropped."

A little fairy was no longer bothered by the problem of the system announcement. The BOSS's drops were more attractive.

that's right, let's take a look. This time, it won't be like the previous time, dropping two pieces of trash equipment and that's it.

Zhang Shan opened his backpack and looked at the items that had dropped.

There were two pieces of red equipment, a red material, and a recipe.

It was a level 4 recipe for the apothecary's lifestyle class, the Grand recovery pill recipe.

[great recovery pill recipe: recipe for the great recovery pill. After using the great recovery pill, the user will recover 10000 HP within 10 seconds. Item cooldown: 1 minute. Level 4 apothecary required.]

this one was still okay. zhang shan had never seen a red medicine that could recover 10000 health points.

If this thing was refined, it should be possible to sell for a high price, although he didn't know the cost of refining it.

However, the formula for the great cyclic pellet was definitely very valuable.

Crafting class blueprints and recipes were all very valuable.

It was already considered an unpopular profession, but the average blueprint would cost close to 100000 gold coins.

Apothecary and blacksmith were the most popular life professions, and the recipes of these two professions were more expensive than those of engineering.

This formula should be able to sell for 200000 gold coins. He could make a small profit.

Zhang Shan said as he displayed the dropped items on the team channel.

"that's all i have, it's passable."

"Oh my God, I still haven't dropped anything I need?"

Windcloud blade said gloomily.

what else do you need? you already have all the skills you need, and you also have the divine weapon. Just tell me what else you want.

“I only have one divine artifact. Can’t I get a few more?”

“Damn it, you want to get more divine artifacts? How are we going to live without a divine weapon?”

“Stop dreaming. You’re still thinking about the divine artifact.”

the loot this time is already pretty good. At least the formula for the recover pill can be sold for quite a bit of money.

“are there any of you who are herbalists?”

Zhang Shan asked the others. If there was someone in the team who learned the apothecary profession, then this recipe would not need to be sold out. It could be directly distributed.

Everyone shook their heads. None of them had the apothecary profession. In fact, not all players would learn a trade profession.

It wasn’t necessary, even though it wouldn’t waste too much time to learn a lifestyle class.

But you have to keep investing. Look at Zhang Shan, for an engineering profession.

How many gold coins had he invested? In total, he had spent at least 700000 to 800000 gold coins, and he had only just become a level 4 engineer.

he was lucky enough to have collected the blueprints. otherwise, he would still be an apprentice.

It wasn’t easy to advance a life profession, and it required a lot of investment.

Many players gave up after trying.

There was no need to do it at all. When he needed something, he could just buy it at the auction house. There was no need to make it himself.

Of course, rare items might not be available for purchase, just like the six-barrel Vulcan cannon made by Zhang Shan.

He wouldn’t sell this thing. Others couldn’t buy it even if they wanted to, unless they made it themselves.

However, they couldn’t make rare items by themselves. They had to have the blueprint.

Even the recipes for normal life professions were so difficult to obtain.

Rare item blueprints were even more dependent on luck.

“If you didn’t learn medicine, then I’ll sell this great recovery pill formula.”

” don’t put it up for auction. just sell it to your own guild. ”

Wind and cloud blade said. Although none of them had learned the apothecary profession, they were still very confident in their own abilities.

However, there were still many alchemists in the wind and cloud Guild. It would be better to sell them to their own people.

Zhang Shan's two engineering blueprints were also sold to him by guild members.

Otherwise, he would not know where to go to collect the blueprints.

"Then you can sell this recipe. Remember to split the money after you sell it."

Zhang Shan gave the formula of the great cyclic pellet to wind and cloud blade.

He was not very familiar with the Guild members, so it was better for Windcloud blade to handle this matter.

sure, I'll sell it to Qingqing when I'm done. She's a level 3 apothecary and needs this thing, hehe.

then you'll have to sell it for a good price. Don't just lose your ability to walk after seeing a beautiful woman and give away the formula for free.

"Yeah, if it's sold too little, you can pay for it yourself and share it with us, hehe."

"You're joking, am I that kind of person? Just wait and see, I'll definitely sell it at a high price."

"Hehe, who knows if you're the one who paid for the beauty."

windcloud blade was speechless. he did not wish to speak.

Chapter 386 The demons pushed into the city for the sacrifice

He let wind and cloud blade sell the formula for the great cyclic pill. As for the other items, there was no need to distribute them for the time being.

There were only two red equipment and one red material.

Of the five people present, other than Zhang Shan and boss Wu, the other three were all rich bosses.

They didn't care about the red equipment anyway. They didn't need the red equipment.

They were just trash. They would be distributed after they defeated all the bosses and completed the mission.

After defeating the demonic medicine master, they were announced by the system again.

Including the captain of the guards at the city gate, the few of them had made three system announcements in less than an hour.

Even though some small bosses could be defeated by ordinary players in a team, they were still very powerful.

However, they had defeated bosses that no one had ever seen before.

It was always the first kill that was announced.

This piqued the interest of the other players, and everyone was very curious.

Where did they find so many bosses to kill?

Although there were a lot of mini-bosses in the Heaven's Gate map, it was a little unbelievable to have consecutive first clears.

The world Channel:

did you guys see the system announcement? I don't know where six-barreled Bodhisattva is fighting the BOSS, but he's fighting it non-stop and it's always the first clear.

what's so strange about that? I'm not surprised by anything that this Big Shot does. He can even solo a real-name BOSS, so isn't it normal for him to kill a few small bosses? "

"is it normal? It's not normal at all, where did he find so many bosses? don't tell me that these bosses are all raised by his family?"

"Who knows? I'm suspecting that this game has had a closed beta. Why does he always get all the good things?"

"Closed beta, my ass. If there's a closed beta, he wouldn't be the only one."

maybe the others have been controlled and he's the only one who escaped? "

" what era is this? how could such a thing happen? "

"Young man, work hard on killing monsters, don't think too much."

maybe they got their hands on an instance dungeon Scroll. I heard that there might be multiple bosses in an instance dungeon Scroll, and there are often some bosses that no one has ever seen before.

even so, there shouldn't be that many of them. They've already defeated three bosses in a row? "

"who said that they only fought three bosses? they appeared on the system announcement three times, does that mean they fought three bosses? Maybe he killed four or five?"

"Damn, if that's the case, it's really possible."

"That's why I said, don't think too much. If you think too much, you won't be able to help but be jealous, hehe."

" jealous my ass. i'd be jealous of anyone but six-pole bodhisattva. if i were jealous of him, i would have been so angry that i would have died. "

that's right, calm down. We'll play our own games, and the big shots will play their own games. Each has their own world.

that makes sense. Let's go and kill some monsters. Killing monsters makes me happy.

It was about how they continuously defeated bosses and how they were all announced by the system.

Not only was the world Channel abuzz, even Feng Yun realm could not sit still.

He asked Windcloud blade in the Guild channel.

“One blade, what are you guys doing? why are there so many bosses to fight?”

“haha, we’re doing a quest. it’s still early, and there are still a few bosses to fight.”

Just as Windcloud blade finished speaking, the Guild channel instantly exploded.

“what’s the situation?”

“What kind of mission? Didn’t this game only require quests to obtain divine artifacts? and there’s no BOSS for you to farm for the divine weapon quest.”

f * ck, Yidao, you’re too much. You didn’t even tell me that there was a mission and you’re eating it all by yourself.

“That’s right, that’s too much.”

Windcloud blade was dumbfounded. Did he monopolize the food?

There were five of them fighting the BOSS, so why was everyone staring at him and talking?

Wasn’t this picking on honest people to bully?

” i wasn’t the one who found the mission. it was big boss six-barreled who found it. if you want to scold him, scold him. also, this mission can only be accepted by five people. we have five people, so we didn’t call you. ”

After Windcloud blade finished speaking, he displayed the description of the city Siege quest in the Guild channel.

After everyone saw the quest displayed by wind cloud blade, they all fell silent.

