Chapter 401 Killing the wrong person, not letting him off

After the announcement that the five of them had completed the city Siege mission came out, everyone's eyes were red with envy.

Everyone would be rewarded with a title, even though the effect of the human hero title was definitely not as good as a divine weapon.

However, this title was also very practical.

This was something that many people could not even dream of obtaining.

Hence, everyone began to ask unstable blade if there were any shortcuts. After all, it was meaningless to search aimlessly.

The Map of Heaven's Gate was so big. How lucky would one have to be to run into a city of the demon race or an NPC with a mission?

However, it was obvious that they would not get anything out of him if they asked wind cloud blade.

Forget about wind and cloud blade, even if he were to ask Zhang Shan, he would not know.

Because he found this place purely by chance.

Before Zhang Shan came out, he only wanted to look for monsters above level 50.

He didn't know about the demon City before, nor did he know about the mission.

However, when he ran here, he saw the demon City and ran into the Scout Captain, Yu Fei.

There was no method, no pattern, and it was purely coincidental.

The city-seizing mission was completed, and the reward was in his hands.

"Now that you're done, what do you plan to do next?"

Zhang Shan asked the others.

of course I'm going back to farm monsters. There's nothing to do here anyway. The monster attack will only start tomorrow night.

As expected of an iron brush like 'heart moves with me', always thinking about farming monsters.

we don't have to go back to farm monsters, right? why don't we stay here and look around to see if there's a suitable farming spot? " that's right, this is our territory. Let's go and search for it. We can't let anyone else take over the good spots for farming monsters.

f * ck, what are we waiting for? let's hurry up and find the spawn point. There must be a lot of people who have been teleported over.

“Then let’s split up and search.”

you guys go and find a farming spot first. I still have to go back to demon suppression city and set up the city defense.

Zhang Shan would definitely not go back to farm monsters. His current attack power was so high. If he went back to beast King Valley to farm Tiger monsters, it would be a waste.

he had to find higher level monsters to farm.

Although he had not found any higher level monsters yet, Zhang Shan believed that the monsters on the other side of the demon-suppressing city should be wild monsters that were above level 50.

Otherwise, why would the demons build a city here? the wild monsters on both sides of the city would definitely be different.

However, before he went to find a farming spot, he still had to go back and set up the city’s defense.

In order to find Yu Fei earlier to hand in the task, he had not finished the things in the demon-suppressing city.

“What kind of city defense do you still want to set up?”

Windcloud blade asked curiously.

“To place the six-barrel fire god cannon. Didn’t I build a dozen six-barrel fire god cannons? It’s just right to be placed in the demon-suppressing city.”

f * ck, I forgot. Go on then, we’ll go find a farming spot.

“Alright, once I’m done setting it up, I’ll go find a farming spot too.”

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he used the positioning Pearl and teleported to the stone tablet of the demon suppressing city Lord’s residence.

The city Lord’s golden seal was placed on the stone tablet, which was the center of control of the entire city.

Before Zhang Shan had left, he had marked the coordinates here so that he could come back at any time.

after circling the stone tablet a few times, zhang shan could not help but turn around.

where should i place the six-barrel fire god cannon?

He only had twelve six-barrel fire god cannons at the moment.

There was also the city gate, which must be heavily guarded.

He had to plan it well.

When he thought of the city gate, Zhang Shan suddenly remembered.

His thoughts seemed to have entered a misunderstanding. Who said that one had to be on the side of the golden seal to protect the city Lord's golden seal?

The area around the stone tablet was empty. It wouldn't have any effect if he didn't place a few more six-barrel Vulcan cannons.

He could totally set the main point of defense at the gate of the city Lord's mansion.

As long as the city Lord's mansion's door was blocked, no one would be able to enter. Of course, no one would be able to destroy the city Lord's golden seal.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan quickly teleported to the main gate of the city Lord's residence.

He took out three six-barrel fire god cannons and placed them in the city Lord's residence, facing the gate.

After Zhang Shan placed the palm-sized fire god cannon properly, the latter instantly rose from the ground and became as tall as a person. The six tubes were shining with a metallic luster.

After placing the fire god cannons, Zhang Shan still had to set the fire god cannons' attack patterns.

The attack mode of a city defense weapon was similar to a player's PK mode.

They were peace mode, country mode, Guild mode, team mode, team mode, and Garrison mode.

Needless to say, people who activated peaceful mode would not cause any damage to anyone they hit, so even a fool would not do that.

When the country mode was activated, they could only attack players from the foreign camp and local players without causing any damage.

For example, during the country war, everyone would activate the country mode to prevent friendly fire.

Most of the players now usually used the National mode. At least, after the Heaven's Gate map was opened, there were very few local players who would pk with each other.

If they wanted to fight, they should find foreigners to fight.

And so on. In Guild mode, players could attack all players outside of the Guild. It was the same in team mode.

And if he turned on the full-body mode, he wouldn't recognize anyone.

Apart from himself, everyone else could attack, which was what everyone often called the Mad Dog mode.

unless they were crazy and planned to kill everyone they saw, no player would turn on the full team mode.

The defensive mode would only launch a counterattack after being attacked.

After some consideration, Zhang Shan decided to set the attack mode of these three fire god cannons to full attack mode.

In other words, these three six-barrel Vulcan cannons, other than Zhang Shan, would launch an attack as long as the others were within range.

This was because apart from the city Lord's golden seal, everything else in the city Lord's mansion was just a game scene to the players. They were all buildings that could only be seen but not moved.

Those who wanted to enter the city Lord's mansion for no reason were most likely people with ill intentions.

Otherwise, why would he come in? he couldn't be here for a vacation, right?

Zhang Shan set the six-barrel Vulcan machine gun to team mode. If there were any mistakes, he would not let them go. This was to prevent other players from coming in to cause trouble.

The firepower of the three fire god cannons was enough to guard the gates of the city Lord's residence.

The six-barrel Vulcan cannon had an attack power of 50000 and could fire twice in a second.

If three fire god cannons attacked at the same time, they could deal 300000 damage in one second.

With the players' current strength, who would be able to charge in with such fierce firepower?

Not to mention other players, even Zhang Shan himself would not be able to break through the fire blockade of three fire god cannons.

As for the other players, they could forget about it, even if there were many of them. At least for now, no one could rush in.

after placing three six-barrel fire god cannons at the gate of the city lord's residence, zhang shan considered for a moment and teleported back to the stone tablet.

He took out another fire god cannon and placed it in front of the stone tablet. He also set it to full-body mode.

Although a fire god cannon wasn't very useful in this place and couldn't stop too many people, it was still a fire god cannon.

However, in order to prevent any of them from escaping, he would place another fire god cannon here.

What if other players also got something similar to their human hero title?

If he could teleport anywhere in the city, then the three fire god cannons he had placed at the entrance of the city Lord's residence would not be able to stop him.

Hence, Zhang Shan placed another fire god cannon in front of the stone tablet.

Even if someone teleported in, he couldn't do anything.

After all, even if there were players who got something like the human hero title, it would be a great achievement.

After all, only a small number of people would do so. A fire god cannon would be enough to prevent any accidents.

after the protection of the city lord's golden seal was done.

In Zhang Shan's backpack, there were still eight six-barrel Vulcan cannons left.

Where should he place the fire god cannons? there were too few of them, and he was at a loss.

zhang shan only had eight fire god cannons now.

Then he would definitely set up along the city wall and make the entire demon-suppressing city look like a Porcupine.

However, that was just a thought. The reality was that he only had eight fire god cannons left, and it was unlikely for Zhang Shan to go back and continue building fire god cannons.

The main thing was that he didn't have any materials on hand. If he increased the price at the auction, the price would be too high, and he might not be able to buy it.

There was one more thing that Zhang Shan did not know before.

He had only discovered it after he had placed the fire god cannon.

The six-barrel fire god cannons were actually one-use products.

in other words, once the fire god cannon was placed in one place, it could no longer be moved.

if he wanted to move the fire god cannon, he would have to choose to destroy it, then take out a new one, and place it back.

The materials needed to build the six-barrel Vulcan cannon were not cheap. One set of materials cost more than a thousand gold coins.

And Zhang Shan's current proficiency was not too high. The success rate was only about 50%.

In other words, he would have to spend more than 2000 gold coins to build each fire god cannon.

it was one thing to spend money, but the key was that these materials might not even be available in the auction house.

It would take time to collect the materials.

Therefore, he had to treasure the remaining eight fire gods. He couldn't just set them up.

Zhang Shan thought for a long time. The main thing was that he could not be sure when the monsters would attack the city.

Would the demonic monsters that came to attack the city climb the city wall?

if they knew how to climb the city wall, they would have to defend many places.

Although the demon-suppressing city was only a small city of five miles.

However, five miles wasn't that small. At least, that was the case for the wind cloud Guild.

The entire wind and cloud Guild only had 100000 members.

If they had to defend the entire city wall, they would be under a lot of pressure.

if the monsters didn't know how to climb walls, then it would be easy.

Zhang Shan only needed to guard the city gates.

The demon-suppressing city was a small city, but it had its own advantages, which was that it only had one gate.

If they only needed to guard the city gate, it would be simple.

If Zhang Shan had placed all eight fire god cannons at the city gate, normal wild monsters would have died before they could even get close.

Even if it was a BOSS, it would probably have to be a red BOSS to be able to withstand the fire of eight fire god cannons and advance.

The bosses below red would probably not be able to hold on either. They would also be killed before they could reach the city gate.

But here came the problem.

Should he install all eight fire god cannons on the tower of the city gate?

zhang shan was a little worried. if the wild monsters knew how to climb the wall, there would be no fire god cannons at other places to support them.

He was afraid that the people from the wind and cloud Guild might not be able to hold on.

After hesitating for a long time, Zhang Shan teleported to the city gate tower and set up four fire god cannons there.

At the same time, the attack mode was set to defense mode. This was the city gate, so players would be able to enter and exit in the future.

You can't set it to other modes. If everyone gets beaten up just by crossing the city gate, who's going to come here?

After setting up the city defense mode, as long as no one attacked the city or directly attacked the fire god cannon ...

The six-barrel Vulcan machine guns would not have launched a counterattack.

As for the remaining four fire god cannons, Zhang Shan decided to keep them for now after thinking for a long time.

He would wait until the monsters started attacking the city the next day, if the monsters could really climb the wall.

A six-barrel Vulcan machine gun would be set up on each wall as support firepower.

After settling the city's defenses, Zhang Shan teleported down the city, then rode on the red Hare and charged out of the city.

It had only been a few minutes since he had built the demon-suppressing city.

However, since he had opened the teleportation portal, there were already many players near the demon-suppressing city.

Many players had teleported over from other places and were ready to explore the surroundings.

Even though Zhang Shan had received 200 gold for the teleportation fee, it could not stop everyone's enthusiasm for exploration.

'no, i have to work harder. i have to sweep the area quickly. if there are any good spots to farm monsters, i have to occupy them.'

He couldn't let anyone else get there first.

Otherwise, if he built a city here, the farming spot would be someone else's.

Wouldn't that be funny?

If there were any benefits nearby, they would all be his. Even if it was someone else's, he would still snatch it.

As Zhang Shan ran outside, he checked the location information of his teammates on the mini-map.

They asked at the same time.

"Did you find anything? did you find a farming spot?"

no, they are all demon Warriors with the Holy demon's protection. There's nothing to farm.

Windcloud blade replied dejectedly.

"yeah, it's really hard to find a farming spot like beast king valley."

continue searching, in the direction far away from Heaven's Gate.

"There are already a lot of players coming over. They won't start fighting, right?"

what are you afraid of? whoever dares to hit us, i'll pay 10000 gold coins for the teleportation fee and shut the door to beat the dogs.

Zhang Shan was not afraid of a fight. If he wanted to fight with them, wouldn't that be asking for trouble?

Not to mention that they were very strong to begin with, if they wanted to beat the few of them, they had to have enough people.

Otherwise, they would be sending themselves to their deaths.

Even if others did, and there were many people gathered here, Zhang Shan was not afraid.

When they started fighting, he would lock the teleportation array so that other people's support could not come over. However, the support of the wind and cloud Guild could come over continuously. Who would dare to fight with them?

f * ck, I almost forgot. Liu Guan can also control the teleportation formation. Doesn't that mean we can chase after others and kill them? hehe.

"Why are you fighting? is there anything to do after eating too much? hurry and find a farming spot."

Zhang Shan looked at the mini-map and galloped off into the distance.

He didn't want to search near the city because he felt that this place was originally a city of the demon race.

Then, the monsters around them should be demons too.

And the farming point that Zhang Shan was looking for was those kind of demonized monsters, not pure demons.

Only those demonized monsters in a sealed map would not have the protection of the Holy demon.

Those monsters were suitable for everyone to kill.

As for the ordinary demon Warriors, they were all over the ground, and no one went to farm them.

Zhang Shan's horse galloped quickly, and soon he was getting further and further away from the demon suppressing city.

All he saw along the way were demon soldiers. He didn't even bother to look at them in detail, and directly galloped forward.

As time passed, more and more players were teleported to the demon-suppressing city.

In the wind and cloud Guild, there were also many people who had teleported over. Some of them wanted to explore the map.

He wanted to see if he could find a second Demon City or receive a new mission.

Some were looking for new farming spots.

beast king valley was a good farming spot.

It was safe and the monsters were easy to kill. The only thing that made everyone unhappy was that the beast King Valley was too far away from Heaven's Gate.

After they were teleported to Heaven's Gate, they had to run for more than half an hour before they could reach beast King Valley to farm.

He would often be ambushed while running, which was very annoying.

It would be great if he could find a suitable farming spot near the demon-suppressing city. He could save a lot of time on the road.

Furthermore, this was the city that Zhang Shan had built. He had the home ground advantage and was not afraid of fighting with others.

As Zhang Shan was running, he suddenly saw a guild member calling out on the Guild channel.

I've found a monster-farming spot. Someone quickly come and help me. I've been cut down.

"What's the situation? Who dares to kill our people?"

Zhang Shan was furious. Damn it, who was so blind? this was the demon suppressing city that he had built.

Which blind guy dared to kill the people of wind and cloud Guild in his territory? was he tired of living?

it's the black iron Guild from Zhao. They and I found this place at about the same time, but they had more people, so they killed me.

don't panic. Send us the coordinates. Who would dare to compete with our wind and cloud Guild in numbers? " what's the situation at that grinding spot? what's the situation with the monsters? are they suitable for farming? "

Feng Yun realm, who was farming monsters far away in beast King Valley, also asked with concern.

I don't know. I just entered the farming point and didn't even have time to fight a single monster before I was cut down by them. It's depressing.

stupid, look at the other side's operation. If it's a suitable farming spot, they'll definitely find a way to occupy it. If it's not, they'll definitely run away.

Oh, they're all blocking the entrance of the passage. And it seems like there are more people coming over.

don't say anymore. We're definitely going to fight for this monster farming spot.

Wind cloud blade said without hesitation.

"Do you want us all to go over?"

feng yun realm saw that they might need to fight so he asked in the guild channel.

"No, we'll talk after we figure out the situation."

Without waiting for wind and cloud blade to reply, Zhang Shan answered first.

What a joke, this was his territory, who could snatch it from him?

if he were to fight for a spot here, would he still need to rely on his numbers advantage? There was no need for that.

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he immediately used the positioning Pearl and teleported to the front of the city Lord's mansion's stone tablet.

He set the teleportation fee at 10000 gold coins per teleportation, except for members of wind and cloud Guild.

He would like to see how many people from the black iron Guild would be teleported here. 10000 gold coins for one teleportation.

If you're not afraid of spending money, then come over. Zhang Shan welcomed you.

For every teleportation, he could earn 5000 gold in teleportation fees. It was like picking up money from a sack.

It all depended on whether the black iron Guild's people were willing to come.

if someone was willing to give him money, zhang shan would definitely be happy. he even wanted to give the other party some hope.

He couldn't just beat the other party away with a stick. He could let him go first and see if he could catch some fish, hehe.

Chapter 402 The demonized wildebeest

After setting up the teleportation fee, Zhang Shan teleported to the city gate and rode his horse towards the Guild members 'designated farming spot.

After Zhang Shan changed the fee for the teleportation array to ten thousand gold coins per use, it was quickly discovered by other players.

The world Channel:

what's going on? why is there a teleportation fee of 10000 gold coins? didn't you just say that the teleportation fee is 200 gold coins? "

"Brother, you must be mistaken. It's 200 gold coins. I just teleported here."

that's right. When I teleported here just now, it also cost 200 gold coins.

"If not for the fact that I don't have 10000 gold coins on me, I would have believed it. When I chose to teleport, the system notified me that I did not have enough gold coins. However, I had more than 7000 gold coins."

"F * ck, no way."

I'm going to take a look. I was buying something at the auction house just now and didn't have time to go to the demon-suppressing city. Don't cheat me.

f * ck, the teleportation fee is really 10000 gold coins. What kind of spell is this? why did the price suddenly increase so much? " the system says that I won't take the blame for this. You guys can go find six-barreled Bodhisattva.

"What the f * ck, is the system out of its mind?"

f * ck, could it be that the six-headed Bodhisattva has raised the teleportation fees? ”

“that’s most likely the case. he’s really a f * cking black player.”

f * ck, six-barreled Bodhisattva charged such a high teleportation fee. Who the f * ck would still go to the demon-suppressing city? ”

“This is f * cking robbery, right?”

robbing people isn’t as fast as this. Each teleportation costs 10000 gold coins. If tens of thousands of people go there every day, wouldn’t we be earning hundreds of millions a day? ” in your dreams. Even a ghost wouldn’t go there for such an expensive teleportation fee.

f * ck, I’m not going. I was planning to spend 200 gold coins to go to the demon-suppressing city for a stroll. Now that the teleportation fee is so expensive, I don’t think I can go for a stroll.

“Let’s continue farming monsters.”

this isn’t a teleportation fee. It’s more like an IQ tax.

“I’ll just focus on killing monsters, I’m not going anywhere.”

“How can you do this? just because the teleportation fee is too expensive, you don’t plan to explore the new map? I’m different. I plan to ride my horse there and let six-barreled Bodhisattva get air.”

it’s okay to run over. Big brother, you’re awesome.

After Zhang Shan raised the teleportation fee, it attracted a lot of scolding.

However, he didn’t care. He didn’t plan to always charge such a high price.

There was a limit to earning money. If one ate too unsightly, one would die from overeating sooner or later.

Zhang Shan planned to first snatch the farming spot, then see how things went.

If there were no other problems, he would adjust the teleportation fee back to the original price.

Of course, if someone was willing to spend 10000 gold coins to teleport here, they would be able to survive.

Of course, he also expressed his welcome.

He could earn 5000 gold coins with each visit. Even picking up money was not that fast.

Just as Zhang Shan was rushing towards the spot where the Guild members had discovered the monster farming spot.

At this moment, the black iron Guild of the state of Zhao was gathering their troops under the call of their guild leader, Black Gold.

When they discovered a new spawn point, and one that was very close to the city, they were naturally going all out in order to occupy it.

As for the fact that when their people found out that they were farming monsters, they casually killed a member of the wind and cloud Guild, Black Gold had no idea at all.

The people of the black iron Guild would not tell Black Gold this.

