

Passive Skills 541

Chapter 541 rank-60

With the Panda bear tanking the monsters in front, wind and cloud blade could finally relax.

otherwise, he could only farm them one by one.

If he wanted to farm these swamp crocodiles in a group, Windcloud blade would have to constantly take big red potions.

Not to mention the price of the big red Medicine, which was really not cheap.

Even if wind and cloud blade did not mind spending gold coins, he would still have to carry that many red potions.

Under normal circumstances, who would bring so much Red Medicine out for no reason?

In new world, players would usually bring their support classes with them when they went out to farm monsters. They would not bring too many red potions.

Otherwise, the cost of the red Medicine alone would be a huge sum.

After a long period of accumulation, not many people could afford it.

Another point was that, in many cases, taking drugs was not safe.

If he didn't manage to hit it, he would die easily.

When players were farming monsters, it was best to have a support to replenish their health. A support was more reliable.

However, boss Wu had not come over yet. Otherwise, wind and cloud blade would not be in such a difficult situation.

But then again, even though these swamp crocodiles dealt a lot of damage, they were still level 75 monsters.

The experience points that these swamp crocodiles gave were really a lot.

Each crocodile monster gave Zhang Shan and wind and cloud a slash, each with more than 1000 experience.

If he were to farm them alone, each crocodile monster would give him about 3000 experience points.

Compared to the wildebeest in the Gerri wilderness, the crocodile monsters here gave a lot of experience.

The crocodile monster gave more than twice as much experience as the horned horse.

As for the fact that these crocodile monsters were not easy to kill, that was not a problem.

In any case, to Zhang Shan, be it the wildebeest in the Gerri wilderness or the crocodile monster here, he could take care of them all with one shot.

even with wind and cloud blade, he only needed two or three strikes to kill a large group of crocodile monsters.

With their ability to farm monsters, it would be a waste if they went to the Gerri wilderness to farm wildebeest.

Grinding here was much more efficient.

After a while, his friends all collected the materials and rushed over to kill monsters together.

After the five of them gathered together, they occupied a farming spot in the dark swamp map and began to farm monsters crazily.

Now that boss Wu was here, Zhang Shan's Panda bear no longer had to tank the monsters.

Anyway, when everyone's health bar was almost depleted, boss Wu could use the enhanced rejuvenation skill to raise their health.

It was very convenient.

It would save Zhang Shan the trouble of controlling the Panda bear to draw the monsters.

That would be so troublesome.

This was great. The Panda ball was left there, and he was free to fight monsters. Zhang Shan did not have to care about it.

Zhang Shan and the other five were scattered not far away and began to farm monsters.

When it was midnight, the double exp buff officially began.

everyone's experience bar was clearly increasing much faster than before.

Windcloud blade shouted happily as he killed the monsters.

"haha, double experience is awesome. i feel like i'll level up in less than three days."

"Can you level up once every three days? it can't be. Unless you stay up all night and don't sleep."

if I have double experience, then why would I sleep? I'll definitely work for a week.

"Are you serious? do you have to work for another week? I want to sleep. I feel like I can't take it."

"It's just a week, how big of a deal is that? anyway, playing games is no different from resting."

"alright, you guys are really ruthless."

I have to be more ruthless to myself. I have to take advantage of this time to earn more experience points. When else can I earn more? "

"That's true. Let's do it. I'm not afraid of you."

Zhang Shan and the other five were blowing water while farming monsters.

It was very lively in the game, unlike the middle of the night.

Usually, when it was midnight, everyone would have gone to sleep, and there would not be many people around.

However, it was different today.

although there were not many players in the state of qin and the state of zheng due to the penalty for losing the world war, there were still many players left.

However, there were many players in Chu and Wei.

almost all the players of chu state and wei state didn't go to sleep. they were all happily killing monsters.

This was especially true for the Wei players. This was the first time that they had experienced double exp, and they were extremely excited.

A large group of them were showing off on the world Channel, and it was very lively.

The world Channel:

"Haha, double experience is awesome!"

it's really cool. Level 50 demon Warriors only gave around 900 experience points before, but now, each monster gives almost 2000 experience points.

" not bad, bro. you're already killing level 50 monsters. "

"it's a piece of cake. i can kill a lv 50 demon warrior with two or three slashes."

double experience is such a precious time. Why are we still farming demon Warriors? hurry up and find some wild monsters that don't have the Holy demon's protection.

"Fuck, you think I don't want to? where are we supposed to find this?"

" that's right. the top guilds have long since occupied the high-quality grinding spots that don't have the holy demon's protection. noobs like us don't even have a chance. " you're so silly. Why didn't you find a big Guild to join earlier? " that's right. It's better to lean against a big tree. Don't you know that? "

...

"Forget it, it's better to play alone."

Speaking of which, there shouldn't be many people online in the state of Zheng and the state of Qin tonight, right? is there anyone who organized a group to massacre the city? " they're really bold. Even if they don't have many people, they're still not people we can provoke.

" that's right. without the big shots leading the way, we'll just be sending ourselves to our deaths. "

"Brother, don't be so murderous. Why don't you take advantage of the double experience to gain more experience? Why are you massacring the city?"

there's no point in killing monsters. It's more exciting to slaughter a city.

exciting my ass. You don't have any level or equipment. If you go to other countries 'cities, what else can you do other than giving away your lives? " that's right. Focus on killing monsters. Levels are the king.

I won't say anything else. I'll just kill monsters for a week and try to reach level 50 as soon as possible.

"Not bad. While the experience is still doubled, work hard and fight to the death."

"F * ck, so ruthless?"

"It has to be ruthless. If it's not ruthless, how can I level up?"

"Alright, you guys are awesome."

As Zhang Shan was farming monsters, he looked at the chat records of the various channels.

In the world Channel, most of the players were from the Wei Kingdom.

This was the first time they had enjoyed the double exp buff and were chatting on their national channel. They were no longer as passionate as before.

they had to spend money to chat in the world channel, so they were really smug.

If the players from the state of Qin who were online saw this, they would be very depressed.

Stepping on other people's bones and getting the double exp time, he was still showing off in the world Channel.

He simply didn't want anyone to live.

In comparison, the players of Chu State were much calmer.

after all, this was the second time that the players of chu country had won a country war, and it was the second time that the experience was doubled.

Although everyone was still very excited, they didn't have to go to the World Channel to show off.

Time passed by slowly, and it was past twelve the next morning.

A ray of light rose from Zhang Shan's body.

Yes, he had leveled up.

The double exp was still the best, he was already level 60.

If it wasn't for the double exp, if he was still farming for mission materials ...

That might take another three to four days before he could level up.

After all, the monsters that were farmed with the quest materials weren't too high level, so the leveling efficiency was low.

Furthermore, Zhang Shan had to run around and could not just stay in one place to farm.

The time he needed to run away might be more than the time he needed to kill monsters.

Right now, Zhang Shan was focused on killing monsters to level up. Furthermore, it was during the double experience period. His leveling efficiency was really high, and it was extremely fast.

Even though it was getting harder and harder to level up now, with the double experience, Zhang Shan quickly reached level 60.

Seeing the light rising from Zhang Shan's body, wind cloud blade said with jealousy.

"f * ck, six-barreled boss has already reached level 60?"

"Yes."

ah, level 60. In this game, the total is only level 60. When the game is released to level 100, more than half of the six-barreled bosses have left.

"You can't say that. The later 40 ranks will definitely take much more time than before."

you're still very fast. I'm only level 57 now. I don't think I'll reach level 60 by the time the double exp buff ends.

"What's the rush? let's take it slow."

"Fuck, of course you're not in a hurry. You're already so strong anyway. I want to reach level 60 as soon as possible and unseal the God equipment."

"That's right, Big Boss six-barreled is already so powerful. It doesn't matter if the divine weapon is unsealed or not. However, it's different for us. Unsealing a divine weapon once will give us a huge boost."

let's not talk about anything else. Let's hurry up and kill some monsters. Let's try to reach level 60 as soon as possible and let the divine weapon be unsealed again.

After Zhang Shan had leveled up, everyone was happily praising him.

Boss Wu said gloomily.

what are you guys talking about? have you ever considered how I feel without a divine weapon?"

Among the five of them, only boss Wu had not gotten a divine weapon yet.

Although boss Wu had three molds for divine artifacts, he was still far from being able to make them into divine artifacts.

These divine weapon molds had only been obtained a few days ago during the spring Festival.

Boss Wu had just started to do the task.

Even boss Wu would have to spend nearly a month.

Other than boss Wu, the rest of his friends were doing fine. Blade of wind and cloud and heart moves with me already had two godly items. They were probably about to make their third godly item.

Little fairy was in a similar situation. Her second divine weapon was only lacking a few materials to complete the quest.

If not for the fact that she wanted to level up with the double experience, she would have already made her second divine weapon.

There was no need to talk about Zhang Shan. Including the refresh ball in his backpack, he already had five pieces of God equipment.

Among the five of them, only boss Wu had a tragic life.

Up until now, he had not even gotten his hands on a single divine weapon.

Everyone was a little embarrassed by boss Wu's words.

Usually, everyone would farm monsters and fight bosses together, and the items would be distributed according to their needs.

However, when it came to boss Wu, he never had anything good to give him. It was really quite pitiful. It seemed that he had to take care of boss Wu in the future.

Otherwise, it would be quite awkward.

After reaching level 60, all of Zhang Shan's divine weapons had been unsealed once again.

His strength had been strengthened once again.

After he had upgraded the king's Cape, it had increased his HP by 600000, which was 100000 more than before.

After the hand cannon was unsealed, its attack power increased by 2000 points and its agility increased by 200 points. Now, it had 1000 points of agility.

After the three accessories were unsealed, their attack increased by 1000 each, and their agility increased by another 200.

As for the refresh orb in his bag, it didn't change after he leveled up.

This was because the refreshing orb was a special artifact.

This was a godly item with no level.

The spawn point itself did not have a level limit, so there was no such thing as unsealing.

As such, the stats added by the refresh orb were always fixed and would not change.

It was constantly increasing 100000 health points and 20000 mana points.

Zhang Shan opened his Character panel. He wanted to see how strong he was now after the divine weapon was unsealed again.

Skill

Looking at his character's attributes, Zhang Shan could not help but feel a little smug.

He was simply too powerful.

After the king's Cape was unsealed, his HP had exceeded 1.1 million.

As for the damage, it was ridiculously strong.

Just the attack on the character panel alone had already exceeded 70000.

If he were to take into account the bonus from the killer book, his actual attack power was almost 150000.

Furthermore, Zhang Shan had six other special effects and passive skills that increased his damage by 100.

in this way, without boss wu's attack blessing, his current theoretical damage was almost 230000.

With boss Wu's attack blessing, it was as high as 270000.

Such a powerful damage was simply terrifyingly strong.

With Zhang Shan's level of injury, who could withstand it?

Even among the strongest of The Guardian classes, there probably wouldn't be many who could take a single shot from Zhang Shan.

He looked at his Character panel. Such powerful attributes.

zhang shan was very arrogant. he really wanted to find a real name boss to test his firepower.

He wanted to see how it would feel to fight a real name boss with his current strength.

Unfortunately, a real-name BOSS was not something that he could find just because he wanted to.

that's not right. there should be a BOSS with a real name in the dark swamp they were in, right?

In this kind of isolated map, there would usually be a real-name BOSS.

He didn't know if the real-name BOSS here had been defeated by other players before.

real name bosses were different from other bosses.

As long as a real name BOSS was beaten by a player once, it would not respawn again.

At least until now, Zhang Shan had never seen a BOSS with the same real name in the wild.

Therefore, if they wanted to fight a real-name BOSS, they only had one chance.

If you miss this village, you will lose this shop.

Once the real name BOSS was killed by other players, they could forget about finding the real name BOSS in the same position again.

Of course, event bosses were an exception.

The real-name bosses that spawned in the event would not be restricted by this refresh mechanism.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan asked wind cloud blade.

one blade, has anyone else beaten the real-name BOSS here? "

"I don't know,"

"Why don't we go and look for it?"

"I think it's better if we don't. Isn't it better to just focus on killing monsters?"

brother Butler, don't think too much about it. Even if there is a real name boss here, it should have been killed by other players long ago.

that's right. Wind Cloud City has been open for so long. If there was a real name boss nearby, it would have been beaten by others long ago.

"not necessarily. they can't beat ten thousand people."

“What are you thinking? if others can’t beat the boss, won’t they sell the BOSS’s coordinates to others?”

that’s right. Don’t you know that the coordinates of a real-name BOSS can be sold for tens of thousands of gold coins? ” of course. Real-name bosses will definitely drop divine weapon molds. Those big guilds have gone crazy looking for real-name bosses. Selling the coordinates of a real-name BOSS for tens of thousands of gold coins is considered a low price. The more expensive ones can be sold for hundreds of thousands of gold coins.

f * ck, then for normal players, as long as they find a real-name BOSS, wouldn’t they be rich? ”

“That’s not for sure. If you find a real BOSS, you have to be able to follow him. A real-name BOSS would change its location, and it wouldn’t stay in a fixed position all the time. if you sell the coordinates of the real name BOSS and the BOSS is gone by the time others run over, how would they pay you? it would be good enough if they don’t kill you.”

“You’re right.”

Of course, Zhang Shan knew this.

But after they entered the dark swamp, they had not seriously searched this place.

When they had first entered the map, they had been farming monsters near the entrance and had not searched anywhere else.

What if the real-name BOSS was still here?

If they didn’t go and find a wave of them, wouldn’t that be a huge loss?

It should be known that every real-name BOSS would almost certainly drop a divine weapon mold, and there was also the possibility of other good items being dropped.

As long as there was a chance to fight a real-name BOSS, he would not let it go.

Even if the chance was small, he still wanted to go and look for it.

Zhang Shan opened the map to take a look. He realized that this dark swamp map was particularly large.

It was much larger than the closed maps they used to farm monsters in.

In such a large map, if others didn’t deliberately look for it, even if there was a real name boss, they might not be able to see it.

It was possible that the real-name boss here had yet to be discovered.

Zhang Shan was still not willing to give up. He felt that he should search around here first.

If they could find a real-name boss, they would be able to make a fortune.

He said to his friends.

” you guys continue farming here. i’ll go look for it. i don’t think it’ll take too long. ”

“.....”

Zhang Shan’s words made his friends speechless.

Windcloud blade ridiculed.

I’m afraid Big Boss six-barreled has gone crazy thinking about a real-name BOSS.

that’s right, brother Guan. Don’t waste your time. It’s impossible here. There’s still a real-name BOSS.

that’s right, double the time is so precious, and you actually want to find the BOSS. I can’t understand it.

it’s fine. I’ll go and look. It won’t take much time. I’ll be able to scan the entire map in an hour at most.

Although the dark swamp map was huge, Zhang Shan was riding on a Red Hare, and it was a well-trained one at that, so he could run very fast.

In at most an hour, he would be able to run through the entire dark swamp map.

It didn’t matter even if they couldn’t find the real-name BOSS.

Wasn’t it just an hour?

Even though it was double the time, Zhang Shan did not care.

He could afford to waste an hour.

In any case, he had already reached rank 60. It was still very early for him to reach rank 70.

Without a month or two, don’t even think about it.

This was also taking into account the double experience period for the next few days. If not, Zhang Shan would have needed even longer to reach level 70.

For a long time to come, this would be his peak, and it would be very difficult for him to make any more major improvements.

even if he managed to get the remaining five defensive divine weapons, it would not increase his strength much.

Zhang Shan didn’t have many goals for the time being. It would be good to get a real name BOSS to fight.

Just treat it as the entire entertainment.

Chapter 542 Ancient giant crocodile Cub Gros

Zhang Shan bade farewell to his friends and began to wander around the dark swamp map alone.

In the dark swamp map, other than Zhang Shan’s group of five, there were also some other players who were also farming monsters here.

There were some players from all the countries.

Other than the Yan Kingdom players that Wind and Cloud Blade had first discovered, Zhang Shan had also seen some Qi Kingdom and Wei Kingdom players on the map.

This was especially true for Wei country players. Zhang Shan had seen quite a few of them in the dark swamp map.

Because this was an ownerless, open-style grinding spot, no one was blocking the entrance, so everyone could come here to grind.

Of course, if you wanted to farm monsters in the dark swamp map, you still had to have some skill. otherwise, he would be killed by the monsters.

the swamp crocodiles here were not easy to deal with.

The swamp crocodile had 120000 HP and 16000 attack power.

The players who were slightly weaker might not even be able to defeat a single monster.

To many players, these swamp crocodiles were no different from mini-bosses.

Even so, there were still quite a number of players farming monsters here.

In the process of finding the BOSS, Zhang Shan had seen several waves of players from various countries.

It was just that these players were not like Zhang Shan and the rest, killing the crocodile monsters in a group. Instead, they were a group of people surrounding a small monster to kill.

After killing one, he would lure another monster out and continue to attack it.

In fact, this was to be expected. Even Windcloud blade could not withstand the damage from a group of crocodiles, let alone the normal players.

Even if those ordinary players had multiple support behind them to help heal, they could not fight against a group of Gator monsters.

One crocodile monster dealt 16000 damage, so ten of them would deal 160000 damage.

How could those normal players withstand such damage?

Each bite from the crocodile monsters could take away more than 100000 HP.

Normal players wouldn't be able to withstand such damage.

As such, they could only lure them out one by one and slowly fight them, just like fighting a boss.

As for why the players still wanted to farm the Gator monsters here when it was so difficult to do so?

The reason was obvious.

The crocodile monsters here gave high exp, and they didn't have the Holy demon's protection.

No matter how difficult it was to farm, it was still much more efficient than farming those demon soldiers with the Holy demon's protection outside.

Unless they went to those sealed maps to farm monsters.

However, the various large guilds had long since taken over the low-level maps.

Ordinary players without guilds to back them up had no chance of getting in.

They could only farm the demon Warriors with the Holy demon's protection in the Heaven's Gate map.

Looking at the players from various countries fighting in the dark map, Zhang Shan could not help but feel emotional.

the game was a miniature society, and everyone had their own way of living.

there were invincible players like zhang shan, but there were also noobs who couldn't even beat those of the same level.

Most of them were players who were constantly working hard to improve themselves.

Just like these players in the dark swamp map, why did they have to work so hard to farm monsters here?

They could just find some low-level demon Warriors in The Map of Heaven's Gate and farm them.

It was so simple that he could stand there and do it without any operation.

It was unlike here, where every crocodile monster they fought was like a BOSS, and they had to be careful.

If he didn't pay attention and attracted a few more crocodile monsters, he might just fall to the ground.

however, they had no choice. in order to level up more efficiently, they could only come here.

This was because the crocodile monsters here were not easy to farm, but they leveled up quickly.

And it wouldn't just be a little faster, it would be much faster.

Since there was a faster way to level up, they didn't want to go and farm demon Warriors.

Even if killing the demon Warriors was easy.

But what was the use of being relaxed?

If he wanted to relax, he could just farm the chicks in the novice village and not leave the village. Wouldn't that be better?

However, people who played games still had some dreams.

He wanted to become stronger.

Therefore, some of the players who were not strong enough to farm monsters in dark swamp had also come here.

of course, there were players from all over the world who farmed crocodile monsters here.

However, compared to the entire dark swamp map, there were not many players here.

as zhang shan ran past, he could only see a few groups of people.

After all, there were many maps in the game.

Not everyone would necessarily gather here.

Not to mention other places, just around wind Cloud City, there should be many maps like dark swamp.

Zhang Shan believed that in other maps, there would also be players working hard to farm monsters.

Looking at the players who were working hard to farm monsters in the dark swamp map, Zhang Shan could not help but sigh.

Of course, that didn't stop him from finding the boss.

zhang shan quickly scanned the map of dark swamp, and swept past everywhere.

Whenever he saw a red dot, he would run over to take a look.

As the map of dark swamp was huge, Zhang Shan had specially planned his route.

He started from the outermost circle of the map and planned to search in circles towards the center.

Until he had scanned the entire dark swamp map.

If they still couldn't find the real name boss, it meant that the boss had already been killed.

actually, zhang shan was also mentally prepared for this.

After all, Fengyun city had been open for quite a long time.

In such a long time, countless players had searched the surroundings of wind Cloud City countless times.

there was a high possibility that the real-name boss here had already been found and killed.

Even so, Zhang Shan had no intention of giving up.

Whether there was a real-name boss here or not, they would only know the result after they searched it.

