Chapter 411 The demons “attack on the city

Zhang Shan had originally thought that as long as he increased the teleportation fee to 10000 gold coins per teleportation.

No one would come and cause trouble when the monsters attacked the city.

Even if there were, it would be a small group of people and would not affect him much.

However, after looking at the discussion of the other players in the world Channel ...

He felt that he still needed to be on guard.

after all, he had quite a few old enemies in this game.

People like the unparalleled gentleman of the Qi Kingdom and the ghostly Tiger of the Yan Kingdom had all been abused by Zhang Shan before.

of course, the most important one was still the domineering king of the state of qin.

This iron-headed kid had been miserably abused by Zhang Shan.

It was hard to say if Subjugator would bring a large group of players to cause trouble when the monsters attacked the city.

If they were defending against the monsters that were attacking the city.

The sudden arrival of the domineering King with a group of people ...

It might really cause him a lot of trouble.

They might not be able to defend the demon-suppressing city.

if the demons were to destroy the demon-suppressing city ...

Then Zhang Shan would have suffered a huge loss.

He had invested a lot in the demon-suppressing city.

This was only his second day as the city Lord, and he was still far from breaking even.

Moreover, if there was no demon-suppressing city ...

They occupied the Gerri wilderness, the farming spot.

It would become a place of no value.

This can't do.

The demon-suppressing city must be defended.

They could not afford to be careless in this wave of monster attacks.

He would rather make more preparations, as it was better to be prepared.

As for what kind of preparations he had to make?

Actually, it wasn't difficult.

One method was to arrange a few hundred people.

The entrance of the teleportation Hall of the demon-suppressing city was blocked.

I'll beat them up one by one, who cares what they're here for.

As long as it was during a monster attack, teleporting to demon suppression city would not be a good thing.

Even if they were all beaten up, there wouldn't be many who would be wronged.

Although this method was good, it would waste a lot of manpower.

And it wasn't necessarily safe.

If there were too many people being teleported over ...

If they put a few hundred people to defend, they might not be able to stop it.

Unless they mobilized a large number of Guild elites to block the entrance of the teleportation Hall.

However, if they mobilized too many Guild elites, it would affect their defensive strength.

after all, during a monster siege, their main focus would definitely be on the monsters attacking the city.

There was another method, which was to block the entrance of the teleportation Hall.

However, there was no need to send guild members to defend.

all zhang shan needed to do was to place two to three six-barrel fire god cannons at the entrance of the teleportation hall.

If two or three six-barrel fire god cannons were aimed at the teleportation Hall ...

No one could even think of rushing out.

After all, the fire god Cannon's attack power was very terrifying, and its attack speed was also very fast.

With an attack power of 50000, he could basically kill anyone he saw.

Two attacks per second, three mechs meant six attacks.

Moreover, the six-barrel Vulcan cannon had an extremely long range and could control a large area of fire.

Most importantly, the six-barrel Vulcan machine gun didn't need anyone to control it. It only needed to be set up in its attack mode.

as a city defense machine, the reaction speed of the fire god cannon was not something that players could compare to.

unlike players, they had time to raise their hands when they attacked.

As long as an enemy entered the six-barrel Vulcan Cannon's attack range, it would automatically attack.

His reaction speed was very fast.

It was a pity that he had too few fire god cannons on hand and did not dare to use them recklessly.

Zhang Shan considered for a long time and decided to send his guild members to defend first.

after the monster siege began, he just had to keep an eye on it.

In any case, he could teleport across the entire city.

He could instantly reach any place in the city.

As long as he was mentally prepared, he would not waste the fire god cannon here.

If no one had teleported over to cause trouble, he would place the fire god cannon at the entrance of the teleportation Hall.

Wouldn't that be a waste?

Therefore, there was no rush for this. Later, he would arrange more people to defend well.

Once a large number of people appeared and teleported over when the monsters attacked the city, they would be able to escape.

He immediately teleported over. There were two to three six-barrel fire god cannons at the entrance of the teleportation Hall.

Teleporting here would also be giving him a head and money.

After all, the current teleportation fee was 10000 gold coins.

if he teleported one person, zhang shan could earn 5000 gold coins.

It made him feel conflicted.

He didn't want anyone to come and make trouble.

He also hoped that someone would teleport over so that he could earn more teleportation fees. He was in a dilemma.

Not long after Zhang Shan had set the teleportation fee.

The other members of the Guild also stopped farming monsters.

Slowly, they gathered in the demon-suppressing city.

Someone asked in the Guild channel.

“how are we going to play this monster attack? are we going to defend outside the city or inside the city?”

go up the city wall. You can go up the city wall of the demon-suppressing city.

Zhang Shan quickly replied.

The city walls of the demon-suppressing city were accessible to players, which was very different from other NPC cities.

“Haha, can we go up the city wall? I want to go up the city wall to see the scenery.”

haha, it’s fun. It’s still better to stand on the city wall. You can see far when you’re high up.

f * ck, if you’re going up, walk further away. Don’t block the stairway. How are we going to go up like this? ”

“Why are you taking the stairs? watch me teleport.”

Windcloud blade used teleportation in an ostentatious manner and directly flew to the top of the city wall.”

After the five of them completed the city-seizing mission, each of them would be rewarded with the title of human hero.

Other than increasing damage by 10%, the greatest use of the title of Terran hero was that it was the ” it allowed him to teleport to any human city.

even a player-built city like the demon-suppressing city could not restrict them from using teleportation.

“Brother one blade, you’re drawing aggro, hehe.”

“Ignore him, one blade is cheap.”

About ten minutes before the monster attack, most of the Guild members had arrived.

other than a few guild members who were not online, there were only a few dozen people left.

Feng Yun realm had arranged for them to guard the entrance of the passage in the Gerri wilderness so that they would not have to defend the city.

they would let others snatch the farming spot.

Demon-suppressing city was only a small city, and nearly 100000 guild members were walking up the city wall.

the city wall was filled with them.

On the city wall, there were four to five people standing every one meter.

In addition to the players from the wind and cloud Guild, there were also some players from other countries.

before zhang shan had raised the teleportation fee, they had already been teleported to the demon suppression city.

However, they didn't dare to stay in the demon-suppressing city.

The entire demon-suppressing city was filled with Guild wind and cloud's members.

if they stayed in the city, they would be cut down easily.

The demon-suppressing city was not like Heaven's Gate. There was no safe zone here.

Not to mention the foreign players, even the players of Chu country could be attacked.

After returning to demon suppression city, the members of wind and cloud Guild activated the clearing mode.

He swept through the entire demon-suppressing city.

As long as they weren't from their Guild, they would be killed.

Seeing that everyone had arrived, Zhang Shan called out to Feng Yun realm.

"Boss, the teleportation array can't be shut down. Arrange a few hundred people to block the teleportation Hall. I'm afraid that someone will teleport over and cause trouble."

"Alright, I'll make the arrangements."

after feng yun realm finished speaking, he arranged for feng yun cupid to bring a few hundred people.

Go to the teleportation Hall and set up defenses.

The wind cloud Hill bitte had an ultimate skill. Even if thousands of people rushed out of the teleportation Hall at once, they would still be able to escape.

he could also use his big move to clear most of them.

it was enough to last until zhang shan reacted.

As long as Zhang Shan teleported over, it would be useless no matter how many people he teleported over.

Out of the ten six-barrel fire god cannons in his backpack, he would keep two or three of them.

If someone came to cause trouble, he could immediately arrange for it.

after everything was arranged, everyone stood on the city wall and enjoyed the scenery.

They bragged happily while waiting for the monsters to attack the city.

[system notification: dear Lord of the demon-suppressing city, the demons will arrive in five minutes.]

The demonic invasion will last for two hours. Please be prepared.

f * ck, the monsters will attack the city for two hours.

After seeing the system notification, Zhang Shan cried out in surprise.

Their usual monster sieges would last for an hour. Why was it the demon-suppressing city's turn?

It would last for two hours. This would probably increase the difficulty.

"Is it true, Big Boss six-barreled?"

"It's true. I just received a system notification."

"Why can't we see the system prompt?"

"You're not the city Lord, so of course you can't see it. When you become the city Lord, you'll be able to see it, hehe."

"F * ck, who are you mocking? after we finish defending the city, I'll go and find a Demon City. I'm going to take down a Demon City and become its city Lord."

"It's good to have a dream, but I don't think you'll be able to realize it in this lifetime, hehe."

"You want to be the city Lord? Are you still sleeping? do you know how strong the BOSS in the demon City is?"

" that's right. back in this city, the demon city lord was a BOSS with a real name. could you beat him? "

"If you can't win, you can call for help."

"It's easy to attack the city, but it's hard to find a Demon City,"

" i know, right? it's been more than a day, and i haven't heard of anyone who has found a new demon city. "

"Let's take it slow, there will definitely be."

of course. With the first Demon City, there will be a second one.

sigh, this monster attack will actually last for two hours. I hope we don't fail.

" what are you afraid of? there are so many of us. do we need to be afraid of a puny demon? " by the way, Big Boss six-barreled, did the system prompt mention how the monster attack will be carried out? are there any restrictions on us, such as resurrection? "

" no, the system notification did not say anything. it only said that the demons are going to destroy the demon-suppressing city and that we should prepare to defend the city. "

"You didn't say anything? Then what should we do?"

you're so stupid. You didn't say anything, which means there's no limit. If you die, you can just revive and come back.

"Is it like this? However, there is no resurrection point in the demon-suppressing city. Do we have to resurrect in Dangyang city after we die and then teleport back here?"

"It should be like this."

"It doesn't matter. It doesn't take much time to teleport here from Dangyang city."

"You're right."

"look at you guys. why do you want to die? you are just a small demon. can you kill me?"

you're awesome. You'll be at the front later.

"Of course, it'd be best if we don't die. If we die, we'll lose a level."

"so what if it dropped, it'll just respawn again."

While everyone was bragging, the sky in the distance suddenly darkened.

The earth quaked, and a horn sounded in the distance.

f * ck, the demons are here. Everyone, get ready and stop talking nonsense.

Zhang Shan teleported to the top of the city gate and looked at the black line in the distance, spreading toward the demon-suppressing city.

"Isn't this a little too Grand?"

it's just a small matter. As long as it's not a series of real-name bosses, everything else is nothing.

that's right. No matter how many monsters come, they'll just be giving us experience.

it's best to have more red bosses. We can get some experience points and some equipment.

"Haha, you're right. Let's have more bosses."

everyone was full of confidence in this wave of city defense. they were not worried at all.

however, when the demons that were attacking the city slowly approached, everyone was shocked.

"Damn, what kind of monster is that? Why is he so big?"

f * ck, there are a few big monsters. What are those? "

"It's a little far, I can't see the name clearly."

zhang shan looked forward and saw that from all four directions of the demon-suppressing city, a huge number of demons were rushing over.

Eight of them were huge monsters, and they were especially eye-catching.

After a while, everyone saw the monster's name.

The demon race's siege beast.

"f * ck, this can't be specially used to destroy the city walls, right?"

“That’s definitely the case,”

“Then what should we do? Should we go down the city wall and stop these giant beasts outside?”

“I’m afraid we can’t stop them.”

zhang shan looked at the slowly approaching monster. after thinking for a while, he said in the guild channel.

“We’ll guard the city wall. If the city wall is broken, we’ll block the gap.”

He felt that it would be more difficult to fight down the city wall.

After all, they had the city walls now and could rely on them.

Even if a part of the city wall was broken by the behemoth, at least the other parts of the city wall were still intact.

as for what would happen if the city wall was damaged?

Zhang Shan did not know. Perhaps after the event ended, the system would automatically repair itself?

Now, they just needed to defend the city.

When the attacking demons were within a hundred yards of the city, the four six-barrel Vulcan machine guns on the city gate automatically opened fire.

The light blue flame streaked across the sky, pouncing towards the distant demons.

Large numbers of demons fell to the ground.

Apart from the eight huge monsters, the other demons attacking the city were basically all level 50 demon soldiers.

These demon soldiers were not too strong for them.

With the attack power of the six-barrel Vulcan cannon, they could all be killed in an instant.

Zhang Shan looked in the direction of a huge demon and teleported towards the city wall.

no matter what kind of attributes these giant beasts had, they had to deal with these big guys first.

When the Asmodians got close to Zhang Shan’s shooting range, he decisively opened fire.

The bullets were fired at the demons outside the city.

Due to the passive effect of ejection, his speed of clearing monsters was much faster than that of the fire god cannon.

With one strike, 12 Asmodians fell to the ground, and a large number of Asmodians were cleared in an instant.

In the demon race that he was facing, he had managed to create an opening.

Chapter 412 Mountain rain

when the demons got close to the city wall, everyone opened fire.

All kinds of firepower were thrown at the demons below the city wall.

he looked at the long-ranged classes in the guild, who were happily fighting.

The other melee players in the Guild were not happy. They were standing on the city wall and couldn't kill the monsters.

However, their displeasure only lasted for two seconds.

The demon soldiers at the foot of the city wall jumped up onto the city wall.

"F * ck, are these demon soldiers all superhumans? How can they jump up from such a high wall?"

what's the point of calling? if they can't jump up, how are they going to attack the city? "

"Maybe the demons have a ladder. They can use a ladder to climb up, hehe."

I'm afraid you're thinking too much. This is a game. How can you do something so LOW like climbing a ladder? " don't be so noisy. Hurry up and clear the demon soldiers on the city wall. If you stand on the city wall, you'll be chased and cut down by the demon soldiers.

" you bratty brat, what are you afraid of? fight the demon soldiers. " that's right. There's only so much space on the city wall. Why the hell are you running? just fight.

"Support my ass. If I could hold on, why would I run?"

After the demon Warriors jumped onto the city wall, the melee fighters in the Guild were delighted.

They could fight against the demon soldiers.

Level 50 demon soldiers weren't too strong.

As long as the equipment of the strength-type classes was slightly better, they could basically hold off a group of players.

However, those fragile professions could not do so. Being slashed by one or two demon Warriors was not a big problem.

If they were targeted by five or six demon soldiers at the same time, how could they remain calm?

He definitely had to run while he fought, slowly flying the kite.

The problem now was that there was only so little space on the city wall, and there was nowhere to run even if he wanted to fly a kite.

Warriors, move forward. Teams should cooperate with each other and don't run around.

Feng Yun realm shouted in the Guild channel as he saw the chaos on the city wall.

This was just the beginning. Why was it so chaotic?

If that was the case, how could they have dragged on for two hours before the monster attack ended?

After Feng Yun realm finished, everyone slowly adjusted their rhythm and formed their own teams.

there were warriors, supports, and long-ranged brushiles who specialized in damage output.

Slowly, the situation was stabilized.

The demon soldiers who were attacking the city were stopped by the soldiers standing in the front as soon as they jumped onto the city wall.

Then, all kinds of firepower from the surrounding area instantly shot over.

Soon, groups of demon soldiers were beaten to the ground.

unfortunately, the good times did not last long. they had just stabilized the situation.

The eight demonic beasts slowly approached the city wall.

Zhang Shan aimed at one of them and fired continuously. At the same time, he checked the attributes of these giant beasts.

[demonic siege beast: level 50, attack 5000, hp 5000000, skill: siege]

[City Siege: the demons 'siege beasts are born for siege. When attacking the city walls, they have an additional crushing effect.]

Deals a large amount of damage to the city walls.

Looking at the attributes of these siege beasts, Zhang Shan was relieved.

There was no need to panic. It only had 5000000 HP, and he could kill it with a single Holy attack.

However, were these giant beasts only small monsters?

unlike the BOSS's name, the monster's name did not have different colors to represent its tier.

Damn it, even small monsters had such attributes. This was too ridiculous.

zhang shan did not stop firing at the siege beast in front of him. at the same time, he said in the guild channel.

let's fight the behemoths first. These behemoths are only small monsters and not too strong. They only have five million HP.

f * ck, looking at such a big head, I was scared. It turns out that they are just some smuggled goods.

long-ranged attackers, focus on attacking the behemoths. Don't let them get close to the city wall.

don't worry, it's only five million HP. It'll be over in minutes.

Zhang Shan aimed at the giant beast and attacked continuously. In less than ten seconds, the giant beast exploded with a heavy blow.

after killing the giant beast, he looked at the other directions on the city wall.

They discovered that the other seven siege beasts had also been defeated by everyone.

These giant beasts looked tall and terrifying.

However, before they could even get close to the city wall, they were all blown up by everyone's various firepower.

the city wall was filled with people. when these huge demonic beasts got close to their attack range, they were all stunned.

They were immediately greeted by all sorts of guns and cannons.

Under the simultaneous attacks of hundreds of people.

The demonic behemoths only had 5000000 HP, which was not enough at all. They were all annihilated very quickly.

After the demonic behemoth was blown up, the demonic monsters that attacked the city.

Only LV 50 demon fighters were left.

the members of wind and cloud guild adjusted their rhythm.

It was too easy to deal with these level 50 demon fighters.

A group of them jumped up and were quickly pulled down by the Warriors in the front row. Then, all kinds of firepower were concentrated on them.

The entire process was as smooth as floating clouds and flowing water.

haha, this time's monster attack is just child's play. There's no pressure at all.

"that's right. there's not even a BOSS. they're all small monsters."

"Don't be careless, this is just the beginning."

I guess that's all there is to it. Maybe there are no bosses in this monster attack. There are only inferior giant beasts.

that's impossible. There should at least be a few bosses leading the team. Otherwise, how can we attack the city?"

"what are you guys so anxious about? how can a boss appear as soon as it starts? take your time, there will definitely be a boss."

"It's so boring. There's no challenge at all."

challenge my ass. We'll defend the city until the event ends and we'll complete the quest.

you're right. Our main goal is to defend the city. Killing the boss is just a side goal.

There was not a single boss in the first wave of monsters attacking the city. Everyone could only kill the monsters mechanically while happily bragging.

At this moment, there were only Guild wind and cloud's members in the entire demon suppression city.

Outside the city were demonic monsters that were attacking the city, and there were no other players nearby.

Occasionally, there would be players who were curious about the city defense activities they were carrying out.

He was teleported to the demon-suppressing city through the teleportation formation.

Even though the teleportation fee was 10000 gold coins, it was still too expensive.

however, there were always people who had money or people with ulterior motives.

he didn't care about the teleportation fee.

However, just as they walked out of the teleportation Hall ...

He was knocked down by the wind cloud Cupid and his men at the entrance of the teleportation Hall.

They didn't even get to see the demonic monsters that were attacking the city before they fell to the ground.

In the beginning, it was not a big deal when they fell to the ground one or two by one.

Slowly, more and more players fell at the entrance of the teleportation Hall.

Finally, there were people who were unhappy. They complained about the overbearing behavior of the wind cloud Guild in the world Channel.

The world Channel:

I just want to go to the demon suppression city and see what the monster attack in the player's city is all about. Why do you want to kill me? "

"You were killed too? F * ck, I've just arrived at the demon-suppressing city and I've already been defeated by the People of the Wind and cloud Guild. These f * ckers are too overbearing. Can't they even let me see?"

same here. I also fell in front of the teleportation Hall of the demon suppression city. I don't know if I can wait for someone to resurrect me. If I can't, I will die for nothing and lose another level of experience.

brother, you're still lying there. Go back and resurrect yourself. How is this possible? why would someone go over and resurrect you? "

"If I don't want to go back, I'll lose my level. When the monster attack in demon suppression city is over, can't you get someone to resurrect me? I'll wait for a while."

“How long do we have to wait? Who knows how long the monster siege will last?”

“An hour, don’t monster sieges usually last for an hour? I only teleported here after the event started, so I should be able to wait until the event ends.”

that’s not for sure. Who knows if the monster attack in the player’s city is the same as the usual monster attack? ”

“It should be the same, right?”

“What happened? is the wind and cloud guild going to kill people in demon suppression city?”

“don’t even think about it. even those who were teleported over before would have been cleared out by them.”

“Fuck, there’s such a thing? Isn’t this too overbearing?”

f * ck, if they don’t want people to pass, why didn’t six-barreled Bodhisattva turn off the teleportation formation? aren’t they fishing by doing this? ”

who knows? maybe the teleportation formation can’t be closed? ” that’s impossible. If six-pipe Bodhisattva can raise the teleportation fee, it means that he can control the teleportation formation. How can he not shut it down? ”

” who knows? just don’t go to the demon-suppressing city. the six-barreled bodhisattva is too evil. ”

why don’t we form a group and go to the demon subduing tribe to kill everyone from the wind and cloud Guild? they won’t be able to defend the city.

“You’re thinking too much. Do you know how many people they’ve arranged to guard the entrance of the teleportation Hall? There are at least a few hundred people.”

what’s there to be afraid of with only a few hundred people? if we teleport a few million people over, we can crush the wind and cloud Guild in minutes.

“Teleport a few million people over? You’re paying?”

“there must be something wrong with this guy’s intelligence. If a few million people were to be teleported over. i’m afraid six-barreled bodhisattva is going crazy from laughing.”

in the entire game, there are probably only a few million people who can afford a teleportation fee of 10000 gold coins, right? ” unless there’s a big Shot who’s willing to pay for someone else, I’m afraid there aren’t even 100 people who are willing to be teleported to the demon-suppressing city.

“There are definitely some, but I don’t think there are many who are willing to pay the money.”

which Big Shot would be willing to pay for someone else for no reason? their money doesn’t just fall from the sky.

where's the domineering King? this is such a good opportunity, why doesn't he go and try it out? "

"Is the domineering King afraid of being beaten up? His face is already swollen, how would he still dare to find trouble with the wind cloud Guild?"

that's hard to say. Maybe the domineering King is already preparing, hehe.

this time, I support the domineering King. Kill that black-hearted six-barreled Bodhisattva by charging such a high teleportation fee. He's really too black-hearted.

"I'm in support as well. by the way, are there any brothers from the state of qin who can ask if the domineering king has any plans to take action?"

even if I did, I wouldn't tell you. If I told you here, six-pipe Bodhisattva would know and he would be prepared.

nonsense. Six-pipe Bodhisattva has already made preparations. Otherwise, why would they block the teleportation formation of the demon-suppressing city? "

In fact, the discussions on the world Channel were really accurate.

At this moment, the domineering King was quietly gathering his men, preparing to teleport to the demon-suppressing city and cause a wave of destruction.

