

Passive Skills 551

Chapter 551 Summoning of the fire god

The fire god's apparition that high priest michul had summoned kept spitting fireballs at Zhang Shan, and the damage caused by these fireballs was still very high.

Perhaps the fire god's apparition that michul had summoned shared its own damage attribute.

Therefore, the damage dealt by the fire god's Phantom was almost the same as the damage dealt by michul himself.

Only then did Zhang Shan realize that this fire god summoning skill was the essence of michul.

This skill was really awesome.

Zhang Shan had never seen a BOSS that could summon pets before, but he had heard others talk about it.

However, the pets summoned by other bosses were not as strong as this.

the BOSS could summon a pet through a skill that could deal as much damage as the boss. wasn't this just unbelievable?

Zhang Shan had never even heard of such a powerful BOSS skill.

But this time, he saw it.

It had to be said that the high priest of the demon race, michul, was quite something.

It was much more difficult to deal with than Zhang Shan had expected.

Zhang Shan also discovered that the fire god's apparition that michul had summoned not only had a terrifyingly high damage, but it also had an infinite duration.

In other words, if Zhang Shan and the rest did not destroy this fire god apparition, it would continue to exist, and would continue to spit fireballs at Zhang Shan until the BOSS was destroyed.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan could not help but feel a little envious.

This fire god summoning skill of michul was much stronger than Zhang Shan's shadow clone skill.

Although his shadow clone skill could summon two clones, the duration of the clones was only 15 seconds. After 15 seconds, the clones would disappear.

It wasn't as freakish as michul, who could summon the fire god's apparition and exist indefinitely.

It was similar to the summoning skill of the Taoist priest.

as long as the player didn't take back the pet summoned by the taoist priest, it could continue to exist.

Zhang Shan thought.

Could this high priest of the demon race, michul, be a Daoist?

The fire god's apparition that Michu had summoned gave Zhang Shan a lot of pressure.

The only good news was that the fire god's Phantom didn't have much HP.

He probably only had around ten million HP.

Under the passive attack of Zhang Shan's ejection, the health bar of the fire god's Phantom dropped very quickly.

His other companions quickly turned their attacks towards the fire god's projection.

After a short while, they had destroyed the fire god's apparition.

Seeing the fire god's apparition disappear, Zhang Shan could not help but heave a sigh of relief.

It was a little dangerous just now.

Fortunately, he was lucky enough not to encounter the fire god's apparition and Michu, and he had dealt critical damage at the same time.

Otherwise, Zhang Shan would definitely not be able to withstand it.

Michu's damage was already very high.

When the priest's punishment was triggered, it could cause a combo effect, which was close to a million damage.

With the fire god's shadow, he could deal nearly 500,000 damage.

If this was another critical hit, how could Zhang Shan possibly withstand it?

When Zhang Shan had not used his ultimate, his HP was less than 1.6 million.

Tanking five hundred thousand damage three times in a row was already very strenuous.

If he dealt another critical hit, wouldn't he be on the ground?

Fortunately, everything was over.

Now that the fire god's apparition had disappeared, Zhang Shan could be considered to have survived a small crisis.

Everyone, increase your output and try to blow up Michu as quickly as possible.

Zhang Shan did not want to let Michu summon the fire god's apparition again.

Windcloud Blade joked as he hacked at the BOSS.

Why is it that Michu can summon such a powerful pet, while the pets summoned by the Taoist profession are so weak? "

They're not weak either. I think the heavenly generals summoned by the Taoist priest are not bad. When they're farming monsters, they're not much weaker than the players themselves.

“You’re talking about summoning heavenly generals. The problem is, how many Taoist players can get their hands on the skill book [summon celestial generals]? I think many Taoist players can only summon celestial soldiers.”

“Who can you blame if you can’t get a skill book?”

“How can a skill book be so easy to get? The rare skills in the game are so hard to get, even if you have the money, you might not be able to buy them.”

Windcloud blade suddenly recalled that boss Wu had never taken care of a pet before, so he asked him.

“By the way, didn’t big brother saber learn summoning skills? I don’t think I’ve ever seen you take care of the baby.”

Boss Wu said gloomily.

...

“No, I can’t get any good skill books. The skill book for summoning celestial generals is hard to buy, and I don’t want to learn summoning celestial soldiers, so it’s useless.”

the good stuff in this game is really hard to get. Not only are rare items expensive, but they’re also hard to buy. You can’t even buy them with money.

old Wu, don’t panic. I’ll get you a skill book on summoning heavenly generals this time, hehe.

” what’s the big deal about summoning a heavenly general? i’ll drop a book on summoning a heavenly king for you.”

f * ck, what the hell is a Heavenly King Summoner? is there a skill book like this? ”

“Even if you don’t have one, you have to make one, haha.”

haha, your head! You’re a swordsman.

Everyone kept attacking the BOSS while happily bragging.

After a while, The Guardian of the demon sacrificial Hall fell to the ground and left.

At this moment, high priest michul’s HP had almost been reduced to half.

however, without the guardian of the hall of sacrifice, zhang shan’s catapults were passive and could no longer be of any use.

...

Zhang Shan could only deal damage with each shot, and his output efficiency had dropped by several levels.

zhang shan could not help but sigh.

a red BOSS was still not that interesting.

Even though they had locked their attacks on high priest michul.

Only Zhang Shan's ejection damage would hit The Guardian of the hall of sacrifice outside the door.

However, The Guardian of the hall of sacrifice did not last long.

The Guardian of the Temple of Sacrifice died when Michul still had more than half of his HP left.

Actually, this was normal.

High priest Michul had five billion HP, while the guardian of the temple of sacrifice only had one billion.

It was already very good that it could hold on until now.

After all, they mainly relied on Zhang Shan to deal damage. Although their friends had been focusing their attacks on Michul, their damage output was low.

At least, compared to Zhang Shan, the damage efficiency of his friends was pitifully low.

If it was not for Zhang Shan himself, who had been dealing critical hits on Michul and taking away a lot of his health.

Even The Guardian of the Temple of Sacrifice might not be able to last until Michul had half of his health left.

.....

After The Guardian of the demon race's sacrificial Hall was blown up, there was no longer the passive buff of ejection.

Zhang Shan felt that it was no longer enough to deal with Michul's injuries by relying on his own blood.

Now, he had to rely on boss Wu to help him heal, and he had to keep healing.

Otherwise, Zhang Shan would not have been able to hold on.

Michul's fireball could deal nearly 50000 damage, and sometimes it could even deal a combo effect, which was close to a million damage.

Without the passive skill, the boss's damage was terrifying.

Even though boss Wu was continuously waving his magic sword and healing Zhang Shan, he was still unable to keep up.

Zhang Shan's health bar seemed to be on the decline.

Seeing this situation, the Little Friends were a little panicked.

f * ck, six-barreled boss seems to be unable to hold on any longer.

f * ck, this high priest Michul is a little fierce. Without the passive buff of catapulting and the lifesteal of the six-barreled boss, he can't block the BOSS' damage at all.

"It's over, it's over, what do we do now? Was he going to give up on the BOSS? We're not even halfway through the battle."

why are you guys panicking? the six-barreled boss still has two big moves. When he uses them, no BOSS will be able to defeat him.

” that’s still not enough. two big moves can only last two minutes. can we defeat michull in two minutes? ” what are you thinking? the BOSS still has more than two billion HP left. No matter how fast we attack, we can’t kill it in two minutes.

“Then what do we do?”

“It’s okay, keep fighting, as long as we can fight faster.”

Although Zhang Shan’s health bar seemed to be in danger, Zhang Shan felt that he should be able to hold on.

At most, when his HP was low, he could use a wave of explosive skills and absorb a wave of HP.

There were always more solutions than difficulties.

With his current strength, he still had a lot of room for maneuvering.

There was no need to panic at all.

In a short while, the high priest of the demon race, michul’s health bar, was about to reach half.

zhang shan said to his friends.

“You guys back off first, the boss is about to use its ultimate skill.”

after zhang shan finished speaking, he activated the god’s descent skill.

The damage instantly exploded.

Zhang Shan’s God’s descent skill was definitely the most powerful and stable single target output skill in the game.

After activating the deity’s descent, Zhang Shan’s HP had exceeded 3000000.

moreover, its attack speed and power had almost been doubled.

Zhang Shan held his handcannon, and countless bullets swept towards michure like raindrops.

Zhang Shan’s originally unstable health bar was immediately pulled back to full health after he activated his big move.

After activating his ultimate skill, his powerful damage combined with his efficient life-steal ability.

All of a sudden, Zhang Shan’s blood volume was sucked up.

In a short while, high priest michul had been beaten to half health by Zhang Shan.

When his HP fell to 50%, michul put away his staff and began to chant.

A red fire Dragon slowly appeared around Zhang Shan.

In the beginning, the fire Dragon's figure was still very faint, and it was almost impossible to tell what it looked like.

As the fire Dragon's figure became clearer and clearer, a huge amount of damage started to appear above Zhang Shan's head.

however, under zhang shan's powerful lifesteal effect, the amount of health that had been lost was quickly recovered.

The high priest michul's ultimate skill dealt over two million damage per second.

However, Zhang Shan, who had activated the deity's descent, was equally ferocious.

His powerful damage and efficient lifesteal ability allowed him to face michule's big move without any pressure.

Every time michul's big move dealt damage, Zhang Shan's health bar was almost empty.

however, with his powerful blood-sucking ability, zhang shan could instantly recover his health bar.

Even though his health bar seemed to fluctuate up and down, making him look very dangerous.

In reality, this was not the case.

The damage from michul's ulti was actually very easy to deal with.

As long as Zhang Shan could withstand one wave, he would be able to survive many.

This was because the damage value of the BOSS's big move was basically stable.

The BOSS's ultimate skill would not have a critical effect.

Zhang Shan was not afraid of stable damage.

With the God's descent state, Zhang Shan had no fear.

After five seconds, michul's big move ended, and his friends returned to attack wildly.

At this time, Zhang Shan's ultimate skill still had close to a minute left. The damage he dealt was very powerful.

Under everyone's continuous attacks, Mishul's health was rapidly decreasing.

"haha, all the best! quickly take down the BOSS."

"I wonder if high priest michul will drop anything good for us?"

don't worry, there will be good things. One divine artifact mission item per person, hehe.

"You're dreaming. Where did so many divine artifacts come from? Besides, why do we need so many divine artifacts? don't we all have divine artifacts already?"

"I didn't."

boss wu was unjustly implicated.

f * ck, how can weapons be enough? we're all short of accessories. Other than the six-barreled boss, we don't even have a divine-level accessory.

"You're right, why can't we get it? where did the artifact-type mission item come from? could it be that they haven't been released yet?"

"How is that possible? If it wasn't released, then where did the six-barreled boss get his set of accessories from?"

his set of accessories might be a little different. It could be considered special equipment.

impossible. There should still be an accessory-type divine artifact mission item. It's just that we didn't drop it.

hmm, maybe the drop rate for the accessory-type divine weapon is even lower. As long as we fight more bosses, we'll be able to get it sooner or later.

from the start of the game until now, everyone had already made a lot of godly weapons.

weapons were easy to deal with. as long as they killed many real-name bosses, there would always be corresponding god-tier equipment and quest items.

As for defensive artifacts, they were even easier to obtain.

A divine weapon mold was easier to drop than a divine weapon quest item.

As long as they killed the BOSS with the real name, they would definitely drop the divine weapon mold.

However, no one seemed to know where to start with the divine artifacts that were accessories.

Other than Zhang Shan, who had obtained a set of God equipment, no one else had ever seen the corresponding God equipment.

This was very strange.

This made everyone think that the game system had not yet released godly accessories.

However, that should not be the case.

If that was the case, then the set of Sky Eagle King Accessories on Zhang Shan, wasn't it a BUG?

Everyone guessed that it might be a divine artifact mission item of the accessory Type, and the drop rate was even lower.

The drop rate was much lower than that of a weapon-type divine artifact mission item.

that was why they had fought so many real-name bosses, but not a single one of them had dropped an accessory-type divine weapon.

Thinking of this, wind and cloud blade asked Zhang Shan.

by the way, six-barreled boss, how did you get your first accessory-type divine artifact mission item? " wind and cloud blade's question had really stumped zhang shan.

It had been a long time, and he couldn't remember how he had gotten it.

zhang shan carefully recalled, and he suddenly remembered.

The first accessory-type divine weapon quest item that he got didn't seem to be from his own farm, but from an auction?

Was it like this?

Think about it.

Zhang Shan touched his chin and thought about it seriously for a long time before confirming it.

It should be like this.

The first accessory-type divine weapon mission item he had obtained was a damaged ring. He had bought it at the auction house.

As for the second item, the necklace quest item, he had obtained it from opening a 5-star Treasure chest after the monster siege event had ended.

the third item was also a damaged ring. it had dropped when they had attacked the twin demon city and killed the twin demon city's city lords.

Zhang Shan thought about it for a long time and finally had an idea.

this was what happened.

That was how he had gotten his set of divine artifacts and accessories.

Zhang Shan said to wind and cloud blade after he was clear about the situation.

"i bought my first broken ring at an auction."

Wind and cloud blade

"Fuck, there's such a thing? I've been waiting at the auction house for such a long time, but I've never picked up anything!"

"Don't even think about it. At the start of the game, there's still a slight chance that you'll be able to pick up something from the auction house. As for now, don't even think about it. Now that everyone is very smart, how can we let you pick up a bargain?"

"Sigh, I feel like I've missed out on a few hundred million."

don't feel so bad. You've already missed out on a few hundred million. Don't you think that a divine artifact can be worth a few hundred million? "

f * ck, that seems to be the case, especially the one from the six-barreled boss. It's worth more than a few hundred million. That's just an accessory mission item, but it can lead to a whole set of divine equipment accessories, and it even has set attributes.

sigh, I'm only left with envy. Why can't I have such a good thing? "

“Come on, even if you found it, you wouldn’t buy it. You’d only treat it as trash. Then do you recognize a divine artifact mission item?”

“That’s right, it’s time, it’s fate.”

let’s not talk about it anymore. I hope that michull can drop a divine artifact-type mission item.

haha, you’re right. You’d better give us one each.

The more they talked, the more excited they became. It was as if this michul really would drop an accessory quest item.

Everyone brandished their weapons and cast all kinds of skills, causing michure’s health to drop rapidly.

Zhang Shan’s health started to become unstable again after God’s descent ended.

Even though boss Wu had been trying his best to heal him.

however, he still couldn’t quite keep up.

Zhang Shan looked at michul’s health bar, gritted his teeth, and thought.

Let’s not use the refresh ball for now, just hold on for a while.

After michule entered berserk mode, he would use the refresh ball to refresh his big move and directly kill michule.