Perhaps there really was a fish that had escaped the net.

Zhang Shan followed the map's periphery and began to search.

after searching for about 20 minutes, zhang shan had almost finished scanning the entire outer perimeter of the dark swamp map.

But he still didn't find the real name boss in the map.

However, Zhang Shan was not discouraged. It was still too early.

This map was big enough. Although he had already searched the outermost area once, he still had to be careful.

However, that was only the outer circle. Compared to the entire dark swamp map, Zhang Shan had not even finished half of the area.

He would take it slow. After he scanned the entire map, he would know if there was a real-name boss.

zhang shan continued forward.

Suddenly, he noticed that there was an independent red dot on his left.

Zhang Shan could not help but be overjoyed. Could this red dot be a BOSS with a real name?

It must be known that the monsters in the map were usually gathered in large groups. It was very rare for a single monster to exist.

Normally, an independent red dot was very likely to be a BOSS.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan quickly ran towards the location of the red dot.

He followed the map and arrived at a small pool.

He didn't see a single monster.

As for the BOSS, not even a shadow could be seen.

Zhang Shan was a little confused.

What the hell was going on? he clearly saw a red dot on the mini-map.

Why did he see a ghost shadow?

This was too unscientific.

Could it be that he had made a mistake, or the red dot on the map just now was not here?

Zhang Shan once again opened the mini map to check. This was indeed the place.

The red dot on the mini-map was just around him.

This made Zhang Shan a little confused.

F * ck, could it be that there was a monster nearby that had dug a hole and was hiding?

That didn't make sense.

This was a game, not the real world.

If the wild monsters dug a hole and hid, the players wouldn't be able to hit them at all.

Zhang Shan subconsciously shook his head.

It was impossible for such a thing to happen.

There must be a monster nearby, and it might be the BOSS with the real name.

He had to find it.

Zhang Shan carefully looked at the nearby map to see if there were any places that could hide the BOSS.

However, the surroundings were empty. There was nothing to hide, only a few bushes and a small pool.

Could the BOSS be hiding in the water?

But the problem was, the water in the small pond was so clear. Even if the BOSS was hiding in the water, he should be able to see it.

Could he be hiding in the grass?

This was impossible.

the swamp crocodiles were all big wild monsters, and these low bushes couldn't hide them at all.

Moreover, if there was a real-name BOSS, it should be bigger.

Even if it was as big as a mountain, it was still possible.

How could these small bushes possibly hide him?

He clearly saw a small red dot on the mini-map, but Zhang Shan could not find it.

He couldn't help but fall into self-doubt.

Could it be that there's something wrong with my eyes?

However, he opened and closed the minimap, and repeated the operation a few times.

he could see the little red dot every time, but the position of the red dot was not fixed. sometimes, it would move.

However, the general location did not change. It was near the small pool.

It was really like seeing a ghost.

Although he had searched for a long time, he still could not find the little red dot. What the hell was that?

But Zhang Shan did not give up.

He felt that this little red dot was very likely a real-name BOSS, but he had not discovered it.

Zhang Shan did not believe that he would not be able to detect a BOSS with a real name in his vicinity.

i don't believe this.

Zhang Shan followed the small pool and searched carefully again.

Zhang Shan was especially serious in his search, especially in the small bushes.

this was because there really wasn't anything to hide in here. if there had to be something, it would be these small bushes.

The red dot on the map was most likely in the middle of the grass.

As for why he hadn't found it yet, perhaps the BOSS was too small, not even as tall as the grass.

Zhang Shan felt that this was the only possibility.

Otherwise, there was no reason why he couldn't see the BOSS.

Zhang Shan walked along the small pool, slowly searching.

Suddenly, he saw the grass not far away seemed to shake a little, as if it was gently blown by the wind.

but the problem was that the other bushes didn't shake, only that one bush shook.

Could it be that something was moving in the grass?

Zhang Shan quickly ran over to check.

When he saw clearly what it was, Zhang Shan could not help but be happy.

He saw a mini crocodile swimming in the grass.

The crocodile was too small.

it was probably only as thick as a child's arm and a foot long.

Was this also a f * cking crocodile?

This was too degrading.

Could this be a baby crocodile?

Of course, the size of the crocodile monster was not the key.

More importantly, Zhang Shan saw that on the head of this mini-crocodile, there was a big red name.

Ancient giant crocodile Cub, Glos.

"Haha, it really is a real name BOSS."

After clearly seeing the name of this mini crocodile, Zhang Shan could not help but laugh.

It really was a BOSS with a real name. He had finally found it.

However, Zhang Shan did not do so. He rashly stepped forward and started.

This dark swamp was a level 75 monster map.

The Gator monsters in the map were all level 75.

it was the biggest boss in the map.

The level of this ancient crocodile Cub was at least level 75.

Perhaps it was rank-80.

if it was a level 80 boss with a real name, it would not be easy.

He definitely couldn't handle it alone.

Zhang Shan quickly called out to his friends in the team channel.

we've found a real-name BOSS. Come over and fight the BOSS together.

Hearing Zhang Shan's call, the Little Friends who were farming monsters could not help but be stunned.

Windcloud blade said in disbelief.

"Stop joking, how can there be a real name BOSS? You're just teasing us."

that's right. Brother Guan Zi, don't mess around. We still have to kill some monsters.

f * ck, you guys don't believe me? I'll share my view, you guys can see for yourselves.

Zhang Shan quickly shared his view on the team channel.

However, Zhang Shan's shared perspective did not satisfy his friends. Instead, it attracted even more complaints.

f * ck, Big Boss six-barreled has turned bad. He's so good at playing tricks. He even opened a shared view to deceive us.

"That's right, where did this BOSS come from? There isn't even a single strand of monster hair, let alone a BOSS."

brother Butler, if you don't want to farm monsters, don't drag us down with you. We still need to farm monsters and level up.

"that's right. take your time and play by yourself. don't affect us from farming monsters and leveling up."

Hearing this, Zhang Shan finally reacted.

This ancient giant crocodile Cub was small to begin with, and it was hidden in the grass.

When he opened the shared view, the ancient crocodile youngling was once again covered by the grass.

in his shared vision, his friends could not see anything.

He quickly adjusted his view and said to his friend again.

there's really a real name BOSS. Look at the grass over there. There's a mini crocodile monster. That's the real name BOSS. Do you see it? " windcloud blade cried out.

"F * ck, there's such a small BOSS?"

brother Butler, guard the BOSS well. Don't let it escape. We'll be there soon.

After seeing Gros, his friends couldn't help but be excited.

At this moment, no one dared to question Zhang Shan.

they quickly abandoned the monsters in their hands and quickly moved closer to Zhang Shan.

Who would farm monsters when there was a BOSS to fight?

Not to mention a real name BOSS, even fighting a normal purple BOSS would be better than farming monsters.

At the very least, a BOSS would give much more experience than a monster.

As for real-name bosses, the experience they gave was even more abundant.

The five of them split the exp of a real name BOSS. even during normal times, each of them would gain a large chunk of exp.

Now was the time for the double experience, if they killed a real-name BOSS.

Perhaps each of them would gain half a level of experience.

Compared to farming monsters, this was much better.

Not to mention, the drops from a real name BOSS would definitely not be bad.

Zhang Shan had fought so many real-name bosses, but none of them had dropped anything that disappointed him.

Almost every real name BOSS would drop good stuff.

A divine weapon mold or something like that could be considered the worst of the items.

There were also divine weapon mission items, ultimate skill books, and awesome special items.

These good items could be dropped after killing a real-name BOSS.

In short, every real name BOSS was full of treasures.

As long as you can find it and destroy it.

then, he could definitely make a small fortune.

After confirming that there was a real name BOSS, how could his friends not be excited?

Who would complain about having too many good things?

Not long after, his friends ran over and met up with Zhang Shan.

Looking at the miniature crocodile monster in the grass, Windcloud blade could not help but complain even though he had already mentally prepared himself.

"F * ck, there's such a small real name BOSS? it was really an eye-opener, no wonder this BOSS had not been defeated yet. He's so small and he's hiding in the grass. How can we find him?"

“Yeah, it’s too small. How did you find it, brother Guan?”

I’m looking at the minimap. I saw a red dot on the minimap, and it took me a long time to find it.

“Big Boss six-barreled really is meticulous.”

yeah, it’s been hard on brother Guan. He could even find such a small BOSS.

“What do we do now? Are we going to go directly?”

I’ll go first. Taoist priest, take your sword and help me heal. The rest of you, stand on the side and watch.

They had fought many bosses before, and the strategy was basically the same.

It was just that some bosses were stronger and some were weaker.

As long as Zhang Shan could withstand the BOSS’s damage, there would not be any problems.

as for this ancient giant crocodile youngling, would zhang shan be able to handle it?

Zhang Shan himself felt that it should not be a big problem.

Now that he had reached level 60, all of his divine equipment had been unsealed, and he had gained a new divine equipment refresh orb.

his current hp was almost 1.2 million. it didn’t make sense that he couldn’t even take on a BOSS, right?

even if it was a real-name boss, it would be the same.

The only problem was that there were no other small monsters in the surroundings. There was only the juvenile ancient crocodile.

Without a second target to act as a bridge, Zhang Shan’s catapults would not be of much use.

without the ejection passive, it was still okay if the damage was slow. the main thing was that it would affect zhang shan’s lifesteal effect.

Without the passive boost from catapulting, Zhang Shan could only recover his health once every time he attacked.

Although his current damage ability was very high and his lifesteal speed was also very fast.

However, no matter how fast Zhang Shan’s lifesteal was, it would definitely not be able to keep up with the damage of a real-name boss.

He still needed a healer to heal him.

In their team of five, boss Wu was the only support. They didn’t know if he could heal them all.

However, Zhang Shan did not want to think too much. He just wanted to be reckless.

He didn’t want to be in the Guild anymore and call the others to fight with him.

If there were more people, there would be more equipment and experience to distribute. Zhang Shan did not want to go through so much trouble.

There was no need for that.

There were only five of them, so they would try to fight first.

After all his friends had arrived.

zhang shan rode forward to attack the BOSS.

When he got close to the aggro range, the ancient giant crocodile Cub, Glos, rushed out of the grass like a gust of wind with its four short legs.

in the blink of an eye, the ancient giant crocodile cub, glos, had rushed in front of zhang shan.

The mini Gator Glos bit Zhang Shan.

[ damage -385468 ]

Looking at the damage value, Zhang Shan was a little flustered.

One attack from Gros could deal nearly 400000 damage. That was a little too much.

although zhang shan's health was very high, even 400000 damage could only reduce one-third of his health.

Normally, he should be able to take it.

But the problem was, with such a high damage output, would boss Wu be able to heal all of them?

If boss Wu couldn't add all of them, it would be a bit of a joke.

Forget it, let's not care about this for now.

zhang shan raised his hand cannon and quickly returned fire.

The bullets were like raindrops, sweeping towards cross.

Chapter 543 invincible hp recovery

Although the mini-Gator Glos was small in size, it dealt a lot of damage.

A single bite on Zhang Shan's body had dealt close to 400000 damage, and this was not even a critical hit.

if cross had dealt a critical hit, it would have dealt close to 800000 damage.

Such a high damage was terrifying just thinking about it. It could almost kill any player in front of him.

Other than Zhang Shan's insane HP, no other player could withstand such a fierce attack from cross.

Of course, while Gros's damage was very high, Zhang Shan's damage was not any weaker.

Zhang Shan held his hand cannon, and the bullets kept on sweeping towards cross.

With the support of his powerful damage ability, Zhang Shan's own health recovery speed was not bad.

Zhang Shan's current theoretical damage was about 270000.

Based on his 25% lifesteal rate ...

every time zhang shan attacked, he could recover 60000 to 70000 hp.

In addition, Zhang Shan's attack speed was very fast.

every time the ancient giant crocodile cub, glos, attacked zhang shan, he could basically deal three shots of damage.

Each shot would drain 60000 to 70000 HP, and three shots would drain close to 200000 HP.

Furthermore, Zhang Shan had so many critical hit passive skills. In a single unit of time, the actual damage he dealt was much more than in theory.

The more damage he dealt, the more health Zhang Shan could recover.

In other words, Zhang Shan could rely on his own blood-sucking ability to offset more than half of Gros's damage.

As for the remaining BOSS damage, he believed that boss Wu should be able to help him add it.

And this was Zhang Shan's lifesteal efficiency under normal damage.

If he went all out, then Zhang Shan's damage would be much more powerful, and his lifesteal efficiency would be much higher.

As Zhang Shan fired at the BOSS, he observed his own health bar.

Boss Wu was healing him from behind, and he also had his own lifesteal effect.

From the looks of it, the injuries of the ancient giant crocodile Cub, cross, did not pose much of a threat to Zhang Shan.

his health bar had always been stable.

every time he was injured by cross, he would be killed.

Relying on his own lifesteal and boss Wu's healing, he quickly recovered his health.

For the time being, as long as it was Gros, he didn't have any particularly powerful skills.

Then, Zhang Shan should have no problem tanking the boss's damage.

after zhang shan pulled cross steadily, his friends in the distance also rushed forward.

Other than boss Wu, who was trying to heal Zhang Shan, the other four were waving their weapons and dealing heavy damage to cross.

However, after everyone fought for a while, Zhang Shan felt that something was a little strange.

Why was Gros 'HP bar still full?

It felt like they had been fighting for almost half a minute, but why was Gros 'HP still 100%? it hadn't moved at all.

If it wasn't for the damage numbers that kept appearing above Gros 'head, Zhang Shan would have suspected that all the damage they had dealt had been missed.

However, that was not the case.

the damage they dealt was not missed by gros.

the damage they dealt each time was effective.

Zhang Shan was very confused.

Could it be that the HP of this ancient gargantuan crocodile was much higher than that of a normal real name BOSS?

This shouldn't be.

Normally, real-name bosses of the same level would have similar attack power and HP.

Of course, some real-name bosses had special skills that could double their attack power or HP.

However, that was only the minority.

besides, even if gros 'hp was double that of his peers, he would only have four to five billion hp at most.

With such a high HP, it was not particularly difficult for Zhang Shan and the rest to deal with.

They had been fighting for quite a while. No matter what, the BOSS's health should have been reduced by a little.

But in reality, it didn't. It had been almost half a minute, and Gros 'health bar was still at 100%. There was no sign of it dropping at all.

It was really like seeing a ghost.

How much HP did this BOSS have? it couldn't be like the mythological beast King in the new year event, which had trillions of HP, right?

Probably not.

If that was the case, then it would be a little ridiculous.

Didn't that mean that they would have to fight for a few hours before they could kill this ancient giant crocodile Cub?

Zhang Shan was a little flustered.

Let's take a look at Gros 'attributes first.

Zhang Shan kept firing his guns while checking the BOSS's attributes and skills.

Ancient giant crocodile Cub Glos (red): Level 80, attack 200000, hp 4 billion skill 1, crocodile's kiss, skill 2, vitality (passive), skill 3, ancient power (passive), skill 4, giant crocodile's tail.

[ crocodile's kiss: the mouth of the young ancient giant crocodile, glos. it has a powerful bite. ]

Each bite would deal a lot of damage to the target, increasing the damage by 100%.

[ vitality (passive): greatly increases health regeneration speed. ]

[ ancient power (passive): ancient giant crocodile Cub, Glos, possesses ancient power, greatly increases HP. ]

[ giant crocodile's tail: the innate skill of the young ancient giant crocodile, glos. It sweeps its tail at its target, dealing 10 times the damage. ] the damage range is 50 yards in front of you.

After looking at the attributes and skills of the ancient giant crocodile Cub, Zhang Shan was even more confused.

As a level 80 real name BOSS, its attributes were indeed very high. It had 200000 attack power and 4 billion health points.

However, this wasn't a big deal. It was just a lot stronger than a normal real name BOSS.

But this was not the reason why Zhang Shan and the rest could not do anything.

One must know that Zhang Shan's current damage ability was very terrifying, even stronger than a BOSS.

Besides, they were not. Only Zhang Shan was attacking, other than boss Wu who had to heal him.

The other three were also attacking Gros.

although their damage ability was far from zhang shan's, they were not considered weak.

The damage ability of his friends was at the level of super bosses.

In the entire game, there were only a few players who were stronger than them.

But even so, under the attacks of the four of them, they couldn't even take out 1% of Gros 'HP after half a minute.

This was too unscientific.

could it be because of the passive energy?

Zhang Shan guessed.

In terms of skill description, cross 'passive vitality was exactly the same as the other crocodile monsters in dark swamp.

The passive ability only had one use, and that was to greatly increase the health recovery speed.

Of course, the same skill would be more effective on Gros than on the smaller monsters.

However, he shouldn't be this strong.

Could it be that because of this vitality skill, the recovery speed of cross was faster than the damage they dealt?

no matter how strong this passive vitality was, it shouldn't be this strong.

zhang shan did not quite believe it.

But that was the truth.

The other skills of cross weren't special.

The BOSS 'first skill increased its damage by 100%. It could only be considered a normal skill.

As for the third skill, it was also a passive skill. However, this ancient power was a skill that increased the maximum health points.

However, increasing the maximum health did not have much of an impact on the health recovery speed.

it would just double the health points of a real name BOSS of the same level.

But this was nothing.

With Zhang Shan's current damage ability, he could deal 300 to 400 million damage in a minute.

Even if cross had four billion HP, Zhang Shan could still destroy it within ten minutes.

Moreover, he had his friends to help him deal damage.

Under normal circumstances, they would only need seven to eight minutes at most to defeat Gros.

but now, they had been fighting for half a minute and still hadn't managed to take out 1% of the BOSS's health.

Then the only explanation was that Gros 'passive vitality was much stronger than Zhang Shan had imagined.

because of this passive skill, gros 'hp recovery rate was extremely fast.

there was no other explanation.

Zhang Shan had discovered this problem. Naturally, his other friends had also discovered it.

Windcloud blade asked curiously as he swung his God-tier battle axe around, continuously dealing damage.

why is it that the BOSS 'health bar hasn't changed at all even after we've been fighting for so long? this doesn't make sense.

"It's really strange. With our damage output, the BOSS's HP should be dropping very quickly."

yeah, this cross only has four billion HP. It's not much for us. There's no reason we can't beat him.

it's probably because of the BOSS's passive vitality. Gros 'HP recovery rate is too fast, so we haven't been able to take it down even after a long time.

"No way, is this passive skill that powerful? I see that the monsters have this passive ability, but it's not very effective."

the same skill can't have the same effect on a BOSS and a monster.

"Then it's over. Could it be that the damage we dealt wasn't as fast as the healing speed of gross?"

impossible. If that's the case, then isn't this Gros heaven-defying? "

"Do you want to call more people over to fight together?"

not for now. Let's try fighting for a while longer. If we can't defeat the boss after 10 minutes, we'll call people over to fight it together.

"Alright, let's try it out."

Although half a minute had passed, Gros 'health bar still showed no signs of decreasing.

However, Zhang Shan did not plan to call the others over to help.

As long as they could defeat and kill the BOSS, it didn't matter if they took more time.

there was no need to call too many people.

When other large teams fought bosses, they had no other choice because they had too few people.

As for Zhang Shan and the rest, it was not as if they could not defeat cross.

After more than half a minute of trying ...

Zhang Shan felt that Gros could not pose any threat to him.

with boss wu's healing, he could completely block the boss's damage.

As for their half a minute of fighting, they couldn't even take down half of Gros 'HP.

Zhang Shan felt that there was no need to rush.

Wasn't he just playing a little slower?

This didn't matter much.

Let's try fighting for a few more minutes, as long as they can take down Gros 'health bar.

It didn't matter how slow the fight was.

No matter how slow he was, could he be slower than the beast King?

During the spring Festival, they had even killed a few godly beast Kings.

Would it be afraid of not being able to kill this ancient crocodile Cub?

This did not make sense.

Let's try fighting for a while longer. If they really can't beat Gros, it won't be too late to call for more people.

Under everyone's continuous attacks, after more than a minute, Gros 'health bar finally moved.

It had dropped to 99%.

f * ck, we've been fighting for a minute and only lost 1% of his HP. This Gros 'HP recovery speed is too disgusting.

"It's alright, as long as they can be killed."

"The problem now is, what should we do when the BOSS uses its ultimate skill?"

that's right, this is indeed a problem. With our current speed, it will take at least an hour and a half to defeat Gros. Then, after the BOSS 'HP is half, we will need another 40 to 50 minutes to defeat it. After such a long time, the BOSS would definitely use more than one big move."