There were too many things that they could not understand.

what the hell is this Demon Castle? other than the East and West capitals, the seven capital cities, and the 21 sub-cities, are there any other cities in this game? ”

“Also, what’s the situation with this city-seizing mission? Do you want the five of you to take down a city? isn’t this a little too exaggerated?”

“How did you guys receive this mission? Are there any similar missions that I can accept?”

“what’s the reward for the mission?”

“Do you guys still need people to fight the BOSS? it’s fine if you don’t have a quest. I’ll just get some BOSS experience.”

After Windcloud blade displayed the city seizing mission, the big shots in the Guild instantly started to wonder why.

Windcloud blade was also dumbfounded. How was he supposed to answer so many questions? where should he start?

you guys are asking too many questions. I don't even know where to start. I'll send you our location first. I guess you won't have the desire to come over after that.

After saying this, Windcloud blade sent their coordinates to the Guild channel.

The big shots in the Guild had to compare the map for a long time before they could find their coordinates.

"F * ck, why did you guys run so far?"

f * ck, you guys are really talented. You can even run over such a far place.

what's the big deal? if there's a mission, I'd be willing to run for half a month.

don't go off topic. One blade, are you guys really attacking the city right now? "

"Yes, it is."

"You only have five people, how are you going to attack the city? You'll be drowned by the monsters."

hehe, there are basically no small monsters, only a few bosses. I guess the city Siege mission will be completed once the bosses are killed.

"f * ck, there's such a way of attacking a city?"

"What else can we do? Is it going to be like the world War, where players and NPC monsters will have a chaotic battle of tens of millions?"

then you guys will have a good time. Not only will you have quests to do, but you can also fight bosses.

"One blade, what level are these bosses?"

I don't know. I just defeated two red bosses, but I don't know what level the city Lord is.

Even Windcloud blade could not determine the levels of the bosses in this Castle.

However, after the five of them had discussed it, they all agreed that the city Lord was most likely a boss with a real name.

Fortunately, when Zhang Shan had accepted the mission, he had received a hint from the Scout leader.

the demon castle's castellan had been injured by yu fei before. therefore, although the castellan might be a real-name boss, they still had a chance to defeat it.

"Damn it, are they all red bosses? There are only five of you, can you beat them?"

Although they seemed to be very relaxed when fighting bosses, they didn't think the red bosses were strong.

In reality, the red boss was the main top-level boss in the current game. It was extremely powerful.

after all, real-name bosses were rare, and many players had never seen one before.

the red BOSS is very easy to fight. You guys probably don't know how strong six-barreled boss is now. If you see his character, I'm afraid you'll go crazy from jealousy.

"Isn't it normal for the six-barreled boss to be strong? Why would we be jealous? the problem is, no matter how strong he is, he can't beat a red BOSS, right?"

yeah, other than the six-barreled boss, you guys can only be considered extras. You can't help much.

upon hearing the guild's leader say this, windcloud blade was not happy. what did he mean by 'they're just a bonus'?

he was also very strong, alright? he was someone with a divine weapon, so how could it be considered an extra?

Although he did not have much of a presence in front of Zhang Shan, he could not be considered an extra.

Initially, wind and cloud blade did not want to demoralize them, but now, he could not help but comment.

don't worry, it's a piece of cake to fight a red BOSS. With six-barreled boss '50000 attack and 500000 HP, what kind of red BOSS can't he beat? "

"Damn, this is impossible."

his HP is still fine. Six-barreled boss has a God-grade King's Cape. The problem is, how did his attack power reach 50000? "

"i'm not telling you, hehe."

"B * tch, if you don't tell me the truth, I'll cut you with my knife."

the six-barreled boss got a special item that can make him stronger by killing people. It increases his attack power by 100%. Isn't that scary? "

"I don't want to talk, I just want to farm monsters."

"I didn't see anything while I was farming."

"I can't see, I can't hear."

I don't care about the outside world. I only care about the small monsters.

The big shots in the Guild had really been hit hard by the 100% increase in special items.

It was simply unimaginable. How could such an abnormal thing exist in the game?

However, Zhang Shan had managed to get his hands on the killer book. It was such a heaven-defying special item.

Windcloud blade's words had shut these big shots up, but he still said cheerfully, "

"I told you not to ask. Are you happy now? hehe."

"Get lost, bitch. Don't affect my farming."

"Haha, I don't want to talk to you guys. We're going to find the next BOSS."

After beating the demon medicine master, the five of them stood on the streets of the castle and compared their minimaps.

After taking down the two bosses, there were five buildings on the map that had their names displayed. now, there were only three left, the demon blacksmith and the apothecary.

They could no longer be found on the mini-map.

The problem now was which of the remaining three bosses they should kill.

To be more precise, it should be the remaining demon priests and the commander of the demon city's defense.

Which of these two bosses were they going to kill first?

As for the demon City Lord, this Big Boss would naturally be placed last.

Perhaps their city-seizing mission had a sequence for killing the BOSS.

If they didn't kill the bosses in front, they wouldn't be able to find the bosses behind.

"which one should we do now? The distance between the altar and the garrison commander's Manor is about the same."

let's go to the garrison commander's Manor first. That Demon Priest, just by looking at his name, I can tell that he's a magic monster. He probably won't be easy to deal with. I'll leave him for later.

"Alright, let's go find the garrison commander."

However, when they ran to the garrison commander's Manor, they discovered that the main gate was tightly shut.

They couldn't get in at all, so where could they find the garrison commander?

"What's the situation? Even the BOSS couldn't see it. Could this be fake? We don't have to fight and it won't affect the completion of the mission?"

that shouldn't be the case. Maybe, there's really a sequence to these bosses. Maybe, after we defeat the demonic priest, the gate of the governor's manor will open.

"Then what's the point of talking? let's go to the altar."

The five of them went around and arrived at the demon Priest in the city.

They stood below the altar and looked up at the altar. An old man from the demon race was standing in the middle with a staff in his hand.

This demon had a big red name above his head. The demon pushed into the city to offer sacrifices.

On the four corners of the altar, there were four orange bosses, altar guards.

After seeing the name of the demon sacrifice, Zhang Shan finally knew that this Demon Castle also had a name.

When they were at the city gate, they really didn't pay much attention. In the beginning, they didn't know that this small castle also had a name.

Push into the city? Was this a forward base for the demons to advance into the human territory?

However, the name wasn't important. After they took down the castle, he would just rename it.

"this is a buy one get four free deal."

isn't that even better? we can kill a few more bosses. That's all experience and money.

more importantly, there are skill points to be earned. I don't think anyone has ever fought these orange altar guards before, right? "

"I'm sure not."

Zhang Shan raised his head and sized up the altar carefully.

This altar was very similar to the one he had fought in the Bowang wasteland at the beginning of the game.

However, this altar was a little bigger, and the structure was more gorgeous. The four altar guards were orange-colored bosses.

The altar guard that he had fought before was a purple boss.

how do we fight this? there are five bosses in total. Should we lure them down one by one, or should we put them all together? "

"Let's go together. You don't have to be so careful."

that's right. Other than the red demon Priest, which might be a little troublesome, the four orange guards are purely free gifts.

Seeing that his friends were all very arrogant, Zhang Shan thought for a while and said.

let's try it first. I'll let the Panda dumpling try out the demon priest's attributes and skills.

Zhang Shan was not worried that he would not be able to defeat it. To be honest, with boss Wu as a support, he was confident that he could defeat any normal red BOSS.

However, it was always good to be careful. There was no harm in trying.

Zhang Shan stood below the altar, controlling the Panda tuan Zi, and ran towards the demon sacrifice.

When the five bosses on the altar saw the Panda ball charging at them, they attacked it with all kinds of damage.

Zhang Shan did not care about the four altar guards. Instead, he controlled the Panda tuan Zi and ran directly towards the demon sacrifice.

The Panda ball ran forward while enduring the damage.

Lines of damage appeared above its head.

-40006,-6280,6116,6204,6005?

The 40,000 damage had most likely been dealt by the demon Priest, while the other 6000 or so damage had been dealt by the altar guard.

For the time being, these five bosses weren't too strong, especially with boss Wu's healing.

Zhang Shan could totally handle it himself.