In the past, Zhang Shan and the wind cloud Guild had slapped him in the face countless times. This had always made it difficult for domineering King to calm down.

however, he also knew that domineering aura's strength seemed to be much stronger than wind and cloud guild's.

However, if they were to fight seriously, they would still lose.

Although the average strength of Guild wind and cloud was not as good as that of Guild domination, it was still one of the top-tier forces in the Guild.

However, they had far surpassed domineering aura.

Especially with Zhang Shan around, he could often do a lot of things by himself.

No matter how powerful one person was, in a chaotic battle with tens of thousands or even hundreds of thousands of people, one person's combat strength would be much more powerful.

Basically, it wouldn't be of much use.

But Zhang Shan was an exception.

Zhang Shan was simply too strong. Once he managed to gain the upper hand, he could very likely affect the entire battle.

A local collapse would lead to the collapse of the entire game.

Although the tyrant king was still angry, he also knew that under normal circumstances ...

They had no chance to find trouble with the wind and cloud Guild. They couldn't win.

He had already tried several times, and every time he went with confidence, he always got slapped in the face.

but this time, it was different. this time, the wind and cloud guild had to defend the city.

He didn't know how far the monster attack had gone.

However, since it was a monster attack, it would definitely contain the main combat power of the wind and cloud Guild.

The wind and cloud Guild, which was being held back by the monsters attacking the city, could not spare any time to deal with them.

Even though Zhang Shan had already arranged for people to block the teleportation formation of the demon-suppressing city.

However, this also depended on who was going to charge.

Subjugator believed that if he were to bring a large group of people over, he would be able to do so.

the few hundred players from the wind and cloud guild would not be able to stop them.

This time, Subjugator had learned his lesson and did not use the country of Qin's national channel to recruit more soldiers.

Moreover, they had secretly gathered the Guild's main force.

He planned to bring only the elite members of Subjugator to demon suppression city.

On one hand, this was good for confidentiality and would catch the wind and cloud Guild off guard.

On the other hand, it was also the most important.

It was Zhang Shan who had increased the teleportation fee to the demon-suppressing city to ten thousand gold coins per teleportation.

Such a high fee, even if it was the domineering King, he also felt that it was very black.

He even felt the pain of paying teleportation fees to guild members.

If he had to help other Qin players pay the teleportation fee.

The overbearing King expressed that he couldn't afford it either.

The landlord didn't have any surplus food.

10,000 gold coins per person, 10000 people would cost 100 million gold coins.

he did not even plan to bring all the members of the domineering aura there, let alone the other players from the state of qin.

Subjugator had mobilized 20000 elite players to prepare for the monster attack.

he was ready to teleport to the demon-suppressing city at any time to cause destruction.

Although there might be close to 100000 members of the wind and cloud Guild in demon-suppressing city, there were still a lot of players in the Guild.

However, he wasn't worried about losing.

It wasn't like he was going to fight the wind and cloud Guild head-on.

they were only there to cause destruction.

It would be best if Zhang Shan could not defend the demon-suppressing city, allowing the demons to break through.

In that case, the tyrant king's goal had been achieved.

Chapter 413 General of the demon Vanguard

Although the domineering King had already gathered his men.

he was ready to teleport to the demon-suppressing city and cause a wave of destruction.

But he didn't plan to go there now.

The monster attack on the demon-suppressing city should have just begun.

The wind and cloud Guild's defense should not be under much pressure now.

The Overlord decided to wait a little longer.

They would wait for a while more, until the demon attack reached its most intense point.

They would then teleport over and deal a fatal blow to the wind and cloud Guild.

It was a pity that the damned wind and cloud Guild had cleared out all the players inside and outside of demon suppression city.

He had no source of information.

He did not know when the monsters 'attack on the city would be the most intense.

But it didn't matter, he could guess based on experience.

Such activities usually took place when the event was halfway through.

Only when the monsters were mobilized would they reach their peak.

the final boss would usually appear halfway through the event.

Subjugator planned to wait until 8:45 before they teleported there.

That should have been the fiercest period of the demon invasion.

Based on his past experience, every time the monsters attacked the city, it would last for an hour.

In the last 15 minutes, all the demon bosses should have appeared.

Maybe when they teleported over, the wind and cloud Guild would be busy fighting the BOSS.

Tyrant King's thinking was pretty good.

Unfortunately, he didn't know that the monster attack in the demon-suppressing city would last for two hours.

based on his thoughts, their guild was doomed to suffer another tragedy this time.

The domineering King sharpened his blade, and a storm was about to come.

Zhang Shan did not know.

However, it didn't matter if he knew or not.

He was already mentally prepared.

If they wanted to cause trouble, they could do as they pleased.

These people were only here to give him money.

It would be great if more people came.

Let him earn a little more money.

The demon soldiers outside the city jumped onto the city walls continuously.

These level 50 demon soldiers weren't too strong.

Everyone dealt with it very easily.

Slowly, more than 20 minutes passed.

A fully armored demon general appeared.

"F * ck, look, a BOSS has appeared."

"Where are they?"

"In the direction of the city gate tower, quickly come and kill the BOSS."

"What kind of BOSS?"

I don't know yet. I can't see clearly. It's too far away.

then why the hell are you calling him that? don't tell me he's just a small boss that you can kill so easily.

"definitely not. hurry up and send someone over. otherwise, the boss is going to rush into the city."

After hearing the Guild members 'calls, Zhang Shan teleported to the top of the city gate tower.

In the distance, a general of the demon race was galloping toward the city gate.

Seeing this situation, Zhang Shan did not hesitate. He teleported to the city gate and shouted in the Guild channel at the same time.

“The rest of you, continue to defend the city. We’ll deal with this boss.”

Zhang Shan planned to kill the boss right below the city gate.

Although the demon-suppressing city had a gate, the gate could not be closed. It was always open.

If they didn’t stop the boss outside the city gate ...

If he didn’t handle it well, the boss might just rush into the city.

however, even if the boss rushed into the city, it should not be able to cause any damage.

However, he was still worried. Who knew what kind of mechanism the monsters would use to attack the city?

What if the number of demons rushing into the city reached a certain level, and he was judged to have failed?

Thus, Zhang Shan felt that they should try their best to keep the demons out of the city.

It’s best not to let a single one into the city.

After Zhang Shan went down the city, Feng Yun realm, who was in the same team as him, also quickly brought his men down the city.

Their team was made up of all the big shots in the Guild.

They had been in the same team long before the monster attack began.

Their main mission was to deal with the BOSS that might appear.

After Zhang Shan left the city, a dense crowd of demon soldiers rushed towards him.

However, the four six-barreled fire gods on the city gate tower were not to be trifled with.

No matter how many demon soldiers there were, they were all rushing over.

none of them could get close to the city gate, and they were all suppressed by the fire god cannon outside the city gate.

He looked at the demon general who was galloping over from the distance.

zhang shan was waiting below the city gate.

This was the perfect place to fight the boss.

there were also four fire god cannons on top of his head, which could provide a high damage output.

It would allow them to fight faster.

If these four fire god cannons were used to deal with a boss alone ...

The damage output of each of them would not be much worse than his.

The damage of the four mechs added together might be much higher than the damage of their entire team.

With such a high damage output, he believed that they would be able to defeat the boss very quickly.

The demon general in the distance was charging toward the city gate.

This time, Zhang Shan could see it clearly. It was the name of the demon general.

The general of the demonic Vanguard was a normal red boss, not a boss with a real name.

It shouldn't be hard to deal with.

Zhang Shan took a step forward while Feng Yun realm led the rest of the team and followed behind.

When the general of the demons 'Vanguard got close to his shooting range, Zhang Shan decisively opened fire.

The bullets swept across, and lines of damage appeared above the demon General's head.

At the same time, the general of the demon Vanguard was also riding a warhorse, approaching Zhang Shan in an instant.

The long spear in its hand was thrust straight at Zhang Shan.

Not bad, a normal red boss, very weak.

At least for Zhang Shan, that was the case.

After Zhang Shan had pulled the boss, the others quickly followed, dealing massive damage ...

It was aimed at the general of the demon Vanguard.

at the same time, the four fire god cannons on the city gate tower also spat out light blue flames at the demon vanguard generals who were closer.

Without the long-distance suppression of the four fire god cannons, the other demon soldiers outside the city gate tower had no chance of escaping.

they followed behind the demon general and rushed toward the city gate.

The six-barrel fire god Cannon's attacks were all random and not under Zhang Shan's control.

They would randomly attack targets that were closer to them.

When the general of the demon Vanguard drew near, the fire god cannon did not continue to attack the distant demon soldiers.

instead, they changed their target and attacked the general of the demon vanguard who was charging over.

Looking at the demon soldiers rushing over, Zhang Shan was not worried.

With him blocking the city gate, they didn't have to worry about these monsters at all.

When he was attacking the demon Vanguard general, he was able to clear a large number of these small monsters by relying on catapults.

Zhang Shan did not care about these small monsters at all.

Instead, he attacked the boss while checking the attributes and skills of the demon Vanguard general.

[demon Vanguard general (red): level 50, attack 12000, HP 6000000]

Skill 1, soul destroying spear; skill 2, sharpness; skill 3, Demon God's will; skill 4, heavy spear shadows.

[soul destroying spear: the famous spear technique of the demon Vanguard general. When attacking, it will affect the target's spirit and cause double damage.]

[sharpness: the general of the demon Vanguard's spear technique is extremely sharp, and it increases damage by 100%.]

[demon god's will: when in danger, the vanguard general of the demons will summon the demon god's will to assist in battle.]

[overlapping spear shadows: the peerless spear technique practiced by the vanguard general of the demons. When the spear strikes, shadows will be left behind. When the spear strikes, thousands of shadows will be left behind.]

Each spear shadow will deal five times the true damage to the target, and the damage range is 50 yards.

They knew that a normal red boss wouldn't cause them much trouble.

Zhang Shan had deliberately checked the attributes and skills of the demon Vanguard general.

After checking, Zhang Shan felt that this demon Vanguard general was among the red bosses.

At most, it could only be considered average.

it was not difficult to deal with, at least for zhang shan.

Zhang Shan led the 50 people in the team and went all out, quickly attacking the boss.

The demon Vanguard General's HP was being whittled down by them.

after all, it was a boss with only 60 million hp.

With Zhang Shan as a powerful fighter, plus the four six-barrel Vulcan cannons on the city gate tower.

The demon Vanguard General's HP dropped rapidly.

Very quickly, they had taken out 20% of his health.

when his hp dropped to 80%.

The general of the demon Vanguard withdrew his long spear, his expression solemn.

a huge demon god's phantom slowly rose behind it.

zhang shan's 50-man team, as well as the guild members near the city gate tower, began to lose hp.

"F * ck, didn't they say it was just one, a normal red boss? how can its demon god's will affect us here?"

"isn't that obvious? you guys are so close."

"Quick, pay attention to healing me, I can't hold on much longer."

trash, you're losing 3000 HP every second, and you can't even hold on.

damn it, it's easier said than done. Try playing a fragile class.

"if you can't hold on, run as far away as you can. don't affect our farming."

The demon Vanguard General's Demon God will skill wasn't too strong.

It only dealt 3000 damage per second, and the range of the damage was limited to the area near the city gate.

it didn't cause them too much trouble.

Fifteen seconds passed by quickly.

Of course, Zhang Shan's team did not lose any members.

It would be unreasonable if they had to reduce their numbers to deal with a normal red boss.

on the other hand, two of the guild members near the city gate did not manage to escape in time.

Two of them were down.

However, he was quickly revived by the support.

So far, none of the Guild members who had participated in the monster attack had died.

After all, it was just the beginning, and the monsters that were attacking the city were not too strong.

Under everyone's continuous attacks, in less than a minute, the general of the demon Vanguard was killed.

They had directly beaten him to half health.

Suddenly, the spear in the general's hand started to wave faster and faster.

Countless spear shadows enveloped them.

f * ck, I was too fast. I didn't pay attention and let the boss use his big move.

"F * ck, this car flipped over so gloomily."

"quick, come and help us! we've flipped over here! we're all down!"

The general of the demon Vanguard swung his spear heavily.

Other than Zhang Shan, the entire team had fallen to the ground. Not a single one of them was standing. the general of the demon vanguard was only a normal red boss.

However, no matter how normal the red boss was, its ultimate skill could not be underestimated.

It was calculated based on the attributes of the demon general and the description of the big move.

Its spear shadow was a powerful skill, and it could deal over 100000 damage.

Other than Zhang Shan, who else could take it?

In their Guild, there were people who could hold on.

for example, secretary feng yun.

But he wasn't here.

With Zhang Shan, the Super meat boss, there was no need for other tanks to fight the boss.

He was enough.

At this stage, there was no boss that he couldn't handle.

Besides, if even Zhang Shan could not hold on, no one else could.

As such, their team, which was specially designed to deal with bosses, only had a few support members.

The others were all damage dealers.

There wasn't even any meat left.

They were all killed by the demon Vanguard General's big move.

It was their fault for fighting too quickly.

With the support of the four six-barrel Vulcan machine guns, they took less than a minute to reduce the demon Vanguard General's HP by half.

No one had reacted yet.

The demon Vanguard general released his big move.

the car had simply flipped over.

The boss had fallen to the ground, so the Guild's support naturally ran over.

Very quickly, all the fallen members were revived.

Fortunately, Zhang Shan had his own lifesteal effect.

Coupled with the fact that he was surrounded by small monsters, he was able to suck blood as much as he could under the passive effect of catapulting.

He didn't need the support to heal him. He could fight against the demon Vanguard general without any pressure.

Otherwise, everyone would have fallen to the ground just now.

Without a healer to heal him, he would have to run as well.

After everyone was revived, the general of the demon Vanguard was about to be blown up by Zhang Shan and the four fire god cannons.

Even though the boss was about to be killed.

However, everyone was still extremely depressed.

everyone couldn't accept the inexplicable accident. it was too ridiculous.

"i was too careless, too careless."

fortunately, it's not a critical moment. Otherwise, people would laugh their heads off if they heard about this.

"Everyone, be more serious in the future. Don't underestimate any BOSS."

we didn't underestimate him. Who knew that he would fight so quickly? he lost half of his health in a moment of carelessness.

we've underestimated the power of the fire god cannons. These four fire god cannons are really powerful, much stronger than us, hehe.

"Yeah, if it's just us, it'll probably take a few minutes to fight the BOSS."

if there are any more bosses later, lure them to the city gate tower and fight them. With four fire god cannons, we'll be able to kill them very quickly.

that's right. These fire god cannons are strong. It's a pity they can't be moved. It would be great if they could be used to farm monsters.

I'm afraid you're just daydreaming. If you use the fire god cannon to kill monsters, who would dare to play with you? "

"Hehe, I'm just saying. Don't take it too seriously."

≪ system announcement: congratulations to Feng Yun realm, six-barreled Bodhisattva, and heart follows me Pixiu for killing the demon Vanguard general. ≫

Skill point +1, medal +100.

haha, this boss hasn't been defeated yet. We got the first clear.

"skill point +1, nice."

"Look at you guys,"

come on, if you're good at this, then don't join us and fight the boss. Go and guard the city wall yourself.

"Only a fool wouldn't be able to survive."

The general of the demon Vanguard fell too quickly. Zhang Shan did not even have the chance to control the Panda ball to rush up and kill him.

No one knew if the last kill was from them or from the fire god cannon on the city gate tower.

Speaking of which, if the fire god cannon fired, it should be considered theirs.

After all, these fire god cannons had been placed by Zhang Shan.

Chapter 414 The six-barrel fire god cannon shows its might

After killing the demon Vanguard general, everyone also cleared out the small monsters near the city gate.

The rest would be left to the four fire god cannons on the city gate tower.

Everyone retreated back into the city and climbed up the city wall again.

Feng Yun realm displayed the dropped items on the party channel.

Zhang Shan was on the city wall, cleaning up the demonic soldiers that were attacking the city while looking at the dropped items.

There were only two red equipment and one red material.

Such drops were really trash.

“F * ck, this drop is too bad.”

that’s normal. The drops of a trash BOSS are naturally trash too.

“Is the demon Vanguard general a trash BOSS? Then why did we all fall to the ground just now?”

“Do you even need to argue over this? Who can withstand the BOSS’s ultimate?”

don’t be so noisy. This is just the beginning. There should be more bosses later. Be careful when the time comes. Don’t let everyone fall again.

impossible. If I fall again, I’ll eat sh * t while doing a handstand.

“Brother, you’re ruthless.”

The demonic Vanguard general had only dropped three items.

There was nothing to split. Moreover, the monster attacks were still ongoing.

There was no need to waste time to distribute these three pieces of trash.

Everyone continued to stand on top of the city wall, killing the monsters with ease. There was no tension at all.

suddenly, a guild member shouted in the guild channel.

“Damn, the monsters seem to have become stronger?”

“No way, let me see.”

Oh my God, he really became stronger. He’s now a level 55 demon warrior.

“No way. It’s only been half an hour and the monsters” levels have started to increase? at this rate, wouldn’t the last wave of monsters reach level 65?”

I don’t think so. We can’t even defeat level 65 monsters. The level suppression is too much.

“don’t scare yourself, just focus on killing monsters.”

you’re right. There’s always a way out. Why are you so worried? ”

Half an hour into the monster siege, all the monsters had been replaced by level 55 demon Warriors.

However, level 55 monsters were not much stronger than level 50 monsters.

Although there was an additional level suppression effect on them, everyone could still fight, so it was not a big problem.

What everyone was worried about was that the monster attack had only started half an hour ago.

The number of demon soldiers attacking the city would increase by one level.

If he continued to strengthen himself at the same rate as he did now ...

After 1 hour, the demon fighters attacking the city should be LV 60.

after an hour and a half, he would be level 65.

There was no way to deal with this, not to mention the boss that could appear at any time.

If the demon soldiers attacking the city were all level 60, they probably wouldn’t even be able to stop the small monsters.

It was not a big problem for them to increase the monster’s level.

if it was raised by two ranks to rank 60.

that would put a lot of pressure on them, but they should be able to handle it.

If the level of the monsters attacking the city increased by three levels, the monsters attacking the city would become level 65 demon Warriors.

They were about to give up, as they simply couldn’t hold on.

A single level 65 monster would probably be stronger than many of their guild members.

Furthermore, the demon soldiers that attacked the city would never come one by one, but would jump onto the city walls in large groups.

No matter what they did, they would not be able to stop it.

He hoped that the final level of the demon soldiers attacking the city would not exceed level 60.

Otherwise, Zhang Shan did not know what they could do to defend the city.

Not long after the 55-year-old demon soldiers appeared, eight more huge figures appeared in the distance.

“f * ck, why are these demon siege beasts here again?”

what’s there to be afraid of? anyway, these giant demonic beasts are all inferior goods. They’re very easy to beat, and can be blown up in minutes.

don’t be careless. Even the small monsters attacking the city have been upgraded. Do you think these demonic behemoths will be as weak as the ones just now? ” that makes sense. These giant demonic beasts must have been strengthened as well.

pay attention. When you see the giant demonic beasts approaching, quickly focus your fire and blow them up.

When the demonic siege beasts got close, Zhang Shan quickly teleported to the front of one of the beasts.

Activate all skills: berserk, fanaticism, battle intent, and shadow clone.

The three Zhang Shan’s went all out. Bullets covered the sky and the earth, sweeping towards the giant demon.

At the same time, Zhang Shan also took the time to look at the attributes of the demonic siege beast.

[demonic siege beast: level 55, attack 10000, HP 10000000, skill: siege]

[City Siege: the demonic siege beasts are born to siege cities. When attacking the city walls, they will cause an additional crushing effect.]

F * ck, this demon siege beast was only five levels higher than the previous batch.

However, its attributes had doubled.

the previous level 50 siege beast only had 5000 attack power and 5000000 hp.

these level 55 siege beasts had 10000 attack power and 10000000 hp.

It was f * cking ridiculous. Was the difference of five levels that big?

Even though the attributes of these demon siege beasts had been strengthened to the point that it surprised Zhang Shan.

However, he was not worried.

Even if their attributes were doubled, these giant demonic beasts only had 10 million HP.

It was not a big problem for him.

he went all out and instantly killed the giant demonic beast, leaving a large amount of blood.

Around him, the other long-range professions that could reach him also joined the ranks of attacking the demonic behemoths.

Very quickly, the huge demonic beast in front of Zhang Shan was blown up.

After killing the demonic behemoth, he attacked the small monsters that jumped up the city wall.

He looked in other directions.

The other seven giant demonic beasts were also being attacked by everyone.

A few of them were about to be blown up.

However, there was one that seemed to be fighting very slowly.

the giant demonic beasts on his side had all been blown up.

One of the giant demon beasts still had about half of its HP left.

The key was the Guild members. He seemed a little weak.

While they were dealing with the giant demon beasts, they were thrown into confusion by the demon soldiers who had jumped onto the city walls.

he couldn't focus on dealing damage.

Seeing this situation, Zhang Shan immediately teleported over.

The violent bullets swept across. He first killed a wave of demon soldiers who rushed up the city wall.

then, they turned to attack the giant demonic beasts that were almost close to the city wall.

At the same time, Zhang Shan shouted.

you guys don't need to worry about the small monsters. All those who can catch the giant demonic beast, focus your fire on the giant beast.

With him around, there was no need to worry about the small monsters.

With his catapulting passive, he could clear most of the monsters.

He didn't even need to go out of his way to deal with the small monsters.

After Zhang Shan teleported over, the other few giant demonic beasts were all killed by the other guild members.

The only one left was the one in front of him.

As Zhang Shan joined in the attack, the HP of the giant demon beast dropped rapidly.

However, he was still too late.

The huge demonic beast approached the city wall and slammed its huge palm on the city wall.

With a loud boom, Zhang Shan felt the entire city shaking.

A long crack appeared on the city wall.

The demonic siege beast had only given him a slap.

The power was terrifying.

hurry up and destroy this giant beast. If it hits us a few more times, the city wall will probably collapse.

As Zhang Shan attacked, he shouted anxiously.

The monster attack was not even halfway through.

If the city wall collapsed, what was the point of doing this?

Speaking of which, his luck was really bad.

After dozens of hits, the special effect of Holy Strike did not appear.

Otherwise ...

divine strike could deal more than 5000000 damage, which could instantly blow up the demonic behemoth.

fortunately, the attack speed of the giant beast of the demon race was similar to that of the panda dumpling. it was super slow.