In the game, wasn't it normal to fight for monster spots and bosses?

Their people would kill the other players and then occupy the farming point first, waiting for Black Gold to bring people over to help.

It was a very simple matter, and no one would think too deeply about it.

As for the unlucky guy from the wind and cloud Guild who was killed by them ...

The members of the black iron Guild did not care at all. They only thought that they had just killed a passerby.

They had no idea that the wind and cloud Guild also had a share of the grinding spot that the black iron Guild wanted to take.

If he had known about the situation earlier, he would have handled the black gold carefully.

Right now, the wind cloud Guild's momentum was like the sun in the sky.

If it wasn't necessary, Black Gold was really not willing to provoke the wind and cloud Guild.

Just as Black Gold was waiting for his guild members to gather, a guild member suddenly called out to him.

boss, the cost of teleportation to the demon suppression city has increased. It's now 10000 gold coins per teleportation.

"It's okay, we just need to send fewer people. It's better if the teleportation fee is high. This way, no one will fight with us for the grinding spot."

Black Gold did not mind Zhang Shan raising the teleportation fees.

It was just 10000 gold coins. He didn't care about this amount of money, as long as he could get his hands on the farming spot.

besides, it was good that the teleportation skill was high. this way, others would not be teleported over.

As for whether Zhang Shan would fight with them?

Black Gold had never considered this problem. The world couldn't be that small, right?

if they went to occupy a farming spot, would it be a coincidence that they would have to fight with zhang shan and the others?

How could there be such a coincidence in this world?

as for the fee of 10000 gold coins per person for them to teleport over, black gold expressed that it was only a small amount and they didn't need to mind.

in the entire game, in terms of strength, the black iron guild was definitely not at the top.

However, in terms of money, there were not many forces in the game that dared to compete with them.

Traversing Four Seas was considered very rich, right? how could a merchant by the sea not have money?

The fleet made a round trip, and they earned real money.

However, compared to the black iron Guild, the Dragon King of the East Sea and the others were just a little less interesting.

One could tell just by looking at the name of Black Gold's character.

What was black Gold? That was a mine.

No matter how rich you are, can you compare to someone who has a mine at home?

The black iron Guild was a Guild formed by a group of players who had mines in their families.

They were a group of truly rich people, and they were super rich.

In the game, it was hard to make a name for yourself without money, but money alone was not enough.

He also had to know how to operate it. Otherwise, if a large amount of money was thrown in, it would only be a sound.

It was almost impossible to be the king of the game with money.

this was especially true for new worlds. Such a popular large-scale game would not work.

Therefore, although most of the members of the black iron Guild were super rich, they still kept a low profile in the game.

They didn't dare to stand out for fear of being targeted by the other guilds.

They just wanted to bury themselves in development and not be reckless.

However, if they wanted to develop, they would need good resources.

What were resources? a good farming spot was the most important resource in a game.

Therefore, he was determined to get his hands on this newly discovered monster-farming spot.

Even if Zhang Shan increased the teleportation fee to 10000 gold per teleportation, he would not mind.

Wasn't it just 10000 gold coins? it was a small amount of money, and black Gold didn't care about it at all.

This amount of money was not even enough for his meal.

Black Gold led nearly 10000 guild members to the demon-suppressing city through the teleportation formation.

In an instant, Zhang Shan had tens of millions of gold coins in income. The cost of opening the teleportation array had been recovered by half.

However, at this moment, Zhang Shan did not pay attention to these. He did not even look at the city's profits.

Right now, Zhang Shan was running quickly towards the place where the Guild members had fallen.

At the same time, the members of the wind and cloud Guild who had teleported over previously also numbered nearly a hundred.

Everyone ran towards the target area.

after running for about five to six minutes, zhang shan reached his destination. he saw that wind cloud blade and the others had already arrived before him.

Zhang Shan asked.

“What’s the situation now? Why didn’t you guys charge in?”

Zhang Shan found it very strange. Wind and cloud blade did not seem like such a wretched person.

It hadn’t been long since he had discovered this grinding spot. The black iron Guild shouldn’t have many players.

Why didn’t Windcloud blade rush in first? could it be that he had to wait for him to arrive before he dared to rush in?

This did not seem like the style of wind and cloud blade.

I can’t. I’ve just observed that the black iron Guild already has nearly a hundred people defending inside. The key is that they’re standing very scattered. Even if I use my big move, I can’t kill all of them.

Windcloud blade replied dejectedly.

He also wanted to be brave and rush in alone to snatch the farming spot.

However, although he liked to fight, it didn’t mean that he liked to die.

Knowing that he wouldn’t win even if he charged over, he naturally wouldn’t.

Besides, Zhang Shan would be here soon anyway. With Zhang Shan here, there was no need for him to risk his life.

at this moment, the black iron guild’s members had already found out about the passerby a that they had previously defeated.

In fact, it was the people from the wind and cloud Guild. Now, the people from the wind and cloud Guild had arrived outside the monster farming point.

They were very nervous, and they kept calling for help from Black Gold on the Guild channel.

boss, you guys run faster. There are hundreds of people from wind and cloud Guild outside.

“F * ck, the people from wind and cloud Guild also want to fight with us for the monster farming spot? Don’t they have a very good place to farm monsters?”

Black Gold was furious. The f * cking wind cloud Guild is too much. You all have beast King Valley, such a good place to farm monsters.

“You actually want to snatch it from us. Aren’t you eating from the bowl? you still want to take the pot. You’re too shameless.”

uh, boss, when we found the spawn point just now, we’ve already killed a member of the wind and cloud Guild.

Upon hearing this, Black Gold knew that this matter would not be resolved so easily.

Although he didn’t want to have a conflict with the wind and cloud Guild, he had no choice but to fight.

The problem was that Zhang Shan was now in control of demon suppression city. If they wanted to defeat the wind and cloud Guild here, it would be very difficult.

“They only have a hundred people?”

“I didn’t look carefully, probably less than a hundred people.”

“then there’s nothing else to say. i’ll be there soon.”

When he heard that the wind and cloud Guild only had less than 100 members, Black Gold was relieved.

Their black iron Guild was no match for the wind and cloud Guild, but he had brought close to 10000 players with him.

On the other hand, the wind and cloud Guild only had less than 100 players. They should take this opportunity to take down the monsters and occupy the respawning point.

As for how he would explain it to Feng Yun realm in the future, that would be a matter for the future.

Zhang Shan still did not know that Black Gold had already led close to ten thousand people and was rushing over.

Right now, he only wanted to rush in and clear out the black iron Guild’s members in the grinding spot.

After that, they would occupy the farming spot.

After occupying it, he looked at the color of this farming spot. If it was not bad ...

In that case, he would let the People of the Wind and cloud Guild come here to farm monsters in the future. After all, it was more convenient and safer here.

“I’ll go in and take a look.”

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he followed the narrow passage and ran towards the farming point.

After running for a while, he saw the system notification.

[system notification: you have entered the Gerri wilderness.]

The moment Zhang Shan stepped into the Gerri wilderness, he saw the members of the black iron Guild who were already prepared.

An overwhelming amount of damage was dealt to him.

f * ck, you want to rely on numbers to beat people up, right?

Zhang Shan was too lazy to think about it. He immediately activated his berserk and fanatic skills, as well as his battle intent and shadow clone skills.

in an instant, three zhang shan's appeared. countless bullets were fired at the black iron guild.

Zhang Shan controlled the two doppelgangers to follow him and attack as he moved forward. Very quickly, the black iron Guild's people were all cleared.

with his current damage, if he used all his skills, it would be like using a sledgehammer to crack a nut against a hundred players.

After learning the shadow clone skill, he directly rose it to level 10. After all, he didn't lack skill points.

The two doppelgangers had the same attributes as him. With three of Zhang Shan, how could the black iron Guild, which had more than a hundred people, withstand it?

Even if they had the advantage of terrain, it was of no use.

Zhang Shan completely withstood the damage from the other party and pushed forward.

with his 500000 hp, these people couldn't kill him.

After Zhang Shan had cleared out the black iron Guild members in the Gerri wilderness, the members of the wind and cloud Guild who were originally outside had also left.

He also followed them into the Gerri wilderness.

The Guild member who had found this place first was also revived by the support.

leave a few people to guard this place. The rest of you, go look around and see what this farming spot looks like.

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he rode on the red Hare and ran towards the Gerri wilderness.

As for how to defend the passageway? He didn't need to think about this problem.

He believed that blade of wind and cloud would handle it well.

Besides, what was there to guard here now? the demon-suppressing city had just been built not long ago.

There weren't many players here at the moment, and he had already received 10000 gold coins for the teleportation fee.

He believed that there wouldn't be many people who would be teleported here. He didn't need to worry at all that someone would snatch this farming spot.

As for Black Gold, who was leading close to 10000 people and running over, Zhang Shan did not know.

If he had known, he wouldn't have been so careless.

He would definitely stay near the passage and beat back the black gold first.

The problem was that he didn't know that there were people as generous as Black Gold in this world.

With a teleportation fee of 10000 gold coins, he could teleport close to 10000 people at a time.

It had to be said that poverty had limited Zhang Shan's imagination. He had never thought that there would be someone who did not treat money as money.

Zhang Shan did not ride far before he saw a group of strange-looking wild horses.

these wild horses looked very strange, with a single horn on their heads.

it was completely different from a player's mount.

However, it didn't matter how these wild horses looked. As long as they were wild monsters, they were easy to farm and gave a lot of experience.

Zhang Shan quickly got off his horse and raised his hand cannon to attack the wild horses.

With one shot, 12 wild horses fell to the ground.

With his current attack power, it was normal for him to kill the monsters with one shot.

Zhang Shan looked at his experience points. Each wild horse gave him 1250 experience points.

In the beginning, he didn't feel anything special.

However, he quickly reacted.

F * ck, a level 50 Tiger monster in beast King Valley gave 1050 experience.

Why did the wild horses here give 1250 experience points? could it be that these wild horses were above level 50?

damn it, he had attacked too quickly just now. he didn't even have time to check the monster's attributes.

He didn't know what level these wild horses were, but he could kill 12 of them with one shot.

They were all killed by him in an instant, so there was no way to check the monster's attributes.

According to the mechanism of new world, when the monster's level exceeded the player's, the player's level would be higher than the monster's.

Players couldn't directly check its attributes, so they had to fight it first.

however, zhang shan had killed wildhorse with one hit. how could a dead monster have its attributes checked?

F * ck, was he supposed to throw away his hand cannon and shoot wild horse empty-handed?

Otherwise, he wouldn't have been able to check the attributes of these wild horses.

Just as Zhang Shan was feeling conflicted, one of the Guild members displayed wild horse's attributes in the Guild channel and shouted.

hahaha, this is an excellent grinding spot. Level 55 monsters, 1250 exp, and they don't have the Holy demon's protection.

Holy F * ck, there's finally a monster that's above level 50? "

"Guard the spawn point first, I'll bring people over immediately."

After Feng Yun realm saw the message, he immediately decided to bring his men over.

Even though the beast King Valley could completely satisfy their farming needs now, they were still in a bad mood.

However, he had to look forward.

The majority of the players were slowly approaching level 40.

After a while, everyone might have reached level 50.

At that time, they couldn't possibly continue to farm monsters in the beast King Valley.

How long would that take? could it be that they were still farming beast King Valley when they were level 60?

Now that they had discovered a higher level grinding spot, they had to secure it first.

This was to prevent him from having to find another place to farm monsters in the future.

Moreover, most of the Guild members could still farm level 55 monsters.

Even though they were not like Zhang Shan and the rest, who had reached rank 40.

However, they were almost there. There were many level 37 and level 38 players in the Guild, so they had to kill level 55 monsters.

There was no pressure at all.

furthermore, a level 55 wild horse gave even more experience.

perhaps, grinding here would increase his leveling efficiency by a lot.

Zhang Shan did not have the chance to check the attributes of these wild horses. He could only click on the monster attributes displayed by others in the Guild channel.

[demonized wildebeest: level 55, attack 6000, HP 36000, skill: life concentration (passive)]

[focus on life (passive): as the son of the grassland, the wildebeest is favored by the goddess of life and understands a part of the Upanishad of life.]

When attacking, there is a certain chance to convert the damage into health points.

Zhang Shan was overjoyed to see the wildebeest's reaction.

The description of this life concentration skill had gone so far, but it was actually a passive lifesteal skill.

Back then, he had searched for a long time, but he had not found any monsters that could suck blood.

He did not expect to see a lifesteal skill on these wildebeest.

Chapter 403 Brother, can we discuss this?

After seeing the wildebeest's passive lifesteal, Zhang Shan was very happy.

He had been looking for this passive skill for a long time.

Even before the Heaven's Gate map had been opened, he had been looking everywhere for monsters that could suck blood.

However, when he was checking the monster information shared by others on the forum, he had gone through all the posts.

He had also never seen any monsters with lifesteal skills.

He didn't expect to see this group of wildebeest near the demon-suppressing city with the passive skill of lifesteal.

Zhang Shan made up his mind. He had to make sure that this health attribute was focused and passive, and farm it out.

Even though he had a 13% lifesteal effect on him, he was still a player.

However, this wasn't enough. The lifesteal effect could still be used in a fight.

However, when it came to fighting bosses, it was completely not enough.

Without a healer to heal him, he wouldn't even be able to defeat the red BOSS by himself.

This can't do.

With his high attack power and health, he couldn't even take on a red BOSS.

it really didn't make sense.

As long as Zhang Shan strengthened the lifesteal effect, he would definitely be able to solo a portion of the normal red bosses.

That was why he was so happy when he saw the horned horse's skill.

however, just as zhang shan was rolling up his sleeves and getting ready to go all out, he heard that wind and cloud blade was going all out in the guild channel.

“Don’t go and farm monsters. Quickly send reinforcements. There are a lot of black iron Guild members here.”

Hearing wind and cloud blade’s call, Zhang Shan could not help but be stunned.

How could that be? he had already received 10000 gold coins for each teleportation.

How was it possible for the black iron Guild to teleport here?

could it be that they had already come here before? In that case, there shouldn’t be many people, right?

however, no matter how many people from the black iron guild were there, he had to go and take a look.

Zhang Shan asked one blade of wind and cloud as he rode his horse towards the entrance of the passageway.

how many of them are there? I’ve already collected 10000 gold coins for the teleportation fee. There shouldn’t be too many people teleporting here, right? ”

f * ck, it’s a huge black patch. I’m afraid there are tens of thousands of people. Hurry up and come over to help. I’ve used all my big moves.

Upon hearing wind and cloud blade’s words, Zhang Shan was stunned.

From what wind cloud blade had said, it was clear that the situation was extremely urgent.

He had even used his destructive move, so the black iron Guild would most likely send a large number of players.

However, were all the members of the black iron Guild that rich? 10,000 gold coins per teleportation.

It could also be transported in large quantities? This was too heroic.

However, this was not the time to be conflicted about this.

Zhang Shan galloped towards the entrance of the tunnel. Fortunately, he had not run too far.

otherwise, they wouldn’t have been able to send reinforcements in time.

The other guild members in the Gerri wasteland also quickly ran towards the passage.

When Zhang Shan ran over, he saw wind cloud blade leading a small team of people.

A large group of black iron Guild members surrounded little fairy. At the same time, wind and cloud blade shouted at little fairy.

“Hurry up and use your ultimate, don’t save any skills.”

The little fairy had just arrived at the Gerri wilderness before the black gold arrived.

She had yet to have the time to farm monsters, so she was already near the entrance of the tunnel with Windcloud blade and the others.

He had started fighting with the black iron Guild.

After Windcloud blade finished speaking, little fairy shot an arrow into the sky, and a large number of meteors fell.

In the blink of an eye, a large group of black iron Guild members were wiped out.

However, there were too many members of the black iron Guild who had entered the Gerri wilderness.

Even though the little fairy's ultimate skill had cleared a large number of them, there were still thousands of people around.

There were also members of the black iron Guild outside the passage, who were rushing into the Gerri wilderness.

Zhang Shan rode his horse and charged forward.

He was still wondering why the black iron Guild had sent so many people.

Did he make a fortune?

There was no way that so many black iron Guild members had appeared out of thin air. They could only have teleported here through demon suppression city's teleportation array.

10,000 gold coins per person. If there were close to 10000 people, wouldn't the teleportation fee be over 100 million?

Even if the system took half of the teleportation fee, he would still get the other half.

That's almost 50 million gold coins.

this was way too easy to earn money. even zhang shan felt that it was a little unreal.

However, he didn't have time to think about this.

Zhang Shan rode his horse to the entrance of the passage and directly crashed into the crowd of the black iron Guild.

When he reached the crowd, he activated shadow clone and [battle intent].

Three Zhang Shan's that looked exactly the same, each holding a handcannon, kept firing, and the bullets swept towards the members of the black iron Guild.

The cooldown time of the shadow clone skill was three minutes, and it had just finished.

however, the berserk and fanatic skills had yet to come off cooldown. the cooldown time of those two skills was five minutes.

It would still take a while for it to cool down.

Zhang Shan kept on firing while observing the situation.

a large group of black iron guild members surrounded windcloud blade and little fairy.

He wanted to rush over to save her, but he couldn't.

After Zhang Shan took a look, he knew that the two of them could not be saved. They would be finished sooner or later.

What Zhang Shan had to consider now was not how to drive the people of the black iron Guild out of Gerri wilderness.

It was impossible. There were at least a few thousand members of the black iron Guild who had rushed into the Gerri wilderness.

No matter how ferocious Zhang Shan was, it was impossible to clear all of these people.

Although the wind and cloud Guild originally had close to a hundred players in the Gerri wilderness map, it was still too weak.

However, these people had been scattered from the start and were ambushed by the black iron Guild.

There was probably not much left now.

Windcloud blade and little fairy fell to the ground one after another, and boss Wu followed in their footsteps.

However, his heart moved with him, so he didn't die yet.

He had run a little far just now and had just run back, but he didn't dare to go forward.

He was a melee class. If he didn't have a healer behind him to support him, he would be sending himself to death if he rushed into the crowd.

there was no need for that.

As for his invincible slash, there was no point in using it now.

He couldn't reverse the situation.

After Zhang Shan saw the situation clearly, he immediately changed his strategy.

He couldn't fight them head-on now. If he accidentally flipped over, it would be nonsense.

As he attacked, he slowly retreated.

Zhang Shan had thought it through. It was impossible to clear the black iron Guild's people out of the wilderness with the remaining people.

After all, not every member of the wind and cloud Guild was like him, able to kill his way in and out.

If the others dared to rush over, they would be killed immediately without any chance of survival.

The black iron Guild wasn't like those small guilds. Its strength wasn't the slightest bit inferior to the 10 great guilds.

The key was that there was a large group of super-rich big shots in the black iron Guild.

His equipment and skills were even better than the big shots in wind and cloud Guild.

After Zhang Shan had retreated to follow your heart's side, he said loudly to the others.

"Let's retreat first. We'll wait for boss to bring his men over."

Zhang Shan saw that the situation was not right and immediately chose to retreat.

There were more than 10000 people from the black iron Guild who entered the Gerri wilderness.

Although wind and cloud blade and little fairy had both used their ultimate skills, they weren't in a good position.

They did not manage to defeat too many black iron Guild members.