Chapter 387 Killing a BOSS in the dandan group

Although there were still four altar guards beside him, Zhang Shan did not think that they would not be able to defeat this Demon Priest.

However, he still felt that it would be safer to test the attributes and skills of the demon Priest first.

Zhang Shan controlled the Panda dumpling and continued to approach the demon Priest. He had to hit the BOSS.

Only then could he read the demonic priest's attributes and skills.

The Panda ball strode with its short legs and finally ran to the front of the demon Priest after a long time.

fortunately, the current panda dumpling had become a lot meaty. otherwise, it might have been knocked down on the road before it could even get close.

zhang shan controlled the panda dumpling and ran to follow the demon priest. he waved his little palm and slapped it towards the demon priest.

Zhang Shan, who was standing below the altar, instantly read the attributes and skills of the demonic priest.

Demonic tribe's sacrifice (red): level 50, attack 25000, hp 60000000.

Skill 1, Heavenly Fire meteor, skill 2, Demon God's will, skill 3, Demon God's blessing, skill 4, withering.
Status: Holy demon's protection.

[Heavenly Fire meteor: the demonic priest summons a meteor to attack the target, causing double damage.]

[Demon God's will: in times of crisis, the demon Priest will summon a Demon God's apparition to assist in battle.]

[Demon God's blessing: the demon Priest has received a demon's blessing, greatly increasing its attack power.]

[withering: flowers fall at midnight, and all living things wither. demon priests comprehend the profound meaning of life and can strip their hp.]

When it uses this skill, all enemies within its field of vision will lose 50000 HP per second for five seconds.

after zhang shan had read the attributes and skills of the demon sacrifice, he quickly recalled the panda ball to his side.

he couldn't let him die. otherwise, he would have to feed him when he summoned him again. that would be so troublesome.

Zhang Shan recalled the Panda bear. The five bosses on the altar lost their target.

they all turned their gazes to zhang shan, and rushed down from the altar towards him.

F * ck, these bosses wouldn't rush down the altar, would they? he remembered that the priests of the Bowang wilderness would never go down the altar.

However, it was hard to say. The priest on the first floor of the demon-suppressing altar would rush down the altar to attack the players.

Zhang Shan did not have the time to test it out. The other four altar guards' attributes were only those of the orange bosses. There was no point in trying.

He could basically ignore it, as long as he knew the attributes and skills of the demonic priest.

Zhang Shan quickly controlled the Panda bear to his side, and at the same time, he was ready to attack the five bosses that were rushing towards him.

Boss Wu was standing behind Zhang Shan. He raised his head and added the blood of the Panda dumpling.

Although the Panda ball that had rushed up to the altar earlier did not die, its HP was almost empty.

The main reason was that the Panda ball was too slow. It took it a long time to cover such a short distance. If it wasn't for its thick skin, it would have died long ago.

When the demonic priest brought the four altar guards and got close to Zhang Shan's shooting range, he opened fire while displaying the attributes and skills of the demonic priest that he had just read on the team channel.

"You guys wait for a while. Wait for me to pull the BOSS" aggro before you attack."

There were five bosses here. Zhang Shan could not guarantee that he would be able to pull the aggro of all five bosses at once.

although the altar guards were only orange-colored bosses, the damage they dealt to the panda bear was over 6000.

If this damage were to hit anyone else in the team, they would be killed in a few hits.

Wind and cloud blade and heart moves were slightly better. After all, they were strength-type classes, so they had more HP.

However, boss Wu and little fairy couldn't. They probably couldn't take the altar guard and would fall after three or four hits.

That was why Zhang Shan told them not to go up first. As long as boss Wu healed him, it would be fine. The others would wait at the side for a while.

As Zhang Shan attacked, he kept adjusting his position. He wanted to pull the five bosses together.

In this case, he only needed to attack the demon Priest and the other four altars.

They didn't even need to attack, they would be shot to death by his passive ejection.

However, the demonic priest was a long-ranged magic monster, while the four altar guards were melee monsters.

It would not be easy to get it done in a short time.

Zhang Shan and the other four altar guards rushed to his side and started to cut him.

He then pulled the guard and moved closer to the demon Priest.

zhang shan went directly to the demon sacrifice and then began to attack.

in order to pull all five bosses together, he had treated himself as a close-combat player.

Zhang Shan stuck close to the demon Priest and kept firing. At this time, the four guards also followed.

When Zhang Shan was attacking the demon sacrifice, due to his passive ejection, he had been unable to move.

The damage kept bouncing back and forth between the five bosses.

this made him very happy. not to mention the four altar guards, even if it was the demon race's priest.

Every shot he fired was equivalent to dealing damage twice.

this was because the passive damage of the bounce could be done twelve times.

There were only five bosses on the field. If all the targets were to bounce back and forth once ...

This meant that every time he fired a shot, all the bosses would take damage twice.

Two of the bosses would receive a third round of damage.

This made Zhang Shan extremely happy.

The bouncing damage didn't just allow him to hit faster, it also made his lifesteal effect super good.

Originally, when attacking a target, he could only absorb the damage once.

Now, the damage he dealt was reflected back and forth. Every shot he fired could drain 12 hp.

Even when the five bosses attacked him at the same time, they were unable to reduce his health at all.

He didn't even need boss Wu to heal him as long as the four altar guards were still there.

Even if he fought until the next day, he probably wouldn't lose any HP.

Zhang Shan kept firing as he shouted happily.

he had fought so many bosses before, but this was the most comfortable one. he was fighting five bosses at the same time.

Not only did it not cause him any trouble, but it also made him fight faster, safer, and more enjoyable.

This ejection passive was a godly skill, if only he could find two real name bosses at the same time.

Zhang Shan dared to take on two real name bosses alone.

Like this, his damage kept bouncing back and forth. No matter how strong the BOSS was, as long as it didn't kill him in one or two seconds, it would be impossible.

One attack could drain blood 12 times. How terrifying was the amount of blood that was drained?

13% damage per hit, 12 damage per hit, that was far more than 100% damage. It was terrifying.

With his 50000 attack power and his terrifying lifesteal speed, what kind of boss could kill him?

Seeing Zhang Shan's damage, bouncing back and forth between the five bosses, the Little Friends standing at the side were all stunned.

It can be played like this?

Even though they had already seen the power of Zhang Shan's catapulting passive when they were fighting and killing monsters.

However, they had never seen such a thing in a boss fight.

After all, bosses usually respawned individually. It was very rare for five bosses to appear at the same time.

This operation had really broadened their horizons.

"F * ck, you can even play like this?"

haha, brother Guan, you're really good at fighting this boss.

"i thought that it would be difficult to deal with the five bosses on the altar together. i didn't expect that these bosses would be more beneficial to the six-legged bladelike chi."

After their shock, they were ready to attack as well, even though Zhang Shan was the only one attacking.

Due to his damage output, it bounced back and forth between the five bosses, which was already very fast.

However, if there were more people, they could still fight better.

zhang shan saw that the others were also preparing to attack the BOSS, and he shouted.

just focus on the demon priests, but don't hit the altar guards. The guards have much less HP, so don't hit them too hard. If you kill them all, it'll be a lot harder.

"Don't worry, we know."

wind and cloud blade said confidently.

what do you know? I'm talking about you. The splash effect on your divine weapon, when you attack the demon Priest, will it hit the four guards? "

"Ah, this."

Windcloud blade held his axe, but he was stunned. Only then did he remember.

It wasn't that he couldn't hit the guards even if he didn't want to, but the splash damage wasn't easy to control.

as long as the enemy was in front of him, the splash would hit them. these five bosses were squeezed together.

He had no way to avoid it.

"Then what should I do? don't I want to cut it?"

other than the divine weapon, do you have any other axes? change your weapon.

Zhang Shan suggested to wind cloud blade.

" what's there to have? who would bring a spare weapon with a divine weapon? divine weapons will never wear out and will not drop. "

then, take off your weapon and use your hand to slap it.

Wind and cloud blade was speechless. This was the first time he had ever thought that a God tool could have the opposite effect.

