

Passive Skills 391

Chapter 391 Thousands of soldiers and horses

Although the defense of the commander of the demon Garrison was ridiculously high.

However, Zhang Shan's ATK was equally high, and he could still deal considerable damage.

Moreover, although the demon Garrison was a big meat tank, it had put all its skills into defense.

they did not pose any threat to zhang shan.

From this perspective, the demon garrison commander was indeed a dummy monster.

Other than spending a little more time, it was still easy to fight.

of course, he didn't know what the ultimate skill was.

They couldn't figure out what the skill was just by looking at the description.

Everyone would only know what the effect was after the garrison commander released the skill.

Under Zhang Shan's continuous attacks, the health of the demon garrison commander was still slowly decreasing.

Although the rate of decline was very slow, after more than 20 minutes, the garrison commander's HP was slowly being reduced to half.

"Pay attention to your positions. When the garrison commander uses his big move, you must protect the Taoist priest with his sword."

seeing that the commander of the demonic garrison was almost at half health, zhang shan specially reminded his friends.

Even though he didn't know how powerful the skill was, he still had a hard time finding out.

However, it was never wrong to be careful.

In particular, boss Wu couldn't die. It didn't matter if the others died, since boss Wu could resurrect them.

it would be fine even if everyone else fell to the ground, although the cooldown time of the resurrection skill was very long.

Boss Wu had maxed out his skills, but they still had a five-minute cooldown.

however, that didn't matter. if the others fell, they could just lie on the ground and wait.

when boss wu's resurrection skill was off cooldown, he would resurrect them one by one.

however, if boss wu died, they wouldn't be able to continue with this mission.

Without boss Wu's healing, Zhang Shan couldn't even hold on against the commander of the demonic Garrison.

Not to mention that there was still the even more difficult Demon City Lord.

As for the others, if boss Wu wasn't here, they would be even more afraid.

If they fell to the ground, they could only go back and resurrect.

Then what's the point of playing?

If he went back, wouldn't he have to spend another three to four days before running back?

Wouldn't that make him so depressed that he would vomit blood?

Therefore, he had to protect boss Wu well.

As long as boss Wu was still around, it didn't matter even if Zhang Shan died.

Boss Wu could resurrect them one by one.

If boss Wu died, they could forget about completing the city-seizing mission.

He could only come back three days later.

"Don't worry, we'll protect big brother saber."

"Don't stray too far away from me. I can help you out at critical moments."

Zhang Shan thought for a while and continued.

He was really a little worried about his little companions.

The main reason was that they had too little health and no support to heal them.

In the face of the commander of the demon Garrison, the thousands of troops he summoned would probably not be able to hold on.

Boss Wu had to keep healing Zhang Shan and could not care about the others.

after all, the garrison commander's damage was also very high.

And because of his defense, Zhang Shan's damage was much less.

This caused his lifesteal effect to be much worse, without boss Wu's continuous healing.

Zhang Shan really couldn't hold off the BOSS.

Thus, Zhang Shan asked them to come closer. When the time came, he would be able to make a move and help them out.

After all, Zhang Shan's damage output was solid, and he could clear the small monsters very quickly.

Everyone listened to Zhang Shan's suggestion and moved closer to him. The five of them were squeezed together.

In any case, the commander of the demonic Garrison didn't have any AoE skills, so it didn't matter if everyone squeezed together.

He would not be accidentally injured by the garrison commander.

And according to their past experience, when dealing with a BOSS's ultimate skill, they had to be careful.

it would be better for everyone to stand together.

This way, it would be more advantageous for defense.

...

After all, if everyone was together, the area for defense would be much smaller.

They could share the pressure of the monsters more.

Although the defense of the commander of the demon Garrison was ridiculously high.

However, under everyone's continuous attacks, the BOSS's health slowly dropped to 50%.

When the demon garrison commander's HP dropped to half ...

the BOSS stopped its attack on zhang shan. instead, it kept its huge machete and placed it on its back.

At the same time, the commander of the demon Garrison also took out a small flag from somewhere.

Written on the flag were the words "advance the city defense garrison commander," a few large golden words.

After the commander of the demon Garrison took out the flag, he raised it high and waved it left and right.

A moment later, a sea of demon soldiers rushed out of the training field.

Where did so many demon soldiers come from?

"F * ck, there are so many monsters, how can we clear them all?"

Windcloud blade was on the verge of despair.

"Damn it, did the commander of the garrison really ambush his soldiers on the side? Why didn't we see it just now?"

what are you thinking? that's just the garrison commander's ultimate skill.

so many small monsters appeared all of a sudden. What should we do? " before the commander of the demonic garrison released his big move, everyone had thought of many things.

However, he had never thought that the boss's ultimate skill would actually summon so many small monsters.

How many demon soldiers had appeared around the training ground? They had no way of estimating it.

There were just too many of them. In such a large martial arts practice field, demon soldiers were charging at them from all directions.

Even though their equipment and skills were all very good, they were still very powerful.

however, it was impossible for them to clear so many monsters. after all, they only had five people.

The most important thing was that the commander of the demon Garrison didn't say that he could only use a big move once.

by the time they had cleared most of the monsters, the nephilim garrison commander would probably use his next big move.

If this cycle continued, they might drag it out until the end and blow up the demon garrison commander.

It was impossible to clear all the small monsters.

"What do we do now? do you want to clear the small monsters first or fight the BOSS first?"

When they saw the sea of demon soldiers appear, everyone was numb.

They had never thought that the demonic garrison commander's ultimate skill could actually summon so many monsters.

This was simply too exaggerated.

No wonder the garrison commander's big move was called "thousands of troops and horses."

Zhang Shan looked at the demon soldiers that were rushing towards them from all directions.

These demon soldiers didn't have ten thousand horses, let alone ten thousand, they didn't even have a single horse. They were all infantry.

But an Army of a thousand was definitely more than that.

Damn it, there were probably tens of thousands of small monsters. How were they going to fight them?

At this time, a little fairy asked eagerly.

"Do you want us to use our big moves?"

open my ass. There are so many small monsters. Three big moves won't be enough to clear them all.

Out of the five of them, three of them had ultimate skills.

It was reasonable to say that the power of an ultimate skill was extremely powerful, especially when it was used against a large group of targets.

However, Zhang Shan looked at the demon soldiers around him. There were too many of them.

Even if they used up all three of their ultimate skills, they might not be able to clear all these monsters.

the point was, even if they cleared this wave of monsters, what could they do?

it probably wouldn't be long before the commander of the demon garrison would summon another wave of demon soldiers.

What would they do then?

No matter how many ultimate skills they had, they could only be used once. After all, ultimate skills had long cooldowns.

As for the demonic garrison commander, who only had half of his HP left, they still had to fight for a long time, at least half an hour.

in the time that followed, the BOSS couldn't possibly say that he wouldn't use another big move, right?

Seeing that the demon soldiers around them were about to reach them, they had to think of a solution as soon as possible.

Zhang Shan said.

"Everyone stick close to the garrison commander. Don't worry about the small monsters. We'll only attack the boss. Use my ejection damage to kill the monsters near us."

that's right. It's impossible for us to clear all these monsters anyway, so it's better to just ignore them. We'll take turns using AoE skills. When the monsters get close, they'll be killed by the AoE skills. In this case, the monsters won't be able to hit us much, so we should be able to hold on.

after hearing zhang shan's suggestion, wind cloud blade's eyes lit up. he also felt that this was a good idea.

After all, these demon Warriors were just a bunch of small monsters.

They couldn't see its attributes yet, but they had seen many of these monsters.

It was obvious that they were level 50 monsters. Normally, they wouldn't pose any threat to them.

If they weren't fighting the boss, they could have taken a little more time to clear out all these monsters.

right now, they just didn't have the time. they couldn't just keep tanking the boss's damage and clearing the small monsters.

the others had no objections to zhang shan's plan.

Everyone quickly moved closer to the garrison commander.

The commander of the demonic Army's Garrison was tall. They stood beside the boss and kept slashing at it.

It was a little like a group of dwarves surrounding a giant and slashing at it.

At this moment, the demon soldiers around the martial arts practice field also rushed over quickly.

However, before these small monsters could get close, Zhang Shan's catapulting passive had already begun to show its power.

Although he only attacked the garrison commander, the damage he dealt was high.

The demon soldiers that were close to them were beaten down in batches.

These demon soldiers were all close combat infantry. They had to walk to Zhang Shan's side.

Only then could he cause them harm.

however, zhang shan's catapulted damage was everywhere. these demon soldiers could not get close at all.

His friends had originally prepared their AoE skills to attack when the monsters got close.

He immediately used his AoE skills to clear them.

However, they realized that they were not needed at all. Zhang Shan's catapults were passive, and they directly hit these demon soldiers, making them unable to get close.

one must know that zhang shan now had more than 50000 attack power. against the commander of the demons 'garrison, he could not do much.

However, when fighting small monsters, one hit was more than enough to kill them.

There was even a large overflow of damage.

Other than that, Zhang Shan's catapulting passive had caused a lot of damage to the monsters.

At the same time, it allowed Zhang Shan's blood-sucking special effect to be brought out perfectly.

One shot dealt 12 damage, and the lifesteal effect gave Zhang Shan a large amount of health.

He didn't need boss Wu to heal him anymore as long as the demon Warriors were still there.

Zhang Shan could rely on the catapulting passive and the blood-sucking special effect to be completely self-sufficient.

This way, boss Wu would be free when his other friends were in danger.

He could also heal the others.

it wasn't like before, where boss wu could only heal zhang shan and basically couldn't care about the others.

Zhang Shan's actions had stunned his friends. They had been worried just now.

He didn't know how to deal with so many demon soldiers.

Whoever knew that he didn't even need to deal with it.

Zhang Shan's passive catapults would be able to deal with these demon soldiers.

It didn't affect their fight with the boss at all.

haha, it's simple now. The commander of the garrison can't play any more tricks. If his big move can't threaten us, then he's just a little brother.

"Come on, beat it up."

f * ck, I was so scared when I saw these small monsters. So, they're just like that.

"yeah, we were all so scared just now. i thought we wouldn't be able to defeat this boss."

the more I think about it, the more I feel that six-barreled's passive ejection is awesome. It's too powerful.

that's right. Why don't archers have such powerful skills even though they're both agility-type classes? sob sob sob. I'm not happy.

At this point, the little demon started to act cute again. How shameful.

"Doesn't the Archer class have split arrow? how could there be a second skill of the same type?"

compared to brother pipe's ejection, the Archer's split arrow is a trashy skill. Not only does it have to be cast on its own, but it also has a 15-second cooldown. It's completely useless.

be content. Compared to classes without AoE skills, the Archer's skills are already very good.

you're right. Besides, he's the only one with the six-barreled catapult passive skill. I've never seen anyone else with this skill.

yes, since the ejection passive is so strong, it should be a rare skill. I don't think the skill book will drop.

"big brother carrying a blade is still the luckiest. he can actually get such a powerful skill book from killing small monsters."

"old wu, get me another skill book next time. it's such a powerful skill book."

zhang shan's catapulting passive skill, the skill book had been dropped by boss wu when he was killing small monsters.

Although it wasn't anything new for a skill book to drop from killing small monsters, it was really rare to see a skill book as good as the ejection passive.

The team did not have the pressure of the small monsters, and the garrison commander was carried by Zhang Shan. This boss was easy and enjoyable to fight.

Apart from being tankier, the demon garrison commander was even easier to defeat than the previous three bosses.

Of course, this was also due to Zhang Shan's catapulting passive, which perfectly countered the garrison commander's big move.

Otherwise, they would have a hard time dealing with The Sea of Monsters.

Everyone happily attacked the BOSS, even though they did not deal much damage.

But it was still very powerful.

Chapter 392 The silence scroll

Slowly, the HP of the commander of the demonic Garrison decreased, and he was about to enter a berserk state.

During this time, the garrison commander summoned an Army of thousands of men and horses three times.

Although there was still a sea of demon soldiers on the training ground that had not been cleared by Zhang Shan's catapults.

However, the commander of the demonic Garrison continued to summon.

This was probably a mechanism set by the BOSS. As long as there was a certain amount of time between each attack, the BOSS would use its ultimate.

Regardless of whether the first batch of demonic soldiers had been cleared or not, the commander of the demonic Garrison would continue to summon more demonic soldiers when the time was up.

this setting was still a little mechanical.

haha, all the best! Just a little more and you'll be able to blow up the garrison commander.

this commander of the demonic Garrison looked so difficult to defeat at the beginning. I thought he was a King, but he's only a bronze.

"I'm afraid you're looking down on bronze, hehe."

"At most, it can only be considered as a black iron, it can't be any higher, haha."

I hope that the demon City Lord is also such a fake. That would be perfect.

"You're dreaming. If even the city Lord is so easy to deal with, then wouldn't this city-seizing mission be a free gift?"

"why are you thinking so much? let's kill this garrison commander first."

that's right, good luck. I hope that a divine weapon will drop for us. If that's the case, the city seizing mission will be dispensable.

"You're dreaming," before the garrison commander was killed by them, everyone had already started to fantasize about the loot.

Of course, it was just a thought. The probability of a BOSS dropping good items was countless times higher than that of a small monster.

However, that was only a chance. In fact, most of the time, bosses would only drop equipment and materials of the same level.

If he wanted to get good items, he had to kill a lot of them.

If they only fought a few bosses, they would have to be extremely lucky.

Otherwise, it was unlikely that it would drop anything good.

In particular, it was even more unlikely that such a high-quality item like a divine weapon mission item would drop.

But thinking about it, it was still okay. One had to have dreams. If one didn't have dreams, what was the difference between them and a salted fish?

Under everyone's relentless attacks, the commander of the demonic Garrison entered a berserk state.

The BOSS's damage became more powerful, and its attack speed became faster.

however, to Zhang Shan, this made no difference.

Now they were surrounded by demon Warriors, with these cute little monsters.

Zhang Shan's lifesteal effect sucked up a lot of blood, causing Zhang Shan's health to be maintained at almost full health.

He didn't even need boss Wu to heal him.

"I suddenly thought of a question. If we destroy the garrison commander, will these demon soldiers also disappear?"

"I don't think so."

f * ck, then what should we do? the entire training field is filled with small monsters. How are we going to get out after we kill the BOSS? we can't possibly kill all the demon Warriors before we can get out, right? " so be it. At most, I'll just spend one or two hours to clear the mobs. I'll get some experience anyway.

you're thinking too much. With the six-barreled boss here, these small monsters are nothing. We can just kill our way out. What's the point of clearing the small monsters? " no way! There are so many small monsters. How can they kill their way out? " that depends on who it is. If it was you, don't even talk about fighting out, I'd consider you amazing if you could stand still for half a minute. But if it's a six-barreled Big Shot, there's definitely no problem. Don't worry.

"Don't think too far ahead. The garrison commander hasn't been defeated yet."

so what if I think about it? this is called 'if one doesn't have long-term considerations, one will have immediate worries'.

"Worry my ass, you're worrying for nothing."

although the entire martial practice field was still filled with demon race soldiers, as the leader, he was still the leader.

The commander of the demons 'Garrison was about to be blown up by them.

Under everyone's continuous attacks, the garrison commander's HP was slowly decreasing.

20%, 10%, 5%.

A few minutes later, the garrison commander's HP was completely depleted.

Zhang Shan quickly controlled the Panda ball to move forward. His little palm waved quickly, and with a seven-hit combo, the demon garrison commander exploded.

≪ system announcement: congratulations to six-barreled Bodhisattva, wind and cloud blade, and heart follows me Tao Wu for successfully killing the commander of the demonic Army's city defense Garrison. ≫

Skill point +1, medal +100.

Although they had defeated the garrison commander, they could not relax.