Up until now, there were at least six to seven thousand black iron Guild members still alive.

in the gerri wilderness map, there were only a few wind cloud guild members left.

other than zhang shan and heart with me, there were only four or five wind cloud guild members who had arrived later.

The others had long since died along with wind and cloud blade.

Although Zhang Shan was powerful, he could not stop the black iron Guild with these few people.

If he continued to drag this out, he might even die.

After much consideration, Zhang Shan chose to retreat first and wait for Feng Yun realm to bring his men over before attacking from both the inside and outside.

There was no need to fight to the death now.

Under Zhang Shan's lead, the remaining members of wind and cloud Guild quickly ran away from the entrance of the passage.

The black iron Guild's members didn't dare to give chase.

Zhang Shan's strength had been fully displayed just now.

The people from the black iron Guild also saw it. If they dared to give chase, they would probably be slowly killed by Zhang Shan.

Therefore, after occupying the area near the entrance of the passage, Black Gold immediately ordered not to pursue, and to occupy the passage first.

where are you guys? we're all dead. The entrance to the grinding spot has been taken by the black iron Guild.

After falling to the ground, Windcloud blade gloomily spoke in the Guild channel.

“What’s the situation? All of you are dead? Is the black iron Guild that fierce?”

Everyone was in disbelief. From the start of the game until now, they had always been fighting with ease. They had never experienced what it was like to be beaten down by someone.

not all of them are dead. Big Boss six-pipe and heart following are still alive. There are a few others who aren’t dead.

you scared me. I knew it. How could a person like six-barreled boss, who could solo a real-name BOSS, die? ”

“Is the black iron Guild that fierce? Nearly a hundred of you didn’t manage to guard the passage?”

Although Zhang Shan did not fall to the ground, everyone was still in disbelief. Why were wind and cloud blade and the others unable to guard the map entrance?

Based on past experience, a farming spot like this should be easily defended by just a few dozen players.

Why couldn’t wind cloud blade defend? it didn’t feel real.

could it be that the black iron guild was that powerful?

“The black iron Guild is quite fierce. However, we were careless and got ambushed by them. Everyone just went to farm monsters, and only I and a few people were defending. Then there was no then.”

Windcloud blade was very depressed. He had no idea that the black iron Guild would be so unyielding. They had sent nearly 10000 players all of a sudden.

Otherwise, no one would have gone to farm monsters just now.

If wind and cloud’s 100-Plus members guarded the tunnel’s entrance, the black iron Guild definitely wouldn’t be able to charge in.

However, even though they were in the game world, there was no medicine for regret here.

“F * ck, how can you guys be so careless? what should we do now? The black iron Guild will definitely guard the entrance to the respawn point tightly.”

it’s fine. After you guys come over, let me know first. We’ll attack from both the inside and the outside. It’ll be very easy to break through the black iron Guild’s defense.

Seeing that everyone seemed to be a little worried, Zhang Shan encouraged everyone in the Guild channel.

There was no need to worry at all. After everyone had arrived, wouldn’t it be a simple matter to drive the black iron Guild away?

At that time, Zhang Shan and heart follows me would rush over. Heart follows me would use a big move to mess up the opponent’s defense.

Then, Feng Yun realm would lead his men and charge into the Geri wastelands.

Zhang Shan had already considered the entire script for them. It was very simple, and they did not need to worry at all.

Besides, it didn't matter even if he couldn't make it in time.

they could charge repeatedly since their guild had more people.

On the other hand, the black iron Guild only had around 10000 members. They had even defeated thousands of them previously.

right now, there were still one to two thousand people lying on the ground, and they had not been revived yet.

Feng Yun realm had brought over 50000 to 60000 players. They had far more players than the black iron Guild.

Furthermore, Zhang Shan had already set the fee for the teleportation array at ten thousand gold coins per use.

He did not believe that the black iron Guild's people would dare to teleport here continuously.

Even if they had a lot of money to burn, this was not the way to burn it.

Not long after Feng Yun realm teleported to demon suppression city, he was discovered by the black iron Guild.

Before Black Gold entered the Gerri wilderness, he had placed a few Scouts along the road.

Hence, before the people from the wind and cloud Guild arrived at the gregley wastelands, Black Gold had already received the news.

However, even though he knew, he couldn't win.

currently, the black iron guild was still a level 3 guild with only 50000 members.

On the other hand, the wind and cloud Guild was a level 4 Guild. Currently, it had 100000 guild members, which was double the number of players they had.

The most important thing was that the demon-suppressing city was Zhang Shan's territory.

If they were to fight the wind and cloud Guild here, they would not have a good ending.

just the teleportation fee alone was a huge loss for them.

Although he didn't lack money in Black Gold, this wasn't how he should play it.

If they spent all their money on teleportation fees, wouldn't it still be Zhang Shan who would benefit?

When Black Gold received the news, he was in a dilemma.

No, we can't continue fighting. It's best to find Feng Yun realm and negotiate. If we can negotiate, wouldn't that be better?

At the thought of this, Black Gold immediately called Feng Yun realm.

“Brother under the heavens, I wonder if we can discuss this and let us have this place to farm monsters. I’ll give you a taste of it.”

When Feng Yun realm was riding away, he saw black Gold’s call and was stunned.

What did this Black Gold mean?

They’ve already pulled out their knives, and you’re telling them to stop now? Isn’t it too late?

Besides, who wanted their compensation? were they people who lacked money?

Who was he looking down on?

what’s there to discuss? we’ve already set our eyes on this spot. It belongs to whoever wins. Isn’t that the normal rule of the game? ”

Feng Yun realm did not want to play Tai Chi with Black Gold and directly refused to negotiate. If he could solve the problem with his hands, why would he need to use his mouth? it was too much effort.

doesn’t the wind and cloud Guild have a farming spot? there’s no need to occupy two spots. Why don’t you give us beast King Valley and I’ll pay for it.

Black Gold still did not give up. He really did not want to fight.

Because he really couldn’t win. In Zhang Shan’s territory, he wouldn’t fight to the death with the wind cloud Guild. Even if his brain was fried, he wouldn’t do that.

It was better to think of a way to discuss it. If they really couldn’t occupy the Gerri wilderness, it didn’t matter.

can you ask feng yun realm to hand over beast king valley? He spent money to buy it.

There was no need for the wind and cloud Guild to occupy the two monster farming points.

This wasn’t just a matter of waste, it was that they simply couldn’t take care of it.

If the entire Guild could gather in one place to farm monsters, why did they have to split up and farm in two different places?

There was no need for that.

Chapter 404 the son of the beast god, magnus

It had to be said that Black Gold’s idea was pretty good. This time, Feng Yun realm was completely dumbfounded.

He had the idea of giving away the monster-farming spot in beast King Valley.

However, he had to see the beauty of the Gerri wilderness before he could make a decision.

However, Feng Yun realm did not expect that before he could even look for the seller, a buyer would come knocking on his door.

However, the buyer was a little embarrassed.

just as they were about to draw their knives and attack, the other party said, " brother, let's not fight anymore. let's do business? "

This was such a big turn that Feng Yun realm could not come to his senses for a long time.

"I will only decide whether to sell the beast King Valley after I have explored the Gerri wilderness."

Feng Yun realm gave his answer after half a day of consideration.

It was not impossible to sell the beast King Valley to Black Gold as long as they paid for it.

Moreover, wasn't it great to be able to negotiate with the black iron Guild to solve the problem? it would also save him the trouble of fighting.

Although Feng Yun realm was confident that they could win, wouldn't it be better if they could settle the matter without fighting?

It was simply an Army that could subdue the enemy without fighting.

that's fine too. If you don't want Gerri wilderness, then give us this place or give us beast King Valley. Either way, you can just give up one of the farming spots and I'll pay for it.

"How much do you plan to pay for a grinding spot?"

As Feng Yun realm led the large group on their way, he continued to discuss business with Black Gold.

Yup, they were here to discuss business. They were not here to fight.

He was only here to talk business.

"Brother Tianxia, name your price. We'll do as you say."

When it came to money, Black Gold was full of confidence. His tone was full of "I don't lack money, you can name your price.

This put Feng Yun realm in a difficult position. He did not know how much gold was suitable for a farming spot.

It was reasonable to say that the best grinding spots were the most important resources in the game.

Even if it was sold for a billion gold coins, it would not be strange.

however, there was a condition. you had to have a buyer.

In fact, even though top-tier grinding spots were hard to come by, they were not easy to sell.

After all, a grinding spot would only last for a few months at most before it would be of no use.

No one would farm monsters in the same spot all the way to the maximum level, right?

This was simply impossible when the player's level exceeded the monster's level by too much.

There would be an experience penalty, and killing monsters above level 20 would give almost no experience.

A level 50 grinding spot like beast King's Valley could only allow players to grind up to level 50 at most.

When the players reached level 60, they would not be able to farm there as there would be no experience points.

Besides, there were probably only a handful of people in the game who would be willing to pay for a grinding spot.

Although Feng Yun realm was allowed to name any price he wanted for the black gold, he did not intend to bid all over the place.

That would make him look like he had never seen money before.

After all, Feng Yun realm was not someone who lacked money.

he could not pocket the money he earned from selling the farming spots.

Of course, they would have to share it with their guild members.

He had to estimate a reasonable price, but what was the appropriate price?

Feng Yun realm said after hesitating for a long time.

"100 million gold coins it is. if you agree, then it's a deal."

okay, deal. I'll send you the gold coins right away.

Black Gold agreed very quickly. In the mouth of these two elders, a deal of 100 million gold coins was as simple as buying a herbal tea egg for breakfast.

Before Feng Yun realm even reached the Geri wastelands, he had already received the gold coins from the black gold.

Feng Yun realm checked the mail and made the gold coins into normal red packets. On average, each person received 1000 gold coins and sent it to the Guild channel.

Everyone in the Guild had a share. 1000 gold coins per person was exactly 100 million. It was very fair.

At the same time, Feng Yun realm said.

"We don't have to fight with the black iron Guild anymore. They'll pay for the grinding spot. 100 million gold coins. Either Gerri wilderness or beast King Valley. After we've chosen, they'll buy the other spot."

"F * ck, I've already pulled out my saber, and you're telling me to stop?"

"That being said, it's still good to have gold coins in my account, hehe."

" how can the black iron guild be so cowardly? they're not even going to give it a try? " try my ass. You know you can't beat him, so why do you still want to try? "

" that's true. not everyone is as stubborn as the domineering king. "

"what do we do now? Just which farming spot are we going to occupy?"

"Let's explore the Gerri wasteland first before making a decision."

After receiving the red packet of one thousand gold coins, Zhang Shan was speechless. He had originally planned to cooperate with Feng Yun realm.

They had attacked from both the inside and outside and destroyed the black iron Guild, but who knew that the other party would run away?

If they didn't want to fight with you and wanted to trade with you using money, who could stop them?

Even if he wasn't short of money, he wouldn't reject it, right?

After all, it was hard to find such a good thing where one could make money without fighting.

it seemed that black gold was not a simple character. he was a capable person who could spend money to solve problems.

This was great. Both sides stopped and made peace. Everyone was happy.

the wind and cloud guild had made a small profit, but the black iron guild did not suffer any losses either. at least, at the farming spot they wanted.

He had finally gotten one. Whether it was the beast King Valley or the Gery wastelands, any one would do.

Although they had spent money, that little bit of money was nothing.

They had spent 100 million gold coins to teleport here, not to mention buying a grinding spot.

Black Gold also didn't feel like it was a loss, and even made a small profit.

since they had already come to an agreement, there was no need for zhang shan to continue loitering around this passageway.

He said to heart moves with me beside him.

"I'm going to take a look around and see how big this map is."

After he finished speaking, Zhang Shan rode his horse forward.

After Feng Yun realm led his troops into the Gerri wilderness, the people from the black iron Guild did not stop them.

the two sides even had friendly exchanges.

It was mainly because the black iron Guild still had some fallen members who had yet to be revived.

their support's resurrection skills had not yet cooled down, so they asked the support of wind and cloud guild to help them resurrect the people on the ground.

Feng Yun realm waved his hand and ordered the Guild's support to resurrect everyone on the ground. he didn't charge a single cent. it was just a small matter of resurrecting a person.

Black Gold ran to Feng Yun realm and said.

brother under the heavens, we'll wait in the demon-suppressing city for now. Let me know when you're done with your confirmation, and we'll hand over the grinding spot.

"That's easy, we'll be able to confirm it soon."

After Feng Yun realm finished speaking, a large number of guild members entered the Gerri wilderness and spread out to check.

They already knew the information of the monster in the Gerri wasteland. It was a 55-year-old demon wildebeest.

Their attack power and health points were much higher than the Tiger monsters in beast King Valley. However, the experience points that these wildebeest gave were also much higher than the Tiger monsters.

All in all, these demonized wildebeest were easy to farm.

However, he was not sure how big the map was and how fast the monsters respawned.

They needed to confirm these two questions now.

The black iron Guild's players left the map, and the tens of thousands of players in the wind and cloud Guild dispersed in all directions.

Zhang Shan rode his horse and galloped quickly across the map. He realized that the map was really quite big.

It was slightly bigger than beast King Valley, but why didn't he see the BOSS after walking around for so long?

In such a big new map, why didn't the BOSS show its face?

However, this was considered normal.

When they were in the beast King Valley, they had searched for a long time but could not find the BOSS.

It was only after a few days of killing monsters that the son of the beast God, nakaris, sneaked out from somewhere.

new maps usually had bosses, but that wasn't absolute. it was normal that he didn't find one.

Not long after, Feng Yun realm confirmed again and again that he still felt that the Geri wastelands was far more valuable than the beast King Valley.

First of all, the monsters here were of a higher level, which allowed them to farm for a longer time.

Secondly, this place was very close to the demon-suppressing city. It would only take about five or six minutes to run from the demon-suppressing city.

In terms of safety, it was several streets ahead of the beast King Valley.

although the beast king valley was not bad, it was too far from heaven's gate. it would take more than half an hour to get there.

Near Heaven's Gate, there were often people intercepting and killing people. If one was not careful, one could fall on the road.

On the other hand, the Gerri wilderness was much safer and the time to run was shorter.

The key was that there were very few players in the vicinity, and basically no one would block the road and Rob here.

and the most important point was that the demon suppressing city was under zhang shan's control. what if there was a chaotic battle?

Zhang Shan had raised the teleportation fees. Who could still be here and beat them?

Therefore, after confirming that the map of the Gerri wasteland was large enough and the respawning speed of the monsters was fast enough ...

Feng Yun realm decided that he would be farming monsters here from now on.

at the same time, he also ordered the guild members who were originally farming monsters in beast king valley to move out.

He was prepared to come here to grind monsters after handing over the Guild's position to the black iron Guild.

After receiving Feng Yun realm's confirmation, Black Gold led the black iron Guild members back to the city.

This time, they didn't dare to teleport back. Although they didn't lack money, they couldn't keep being cheated by others.

He had already been scammed by Zhang Shan for 10000 gold in teleportation fees, and he would not let Zhang Shan scammer him a second time.

Before the battle even started, the black gold's gold ingot attack had caused it to disappear.

Black Gold brought his men to the beast King Valley to hand it over, and this matter was considered to have been resolved peacefully.

Zhang Shan used the positioning Pearl and returned to the stone tablet of the demon-suppressing city Lord's residence.

He had to pay back the teleportation fee. If he kept charging 10000 gold coins, no one would be able to teleport here in the future.

After all, not all players were as generous as Black Gold.

Zhang Shan adjusted the teleportation fee to 200 gold coins per teleportation. At the same time, he also checked the city's income for the day.

The tax was still zero. So far, no player had ever spent money on the blacksmiths and pharmacists in demon-suppressing city.

He did not receive a single cent of tax.

After all, the demon-suppressing city had just been built, about half an hour ago.

There was still a period of time in between, and he had raised the teleportation fee, driving away the pitifully small population of people in the city.

However, it didn't matter anymore. The teleportation fee was the main reason for this. He would only be able to gain from the taxes when there were more people in the future.

Zhang Shan took a look. Today's teleportation fees had earned him more than 50 million gold.

Basically, they were contributed by the members of the black iron Guild after he raised the cost.

The other players also contributed a little.

There was no need to say anything else. He would first withdraw this portion of the profits.

zhang shan felt that only the gold coins in his bag would make him feel real.

The gains found at the stone tablet did not seem real.

The demon-suppressing city had only been built for half an hour, and he had earned more than 50 million gold coins. It felt too unreal.

It was as if he was picking up money, the kind that was picked up in a sack.

Once everything was settled, Zhang Shan teleported to the city gate and ran quickly towards the Gerri wilderness.

Even though he had earned more than 50 million gold coins in just half an hour, he was still very confident in himself.

However, they still had to kill monsters. Killing monsters was the main theme of the game.

After Zhang Shan had adjusted the teleportation fee back to 200 gold coins, some players quickly noticed this change.

after all, there were many players in the new world. any slight movement would be discovered very quickly.

The world Channel:

the teleportation fee to the demon-suppressing city has returned to 200 gold coins. They are playing with the snake.

no way. Brother, be careful. Don't fall into the trap.

my ass. My entire body is not even worth ten thousand gold coins. Why would I be afraid of being scammed? "

"I'll go take a look."

"Damn, it's really 200 gold coins. What's the six-barreled Bodhisattva doing? I'm just playing around."

could it be that he made a mistake just now and only realized it now, so he changed it back? " what mistake? six-barreled Bodhisattva must have done it on purpose. I wonder if anyone fell for it just now.

"How could anyone fall for it? can't you tell 10000 gold coins from 200 gold coins? Unless you're blind."

I'm just afraid that there are big shots who don't lack money. They'll directly teleport over, hehe.

outsiders did not know about the battle between the wind and cloud guild and the black iron guild.

If the two parties involved did not say it themselves, the other players would never be able to guess the reason for Zhang Shan raising the teleportation fee.

After all, there were still very few players in demon suppression city.

Only a few people saw it.

Hence, they could not guess why Zhang Shan would suddenly increase the fees for the teleportation array.

However, to the players, it was fine as long as the teleportation fee returned to normal. It didn't matter whether it was a mistake or some other reason that caused the teleportation fee to be capped.

Zhang Shan ran all the way to the Gerri wilderness. Before he reached the Gerri wilderness.

Then, he heard someone shout in the Guild channel.

"Damn, what a big horse."

what's going on? did they find a BOSS? "

"Is it the boss? Hurry up and reply, don't cause any trouble."

it's definitely a boss. It's a super big wildebeest.

hahaha, there's indeed a boss to fight in the new map. Hurry up and post the boss.

"What level is the boss? Does it have a name?"

wait, the boss is too big. I don't even dare to get close to it.

"The son of the beast God, Magnus."

f * ck, this is a real-name boss? "

"Kid, don't joke around. Otherwise, I'll chop you to death."

"Who's joking? The BOSS's name is really the son of the beast God, Magnus. How could I not recognize such a big word?"

this doesn't make sense. We fought a son of the beast King in the beast King Valley before. Wasn't he called nakaris? why is there another Magnus here? "

" who knows? maybe the children of the beast deity are too worthless. "

"I just want to know how many sons the beast deity has."

haha, perhaps even the beast God Himself doesn't know the answer to this question.

this is so strange. Why are nakaris and Magnus both the sons of the beast God? one is a Tiger monster, and the other is a wildebeest. Can they be brothers? "

"why can't we be brothers? Brothers from different races, couldn't they? Hehe."