However, Zhang Shan was right. If he was not careful and hit the altar guards, he might as well just stand by and watch the show.

without these four altar guards, Zhang Shan's damage would be much less if he were to use them as a bridge for the catapults.

And when they fought the BOSS, they still mainly relied on Zhang Shan's damage.

The damage of the four of them added together might not even be half of Zhang Shan's.

Although he was very depressed, Wind and Cloud Blade still listened to Zhang Shan's suggestion.

He took off the divine weapon axe and went up empty-handed to slap the demon Priest.

Although his damage was reduced by more than half without his weapon, he was still a Berserker, an explosive-type damage-dealing class.

Besides, he still had his other equipment, so he could still deal some damage. At least, the damage he dealt was much higher than that of boss Wu.

Under Zhang Shan's suggestion, the other four would all use single target attack skills.

He kept attacking the demon Priest. As for the four altar guards, he couldn't attack them.

He had to be as careful as possible to not accidentally hurt them.

These four little cuties were the bridge for Zhang Shan's catapulting damage. Without these four guards ...

They had to work hard to deal with the demon Priest alone.

After Zhang Shan had attacked for a while, he slowly figured out the pattern of the catapults' damage.

There were five bosses on the field, but his catapulting passive could deal 12 damage.

In other words, there were two bosses that would be hit by the third attack.

The other three would only receive damage from the two shots.

After figuring out the pattern, Zhang Shan turned his attack to one of the guards. This way, he could ensure that every attack would cause the demon sacrifice to take three bullet damage.

He had to do his best to keep the altar guards alive, preferably until they killed the demon priests.

Of course, this was just a thought. The amount of blood a Demon Priest had was much more than the amount of blood a Guardian of the altar had.

The demon priest had 60000000 hp, while the altar guard only had 10000000 hp.

Although the five of them were all attacking the demon priest, and the altar guard was only being attacked by Zhang Shan's catapulted damage.

Even so, it would be good enough if they could at most fight until the demons were Half-Blood.

However, being able to reduce the demon priest's HP by half was still a good thing.

As for the remaining half of his health, he could take it slowly.

haha, I've fought so many bosses, but I've never felt so good.

you guys are having a good time. Poor me, I can only go and kill the BOSS with my bare hands.

windcloud blade could not help but ridicule.

"haha, who asked your divine axe to be so powerful?"

"I'll only be able to fight comfortably for a few minutes. it won't be long before these four altar guards are dead. "

"it's fine. it's good to be able to feel comfortable for a while. we're fighting a BOSS."

yeah, who doesn't play carefully when fighting a BOSS? no one would have as much fun as us, hehe.

It didn't take long for the demon priest's HP to drop by 20%.

as for the other four altar guards, the one with the least hp had already lost half of its hp.

However, there was only one altar guard that had low HP. This was because it took three hits each time.

that was why they lost hp faster than the other three altar guards.

there were probably more than 40% left.

When the demonic priest's HP dropped to 20%, it suddenly stopped attacking.

Instead, it silently chanted an incantation, and a huge demon shadow slowly appeared behind it.

Other than Zhang Shan, the HP of the other four comrades at the scene dropped rapidly.

damn, this Demon God's will is so powerful. It's more powerful than anything we've encountered before.

Oh my God, I lost 5000 HP in one second. I can't hold on much longer. Old Wu, quickly heal me.

Out of the five of them, little fairy probably had the least HP, so she was the first to give in.

She kept calling boss Wu to heal her.

Fortunately, although Zhang Shan was able to withstand the damage of the five bosses, he was self-sufficient and did not need boss Wu to heal him.

Otherwise, he would have to heal everyone when the demon Priest cast the demon God's will.

it was really possible that he wouldn't be able to add them.

However, he was fine now.

Zhang Shan, who was tanking the BOSS, did not need him to heal. He only needed to heal the others once or twice each.

After 15 seconds, the demonic God's apparition disappeared. After surviving a small wave of danger, everyone continued to attack the demonic priest.

Chapter 388 Penta-kill the BOSS

With boss Wu's healing, Windcloud blade and the other two survived the wave of skills from the demonic priest.

f * ck, the will of the demon God skills of these bosses are getting more and more overpowered.

After passing through the critical period, Windcloud blade could not help but ridicule.

He had almost 40000 HP now, but he still couldn't rely on himself to survive the damage from the will of the demon God. He still had to rely on boss Wu to heal him.

this wasn't the case when they encountered bosses with this skill in the past.

In the previous BOSS fights, as long as they had a good Cape, they could basically rely on themselves to withstand the damage from the demon God's will.

however, he couldn't do that now. the damage of this skill would become stronger and stronger as the BOSS 'level increased.

"Yeah, I was able to handle it easily in the past."

"it's alright. not all bosses have this skill."

that's right. As long as we have a few more supports, the demon God's will will be easy to deal with, even though it's overpowered.

this time, it was mainly because they had fewer people. there were five of them doing missions and fighting the BOSS, and only boss wu was a support.

That was why she was so flustered at the beginning.

After the demonic priest used its skill, everyone increased their attack speed and the BOSS's HP slowly decreased.

Not long after, the first altar guard was destroyed by Zhang Shan's catapults.

≪ system announcement: congratulations to six-barreled Bodhisattva, heart moves, and a little fairy Pixiu for successfully killing the demon altar guard. ≫

Skill point +1, medal +100.

They didn't even need to do anything. An orange BOSS had died to an unknown AoE. It was a very interesting thing to see.

"Haha, I got another skill point."

hehe, I've been on the system announcement again. I'm so happy.

a little fairy was very happy. she had been on the system announcement twice in a row.

It was much better than before.

In the past, her name had never been on the system announcements.

As for before she had joined wind and cloud, she had never obtained a first clear before.

Before she joined the wind and cloud Guild, the little fairy had always been a lone wolf.

although she was willing to spend money to buy equipment and skill books, she was an archer and wanted to kill the BOSS alone.

That was basically impossible. She couldn't even defeat a purple BOSS.

"If it wasn't for me going easy on you, you still want to be on the system announcement? only Diandian can represent you, hehe."

Windcloud blade was a little indignant, even though he did not care if he could get on the system announcement.

After all, Windcloud blade had followed Zhang Shan to fight countless bosses and had also obtained many first kills.

He had been on the system announcement many times.

However, his name wasn't on the announcement.

This meant that his damage output was weak and couldn't be ranked in the top three, so he couldn't go up.

He was originally a ferocious and invincible Berserker, but after removing his celestial weapon, his damage output was not even as high as the little fairy's.

This made him a little unhappy.

haha, thank you, brother one blade. Next time, when we fight a BOSS, can you let me win again? "

"you wish."

As the first altar guard fell to the ground, the other three guards were also hit by the bullet damage and their HP was emptied.

Fortunately, the demon Priest was almost at half HP.

With four altar guards acting as the bridge for Zhang Shan's catapults, it made things much easier for them.

Next, it would be up to them.

Soon, all the altar guards fell to the ground.

Zhang Shan could only continue to attack the demon sacrifice. Without catapulting, the damage could only be dealt one by one.

He could no longer deal damage to the demon Priest three times with one shot.

However, it didn't matter. He could still take on this demon race priest. At most, he would need to spend a little more time.

The four altar guards fell to the ground, and wind and cloud blade was finally released from his bind.

He quickly equipped the heaven splitting axe and said unhappily.

f * ck, I can finally use my godly weapon. I can't stand hitting a BOSS empty-handed.

haha, it's good to kill a BOSS with your bare hands. You can brag to others that you can kill a BOSS with your bare hands. How awesome would that be? "

"Damn, is there such a thing? After I'm done with the mission, I'll save the video just now, hehe."

"Childish."

After they continued to attack for a while, the demon priest's HP had dropped to almost 50%.

He was about to use his ultimate move. The demon priest's ultimate move didn't look simple.

...

They had to be careful.

The demonic priest's ultimate skill, withering, looked different from the ultimate skills of all the bosses they had fought before.

50,000 damage per second for five seconds.

This damage value was considered normal. It was basically the same as other red bosses.