The demon soldiers on the training ground did not disperse because of the garrison commander's fall. the screen was still filled with small monsters.

After Zhang Shan had blown up the garrison commander, he did not even have the chance to catch his breath. He immediately turned his gun.

It swept towards the surrounding demon soldiers.

However, because there were too many monsters, no matter how fast he fought, he couldn't clear a small empty space.

"Damn it, it's not over yet."

"I just want to know, how many monsters are there?"

that's hard to say. The garrison commander has summoned thousands of Soldiers Three times, and each time, there were tens of thousands of them. We should have defeated tens of thousands just now. There should be hundreds of thousands of demon soldiers left on the field, right? "

f * ck, this is so annoying. The BOSS is down, so why aren't the summoned monsters scattering? "

"what are you thinking? do you still want to reason with the system?"

Zhang Shan also felt annoyed.

They couldn't just stay here and clear out the small monsters. How long would it take for them to clear out all of the 100000-plus demon Warriors?

It would probably take more than an hour?

Zhang Shan did not want to waste time here. There was still a Demon City Lord to fight.

They hadn't completed the quest yet, so it wasn't very appropriate for them to stay here and kill monsters.

But the screen was filled with demon soldiers. If they didn't work hard to kill a path, they really wouldn't be able to get out.

Looking at these demon soldiers, Zhang Shan said with a bit of anger.

I'll open up a path. Big Boss one blade and heart follows, protect the left and right. Let's kill our way out and not waste time here.

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he opened fire. The bullets turned into fire dragons and swept towards the demon soldiers.

he kept moving forward, and after opening up a gap in the front, he quickly rushed forward for a distance.

Then, he continued to clear the monsters, while wind and cloud blade and heart moves with me stood guard on his left and right.

Blocking the demon soldiers on both sides and controlling their surroundings, there would always be an open space.

As for boss Wu and the little fairy, they were free to do whatever they wanted.

The little fairy had the split arrow skill, which was useful when clearing monsters.

Boss Wu, on the other hand, did not have the ability to clear monsters. He could only heal Windcloud blade and heart follows me.

Zhang Shan, with his spear, led the way. They slowly made their way out of the training field.

"I suddenly thought of a question. Is there only a training field? are there demon soldiers? Will the other places in the garrison commander's Manor also be filled with small monsters?"

can you not say such a terrible thing? we can just kill our way through.

zhang shan did not have time to care about the others. he had to keep opening up a path.

Damn it, he felt that clearing a path through the mob of monsters was much more troublesome than fighting a boss.

It wasn't that these small monsters would pose any threat to them.

In reality, if Zhang Shan stood at the same spot and farmed monsters, even if he farmed until the end of time, these small monsters would not be able to kill him.

However, this was also very annoying.

He had to keep operating and shoot while slowly moving forward.

these demon warriors summoned by the garrison commander were like the small monsters in the extreme mode dungeon.

they would charge at them endlessly.

After Zhang Shan had cleared up the area, another large group of monsters rushed over. It was endless.

Just like that, with Zhang Shan's ferocious firepower, they slowly killed their way to the edge of the training field.

Zhang Shan looked out of the training field.

F*ck, outside the martial arts practice field, there were also demon soldiers.

What the hell, could it be that the entire garrison commander's Manor was filled with demon soldiers?

If that was the case, it would be difficult for them to kill their way out.

At this time, his other companions also saw the demon soldiers outside the martial practice field.

Everyone was numb.

In the beginning, they had felt that the demon garrison commander's great move of commanding an Army of thousands of soldiers and horses was a great one.

It was too abnormal to be able to summon so many demon soldiers.

But now, they finally knew.

It turned out that what they had seen before was just the tip of the iceberg. The monsters summoned by the garrison commander were just small monsters.

It was far more than they had imagined.

Fortunately, they had not planned to clear the small monsters first before fighting the BOSS.

If that was the case, they would never be able to clear all the small monsters.

This was because the commander of the demonic Garrison would continue to summon demonic soldiers.

No matter how quickly they cleared, they could not be summoned as quickly as the garrison commander.

"Damn it, can we still get out? How many monsters are there?"

Who knows? The garrison commander's Manor is extremely huge. If the entire Manor is filled with demon soldiers, the number of small monsters would be ridiculous.

"Who cares, just charge and it's over."

Zhang Shan led the way with great difficulty. They slowly charged past, guarding the buildings in the garrison commander's Manor.

They slowly walked towards the entrance of the governor's manor.

Zhang Shan raised his head and looked out the door.

Luckily, there weren't that many demon soldiers on the streets outside the garrison commander's Manor.

It was still the same as when they arrived. There were only a few demons in groups of two or three, wandering back and forth on the streets.

Zhang Shan could not help but sigh in relief.

Fortunately, after a long journey of killing, he had an illusion.

He thought that the entire Demon Castle was already filled with demon soldiers.

If that was the case, what kind of mission would they be able to complete?

Although this Demon Castle wasn't too big, it still had a radius of about five li.

If the area within a five-mile radius was filled with small monsters, how many would there be? it was scary just thinking about it.

Fortunately, what he was worried about did not happen.

Right now, all they needed to do was to charge out of the garrison commander's Manor.

he quickly pulled back the distance between him and the monsters behind him, then rode away quickly.

I can't waste any more time with these small monsters. Otherwise, there will be no end to this.

Not long after, under Zhang Shan's lead, the five of them rushed out.

Everyone quickly ran forward, preparing to open up a distance before riding away.

At this moment, Zhang Shan turned back to take a look. He saw that the demon soldiers had not chased after them.

Instead, they only chased him to the main gate of the garrison commander's Manor before stopping.

Zhang Shan said to everyone after seeing the situation.

"There's no need to run. Those demon soldiers aren't chasing us."

When the others heard Zhang Shan's words, they all turned back to look. They saw that the demon soldiers had indeed not caught up.

Everyone heaved a sigh of relief.

what the f * ck? why are there so many small monsters? "

I can only say that it's a good thing that we're determined to attack the garrison commander. If we let him summon a few more monsters, there might be so many monsters that the entire garrison commander's Manor wouldn't be able to fit in.

that's still okay. If we drag this out any longer, I'm afraid that the entire Castle will be filled with demon soldiers. Then we'll be finished. How can we go there and find the demon Castellan? " that's right. The demon garrison commander's big move is really shameless. Did he rely on the human wave tactic? " we've underestimated the commander of the garrison. Such an ordinary move is actually so terrifying.

that's right. They're really terrifying. Even 500 players wouldn't be able to clear the monsters summoned by the garrison commander, let alone the five of us.

when dealing with an Army, you can't just clear the small monsters. There's no way to clear them all.

I can only say that we didn't see through this skill at the beginning. Since it's an Army of thousands, of course, it's not something that the few of us can stop. It should be the general's head in the midst of an Army of thousands, hehe.

" what you said makes f * cking sense. unfortunately, it's just belated advice. "

"don't talk nonsense. big boss six-barreled, take a look and see if the demon garrison commander dropped anything good."

After killing the garrison commander, he had been busy clearing the path. He had not had the time to check the loot.

Only after he had gotten rid of the monsters did he have some free time.

speaking of which, they had rushed all the way from the martial arts practice field to the streets outside the garrison commander's manor.

How much time did he spend in total?

From start to finish, he probably spent almost an hour, right?

damn it, it took even more time than fighting a boss.

After beating the boss, they still needed to spend such a long time to rush out. Zhang Shan was also convinced of this setting.

this was still with zhang shan's strong firepower. if it was anyone else, they would not be able to even talk about charging out.

Most likely, he would have been drowned by the small monsters in the martial arts practice field.

But no matter what, they finally made it out.

they probably wouldn't encounter a shameless boss like the nephilim garrison commander again in the future.

After all, the garrison commander was a special quest boss.

It would only appear when they were carrying out a city-seizing mission.

Forget it, he didn't want to think about these random items. He wanted to see what kind of items had dropped.

Zhang Shan checked his backpack.

The item was ordinary, and there were no surprises.

There were three pieces of red equipment, one red material, and a half-wheel.

In the beginning, Zhang Shan had thought that it was an instance dungeon Scroll.

If it was an instance dungeon Scroll, then there was still some hope. After all, the rewards from an instance dungeon Scroll were quite high.

Generally, they wouldn't be bad.

A long time ago, Feng Yun Qing Qing had obtained an instance dungeon Scroll and they had gone to get it together.

the harvest was not bad. he had obtained a spirit weapon.

Unfortunately, the garrison commander did not drop an instance dungeon Scroll, but a skill scroll.

Moreover, it was not a powerful scroll.

It was just a half-wheel for a function.

[silence scroll (special item): after using it on a specific target, the target will enter a state of silence, unable to cast skills. Duration: 5 minutes. Number of uses: 1/1]

Chapter 393 The resurrected Demon City Lord, dodogan zhang shan looked at the silence scroll in his backpack, and he could not help but feel a little fascinated.

Back then, he had relied on a silence scroll to single-handedly defeat the first red BOSS in the game, the demon tribe's priest.

It wasn't that the scroll was very useful.

in reality, the silence scroll could only be considered as the worst type of scroll. it was not considered to be of much use.

It was of no use in a chaotic battle.

This was because the silence scroll was not like the other damage-type scrolls that could cause large area damage.

The silence scroll could only be used on one target.

A scroll was such a high-end item, how could it be used in a one-on-one battle?

This was obviously not realistic.

The biggest use of the silence scroll was to use it against a BOSS.

With one scroll, no matter how strong the BOSS was, it would not be able to use any skills.

especially when dealing with powerful magic-type bosses, the silence scroll was very useful.

Zhang Shan had defeated the first red BOSS in the first two or three days of the game.

He had relied on a silence scroll.

Back then, he had used a silence scroll to silence the demon tribe's priest for three minutes. Then, he had beaten the demon tribe's priest as if he was an idiot.

He had single-handedly defeated the first red BOSS in the game.

It even caused a huge sensation back then.

However, the silence scroll was not very useful to them.

now, they didn't even need scrolls to deal with normal red bosses.

Zhang Shan only needed one or two support to heal him.

Basically, it could defeat all the normal red bosses that were known to them.

As for those powerful real-name bosses?

just this scroll alone wasn't very useful.

Unless they had two more cards, then the five of them might be able to try and take down the boss with a real name.

of course, the premise was to find a real-name boss.

However, if there was only one silence scroll, it would be useless.

A real-name boss was so powerful and had so much HP.

This silence scroll could only silence the target for five minutes. It was impossible for them to defeat a real BOSS in five minutes.

Even if he used the silence scroll after the BOSS's health dropped to half, it would still not be enough time to seal the BOSS's ultimate skill.

A real name BOSS with half HP would have at least 100 million HP.

It was impossible for them to take out so much HP in five minutes.

However, it would be wrong to say that the silence scroll was completely useless.

When they had few people, they didn't need this scroll to fight bosses.

However, if a large party was fighting a BOSS together, this scroll might be useful.

After all, if there were enough people, the five minutes of silence was enough for them to kill the real-name BOSS with half health.

The premise was that they had to find a BOSS with a real name.

All in all, this silence scroll was still quite valuable.

If Zhang Shan were to put this silence scroll up for auction, it could probably be sold for a high price.

There would be big shots in the game who would specifically collect these functional items. Who knew when they would come in handy.

of course, zhang shan would not sell it.

I'll keep it for now. Who knows when I'll be able to use it.

Besides, they had not finished their city-seizing mission yet.

There was only one Demon City Lord left, and they had not killed it yet.

This Demon City Lord, Zhang Shan and the rest estimated, should be a BOSS with a real name.

although the leader of the scouts had said that the demon city lord had been injured by him, he had not been injured.

according to the mission process in the game.

then, the demon city lord should be in a weakened state.

Perhaps this silence scroll had come at the right time.

Perhaps he could use it when he was fighting the demon City Lord.

While Zhang Shan was staring at his backpack in a daze, wind and cloud blade could not help but ask him.

“what’s wrong, brother liu guan? Did it really drop a God-tier item?”

After his train of thought was interrupted, Zhang Shan finally regained his senses and quickly replied.

“No, three pieces of equipment and one scroll.”

After saying that, he displayed the dropped items on the party channel.

“F * ck, I saw you standing there in a daze for half a day, I thought you dropped something good.”

“This scroll is pretty good, it can be considered a good item.”

“yeah, it could be sold for at least a few hundred thousand gold coins.”

what’s there to sell? you can’t even buy such a thing when you need it. You still want to sell it? ” the silence scroll is very useful. I remember that the six-barreled boss used the silence scroll to solo a red BOSS.

holy sh * t, I remember now. There was such a thing. Doesn’t that mean that we can use this scroll to blow up the demon City Lord? ” hehe, that’s true. Maybe the demon City Lord is just a fake, and can be killed in two or three moves.

“Don’t think too far ahead. Let’s go find the demon City Lord first.”

don’t think too highly of yourself. If even the garrison commander is so shameless, the demon City Lord is definitely not an easy character to deal with.

"It's no use thinking too much. Let's find the demon City Lord first."

"Let's go to the city Lord's mansion."

The five-man team rode their horses and ran along the street toward the city Lord's mansion. On the way, they occasionally met a few demon soldiers.

They couldn't be bothered.

Everyone wanted to see what kind of BOSS the demon City Lord was.

Could they beat him?

they were only missing this last BOSS for their city-seizing mission.

As long as they could defeat the demon City Lord, they should be able to complete their city-seizing mission.

It might be the first player's mission in the entire game.

Everyone was looking forward to the mission reward.

Of course, they had to complete the mission first.

now, it was all up to this last wave.

After a while, they arrived in front of the city Lord's mansion.

As the residence of the city's biggest boss, the city Lord's Manor occupied a larger area than the garrison commander's Manor.

Furthermore, the buildings in the mansion were even more majestic.

The biggest difference was that there were two bosses guarding the entrance of the city Lord's mansion.

however, they were just two purple bosses. they were just gifts.

however, this also showed that the demon city lord's face was very different. he actually had guards.

There were so many demon soldiers under the command of the garrison commander, but his governor's manor didn't have any guards.

"Should we just charge in?"

When they saw the two guards at the entrance of the city Lord's mansion, everyone did not take them seriously.

What a joke. They could easily defeat a red BOSS, so why would they even care about two small purple bosses?

What everyone valued was the city Lord of the demon race in the city Lord's mansion.

As for the two guards, he could easily deal with them.

“Don’t come near me. I’ll go in first after I deal with these two guards.”

Zhang Shan said to his friends after some consideration.

Right now, no one knew where the demon City Lord was, so it was best if they didn’t follow too closely.

If they were not careful and ran into the demon City Lord, they would be in trouble.

Especially boss Wu, who had to be careful. He just had to follow behind Zhang Shan to avoid being careless.

If they were to be killed by the demon City Lord, their mission would be over.

without boss wu, they wouldn’t be able to play today.

Zhang Shan did not have the confidence to challenge a boss with a real name, even without support.

Even if this real name boss was injured and weak, it would not work.

alright, you go in first. We’ll follow behind.

Zhang Shan led the way in front. The two guards at the entrance of the city Lord’s Manor saw Zhang Shan and the rest.

He immediately brandished his blade and charged forward.

facing two purple bosses, zhang shan did not have to worry at all.

He stood there and waited for the two guards to get close before shooting.

It was a level 50 purple BOSS, the guard of the demon City Lord.

Zhang Shan was too lazy to check the attributes. He only fired a few shots, and the reflected damage was between the two bosses, jumping back and forth.

In an instant, the health bar of the demon City Lord’s chief guard was reduced.

Each shot from the ejection passive could eject up to 12 times of damage.

If he were to jump and spring between two targets, then every shot that Zhang Shan fired would be equivalent to dealing six damage to each target.

a level 50 purple BOSS would probably only have around 5000000 hp.

in less than 20 seconds, zhang shan had blown up the two city guards.