For now, he had to hold on.

Zhang Shan would rather be killed by the boss now than wait until the boss was about to drop.

He would be very depressed if that happened.

Moreover, even though his health bar was very unstable, he still had a lot of health left.

However, he seemed to be able to hold on for a little longer.

As long as his luck wasn’t too bad, he could deal more critical hits and Holy strikes.

by relying on a critical hit or a holy hit, he could deal a huge amount of damage and absorb a wave of health.

zhang shan should still be able to stabilize his health bar.

Zhang Shan fired rapidly while nervously looking at his health bar.

He was ready to respawn the orb in his backpack at any time.

If he was about to die, he would refresh his skills and use the God’s descent skill to save his own life.

in the tense atmosphere, the health bar of the demon high priest michul was steadily decreasing.

And Zhang Shan’s health bar was fluctuating and was very unstable.

Fortunately, at least he had not fallen to the ground.

When michull's HP dropped to 25%, it suddenly stopped attacking and began to chant.

seeing michul's chanting, zhang shan could not help but feel his scalp go numb.

"F * ck, is the BOSS going to use a big move or is he summoning the fire god?"

"i don't know,"

Seeing that michul was chanting again, Zhang Shan did not say anything and immediately used the refresh ball to reset the cooldown time of all his skills.

At the same time, he activated the God's descent skill again.

He didn't say anything.

No matter what skill michul was chanting, he had to use his ultimate skill.

Otherwise, he definitely wouldn't have been able to hold on.

Regardless of whether michul was summoning the fire god or the flame Dragon killing array, Zhang Shan had to use his ultimate skill.

Now, his ejection was in a passive state. Without a second target to act as a bridge, it could not be used.

As such, Zhang Shan could only rely on his ultimate skill to withstand a wave of the BOSS's skills.

After Zhang Shan activated the God's descent skill, the violent damage once again exploded.

a wave of rapid lifesteal quickly pulled the unstable health bar back to full health.

Soon, the incantation ended, and the fire god's Phantom appeared beside him again.

After the fire god's apparition was summoned, it began to spit out fireballs at Zhang Shan.

However, Zhang Shan did not panic. He had already activated his ultimate skill. What was there to panic about?

No matter how powerful michul's skills were, would he be able to kill him after he used his ultimate?

That was impossible.

Zhang Shan did not panic at all. In fact, he was a little happy.

Fire god summoning was good.

With the addition of the fire god's apparition, Zhang Shan's catapulting ability was rendered passive, and he could play some role.

Even though it could only be unleashed for a short while.

However, it was still good to be able to deal some ejection damage.

Seeing the fire god's apparition being summoned by michul, Zhang Shan shouted to his friends.

"Don't hit the fire god's projection, let me do it."

My friends, hehe

The first time michure had used the fire god summoning, Zhang Shan had continuously asked them to destroy the fire god apparition first.

this time, it was the opposite. he told them not to hit the fire god's projection, for fear that they would destroy it.

Although everyone knew that Zhang Shan's words made sense, they still felt that it was a little strange.

However, this time, he didn't need his friends to fight the fire god's Phantom.

This time was different from the first time.

When michul summoned the fire god previously, he needed his companions to quickly destroy the fire god's Phantom.

That was because, at that time, Zhang Shan had not used any big moves.

When Zhang Shan had not used his ultimate move, michul's fire god apparition had been a great threat to him.

Now that he had used his ultimate move, he was no longer afraid of the fire god's projection.

even though the damage dealt by the fire god's phantom was almost the same as the damage dealt by michul himself.

That's fine.

After Zhang Shan had activated the God's descent, he had been almost invincible.

Who could kill him?

No matter how powerful a real name BOSS was, no matter how powerful its skills were, it would not work.

With his 3.2 million HP, Zhang Shan could even try to wrestle with the demon God.

What was a tiny fire god apparition?

Chapter 552 Divine skill summoning celestial immortal

When the high priest of the demon race, michul, had started to chant his skill, Zhang Shan had already used the respawning ball in advance and activated the skill [God's descent].

Therefore, he didn't panic in the face of the fire god's apparition.

Zhang Shan used his ultimate skill, and the hand cannon kept shooting bullets.

A brutal wave of damage swept towards michul.

after a short while, the fire god's shadow was destroyed by zhang shan's catapulting damage.

And Zhang Shan's ejection was passive, once again stalled.

Without a second target to act as a bridge for him to launch himself, he would not be able to use his passive ejection ability.

However, that didn't matter. The damage from the attacks had already increased, and they were making a lot of progress in fighting the BOSS.

Under Zhang Shan's fierce attacks, high priest michul's HP quickly dropped to 20%.

The boss entered berserk mode.

at this time, zhang shan's god's descent state still had more than 40 seconds left. even if he could not hold on until he could destroy michul, it should not be too far off.

zhang shan thought that this round should be in the bag.

Under everyone's continuous attacks, the high priest of the demon race, michul's HP dropped rapidly. 20%, 10%, 5%.

When Zhang Shan's God's descent ended, they had already beaten michure to a state of almost zero health.

haha, the boss is about to drop. Good luck.

"Divine artifacts and accessories, quickly put them in my bowl."

"Give me a ring,"

I want the necklace. The necklace looks better.

Zhang Shan saw his health bar fluctuating, and then heard his friends 'words.

He was a little speechless.

What the f * ck, he almost couldn't take it anymore, and everyone was still thinking about what good items the boss would drop.

This isn't very appropriate, right?

If he couldn't hold on and was directly struck to the ground by the BOSS, then what was the point of pulling the items that were dropped?

would there still be items dropped?

could it be that they were not the ones who were killed by the BOSS?

After the God's descent state ended, Zhang Shan's health bar had been very unstable.

And it was even more dangerous than before.

Michul was in a berserk state, so the damage he dealt was much higher than before.

And the amount of health that boss Wu added to Zhang Shan was almost constant.

Boss Wu was already trying to heal him, but he really couldn't keep up.

zhang shan's own lifesteal ability, as he did not have the passive boost of catapulting, was not very powerful.

he felt that he couldn't hold on much longer against the berserk michul.

although michul's hp was almost empty, he was just a little bit away.

Zhang Shan felt that something bad was about to happen.

As long as michul used a wave of priest's punishment, he might fall to the ground.

thinking of this, zhang shan shouted to his friends.

you guys keep an eye on me. If I die later, you guys quickly rush out of the temple.

Hearing Zhang Shan's words, everyone realized that Zhang Shan seemed to be unable to hold on any longer.

"Damn, the six-barreled boss can't hold on anymore? What should we do?"

what's there to be afraid of? the BOSS's HP is almost empty. Even if we have to risk our lives, we have to kill it.

don't panic. Even if the six-barreled boss dies, it'll only be lying down for ten seconds. The BOSS shouldn't be able to recover much HP in such a short time. We still have a chance.

we can't let the BOSS recover its HP. If six-barreled boss dies, we'll take turns to attack and stall the BOSS.

"That's right. If someone is holding the boss back, the BOSS's HP recovery speed should be much slower."

Zhang Shan did not care about what they had discussed. He had already reminded them.

After a while, the high priest of the demon race, michull, had been beaten to empty health. Zhang Shan wanted to take the opportunity to control the Panda bear to go forward and use a combo skill to directly smash michull.

At this time, michul cast a wave of priest's punishment, shooting out two large fireballs in a row.

It wasn't just an "if." One of the two fireballs even had a critical hit effect.

Without any suspense, Zhang Shan fell to the ground.

f * ck, six-barreled boss is down. I'll stall the BOSS first.

Windcloud blade activated charge and charged at michure.

Unfortunately, just as wind cloud blade reached michull's side, he was knocked to the ground by michull's fireball before he could even swing his axe.

...

After Windcloud blade fell to the ground, heart moves with me followed up.

In the same way, this Big Shot couldn't hold Michura back for a second.

As a level 85 real name boss, michul's damage was indeed amazing.

Other than Zhang Shan, anyone else would die if they were touched. No one could withstand it.

He couldn't even struggle.

Seeing this, boss Wu and the little fairy ran away decisively.

The two of them quickly rushed out of the temple, not daring to go forward and delay the boss.

Even if they went up, they would still be sending him off.

even wind and cloud blade and heart moves with me, the two big shots of the strength system, couldn't hold michull back for a second.

Boss Wu and the little fairy were two fragile creatures, so they definitely couldn't hold on either.

And boss Wu couldn't die.

...

After Zhang Shan was resurrected, he still had to heal him.

Otherwise, even if they had already beaten michull to a pulp, he would still be in danger.

With only that much health left, without boss Wu's healing, Zhang Shan might not have been able to handle it.

After the fairy rushed out of the temple, she looked at michul.

Then, he shot out a meteor arrow.

The meteor arrow accurately hit michul, stunning him.

However, as a real-name boss, michul's stun resistance was very high.

the meteor arrow, which should have stunned michura for five seconds, only lasted less than two seconds when it hit him.

But this was already good enough. While being stunned, michull's HP recovery was temporarily suppressed.

This would save Zhang Shan some time to continue attacking the boss after he was revived.

Zhang Shan lay on the ground, silently counting down.

Five, four, three, two, one.

After ten seconds, Zhang Shan stood up again by using his passive rebirth.

Zhang Shan held his hand cannon and quickly fired at michure. At the same time, he summoned the Panda ball.

He wanted the Panda bear to help him hold on for a while.

Even though the Panda ball's health was far from Zhang Shan's own.

however, michul didn't have much hp left.

In the 10 seconds that Zhang Shan had fallen to the ground, due to the interference of the young men, especially the little fairy, he had been hit by a meteor arrow.

Michule did not recover much HP. It only had less than 3% of its health left.

Zhang Shan controlled the Panda ball and went forward to block Mishul.

Boss Wu and the little fairy had returned to the temple.

boss wu waved his magic sword and kept healing the panda ball.

however, the maximum health of the panda ball was indeed a little too low.

Right now, the Panda ball's HP was less than 800000.

Although the Panda ball had very high defense and also had a passive skill that reduced damage, it was still very strong.

However, in terms of the ability to tank the BOSS, the Panda bear was still far from Zhang Shan himself.

In the face of michul's powerful damage, even if boss Wu used all his strength, he couldn't raise the Panda ball's health.

The Panda ball could only hold on for a few seconds before it was knocked to the ground by michure's priest's punishment and two big fireballs.

Without the Panda ball in front of him, the demon high priest michul quickly changed his target and threw a large fireball at Zhang Shan.

Huge damage appeared above Zhang Shan's head again.

Zhang Shan was already prepared for this.

He had never expected the Panda ball to help him hold on for long.

In terms of the ability to tank a BOSS, the Panda bear was much worse than himself.

After all, the Panda dumpling only had less than 800000 HP, which was half of Zhang Shan's.

If the Panda ball could withstand michul's damage, he would not have fallen to the ground just now.

Zhang Shan himself took over the heavy responsibility of taking the damage. His originally full health bar quickly began to drop.

Even with his powerful lifesteal ability and boss Wu's constant healing, he still couldn't stop his health bar from dropping.

Fortunately, the high priest michul did not have much HP left.

Even though the BOSS had recovered some health in the 10 seconds that Zhang Shan had been on the ground.

However, they had fought for a while, and michul's health was less than two percent.

With Zhang Shan and the little fairy's continuous attacks, michul's health was once again reduced to zero.

Zhang Shan looked at himself, his health bar fluctuating up and down, and could not help but feel a little flustered.

he hoped that there would be no more trouble.

this time, he had to destroy michure.

Otherwise, they would be in big trouble.

Boss Wu stood behind Zhang Shan, waving the magic sword in his hand and continuously healing Zhang Shan.

As for Windcloud blade and heart follows me, who were lying on the ground, he did not care at all.

Although boss Wu's resurrection skill was still available, he could still resurrect a person.

But boss Wu didn't do that.

This was a crucial moment, so he didn't dare to be careless.

Besides, he had to save boss Wu's resurrection skill for now.

If Zhang Shan were to fall to the ground again, he would have to rely on his resurrection skill to save him.

Zhang Shan's passive rebirth had already played a role once.

If he wanted to trigger it again, he would have to wait until tomorrow.

boss wu wouldn't use the skill on anyone else.

He had to leave it for Zhang Shan, just in case.

As for wind and cloud blade and heart moves with me?

Even if these two big shots were pulled up, what was the use?

pulling one of them up wouldn't be able to deal much damage.

There was no need for that.

In the tense atmosphere, Zhang Shan and the little fairy kept on attacking.

Suddenly, Zhang Shan's spear struck out with a divine attack. The high priest of the demon race, michul, immediately fell to the ground and left.

≪ system announcement: congratulations to six-barreled Bodhisattva, heart moves, and wind and cloud blade for successfully killing the high priest of the demonic tribe, michul. ≫

Skill point +1, medal +100.

[system notification: your passive King talent has been triggered by killing the high priest of the demonic race, michul.]

[obtained passive skill: priest's punishment.]

Haha, another passive skill.

Seeing this system notification, Zhang Shan could not help but feel happy.

His efforts to defeat michul had not been in vain.

With this passive skill, Zhang Shan would not lose out in this wave.

It didn't matter how trashy the items michul dropped were.

With a passive skill, what else would he need?

What kind of item could compare to a passive skill?

To Zhang Shan, any item was like a floating cloud that would be blown away by the wind.

Only passive skills were eternal.

The passive skill could stay with him in the game until the game closed.

Zhang Shan quickly opened the skills panel and looked at the priest's punishment skill description.

[priest's punishment (passive): there is a chance to trigger a combo attack, two consecutive attacks.]

15% chance of triggering. acquired talent. can not be upgraded.

hahaha.

Looking at the skill's description, Zhang Shan could not help but be happy.

This priest's punishment was a really powerful passive skill. It actually had a 15% chance of triggering.

the chance of triggering it was quite high.

With this passive skill.

In theory, for every six or seven attacks, Zhang Shan might be able to make one more attack.

Moreover, this combo wasn't a special effect. It could be stacked with a critical hit effect.

It could be said like this.

This passive sacrificial punishment was equivalent to Zhang Shan's attack speed increasing by 15%.

One must know that Zhang Shan's current attack speed was already very fast.

He could now attack three times per second.

At his current level of attack speed, it was already very difficult to increase it.

He did not expect the priest's punishment to have such a powerful effect.

What a great skill.

An impressive passive skill was in his hands, and Zhang Shan was elated.

It felt good.

.....

While Zhang Shan was still looking at the skills panel, boss Wu had already revived wind and cloud blade.

Only his heart was still on the ground.

It couldn't be helped. In their small team, boss Wu was the only support.

He could only resurrect one person at a time.