"How do I do this? Gros 'big move is still very powerful. That's almost two million damage."

"It's okay, I can use the God's descent skill twice and withstand two of Gros's big moves. If you still can't do it, then it's fine. If you die, you can continue fighting after I revive."

Zhang Shan was not too worried about Gros 'big move.

In any case, he had the refresh ball, which could refresh the cooldown of all skills, and he could use his big moves twice.

Zhang Shan believed that after two big moves, this Gros would probably be blown up by them.

Even if the interval between Gros 'big moves was very short and he could release many big moves, it didn't matter.

It was nothing more than resurrecting and continuing to fight after he fell to the ground.

While he was on the ground, he could let his friends be cannon fodder and hold Gros back.

Anyway, even if his friends died, it would not affect the overall situation as long as boss Wu did not die.

after zhang shan had finished speaking, other than wind and cloud blade, the rest of his friends were all a little dumbfounded.

The little fairy asked.

"Brother Guan, you can use the God's descent skill twice? Why was this so? Aren't ultimate skills usually 24 or 12 hours long?"

they did not know that zhang shan had the refreshing ball.

Except for Windcloud blade, who was extremely curious and pestered him to get to the bottom of it.

His other friends did not ask Zhang Shan about what kind of divine weapon he had obtained in the country war after it ended.

Zhang Shan did not say anything, and the others did not ask.

After all, there were not many people like wind cloud blade who liked to ask about him.

now that zhang shan had said that he could use the skill [ god's descent ] twice, the others found it strange.

Zhang Shan did not explain too much. He displayed the attributes of the refresh sphere on the team channel and said.

"Because I have this, hehe."

After seeing Zhang Shan's refresh orb, his friends were all stunned.

"f * ck, there's such an awesome divine artifact? Why don't I have any?"

"F * ck, this refresh ball is a little too strong."

" yeah, it's a godly item that doesn't take up any equipment slots. i can't understand why such a godly item would appear. " the refresh skill on the divine weapon is awesome. It can reset the cooldown time of all skills. It's simply too overpowered.

here's the question. Why do the equipment have skills? don't other equipment only have special effects? " who knows? it's definitely a piece of BUG equipment.

it should be considered a special equipment. I don't think there will be a second piece of equipment like this.

"That's not necessarily true. Aren't there still a few divine beast statues that haven't been destroyed? Maybe it will drop a few more pieces of such godly equipment."

it's hard to say. Maybe the other divine beast statues will drop other types of divine weapons. They might not necessarily drop more divine weapons that don't take up space for equipment.

" sigh, six-barreled boss 'luck is too good. he gets all the good things. " of course. You're not called the son of the game for nothing.

don't say anymore. It's just tears. I'm so envious that I'm about to cry.

"Hahaha."

After seeing Zhang Shan's refresh ball, everyone was full of confidence in defeating the ancient giant crocodile youngling.

Although the refresh ball had only given Zhang Shan an extra big move.

However, in many cases, an extra big move could change a lot of things.

This was especially true for Zhang Shan.

If Zhang Shan could use his ultimate move one more time, in many situations, he could change the situation.

Whether it was fighting a boss or a fight, it was the same.

Everyone surrounded cross and continuously dealt intense damage.

Under everyone's continuous attacks, cross 'super HP recovery ability was finally suppressed.

Cross 'HP started to drop slowly.

Although the speed of descent was very slow, it was indeed a steady descent.

The more they fought, the faster they got. After about half an hour, the ancient crocodile Cub's HP was quickly reduced by 40%.

In the meantime, Gros didn't cause them any trouble.

This was because apart from its passive vitality that allowed it to recover its HP at an extremely fast rate, it also had a special attribute.

Its other skills were not worth mentioning at all.

Gros had a total of four skills, and two of them were passive skills.

One was vitality passive which increased the speed of HP recovery, while the other was ancient power which increased the maximum health.

All that was left was a small skill and a big move.

Passive vitality should be the essence of Gros 'skill. The other three skills were not weak either.

However, when it came to a real-name BOSS, it was only a rare occurrence.

Before it was reduced to half its HP, the ancient giant crocodile Cub only had one minor skill to use.

other than that, it had no other skills to use.

If it wasn't for Gros, who could occasionally deal critical hits, Zhang Shan's health bar would have been almost full.

Every time he was attacked, Zhang Shan could quickly drain blood and with boss Wu's healing, he could bring his health back to full.

As long as the boss did not deal a critical hit, Zhang Shan's health would never be less than half.

It was very stable.

If it wasn't for the fact that the ancient giant crocodile's young Gros had a powerful HP recovery passive skill ...

This boss should be easy to beat.

However, it was still fine for now.

it didn't matter how fast cross 'hp recovery was, as their damage was high enough.

he could completely suppress the speed of cross 'hp recovery.

Gros 'health bar was steadily decreasing.

After a few more minutes, the ancient giant crocodile's HP was slowly approaching half.

Wind and cloud blade said.

"Should we retreat first?"

"Why are you panicking? Let's fight for a while longer. The BOSS still has 52% of its health left. It won't be able to cast its ultimate skill that quickly."

then everyone, pay attention. Don't get wiped out by the BOSS's big move.

"Don't worry, we won't be wiped out."

Boss Wu reminded him.

"We don't need to run, right? This BOSS's ultimate skill doesn't deal AoE damage, it can only hit the front. We can just hide behind the BOSS, right?"

"Eh, is this what happened? Let me see."

"F * ck, it really is like that."

f * ck, I didn't pay attention to the BOSS's skills just now. How embarrassing.

After boss Wu's reminder, the others quickly moved behind Gros and continued to attack.

Since Gros's ultimate could only deal damage to the target in front of him.

Then, there was no need for them to retreat at all. They could continue to fight with Zhang Shan.

This was for the best, so that Zhang Shan would not be left to fight alone. He was afraid that he might not be able to suppress the speed of cross 'recovery.

Zhang Shan did not know what the limit of Gros's HP recovery was.

In any case, it was better for everyone to fight together.

Although Zhang Shan's damage output was very high, his damage output alone was several times higher than the rest of his friends combined.

However, perhaps the little damage output of his friends was just the straw that broke the camel's back.

perhaps, without the damage from his teammates, just zhang shan's damage output alone would be a little lacking.

After all, Gros 'HP recovery speed was really a little invincible.

Chapter 544 Passive skill: Vitality and ancient power

The ancient giant crocodile Cub's big move, although the damage was very high, it was a BOSS 'big move that dealt 10 times the damage.

With its 200000 attack power, its ultimate skill's damage was theoretically close to two million.

However, Gro's ulti was only aimed at the target in front of him. As long as they stood behind him and attacked, they wouldn't take any damage.

This way, the players didn't have to run to the side to avoid the BOSS's big move like they did in the past.

Instead, he could stand behind Gros until he was destroyed.

Of course, his friends could stand behind and attack to avoid Gros 'big move, but Zhang Shan could not.

Because Gros's hatred had always been on Zhang Shan.

No matter where he stood, he would be in front of Gros.

but this didn't matter.

even though gros's ultimate skill dealt a lot of damage.

The theoretical damage was close to two million.

however, zhang shan's health was also very high.

Under normal circumstances, Zhang Shan's HP was already close to 1.2 million.

If he were to activate the God's descent skill, Zhang Shan's HP would be close to 2.4 million.

Furthermore, Gros 'ultimate skill only dealt one-hit damage, not continuous damage.

in addition, the BOSS's big move would not cause a critical hit.

As such, after Zhang Shan activated the skill {God's descent}, he would not die even if he took 2000000 damage.

After activating his ultimate skill, Zhang Shan's HP would reach 2.4 million.

Even if he lost 200000HP, Zhang Shan would still be left with 40000HP. He would not die at all.

It was not a problem for Zhang Shan to withstand the damage from Gros's big move.

Under everyone's continuous attacks, Gros' health bar was steadily decreasing.

Fifty-two percent, fifty-one percent.

Zhang Shan stared at Gros's health bar.

When Gros' health bar was about to reach half, Zhang Shan quickly activated his ultimate skill.

After activating the God's descent skill, not only did Zhang Shan's HP double, he had close to 2.4 million HP.

Moreover, his attack power and attack speed had also received an explosive boost under the blessing of the deity's descent.

Zhang Shan raised his hand cannon, and the violent bullets swept towards Gros. Very quickly, the BOSS was reduced to Half Blood.

When his HP dropped to 50%.

Cross waved its tiny tail and whipped it at Zhang Shan.

In an instant, Zhang Shan felt a strong aura coming towards him.

Although Gros' little tail looked a little cute.

However, when it waved its tail, the powerful aura almost shattered the space.

A huge amount of damage appeared above Zhang Shan's head.

-1913681 damage.

With a wave of big moves from Gros, Zhang Shan's health bar was almost empty.

Fortunately, his strength had recently improved greatly.

Recently, Zhang Shan had not only risen to level 60, but the God equipment on him had also been unsealed. He had also gained another god equipment, the refresh ball.

After two upgrades, the upper limit of his HP had been raised by a lot.

Otherwise, even if Zhang Shan activated his God's descent skill, he might not be able to withstand the damage from this wave of big moves from cross.

The damage of Gros' ultimate skill was too strong, and it was really terrifying.

if it wasn't for the fact that they were in a game and the terrain couldn't be destroyed ...

Zhang Shan suspected that this move from cross could have flattened the entire terrain behind him.

Of course.

Gros' ultimate was indeed powerful, but it only dealt one wave of damage. After the first wave, it returned to normal.

zhang shan held his hand cannon and activated his god's descent state. the bullets were like raindrops, sweeping towards cross.

As the rapid damage landed on Gros 'body, it also helped Zhang Shan to recover his health quickly.

In addition to Zhang Shan's own lifesteal, boss Wu also waved his magic sword. Rejuvenation and enhanced rejuvenation were used alternately to continuously heal Zhang Shan.

After a while, Zhang Shan's health, which had been almost empty, quickly recovered to full health.

After enduring a wave of the BOSS's ultimate skills, Zhang Shan and his friends seized the time to continue attacking.

Zhang Shan took a look at his skill panel. All his berserk skills had already cooled down.

He quickly went all out.

Zhang Shan activated his berserk and fanatic skills, and at the same time, he activated his shadow clone skill.

The three Zhang Shans stood in a row, and the violent bullets were like raindrops, sweeping towards cross.

At this moment, Zhang Shan's God's descent was still in effect, coupled with a few explosive skills.

He quickly dealt a wave of explosive damage.

Under Zhang Shan's powerful attack, Gros 'super HP recovery ability was completely suppressed.

Gros 'health bar was rapidly decreasing.

in less than a minute, gros 'hp was reduced to 41%.

Zhang Shan's wave of rapid damage had directly taken out 9% of Gros 'health.

the effect of their damage was nine times stronger than before after zhang shan activated his ultimate skill.

Of course.

Not to mention, because Zhang Shan had activated his ultimate skill, his damage output ability had increased by nine times.

That was impossible.

Although Zhang Shan's God's descent was indeed very strong, it was not strong to this extent.

They could quickly take out 7% of Gros's HP in a short time.

That was because the rate at which Gros 'HP recovered was basically fixed.

To use an example.

for example, gros could recover 400 million hp in a minute.

and under normal circumstances, zhang shan and the rest could deal 450 million damage in a minute.

in that case, after deducting gros 'hp recovery, zhang shan and the rest had only taken out 50 million hp.

If they dealt less than 400 million damage in a minute, then Gros 'health bar would never decrease.

This was because the damage they dealt wasn't as fast as Gros 'HP recovery.

He couldn't suppress Gros 'HP recovery at all.

Although they had been slow, Gros 'health bar was still dropping.

This meant that Zhang Shan and the rest's normal attacks could already suppress Gros 'HP recovery.

After Zhang Shan had activated his God's descent, the damage he had dealt had increased by at least three to four times.

The extra damage was directly reflected in Gros 'health bar.

It directly hit Gros 'health bar, and it quickly decreased.

Therefore, within a minute of Zhang Shan's ultimate skill, Gros 'health bar had dropped by 9%.

It was much faster than when he didn't use his big move.

this was because their previous damage output had always been at a critical state, barely suppressing the speed of cross 'recovery.

if their previous damage output had been slightly lower, they might not even have been able to hurt gros.

Once the damage output of Zhang Shan and the rest increased to a certain extent, then the rate of loss of health for cross would definitely increase by several times.

When Zhang Shan's God's descent skill ended, their damage effect returned to its original state.

Although their attacks had never stopped, Gros 'HP bar was dropping at a snail's pace.

It was very slow.

windcloud blade said gloomily as he swung his axe at the boss.

"F * ck, they're so slow."

it's alright. It's already fast enough, much faster than I imagined.

yeah, we only need half an hour at most. We should be able to destroy Gros.

“It would be great if we could do what we did just now and take away a large amount of the BOSS’s health bar.”

what are you thinking? it’s already not bad that we can have such a speed.

“Don’t rush, take it slow. We’ll kill the BOSS sooner or later.”

“big boss six-barreled, why don’t you try another big move? If I use my ultimate skill, I might be able to bring the BOSS “HP down to 30%.”

“Let’s not do that. If brother Butler uses all his ultimate skills and the BOSS uses another ultimate skill, what should we do? Without a big move, brother Guan won’t be able to take it. ”

“Don’t listen to his nonsense, let’s just fight normally.”

that’s right. Why are you thinking so much? take a look at your skill panel. As soon as your berserk skills are off cooldown, you should hurry up and attack. That’s better than anything else.

let’s hurry up. After we defeat the BOSS, we still have to go and farm monsters to level up.

“No way, we’re fighting a BOSS and you’re thinking about farming monsters? do you not care about the BOSS at all? This is a BOSS with a real name.”

“So what? we’re here to farm monsters, fighting the BOSS is just a interlude in the middle. the real BOSS will just drop a divine weapon mold, i don’t care about it. ”

Zhang Shan did not know when Gros would release his second big move.

If he wasn’t paying attention and got killed by Gros ‘ultimate, that would be a bit of a joke.

Zhang Shan had to look at it carefully.

According to his observation just now, when Gros released his big move, he would wag his tail in advance.

as long as he saw gros’s tail wagging, zhang shan would immediately use the refresh ball.

He refreshed the skill and activated the God’s descent skill again.

The damage of Gros ‘ultimate skill was so strong that Zhang Shan could not withstand it without the God’s descent state.

Therefore, Zhang Shan had to keep a close eye on him. He could not let Gros ‘big move sneak attack him and knock him down.

If that was the case, it would be a joke.

Zhang Shan kept shooting and dealing damage while keeping an eye on Gros ‘movements.

After fighting for another ten minutes or so, the ancient giant crocodile's young Gros 'HP had dropped to almost 30%.

At this moment, Zhang Shan suddenly saw that Gros 'tail seemed to have twitched.

Zhang Shan quickly used the refresh ball in his backpack to reset the cooldown time of all his skills.

After the cooldown time was reset, Zhang Shan quickly activated the God's descent skill.

almost at the same time as zhang shan activated his god's descent skill, gro waved its little tail and swept it towards zhang shan.

[ damage-1911657 ]

Gros activated his ultimate skill again, and Zhang Shan's health bar was almost empty, leaving him with less than 500000 health points.

Fortunately, Zhang Shan had used the refresh ball in time, and used his second big move.

Otherwise, he would have died just now.

after zhang shan had used the refresh ball, not only could he use the god's descent skill again, but he could also use it.

His other berserk skills had also reset their cooldowns and could be used again.

Zhang Shan quickly went all out, activating his berserk and fanatic skills, and at the same time, his shadow clone skill.

The three Zhang Shan's each held a hand cannon. Violent bullets swept towards Gros, causing a wave of rapid damage.

let's hurry up and take advantage of this wave to reduce the BOSS's health to 20%.

we have to do it quickly. Otherwise, we might not be able to destroy the BOSS before it uses its third ultimate skill.

those with skills, focus your fire. Don't save your skills.

"I don't have any skills left. I've used up all my berserk skills."

it's a pity that we've used all of our ultimate skills during the World War. Otherwise, I'd really like to use my ultimate skills to fight the BOSS.

that's Bullsh * t. Our ultimate skill can be used in a fight, but how much damage can it deal against a BOSS? " yeah, with Griss 'four billion HP, the hundreds of thousands of HP that our ultimate dealt was just a drop in the bucket. It's not worth mentioning.

"it's good to be able to deal a few hundred thousand more damage."

it's useless. It's better to deal more critical hits, Big Shot six-barreled.

that's right. We're all slackers. Even if we use our big moves, we won't be able to deal much damage. We still have to rely on the six-barreled boss.

"Hurry up and fight, are you guys that free?"

"don't talk, play seriously."

"F * ck, does talking affect the damage output?"

"haha, don't be nervous. Just fight normally."

Everyone continued to attack the BOSS while chatting happily, trying to ease the tense atmosphere.

After a minute, Zhang Shan's God's descent skill ended.

At this moment, the ancient giant crocodile Cub only had 21% of its HP left.

Soon, he would be forced into a berserk state by them.

"Good luck. It should be much easier to fight after the BOSS is in a berserk state."

you're right. After the BOSS goes berserk, its defense will be weakened to a certain extent, so it should be easier to fight.

"What are you panicking for? don't be so anxious."

"F * ck, isn't it better to kill the BOSS earlier?"

it's good, but don't be too anxious. What's the use of being anxious? "

f * ck, summer insects can't talk about ice.

"F * ck, he's even talking about the text."

In a short while, the ancient giant crocodile's HP had been reduced to 20%.

The BOSS entered berserk mode.

Unlike the other bosses, after entering the berserk state, Gros's entire body gradually darkened.

Cross was originally a small gray crocodile, but after going berserk, it slowly turned into a small black crocodile.

Not only that, but after going berserk, the damage of cross had become abnormally fierce.

Even though all bosses would deal more damage after going berserk, it was still not enough.

However, Zhang Shan felt that after going berserk, it was much stronger than the other bosses.

Originally, Zhang Shan's health bar was relying on his own lifesteal and boss Wu's healing.

He was almost always at full health.

But now, it was no longer possible, even though Zhang Shan's attacks had never stopped.

His lifesteal effect was stronger than before, and boss Wu didn't stop.

He kept healing him.

however, zhang shan's health bar was still dropping.

Although he wouldn't be killed by Gros in one hit, he wasn't as stable as before.

after going berserk, this ancient giant crocodile cub, gros, had become extremely powerful.

However, it was still okay for now. At least Zhang Shan could still hold on.

Furthermore, after going berserk, cross 'defense had indeed weakened a lot.

Under their continuous attacks, the speed at which Gros 'HP fell was much faster than before he went berserk.

20%, 10%, 5%.

In less than 10 minutes, they had taken down another 15% of Gros 'health bar.

Compared to the beginning, they had to fight for nearly a minute to take out 1% of his health.

Now, the damage effect of Zhang Shan and the rest had been greatly enhanced after cross went berserk.

It felt like their damage was 50% stronger than before.

"Will Gros use another big move?"

"you jinx, don't say anything."

I don't think so. It hasn't even been ten minutes since Gros 'last big move. We still have time.

I've calculated it. The interval between Gros 'first two big moves is 15 minutes. We have at least five minutes to blow it up.

"I'm just afraid that the interval between the BOSS's ultimate skills is not fixed."

"can't you say something nice? You're full of dejected words."

"i'm just telling the truth, hehe."

"Shut up, you."

zhang shan stared at gros and continued to attack fiercely.

Not only that, even the Panda dumpling had been summoned by Zhang Shan.

The Panda ball waved its little claws, and it took a long time before it could deal damage.

Although the Panda team's attack speed was indeed surprisingly slow, it was still good to have one more attacker.

Under their continuous attacks.

After a short while, the ancient giant crocodile's Cub, Glos, was beaten to a low HP.

Zhang Shan saw the opportunity and controlled the Panda ball to use a combo skill. With seven consecutive slaps, he killed cross in one fell swoop.

&Lt; system announcement: congratulations to six-barreled Bodhisattva, heart moves, and wind and cloud blade for successfully killing the young ancient giant crocodile, cross. &Gt;

Skill point +1, medal +100.

[ system notification: your passive King talent has been triggered by killing the ancient giant crocodile's young Gros. ]

Acquired passive skill, vitality.

Passive skill obtained: ancient power.