Purple bosses were the worst bosses, so there were no first kill announcements.

As for the item drop rate, it wasn’t even worth mentioning.

Zhang Shan took a look. There were only five pieces of purple equipment and two purple materials.

Level 50 purple equipment was the worst of the worst.

Probably only the most ordinary players would have a use for it.

Therefore, these pieces of equipment could not be sold for a good price.

If they were to be put up for auction, they would probably sell for 100 gold coins each, and no one would want them.

Usually, the purple equipment that they obtained would not be donated to the Guild storage. They could be sold directly to the NPC shop.

They collected dozens of gold coins.

On the other hand, the price of the purple material was stable at around 500 gold coins, which was still worth a bit of money.

Zhang Shan had cleanly taken down the two city guards. The process was ordinary, and there was no system announcement.

After solving the problem of the entrance, Zhang Shan took the lead and entered the city Lord's Manor.

"Damn, there are other monsters in this city Lord's mansion."

after entering the mayor's residence, zhang shan could not help but be shocked.

Damn it, when he was in the garrison commander's Manor, there was not a single monster at the start.

When they finally defeated the BOSS, the screen was filled with mobs.

And this city Lord's mansion seemed to be the exact opposite.

They had yet to find the city Lord of the demon race, but they found that there were all kinds of monsters everywhere in the manor.

There weren't many of them, only two or three here and two or three there. However, the city Lord's mansion occupied a large area.

There were a few here and a few there. If they were added together, the number of monsters would not be small.

Zhang Shan also saw the figure of the purple boss.

They had just entered the city Lord's Manor, who knew how many monsters were there?

He wondered if there were any other bosses of other levels.

After Zhang Shan entered the city Lord's residence, the others followed.

Seeing that there were monsters everywhere in the city Lord's mansion, everyone was shocked.

Windcloud blade could not help but ridicule.

"What are they up to this time? didn't they say that there were no other monsters besides the BOSS? Where did these monsters come from?"

"Why do you care so much? just kill the monsters when we encounter them."

"There's no need to. Why are these monsters killing them?"

“I’m just afraid that if we don’t kill all the small monsters, we won’t be able to find the city Lord.”

“Damn, if that’s the case, it’s really possible.”

then what’s there to say? let’s split up and kill the monsters. There’s also a purple boss, so we can kill a few of them. This is experience and money.

“it’s better not to separate. what if you run into the demon race’s city lord?”

Zhang Shan said worriedly.

The small monsters in the city Lord’s mansion had to be cleared.

However, he didn’t agree to split up. They had already fought to this point, so they couldn’t afford to screw up.

It was better to play steadily. He would rather play slowly, as long as he did not flip over.

“Alright, let’s do it together.”

The five of them went around the castellan’s mansion and killed a purple boss.

The little fairy’s body glowed. She had leveled up.

“Hahaha, I’ve finally reached level 40.”

Little fairy shouted happily. At the same time, she quickly changed all her equipment to level 40 equipment.

After little fairy put on the ant queen cloak, her appearance changed greatly.

She turned into a beautiful woman with a golden body.

“F * ck, it’s so bright that my dog eyes are blinded. The color of this cloak is too bright. You’re finished. If you go out in the future, you’ll be a living target, hehe.”

Windcloud blade said to little fairy.

“I think it looks good.”

After the little fairy put on the cloak, she kept turning around and admiring herself from different angles.

Zhang Shan was also speechless. This was called good looking?

After changing into the cloak, the little fairy was even more conspicuous than Zhang Shan.

Zhang Shan’s King’s Cape was bright yellow. If he stood in the crowd, he would be very eye-catching.

the fairy’s cloak was golden in color, and it was more eye-catching.

if they were in the middle of a chaotic battle, she would be beaten up as she would be too conspicuous.

If I don’t hit you, who should I hit?

Not long after little fairy reached level 40, wind and cloud blade also leveled up.

With the addition of heart with me, who had already reached level 40, their five-man team was formed.

Except for Mr. Wu, everyone else had reached level 40, and their combat power had improved a lot.

Especially after wind and cloud blade leveled up, his strength had increased greatly.

After unsealing his divine weapon battleaxe to rank-40, its attack power had also increased by 2000.

In addition to the new level 40 red equipment, Windcloud blade's current attack power was much higher.

&Nbsp; it had broken through 10000 and reached 12000. It had far exceeded heart with me and little fairy.

The power of a divine weapon became more and more obvious as time went on.

Even this Big Shot whose heart is moved by me was a little jealous.

Even though his flying snow sword's attack power had increased by quite a bit after it was unsealed to level 40, it was still very powerful.

But compared to a divine artifact, a spirit artifact was still quite lacking.

He was in urgent need of a divine weapon, but it was not easy to get one.

He could only rely on fate.

The five-man team had been killing each other in the castellan's mansion, and they had already killed five or six purple bosses.

however, he had not been able to find the demon city lord.

"Damn it, where is this Demon City Lord hiding?"

I don't know. Let's keep looking. Maybe we haven't killed all the small monsters yet.

They rode their horses and ran around the city Lord's Manor. There were really small monsters that they had not seen before.

After they had killed a few more monsters, a series of system notifications suddenly rang out.

≪ system notification: the Nephilim race's city Lord, Doduo an, has awakened from his deep sleep. His weakened state is disappearing. Warriors, please kill him as soon as possible. ≫

Chapter 394 world-destroying divine flame (fake)

After hearing the system notification, everyone finally reacted.

The demon warrior that they had just killed might be the last monster in the city Lord's mansion.

After they cleared the monsters, the demon City Lord was revived.

However, what did this system prompt mean? a resurrected demonic city Lord could quickly recover from a weakened state?

Didn't this mean that if they didn't find the demon Castellan in a short time, they might have to face a boss with a real name in its complete state?

That's right, in the system prompt, the demon race's city Lord had a name.

what kind of stupid name was that?

However, the name of the demon City Lord was not important. What was important was that it was a boss with a real name.

Zhang Shan and the rest had to find the demon Race City Lord as soon as possible. If they really waited for him to recover completely, then what was the point of fighting?

However, the city Lord's Manor was so big, and they only had five people. Where were they going to start looking?

The five of them were panicking.

"Damn, what do we do now? Where could he find the demon City Lord? Should we split up and search?"

wind and cloud blade asked zhang shan.

at this time, time was of the essence. the earlier they found the demon city lord, the easier it would be for them to fight.

If this dragged on for too long, they might really not be able to defeat the demon City Lord.

After all, the Nephilim city Lord was a BOSS with a real name. If it had fully recovered, how could they defeat it?

this was why wind cloud blade had suggested for everyone to split up and search for the demon city lord.

However, Zhang Shan felt that it was not very useful to split up.

This city Lord's mansion was very large. If they were unlucky, even if they split up to search, it might take them a lot of time.

By that time, the demon City Lord might have already recovered.

Zhang Shan felt that it would be more reliable to look for the key points first.

Of course, wind and cloud blade's suggestion was not wrong.

It was right to split up, but they didn't have to split up. He and boss Wu had to find the important places.

The others split up and look for other places.

In this case, if Zhang Shan found the demon City Lord first, he could directly fight.

if it was someone else, they would first find the demon city lord, and then zhang shan and boss wu would rush over.

zhang shan said to the rest.

you guys split up and search. The Daoist priest and I will take our blades and head to the main hall first. Whoever finds the demon race's city Lord first, immediately inform everyone to gather.

Time was of the essence, so they didn't continue to discuss. Instead, they quickly split up and went to the back of the city Lord's mansion.

Zhang Shan brought boss Wu and went straight to the main hall.

he guessed that the demon race's city lord was most likely there. after all, the main hall was where the city lord worked and issued orders.

The city Lord of the demon race, who had just woken up, should be there. Since he had woken up, the city Lord of the demon race should naturally start working.

the place where it worked, zhang shan guessed, should be the main hall of the city lord's residence.

Unfortunately, when he and boss Wu Ran to the main hall, they found it empty. There was no sign of the demon City Lord.

Damn it, shouldn't this Demon City Lord be here for work after waking up?

Why couldn't he find it? this was too unreliable, right?

Zhang Shan was depressed. He was full of confidence that the demon City Lord would definitely be in the main hall.

However, when they ran over, they didn't see anything, which was a little embarrassing.

He still hadn't thought of where to go next.

They couldn't just rely on a carpet search, that would be too time-consuming.

At this moment, boss Wu said.

"Maybe we were wrong. Since the demon City Lord was injured and in a weak state, he should be recuperating. Let's go find a place where he might be living."

when zhang shan heard that, he agreed.

The demon City Lord was already injured, so how could he still be a male? he had been thinking too much.

He quickly opened the mini-map and looked for the possible places where the demon City Lord might live.

When he saw the back garden of the city Lord's mansion, he immediately said to boss Wu.

"let's go to the back garden."

The two of them quickly rode their horses towards the back garden of the city Lord's mansion.

After passing through many buildings, the two of them arrived at the back garden of the city Lord's mansion.

A fireball was thrown at him, dealing-95270 damage.

Zhang Shan looked up.

F * ck, they were riding too fast, and almost crashed into the arms of the demon City.

In front of him, a tall demon was waving his staff and throwing fireballs at him.

Damn it, it was a good thing he was tanky enough. Otherwise, he would have died just now.

Zhang Shan quickly got off his horse and opened fire. The bullets swept towards the demon City Lord, Doduo an.

Just now, he didn't react in time and got beaten up a few times for nothing, almost killing him.

Zhang Shan attacked quickly, at the same time activating his berserk and fanatic skills, his firepower fully activated.

he had to rely on the lifesteal effect to recover some of his hp. otherwise, he might not be able to hold on.

Boss Wu, who was following behind him, also quickly got off the horse and raised his hand to add blood to his wound.

However, the demonic city Lord, dodoan, was indeed a real name BOSS.

The damage was also very high. If Zhang Shan had not gone all out, boss Wu might not have been able to keep up with his healing.

After his health had returned to a healthy state, Zhang Shan quickly checked on dodogan's attributes and skills. At the same time, he called out in the team channel.

"the city lord of the demon race is with me. come quickly."

"Got it. I'll be there immediately."

The other three members of the team quickly moved closer. Zhang Shan was attacking dodogan while checking the BOSS's attributes and skills.

The Lord of the demon race's advancing city, dodogan (red): Level 50, attack 25000, hp 300 million.

Skill 1, large fireball, skill 2, enhanced flames, skill 3, might of the city Lord, skill 4, divine flame apocalypse (pseudo). State 1, Holy demon's protection, state 2, weak.

[large fireball technique: the signature secret technique that the demon city lord doan has cultivated for decades. deals double damage when attacking the target.]

[enhanced flames: the demon City Lord, dodogan, is proficient in fire-type spells. His flames have been enhanced many times, and his attacks have been increased by 100%.]

[city Lord's might: as the Lord of a city, dodogan possesses a powerful might. When he is enraged, he will cause all targets around him to lose 10% HP per second for 15 seconds. Effective range: 100 yards.]

[world extinguishing divine flame (false): the demon City Lord Duoduo an was favored by a Demon God. A peerless secret technique passed down by a Demon God.]

Once cast, it will deal 10 times the damage to all targets within its range. Damage range: 100 yards.

[Holy demon's protection: a protection state blessed by the Holy demon. Reduces damage received by 50%. Will lose its effect after crossing the Heaven's Gate.]

[weakened: the demon City Lord, Doduo an, looks powerful and fierce, but he has yet to recover from his serious injuries. He is currently in a weakened state.]

in this state, when dodogan was injured, his injuries would be aggravated and the damage would be doubled.

And the lower the HP, the higher the damage taken, up to ten times the damage.

[note: after the demonic city Lord dodoan awakens, his weakened state will only last for 30 minutes.]

After seeing dodoan's skills, Zhang Shan could not help but sigh. This Demon City Lord was really strong.

It was much stronger than all the real-name bosses they had fought before.

Putting everything else aside, just its ultimate move, divine flame apocalypse, was not something that the targeted players could block.

Ten times the damage, and the damage range was 100 yards.

It was simply a skill that could destroy everything.

The basic attack of the demon City Lord, dodogan, was 25000, plus the effect of fire enchantment.

In theory, the damage was 50000. If that was the case, 10 times the damage would be 500000.

with such powerful damage, even zhang shan would not be able to withstand it. his maximum hp was only slightly more than 490000. he was still a little away from 500000.

In fact, even if his HP had exceeded 500000, he would still not be able to hold on.

This was because once dodogan used his ultimate skill, his teammates around him would definitely all die.

What was the point of leaving Zhang Shan alone?

Without a support to heal him, he would soon fall to the ground after being hit by dodogan's big move.

as for the other skills of the demon city lord, dodogan, they were still considered normal.

The first skill was double damage. There was nothing much to say about that. All normal red bosses had similar skills.

As a real-name BOSS, the demon Castellan's large fireball spell was only considered ordinary.

The fire enchantment skill increased the damage by 100%.

However, they had seen similar skills on other bosses before, so it was not a surprise.

As for the city Lord's might skill, how should he put it?

This skill seemed very powerful, but it was actually similar to the demon God's will skill.

It might be slightly stronger, but with support, this skill wasn't hard to deal with.

The most difficult thing to deal with this Demon City Lord was his big move, which was too powerful.

To the current players, it was simply impossible to solve.

Zhang Shan almost wanted to give up. He could not win at all.

There was no need to talk about the fact that they only had five people. Even if they pulled all of their Guild's players over, they might not be able to win.

A damage range of 100 yards ... What a terrifying skill!

However, Zhang Shan remembered that he still had the silence scroll in his bag.

he finally had some confidence in defeating doduo an. perhaps he could still try.

After all, the current Demon City Lord, dodoan, was still in a weak state and as fragile as paper.

Even if the Holy demon's protection was still active, the damage that Zhang Shan dealt with each shot was still very high.

It was still over 50000 damage. Sometimes, he could even deal 60000 to 70000 damage.

And this was without taking into account the critical hit effect. When he was in a critical hit, the damage he dealt was even more terrifying.

and according to the description of the weakened state, as the hp of the demon city lord dodogan decreased ...

By then, the damage he could deal would be much higher.

When dodogan was at his weakest, everyone's damage was 10 times that of the original.

In other words, the damage of each shot by Zhang Shan could reach up to 300000.

If the Holy attack was triggered, it would be even more ridiculous.

Holy Strike ignored all defensive effects, not even Holy demon protection.

With Zhang Shan's 50000 attack power, the Holy attack was combined with dodogan's extremely weak state.

the damage he dealt would definitely exceed 5000000. this damage value was simply ridiculous.

In that case, they might have a chance to kill dodogan within the five minutes of the silence scroll's effect.

After all, the other members of the party had also risen to level 40 and had upgraded their level 40 equipment. Their damage output was also very impressive.

not long after, wind and cloud blade, heart moves with me, and little fairy arrived.

Without a word, they waved their weapons and slashed at the demon City Lord, Duoduo.

Wind and cloud blade asked in confusion after a few slashes.

why is this Demon City Lord so fragile? I can deal nearly 20000 damage with one strike of my axe.

"you'll know once you see the BOSS's attributes."

Before this, Zhang Shan had not shared dodogan's attributes and skills to the team channel.

The BOSS's skill was so terrifying that they were afraid that it would hurt them.

After checking the demonic city Lord, dodogan's skills, Windcloud blade and the others were dumbfounded.

"F * ck, do you think we can kill a BOSS like this? How do we break the BOSS's ultimate skill?"

"You call this weak? You call dodoan in a weakened state when he's in such a state?"