However, there was no detailed description of the damage range of the withering skill.

They didn't know how large the damage range of the demon priest's withering skill was.

That was what the skill description said.

As long as the enemy target is within the demon priest's field of vision, they will receive damage.

This description was a little exaggerated. How large was the field of vision of a Demon Priest?

It couldn't possibly be short-sighted, right?

If they were in an open space, the demon Priest might be able to see them, but they were only one or two thousand yards away.

Could it be that its withering big move could also hit a target so far away?

This was too ridiculous.

However, the only good thing was that demons actually looked similar to humans.

it also only had two eyes on the front, but no eyes on the back of its head.

If he had stood behind the demon Priest, he probably wouldn't have appeared in its field of vision.

It had to be said that this big move of the demon race's priest was set in a very strange way.

After the four altar guards fell to the ground, his companions had already tactfully circled behind the demon Priest.

They stood behind the demon priests and continued to attack.

however, zhang shan stood at the front, pulling the BOSS.

there was no other way, someone had to pull the BOSS.

If Zhang Shan also went around behind the demon sacrifice, then the demon sacrifice would also turn around.

that would be meaningless.

Just like that, Zhang Shan stood at the front and attacked, while his four friends stood behind the demon sacrifice and stabbed him in the back.

Very quickly, they managed to reduce the demon priest's HP to half.

when the demon priest's hp dropped to 50%, he waved the staff in his hand and kept chanting a big move.

Zhang Shan kept firing, stunning the demon Priest and interrupting his channeling.

he had two passive skills that could interrupt the channeling bar, one was to stun the passive and the other was to knock back the passive.

Zhang Shan's attack speed was getting faster and faster.

The chances of stunning or repelling the boss were still very high.

It was already a common occurrence for him to interrupt the BOSS 'channeling with a normal attack.

After the channeling bar was interrupted, the demon Priest waved his staff and continued to cast.

this time, his stun or knock back passive skills did not trigger.

The other members of the party, little fairy, had a meteor arrow skill that could interrupt the BOSS 'channeling.

The others did not have any stun skills.

But little fairy didn't shoot the meteor arrow because it was unnecessary.

it was impossible for them to keep interrupting the demonic priest's channeling.

The demon Priest would use his big move sooner or later.

Furthermore, the demon priest's ultimate skill, withering, might seem a little brainless, but the damage of this ultimate skill ...

To Zhang Shan, it was nothing.

It was just 50000 damage per second for five seconds.

The total damage was only 250000. He was still able to tank it, so he was not panicking at all.

After the demon sacrifice finished channeling, the sky suddenly darkened, as if it was night.

Zhang Shan did not see anything hitting him, but his health was constantly dropping.

50,000 a second, and this lasted for five seconds.

even though 250,000 damage looked terrifying, it was still a huge amount of damage.

however, under his lifesteal effect and boss wu's healing, zhang shan lasted until the demon priest's big move ended.

His health bar did not drop much, and was almost full.

The big move, withering, ended, and the sky regained its light. Everyone continued to attack the demon Priest.

Wind and cloud blade said as he brandished his divine weapon battle axe at the demon Priest.

you scared me just now. When I saw that the sky had turned dark, I thought we would be hurt by the demon priest's big move.

"What are you afraid of? didn't the skill description say so? The demon priest's ultimate skill would only harm the enemy targets within its field of vision. If we stand behind it, the demon race's priest won't be able to see us, what's there to worry about?"

that's true, but who knows if the description of the skill is accurate. What if the demon Priest can see it from the corner of his eye? " go ahead and argue. If you have the ability, try looking at your own back.

"Is that the same? I'm a player and the BOSS is a demon."

continue arguing. I don't want to talk to you.

After seeing the demon sacrifice's big move, everyone was relieved.

This demon race's priest was just so-so, he couldn't do anything to them.

It didn't take long to defeat the BOSS.

The crowd continued to attack the demon Priest as they continued to blow the water away.

After a short while, the demon Priest stopped attacking and started to chant.

"F * ck, the demon priest's big move is used so frequently?"

Zhang Shan thought that the demon Priest was about to use his ultimate move again. He could not help but mock.

it doesn't have to be a high-level skill. The demon God's will skill also needs a cast time.

"oh, yes, i almost forgot."

Sure enough, this time, the demon Priest did not cast a big move, but a Demon God's will skill.

After the demonic priest finished channeling, a huge demonic God's shadow slowly rose from behind it.

At this time, Zhang Shan's health was only slightly more than half, and boss Wu was trying his best to heal him.

However, his other companions couldn't withstand the damage of the devil's will.

"Ah, ah, ah, old Wu, quickly heal me."

"Heal the others first, I can still hold on."

They only had boss Wu as a support, so it was a bit difficult to deal with this situation.

after the demonic shadow appeared, everyone needed boss wu to heal, and boss wu had to heal himself.

he couldn't even handle it.

At this moment, Zhang Shan could only let boss Wu heal the others first.

He only had half of his HP left, and he had to face the damage from both the demonic god apparition and the demonic priest.

However, he could still hold on.

Even if he only had half of his HP left, he still had close to 300000 HP.

Zhang Shan himself still had 13% of his blood-sucking ability. It was not that easy for the demon race's priest to kill him.

After a round of flustered operation, everyone survived another wave of danger.

"Big brother carrying a saber, you have to pay attention to the blood volume of six tubes. You have to keep his blood at full. Otherwise, you won't be able to take care of him like just now."

"Alright,"

in any case, his attack speed was extremely slow, and he couldn't deal much damage.

it would be better to just focus on healing zhang shan and not attack the BOSS.

Boss Wu had changed his strategy. He no longer slacked off to fight the BOSS, but focused on healing Zhang Shan.

Even if Zhang Shan's health was full, he continued to heal.

Wasn't it just a waste of mana? He, Xiao LAN, had brought enough to heal Zhang Shan for half a day.

Under everyone's rapid attacks, the demon priest's HP was slowly decreasing.

Not long after, the boss's HP dropped to 20% and it entered the berserk stage.

The damage that the demonic priest dealt to Zhang Shan had become even higher.

In the beginning, each attack dealt over 40000 damage.

Every time the demon sacrifice attacked, it would take away nearly 50000 of Zhang Shan's health.

It was only Zhang Shan's high HP. If it was any other person, this BOSS would not be easy to handle.

this BOSS is so strong. One attack can deal 50000 damage, and this is just a normal red BOSS. It's a little scary.

what's scary about it? although the demon sacrifice's damage is high, its attack speed is slow. It's not that strong.

"It's easier said than done, isn't this considered strong? go up and try."

a berserk demon priest was very strong.

however, it didn't disrupt their attack rhythm.

Everyone continued to deal damage, slowly reducing the demonic priest's HP.

It didn't take long for the demon priest's HP to be almost empty.

Zhang Shan quickly controlled the Panda dumpling to move forward, looking for the right time, and directly smacked the demon sacrifice.

≪ system announcement: congratulations to six-barreled Bodhisattva, heart moves, and wind and cloud blade for successfully killing the Infernals and pushing forward the sacrificial ceremony. ≫

Skill point +1, medal +100.

The demonic priest had been killed. In addition to the four altar guards that had been killed by Zhang Shan's catapulting damage, they had actually killed five bosses in a row.

it felt like the BOSS wasn't worth much anymore.

wuwuwu, I didn't make the announcement this time.

The little fairy was not happy. She really wanted to go on the system announcement again and show her face.

Unfortunately, he could not deal more damage than the altar guards. After the four altar guards fell to the ground, Windcloud blade equipped his divine weapon, the battle axe, again.

With the power of the divine weapon, he managed to kill the demon Priest when he only had half of his health left.

The damage he dealt still exceeded the little fairy's.

“Haha, little brat, can you fight with me for it?”

windcloud blade laughed maniacally. he did not sympathize with the beauty at all. he truly had no bearing.

Zhang Shan could not help but shake his head.