If he wanted to resurrect the second person, he would have to wait five minutes.

the support's [resurrection] skill had a very long cooldown time of five minutes.

After being revived, wind and cloud blade saw that Zhang Shan was still in a daze.

He knew that Zhang Shan must have obtained another passive skill. If not, why would he be smiling like a fool for no reason?

Everyone had already seen the priest's punishment passive skill on michul.

As for Zhang Shan's passive King talent, everyone knew about it.

He knew that once a real-name BOSS was defeated, Zhang Shan's talent would be easily triggered.

After the BOSS fell to the ground, Zhang Shan stood there alone, smiling foolishly. He had obviously obtained this passive skill.

However, they could only be envious.

This was Zhang Shan's talent. In the entire game, only Zhang Shan had this kind of talent. Even if others wanted to be envious, they could not.

Seeing Zhang Shan's silly smile, wind and cloud blade was very unhappy.

he said loudly to zhang shan.

"big boss six-barrelled, stop giggling by yourself. hurry up and show us the items that the BOSS dropped. let's see if there are any divine artifacts or quest items that are accessories."

"Isn't it? isn't it just a passive skill? Did he have to be so happy? You're really useless."

"hurry up and open your equipment. give me the divine necklace."

“Alright,” he said.

Zhang Shan could understand his brothers’ feelings of envy.

He didn’t waste any more time and quickly opened his backpack to take a look. He opened the equipment first to divert everyone’s attention.

a few new items were reflected in his eyes, and zhang shan’s eyes could not help but light up.

“haha, brothers, this is a great harvest.”

f * ck, what did they drop? quickly show it to me. Don’t leave everyone hanging.

Zhang Shan did not hesitate. He quickly displayed the items that michul had dropped on the team channel.

There were three red equipment and one red material.

A divine weapon mold, a divine weapon quest item, and a skill book.

Putting aside the quality of the items, the number of items dropped was already frightening.

Normal real name bosses only had red equipment and red materials.

It was just another rare item.

And this high priest of the demonic race, michul, had actually dropped three extra pieces.

It was simply a super harvest.

This was Zhang Shan’s own kill, not the Panda team’s final kill.

Because the Panda ball had already died before michul fell to the ground.

At that time, the situation was tense, and Zhang Shan did not have the time. He summoned the Panda dumpling again.

He could only kill the BOSS himself.

Zhang Shan had never thought that his luck would be so good. It was not any worse than the Panda dumpling’s 10 points of luck.

His divine spear attack was a wave of super explosive power.

there was no need to mention the red equipment and materials.

There were three additional rare items.

The divine weapon mold was an agility-type bracer, while the divine weapon quest item was an accessory that everyone dreamed of.

As for the skill book, it was even more eye-opening.

This was not an ultimate skill book, but a normal Daoist skill.

However, no one had ever seen this little skill before.

Not only had he never seen it before, he had never even heard of it.

However, it didn't matter if they had never heard of it.

Just by looking at the name of the skill book, one could tell that it was a very powerful skill.

The skill book's name was celestial summon.

When they were fighting the BOSS, they joked that they would give boss Wu a summoning skill book.

Of course, summoning the Heavenly King was a joke. There was no such thing.

But what the hell was this summoning celestial being book?

A skill book like this had never appeared before.

It looked very awesome.

Before this, there were only two Taoist summoning skills that everyone knew.

One summoned a heavenly soldier, while the other summoned a heavenly general.

he didn't expect there to be a summoning celestial being.

This should be a summoning skill book of a higher level than summoning a celestial general, right?

Zhang Shan quickly checked the skill description of this summoning celestial being.

Just now, his friends had been urging him to show the item. He hadn't had the time to read the specific description of the skill book.

[celestial summon: summon a powerful celestial to assist in battle. Profession requirements: Daoist priest.

Alright, just by looking at the skill book's description, he couldn't figure out what it was.

Boss Wu had to learn the skill before he could know its specific effect.

zhang shan didn't even think about it. he directly assigned the skill book to boss wu and said to him.

"Old Wu, hurry up and learn the skill. Summon the celestial for us to see."

"Alright," he said.

Boss Wu took the skill book, learned the skill, and leveled it up to the maximum level.

Then, he waved his spiritual sword, and a beautiful figure appeared beside boss Wu.

Everyone's eyes were wide open when they saw boss Wu summon a fairy baby.

"Damn, is this what a celestial immortal is? This is way too beautiful."

"It's really beautiful."

“Old Wu, don’t let your wife see this. Otherwise, she might get jealous, hehe.”

“Hahaha.”

you guys are so shallow. Why do you need to look at the appearance of the summoned pet? you should look at the attributes of the pet.

“Oh, oh, that’s true.”

Zhang Shan checked the celestial’s stats.

Divine immortal (Daoist priest’s sword-wielding summoned creature): Level 69 attack 98000 HP 186000 skill, flowing clouds flying sleeves (passive).

[flowing clouds flying sleeves (passive): a celestial immortal can wave his sleeves like flowing clouds, dealing 100% damage to an enemy target in front of him.]

After looking at the attributes of the celestial, Zhang Shan could not help but sigh.

“He’s really strong.”

The summoned pet of a Taoist priest was different from the pet of a Hunter.

A Hunter’s pet was only Level 1 when it was first tamed, and it had to be brought along by the player to level up.

When a Taoist priest’s summoned pet was summoned, it would be at the same level as the player and did not need to be upgraded.

Boss Wu was now Level 69.

As such, when this fairy baby was summoned, it was also at Level 69.

However, this fairy baby’s attributes were really strong.

The level 69 summoned pet had almost 100000 attack power, which was much stronger than players of the same level.

Unless boss Wu could get a few more godly items, he would not be able to do it.

Otherwise, his own attack power would definitely not be as high as a fairy baby’s.

As for his HP, it was nothing.

180,000 HP wasn’t a lot. It wasn’t much different from a player of the same level with better equipment.

When Mr. Wu reached level 70, he could get a level 70 purple cape, and his HP would probably be over level 20.

After all, the Cape he was wearing was a level 50 blue equipment, and there was still a lot of room for improvement.

This fairy baby, in addition to having very high attack power, actually also had an awesome passive skill.

Flowing clouds and flying sleeves.

This was an area-of-effect skill, similar to the Berserker's Army obliteration. It could sweep the target in front of it.

A passive group attack coupled with a powerful attack.

This fairy baby was definitely a top-grade summoned creature for farming monsters.

Boss Wu was going to be rich.

In the future, when he was farming monsters, he would no longer be a hooligan.

With this fairy baby, boss Wu would be a powerful fighter.

Zhang Shan could not help but sigh.

This celestial being summoning skill was truly a godly skill.

A skill could change a player's nature.

Because of this skill, Mr. Wu went from a pure support to a fighter and a part-time support.

Chapter 553 The broken wind god necklace

After boss Wu learned summoning celestial beings, he went from a pure support to a main fighter.

However, this was only the surface data they saw.

Whether this summoned celestial pet was really powerful or not, he still had to pull it out and try to kill monsters for a while to know.

There were many things that could not be seen from the surface data.

For example, attack speed.

as for the attack speed of this summoned fairy baby, no one knew yet. there was no attack speed in the attributes.

If the fairy baby's attack speed was as slow as Zhang Shan's Panda dumpling, then it would be a joke.

Of course.

Normally, this shouldn't be the case.

After all, it was rare to see a baby with attack speed as slow as the Panda ball.

At least, Zhang Shan had never seen one before.

In terms of attack speed, the Panda team was definitely a wonder.

boss wu's celestial immortal shouldn't be like this.

When he got out of the dungeon, he would ask boss Wu to take fairy baby to find a place with a lot of monsters and try to kill a wave.

He couldn't try it in an instance dungeon.

This demon lair instance dungeon only had a red boss and a real name boss, michul.

Other than that, there were no other monsters.

Now that they had killed all the bosses, boss Wu couldn't find a target even if he wanted to let his fairy baby try.

He could only wait until he left the dungeon.

Windcloud blade said enviously as he looked at the celestial being that boss Wu had summoned.

"big brother carrying a blade is amazing. in the future, you don't even need to fight, and you can already kill monsters and fly."

"that's right. this celestial immortal's attributes are much stronger than a celestial general's."

"You can't compare at all, okay? what's the big deal about a summoned general? it can only have the same attributes as the player. the key is that a summoned general can only kill monsters one by one. it's not as awesome as a celestial who can kill monsters in groups."

"That's right, there's only one pet that can farm monsters in groups. I've never seen a Hunter tamed pet that can be farmed in a group."

"It should be this one. I've never seen a second one."

Speaking of which, since there's a skill book for summoning celestial beings, why hasn't anyone gotten it before? " who knows? maybe there are more good things in the game, but no one has dropped them yet.

Bullsh * t, it's not that we didn't get it, it's the system that didn't release it.

"Then, what did boss Wu say about summoning a celestial being?"

"do you still need to say that? the system must have just released it. "

"that's impossible. we've just released it and we already got it? Are we really that lucky?"

"Who knows? maybe we're just lucky."

at this moment, wind and cloud blade spoke.

I don't care about the rest. I only care about the Berserker class. Do they also have amazing skills that haven't been released yet? or did they just release them and no one dropped a skill book yet? "

"even if there is, what can you do? Good things depend on fate. If it's not fated, it will never drop."

f * ck, if I can't get it, can't I go to the auction hall and buy someone else's? "

"You're thinking too much. How could the truly good things appear in the auction house? Even if others can't use it, they'll have digested it internally."

brother, don't think too much. Maybe you Berserkers are at the top now and don't have any more powerful skills, hehe.

"Haha, you're right. Why are you thinking so far?"

"Hurry up and distribute the rest of the items. After that, we'll leave the dungeon together and see how good boss Wu's celestial is at killing monsters."

"that's right, hurry up and distribute the equipment."

Upon hearing that they were going to split the equipment, Windcloud blade said unhappily.

what's the point of sharing? the God weapon mold and God weapon mission items are all agility-type items. They have nothing to do with us. We're just here to help, and it's free of charge.

"haha, big brother, you're so jealous."

In fact, one could not blame Feng Yun for being sour.

High priest michul had dropped a total of three good items, but none of them were strength-type.

The skill book went to Mr. Wu.

The remaining God equipment quest items and God equipment molds were all agility-type items. They also had nothing to do with Windcloud blade and heart moves.

Not only that, but none of the three red-colored equipment was of the strength type.

In other words, for this wave of BOSS drops, Windcloud blade and heart manipulation would not be able to get a single drop.

It was no wonder that Windcloud blade was depressed.

however, he only grumbled verbally.

...

this was the rule of item distribution.

Just like before, they had all received God equipment mission items, but boss Wu and the little fairy had not.

Their distribution rule was that whoever could use it would get it. If both of them could use it, they would roll.

It was normal for them to not have any strength-type items this time.

Zhang Shan took a look. It was a divine weapon mission item.

[broken wind god's necklace: this is a severely damaged necklace. it has the agility attribute of agility and exudes a mysterious aura.]

It needs to be repaired before it can be used. Please bring it to a professional to repair it.

This necklace was different from the other God-tier quest items.

Most of the other divine weapon mission items were vague in their item descriptions.

Everyone looked at the item's description for a long time, but they might not be able to figure it out.

Most of the time, one had to guess.

...

However, this broken necklace of the wind god directly pointed out the direction, and it had an agility attribute.

Then, it could only be an agility-type artifact.

After Zhang Shan took a look, he immediately gave the broken wind god necklace to the little fairy.

In their team, there was only Zhang Shan himself and the little fairy, two agile professions.

He didn't need it.

zhang shan had already made three accessories into godly equipment.

Even if he was given another one, it wouldn't be of much use.

as for the wristguard mold, zhang shan assigned it to himself.

Since the little fairy was given a divine weapon mission item, the divine weapon mold would naturally be given to Zhang Shan.

It was just nice for the two of them to have one each.

He didn't need to roll anymore.

the little fairy was very happy after receiving the broken necklace of wind and cloud.

originally, she was also a person who did not have a single divine artifact.

It was just that during this period of time, his luck had exploded.

During the spring Festival, the fairy had obtained a divine longbow.

now, he had gotten a necklace.

Moreover, she still had two divine weapon molds, one of which could be forged very quickly.

after a while, the little fairy would become a female player with several divine weapons.

Although this necklace was not a finished product, she needed to find an NPC to activate the quest and complete it before she could start repairing it.

However, he could only activate the first step of the divine weapon with the mission item.

after obtaining the broken wind god's necklace, the little fairy was one step ahead of the others in terms of divine equipment.

perhaps she would become the second player in the game to create a divine accessory.

Thinking of this, the little demon's mouth was about to burst into a smile.

.....

After Zhang Shan had obtained the mold for the wrist guard, he already had three defensive artifacts.

He only needed two more to get a full set of divine artifacts.

Of course, these three defensive artifacts were only molds.

Including the material gathering quest that Zhang Shan was currently doing, the God equipment boots, they were still far from being made into a God equipment.

However, Zhang Shan was not in a hurry.

He didn't panic.

To Zhang Shan, this was only a matter of time. There was no difficulty.

After distributing the God equipment, there were three red equipment left. Two of them were agility-type, one for Zhang Shan and one for the little fairy.

The other intelligence-type equipment was given to boss Wu.

As for the red-colored materials, as usual, Zhang Shan kept them for himself.

After all the items were distributed, everyone did not immediately leave the dungeon. Instead, they waited for a while.

right now, my heart is still on the ground.

Just now, boss Wu only resurrected wind and cloud blade. If he wants to resurrect heart of mine, he'll have to wait another five minutes.

Although dying in an instance dungeon would not result in an experience penalty, it was not a bad thing.

Even if his heart moved with him, he would not lose anything if he returned to the city and resurrected.

But there was no need.

When they entered the dungeon, they were in the dark swamp map. If they left the dungeon now, they would return to their original place.

If he decided to resurrect in the city, wouldn't he have to run back here again?

Since everyone came in together, they naturally had to go out together. It was not like they needed to waste so much effort.

After a short while, boss Wu's revive skill was on cooldown again.

He waved his magic sword and used the skill resurrection to resurrect his heart following me.

After [heart follows me] was resurrected, everyone left the dungeon one by one and returned to the small pool where they had fought Gros.

Zhang Shan said to boss Wu.

quickly summon your celestial and try to fight a few monsters. Let's see how awesome this summoned pet is.

"That's right. Big brother saber, quickly summon the celestial immortal."

Boss Wu waved his spiritual sword, and the beautiful celestial maiden appeared in front of everyone again.

He controlled sky immortal to find a place with a lot of small monsters and started to farm them.

Everyone was watching from the side.

the heaven immortal waved his long sleeves and swept them over the crocodile monster, causing damage to appear above its head.