"shouldn't you reduce your attack power when you're weak? How could it be deepened damage?"

yeah, what's the use of the damage amplification? we can't withstand the BOSS's attacks. It's useless no matter how fast we attack, right? "

Seeing that his friend was a little too pessimistic, Zhang Shan interrupted.

that will depend on how fast we fight. As long as we fight fast enough, it will still be useful. Don't forget, the silence scroll that the garrison commander gave us just now is just right for this.

haha, you scared me. Why didn't I think of this? if you use a scroll to silence the demon City Lord, then no matter how strong his skills are, it will be useless.

but the silence scroll can only last for five minutes. Can we reduce half of the demon's HP in five minutes? "

Heart with me asked worriedly.

No one was worried about the first half of the demon City Lord's HP.

With boss Wu's support and healing, Zhang Shan was able to withstand the boss's damage, even though it was a little difficult.

But from the looks of it, he was still able to hold on.

this was also thanks to the fact that the demonic city lord was in a weakened state, so zhang shan could deal higher damage.

The higher the damage he dealt, the stronger the lifesteal effect.

If the city Lord of the demon race, Doduo an, was also a big meat pie, they could have returned home long ago.

There was no need to talk about how to deal with the BOSS's big move.

they might not have been able to hold on from the start and could not fight at all.

Now that the damage had been increased, Zhang Shan's lifesteal effect was extremely good.

It was not like when he was fighting the garrison commander, where his catapulting passive was extraordinary. He could drain twelve targets with one attack.

However, with boss Wu's support, it was enough for Zhang Shan to recover his health. It was not a big problem to withstand the damage from the demon City Lord.

The key now was whether they could destroy dodoan during the duration of the silence scroll.

If it was possible, then things would be much easier. With a silence scroll, they would be able to kill Toto as if he was an idiot.

If their damage wasn't high enough, they wouldn't be able to kill the demon City Lord in five minutes, which would be troublesome.

Chapter 395 The might of the city Lord

Zhang Shan was seriously calculating his damage.

If the demonic city Lord, dodogan, entered an extremely weak state when he was at half health.

If they could deal 10 times the damage, then they would have no problem killing the boss within 5 minutes.

The battle had only just begun, and the damage they dealt was only about double that of the demonic city Lord dodogan's weakened state.

Not counting the critical hits, he could deal an average of 50000 to 60000 damage.

If the damage was increased by ten times, the damage of each shot would reach about 300000.

Zhang Shan's current attack speed was more than two shots per second.

If he could deal 600000 damage in one second, wouldn't that mean he could deal 360000 damage in one minute?

In the five minutes duration of the silence scroll, he alone could deal 18000000 damage.

Such a terrifying amount of damage was enough to blow up the demonic city Lord, who had only half of his health left.

this was without taking the critical hit effect into account.

this number had to be doubled. after all, zhang shan's critical hit passive and critical hit special effects were quite a lot.

The chance of triggering it was very high. In a single unit of time, the damage he dealt with a critical hit was not much less than his normal attack damage.

The problem now was how much health he had to take before the demon City Lord, Doduo an, would enter an extremely weak state.

It allowed them to deal ten times more damage.

If the damage was increased by ten times, he wouldn't even need the damage output of his other companions.

Zhang Shan alone could destroy the demon race's city Lord. Even if the BOSS's health was taken into account, there would be no problem.

However, if the demon City Lord was still not in an extremely weakened state when he was at half health ...

That would make things difficult.

In fact, if the demon City Lord's HP dropped to 30 to 40 percent, he would be killed.

If it were to enter the state of extreme weakness again, they could still possibly blow it up.

After all, there were four of them dealing damage, and Zhang Shan was not the only one attacking the boss.

Other than Zhang Shan, the damage output of wind and cloud blade and heart moves with me was not bad.

After learning how to shoot multiple arrows, little fairy's damage output was also very strong.

With the damage amplification, they could also deal massive damage.

However, if he had to wait until the demon City Lord had 20% of his health left, or even when his health was empty ...

The damage they dealt could only be increased by ten times, which meant that their damage might not be enough.

In that case, they might not be able to blow up the demon City Lord in five minutes.

His silence scroll could not wait.

It had to be used immediately when the demonic city Lord, dodogan, had just reached half of his health.

he couldn't afford to delay for even a moment. otherwise, he would have to wait for doduo an to use his big move.

They would be able to type GG.

The demon City Lord's ultimate move was indeed worthy of being called world extinguishing divine fire, even if it had the word 'fake' added to it.

it was also extremely powerful. as long as it used its ultimate move, the five of them would not be able to escape.

Even Zhang Shan would not be an exception.

This was the problem he was struggling with.

however, no one could give an answer to this question. they would only know when they had beaten the demon city lord to half health.

No one was confident, so they could only bury their heads and deal damage.

Although at the start, there was only a double damage amplification effect, everyone was still fighting very quickly.

With Zhang Shan taking on the damage from the demon City Lord, the others did not need to care.

As long as they continued to deal damage, it didn't take long for them to reduce the demon City Lord's health by 10%.

However, the damage they dealt was still only doubled.

zhang shan's damage was still around 50000 to 60000. it had not increased.

didn't they say that as his hp decreased, the damage would increase by more times?

they had already taken out 10% of the demon castellan's health, but the weakening effect of the damage deepening effect didn't change at all.

This situation made everyone's hearts jump. They really had no confidence.

They had already taken away 10% of dodogan's HP, but the weakening effect of damage amplification had not changed.

Could it be that he had to take out 20% or even 50% of his HP before Toto would become weaker?

In this case, how long would they have to fight until the demon City Lord entered an extremely weak state?

only then could the damage they dealt be increased tenfold?

From the looks of it, it seemed like there was no hope of blowing up the demon City Lord.

it doesn't seem to work. The BOSS's weakened state still hasn't changed.

Windcloud blade said worriedly.

“Then what can we do? Even if there’s no hope, we’ll have to continue fighting until everyone can’t return. We can’t just give up now, right?”

“Sigh, is there no way to increase our damage output?”

“What’s the point of us increasing our damage output? The key isn’t how high our output is, but the weakness mechanism of the demon race’s city Lord and what kind of setting it is.”

that’s right. It’s so f * cking annoying.

“It would be great if I could get another silence scroll. If we had two silence scrolls, we wouldn’t have to worry so much. In ten minutes, we could definitely take out half of the demon’s HP.”

“I’m afraid you’re thinking too much. It’s already very rare to get one silence scroll, and you want two?”

“Yeah, I’ve played this game for so long, but this is the first time I’ve seen a scroll. I’ve never seen it drop before.”

“Things like scrolls are too rare, and you can’t buy them even if you want to.”

“Who would farm this kind of thing and sell it? For things like scrolls, even if you don’t use them, they will appreciate in value if you keep them.”

“you’re right. no matter what kind of scroll it is, it can have a miraculous effect at a critical moment.”

just like what we’re doing now. If it wasn’t for the silence scroll that dropped just now, we could’ve gone back a long time ago. We wouldn’t have to be so conflicted.

that’s right. The demon City Lord’s big move is so abnormal. If we can’t seal it, no matter how many people come, we won’t be able to defeat it.

if there are many people, it’s still useful. Directly stun the BOSS until it dies, then it won’t be able to use its big moves.

“I’m afraid you’re thinking too much. Not every stun will have an effect, and not all bosses will be stunned.”

I don’t think the city Lord of the demon race is affected much by the stun skill. The normal damage that we deal is quite a lot of MISS. I think the Miss rate of the demon Race City is higher.

“After all, dodoan is the Lord of a city, so he might be a little special.”

sigh, this is a BOSS in a weakened state. If it was in its full state, I wonder how strong it would be? ”

I guess it’s the same. The demon City Lord’s big move is not easy to deal with, but the others are not too difficult.

may the Saints bless us, please speed up the demonic city Lord’s state of weakness. I have never killed a real-name BOSS before.

A little fairy said jokingly while shooting arrows.

“are you kidding me? i’d rather pray to the game producers than the saints.”

“Haha, relax, don’t be too nervous. Our harvest this time is already very good. At least everyone has reached level 40. Even if we can’t kill the demon City Lord in the end, it’s not a loss.”

“F * ck, is that what you think? You won’t lose out if you force it?”

“Then what can we do? What’s the point of being conflicted here?”

“You’re right, but shouldn’t we try to fight for it?”

“Aren’t we fighting for it? Otherwise, what’s the point of fighting? wouldn’t it be over if I just cast a recall spell?”

let’s take it slow. No one knows what the result will be until the end. Maybe it will develop in a good direction later.

seeing that everyone was a little disheartened, zhang shan consoled everyone.

He couldn’t lose confidence.

Although they couldn’t see any hope of blowing up the demon City Lord now, who knew what would happen later?

Moreover, if they were lucky enough, even if the demonic city Lord’s weakened state worsened at a slower rate ...

they still had a chance.

For example, Zhang Shan and blade of wind and cloud both had divine weapons, if the chances of activating Holy Strike were higher.

He could also deal higher damage, and maybe even blow up the demon City Lord.

One had to be confident when doing things, and it was the same when fighting a boss.

Every real-name boss was so powerful.

No one could guarantee that they would be able to win.

If he didn’t have the confidence, then what was the point of fighting?

it was better to wash up early and go to bed, or go back to kill the small monsters. what was the point of fighting a boss?

what brother Guan said makes sense. Senior brothers, let’s do our best. We’ll definitely be able to beat the demon City Lord.

Under everyone’s continuous attacks, the demon City Lord dodogan’s HP was slowly decreasing.

Its weakened state did not change at all. The damage that Zhang Shan and the others dealt was still only about double.

Slowly, the demon City Lord's HP dropped to 20%.

"pay attention, the demon city lord's second skill is about to come. that city lord's might skill is still quite something. first, maintain full health and prepare the great red medicine. otherwise, i'm afraid that the priest won't be able to keep up with the healing with his sword."

When the demon City Lord dodoan's HP was about to drop to 20% ...

Zhang Shan reminded everyone.

although, from the description of the skill, it seemed that duoduo an's city lord's might skill ...

It wasn't much different from other bosses 'demonic will, but who knew if the description of this skill was accurate?

They only had boss Wu as a support, and he had to prioritize healing Zhang Shan.

boss wu couldn't take care of the other people in the team, so he had to make more preparations.

it would be a joke if they started losing members before the BOSS was even at half health.

don't worry, brother Guan. Before we came out, we bought some recover pills from the auction house. The kind that can add ten thousand HP.

"It's a pity that the great recovery pill can only be used once every minute. Otherwise, we would have been able to survive without big brother carrying a blade's healing."

hearing what everyone said, zhang shan was relieved.

Suddenly, he thought of a problem. Since the city Lord's might skill reduced health by a percentage, he would not be able to use it.

Does that mean that the lower the maximum HP, the more advantageous it would be?

Just like Zhang Shan's health, it had almost reached 500000. If it was calculated as losing 10% of his health per second.

He would lose 50000 HP every second.

if it only had 20000 to 30000 hp, would it only lose 2000 to 3000 hp per second?

If that was the case, things would be easier.

He told the others to change out of their cloaks and reduce their maximum HP. At that time, they would only need to eat a big red Medicine.

He might not even need boss Wu's healing.

Of course, Zhang Shan's King's Cape could not be changed.

He still had to tank the damage from the demon City Lord, dodogan, and did not have the king's Cape to increase his maximum health.

He was basically Insta-killed. He couldn't even withstand a big fireball from dodogan.

However, the others didn't care. They didn't have to tank the monsters anyway.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan spoke to the others.

"You guys can change to a level 30 Cape. Since the city Lord's power will reduce your HP by a percentage, it might be more beneficial to you guys if the maximum HP is lower."

"f * ck, why didn't i think of this? what kind of cape is this? if i just take off the cape, i only have around 10000 hp. doesn't that mean i'll only lose around 1000 hp every second?"

"Haha, that's a good idea."

after zhang shan finished speaking, the rest of the people took off their cloaks.

The little fairy reluctantly took off the cloak that she had just put on.

Everyone was ready to deal with the second skill of the demon City Lord, dodogan.

No matter what, they had to bring the BOSS down to half Health First. They couldn't just let it down from the start.

Not long after, the demon City Lord Duoduo's HP dropped to 80%.

Dodogan's face was filled with rage as he shouted.

"Who dares to offend the dignity of this city Lord?"

Everyone was shocked when they heard the demon City Lord, Toto, speak.

They had been playing this game for quite a while.

However, other than the human NPCs, they had never seen any other NPCs in the game speak.

This Demon City Lord, Doduo an, could actually speak? Was this heaven-defying?

Or had new world done some updates in secret?

However, no one had time to think about this problem at this time.

After the demon City Lord Doduo 'an finished his words.

Everyone's health started to drop rapidly.

The biggest difference between the city Lord's might skill and the demon God's will skill was that Duoduo an's city Lord's might skill was the demon God's will skill.

It was the demon God's will skill, and it had a fixed DPS.

The city Lord's might skill, on the other hand, had a 100% HP reduction.

10% drop every second, lasts for 15 seconds.

In other words, even if there was no other damage, each person could only last for ten seconds at most.

In the remaining five seconds, he would have to rely on his own medicine or his support to heal himself in order to survive.

Luckily, everyone had taken off their cloaks.

Their maximum HP was not high.

Wind and cloud blade and heart moves. As a strength-type class, they had more than 10000 HP even without a Cape.

As for boss Wu and little fairy, the two fragile classes, they completely relied on their capes to keep up their health.

Without the cloak, their maximum HP was less than 10000.

dodoan's city lord's might could only take a few hundred damage per second.

it was very easy to deal with. as long as he took some red medicine, he would be able to survive.

Chapter 396-what else can we do?

If other people took the Dahong medicine, it might have some effect and could at least last two to three seconds.

If there were a few red potions and they were consumed separately, it was not impossible for them to last until dodogan's city Lord's might skill ended.

however, zhang shan could not.

The city Lord's might skill caused him to lose 10% of his HP every second.

with his close to 500000 hp, that meant that he would lose 50000 hp every second.

One had to know that at this moment, Zhang Shan. he was still taking the damage from dodoan's large fireball.

Dodoan's large fireball would hit him every time, dealing around 80000 to 90000 damage.

although the attack speed of the demon city lord, dodogan, wasn't very fast.

However, this amount of damage was already terrifying.

now, with the addition of the city lord's might losing 50000 hp every second, zhang shan really could not take it.

He had to rely on boss Wu to keep healing him.

Fortunately, the other people in the team had taken off their cloaks in advance.

The upper limit of their HP became very low.

Dodogan's Castellan's might skill, which reduced their HP by a percentage, did not pose much of a threat to them.

They didn't even need boss Wu to heal them. They only needed to take the red Medicine.

Even if he couldn't recover his health by taking medicine, he only needed boss Wu to heal him once.

This way, boss Wu could focus on healing Zhang Shan.

Fifteen seconds passed, and they easily passed through the wave of Demon City Lord dodogan's skills.

After surviving a wave of the BOSS's skills, Windcloud blade said happily as he continued to attack the BOSS.

"haha, this undressing skill is not bad. it's done easily. it's dodogan's city lord's might skill."

that's not a good way to put it. What's a strip skill? there are girls here?"

Little fairy, who was standing at the side, said unhappily.

"damn, i was just casually saying. besides, isn't it just taking off a cloak? it's not like i'm taking off my clothes."

"eh, something's not right. the damage we're dealing now is much higher."

After the boss had used the city Lord's might skill, Zhang Shan realized that the damage they dealt had almost doubled.

Zhang Shan's normal damage had already exceeded 100000.

In the beginning, his damage was only around 50000 to 60000, but it doubled in an instant.

hahaha, the demonic city Lord's weakened state has finally gotten worse. If it gets worse one or two more times, we'll definitely be able to blow it up.