F * ck, he got it in one wave, two passive skills?

Seeing the two consecutive system prompts, Zhang Shan was simply stunned.

He had never felt so good since the start of the game.

In the past, in order to get a passive skill, he had to kill monsters day and night.

Sometimes, even after one or two months, one might not be able to get the passive skill.

He had obtained two passive skills in this wave.

His luck today was going to be heaven-defying.

After killing the young ancient crocodile, the BOSS's two passive skills were activated.

This luck.

zhang shan could not believe his eyes.

However, the probability of getting a passive skill from a real name BOSS was indeed very high.

Basically, as long as it was a real name BOSS with a passive skill, after killing it, Zhang Shan would almost certainly be able to get a passive skill.

However, this was the first time Zhang Shan had encountered a situation where two passive skills had spawned.

Initially, when Zhang Shan saw the two passive skills on Gros, he was still a little conflicted.

which of these two passive skills was better?

Zhang Shan was hoping that he would be able to farm out the ancient power.

To him, increasing his maximum health was more important than anything else.

High health was the way to go, and health was survival.

As for the passive vitality, Zhang Shan did not think much of it.

Zhang Shan felt that no matter how fast he recovered his health, it was useless.

He was just a player, not a BOSS.

Vitality's passive increase in HP recovery speed would definitely not be of much use on him.

How could it be more reliable than directly increasing the maximum health?

Unfortunately, whether or not he could get a passive skill, and which passive skill he could get, was not up to him to decide.

That would depend on luck and the system's arrangements.

Whatever the system gave him, Zhang Shan could only take it.

Even if he was given a trashy passive skill, Zhang Shan would still keep it.

It was all good now.

Now, Zhang Shan did not have to worry about it.

The two passive skills on cross were all activated by him.

Although that passive vitality did not seem to be of much use to Zhang Shan.

but as a bonus, Zhang Shan would not mind giving him a free skill.

Most importantly, he had also obtained the ancient power passive skill.

A passive skill that directly increases the maximum health, that's what I call cool.

Although he did not know how much blood this ancient power could give him.

However, based on Zhang Shan's previous experience.

this passive ancient power should be able to increase his hp by 10%.

With Zhang Shan's current HP, he had close to 1.2 million.

An increase of 10% would mean an increase of over 100000 HP.

It was amazing and powerful.

Looking at these two system notifications, Zhang Shan was elated.

Chapter 545 Super harvest

after killing the BOSS, Zhang Shan had gained two passive skills.

At this moment, he was immersed in his own world and had not yet recovered from the shock.

Just as Zhang Shan was thinking of opening the skills panel to take a look at these two skills and what their effects were.

the little friends around him couldn't hold it in.

The BOSS had been killed, but they didn't know what items it had dropped.

why didn't they show the BOSS's loot?

The little fairy asked Zhang Shan anxiously.

"Brother Butler, what are you doing? what did the BOSS drop? show us."

after being interrupted by the little fairy, zhang shan finally regained his senses and replied.

"Oh, wait for a while. Let me see the skills first."

f * ck, did the six-barreled boss get another passive skill? "

"Yes, let me take a look at the skills first."

"F * ck, so many passive skills, aren't you afraid of bursting?"

f * ck, Big Boss six-barreled is going to defy the heavens. He can get a few passive skills every once in a while. How are we supposed to play with him? "

"You're abnormal."

"We'll talk about it later. Let me take a look at the skill I just got."

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he opened the skills panel to take a look.

As for the items that the BOSS dropped, Zhang Shan was not in a hurry to look at them.

Since the item had already fallen into his backpack and could not escape, there was no need to rush.

He wanted to see what the effects of the two new passive skills were.

Zhang Shan opened the skills panel to take a look.

[ vitality (passive): increases health regeneration speed. ]

Alright, there was nothing to look forward to with this passive skill.

This description was too perfunctory.

He only said that it would increase the speed of health recovery, but as for how much it would increase, he couldn't be sure.

But it didn't matter.

Zhang Shan had never relied on this to recover his health.

Normally, he mainly relied on lifesteal to recover his health.

If he were to fight a Big Boss, he would still need a support to help him heal.

As for the character itself and equipment, the health recovery effect that came with it, Zhang Shan had never paid much attention to it.

This thing didn't seem to have much of an effect.

Even if he replied a thousand or ten thousand per second?

That was useless. It couldn't be that this passive vitality could make his HP recovery speed reach tens of thousands per second.

There shouldn't be such a good thing.

However, when he had time in the future, he could find an opportunity to test it out.

Let's see how fast he can recover his health on his own when he's not fighting monsters.

However, he would have to try that in the future. He didn't have the time now.

He wanted to see which ancient power was passive. This was the main focus of Zhang Shan's attention.

[ primordial power (passive): increases maximum health by 20%. ]

Haha, this is awesome.

Looking at the skill's description, Zhang Shan could not help but be overjoyed.

The ancient power was actually a passive skill that increased his HP by 20%.

It was simply amazing.

Zhang Shan looked at his Character panel.

Before he obtained the primordial power, his HP was 1162530.

Now that he had the ancient power passive, his HP had reached 1395036.

He was just a little bit away from 1.4 million HP.

this ancient power was amazing.

It gave him more than 200000 HP.

looking at his character panel, another huge increase in health points, zhang shan was elated.

he still had to get more passive skills.

Passive skills were the true source of his strength.

Passive skills were stronger than any divine equipment.

The main thing was that the passive skills he obtained through his talent had no upper limit.

As long as he had the time, he would be able to obtain all the passive skills of the monsters in the game.

How many passive skills would he have?

It was scary just thinking about it.

This passive King talent of his was really a little heaven-defying.

When Zhang Shan was looking at the skill panel, the little fairy urged him again.

“Brother Guan, just take a look at your passive skill. Why do you keep looking at it? Hurry up and distribute the items dropped by the BOSS, we still have to go back and farm monsters.”

hearing the urging of his friends, zhang shan quickly closed the skills panel and opened his backpack to check.

to be honest, zhang shan did not have much expectations for the items dropped by gros.

it was nothing more than a divine weapon mold.

Even if their luck was off the charts, they would still be able to obtain another divine artifact.

To Zhang Shan, it did not mean much.

He didn’t have any urgent needs anyway.

He was someone who was about to have a full set of divine artifacts. Even if he dropped divine artifact mission items, he would distribute them to his friends or sell them to the big shots in the Guild.

Zhang Shan would not be able to use it.

Let’s see what’s in there first, then we’ll split it up and leave.

Eh, What’s this?

Was he that lucky today?

After seeing the items dropped by Gros in his backpack, Zhang Shan could not help but feel a little confused.

It wasn’t that the item dropped was too bad, but it was too good.

There were three red equipment and one red material.

As long as a BOSS was red or above, these two items would definitely drop.

Apart from that, cross also dropped a divine weapon mold, a suspected divine weapon mission item, and a scroll of unknown use.

After killing a real-name BOSS, they would get three good items at once.

this was something that zhang shan had never encountered before.

In the past, when his luck was at its best, he only got a divine weapon mold and a divine weapon mission item.

this time, when he killed Gros, he even dropped an extra scroll.

Although Zhang Shan had yet to check it, he did not know what the scroll was for.

However, as long as it was a scroll, there was almost no difference.

Other than some damage-type scrolls, there were also other scrolls with various uses.

Under certain circumstances, these scrolls might have a miraculous effect.

Of course, there were also instance dungeon scrolls, which were Zhang Shan's favorite type of scrolls.

Each scroll was a single instance dungeon.

There was at least one red BOSS in the dungeon, and if they were lucky, there might even be a BOSS with a real name.

Who wouldn't like such a scroll?

bosses that couldn't be found normally could be easily found by using scrolls.

Moreover, they didn't have to worry about being robbed when fighting bosses in Dungeons.

Of course, Dungeons that were opened with scrolls were basically one-time use.

Unlike the demon subduing platform, which could be cleared every week, these Dungeons could only be cleared once.

But even so, instance dungeon scrolls were still good stuff.

This time, Gros had actually dropped an extra scroll, which made Zhang Shan look forward to it.

What kind of scroll would it be?

Zhang Shan checked the scroll's description in his backpack.

[ demon lair pass: using this pass, you can enter the demon lair. ]

Maximum number of people allowed to enter is 5. Usage count: 1/1.

Haha, it really is an instance dungeon Scroll.

Then the question was, what kind of place was this demon race's nest?

Zhang Shan had never heard of this before.

'Forget it. I'll try using the scroll after I'm done distributing the equipment.'

Who cared what kind of map it was?

With the strength of Zhang Shan and the rest.

At this stage, other than the monster maps above level 80, they had no difficulty in farming the rest.

As for the bosses in the dungeon, they didn't need to worry about them.

If they could defeat a level 80 real name BOSS, then the other bosses would be a piece of cake.

Zhang Shan could not wait for the bosses in the instance to be as strong as possible.

The stronger the BOSS, the higher the chance of it dropping good items.

It just so happened that this scroll could allow five people to enter the dungeon.

Zhang Shan and his four friends could use the scroll together to enter the instance.

If the dungeon didn't have a BOSS that was too strong, then it wouldn't matter.

At most, he would just treat it as farming monsters.

In any case, the wild monsters in the instance dungeon would not have the Holy demon's protection state.

Normally, the monsters in the instance dungeon would be more concentrated, which would be more beneficial for them to increase their efficiency in killing monsters and leveling up.

Apart from the scroll, there was also a divine weapon quest item and a divine weapon mold.

the god equipment mold was a strength-type helmet that was suitable for wind and cloud blade and heart moves.

he would let these two big shots roll for it later.

As for the God equipment mission item, Zhang Shan could not quite understand it. He did not know which class the weapon belonged to.

[ pitch-black wooden stick: this is a wooden stick that seems to have experienced thunder fire. It's completely black. ]

" the wooden stick exudes a faint mysterious aura. i don't know what it's used for. please take it with you and ask people who know about it. "

From the item's description, this pitch-black wooden stick should be a Taoist priest's magic sword or a mage's magic staff.

However, whether it was a magic sword or a magic staff, Zhang Shan was not sure.

Forget it, I'll show the items dropped by Gros to my friends first.

They probably couldn't wait any longer.

Zhang Shan displayed all the dropped items on the team channel and said.

I'm quite lucky this time. I got two more good items.

"F * ck, let me see."

"Haha, is this a divine artifact mission item? Other than the divine weapon mold, there's also an additional divine weapon mission item. My luck is off the charts."

"And a scroll?"

“What kind of good thing is a scroll? Can it be compared to a divine artifact mission item?”

“The scroll isn’t bad either. This is a very rare instance dungeon Scroll.”

“Eh, is that an instance dungeon Scroll?”

f * ck, our luck today is really too good. This scroll is good. A five-man Dungeon Scroll. There should be at least one red BOSS.

“Yes, there will definitely be a red BOSS.”

Gros is so generous. Buy one get one free. He even gave a red BOSS as a gift, hehe.

“Brother Guan, hurry up and distribute the items. After that, we’ll go and clear the dungeon.”

“Yes, let’s roll for speed.”

“Alright, then let’s split the divine tool mold first.”

Zhang Shan activated the roll mode for the God equipment mold.

out of the five of them, only wind and cloud blade and heart moves with me were power-type.

Needless to say, the two of them would ROLL for the mold.

Wind and cloud blade and heart moves with me threw the dice one after the other.

Windcloud blade rolled 96 points, while heart follows me rolled 98 points.

A sure kill.

“Fuck.”

Wind and cloud blade was depressed. He had missed out on a divine weapon mold.

But he didn’t really care.

They followed Zhang Shan every day. It was hard to say for other artifacts, but it was not hard to get a defensive artifact mold.

However, unstable blade did not know how to do that. He was disappointed because he did not manage to roll the helmet mold.

zhang shan assigned the god weapon mold to heart moves.

The next item was the artifact Snatcher mission item.

Zhang Shan took out a black wooden stick and said to his friends.

“How do we split this? Is this a magic sword or a magic staff?”

In any case, Zhang Shan could not tell if this pitch-black wooden stick was a magic sword or a magic staff.

If it was a magic sword, it would be easy to give it to boss Wu.

However, if it was a magic staff, it would be a little difficult to obtain.

None of them here used a staff.

If it was a staff, he would have to sell it to someone else.

Therefore, Zhang Shan did not know how to deal with this black wooden stick.

forget it. I'll just treat it as a magic sword and give it to big brother saber. He doesn't even have a divine weapon now. It's quite pitiful.

that's right. Poor old Wu. I'll give it to him. I hope he's lucky this time and can make a God-level weapon.

"I'll give it to brother carrying a blade. When the double experience is over, let him take this black wooden stick and try it out with an NPC. If it's not a magic sword, I can sell it to someone else."

Since everyone had said so, Zhang Shan did not refuse. He gave the black wooden stick to boss Wu.

Boss Wu said to his friends after taking the items.

"Thank you, everyone."

what's there to thank me for? get a weapon as soon as possible. You're still wearing red equipment, so you can't keep up with the pace of our invincible team.

"that's right. old wu, you have to work hard."

Well, boss Wu had a full set of red equipment, which was the top support in the whole game.

However, in their team, they were actually going to be despised.

this was quite magical.

The main reason was that everyone had developed too quickly.

Even little fairy, who didn't have a divine weapon, had a divine longbow.

furthermore, she would be able to obtain the second divine artifact very soon.

Boss Wu was the only one left in the team without a divine weapon, which looked strange.

although the need for equipment for auxiliary professions wasn't very strong, it wasn't very strong.

however, who wouldn't want their equipment to be stronger?

If Mr. Wu could make a God-level weapon, he could heal more health points.

The healing effect of a support was directly related to their attack and intelligence attributes.

The higher the attack power, the stronger the effect of each healing.

The higher the intelligence attribute, the faster the healing.

Besides, boss Wu's Taoist profession wasn't without damage.

as long as he had good equipment, the damage he could deal would naturally be higher.

In short, although the Taoist profession didn't have a strong demand for equipment, it wasn't very important.

However, it would be better if he could get stronger equipment.

After distributing the divine weapon quest items and the divine weapon mold, there were only three red-colored equipment left to be distributed.

As for the dungeon Scroll, there was no need to split it. Everyone would enter the dungeon together later.

And the red materials did not need to be distributed. Every time they fought a BOSS, the materials dropped would be kept by Zhang Shan.

This was because other than Zhang Shan, his other friends did not put too much effort into their life occupations.

The materials were distributed to them to be sold for money.

It would be better to give it to Zhang Shan directly, so that Zhang Shan would not have to go to the auction house to buy materials.

After a short while, Zhang Shan had distributed the three red equipment and spoke.

"Let's go dungeon."

that's right. Let's start the dungeon. I hope that this demon lair will allow us to fight a few more bosses.

yeah, it doesn't matter what it drops. The main thing is that the BOSS gives a lot of experience.

"Don't think too much about it. There are at most two or three orange bosses and one red BOSS in the dungeon."

"what's wrong with thinking about it? maybe there are a bunch of bosses with real names in this demon lair? hehe."

"F * ck, are you dreaming? a bunch of real name bosses? you really dare to think."

"Don't worry about him. Let him dream. Let's go into the dungeon and kill some monsters."

that's right. There are a lot of small monsters in the dungeon. They'll be a large area once they're cleared.

.....

Zhang Shan took out the demon lair permit from his backpack and used it immediately.

After a spatial transformation, he left the dark swamp map and came to a dark forest.

Zhang Shan opened the small map to check.

this was a very large instance. the area of the entire instance was much larger than the dark swamp map.

&Nbsp; after a short while, his other companions also entered the instance.

Zhang Shan looked into the dungeon.

They were surrounded by a dense forest. There were no wild monsters at all.

This made Zhang Shan's head fill with countless question marks.

Where were the wild monsters?

It was said that the dungeon was filled with wild monsters, but why didn't he see a single one?

after his friends had entered the instance, zhang shan said gloomily.

"Did we get scammed? why can't we see a single monster in this dungeon?"

"that shouldn't be the case. what kind of dungeon is a dungeon without monsters?"

"don't panic. there will definitely be monsters in the dungeon. maybe the monsters are somewhere else. let's split up and look for them."

okay, you three split up and search. Daoist priest, take your saber and follow me.

after everyone entered the dungeon, they did not see a single monster. this made zhang shan feel very strange.

He had never encountered such a map before.

Since they didn't see any monsters, they couldn't farm for the time being, so they could only split up and look for them.

He had to figure out the distribution of the monsters on the map first.

it was impossible for an instance dungeon to not have any monsters.

Perhaps the monsters were somewhere else and not in the vicinity.

However, for the sake of safety, Zhang Shan still let boss Wu follow him.

He had to be careful not to let boss Wu walk alone and get killed by the wild monsters or bosses in the dungeon. That would be ridiculous.

It didn't matter if the others died, but boss Wu couldn't.

If the others died, boss Wu could resurrect them.

However, if boss Wu died, who would revive him?

This was a scroll-type instance dungeon, and one could only enter it once.

If they really died and couldn't be resurrected, they could only exit the dungeon.

if that was the case, it would be too ridiculous.

Wouldn't that be a waste of an instance dungeon Scroll?

After everyone discussed for a while, the other three companions quickly ran away in different directions.

zhang shan brought boss wu along and also started to look for wild monsters in the instance.

However, before they could take two steps, they heard wind cloud blade's loud voice.

"Come to me, there's a boss here, a red one. F * ck, I'm going to die."

Wind and cloud blade's continuous calls made Zhang Shan a little confused.

What was going on?

They had discovered the red boss just like that?

Wasn't there only one red boss in a normal dungeon?

Moreover, the red boss was usually the final boss in the dungeon. It should have respawned until the last red boss appeared.

How did Windcloud blade find the red boss so quickly?

this was too strange.

Also, why did wind and cloud blade die?

Could it be that he had bumped into the red boss?

This fool didn't even look after her when she ran away.

Zhang Shan asked wind cloud blade.

"What's the situation? you're dead?"

Windcloud blade said gloomily.

yes, I wasn't paying attention and ran straight into the aggro range of the red boss. I was killed in two or three strikes. I couldn't block it at all.

"It's definitely a red BOSS, Are you sure?"

"Fuck, how can I be wrong? If it wasn't a red BOSS, would I have died so easily?"

"what about the minions? are there any minions around? is there only a single red BOSS?"

yes, I didn't see any other monsters, only the red BOSS.

"One or more red bosses?"

"Just one? how many do you want? Aren't you overthinking?"

"alright," he said.

Wind and cloud blade's words made Zhang Shan very confused.

This instance dungeon is a little interesting.

Could it be a BOSS dungeon?

It was a dungeon with only bosses and no monsters.

If that was the case, they would be rich.

In such a large dungeon map, if all the bosses were red, how many bosses would there be?

they would probably have to fight the BOSS until their hands went soft.

even if they stayed in the dungeon for days, they might not be able to kill all the bosses.

However, it was still too early to talk about this.

first, he had to confirm if this map was really full of bosses.

How many bosses were there?

Only after confirming this information would they be able to start working without restraint.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan said to boss Wu who was beside him.

"Let's go. We'll go to Yidao first."

After he finished speaking, Zhang Shan quickly ran towards the position where wind cloud blade had fallen.

Chapter 546 A pure BOSS dungeon

After a short while, Zhang Shan brought boss Wu and ran to the place where wind cloud blade had fallen.

A Demon Knight was standing there alone.

This Demon Knight had a big red name above its head.

The Guardian of the demon sacrificial Hall.

There was a red BOSS, but his level was still unknown.

They hadn't attacked this Guardian yet, so they couldn't see his level.

Anyway, the BOSS's level would definitely be higher than theirs.

But it didn't matter.

every time they fought a BOSS, the boss's level was always higher than theirs.

As long as The Guardian of the Temple of Sacrifice was not level 90, it would be fine as long as he was level 100.

If their levels were too much higher than theirs, it wouldn't be easy.

If the level suppression was too strong ...

They wouldn't be able to deal much damage, which would make things difficult.

In less than a minute, the fairy and her heart followed my movements and arrived.

He saw wind cloud blade still lying on the ground.

The little fairy laughed.

"Haha, you're not good enough. You fell to the ground again."

Upon hearing this, wind cloud blade felt depressed.

unfortunately, he was unable to refute.

It was his fault for having bad eyesight and directly entering the BOSS's aggro range.

although they had fought so many red bosses, they seemed to be very weak.