Zhang Shan counted carefully. At most, this Summoner had fought at least 15 crocodile monsters at the same time.

Furthermore, the attack speed of a celestial immortal was not slow at all.

The speed at which the celestial immortal waved his sleeves was even faster than the speed at which boss Wu cast his skills.

at the very least, it was comparable to the attack speed of a normal close-combat player.

One had to know that celestial Immortals were capable of group attacks, and they were so fast.

This summoning skill was a godly skill for farming monsters.

Of course.

Since celestial Immortals were strong in farming monsters, they were naturally strong in fighting as well.

Although the amount of blood required to summon a celestial immortal was not very high, this was only relative.

the celestial had more than 180000 hp, which was higher than most players.

Under normal circumstances, it wouldn't be that easy to die.

Moreover, this celestial was only a summoned creature. If he died, he could still summon it again as long as there was a cooldown time.

the cooldown time for summoning celestial beings was five minutes.

The cooldown time was not short, but it was not too long either. It was not too troublesome to summon it again.

Besides, boss Wu was a support himself.

With the celestial immortal at the front, he could stay behind and keep healing the celestial immortal.

Under normal circumstances, it was not easy for a heaven immortal to die. There was almost no need to summon them again.

Everyone stood on the side and looked at boss Wu's fairy baby, who kept waving his long sleeves.

In just two or three hits, he had killed a large number of crocodiles. This kind of farming speed made everyone very envious.

A celestial immortal's powerful attack power, decent attack speed, and an AoE passive made her a perfect monster-farming machine.

And it was a machine that did not consume fuel.

With this skill, boss Wu's killing speed was no longer slower than the others.

It was even faster than the little fairy's farming speed.

Although the little fairy also had the split arrow skill, it could also kill small monsters in groups.

However, the little fairy's split arrow was not as efficient as boss Wu's fairy pet.

Of course.

The little fairy still had room for improvement after she had a full set of divine artifacts.

Her damage efficiency was naturally not something that a fairy baby could compare to.

However, at least for now, her farming efficiency was slightly worse than that of a celestial.

Seeing this, the little demon was a little depressed.

"Old Wu, you're about to take off."

Yeah, I didn't think that an auxiliary profession could also be so strong.

"Big brother carrying a blade, as a Daoist priest, can no longer be considered a purely auxiliary profession. When fighting, his big moves are stronger than many players. When killing monsters, he's no weaker than other players. Can this still be considered a support?"

"Haha, a Daoist can travel the world with his dog."

Boss Wu was very happy.

When he was still a student, he had always been a wild player and liked to play some fancy games.

However, after entering new world, boss Wu chose the Taoist profession and couldn't do anything. He could only silently heal and add status behind everyone.

In the beginning, boss Wu didn't even have any skills to hit people, so he could only use his magic sword to slash.

Now, boss Wu had both a big move and a summoning celestial being.

With the combination of these two skills, Mr. Wu could be considered the first Taoist in the game.

Who among the Taoist players in the game could compare to him?

boss wu also had three divine weapon molds and a strange wooden stick, which might be the task item for the divine weapon of the magic sword.

After he made all the godly items, Mr. Wu would be able to play as a support.

At that time, there would probably be very few players in the entire game who could beat him.

The rise of a Taoist player.

It was terrifying.

After seeing the celestial's ability to farm monsters, Zhang Shan looked at the time again. It was a little past 10 O'clock.

There was still more than an hour before the double exp would end.

zhang shan said to his friends.

"Everyone, let's farm some more monsters. When the double experience is over at 12 o'clock, we'll go offline and sleep."

"Are we still farming monsters? We're already at such a high level, and we still have to farm monsters?"

what are you thinking? if you don't farm for the double exp, when do you want to farm? "

"That's right, are our levels very high? It's just a little higher than other players, but it's still far from max level."

alright, you guys are really far-sighted. You actually thought of maxing out the level.

one must have dreams. Let's continue farming monsters.

At this moment, wind cloud blade suddenly said.

"Wait, are we just going to farm monsters like this?"

"If you don't do it this way, do you want to get a shot of hormones first?"

no, I mean, our equipment has run out of durability. Why don't we go back to the city to repair our equipment before coming back? " repair my equipment? let's just continue farming like this for now. It's only going to take an hour anyway. Once the double experience is over, everyone can go back to sleep.

"That's right, isn't it tiring to repair equipment? it'll take at least ten minutes to make a round trip back to the city."

alright, you guys are ruthless. You actually want to farm monsters naked.

"haha, what's there to be afraid of? we've already been fighting red bosses naked for a few days. what's there to be afraid of? "

it's different in the instance dungeon. Other players won't be able to see us in the instance dungeon. If we farm monsters here naked, other players will see us. It's so embarrassing.

what's there to be ashamed of? you're the only one who's so troublesome. Hurry up and brush.

"Why are you thinking so much? so what if other people see it? don't tell me that there's someone who would dare to cut us down."

hurry up. We'll go offline and sleep at 12 o'clock. We'll do our own missions tomorrow.

.....

After exiting the instance, Zhang Shan brought his friends and started to farm the crocodile monsters in the dark swamp map.

Even though their current levels were much higher than the other players.

However, they could not be too complacent. They were still far from the true peak.

If he didn't take advantage of the double experience to farm for a while longer, then when would he do it?

It was not easy to get double experience.

Only by winning the World War could he get double experience in a week, which was a rare opportunity.

Even though no matter which country they fought, they were confident that they could win the country war.

Apart from Wei country, which was a little too strong, they could defeat the other five countries.

But the problem was that a country war wasn't something that they could fight just because they wanted to.

Zhang Shan felt that the arrangement of the country war was most likely the result of the game producers' manual operations.

If the game producers didn't arrange for the Chu country to fight in the country war, they wouldn't be able to get the double experience points in the future.

Therefore, he had to treasure every minute of the double exp.

.....

Zhang Shan led his little friends, each brandishing their weapons and continuously farming monsters.

there were five of them and two babies.

one was zhang shan's panda dumpling, and the other was boss wu's summoning celestial being.

with their powerful farming abilities, they could clear a large area of crocodile monsters in an instant.

fortunately, the crocodile monsters in the dark swamp map respawned very quickly.

Otherwise, they would have to wander around to find monsters to kill.

.....

Zhang Shan and the rest's levels, after seven days of fighting the red BOSS in the instance, had increased as if they were riding on a rocket.

their leveling speed had already caused a huge reaction in the game.

zhang shan had already reached level 70, and his other four friends had also reached level 69.

The five of them dominated the top five of the level rankings.

Apart from them, the highest level player in the game was Wei Kingdom's war god Lu Bu, who was only level 49.

He wasn't even level 50.

This was also because the Wei Kingdom had also won the World War, and the God of War Lu Bu had gained double experience for a week.

Otherwise, he would probably only be around level 47 or 48.

In terms of level, Zhang Shan and the rest had left the other players in the dust. They were at level 20.

Such a difference in level was simply too exaggerated.

The other players in the game were all asking about how Zhang Shan and the rest could level up so quickly.

Everyone knew that it was harder to level up as the game progressed.

However, Zhang Shan and the rest's leveling speed did not slow down. Instead, it was increasing rapidly. It was as if they had a BUG.

This made the other players very confused.

Not to mention the other players, even the big shots in the guilds had been non-stop asking Windcloud blade about it since the beginning.

The big bosses of the guilds thought that Zhang Shan and the rest had some secret to leveling up.

However, when he heard that Zhang Shan and the rest had used an instance dungeon Scroll to madly Farm Red bosses in the instance dungeon, he was stunned.

the big shots of the guilds could only feel envy.

Instance dungeon scrolls were extremely rare and rarely seen.

As for instance dungeon scrolls that were all for red bosses, that was even more unheard of.

after finding out that zhang shan and the rest had relied on instance dungeon scrolls to quickly level up.

The big shots of the guilds didn't have any thoughts at all.

Even if they were lucky enough to get one, it would be useless.

It was already good enough for a normal scroll dungeon to have a red boss.

For Zhang Shan and the rest, to encounter a scroll instance that was filled with red bosses was simply heaven-defying luck.

Of course.

Such luck would only be effective when matched with the corresponding strength.

If it were any other player, even if they were given a pass to the demonic lair, no one would be able to farm it.

It was such a powerful red boss, and only five people could enter the dungeon.

Who could defeat him?

Other than Zhang Shan, no one else in the entire game could do it. Giving other players such an instance dungeon Scroll would also be a waste.

The big shots in the Guild knew the reason why Zhang Shan and the rest were leveling up so quickly.

However, the other players in the game still didn't know.

They were still asking around, trying to find a shortcut to quickly level up.

Now that it was getting harder and harder to level up, it would be great if there was a shortcut to level up.

Everyone was farming monsters every day, but their experience bars did not move at all. Many players were getting a little impatient.

From their point of view, Zhang Shan and the rest must have found a shortcut. Otherwise, they would not have been able to level up so quickly.

There were even a number of Big Shot players who were calling out to Zhang Shan on the world Channel.

They were willing to pay a high price to buy this fast leveling shortcut from Zhang Shan.

They were thinking that since Zhang Shan and the other four could use the shortcut to level up quickly, the others could naturally do the same.

However, Zhang Shan did not care about the calls from the big shots in the world Channel.

How could there be any shortcuts in this world?

It was purely due to his strength.

Without the corresponding strength, all the shortcuts were just a joke.

Even if Zhang Shan told them to get a pass to the demons' lair and go in to farm the red bosses, it would be useless.

Where were they going to get the pass to the demon lair?

Even if they managed to obtain the pass to the Nephilim race's lair, would they be able to defeat the red BOSS inside?

This was clearly impossible.

This was Zhang Shan's unique way of leveling up.

Without Zhang Shan, this method of leveling up could not be replicated.

At least for now, that was the case.

Perhaps after a long time, when the other players' levels and equipment had greatly improved.

They could also try to get similar instance dungeon scrolls and go to the instance dungeon to kill the red BOSS.

That way, they would be able to level up quickly like Zhang Shan.

As for the other players, only God knew if they could get their hands on dungeon scrolls like the demon lair pass.

Anyway, that would be a long time later.

Chapter 554 Purple Star Boots (agility)

When it was 12 o'clock, the monster's experience was reduced by half.

Everyone's passion for killing monsters was extinguished in an instant.

Boss Wu said to everyone as soon as the double experience period ended.

"Let's go and sleep."

"I'm really sleepy. I haven't slept for seven days again. Did we work too hard?"

"What are you saying? If young people don't work hard, there's no future."

"You're really good at bullshitting. How can you even talk about the future?"

"Games are the future."

The little fairy said.

"I'm not going to chat with you guys anymore. You guys can continue bragging. I'm going offline first."

After a week of double experience, everyone went offline to sleep.

In this one week of double time, the levels of the players in Chu State and Wei State had skyrocketed.

On the entire level ranking board, there were only players from Chu and Wei.

It was difficult for players from other camps to find their names on the list.

This was especially true for the players from the state of Qin and the state of Zheng. In the past seven days, not many of them had come online.

Even if there were some players online, they would only go online to look around, get some water, or chat.

There was almost no one who farmed monsters seriously.

To the players of the state of Qin and the state of Zheng, the seven-day punishment for losing the World War was a period of suffering.

During these seven days, they were completely unable to farm monsters.

This was because the penalty for losing the World War was 50% exp, 50% item drop, and double expenditure.

half the experience wasn't a big deal. at most, he would level up slower.

Although half of the monsters' experience points were not much, it was still worth it.

However, if the drop-rate was halved and the cost doubled, it would be too much.

After all, when everyone was farming monsters, they all had to expend some energy.

Whether it was the consumption of potions or the consumption of repairing equipment.

It was a long day.

in this game, the chances of items dropping from killing monsters were very low.

Usually, when everyone was farming monsters, other than the classes that used less mana, the other classes would be the ones that used mana.

The other players could barely make ends meet and could not earn much gold at all.

If they were to reduce the price by half, the gold coins they earned from killing monsters would not be able to cover the cost of killing monsters.

In other words, as long as they farmed monsters, they would be losing money.

The more they farmed, the poorer they became. Who could stand this?

except for a small number of big shots who didn't care about money.

The other players definitely couldn't take it.

Besides, there were very few missions in new world.

If they couldn't farm monsters, then they would have nothing to do when they came online.

they couldn't just sit there and chat for the entire day.

As such, for a full seven days, most of the players from the state of Qin and the state of Zheng were not online.

Now that the seven-day punishment had finally ended, a large number of players from both countries entered the game.

It had been a long time since they had last farmed monsters, and they were starting to miss the feeling of farming monsters.

The players from the state of Qin and the state of Zheng finally reignited their passion for the game. In various locations on the map of Heaven's Gate, players from both countries would appear from time to time.

however, all of this had nothing to do with zhang shan.

The current Zhang Shan had already gone offline and was slowly entering Dreamland.

To be honest, after playing for seven days straight, Zhang Shan was a little tired.

even though zhang shan was using the highest grade gaming pod, in theory, even if it was him, not going offline for half a month would not have much of an impact on his body.

But that was only in theory.

In fact, Zhang Shan was used to it. He had to go offline and sleep for a period of time every day to maintain a normal biological clock.

The next day, Zhang Shan slept until he woke up naturally. He raised his head and looked at the clock on the wall.

F  k, it's already so late?

It was already ten in the morning.

He had slept for a long time, a full ten hours.

Zhang Shan got out of bed and washed up. After eating something, he logged into the game.

...

Once he entered the game, Zhang Shan appeared at the place where he had been farming monsters the night before.

He looked at his backpack and saw that it was filled with all sorts of items.

It was mainly because they had been killing red bosses in the demon lair instance dungeon and had obtained all sorts of red equipment.

Yesterday, after the double experience had ended, Zhang Shan went offline immediately. He did not return to the city to clear his backpack.

These items had been accumulated for seven days and had not been dealt with yet.

Not only that, Zhang Shan's equipment had not been repaired for a full seven days.

Other than the divine equipment, the other red-colored equipment only had one durability left.

In order to prevent the equipment from exploding, Zhang Shan removed all the red equipment and put them in his backpack.

It was time to return to the city and tidy up.

Zhang Shan thought.

I'll return to the city to repair my equipment first, then clear my bag and continue with the material quest.

...

Zhang Shan returned to the city and teleported around to clear his backpack.

he stored the materials and useful items in the warehouse.

As for the useless items, they were directly thrown to the NPC store.

of course.

The red equipment could not be directly thrown into the shop.

Even if these level 80 red grade equipment were put up for auction, no one would want them.

The equipment's level was too high.

How long would it take for the players to reach level 80?

Even so, red equipment was still considered good stuff and could not be casually thrown into the NPC shop.