"I can finally breathe a sigh of relief. After the demon City Lord's HP dropped by 20%, he began to become weaker. As long as it weakens one or two more times, we should be able to use the silence scroll to get rid of the remaining half of its HP."

"Yes, it should be fine."

The change in the demonic city Lord Duoduo's weakened state made everyone heave a sigh of relief.

Finally, they had the confidence to defeat the BOSS.

Now, it seemed that it was not a big problem.

when the demonic city lord's health was at 80%, zhang shan could deal 100000 damage.

When its health dropped to 60%, wouldn't that mean that Zhang Shan could deal 200000 damage?

As long as he could deal 200000 damage with a single attack, it would be impossible.

Then, they would basically have no problem blowing up the demon City Lord.

Even if the demonic city Lord, Duoduo an, wasn't weakened to the extreme, their damage was tenfold.

However, six or seven times more would be enough.

Seeing the change in the situation, everyone fought even more intensely.

Of course, even though they were slashing more vigorously, they would not use their skills easily.

In particular, skills with a cooldown of more than a minute were not used by everyone.

The first half of the demon City Lord's HP was not a big problem for them.

Berserk skills couldn't be used casually. When the demon City Lord's HP fell to half, he would be killed.

Zhang Shan used the silence scroll again to silence Duoduo.

At that time, everyone would go all out and concentrate on blowing it up.

There was no need to waste skills now, in case he needed to use them later.

If the skill was still on cooldown, then it would be nonsense.

Under everyone's continuous attacks, the demon City Lord dodogan's HP quickly dropped to 60%.

However, after they took out 20% of the demon City Lord's health ...

dodogan's weakened state did not change much. The damage that Zhang Shan had dealt was still a little more than 100,000.

It wasn't like just now, when he had just taken out the demon City Lord and had 20% of his health left.

Their damage value would double.

What kind of mechanism was this weak state of the demon City Lord?

Was there no pattern at all? Just randomly?

"What's the situation? Why didn't the demonic city Lord's weakened state change?"

Windcloud blade asked curiously.

It was already very critical now. The demon City Lord's health had been reduced to 60%.

After another 10% of his HP, the demon City Lord only had half of his HP left.

At that time, they would have to use the silence scroll to silence the demon City Lord.

If the city Lord of the demon race were to unleash his ultimate move, they would be finished.

However, with their current damage output, it was impossible to blow up the demon City Lord in five minutes.

At the very least, he had to worsen the demonic city lord's weakened state.

"This is troublesome."

“what the f * ck? what’s with this demon city lord’s weakened state?”

“Who knows?”

“could it be that we fought too fast? just now, the demon city lord was angry and used the city lord’s might skill, which made him weaker? Later on, we fought too quickly, and the demon City Lord’s second City Lord’s power didn’t even have time to cast it. ” boss wu guessed as he healed zhang shan.

“There’s such a saying? Should we slow down and wait for the city Lord’s might skill?”

“Is this reliable?”

“God knows, I just guessed.”

“Actually, we can’t wait too long. The demonic city Lord’s weakened state will only last for 30 minutes. From the system notification until now, almost 20 minutes have passed. We only have slightly more than 10 minutes left.”

that’s right. We can’t afford to waste any more time. If we drag this out for more than 30 minutes, we can forget about blowing up the demon City Lord.

Zhang Shan could not figure out what was going on with the weakened state of the demon City Lord, Doduo an.

There was no pattern at all.

however, there was no other way. before the demon city lord’s hp fell to half, he would be killed.

they had to weaken it again, otherwise, they wouldn’t be able to kill it.

Boss Wu’s guess, whether it was reasonable or not, they had to give it a try.

Let’s wait for a few minutes and see. Maybe the demonic city Lord’s state of weakness really worked this way.

after the demon city lord was heavily injured, his anger would worsen his injuries, making him even weaker.

At least in theory, it was possible.

Zhang Shan said.

then let’s reduce the demon’s HP to 52% first, then slow down the pace. We’ll wait for a few minutes, and when there are only six or seven minutes left, see if there are any changes? ”

“What if there are still no changes?”

then there’s no other way. We’ll just use the silence scroll and continue fighting. Let’s see if a miracle will happen.

f * ck, brother Liu Guan, don’t do it. If you really can’t do it, just give up. If you can’t kill the demon City Lord, then the silence scroll will be wasted.

yeah, the silence scroll is still very valuable. The key is that even if you spend money, you can't buy this kind of thing.

if it's really wasted, there's nothing we can do about it. We've already come this far, so we have to take a gamble.

that's right. If we don't bet, our city-seizing mission will be over. If we bet right, we'll be rich.

"If we make the right bet, of course, everyone will be happy. Not only will we complete the city seizing mission, but we can also beat a real-name BOSS. But if you don't bet correctly, then you'll lose a lot."

so be it. The scroll was just dropped. If we didn't make the right bet, we'll just take it as if we never dropped it. This silence scroll.

I suddenly thought of a question. Why did the garrison commander only drop a silence scroll? could it be that he wants us to use it when we fight the last Demon Lord? "

"Is this the case?"

"Maybe,"

zhang shan recalled the time when he had blown up the demon tribe's sacrifice in the bowang wilderness.

it seemed to be the case. first, he killed the altar guard and a silence scroll dropped.

Then, he used the silence scroll to destroy the demon tribe's priest.

Their current situation was very similar to that time, so it was hard to say if there was any connection between them.

However, these speculations were not important. The important thing was that Zhang Shan had to fight to the end.

As long as he was determined to continue fighting, he would know what the situation was like.

If he gave up halfway, all his speculations would be meaningless.

Zhang Shan thought for a long time and then said.

don't worry about it. We'll just wait until there are six minutes left. No matter if there are any changes, we'll just fight it out.

alright, whatever you say. We're just slackers anyway, hehe.

yes, we'll be rich if we succeed. If we fail, we won't lose anything anyway.

you're right. We've already fought so many bosses here. Even if we die now, it's not a loss.

Zhang Shan made up his mind, regardless of whether the demonic city Lord's state of weakness would worsen.

Since he was determined to continue, his friends naturally had no objections.

To put it bluntly, they only felt a little heartache. After all, the silence scroll was something that could not be bought with money.

As for the rest, they didn't really care.

very quickly, the health of the demon race's city lord, duoduo an, dropped to 52%.

The others had stopped attacking. Zhang Shan had also slowed down his attack rhythm, only firing once every half a day.

they wanted to verify if boss wu's guess was right.

When the demon City Lord, Doduo an, cast the city Lord's might again, the state of weakness would be aggravated.

In that case, things would be much easier. They could happily destroy the demon City Lord.

If boss Wu's guess was wrong, he would continue to fight until the demon City Lord's health dropped to half.

He directly used the silence scroll to silence the demon City Lord and seal all his skills.

After that, they would be reckless and fight for five minutes. As for whether they could destroy the demon City Lord, that would be up to heaven's will.

However, they had fought too quickly just now and he did not know how long it would take for them to get there. Dodoan then unleashed his city Lord's might skill.

Time passed slowly. Zhang Shan fired a few shots. He did not want to fire too quickly.

As long as he could suppress the recovery speed of the demon City Lord, it would be fine.

if he was careless and attacked too quickly, he might directly hit the demon city lord to half of his health.

There was no way to verify boss Wu's guess.

Time slowly passed. There were only seven minutes left before the demonic city Lord's weakened state.

Dodoan's face was filled with anger, just like before.

At the same time, he shouted.

after the nephilim race's city lord finished shouting, everyone's health started to drop rapidly.

however, with their previous experience, they didn't panic at all this time.

Boss Wu was still the same, constantly healing Zhang Shan, while the others took their own Red Medicine.

He could easily get through this wave of attacks from the demon City Lord.

During this time, wind and cloud blade did not forget to ridicule.

“doesn’t this demon city lord have any new lines? Why do you always say that?”

“What else do you want it to say? The demon City Lord is just a piece of data, not a real person. Do you still expect him to have intelligence?”

if the city Lord of the demon race had intelligence, we wouldn’t even be able to fight him. He would definitely cast a large fireball and kill big brother carrying a blade first. Then, we would have to run.

“You still want to run? You’re thinking too much, who can outrun a real-name BOSS?”

to deal with a real-name BOSS, we either have to destroy it or we fall to the ground. It’s impossible to escape.

“Hehe, I was just joking.”

Soon, the 15-second duration of the city Lord’s might skill had passed.

everyone couldn’t wait to attack the BOSS.

however, the result was disappointing.

After the demon City Lord Doduo ‘an cast the city Lord’s might for the second time, it did not become weaker.

the damage that everyone dealt to the demon city lord did not change.

The damage that Zhang Shan dealt with each shot was still around 100000.

He had imagined that the demon City Lord would become weaker after getting angry, but it didn’t happen.

“What the f * ck, what do we do now?”

Windcloud blade was depressed. This was forcing them into a dead end.

The damage they were dealing right now, if not taking into account the damage reduction effect of Holy demon protection.

That was only double the damage. If the damage reduction effect of Holy Devil’s protection was included, the damage dealt would be four times.

Even though 4x damage was already very high.

However, they couldn’t destroy the demon City Lord in five minutes.

what else can we do? let’s continue.

Zhang Shan did not want to try any new ideas. There was not enough time.

there were only six minutes left until the duration of the demonic city lord’s weakness.

if they didn’t fight now, they wouldn’t have any chance.

chapter 397

after going through the second round of [might of the city lord], everyone realized that the damage they dealt had not changed.

It was still the same as before. The demon City Lord's weakened state had not changed.

The damage amplification effect was still the same as before.

When he was looking at the attributes and skills of the demon race's city Lord, he found the description of the weakened state.

It was said that as his HP dropped, the demon City Lord's weakness would worsen.

The damage amplification effect will be increased, up to ten times.

However, they had almost taken out half of the demon City Lord's HP.

However, the damage amplification effect was still the same as when it had been reduced by 20%.

It didn't seem to be getting stronger at all.

Wasn't this a f*cking scam?

What should he do next?

They couldn't wait any longer, because the system prompt had a special explanation.

The demonic city Lord, dodoan, would only be in a weakened state for half an hour.

After this period of time, dodogan would become a complete boss with a real name.

with only six minutes left, even if they had any ideas, they had no time to verify them.

That was why Zhang Shan had said that they did not need to worry about anything and just do it.

Whether he was Dead or Alive, they would know after the fight.

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he immediately fired at the demon Race City Lord. He was no longer like before, stalling for time by firing one shot after another.

Although the other people in the team were depressed, they could only continue to bite the bullet. Like Zhang Shan, they began to attack the demon City Lord.

After all, they could not leave even if they wanted to, unless Zhang Shan helped them hold off the BOSS.

He told them to cast their spells and leave. Otherwise, no one would be able to escape.

Moreover, everyone was looking forward to the first real mission in the game.

The reward for this city-seizing mission would definitely not be bad. Furthermore, there would definitely be a very good reward for killing the demon City Lord.

After all, it was a real name BOSS. Even if it was in a weakened state, the loot from the demon City Lord would definitely be good.

No one would be willing to give up halfway like this.

Windcloud blade attacked as he prayed.

may the Saints bless and worsen the demonic city Lord's weakened state.

f * ck, didn't you just say not to believe in Saints, but to believe in game producers? "

Little fairy couldn't help but tease wind cloud blade when she saw him praying.

Earlier, she had jokingly prayed like this, and Windcloud blade had even ridiculed her.

He didn't expect that she would be able to get back at him so quickly.

Just like before, wind and cloud blade was also out of options and could only pray for the blessings of the Saints.

"F * ck, I was just casually saying. Why are you so vengeful?"

Hmph, don't you know that you can't just offend women? "

"I was wrong, great aunt."

After they had attacked for a while, the demon City Lord, dodogan's HP had almost dropped to half.

Zhang Shan continued to attack quickly while taking out the silence scroll.

at the same time, he stared at the health bar of the city lord of demon race.

he would immediately use the silence scroll on the demon city lord and silence him.

This was because Zhang Shan did not know if the demon City Lord's divine flame world-ending move required a channeling bar.

If the demon City Lord's big move was an instant-cast skill that didn't require a casting bar, and his silence was too late, then everything would be over.

However, he couldn't use the silence scroll too early.

The silence on the target was only five minutes.

This time was very precious to them, so they should try not to waste it.

Zhang Shan stared closely at the health bar of the demon Race City Lord. The moment the health bar of the demon Race City Lord dropped to 50% ...

He quickly used the silence scroll in his hand on the demon City Lord.

Originally, he was waving his staff and continuously using large fireballs to attack Zhang Shan.

The moment Zhang Shan used the silence scroll, he had completely turned into a fool.

After being silenced, the demon City Lord, dodogan, continued to wave his staff.

Even though it couldn't cast a single skill, it didn't stop waving its staff.

Just like before he was silenced, the demon City Lord didn't stop.

It still looked like he was waving his staff to cast a spell, but he didn't deal any damage.

After using the silence scroll, Zhang Shan immediately activated his berserk and fanatic skills.

They went all out and attacked the demon City Lord Duoduo.

One damage after another appeared above the demon City Lord's head. Occasionally, there were even a few critical hits.

The other people in the team also went all out, using all kinds of explosive skills as if they were free.

Even boss Wu didn't stop casting lightning strikes at the demon Castellan.

After the demonic city Lord was silenced, Zhang Shan no longer needed boss Wu's healing.

After being silenced, the demon City Lord had completely turned into a fool. He couldn't deal any damage at all.

All they needed to do now was to deal as much damage as they could.

Attack as fast as you can, and try to blow up the demon City Lord within five minutes.

even though it seemed that their chances of success were not high.

But who knew what the outcome would be?

perhaps, the demon city lord, duoduo an, would become even weaker.

it was also possible that they were particularly lucky and had triggered a lot of critical hits.

In that case, it was also possible to blow up the demon City Lord.

In fact, even if the damage was increased by several times and no longer increased, it would still be damaged.

With the amount of damage they could deal, they were actually just a little short of blowing up the demon City.

It was estimated that they could take down the demon Castellan within five minutes. It should not be a problem to take out 30 to 40% of its health.

The key was that they were still short of that 10% damage, if the demonic city's state of weakness didn't worsen.

They couldn't defeat it unless it was fate.

of course, this was just a joke. even if they were lucky, they couldn't always hit critical hits.

he could only pray that the demonic city lord's weakened state would change as soon as possible.

Windcloud blade jokingly said as he nervously attacked, continuously using all sorts of skills.

“Do you guys think that the silence time will end when we hit the last 1% of our health?”

“damn it, no one will think you’re mute if you don’t speak.”

“Brother Yidao, are you looking for a scolding?”

“Kill your BOSS, stop talking.”

“Damn, I was just joking to ease the tension.”

“Your joke is not funny at all.”

“I just want to kill the BOSS quietly, don’t disturb me.”

Windcloud blade was depressed. ‘Why are these people so insensible? I’m just joking.’

No one paid attention to Windcloud blade’s joke, as everyone was nervously dealing damage.

He stared at the Nephilim race’s city Lord while checking his own skill cooldown time.

As long as the skill’s cooldown was over, he would immediately use it.

To be honest, among the five people present, Zhang Shan was the most relaxed, because he did not need to cast any skills.

Other than berserk and fanaticism skills, he did not seem to have any other berserk skills.

After these two skills were used up, they would have to wait for five minutes before the cooldown was over.

Under the current circumstances, it was impossible to use it a second time.

The silence scroll could only silence the demon Castellan for five minutes.

They could either destroy the demon City Lord within five minutes or wait for him to use his ultimate move to destroy them.

Zhang Shan’s berserk and fanatic skills would not have a second chance.

Zhang Shan, who had no skills to use, only needed to use normal attacks. He did not need to do anything.

As for those passive skills that relied on the heavens to make a living, they were not something he could control.