“Hmph, let’s see how smug you can be when I get my hands on a divine artifact.”

hehe, even if you’re equipped with a divine weapon, your damage output can’t be higher than mine. How can an Archer compete with a Berserker in terms of damage output? ”

“Ah, ah, ah, I want to change classes.”

Chapter 389 multiple arrows

Little fairy felt like she was going crazy. She had thought that she had good equipment and strong skills.

The most important thing was that she still had an ultimate move, which was probably the strongest no matter where it was.

However, among the five of them, boss Wu was the only support who had no sense of presence.

The other three were all much stronger than her, and she was actually the weakest. It was simply intolerable.

“Big brother Guan, get me a divine weapon.”

the little fairy said to zhang shan coyly.

Zhang Shan was speechless. Was this f * cking human language? where was he going to get her a divine weapon?

Besides, did she know how much a divine weapon was worth?

If Zhang Shan had been able to get his hands on it, she would not have had a share. He would not have used it for himself or sold it.

Unless it was dropped when they fought a BOSS together.

In that case, there was no other way. They would be distributed according to demand or by rolling.

If Zhang Shan had obtained the divine weapon by himself, would he give it to her for free?

Zhang Shan had sold the broken iron sheet that he had sold to Secretary Feng Yun for 200 million gold coins.

This price was considered a friendly price. Otherwise, he would definitely have sold it for a higher price.

Zhang Shan didn’t want to be entangled with the little Vixen. She was such a big girl, yet she was still acting coquettishly and cutely. It was a little inappropriate.

“I’ll see what the demon sacrifice dropped first.”

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he opened his backpack and took a look. Of course, there was no divine weapon or mission item.

There was no ultimate skill book either, but there was another skill book.

He took a look at the skill book's description.

[multishot arrow: fire three arrows in a row, causing damage to the target three times. cooldown time: 1 minute. job requirement: Archers.

Looking at the skill book's description, Zhang Shan could not help but be a little surprised. This skill was not bad.

it was different from the archer's split arrow.

However, that was only for different targets. No matter how they split, a single target would only take damage once.

However, the multi-shot skill was different.

this would deal three times the damage to the same target, which was equivalent to a stable triple critical hit.

Moreover, the cooldown time for a level 1 skill was one minute.

After this skill is maxed out, its cooldown time should be reduced, right?

it couldn't possibly be to increase the attack by multiple times. if that was the case, who would be able to withstand it?

Level one dealt triple damage, and if it could be stacked, it would be too much.

Doesn't that mean he can kill anyone he sees? it's impossible for it to be set like that. It should be leveling up to reduce the cooldown time.

Other than the multishot skill book, the other drops from the demonic priest were not worth mentioning.

Two red equipment and one red material.

these three items were the normal drops of red bosses.

it could be considered a small or big drop.

This time, they had obtained an extra skill book. Although it was just a regular skill, it could be considered a small drop.

After Zhang Shan had finished reading, he displayed the dropped items on the team channel and said.

"It's still okay this time. There's an additional skill book."

"Let me see."

"Damn, why isn't it a Berserker skill book?"

what kind of skill book do you still want? are you still lacking any skills? ”

“Before seeing the skill book, who knows? there must be skills that we have never seen before.”

“Haha, this skill book is mine.”

The little fairy’s depression was gone. The multi-shot skill was very suitable for her.

It was a godly skill for killing bosses.

how much would the cooldown time be reduced?

But it didn’t matter. Even if he could use the skill once a minute, it would be good. At least it was useful in a fight.

When someone hit her once, she shot three arrows at the same time. The advantage was very obvious.

there was no need to argue about the distribution of items. whoever could use them would get them.

Zhang Shan distributed the skill book to the little fairy. As for the other red equipment, he temporarily did not distribute them.

Those things were trash to everyone.

they probably didn’t like anyone else except boss wu.

After little fairy received the skill book, she was elated and immediately learned the skill.

Zhang Shan asked her curiously.

He didn’t have a complete understanding of the Archer’s skills.

After all, there were a lot of skills in the game. He knew only a few skills that were functional or powerful.

Zhang Shan really did not spend too much time to understand the skills of other professions.

He had thought that rich players like little fairy would have learned all the minor skills.

“No, I’ve never seen this skill book before. I didn’t know that the Archer class had such a powerful skill.”

What? Could it be that this was the first time the [multishot] skill book had appeared? No one had ever dropped it before? Then this skill book would be worth a lot of money.

this is probably the first time this skill book has appeared. I’ve never heard of it either. At least, no one in our Guild has this skill.

Wind and cloud blade thought for a while and explained to Zhang Shan.

He knew much more than Zhang Shan.

wind and cloud blade was not like zhang shan. if he was not focused on killing monsters, he would be wandering around.

From time to time, he would pay attention to the latest game information.

After hearing what wind and cloud blade said, Zhang Shan finally realized that this multishot skill book was more valuable than he had imagined.

What was the most valuable thing in the game?

It was the kind of things that were practical and rare that were the most valuable.

It didn't have to be the best, as long as it was practical enough. The key was that it had to be rare.

It would be best if there were only one or two items in the entire game. Only then would those items be truly valuable.

Otherwise, the charge skill would have been a very useful and powerful skill.

However, too many of them dropped, so they were not worth much.

This [multishot] skill book was one such item.

This skill was very practical and could greatly increase an Archer's single target damage output.

As long as the equipment was good enough, one skill could instantly kill a person in a fight. It was very useful.

The key was that this skill book was rare enough, and there might only be one at the moment. If he put it up for auction, it would probably sell for a good price.

hahaha, I have enough skill points to Max out my skills. The cooldown time is only 10 seconds, and my damage is explosive now.

The little fairy exploded with joy.

"We've fought so many bosses in a row, of course you have enough skill points."

"Hehe, let's compare our damage output on the next BOSS."

Little fairy taunted wind and cloud blade.

"Do you think I'm afraid of you? Don't think that you can beat me just because you have an extra skill."

Zhang Shan did not care about the two jokers bickering, but looked at his own backpack.

They had passed the third stage of the city-seizing mission, but there were still two bosses to fight.

However, the current harvest was already quite good.

Other than the skill book given to the little fairy, there was also a recipe with wind and cloud blade. After he sold it, he could still get a share of the money.

In Zhang Shan's backpack, there were six pieces of red equipment, and as many as 13 pieces of orange equipment.

Even though orange equipment was not valuable now, it was still worth a lot of money.

However, when the quantity increased, even the most worthless items could be sold for a lot of gold coins.

Zhang Shan estimated that an orange equipment could be sold for a few hundred gold coins, up to a thousand gold coins.

These orange equipment could be sold for nearly 10000 gold coins.

In addition to the six pieces of red-colored equipment, it would be sold for a total of 60000 gold coins, which was definitely not a problem.

Not counting the skill books and recipes, just the trash equipment alone could bring them 70000 gold coins in profit.

70,000 Gold coins were equivalent to 70000 blue coins.

If it was the Zhang Shan of the past, he would have to work hard for a year and not eat or drink to earn that much.

Although these things did not belong to him alone, he would distribute them after completing the mission.

However, weren't there still two more bosses to fight? Perhaps, the boss's loot would be even better as time went on.

Zhang Shan could not help but sigh. If he wanted to earn money, he still had to fight bosses.

"Let's go. Stop talking nonsense. Let's go find the commander of the city guards."

Zhang Shan opened his mouth and interrupted the bickering between wind and cloud blade and little fairy.

let's go. Hope city's garrison commander's Manor. It's better not to close the gate like before.

They had gone to find the garrison commander first, but for some reason, they couldn't even enter the gate.

If they couldn't find the boss, what was the point of fighting?

At that time, everyone guessed that the five bosses in the demon Castle had an order. They had to fight them one by one in order.

Now that they had already killed the demon Priest, only the garrison commander and the city Lord were left.

it was impossible to say that they had to destroy the city lord first, and then attack the complete commander. this was completely illogical.

Therefore, it should not be a problem for them to look for the garrison commander now.

the five of them ran all the way to the garrison commander's residence. at this moment, many people in the game were puzzled.