Zhang Shan teleported to the Guild's base and donated a large pile of red equipment to the Guild's warehouse.

It could be considered a wave of benefits for the Guild members.

Although no one had any use for this equipment right now, they would store it in the Guild warehouse as a reserve.

In the future, when everyone needed it, they could use their Guild contribution points to exchange for it in the Guild warehouse.

If these red-colored equipment were sold to the NPC shop, they would only be worth a few hundred to a thousand gold coins.

in zhang shan's backpack, there were more than 400 pieces of red level 80 equipment.

Even if all of the red equipment could be sold for 1000 gold coins each, it would only be 300000 gold coins.

Zhang Shan did not care about such a small amount of gold.

His demon-suppressing city could earn more than 300000 gold coins in a few days.

What did he want these for?

he would even donate it to the guild warehouse so that guild members could exchange for red equipment in the warehouse in the future.

To normal players, red equipment was the best equipment.

As for divine weapons, they definitely had no fate with them.

Having more red equipment in the Guild would be more beneficial to the Guild's future development.

In fact, Zhang Shan was not the only one who did this.

His other friends, including Mr. Wu, all donated the red equipment they had obtained in the dungeon to the Guild warehouse.

This wave of donations had not only filled the storage of the wind and cloud Guild, but it had also increased the amount of money.

moreover, it had also increased the guild's contribution points by a large margin.

Although it was still a long way from being promoted to a level 6 Guild.

However, it also sped up the Guild's leveling progress.

.....

After Zhang Shan had cleared his backpack, he repaired all his equipment and then teleported to Heaven's Gate.

Let's continue with the mission.

He still needed five pieces of defensive equipment before he could get a complete set of godly equipment. He had to get them quickly and strive to get the full set of godly weapons within two months.

Zhang Shan opened the mission panel to check for the next material and where to farm it.

After confirming his destination, Zhang Shan teleported to the city gate of Heaven's Gate. He rode the red Hare and rushed into the distance.

Time passed by slowly. Zhang Shan spent his days in the Heaven's Gate map, collecting mission materials.

the other players in the game were also working hard to improve themselves.

his friends were the same as zhang shan. they had been collecting mission materials everywhere.

what was worth mentioning was that the strange wooden stick dropped by gros was indeed a magic sword quest item.

Boss Wu had already activated the mission and was doing missions everywhere with the mission items.

boss wu had learned summoning celestial beings, so his speed of collecting materials was no slower than the others.

Perhaps it wouldn't take long for boss Wu to make the game's first godly-level magic sword.

as for his other three companions, they had already each forged a defensive divine weapon.

The time they had gotten the mold for the divine weapon was much earlier than Zhang Shan.

After more than half a month of hard work, they had finally made another divine artifact. Now, they were working on the task of finding the materials for the next divine artifact.

On this day, Zhang Shan had finally gotten his hands on the last material.

Zhang Shan opened the mission panel to take a look.

All the materials needed to make the purple boots (agility) had been gathered.

He couldn't help but sigh.

It was so f * cking troublesome.

He had spent almost ten days to collect all the materials for a divine weapon.

It was not an easy task to forge a divine weapon with a divine weapon mold.

This mission of collecting materials was really too time-consuming.

but there was no other way. in order to get a divine weapon, no matter how much time was spent, everyone was willing.

.....

With the materials in his hands, Zhang Shan cast a Return Channel to the city. Then, he teleported to the eastern capital and found the divine craftsman Ji Xiling.

Zhang Shan stepped forward and said to Ji Xiling.

"Hello Master, I've gathered all the materials needed to create a divine weapon."

After Zhang Shan finished, he passed all the materials to Ji Xiling.

Ji Xiling took the materials and glanced at them, then said indifferently.

"Follow me. It will take some time to forge the divine weapon."

Zhang Shan quickly followed.

There were still many differences between forging a divine artifact with a divine artifact mold and repairing a divine artifact mission item.

the task to repair a divine weapon was much more difficult.

Furthermore, the NPCs would be more difficult to deal with. They would often do some difficult quests.

Furthermore, those NPCs would say some things that made people scratch their heads.

It was much easier to forge a divine weapon with a divine weapon mold.

As long as he collected all the materials and handed them to the NPC divine craftsman, it would be fine.

Zhang Shan followed Ji Xiling to a control panel.

Ji Xiling placed the divine weapon mold on the workbench, as well as all the other materials.

Then, Ji Xiling's hand seemed to have an invisible needle and thread, slowly weaving all the materials and the divine weapon molds together.

Zhang Shan just watched quietly, not daring to make a sound to disturb him.

Time passed by slowly.

After about ten minutes, a pair of beautiful boots slowly appeared on the operating table.

the divine craftsman ji xiling took out the boots from the control panel and handed them to zhang shan.

"The divine weapon is done. You can leave first."

Upon hearing this, Zhang Shan could not help but shake his head.

Compared to an Qisheng, this divine craftsman Ji Xiling lacked a lot of spirituality.

It felt like she was a robot.

However, according to Zhang Shan's understanding, the NPCs who forged God equipment from God equipment molds were all like this.

They were all very mechanical and had very little interaction with the players.

Of course.

This was also good. Everything had already been set in place, unlike an Qisheng, who would give him problems at any time.

Moreover, the NPCs who forged divine weapons through the divine weapon molds did not charge a fee.

The entire process was free of charge for the players, as long as the players themselves went to collect the materials.

The entire forging process did not require the player to pay a single copper coin.

In this regard, these NPCs were much better than ans.

At an Qisheng's place, Zhang Shan had to complete all sorts of ridiculous tasks in order to repair the three God-level accessories.

Just the gold spent had cost Zhang Shan a few hundred million.

NPCs like Ji Xiling were still the best.

He didn't even charge them, he was simply too tired.

However, after Ji Xiling finished forging the boots, he did not even wait for Zhang Shan to say anything and asked him to leave?

this can't do.

Zhang Shan had more than one divine weapon mold.

Although he had finished forging the Ziwei boots, he still had two other God-tier equipment molds.

He had to find Ji Ling to forge the leather armor for the agility system, and no one else could.

How could Zhang Shan leave just like that?

At the very least, he had to activate the next divine weapon mission first.

Zhang Shan received the God equipment boots. He did not check its attributes, but kept it in his bag.

Then, he took out another divine weapon mold from his backpack, the purple Wei divine armor (agility).

Zhang Shan held the mold and continued to speak to Ji Xiling.

“Hello, I still need to forge a divine weapon.”

Divine craftsman Ji Xiling took the mold and looked at it. Then, he handed Zhang Shan a piece of paper and said mechanically.

“collect all the materials on the list and come to me.”

zhang shan received the note and happily opened the mission panel to check.

On the mission panel, there was a new mission, which was still to collect materials.

Furthermore, the materials required for this mission were even more than the materials for the boots.

There were more than 300 items.

However, Zhang Shan was not flustered.

It didn't matter if he asked for more. He was already mentally prepared for this.

It would just take a little more time.

As long as the mission was activated, it would be fine.

Zhang Shan kept the mission panel, and then directly cast a teleport back to the city.

After returning to Dangyang city, Zhang Shan hurriedly opened his backpack and took out the newly made purple boots to check.

Just now, in order to activate the material task of the crape myrtle armor, he had not taken a good look at this newly made divine artifact.

[purple boots (celestial): defense +1200, health points +70000, agility +600]

Equipment level (sealed): currently level 70. Godly equipment will be unsealed as the player's level increases. It will be unsealed once every ten levels.

[class requirement: Hunter. Durability: never worn out.] bound to player six-barreled bodhisattva, can not be dropped.

[special effect 1, extreme wind: increase movement speed by 10%.]

[special effect 2: life surge: increases health point recovery speed by 10%.]

[special effect 3: harden: increase defense by 10%.]

[special effect 4, Holy Strike: when attacking, there is a chance to trigger the effect of the Holy Strike.]

Ignores Target's Defense and deals 10x damage. 1% chance of triggering.

After seeing the attributes and special effects of The Purple Rose boots, although Zhang Shan already knew the result, he still could not help but shake his head.

Previously, many big shots had already forged various divine artifacts through the divine artifact mold.

On the equipment ranking, Zhang Shan could see the attributes of other people's divine weapons.

However, after looking at the attributes of his Purple Rose boots, Zhang Shan was still a little disappointed.

A defensive divine weapon was still a little less interesting than an offensive divine weapon.

There was no need to mention the attributes.

The 70,000 hp increase was still somewhat useful.

As for the 1200 defense, Zhang Shan did not care about it at all.

He was just a fragile little hunter, why would he need to defend?

Moreover, in the game new world, unless the defense attribute was high enough, it was not of much use.

It couldn't offset much damage.

Apart from increasing defense and HP, the purple Star Boots also added 600 agility.

Seeing this, Zhang Shan was especially unhappy.

It was also a level 70 godly item. Weapons and accessories added 1200 agility.

Why did the boots only add 600?

What the f * ck, a 50% discount, that was a bit of nonsense.

However, the defensive divine weapons that everyone had forged were all like this.

Whether it was boots, clothes, helmet, wrist guards, etc.

All defensive divine artifacts had less attribute increases than offensive divine artifacts of the same level.

If the Violetgrass boots' attributes were just a bit weaker, then it wouldn't matter.

It was a defensive equipment to begin with, so its attributes were not worth looking forward to.

However, the four special effects of this pair of Purple Rose boots were also ordinary. This made Zhang Shan very disappointed.

Sigh, I'll just make do with it. I can't expect too much.

Actually, Zhang Shan knew.

the attributes and special effects of the defensive artifacts of all classes were almost the same.

There were almost all kinds of defensive divine weapons on the equipment list. After all, the divine weapon mold had been available for quite some time.

The big shots from all walks of life could at least get a few divine artifacts.

After everyone's summary.

the defensive divine weapons of different classes had different attributes, except for the main attributes.

In terms of health points and defense, they were completely the same.

as for the special effects, everyone had also made a conclusion.

It was roughly like that.

The special effect of the clothes was to increase defense, increase maximum health, mana recovery, and a Holy attack.

The special effect of the boots was to increase defense, HP recovery, movement speed, and Holy Strike.

The helmet's special effect was to increase defense, HP, magic, and Holy Strike.

The bracer's special effect was to increase defense, mana regeneration, attack speed, and Holy attack.

All the defensive artifacts that had appeared so far had the same special effects.

Zhang Shan had originally thought that he would be an exception.

however, he did not. he was just one of the general public, not the real son of the game.

Zhang Shan's violet boots were the same as everyone else's. There was nothing special about them.

to be honest, the four special effects of the purple star boots, other than movement speed and holy strike, were more or less useful.

As for the other two special effects, one increased defense and the other increased health recovery speed. Zhang Shan was not interested in them at all.

What's the point of having such a trashy special effect?

why would he increase his defense?

Why would he want to increase his HP recovery speed?

Zhang Shan was not a Guardian, he was just a fragile little hunter.

Of course.

Even though the purple Star Boots did not bring any surprise to Zhang Shan.

but zhang shan did not dwell on it too much.

no matter what, it was still a divine artifact.

At the very least, the durability of a divine artifact would never wear out. After he had a full set of divine artifacts, he would no longer need to repair his equipment.

Zhang Shan was not like that. His heart ached for the gold that he had to spend to repair his equipment.

Instead, he had to repair his equipment every day, which was very annoying.

Moreover, no matter how inferior a divine weapon was, it was still much stronger than a red equipment.

After Zhang Shan put on the purple Star Boots, his character's attributes had a certain increase.

Especially in terms of blood volume, it had increased by quite a bit.

The red boots from before did not increase health points at all.

after changing into the purple star boots, zhang shan's maximum health was almost 1.7 million.

The Purple Rose boots also added 600 agility.

As a divine weapon, it only added 600 points of agility, which was a little too little.

But at least it was much stronger than red equipment.

After changing into the zwei boots, Zhang Shan took a look at his character's attributes.

Checking attributes:

[character: Bodhisattva of six tubes]

[occupation: Hunter]

[title: human hero (equipped), nemesis of demons]

[merit points: 252361 (guerrilla general)]

[level: 70]

[HP: 1689546]

[mp: 58300]

[physical attack: 78045-81099]

[strength: 3412]

[agility: 10046]

[intelligence: 3412]

[defense: 6982]

luck: 9

[Endowment: King of passive (every time you kill a monster, there is a chance to randomly obtain a passive skill from the monster. The chance of triggering it is one in a million.)]

Skill

Zhang Shan took a look at his character's stats. He could not help but shake his head.

Having an additional piece of divine equipment did not help him much.

Other than his health points and defense, there were not many changes to his attributes.

Its attack power had only increased by less than 1000.

Sigh, it seemed that if he wanted to increase his strength in the future, he could only rely on passive skills.

In terms of equipment, no matter how hard he worked, there would not be much room for improvement.

Zhang Shan thought.

Perhaps his strength had already reached a bottleneck.

Unless he reached level 80 and the divine weapon on him was unsealed again.

Otherwise, it would be impossible to improve his strength by leaps and bounds.

However, it was easier said than done to reach rank 80.

This time, they were able to level up so quickly because of a Dungeon Scroll.

Instance dungeon scrolls like the demonic lair pass were rare items that could only be found by luck.

He didn't know how long he would have to wait before he could get another scroll like this.

However, Zhang Shan did not hesitate for too long.

It didn't matter.

Even if it was difficult for him to improve his strength, he was still a few levels stronger than the other players.

After all, it was the same for everyone. If his strength did not improve, the other players would not improve much either.

Moreover, he also had the passive King talent, which could increase his strength by constantly grinding passive skills.

As long as he had enough passive skills, even if Zhang Shan was wearing a full set of novice equipment, he could still dominate the world.

This was Zhang Shan's unique advantage.

Even if he managed to get a full set of divine equipment in the future, he could still rely on farming passive skills to improve his strength.

Compared to other players, Zhang Shan's growth had no upper limit.

As long as the monster still had passive skills to farm, he could grow infinitely.

This was something that other players could not compare to.

Chapter 555 Purple Star power and God Power

After getting a pair of celestial boots, Zhang Shan did not relax and continued to farm.

The next divine weapon mold, the Zi Wei divine armor's material quest, had been activated.

He had to farm more than 300 materials.

This was only the second item. There was still a helmet and two wrist guards.

zhang shan thought.

If he wanted to obtain a complete set of divine artifacts and equipment, he had a long way to go.

He had to speed up.

Otherwise, he really didn't know how long it would take him to get all these divine weapons and equipment.

in the following time, zhang shan began to go around collecting materials. other than the monster siege event and the demon-suppressing dais instance dungeon that happened once a week.

Zhang Shan did not do anything else.

He was focused on collecting materials.