Actually, that was not the case.

in fact, every red BOSS was not weak. even the lowest level red BOSS was terrifyingly powerful to many players.

The only reason they could fight so many bosses was because Zhang Shan was too strong.

He could easily withstand the damage of most bosses.

If it were any other player, other than the powerful Guardian Warriors, there would not be many who could withstand the damage of the red BOSS.

Although Windcloud blade's equipment was decent, his HP was only slightly over 100000.

The stronger red bosses could kill him in two strikes.

Once he entered the aggro range of the red BOSS, he would be dead.

They had no way to fight back at all, and they couldn't even run away. The red BOSS was extremely fast.

it was much faster than players riding on horses.

Seeing that everyone had arrived, Zhang Shan opened his mouth and said.

I'll go up and pull the BOSS. Priest, bring your sword and get ready to revive one blade.

"alright," he said.

That's right, wind and cloud blade was still lying on the ground.

When boss Wu came over, he didn't revive wind and cloud blade immediately.

Because he couldn't go up either.

The Guardian of the hall of sacrifice was guarding the spot where Feng Yun one blade had fallen, as if he was guarding a corpse.

Only after Zhang Shan had pulled the BOSS, could boss Wu step forward and use the skill [ resurrection ].

Zhang Shan rushed towards The Guardian of the hall of sacrifice.

When Zhang Shan entered the aggro range, The Guardian of the demon sacrificial Hall was like a flash of lightning, rushing in front of Zhang Shan.

The Guardian of the hall of sacrifice waved his long spear and thrust it at Zhang Shan.

Damage -189356.

It's alright, not too powerful. After all, it's just a normal red BOSS, not a real name BOSS.

Looking at the damage value, Zhang Shan was relieved.

Under normal circumstances, Zhang Shan alone would be able to defeat a normal red BOSS.

However, they had just entered the dungeon and had yet to understand the situation here. Zhang Shan did not want to take the risk.

So he waited until everyone was here before he started.

at the same time that the guardian's damage landed on zhang shan, zhang shan's hand cannon also began to shoot out bullets, sweeping towards the guardian.

High damage values flashed above The Guardian of the Temple of Sacrifice's head.

zhang shan's damage was even higher than the BOSS's damage, and zhang shan's attack speed was much faster.

He was more like a BOSS than a boss.

After Zhang Shan pulled the BOSS, boss Wu quickly followed up. With a skill, revive, he revived wind and cloud blade who was lying on the ground.

Then, everyone surrounded The Guardian of the hall of sacrifice and began to attack him.

The Guardian of the demonic sacrificial Hall was just a normal red BOSS, so there was no need to be too careful.

They would just surround him and cut him down, there wouldn't be any trouble.

With Zhang Shan pulling the BOSS, the rest of them just had to avoid the BOSS's big move.

other than a powerful move, this guardian of the demon sacrificial hall shouldn't pose any threat.

A normal red BOSS couldn't be that strong, no matter how strong it was.

Zhang Shan thought.

However, it was better to play it safe and see the BOSS's skills first. He had to be careful not to be tricked by the BOSS.

as zhang shan attacked with his cannon, he checked the BOSS's attributes and skills.

demon sacrifice hall protector (red): Level 80, attack 100000, HP 1 billion.

Skill 1, press forward with indomitable will, skill 2, temple blessing, skill 3, Demon God's will, skill 4, chaotic spear.

[ indomitable will: every attack of The Guardian of the demon race's sacrificial Hall will be indomitable. It can deal a large amount of damage and increase the damage by 100%. ]

[ blessing of the temple: guardian of the demon's temple of sacrifice. with the blessing of the temple of sacrifice, your attack power is greatly increased. ]

[ Demon God's will: when one's life is threatened, The Guardian of the demon sacrificial Hall will summon the demon's will to assist in battle. ]

[ chaotic spear: The Guardian of the demon's sacrificial Hall. Shrouding the surroundings with chaotic spear shadows, dealing massive damage to surrounding enemy targets. ]

5x damage, effective range of 50 yards, duration of 5 seconds.

After seeing the attributes and skills of The Guardian of the demon sacrificial Hall, Zhang Shan was completely at ease.

This BOSS wasn't too strong.

Even if Zhang Shan was alone, he would be able to destroy The Guardian of the Temple of Sacrifice, let alone boss Wu who could help him heal.

After being resurrected, wind and cloud blade brandished his divine weapon axe and slashed at The Guardian of the sacrificial Hall as he spoke.

let's hurry up. Once we're done with this BOSS, we'll look for other places. This dungeon is probably a pure BOSS dungeon, so there must be other bosses.

" i think so. this is great. we can keep fighting the BOSS until the double time is over. " that's impossible. Even if there aren't any monsters in the dungeon, there shouldn't be so many bosses for us to fight, right? "

I don't know, but there won't be any fewer bosses. It shouldn't be a problem for us to level up a few levels.

haha, you're right. It's still better to level up by fighting bosses. It just so happens that we're in the double exp buff period now. It'd be unreasonable if we don't level up a few times.

Everyone surrounded The Guardian of the hall of sacrifice and attacked him madly.

In their hearts, they did not have any thoughts about the BOSS's loot.

A normal red BOSS would only drop a few pieces of red equipment.

No one was interested in these things.

Everyone was only looking forward to the experience points given by the red BOSS.

If it was just a red BOSS, it would not be a problem.

A red BOSS could only allow them to gain one bar of experience at most.

However, if the entire dungeon was filled with red bosses, it would be a great experience to level up.

If one BOSS gave him one bar of experience, then killing ten red bosses would give him one level.

At the thought of this, everyone's hearts could not help but burn with passion.

This kind of leveling speed was too satisfying.

Normally, it would take them more than a week to level up.

Even with the double experience, it would take at least two to three days to level up.

However, it was a completely different story when there was a BOSS.

the experience gained from fighting bosses was much higher.

The key was that they were killing the BOSS very quickly.

for example, the guardian of the temple of sacrifice was a red BOSS.

They would be able to destroy it in seven or eight minutes.

At this rate, wouldn't they be able to level up in an hour?

If that was the case, wouldn't they be heaven-defying?

of course, the actual situation was not that ideal.

After all, the BOSS wouldn't automatically send itself to them.

After they killed one, they had to find the next BOSS in the dungeon.

Even though he was only searching for it in an instance dungeon, he would still need to spend some time.

Moreover, it was impossible for them to defeat the BOSS smoothly all the time.

Although bosses like the Guardian of the Temple of Sacrifice weren't too strong, The Guardian of the Temple of Sacrifice wasn't very strong.

with zhang shan's strength, they did not have much pressure dealing with such a BOSS.

However, it was still a BOSS. It was hard to say that it wouldn't cause them some trouble.

For example, the big move of The Guardian of the hall of sacrifice.

His other companions couldn't hold on.

when the boss's hp dropped to half, they would have to retreat to avoid the damage from the big moves.

If not, with one big move from the boss, other than Zhang Shan, everyone else would have fallen to the ground.

Of course.

No matter what, this pass to the demonic lair had allowed them to find a shortcut to level up.

As long as there were enough bosses in the dungeon, they might be able to reach level 70 in double the time.

thinking of this, everyone was very excited.

How could he not be excited?

Currently, the mainstream players were still around level 40. There was not even a single level 50 player.

they, on the other hand, could reach level 70.

This level advantage was simply heaven-defying.

Of course, there was a prerequisite for this. That was, there had to be enough red bosses.

He hoped that they wouldn't only find a few bosses after a long search. If that happened, there wouldn't be anything to look forward to.

the experience points that the red bosses gave after they were killed were enough for each of them to barely level up once.

Under everyone's continuous attacks, the health bar of The Guardian of the demon sacrificial Hall was dropping rapidly.

This Guardian of the demon sacrificial Hall only had one billion HP.

Besides, it didn't have a super-powerful healing skill like Gros.

The Guardian of the demonic sacrificial Hall was just a regular red BOSS with one billion HP. It was very easy to fight.

After about a minute of fighting, Zhang Shan and the others had already taken out 20% of their health.

When his HP dropped to 80%, a demon's shadow slowly rose from behind The Guardian of the Temple of Sacrifice.

Everyone's health bar started to drop rapidly.

Zhang Shan was still fine. His total HP was over a million.

The boss 'will of the demon God skill dealt such a small amount of damage that it was not even worth mentioning.

They could not even hurt Zhang Shan's skin.

However, his friends were not as tanky as him.

When the demonic God's apparition appeared, everyone's HP began to drop rapidly.

"old wu, hurry up and heal me."

"Big brother carrying a saber, give me a mouthful."

"Grandma, Ma He is here."

Zhang Shan did not need to heal. He could rely on his own lifesteal to completely withstand the BOSS 'damage.

as the support, boss wu followed everyone and kept attacking the BOSS.

When The Guardian of the demon sacrificial Hall cast the demon God's will skill, boss Wu quickly healed his other companions.

Very quickly, everyone's health bars stabilized without any pressure.

After enduring a wave of the BOSS's skills, everyone continued to attack The Guardian of the Temple of Sacrifice.

Slowly, The Guardian of the demon sacrificial Hall was almost at half HP.

zhang shan said to his friends.

"you guys retreat first."

"Alright," he said.

Including boss Wu, all his friends quickly retreated.

They really couldn't withstand the BOSS's ultimate move, so they could only let Zhang Shan take it on alone.

However, the good thing was that Zhang Shan's strength had increased again in the past two days.

Even if he didn't have the skill {God's descent}, he could still tank the damage from the BOSS's ultimate skill.

The ultimate skill of The Guardian of the demonic sacrificial Hall dealt five times the damage and lasted for five seconds.

And Zhang Shan's current maximum HP was close to 1.4 million.

After taking all the damage from the BOSS's ultimate skill, it was probably less than 2.5 million.

It looked like Zhang Shan would not be able to take it.

Actually, that was not the case. Zhang Shan was not just standing still and enduring the damage from the BOSS's ultimate skill.

When the BOSS used its ultimate skill, he could also attack and suck blood.

With his powerful lifesteal ability, he could completely tank the BOSS's ultimate skill alone.

Hence, Zhang Shan asked boss Wu to retreat as well.

He could do it alone without boss Wu's healing.

After his friends had all retreated.

Zhang Shan was alone, holding a hand cannon and firing non-stop.

Very quickly, The Guardian of the sacrificial Hall's HP was reduced to half.

When his health dropped to 50%, The Guardian of the demon sacrificial Hall put away his spear.

Then, it suddenly stabbed into the void. Countless spear shadows descended from the sky, shrouding Zhang Shan.

Damage-486337,490056,485647

A huge amount of damage kept appearing above Zhang Shan's head.

However, Zhang Shan was not flustered.

Zhang Shan activated his fanatic skill, increasing his attack speed by 100% for six seconds.

The violent bullets swept towards The Guardian of the Temple of Sacrifice.

After activating the fanatic skill, Zhang Shan's lifesteal ability doubled in an instant.

His powerful blood-sucking ability quickly recovered more than half of the HP he had lost.

After five seconds, the effects of the demon sacrifice's ultimate move disappeared. Zhang Shan's HP did not drop by much.

The HP that the BOSS had lost was quickly recovered.

After the BOSS's ultimate skill was over, the players rushed up again and attacked the BOSS together.

Zhang Shan summoned the Panda ball and had it attack as well.

Even though the Panda ball's attack speed was very slow.

However, with the Panda ball's attack power, the damage it dealt was at least as good as boss Wu's.

A slap from the Panda dumpling could deal more than 300000 damage.

However, the Panda ball had to wait for three to four seconds before it could deal damage.

This attack speed was indeed very slow.

Zhang Shan summoned the Panda ball and let it make up for the numbers. It was also good to be able to deal more damage.

Under everyone's continuous attacks, the demon priest's health bar rapidly decreased.

It didn't take long for them to reduce his health to zero.

Zhang Shan controlled the Panda bear and used his combo skill. Hu hu hu, seven consecutive slaps.

The deity protector of the demon race was directly smashed.

&Lt; system announcement: congratulations to six-barreled Bodhisattva, heart moves, and wind and cloud blade for successfully killing The Guardian priest of the demon race. &Gt;

Skill point +1, medal +100.

haha, I've killed a red BOSS and my experience bar has increased by more than one bar. I just need to kill seven or eight more bosses like this and I can level up.

fighting bosses is still the best. This leveling speed is really amazing.

brother Butler, take a look at what dropped and distribute the items. Let's hurry and find the next BOSS.

"Why don't we split it later?"

"Forget it, let's split it up first and then find the other bosses."

Zhang Shan thought for a while and decided that it would be better to get one item for every BOSS that was defeated.

It didn't matter what time it was.

the main thing was that zhang shan was worried that his backpack would not be able to fit all the bosses.

Every red BOSS would drop at least two or three pieces of red equipment.

If they killed a hundred-red BOSS, wouldn't they get two to three hundred red equipment?

There were also materials and other random items.

Even though Zhang Shan's backpack was huge, it was possible that it could not hold so many things.

It was better to get one item for each one that was killed.

Everyone carried some of it, saving Zhang Shan the trouble of carrying so much equipment alone.

Although the backpacks of his friends were not as big as Zhang Shan's, they were not as big.

Unless there was a special opportunity, the normal bag space of the players would not be available.

Otherwise, it could only rise to 95 boxes at most.

Although the backpack space of his friends was much smaller than that of Zhang Shan's, the four of them added together still had about four hundred slots.

They could still share a lot of space.

Zhang Shan opened his backpack to check. There were only two pieces of red equipment and one red material.

there were no other unexpected gains.

This Demon Priest Guardian was very stingy. It only dropped normal items and did not drop any other additional items.

But Zhang Shan did not care about this.

In any case, their main goal was to kill monsters and level up, not to obtain the BOSS's loot.

of course, it would be best if they could drop something good.

If there weren't any, it didn't matter. He could just treat it as killing small monsters.

They would kill the boss as if it was a small monster.

As for the boss's loot, they just treated it as a bonus.

Moreover, it was already good enough that red equipment was dropped.

the current red equipment was different according to level, class, and equipment placement.

the price was between 3000 to 50000 gold coins, and the price was very unstable.

The reason why the price difference was so huge.

That was because some of the red equipment did not match the mainstream levels of the players.

For example, the red equipment they had now.

These were all level 80 equipment. Even if someone bought them, they wouldn't be able to equip them.

How long would it take for those ordinary players to reach level 80?

In a year or two, the mainstream players might not even be able to reach level 80.

After all, not everyone could level up as quickly as Zhang Shan and the rest.

Normal players had poor equipment and were slow to farm monsters.

In fact, many players could only farm monsters that were of a lower level than them.

With their ability to farm monsters, it was not easy for them to level up.

Many players now had to farm for half a month before they could even level up once.

The level 80 red grade equipment that Zhang Shan and the rest had obtained, even if they were to put it up for auction, it would probably be very difficult to sell.

Even though some players would prepare equipment in advance.

however, they couldn't bring it forward so much.

Only the red equipment that was in line with the mainstream players' levels could be sold for a good price.

However, it didn't matter even if no one wanted these level 80 red grade equipment.

this was because red equipment was good stuff no matter where it was placed. even if it was sold to an NPC, it would not be trash.

Each red equipment could be sold for hundreds to thousands of gold coins in the NPC store.

The price was not low.

Zhang Shan quickly displayed the items dropped by the BOSS on the team channel.

There were only two pieces of red equipment. One was an agility-type leather armor, and the other was an intelligence-type boots.

It was very easy to divide.

He gave the boots to boss Wu and the leather armor to the little fairy.

As for the materials, Zhang Shan would keep them for himself.

a red BOSS was taken care of.

From the moment they entered the instance dungeon to the moment the items were distributed, it had only been about ten minutes.

It was very fast, and the harvest was not bad.

Little fairy and boss Wu each got a piece of red equipment, and Zhang Shan got a red material.

The most important thing was that each of them had gained one bar of experience.

This was the advantage of fighting a BOSS.

If they were only farming small monsters, it would probably take them more than half a day to gain one bar of experience at their current levels.

Now, they had only spent a little over ten minutes to gain one bar of experience. It had to be said that this leveling speed was very fast.

However, this was only the beginning. In such a large dungeon, there should be many bosses waiting for them to fight.

They had to hurry up.

Chapter 547 passive skill, courageous strike

After Zhang Shan and the rest had blown up The Guardian of the demon sacrificial Hall, the other players in the game had already reacted.

They had just defeated Gros and the system announcement was made.

Now that he had killed The Guardian of the Temple of Sacrifice, he was once again announced by the system.

one was a boss with a real name, and the other was a red boss.

They had defeated the boss twice in a row and both times had been announced by the system. It was impossible for others not to notice.

Bosses weren't cabbages that could be easily plucked from the ground.

Although Zhang Shan's strength was very strong, and it was not surprising that he could kill bosses, where could he get two bosses for him to fight?

Usually, it was already good enough that everyone could find a boss to fight.

It wasn't the event time, so how could they find two bosses at the same time?

There was also a BOSS with a real name.

Those who did not know would think that Zhang Shan and the rest were there, attacking the demon City.

This was because several bosses would only appear at the same time when attacking a Demon City.

Usually, the bosses that everyone found were almost all alone.

There had never been more than two of them together.

Hence, when they saw Zhang Shan and the rest, appearing on the system announcement twice in a row, everyone was very curious.

The world Channel:

huh? six-barreled boss killed another BOSS.

it's rare to see so many monsters. Isn't it normal for the six-barreled boss to kill a boss? otherwise, where did he get all those godly equipment? "

"No, I mean, six-barreled boss killed two bosses in a row. More than ten minutes ago, six-barreled boss defeated a real-name boss, and now he's defeated a red boss. Where did he find so many bosses to fight?"

"F * ck, let me see."

f * ck, that's true. How can six-barreled boss's luck be so good? he can find two bosses in a row.

maybe it's not just two. There are already two of them on the system announcement. Maybe six-barreled boss has fought some other bosses but hasn't made the system announcement yet.

that's Bullsh * t. Even if there were bosses for him to kill, he wouldn't be able to kill that many in such a short time.

you're right. There were only about ten minutes between the start and the end. Big Boss six-barreled probably didn't have time to fight other bosses.

"that's strange. isn't the time in chu doubled? Why would six-barreled boss have the time to fight a BOSS?"

"Come on, if there's a BOSS to fight, who would go and farm monsters? Wasn't it good to fight a BOSS? Besides, killing bosses doesn't affect your leveling. The experience points from killing bosses are much more than killing monsters."

"That's right, killing monsters isn't as fun as fighting a BOSS."

I'm getting down to business. Where are they fighting the BOSS? could they be attacking the Nephilim race's city? "

"f * ck, hearing you say that, it really is possible. Other than when we're attacking a demonic city, there's no other time for bosses to appear consecutively. This is especially true for real-name bosses, which are very rare in the wild."

I don't think they're attacking the city. I see that the people from the wind and cloud Guild are all farming monsters in the Gerri wasteland. They're not moving out.

"What does that mean? If the six-barrelled boss was attacking the city, would he still need to bring the wind cloud Guild? He might be able to take down an entire Demon City by himself."

that's ridiculous. There are so many small monsters and bosses in a Demon City. How can six-barreled boss and a few others take it down? " that's hard to say. Didn't the six-barreled boss take down the demon-suppressing city with a few rookies? "

"f * ck, do you call those four big shots rookies? Can a person who can hang out with a six-barreled boss be a rookie?"

anyway, they're all rookies compared to the six-barreled Big Boss.

" you're right. here's the problem. other than the six-barreled boss, who else in the game isn't a noob? "

"They're all noobs, haha."

"I think the six-barreled boss is probably attacking the city. Don't doubt his strength. With his strength, he can take down a Demon City with a few dogs."

"Then where are they attacking the city from? Has anyone seen it?"

don't make wild guesses. Six-barreled boss was just farming monsters here. Attack my ass. The coordinates are on the dark swamp map.

"Hey, did anyone see the six-barreled Big Boss? Was he farming monsters? Are you kidding me? If he's farming monsters, then how did the system announcement come out?"

“The six-barreled boss was farming monsters in the dark swamp map just now. I saw it two hours ago. Many people should have seen it. He’s been here farming for the whole day.”

yes, Big Boss six-barreled was farming monsters in dark swamp last night. I saw him last night.

“F * ck, he made me dizzy. Where did he fight the BOSS? Could it be in the dark swamp map?”

“You don’t say, it’s really possible.”