It was all thanks to the heavens that he could trigger it a few more times.

compared to his friends, who had to continuously switch skills, zhang shan only needed to stand there and shoot numbly.

Under their continuous attacks.

In less than two minutes, the demon City Lord’s HP had dropped to 40%.

It could be said that they were fighting quite fiercely, and in less than two minutes.

they had only dealt 30000000 damage to the boss, and that was without taking into account the boss's hp recovery.

In fact, the damage they dealt was even more.

However, the speed of the damage was still not enough.

The silence time of the demon race's city Lord was left with a little more than three minutes, and his HP was left with 40%.

with their current progress, it was impossible for them to blow up the demon city lord.

Moreover, when the demon City Lord's HP fell to 40%, he was already in a state of shock.

There was still no change in its weakened state.

everyone's damage was still the same as before, and the damage amplification effect did not increase.

Although the situation was very pessimistic, no one said a word. They just kept casting skills in silence.

It was too late to say anything now.

The silence scroll had already been used, so it was impossible to take it back. Even if he couldn't kill the demon City Lord, he had to fight to the end.

very quickly, they had reduced the demon city lord's hp to only 30%.

However, the demon City Lord's weakened state was still the same.

Everyone was in despair. Three minutes had passed, and the demon City Lord's HP was left with 30%.

How was it possible for them to blow up the demon City Lord in the remaining minute?

But what could he do?

This damned weakness mechanism didn't even have a clear explanation.

The description also said that as his HP dropped, the damage would increase by ten times.

They had already reduced the demon City Lord's HP to 30%.

It was still the same.

the description of the weakened state in the system was too ridiculous, right?

Not to mention his other friends, even Zhang Shan himself was in despair.

He didn't think that they would be able to destroy the demon City Lord.

There wasn't enough time. There was only a minute left, but the demon City Lord still had 30% HP.

It was almost impossible to defeat the boss in such a short time.

unless the demon city lord was in a weakened state and immediately went into a tenfold damage increase, that would be more likely.

However, that was impossible. The blood volume of the demon City Lord had already passed the round number of 30%.

For its weakened state to change, it would at least have to wait until its HP dropped to 20%.

But when that time came, it would be of no use.

when the demon city lord's hp dropped to 20% ...

There were probably only a few dozen seconds left.

in that short amount of time, even if the damage increased tenfold, they would still be able to kill the demon city lord.

Zhang Shan was thinking that since they could not kill the demon City Lord, why not let the others run further away and channel back to the city?

He would pull the boss.

It was better for him to die than for everyone else to die Here.

Just as Zhang Shan was about to open his mouth to speak, wind and cloud blade suddenly shouted.

quick, look at the damage value. It seems to be 10 times the damage now.

After wind and cloud blade's reminder, Zhang Shan realized that the damage he dealt with each attack had already exceeded 300000.

Moreover, at this time, he just happened to use a Holy Strike, directly taking out the demon City Lord, which had more than 5000000 HP. The damage was explosive.

"When did this change start? why didn't I notice it just now?"

just now, I've been staring at the damage. When the demon City Lord's health dropped to 25%, the damage we dealt increased a lot.

f * ck! This change is a little late. If it had happened half a minute earlier, it would have been great. Now, there's less than a minute left. It's not enough for us to blow up the demon City Lord.

what a f * cking scam. I was so close.

"that's right. if only it had happened earlier. it's useless now that the demon city lord is weak."

don't panic, we still have a chance. In one minute, we can take down the demon Castellan. It's not impossible to restore 25% of his health.

"How is that possible? 25% of the demon's HP is more than 70000000, and it regenerates very quickly. We have to take out hundreds of millions of HP."

don't talk nonsense. Hurry up and fight. Watch how I deal critical hits with each strike.

Zhang Shan also intensified his attacks. At the same time, he stared at the silence time on the demon City Lord.

now, there were only 56 seconds left in the silence.

The demon City Lord still had 25% HP left.

However, when the damage amplification effect reached tenfold, the demon Castellan's HP was dropping at a speed visible to the naked eye.

It quickly dropped to 20%.

the boss entered berserk mode.

Of course, after going berserk, the demon City Lord didn't change except for the staff in his hand, which he waved faster.

it was currently in a state of silence and couldn't use a single skill, so it couldn't hit anyone.

On the contrary, after the demon City Lord went berserk, the damage they dealt became even higher.

Zhang Shan took a look. The silence time on the demon City Lord was left with 40 seconds.

When the demonic city was at its weakest, they only used 15 seconds to take out 5% of its HP.

Now that the demon City Lord had gone berserk, they fought even faster.

maybe in 11 or 12 seconds, he could take away 5% of his health.

as for the demon city lord, he still had 20% of his hp left, if it was calculated evenly.

Their damage might still be a little off.

of course, if they were lucky, they might be able to deal a few critical hits and kill the demon city lord before the silence time ended.

This won't do. I can't place my hopes on luck. Is there a safe way?

Zhang Shan said to the little fairy.

"if we haven't blown up the demon city lord before the silence time ends, you can shoot meteor arrow and see if you can stun it. drag it out as long as you can."

"I know, brother Guan."

under their brutal attacks, the demon city lord's hp slowly decreased.

20%, 10%, 5%.

However, at this time, the silence time on the demon City Lord's body was about to end. There were only five seconds left.

"f * ck, don't screw up! hurry up and give me a critical hit!"

Windcloud blade shouted madly.

Although wind cloud blade had lost his composure, no one laughed at him.

in fact, at this moment, zhang shan was also silently praying for a critical hit, a critical hit.

There were only five seconds left, and the demon City Lord's HP was still at 5%.

5% HP was not much, only 15 million.

To be honest, Zhang Shan only needed to fire three shots of Holy Strike to reduce this amount of health.

However, the Holy attack was not something that he could trigger just because he wanted to.

The more crucial the moment was, the more he would screw up.

At this crucial moment, he and wind cloud blade had not even managed to use a single Holy attack.

Time seemed to have stopped.

Everyone continued to attack, and at the same time, they stared at the silence time on the demon City Lord.

Five seconds, four seconds, three seconds, two seconds, one second.

when the silence time on the demon city lord disappeared ...

They were only 2% away from killing the demon City Lord.

&Nbsp; at this moment, little fairy shot out a meteor arrow and successfully stunned the city Lord.

However, due to the fact that the demon City Lord, dodogan, was a BOSS with a real name, his stun resistance was very high.

Meteor arrow, which could stun the city Lord for five seconds, could only stun him for 0.5 seconds after hitting him.

What could he do in 0.5 seconds? it was only enough for Zhang Shan to deal one shot of damage.

As for the others, they couldn't even make a single attack.

0.5 seconds was probably just enough for them to raise their skills. Before they could even use their skills, the time would have passed.

At the most crucial moment, Zhang Shan had used the divine Strike with his spear, directly beating the demon City Lord to a pulp.

After seeing that the demon City Lord's health was empty, Zhang Shan directly controlled the Panda tuan Zi and launched a combo skill.

The demon Castellan still had 3000000 HP after his health bar was emptied. He didn't care if the pandazi's combo skills could blow up the demon Castellan.

He couldn't care less now.

at this moment, zhang shan did not have the thought of letting the panda bear ball do the final kill. instead, he wanted to deal as much damage as he could.

In fact, after the demonic city was silenced, Zhang Shan had been controlling the Panda tuan Zi and attacking with everyone.

Although the Panda ball's attack speed was surprisingly slow, it was still good to be able to deal a little more damage.

at this moment, the panda bear was right beside the demon city lord. zhang shan directly controlled the panda bear and launched a combo skill.

at this time, zhang shan had no time to fire a second shot. his life or death depended on the panda ball's attack.

The Panda ball waved its little palm and slapped out seven times in a row, directly blowing up the demon City Lord.

≪ system announcement: congratulations to six-barreled Bodhisattva, wind and cloud blade, and heart follows me monastic robe for successfully killing them. Demonic race advancement city Lord, Doduo an. ≫

Skill point +1, medal +100.

Chapter 398 Demon-suppressing city

Zhang Shan controlled the Panda dumpling, and under extreme circumstances, smacked the demon race's city Lord Doduo an to death.

The moment the system notification sounded, everyone heaved a sigh of relief. Zhang Shan sat on the ground.

He didn't want to move, think about anything, or speak.

he just wanted to relax and clear his mind.

He had been too nervous just now.

He didn't want to move anymore.

After the demon City Lord fell to the ground, the few of them didn't want to move or speak.

however, even though they didn't want to speak, the world channel exploded.

The world Channel:

"F * ck, is there something wrong with my eyes? Six-barreled Bodhisattva and the others killed another BOSS."

f * ck, how many bosses did they kill today? "

" i don't know how many bosses they fought, but there were seven that made the system announcement. "

"F * ck, did I get on the system announcement seven times in a row? I really didn't count seriously."

it's really seven times. I just went back and looked at the announcement.

"What the f * ck, seven times man?"

something doesn't seem right. The boss that six-barreled Bodhisattva and the others just killed has a name.

f * ck! They just killed a real-name BOSS? "

f * ck, it's really a real name BOSS, the Nephilim race's city Lord, dodoan.

"where are they fighting the BOSS? is the wind and cloud guild making a big move?"

"No, the people from wind and cloud Guild are all farming monsters. I just saw Feng Yun realm running from Heaven's Gate to the farming point."

that's right, Feng Yun realm's name wasn't on the announcement. Don't tell me they didn't bring their guild leader along when they fought the BOSS? " who knows? maybe it's an unexpected BOSS.

" accident my ass. can you run into seven bosses in a row? " here's the problem. The people from the wind and cloud Guild are all farming monsters. How many of six-barreled Bodhisattva's party members are fighting the BOSS? " that's hard to say. A real-name boss is so powerful. We'll need at least a few thousand players, right? " that's not necessarily true. A few days ago, didn't the six-headed Bodhisattva defeat a real-name boss by himself? "

"What do you want to say? You can't be thinking that they'll be able to defeat the boss with just a few people, right?"

that's possible too. Six-pipe Bodhisattva could kill a real-name boss alone. It's not surprising that he could kill a real-name boss with a few slackers.

not weird? do you know how powerful a real-name BOSS is? "

I don't know how strong the real BOSS is, but I do know that if six-barreled Bodhisattva can kill one boss, he can only kill the second one.

" what you said does make sense. how strong is the six-pipe bodhisattva now? has anyone met him recently? "

"So what if we met? Don't tell me that someone would dare to go up and cut him down?"

when I see six-barreled Bodhisattva one day, I'll definitely go up and cut him down. I'll see how strong he is.

"Brother, isn't it good to be alive?"

"Haha, it's just a game. It's normal to seek death once in a while."

did you guys notice that six-barreled Bodhisattva and the others killed quite a few bosses? all of them brought the Nephilims into the city. Does anyone know where the Nephilims are? ”

“I don’t know. It should be an independent instance dungeon, right?”

“I don’t think so. How can the dungeon map be a city? It sounds like a Demon City.”

who knows? maybe six-pipe Bodhisattva and the others really did find a Demon City.

f * ck, if that’s the case, then it’s a big event in the game. Do the demons have cities too? ”

“It’s not strange for the demon race to have a city, right? the demon race is also a civilized race, and they’re even more powerful than the human race. They will definitely build a city. It’s just that we haven’t discovered it, or the game hasn’t been released yet.”

“Really? If there’s really a demonic city, we’ll be rich if we find it. There’ll definitely be a lot of bosses inside.”

you can’t beat the boss even if there’s one. Do you think you’re the Bodhisattva of six tubes? ” it doesn’t matter if you can’t win. You can still make a fortune by selling your location to the big boss.

Holy F * ck! Why didn’t I think of that? let’s go and find a Demon City!

“Haha, you guys are so funny.”

After sitting on the ground for a long time, Zhang Shan finally came to his senses. He looked at the mission progress.

What? No changes?

” why is it that we have killed all the bosses but the city siege mission is still not completed? ”

Zhang Shan asked, puzzled.

“No way, let me see.”

f * ck, what’s going on? what else do we have to do? ”

I don’t know. There shouldn’t be any bosses left in this Demon City. Are we supposed to kill all the small monsters in the city? ” that’s going to be difficult. This is such a big city, and we only have five people. How long will it take to clear out all the monsters in the city? ”

“what the f * ck, the system wouldn’t do this to me, right? this is too difficult.”

The little fairy pointed at the place where the demon City Lord had fallen.

“Look, what’s that?”

Just now, after killing the demon City Lord, no one thought about it. They did not even look at the items that Zhang Shan had dropped.

As for the demon City Lord who had been blown up, no one cared about him.

The monsters and bosses in the game would be quickly killed by the system after they were defeated.

The corpse would only stay on the ground for a few seconds, and there was nothing to look at.

Therefore, after the demon City Lord Duoduo fell to the ground, no one looked at him again.

hearing little fairy's warning, everyone looked at the fallen city lord.

On the ground, there was a large golden seal, lying quietly where the demon City Lord had fallen.

Zhang Shan curiously stretched out his hand and touched the golden seal.

According to logic, in a game like new world, monsters would drop items on the ground.

Whether it was a boss or a monster.

After being killed by a player, the items dropped would directly fall into the player's backpack.

it would not drop any items on the ground.

Only after players were killed would they drop items on the ground.

The demon City Lord, Doduo an, had dropped a golden seal after being blown up by them.

He wondered if the golden seal dropped by the demon City Lord could be picked up.

Zhang Shan tried it out of curiosity, and he really picked up the golden seal.

When he picked up the golden seal, a system notification sounded.

[system notification: the demonic tribe's push-in city is currently ownerless. Players can destroy the city by breaking the city Lord's golden seal.]

By placing the golden seal on the stone tablet in front of the main hall of the castellan's mansion, players could occupy the city.

F * ck, so this was what the city-seizing mission meant by occupying or destroying the city.

When Zhang Shan had just taken over the mission from the head of the scout team, he had found it a little strange.

He didn't know how to destroy the demon City, nor did he know how to occupy it.

So it was because of this Golden City Lord seal.

After receiving the system notification, Zhang Shan took a closer look at the Golden City Lord seal. He realized that this golden seal still had its own attributes.

However, it only had One Health attribute and no other attributes.

[Castellan's golden seal: used only by the demonic race to advance into the city (name can be changed).
HP: 10 billion.]

[note: with the city Lord's golden seal, you can control the entire city.]

'F * ck! A small seal actually has 10 billion HP?! This is too terrifying!'

Fortunately, Zhang Shan had no intention of destroying the city. Otherwise, how would he be able to shatter the golden seal? that would be a huge problem.

Although the city Lord's golden seal was an inanimate object and couldn't retaliate, it still had 10 billion HP.

How long would the five of them fight for? Only then could it be shattered? what f * cking nonsense.

Zhang Shan displayed the attributes of the city Lord's golden seal on the team channel. At the same time, he told them about the system notification that he had just received.

The golden seal had been picked up by Zhang Shan. The others should have been the same, as they had not received the system notification.

after seeing the attributes of the city lord's golden seal and hearing zhang shan's explanation, the others finally reacted.

"Damn, so that's what happened. I thought we had to tear down the city walls."

"f * ck, i was still worried about how to complete the city siege mission just now. now i don't have to worry anymore."

this Golden City Lord seal is really insane. 10 billion HP, this is too much.

"isn't it better if the golden seal's health points are higher? in any case, we can choose to occupy the city, and we don't have to destroy it."

you're right. The higher the HP of the city Lord's golden seal is, the more we won't have to worry about others breaking it after we take over the city.

haha, our mission is settled now. I wonder what kind of reward the Scout leader Yu Fei will give us later?

what's the hurry? we'll know after we hand in the mission.