Just as the demonic siege beast raised its huge palm and was about to strike the second time ...

Zhang Shan's knock-back effect was used, causing the giant demon to take a step back and deal five times the damage.

Everyone took the opportunity to deal all kinds of damage, and soon it exploded.

The last demon siege beast was blown up by them.

Zhang Shan could not help but let out a sigh.

Damn, this monster attack seemed to be a little difficult.

It had only just started, and a crisis had already appeared.

If this continued, when the event was about to end ...

all sorts of high-level monsters appeared one after another, and they were afraid that they really could not hold them off.

Zhang Shan looked at the long hole that the demonic beasts had created.

What a headache.

it's hard to deal with. The demon race's siege beast can create a long hole with a single slap. If it smacked two more times, wouldn't the city wall be destroyed? "

One of the Guild members beside Zhang Shan complained.

"We can't let these behemoths get close to the city walls. the next time a demonic beast attacks the city, we must destroy it at all costs."

yes, these big guys are too terrifying. They are indeed giant beasts born to attack cities.

"What do we do about this hole? can it be repaired?"

When he heard guild members. when it came to repairing the city walls ...

Zhang Shan suddenly remembered that there was a repair mechanism, but it would cost money.

When he was building the city, he had seen the information on the stone tablet about repairing the city wall.

However, the city had been completely intact before and did not need to be repaired.

So he didn't care.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan said in the Guild channel.

"I'll go take a look and see if we can quickly repair the city wall."

After he finished speaking, he teleported to the stone tablet in the city Lord's mansion.

Check the information of the city through the stone tablet.

Soon, he saw the option to repair the city.

Previously, the city walls were still in good condition, so the money needed to repair the city was zero.

When Zhang Shan checked again, the amount of gold needed to repair the city had become 501463 gold.

Damn it, the demon race's siege beast slapped the city wall.

He would have to spend 500000 gold to repair the city wall.

However, he still had to spend the money.

It was already good enough that he could repair the city walls.

If the city wall couldn't be repaired, that would be a real headache.

What kind of city was a city that had a crack?

A small Broken City?

Zhang Shan spent 500000 gold coins and chose to repair the city.

After he was done, he teleported back to his previous position.

All he did was operate the stone tablet.

The long crack on the city wall was now gone.

The city wall was as good as new.

Zhang Shan could not help but nod.

It was good that the money was effective.

eh, six-barreled boss, this city wall can really be repaired? ” the guild members at the side asked curiously.

yes, but it costs money. Just now, the slap from the demon race’s huge beast cost me 500000 gold coins.

Zhang Shan replied, feeling the pinch.

“Damn, is it that expensive?”

everyone, please be careful. Don’t let the giant demon beast get close to the city wall. It’ll save six-barrel some money. If the giant beast collapses the city wall, it’ll cost a lot of money to repair it.

are you kidding me? do you think the six-barreled boss is short of money? ”

“Hahaha.”

After taking care of the demonic behemoth, everyone happily stood on the city wall and killed monsters.

The monsters attacking the city had become level 55 demon Warriors.

However, it didn’t matter. Level 55 monsters didn’t pose much of a threat to them.

the wildebeest that they had farmed in the gerri wilderness was also a level 55 monster.

With everyone’s strength, there was no problem in farming them.

While the members of wind and cloud Guild were happily killing monsters ...

The members of the domineering aura Guild who were far away in the country of Qin were already starting to get restless.

The time was now around 8:40.

It had been more than 40 minutes since the start of the monster attack.

According to his experience, the one-hour monster attack time was almost over.

“boss, shouldn’t we make our move?”

The Little Prince standing beside the overbearing King said.

that’s right. If we don’t set off now, the storm cloud Guild’s monster attack will be over soon.

that's right. Let's set off earlier. The wind and cloud Guild must be in a tense situation right now. If we teleport over now, we can catch them off guard.

should we wait a little longer? what if the monster attack in the demon-suppressing city is not one hour long, but two or three hours long? then, they have just started. I'm afraid they won't have much pressure.

A member of the domineering aura Guild said worriedly.

that's impossible. All monster sieges will last for an hour. The demon-suppressing city should be no exception.

that's right. An hour isn't a short time. Isn't the duration of most game events that long? "

it's hard to say. Didn't the country war last for four hours? "

When the world War was mentioned, the members of Guild domination felt sad.

During the country war, they had a hand full of good cards, but in the end, they played badly.

In the end, they actually lost the country war and didn't even get a draw.

It was simply unacceptable.

The tyrant king was also at a loss.

They only had one chance because the cost of teleporting to the demon-suppressing city was too expensive.

Even if they weren't afraid of losing a level, they couldn't do it twice in a row.

10,000 gold coins per person. They had prepared 20000 Guild elites.

Everyone's teleportation fee would add up to 200 million gold.

This was not a small number.

Even if he was as rich as a tyrant, he still felt a bit of pain.

As for organizing a second attempt after the failure?

He had no such thoughts at all.

If it was settled in one wave.

It would disrupt the defense of the wind and cloud Guild.

It would be best to let the demons destroy the demon-suppressing city so that they could not defend the city.

They only had one chance, and Subjugator had no intention of starting a second wave.

As for what would happen after the demon-suppressing city was gone ...

We won't be able to teleport to such a faraway place in the future.

If I want to go there again, I'll have to ride a horse for three days?

What did this have to do with the domineering King?

If there was anyone to blame, it should be the wind and cloud Guild. They did not guard the city well.

Moreover, if Zhang Shan's demon-suppressing city was gone, there would be other cities in the future.

It didn't affect them at all. Everyone continued to explore.

What made Subjugator feel conflicted was the progress of the monster attack in demon suppression city.

The people from the wind and cloud Guild had done a good job of keeping it a secret.

Not a single one of them passed on any information regarding this.

In fact, if not for Zhang Shan raising the teleportation fees ...

he told them in the world channel that they didn't know that there would be a monster attack on the demon suppressing city today.

before the event began, the wind and cloud guild had already cleared the demon suppression city.

As a result, the domineering King couldn't get any information at all.

Now, he could only guess.

after considering for a long time, the domineering king decided not to dwell on it any longer and to act rashly.

he didn't believe it.

While the wind and cloud Guild defended against the demonic invasion, they could also spare some manpower to deal with them.

One must know that he had prepared 20000 people.

Moreover, these 20000 players were all the elite members of domineering aura.

Even if he couldn't defeat wind and cloud in a direct confrontation, he could at least pin them down.

He just had to make sure that the People of the Wind and cloud Guild could not focus on defending against the demonic invasion.

The tyrant king had decided.

He would teleport over first and then observe the situation.

If they had the chance, they would cause trouble for the wind and cloud Guild. If they didn't, they would.

they would defend demon suppression city as a group. anyway, it was enough as long as they could hold back the wind and cloud guild.

After making up his mind, Subjugator spoke in the Guild channel.

after saying this, he took the lead and teleported to the teleportation hall in lan tian city.

Soon, the 20000 guild members of the domineering aura Guild had all gathered outside the teleportation Hall in blue field city.

after seeing that everyone had arrived, subjugator said.

I still have two scrolls with me. I’ll teleport over later and use the scrolls to knock down all the guards on the other side. You guys follow quickly.

“Boss, why don’t I release the scroll while you bring the rest of the team here.”

The domineering Little Prince said worriedly.

this was because every time domineering king appeared, he would focus all his attention on his target.

He would be easily defeated.

If the boss fell, it would be a huge blow to the morale.

“No need, I’ll do it. don’t worry, the wind and cloud guild has only placed a few hundred people outside the teleportation hall. they can’t kill me. ”

The overbearing King said with confidence.

He wasn’t worried at all, even though he had been knocked down many times before.

but that was all the fault of the damned six-barreled bodhisattva.

If not for Zhang Shan, he would not have fallen so easily.

In the wind cloud Guild, not everyone was as abnormal as Zhang Shan.

As the city Lord of the demon-suppressing city ...

Subjugator did not need to guess to know that Zhang Shan was definitely defending the city. He would not be guarding the entrance of the teleportation Hall.

as for the other members of wind and cloud guild, subjugator did not care about them at all.

As long as he was fast enough, no one else could kill him.

As the boss of the second largest Guild, Subjugator had the confidence to do so.

Since the domineering King insisted, The Little Prince did not try to persuade him anymore.

After everything was prepared.

Under the lead of Subjugator, the 20000 elite members of Subjugator split into groups and passed through the teleportation array.

He teleported to the demon-suppressing city.

the domineering king was the first to arrive at the demon-suppressing city.

The moment they left the teleportation Hall of the demon-suppressing city ...

In an instant, Subjugator used a scroll and a rain of fire rained down on the players of wind and cloud.

In an instant, all the guards were wiped out.

Only the wind cloud Cupid was left standing at the back and was not affected.

Although Feng Yun realm had asked him to lead the team to defend.

However, the wind cloud Cupid did not stand at the front.

he had an ultimate skill, the wrath of the stars, which was the key to defending the teleportation hall.

He couldn't stay in front, in case he accidentally died and flipped over.

In fact, Fengyun quite was indeed thoughtful.

Facing the damage from the scrolls of the domineering King, other than Zhang Shan, no one could possibly withstand it.

if he had been standing in front of them, he would have died with them.

If even he died.

No one knew how many players from Subjugator would rush out of the unguarded teleportation array.

when he saw the domineering king, he led him out of the teleportation hall.

The wind cloud Cupid did not hesitate. He raised his hand and shot an arrow into the sky.

Countless meteors fell, covering the entrance of the teleportation Hall in the damage range.

The wrath of the stars 'damage lasted for five seconds.

this move of his could buy zhang shan five seconds.

As for what he would do after five seconds? He did not know.

wind cloud cupid shouted in the guild channel as he released his ultimate skill.

send reinforcements to the teleportation Hall. Subjugator has teleported over with his men. Our guards were all knocked to the ground by him using scrolls.

At this time, Zhang Shan was happily farming monsters when he heard the call of wind cloud Hill's Peter.

He didn't even think about it and immediately teleported outside the teleportation Hall.

At this moment, the wind cloud Cupid's wrath of the stars skill had not ended.

Zhang Shan looked at the situation around him.

Other than wind cloud Cupid, all the Guild members who had been defending the area had fallen to the ground.

At the entrance of the teleportation Hall, Subjugator was also injured by the wrath of the stars and fell to the ground.

However, the duration of the wrath of the stars would end soon.

It was impossible for them to deploy more people to defend in such a short time.

This was because no one else could use teleportation in the demon-suppressing city.

In the entire game, only the five of them, who had the title of human hero, could teleport here.

Since that was the case, Zhang Shan had nothing to worry about.

He quickly took out three six-barrel fire god cannons from his backpack.

A hundred yards away from the entrance of the teleportation Hall, they stood in a row.

the three fire god cannons were quickly set up and their attack mode was set to guild mode.

As long as it was not a member of the wind and cloud Guild, anyone who came out of the teleportation Hall would die.

Three six-barrel fire god cannons formed a Crossfire. Who could break out?

At this time, the domineering king who was lying on the ground did not pay much attention after seeing Zhang Shan teleport over.

Zhang Shan was the only one who had returned. He did not take it to heart.

no matter how strong zhang shan was, it was impossible for him to hold off 20000 of their guild's elites alone.

As for the wind cloud Cupid beside Zhang Shan, the domineering King ignored him.

in his eyes, cupid, who had just used his ultimate move, was nothing but a monster.

he wasn't much stronger than a passerby.

However, after Zhang Shan teleported over, he had produced three six tubes. What the hell was that?

Subjugator had never seen these six-barrel fire god cannons before.

However, there was no time for him to consider this.

After the wrath of the stars skill's duration ended, a large number of domineering Aura's members died.

They rushed out of the teleportation Hall.

Zhang Shan took a step forward, aimed at the members of the domineering aura who were rushing out, and quickly fired.

The three fire god cannons had fired earlier than he did.

At almost the same time that Guild Subjugator rushed out.

The fire god cannon had already started firing, spewing out light blue flames.

Before the members of domineering aura could figure out what was happening, they had already lost their minds.

They all fell to the ground.

Zhang Shan only realized it after firing a few shots.

It seemed that he was not needed at all. Three six-barrel fire god cannons could completely block the teleportation Hall.

subjugator, who was lying on the ground, was dumbfounded.

What the hell were those three things with six tubes and blue flames?

Why did they have such terrifying firepower?

Chapter 415 The orange demonic siege beast

The three six-barrel Vulcan machine guns that Zhang Shan had placed had completely stunned Subjugator.

Zhang Shan himself was very strong, so it was fine.

Everyone knew that he was a fake boss and was very strong.

Tyrant king was already mentally prepared for this.

He planned to have more people rush in together. No matter how strong Zhang Shan was, he would not be able to block the teleportation formation.

But what the hell were the three fire god cannons that Zhang Shan had released?

Why was he as perverted as Zhang Shan?

The three fire god cannons spewed out light blue flames, knocking down all the members of the domineering aura who had rushed out of the teleportation Hall.

Not a single one managed to escape. Wasn't this destructive power too exaggerated?

Subjugator lay on the ground and looked at his guild members. He was still running away.

However, not a single one of them was standing.

He anxiously shouted in the Guild channel.

let's slow down first. There are three strange facilities outside the teleportation Hall of the demon-suppressing city. Their firepower is very strong. Let's observe them first before we charge.

At this moment, there were already thousands of members from the domineering aura Guild who had teleported to demon suppression city.

The first batch of people who rushed out all fell to the ground.

The other people who had just teleported over were still in the teleportation Hall and were about to rush out.

When they heard the tyrant king's cry, they were all shocked.

Didn't a lot of people rush out just now? Could it be that those people had all fallen to the ground?

"Boss, what's the situation outside? Are there still people from the wind and cloud Guild outside?"

"no, the defending members of the wind and cloud guild were basically knocked down by the scrolls. however, the six-barreled bodhisattva released three strange facilities with strong firepower. we couldn't break out."

"What's this? There was no one guarding the outside, only three strange facilities? He couldn't even rush over? What kind of facility is this?"

"I took a look just now. It seems to be called a six-barrel fire god cannon or something? have you guys seen this before?"

no, can you see the description of its attributes? "

"I can't see it. It's so far away, at least a hundred yards."

"F * ck, a distance of 100 yards? Can you shoot this far?"

how powerful are those three six-barrel Vulcan cannons? are they fast or have high attack power? " his attack power is very high. He basically instakilled his opponents and his attack speed is very fast.

"What the f * ck, then what should we do? Are we just going to give up?"

The members of domineering aura who were lying outside the teleportation Hall and those who had yet to rush out of the teleportation Hall discussed the matter in their Guild channel for a long time.

They couldn't come up with any solution.

It was the first time a city defense facility like the fire god cannon had appeared in the game.

No one had seen him before.

Naturally, he had no way to deal with it.

Zhang Shan stood outside the teleportation Hall and watched for a while.

Seeing that the players from Guild domination had stopped charging out, the players in the room were stunned. He called out to Feng Yun realm on the Guild channel.

"boss, arrange for some support to come over and pull up the fallen brothers. then, let them continue to guard."

“how’s the situation on your side? Did you manage to block the domineering aura players?”

Feng Yun realm asked in concern.

from the time fengyun qiute had called for help until now, only zhang shan had gone over to provide support.

The others were still guarding the city wall and clearing the monsters.

They wouldn’t be able to come over in a short time.

Although the demon-suppressing city was only a small city with a radius of five miles.

however, it would still take two to three minutes to get to the teleportation hall from the city wall on horseback.

Other than the five of them who could teleport, no one else had time to help.

That was if Zhang Shan could not stop Guild domineering aura.

Then they would have to adjust their arrangement.

They had to specially allocate some people to deal with the harassment from Guild Subjugator.

This would be very troublesome, and it would seriously affect their defense on the city wall.

Although the demon soldiers attacking the city were only level 55, they weren’t too strong.

If they wanted to pull out some manpower, they could do so.

But as time passed, the demons “siege power would only become stronger and stronger.

In the end, it would be very difficult for them to deal with the demons attacking the city.

There was no way they could spare any manpower to deal with Guild tyrannical ambition.

The only thing they could do was to block the players from the domineering aura Guild in the teleportation Hall. They couldn’t come out.

This way, the wind and cloud Guild could focus on defending the city.

“It’s blocked, they can’t get out. I’ve set up three fire god cannons outside the teleportation Hall. Now, we just need to arrange for some people to keep watch.”

“Alright, you’re ruthless.”

everyone had witnessed the power of the fire god cannon when they were fighting the boss.

It could be said to be extremely fierce.

Zhang Shan placed the three fire god cannons outside the teleportation Hall.

if the players from guild subjugator wanted to escape, they would have to sacrifice their lives.

Not long after, the Guild support that Feng Yun realm had arranged for rode over.

Resurrect all the Guild members that had been defeated by Subjugator with the scrolls.

Zhang Shan observed the situation and felt that there should not be any more problems here.

He then said to Fengyun quite.

I'll go defend the city first. You guys continue to guard the teleportation Hall here. Call me if there's a situation.

"Don't worry, I know."

Zhang Shan nodded and teleported back to the city wall to continue farming monsters.

The most important thing now was to defend the city.

It had been almost 50 minutes since the event started.

Zhang Shan estimated that the second boss of the monster attack event would appear soon.

He had to hurry back to defend.

without him, the others would be able to defeat a normal red boss.

But that would require the sacrifice of many cannon fodder.

The Secretary might be able to handle a normal red boss, but the boss's attributes and skills were the most important.

If he strengthened it slightly, the little Secretary would not be able to handle it.

In that case, Zhang Shan would not be there.

When they fought the BOSS, they could only rely on human lives.

Although their Guild had a lot of members, the monster attack was not even halfway through.

The real pressure was still behind.

It's best if no one dies now.

in the later stages, they might have to rely on more people.

After Zhang Shan teleported away.

Tyrant King's thoughts started to become active.

even though the three fire god cannons would still put them under a lot of pressure, they were still very weak.

However, the domineering King paid more attention to Zhang Shan's movements.

He thought that Zhang Shan's decision to leave at this time was definitely because the monsters were attacking the city fiercely.

the front probably could not hold on any longer, so zhang shan left in a hurry.

If that was the case, they would have to put more pressure on the wind and cloud Guild.

He didn't believe that the three inanimate objects would be able to do so.

It was simply unreasonable for them to be able to defeat 20000 of domineering Aura's elite players.

As for the wind and cloud Guild's members, who were still on the scene.

However, tyrant king didn't take it to heart.

The wind cloud Cupid had already used his ultimate skill.

They were no longer a threat to them.

Right now, as long as the players from Guild domination could make it out, they would be able to escape.

If they could destroy the three six-barrel fire god cannons, they would be able to turn the demon-suppressing city upside down.

Thinking up to this point, Subjugator spoke in the Guild channel.

keep charging. Resurrect me first. I'll use my last scroll to annihilate the people from the wind and cloud Guild. We'll think of a way to dismantle the remaining three fire god cannons.

"Alright, charge."

As soon as Subjugator finished speaking, the members of the Guild rushed out of the teleportation Hall.

Fengyun qiute, who was in charge of defense, was very nervous in the beginning.

However, the three fire god cannons continued to shoot out blue flames.

they knocked down the members of the domineering aura guild one by one.

There were only a few members of the domineering Army left who managed to escape the fire of the Vulcan cannon.

The wind cloud Cupid led his men and easily knocked down the fish that escaped the net.

This made him feel very relaxed.

However, the tyrant king was depressed. The thousands of people he had sent out were all lying on the ground.

Not a single one was standing.

Some of the support classes wanted to rush out first and revive the domineering King.

However, as soon as they left the teleportation Hall, they didn't even have time to get close to the domineering King.

he was knocked to the ground by the fire god cannon's intense firepower.

forget it. Don't rush. Let's wait until the event is over.

The tyrannical King had at least ten thousand people teleported to the demon suppression city.

Among them, there were at least a few thousand who had rushed out of the teleportation Hall. Without exception, all of them had fallen to the ground.

The rest of the people were waiting in the teleportation Hall.

This was the only safe area in the demon-suppressing city.

Now that Subjugator had told them not to charge forward, they could only return to their posts.

they could still go back.

But what about those who had fallen outside the teleportation Hall?

boss, why don't we try again? I feel like we can still charge out. Didn't someone just charge through the fire god Cannon's blockade? "

"there are too few people rushing over. it's not much use. there are still hundreds of people from wind and cloud guild defending here. Forget it, let's go back and farm some monsters."

"Then what should we do? After the event is over, let the support come and resurrect us?"

One of the fallen members from domineering aura asked.

He really didn't want to go back and resurrect just like that. It would be too much of a loss if he went back and resurrected and lost one level.

let's go back. Six-pipe Bodhisattva won't give us a chance. Even if the event ends, they'll probably come and guard us.

The others thought that it made sense.

Not to mention, they had a feud with the wind and cloud Guild.

Just this time, they were clearly here to cause trouble.

After the event ended, would Zhang Shan let them go?

He would definitely guard the corpse until the end.

Of course, the members of the domineering aura Guild were still unaware of the monster attack in demon suppression city.

It actually lasted for two hours.

there was still more than an hour left before the event ended.

If they had known about this, they would have gone back a long time ago without saying anything.

after all, one could only lie on the ground for an hour to be rescued.

After an hour, no matter how unwilling the player was, the system would force them to be resurrected.

Of course, in that case, losing a level was inevitable.

In the end, the members of Guild Subjugator all returned.

They teleported over excitedly, ready to cause a wave of destruction.

In the end, he couldn't even get out of the teleportation Hall.

Other than contributing to Zhang Shan's teleportation fees, he did not do anything else.

Zhang Shan and the other guild members continued to stand on the city wall and farm monsters.

Not long after, the second boss of the monster attack event appeared.

there's another BOSS. It looks similar to the general of the vanguard. It's also a general who rides a horse.

"Where is it? is it still in the direction of the city gate?"

"yes, i am."

Zhang Shan teleported to the city gate and looked at the demon general who was charging over.

Feng Yun realm led the rest of the team and quickly rushed over.

"Are they the same BOSS? They look alike."

"It's useless to look at the appearance. We have to look at the BOSS 'name.'"

"It's still a little far, I can't see clearly."