“F * ck, the real name BOSS in the dark swamp map was just killed by the six-barreled boss? why was it that i couldn’t find the BOSS with the real name even after searching for a long time?”

“Maybe you’re blind, hehe.”

“Brother, maybe it’s just that your fate with BOSS hasn’t come to an end yet, haha.”

“What the hell, dark swamp map? I think I’ve been there before, but I didn’t see the BOSS.”

“i took a look just now. the real-name BOSS that six-barreled boss killed is called ancient giant crocodile youngling, and the dark swamp map is full of crocodile monsters. There’s no escape. The BOSS that six-barreled boss fought should be in the dark swamp map.”

” f * ck, why is there a real name BOSS in the dark swamp map that hasn’t been killed yet? ”

“I don’t think so,”

what the hell? so many people have been there. Why didn’t anyone find the BOSS with the real name, but six-barreled Bodhisattva found it? ”

let’s not talk about it anymore. I’m going to cry if I say more. I’ve been farming monsters here for at least half a month, but I’ve never seen a BOSS with a real name. I don’t know how big Boss six-barrel found it as soon as he came.

“Fate, it’s wonderful, haha.”

After Zhang Shan and the rest had defeated The Guardian of the demon sacrificial Hall, they split up in the dungeon to look for the next BOSS.

zhang shan brought boss wu along, each of them riding their horses and running wildly in the instance.

He even took the time to look at the world Channel.

He happened to see these players talking about him.

Zhang Shan only took a look and almost burst out laughing.

These brothers were really funny.

He had actually attributed Zhang Shan’s ability to find Gros in the dark swamp to fate.

But then again ...

Luck played a huge part in Zhang Shan being able to find Gros.

After all, Wind Cloud City had been open for so long.

There were already quite a few players who had settled down here to farm monsters for quite a long time.

It was just like what a brother had said on the world channel.

He had been in the dark swamp map for half a month, killing small monsters, but he had not seen a real name BOSS.

However, Zhang Shan was able to find it on his first visit.

Zhang Shan believed that the number of players who had been to the dark swamp map would not be small.

Moreover, some players specifically went to find bosses.

Unfortunately, they didn't find it.

One could only say that Zhang Shan's luck was indeed good.

Of course.

This was also because Zhang Shan had searched carefully enough. Otherwise, he would not have been able to find Gros.

Who would have thought that the biggest BOSS on the map, Gros, would be so small?

If not for Zhang Shan, who had been staring at the minimap and seeing the red dot on the map, he would definitely have missed it.

He was able to find Gros due to a lot of luck.

Zhang Shan brought Mr. Wu along as they ran through the dungeon.

Suddenly, he saw a small red dot on the right side of the map.

Zhang Shan quickly changed his direction and ran to the right. At the same time, he said to Mr. Wu.

"There seems to be a red dot here, follow me."

Not long after, Zhang Shan saw the BOSS's figure.

It was another red BOSS.

The deacons of the demon sacrificial hall.

After finding the BOSS, Zhang Shan could not help but be overjoyed.

It was not because they had another BOSS to fight.

But because of the appearance of the second BOSS, Zhang Shan was basically certain.

This demon lair dungeon was indeed a pure BOSS dungeon.

The dungeon should have a large number of bosses.

There would be countless bosses waiting for them to fight.

But there was one thing that Zhang Shan was not too sure about.

the bosses in this dungeon were all red bosses, or were there bosses of other colors?

But it didn't matter.

as long as there was a BOSS to fight, the experience points would be a lot.

Perhaps he really had a chance to reach level 70 before the double exp buff ended.

It was beautiful just thinking about it.

After finding the BOSS, Zhang Shan called for his other teammates on the team channel.

BOSS spotted. Come over quickly.

After saying that, Zhang Shan quickly rushed towards the BOSS.

He had the experience of fighting The Guardian of the demon's sacrificial Hall.

Zhang Shan did not fear the deacon of the hall of sacrifice in front of him.

Since he was able to defeat The Guardian of the Temple of Sacrifice, he would have no problem dealing with the deacon of the Temple of Sacrifice.

He didn't need to wait for his other friends.

Zhang Shan brought boss Wu and rushed forward.

When Zhang Shan was close to the BOSS's aggro range.

The deacons of the demon sacrificial Hall seemed to have teleported and appeared in front of Zhang Shan.

The deacon of the hall of sacrifice waved his long blade and slashed at Zhang Shan.

[ damage: -192387 ]

Not bad, it's about the same as the previous sacrifice Guardian.

although the names of these two bosses were different, their strength should be similar.

Looking at the damage dealt by the BOSS on his head, Zhang Shan was extremely calm.

A BOSS with less than 200000 damage was not strong at all to Zhang Shan.

He could even kill him alone without boss Wu's healing.

When the damage of the deacons of the demon sacrificial Hall landed on Zhang Shan's head.

The hand cannon in his hand also began to fire bullets at the boss.

the violent bullets swept towards the deacon of the hall of sacrifice.

As Zhang Shan attacked, he checked the boss's attributes and skills.

deacons of the demon sacrificial hall (red): Level 80, attack 100000, HP 1 billion.

Skill 1, infinite saber technique, skill 2, brave strike (passive), skill 3, Demon God's will, skill 4, whirlwind saber.

[infinite saber technique: increases damage by 100%.]

[brave strike (passive): has a chance to deal 500% damage to the target. chance of triggering is 1%.]

[Demon God's will: when in danger, the deacons of the demon sacrificial Hall will summon the demon God's will to assist them in battle.]

[whirlwind blade: with the deacon of the hall of sacrifice as the center, a violent blade of wind will be produced, causing huge damage to surrounding targets.]

5x damage, effective range of 50 yards, duration of 5 seconds.

Zhang Shan took a quick look. The deacon of the sacrificial Hall and The Guardian of the sacrificial Hall from before, these two bosses, be it in terms of attributes or skills, were basically not much different.

However, this Deacon of the hall of sacrifice seemed to have a passive skill.

Seeing this, Zhang Shan could not help but be moved.

He hoped that this passive skill could be refreshed.

Even though this courageous strike was a critical hit, it was a passive.

A single critical hit passive didn't seem to have much of an effect.

After all, it only had a 1% chance of triggering.

It wasn't easy to hit a critical hit.

However, when the number of critical hit passive skills reached a certain level ...

Then the chance of a critical hit was very impressive.

just like zhang shan now, he had at least a dozen critical hit passive skills and equipment special effects.

Not to mention every single critical hit, at least every five or six shots, there would definitely be a critical hit effect.

Zhang Shan's goal was to get a few hundred critical hit passive skills.

it would only be perfect if he was able to achieve the critical hit effect one day.

This goal, to Zhang Shan, was not an illusion. It was possible to achieve.

This wasn't.

Another critical hit passive was beckoning at him.

Seeing that the BOSS had a passive skill, Zhang Shan became even more enthusiastic.

A barrage of bullets was fired from his hand cannon.

after a while, the other three friends also ran over one after another and started to attack the deacon of the hall of sacrifice.

Seven to eight minutes later, as Zhang Shan's spear had landed a critical hit, the demon sacrificial Hall's Deacon fell to the ground and left. The system announcement rang out once more.

&Lt; system announcement: congratulations to six-barreled Bodhisattva, heart moves, and wind and cloud blade for successfully killing the demonic sacrificial Hall's Deacon. &Gt;

Skill point +1, medal +100.

[ system notification: your passive King talent has been triggered by killing the demonic sacrificial Hall's Deacon. ]

Passive skill obtained: brave strike.

Haha, I got another passive skill.

After seeing this system notification, Zhang Shan was very happy.

Today, he had already obtained three passive skills. Two of them were given to him by Gros, and this time, he had obtained another one.

it felt so good.

zhang shan thought,

It would be great if he could keep getting passive skills at this speed.

three passive skills in a day, wouldn't he be able to get three hundred passive skills in a hundred days?
of course.

Zhang Shan was just fantasizing about it.

This was impossible.

Even if he could get one passive skill in three days, he would be so happy that he would wake up from his sleep, let alone three.

passive skills weren't easy to obtain.

Otherwise, he wouldn't have only gotten around 20 passive skills from the start of the game. He didn't even get 30.

He was still far from the target of his 200 or so passive skills.

However, there was no hurry. Sooner or later, he would be able to get enough passive abilities.

It's still early.

It had only been half a year since the game started.

New world was developed and operated by the Alliance, so its vitality must be amazing.

It was possible that the game would still be popular after a dozen years.

Anyway, Zhang Shan did not plan to do anything else in the future.

He could probably only spend the rest of his life in this game.

The game was his life and his job.

And Zhang Shan had already earned enough money in the game.

As long as he lived his life normally and did not get too arrogant.

Then the money that Zhang Shan earned in the game would definitely be more than he could spend in a few lifetimes.

In the future, he wouldn't have to face any pressure in life.

All in all, Zhang Shan still had a long, long time to play this game.

zhang shan believed that after such a long time, would he still not be able to get enough passive skills?

That's impossible.

After killing another red BOSS, everyone's experience bar increased by another bar.

Everyone was very happy.

Farming bosses to level up was indeed fast.

The BOSS gave a lot of experience, and now it was double the experience.

The combination of these two factors caused their experience points to skyrocket.

One bar of experience for each BOSS, it was simply too good.

At this moment, wind and cloud blade spoke.

six-barreled boss, quickly distribute the equipment. Let's quickly find the next BOSS to fight.

"Yes, hurry up. I've never been so passionate about leveling up like today, hehe."

"hurry up."

Hearing the urging of the young men, Zhang Shan was a little speechless.

These guys were really impatient.

Why are you panicking?

Even though he said that, Zhang Shan still quickly checked his bag and displayed the items dropped by the BOSS on the team channel.

there was still no surprise this time.

This demonic sacrificial Hall Deacon had given them a total of three red equipment and one red material.

He didn't even give them a single extra item.

However, no one cared about this.

It didn't matter what the BOSS dropped.

the key was to fight a few more bosses. there were not many opportunities to gain experience like this.

Anyway, Zhang Shan had never heard of it before. No one had ever encountered such a pure BOSS type instance dungeon.

Even if there were instance dungeon scrolls that appeared occasionally, they would only be from a single BOSS and a large group of monsters.

It would not be like this demon lair instance dungeon, where there was not even a single monster.

Some of them only had bosses, and they were red bosses.

Zhang Shan did not know if there were any other types of bosses in this instance.

Anyway, he had not seen it yet. Zhang Shan only saw the red BOSS.

A scroll dungeon like this was really too rare.

he didn't know if there were any other players who had encountered such an instance before.

of course.

Even if other players encountered such an instance, they would basically not be able to beat it.

The demon lair pass only allowed five people to enter the dungeon.

Just imagine, if Zhang Shan was not around.

In the current game, which five-person team could defeat a level 80 red BOSS?

They definitely wouldn't even be able to gather a team.

A red BOSS like the priest could deal nearly 200000 damage with one strike.

there were not many people who could stop him.

Even if there were some powerful guardians, they would be able to withstand the damage of such a BOSS.

However, without enough support, it would be useless to heal them.

Other people could not be like Zhang Shan, who could rely on his own blood-sucking effect to achieve almost unlimited endurance.

When other players fought the BOSS, they completely relied on the support to heal.

as soon as the support stopped, he would immediately fall to the ground.

The scroll instance dungeon was very rare, and it just happened to double the experience time. Such an opportunity was simply hard to come by in a thousand years.

Since they had encountered it, they had to hurry up and try to kill more bosses and level up.

perhaps if he worked hard for half a day now, he would earn more experience points than he usually earned for half a month.

Zhang Shan quickly distributed the items and then said.

“Let’s go and find the next BOSS.”

After he finished speaking, Zhang Shan brought boss Wu and quickly chose a direction and flew into the dungeon.

The other three friends also quickly split up, each choosing a direction to search for the next BOSS.

Chapter 548 Big Boss gathering

Time passed by slowly.

Zhang Shan had brought his friends to the demon lair instance dungeon, farming bosses everywhere.

All sorts of red bosses fell under Zhang Shan’s gun one after another.

other than the guardians and deacons of the hall of sacrifice.

There were also other boss types.

For example, the guards and elites of the sacrificial Hall.

although the names of the bosses in the dungeon were different, they were all red bosses.

Furthermore, the strength of these red bosses was not much different.

Zhang Shan was not difficult to deal with. He was easy to deal with.

Initially, Zhang Shan had thought that in this dungeon, there might be some purple or orange bosses.

However, none of them were red bosses.

Of course, there was no real name BOSS either.

At the very least, Zhang Shan and the rest had never found a real name BOSS in an instance dungeon.

but zhang shan thought.

it was impossible for such a large dungeon to only have red bosses.

This did not make sense.

there should be one or two big bosses.

The name of this instance dungeon was called the demon race's lair.

In that case, there should be a leader in this demon lair.

otherwise, if they were all red bosses, who would listen to who?

moreover, the names of these red bosses all had the words 'sacrificial hall' in them.

Perhaps, there really was a sacrificial Hall in this instance dungeon that they had yet to see.

If that was the case, there should be a Big Boss in the Temple of Sacrifice.

Perhaps there was a big Boss like a high Demon Priest.

of course.

These were all Zhang Shan's guesses.

As for whether there really was a big Boss in the dungeon, only God knew.

In any case, they just had to sweep the area and fight any BOSS they saw.

I don't care what kind of BOSS it is.

Red bosses weren't bad either. Killing a red BOSS would give them one bar of experience.

zhang shan brought his friends and swept through the demon lair instance dungeon. every ten to twenty minutes, they could defeat a red BOSS.

In less than half a day, they had all leveled up.

even zhang shan had risen to level 61.

In fact, he had only just reached rank 60 today.

From level 60 to level 61, Zhang Shan had almost never killed a single monster.

They were all experience points from killing bosses.

After reaching level 60, Zhang Shan began to look for bosses in the dark swamp map.

Then, he found Gros and destroyed it.

After that, it was time to clear the dungeon.

In other words, his Level 1 experience was gained by killing Gros and the bosses in the dungeon.

He had really leveled up by killing bosses.

This was normal when the level was low.

however, at zhang shan's current level, he could level up just by killing bosses.

Such a thing was unbelievable.

Even though he had leveled up, Zhang Shan was still very calm.

It was still too early.

They had only cleared a small corner of the entire demon lair dungeon.

It would probably take many days.

Of course, this was the best.

This meant that there would be enough red bosses for them to fight.

Time slowly passed.

They surrounded a Guardian of the Temple of Sacrifice and were attacking it.

At this moment, wind and cloud blade suddenly spoke.

"I've thought of a question. How many days are we going to spend in this instance dungeon? If we take too long, I'm afraid our equipment won't last long enough."

f * ck, that's a big problem. With our current strength, it'd be good if the equipment could last a day.

"it's over, it's over. if our equipment doesn't have durability, how are we going to fight the boss?"

"Then what should we do? Once we leave the dungeon, we can't come back in. There's no place to repair our equipment in the dungeon. Are we supposed to go back after a day of grinding?"

"Impossible. How can we go back after a day? no matter what, we have to kill all the bosses in the dungeon. If we don't grasp this opportunity to kill the bosses, we'll be struck by lightning."

what's the point of just saying it? when the durability of our equipment is all gone, do we have to go to the BOSS to fight naked? " that's right. It's impossible not to fight the BOSS. However, the equipment doesn't have durability. We have to think of a way.

what kind of idea is this? this is a dead end, a dead end with no solution.

I don't care. Even if I have to fight with my bare hands, I will defeat all the bosses in this dungeon.

"f * ck, you're awesome."

zhang shan said.

“What are you guys thinking? don’t we all have divine-level weapons? God equipment won’t lose durability, as long as you have a weapon, it doesn’t matter even if you don’t have other equipment. You’ll just be slower.”

huh, so you’re telling us to fight the boss naked with only one weapon? ” what else could we do? there’s no place to repair our equipment here. The durability of our red equipment will run out sooner or later.

f * ck, the power of a divine weapon is really nothing. I didn’t think that the effect of its durability being indestructible would be so great.

“Of course, how else would it be called a divine weapon?”

at this time, boss wu said gloomily.

“Then what should I do? the weapon I’m holding is still a red equipment.”

you’re finished. That little magic sword of yours will probably run out of durability in half a day, hehe.

Boss Wu said after taking a look at the equipment on his body.

“the magic sword still has 42 durability.”

it won’t last long. It’ll run out of durability in a day.

“What do we do now?”

this demon lair instance dungeon was a huge boss instance dungeon. there were many bosses in the instance dungeon.

Even if they didn’t stop, it would take days for them to kill all the bosses in the dungeon.

Originally, this didn’t matter.

In any case, everyone had already planned to double the time, so it would be the same if they were to do it in an instance dungeon.

However, the problem was that when they were outside, they could return to the city to repair their equipment after it ran out of durability. Then, they could immediately return to continue farming monsters.

However, in an instance dungeon, how was he supposed to do that?

There was no place to repair their equipment.

This was because the instance could only be entered once. After exiting, one could not enter again.

Who would be willing to quit such a good dungeon map?

If they didn’t kill all the bosses in the dungeon, no one would be satisfied.

The rest of them were easy to handle.

At the very least, everyone's weapons were godly-level, so they didn't have to worry about durability.

As long as he had a weapon, he could continue to attack the BOSS.

As for the other equipment on his body ...

To be honest, it wasn't that useful.

It didn't matter even if it had a little less attack power.

In any case, whether it was tanking the BOSS or dealing damage, it was still mainly up to Zhang Shan.

To Zhang Shan, not having a place to repair his equipment did not affect him much.

His four attack-type equipment had all been turned into divine weapons, so there was no need to repair them.

and as the main equipment to tank bosses, zhang shan's king's cape was also a godly equipment.

This meant that Zhang Shan's main offensive and defensive skills were both divine weapons.

Therefore, whether he repaired his equipment or not did not matter much to him.

As for the other five pieces of defensive equipment, he could just take them off when their durability was about to run out.

The five pieces of defensive equipment only provided him with some agility and defense attributes.

Without these five pieces of red equipment, it did not affect Zhang Shan's fight for the BOSS.

The only problem was boss Wu.

Boss Wu didn't have a divine weapon yet.

His weapon was still a Red Magic sword.

It didn't matter if boss Wu had other equipment or not.

However, he had to have a weapon.

no matter how trashy the weapon was, even if it was a new hand sword, boss wu had to have one in his hand.

As an auxiliary profession, how could one support without a weapon?

without a weapon, mr. wu couldn't even heal or revive.

In this game, all skills needed to be equipped with the weapon of the corresponding class to be able to be used.

Without a weapon, the player would not be able to use any skills.

That was where boss Wu's awkwardness lay.

His weapon was not a divine weapon, and he did not bring any spare weapons.

zhang shan said to boss wu after thinking for a while.

just watch from the side. If you see anyone who can't hold on any longer, heal them twice. The rest is just to give us attack blessing. Don't attack the BOSS anymore, it's a waste of our equipment durability.

you're right. Big brother carrying a blade, don't fight the BOSS anymore. Save some of your weapon's durability. Don't ever let your weapon run out of durability.

"Old Wu, focus on being a part of the audience. Remember to help us add some form of support, okay?"

Boss Wu was very sad.

Everyone was attacking the BOSS, and they were all flying.

He could only watch from the side, unable to do anything.

As for healing?

when the BOSS used the demon's will skill, boss wu had to heal his friends.

He didn't need it at any other time.

That was because Zhang Shan was the one tanking the BOSS.

Zhang Shan did not need him to heal.

Zhang Shan could rely on the lifesteal effect to maintain his endurance.

Since that was the case, he would just let boss Wu stay by the side. He didn't need to follow and deal damage like before.

Boss Wu's damage wasn't even as high as the Panda's.

However, it didn't mean that boss Wu was useless.

As an auxiliary profession, boss Wu was very useful.

Not to mention anything else.

Just the attack blessing status alone, which increased attack by 20%, was already very impressive.

Another thing was that boss Wu's resurrection skill was the key to their survival in the instance.

If boss Wu wasn't there, they would have to be very careful when they were looking for their BOSS.

Otherwise, it was very likely that he would end up like wind and cloud blade at the start, entering the BOSS's aggro range. Wouldn't that be the end of him?

If boss Wu wasn't there, his friends would really die if they died in the instance.

However, with boss Wu around, it was completely different. Boss Wu could resurrect the people who had fallen to the ground.