"How dare you tease the beast deity like this? Be careful, it'll rush over to cut you guys down."

what's there to be afraid of? the beast God is nothing. At most, it's just a slightly stronger BOSS. It's only a matter of time before it's destroyed.

that's right, that's right. He's just a small beast God. Don't take it to heart.

brothers, you guys are so arrogant. You don't even care about a divine BOSS? "

"Why don't you find an opportunity to test the strength of the demon God?"

"Try my ass. Even if you want to die, this is not the way to die."

When Zhang Shan heard that the BOSS had been discovered, he quickly ran towards the target location.

The other guild members in the entire Gerri wilderness also swarmed over.

As for how strong the newly appeared beast God's Son, Magnus, was, he still didn't know.

no one had tested the BOSS's attributes and skills yet.

They didn't know how they were going to fight it, or how many people they needed to defeat this BOSS.

However, it didn't matter. To normal guild members, it didn't matter whether they fought the BOSS or not.

He could go over and watch the show.

The main force to fight the BOSS was, after all, Zhang Shan and the other guild leaders.

The other guild members would at most be cannon fodder, or simply be spectators.

Chapter 405 Magnus is invincible

After hearing the news of a real-name BOSS appearing in Gerri wilderness, the people of wind and cloud Guild began to rush towards the target area.

It was not just the group of people Feng Yun realm brought over, even the Guild members who were originally farming monsters in beast King Valley.

He also quickly returned to the city, teleported to the demon suppression city, and then ran quickly to the Gerri wilderness.

If it was not for Feng Yun realm's special arrangement, the people in beast King Valley would have all left.

they had yet to complete the exchange with the black gold.

at this time, black gold was running from heaven's gate to beast king valley. it would take another half an hour to reach beast king valley.

If all the players from the wind cloud Guild had run away from beast King Valley ...

If the beast King's Valley was taken over by others before the black gold belt and its people arrived, wouldn't that be ridiculous?

He had paid for the black gold, so he couldn't let him return empty-handed.

Feng Yun realm arranged for dozens of people to guard the beast King Valley while the rest of the Guild members quickly ran towards the Geri wilderness.

Zhang Shan rode his horse forward quickly, and soon arrived at Magnus 'position.

A huge white wildebeest appeared in his sight.

the nearby area was filled with a dense crowd of guild members.

A large group of people gathered to watch, but the battle had yet to begin.

A real-name BOSS was not that easy to deal with. He had to wait until everyone was here and test the BOSS's attributes.

He had to plan properly how he could possibly defeat the BOSS.

The real name bosses they had fought before were all level 50.

And Magnus, who had appeared in the Gerri wilderness, was clearly not only level 50.

The monsters here were all level 55, and they were the ultimate bosses of the map.

Magnus was at least level 55, and could even reach level 60.

in the game, the boss's strength would be greatly enhanced with every increase in level.

Not to mention, a real name boss like Magnus would definitely be much stronger.

Without even trying, everyone knew that this Magnus was definitely much stronger than all the other real name bosses they had fought before.

Therefore, no one dared to act rashly. It was better to be more cautious.

Zhang Shan ran in front of wind and cloud blade and asked.

"Have you arranged for someone to test the boss's attributes?"

Not long after, Feng Yun realm also brought his men over.

Looking at the huge Magnus, everyone started to discuss.

“This Magnus is too big.”

it’s okay. The nakaris we fought before was also very big.

“Can nakaris be compared to Magnus? magnus is much bigger.”

there’s no difference. They’re all super big monsters anyway. If we stand in front of the BOSS and compare, it’s like comparing an ant to an elephant.

“It’s good that the BOSS is big. This way, we have more room to attack and more people will be able to hit the BOSS.”

that’s right. It’s not like some bosses that are so small that a few people can fill up the positions and there aren’t many damage positions.

“That’s right. As long as someone can take this Magnus, they’ll be able to have thousands of people attack him at the same time.”

“With the six-barreled boss, what BOSS can’t we handle?”

you’re right. With six-barreled boss ‘500000 HP, any BOSS is nothing in front of him.

“I wonder how strong this BOSS will be.”

the bosses we encountered were all useless. None of them will survive, hehe.

haha, you’re right. Let’s hurry up.

after feng yun realm rushed over, he observed magnus.

However, the boss was just standing there.

No matter how much he observed, he couldn’t see anything.

feng yun realm said.

“Everyone, back off a little. Someone, go and test out Magnus” attributes and skills.”

“I’ll do it.”

An Archer stood out.

If he wanted to check the BOSS’s attributes and skills, the Archer class was the most convenient.

This was because the Archer’s Meteor arrow skill could be shot very far away. They could attack when they were outside of the BOSS ‘aggro range.

He was not afraid that he would be killed by the BOSS before he could even get close.

Furthermore, Magnus was so big that there was no need to worry about missing.

After everyone had retreated far away, the Archer stepped forward and fired a meteor arrow at Magnus.

The meteor arrow hit the boss as expected, but a huge miss appeared on Magnus 'head.

although the meteor arrow had already hit magnus, the skill had been dodged by the boss, so there was nothing that could be done.

The more powerful the boss, the higher the stun resistance and the higher the Dodge rate.

The meteor arrow shot by the Archer did not stun Magnus, so it did not cause him any damage.

as such, this attempt failed, and he did not manage to read out magnus "stats and skills.

Although Magnus didn't receive any damage from the harassment, he was still aggroed.

Before anyone could react, Magnus took a step forward.

In the blink of an eye, it had already arrived in front of the Archer, and a huge hoof stomped down.

The Archer was trampled to death.

as for the others, they were fine. they had already retreated quite a distance, and no matter how wide magnus "aggro range was, they were still safe.

It was impossible for the attack to reach them.

"Holy sh * t, how can this be missed?"

"This guy's really unlucky."

"Did you guys notice that Magnus actually uses his hooves to attack people? with such a huge hoof, how are we supposed to Dodge it? if it stomps down, I'm afraid thousands of people will fall, right?"

"you're thinking too much. unless magnus has a group attack skill, no matter how big his hoof is, it will only hit one target."

"is this the case?"

definitely. Otherwise, who would dare to fight those big bosses? "

"The BOSS's strength is determined by its attributes and skills. Its size is not important."

" yes, some bosses have super big weapons, but when they slash down, they can only hit one person, right? "

"That's more like it. Otherwise, it would be a bit scary if Magnus came down with his hoof."

why are you so worried? just be a salted fish. It's not like you're the one fighting the BOSS, hehe.

"f * ck, who is he looking down on?"

After the first Archer had failed, a second Archer immediately stepped forward.

This time, his luck was still normal. The Archer's Meteor arrow hit Magnus.

Ma Ge NA's stun resistance was frighteningly high.

Originally, meteor arrow could stun him for five seconds, but after it hit Magnus, he might not even be stunned for 0.1 seconds.

In an instant, Magnus broke free.

However, it didn't matter. As long as the meteor arrow hit its target, he would be able to read the BOSS's attributes and skills.

The Archer displayed the boss's attributes and skills in the Guild channel.

Of course, this cannon fodder Archer also died quickly.

Everyone, check out Magnus "stats and skills in the Guild channel.

It had to be said that Magnus was really strong, and even Zhang Shan was a little suspicious.

Could they really beat them?

Demonized beast deity's son Magnus (red): Level 60, attack 90000, HP 1 billion.

Skill 1, chain kick, skill 2, divine power (passive), skill 3, beast God will, skill 4, polar reversal.

[chain kick: when Magnus attacks a target, he usually uses his two front legs to chain his left and right, dealing two consecutive hits of damage.]

[divine power (passive): a power bestowed by the beast god. increases all attributes.]

[beast God's will: when in danger, Magnus will summon the beast God's will to assist him in battle.]

After freezing all the targets in the area, stomp down with both feet and deal five times the damage.

After looking at Magnus "skills and attributes, everyone was shocked.

Was a level 60 real-name boss that scary?

90,000 attack power and 1 billion HP. This was too f * cking strong.

Of course, not all level 60 real name bosses had such high stats.

the reason why magnus had such high attack and hp was probably due to his divine passive.

Nakaris, whom they had fought in the beast King Valley, also had this passive skill.

This divine passive directly doubled the boss's attack power and health points.

Back then, Zhang Shan had obtained this passive skill from nakaris.

It had to be said that this was a very powerful passive skill, even after Zhang Shan had obtained it through his talent.

Even if it only increased all his attributes by 10%, it was already very powerful.

And this divine power passive skill, when used on the boss, would probably increase all attributes by 100%.

He was simply too strong.

Just this passive skill alone had raised Magnus "strength to a whole new level.

As for the other three skills of Magnus ...

The minor skills were still normal, but the chain kick only dealt double damage to a real name boss.

This was just an ordinary skill that couldn't be more ordinary.

it was the same for the beast god's will. this skill was also very common, as long as there was enough support.

This skill was very easy to deal with.

The key was Magnus "big move.

What was the description of the polar reversal skill?

Zhang Shan could not understand.

the damage value was easy to calculate, which was five times the damage.

With Magnus "base attack power of 90000, his ultimate skill's theoretical damage should be 450000.

although this damage value was exaggerated, it was not difficult to understand.

After all, Magnus was a level 60 BOSS with a real name.

it was normal for him to reach such a high level.

However, how large was the damage range of polar reversal?

Zhang Shan expressed that he did not understand the skill's description.

What did it mean to form an absolute domain between two feet?

Damn it, do you know how big Magnus "legs are?

It was like a huge mountain.

If the control and damage range of polar reversal was calculated by Magnus "two front legs ...

That range was a little terrifying.

This wasn't a matter of 50 or 100 yards.

Magnus “two front legs should take up at least a few hundred yards of space, right?

Could it be that the damage and control range of the polar reversal were so large?

Isn't that too much of an exaggeration?

Who could withstand this? how could they fight?

No matter how many people there were, they wouldn't be able to withstand a single stomp from Magnus.

Magnus “polar reversal skill not only dealt high damage, but it also had a large area of effect.

Forming an absolute domain, wasn't that a control skill?

It could be said that Magnus “big move was almost invincible.

This was because in the game, whether it was a player or a boss's crowd control skills, they did not have a casting time.

As long as it was a control skill, it would be instant.

it was normal if he thought about it. if all control skills needed a channeling bar ...

By the time other people saw your channeling bar, they would have already run far away, so what's the point of controlling it?

In other words, Magnus “ultimate skill was not only powerful, but it could also be an instant skill that did not require a channeling bar.

It was terrifying just thinking about it. He was simply invincible.

Was this the strength of a level 60 real name boss?

After looking at Magnus “attributes and skills, everyone's enthusiasm was immediately extinguished.

It was just that Magnus was too strong, and no one had the confidence to defeat him.

Even if their entire Guild had 100000 players, it wouldn't be enough.

if they didn't stand in a good position, even 100000 people wouldn't be enough to withstand a few of magnus “reverse poles stomp.

“What do we do? Do you still want to fight?”

After looking at Magnus “attributes and skills, some of the Guild members had already decided to retreat.

Because they couldn't see any hope of winning, if they fought forcefully, it was likely that they would be wiped out.

if they were wiped, the entire guild would lose a level.

this loss was a little too great to bear.

the problem now is, is Magnus 'ultimate skill as the skill description says? does it have a large area of damage? "

"I guess so. How can the skill description be fake?"

it might not be fake. I'm just afraid that we misunderstood.

"How could I have misunderstood? No matter how you look at it, the area between Magnus "two front legs is an extremely large area."

"can we use a stun skill to keep magnus in a stunned state?"

"I'm afraid you're thinking too much. Meteor Arrow's five-second stun didn't even affect Magnus, let alone the other stun skills."

"yeah, it's definitely not possible to rely on the stun skill. magnus" ultimate skill probably doesn't have a channeling bar, so the stun skill won't be of much use."

"Then what should we do? are we really not going to fight anymore?"

"What did six-man Butler say?"

Feng Yun realm could not make up his mind. He asked Zhang Shan.

everyone's eyes were on zhang shan. without a doubt, zhang shan would be the one carrying the monster.

The other Guardian classes in the Guild, even Secretary Feng Yun who had obtained a God-tier shield, were all killed.

in front of magnus, he couldn't even take two hits. only zhang shan could take the BOSS.

the problem now was that tanking monsters was not a problem.

however, what could he do against magnus "ultimate?

He had to think of a solution. Otherwise, he could totally give up.

there was no need to fight a BOSS battle that was destined to lead to a team wipe.

Chapter 406 Players who don't want to fight the demon God are not players

Looking at everyone's expectant eyes, Zhang Shan thought for a long time. He did not dare to make a decision easily.

If they didn't do it right and dragged the entire Guild into the ditch, they would be in big trouble.

he had to think carefully and come up with a good way to deal with magnus 'big move.

Perhaps it could be said that they had indeed made a mistake. Perhaps Magnus "ultimate move wasn't as terrifying as everyone had imagined.

But where was this misunderstanding? If he didn't want to understand, he wouldn't dare to start a fight.

Zhang Shan carefully recalled all the bosses they had fought before. What were the big moves of those bosses like?

How did they crack it before?

After thinking for a while, Zhang Shan suddenly had a flash of inspiration.

F * ck, their thinking had really entered the wrong place.

Magnus "ultimate skill was extremely powerful, and there was no way to counter it.

However, Magnus "ultimate couldn't be used all the time, right? it had to have a cooldown time, right?

They didn't need to worry at all, as they would all take damage from the big move.

They could do this when Magnus was almost at half health.

Everyone else retreated, leaving only Zhang Shan with a group of support to force Magnus to use his first big move.

after magnus "big move was over, the others would return and continue to deal damage.

Of course, during this period, some cannon fodder would be needed to stall the BOSS.

He had to keep someone within Magnus "aggro range, so that his HP recovery rate would not be too fast.

If he completely broke away from it, Magnus "HP would instantly return to full.

After the first wave of big moves, Zhang Shan stood up and pulled the boss again.

then, everyone would work together and deal a wave of rapid damage before continuing to retreat.

Let's observe how long the interval between Magnus 'big moves is. If Magnus only uses his big move every ten minutes or so ...

They could completely blow it up.

The first time Zhang Shan fell to the ground, he could rely on his rebirth to stand up passively.

If he fell to the ground again, he could just let the support Rush over and revive him.

If he were to go back and forth like this a few times, he would definitely have the chance to beat Magnus.

The only exception was that Magnus 'ultimate skill did not have a cooldown and could be continuously cast.

It was possible since they had encountered similar bosses before.

However, the possibility of this happening was not too high.

All they needed to do now was to bet on the interval between Magnus "big moves.

As long as he gambled correctly, there would not be a big problem.

Even if the interval between Magnus "ultimate" was only two to three minutes, it didn't matter.

Two to three minutes was enough for everyone to deal a lot of damage, as long as they didn't use their ultimate skills continuously.

Zhang Shan organized his thoughts and shared his thoughts with everyone. Then, he asked.

"Do you guys think this will work?"

there's a gambling component to this. What if I bet wrong? " it doesn't matter even if we bet wrongly. At most, we'll sacrifice a portion of our people. We won't let everyone die.

I think it's feasible. So what if we bet? fighting a BOSS isn't like playing fight the landlord. It's risky to begin with.

that's right. We fought too smoothly in the past. Other people often got wiped when fighting bosses, but they still continued to fight.

"There's nothing else to say. Let's do it."

"Alright, let's do it."

Feng Yun realm said after thinking for a while.

how could there be no risk in fighting a BOSS?

previously, it was because Zhang Shan was too strong, far beyond the strength of the mainstream players. that was why it seemed that fighting the BOSS was so easy.

Actually, it wasn't that easy to fight a BOSS.

Even if it was a slightly stronger red BOSS, the players from other guilds would have to take it seriously, let alone a real-name BOSS.

It might even flip over.

to normal players, every red BOSS was a terrifying existence.

In the past, when they fought bosses, it was always too smooth. It could even be said that they crushed the BOSS.

it was time to fight a tough battle.

Since he had made up his mind to fight, he had to be prepared.

first of all, he had to prepare his manpower. currently, the entire guild had gathered around 80000 to 90000 members.

With so many people, it was naturally impossible for them to attack all at once. They had to be divided into countless small groups.

Magnus wasn't an easy BOSS to deal with, so he would definitely need a lot of cannon fodder.

Especially after Magnus had used his ultimate skill and knocked down Zhang Shan, he needed a lot of cannon fodder to go forward and hold back Magnus.

he needed a lot of support too. every time zhang shan fell, he needed a lot of support to accompany him.

Without a large number of support to heal him, Zhang Shan would not be able to hold on.

After all, Magnus "normal attacks were extremely powerful.

A random chain kick could deal 180000 theoretical damage, if it was a critical hit.

That was more than 300000 damage, if Zhang Shan's own lifesteal effect was used to recover his health.

He couldn't come back at all. At most, he would fall to the ground after three or four hits.

he needed a lot of support to keep healing him.

Feng Yun realm quickly organized the Guild members and prepared to heal and revive Zhang Shan.

There were nearly 20 groups.

As for the hatchet men that would attack Magnus, Feng Yun realm had prepared more than a hundred groups.

the rest of the guild members were watching the battle nearby, ready to provide support at any time.

feng yun realm had also organized the spectating guild members into groups.

Before the battle began, there was no way to determine how strong Magnus was.

It was necessary to prepare more people nearby.

Feng Yun realm said to Zhang Shan after arranging the personnel.

everyone's almost ready. Six Guan, go and start the fight. The first group of supports, follow.

Zhang Shan looked at the Panda dumpling beside him. After some consideration, he kept it back into the pet space.

In this situation, the Panda dumpling was of little use.

He had to rely on himself to tank the monsters. Although the Panda bear was also very tanky and had more than 200000 HP, he still had to fight.

But against Magnus, it still couldn't hold on.

As for relying on the Panda ball to deal damage, it was better not to.

With the Panda ball's unusually slow attack speed, it was simply a waste of attacking space.

it would be better to make space for the other guild members to deal more damage.

Zhang Shan kept the Panda dumpling and ran towards Magnus.

Looking at the huge Magnus in the distance, he felt like an ant preparing to challenge the mountain Giant.

Before Zhang Shan could even get within shooting range, Magnus turned his head and looked at him.

Then, it took a step forward and arrived in front of him. Its huge shadow covered the sky.

magnus waved its two gigantic front legs, and a violent attack came towards him.

Zhang Shan did not hold back. He raised his hand cannon, and the fierce bullets swept towards Magnus.

The support behind him quickly helped him stabilize his health.

Magnus "damage was terrifyingly high. Each time he hit Zhang Shan, it was around 150000 to 160000.

Without a healer, he could only take three hits from the boss.

and this was still not counting the critical hit, if magnus did.

he would be knocked down in two or three moves.

But it didn't matter. They had a lot of people, and there were plenty of support players in the Guild.

Feng Yun realm had directly arranged for him to form twenty support teams with thousands of people to heal him.

in theory, as long as zhang shan could withstand a single critical hit from magnus ...

The support was able to add his health back up, so he didn't have to worry about dying.