"We'll know in a while."

Not long after, the BOSS quickly approached them.

everyone could now see the BOSS's name clearly.

The general of the demon Vanguard.

it really had the same name as the BOSS that they had just killed.

"Damn, two Vanguard generals?"

"The demon race's system is too chaotic."

who cares? it's better if it's the same. The vanguard general is easy to deal with.

that's right. The vanguard general just now was weak. I hope this one isn't too strong.

"don't think too much. pay attention, the boss is approaching."

Zhang Shan stood in front when the general of the demon Vanguard was within his shooting range.

He fired decisively.

After he pulled the vanguard general back, the others quickly followed.

Zhang Shan took a look at the attributes and skills of this Vanguard general.

They realized that this BOSS was indeed similar to the one they had killed before.

It was just that his level was five levels higher.

the vanguard general that they had just killed was a BOSS at level 50.

This was only level 55.

other than having higher attack power and health points.

This Vanguard General's skill was exactly the same as the one they had killed before.

These two bosses were probably brothers.

Under the fierce attacks of the four fire god cannons on the tower of the city gate, they were completely overwhelmed.

Soon, the vanguard general was blown up.

This time, none of them fell to the ground.

Before the vanguard General's HP dropped to half, the others avoided him.

he dodged the boss's ultimate attack.

after destroying the demon vanguard general, feng yun realm displayed the dropped items on the party channel.

there were two red equipment, one red material, and a trashy skill book.

This time, it was slightly better than before. However, it was only slightly better, and there was an additional trashy skill book.

However, it was good to have an additional skill book.

No matter how trashy a skill book was, it could still be sold for money, and this was a good sign.

This meant that not all of the bosses in this monster attack dropped trash items.

As usual, the items were not distributed yet. Everyone returned to the city wall and started killing monsters.

Soon, the monsters had been attacking the city for an hour.

Everyone waited nervously, wanting to see if the demon soldiers attacking the city would increase by another level.

However, after a while, the demon soldiers who jumped up the city wall were still level 55.

It was no different from what they were fighting.

haha, the monster's level didn't increase.

that's good. If the monster's level increases every half an hour, it'll be difficult to deal with.

I told you. It wouldn't be that difficult to defend the city. If they all become level 65 demon Warriors, we won't be able to defeat them.

I know, right? we could still fight LV 60 demon fighters; however, if it's a LV 65 demon fighter, we can't even fight it.

"pay attention, the demonic siege beast is here again."

Zhang Shan lifted his eyes and looked over. As expected, there were eight more giant beasts in the distance.

f * ck, the monsters 'levels didn't increase, but these monsters still come every half an hour? " don't be afraid of these giant beasts. We just need to fight faster. If the city wall is damaged, it's fine to let Big Boss six-barrel repair it.

"Wouldn't that cost you, Big Boss? hehe."

let's do it as fast as possible and help the six-man boss save some money.

"Get ready, the giant demon beast is approaching."

"this time, the demon race's siege beast seems to be very different. it feels like it has grown bigger?"

One of the Guild members said in the Guild channel.

"No, it's still the same as before."

"Yeah, brother, are your eyes okay?"

"Holy sh * t, the giant demon beasts here are really different from before. Hurry up, big brother, we might not be able to handle it. "

"What's the situation?"

"The giant demonic beast on our side is an orange BOSS."

"F * ck, did I see wrong?"

"It's true. Quickly come to the big boss's aid in the direction of the city gate. It's an orange demon siege beast."

Zhang Shan was originally standing on the city wall, killing monsters while quietly waiting for the giant demonic beast in front of him to approach.

however, he heard that the giant demonic beast at the city gate was an orange-colored boss.

he had to pay attention to that.

In the second wave just now, the normal demonic behemoths had 10 million HP.

If an orange demonic siege beast were to appear, wouldn't its HP be in the hundreds of millions?

If they had stayed on the city wall, it would have been impossible for them to blow up the giant beast before it got close to the city wall.

Zhang Shan said to the other guild members beside him.

"You guys are in charge of dealing with this giant beast. I'll go to the city gate to provide support."

After he finished speaking, Zhang Shan teleported to the top of the city gate tower.

Chapter 416-the city wall has fallen it was said that the demonic siege beast that appeared at the city gate was an orange-colored boss.

Zhang Shan could not help but be shocked. At the same time, he quickly teleported over.

the destructive power of ordinary demonic siege beasts on the city walls was already very terrifying.

The second wave of demon attack beasts smacked a long hole in the city wall with one palm.

This was the third wave, and these demonic beasts would definitely be stronger.

As for the boss-level giant beast, there was no need to think about it. It would definitely be fierce.

Even though most orange-colored bosses were trash in their eyes, they were still a bunch of trash.

But these Fiend Race siege beasts 'destructive power towards the city walls was too strong.

If the orange-colored demonic siege beast were to land a few hits on the city wall ...

The entire city wall would probably be gone.

he must not let it get close to the city wall. zhang shan teleported to the city gate.

He planned to stop the orange beast outside the city gate.

he definitely couldn't let it have the chance to hit the city wall.

fortunately, the orange beast appeared in the direction of the city gate.

he could still leave the city to intercept them.

If they appeared in other directions of the city wall.

Then he had no way to deal with it.

this was because there were only small monsters outside the city.

They couldn't run at all outside the city.

apart from the city gate, they had no way to stop the demonic beasts from the other directions.

They were outside the city and had no way of getting close to the demonic beasts.

they couldn't just jump down from the city wall, could they?

That was an act of seeking death. The damage from jumping from a high place in the game was very terrifying.

With the height of the demon-suppressing city's walls, no matter who it was, if they jumped down, they would definitely die.

Even for a meat pie like Zhang Shan, he was no exception.

Zhang Shan stood at the city gate, looking at the orange siege beast that was slowly approaching from a distance, while speaking in the Guild channel.

"leave this orange giant beast to me. you guys quickly eliminate the other giant beasts and try not to let them get close to the city wall."

"Don't worry, these giant beasts aren't hard to deal with."

"Don't be careless. Each wave of these demonic beasts is stronger than the last. Everyone, gather your men in advance and make preparations. Don't screw up."

we're fully prepared this time. It'll be a miracle if we can still overturn the car.

"Whoever fails will be responsible for the repair of the city wall, hehe."

"F * ck, I don't have any money."

"Damn you."

With their previous experience, especially with the demon race's siege beast, the scene of the city wall being cracked with a single slap left a deep impression on everyone.

Therefore, no matter how much everyone ridiculed him, they all took it seriously.

before the demonic beasts even got close to the city wall.

a large number of long-range fighters had already been sent out to face the giant beast from all directions.

One to two hundred long-ranged classes were deployed in every direction, waiting for the demonic behemoths to approach.

A wave of fierce firepower served them.

Under normal circumstances, as long as they responded appropriately, at least there should not be any accidents in this wave.

Big Boss six-barreled, can you handle the orange BOSS 'demonic siege beast alone? "

A guild member worriedly asked in the Guild channel.

what are you worried about? six-barreled boss is someone who can solo a real-name BOSS. Of course, an orange-colored BOSS won't be a problem.

" i'm not afraid that six-tubered boss can't hold on, but i'm afraid that he's too slow to fight alone. you know, these demon siege beasts are all big meat. even the normal ones have ten million hp, and the orange ones have at least a hundred million hp. six-tubered boss is alone, how long will it take to fight? " that's right. The longer we drag this out, the easier it is for something to happen. We have to blow up all these demon siege beasts as soon as possible.

"big boss six-barreled, do we need to send more reinforcements?"

Looking at the demonic beasts that were slowly approaching the city ...

Zhang Shan seriously considered it. After considering the other people's suggestions, he still refused.

no need. You guys can deal with the other seven behemoths. I can handle this one. With the fire god cannon, we'll shoot very quickly.

It wasn't that he was confident in his damage output.

In fact, no matter how fast he played. Facing the orange demon siege beast with hundreds of millions of HP ...

He would have to play for at least ten minutes, or even longer.

However, it was impossible for him to have such a long time.

The monster attack had been going on for more than an hour.

If he didn't quickly destroy this orange demonic siege beast, he would have to kill it.

The next BOSS might be coming.

He had to quickly deal with this demonic siege beast.

Otherwise, it would be a waste of time if he had not killed the demonic behemoth by the time the next BOSS appeared.

But even so, Zhang Shan still rejected the request of the other brothers in the Guild to come over and help.

This was because Zhang Shan felt that there was no need.

Even though he was alone, it was impossible for him to kill a demonic siege beast with hundreds of millions of HP.

That would take a long time.

However, he was not alone. There were still four fire god cannons on the city gate tower.

Furthermore, Zhang Shan felt that it was time to use the fire god cannon in his backpack.

However, he had no intention of installing the fire god cannons on other parts of the city wall.

This was because the defense of the wind and cloud Guild's members on the city wall was very dense.

that is, if they could stop the demon soldiers that were attacking the city.

They didn't need the fire god cannon at all.

If they couldn't withstand it, even with the help of the few fire god cannons in his backpack ...

He probably wouldn't be able to block it either.

In that case, it would be better to set up all the fire god cannons on the city gate tower.

After more than an hour of monster attacks ...

Zhang Shan realized that every time the BOSS came, it was towards the city gate.

in fact, the pressure was the greatest at the city gate.

Placing a few more six-barrel Vulcan cannons on the city gate would allow them to take down the BOSS as quickly as possible.

That was the best choice.

Zhang Shan had a premonition that the most difficult part of this monster attack event would be the BOSS.

Perhaps the BOSS that appeared at the end would be the biggest test of the demon-suppressing city.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan glanced at the demonic beasts that had not yet approached the city gate.

Then, he quickly teleported to the top of the city gate tower.

He placed the remaining seven Vulcan machines in his backpack on the city gate tower.

After he finished setting up, there were eleven fire god cannons on the city gate tower.

With such a high firepower density, even a slightly weaker boss would be instantly killed.

the fire god cannon's attack power reached 50000, and its attack speed was two shots per second.

If this was the case ...

Eleven fire god cannons could deal millions of damage in a second.

60 million in a minute?

A boss with 100 million HP could be killed in less than a minute. This firepower was so strong that no one could match it.

Of course, this was only in theory.

in fact, all the demonic monsters that appeared here would have a holy demon's protection state, which reduced their damage by 50%.

Even so, the damage of these fire god cannons was still very high.

In addition to Zhang Shan's own explosive damage, the BOSS with 100 million health would probably only take two to three minutes.

He could easily destroy them.

After setting up the six-barrel Vulcan cannon, Zhang Shan teleported back to the city gate.

At this moment, the orange demonic siege beast had already entered the range of the six-barrel Vulcan cannon.

The eleven fire god cannons spewed out light blue flames, and damage kept appearing on the demonic behemoth.

Zhang Shan stood firmly at the city gate. When the demonic siege beast came close to his shooting range ...

Without any hesitation, he chose to go all out.

The berserk and fanatic skills were activated. At the same time, he also activated his [battle intent] and [shadow clone].

the three zhang shan's violently shot their bullets at the demon siege beast.

The demonic siege beast slowly walked in front of Zhang Shan, and its huge palm slowly slapped down.

Damage -46095.

Looking at the damage figures, Zhang Shan could not help but be shocked.

what the hell, was this an orange BOSS?

a weaker real name boss would probably only have this much damage.

Why was this giant demonic beast, an orange monster, able to deal so much damage?

Fortunately, there were still many monsters nearby, which made his ejection passive and allowed him to continuously deal damage.

It could absorb more blood.

Otherwise, he would be weak.

If there weren't any monsters nearby for him to suck blood from.

He couldn't withstand the fierce damage from the demonic siege beasts alone.

Because he wasn't in a team, he was alone. There was no support to heal him.

Seeing the demonic behemoths deal such high damage, he was worried.

But very quickly, Zhang Shan was overjoyed.

Damn it, this demonic siege beast was an orange boss.

However, its attack speed was no different from that of ordinary giant beasts. It was also surprisingly slow.

Zhang Shan had already dealt more than ten shots of damage. The demonic siege beast's second slap had not even landed.

With this attack speed, he didn't have to be afraid no matter how strong the demonic siege beast was.

Unless he could kill him in one shot.

However, that was impossible. With his 500000 HP, it would be impossible for the boss to kill him instantly.

As the demonic behemoth attacked the city, the second slap slowly came down. Zhang Shan was relieved.

don't be afraid. although the demon siege beasts had high attack power, their attack speed was slow.

It couldn't cause him any pressure at all.

This wave was in the bag, as long as he played faster.

As Zhang Shan dealt violent damage to the demonic siege beast, he checked the boss's attributes and skills.

[demonic siege beast (orange): level 55, attack 50000, hp 200 million]

Skills, siege, status, Holy demon's protection.

After seeing the demonic siege beast's skill, Zhang Shan could not help but curse.

What the f * ck, could this even be considered a BOSS?

This was the first time he had seen a BOSS without a proper skill.

The orange demonic siege beast had much higher attributes than the ordinary behemoths.

There was no change to the skill, and it was still the city break skill.

This is good.

Initially, Zhang Shan was still a little worried about the big move of the demon's siege beast.

Even though an orange-colored BOSS's ultimate skill was generally not too strong, it was still a powerful skill.

However, this demonic siege beast's basic attack power was high.

It was also very difficult to resist.

However, Zhang Shan now knew that he had been overthinking.

This orange demonic siege beast didn't even have a proper skill.

Then what's there to worry about? just be at ease and fight like a wooden stake.

Under the attack of Zhang Shan and the 11 fire god cannons on the city gate tower, the HP of the orange demon siege beast was slowly decreasing.

Although this demonic siege beast had high HP, the damage from Zhang Shan and the 11 fire god cannons was still too much.

They might be comparable to a few hundred strong players.

Therefore, he did not attack slowly. Soon, the demonic siege beast's HP was reduced by 10%.

Just as he was doing his best to attack the giant demon beast.

Suddenly, they heard a loud boom in the distance.

The others had not yet killed the other seven giant demonic beasts.

One of the giant beasts.

He approached the city wall and slapped it.

a small section of the city wall had actually collapsed.

they fell directly from the city wall, killing hundreds of people in an instant.

"F * ck, what's going on?"

" quick, someone come and help us. don't let this demon race giant beast strike a second time. "

f * ck, you bunch of trash. Why haven't you blown up the giant demonic beast after so long? " don't talk nonsense. Send reinforcements quickly. If the giant demon beasts charge into the city, who knows what will happen? "

Seeing the city wall collapse, Zhang Shan was shocked.

What the hell, the city walls of the demon-suppressing city were made of paper, right?

It was already very exaggerated for the demon race's siege beast to create an opening with a slap.

who would have thought that the third wave of demons would be even fiercer? with a single slap, the city wall was directly smacked down.

This made Zhang Shan's heart ache.

it cost him more than 500000 gold to repair it.

Now that a section of the city wall had collapsed, how much money would it take to repair it?

The nearby guild members quickly ran over to help.

Wind and cloud blade, heart with me, and little fairy teleported over.

All sorts of damage were dealt to the demon siege beast.

However, because the city wall had collapsed, a large number of demon soldiers had rushed in through the gap.

They were so flustered that they didn't manage to blow up the demon siege beast.

Zhang Shan was worried for them.

however, he could not leave.

There was still an even more ferocious orange demon beast in front of him.

If there was no one to stop this huge demon beast, half of the city wall would probably be gone with a slap.

A normal demon siege beast could knock down the city wall.

zhang shan did not even dare to imagine the effects of the orange siege beast's slap on the city wall.

Just thinking about it made his heart ache.

If this orange demonic siege beast really managed to land a few hits on the city wall ...

He probably didn't even have enough gold coins to build the city wall.

therefore, he decided to be honest and deal with this orange demonic beast first.

As for the giant beast that had slammed down the city wall, they could only rely on their guild members to do their best.

As Zhang Shan attacked the huge demonic beast in front of him, he stared into the distance.

soon, the demonic siege beast slammed the city wall for the second time.

With another loud boom, another section of the city wall was smashed down by the demonic siege beast.

Following the collapsed city wall, the demon siege beast stepped into the city.

The nearby guild members could no longer care about the other monsters.

all of them withstood the attacks of the monsters and dealt all kinds of damage to the demonic siege beast.

After a short while, they finally blew up the demonic siege beast.

He didn't let it slap a third time.

Seeing this, Zhang Shan finally heaved a sigh of relief.

Damn it, these guys were too unreliable. They couldn't even deal with an ordinary demon siege beast.

And he had to put in so much effort.

Now that the city wall had been knocked down, how much gold would it have taken to repair such a long section?

The key was that he couldn't leave yet. He couldn't teleport to the stone tablet of the city Lord's mansion to repair the city wall.

The city wall could not be repaired for the time being.

Countless demon soldiers were running into the city through the collapsed wall.

Now, these demon soldiers did not need to jump over the city walls and could run straight into the city.

It gave them great pressure.

damn, there are too many monsters. I can't hold on.

don't f * cking scream. Get more people to block this collapsed area.

you're so f * cking useless. You can't even deal with the small monsters.

"Only you can. Why don't you try?"

it's easier said than done. Do you know how many monsters there are after the city wall fell? "

what the f * ck? why do I feel like all the monsters on the map are rushing toward this gap? " it's not that exaggerated. But there are so many monsters here.

"Is it because the pressure on the other directions will be less if all the small monsters are coming this way?"

"Easy my ass, the number of demon soldiers that jumped onto the city wall is not one bit less."

"F * ck, is there no limit to the number of monsters?"

don't be so noisy. I'll use my ultimate to clear a wave of monsters first.

windcloud blade looked at the monsters around him. there were simply too many of them.

Even though a large number of guild members had come to support, they still couldn't completely seal off this part of the city wall.

Seeing such a situation, he couldn't take it anymore and released a destructive move.

In an instant, all monsters within a 50-yard radius were cleared.

The Guild members nearby took the chance to rush forward and occupy the place where the city wall had collapsed.

Finally, the tide-like attack of the demon soldiers was stopped.

"F * ck, I was scared to death."

"big boss six-barreled, hurry up and repair the city wall. otherwise, i'm afraid it'll be difficult for us to resist. "

After temporarily holding back the attack of the demon soldiers, a guild member called out to Zhang Shan.

” repair my ass. i’m not free. this orange demon race giant beast hasn’t fallen yet. ”

“F * ck, why does it take so long? It’s just an orange BOSS?”

“How is this the same? An orange demon siege beast with 200 million HP. It’s a meat dish.”

Zhang Shan said gloomily.

If it was just a normal orange-colored BOSS, he would not use the fire god cannon.

He estimated that he would be able to easily destroy it in less than a minute.

But this orange demon siege beast was very different.

The behemoth had 200 million HP. Even with 11 fire god cannons, he was already killing it very quickly.

However, it would take some time.

After all, the 200 million HP of the demonic siege beast was no joke.

This was basically the HP of a level 50 real-name BOSS.

“holy shit, an orange boss with 200 million hp? I’ve really gained some knowledge.”

“Then how much longer do you need? do you want us to go over and help?”

Zhang Shan took a look at the boss’s health bar. It was almost at half health, and it would take about two to three minutes.

He would be able to blow up this demonic siege beast.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan said in the Guild channel.

“No need. I’ll be able to kill the BOSS in about two minutes. Can you guys block the gap?”

there’s no problem for now. You’d better hurry. The city wall has fallen, and it’s making people panic.

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he focused on attacking the BOSS.

he didn’t want anyone else to help deal damage to the BOSS.

This was because he had no problems at all. He could easily deal with the demonic siege beasts by himself.

However, it was different in other places.

hence, zhang shan had told them not to come over and to focus on guarding their own positions.

this was to prevent too many demon soldiers from charging into the city.

Under the attack of him and the eleven fire god cannons ...

the hp of the demonic siege beast dropped rapidly.

In less than two minutes, he had blown them up.

” congratulations, six-barreled bodhisattva, you have successfully killed the demonic siege beast. ”

Chapter 417 Double BOSS combination

After destroying the orange-colored demon siege beast.

Zhang Shan quickly teleported to the stone tablet in the city Lord’s Manor. He had to repair the city walls first.

Otherwise, at the place where the city wall had collapsed.

the guilds ‘members who were on the defense were almost unable to hold on.

If a large number of demon soldiers rushed into the demon-suppressing city, who knew what would happen?

Arriving at the stone tablet, Zhang Shan quickly found the option to repair the city.

however, when he saw the amount of gold coins needed to repair the city, he was shocked.

Zhang Shan was a little shocked.

damn it, the repair of the city this time would require tens of millions of gold coins. this was too ruthless.

Did they have to spend so many gold coins to repair the city just because it was slapped twice by an ordinary demon beast?

Zhang Shan’s heart ached.

But what could he do?

he couldn’t possibly say that they wouldn’t repair the city walls because they were too expensive.

If he didn’t repair the city wall.

Not to mention the next wave, the monsters ‘levels might increase and become even more ferocious.

Even now, they couldn’t hold on much longer.

If it wasn’t for the big shots of the Guild running to the place where the city wall had collapsed to block the gap ...

The ordinary guild members that had been nearby at the start had long since been unable to hold on. Even if most of the big shots in the Guild ran over to help, they were still having a hard time. Without the defense of the city wall, the demon fighters outside the city were charging very ferociously. It could be said that they were densely packed as they charged into the city. Even if they fought very quickly, the attack power of these big shots was also very fierce. However, the speed at which they fought the monsters was still not as fast as the demon warriors. If it wasn't for the little fairy's big move, they wouldn't have been able to hold on. Therefore, even though it was painful to spend tens of millions of gold coins ... However, Zhang Shan did not hesitate at all. He quickly chose to repair the city. After Zhang Shan chose to repair the city, he teleported to the place where the city wall had collapsed. The city wall was as good as new. The system's efficiency was really high. Unfortunately, it was too expensive. It was a good thing that Subjugator had brought his men to deliver gold coins to the city during this wave of monster attacks. Otherwise, he would have suffered a huge loss. This was only the third wave, and there was still at least one more wave of demonic behemoths. He didn't know if he would be able to block it later. If there was another accident ... He would have to spend even more gold coins to repair the city. Just thinking about it gave him a headache. Forget it, I'll just take it one step at a time. As long as they could defend the demon-suppressing city, they could earn back the money they spent. After Zhang Shan chose to repair the city. The guilds' members, who were originally defending the gap, instantly noticed the change. Just now, they had been standing in the collapsed ruins, blocking the demon soldiers that had rushed in from outside the city. Just a moment ago, the city wall rose from the ground. All of a sudden, they were standing on the city wall, which was a very magical feeling.