Even if boss Wu didn't have to do anything, as long as he was still in the dungeon, it would be fine. It would be able to guarantee everyone's safety.

This was actually an auxiliary effect.

As for damage?

He didn't need the support at all. He would only play a few times when he had nothing to do.

Time passed by slowly.

Zhang Shan brought his little friends to grind until the second day. The durability of everyone's equipment, other than the God equipment, was basically gone.

Everyone could only remove their equipment that was running out of durability and put them in their backpacks.

He couldn't possibly use up all the durability of his equipment and directly destroy it.

After taking off all the red equipment, they were all naked except for one weapon.

It looked weird.

Zhang Shan was still considered decent. At least his cloak was a godly item. If the cloak was still there, it would not be obvious whether he had other equipment or not.

However, his friends were not as good as him.

Most of his companions' capes were purple equipment.

The total durability was only 40.

Even though they didn't need to tank the BOSS, the Cape wasn't very useful. With a durability of 40, they should be able to use it for a long time.

however, after a day had passed, even the equipment that was not used much would have lost most of its durability.

His friends were naked and holding divine weapons in their hands, looking very awkward.

However, in order to farm more bosses, it didn't matter if it didn't look good.

As long as there were bosses, they could level up quickly.

It didn't matter if the appearance wasn't good.

In any case, they were only killing the BOSS in the dungeon. No one else would be able to see them.

Zhang Shan and the rest had been in the demon lair instance dungeon for more than a day. Everyone's level had increased greatly.

Zhang Shan was now at level 62, and the rest of his friends had also leveled up two or three times.

They were also about to reach level 60.

Everyone's leveling speed was as fast as a rocket.

One must know that Zhang Shan was now over level 60. To level up now, he needed a huge amount of experience points.

If he were to keep on farming small monsters, even if Zhang Shan could farm very quickly, it would take at least a week or more, maybe even two weeks before he could level up.

Now, they had been in the dungeon all this time, killing red bosses and gaining experience points.

in just over a day, zhang shan had leveled up two levels.

other than levels, they had also obtained quite a few items from the BOSS.

Not only were there a lot of red equipment and red materials, but they had also obtained a few trashy skill books.

Of course.

They had never gotten their hands on anything that was truly valuable.

Even though they had fought a large number of red bosses.

however, the truly good items had never been dropped.

Zhang Shan felt that his luck seemed to have been used up.

Recently, there were no good items.

Not only did he not get any good items, but he also did not get any passive skills.

It wasn't that he was unlucky and couldn't get a passive skill.

The new bosses that appeared later on did not have any passive skills.

Even if Zhang Shan wanted to farm the passive skill, he had no place to farm it.

As such, after killing so many bosses, the only thing they had gained was experience points.

Of course.

The harvest of experience points was quite satisfying.

Time passed by slowly.

Zhang Shan and the rest were in the dungeon. On the seventh day, the time for the double experience was almost over.

As for the demon lair instance dungeon, they had almost cleared the entire dungeon.

everyone had been in the dungeon for six to seven days, and they were both tired and excited.

They hadn't slept for a few days and had been constantly looking for bosses and fighting bosses. It was normal to be tired.

as for excitement?

there was no need to even mention that.

Zhang Shan had already reached Level 69. If he was allowed to farm bosses for another half a day, he might really reach level 70.

And this was the experience points required for the later levels, which kept increasing.

if he still followed the experience requirement of level 60, then zhang shan's level would have long risen to who knows where.

Not only did Zhang Shan's level increase quickly, but so did his friends'.

Everyone's level was almost the same at level 68. They were only one level away from catching up to Zhang Shan.

Of course, the amount of experience points required for this level was extremely high.

If the BOSS didn't spawn and the double exp wasn't there ...

Zhang Shan felt that they might need at least a month's time to level up.

the higher the level, the harder it was to level up.

it wasn't just difficult, it was ridiculously difficult.

even zhang shan and the rest needed to farm for a month to level up.

The other players were much slower than them in farming monsters, and they would probably take much longer.

Of course, the other players had to reach Level 69 first.

Most players were currently only around level 40. It would take them at least half a year to reach Level 69.

In other words, they had cleared this wave of scroll Dungeons.

Zhang Shan and the other four were already far ahead of the other players.

it wasn't just a little lead, it was a huge lead. they had pulled the level advantage over the other players for more than half a year.

They would just stop farming monsters and play for half a year.

There probably wouldn't be many players who could catch up to their level.

Unless someone else had the same luck and got a Dungeon Scroll like the demon lair pass.

Moreover, he had to be able to defeat them.

Otherwise, he would not have just the scrolls.

however, if they entered the dungeon and couldn't defeat the BOSS, it would be a waste.

They killed another red BOSS. They had already swept through every corner of the dungeon.

Regardless of whether there was a BOSS or not, they had swept through everything.

This was probably the last BOSS they had killed in the demon lair instance dungeon.

after the loot from the BOSS was distributed, no one left the dungeon.

Everyone wanted to continue searching, perhaps there were still bosses that they had missed.

If they didn't sweep the area a few more times, it would be such a waste if they missed a BOSS.

Just as everyone was about to split up again to search for the BOSS ...

Zhang Shan suddenly remembered that in this instance dungeon, there was a big altar with a small temple on it.

Although they had gone to see it before.

At that time, there were no bosses on the altar and the temple.

however, now that they had cleared the dungeon, perhaps a new BOSS would appear on the altar.

After all, such a large dungeon was actually filled with red bosses. There was not even a single real name BOSS.

This didn't make sense.

In this instance dungeon, where was the place with the highest chance of a real-name BOSS appearing?

Without a doubt, it must be at the altar.

It was such a tall building, surrounded by an empty forest.

If there was really a Big Boss, it could only be at the altar.

Zhang Shan said to his friends.

"Let's go take a look at the altar."

"are you still going to watch? Didn't we already see it before? There's nothing here."

"Let's go and take a look. It won't take up much time."

you're right. We've already killed all the bosses that we can find. Let's go to the altar and take a look. If we still can't find the BOSS, we'll have to leave the dungeon.

"Let's go. I hope there's a big Boss for us to fight."

there has to be a Big Boss. In such a big dungeon, it's a bit unreasonable if there's no real name BOSS.

that's right. Let's run faster to the demon altar.

Zhang Shan led his friends and quickly ran towards the altar in the middle of the instance dungeon.

They didn't need to look at the mini-map because they had been in the dungeon for a few days and had been killing bosses.

they had long since familiarized themselves with this dungeon map.

The demon altar was located in the middle of the dungeon. Everyone rode their horses and ran for a few minutes.

zhang shan and the rest saw a tall demon sacrificial altar. in the middle of the altar's platform, there was a small temple.

They had seen this altar before.

They had come up here to look for it, but there was nothing on the altar.

They didn't even see a single monster, let alone a BOSS.

After they had cleared all the red bosses on the map, they returned to the altar.

Everyone couldn't help but be shocked.

"f * ck, what's that on the altar? Were they all bosses? It looks like there are dozens of them."

"I can't see it clearly. It should be a small monster, right? It's impossible for so many bosses to be squeezed together."

why was there nothing on the altar when we first arrived? why are there so many monsters now? "

"Whether it's a wild monster or a BOSS, it's hard to say."

"It should be a BOSS. How can there be small monsters in this dungeon?"

"Isn't that the end? With so many bosses standing together, how are we supposed to fight them?"

" that's right. no matter how strong brother guan is, he can't possibly hold off so many bosses. "

Zhang Shan looked at the altar.

On the altar, dozens of figures could be vaguely seen, guarding the temple in the middle.

However, as the distance was too far, Zhang Shan could not see clearly. He did not know what the hell these figures on the altar were.

Could they really be bosses?

Zhang Shan said to his friends.

"let's get closer and take a closer look."

After he finished speaking, Zhang Shan came to the foot of the altar and used the altar trail to slowly approach the altar.

after walking on the path for a while, zhang shan finally saw the situation on the altar.

"F * ck, they're all bosses."

“F * ck, isn’t he too strong? There were 30 to 40 red bosses and one BOSS with a real name. How are we supposed to fight this?”

“Brother Guan, do we still fight?”

“Wait, let me think.”

Zhang Shan stood on the altar’s path and looked at the BOSS. He could not help but feel a little Haggard.

There were all kinds of bosses on it.

as long as they had fought bosses in the dungeon before, they would appear on the altar.

There were 33 red bosses in total.

there was also a BOSS with a real name.

The high priest of the demon race, michul.

It was different from the other red bosses.

High priest michul was alone in the small temple in the middle of the altar.

They were protected in the middle by the other red bosses.

If they hadn’t been watching so carefully, they would have missed this BOSS.

With so many bosses gathered together, how was he supposed to fight them?

This was a big Boss gathering.

Zhang Shan did not know how to start.

Chapter 549 rank 70

Zhang Shan stood on the trail, observing the bosses in the altar and temple.

These 34 bosses were not easy to deal with.

He wondered if these bosses shared aggro.

If he really pulled the aggro of one BOSS, it would be equivalent to pulling the aggro of all the bosses.

then zhang shan had no other thoughts.

with so many bosses coming at once, it was no laughing matter.

Zhang Shan did not know how strong the real name BOSS, michul, was.

However, Zhang Shan was all too familiar with those red bosses.

They had been fighting these red bosses in the dungeon map for seven days.

zhang shan knew the strength of each BOSS like the back of his hand.

These red bosses, if not for their ultimate skills.

the damage of a single attack would almost always be close to 20.

Not to mention the 33 red bosses.

even if there were ten red bosses, zhang shan would not be able to hold them off.

If ten red bosses attacked him at the same time ...

wouldn't that be close to 2000000 damage?

Unless Zhang Shan used a big move, otherwise, it was impossible for him to take it.

The problem now was whether these red bosses could be separated.

As long as they could separate, it would be easy.

Zhang Shan could lure one or two at a time, or even three or five.

With three to five red bosses together, Zhang Shan should still be able to hold on.

If there were any more, that would not do.

Zhang Shan felt that for such red bosses, he could only block five at a time, and that was his limit.

He wouldn't be able to stop even one more.

the problem now was to try to lure the bosses out in different directions.

They definitely couldn't fight on the altar.

Otherwise, if all the bosses were to rush at them like a swarm of bees, they would have been GG.

If a large group of red bosses were to charge at them, it would be difficult for anyone to do anything.

Even if the entire wind and cloud Guild came together, they might not be able to handle it, let alone just the five of them.

Zhang Shan ran around the huge altar for a few rounds, but he did not find any loopholes.

The surroundings of the altar were empty, and there was no terrain that could be used.

Standing below the altar, they could not attack the BOSS on top.

they could only use the trail to reach the altar to defeat the BOSS.

Zhang Shan searched for a long time and did not find any shortcuts.

It seemed like there was no other way.

He could only be reckless.

Zhang Shan said to his friends.

"You guys back off a little. I'll try to see if I can split up the bosses."

“How do you plan to try?”

charge up to the altar, fire a wave of shrapnel, and run. Let’s see how many bosses will follow us.

“No way. If you do that, all the bosses will come, right?”

I don’t know. There’s no other way. Let’s just try this and see if we can distract the bosses. I don’t believe that the bosses will keep chasing us.

alright, you do it yourself. We’ll hide further away. If you die, we can let big brother carrying a blade resurrect you, hehe.

After all his friends had retreated.

Zhang Shan thought for a moment. He seemed to be able to make use of the positioning Pearl.

Otherwise, he would not have been able to escape.

Once he did, there would be too many red bosses.

The movement speed of these red bosses was so fast.

Even though Zhang Shan was riding a Red Hare and was very fast.

However, his speed was nothing in front of the red boss.

It was impossible to outrun the red boss.

...

He couldn’t run.

However, Zhang Shan could make use of positioning to mark a coordinate somewhere else.

If he couldn’t take it anymore, he could still use the positioning ball to teleport away.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan quickly selected a location on the map.

This time, the location couldn’t be too far away from the altar.

This was because he still had to think of a way to hold off a few red bosses.

But he couldn’t get too close.

If he was too close, what if the large group of red bosses followed him after he used the positioning ball to teleport over? what would he do then?

Wouldn’t that be a waste of time?

At the very least, they had to teleport to a location that was out of the boss’s aggro range.

therefore, the distance of this positioning had to be grasped well. since it could not be too close, it could not be too far.

After Zhang Shan had chosen a suitable location, he used the positioning ball to mark the coordinates.

After that, they were ready to lure the boss.

to be honest, even though zhang shan was powerful.

However, seeing all these bosses gathered together, he really didn't feel confident.

Especially in the small temple above the altar, there was a real name BOSS.

This high priest michul was the real bomb.

If Zhang Shan wasn't careful and lured michul out, he would be done for.

The movement speed of a real name BOSS was almost equivalent to teleportation.

If he really lured michul out, then Zhang Shan could only wait for death. He would not be able to escape at all.

The red BOSS's movement speed was very fast.

But at least he would be given some time to react.

However, against a real-name boss, there was no need to even think about it.

Once the aggro was drawn, one had to either prepare to face it head-on or wait for death.

there was no third option.

Zhang Shan slowly took the path and walked up to the altar.

As he walked, he observed the situation of the bosses on the altar.

In particular, the real name boss in the location temple, high priest michul, was the target that Zhang Shan had to focus on.

However, when Zhang Shan reached the altar, there was still no movement from the bosses.

eh, could it be that these bosses are fixed in position?

They can't move?

Zhang Shan felt that it was very strange.

Logically speaking, since he had already reached the altar, he should have entered the boss's aggro range.

But why didn't these bosses make any moves?

could it be that these bosses were really guarding one side each and didn't move?

Of course.

Although Zhang Shan had guessed so.

however, he didn't do anything. instead, he charged straight at the boss.

It was better to be more stable.

Zhang Shan stood at the edge of the altar, carefully estimating the distance between him and the boss.

he fired a pomegranate grenade at the red bosses in the guardian altar.

after the skill was used, zhang shan did not even look at it. he immediately turned around and rode away.

When Zhang Shan had just run a few steps, he heard the rumbling sound of an all-purpose horse galloping behind him.

F * ck, I thought that these bosses couldn't move.

he was thinking too much.

behind zhang shan, 33 red bosses were chasing after him at lightning speed.

However, Zhang Shan was already far away from the BOSS, and he had started early.

Therefore, these red bosses couldn't catch up with him for the time being.

As Zhang Shan rode away, he turned back to check.

Seeing the BOSS rapidly approaching behind him, he couldn't help but let out a sigh of relief.

Fortunately, high priest michul did not come after him.

The only thing chasing after him was the red BOSS.

although there were many red bosses ...

The thirty-three red bosses on the altar were all drawn over by Zhang Shan's shrapnel.

With so many red bosses, once they caught up to Zhang Shan, with just one slash from each BOSS, he would be cut into pieces.

even so, zhang shan did not panic.

They were just red bosses, what was there to be afraid of?

As Zhang Shan galloped away, he would turn his head back to observe from time to time.

When he saw that the bosses were about to catch up, he was stunned.

Zhang Shan quickly used the positioning Pearl and teleported to the previously designated location.

This position was not far from the altar.

After being teleported over, Zhang Shan could still see the red BOSS in the distance.

However, he had already exceeded the BOSS's aggro range.

These red bosses did not continue to chase after them.

When Zhang Shan teleported through the positioning ball and left the aggro range of the bosses, those red bosses suddenly lost their target.

After wandering around for a while, they began to turn back and prepare to return to the altar to continue being high priest Michul's bodyguards.

Seeing that the BOSS was about to return, Zhang Shan quickly rushed over.

He couldn't let all these bosses go back just like that.

If that was the case, wouldn't he have wasted his efforts just now?

Zhang Shan thought.

No matter what, he had to think of a way to keep a few red bosses.

Thirty-three red bosses were running back slowly. Their speed was not as fast as when they were chasing Zhang Shan.

Zhang Shan quickly ran to the back of a red BOSS and pulled it back with a shot.

After Zhang Shan had fired his shot, he was worried that all the bosses would turn around and prepare to run away.

However, he suddenly saw a magical scene.

His shot had only drawn the attention of one red BOSS. The other red bosses ignored him and continued to head back in the direction of the altar.

Only the BOSS that was attacked by him was aggroed.

As for the other bosses, they seemed to be fine.

Seeing such a situation, Zhang Shan could not help but be overjoyed.

Haha, there's hope.

He abandoned the BOSS that he had just lured over and quickly fired at the other red one.

As he fired his shot, another red BOSS was lured over.

The two red bosses were chasing after Zhang Shan and slashing at him.

Zhang Shan did not dare to lure the other bosses.

Let's just fight them two at a time. That's just right, he can use his ejection ability to the fullest.

With the catapulting passive, he could quickly finish off these two bosses.

Zhang Shan quickly turned his head. The hand cannon in his hand was aimed at the two red bosses beside him, and he continuously fired bullets.

The two bosses were constantly being attacked.

The health of the two bosses dropped rapidly under Zhang Shan's attacks.

It felt good to be hit by a bullet.

the speed at which they were fighting the boss was simply outrageous.

zhang shan felt that he might not even need two minutes before he could defeat these two red bosses.

it was a few times faster than when they were fighting the bosses.

after zhang shan had pulled the two bosses, he called out to his friends on the team channel.

I've already pulled two red bosses. Come quickly.

"Received."

"I'll be there immediately."

After a while, his friends quickly ran over.

however, under zhang shan's powerful damage, the health bars of these two red bosses had been reduced to 60% by him alone.

Windcloud blade said gloomily as he hefted his greataxe. He had yet to attack the BOSS.

f*ck, six-barreled boss is fighting too fast. He's already taken out 40% of the BOSS's HP. What are we going to do? let's just watch from the side. The BOSS's HP is almost at half. If we're not careful and get hit by the BOSS's ultimate skill, we'll be screwed.

yeah, we'll just watch from the side. We'll wait for the BOSS's big move to end before attacking again.

As Zhang Shan was attacking too quickly, he did not have the chance to let his friends play the role of killing the BOSS.

soon, the two bosses' health dropped to 50%.

Zhang Shan did not need to use his ultimate skill or his berserk skill to easily withstand the damage from the two red bosses.

With the passive boost from catapulting, Zhang Shan's current lifesteal ability was very exaggerated.

Even if he had to withstand the BOSS's ultimate, his HP was always full. No matter how much HP he lost, he could quickly recover it.

The effect of the ejection damage was really too powerful.

Zhang Shan felt that, in an ideal situation, as long as he could make his catapulting passive and play its role.

he could tank any BOSS, and perhaps even the damage from the demon god.

Of course, there were no other monsters or bosses around the demon God, so it was impossible to let his catapults be activated.

If Zhang Shan wanted to challenge the demon God, he could not expect to be in a passive position.

After the two bosses' big moves were over, the players could finally rush up and attack them.

however, they had indeed done so. they had only slashed a few times.

Under Zhang Shan's powerful attacks, in less than two minutes, the two red bosses had been defeated by them.

However, the two bosses were defeated. Not only did the Little Friends not feel happy, but they also felt that it was a little unreal.

it was really too fast.

They were level 80 red bosses, and there were two of them.

In less than two minutes, he was defeated?

They hadn't even seriously attacked the boss, and the BOSS was already gone?

"F * ck, this fight is too fast."

the six-barreled boss is really abnormal, and he's getting more and more abnormal.

it feels so fake. This doesn't feel like fighting a BOSS. It's more like killing small monsters. Two red bosses in two minutes. Are you having fun? " sigh, when can I be as strong as the six-barreled boss? I can take down one BOSS in a minute.

"Brother, don't be jealous. Don't worry and just be a hooligan, you don't have to compete with the six-barreled boss."

that's right. We've killed two more bosses. We should be happy, haha.

"Hahahahaha!"

For the rest of the time, Zhang Shan continued to use the same method as before, luring the BOSS on the altar down and slowly taking care of it.

Every time, he would leave two red bosses behind and then destroy them.

Just like that, the number of red bosses on the platform decreased.

When the 28th red BOSS was destroyed by them, a ray of light rose from Zhang Shan's body.

He had leveled up again, to level 70.

Leveling from Level 69 to level 70 required a massive amount of experience.

However, this level was the fastest Zhang Shan had ever leveled up in recent times.

At the altar, they didn't even need to find the boss.

Zhang Shan only needed to rush up to the altar, lure the BOSS down, and then leave two to kill.

It was very fast.

It would only take about four to five minutes to defeat the two red bosses.