After all, Zhang Shan's HP had exceeded 500000. No matter how strong Magnus was, he could not kill him in a second.

Not to mention normal attacks, even Magnus "ultimate skill would not be able to instakill Zhang Shan.

It was just that Magnus "ultimate skill dealt damage in a large area, and it would wipe out all the support behind him.

Otherwise, he would have been able to tank the damage from Magnus "ultimate.

Of course, that was impossible. Magnus "ultimate could deal over 400000 damage.

In the entire game, other than Zhang Shan, there was no second person who could take a hit.

after zhang shan had pulled back magnus, the rest of the people also followed and attacked.

Due to Magnus "massive size, there were many people who could deal damage at the same time.

In the beginning, Feng Yun realm arranged for more than 3000 players to be the first wave to deal damage.

However, he quickly discovered that there was still a large amount of space around Magnus for everyone to stand and attack.

Then, Feng Yun realm called for backup forces and also attacked.

In any case, as long as Magnus "HP didn't drop to half, he wouldn't be in danger.

Everyone swarmed up and took down half of Magnus "HP first.

Just like that, close to 10000 guild members surrounded Magnus and attacked him.

It was like a group of ants besieging an elephant. The scene was both spectacular and comical.

however, after fighting for a while, they realized that something was wrong. the damage they dealt was too low.

Zhang Shan was still fine. With his 50000 attack power, each of his attacks could deal about 30000 damage.

However, the damage dealt by the other guild members was pitiful.

The stronger ones might be able to deal more than 1000 damage.

The damage dealt was only a few hundred, and some people could only deal a few dozen points of damage.

With Magnus "one billion HP, the damage they dealt was like scraping sand.

Looking at the damage data, everyone simply couldn't bear it.

f * ck, what's going on? why did I only deal around 200 damage? "

"What other reason could it be? it's because you're a rookie."

"Damn it, am I the only noob? I think you're about the same. You're not much stronger than me. "

"I'm much stronger than you. Did you see that? I can deal 300 damage."

"F * ck, what's the difference between 300 and 200 damage?"

"Bro, do you know how to count? 300 is 50% more than 200."

"damn it, can't you speak normally? don't be so weird."

"It's probably because Magnus" level is much higher than ours, and the level suppression effect is too strong, so we can't deal much damage."

yes, most of us are only level 30. Magnus is a level 60 BOSS, which is more than 20 levels higher than us. There's at least a four-tier level suppression, so he definitely won't be able to deal much damage.

haha, I'm level 41 now. Look at my damage. A critical hit can deal more than 10000 damage.

When it came to levels, wind and cloud blade was extremely pleased with himself.

Because he had always been following Zhang Shan, wind and cloud blade's level had always been very high.

After that, the five of them killed countless bosses in the demon suppression Hall and basically gained two levels each.

Now that Zhang Shan was almost level 44, it was normal for Windcloud blade to reach level 41.

Even Mr. Wu had reached level 40.

It could be said that after they completed the city-seizing mission, they had become rich.

Other benefits aside, just the experience points from killing bosses alone could save them a lot of time.

f * ck, one blade, don't say anything. We're not blind. We can see it on the level leaderboard and know that you've reached level 41.

"Ignore him, he's just showing off."

"Yes, ignore that b * tch one blade and focus on the BOSS."

Although Magnus "level was high, and he had a very strong level suppression effect on them, they were still very weak.

However, they had tens of thousands of people at the same time, so they could hit Magnus. As such, the battle was still very fast.

with more than 10000 players attacking at the same time, even if each of them could only deal 100 damage at a time, it would still be impossible to deal any damage within a minute.

They could also deal hundreds of millions of damage.

Moreover, not everyone could deal low damage.

For Zhang Shan and the other four, because they had reached level 40, Magnus "level suppression effect was on them.

They were much weaker than the others, but they could still deal high damage.

Each of Zhang Shan's attacks could deal 30000 damage.

If it was a critical hit, then he would be able to deal even more damage.

This was especially so when he used Holy Strike. The damage was simply explosive, and one shot could directly take out more than 5000000 HP from Magnus.

Although Magnus was very ferocious and had over one billion HP, under everyone's continuous attacks, he was still unable to escape.

His HP was still dropping rapidly, and in less than a minute, it had dropped by 10%.

Everyone continued to fight for a while longer, and Magnus "HP was about to drop to 80%.

Zhang Shan estimated that after he lost 20% of his health, Magnus would use the beast God will skill.

He also knew how powerful the beast God's will summoned by a level 60 true-name BOSS would be.

They didn't want to be destroyed by such a small skill from Magnus.

Feng Yun realm said in the Guild channel when he saw that Magnus "HP was almost at 80%.

"Everyone, pay attention to your position and make sure there's a support next to you. Magnus is about to use his skill."

" what's there to be afraid of? i'm just an emotionless onlooker. i'm not even fighting a BOSS. "

Some of the members who joined the Guild later on did not care about Feng Yun realm's warning.

They had never experienced the power of a skill like the beast God's will cast by a real name BOSS.

They thought that as long as they didn't fight the BOSS, they would be fine. After all, they were still very far away from Magnus.

No matter how strong Magnus "skill was, it couldn't hurt them.

"Don't talk nonsense, listen to the boss and quickly run to the support. Magnus" will of the beast God is 80% AoE damage."

"holy sh * t, really? don't scare me, is the damage on the entire map that exaggerated?"

nonsense, we've already encountered it two or three times. How can it be fake? "

Very quickly, Magnus "HP was reduced to 80%.

Only to see that Magnus "front hooves had stopped attacking, and he was just standing there in a daze.

It raised its huge head with a single horn and looked at the sky.

Magnus faced the sky and let out a heaven-shaking neigh.

A huge beast God Phantom slowly rose behind it.

All the Guild members in the Gerri wasteland lost a lot of HP in an instant.

"f * ck, 8000 hp in one second? I'm not seeing things, am I?"

save me! I only have less than 20000 HP. I can't last more than three seconds.

"Holy F * ck, why is the beast God Phantom that Magnus summoned so powerful?"

a level 60 boss seems to be much stronger than a level 50 boss.

"Yes, an all-round strengthening."

"both of them are children of the beast god, but nakas is much easier to deal with than magnus."

sigh, a level 60 real name boss is already so strong. I wonder how strong the demon God will be.

f * ck, brother, you're thinking too far ahead. Don't tell me you've already started thinking about the demon God? "

“A player who doesn’t want to fight the demon God isn’t a player.”

“damn it, hurry up and heal me. Uh, no need to add me, I’m already hanging up.”

The 15-second duration of the beast God’s will quickly passed.

However, there were already corpses all over the ground in gryphine’s wasteland.

A large number of the Guild members who had been watching the battle nearby had fallen.

On the other hand, the Guild members who had followed Zhang Shan and the others to attack Magnus had basically not fallen.

This was because Feng Yun realm had taken out a large number of support players from the Guild to help them fight the BOSS.

As a result, the support in other places was not enough, and the healing could not be kept up.

A large number of guild members fell to the ground because they didn’t have any support to heal them.

After all, no one had expected the beast God Phantom that Magnus had summoned to be so powerful.

8,000 damage per second for 15 seconds. This was ridiculous. Who could withstand this?

Consuming the Dahong medicine by himself would have no effect at all. He would have to rely on support and heal a few times.

The BOSS battle had just begun, but the audience members who were their backup had already lost 20000 to 30000 members.

Although they were the main fighters and there were no losses, it was still a heavy blow to everyone’s confidence.

This was only the beginning. Even the BOSS’s skills, which everyone had thought would be easy to deal with, had caused them such great losses.

Then, how powerful would Magnus “ultimate skill be? would there be an accident?

In the beginning, everyone felt that Zhang Shan’s deduction made sense.

Using the interval between Magnus “big moves, he dealt a wave of rapid damage.

They definitely had the chance to destroy Magnus.

However, now that this accident had happened, the little bit of confidence that everyone had just built up was almost completely destroyed.

“F * ck, why are there so many people?”

“what can we do? no one would have thought that the beast god phantom that magnus summoned would be so powerful.”

“What the f * ck, what do we do now?”

“of course we’re going to continue. do you want to give up?”

“Magnus is too fierce, I’m afraid we won’t be able to beat him.”

“even if we can’t win, we still have to fight. even if the entire guild is annihilated, we have to fight to the end.”

Windcloud blade was furious. He realized that the members of his Guild were used to winning easy battles. The moment they encountered some resistance, they would retreat.

He couldn’t continue like this. If he didn’t have any tenacity, what was the point of playing?

Feng Yun realm said.

“Let’s continue. Those with too little health can leave the Gerri wilderness and come back after we’re done.”

After that round of skills from Magnus, Feng Yun realm realized that sometimes, numbers were not the only thing that mattered when fighting a BOSS.

Sometimes, it was useless to have more people.

Many of them couldn’t even withstand a little damage from the BOSS. Even if they followed, they wouldn’t be of much help.

It would be better to let them leave the Gerri wilderness and leave the Guild members with real strength.

Gather all the elite forces and destroy Magnus.

There were still a lot of players in the Guild with less than 20000 HP. There was no point in staying in Gerri wilderness.

As long as Magnus used another wave of the beast God’s will, these people would still fall to the ground.

Chapter 407 blown up

Under Feng Yun realm’s arrangement, there were another 20000 to 30000 guild members.

It was not suitable for him to continue staying in the Gerri wilderness, so he left the map first and waited for Zhang Shan and the rest to kill Magnus before coming back in to farm monsters.

The remaining guild members were less than 50000.

Other than the 10000 people who had followed Zhang Shan to attack Magnus, there was still a reserve force of about 40000.

As long as they fought smoothly, with their 40 to 50 thousand people, it would not be too much of a problem to blow up Magnus.

Under the continuous attacks of close to 10000 people, Magnus “HP was dropping rapidly.

80%, 70%, 60%.

After fighting for less than five minutes, they were about to take half of Magnus "health.

The more people there were, the more power they had.

Moreover, he was more than 20 levels higher than everyone else, so he had a very strong level suppression on them.

As a result, many people could only deal one or two hundred damage.

Even so, under the attacks of nearly 10000 people, Magnus "HP was still rapidly decreasing.

Many ants could kill an elephant. This was the logic.

Even though Magnus was very fierce and had a lot of HP, he was still very strong.

However, due to its huge size, it could allow nearly 10000 people to attack the BOSS together.

In the past, when they fought bosses, no matter how many people they had prepared in advance, they would still be able to defeat bosses.

However, there were only a few hundred players who could actually attack the BOSS at the same time. At most, there were only one or two thousand players.

After all, the area around the BOSS was only so big. It was impossible for one to stand on top of one's teammates and attack the BOSS.

And Magnus "body was huge, like a mountain.

Nearly 10,000 people surrounded and attacked Magnus, as if they were surrounding a large mountain and chopping down trees.

The entire area of attack was very wide.

There were too many people attacking the boss if he didn't adjust his view.

Zhang Shan could only see his teammates around him. He could not see his teammates who were attacking Magnus from afar.

It was rare to see so many people attacking the boss together.

Under the continuous attacks of nearly 10000 people, Magnus "HP was quickly approaching half.

At this moment, Feng Yun realm commanded in the Guild channel.

everyone, except for six-barreled and team one, retreat first.

Feng Yun realm called out and followed the strategy that they had agreed on before the battle.

Everyone retreated first, and waited for Zhang Shan to force out Magnus "ultimate move.

Everyone returned and dealt a wave of rapid damage together.

as for the group of support that feng yun realm mentioned ...

They had to stay behind to accompany Zhang Shan.

If there was no support to heal him, he wouldn't be able to stand for two seconds before he fell to the ground.

As a level 60 true name BOSS, Magnus was powerful in all aspects.

High damage, high HP, and overpowered skills.

it could almost be said to be an invincible BOSS.

If there was no Zhang Shan, this kind of abnormal player, existing, it would be impossible to be killed at this stage.

Other than Zhang Shan, at this stage, there were almost no players who could take on Magnus 'normal damage.

It had to be known that Magnus "chain kick could deal 180000 damage.

Other than Zhang Shan, who else would have such a high HP?

other than a few lucky guardian class players, after equipping the level 35 purple cape, they would be able to obtain a level 30 purple cape.

The amount of HP he had could barely reach this level, but there were definitely not many people like that. There were probably only a few of them in the entire game.

"Moreover, just being able to take one normal attack from Magnus isn't much use.

Magnus "perverseness lay in that ultimate move.

Polar reversal had a huge damage and control range.

It could probably stomp a few thousand people to death.

In order to avoid unnecessary casualties, they had to follow the strategy they had previously agreed on.

Feng Yun realm led his men and left, leaving only Zhang Shan and his team of support to continue attacking Magnus.

After forcing out Magnus "ultimate skill, he would arrange for others to go up and stop him.

Under Feng Yun realm's command, everyone stopped attacking and quickly retreated to the distance on their mounts.

If you were to ask why you were riding a horse, couldn't you just run away?

Then you have to know how big Magnus is.

if he wanted to run out of magnus "range on foot, he would have to run for a while.

At this moment, Magnus only had 51% of his health left.

now, zhang shan had to deal 1% of its hp alone before he could stall for time until magnus used his ultimate skill.

However, even if he was the only one dealing damage, it didn't matter.

Zhang Shan was alone, but he was not slow.

1% of Magnus "HP was only 10 million HP, if Zhang Shan could use the effect of the Holy Strike.

Two shots would be enough to take down this amount of blood.

Of course, the Holy Strike was not something that he could trigger whenever he wanted to.

Just when you needed to activate the Holy Strike, it would not activate.

Just like now, Zhang Shan had two divine weapons, and there was a 1% chance of triggering the effect of the Holy attack.

however, he continued to attack magnus for more than a minute, but he still couldn't activate a single divine strike.

...

He relied on his normal damage and the occasional critical effect.

Zhang Shan alone slowly brought Magnus "health down to 50%.

When his HP dropped to half, Magnus waved his two front legs randomly without any warning.

It froze the surrounding void.

Zhang Shan and the team's support who were healing him instantly stood still. They were inexplicably fixed in place.

After about two to three seconds, Magnus "two enormous front legs stepped down on them.

The team's support who had been healing Zhang Shan had, without a doubt, fallen to the ground in an instant.

Zhang Shan had not fallen to the ground yet. Magnus "polar reversal was a big move that dealt five times the damage.

The total theoretical damage was about 450000.

Before Magnus used his ultimate, the support kept healing him.

His health was basically at full health.

Magnus "ultimate skill had taken out about 400000 of Zhang Shan's HP.

Although he had been beaten to an empty state, he was still alive.

Zhang Shan continued to aim at Magnus and fired two shots.

Following that, Magnus used his chain kick skill and directly sent Zhang Shan flying.

at that moment, there was no support to heal him. otherwise, zhang shan would not have died.

Unfortunately, the support team that had followed him had already been wiped out by Magnus “big move.

The people who had retreated earlier could not rush over in time to heal him.

after zhang shan fell to the ground, the rest of the people quickly rushed over.

feng yun realm arranged for people to hold magnus back and wait for zhang shan to revive.

Zhang Shan had not fallen to the ground for a long time.

His rebirth passive skill had always been in a trigger state.

Now that he had been defeated by Magnus, he could only wait for 10 seconds before he revived.

Although he had fallen to the ground, he wasn’t dead, so the support couldn’t pull him up.

He could only wait for ten seconds before he resurrected himself. It would be useless even if the others were anxious.

While waiting for Zhang Shan to resurrect, Feng Yun realm arranged for people to rush forward and hold back Magnus.

Many of them could not even reach Magnus before falling to the ground and leaving.

The strength of a real name boss was all-round.

Not only did it deal high damage, but it also had high HP and movement speed.

Just like Magnus, with such a huge body, it shouldn’t have been able to move that fast.

However, everyone realized that no matter which direction they approached Magnus from, they would be unable to escape.

It took a step forward and arrived in front of the cannon fodder Feng Yun realm had arranged.

Magnus casually stomped down with his huge hooves, and the cannon fodder of the Guild fell one by one.

A large number of cannon fodder charged towards Magnus.

As for the other members of the Guild, they could only watch from afar, before Zhang Shan could pull the boss steadily.

They didn’t dare to step forward. Otherwise, they wouldn’t even know how they died.

At this moment, Magnus “massive body was like a mountain, but he could move quickly.

They chased after the Guild cannon fodder that entered their aggro range and took them down one by one.

Fortunately, Magnus only had single-target attacks.

In fact, other than the polar reversal skill, Magnus only had one chain kick skill that he could use.

No matter how fast Magnus attacked, he could only take down one cannon fodder.

There were 40000 to 50000 players from the wind and cloud Guild present.

It could kill as it pleased. Even if it was given half an hour, it might not be able to kill all of them.

Ten seconds passed, and Zhang Shan was revived with full health.

However, he didn't rashly go forward to pull the BOSS. He had to wait for the second team's support.

If he went up alone, he would not end up any better than the cannon fodder Feng Yun realm had arranged.

He was only able to take two more hits from Magnus than those cannon fodders.

Seeing that Zhang Shan had stood up again, Feng Yun realm immediately ordered.

second support, quickly step forward.

After the support was in position, Zhang Shan quickly approached Magnus.

And when Magnus saw Zhang Shan, he gave up on chasing after the other cannon fodder.

It took a step forward and arrived in front of Zhang Shan. Its huge hooves were swinging towards Zhang Shan.

Zhang Shan did not hesitate. He raised his hand cannon and immediately fired, the bullets sweeping towards Magnus.

The support that followed behind him quickly helped Zhang Shan add blood.

a moment later, the situation became the same as when the battle had just started.

Zhang Shan held Magnus steady while Feng Yun realm led the rest to attack.

The ten thousand strong super-large party directed their intense firepower towards Magnus.

Feng Yun Qing Qing and another witch doctor from the Guild took turns to cast curse skills.

Curse was a top-grade support skill that increased the damage by 100% for five seconds.

Zhang Shan activated his berserk and fanatic skills. At the same time, he activated his shadow clone and fighting spirit.

the three zhang shans lined up in a row, and violent damage was continuously dealt to magnus.

Everyone dealt a wave of rapid damage together, and after more than a minute, Magnus "HP had dropped to 40%.

To be on the safe side, Feng Yun realm ordered the rest to retreat, leaving only Zhang Shan with a team of support to continue attacking Magnus.

“Boss, we don’t have to retreat so quickly, right? it’s only been a minute, and the interval between Magnus’ big moves shouldn’t be that short, right?”

“That’s right, if we fight a little longer, we can directly send Magnus into a berserk state.”

“You’re right, if we fight fast enough, perhaps Magnus won’t even have the chance to use his second ultimate.”

Seeing that many people still had the mentality of getting lucky, Feng Yun realm shouted.

“No matter how long the interval between Magnus’ ulti is, let’s retreat first and fight again after seeing clearly. Let’s stabilize this wave.”

Feng Yun realm’s meaning was very clear, just focus on killing Magnus and don’t be reckless.

Who knew how long the interval between Magnus’ ultimate skills was?

If there were only two or three minutes left, then they would have to continue fighting. Wouldn’t it be easy to get wiped out?

It was better to take a step back and observe first to see how long it would take for Magnus to cast his second ultimate.