“f * ck, six-barreled boss has repaired the city wall?”

“Nonsense, could it be that you were the one who moved the bricks and built the city wall?”

“This operation is amazing, hehe.”

“Have you all forgotten a question? who was the one who said it in the beginning? Whoever fails will be responsible for the repair of the city wall?”

“don’t talk nonsense. i didn’t. it wasn’t me.”

look through the chat records and find that brother. Let Big Boss six-Guan ask him to reimburse the money for the city wall.

six-barreled boss, how many gold coins did you spend to repair the city wall? ”

A guild member asked him curiously.

“around 10 million gold coins.”

Zhang Shan said gloomily.

This time, they had spent a little too much.

He only spent 500000 gold coins.

Although it was a little painful, he didn’t care.

500,000 gold coins was not a big deal to him at the moment.

However, the repair of the city wall had cost more than 10 million gold coins, which was a real heartache.

Ten million was not a small number.

If he didn’t play games, 10 million would be enough for him to spend for the rest of his life.

However, in the game, he had spent so much money just to repair the city.

This made Zhang Shan truly understand what it meant to spend money like water.

F * ck, even the water didn’t flow that fast.

Who said that this game didn’t cost money?

Of course, Zhang Shan was just thinking about it.

In fact, all games were similar.

If one wanted to play to the highest level, it was inevitable to spend money.

If he was just a passerby, he could play without spending any money.

besides, his money was earned in the game.

The game made money and the game was spent. This was also quite good.

One should not be too greedy.

Only entering but not exiting, that's not a human, that's a Kasaya.

When the Guild members heard that Zhang Shan had just spent 10 million gold coins to repair the city wall, they were stunned.

Everyone could not help but be stunned.

"Holy sh * t, the demonic beasts attacked the city, and they spent more than 10 million gold coins to repair the city wall? This is too cruel."

"Is that strange? It'll be good enough if they can repair such a long section of the high city wall."

but, isn't the amount of gold spent too much? "

"Don't panic. Which brothers were dealing with this demonic beast from the beginning? Come out and pay, hehe."

"check the video playback, find it, and make them pay. Hahaha."

"Don't talk nonsense, just focus on your defense. The next wave will definitely be more fierce."

that's right. There was an accident just now. How are we going to deal with the next wave of demonic beasts? "

"Let's hope that there won't be any more demonic beasts in the next wave."

"Impossible, there must be some. Without the siege beasts, how can the demons attack the city? they won't be able to break in until the city walls collapse."

"Yeah, we have to plan it Well first. We can't be flustered in the next wave."

that's right. Let's make preparations first. We'll pretend that there are still eight demon beasts attacking the city. We'll make preparations in advance.

The accident just now made everyone feel very awkward.

Although everyone had already attached great importance to the demonic behemoths that were attacking the city ...

however, there was still one giant beast that they had not dealt with in advance.

The demons 'siege beasts patted the city wall twice and almost caused a big problem.

He had to be more prepared for the next wave.

if the car were to flip again, the consequences would be even more serious.

it was still fine just now, as only one demon siege beast had gotten close to the city wall.

The other six giant beasts were dealt with by everyone in time.

According to the rule that each wave was stronger than the last, the next wave of demonic beasts would definitely be more ferocious.

Furthermore, it would be even more meaty, so he had to prepare more powerful fighters.

Otherwise, they wouldn't have been able to get close to the city wall before the demonic behemoths approached.

Blow them up.

more importantly, the next wave of demons might be the last wave.

A powerful boss would probably appear.

when the time came, the boss would be held back, and it would be the main strength of zhang shan and the other guilds.

These demonic siege beasts could only be dealt with by the normal members of the Guild.

If they didn't make preparations in advance, no one had the confidence to say that there wouldn't be any accidents.

When the event had been going on for almost an hour and a half, Feng Yun realm came out from the Guild.

He picked out eight small teams and had them deal with the huge demonic beasts that might appear.

These small teams were all made up of long-range professions.

They selected the long-range classes with the strongest explosive power in the Guild, and each team had about 500 people.

Even though there was limited space on the city wall.

When the demonic siege beast appeared.

It was impossible to say that all five hundred people could attack at the same time.

In fact, there were only less than two hundred spots where the giant demon beasts could attack at the same time.

However, Feng Yun realm still prepared as many people as possible.

He was mainly worried that the demonic beasts that would attack the city would be too powerful.

Prepare more people to prevent any major accidents.

For example, just now.

It would be fine if the demon race's siege beast slapped the city wall.

It was a little outrageous that it could make a second palm strike.

Feng Yun realm had prepared twice the number of men in consideration of this problem.

If they hadn't blown up the demonic siege beast at the start.

They couldn't let the demonic beasts attack a second time.

Otherwise, as the area of the city wall's collapse increased, they would not be able to defend it at all.

After all the preparations were done, everyone started killing monsters while waiting for the last wave of demonic monsters to arrive.

although no one had experienced a monster attack in a player's city before, it was still a very rare event.

However, the monsters would get stronger with each wave. This was a common sense.

The last wave of monsters attacking the city would definitely be very strong.

As everyone waited nervously, it was already 9:30 in the evening.

Someone suddenly shouted in the Guild channel.

"Damn, the current level of the demon race's soldiers is 60."

"Let me see."

"F * ck, it really is."

"It's okay. I can defeat a LV 60 demon fighter."

"He can beat them, but he's so slow."

it's fine to be a little slow. The demon soldiers can't jump up the city walls too fast anyway. They can still hold on.

"I'm just afraid that if the city wall falls, the number of demon soldiers charging over will be terrifying. if that's the case, we won't be able to stop them."

"Damn it, can you not jinx it? can't you say something more auspicious?"

"If you don't know how to talk, then just shut up."

brothers, when the demonic beasts attack the city, you must destroy them as soon as possible. Don't let them knock down the city wall. Otherwise, we'll be in big trouble.

"Don't be so noisy, just mind your own business."

When the demonic monsters attacking the city became level 60 demon Warriors.

The situation became tense all of a sudden.

Everyone was nervously farming monsters while staring into the distance to see when the demonic behemoths would appear.

Time passed by slowly, but the demonic siege beast and the final BOSS had yet to appear.

Just when they were feeling nervous.

The other players in the game had also been paying attention to the situation of the monster attack in the demon-suppressing city.

But they couldn't see the situation in the demon-suppressing city.

in the entire demon-suppressing city and its surrounding areas, the only living players were the members of the wind and cloud guild.

No one else.

As long as someone was teleported over, they would all be knocked down at the entrance of the teleportation Hall.

The three six-barrel fire god cannons that Zhang Shan had placed at the entrance of the teleportation Hall.

The fire god Cannon's attack mode was Guild mode. Other than the wind and cloud Guild's members, no matter who it was, as long as they were within the fire god Cannon's range, they would be killed.

they would fire automatically and knock people down.

In addition, the wind cloud Cupid had also brought some people to guard the entrance of the teleportation Hall.

However, after the players from Guild Subjugator resurrected themselves ...

They basically had nothing to do.

Even if there were people who were occasionally teleported over, they were easily knocked to the ground by the fire god cannon.

he didn't need them.

Others couldn't come to the demon-suppressing city, and no one in the wind and cloud Guild had turned on a live broadcast to broadcast the battle.

Therefore, even if the other players paid attention to the battle situation in demon-suppressing city, they could only rely on blind guesses.

The world Channel:

"why hasn't the teleportation formation in the demon-suppressing city been activated yet? Why is the teleportation fee still 10000 gold coins? is the monster attack still not over?"

I don't know. It's been an hour and a half. It should've ended long ago, right? " that's strange. Since it's over, why hasn't six-barreled Bodhisattva repaid the teleportation fee? does he want to keep charging so much? "

who knows? if the price is so high, no one would be teleported to the demon-suppressing city.

maybe the monsters are still attacking the city. The six-headed Bodhisattva is afraid that someone will go over and cause trouble, so he hasn't transferred the teleportation fee back yet.

that's impossible. Don't monster sieges usually last for an hour? " that's hard to say. Our previous monster sieges were one hour long, but that doesn't mean that the monster sieges in the demon suppression city are also one hour long.

"Could it be that the monster attack in the demon suppression clan's city will last for two hours? Will six-barreled Bodhisattva be unable to defend the city? hehe."

it's good that they can't defend it. This black-hearted person is black-hearted.

that's right. At the beginning, I was teleported to demon suppression city and was knocked down at the entrance of the teleportation Hall. I was planning to find someone to resurrect me after the event ended. Who knew that after lying there for an hour, I would be resurrected in the city by the system.

haha, brother, you really laid there for an hour.

"That's for sure," did you see the situation of the monsters attacking the demon-suppressing city? are they fighting the monsters inside the city or outside the city? "

I don't know. I laid in the teleportation Hall for an hour and didn't even see a single monster.

"Oh, then they should be defending outside the city, right?"

"Not necessarily. The city wall of the demon-suppressing city can be climbed. I went up yesterday. Perhaps they are guarding the city wall."

"F * ck, can players climb up the city walls of the demon-suppressing city? after the event is over, i'll definitely go and take a look."

I hope the monster siege ends soon. I still want to go to the demon City. It's boring to keep killing monsters.

then you have to pray that the Bodhisattva of six tubes can defend the demon-suppressing city. Otherwise, if the demon-suppressing city is gone, you can only ride a horse there, hehe.

"That can't be, right? are they really unable to defend the city?"

"Who knows?"

Speaking of which, where's the domineering King? why haven't I heard anything about them? didn't they try to cause any trouble? " they did, but after they were beaten up, they went back dejectedly.

"F * ck, is the wind and cloud Guild that strong? While defending the city, you can also repel Guild domineering aura?"

"I don't know if the wind cloud Guild is powerful or not. however, six-barreled bodhisattva is very powerful. i don't know where he got three strange things from, but he placed them at the entrance of the teleportation hall. domineering aura couldn't even get angry."

"what the f * ck? what's so powerful?"

a six-barrel Vulcan cannon. It has six long barrels and shoots out blue flames. It's very fierce. You'll probably see it the next time you're teleported to demon-suppressing city.

f * ck, where did the six-barreled Bodhisattva get so many cheating items? " there's no way to compare. The others are leading the way, but they can always get some amazing items.

sigh, this is how the game is. One step ahead means one step ahead.

When the demonic soldiers attacking the city became level 60, the wind and cloud Guild's defense situation was no longer easy.

Although the LV 60 demon fighter was only 5 levels higher than the previous LV 55 demon fighter, it was still a LV 60 demon fighter.

However, it was much more difficult for them to deal with it.

Most of the players in the wind and cloud Guild had not even reached level 40.

The level 60 monsters were more than 20 levels higher than them. There was a level gap of four levels.

It severely limited their damage output.

originally, it could deal around 4000 to 5000 damage, but now, it had become much more powerful when attacking these level 60 demon warriors.

He could only hit two to three thousand.

The speed at which they fought the monsters slowed down.

The result of this was that there would always be a large number of demon soldiers on the city wall.

They simply couldn't finish clearing it.

Before the first wave was finished, the second wave of demon soldiers jumped onto the city wall.

It made everyone very nervous.

Even though it was not to the point where he could not hold on.

It was close to the limit of what they could handle.

at this time, if there were any accidents, they would probably collapse.

after about five or six minutes.

Everyone gradually got used to the tense atmosphere.

Someone suddenly shouted in the Guild channel.

“Look, the demonic siege beast has appeared.”

f * ck, they’re so punctual. I thought that there wouldn’t be any demonic beasts in the last wave.

“Don’t think about such beautiful things.”

all teams, pay attention and adjust your positions in time. You must hit all the damage when the demon beasts are within attack range. You must not let them get close to the city wall.

feng yun realm reminded in the guild channel.

He was not at ease with everyone, mainly because of the first two waves of demonic beasts.

Both of them had overturned.

However, this last wave really couldn’t be overturned.

If they were to fail again, the demon-suppressing city would be gone, and they would most likely be unable to defend it.

A LV 60 demon fighter is so fierce.

If the city wall was knocked down by the demon race’s siege beast ...

A sea of demon soldiers charging into the city, they were basically unable to stop them.

This time, it was different from before.

Previously, the level 55 demon Warriors were barely able to keep the monsters outside the city.

But against a level 60 demon warrior ...

if the city wall collapsed, there was an 80% chance that they would not be able to block the gap.

If a massive number of demon soldiers were to flood into the demon-suppressing city ...

Wouldn’t that mean that their city defense operation had failed?

“don’t worry, we’ve been preparing for half a day. we’re just waiting for the demon race’s siege beasts to come. we won’t flip over.”

“If the car flips, I’ll jump off the city wall.”

Everyone stared nervously at the huge demonic beast that was slowly approaching.

However, at the beginning, he was too far away.

Although the size of the demon race’s siege beast was super big, it was still very big.

However, everyone could only vaguely make out the situation. They would only know the exact situation when they got closer.

After a while, the demons 'siege beasts were getting closer and closer to the city wall.

At this moment, everyone suddenly realized that something seemed to be wrong.

In the first three waves, there were eight demonic beasts in each wave.

There seemed to be only seven this time?

There's also a demon race siege beast. Could it be hiding?

"That's strange. Is my mathematics that bad? I've counted so many times, but I still only saw seven demon siege beasts."

"Impossible. Did your physical education teacher teach you mathematics? Can't you even count seven or eight?"

It's true. I've counted it several times. If you don't believe me, you can count too.

"It's impossible. Let me see."

Holy shit, there really are only seven demonic beasts. Where did the other one go? "

"God knows."

As the demon siege beasts got closer and closer ...

everyone could see that there were only seven demonic siege beasts.

Damn it! The last demon siege beast won't launch a sneak attack, right? "

"Don't scare yourself, just guard your own positions."

Zhang Shan looked at it for a long time, but he could not figure it out.

However, this was also good.

With one less demon siege beast, the pressure on them would be reduced.

They had originally prepared eight small teams, but now they only needed seven.

The extra party would continue to kill the mobs.

In any case, these level 60 demon Warriors were quite difficult to deal with, so it was good to have more people to kill the small monsters.

Other than the addition of a small team.

Zhang Shan's team, which was preparing to deal with the boss, did not have any special tasks now.

This was because they had yet to see the boss appear.

Logically speaking, there should be a Big Boss in such a big event.

However, there were only 20 minutes left.

They still didn't see the big boss.

It might appear a little later.

However, this was also good. This way, they could help the Guild members on the city walls share some of the pressure.

It would be best if they could kill all seven of the demonic beasts.

The final Big Boss was coming out.

Zhang Shan stayed on top of the city gate and looked into the distance carefully. He still did not discover anything.

At this time, those Fiend Race siege beasts were already almost within everyone's attack range.

At this point, Zhang Shan teleported in front of a huge demon beast.

Since the big BOSS had not appeared yet, he would not be able to do so.

In that case, he would help the others to get rid of the demonic beasts first.

Looking at the huge demonic beast that was slowly approaching the city, when it was within his shooting range, he felt a sense of fear.

Zhang Shan opened fire decisively.

However, he did not activate his berserk skill this time.

He still had to save his berserk skills for now.

This was to prevent his berserk skills from being on cooldown when the final BOSS appeared.

That would be nonsense.

Not to mention, even without activating a berserk skill, his damage output was still higher than the other members of the Guild.

It was several times higher, even more than ten times.

At Zhang Shan's normal rate of attack, the damage was already very impressive.

Moreover, the previous plan didn't need him to take part in dealing with these demonic siege beasts.

Zhang Shan's mission was to work with Feng Yun realm's team to deal with the possible BOSS.

now that the BOSS had not appeared, he was only here to help.

Under normal circumstances, without his help, the other guild members should be able to destroy the demonic beasts before they could get close to the city walls.

Now, there was Zhang Shan's damage. It should be more secure.

As Zhang Shan attacked, he checked the attributes of the demonic siege beast.

He realized that this wave of demon siege beasts was still alright.

It didn't strengthen much, let alone the attack power of these giant beasts.

anyway, when it was shot on the city wall, it would collapse with one shot.

Zhang Shan's main concern was the amount of blood of the demon race's siege beasts.

They would have to fight for a long time.

He definitely couldn't blow up the demon siege beast before it got close to the city wall.

However, after checking his attributes, Zhang Shan was relieved.

These demonic siege beasts only had 20 million HP.

Although the demonic siege beast was a white level monster, it was still a monster.

Having 20,000,000 HP was simply an incredible thing.

however, they had already experienced three waves.

This was the fourth wave of demonic siege beasts. They had long been used to it.

20 million HP was still considered good.

They had arranged for 500 long-ranged classes to deal with each demonic siege beast.

There were more than two hundred people who could attack the giant demon beasts at the same time.

On average, each person only needed to do so before the demonic beasts got close to the city wall.

If he could deal 100000 damage, he would have completed the quest.

This shouldn't be difficult to do.

After all, these demon siege beasts walked very slowly.

from appearing within their attack range to getting close to the city wall, these demonic siege beasts would take dozens of seconds.

If they used all sorts of berserk skills, it shouldn't be a problem for them to blow up the demonic behemoths.

Not long after, the demonic siege beast in front of Zhang Shan was blown up by them before it could even get close to the city wall.

zhang shan almost did not stop. he immediately teleported to the side of the giant demon beast that was the slowest at dealing damage.

A Swift and violent attack was launched. The huge demon beast that was attacking the city waved its palm.

Just as it was about to slam down on the city wall, they finally managed to blow up the giant beast.

Fortunately, Zhang Shan had arrived quickly. Otherwise, the others would not have been able to destroy this giant beast in time.

After they had finished off the giant demon, Zhang Shan looked in the other direction.

All the demonic siege beasts had been blown up.

Seeing this, Zhang Shan heaved a long sigh of relief.

to be honest, he wasn't worried about how powerful the final BOSS would be.

No matter how strong the BOSS was, it was not a problem for Zhang Shan.

Because he was stronger.

With the help of their teammates, they should be able to defeat any BOSS at this stage.

Zhang Shan was only worried about these demons attacking the city. These beasts were too destructive to the city walls.

A casual slap could knock down a section of the city wall if they didn't get rid of these demonic siege beasts in time.

If they were able to create a few holes on the city wall, the demon-suppressing city would not be able to defend itself.

Without the city walls, they definitely wouldn't be able to withstand those level 60 demon Warriors.

Fortunately, there were no more accidents this time.

with everyone's hard work, they managed to destroy the demonic siege beast in time.

"Haha, this is a sure win."

"damn, i was so nervous just now. i was afraid that the demon race's siege beast would hit the city wall a few times. "

"We should be able to safely survive this monster attack."

"it's a pity that there's no reward for this monster attack."

what kind of reward is this? I'll just treat it as farming monsters. I won't lose anything.

after this monster attack, Big Boss six-eyed will be the city Lord for sure. He'll be able to make money from now on, hehe.

"after the event, the six-bosses are going to give out red packets, big red packets. "

"yes, the six-barreled boss is giving out red packets."

red packets are easy to deal with. After the monster attack event ends, we will give out red packets of 50 million gold coins. Everyone will get a share.

Zhang Shan was also very happy that he had managed to defend against this wave of demonic beasts.

He had saved a lot of money by not letting the demonic beasts attack the city and knock down the city wall.

Giving out red packets was a small problem. He could just treat it as repairing the city.

Right at the start, Subjugator had brought his men over and paid him tens of millions of gold coins for the teleportation fee.

It was just right to give everyone benefits.

after all, demon suppression city was only his own city and could not be considered as the wind and cloud guild's city.

The profits of the city would only belong to him.

Guild members helping him defend the city was just helping him. It wasn't an obligation of the Guild.

It was only right to send red packets, and they should be big red packets.

When they heard that Zhang Shan was planning to give out 50 million gold coins as a red packet, everyone was very happy.

The wind and cloud Guild had a total of 100000 members. If the 50 million gold coins were evenly distributed, each person would get 500 gold coins.

To ordinary guild members, 500 gold was a small fortune.

even when zhang shan was still working, their boss had never seen him give out a 500 yuan red packet.

Zhang Shan was definitely considered a big spender.

Of course, if someone was unlucky and only managed to get one gold coin, there was nothing they could do.

Snatching red packets depended on luck. Zhang Shan could only say that everyone had a share. As for how many red packets one could get, that would depend on their own abilities.

haha, six-barreled boss, you're so generous. Why don't you post it now? anyway, this wave of defense is in the bag.

"Yes, I'll post it now, hehe."

f * ck, that's too much. The monster attack is not over yet.

what are you afraid of? without the demon siege beasts, these demon soldiers are like little brothers. There's no need to worry at all.

the problem is that there must be a Big Boss who hasn't come out yet.

what's there to be afraid of? with six-barreled boss around, any boss is just a floating cloud.

"Alright, I'll post it now."

Zhang Shan did not hesitate. He directly sent out a 50 million red packet in the Guild channel.

He was a rich man now, so he couldn't be stingy.

Besides, the 50000,000 gold coins were also contributed by Subjugator.

There were at least 10000 players from the domineering aura Guild who had teleported to demon suppression city.

In addition, there were also some other people who were scattered and teleported here.

he had earned more than 50 million gold coins from the teleportation fees today.

Guarding the demon-suppressing city, this treasure bowl, if he still hesitated, it would not make sense.

After Zhang Shan sent out the red packet, the Guild members were all happy.

“Holy sh * t, they really sent red packets, haha.”

“Big Boss six-barreled, you’re generous.”

“F * ck, did I see wrong? Did you just snatch 500000 gold coins?”

“I only managed to get 3000 gold coins, but that’s not bad, hehe.”

f * ck, is this real? why did I only get one gold coin? ”

“Don’t blame the Union government for being unlucky, hehe.”

Everyone was fighting for red packets while killing monsters.

The lucky ones managed to get more than 500000 gold coins, while the unlucky ones only managed to get one gold coin.

However, this had nothing to do with Zhang Shan.

He was only concerned about the big boss that was about to appear. What kind of existence would he be? he didn’t think he would fail.

Of course, he was just curious. No matter how strong the boss was, he wouldn’t be worried.