In about two hours, they had finished off 28 red bosses.

The speed at which they were fighting the BOSS was simply too fast.

After reaching level 70, Zhang Shan's divine weapon could be unsealed again.

Zhang Shan took a look at the equipment he was wearing.

When the hand cannon was unsealed to level 70, the special effect would not change. Its attack would increase by 12000, and its agility would increase by 1200.

It was the same for the three accessories. Each of them added 1000 attack points and 200 agility points.

The accessory now had 6000 attack and 1200 agility.

In addition, the king's Cape had been unsealed once again. It was a level 70 godly item Cape, and it increased his HP by 700000.

After all the divine weapons were unsealed again, they became stronger and stronger. Zhang Shan's own abilities had also become stronger again.

Zhang Shan took a look at his character's attributes.

Checking attributes:

[ character: Bodhisattva of six tubes ]

[ occupation: Hunter ]

[ title: human hero (equipped), nemesis of demons ]

[ merit points: 252361 (guerrilla general) ]

[ skill: Wuwu ]

After reaching level 70, the artifact was unsealed again.

Right now, Zhang Shan's strength had already reached an abnormal level.

His maximum health was almost at 1.6 million.

That was a terrifying number.

It must be known that most of the high-end players only had slightly more than 100000 health points.

As for the normal players with trashy equipment, they only had tens of thousands of HP.

Compared to Zhang Shan's close to 1.6 million HP, the other players were like little brothers.

Of course.

This had a lot to do with the level.

Other people were all around level 40, but Zhang Shan was already level 70.

There was such a huge difference in level, and Zhang Shan also had a divine cloak.

It was normal for his maximum health to be so different from other players.

Otherwise, his high level and impressive divine equipment would have been wasted.

Other than the substantial increase in his health points, Zhang Shan's attack power had also received a huge boost.

The attack power on his interface had already exceeded 80000.

If the killer book's effect was included, that would be 160000 damage.

Zhang Shan still had six other special effects or passive skills that could increase damage by 10%.

The theoretical damage he dealt was already close to 260000.

If he were to include boss Wu's attack blessing, then Zhang Shan's current theoretical damage had already exceeded 300000.

300,000 damage was a terrifying amount.

If they had known, the normal damage of the level 80 red bosses they had fought was less than 200000.

Zhang Shan's current damage ability had already far exceeded that of the red boss.

And it was a level 80 red boss.

Perhaps only a real name boss would be able to suppress Zhang Shan in terms of damage.

The other bosses, even if their levels were higher than Zhang Shan's, did not feel as strong as him.

zhang shan's strength seemed to have exceeded the scope of a normal player. he felt more like a boss than a boss.

He was simply too powerful.

After reaching level 70, Zhang Shan was no longer concerned about the remaining five red bosses and the real name boss in the temple.

Before he had leveled up, he had been able to deal with these bosses.

Now that he had reached level 70, his strength had been greatly enhanced. Wouldn't it be a piece of cake to deal with the remaining bosses?

Seeing Zhang Shan's level up, his friends were a little jealous.

Wind and cloud blade said.

the six-barreled boss is already level 70. I'm so envious.

"What's there to be envious about? aren't you also rank-69? I'm not far from reaching rank 70."

it's not far, but the problem is that we don't have enough bosses. There are only five red bosses and one real name boss left. It won't be enough for me to reach level 70.

f * ck, don't you know how to level up without the boss? " yeah, I've had so much fun killing bosses these past few days. I'm definitely not used to killing small monsters to level up.

Hearing this, Zhang Shan was a little speechless.

Is this f * cking human language?

Without bosses, he couldn't level up?

This person must have gotten addicted to killing bosses to level up.

in the future, if there were no bosses to farm, wouldn't they want to level up?

However, Zhang Shan did not want to criticize others, because he was the same.

To be honest, this week's double experience period, Zhang Shan had been farming bosses in the instance to level up, and it was really satisfying.

In less than seven days, he had leveled up ten times.

This was simply unimaginable.

Originally, Zhang Shan had thought that he would need two to three months to reach rank 70.

Who knew that because he had obtained an instance dungeon Scroll and added the double exp buff, he would not be able to do it.

It allowed him to level up ten times in a week.

To be precise, it was more than level 10.

On top of the altar, there were still five red bosses and one real name BOSS.

After killing these six bosses, even if he didn't gain half a level, he would at least gain one-third of a level. this kind of boss-level scroll instance dungeon was really too cool.

He didn't know if they would have the chance to get similar scrolls in the future.

If he could get another scroll like this, Zhang Shan might even reach level 80.

Such a pace of leveling up was simply forcing the game to change its version as soon as possible.

If not, when Zhang Shan and the rest reached level 100 and reached the ceiling, wouldn't there be no more fun?

Zhang Shan felt that if this continued, it would not be long before the game was updated.

chapter 550-a terrain BUG after reaching level 70, looking at his powerful character's attributes, zhang shan could not help but feel proud.

He said to his friends.

" you guys wait here for a while. i'll go and lure the remaining red bosses down. we'll take care of these red bosses first, then we'll go and fight the big BOSS."

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he quickly rushed up to the altar, fired a pomegranate grenade, and then began to run.

Even though Zhang Shan's strength had increased greatly.

However, there were still a lot of bosses left, and they were also a little strong.

Five red bosses and one real name BOSS. If they were to attack him together, he was afraid that he would not be able to hold them off.

For the sake of stability.

Zhang Shan planned to do it again.

They would first kill four red bosses in one wave, then leave the last red BOSS to fight with the real-name BOSS.

There were only five red bosses chasing after him.

hence, zhang shan did not use the positioning ball to teleport anymore. instead, he kept running.

The BOSS chased after Zhang Shan, occasionally slashing at him.

But Zhang Shan did not turn around to fight back. He could still hold on for the time being.

Zhang Shan realized that even if he did not attack and did not have the lifesteal effect, he would not be able to do so.

his hp recovery speed was not bad.

After being slashed twice by the BOSS, he had lost 300000 to 400000 HP.

However, as he ran, his health recovered.

It was probably the effect of the passive skill.

Passive vitality can greatly increase the speed of HP recovery.

Although it didn't have a life-steal effect, it was still okay. It wasn't a trashy passive skill.

after the BOSS chased zhang shan for some distance, it suddenly began to turn back.

Zhang Shan knew that the mission of these bosses was to protect the altar.

as long as he was far away from the altar, the bosses would stop chasing him.

Seeing that the bosses were starting to return, Zhang Shan quickly rushed forward and fired four shots in a row, leaving the four red bosses behind.

As for the remaining red BOSS, Zhang Shan had deliberately let it go.

Later on, when they were fighting the real-name BOSS, he would still need it to act as a bridge for Zhang Shan's catapulting passive.

Zhang Shan did not want to kill all the red bosses in one go. He had to at least keep one.

Out of the five red bosses, Zhang Shan had kept four of them. The remaining Guardian of the Temple of Sacrifice had run away, but Zhang Shan did not care.

Zhang Shan withstood the damage from the four red bosses and fired continuously.

Countless bullets shot out from his hand cannon, sweeping towards the BOSS.

The damage figures kept jumping between the four red bosses.

Each of the four red bosses could deal nearly 200000 damage. When the four bosses' damage was stacked, it would be 800000 damage.

If they were both critical hits, the damage could be close to 1.6 million.

this was almost reaching zhang shan's limit.

However, Zhang Shan was not flustered. It was impossible for such a coincidental thing to happen.

First of all, the damage of these four bosses could not have landed on Zhang Shan at the same time. There would always be a sequence.

And Zhang Shan's powerful lifesteal ability had been helping him to recover his health.

Moreover, it was impossible for these four bosses to deal a critical hit at the same time.

If there was such a coincidence, Zhang Shan would just accept it.

Although the four red bosses 'damage was very high, Zhang Shan did not feel too much pressure.

With his powerful lifesteal ability, whenever his HP was reduced by the boss, it would be quickly sucked back.

The four red bosses were steadily tanked by him.

The rest of the party members saw that Zhang Shan had already pulled the BOSS's aggro and quickly rushed over.

other than boss wu, who continued to watch the battle, the four of them, together with zhang shan's panda bear, surrounded the four red bosses and attacked them continuously.

After about five to six minutes, the four red bosses were defeated by them one after another.

Zhang Shan quickly divided the items and said to his friends.

let's go and finish off high priest michul. This demon lair instance dungeon should be almost over.

yes, hurry up. I'm so sleepy. I haven't slept for seven days.

"sleepy my ass. how can you be sleepy when you're playing games in the gaming pod?"

"what do you know? this is a habit, you know?"

"Alright, you're awesome."

Zhang Shan brought his friends and rushed up to the altar.

The remaining red BOSS, The Guardian of the demon sacrificial Hall, saw Zhang Shan and the others ascend the altar.

He waved his large knife and charged over.

As for this Guardian of the hall of sacrifice, Zhang Shan did not want to bother with it at all.

This guy, in Zhang Shan's eyes, was just a BOSS tool.

It was used by Zhang Shan as a tool to launch the bridge.

Zhang Shan and the rest's goal was to deal with the big BOSS, michul.

As for the normal red bosses, they had fought too many of them in the past seven days.

The Last Guardian of the hall of sacrifice was not of any interest to them.

Zhang Shan pulled The Guardian of the Temple of Sacrifice and slowly approached the small temple in the middle of the altar.

However, he found it strange.

Why didn't it come out of the temple?

logically speaking, zhang shan should have been so close.

No matter what, he should have entered michul's aggro range.

As a BOSS with a real name, high priest michul's aggro range should be very wide.

However, when Zhang Shan walked to the side of the small temple, michul, who was inside, only glanced at him and did not walk out of the temple.

Could it be that michul could only stay in the temple? It can't come out?

If they wanted to defeat high priest michul, they could only go inside the temple.

Then, here came the problem.

It didn't matter much if they went in.

even though the temple was small compared to the entire altar, it was still a small temple.

however, there was still more than enough space for the five of them to fight the BOSS.

But the problem was, if they went in, what would they do with The Guardian of the Temple of Sacrifice outside the temple?

No matter how he looked at it, The Guardian of the Temple of Sacrifice would not enter the temple.

through the observation just now, zhang shan and the rest could also tell.

These red bosses could only stay outside the temple. The high priest michul, who was guarding the temple, would not enter the temple.

However, if this Guardian of the hall of sacrifice did not enter, how could IT Act as a bridge for Zhang Shan to launch damage?

When he thought of this, Zhang Shan felt terrible.

This was difficult.

Zhang Shan stood outside the temple. He did not fight back as he endured the injuries of The Guardian of the Temple of Sacrifice.

it was just a small red boss. even if zhang shan did not fight back, he would not be able to kill him.

Boss Wu was behind him, and from time to time, he would heal him a few times, easily stabilizing Zhang Shan's health bar.

Everyone could see the problem.

Michul, who was inside the temple, would not come out, and the Guardians of the Temple of Sacrifice outside could not enter.

Wind and cloud blade asked Zhang Shan.

“big brother, what should we do now? i don’t think we can fight these two bosses together.”

The little fairy teased.

I didn’t expect this michul to be an otaku. He’s been hiding in the temple and never comes out.

“Why don’t we take them one by one and take care of the red boss outside before going in to fight the high priest?”

Zhang Shan thought for a while. If there was really no other way, this was the only way.

However, Zhang Shan was still not willing to give up. He still wanted to try and see if he could pull these two bosses together.

The Guardian of the Temple of Sacrifice could not enter the temple, and michul could not come out.

However, Zhang Shan felt that there should still be a way to bring these two bosses together.

For example, he could pull michul to the temple’s entrance.

If that was the case, wouldn’t his ejection damage be able to be ejected from inside and outside the temple?

It seemed to be possible.

Zhang Shan said to his friends.

“You guys back off a little. I’ll go in first and pull the high priest to the entrance. Let’s see if we can fight the two bosses together.”

“Alright, you can try it first.”

The little companions quickly left the range of the altar.

they could not stay on the altar now. what if after zhang shan entered the temple, the guardians of the temple outside could not lock onto zhang shan’s hatred. then wouldn’t they start killing indiscriminately outside?

Without Zhang Shan holding the BOSS back.

His friends could not stop this red BOSS.

After his friends had left the altar, Zhang Shan rushed into the temple.

After seeing Zhang Shan enter the temple, michul waved his staff, and a fireball was sent flying towards him.

-496387 damage.

F * ck, this damage is a little too much.

Michul’s fireball had reduced Zhang Shan’s health bar by one-third.

But right now, Zhang Shan could not care about this.

After being hit by a fireball, he left the temple.

High priest michul, after seeing Zhang Shan leave the temple, he waved his staff and chased after him.

however, michul only chased them to the entrance of the temple and did not come out.

This high priest was indeed unable to leave the temple.

However, it should be enough for michul to catch up to the door.

Zhang Shan entered the temple again.

This time, he didn't back out. Instead, he chose a suitable angle and started firing non-stop.

Zhang Shan's hand cannon kept firing at michure.

the damage kept jumping between michull and the red BOSS.

Haha, it's done.

Seeing such a result, Zhang Shan could not help but be happy.

Even though they were separated by the temple's door.

However, Zhang Shan's ejection damage could be used to eject from inside and outside the door.

This way, he would be able to fight two bosses at the same time.

Zhang Shan kept firing his guns, pulling the aggro of the two bosses.

The Little Friends standing outside the altar, seeing Zhang Shan pulling the two bosses at the same time, began to try to approach slowly.

When they reached the entrance, The Guardian of the Temple of Sacrifice had no intention of paying them any attention.

Instead, he faced Zhang Shan and waved the long knife in his hand continuously.

however, the long blade of the guardian of the temple of sacrifice did not seem long enough. it could not cut zhang shan through the gate of the temple.

Even so, this Guardian of the hall of sacrifice still locked its hatred onto Zhang Shan.

In other words, Zhang Shan could fight two bosses at the same time.

As for himself, he only had to take the damage from michul in the temple.

As for The Guardian of the hall of sacrifice outside the door, it could only wave its long knife and cut the air.

this could also be considered a special terrain BUG, hehe.

the little companions followed the guardian of the temple of sacrifice and entered the temple.

Everyone brandished their weapons and launched a fierce attack on michul.

as zhang shan fired his gun, he checked the attributes and skills of the high priest michul.

Demon high priest michul (red): Attack 250,000 HP 5 billion skill 1, large fireball, skill 2, priest's punishment (passive), skill 3, fire god summoning, skill 4, flame dragon killing array.

[ great fireball: increases damage by 100%. ]

[ priest's punishment: an attack by the high priest of the demon race, michul. It has a punishment effect and has a high chance of triggering a chain attack. ]

[ fire god summoning: when in danger, the high priest of the demon race, michul, will summon The Phantom of the fire god to assist in battle. ]

[ flame dragon killing formation: high priest michul casts a powerful flame dragon toward a target area, dealing massive damage to all targets within the area. ]

5x damage, effective range of 50 yards, duration of 5 seconds.

After seeing michul's attributes and skills, Zhang Shan was not too concerned.

Michul was a level 85 real name BOSS. It was the highest level BOSS that Zhang Shan and the rest had ever fought.

They had never fought such a high-level BOSS before.

But it didn't matter.

now, zhang shan and the rest had also raised their levels.

He was now level 70, and his friends had all reached Level 69.

To them, a level 85 real name BOSS didn't have much of a level suppression effect. It didn't affect them at all, and they could still deal damage.

On the other hand, michul's four skills also looked ordinary on the surface.

It shouldn't be too difficult to deal with, right?

Zhang Shan had seen that big fireball skill on other bosses before. It was just a small skill that increased damage by 100%.

For a BOSS with a real name, this was just a normal skill.

However, there seemed to be some explanation for michul's second skill.

The priest's punishment skill was actually a passive skill.

Moreover, it was a special passive skill.

Why did he say it was special?

Just looking at the skill's description, Zhang Shan still could not understand.

However, looking at the damage michul had dealt to Zhang Shan, it was easy to spot the problem.

The high priest of the demons, michul, would not deal more than 500000 damage to Zhang Shan, unless it was a critical hit.

With Zhang Shan's close to 1.6 million HP, this kind of damage was not considered much.

However, michule would often deal strange damage.

Zhang Shan had clearly seen that michul had only waved his staff, but at times, there would be two large fireballs, smashing towards him.

He had dealt nearly a million damage in an instant.

If not for Zhang Shan's strong blood-sucking ability, he would have been killed easily.

Zhang Shan thought about it carefully for a while and finally understood the reason.

The reason why michul was able to fire two large fireballs at once was because of the priest's punishment.

This was a combo passive.

in other words, when the priest's punishment was triggered, he could attack twice at once.

After understanding the crux of the matter, Zhang Shan's heart could not help but burn.

this was a good thing.

On the surface, it looked like a passive with a double critical hit.

Actually, a combo and double damage were two completely different things.

Combos were two attacks at the same time.

That was if Zhang Shan was in a passive position.

If he fired one shot, he might be able to deal damage twice.

Moreover, it was possible for these two shots to cause damage and trigger an additional critical hit.

It could be understood that as long as the punishment passive was triggered, it was equivalent to a temporary 100% attack speed increase.

Even though it was only an instant increase in attack speed, it was already very powerful.

Zhang Shan felt that this was an impressive passive skill, and he hoped that he could get his hands on it.

As for michul's other two skills ...

The ultimate skill was easy to deal with as it was a large area of effect skill that dealt five times the damage and lasted for five seconds.

It was just that Zhang Shan could not quite understand the third skill of michul.

From the skill description, this fire god summoning skill should be similar to the demon God's will skill.

But Zhang Shan felt that it would not be that simple.

Otherwise, his third skill wouldn't be called fire god summoning. It would be fire God's will or Demon God's will.

Since this skill was called fire god summoning, it might be a summoning skill.

It should be a completely different skill from the demon God's will skill of other bosses.

However, Zhang Shan was not sure what the effect of this skill would be.

he'd wait until michull's health dropped to 80%.

They would know the effects of the skill once it was used.

Anyway, Zhang Shan was not panicking.

No matter how strong the high priest michul's skills were, Zhang Shan should be able to withstand them.

He was so strong now, and he even had the bullet damage buff.

Zhang Shan was confident that he could block it.

Everyone surrounded michure and kept attacking.

As for The Guardian of the Temple of Sacrifice outside the temple, no one paid any attention to him.

With Zhang Shan's attack, this red BOSS would only die faster.

They didn't even need to fight.

zhang shan was more than happy that the guardian of the hall of sacrifice could hold on for a while longer.

The longer this Guardian of the hall of sacrifice lived, the longer Zhang Shan's catapulting passive could be used.

that way, they would be able to destroy michule faster.

Under everyone's continuous attacks, high priest michul's HP dropped rapidly.

When michul's HP fell to 80%, he waved his staff and chanted non-stop.

After a while, a huge fire God's shadow appeared beside michure.

originally, zhang shan had thought that this fire god's apparition might be the same as the demons 'apparition, bringing them continuous damage.

However, that was not the case.

The giant fire God's apparition, after being summoned by michul, spat out fireballs at Zhang Shan.

High damage appeared above Zhang Shan's head.

f * ck, this is a real summoned creature, not just a mere shadow? ”

Looking at the damage that the fire god's shadow had dealt to his body, Zhang Shan could no longer remain calm.

The damage dealt by the fire god's Phantom was no different from michul's.

Each of them dealt nearly 500000 damage.

After the fire god's apparition was summoned, Zhang Shan was basically being attacked by two real name bosses at the same time.

Even though Zhang Shan's health was very high.

but he couldn't take the damage from michul and the fire god's shadow at the same time.

Zhang Shan's health bar was constantly being beaten up, especially when michul had dealt a critical hit.

Zhang Shan's health bar was almost empty.

This was a little scary.

but fortunately, this fire god's apparition that was summoned seemed to be able to be killed.

zhang shan's ejection damage was originally only between michul and the priest outside the door.

After the fire god's apparition was summoned, Zhang Shan's ejection damage began to bounce between the three targets.

The fire god's apparition didn't seem to have much HP.

Under Zhang Shan's catapulting attack, the health bar dropped very quickly.

Seeing this situation, Zhang Shan said to his friends.

quick, get rid of this fire God's apparition first.

He was finally afraid of this thing.

If the fire god's Phantom and michure were to deal a critical hit at the same time, he might not be able to withstand it.

He had to get rid of this creature summoned by michul as soon as possible.

To avoid any accidents.