Every day, he would go online to collect materials and then go offline to sleep.

The next day, he continued to farm.

it repeated day after day.

Even when the big bosses in the Guild sometimes gathered together to fight a BOSS, Zhang Shan didn't really want to go.

As long as it was a BOSS that others could defeat, Zhang Shan did not participate.

Other than those powerful bosses, no one else would be able to defeat them without him.

Then there was no other way. Even if Zhang Shan did not want to go, he had to go and take the hit. He could not just watch as there was a BOSS and not fight.

.....

Zhang Shan was focused on collecting the materials for the mission. One by one, the materials were slowly collected by him.

a divine weapon was slowly being forged.

Two months later, Zhang Shan had obtained the materials for the first divine weapon wristguard. Then, he sent it to Ji Xiling of the East, preparing to forge the divine weapon.

As long as he could forge this wrist guard, he would be able to create a full set of divine weapons.

During this period of time, the other big shots in the game had also continuously forged many divine artifacts.

Although these divine weapons were all defensive equipment, they were all very powerful.

As for attack-type divine weapons, there were almost no additional ones.

Compared to a divine weapon mold, a divine weapon quest item was more difficult to obtain.

There were about four to five hundred divine weapons on the entire equipment ranking.

The main reason was that during the spring Festival, a large number of godly beast Kings were killed by the big shots from all over the world, and they dropped many God-level weapon molds.

After a period of completing missions, the big shots had already forged the divine weapon molds in their hands into divine weapons one after another.

Of course.

This was the only divine weapon mold that the other players had.

It would not be easy for them to get another set of divine weapon molds after they had digested all of them.

After this period of experience, everyone knew that if they wanted to get a divine weapon mold, they could only rely on killing bosses with real names.

As for the other bosses, they did not drop anything at all.

In the demon lair instance dungeon, Zhang Shan and the rest had killed thousands of red bosses, but not a single divine weapon mold had dropped.

it could be seen how hard it was to get this thing.

If even a red boss did not drop it, then other bosses and monsters would not even be able to.

However, it wasn't that easy to defeat a real-name boss.

Not to mention the fact that a real-name boss was not easy to deal with, the key was that there was no real-name boss, so everyone could fight it.

In addition to the monthly monster siege event, where seven real-name bosses would appear at a steady rate.

At other times, if they wanted to fight a real-name boss, they could only search the Heaven's Gate map, which was like looking for a needle in a haystack.

but in reality, they could only find a few.

There were so many players in the game, but the few bosses that appeared occasionally were not enough to fight.

Those big Shot players' initial desire for divine artifacts slowly became Buddhist.

It wasn't that they didn't want the divine equipment, but there weren't that many real-name bosses for them to fight.

if they did not fight a real-name BOSS, they would not drop any divine-level items.

He felt helpless.

Zhang Shan and the others were still fine. In the monster siege event every month, the wind and cloud Guild could steadily snatch a real-name BOSS.

As long as they had their eyes on a target, no one would dare to snatch it from Zhang Shan.

Even the iron-headed domineering King had become cowardly.

Subjugator was no longer the same as before. Every time he saw someone from wind and cloud Guild, he would charge at them like a Mad Dog.

...

Now, when Subjugator saw the people from wind and cloud Guild, he just calmly ran away, not daring to cause any trouble at all.

Especially when Zhang Shan was around, the domineering King did not even have the desire to make a move.

After so many setbacks, the domineering King had become more honest, no longer the iron-headed boy from before.

Perhaps it was because of the two failed world wars that subjugated him. He no longer wanted to have any disputes with the wind cloud Guild.

It was likely that the domineering King had already thought it through and wanted to develop in a sneaky manner.

Otherwise, the once second Guild might have been knocked down from the altar.

.....

the other players could not get new god weapon molds, and the big shots in the wind and cloud guild could not get many.

In addition to the monthly monster siege event, which allowed them to kill a real-name boss.

At other times, the wind and cloud Guild could not find any additional real-name bosses.

When everyone was free, they would look around.

...

There were even people who went through the West Gate of wind Cloud City to search the demon territory.

They were thinking that if they couldn't find a real-name BOSS, they would go to the demon City.

according to past experience, there would definitely be a BOSS with a real name in the demon city.

Moreover, after taking down the demon City, they would have to face another wave of monster attacks.

That way, there would still be a BOSS with a real name, and there might be more than one.

Just like the previous monster attack on wind Cloud City, there were several bosses with real names.

Unfortunately, after a period of searching, they did not find a new Demon City.

because the demons outside the west gate of wind cloud city were too fierce, they could not even move an inch after leaving the west gate.

The demons there were all at least level 80.

even though the players 'abilities had greatly improved during this period of time.

Many of the Big Shot players had already reached level 50, and some of them even had divine equipment.

Even so, they still couldn't go far in the demon territory outside the West Gate of wind Cloud City.

Not only were the demonic monsterlings there high-level, but there were also many of them.

These monsters were all very aggressive.

As long as one was lured over, it would be easy to attract a large group.

If he acted there, he might just die.

Probably only Zhang Shan and his friends, those who had reached level 70, could go there and try.

The rest of the people could not stand in the demon territory outside the West of wind Cloud City.

It was a pity that Zhang Shan had been farming for quest materials and forging God equipment all this time.

He had no interest in finding the demonic city or the real-name BOSS.

He didn't lack anything anyway, so there was no need to waste that effort.

As for the other four companions, it was almost the same.

Previously, his companions had also been doing missions and forging divine weapons.

Currently, wind and cloud blade, following me, and little fairy had already created four divine weapons.

Boss Wu had also made three godly items. No one had much interest in finding a real-name BOSS.

Everyone was thinking of digesting the God tool mold in their hands first.

However, in the past two months, the molds for divine weapons in everyone's hands had basically been successfully forged into divine weapons.

in addition to boss wu, who had a divine weapon mold in his hands and was doing a task.

The other three companions didn't have any more divine weapon molds.

Yesterday, the little fairy was still shouting, asking Zhang Shan to accompany them to find a boss to fight.

However, Zhang Shan ignored her.

He was about to finish collecting the materials for the quest. How could he give up halfway and go find the boss?

Even if he was going to find the boss, he would have to wait until he had forged the divine weapon.

.....

after zhang shan handed the materials to the divine craftsman ji xiling, he waited quietly at the side.

After forging a few divine weapons here, Zhang Shan already knew that Ji Xiling, the divine craftsman, did not like to talk.

Or rather, he didn't like to communicate with players.

This divine craftsman was just like a tool.

It was just a tool for forging divine artifacts.

Sometimes, even if Zhang Shan said a few more words, Ji Xiling would chase him away.

Therefore, after Zhang Shan submitted the mission and handed the materials to Ji Xiling, he waited patiently and left after the divine weapon was completed.

After about ten minutes, an exquisite wrist guard slowly appeared on the operating table.

The divine craftsman Ji Xiling took the divine bracer off the console and handed it to Zhang Shan.

"The divine weapon is done. You can go."

Every time he heard this, Zhang Shan would be a little speechless.

This divine craftsman was too cold and aloof. He chased people away after forging the divine weapon.

Zhang Shan wanted to stay where he was, but he could not even check the attributes of the divine weapon.

All defensive artifacts had the same attributes and special effects, so there was nothing to see.

However, this was still a newly created artifact.

Everyone couldn't help but want to admire it.

Unfortunately, Ji Xiling did not do so. He gave Zhang Shan the chance and waved him off.

Zhang Shan knew the temper of this divine craftsman boss, so he did not say any more nonsense. Instead, he directly cast a channel to return to the city.

After returning to Dangyang city, Zhang Shan took out the newly forged divine wrist guard and took a look.

As expected, there was nothing special about it. It was exactly the same as the divine bracer that he had forged before.

After looking at the attributes of the divine bracer.

Zhang Shan shook his head, and then prepared to put on the divine wrist guard.

No matter what, he had finally gathered a full set of divine artifacts.

When Zhang Shan changed into the last divine wrist guard.

system announcements kept coming and going, filling the entire game.

≪ system announcement: congratulations to player six-barreled Bodhisattva for successfully forging a complete set of zwei equipment set. Set attribute, power of zwei, has been activated. ≫

As the first player in the New World to activate the power of crepe myrtle, he was rewarded with all attributes +100.

≪ system announcement: congratulations to player six-barreled Bodhisattva for successfully collecting a full set of divine equipment. The set attribute, divine power, has been activated. ≫

As the first player to activate the power of God in the New World, he was rewarded with +100 to all attributes.

≪ system announcement: as player six-barreled Bodhisattva is the first to collect a full set of divine equipment, reward: ruins entry pass X5 >

[system announcement: as there are players who have gathered a full set of divine equipment, the game will open the advanced mechanism of divine equipment.]

Players can use the saint's relic to upgrade the divine weapon. For more details, please check the official website announcement.

≪ system announcement: new map, ruins city, has been opened. Players can use the ruins entry pass to enter the ruins city. ≫ the monsters in the city of the ruins had a chance of dropping a saint's relic.

The series of system announcements left all the players in the game dumbfounded.

Not to mention the other players, even Zhang Shan himself was stunned by these system announcements.

He could not help but swear when he saw the system announcements flooding in.

f * ck, do you have to make such a big commotion? this is too f * cking exaggerated.

There were five consecutive system announcements. Zhang Shan was a little stunned and could not react in time.

However, he quickly cleared his head.

These five system announcements were two things in total.

One was that Zhang Shan had activated two more set attributes. After completing the set of divine artifacts, he had activated one of the attributes.

After obtaining the entire set of crape myrtle equipment, another set attribute was activated.

If he were to calculate it this way, in addition to the power of the sky Eagle King from before, Zhang Shan now had a total of three set attributes.

the other thing was that after zhang shan had gathered the full set of divine artifacts, the system had opened up the divine artifact advancement mechanism.

Everyone could use the relic pass to enter the city of the ruins. As long as they could get a saint's relic, they would be able to upgrade the artifact.

As for the specifics, he would have to go to the official website and read the announcement to know.

Also, he didn't know where to get the pass to the ruins.

in any case, the system had rewarded zhang shan with five legacy site passes. he could probably enter the city of the ruins five times.

If he used up all five passes and still wanted to go to the city of ruins to farm for more saint's relics ...

He had to find a way to get a pass to the ruins.

The continuous system announcements explained one thing.

that was, god-tier equipment was not the highest level equipment in the game. there were equipment that were even more impressive than god-tier equipment.

Perhaps it wasn't right to say that. Perhaps the divine artifacts everyone had were only initial divine artifacts.

It was possible that these divine artifacts could be further strengthened.

As for how strong a divine weapon could be?

Could it be strengthened into a Saint weapon? I don't know yet.

Of course.

These were only Zhang Shan's speculations. As for what exactly was going on, he still had to go to the official website and look at the announcement to know.

After the system announcement was spammed, the entire game was in an uproar.

The world Channel:

Holy F * ck, what's going on? why are there so many system announcements all of a sudden? "

f * ck, Big Boss six is up to something. He suddenly made such a big news.

f * ck, I didn't even see a single divine artifact, and the six-barreled boss actually gathered a full set of divine artifacts. How can he let me live? "

"Don't be silly. Can you compare to the six-barreled boss? We're playing a different game from the six-barreled boss. We're playing the original game, which is super difficult. Six-barreled boss might be playing on a private server, 999 for one?"

haha, 999 Yuan for one slash. Do you have to be so exaggerated? " that's about it. Everyone else has a full set of divine equipment, but I'm just a little loser. I don't even have a full set of red equipment.

I don't even have a full set of orange equipment, let alone a full set of red equipment. I even have a few pieces of purple equipment on me. What the f * ck.

"Brother, you're too weak. You can't even get orange equipment? Spend money to buy it at the auction house. Orange equipment is cheap, only a few hundred gold coins each."

"F * ck, you make it sound so easy. Aren't a few hundred gold coins money? It's enough for me to eat instant noodles for half a month."

"I say, why are you all crying here? Was there any use in crying? Hurry up and go farm some monsters. Who knows, you might be able to get a God tool mold."

"In your dreams? After such a long time, has anyone managed to get a divine weapon mold by killing monsters?"

nonsense. No one has ever dropped a divine weapon mold even when fighting a red BOSS, let alone killing small monsters. All the divine weapon molds are dropped by real-name bosses and divine beast Kings.

"Sigh, a real-name BOSS is such a high and mighty thing, it's not fated to be with us. Let's not talk about not being able to find the BOSS, even if we did, we wouldn't be able to defeat it. " the main thing is that we can't find it. As for whether we can beat it, that's not a problem. At most, we can just call more people and use the human wave tactic to overwhelm the BOSS.

"Nonsense, that's a real name BOSS, how can you kill it with numbers? I'm afraid you don't know how powerful a real-name BOSS is."

even if we use numbers, that's the big shots 'problem. How many people can we, the nobodies, call? " the man above is right. We ordinary players shouldn't think about divine weapons. We'll have a lot of fun as long as we put on a set of red equipment.

"sigh, it's not easy to get red equipment."

“Indeed, this game is really difficult to play.”

“It’s just one aspect. If everyone is having a hard time, then it’s nothing. The point is that it’s not difficult for others, but six-barreled Bodhisattva has a full set of divine artifacts. Is it difficult for him?”

” let’s not talk about it anymore. i’ll cry if i say more. i’d better go to the official website and look at the details of the announcement. ”

What are you looking at? you don’t even have a divine weapon, so why are you looking at the announcement? what does the advancement of a divine weapon have to do with us? ”

“that’s the patent of the big shots.”

that’s right. It feels like we’re in a different world from the big shots even though we’re playing the same game.

I’d better go to the official website and look at the announcement. Maybe I can get a divine weapon in the future, hehe.

“Brother, you have ambition.”

“When you sleep at night, put your pillow higher. You’ll have all kinds of dreams.”

Hmph, even if you don’t have a divine weapon, you can still go and see the announcement. Goodbye.

after the announcement, everyone logged into the game’s official website to check the details of the announcement about the advancement of the divine weapon.

however, zhang shan did not do so. he was in a hurry to check the announcement on the official website.

At this moment, he was looking at the attributes of his equipment set.

the continuous announcements just now had left zhang shan a little confused.

Only then did he react. He wanted to take a look at the attributes of these two new sets and see what they were before he thought about anything else.

Zhang Shan opened his equipment panel to take a look.

He saw that the nine pieces of godly equipment on his body were all shining with an inexplicable light.

The different divine artifacts shone with each other.

On the equipment panel, Zhang Shan found two new set attributes.

[power of Purple Star: increase defense by 10%, increase maximum health by 10%, increase health regeneration by 10%, increase mana regeneration by 10%]

[divine power: increases attack power by 10%, damage by 10%, attack speed by 10%, maximum health by 10%]

It felt good.