He was already so strong, so why would he be worried about not being able to stop the boss?

There were only about 20 minutes left before the monster attack. No matter how strong the boss was, he should be able to hold it off for 20 minutes.

Worst comes to worst, we’ll just get Feng Yun realm to send more support.

As long as he had enough support, he was confident that he could block any boss.

After receiving Zhang Shan’s Red packet, everyone was even more excited about killing monsters.

The moment those LV 60 demon fighters jumped onto the city wall, they were pulled back by a group of people and were slowly knocked down one by one.

When the time came to 9:40.

In the distance, a super large demon monster appeared in the direction of the gate of the demon-suppressing city.

“F * ck, is that a BOSS?”

"It should be. It's really big."

"It's not too big, at least much smaller than Magnus."

"Alright, let's not talk about a big pervert like Magnus."

"Why do I feel that this BOSS looks very similar to the demonic siege beast?"

"You don't say, it's quite similar, but it's a lot bigger."

"F * ck, it can't be a red demonic siege beast, right?"

who knows? I can't see it clearly now, but I'll know when I get closer.

a normal demonic siege beast can knock down a section of the city wall with one slap. What do you think would happen if a red demonic siege beast did the same on the city wall? would half of the city be gone? " who cares? it doesn't matter how strong it is. Big Boss six-barreled won't let it have the chance to shoot the city wall.

"You're right, I'm just curious."

what's there to be curious about? if the red demonic beasts really attack the city, I'm afraid the entire city will be gone.

"Haha, bro, you're exaggerating."

The giant beast in the distance was slowly approaching the city gate with heavy steps.

Zhang Shan stood on the city gate tower and looked into the distance.

He felt a little strange. He seemed to have seen two banners with the names of monsters.

However, due to the distance, he couldn't see it clearly.

Zhang Shan asked wind and cloud blade, who was beside him.

"brother yidao, did you see the monster's name? Why do I feel like there are two bosses?"

that's impossible. How can there be two bosses at the same time? "

"F * ck, it seems like there really are two names."

Slowly, the BOSS got closer and closer.

everyone gradually saw the name of the BOSS clearly.

There really were two bosses.

One of them was the red demonic siege beast commander, and the other was the demonic siege commander, mackmilly.

commander mackmillie was standing on the behemoth commander's shoulder, so they didn't notice him just now.

In the beginning, they only saw the figure of the big man, the commander of the demon siege beasts.

They didn't even notice that there was another BOSS.

They had never encountered such a situation before.

These two bosses would probably be very difficult to deal with.

The orange demonic beast that had attacked the city earlier had 200 million HP.

How much blood would he have?

Zhang Shan did not even dare to think about it. In any case, it would be very exaggerated.

As for the other one, the demonic siege commander, mackmillie, there was no need to even mention him.

There were no real name bosses that were weak.

With two bosses together, the difficulty was doubled.

No, it should be said that it wasn't just double the difficulty. Most of the time, one plus one was greater than two.

If they wanted to take down these two bosses, it would probably take a lot of effort.

Initially, Zhang Shan was still full of confidence. However, when he saw the two bosses appear at the same time, he was shocked.

He could no longer remain calm.

If they didn't hold on for a while, would they be able to kill the BOSS? they could just wait until the end of the event.

"Two bosses have appeared. What should we do now?"

Zhang Shan asked in the team channel.

They had only prepared one party to fight the BOSS, which was 50 people.

although these fifty people were all big shots and extremely powerful.

it would not be a problem for him to deal with a normal BOSS.

Even if they were up against a real-name BOSS, with the fire support of the eleven fire god cannons on the city gate tower ...

There was no problem at all.

However, now that there were two bosses, it was a big problem.

the demonic siege beast commander was not a boss with a real name.

however, it was not much easier to deal with than a real-name boss.

The orange giant beast had 50000 attack power and 200 million HP.

zhang shan did not even dare to think about the attack power and hp of the red demon race giant beast.

In any case, it would definitely be higher than a real name boss.

However, these demonic beasts didn't have any skills.

The difficulty of dealing with the red demonic behemoth was far greater than that of a real-name boss.

"Do you want to get another team to fight the two bosses separately?"

Feng Yun realm suggested.

"No one can stand it."

zhang shan had also considered the problem of fighting separately.

However, the two bosses' attack power was so high. In the entire game, he was the only one.

No one else would be able to take on any of the bosses.

"It can't be, right? That red giant demon beast, the little secretary should be able to hold it off, right?"

Feng Yun realm said in disbelief.

Secretary Feng Yun's tank strength was definitely the top existence in the entire game.

If not for Zhang Shan, this bug-like existence, he would definitely have to be the one to tank the BOSS.

Feng Yun realm felt that the little Secretary was unreasonable. She could not even handle a red BOSS.

It's even more difficult to fight the red giant demon. The orange giant beast I fought just now had an attack power of 50000. This red giant beast should have an attack power of at least 200000.

Zhang Shan explained to Feng Yun realm.

He had been the only one fighting the orange demonic siege beast.

He did not share the giant beast's attributes, so the others did not know its attributes.

After hearing Zhang Shan's words, the rest of the team could not help but be shocked.

Holy shit, is this real? Even an orange giant beast has 50000 attack power?"

"Yes, I am."

"What the fuck, how strong is that red beast? With the addition of commander Mackmillie, can you hold off two bosses at the same time?"

"I don't know yet. We'll have to test the BOSS's attributes first."

Zhang Shan did not dare to make any guarantees.

If the commander's damage was also very high, it might really be difficult for him to hold off two bosses at the same time.

He wasn't worried about his HP recovery. With the passive skill, he had no problem recovering his HP.

He didn't even need the support to heal him, he could suck back his own blood.

The key was that he was afraid that the damage dealt by the two bosses at the same time would exceed his maximum health.

In that case, if the two bosses were to deal damage at the same time, he might be killed instantly.

even though his current hp was terrifyingly high.

It had a maximum HP of over 500000.

however, the attack power of these two bosses was also very high.

This was especially true for the red demonic siege beast commander. Its attack power would definitely exceed 200000.

Even though the Almighty beast commander did not have any skills, it was still a monster.

However, just its super high attack power alone was enough to make people feel very uncomfortable.

As for what the attack power of commander mackmilly was? That would be hard to say.

It might be more than 100000 Yuan.

Chapter 418 The ultimate skill, frozen world

When he realized that two bosses had appeared at the same time, Zhang Shan was very depressed.

He had never thought that after obtaining the king's Cape, there would be a boss that he couldn't handle.

however, the bosses in this siege did not follow the usual routine. two of them appeared at the same time. what should they do?

He wasn't confident that he could block two bosses at the same time.

The key was that the damage of these two bosses would definitely be very high.

what should he do?

in that case, let's send another team over. Let the little Secretary lead the team while you hold the boss. If you can't hold on, someone can hold the boss back for a while.

When he heard that Zhang Shan was not sure if he could hold off two bosses at the same time.

feng yun realm decided that they had to increase the number of players in their formation to fight the BOSS.

If Zhang Shan fell to the ground, they would need cannon fodder to pull the BOSS.

"That's good too. It's an extra layer of insurance."

Zhang Shan also felt that Feng Yun realm's arrangement was reasonable.

He needed an extra layer of insurance.

Otherwise, if Zhang Shan fell, none of them would be able to hold the BOSS.

If the demonic siege beast commander directly rushed to the city gate and slapped it ...

The demon-suppressing city would probably be gone.

The people led by Secretary Feng Yun quickly arrived at the city gate.

Zhang Shan said to the others.

"let's move forward a little. we'll attack the boss from 100 yards away. as long as we're within the fire god cannon's range, we'll be fine. we'll aim for the remaining targets."

Zhang Shan was still afraid. He was afraid that if he fell to the ground, the others would not be able to hold the boss back.

It was also good for the demon siege beast commander to run a little further to get close to the city wall.

"Alright," he said.

The others also understood Zhang Shan's intentions. Everyone stepped forward together and came to a place about a hundred yards away from the city gate.

This was the maximum range of the fire god cannon.

the rows of demon soldiers were all blocked out of this distance by the eleven fire god cannons.

They stood there quietly, waiting for the two bosses to arrive.

After a while, the huge figure of the demonic siege beast commander slowly approached Zhang Shan's shooting range.

Zhang Shan did not hesitate to open fire. Just as he was about to take the opportunity to check the attributes of the giant beast commander.

they saw their commander, mackmillie, who had been standing on the shoulder of the giant demonic beast commander.

he jumped down directly at zhang shan, brandishing his long sword, and slashed at zhang shan's head.

-80972 damage.

Haha, this is a fake. It looks so scary, but it doesn't actually do much damage.

After seeing the damage that the commander, mackmilly, had dealt to him, Zhang Shan was relieved.

This real-name BOSS wasn't too strong.

Back then, the son of the beast God, Magnus, had dealt 150000 to 160000 damage to him with a single slap.

And this commander, mackmillie, could only cut him down by a little more than 80000.

The damage dealt was only half of Magnus.

This time, it was settled. Even if Zhang Shan were to tank the two bosses together, it would not be a big problem.

At this moment, the commander of the demonic siege beasts also stepped forward and slapped Zhang Shan.

Damage -186199.

The demonic siege beast commander's ordinary slap had actually reduced his HP by more than 180000.

It was simply terrifying. The red beast commander's attack power should have reached 200000.

Fortunately, the attack speed of the demonic siege beast commander was very slow, even though its single attack damage was terrible.

However, it had to wait for a long time before it could strike again.

As long as he could not kill Zhang Shan in seconds, there was basically no problem.

The two bosses came in front of Zhang Shan. One was waving a long sword, while the other was slowly waving his palm.

All sorts of injuries started to land on Zhang Shan's body.

However, Zhang Shan was not idle.

He held the cannon and kept firing at the demonic siege beast.

As for the appointed official, mackmillie.

Although Zhang Shan did not aim his attack at it, he had the catapulting passive.

he only needed to attack one of the bosses. the passive damage from the ejection would jump back and forth between the two bosses.

With Zhang Shan's shot, the damage could jump back and forth between the two bosses six times.

This damage output made him feel so good that he was flying.

However, because there were other monsters nearby, his bullet damage would sometimes hit the monsters.

Normally, it would be fine even if it hit the monsters. It would even increase his lifesteal efficiency.

However, he couldn't do that now. There were two bosses. It would be best if he could make the damage jump between the two bosses.

Zhang Shan said to the rest.

I can block the boss. You guys clear the surrounding monsters first and then separate them. This way, my ejection passive will be able to fully display its effect.

“Alright,” he said.

Zhang Shan had just started to catch the BOSS, and the aggro was not stable. The others still did not dare to attack the BOSS.

it was a good time for them to separate the monsters at the side.

As Zhang Shan attacked, he also checked the attributes of the two bosses.

Demonic siege beast commander (red): level 60, attack 200000, hp 1 billion.

Skills, siege, status, Holy demon's protection.

The demon sieging commander, mackmillie (red): attack 45000 hp 500 million

Skill 1, horizontal slash; skill 2, tactical attack; skill 3, Demon God's will; skill 4, stone throw.

[horizontal slash: commander mackmily sweeps his sword and deals damage to an enemy target in front of him. Damage range: 5 yards.]

[tactical attack: commander mackmilly is proficient in tactics. He has integrated tactics into his swordsmanship, increasing damage by 100%.]

[Demon God's will: when in danger, commander Michael will summon the demon God's will to assist in battle.]

[trebuchet attack: as the Nephilim's siege commander, mackmillie has brought a large number of trebuchets.]

When an attack is blocked, it will launch a catapult to attack the target, dealing five times the damage. The damage range is 100 yards, and the duration is five seconds.

These two bosses were two extremes.

The demonic siege behemoth commander had high attack power and a lot of HP, but it did not have any skills. It was just a dummy monster.

As long as Zhang Shan could block it, one normal attack from it would not be a problem for the rest.

the demon commander, mackmillie, was the exact opposite. its attack and hp were not considered high.

It could only be considered a normal BOSS with a real name.

Compared to the son of the beast God, Magnus, the commander's attack power and HP were far inferior.

Of course, this was mainly because Magnus had a divine power passive skill, which increased all attributes by 100%.

However, mackmillie did not have a similar skill, so its attributes were very ordinary.

However, even though commander mackmilly's attributes were ordinary, his skills were quite powerful.

Moreover, they were all AoE skills.

the first minor skill, horizontal slash, dealt damage to enemy targets within a five-yard radius.

This way, the melee jobs in their team would not be able to attack the BOSS.

He could only stab the BOSS in the back.

However, commander mackmillie had limited space to attack from the back. He probably couldn't let too many close-range fighters attack at the same time.

Of course, it didn't matter if it was mackmillie's skill. It didn't affect them much.

wasn't it just to reduce their melee damage?

They were not lacking in damage. They had Zhang Shan and the 11 fire god cannons on the city gate tower.

The damage was enough, but the damage to the others would only be an addition to the beauty.

it would be good if he could deal more damage. It didn't matter if he couldn't deal any damage.

Since the melee players in the team could not attack the BOSS, they could just clear the mobs on the side.

Separate the monsters from the BOSS.

In order to allow Zhang Shan to be on the defensive and perform better.

The second skill of commander mackmillie was nothing special, it was just double the damage.

similar skills were common on red bosses.

As for mackmilly's third skill, the demon God's will skill, they had seen it even more.

logically speaking, as long as they were prepared, this skill should be easy to deal with.

However, it also depended on the time.

They were currently defending the city, and everyone still had to face a large number of demon soldiers.

On the other hand, the demon God's will skill of a real-name BOSS would usually deal damage to the entire map.

In other words, as long as mackmillie cast the demon God's will skill, all the players in the demon-suppressing city would be killed.

They would be hurt.

Originally, it was already very difficult for everyone to deal with the demon soldiers who had jumped up the city walls.

After all, this last wave of demon soldiers were all level 60 and not easy to deal with.

With the interference of the demon God's will skill, it would be even more difficult.

However, there was no other way. No one could stop mackmilly from summoning the demon God apparition.

In the face of this skill, everyone could only think of a way to resist it.

As for mackmilly's ultimate ...

this skill was also strange. it was actually using a catapult to attack?

The problem was, they didn't see where mackmillie's trebuchets were.

Of course, it didn't matter if they saw the trebuchets or not.

Since that was what the skill description said, then mackmille would naturally bring out the trebuchets later.

The main point was that the damage of these trebuchets was five times that of commander mackmilly.

According to his calculations, if he used his tactical attack skills, the damage would increase.

In theory, mackmilly's ultimate skill dealt 450000 damage.

But the problem was that commander mackmillie's ultimate skill was still a continuous damage.

It was a little exaggerated that the damage could last for five seconds.

A single attack dealt 450000 damage for five seconds. That would mean that he would be dealing over two million damage.

Moreover, the range of the stone was extremely large, reaching a hundred yards.

It was simply a little exaggerated.

The other people in the team would definitely not be able to hold on.

Zhang Shan was still able to withstand it. At least, it was not a problem to withstand the damage once.

However, he didn't just need to tank the boss, Michael. There was still a ferocious demonic siege beast commander on the side.

It's a little hard to resist.

Under normal circumstances, Zhang Shan would not have been able to hold on.

However, he now had an ultimate skill.

deity's descent. upon activation, all attributes will increase by 100% for one minute.

As long as he activated his ultimate skill, his HP and attack power would double. Holding off two bosses would definitely be a piece of cake.

However, the deity's descent could only last for a minute.

In other words, he could only deal with one of mackmillie's big moves.

If mackmillie were to cast his ultimate a second time, he would be out of options.

from the looks of it, they had to play faster.

after zhang shan had successfully pulled the aggro of the two bosses.

Apart from a portion of the others who separated the surrounding mobs, the rest of the people started to attack the BOSS together.

the 11 fire god cannons on the tower of the city gate also began to shoot out light blue flames when the BOSS got close.

The BOSS's health was dropping rapidly.

However, there were two bosses now. Some were fighting this one, and some were fighting that one.

It was a little chaotic.

"Let's focus on one first."

Windcloud blade said as he stood behind macmily, brandishing his divine weapon battleaxe.

then focus your attacks on the demonic siege behemoth commander. This BOSS has double the HP. The commander told me to slowly deal my ejection damage first.

Zhang Shan answered without even thinking.

The demonic siege behemoth commander's HP was one billion.

The demon commander, mackmilly, only had 500 million HP.

The difference in HP between the two was a whole double.

It would be best if the two bosses were killed at almost the same time.

This way, he would be able to display the greatest effect of his ejection.

To be honest, if the damage of the ejection passive was fully extended between the two bosses, then the damage of the boss would be reduced.

His damage output alone might be higher than everyone else's.

therefore, it was best to ensure that his ejection damage could be perfectly utilized.

alright, then we'll attack the Almighty beast commander first.

A group of giant demon beast commanders concentrated their firepower on the enemy.

as for the commander, none of them went to fight him. they were completely relying on zhang shan's ejection damage.

On top of the city gate, a few fire god cannons were dealing damage.

The fire god Cannon's attack target was random.

Zhang Shan could not control it either. Some of the fire god cannons were firing at the giant beast commander, while others were firing at the commander, mackmillie.

zhang shan could not control the target of the fire god cannons, so he could only let them do as they pleased.

As long as they were balanced, the health of the two bosses would be enough.

As everyone continued to deal damage, the attacks continued to hit.

After about two to three minutes, the Nephilim commander, Mike Millie's HP had almost dropped to 80%.

At this moment, Feng Yun realm shouted in the Guild channel.

everyone, get ready. The BOSS is about to cast the demon God's will skill. Everyone, get close to the support team. The demon God's will skill of the real name BOSS will be very powerful.

"Damn, again? is it like magnus, with full map damage?"

"i guess so."

f * ck, I've just gotten the rhythm right, and now there's another one. My head hurts.

"hurry up and heal me to full health. i only have half of my health left. how am i going to tank the boss 'full-map damage later?'" you're right. Everyone, get back to your peak condition and prepare for the next wave of attacks.

when the other guild members heard that the boss that zhang shan and the others were fighting also had a demon god's will skill, they were stunned.

Everyone was speechless.

Right now, they were already having a very difficult time. Wasn't this just increasing the difficulty for them?

However, this was something that could not be helped.

The demon commander, mackmillie, had such a skill, but they were helpless.

They couldn't just say that they didn't fight the BOSS.

Besides, if they did not defeat the final BOSS, it was still uncertain whether this monster attack would end normally.

under zhang shan's ejection damage and the attacks of a few vulcan cannons, commander mackmilly's health had dropped to 80%.

It pointed its long sword to the sky and muttered something.

After a short while, a huge demon's shadow appeared behind mackmilli.

All the players in the demon-suppressing city were losing HP rapidly.

Even the wind cloud Cupid who was far away in the teleportation Hall was no exception.

They were also affected by the demon God's Phantom, and their HP dropped rapidly.

"F * ck, 6000 HP in one second?"

"Isn't that normal? Back then, Magnus was also like this."

"F * ck, I thought that Magnus was an overpowered BOSS. It turns out that all the 60 real name bosses are this powerful."

It's alright, commander Michael. He's a lot weaker than Magnus. If we weren't, and we were in the middle of a monster attack, it would have been easy.

"Can you guys stop talking nonsense and focus on healing? I'm about to die."

"Damn brittleskin, I've already healed you three times, and you still can't hold on?"

f * ck, if I could do it all over again, I would definitely play a tanky job. A fragile job is too miserable.

"Haha, that's because you're too noob."

Very quickly, the demonic God's apparition's 15-second duration was over.

Although the commander's Demon God's will skill dealt a lot of damage, it was still very powerful.

6,000 damage per second for 15 seconds.

However, everyone was prepared in advance and everyone moved closer to the support.

As a result, they didn't lose too many people in this wave of skills.

Moreover, those who had fallen to the ground were quickly revived.

They were at a critical point in the defense of the city, and they needed manpower.

Therefore, he didn't save on the support's resurrection skill. As long as he saw someone fall to the ground, he would immediately resurrect.

In any case, the entire Guild had the help of the resurrection skill, and there were now thousands of players.

As long as they didn't kill tens of thousands of people in large numbers, they could basically resurrect people in time.

After a wave of skills, the others continued to kill monsters on the city wall.

As for Zhang Shan's two teams, they continued to attack the demon siege beast commander.

As for the demon commander, mackmillie, it was completely dependent on Zhang Shan's catapulting damage and the attacks of the few fire gods.

Even so, mackmillie's HP was still dropping much faster than the Almighty beast commander's.

After all, the demonic siege behemoth commander's HP was 500 million more.

Even if they focused their full power on attacking.

There was still no way to level the health bars of the two bosses.

everyone attacked while they chatted.

Heart moves with me said.

fortunately, the demonic siege behemoth commander doesn't have any skills. If it had a few skills, I'm afraid we would have been too busy.

such an overpowered boss. If it still has skills, who can beat it? "

" that's right. the demonic siege behemoth is only a specific type of monster. it can't be like other bosses and have amazing skills. otherwise, there's no way to fight it. "

" that's for sure. with the demonic siege behemoth commander's attack power of 200000, no one can withstand it with any skill that increases damage, not even the six-barreled boss. " by the way, what should we do when commander mackmilly uses his ultimate skill? we don't seem to be able to hold on.

don't be too confident. Please remove the word 'seems'. We can't stop him anyway.

"Then what should we do? If we can't withstand the BOSS's ultimate, what's the point of fighting?"

don't worry, we can't, but Big Boss six can.

that won't do either. If we all retreat, only Big Boss six-barreled will be left. He won't be able to hold on for long, right? "

"Don't worry, I'll use my ultimate skill when mackmillie's HP drops to 50%. With all his attributes doubled, he could completely block the damage from its big move. However, I can only withstand it once. I hope that we can destroy mcmily before it releases its second ultimate move."

f * ck, I forgot that the six-barreled boss also has an ultimate skill now.

"Yes, the ultimate skill of a Hunter is most effective at this time."

what are you thinking about? you're just a salted fish. You have nothing to do with the ultimate skill.

f * ck, who are you looking down on? when I have a full set of divine weapons, I'll send you flying.

"Maybe in your next life. Don't even think about it in this life, hehe."

After a wave of skills, it began to enter a period of calm.

The Guild members on top of the city wall were facing the level 60 demonic Warriors that were constantly jumping up.

although the pressure was great, he could still withstand it.