Just now, Zhang Shan and the others had already been on the system announcement three times. Now, they were on the system announcement twice.

this was way too fast. even if the bosses were lined up for them to fight, they wouldn't be able to fight so quickly.

the world channel:

I'm going numb. Why did six-barreled Bodhisattva kill the five bosses so easily? "

"Don't feel numb, you'll get used to it."

that's not surprising. As long as I can find the BOSS, I can also kill five bosses in an hour.

"F * ck, you're just too good at bragging."

that's possible. If they're all orange bosses, it won't be too difficult.

"Alright, that makes sense. So here's the question, Where can I find these five different orange-colored bosses?"

who the f * ck knows where it is? maybe someone's lucky enough to meet a BOSS the moment they left the house and meet another one after they defeated it.

f * ck, fighting a BOSS isn't minesweeper. Can we still touch it continuously? " don't even think about it. It's definitely an instance dungeon Scroll. It's only possible for bosses to appear continuously.

"Is there such a good instance dungeon Scroll? I really want one. Just the skill points alone would be enough to make me feel so good."

"Work hard on killing monsters, young man. The monsters will drop anything."

"Rely on killing small monsters to drop items? He must have lost his mind. it's already good enough that we can earn back the money we spent on supplies and equipment repairs by killing monsters."

you have to be confident in yourself. Maybe you'll get a divine weapon. That'll be great.

f * ck, I'm tempted. Let's go and farm monsters.

don't just drink, have some peanuts. I feel like you're all drunk.

"I'm not drunk. Don't disturb me."

on the world channel, the players were all confused and jealous, but zhang shan did not know.

At this moment, they had just arrived at the garrison Lieutenant General's Manor.

the situation was different from before. when they came over this time, they saw the garrison commander's manor's main gate wide open.

They could enter.

However, the garrison governor's manor was different from the other three buildings. It occupied a very large area.

They stood outside the door and looked in, but they couldn't see anything, let alone the big BOSS, the garrison commander.

They didn't even see a single ordinary demon warrior.

Upon seeing such a situation, wind cloud blade teased.

"This garrison commander's Manor is really strange. When we came here earlier, the gate was closed. Now that the door was open, there was not even a guard. Wasn't he afraid that someone would go in and steal? Hehe."

haha, it means that the demons are in good order. They don't close their doors at night, and they don't leave anything behind.

"What are you guys talking about? it's just a game, don't take it too seriously."

"hehe, i was just joking. what do we do now? do we go in and find the BOSS? "

"Let's go. What are you still doing here? don't tell me you can figure something out by just standing outside the door."

"Let's go in. Let's find the garrison commander first,"

The five of them entered the garrison Lieutenant General's residence.

It had to be said that this garrison commander's Manor was a Little Big. After they entered, they searched for a long time but couldn't even find a single hair.

They didn't even see a single normal monster, let alone The Guardian commander.

"What the f * ck is this? is this an Empty Fort Strategy? There's not even a single monster in such a big building."

"Why do we need to find monsters? we just need to find the BOSS."

the problem is the garrison commander. We haven't found him either.

"Don't worry, we're not done looking. There's still an open space behind us. The garrison commander should be there."

Everyone passed through the various buildings in the garrison commander's Manor and arrived at the back garden.

the back garden of the garrison commander's manor was completely empty.

This was a huge opening.

In the middle of the training field, a tall demon stood alone.

Above this demon's head was a bright red name. It was the commander of the demons 'defense line in the city.

This title was very long.

Seeing this name, Zhang Shan could not help but let out a sigh of relief. Luckily, it was just a normal red BOSS.

If it wasn't a BOSS with a real name, then it would be easy to handle.

At this point, he finally had the confidence to complete the city seizing mission.

As long as he could defeat this garrison commander, the only one left would be the demon City Lord.

Although he did not know how strong the demon City Lord was, even if it was a real name BOSS, Zhang Shan was not afraid.

In any case, the Scout Captain, Yu Fei, who had issued the mission, had once told him that he had injured the demon race's city Lord.

a BOSS that was injured and weak, even if it was a real name BOSS, there was no reason that Zhang Shan could not beat it.

now, they only needed to destroy this garrison commander in front of them and they could go to find the demon city lord.

Chapter 390 The fattest meat in history after finding the garrison commander, they didn't act rashly. instead, they observed for a while.

Although Zhang Shan was confident that he could play casually, it was always good to play steadily. There was no future in playing wildly.

"I'm curious, where are the garrison commander's troops? He can't be a mere commander, right?"

the garrison commander has set up an ambush for his soldiers. You should go and find them quickly.

"haha, can you guys not be so funny?"

"Isn't this how games are designed? isn't it normal for the BOSS to be solo?"

"Brother six steward, how do we fight this BOSS?"

I'll go first. Just bring Daoist saber to heal me. You guys stay away.

The information of monsters that were higher level than the player could not be seen in this game. They had to be attacked first before they could be seen.

this setting was indeed a bit of a scam.

It would be great if he could check the BOSS's attributes and skills as soon as he saw it.

If that was the case, they would have been able to plan their strategy earlier. Now, everyone had to rely on cannon fodder to try out the bosses that they had never seen before, or they could just be reckless.

there were only five of them in total, and none of them were suitable to be cannon fodder.

Even though boss Wu could resurrect the person who fell to the ground.

However, the support's resurrection skill had a long cooldown, so it was best not to waste it.

It would be better to save the resurrection skill for the critical moment.

they did not have any cannon fodder, so zhang shan could only charge forward.

He jogged all the way and arrived in front of the garrison commander in a short time. Boss Wu followed closely behind him.

As for the other three, they would watch from a distance.

Before Zhang Shan could pull the boss steadily and check the attributes and skills of the garrison commander.

If they came up rashly, they would be courting death.

Before Zhang Shan could get close, the commander of the demon Garrison suddenly turned his head.

A huge machete appeared in its hand.

without any hesitation, after seeing zhang shan, the commander of the guards waved his huge machete and rushed towards him.

Of course, Zhang Shan would not hold back either. After the garrison commander got close to his attack range, he said, "

Zhang Shan fired decisively, and the bullets swept across.

The garrison commander received damage one after another.

At this moment, the commander of the garrison had also rushed in front of him, waving his huge mountain-splitting sword.

They kept on slashing at Zhang Shan.

the demon garrison commander's machete was huge, but it was not slow at all.

Lines of damage appeared above Zhang Shan's head.

-40399,-41235,-40273?

The garrison commander's attacks on Zhang Shan's body were all over 40000 in damage.

F * ck, was this garrison commander that fierce?

Even though the demonic priest that they had killed before had dealt about the same amount of damage.

However, that was a magic monster with slow attack speed.

As a physical monster, could the defense commander's single damage be so high?

This was a little scary. The attack speed of physical monsters was usually much faster than that of magic monsters.

If the commander of the garrison's Critical Hit Damage was high, Zhang Shan might not have been able to withstand it.

The main reason was that they had too few people. Boss Wu was the only support.

There was no need to worry at all, but it was not the case.

They had run so far away to complete the mission, so there was no way to adjust the lineup.

They could only rely on boss Wu as a support, which was a bit difficult.

He hoped that the other skills of the garrison commander would not be too overpowered.

As Zhang Shan continued to attack, he also checked the attributes and skills of the garrison commander.

Demonic advance city defense garrison commander (red): Level 50, attack 21000, HP 80000000.

Skill 1, mountain splitter; skill 2, blade mastery; skill 3, city defense; skill 4, Army of thousands. Status: Holy demon's protection.

[mountain splitter: the famous blade technique of the demon garrison commander. Each blade can be extremely powerful and deal twice the damage to the target.]

[saber proficiency: the demon garrison commander is proficient in saber techniques, greatly increasing attack power.]

[10000 troops: the commander of the demon Garrison is the garrison of a city, and has a large number of demon soldiers under his command.]

When it was in danger, it would summon the demon Warriors under its command to help.

[holy demon's protection: a state of protection blessed by the holy demon. reduces damage received by 50%. will lose its effect after passing heaven's gate.]

Damn it, no wonder Zhang Shan felt that the damage he had dealt to the commander of the demon guards was a little off.