Looking at the attributes of these two sets, Zhang Shan only had one word in his heart.

And that was, it felt good.

All sorts of 10% increase made his heart inexplicably comfortable.

Other than the bonuses that were not of much use to him.

In total, these two sets of attributes had increased Zhang Shan's maximum health by 20%.

Attack power and attack speed increase by 10% each.

As for defense and health regeneration, Zhang Shan did not care much about them.

Anyway, these three items were not of much use to him.

Although he had a lot of HP and was more like a meat shield than The Guardian, he was still a player.

however, zhang shan's route was not a meatshield.

He walked the stance output style.

the damage output was explosive.

Although there were a few useless buffs, these two set attributes were still very powerful.

The increase in his health, attack power, and attack speed had greatly increased his strength.

after obtaining a full set of divine weapons, zhang shan's current strength was already a little exaggerated.

Although the defensive equipment did not help Zhang Shan much.

however, there were too many of them.

The five defensive artifacts added together still allowed Zhang Shan's strength to have an obvious growth.

In particular, his health points had been greatly enhanced.

Not to mention, there were two additional set attributes.

the powerful attributes of a set equipment were not much weaker than a divine weapon.

Chapter 556 Just to take a look at the demonic god after getting all the defensive artifacts, zhang shan's strength had improved.

Especially in terms of health points, the increase was huge.

This was because every defensive artifact gave him 70000 HP, and the purple Star godly armor also had a special effect that increased his maximum HP by 10%.

In addition, Zhang Shan still had a few passive skills that increased his health limit.

Under the support of various aspects, Zhang Shan's current HP was indeed ridiculously high.

As for its attack power, it was not much stronger.

&Nbsp; after all, these defensive divine artifacts barely enhanced their offensive power.

It was just that each divine weapon added 600 points of agility.

However, with the addition of divine power attribute equipment set attributes, it was very different.

Divine power increases attack power and damage by 10%.

These two attributes would greatly increase Zhang Shan's damage ability.

Looking at the attributes of these two sets, Zhang Shan was very happy.

he didn't even know how strong he was now, but he was very strong.

Zhang Shan felt that he had already walked further and further on the path of invincibility.

He first looked at the character's attributes.

checking attributes:

[character: Bodhisattva of six tubes]

[occupation: hunter]

[title: human hero (equipped), nemesis of demons]

[merit points: 252361 (guerrilla general)]

[level: 73]

[HP: 2730410]

[MP: 58600]

[physical attack: 88396-91803]

[strength: 3418]

[agility: 11924]

[intelligence: 3418]

[defense: 21648]

Luck: 9

[Endowment: King of passive (every time you kill a monster, there is a chance to randomly obtain a passive skill from the monster. The chance of triggering it is one in a million.)]

Looking at his character's attributes, Zhang Shan could not help but feel a little intoxicated.

he was too f * cking strong.

In particular, his health points were ridiculously high.

Zhang Shan's current health points had already reached more than 2.7 million.

If Zhang Shan were to activate the skill, his health points would be over five million.

What kind of concept was this?

One had to know that the health points of the ordinary players were still in the tens of thousands.

There were not many players with 100000 health points in the game.

Even the veteran players only had a little over 100000 HP, let alone the ordinary players.

A small number of Big Shot players with defensive artifacts might have higher health points.

There might be two to three hundred thousand.

But that was it. Two hundred thousand was nothing compared to Zhang Shan's 2.7 million.

of course.

There were also some powerful Guardian classes in the game that had more than 500000 HP. It was possible.

For example, the God of War Li Jing.

After two months of growth, his maximum HP would definitely have exceeded 500000.

However, there were only a few of such people in the game.

A normal Big Shot player's health points would not exceed 200000.

This was especially true for the bosses who played fragile professions. It was difficult for their health points to exceed 200000.

It was scary just thinking about it.

zhang shan was also a fragile little hunter.

However, his HP had actually reached over 2700000, while the others were still struggling for 200000 HP.

...

And this was a big Shot player.

As for the ordinary players, they were even worse off.

other than the fact that his health had reached an exaggerated value, zhang shan's attack power had also been greatly enhanced.

Even though it was just a few more defensive divine weapons.

Logically speaking, a defensive artifact should have been given to Zhang Shan. It would not be able to add much to the attack.

However, Zhang Shan had all sorts of passive skills and special effects that could increase attack power by a percentage.

With the support of these special effects, even if these defensive artifacts only gave him a few hundred points of agility, he would not be able to use them.

However, all of them added together could give him 3000 to 4000 attack power.

Of course, the most important thing was that Zhang Shan had activated the attributes of the divine power equipment set.

This set attribute had increased Zhang Shan's attack power by another 10%.

Originally, Zhang Shan's attack power was already more than 80000.

...

This was another 10% increase. Wouldn't that mean that Zhang Shan's attack power had increased by more than 8000 for no reason?

Then, he added the equipment's agility attribute.

under the support of various factors, zhang shan's current panel attack power had reached more than 90000.

If he were to include the double effect of the killer book, his actual attack now had already exceeded 180000.

Other than that, Zhang Shan also had seven special effects that increased damage, passive skills, and titles.

If that was the case, Zhang Shan could only rely on himself and did not need boss Wu's attack blessing.

The theoretical damage he had dealt was almost 320000.

If boss Wu's blessed attack was included, the total damage was close to 380000.

Such high damage was terrifying.

Zhang Shan could not believe it. Was he that strong now?

it didn't feel real.

Zhang Shan looked at his powerful character's attributes and instantly felt a little smug.

He felt that with his current strength, he should have no problem challenging a Demon God.

the demon god was definitely level 100, which was more than 20 levels higher than his current level.

The level suppression was a little too strong.

However, it was fine. Zhang Shan felt that even if he could not defeat the godfiend, at least he could escape safely.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan could not help but feel his heart burn.

Since the start of the game, no player had dared to challenge the demon God.

In reality, there was no need to talk about challenging the demon God. In fact, no player had ever seen the demon God.

Even though everyone knew that there was a fiendcelestial existing outside each of the seven great capital cities and the East and West capital cities.

As for the demonic gods, it was unknown which city gate they were at or how far they were from the city gates.

This was because no player had ever seen a Demon God.

it was as if the demonic god only lived in everyone's thoughts.

it was not that the players did not have the spirit of exploration.

In fact, at the start of the game, there were many players who wanted to see what the demon God looked like.

it was just that everyone's upper health limit was very low.

As soon as they stepped out of the gates of the capital, they would fall to the ground for no reason and die before they saw the devil.

No one had the chance to see the demonic God's appearance.

if it wasn't for the players who were killed by the demon god and checking the battle information, they would have died.

They still didn't know what had killed them.

At the start of the game, there were still many players who would occasionally go out of the capital city to try and see what the demon God looked like.

After all, in the beginning, everyone's levels were not high, so even if they died and lost a level, they would not feel bad.

Anyway, he could get it back very quickly.

However, as everyone's level increased, Zhang Shan had not heard of any players leaving the Imperial City to seek death for a long time.

So far, no one even knew what the demon God looked like, what attributes and skills it had.

zhang shan felt that he could give it a try.

Even if he could not defeat the demon God, he could at least test out the demon God's attributes and skills.

At most, he would find the demon God, fire a few shots, check the demon God's attributes and skills, and then run away.

Could it be that the godfiend could kill him instantly?

That was impossible.

Zhang Shan's current HP was more than 2.7 million, if he activated the God's descent skill.

That would be more than five million HP.

It would be ridiculous if he was killed by the demon God with his high HP.

If that was the case, how would everyone be able to defeat the demonic god in the future?

It couldn't be said that the nine demon gods couldn't be killed by players in this game and were just background characters, right?

Zhang Shan felt that this should not be the case.

He wanted to give it a try.

He did as he thought.

Zhang Shan's heart was burning. He was not even interested in going to the official website to check the announcement regarding the advancement of the divine weapon.

He only wanted to see the demonic god.

Zhang Shan used the positioning Pearl and teleported to the Chu country.

he had always left a set of coordinates in the royal city of chu state.

After all, he had to come over every day to train his Mount. If he didn't leave the coordinates, wouldn't it be quite troublesome?

Furthermore, he would have to pay 100 gold coins for teleporting to the capital.

Zhang Shan had the positioning Pearl, and it was very convenient.

After being teleported to the royal city of Chu, Zhang Shan opened the map and checked the terrain of the royal city.

Speaking of which, he had been to the royal city of Chu country countless times.

However, Zhang Shan really did not have any. The insurance fee had already checked the terrain here.

Because to Zhang Shan, there was nothing worth paying attention to here.

normally, there were only two reasons for zhang shan to come to the palace.

One of them was to train his Mount, and the other was to fight a country war.

other than these two matters, zhang shan would not come to the palace.

there were no wild monsters, bosses, or even quest npcs in the imperial city.

Why would he pay attention to this?

However, today, Zhang Shan would have to observe the terrain of the Chu country's capital on the map.

He wanted to go out of the city to see the demonic god.

If Zhang Shan remembered correctly, it was the ninth Demon God outside the Chu Kingdom's Royal City.

there were a total of nine demonic gods in the demonic race. the one in chu was ranked ninth, perhaps the weakest one.

However, no matter how weak a Demon God was, they would definitely not be simple.

zhang shan was looking forward to finding the godfiend and exchanging a few moves with him.

As for blowing up a Demon God?

such thoughts only circled in zhang shan's mind for a moment before disappearing.

it wasn't the time yet. he had to wait until he leveled up.

when he reached level 80, he should be there.

It was still early, and Zhang Shan's current level had just reached level 73.

In the past two months, he had been grinding for mission materials on The Map of Heaven's Gate.

Although collecting mission materials was also considered killing monsters.

however, the efficiency of such an upgrade was too low.

as for zhang shan, after grinding for more than two months, he had only gained two levels.

.....

Zhang Shan carefully examined the map.

Only then did he realize that the royal city of Chu State only had three city gates-the East, West, and South gates. There was no North Gate.

The number of gates in the capital city was not even as many as the sub-cities.

Dangyang city still had four city gates.

but this was normal.

Zhang Shan took a close look at the city's terrain.

He found that there was a huge Palace in the north of the city, which took up more than half of the city wall.

Therefore, it was impossible to set up a city gate in the north of the city.

Zhang Shan looked in the direction of the three city gates.

Which city gate was the ninth Demon God outside?

Zhang Shan hoped that once he left the city, he would be able to find the godfiend.

Otherwise, while he was outside the city, even if he didn't see the demon God, he would still lose HP continuously.

It was similar to the mechanism of the demon God's will skill.

furthermore, this was the ninth demon god, so the damage it could deal was much stronger than the demon god's will skill.

Although Zhang Shan's HP was high, he could not keep searching outside the city.

He estimated that with the ninth Demon God's damage, he would not be able to hold on for long. He would have to run back to the city to recover his HP and rest.

Therefore, it would be best to find the right city gate. As long as he left the city, he would be able to find the demon God. That would be the best.

Unfortunately, after looking at the map for a long time, Zhang Shan still could not figure it out.

on the map, zhang shan could not even tell which direction the demon god would appear in.

Zhang Shan closed the map and felt a little depressed.

Since it was on the map, he could not tell where the ninth Demon God was.

Then he could only search in all three city gates.

zhang shan first teleported to the east gate.

The people of the Blue Planet preferred the East. When they had good things, they would usually appear in the East.

Zhang Shan felt that the ninth Demon God would most likely appear at the East Gate.

Of course.

This was just Zhang Shan's guess.

As for whether it was true or not, only the heavens knew.

Zhang Shan took out a positioning Pearl and marked the coordinates of the city gate.

he had not come to look for mo shen on impulse. he had seriously considered it.

Other than his 2.7 million HP, which could guarantee his safety ...

There was another point, the positioning ball.

With the positioning Pearl, when Zhang Shan was outside the city, he could retreat back into the city at any time.

He searched outside the city for a while, but he couldn't find the demon God. His health bar was almost empty.

zhang shan also had a safe way out. he could use the positioning pearl to teleport back.

The teleportation of the positioning ball could be triggered instantly and could not be interrupted, so it was very safe.

After everything was prepared, Zhang Shan rode on the red Hare and prepared to charge out from the East Gate of the Chu capital.

There was one thing that Zhang Shan found very strange.

Since the demonic god was blocking the way outside the city, why was the city gate not closed but left open for a long time?

Weren't they afraid that the demonic gods would directly attack the capital?

In addition, the number of NPCs in the royal city of Chu State was not too high.

Zhang Shan had not seen these NPCs. Someone had entered and exited.

Since no one was going in and out, then what was the point of opening the city gates?

Could it be that it was specially reserved for players to go out and die?

Zhang Shan could not help but make a malicious guess.

of course.

to zhang shan, of course, it would be better if the city gates were open.

If the gates of the capital were closed, how was he going to go out and find the demonic god?

If the city gates were really closed, then the demon gods outside the city would really just be a background board, not a boss for players to take down.

.....

Zhang Shan rode on the red Hare and quickly rushed out of the city.

The moment he stepped out of the city gate, Zhang Shan saw that his HP was slowly decreasing.

No, it should be said that it was rapidly falling.

Zhang Shan looked at the damage values that kept appearing above his head.

-200000,-200000,-200000?

F * ck, this damage is so f * cking scary.

200,000 HP per second?

The ninth Demon God was too powerful.

Zhang Shan had yet to see the true face of the demon God, and his own HP had already dropped by nearly a million.

Although he had long known that the demon God had such a damage mechanism.

However, when Zhang Shan truly felt this kind of damage, he still could not understand.

the ninth demon god was too powerful.

Zhang Shan was a little hesitant.

He was afraid that he would not be able to withstand such a powerful Demon God.

If it was a damage of 200000 per second, it would be fine.

As long as he didn't seek death, he could just use the positioning ball to teleport back when he couldn't hold on any longer.

He wouldn't die at all.

He was afraid that when he really found the demonic god ...

In that case, he would have to face the damage of the demon God.

Although Zhang Shan did not know how much damage the ninth Demon God would cause, he was not sure.

however, before he even saw the demon god, he was already dealing 200000 damage per second.

the power of the ninth demon god was beyond zhang shan's imagination.

this was a little difficult to handle.

If Zhang Shan really found the ninth Demon God and was killed by the demon God, that would be a joke.

Of course.

This was just Zhang Shan's random thought.

He didn't really have any thoughts of backing out.

Zhang Shan did not think that the ninth Demon God, whom he had never met before, could kill him.

He was a man with two lives.

At worst, the ninth Demon God would take one life.

After he resurrected with his second Life, he would immediately use the locating Pearl to escape.