As for Zhang Shan's team that was fighting the BOSS, it was even easier.

With Zhang Shan tanking the two bosses at the front, the rest only needed to continuously attack the demonic siege beast commander and deal damage to it.

Commander mackmillie had just let go of the demon God's will skill, so it would not be able to cast any other skills for the time being.

He just kept using horizontal slashes, cutting out the damage range of the crescent moon.

However, other than Zhang Shan, the others had avoided the range of the horizontal slash from the start.

It didn't affect them.

As for Zhang Shan.

Even though he was taking the damage of two bosses at the same time.

One of them was a real name BOSS.

But how should he put it?

It was actually better for him to have the two bosses stand together and attack. It was more beneficial for him to perform.

His ejection damage was full.

With one shot, it bounced between the two bosses 12 times, instantly dealing high damage.

He relied on the lifesteal effect on his equipment.

Every time the BOSS's attack landed, he would be able to recover his HP by himself.

He didn't even need the support to heal him.

In some cases, the ejection passive was a BUG like this.

he was taking the damage of two bosses at the same time without any support. he was so strong that it was unreasonable.

This was because no one had uploaded these images to the forum.

If other players were to see this scene, they would probably explode with jealousy.

Other people would have to be very careful when dealing with a normal mini-boss.

Zhang Shan was tanking them at the same time. The two bosses with such high damage actually did not even need a healer support.

How could the other players feel at ease?

Slowly, everyone played for another three minutes.

the demonic siege beast's hp had been reduced to 60%.

As for commander mackmilly's HP, it was about to be reduced to half.

"What do we do? Should we retreat first? It's mackmilly's ultimate, the damage is so high and the range is so wide, let's retreat early?"

Windcloud blade asked everyone as he attacked the boss.

"Why don't we fight for a while? right now, the commander's hp is still at 53%."

let's retreat. If the six-barreled boss uses Holy Strike a few times in a row, I'm afraid we won't be able to escape.

Feng Yun realm stopped everyone from arguing as he spoke.

let's retreat first. Six-barreled doesn't need any support anyway. We'll just heal him.

The rest of the people retreated back into the city.

Originally, there were two teams, a team of 100 players, fighting the boss.

Now, only Zhang Shan was left, and he continued to attack the boss.

After all, the demon commander, mackmillie's ultimate move was still very powerful, and none of them could withstand it.

In fact, Zhang Shan was also having a hard time.

The damage of the commander's ultimate skill was not just instantaneous, but it lasted for five seconds.

If he had not obtained the skill book yesterday, he probably would not have been able to hold on by himself.

However, now that he had an ultimate skill, tanking the damage from mackmilly's ultimate skill was a piece of cake.

after the others retreated, zhang shan was alone. the speed at which he was fighting the BOSS had slowed down significantly.

The main thing was that there was no one to help him block the small monsters at the side.

As a result, most of the damage he dealt was reflected on the monsters.

Originally, every shot he fired would cause six damage to each of the two bosses.

Now, all the damage from the bullet was taken by the monsters.

each attack could only deal one damage to each BOSS.

it had severely lowered his damage output.

Moreover, the monsters had rushed up and attracted the fire god cannons on the city gate tower's attack, attracting quite a number of them.

It wasn't like before.

the fire god cannon's previous attacks had been focused on the two bosses.

Now, it would always hit the small monsters.

This was something that could not be helped.

There were so many small monsters, and they kept charging forward.

in a situation where no one was blocking, a lot of damage output would inevitably be chaotic.

Even so, Zhang Shan was still very fast. He had reduced the health of the commander, Mike Millie, to 50%.

The moment he saw that mackmilly's health bar had dropped to 50% ...

Zhang Shan quickly activated his God's descent skill.

After activating the ultimate skill, his entire character instantly doubled in size, and he was also covered in a golden halo.

It looked a lot more powerful.

However, even if all his attributes were doubled, why did his size also double?

Just as Zhang Shan was about to activate his ultimate.

the nephilim commander, mackmilly, also began to cast his ultimate skill.

It swung its longsword forward, and rows of trebuchets appeared inexplicably behind the mycrick.

A large number of huge rocks were flying towards Zhang Shan.

A huge rock hit Zhang Shan.

However, he didn't even lose a bit of blood.

What the f * ck, what's going on? the commander's big move didn't hurt him?

But very quickly, Zhang Shan reacted.

it should be the effect of the deity's descent.

The description of the deity's descent was as such.

he was like a god that had descended to the mortal world, invulnerable to all spells and immune to all magic damage.

the ultimate skill of the demon commander, mystra, was of course also magic damage. therefore, it was immune to zhang shan's god's descent skill.

the ultimate skill was still awesome.

Zhang Shan could not help but sigh.

Of course, that was one thing.

The rhythm of his attack did not stop at all, and he continued to deal damage to the BOSS.

However, he didn't attack anymore. The demonic siege beast was the commander.

instead, he changed his target to the commander, mackmilly.

The reason was simple. They had to defeat their commander, mychmiley, as soon as possible.

He couldn't let it have the chance to use its big move again.

Next time, Zhang Shan would not have any ultimate skills to block the BOSS's ultimate move.

The commander's stone attack had a duration of five seconds, which was 450000 damage per second.

However, such a terrifying amount of damage did not even manage to peel off Zhang Shan's skin.

His teammates, who had originally retreated, saw their commander, mackmilly, cast a big move.

He quickly ran back.

A portion of the melee classes quickly cleared the surrounding monsters while the others stepped up their pace and attacked the commander.

After the surrounding monsters were separated by his teammates, Zhang Shan's ejection damage could be perfectly utilized again.

Seeing such a situation.

zhang shan quickly went all out.

He activated both berserk and fanatic skills, and at the same time, he activated shadow clone.

The three Zhang Shans, who had grown to twice their original size, stood in a row.

Deal rapid damage to the commander.

Previously, Zhang Shan had been saving his explosive skill for the time when he would use his ultimate skill.

At the same time, he activated his berserk skill.

This way, he would be able to deal more explosive damage.

after activating his ultimate skill, his attack power exceeded 100000, and his agility attribute also doubled.

It made his attack speed even faster.

After activating the berserk and fanatic skills, his attack speed had reached a terrifying speed.

the bullets fired from the hand cannon in his hand almost formed a line of fire.

Under Zhang Shan's brutal attacks, commander mackmilly's health was quickly reduced to 40%.

Even the giant beast commander, who had been shot and taken care of, was almost at half HP.

Zhang Shan's brutal damage output had stunned everyone.

In the past, everyone knew that Zhang Shan's damage output was terrifying.

However, when Zhang Shan went all out in the state of God's descent, it refreshed everyone's understanding of damage.

A single Holy attack had dealt over-1000000 damage. It was simply terrifying.

Even when he was not a critical hit, Zhang Shan's normal damage was still very frightening.

The key was that his attack speed was super fast.

Big Boss six-barreled really isn't human anymore. This damage is too terrifying.

that's because you're ignorant. I've never treated the six-barreled boss as a human, hehe.

this damage is insane. The instant damage just now could be compared to thousands of damage added together.

maybe even more. He's too strong.

"Is a Hunter's ultimate skill that powerful?"

you can't say that. The key is still the person. If it's a normal Hunter player, even if all his attributes are doubled, it's useless.

you're right. This skill, the God's descent, coupled with the six-barreled boss's own attributes, is the real power.

"I wonder when I'll be able to reach this level?"

don't worry, even if you reach level 100, you probably won't be able to reach the damage level of the six-barreled boss.

that's ridiculous. The six-barrel boss is only level 40. I'm level 100, so I can't even compare to him? "

"Under normal circumstances, it definitely won't work, unless you get a few more divine artifacts."

"F * ck, my heart is unbalanced."

"If you feel that it's unfair, then find a higher place and jump down, hehe."

In that instant when Zhang Shan had used all his explosive skills, his damage had been really fierce and terrifying.

even after his berserk skill ended, he could still deal a frightening amount of damage with god's descent alone.

The duration of the deity's descent skill was one minute.

It really wouldn't end in a short time, but it could make him strong for a long time.

Under everyone's attacks, when the duration of Zhang Shan's God's descent skill ended ...

The demonic commander, mackmilly's HP had already been reduced to 30%.

They had taken out 20% of mackmillie's HP in just a minute.

The damage was simply terrifying.

Out of the 20% health, more than half of it had been taken down by Zhang Shan.

The remaining half had been destroyed by the six-barrel Vulcan cannon.

compared to zhang shan and the fire god cannon, the damage of his other teammates was almost negligible.

Of course, it didn't mean that his other teammates didn't play a role in this BOSS battle.

They had at least helped Zhang Shan to keep all the small monsters away.

Otherwise, his ejection damage wouldn't have been so perfect.

Moreover, the two curse skills that he had as support also greatly increased his damage.

Otherwise, they wouldn't have been able to do it in just a minute.

He only took out 20% of the commander's HP.

20% of mackmilly's HP was a total of 100 million.

This was even without taking into account the boss's HP recovery.

In fact, the damage they had dealt in the last minute should have been even higher.

"Haha, good luck. The commander is about to be killed."

immediately my ass, the boss still has more than 20% health left. We have to hurry up.

"we have to play faster. we can't let it use its ultimate skill again."

don't worry, there's no chance for mackmillie to use his ultimate move again.

it doesn't have a chance anymore. We only need two minutes at most to destroy it. I don't believe that the commander can release a second big move in such a short time.

"don't be careless, just fight fast."

Under everyone's fierce attacks, the Nephilim commander, Mike Millie's HP was quickly reduced to 20%.

the boss entered berserk mode.

After going berserk, the commander became even more ferocious.

However, it was of no use. No matter how high the damage that the commander, Mike Millie, and the giant beast commander dealt to Zhang Shan, it was still useless.

as long as he couldn't kill him in seconds, it was all in vain.

Zhang Shan could quickly suck back his blood.

Besides, he wasn't alone. There were a lot of support brothers behind him.

every time zhang shan's health dropped below half, the support behind him would be interrupted.

They would help him add blood.

From the start of the boss fight until now, Zhang Shan's health had been maintained at a healthy state.

He had almost never been beaten to zero health by these two bosses.

After commander mackmillie entered berserk mode, his defense became even lower.

The damage they dealt also became higher.

Mackmilly's HP was dropping like crazy.

As for the giant beast commander that no one was attacking ...

At this moment, his HP had also dropped to 40%.

This amount of health was almost all caused by Zhang Shan's ejection damage and the fire god cannons.

However, he didn't care about the health of the demon siege beast commander.

Because it was not important.

The Almighty beast commander did not have any skills, so it was of no threat to them at all.

moreover, the demonic siege behemoth commander was only an ordinary red boss.

For example, the item drop rate.

It wasn't as attractive as commander mackmilly.

Therefore, no one really cared about the Almighty beast commander.

As long as he could destroy the commander, mychmiley, as soon as possible, it would be fine.

This boss was the real boss.

The demonic siege beast commander could only be considered an insignificant existence.

in a short while, the demonic commander, mike millie's hp had been reduced to 10%.

They were going to be crushed soon, which made everyone very happy.

They were about to defeat another real-name BOSS.

This was a real-name BOSS, and it was almost certain to drop good items. If it wasn't an ultimate skill book, it would be a divine weapon quest item.

One would fall.

haha, the BOSS is about to explode. The divine weapon must be in my bowl.

” what are you thinking about? even if there’s a divine artifact mission item, what does it have to do with you? ”

” how can that be? maybe i’m lucky and it’ll drop something i can use? ”

“Oh, you’re right. Boss, this time we only have 100 people to fight the BOSS. When the time comes, what are the distribution rules?”

Someone asked in the party channel.

In the past, when they fought real-name bosses, they always formed a large group.

Almost the entire Guild was attacking him.

Hence, it was not easy to distribute the items.

After all, the boss only dropped a few items, and there were only one or two good items at most.

It was impossible to take care of everyone.

Hence, Feng Yun realm designed a plan to distribute the items according to the order of damage output.

The others could only snatch red packets to get a sense of participation.

However, it was different this time.

This time, there were only two teams participating in the boss fight, so there were a total of 100 people.

if they were to distribute it that way, some people would probably have objections.

“We’ll distribute them by rolling.”

Feng Yun realm replied without even thinking.

Although it was best for Zhang Shan to distribute the items according to the damage.

Because no one could compare to him in terms of damage output.

However, Zhang Shan also knew.

He couldn’t take all the benefits.

After all, fighting a BOSS required everyone’s hard work.

Even if he could tank the BOSS by himself, he probably wouldn’t be able to do it before the event ended.

The BOSS was killed.

After all, there was not much time left for the monster siege.

There were still about ten minutes left.

if he had fought alone, he might not have been able to kill the boss before the event ended.

Moreover, without the help of teammates, there were a lot of monsters around him.

He didn't know how long it would take for him to defeat the boss alone.

besides, the others were here to help him defend the city. of course, they would fight the boss together.

The dropped items were equally important, taking into account everyone's interests.

Zhang Shan did not have any objections to Feng Yun realm's distribution method.

To be honest, he was currently not interested in the average loot.

At the moment, protective equipment did not count, as there had not been any godly equipment in this category.

He didn't know if it didn't drop, or if the system didn't release any protective divine weapons.

Zhang Shan was only lacking a necklace and a ring.

He didn't lack anything else.

He now had an ultimate skill book.

It could be said that he had no desires.

Whenever he received good items, he would auction them off in the Guild.

Looking at the Nephilim commander's HP, which was about to be emptied ...

Zhang Shan quickly controlled the Panda ball to move forward. This time, the situation was not considered tense.

He could control the Panda ball with ease and rush forward to get the final kill.

With the Panda ball's 10 points of luck and the combo skill, it was a perfect combination.

It would be such a waste if they didn't kill the BOSS first.

zhang shan controlled the panda dumpling to move forward.

When he saw the right time, he activated his combo skill and smashed mackmillie into pieces.

≪ system announcement: congratulations to Feng Yun realm, six-barreled Bodhisattva, and heart follows me Tao Wu for killing the demonic commander, mcmily. ≫

Skill point +1, medal +100.

After blowing up the commander, everyone quickly turned their fire on the demon siege beast commander.

This time, there were two bosses.

The demon commander had been defeated.

However, the Almighty beast commander's HP was still left with about thirty percent.

One had to know that the Almighty beast commander's HP was one billion.

30% HP was 300 million HP.

They still had to fight for a while before they could blow it up.

however, even though everyone turned their attacks towards the almighty beast commander ...

however, all his attention was on the commander's loot.

the drops of a real-name BOSS were really something that people wanted.

Everyone looked at Feng Yun realm as they attacked the giant beast commander.

"Boss, let's see if there's any good stuff."

that goes without saying. There must be something good. After all, it's a real-name BOSS.

"Yeah, at least there should be an ultimate skill book."

"I prefer divine artifacts."

"Do you think you can have it just because you like it?"

do you understand willpower? as long as you think more, who knows when it will come true.

"You're daydreaming."

Feng Yun realm did not make everyone wait for too long. Very quickly, he displayed the items that Mike Millie dropped on the party channel.

This was because they had two teams fighting the BOSS together.

The other team was Feng Yun realm. He sent a private message to his little Secretary, asking him to share the information in their team.

as zhang shan continued to attack the behemoth commander, he checked the items dropped.

there was no need to look at the equipment carefully, because no one would care about it.

he only took a glance.

There were three red equipment and one red material.

The most important thing was the special item.

However, everyone was a little disappointed this time.

The commander, mackmilly, did not give them any divine weapon quest items.

It only dropped a skill book.

it was the ultimate skill book for ice mages, frozen world.

[icebound world: releases an extremely cold aura in the target area, freezing the target and dealing five times the damage.]

[class requirement: ice wizard.]

this ultimate skill was alright, although the damage wasn't too high, only five times the damage.

However, it was a powerful crowd control skill that could freeze all enemies within a 50-yard radius.

it was also what everyone often called a group control skill.

This was extremely powerful. It could stun all enemies within a 50-yard radius and deal five times the damage.

as long as they entered the range of icebound world, there was basically no escape.

Even if the 5x damage can't kill you.

However, if you were frozen, others could kill you.

From the description, this skill was pretty good. At least, it was much better than the fire mage's rain of fire skill.

Chapter 419 The damaged staff

Other than the skill book, the demon commander, michellion, did not drop any other good items.

As a BOSS with a real name, such an item drop could only be said to be ordinary.

Bosses with real names were extremely rare and difficult to defeat.

The only reason they could win was because Zhang Shan was in the team.

Otherwise, if they wanted to deal with a real name BOSS, they would have to bring the entire Guild along.

He might not be able to win.

If no one could tank such a BOSS, its destructive power would be extremely terrifying.

Sometimes, no matter how many cannon foddors you prepared, it would be useless.

Up until now, Zhang Shan had only encountered a total of five to six real name bosses.

After defeating a real-name boss, it could be said that there would be some gains every time.

The best loot was probably Magnus, whom they had killed yesterday.

He had dropped an ultimate skill book and a divine weapon mission item for them. It was a huge drop.

The other times, he had also gained quite a lot.

Although there were no divine weapon quest items, there were usually ultimate skill books or other special items of equal value.

For example, Zhang Shan's positioning ball and killer book were dropped by a real name boss.

This time, the Nephilim commander had only dropped one ultimate skill book.

This kind of drop couldn't be considered bad. It could only be considered average and passable.

When the other party members saw the items Feng Yun realm displayed, some of them were happy while some of them complained.

"Bad, there's no divine weapon."

that's right. Every time, I'm filled with infinite hope, and then the hope is shattered again.

"Sigh, when will I be able to get my hands on a divine weapon?"

"Sage, please grant me a divine weapon."

"F * ck, he's crazy."

I'm crazy. I've gone crazy thinking about divine artifacts.

"Brother, don't worry. There aren't many divine artifacts now, and we don't have any either, right? You'll have one as well when divine artifacts become common."

"i'm going to faint. why would i need it after it's popularized?"

haha, there's actually an Ice wizard's ultimate skill book. This is great.

f * ck, that's awesome. I just realized that there's only one Ice Wizard here. They don't even have to roll for it.

"This luck is amazing."

Just as everyone was ridiculing the commander for not dropping any God-tier quest items ...

a girl in the party with a character name called fengyun bingbing laughed wildly.

she was an ice wizard.

What was even more unbelievable was that she was the only Ice Wizard among the 100 players in their two teams.

This time, there was no need to roll for this ultimate skill book. There was no competition and it was directly given to her.

in this game, ice mages were probably the least popular class.

Other than a crowd control skill, it was nothing special.

although they were also mages, the explosive damage of an ice mage was far greater than that of a fire mage.

In the entire game, there were very few players who played the ice Wizard class.

In this boss fight, other than the team that the little Secretary brought over later and a group of meat shields, there were only a few other players.

In order to defeat the boss as soon as possible, Feng Yun realm had chosen players with high burst damage when recruiting players.

He really did not know how this ice mage had managed to get into the team.

One could only say that his luck was really amazing.

we'll distribute the items later. Let's destroy the giant beast commander first.

Feng Yun realm said as he attacked the giant beast commander.

There was still one more BOSS to fight.

There were still about 10 minutes left before the monster attack event ended.

He had to quickly finish off the last giant beast commander and then defend the city until the event ended.

After everything was done, they would distribute the items.

other than the items dropped by the nephilim commander, mackmillie, there were other items.

The items that dropped from the two demon Vanguard generals that they had killed had not been distributed yet.

However, the first two bosses dropped relatively trashy items.

There were only a few pieces of red equipment and a trashy skill book.

It was not worth everyone's anticipation.

This time, it was about the same. There was only an ultimate skill book for ice mages.

Although this frozen world skill book was also a very good skill, it was still a very good skill.

However, no one was competing for it, so it was destined to be assigned to Feng Yun and Bing Bing.

The others had been fighting the boss for a long time, and other than getting some experience, they were considered to have done some voluntary work.

After the system announcement that they had defeated the demonic commander, Mycroft, was released ...

the other players in the game thought that the monster attack in demon suppression city had ended.

In everyone's mind, the real name boss was definitely the final boss of the monster siege.

Their wind and cloud Guild had even defeated a real-name boss.

The monster attack in the demon-suppressing city must have ended.

Everyone thought that since the monster attack was over, it was over.

Then, Zhang Shan would definitely lower the teleportation fee to the demon suppression city to the normal state.

It didn't make sense for him to keep collecting 10000 gold coins.

Many players who had originally planned to teleport to the demon-suppressing city.

After seeing the system announcement, they ran to the teleportation halls of the various cities.

However, after waiting for a long time, they found that the teleportation fee to the demon-suppressing city was still 10000 gold coins.

This made these people depressed.

The world Channel:

six-barreled Bodhisattva, come out! Didn't the monster attack end already? why is the teleportation fee still 10000 gold coins? "

"Don't shout anymore. In the future, I'll probably charge you 10000 gold coins."

"Damn it, this is too dark."

"To make money, how can I make money if I'm not black-hearted?"

that's impossible. Could it be that the monster attack event in demon suppression city has not ended? "

"The big BOSS has been killed, so why isn't the event over? It's just that six-barreled Bodhisattva has gone crazy trying to make money."

let's wait and see. Let's go kill some monsters.

"f * ck, if the fire comes, i'll ride my horse over."

"You're ruthless."

On the world Channel, Zhang Shan did not know about the players 'complaints.

They were currently trying their best to attack the demonic siege beast commander.

After the commander was killed.

zhang shan's catapulting was passive, and it no longer had the same effect as before.

The monster commander was the only boss left on the battlefield, and it could not be used to attack.

he could only shoot them one by one.

He could not shoot like before, where the damage would bounce back 12 times.

However, there was one less boss.

The eleven fire god cannons on top of the city gate were all locked onto the giant beast commander.

The monsters were separated by the other teammates.

within the fire god cannon's range, only the giant beast commander could be attacked.

Of course, the fire god cannons were all aimed at it.

As such, even though Zhang Shan's damage was much lower than before.

However, the fire god Cannon's damage was all concentrated on the behemoth commander.

In that case, their speed of killing the boss was not much slower than before.

Time slowly passed.

The health of the demonic siege beast commander was slowly reduced by them.

30%, 20%, 10%.

The behemoth commander's HP was high.

However, under everyone's intense focus fire, they were quickly beaten to empty health.