"Let's not talk about this for now. Let's go to the main hall first, place the golden seal there, and occupy the city."

"Let's go to the main palace."

"haha, the first player city in the new world is about to be born."

Everyone rode their horses together and quickly ran to the main hall of the city Lord's mansion.

In front of the main hall, there was a tall stone tablet with a groove in the middle.

The groove was about the same size as the gold Seal, so it should be where the gold Seal was placed.

Zhang Shan took out the city Lord's golden seal and placed it in the groove.

A beam of golden light shot into the sky and illuminated the surroundings. Even the players far away at heaven's gate could see it.

The others had no idea what was going on and thought that it was a natural phenomenon in the game.

Seeing the golden light that shot into the sky, everyone was extremely shocked. Wind Cloud Blade sighed with emotion.

This phenomenon is very exaggerated. When the divine weapon was born, there was no movement. Why is there such a big reaction when you occupy a city? "

"This is different, right? A God equipment can only increase the strength of an individual player. Occupying a Demon City will increase the strength of the entire human race."

"That's true, but with such a big commotion, will there be fiends coming to attack the city later?"

Who knows? Anyway, when the demonic race comes to attack the city, there will definitely be a system notification. They won't launch a sneak attack, so what are we afraid of? "

"That's reasonable."

After Zhang Shan placed the golden seal on it, he quickly realized that he could now view and set up information about the city through the stone tablet.

The first was the name of the city. It was originally the demon race's push forward city, but now the name of the city was blank.

Zhang Shan could give the city a new name.

Apart from being able to give the city a new name.

Zhang Shan realized that he could also recruit NPCs for the new city.

However, he could only recruit blacksmiths and apothecaries at the moment. There were no other NPC options.

Perhaps it was because the city was too small, at least compared to the giant cities of the human race.

This fiend city that they had just taken down was seriously too small.

Could it be that the city was too small, so they could not set up too many NPCs?

The most important thing was that Zhang Shan saw the option of a teleportation array. He could activate a teleportation array for the new city.

Of course, whether it was to recruit blacksmiths and apothecaries or to open up the teleportation array, all of them required money.

And the price was frighteningly high.

The price for recruiting a blacksmith and a pharmacist was one million gold coins each.

This was easy to explain. No matter what, Zhang Shan was a rich man now. He did not lack this bit of money.

However, opening the teleportation array required 100 million gold coins. This was too much.

Although he was rich, he had almost 300 million gold coins on him.

However, it still pained him to take out 100 million gold coins at once.

However, even though he felt heartache, the teleportation array had to be activated.

No one would be fine after eating their fill. Why would they spend three to four days to come here?

This place was so far away from Heaven's Gate.

Even with the speed of Zhang Shan and the rest on the hero mounts, it would take them three to four days.

If it were players who were riding normal mounts, they would have to run for more than seven to eight days.

If they didn't open the teleportation array, they definitely wouldn't have come here.

If there were no players, what was the point of him occupying this city?

He had to gather more people to develop the city and bring him benefits.

Moreover, after opening the teleportation array, he could still collect a teleportation fee.

Zhang Shan took a look at the description of the teleportation formation.

After the teleportation formation was opened, half of the teleportation fees would go to the city Lord.

As for the other half, of course, it was hacked by the system.

However, receiving half of the teleportation fee was still a considerable amount.

As the players' levels increased, they would have to explore the depths of Heaven's Gate sooner or later.

If there was a teleportation array here, people would definitely take the teleportation array.

It would be fine even if he charged a higher teleportation fee.

Compared to time, many players were more willing to spend money to solve problems.

After occupying the city, there were a lot of information to set up. He would do it one by one and think of a better name for the city first.

He would first ask for other people's opinions and see what kind of name they would like for the new city.

after all, this mission was something that everyone had to complete together.

Of course, everyone could think of the name of the city, but Zhang Shan would not give up the position of the city Lord.

This was the first player to become a city Lord in the New World. If word of this got out, he would have a lot of face.

Furthermore, there were other tangible benefits to becoming a city Lord.

For example, after recruiting NPCs, he could collect a 10% tax on the future spending of players with the NPC.

Blacksmiths and apothecaries were NPCs that players had to deal with.

other than players like Zhang Shan, who else didn't want to buy medicine and supplies?

Not every player would learn the apothecary profession, so most people still had to go to NPCs to buy potions.

the only way to repair equipment was to find an NPC blacksmith.

Even if the player learned the blacksmith profession and leveled up the blacksmith profession, they could only forge equipment and not repair it.

Equipment repair could not be done without the help of the blacksmith NPC.

Just these two NPCs would be a huge profit.

As for the benefits of the teleportation array, it would be even higher.

As long as Zhang Shan activated the teleportation formation, there would definitely be players coming over in the future.

even though Zhang Shan could only receive half of the fees.

But that didn't matter. He could have set the teleportation fee higher.

As long as one was black-hearted enough, earning money was a simple matter.

In any case, this was the only city here at the moment. If they wanted to teleport over, they could only use his teleportation Grand array. It was unique and there was no other city.

A proper monopoly was like picking up money in a gunny sack.

Although it required a lot of investment in the early stage.

However, it didn't matter. The earlier one invested, the earlier one earned. Other people couldn't even find a way to do this kind of business.

of course, Zhang Shan would not give up such a famous and beneficial opportunity. he believed that his other friends would not have any objections.

After all, if Zhang Shan had not told them, they would not have been able to find this place.

Furthermore, without Zhang Shan, it would have been impossible for them to take down the city.

Zhang Shan asked the others.

"Everyone, what name do you think this city should be given? it would sound better."

“guan zi city.”

The little fairy answered first.

Zhang Shan rolled his eyes. What kind of stupid name was that? it did not sound impressive at all.

don't mess around, little fairy. I think we should call it wind Cloud City.

“That's not good. If we take the name, boss will have no name to use when he occupies the city in the future.”

“That's true. What should I name it?”

“Six-pipe city?”

“Go away, go to the side.”

let's call it Bodhisattva city then. It's nice.

“F * ck, you're so uncultured. Don't talk so much. Can't you be more creative?”

“Counterattack the city? This is the first Demon City that we humans have conquered. What do you think of this name?”

“It doesn't sound good, it's too plain.”

“Brother, the name of the city should be more imposing.”

“don't f * cking ask me. if you ask, you'll have difficulty naming things.”

The Little Friends talked for a long time, but they still couldn't come up with a new name.

They all looked like cultured people, but when it came to using them, they were all f * cking unreliable.

it was only when he had enough books that he regretted not having enough.

His friends were not reliable, so he had to do it himself.

Zhang Shan thought hard and said after a long time.

why don't we call it the demon-suppressing city? it sounds more imposing.

the demon-suppressing city sounds quite impressive, but there's already a demon-suppressing dais instance dungeon. Isn't this the same name? ” who cares? the demon-subduing stand is a public dungeon. This is my private city. It won't affect anything.

“This name is not bad. As for being afraid of having the same name? Just let it be.”

Zhang Shan thought for a long time and could only think of such a name.

I'll just use the name demon-suppressing city.

through the stone tablet, he named the city demon suppression city.

Chapter 399 Shadow clone skill after the city was renamed, the next step was to recruit npcs.

There was nothing to consider about this.

zhang shan had spent two million gold coins to recruit a blacksmith and a pharmacist.

It wasn't that he didn't want to recruit more, but the stone tablet only gave him these two slots.

Moreover, he had no choice. As a result, the NPCs he recruited had to be at what level of life profession.

Zhang Shan did not even know. He did not even know what the newly recruited NPC looked like, or whether it was a man or a woman.

He could only choose to recruit. As for the rest, it was up to the system to arrange.

After Zhang Shan had recruited the NPCs, the blacksmith shop and the medicine master's workshop in the city each flashed with a light.

It can't be, right? Was the system that efficient? Could it be that the NPCs he had just recruited were in place so quickly?

He was a little surprised.

The young men in the team had also noticed the abnormality in the city.

Windcloud blade asked in confusion.

"Did you guys see two flashes of light in the city? Did another boss respawn?"

I saw it too. Maybe there's really a BOSS. Let's go and look for it. It's so good to fight a BOSS. We can get experience and equipment.

I don't think it's a BOSS. We just defeated it. It can't respawn so quickly.

Seeing his friends' various speculations, Zhang Shan was a little speechless. Their imaginations were a little too wild.

It was just two flashes of light in the city, why did they think of the BOSS?

it's not a BOSS. It's two NPCs that I just recruited, a pharmacist and a blacksmith.

In order to prevent them from guessing blindly, Zhang Shan quickly told them about the situation.

huh? I can recruit NPCs? "

"Are there blacksmiths and apothecaries in the city now? doesn't that mean we can repair our equipment and buy supplies here in the future?"

"Repair my ass, did you come all the way here to farm monsters?"

that's true. It's just a little far. If only there was a teleportation array.

“there are teleportation formations. i’m opening them.”

It seemed that the system had already thought of what everyone wanted.

In fact, as long as they had the two basic NPCs, the apothecary and the blacksmith, as well as the teleportation portal, they would be able to escape.

Even if it was a complete city, it would be enough for players to stay nearby.

“F * ck, can we really open the teleportation formation directly? You don’t have to do missions or build?”

Windcloud blade asked in disbelief. It had come too easily, so much so that he could not believe it.

“yes, you can just open it directly, but it will cost money. It will cost 100 million gold to open the teleportation formation.”

“No way, so expensive? Was new world’s operator such a scammer? Isn’t this a public service game led by the Union government? how can they be so cruel?”

Even in the team, except for boss Wu, everyone else was rich big shots.

However, when he heard the price for activating the teleportation array, he couldn’t help but be shocked.

100 million gold coins was not a small number. Through the New World exchange, one could directly exchange for 100 million blue dollars.

What did 100 million blue dollars mean? A company with hundreds of millions of funds could be considered a big company in a second-or third-tier city, right?

He didn’t expect that it would cost 100 million gold coins to open a teleportation portal in the game.

It was as dark as the sky.

However, there was nothing he could do if the game was dark.

They couldn’t just occupy the city and not open the teleportation formation.

a city without a teleportation array was useless. who would come to this place for nothing?

a city that no one came to was just a ghost city. it was useless.

Therefore, no matter how expensive it was, they had to open a teleportation array. Fortunately, Zhang Shan could afford it now.

Otherwise, the position of city Lord might have to be given to someone else.

“It’s so expensive. Do you have enough gold coins, Sir? Do you want me to lend you some? we’ll split the profits of the city.”

The little fairy asked Zhang Shan in a half-serious manner.

“That’s enough.”

Zhang Shan was speechless. He did not want to speak.

This little goblin was indeed a land developer. She wanted to invest and split the profits just like that?

Zhang Shan did not want to work with others on this. It would be troublesome when it came to splitting the profits.

Fortunately, he had enough gold coins on him. He didn't need to borrow from others to open the teleportation array.

Zhang Shan quickly made his choice. He spent 100 million gold coins to open the teleportation formation. There were still many things to do later.

let's quickly finish setting up the city's information.

Zhang Shan activated the teleportation formation, and then set the fees.

He had spent 100 million gold coins to open this teleportation array.

Of course, they wouldn't let the players use it for free. They would have to pay.

As for the fee, of course, it couldn't be too cheap.

If he took it too cheaply, where would he go to earn money?

Of course, it would not cost 10000 gold coins per teleportation like the East and West regions.

The price was too ridiculous. If he dared to set such a high price ...

It was probably a small matter to be scolded for being black-hearted, but the key was that no one would come.

After all, no one's money came from nowhere.

The fee couldn't be too high or too low. It had to be something that the players would feel the pain to pay, but it was just what they could afford.

Zhang Shan considered for a while. He set two charges. One gold coin per time for members of the Guild.

All players outside of wind and cloud Guild were charged 200 gold coins each time.

This way, he would receive 100 gold coins every time someone teleported over.

The players should be able to afford this price, right?

He didn't know how long it would take for him to recover the cost.

After setting up the fee for the teleportation array, it was time to set up the tax.

The system's standard for tax collection was zero to ten percent.

zhang shan could collect a maximum of 10% tax.

There was nothing to consider, so he would go with the highest price.

isn't it good to earn more money?

In any case, if players came here, he would have to repair his equipment and buy supplies here, right?

It was impossible to say that because Zhang Shan's taxes were high, others would go back to buy supplies and repair equipment, right?

This didn't make sense. Didn't he have to teleport back? The teleportation fee was even more expensive.

Moreover, NPC cities were the same. They also had to collect taxes, and the tax was also 10%.

Actually, Zhang Shan had wanted to raise the taxes, but the system had set a limit and did not allow him to set it higher.

Otherwise, he would dare to raise the tax rate to 50%, hehe.

zhang shan looked at the information of the city carefully. he had already set up all the places that could be set up.

After he chose to confirm the information, a system notification sound rang throughout the entire game.

≪ system announcement: congratulations, six-barreled Bodhisattva. You have conquered a demonic city and established the first player city, demon-suppressing city. You have become the city Lord of the demon-suppressing city. ≫

All attributes +1000.

≪ system announcement: the city system has been unlocked. Players can now search for a demonic city. After defeating the demonic city Lord, you can build a new city. ≫ it was very different from the previous system announcements.

The others would not receive the notification sound, only the text.

However, the announcement this time was a voice announcement to the entire game.

The moment the announcement came out, the entire game exploded, not just the players who usually paid attention to the announcement.

even the ordinary players were shocked by the system announcement.

f * ck! Six-pipe Bodhisattva has made another big news.

no wonder all the bosses they killed before had the words 'demonic invasion city' on them. They were really attacking the demonic city.

damn it, Where can I find it? it's a Demon City. I want to be the city Lord too.

“Don’t even talk about being a city Lord, just the 1000 points of all attributes rewarded by the system is already very exaggerated.”

1000 points for all attributes? how many pieces of equipment is that? ”

that depends on what kind of equipment you’re wearing. With your trashy equipment, I guess it’s equivalent to half of your equipment.

“F * ck, who is he looking down on?”

“I’m going to find a Demon City. May I ask where I can find one?”

where else could it be? it must be on The Map of Heaven’s Gate. Only The Map of Heaven’s Gate is the largest, and there are many places that have not been explored.

f * ck, I’m not farming monsters anymore. What’s the point of farming? I’m going to find a Demon City.

huh? there’s an option to go to the demon-suppressing city in the teleportation Hall. Can I go to the demon-suppressing city? haha, I’m going to have some fun there.

“Really? We can directly teleport there?”

f * ck, the teleportation fee is 200 gold coins. It’s even more expensive than going to the Imperial City. The system is so f * cking black.

I’m afraid it’s not the system, it’s probably six-barreled Bodhisattva. He’s the city Lord, so he must be the one who set the fees.

“F * ck, six-barreled Bodhisattva, that damned Blackie.”

what the f * ck? it’s so expensive. Only a ghost would teleport over. Wouldn’t it be nice to spend some time running over? ”

“Have you lost your mind? look at the map and see where the demon-suppressing city is. Can you run over? How long will it take to run over?”

f * ck! We can already find the location of the demon-suppressing city on the map? ”

“F * ck, how could it be so far? how did six-barreled Bodhisattva find that place? I’m afraid that you’ve eaten too much and have nothing to do?”

it doesn’t matter if it’s further away. There are miracles when exploring new maps. There will definitely be more and more players exploring new maps in the future.

“yeah, if we find a new demon city, we’ll be rich.”

let’s not talk about it anymore. I’m going to look for a Demon City too. It’ll take me half a month.

“I won’t stop until I find a new Demon City.”

“Not bad, let’s go together.”

let’s go. If we’re any later, those big guilds will probably have finished searching.

“I’m afraid you’re overthinking it. Don’t you know how big The Map of Heaven’s Gate is?”

that’s right. The map is too big. Even if all the players were to spread out to the Heaven’s Gate map, it wouldn’t cause a single ripple.