When the others had retreated, Zhang Shan was the only one left at the scene, attacking Magnus.

Not long after, Magnus’ two front legs started to move randomly again.

In an instant, Zhang Shan and the support behind him were fixed in place. Immediately after, two huge hooves stomped down.

Zhang Shan and the support behind him were all stomped to the ground.

This time, Zhang Shan did not survive the damage from Magnus’ ultimate, because before Magnus activated his ultimate.

His HP wasn’t full, and after taking a series of kicks, Magnus’ big move came.

The support didn’t have the time to fill up his health.

After seeing Magnus use his ultimate skill once more, Feng Yun realm immediately arranged for the cannon fodder to go forward.

At the same time, he had the third group of assistants follow them and prepare to revive Zhang Shan.

This was the second time Zhang Shan had fallen to the ground. His passive rebirth had just been triggered.

It could only be triggered again after 24 hours. Now, he could only lie on the ground and wait for the support to come and resurrect him.

After the group of cannon fodder attracted Magnus’ hatred.

The third group of support quickly ran up. One of the support used a resurrection skill and revived Zhang Shan.

After he stood up again, Zhang Shan quickly rushed towards Magnus and pulled the boss's aggro back.
after seeing magnus "two big moves, zhang shan realized that they had to increase their speed.

The interval between Magnus "big moves was much shorter than everyone had expected.

Zhang Shan had not carefully calculated the time. He estimated that there were only slightly more than two minutes left.

If they didn't hurry up, they would still be in trouble. If they could only take out 10% of Magnus "HP each time ...

Zhang Shan would have to fall to the ground three or four more times before he could kill Magnus.

It had been a long time since he had fallen to the ground, and this time, in order to blow up Magnus, he had to continuously fall. This was simply intolerable.

However, what could they do? it was already good enough that they could kill the boss.

At least for now, it seemed like they could destroy Magnus.

After Zhang Shan had pulled Magnus to a stable position, the others quickly rushed forward on their horses.

All sorts of damage skills were thrown at Magnus.

"F * ck, is Magnus" ultimate skill really that short of a cooldown? I think it's only 150 seconds."

" yeah, it was so close just now. if we had dawdled a little longer, we might have been wiped out. "

"Don't worry, two and a half minutes isn't a short time. As long as we fight fast, we can take out about 20% of Magnus" health."

"Not bad, keep fighting, try to fight one more wave and destroy Magnus."

Due to their previous experience, everyone was calculating the time it took for Magnus to cast his big move.

While dealing violent damage.

Slowly, Magnus "HP dropped.

Just as Magnus was about to go berserk, Feng Yun realm waved his hand and said.

"Same old rules, we'll retreat first."

In this wave, they had pretty much taken out Magnus "20% HP.

Magnus only had 22% of his health left, and he was about to enter berserk.

Not long after everyone had retreated, Magnus used his third ultimate.

Unsurprisingly, Zhang Shan and the support behind him fell to the ground almost at the same time.

After the first two rounds of skills, everyone was already familiar with the way, and the cannon fodder went up to pull Magnus back.

The support went forward to revive Zhang Shan.

After that, it was the resurrected Zhang Shan who once again took over the boss's aggro.

everyone went up together and dealt rapid damage towards magnus.

"Come on, let's try to destroy Magnus in one wave."

"it's a little difficult. we only took out magnus last round with 18% of his health left, which means he still has 22% of his health left."

"I think so. Magnus is about to enter berserk, and after that, we can fight even faster."

"Do you want to play steadily for a while and then just play one more round?"

we'll see. Just pay attention to the time. The interval between Magnus 'big moves should be fixed.

"Yes, it's easy to deal with it if there's a pattern," if the boss's ultimate moves are sometimes fast and sometimes slow, that would be a real headache.

"I hope Magnus doesn't play with us. If he randomly uses his ultimate skill, then we'll be screwed."

"Don't talk nonsense."

"Don't worry, that definitely won't happen. Magnus has already used his big move three times, and the interval between each time is the same. The rest will definitely be the same."

under everyone's continuous attacks, magnus quickly entered berserk.

after going berserk, magnus became even more ferocious. the damage he dealt to zhang shan became even higher, and his attack speed also became faster.

however, these changes did not affect the overall situation. zhang shan had a large group of support behind him, healing him.

No matter how fierce Magnus was, he wouldn't be able to instantly kill him.

the support standing behind him could completely heal him.

After going berserk, Magnus had become much more fragile, and the damage that everyone dealt was much higher than before.

haha, this is great! He dealt 500 damage with one slash.

"Look at you, you're already over level 30 and you only dealt 500 damage. Is that something to be happy about?"

"f * ck, why can't i be happy? just now, i could only deal around 300 damage. now, i can deal around 500 damage. isn't this something to be happy about? " who the f * ck are you calling weak? Speaking of which, the damage I dealt is at least in the top 100 in the Guild.

"Weak chicken."

“Al, you’re really useless. Do you think it’s worth it to be in the top 100 damage output? those who don’t know better would think that you’re ranked first in terms of damage.”

with the six-barreled boss around, who would dare to fight for first place in damage? ” isn’t it asking for trouble to compete with the six-barreled boss in terms of damage output? he’s alone, but the damage he can deal is more than the two or three hundred of us.

that’s for sure. When we first started, we could only deal 200 to 300 damage, but the six-barreled Big Boss could deal 30000 damage. The difference is a hundred times, it’s hopeless.

the point is, the six-barreled boss ‘attack speed is much faster than ours.

don’t compare yourself to that inhuman six-man, we’re normal players, he’s a cheater.

“not to the extent of cheating. i guess he’s playing on a private server, hehe.”

Everyone was blowing water while happily attacking Magnus.

After Magnus went berserk, they fought faster than expected.

The main reason was that there were too many people who had participated in the attack on Magnus.

After the boss went berserk, the players who could only deal 200 to 300 damage could now deal 400 to 500 damage.

The damage effect was almost doubled.

In the past, when they fought bosses, the effect wasn’t as obvious after the boss went berserk.

it was probably because after magnus entered berserk, the level suppression effect had weakened.

The reason why the other guilds dealt so little damage was not because their attack power was not high enough.

In fact, there were quite a few big shots in the wind and cloud Guild, and their equipment was not bad.

Their attack power was generally above 4000.

the main reason why they had dealt so little damage before was because of magnus ‘level suppression.

now that the boss had entered berserk mode, the level suppression effect should have loosened up a little.

As a result, the damage they dealt was almost doubled.

In fact, Zhang Shan was about the same. The damage he dealt now was much higher than when he first started.

Although it didn’t double, it still increased by four to five thousand.

Now, one shot from him could take out about 35000 HP from Magnus.

In less than half a minute after Magnus entered berserk mode, they had already lost 10% of his health.

“haha, magnus only has 10% of his health left. we don’t have to run anymore, let’s destroy him in one round.”

“It hasn’t even been a minute since Magnus used his ultimate skill. With the remaining time, I’ll definitely be able to destroy it.”

“All the best, hurry up and beat up Magnus, I want a God equipment.”

“In your dreams. Even if a divine weapon appears, it’s none of your business.”

same old rules. Equipment will be distributed according to damage.

who the f * ck can beat the six-barreled boss? ”

“If you can be the tank and also the number one damage dealer, I can let you choose first.”

“Don’t take it to heart, I was just casually saying. Don’t think so highly of me, with this small body of mine, even if Magnus stomps me to death, I’ll still have some left.”

He looked at Magnus “HP, which was rapidly decreasing.

As Zhang Shan attacked, he summoned the Panda ball.

However, he was surrounded by his teammates. The newly recruited Panda dumpling was actually dozens of yards away.

Zhang Shan was a little speechless. He had originally wanted to let the Panda bear dumpling take the last hit.

There was no chance of that happening. There was no place for the Panda gang to stand around Magnus.

forget it, i’ll leave it to fate.

After all, there were close to 10000 people attacking Magnus at the same time. Even if he controlled the Pandaren, he might not be able to get the final kill.

The more people there were, the more chaotic the damage would be, and there was no way to calculate the damage.

Under everyone’s continuous attacks, Magnus “HP quickly decreased.

10%, 5% ... Very quickly, he was left with no more health.

“Haha, watch how I’ll deal a critical strike and blow up Magnus.”

“in your dreams! even if it’s a critical hit, you’ll only be able to deal less than 1000 damage. you’re only worthy of magnus” tickling.”

“I’m doing this for your own good. Fantasizing is bad for your body, hehe.”

After his health bar was empty, Magnus did not last for long. With Zhang Shan's passive [heavy strike] activated, five times the damage, Magnus was immediately destroyed.

≪ system announcement: congratulations to Feng Yun realm, six-pipe Bodhisattva, and Feng Yun one blade for successfully killing the demonized beast God's Son Magnus. ≫ Skill point +1, medal +100.

Chapter 408 The ultimate skill, deity's descent

After Magnus fell to the ground, the system announcement sounded out.

All the Guild members present cheered.

This was the fiercest BOSS they had ever fought in the game.

It was also the most difficult fight.

To be honest, if Zhang Shan had not obtained the king's Cape during the last world war ...

If he could increase his maximum HP to more than 500000 ...

After looking at Magnus "attributes and skills, there was no need for them to try.

Without Zhang Shan's high HP, if they were to tank Magnus, they would not be able to fight.

Magnus "normal attack could deal 180000 damage, and no one could withstand it, not even the Panda Group.

not to mention the other players.

As for Magnus "ultimate skill, polar reversal, it was indeed extremely powerful.

If it wasn't for the fixed interval between the two big moves, they wouldn't have been able to fight.

it was a good thing that they had made the right bet this time. in this aspect, magnus was still considered a normal BOSS.

He didn't come up with too many disgusting moves, but he was very strong.

"Boss, let's quickly see what equipment it dropped."

" do you have any divine artifacts? i want divine artifacts. "

"Even if a divine weapon appears, it won't be yours. What are you so excited about?"

"i'll buy it, alright? Anyway, Big Boss six-barreled already has two divine artifacts. He'll definitely sell the divine artifacts that he doesn't need."

"If anyone wants to buy it, it should be everyone bidding. What does it have to do with you?"

f * ck, who is he looking down on? i'll bid if i want to. i'm not afraid of you.

"I say, are you all so idle? the birds are still flying in the sky, and you're thinking about whether to cook or roast them? Where is the divine weapon? I don't know for sure."

"There'll definitely be some. Magnus is so powerful, so if he doesn't drop a God equipment, it'll be too unreasonable."

"that's hard to say. who can say for sure when it comes to divine artifacts?"

" it's fine if you don't have a divine weapon. just give me one or two good things. i won't mind. "

f * ck, I don't like it. I only want divine artifacts. Other than divine artifacts, everything else is trash.

"f * ck, big brother, you're overthinking."

sigh, divine artifacts are too rare. I hope it will drop this time.

After killing the BOSS, everyone was naturally more concerned about the loot that Magnus had dropped.

for a BOSS as ferocious as magnus, the items he dropped should not be too bad.

Furthermore, this was their first kill. It was possible that they would drop a divine weapon quest item.

Everyone looked at Feng Yun realm with anticipation.

Feng Yun realm did not let everyone wait for too long. Very quickly, he displayed the items that Magnus had dropped on the Guild channel.

at the same time, he also announced the damage ranking.

Zhang Shan took a look at the items that Feng Yun realm had displayed.

F * ck, there really was a divine artifact as a mission item.

[rusty stick: this isn't a stick. It just looks like a stick. It has a slightly mysterious aura. I don't know what it's used for now. I need to find an expert to answer it.]

After looking at the item's description, there was no doubt that it was a divine weapon mission item.

He could basically confirm that it was a divine weapon.

As for which class the weapon belonged to, that was still to be determined.

This was because in the New World, there were no classes that used sticks as their weapons.

This rod was obviously not its original form. It had only become a rod after being damaged.

It was hard to say which weapons would turn into a stick after being damaged.

First of all, the staffs of mages and witch doctors could turn into sticks after being damaged.

Secondly, if a Taoist's magic sword and a Spellblade's longsword were severely damaged, they could also turn into a stick.

In addition, if the barrel of a Hunter's gun was severely damaged, it could also turn into a stick.

It was hard to say which class the weapon belonged to.

although, according to the damage ranking, Zhang Shan would definitely be the first to choose.

However, he wouldn't choose this rusty stick, because Magnus had dropped something that was even more suitable for him.

It was a skill book, the ultimate skill book for hunters.

The game had been on for so long, and Zhang Shan had finally seen it. The Hunter's ultimate skill book.

[God's descent: as if a God has descended to the mortal world, no spells can invade.] Immune to all magic damage and magic control. All attributes increased by 100%.

Duration: 60 seconds. Cooldown: 24 hours. Class requirement: Hunter.

If not for the fact that the cooldown time was 24 hours, Zhang Shan would have thought that this was a rare skill.

In this game, no matter what the skill's effect was, it was not a big deal.

The symbol of an ultimate skill was its extremely long cooldown time. The shortest one was twelve hours.

It usually had a cooldown of 24 hours.

however, what made Zhang Shan feel strange was that the ultimate skills of other professions were all large-scale damage skills.

Why was the Hunter's ultimate skill a status skill?

It was not that Zhang Shan felt that the God's descent was not strong. In reality, the God's descent was already very strong.

One minute of magic immunity, all attributes doubled.

He was so strong that he had no friends, if Zhang Shan activated his God's descent skill.

No matter how many people attacked him at the same time, it was impossible to kill him.

Immunity to all magic damage and magic control. What an overpowered effect.

After activating the God's descent skill, all magic classes were like little brothers in front of him.

They couldn't hurt him at all, because under the state of God's descent, he was completely immune to magic damage.

If he was immune to magic control, there would be no control skills that could stun him.

This was because almost all control skills in the game were magic control.

In the New World, there was no class that had crowd control skills that did not use magic.

If one had to say that there was, then it could only be Zhang Shan's own stun passive.

stunning passive didn't require active casting, and it was completely triggered by luck.

This kind of control skill was not considered magic control, so it should not be within the immunity range.

As for the 100% increase in all attributes, there was only one word to describe it-strong.

If Zhang Shan activated God's descent, his HP would reach more than a million, and his attack would also exceed 100000.

he dared to challenge a demon god in such a powerful state.

This was no joke, even though no one had seen the demon God's attributes and skills.

He still couldn't determine how strong the demonic god would be.

However, Zhang Shan believed that if he had a million HP and over a hundred thousand attack power ...

It was not impossible to challenge a Demon God. No matter how strong a Demon God was, there should be a limit.

There was a limit to a player's growth.

Based on the current growth rate of the players, they would reach level 100.

After a player's equipment was updated, the attributes would probably be the same. It could not be said that it was a human-made divine weapon.

The only thing that made Zhang Shan unhappy was that the duration of the God's descent skill was still a little too short.

What could one minute do? he couldn't even kill a normal red BOSS.

The current Red bosses had over 100 million HP.

Even if Zhang Shan activated his God's descent skill, it would be impossible to deal hundreds of millions of damage in a minute.

As for soloing a real-name boss, that was even more impossible. The time was too short, and they couldn't do anything.

If he were to use it in a fight, with Zhang Shan's current state, there was no need to use it.

If he didn't want to die, it was impossible for the current players to kill him.

The additional skill, deity's descent, wasn't that useful. At least, it wasn't a qualitative change.

To Zhang Shan, the help that this God's descent skill gave him was far less than the catapulting passive skill.

The catapulting passive skill was the real godly skill, which greatly improved his ability to farm monsters and fight.

Of course, although Zhang Shan felt that this God's descent skill would not be of much help to him, at least for now, it was so.

However, he would still choose this skill book. As for the divine weapon quest item?

He had no use for it anyway, so why would he want it? if he wanted to sell it, there was no need to do so.

He was not short of money now.

moreover, as the lord of the demon-suppressing city, he was a phoenix that could lay golden eggs as long as the city was still there.

Just by collecting teleportation fees from players, he would probably be able to collect a lot of money every day.

He would not have to worry about money in the future.

The deity's descent skill was not of much help to him under normal circumstances.

But who could say for sure at the crucial moment?

Perhaps, at times, he would have to rely on this skill to save his life.

Moreover, as an ultimate skill, skill books were very difficult to drop. If he did not get his hands on the skill book now ...

In the future, there would be no place to buy them even if he wanted to.

Zhang Shan did not despise this ultimate skill book. He just felt that the deity's descent skill was not like the other ultimate skills.

however, it wasn't as satisfying to cause a large area of damage.

However, as the ultimate skill of the Hunter profession, the God's descent was still very powerful.

It would at least give him a minute of invincibility.

that's right, to zhang shan, during the duration of the skill [god's descent], he was invincible. no one could kill him within this duration.

The items didn't have to be the most expensive, as long as they suited one's needs, they were the best.

As for the items that Magnus had dropped, the skill book [deity's descent] was the most suitable for him.

As for the other items, other than the rusty stick and the deity's descent skill book.

There were only three pieces of red equipment and one red material, which was not worth mentioning at all.

However, even though it wasn't the Panda Group that had defeated Magnus,

However, it could drop a divine weapon mission item and an ultimate skill book.

It was already considered a super big drop, after all, it was the first clear.

This was the first time they had encountered a BOSS that dropped two top-tier items in a row.

Everyone could not help but drool when they saw the item information displayed by Feng Yun realm.

of course, what they wanted was the relic.

As for the ultimate skill book, not many people cared about it.

After all, there weren't many hunters in the Association. With Zhang Shan around, this skill book definitely had nothing to do with them.

hahaha, a divine weapon mission item really appeared. Brothers, watch your wallets. I'm coming to collect the money, hehe.

When wind cloud blade saw that one of the items that Magnus had dropped was a God-tier quest item, he could not help but laugh madly.

His damage ranking was second.

If Zhang Shan chose the skill book, then the God equipment mission item would definitely be his.

Although this rusty staff was not useful to Windcloud blade, it did not seem to be suitable for the Berserker class.

Moreover, he already had a divine weapon battleaxe, so he didn't need a divine weapon.

Moreover, this rusty stick could not be an axe no matter how he looked at it. It was even more impossible for it to be any other equipment for Berserkers.

from its appearance and description, it was either a sword-type weapon or a staff. in any case, it couldn't be his own weapon.

However, it didn't matter if he couldn't use it. He could auction it off through internal bidding. This was an item that could be sold for a huge price. How could unstable blade not be happy?

what's the point of you calling him? Big Boss six-steward hasn't chosen yet. It's none of your business.

the six-barreled boss will definitely choose the skill book. This divine weapon mission item will definitely be mine, hehe.

that's hard to say. A divine weapon mission item is more valuable than an ultimate skill book. Why wouldn't the six-barreled boss want something valuable? " you're right. If we want to buy something, we'll buy it from the six-barreled boss. It's none of your business, hehe.

"You're all so stubborn, Hmph."

at this moment, feng yun realm stopped everyone from talking nonsense.

alright, let's distribute the items now. We'll stick to the old rules and distribute them according to the damage done. Those that you can't use will be auctioned internally and red packets will be given out.

After Feng Yun realm finished, he let Zhang Shan choose first.

Zhang Shan did not have much to worry about, and chose the deity's descent skill book.

after feng yun realm distributed the skill book to zhang shan, the next step was the main event.