With his over 50000 damage and the title of nemesis of the demonic race, even these bosses had the Holy demon's protection.

The damage he dealt should have been at least 25000.

However, in reality, the damage he dealt could only be dealt if it triggered a critical hit.

Otherwise, the damage of each shot would not even reach 20000.

Usually, it was only between 15000 and 17000, which was very wrong.

It turned out to be the garrison commander. He also had a city defense buff skill, which could buff himself with the castle's defense.

This skill was a little too ridiculous. How much defense did it add to the BOSS?

If Zhang Shan could only deal 10000 damage, it would be a problem if the others could not even touch the BOSS.

As for the garrison commander's other skills, he couldn't tell for now.

however, the first two minor skills were still considered normal.

it didn't have any special berserk skills, but it made the attack power of the garrison commander double that of a normal red BOSS.

However, this wasn't a big deal. It was fine as long as the garrison commander didn't have any other berserk skills.

Although its normal damage was high, with boss Wu's healing and his own lifesteal effect, it was not easy to deal damage.

Zhang Shan should be able to hold on. After all, his health was very high, and he had a lot of room to maneuver.

The only skill that Zhang Shan was not sure about was the garrison commander's ultimate.

What kind of situation was this Massive Attack?

How many demon soldiers could the garrison commander summon?

How strong were these summoned demon soldiers?

It was better not to be like the demon general that they had encountered during the monster siege.

It was the guerrilla General's big move, cavalry charge.

The cavalymen he summoned were ridiculously strong.

Some of the players who were slightly more fragile could not even stop one cavalry.

If the demon soldiers summoned by the commander of the demon Garrison were also that powerful ...

That would be the end of it. They wouldn't be able to stop him.

When they were fighting the demon general, the entire Guild was there.

there were only five of them right now. if the nephilim warriors summoned by the BOSS were too strong, they would be killed.

How were they going to block it? they simply couldn't finish clearing the small monsters.

Not to mention, they still had to fight the BOSS.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan could not help but have a headache. This city seizing mission was not that simple.

Each of the five bosses was more difficult than the last.

This was only the fourth city Lord, and he already had no confidence. How strong would the final city Lord be?

That Scout Captain Yu Fei wouldn't lie to him, right?

had the demon city lord really been injured by him?

Please don't wait until they find the demon City Lord and find out that he's a real-name BOSS full of life.

That would be the end of it. With only five of them, how could they defeat a BOSS that was in perfect condition?

Wouldn't that be a daydream?

Forget it, let's not think too much. Let's deal with this garrison commander first.

Zhang Shan continued to attack, steadily pulling the garrison commander. At the same time, he displayed the boss's attributes and skills on the team channel.

Wind and cloud blade and the others, who were standing at the back, looked at the BOSS's attributes and skills that Zhang Shan had released.

Without any hesitation, he charged forward and slashed at the commander of the demonic Garrison.

Windcloud blade said happily as he hacked at the BOSS.

haha, another dummy monster. It's easy to beat.

"have you lost your mind? look at the BOSS's skills carefully. you call this a good fight?"

yeah, look at the damage you've dealt. We're only worthy of the BOSS's sand scraping, aren't we? "

Only then did wind and cloud blade react. Although he was equipped with the legendary axe, he was still the most powerful player in the game.

His attack power was probably the highest among the players other than Zhang Shan.

However, the damage he dealt on the demon garrison commander was only slightly more than 1000 each time.

"F * ck, this doesn't make sense. Is the defense of the commander of the demon race so strong? I only dealt 1000 damage?"

Wind and cloud blade could not understand at all. He currently had over 7000 attack power.

It could only deal 1000 damage, this was too ridiculous.

however, that was the truth. with zhang shan's 50000 attack power, he only managed to deal 10000 damage.

Wasn't it normal for Windcloud blade to only deal a little over 1000 damage?

In fact, he was not that bad. Both heart follows me and little fairy only dealt around 300 to 400 damage.

It was pitifully little.

The weaker the attack power, the more they would be suppressed by the defense of the demon garrison commander.

this was a red BOSS with 80 million hp.

They could only deal around-300 to-400 damage to the demon garrison commander.

It was completely meaningless. The damage they dealt was not even enough to heal the BOSS.

"What the f * ck, how long are they going to fight?"

it's alright. At least, brother Butler can still deal more than 10000 damage. We can still kill the BOSS. It's just that we'll have to spend more time.

"that's right. if it's just the few of us, i'm afraid we might not be able to kill the commander of the demonic garrison even tomorrow."

that's f * cking Bullsh * t. Not only does this demonic garrison commander have ridiculously high defense, but it also has 20 million more HP than the other red bosses.

what's so strange about that? after all, the commander of the garrison is the second-in-command in this Demon Castle. He can't have the same attributes as the blacksmiths and pharmacists in the city, right? "

"that's ridiculous. the guard commander's level is not higher than the other red bosses. why is it so much stronger?"

that's right. They're both normal red bosses, so why is there such a big difference? " maybe it's because we're doing a quest, just like in an instance dungeon. There are different difficulty levels. This guard commander is equivalent to The Guardian BOSS of the hard mode. The three red bosses before this are probably the bosses of the normal mode.

although what you said makes sense, I still think it's a little ridiculous.

that's right. If the garrison commander was a level 55 or level 60 BOSS, it would still be acceptable. But for bosses of the same level to have such a huge difference, that's nonsense.

"Why are you saying so much? hurry up and kill the monsters."

cut my ass. We're just here to do nothing. It doesn't make a difference whether we cut him or not.

The little guys were a little calm as they faced an invincible Big Boss.

They had no other choice. They couldn't do anything at all. The small amount of damage they dealt was like scraping sand on the demon garrison commander's face.

If they wanted to defeat the BOSS, they still had to rely on Zhang Shan's damage output.

I'd like to call this garrison commander the most tanky in history. My attack is over 7000, but the BOSS's defense has reduced it by over 6000. I really want to know how much defense the demon garrison commander has. Is it in the tens of thousands? " who knows? there's no clear calculation mechanism for defense to offset damage.

it also has something to do with levels. I realized that the greater the level difference, the better the effect of defense.

sigh, it's so boring. Let's take our time.

" you should be content. as long as you can defeat the BOSS, it doesn't matter if you take a longer time.

Even Zhang Shan was having a headache, much less his other friends.

he really didn't know how long they would have to fight before they could kill this demon garrison commander.

They had been fighting for a long time, but they had not even taken down 5% of the boss's health.

His liver really hurt.

Zhang Shan did a quick calculation. There was no need to calculate the damage of his friends. Their little damage was just a bonus.

With his own damage output, not counting the critical effect, he could take out more than 30000 HP from the demon garrison commander every second.

The commander of the garrison had 80000000 HP.

He would need about an hour to defeat the boss.

it should be known that it would only take them about ten minutes to defeat the other red bosses.

He would take it slow. It was fine if the boss was a little tankier. It would be easier to deal with than those bosses with disgusting skills.

It was just a little more time, so it didn't matter.

In order to defeat the BOSS, in order to complete the quest, spending a little more time was nothing.

One had to know that they had spent three to four days to get here.

They had already spent so much time on it, so why would they care about the time they spent on the BOSS?

Zhang Shan attacked non-stop. His berserk and fanaticism skills would be activated as soon as the cooldown was over.

he didn't save at all. there was no need to save at all.

His companions were the same. They used all sorts of berserk skills as soon as they were off cooldown.

As a Berserker, Windcloud blade had a Berserker's heart berserk skill.

Increases attack power by 100% after activation, lasts for 10 seconds.

after activating the berserker's heart, his attack power could reach more than 15000.

In that case, the damage dealt would be considerable. Basically, every slash could deal four to five thousand damage.

Although the skill only lasted for 10 seconds, it could still deal some damage.

As for heart follows me and little fairy, the two of them couldn't do anything.

Spellblades and archers' damage output was relatively smooth, and they didn't have any short-term explosive skills.

The two of them could only give the garrison commander a hard time.

He could only be a hooligan.