“we’ll still have to look for it. if six-pipe bodhisattva can find the demon city, i’m sure i can find it too.”

“Then I’ll have to congratulate you in advance for becoming the city Lord, hehe.”

the entire game exploded in an instant, and it wasn’t just the world channel that was on fire.

zhang shan had also received private calls from many of the guild leaders, but he had no time to deal with these people.

This was because he had received another system notification at the same time as the system announcement.

[system notification: you have captured a demon’s city. you have incurred the demon god’s wrath.]

The demonic god ordered his subordinates to destroy the demon-suppressing city.

the demons will attack the demon-suppressing city at eight o’clock tomorrow night. players, please be prepared.

“F * ck, there’s still a monster attack tomorrow.”

After seeing this notification, Zhang Shan was a little panicked.

The demon-suppressing city was his private city. If there were monsters attacking the city, what could he do?

“Brother Guan, what did you say? There won’t be any monsters attacking the city tomorrow.”

The little fairy asked.

The notification just now was only received by the city Lord, Zhang Shan. No one else received it.

Zhang Shan could only explain to his friends.

“haha, isn’t it even better if there are monsters attacking the city? there’s a boss to fight.”

Windcloud blade was a fearless fellow, yet he was still overjoyed when he heard the news of the monster siege.

So he wasn’t the city Lord, and he wasn’t worried at all.

“I’m just afraid we can’t defend it.”

what are you afraid of? tomorrow, we’ll pull all of our guild members over. We won’t be able to keep the fortress.

that’s right. Besides, we should only need to guard the city Lord’s golden seal. This shouldn’t be too difficult.

“You’re right. The city Lord’s golden seal has 10 billion HP. If we let the monsters attack it, they might not even be able to break it. Besides, we’re not dead.”

“the monsters attacking the city are here to send us off.”

our Guild only has 100000 players. We can’t defend a city, can we? ”

Zhang Shan was still a little worried.

what are you afraid of? this city isn’t that big, and there’s only one gate. We just have to guard the gate and then the city Lord’s golden seal.

yes, don’t worry, brother pipe. Don’t they always come to give us experience and equipment every time the monsters attack the city? ” don’t worry, that’s for tomorrow. Shouldn’t we first see what items the demon City Lord dropped before going to the Scout leader to hand in the quest? ”

F * ck, he had spent so much time setting up the city’s information that he had forgotten that they had just defeated a BOSS with a real name.

He had yet to see the items the city Lord had dropped.

This was a BOSS with a real name. He had almost forgotten about such a big thing.

“Wait, let me see if there’s anything good.”

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he opened his backpack to check.

there were three red equipment, one red material, and one skill book.

After looking at the dropped items, Zhang Shan could not help but feel disappointed. This was really f * cking trash. Wasn’t the demon City Lord Doduo an a BOSS with a real name?

How could the items it dropped be so trashy? there was no need to talk about divine artifacts or ultimate skill books.

However, it would at least drop one or two items that were similar.

what the hell, it was just an ordinary skill book. the drops were no different from those of ordinary red bosses.

Could it be that the demonic city Lord was in a weakened state and could not be considered a full BOSS with a real name?

He could only be considered a cripple, which was why his loot was so poor.

Zhang Shan took a look at the skill book’s description.

[shadow clone: after using this skill, the user can split into two additional clones.]

The doppelganger inherited 10% of the character’s attributes and all of the character’s passive skills. The doppelganger could be controlled, but it could not cast active skills.

30 second duration, 3 minute cooldown, costs 2000 MP, class requirement: Hunter profession.

F * ck, this skill is not bad. I wonder if the attributes I will inherit will be 100% after maxing out the skill.

If that was the case, then the skill was too powerful.

If Zhang Shan were to learn it, this shadow clone skill would be extremely powerful. After using the skill, wouldn't it be equivalent to having three of him attacking?

During the duration of the skill, his damage output could be tripled. It was a good skill.

This skill book was not bad, and it was just right for him to learn. Even if he was given an ultimate skill book, he would not want to exchange it.

The skill didn't have to be the strongest, the one that suited you was the best.

this shadow clone technique, combined with his high attack power and high attack speed, was a perfect match.

Chapter 400 The title of human hero after zhang shan saw this shadow clone skill book, he was very happy.

Although the Nephilim race's city Lord, Doduo an, did not drop any other good items, they did not lose out with this skill book.

At least, it was so for him.

zhang shan said as he dropped the item and displayed it on the team channel.

"it didn't drop anything good, but it did drop a skill book that i use."

"F * ck, can this even be considered a drop from a real name BOSS? This is too shallow."

Looking at the items that Zhang Shan had dropped, everyone was in disbelief.

To Zhang Shan, this loot was not bad. At the very least, there was a skill book that was suitable for him.

However, to his other companions, the drops were too poor.

The demonic city Lord, dodogan, was a real name boss. It was very different from the normal red bosses.

These few items were a little too weak.

maybe it's because the demonic city Lord is in a weakened state, so it can't be considered a real name boss. That's why the drops are so bad.

"Follow my heart" guessed.

"what the f * ck, a weakened real name boss is still a real name boss. didn't you see how strong the demon city lord was just now?"

“that’s right. the damage of the demon castellan is far beyond that of an ordinary red boss. it’s even stronger than the real-name boss we’ve fought before.”

maybe we’re just unlucky. After all, there was a trick in defeating the demon City Lord. If it wasn’t for the increase in damage from weakness, we wouldn’t have been able to defeat him.

sigh, that’s fine. We won’t lose anything anyway. We’ve already leveled up twice on this trip. It’s several times better than farming monsters.

” that’s right. although there aren’t any good items, there are still quite a few pieces of trash equipment. we can sell them for some money if we split them. ” brother Guan, let’s split the equipment. After we’re done, let’s go find Yu Fei and hand in the mission.

yes, hurry up and hand in the mission. The mission reward might be very generous.

that’s for sure. As the first real mission in the game, the reward will definitely be good.

“I hope you can give me a divine artifact.”

this big shot, let me move your heart, has also learned to dream. he actually wants to reward a divine artifact?

She was probably still sleeping.

it doesn’t matter if it’s a divine artifact or not. Give me one, just like the reward of the six tubes just now.

“Damn, you want to increase all attributes by 1000? You really know how to think.”

“what’s wrong? Can’t you just think about it?”

“Sure, go back and dream about it.”

After the demon-suppressing city was built, the system had rewarded Zhang Shan with an increase of 1000 in all attributes.

This reward was very good and practical.

Agility +1000 meant that his basic attack power would increase by 1000. If he counted the passive and special effects that added attack power, he would be able to increase his attack power by 1000.

It should be about the same, giving him almost 2000 attack power.

This was not much worse than a level 40 red equipment.

To him, intelligence +1000 was equivalent to an increase of 5000 mana points.

It was still somewhat useful, in case he couldn’t cast any skills that consumed a lot of mana due to a lack of mana upper limit after learning them.

now that he had an extra 5000 mana, it saved him a lot of trouble.

As for increasing his strength by 1000 points, it would increase his HP by 5000 points.

Even though Zhang Shan's health was already very high.

However, no one would think that they were too meaty.

After the 1000 strength increase, his HP had officially broken through 500000. He was terrifyingly tanky.

He looked at everyone's anxious looks. Zhang Shan started to distribute the equipment.

Actually, there wasn't much to share. He just shared the shadow clone skill book with himself.

as for the other trash equipment, they would split them evenly, with each person getting a few pieces.

They were not all trash equipment, but there were 13 orange equipment and 11 red equipment.

Orange equipment was considered equipment for mainstream players.

As for the red equipment ... Anyone who had a few pieces of red equipment in the game was definitely considered an expert.

After all, red equipment could be sold for at least 10000 gold coins.

no matter what, it couldn't be called trash, right?

Of course, their team was full of big shots.

For these things that could be bought with money, they were not interested.

In their eyes, anything that could be bought with money was trash.

Only the rare items that money couldn't buy were considered good items.

However, it was very difficult to get that kind of thing.

if one was unlucky, they might not even get one in their entire life.

"let's go. the city lord of the demon race is too weak. i hope that the captain of the scouts, yu fei, will not disappoint me."

After the equipment was distributed, everyone quickly ran to Yu Fei's position.

After running for a while, everyone came in front of Yu Fei.

Zhang Shan went forward to talk to Yu Fei.

"hello, we've already occupied the demon city."

Yu Fei said excitedly.

I saw it. The weather has changed, and the human race will definitely be able to revive. You have occupied the demon race's push-in city and made a great contribution to the revival of the human race. I will report this to the nine-star general and give you rewards.

After saying that, Yu Fei turned into a ray of light and disappeared. He had stayed here, as if to say this to Zhang Shan and the rest.

After saying this, he left.

Zhang Shan and the other five were left in their original spot, in a mess.

“Damn, what’s going on? Where’s our reward?”

I think Yu Fei said that he’ll report to the general and give us a reward. It might take a while.

“Damn it, how did this Scout Captain Yu Fei run? Could it be that NPCs can also cast a Return Channel?”

no, I didn’t even see his channeling bar. He just disappeared.

“F * ck, what kind of godly operation is this? he can fly?”

what’s so strange about that? even brother Guan can get a positioning bead. It’s not too much for a Scout like Yu Fei to have something similar on him, right? ” what you said makes so much sense. I don’t even know how to refute it.

“The question is, did Yu Fei say that he was seriously injured when he gave us the mission? He didn’t look like he was seriously injured just now.”

why are you guys so bothered by this? wait for the mission reward first.

The system didn’t make them wait too long.

In less than half a minute after Yu Fei left, five system announcements sounded out.

≪ system announcement: congratulations, six-barreled Bodhisattva, for completing the city Siege quest. You are rewarded with the title of human hero. ≫

≪ system announcement: congratulations to wind and cloud blade for completing the city Siege quest. You have been rewarded with the title of “Terran hero. >

≪ system notification: congratulations, “with a heart,” for completing the city Siege quest. You are rewarded with the title of “Terran hero.” ≫

≪ system announcement: congratulations to a little fairy for completing the “City Siege” quest. You have been rewarded with the title of “human hero. >

≪ system announcement: congratulations to priest for completing the city Siege quest. You are rewarded with the title of “Terran hero “. ≫

Because they took on the mission separately, even though the mission was completed together.

However, the system still separated them and released five announcements in a row.

However, their rewards were all the same. They only had the title of a human hero and no physical rewards.

hahaha, I'm on the system announcement again. This time, I'm on my own.

After seeing the system announcement, a little fairy was very happy.

This girl was easily satisfied. What was there to be happy about?

Shouldn't the most important thing be the mission reward?

what the f * ck? where's my divine weapon? why is it only given a title? "

Windcloud blade said gloomily.

Actually, Zhang Shan was even more depressed. He already had the title of the nemesis of the demons.

Even if he gave him another title, it would be useless.

each character could only wear one title at a time.

It would be a waste to have two titles now. He could only choose one with better attributes.

this human hero title is not bad. We've earned big.

Moving heart said after looking at the title's description.

Speaking of which, there really weren't many titles in the game.

Just like the title of the nemesis of the demons that Zhang Shan had obtained previously. Only the few of them who had fought the wild boar King together had this title.

Perhaps other players had other titles, but Zhang Shan had never seen one before.

he did not know what the attributes of the other titles were like.

hearing the heart moves with me, this human hero title was not bad.

Everyone stopped complaining and quickly looked at the title's description.

[human hero title: the first to blow the horn to counterattack the demons, the hero of the human counterattack.]

When equipped, damage is increased by 10%. You can teleport to any human city, except under special circumstances.

Zhang Shan looked at the description of the human hero title. In general, it was okay.

at the very least, it was much better than his previous title of being the nemesis of the demons.

Although it also increased damage by 10%, the title of nemesis of the demons was only effective when farming monsters and fighting bosses.

When pking with other players, it was useless as it did not increase the damage.

In comparison, the human hero title was more applicable, much better than the demon's nemesis title.

Moreover, after wearing the title of human hero, he could use it in all human cities for an instant.

This function was very powerful.

under normal circumstances, players could only teleport in the three sub-cities of their own country.

In other cities, teleportation was currently not allowed.

like the imperial city and the east and west capitals, after zhang shan teleported over, he could only rely on his horse to run. he could not teleport.

This was not a big deal. After all, people rarely went to the Imperial City and the East and West.

If it wasn't for a quest, who would go there for no reason? the teleportation fee was expensive and it was a waste of time.

but don't forget, other than the imperial city and the east and west, teleportation was not allowed.

Players could not use teleportation when they ran to the cities of other countries.

previously, when the domineering king had brought his men to dreamcloud city to massacre them, he had suffered the loss of not being able to teleport.

Otherwise, they would have run away long ago. How could they have let almost all the players of Chu stay behind?

If they wore the title of human hero, they could teleport in all human cities.

In that case, teleportation could be used in the cities of other countries.

As for the exception of that special situation, it should be similar to the monster attack at the beginning.

It completely prohibited teleportation. In that situation, even if they wore the title of human hero, they probably couldn't teleport.

Other than this restriction, one could wear this title and do whatever they wanted in the human territory.

this was interesting. this title was very suitable for going to foreign cities to have fun. he reckoned that wind and cloud blade would like it very much.

hahaha, this title is awesome. I like it.

After reading the description of the human hero title, wind and cloud blade laughed wildly.

yeah, it can increase damage by 10%. It's still usable.

"What do you know? With this title, you can teleport to any human city."

I saw it, but it's not very useful. I rarely go to the capital or the East and West.

Heart with me expressed that he was not interested in the teleportation privileges that came with the human hero title.

"Why don't you understand? after wearing this title, you can also teleport in foreign cities."

"I know, but I'm not going to the outer cities."

Windcloud blade was dumbfounded. He had forgotten that this Big Shot, follow your heart, was an expert.

if she told him this, wouldn't she be playing the zither to a cow?

They just wanted to quietly farm monsters, if they weren't in the same party.

He was probably too excited to even fight the BOSS. He seemed to have no interest in anything other than farming monsters.

It was a pure iron brush.

It was completely meaningless for wind and cloud blade to tell him this.

The five of them had almost booked all the system announcements in the game today.

From the moment they killed the captain of the city guards at the city gate, the system notifications had been constantly popping up.

The other players were numb to this.

After all, Zhang Shan had already occupied a Demon City.

They would not find it strange.

However, the announcement this time was very different.

It was five consecutive announcements. Each of the five of them had received their mission rewards.

There was a system announcement.

All five of them received the title of human hero.

Everyone could see the description of this title on the announcement.

Most players had never seen a title before.

Zhang Shan and the rest already had one each.

The key was that the announcement also revealed a piece of information. It was possible to obtain titles by doing quests.

The problem was, where could he get a mission?

Apart from the first demon-killing mission in the novice village, no one had come into contact with a second mission.

now, zhang shan and the rest had completed the city siege mission and received the title reward.

It gave all the players confidence.

In new world, there were still missions that could be accepted as long as one could find the NPC that triggered the mission.

All the players in the game were not in the mood to kill monsters. They watched as Zhang Shan and the rest built the city and completed the missions.

They were also very envious. Although they did not know how Zhang Shan and the rest had found the NPC and triggered the mission.

However, everyone now knew that if they wanted to have a fortuitous encounter, they had to explore the unknown areas.

The Map of Heaven's Gate was so big, and Zhang Shan had run for four days before he met the Scout leader, Yu Fei.

of course, they could also explore the map. perhaps they could find a second demon city and even receive a new mission.

Not to mention the other players, they were already starting to get restless.

None of them could sit still any longer. One after another, they asked blade of wind and cloud about how they could find the demon City.

How can I get a mission?