Now that it was Windcloud blade's turn to choose, he did not hesitate to choose the rusty stick.

After Feng Yun realm gave him the staff, Feng Yun one blade shouted proudly.

we're filming, we're filming. Don't miss it if you're passing by. Once you get this stick, you'll be the man with the divine weapon. You'll instantly turn into a tall, rich, and handsome man.

there's a problem now. What class does this stick belong to? if it doesn't meet the class requirements, I don't think the NPCs will help repair it.

Everyone wanted a divine weapon, but if it didn't meet the profession's requirements, it would be useless even if they got it.

Right now, many of the big shots of the guilds were struggling with this problem.

that's probably the case. Artifacts are all bound items. If they're not for your class, how can they be bound to you? " then what should we do? what class does this stick belong to? "

"Do you still need to ask? It's definitely a sword."

not necessarily. It could also be a magic staff. Isn't a magic staff a stick? "

"Your staff will rust."

f * ck, I didn't think of that. Staves aren't made of metal, they won't rust.

there's one more thing. The item description says that it's not a stick, so I don't think it's likely to be a staff. It should be a sword. As for whether it's a priest's sword or a Spellblade's sword, it's hard to say.

"then what should we do? A bet?"

" who cares? let's get it first. if it's not for my class, i'll sell it. " that makes sense. Let's get it done quickly. My gold coins are already insatiable.

"More money, huh? I'm not afraid of you."

After confirming that the rusty stick might be the weapons of the priest and Spellblade, he took a deep breath.

The priests and spellblades in the Guild were all active.

the daoist priest profession was still fine. after all, it was an auxiliary profession, so the requirements for weapons were not that urgent.

However, the spellblades were anxious. A godly weapon could completely change one's fate.

Didn't you see wind and cloud blade? after he got his hands on the divine weapon battle axe, he instantly became very impressive.

In the past, everyone had been on the same starting line. However, after wind and cloud blade obtained the God-tier battle axe, he had become a legend.

He had left the other Guild bosses far behind and started to show off.

If they could also get their hands on a divine weapon, wouldn't they be able to be awesome too?

At this thought, the Spellblade bosses in the Guild instantly became active.

There were many big shots in the Guild who played the Spellblade class. Everyone rubbed their fists and wiped their palms, ready to use gold coins to fight.

"Then let's start. The starting price is one gold coin, hehe."

Windcloud blade said jokingly.

"One gold coin? Who are you looking down on? I'll pay 50 million gold coins."

"60 million."

"Eighty million."

"100 million gold coins."

as soon as unstable blade finished speaking, the rusty staff was quickly auctioned off for 100 million gold coins by a big shot in the guild.

of course, this was not the final price. back then, the god equipment mission item that zhang shan had sold to secretary feng yun had been sold for 200 million gold coins.

In comparison, this rusty stick should be worth a lot, and 100 million gold coins was not enough to buy it.

"100 million gold going once, are there any higher bids?"

Windcloud blade asked in the Guild channel.

everyone, don't raise the bid. Don't let that black-hearted man, one blade, earn any money.

The Guild leader who had bid 100 million gold coins said jokingly.

"F * ck, if I don't increase the price, would it be too cheap for you? Why don't I give you 100 million gold coins and you let me have the rod?"

Of course, the others were not happy about it. Although they were a little unhappy that they had let Windcloud blade get away with it by raising the price, they were still unhappy.

However, who wouldn't want a divine weapon? for the sake of a divine weapon, they couldn't care about anything else.

Even after the price had risen to 100 million gold coins, no one had any intention of stopping.

"150 million gold."

200 million. Don't f * cking fight with me. I'm going to go all out.

"What are you calling? 300 million."

"F * ck, you're ruthless."

brother, do you have to go this far? isn't it just a piece of equipment in the game? it's not worth it to pay such a high price.

When someone raised the bid to 300 million gold coins, everyone's enthusiasm for the auction died down.

Although these Guild bosses didn't lack money, they still spent 300 million gold coins to buy a piece of game equipment.

It still hurt a little. After all, no one's money came from nowhere. The key was that even if he continued to increase the price, he might not be able to get the stick.

Seeing that the auction had suddenly turned silent, wind and cloud blade was extremely displeased.

Although the price of 300 million gold coins was not considered low, he felt that these big shots still had potential that could be unearthed.

Thinking up to this point, Windcloud blade said, "

"300 million gold coins going once. Is there anyone who wishes to bid? If you want to make a move, don't miss this opportunity. There won't be such a chance again. I don't know when I'll be able to come across a divine weapon mission item again. Maybe I won't even be able to come across one next year."

Windcloud blade fan Qing's words made these guild leaders both moved and unhappy.

Of course, they knew the reason. Everyone had been playing this game for a long time.

It was publicly acknowledged that divine artifacts were difficult to obtain. This was only because their wind cloud Guild had Zhang Shan leading the way.

otherwise, he wouldn't even be able to get his hands on a single divine weapon.

But even so, a God-tier quest item was still a rare item.

This was only the second time he had encountered a divine artifact.

He didn't know how long he would have to wait before he could get another divine weapon mission item.

Most importantly, he might not be able to get his hands on something suitable for himself.

However, wind cloud blade's words made everyone unhappy. He was clearly saying ...

Idiots, hurry up and increase the price. If you don't increase the price, you won't have the chance anymore.

He was going to slaughter them while calling them fools in his heart.

However, what could he do? a divine artifact was very tempting.

Just as everyone was eager to give it a try and was prepared to raise the bid again, heart with me said indifferently.

"500 million gold."

Chapter 409 Bright ray sword (divine weapon)

Following my heart shouted out a bid of 500 million gold coins, shocking everyone.

Although everyone wanted a divine weapon, 500 million gold coins was too high.

After all, this was only a divine artifact mission item and not a finished divine artifact. There was no guarantee that it could be repaired into a complete divine artifact in the end.

Moreover, everyone guessed that the rusty stick was most likely a sword-shaped weapon.

But that wasn't necessarily the case. It was for spellblades, so was there a need to go all out?

When the bid reached 300 million gold, everyone was still a little hesitant. Who would have thought that heart follows will would immediately raise the bid to 500 million gold?

He was really too ruthless. He didn't give the others a way out.

Although there were many rich people among the big shots in the Guild, the difference between the rich and the poor was too great.

The difference was huge.

If it was only a few million gold coins, everyone would probably not even blink.

If he wanted to spend tens of millions, he could easily make a decision after some consideration.

However, when the price reached 100 million, he could no longer be so casual.

After all, no matter how rich they were, hundreds of millions of gold coins were not a small number.

During the bidding, everyone was very careful and slowly raising the price. In the end, they were able to raise the price to 500 million gold coins in an instant.

Then what was the point of playing?

The others shook their heads and gave up. Although divine artifacts were good, 500 million gold coins was too expensive.

After moving heart called out his bid, no one else followed.

Windcloud blade said with a smile.

“500 million gold going once, is there anyone who wishes to raise the bid?”

“500 million gold going twice. Brothers, the opportunity is right in front of you. If you miss this chance, you might have to wait until next year for the next one.”

“f * ck, why are you still bidding? it’s already at 500 million gold coins. who would dare to follow?”

He saw that Windcloud blade was still not satisfied even after raising the price of the staff to 500 million gold coins.

Asking them to increase the price was simply too much. Even if they were black-hearted, they should have a bottom line.

Wasn’t this like slaughtering a few sheep with all his might?

Windcloud blade did not care about the rebuttal of the Guild’s big shots.

It was fine as long as there was money to be earned. In order to earn money, it was not shameful to use some small tricks.

Although he wasn’t short of money, it was always good to get more money.

Besides, the big bosses in the Guild were all fat sheep, and they would take the opportunity to slaughter them.

he felt sorry for himself.

After repeatedly confirming that no one else was bidding. Wind and cloud blade traded the rusty staff to follow your heart.

As for the 500 million gold coins, of course, it was impossible for “follow my heart” to transfer it to him on the spot.

Who the hell would be so free to exchange so many gold coins and carry them with them? they could only wait for their will to move. When they returned to Dangyang city, they would go to the New World exchange and Exchange gold coins.

only then would he be able to trade the gold coins to wind and cloud blade.

after distributing the two most important items, the remaining three red equipment and one red material were not worth paying attention to.

feng yun realm distributed the items according to their damage.

After the item distribution was over, it was their turn to distribute red packets to those who had been allocated items.

According to the old rules, 10% of the item’s price would be given to all guild members who participated in the BOSS battle.

Zhang Shan's ultimate skill book was for his own use, and he had no intention of selling it.

he could only estimate the price. an ultimate skill book was relative to a divine weapon mission item.

It was not a small price, and there was a transaction record. According to the previous transaction price, it was estimated to be 100 million gold coins.

In this case, Zhang Shan would have to send out a red packet of 10 million gold coins.

10,000,000 gold coins was a huge sum.

However, Zhang Shan was now a rich man. He did not lack this little bit of money.

He quickly sent the red packet to the Guild channel, even though not all the Guild members had participated in the boss fight.

However, in such a situation, everyone generally agreed to send it to all guild members.

There was no need to be so calculative. If they had to count which guild members participated in the boss battle and which guild members didn't, they would have to be careful.

Wouldn't that be very troublesome? tens of thousands of people would be mixed together, and it wouldn't be easy to count them.

Moreover, if he were to haggle over it too much, he would seem a little petty.

as for those who did not participate in the boss battle, he would treat it as a bonus.

Zhang Shan had snatched his red packet, but he had only managed to get one gold coin. His luck was really good.

But it didn't matter. To him, snatching red packets was just for fun.

After Zhang Shan sent out the red packets, it was wind and cloud blade's turn.

the stick that he had received was sold for 500 million gold coins, so he had to give a red packet of 50 million gold coins.

after earning a huge sum of money, unstable blade did not hesitate and sent out the red packet.

Zhang Shan grabbed it casually. This time, he did well and managed to grab a hundred gold coins.

"let's go. find a place to farm monsters."

After distributing the loot, everyone went their separate ways. Those who needed to farm monsters and those who needed to try their luck in finding infernal cities went to find infernal cities.

Zhang Shan pulled his original four friends back into the team, forming a five-person monster-farming team.

However, even though there were five players in their party, following heart did not have the time to farm monsters.

He had to find an NPC to repair that rusty stick into a divine artifact.

In terms of quest difficulty, it should not be too difficult for a rusty stick to trigger a divine weapon quest.

After all, the item's description had already hinted that he had to find an expert to answer.

As for what kind of NPC could be considered a master?

This was easy to handle. He could just find a divine craftsman.

It was not like the beginning when he could not find a single high-level NPC.

there were at least two divine craftsmen in fixed positions. the players could find them as long as they ran over.

One was an Qisheng, who had helped Zhang Shan repair his ring, and the other was ou Zi, who had helped Feng Yun one blade and the little Secretary repair the divine equipment.

Moving heart only needed to bring the staff to the East Capital to find ou Zi. That should trigger the quest to repair the divine artifact.

as for the task of repairing the divine weapon, it would depend on ou zi's mood.

However, all of this was not important. At least there was a solution, which was much better than those confusing quest items.

Following my will, he cast a return scroll and returned to the city. The four of them randomly found a place with a high concentration of monsters in the Gerri wasteland to farm.

Even though the entire Guild had close to 100000 players, they were all grinding here.

However, the Gerri wilderness map was large enough for nearly 100000 people to farm monsters at the same time.

the four of them were farming monsters together, and windcloud blade said smugly.

"It would be great if there were more bosses like Magnus."

Wind and cloud blade was especially happy today. He sold the God-tier equipment quest item to moving heart for 500 million gold coins.

He had earned back all his investment in the game, and there was still a lot of surplus.

Although Zhang Shan had also obtained an ultimate skill book, in terms of value.

In today's BOSS battle, Windcloud blade was the biggest beneficiary. How could he not be happy?

However, if he was happy, others would not be happy.

Little fairy retorted when she saw how cocky Windcloud blade was.

"Even if you have to fight bosses every day, you won't be as lucky as you are now."

“How can you say that? I’m not someone who relies on luck to make a living. I rely on strength.”

“With your puny strength, if it wasn’t for brother Guan who needed a skill book, you wouldn’t have anything to do.”

“What’s wrong with my strength? Am I not strong enough? When the divine weapon axe is used, not many people can block it. ”

It would have been fine if wind and cloud blade did not mention the divine weapon, but the moment he mentioned it, little fairy was depressed.

As for their team of five, boss Wu was one of them. After all, he was only a support, and he didn’t really need the divine weapon.

The other three had already gotten their hands on a divine weapon or were in the process of making one. She was the only one who had nothing and was very hurt.

The depressed little demon brought up the past and said to Zhang Shan.

brother Butler, help me farm a divine weapon mission item. I’ll pay for it.

where am I supposed to go and farm for you? I still want a divine artifact.

Zhang Shan was speechless. He wasn’t a divine craftsman who knew how to make his own divine weapon. Where was he going to get her a divine weapon as a mission item?

Don’t you know how rare this thing is?

Otherwise, how could follow my heart spend 500 million gold coins on a divine artifact mission item?

Hmph, I don’t care. The next time a divine weapon drops, it must be for me.

Zhang Shan did not want to answer. Wasn’t this being unreasonable? Who knew when he would get another divine weapon mission item?

As for what could be dropped for professional use, that was even more up to fate. Zhang Shan had no say in this matter.

Zhang Shan didn’t want to speak and could only quietly farm monsters.

at night, following my heart finally completed the divine weapon mission and repaired the rusty stick into a divine weapon.

Everyone’s guess was correct. That rusty stick was indeed a long sword used by spellblades.

Follow me to the eastern capital and find the divine craftsman ou Zi, which triggered the divine weapon mission.

What followed was what Zhang Shan and the rest had experienced before. All sorts of running, all sorts of shopping.

And this was still what you can do with your heart. Because of the human hero title, he could teleport in the East Capital.

Otherwise, he would not be able to complete the divine weapon mission even if he ran until the next day.

Of course, all kinds of purchases would cost money. Zhang Shan did not ask him how much he had spent.

There was no need to ask. Just the God equipment mission item, following my will, had cost him 500 million gold.

What was that little bit of money spent on the mission?

after freewill sent the god equipment's attributes to the guild channel, he returned to gerri wilderness and continued to farm monsters with them.

zhang shan checked the attributes of the divine weapon.

[bright light sword (divine weapon): physical attack power 6000 – 6000, strength +600] equipment level (sealed): currently level 40. the divine equipment will gradually be unsealed as the player's level increases, and it will be unsealed once every ten levels.

Class requirement: Spellblade, durability: It will never be worn out, and is bound to the player's heart. It can not be dropped.

Special effect 1: power attack. Physical attack power increased by 10%.

Special effect 2: blind. A strong light that comes with the attack of a divine weapon. There is a certain chance of blinding the target.

The blinded target can not attack or move for one second. 5% chance of triggering.

Special effect 3: Triple Force. When attacking the same target, the attack power will stack.

the second attack will increase the attack power by 10%, the third attack will increase the attack power by 20%, and the maximum increase is 20%.

Special effect 4: Holy Strike. When attacking, the effect of Holy Strike will be triggered. It will ignore the target's defense and deal 10 times the damage.

After looking at the attributes and special effects of the bright ray sword, Zhang Shan realized that the special effects of his hand cannon were the worst.

Why did he feel that the special effects of other people's godly weapons were better than his?

This bright ray sword didn't seem to have any special characteristics, except for its smooth output.

Usually, when they were farming monsters, their effects weren't obvious.

However, when it came to fighting bosses, this bright ray sword would be awesome.

5% chance of blinding, an additional 20% attack power.

However, even though it was extremely powerful, the special effect of this God equipment seemed to be the exact opposite of wind and cloud blade's axe.

Wind and cloud blade's divine weapon axe could suddenly cast AoE attacks, while bright ray sword was more effective on a single target.

As for which divine weapon was better, they really couldn't figure it out.

Of course, if Zhang Shan had to say it, he would still feel that wind cloud blade's axe was better.

after all, killing monsters was the mainstream, no matter what the purpose of playing the game was.

The thing that every player did the most in the game was to kill monsters.

a weapon or equipment that was useful for farming monsters was, of course, the most practical.

although the bright ray sword wasn't bad in all aspects, it didn't particularly strengthen its ability to farm monsters.

Of course, heart follows my movements was a Spellblade class, so he didn't need special effects like splash.

He had enough AoE skills and could use them continuously.

His requirement for the divine weapon was more to increase its attack power. It would be fine as long as the attack power was increased enough.

In this aspect, this bright ray sword was quite suitable for him.

Everyone was numb to the appearance of the fifth divine weapon in the game, and they were no longer as impulsive as the previous few times.

However, it was inevitable to ridicule him.

The world Channel:

"I just want to ask, has the wind and cloud Guild bought all the divine equipment?"

"what's the situation? Is there a new divine weapon?"

holy sh * t! Spellblades 'weapons are out too!

f * ck, is there any way to complain about this game? I want to complain.

"What do you want to complain about? Is it because no one else told you how to get a divine weapon?"

the people from wind and cloud Guild are too much. They've secretly monopolized the divine equipment.

there are only five divine artifacts in total. What's there to monopolize? "

"Fuck, you say it so easily. What do you mean by only five divine artifacts? If you have the ability, then make a divine artifact."

don't be so noisy. I'm going to send someone to the wind and cloud Guild as an undercover. Sooner or later, I'll dig out the secret of their divine equipment.

“Don’t worry. If you can think of it, someone else must have done it long ago. As for whether it’s effective or not, I don’t know. I don’t think all the members of the wind and cloud Guild know about this secret, right?”

look at all of you. You should figure it out on your own. Back then, the six-barreled Bodhisattva could find a way to make divine artifacts. Why can’t you? ”

“F * ck, if you can do it, you can do it?”

“Let’s go. A high-end item like a divine artifact has no fate with us mortals. Even if you know the secret, so what? even if you know how to get it, can you get the divine weapon?”

that’s right. If there’s anything good, it’ll definitely be the big shots who pay-to-win first. We won’t get anything.

Zhang Shan was farming monsters while looking at the world Channel.

The secret of the divine weapon could not be kept for long, and he had already been mentally prepared for this.

Especially after the BOSS battle, the items dropped were displayed in the Guild channel because there were too many people participating.

it would be easy for others to deduce that a rusty stick was the key to creating a divine artifact.

If others had similar items, they would probably try it too.

Of course, the prerequisite was that someone had to have a divine artifact in their hands.

These items were very difficult to obtain, but aside from the five of them, there was not a single one. That was impossible.

After all, there were a lot of players in the game, and there would always be some lucky people who might have already obtained similar things.

It was also possible that they had left it in the warehouse to eat dust because they did not know how to use it.

However, the number would not be too high. Zhang Shan estimated that even if other players still had God-tier equipment in their hands.

there wouldn’t be too many, no more than two or three.

Otherwise, they wouldn’t have been in the auction house all this time and couldn’t buy it anymore.

Because the amount offered was too little, and others didn’t have it, of course they couldn’t sell it.

Chapter 410

Zhang Shan didn’t want to be bothered by the secret of how to obtain the divine weapon and how to keep it.

he felt that it was already necessary.