Zhang Shan saw the opportunity and controlled the Panda bear. He used a combo skill and smacked the giant beast commander.

≪ system announcement: congratulations to Feng Yun realm, six-barreled Bodhisattva, and heart follows me Pixiu for killing the demonic siege beast commander. ≫

Skill point +1, medal +100.

finally, the two bosses had been taken care of.

Zhang Shan heaved a sigh of relief. Now, he could truly say that this wave of monster attacks was stable.

Only the demon Warriors who had jumped onto the city wall were left, and they could no longer cause any impact on the demon-suppressing city.

The people from the wind and cloud Guild had been able to deal with it previously.

Now that Zhang Shan and the rest had taken care of all the bosses, it would definitely be easier for everyone to deal with the small monsters.

All they had to do was wait for the monster attack to end.

The demonic siege beast commander fell to the ground, but no one had any expectations.

The Almighty beast commander was just a normal red BOSS.

The chances of good items dropping were not high.

After Feng Yun realm had divided the items, everyone was ready to go up the city wall and kill some monsters.

Feng Yun realm opened his bag and checked the items dropped by the Almighty beast commander.

Suddenly, he let out a soft "huh" and then displayed the dropped item on the party channel.

"F * ck, is this a divine artifact mission item?"

this must be fake. The real name boss didn't even drop it, and it was dropped by a normal red boss? "

f * ck, anyone who can read would know that this is a divine weapon mission item. He even told me the description of this item.

"Haha, we're rich! Another divine weapon!"

we're in luck today. If we kill a normal red BOSS, we'll be able to get a divine weapon quest item.

" the demonic siege behemoth commander can't be considered a normal red BOSS, right? it has 200000 attack power, which is very powerful. "

"No matter how strong it is, it's just a normal red BOSS. The system uses its name."

" that's true. it's a pity that it's a staff. why not an axe? i want an axe. "

"Don't panic, I'll definitely use an axe next time."

in the game, the berserker class had the most players, and it was the same for their wind and cloud guild.

many of the big bosses played as berserkers, which made axes the most popular equipment in guilds.

This time, another god-tier equipment quest item dropped. Unfortunately, it was a staff, which disappointed many big shots.

However, when some people were disappointed, there were naturally some who were happy.

The mages and witch doctors in the Guild were very happy, as their weapons were all staves.

However, there was only one divine artifact mission item. There were quite a number of mages and witch doctors in the two teams.

there were about 20 people, and it would depend on their luck who would get the divine artifact mission item.

Zhang Shan took a look at the description of this divine weapon mission item.

It had to be said that they had obtained quite a few divine weapon mission items before. The description of this item was the most obvious.

[damaged staff: this is a severely damaged staff that exudes a faint mysterious aura. It needs to be repaired before it can be used.]

The item description clearly stated that the divine weapon quest item was a staff.

It was an item that emitted a mysterious aura.

Of course, they knew that this was a necessary item to make a divine weapon.

However, as for how to repair it? The item description did not mention where to find an NPC to repair it.

from the looks of it, the person who rolled for the staff had to run around, if they were lucky.

Soon, he would be able to trigger the task of repairing the divine artifact.

If they were unlucky, it would be hard to say.

However, no matter what, it was definitely worth being happy that he had obtained a divine weapon mission item.

now, we'll distribute the items. We'll roll based on needs.

Feng Yun realm said excitedly.

How could he not be excited?

He was a fire wizard, so he used a staff. That was if he managed to roll for this divine weapon quest item.

Then wouldn't that mean that he had a divine weapon?

Thinking of the divine weapon, even Feng Yun realm who had always been calm could not remain calm.

Of course, whether or not he could ROLL for this damaged staff would depend on his luck.

although feng yun realm was the guild's boss, most of the items would be given to him.

However, a divine artifact mission item was not the same.

Everyone really wanted it.

Feng Yun realm first gave the skill book to Feng Yun Bing Bing.

Because she was the only one at the scene, and she was playing the ice mage, no one wanted to compete with her.

the next part was the main event.

Feng Yun realm said after distributing the skill books.

now, we'll distribute this divine weapon quest item. Everyone who uses a staff, please participate in the roll.

After Feng Yun realm activated the roll mode with his broken staff, he was the first to roll the die, which was 36 points.

zhang shan looked at the number feng yun realm had thrown and could not help but shake his head.

This point basically had no fate with the divine artifact.

The other mages and witch doctors rolled their dice one after another.

The highest was 90 points, while the lowest was only 10 points.

"It's your turn, hurry up."

someone urged feng yun bing bing.

“Ah, I see. Should I ROLL too?”

Fengyun Bingbing asked, a little embarrassed.

He had already received an ultimate skill book. It could be said to be an unexpected surprise, a wave of full rewards.

After getting the skill book, Feng Yun Bing Bing immediately learned the skill and was looking at the skill description.

She had almost forgotten that ice mages were also mages, and they also used staffs.

She was also qualified to roll for this divine weapon quest item.

“Hurry up, we’re all waiting for you.”

fengyun bingbing casually rolled the die, 100 points.

He killed everyone in seconds.

damn it, little beauty. You must have saved up all your luck in your life to use it today. It’s too f * cking ridiculous.

“I don’t know either.”

Fengyun Bingbing was confused.

If they won five million at once, it might make people go crazy with excitement.

However, if he won five million in a row, everyone would be dumbfounded.

How unbelievable was this?

The two most valuable items in this event had been taken by her alone.

Under everyone’s envious and jealous gazes, Feng Yun Bing Bing was at a loss.

it was embarrassing.

However, this was how the game was. When luck came, it couldn’t be stopped.

When he was unlucky, he might even fall to his death while walking.

Feng Yun realm didn’t say anything and gave the broken staff to Feng Yun Bing Bing.

Feng Yun Bing Bing quickly adjusted her state of mind.

She said with a smile.

“I’m about to have a divine tool.”

A fire mage said gloomily.

“Hmph, after I get my hands on the divine weapon, let’s compare our damage output.”

shameless, who would compete with you in damage output after getting a divine weapon? why don't you compete with the six-barreled Big Boss in damage output? " little beauty, don't be happy too early. We'll talk about it after you get the divine artifact. Maybe you can't even find an NPC to repair the divine artifact.

"you're just jealous. i won't argue with you, hehe."

After distributing the divine weapon mission items, the rest were distributed randomly.

They had fought a total of four bosses.

In addition to the divine weapon mission items and skill books that had already been distributed.

There were also nine pieces of red equipment, four red materials, and a trashy skill book.

Equipment and skill books were rolled according to class.

Everyone will ROLL for the red material.

After all the items had been rolled, Zhang Shan had also rolled a red equipment.

It was better than nothing. He didn't care about this anyway.

Chapter 420 Demon-subduing platform instance dungeon fourth floor

After the BOSS was killed, the items were distributed.

However, other than Zhang Shan, Feng Yun, and Bing Bing.

The others were not happy at all.

After fighting the BOSS for such a long time, he had only managed to get some experience and a few skill points.

No one had gained anything at all.

Feng Yun and Bing Bing didn't need to be mentioned.

She had taken all the benefits.

An ultimate skill book and a divine weapon mission item.

Other people might not even be able to get their hands on it even after half a year, but she managed to get two of them at once.

Zhang Shan was still fine. He did not have any needs anyway.

He only needed to defend the demon-suppressing city.

As long as the demon-suppressing city was still there, all the other gains were just fleeting clouds.

The demon-suppressing city was a real treasure trove.

As long as he firmly occupied the city, would he be afraid of not having money in the future?

Even in the future, the others would follow suit and build more cities.

That was a matter for the future.

At least for now, he was the only player city.

There was only one shop.

if the players wanted to run deeper into the heaven's gate map, they would have to use his teleportation circle and pay him a teleportation fee.

There couldn't really be someone who didn't use the teleportation array.

In order to save the 200 gold coins, he had to ride a horse there.

Wouldn't that tire him to death?

One had to know, with the speed of Zhang Shan and the rest riding on hero mounts.

It would take three days to reach the demon-suppressing city.

Ordinary players' mounts were even slower.

If he didn't use the teleportation array and ran over by himself ...

Wouldn't that take four to five days?

Who would run away after eating too much?

Besides, Zhang Shan could collect teleportation fees.

He could even collect taxes.

If the players were active in the vicinity of the demon-suppressing city for a long time.

He had to pay taxes to the NPCs in the demon-suppressing city.

In short, as long as Zhang Shan guarded the demon-suppressing city, he would not be afraid of not making money.

At least, that would be the case before a second player city appeared.

He had no competition at all.

If the players didn't come to the demon-suppressing city, where could they go?

By guarding the demon-suppressing city, they could make a lot of money.

As such, even though they had killed a few bosses today, Zhang Shan had only received one red equipment.

But he didn't care.

one had to look at the long term, and it was the same when playing games.

after everyone had taken care of the BOSS, they returned to the city wall to continue farming monsters.

They quietly waited for the monster attack to end.

Zhang Shan was farming monsters while looking at the world Channel.

'F * ck, are so many people scolding me?

on the world channel, a lot of people were scolding him for being black-hearted and thinking that the teleportation fee had not been paid back even after the event had ended.

Zhang Shan was depressed.

The monster attack had not ended yet, how could he adjust the teleportation fee back?

What if there were a few more iron-headed people like the domineering King?

wouldn't they be attacked from both sides?

on the other hand, they had to guard the city walls against the demonic monsters.

on the other hand, he had to be on guard against players who could appear at any time to cause trouble.

Wasn't this nonsense?

These people thought that the monster attack had ended just because they saw them defeat the Nephilim commander.

this was too much of a given.

Zhang Shan thought for a while and decided to reply to everyone on the world Channel.

Speaking of which, the players who were willing to be teleported to the demon-suppressing city were all the same.

They were all his clients.

If he could avoid offending them, it was best not to.

In the future, he would still have to rely on these people to come over and pay teleportation fees and taxes.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan said in the world Channel.

"I'm sorry to have kept you waiting. The monster attack in the demon suppression city will last for two hours, and it has not ended yet. After the event is over, I will return the teleportation fee to 200 gold coins."

In the world Channel, not long after Zhang Shan sent out the message, it quickly attracted the attention of many players.

"F * ck, the monster attack event in the demon suppression city is still not over? It actually had to last for two hours? Is it true?"

f * ck, don't monster sieges usually only last for an hour? "

maybe the monster attacks in the player cities are a little different? "

"Is six tube Bodhisattva trying to fool us?"

"Who cares if it's real or not, as long as the teleportation fee is refunded."

"Aren't you guys too easily satisfied? The teleportation fee of 200 gold coins was also very expensive. I strongly suggest that six tube Bodhisattva increase the teleportation fee to ten gold coins."

"You're thinking about nothing. Can't the six-barreled Bodhisattva earn money? Ten gold coins? why don't you just say it's free?"

"If it's really free, that would be great, hehe."

in your dreams. Do you think six-pipe Bodhisattva is a philanthropist? " don't ask for too much. To be honest, 200 gold coins for the teleportation fee is acceptable.

that's right. It costs 100 gold coins to teleport to the capital of our country.

I just hope that the monster attack in the demon suppression city will end soon. I want to go to the demon suppression city and climb the city wall.

"Good idea, let's go together."

After Zhang Shan sent the message on the world Channel, he did not look at it again.

no matter how others scolded him.

He didn't even want to bother with them.

In order to earn money, it didn't matter if he was scolded.

It's not like you'll lose a piece of flesh if you get scolded.

It was fine as long as the players still came to the demon-suppressing city.

Moreover, for the demon-suppressing city, Zhang Shan had invested a large amount of gold.

he still hadn't earned back his capital.

Even though the black iron Guild and the domineering aura Guild had contributed two waves of teleportation fees to him.

However, the teleportation fees he earned were still not enough for his investment.

Zhang Shan's investment was mainly divided into two major parts.

the first was to open up the teleportation circle and recruit npcs when building the city.

it cost him 102 million gold.

The second was the monster attack that was currently in progress.

in the beginning, they had to repair the city walls twice.

He had spent more than ten million gold coins.

Later on, he sent red packets to the other guild members.

a total of 50 million gold coins.

It could be said that Zhang Shan had invested a large amount of money into the demon-suppressing city.

It was already very kind of him to charge 200 gold coins for a single teleportation.

There were less than 10 minutes left before the monster attack event ended.

Everyone in wind and cloud Guild stood on the city wall and focused on killing monsters, quietly waiting for the event to end.

They had been guarding the city for two whole hours, and it was quite tiring.

there were even a few accidents in between.

If it wasn't for everyone's help, the demon-suppressing city might have been destroyed long ago.

When it was 10 pm, all the demon fighters on the city wall and outside the city disappeared in a split second.

At the same time, a system notification sounded.

[system announcement: with the efforts of the Warriors, the Nephilims 'attempt to invade the demon-suppressing city has failed.]

He was rewarded with the Lord of the demon-suppressing city, the Bodhisattva of six tubes, and all attributes +1000. He was also rewarded with the other players who had participated in the defense of the city and +1 skill point.

When Zhang Shan heard about the system Guild, he could not help but be happy.

After successfully defending the city, there was actually a reward, and it was still a reward of +1000 to all attributes.

This reward was really good. Attributes were what players needed the most at any time.

After taking over the demon-suppressing city.

Not to mention anything else, just the two announcement rewards alone had given Zhang Shan an additional 2000 points in all his attributes.

This had greatly increased his strength.

This was equivalent to half a divine weapon.

most importantly, the attribute reward would not take up the equipment slots, so it was a free gift.

Even without the city's profits in the future.

With just these two rewards, Zhang Shan's investment in the demon suppressing city was considered a big profit.

f * ck, there's still a reward after the monster attack event ends? " what's so strange about that? it's because we have successfully defended the city. If the demon-suppressing city is destroyed by the demon race, there will be no reward at all.

six-barreled boss is awesome! Another 1000 attribute bonus for all attributes.

wuwuwu, the attributes that Big Boss six-barreled gave me are higher than all my attributes.

damn, that's true. It's higher than mine too.

f * ck, that's not fair. Why did we only get one skill point while the six-barreled boss got 1000 points for all attributes? " it's already good enough to have a skill point for you. Why would you want a bicycle? "

"That's right, you're just a big-headed soldier, can you compare to the city Lord? Hehe."

f * ck, so we're just big-headed soldiers. The six-barrel boss is already a Big Shot.

"Of course, who asked you not to be a city Lord?"

f * ck, I'm definitely going to find a Demon City. I want to be the city Lord.

"it's good to have a dream, but it's impossible to realize it, hehe."

"let's go. we're done here. why aren't you farming monsters? are you all here to brag?"

killing monsters, killing monsters, killing monsters makes me stronger.

The monster siege event that lasted for two hours in demon-suppressing city had finally ended.

This wave of events was not bad.

At least, Zhang Shan had gained another 1000 points of all attributes. He was very happy.

after the matter was settled, zhang shan teleported to the stone tablet of the city lord's manor.

He set the teleportation fee back to 200 gold coins.

after he was done, zhang shan sent a message in the world channel.

"The teleportation fee of the demon-suppressing city has been restored to normal. Be careful not to attack the fire god cannons in the city. They're very fierce."

After Zhang Shan had finished speaking, other than the four in the city Lord's residence, all the other fire god cannons were in attack mode.

Change to defense mode.

In defense mode, the fire god cannon would not hit anyone as long as they did not attack.

" damn, it's finally done. i'm going to the demon-suppressing city to see what the legendary six-barrel fire god cannon looks like. " that's right. I'm also very curious. What kind of thing could defeat Guild domineering aura? " what's so nice about the fire god cannon? I'm going to the city wall to enjoy the scenery.

let's stop talking nonsense. I'm coming to the demon-suppressing city. Haha.

Zhang Shan no longer paid attention to the commotion in the world Channel.

At this moment, he was already on his way to the Gerri wilderness.

Now that the monster attack had ended, it was time to resume their daily grinding.

He didn't farm monsters in the game, and experience points wouldn't fall from the sky.

Even though his current level was far ahead of the other players.

However, one could not be too complacent.

He had to maintain his drive and passion at all times.

Whether it was at work or playing games.

I can't be a salted fish.

otherwise, what else could he do if he couldn't even play a game well?

Zhang Shan and his friends came to the Gerri wilderness together to continue their farming career.

The little fairy complained after a while.

brother Guan, it didn't drop my divine weapon again. I'm not happy.

Zhang Shan was a little speechless.

It had been a while, and he thought that the little demon had forgotten about it.

He didn't expect her to still bring it up.

The problem was that he could not control what items the boss would drop.

Moreover, even if the divine weapon quest item for archers was dropped, the little fairy might not be able to roll for it.

After all, there were many people who fought the boss together.

It wasn't just the five of them.

even if it was a godly archer item, the chances of the little fairy getting it were slim.

There were a lot of archers who fought the boss together just now.

However, even though he thought this way, Zhang Shan would not say it out loud.

It's easy to get what you want.

"Next time, next time I will definitely get a divine longbow."

Zhang Shan said against his will.

In fact, this was all nonsense. What should be dropped next time was not under his control.

But it didn't matter. It wasn't illegal to say it casually, hehe.

"One blade, did Fengyun Bingbing run the divine weapon mission?"

Zhang Shan quickly changed the topic and asked wind and cloud blade.

I did. Of course, I ran away as soon as I got the quest item. But I don't know where to find the NPC. She's trying her luck in the West capital with a broken staff.

it's right to go to the West capital first. There are more physical elements in the East Capital, while there are more magical elements in the West capital. The chances of repairing the staff are higher in the West capital.

"That's not for sure. Didn't you repair your ring in the West capital? Your ring has physical attributes."

that's true. Looks like we still have to rely on luck. I wonder how much of Feng Yun Bing Bing's luck is left, hehe.

Zhang Shan said with a smile.

To be honest, Feng yunbing, this little beauty, her luck today was really too heaven-defying.

there were only two good items in total, and she had taken them all by herself.

if she had such good luck, wouldn't it be a matter of minutes to find the npc who repaired the staff?

"How can she keep having this kind of dog shit luck? it's already heaven-defying enough to step on it twice in a row, and she wants a third time? That's impossible. Just wait and see, she'll definitely run."

They had been farming monsters all the way until they went to sleep, but they had not heard of any progress in Fengyun Bingbing's divine weapon quest.

He was probably still running.

the next day, zhang shan woke up early. after washing up and eating something, he went online.

It didn't take long for his teammates to come online.

Just as they were farming monsters, wind and cloud blade suddenly said.

“We haven’t cleared the demon-subduing platform instance this week, have we? Today’s Tuesday, and tomorrow the dungeon entries will be refreshed. Should we go and try it out? otherwise, this week’s dungeon entries will be wasted.”

yeah, I almost forgot about that. There’s been a lot of things this week.

After wind and cloud blade’s reminder, Zhang Shan finally remembered.

They hadn’t even tried this week’s instance dungeon.

ever since they had reached level 40, they hadn’t cleared any dungeons.

If not for Windcloud blade’s reminder, this week’s dungeon entry would have been wasted.

even if they cleared the dungeon, they might not necessarily drop good items.

However, even if one or two pieces of red equipment were dropped, it would still be good. No matter what, they could still be sold for gold coins.

“Why don’t we go and do it now?”

Zhang Shan asked his friends.

“Just the five of us? There are only five of us in the entire game right now. We’ve reached level 40, so we can’t form a 50-man team.”

Heart with me said worriedly.

Usually, a large team of 50 people would be formed to clear a dungeon.

After all, there were a lot of monsters in the dungeon, and the final boss of the dungeon was not weak.

If there weren’t many people, they really wouldn’t be able to handle it.

But now, even if they wanted to group up people, they couldn’t.

They had already passed level 40, so they could only enter the fourth floor.

The other players in the Guild had yet to reach level 40, so they could only enter the third floor of the dungeon.

In fact, let alone level 40, they didn’t even have a single level 39 player.

Even the Guild members who were diligent in killing monsters were only level 37 or 38.

In terms of level, Zhang Shan and the other four had left the other players far behind.

The efficiency of the few of them killing monsters was simply too fast.

Moreover, when they had taken over the demon-suppressing city, they had fought countless bosses, including real-name bosses.

there were so many bosses’ experience points, but only the five of them could share them.

They had leveled up by two levels.

Now, Zhang Shan had reached level 44.

Even Mr. Wu, who leveled up the slowest, was now level 41.

They had leveled up too quickly. Now, they couldn't even find someone to clear the instance with them.

just the five of us will do. We'll just clear the normal difficulty. At the very least, we'll get the first clear of the dungeon and get a skill point.

"That's right. There should be no problem for the five of us to do an instance dungeon of normal difficulty."

"Then we're starting it now?"

let's wait until night time. We used our ultimate last night. After our ultimate has cooled down, we'll go and clear the dungeon.

Zhang Shan thought about it and decided that it was better to be more stable.

Even though he was very strong now.

From what he knew, even if he was alone, he should be able to clear a normal difficulty dungeon.

however, one should not be too wild.

Since they had ultimate skills, they might as well wait for their ultimate skills to cool down.

If he could be a little more stable, he should try to be as stable as possible and not be reckless.

When it was almost 10 O'clock in the evening, Zhang Shan took a look. His God's descent skill had already cooled down.

He said to his friends.

"let's go. let's start the dungeon. i'll just wait for my big move to cool down."

he had been the last to use his ultimate move yesterday.

While dealing with the Nephilim commander's ultimate skill, he had activated God's descent.

The others had used their big moves much earlier than he had.

Now that his big move was on cooldown, his other friends 'big moves would definitely be on cooldown as well.

"Let's go back to the city and start the dungeon."

everyone stopped killing monsters and found a safe place to return to the city.

After returning to Dangyang city, Zhang Shan also repaired his equipment and bought some supplies.

he then teleported to the auction house.

He swept through all the materials that might be useful in the future.

He checked the auction house seriously to see if he could pick up something.

However, they did not see anything good.

The game had been open for a long time, and the players now had learned their lesson.

it was getting harder and harder for him to pick up any more scraps in the auction.

It seemed that if he wanted to buy good things in the future, he would have to open a path with a lot of gold coins.

As for picking up scraps, he could forget about it.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan shook his head and teleported to where the military affairs officer was.

His friends were already waiting for him.

Zhang Shan chose the normal difficulty and entered the demon subduing platform's fourth level.