The game had been open for so long, and even if they didn't say anything, others would probably find out the way.

moreover, the drop rate of a divine artifact mission item was so low that it was not a problem that could be solved by keeping it a secret.

There was no point in keeping it a secret, as there was no place to buy it.

As for divine materials, compared to divine artifact mission items, these things dropped quite a lot.

He had collected more than a dozen of them, all of which he had bought from the auction house.

what did this mean?

For other players, it was also an item of unknown use, but he could buy divine materials at the auction house.

However, divine artifacts and quest items could not be bought.

From the start of the game until now, in the three to four months, he had only bought two divine artifacts from the auction house.

This showed how rare the God-tier quest items were. There were so many players in the game.

He didn't get many divine artifacts.

So, it didn't matter whether it was kept a secret or not.

After moving heart returned, the five-man party started farming monsters at a rapid pace.

However, as their levels increased, they would need a massive amount of experience points to level up.

No matter how fast they farmed, it would still take a few days for them to level up.

Of course, if Zhang Shan was alone, he might be faster, but not by much.

Besides, he was going to bring Mr. Wu to farm monsters anyway. Now that the five of them were farming together, it didn't slow down his leveling efficiency too much.

After all, Windcloud blade and heart moves with me could farm very quickly. Currently, little fairy was the only one in the party, so she was a burden.

Compared to the efficiency of the three of them, the little fairy's farming speed was much slower.

they had no choice. little fairy didn't have a divine weapon, so her attack power was much weaker than theirs.

Moreover, the speed at which archers farmed monsters was not fast to begin with.

Although little fairy spawned slower, no one had any intention of kicking her out of the party.

In any case, it would be best for a monster-farming team to have five people in order to be the most efficient.

although little fairy was slower than them, she wasn't slow compared to the others.

Other than the fact that she did not have a divine weapon, she was not inferior to the others in any other way, and her skills were very good.

The fairy also had the wrath of the stars skill, which was very powerful in fighting.

just as zhang shan was focused on killing monsters, wind and cloud blade suddenly asked him.

"brother liu guan, did you tell boss about the monsters attacking the demon-suppressing city tomorrow?"

"Damn, I forgot."

Zhang Shan had really forgotten. Too many things had happened today, and he really could not remember this.

windcloud blade was speechless. how could he forget this?

"You're really a Big Shot. I'm impressed. How can you forget this? if you don't tell us in advance, where are you going to find people to help you defend the city tomorrow? you can't expect the five of us to defend the demon-suppressing city, right?"

"Brother, I was wrong. I'll go find the boss and ask him to make arrangements."

Windcloud blade was right. If he wanted to find guild members to help defend the city, he had to make a prior agreement.

otherwise, it was uncertain how many people would be online tomorrow.

Besides, other people might have other arrangements tomorrow. This was something that they had already agreed on.

At that time, it would be good enough if half of the Guild came.

after zhang shan finished speaking, he immediately called for feng yun realm.

boss, there will be a monster attack in the demon-suppressing city tomorrow. Let everyone know and come. Otherwise, we won't be able to defend the city.

Hearing Zhang Shan's call, Feng Yun realm was a little confused.

"What kind of monster attack? how come i didn't know about it?"

Feng Yun realm did not have any. After hearing what Zhang Shan said, he thought that it was a monster attack event for the entire game.

After hearing Zhang Shan's words, Feng Yun realm even specially went to check the system announcement.

He didn't see any announcement about the monster attack.

Hearing Feng Yun realm's reply, Zhang Shan knew that Feng Yun realm did not understand what he meant.

He quickly explained.

it's a monster attack in the demon suppression city. Only the demon suppression city has it. After I finished building the city, I received a system notification.

"is it a monster attack only targeted at the demon-suppressing city?"

Feng Yun realm finally understood.

This was a person's way of thinking. When it came to monster sieges, Feng Yun realm would naturally think of the system announcement.

...

Now that the monster siege had been revised to once a month, there would definitely be a system announcement before each event.

he had forgotten that the city that zhang shan had built was not a system city, but a player-built city.

Some things would be very different from NPC cities.

especially zhang shan's demon-suppressing city, which had been snatched from the hands of the demons.

After Zhang Shan built the city, it was understandable that he had to experience a monster attack.

" yes, only for the demon-suppressing city. tomorrow night at eight o'clock. " alright, I got it. I'll make an announcement in the Guild channel later, and you can explain it to the other guild members.

Not long after, Feng Yun realm made an announcement in the Guild channel.

the general content was that the demon suppression city of the six-man city lord (zhang shan) would have a monster attack at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

everyone try to stay online so that we can go and defend the city and kill the boss together.

after feng yun realm's announcement, the guild channel became lively.

"Haha, there are still monster attacks in the newly built city? That means we have a boss to fight."

"There'll definitely be a boss. I wonder if we can beat it?"

"What are you worried about? we were able to take down such a ferocious BOSS like Magnus, so a small BOSS in a city attack would be a piece of cake."

"Yes, there's nothing to worry about. No matter how strong the BOSS is, it can't possibly be stronger than Magnus."

I wonder how many bosses will appear when the monsters attack the city tomorrow. If there are a lot of them, that would be great. Maybe we can get another divine weapon.

stop dreaming. It'll be good enough if we can get some experience points and drop some trash equipment.

"Are we the only ones defending the city tomorrow? Do we need to look for outside help? it would be a joke if we can't defend the city when the time comes."

are you kidding me? our Guild has 100000 players. Do you think we can't defend a small city? "

" the problem is, we don't know what kind of monsters will appear when the monsters attack the city. if the monsters are too strong, we won't be able to stop them. "

"Six-man, are you looking for outside help? If there's a need, I'll go find someone."

asked feng yun realm.

To be honest, none of them had ever experienced a monster attack in a player's city.

No one knew what level of monsters and bosses would come to attack the city with the intensity of the monster siege.

If too many powerful monsters came, their Guild might not necessarily be able to withstand them.

It was not embarrassing to call for outside help. It was much better than not being able to defend the city.

Regarding Feng Yun realm's suggestion, Zhang Shan had seriously considered it and still felt that it was not necessary.

the main thing was that the demon-suppressing city was not very big.

If all 100000 of their guild members were there, it was already quite a number.

if there were too many people, there wouldn't be enough space. there wouldn't be a need to squeeze in.

Moreover, if there were too many people involved in the defense of the city, it was easy for things to go wrong.

For example, when a BOSS appeared, if everyone went to fight for it, what was the point of guarding the city?

It would be better to just have their own guild members defend the city.

After all, it would be easier to control the people in his own Guild.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan replied on the Guild channel.

"there's no need to ask for outside help. our guild has 100000 members, which is more than enough. demon-suppressing city is not a big city. if there are too many people, there won't be enough space to stand. moreover, i've prepared 12 six-barrel fire god cannons. they'll be of great help when we defend the city."

f * ck, has the boss already built the six-barrel fire god cannon? " yes, there weren't enough materials, so I only built 12.

Just as Zhang Shan finished speaking, he suddenly remembered that he had not collected enough materials.

However, there were so many people in the Guild. Perhaps someone else also had the corresponding materials.

He would ask around. If he could gather more materials and build a few more fire god cannons, the monster siege tomorrow would be much more stable.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan continued to ask in the Guild channel.

"Do you have the materials to build the six-barrel fire god cannon? I bought all the materials in the auction house, but I only managed to build 12."

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he displayed the names of the two most scarce materials needed to build the fire god cannon on the Guild channel.

A lot of materials were needed to build the six-barrel fire god cannon.

However, most of them were common materials that could be bought at the auction house as long as one was willing to spend.

It was nothing more than spending some gold coins.

However, there were two materials that were not much on the auction house. Zhang Shan had basically bought them all last time.

So, he asked in the Guild channel to see if anyone had saved it.

After all, the materials that people didn't need usually wouldn't be sold. They would usually be stored in the warehouse.

I think I have one. Do you want it, six-barreled Big Shot? "

"I want one too."

Zhang Shan did not mind. One for each of them, wouldn't they slowly accumulate?

I think I have two or three, but I can't remember clearly. I'll take a look when I return to the city. If I have any, I'll mail it to you.

there are too many random materials in the warehouse. I can't remember them clearly. Before I go offline tonight, I'll go to the warehouse and take a look. If there are any, I'll mail them to you.

The members of the Guild spoke one after another. There were indeed people who had saved up the materials to build the fire god cannon.

Although the number was small, it was still a good thing to build another fire god cannon.

The damage output of a fire god cannon was almost the same as Zhang Shan's own damage output.

Compared to other players, he was dozens of times stronger.

More importantly, the six-barrel Vulcan cannon had a longer range of a hundred yards.

The advantage of a longer shooting range in city defense activities was very obvious.

It could block the path of the monsters attacking the city with firepower from a longer distance.

If not for the fact that he could not get his hands on the materials, Zhang Shan would have built hundreds of fire god cannons in one go.

The entire city wall of the demon-suppressing city was filled with six-barrel fire god cannons.

If that was the case, he wouldn't even need the Guild members to help defend the city.

He could take care of the monsters attacking the city by himself with his team.

Unfortunately, the materials were too difficult to obtain.

He'd see tomorrow. He'd see if the Guild members were willing to put in the effort and how many portions of materials for the six-barrel Vulcan cannon could be found for him.

His proficiency with the fire god cannon was still not high enough.

At the moment, the construction success rate was about fifty percent. Two sets of materials were needed to build one fire god cannon.

in the afternoon of the second day, zhang shan checked his mail. the guild members had sent over a total of ten materials.

if he gathered them together, he would be able to gather six sets of materials.

He took out all the materials in the mail and returned them the gold coins at double the price.

These people had helped him a lot. Otherwise, he would not know where to buy the materials with the gold coins.

Zhang Shan looked at the time. It was now past four in the afternoon. The monster attack was at eight in the evening.

he stopped farming monsters and said to his teammates.

I'll go back and try again to see how many six-barrel fire god cannons I can build.

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, wind and cloud blade asked him.

"How many sets of materials do you have now?"

"There are currently six sets. When I go back, I'll go to the auction house to see if I can buy more."

try to get as many as possible. These six-barrel Vulcan cannons are still very powerful. One of them is comparable to dozens of powerful players.

"Yes, but it's a pity that the materials aren't easy to find."

"it's good that it's hard to find. if you don't lack the materials, you can make thousands of fire god cannons. others won't be able to live."

"You're right. I'll go back first."

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he started to channel his return to the city.

His locating Pearl could only locate three coordinates, one of which was in front of the stone tablet of the mayor's mansion in the demon-suppressing city.

one was in the gerri wilderness, and the other was free for future use.

He had already removed the coordinates of the auction house in Dangyang city.

he could only return to the city with a channeling bar now. he couldn't directly teleport back like before.

After returning to Dangyang city, Zhang Shan first teleported to the auction house to see if there were any new materials.

It had been a few days since he went to the auction house to buy all the materials.

he really managed to find two more sets of materials.

Including the ones his guild members had sent him, he now had a total of eight sets of materials.

He hoped that he could build a few more, at least four.

Zhang Shan brought the materials and teleported to the Guild's base. He used his Guild contribution points to enter the Guild workshop.

He went to the operating table and placed the first set of materials on the operating table. A flame flashed, and he failed.

don't worry, one more time.

Another failure.

Zhang Shan was extremely depressed.

Damn it, there were only eight sets of ingredients in total, and two were wasted.

was it because he hadn't built the fire god cannon for a few days that his hands had become rusty?

How could the failure rate be so high?

generally speaking, with his current proficiency, he should have a fifty percent success rate.

Although it was depressing, the construction had to continue.

Zhang Shan continued to place the materials on the operating table.

After a flash of light, a Mini Six-barrel Vulcan cannon slowly appeared on the console.

Haha, I've finally made another one.

Not bad, again.

Zhang Shan immediately used up the remaining five sets of materials.

They were all successfully built.

His luck was simply off the charts.

In other words, he had used eight sets of materials to build six fire god cannons.

This success rate was not bad.

In Zhang Shan's backpack, there were four left, in addition to the six newly built fire god cannons.

He still had ten six-barrel fire god cannons in his hands.

Moreover, he had already set up four of them on the city gate tower of the demon-suppressing city.

Not counting the four in the city Lord's mansion, he had prepared fourteen six-barrel fire god cannons for the city's defense.

it should be enough.

After the fire god cannon was completed, Zhang Shan decided to repair the equipment and buy the supplies.

Then, he used the positioning ball to teleport back to the place where he had been farming monsters.

Seeing Zhang Shan return, wind and cloud blade asked him.

"It's done? How many have you made this time?"

"six. there are four left from last time, so there are ten left. they haven't been set up yet."

"How do you plan to set up these fire god cannons?"

Windcloud blade continued to ask.

"Let's distribute them evenly. Put two or three on each wall and we can control them for a long distance. However, we'll have to wait for the monsters to attack the city before setting up the fire god cannons. We're not sure if the monsters will attack the city walls or the city gates."

Zhang Shan thought for a while and replied.

The main reason was that no one had ever experienced a monster attack on a player's city.

No one knew what it was like.

New world was different from other games in many ways.

Let's talk about this monster attack.

In the beginning, the monsters appeared directly in the city.

After the game's revision, the monsters that attacked the city could not enter the NPC city. If players wanted to earn city defense contribution points, they could only farm monsters outside the city.

Zhang Shan felt that the monster attack in the demon-suppressing city this time would definitely be different from the previous ones.

This was because the monsters that had attacked the city before would not destroy the city.

This time, the system notification said that the demons were going to destroy the demon-suppressing city.

there were two ways to destroy the demon-suppressing city.

One was to tear down the city walls, and the other was to enter the city Lord's mansion and destroy the city Lord's golden seal.

Zhang Shan was inclined to the first possibility.

because if the demons could directly enter the city lord's mansion, there would be no point in guarding it.

only by attacking the city walls that the players were trying to defend would it be possible.

However, all of this was just speculation. The ten fire god cannons in his backpack were his most crucial mobile power.

If they had relied on the strength of their guild members to defend the city from the start, they would have been able to defend the city.

He would keep the ten fire god cannons until the end of the monster siege.

that's right. It's best to wait for the monsters to attack the city and then set up the fire god cannon according to the situation. After all, you can teleport within the city and quickly arrive at any location.

"Yes, we'll see when the time comes."

When it was time for dinner, Zhang Shan went to the little demon's house for dinner as usual.

He had already gotten used to eating and didn't need the little demon to call him.

He went offline to pack up, then went to the little demon's house next door and came back after eating.

Although Zhang Shan felt that this did not seem very good, he got used to it after eating it a few times.

Besides, boss Wu didn't move in so soon. His house was still under renovation.

Boss Wu was not like Zhang Shan, who could move into a new house just by dragging his suitcase.

He even had to do a special renovation design, so he probably wouldn't move in until the end of the year.

When boss Wu moved in, Zhang Shan was not sure if he would ever have to go to his house for a meal.

Because he had already become used to eating at the little fairy's house.

After dinner, they were farming monsters until 7:30 pm. Zhang Shan shouted in the Guild channel.

there's a monster attack at eight o'clock. Remember to come early.

"Received."

"Received +1."

"Received +2."

"Received +3."

"received +10086."

got it. Don't worry, boss. With me here, the demon-suppressing city is impregnable.

"Holy sh * t, you're just bragging."

"Hahaha."

Zhang Shan used the positioning Pearl and teleported to the front of the stone tablet in the demon suppressing city Lord's residence.

he still had to control the teleportation array.

Otherwise, it would be troublesome if a large group of people came to cause trouble when the monsters attacked the city.

However, after the teleportation formation was activated, he could only adjust the fee and not close the teleportation formation.

He didn't believe that they could raise the fees.

Even if there were people who wanted to feel bad for him, they would not feel bad for dollar.

When he increased the teleportation fee to 10000 gold coins per teleportation, no one would come to cause trouble.

Even if there were such idiots, there shouldn't be too many of them.

after all, it would cost 10000 gold coins to teleport one person.

It would cost 100 million gold coins to teleport 10000 people.

After all, there shouldn't be many rich customers like black Gold in the entire game.

moreover, if all 100000 members of the wind and cloud guild were present ...

Even if thousands or tens of thousands of people were teleported over, they would not be able to cause any trouble and would be annihilated in minutes.

If they wanted to cause trouble, they would have to teleport at least tens of thousands of people.

Zhang Shan did not believe that anyone would spend hundreds of millions of gold coins just to make him feel bad.

Even if he had offended the most ruthless domineering King, he probably wouldn't.

Regardless of whether there were such idiots, Zhang Shan would follow his own pace.

He had increased the fee to 10000 gold per use.

and this time, zhang shan had even posted a notice on the world channel.

The world Channel:

Six-barreled Bodhisattva: " tonight at eight o'clock, the demon-suppressing city will be attacked by monsters. I've raised the teleportation fee to ten thousand gold coins. I hope you don't teleport over for the time being.

Zhang Shan had just finished speaking when the entire world Channel became lively.

"Monsters attacking the city? What do you mean by that?"

"this month's monster attack isn't here yet, right? i remember it's on the 18th."

"you guys are so stubborn. six-pipe bodhisattva was talking about the monster attack in the demon-suppressing city, not a monster attack that involved everyone."

f * ck, players have to experience monster attacks when building a city? "

"It looks like it."

haha, I'm going over to have some fun. Maybe I can even pick up a BOSS.

you're thinking too much if you want to kill the BOSS. Can you afford the teleportation fee? "

f * ck, 10000 gold for the teleportation fee? Blackie is back again.

it's fine this time. At least six-barreled Bodhisattva informed us in advance. As long as no one wants to cause trouble, I don't think anyone will be teleported over at this time.

"So that's how it is. So six tube Bodhisattva is afraid that someone will go over and cause trouble."

"If he was afraid that someone would cause trouble, he could have just kept quiet. Why did he have to say it?"

"Nonsense, is it okay if he doesn't say anything? there were still many players in demon-suppressing city, and they were not blind. Everyone will know when the monsters start attacking the city."

"Oh, you're right."

hehe, everyone, let's guess. Will anyone go over and cause trouble later? "

"Do you even need to guess? There will definitely be some, but if there aren't many people going over, they won't be able to cause any waves."

I'm sure the domineering King has been waiting for this opportunity for a long time, right? "

"The domineering King? Did he dare to go over? It's not that I'm looking down on him, but he's just a delivery man. " that's right. 10000 gold coins for a single teleportation. How many people can the domineering King bring with him? if it wasn't for the fact that he had so many people, the domineering King would just be a piece of trash.

if the domineering King is planning to go all out, then that's hard to say.

"who knows? we shouldn't be worrying about this."

After Zhang Shan adjusted the fees for the teleportation circle, he looked at the world Channel for a while and saw the players' discussion.

He suddenly felt that he might have underestimated the domineering King.

This iron-headed girl might really pay a huge price to teleport people over and cause trouble for him.

He had to be on guard.

But how could he guard against it? the teleportation formation couldn't be closed.

Zhang Shan thought for a while and suddenly slapped his head.

Oh my God, I'm really a blockhead.

Why did they have to shut down the teleportation formation? Wouldn't it be the same if the teleportation array was stuck outside?

Just like the last time they went to blue field city to massacre the city, they set up a defense outside the teleportation Hall.

It would be difficult for others to rush over.