Zhang Shan did not believe that he would be held back by the ninth Demon God.

That was impossible.

Zhang Shan had all sorts of trump cards. Thus, he was not the least bit worried about the powerful Demon God.

What he was at a loss about was where the ninth Demon God was and why he had not seen him.

Zhang Shan rushed out of the east City gate and searched outside the city for about ten seconds.

When he saw that his health bar was only left with a third, he decisively ran back.

since he couldn't find the godfiend, he had to run back.

Zhang Shan did not. He used the positioning Pearl to teleport back to the city.

That was only his last resort to save his life, and he didn't want to use it now.

Even though Zhang Shan's health bar was only left with a third.

But Zhang Shan was sure that he would be able to return to the city safely.

The demon God's full-map damage was indeed 200000 per second.

However, this did not mean that Zhang Shan's health bar would permanently lose 200000 per second.

Zhang Shan himself could also regenerate health.

Even though there was no support to heal him, he didn't kill monsters to suck blood.

But Zhang Shan himself also had a health recovery mechanism.

in fact, every player had a certain hp recovery mechanism.

It was just that some players recovered their health slowly, while others recovered a little faster.

zhang shan belonged to the type of people who could recover health quickly.

Among his five defensive godly items, his boots and helmet had a HP recovery effect.

There was also the zwei equipment set's attribute, which also added a 10% HP recovery effect.

other than that, zhang shan also had a vitality passive skill, which was also a passive skill that increased the speed of recovery.

With the support of various health recovery mechanisms, Zhang Shan's own health recovery speed was not slow at all.

He took a closer look. Every time the ninth Demon God reduced his HP by 200000, he would recover another 50000 to 60000 HP.

In other words, Zhang Shan's recovery speed was about 50000 to 60000 per second.

This was a terrifying recovery speed.

With Zhang Shan's terrifying recovery speed, even if he stood still, the average player would not be able to kill him.

This was because the damage that other people dealt to Zhang Shan was not as fast as his health recovery speed.

If he wasn't surrounded by a group of people, he wouldn't have been able to die even if he wanted to.

The players could no longer kill him.

zhang shan felt that with such a fast recovery speed, he would not be able to recover his health.

Other than the special effects of his equipment and his passive skills, it might also be due to his high maximum health.

Otherwise, his HP recovery speed would not have been so fast.

It didn't make sense.

With the support of a powerful health regeneration ability, Zhang Shan's current health loss rate per second was only about 140000 to 150000.

Even so, the rate at which he was losing health was still terrifying.

however, zhang shan's maximum health was very high. at this rate of health loss, he could still move around outside the city for a short period of time.

Zhang Shan quickly ran back into the city.

He wandered around outside the city but did not find the ninth Demon God.

But Zhang Shan was not disheartened.

If the godfiend could be found so easily, then no one would have not seen the godfiend for such a long time.

It was obvious that the demonic god would not be near the city gate.

It should be somewhere far away from the city gate.

Zhang Shan retreated back into the city. After his health bar was full, he ran out of the city again.

Just like that, Zhang Shan searched back and forth a few times outside the East Gate of the palace, but he still did not see the demon God.

Zhang Shan carefully recalled the places he had searched outside the East City gate.

He was certain that he had already searched all the places he should have.

he also paid special attention to the red dot on the map.

According to the game's mechanics, as long as there were monsters nearby, a small red dot would appear on the minimap.

However, Zhang Shan had walked around the palace's East City gate a dozen times, and he had never seen the red dot on the mini-map.

Zhang Shan thought.

Perhaps the demonic god was in the other two directions and not at the East Gate?

forget it, i'll go to the south gate and look for him.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan immediately teleported to the South Gate and began to search for traces of the demon God.

However, it was a waste of time.

Zhang Shan had searched the entire area outside of the South City, but he could not find a trace of the ninth Demon God.

Fuck.

Zhang Shan could not help but curse.

The ninth Demon God could have appeared in the three city gates. Could he have saved the correct direction for the last?

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan could not help but feel depressed.

If he had known this would happen, he would have started searching from the West Gate.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan was very unhappy.

Forget it, let's not think too much. Let's continue to search at the West Gate.

In any case, he had already searched the East and South gates.

The only place he had yet to search was outside the West Gate.

Zhang Shan did not believe it.

Could it be that he could not find the ninth Demon God outside the West Gate?

If that was really the case, then it would be a ghost.

There were only three city gates in the entire Royal City of Chu State.

The ninth Demon God was not in the direction of the three city gates. Could he have appeared in the north of the city, where there were no gates?

There couldn't be such a ridiculous thing.

Chapter 557 The ninth Demon God lufasi

Zhang Shan searched everywhere outside the East and South gates of the Chu Kingdom's capital, but he could not find the ninth Demon God.

This made him very depressed.

Zhang Shan felt that his luck seemed to be a little too bad.

There were only three directions in total, so why did he have to wait until the end before he could choose the right direction?

it could only be said that he was really unlucky.

Forget it, they had already searched in two directions. It didn't matter if they searched in the last direction.

Let's continue searching.

Zhang Shan teleported to the direction of the Chu country's West City gate.

the ninth demon god should be here, right?

if they couldn't even find the demon god here, then it would really be like seeing a ghost.

Zhang Shan quickly rode his horse and rushed out of the city.

As he ran quickly outside the city, he carefully searched the surroundings.

Not only that, but Zhang Shan's eyes were also staring at the small map, anticipating a small red dot to appear on the map.

However, as Zhang Shan searched back and forth a few times outside the West City gate, he still did not see the ninth Demon God.

What was going on?

Where was the demonic god?

this was something that zhang shan could not accept.

What the hell was going on?

He had searched the East, South, and West, but he had not seen the ninth Demon God.

Could it be that the ninth Demon God was really in the north of the city?

Or could it be that the demonic god was actually not near the capital, but in a place far away?

After Zhang Shan returned to the city, he thought about it carefully for a while, but could not come up with a reason.

The royal city of Chu State was huge. The area outside the three city gates was not small either.

Zhang Shan opened the map and thought carefully.

He felt that he had not missed anything.

He had already swept through all the places outside these three city gates, at least once. He had even gone to some hidden places several times.

however, if they could not find the demonic god, then there was really no other way.

Could the ninth Demon God be in the north of the city?

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan subconsciously smacked his own head.

Was that even possible?

Could the demonic god appear in the north of the city?

there were no gates in the northern part of the capital.

If the demon God appeared in the north of the city, how could Zhang Shan make a detour to the north of the city?

When he had first arrived at the capital, Zhang Shan had not considered the possibility that the demonic god would appear in the north of the city.

that was because, in zhang shan's eyes, there was not even a city gate to the north of the city. how could the demon god spawn there?

this didn't make sense at all.

However, when Zhang Shan had searched all three city gates and still could not find the demonic god ... he had no choice but to think about the problem from the other side.

perhaps the ninth demon god was indeed in the north of the city.

After all, the Royal Palace of Chu State was also located in the north of the city.

Under normal circumstances, the King of Chu should be the most powerful NPC in the entire Chu country.

The palace should be facing the demon God.

An NPC in the royal city of Chu that could block the demonic god was definitely the King of Chu.

King Chu lived in the Royal Palace.

If the demonic god was not in the direction of the palace, how was King Chu going to stop him?

even if lord chu were to run in another direction, he would not make it in time.

Thinking about it this way.

The ninth Demon God's appearance in the north of the city was also a very reasonable thing.

Then the question was, did Zhang Shan still want to continue looking for the demon?

It was not easy to get to the north of the city, and there were no city gates there.

if zhang shan wanted to run there, he could only go out from the east and west gates, and then run around the city walls.

That would take a long time to reach the place.

...

After all, the royal city of Chu State was not a small city.

Even if Zhang Shan was riding on a Red Hare, and it was a trained Red Hare that was very fast.

However, it would take at least five minutes to run from the east or west Gate of the palace to the north of the city.

How was he going to stay outside the city for such a long time?

Although there were no wild monsters outside the Imperial City, the ninth Demon God's full-map damage was everywhere.

As long as he left the city, he would be injured by the ninth Demon God.

How was it possible for him to run from the East and West gates to the north of the city while enduring the damage from the demonic god?

It was completely impossible.

That's not right.

It wasn't really impossible.

If Zhang Shan had the patience, he could still safely run to the north of the city from the East and West gates.

...

He could use the positioning ball to teleport and run back to the city after a short while. He could teleport back when his health was full.

Just like that, they slowly approached the north of the city.

However, it would take a lot of time to do this.

After all, the teleportation of the positioning ball had a cooldown time.

every time they teleported, they had to wait for three minutes before they could teleport again.

Did he have to do it this way?

Zhang Shan was in a dilemma.

F * ck.

He had to do it.

After Zhang Shan considered for a while, he made up his mind. He had to go to the north of the city to take a look.

He was already here.

Furthermore, he had already spent quite some time searching in the direction of the three city gates. He was not lacking any more time.

It was not a good habit to give up halfway.

After making up his mind, Zhang Shan once again rushed out from the West Gate.

This time, he didn't look for any demon gods nearby. Instead, he headed north of the city.

When his health bar was only left with half, Zhang Shan immediately used the positioning Pearl to mark his current position. Then, he returned to the city.

he could not use the teleportation to return. he could only use the positioning bead when he was going over.

Otherwise, the cooldown time of the positioning ball would not be enough.

The positioning ball could only be used for a one-way trip.

He didn't care.

If he wanted to use the positioning ball to return, he would have to run over.

even though this was impossible.

After recovering to full health in the city, Zhang Shan teleported back to his previous position and continued to move towards the north of the city.

when he was at half health, zhang shan once again cast a recall.

just like that, every time the teleportation of the positioning ball cooled down, zhang shan would teleport over and continue to move towards the north of the city.

Zhang Shan spent more than half an hour using the positioning ball to continuously teleport.

After more than ten teleportations, they advanced toward the north of the city step by step.

As he neared the northern side of the city, Zhang Shan looked into the distance.

he saw a huge shadow in the distance.

'F * ck, is that the ninth Demon God?

Damn it, he finally saw what the demon God looked like.

Something was wrong.

actually, zhang shan did not see it clearly. he only saw a huge shadow.

However, Zhang Shan knew that it was definitely the ninth Demon God.

That aura was obviously extraordinary. It had to be a Demon God.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan was very excited.

Haha, he should be the first player to see the demon God in the game.

Zhang Shan quickly approached the shadow.

After another ten minutes, Zhang Shan used the positioning ball again and teleported back and forth two or three times.

he finally saw the demonic god's appearance clearly.

The ninth Demon God held a curved sickle in his hand. He stood there quietly, his huge figure covering the sky.

The scythe in the demonic God's hand moved silently, as if it could cut open the void.

Zhang Shan stood there in a daze. Looking at the gigantic ninth Demon God, he could not help but curse.

F * ck, this ninth Demon God was really impressive.

It didn't look like a boss that could be defeated by players.

F * ck, could this really be a background BOSS?

The kind that players could never kill?

Other than the eye-catching appearance of the demon God, Zhang Shan also saw the name of the demon God.

The ninth Demon God, lufasi.

endless flames rose from the ground around lufasi, turning everything around him into scorched earth.

Zhang Shan looked at the appearance of the ninth Demon God, lufasi, and then quickly used the screenshot function in the game to take a picture of this scene.

He planned to post this picture on the forum later.

Zhang Shan thought.

for such a cool ultimate BOSS, if zhang shan were to post a screenshot on the forum, it would definitely cause an uproar.

Just as Zhang Shan was observing the ninth Demon God, he suddenly realized that his health bar was almost empty again.

He quickly used the positioning ball to set the coordinates in his current position, and then quickly read the channel to return to the city.

When he returned to Dangyang city, Zhang Shan's health bar was only left with a sliver of health.

He couldn't help but take a deep breath when he saw his health bar.

F * ck, I was too careless. I almost died there.

Just now, he was so focused on the demon God's eye-catching appearance that he had forgotten to look at his own health bar.

That was f * cking close.

.....

Right now, Zhang Shan had already seen the appearance of the demon God. He even had a screenshot to save.

however, just taking a look wasn't enough.

Zhang Shan still wanted to exchange a few moves with the demon God.

However, seeing the godfiend's overbearing appearance, Zhang Shan felt a little lacking in confidence.

Originally, he thought that with his 2.7 million HP, he could completely dominate the game and go anywhere.

No matter if it was a player, a monster, or a BOSS, nothing could kill him in the game.

But now, it seemed that it was not quite possible.

The ninth Demon God, lufasi, had a huge figure and a huge sickle. He looked terrifying.

Zhang Shan felt that with his current health, he might not be able to survive a single strike from lufasi.

If he wanted to rush up and hit lufasi's Black gun, he would have to activate the skill [God's descent].

After activating the God's descent skill, Zhang Shan's HP could reach more than 5.5 million.

With such a high HP, the ninth Demon God lufasi couldn't possibly kill him in an instant.

If it was lufasi, Zhang Shan would have accepted it if he could deal five million damage with one slash.

If that was the case, Zhang Shan would not come and provoke the demon God until he reached the maximum level.

the ninth demon god should not be that perverted.

forget it, i'll try using my big move.

thinking up to this point, he waited for the teleportation function of the positioning ball to cool down.

Zhang Shan quickly activated his God's descent skill and teleported over.

without any hesitation, he charged at the ninth demon god while taking the damage.

he had to be fast.

otherwise, he would have been killed by the terrifying full-map damage before he could even get close to lufasi.

zhang shan rushed towards lufasi.

At this moment, the ninth Demon God lufasi finally noticed Zhang Shan, the little ant.

It waved the huge sickle in its hand and its huge figure turned around.

Zhang Shan did not mind this. Being discovered by the demon God was a very normal thing.

The demon God was such a powerful boss. Its aggro range must be extremely large.

Without waiting for Zhang Shan to get close, the boss's aggro would be activated.

lufaxi waved his sickle and looked at zhang shan.

But Zhang Shan did not care. He just kept rushing forward.

Zhang Shan's goal was very simple. He just had to rush in front of lufasi, fire two shots, and check lufasi's attributes and skills.

As for blowing up the ninth Demon God?

He didn't have such thoughts at all.

If he had had any thoughts about it before, he would have given up long ago.

Such a powerful BOSS wasn't something he could handle at his current level.

&Nbsp; the ninth Demon God lufasi took a step forward and appeared in front of Zhang Shan.

It waved the huge sickle in its hand and slashed at Zhang Shan.

In an instant, the void shattered. Endless black light swept past Zhang Shan's body and extended behind him.

[damage -2906746]

A damage value of nearly three million appeared above Zhang Shan's head.

'F * ck.'

Looking at the huge damage value, Zhang Shan was panicking.

Such a damage value looked terrifying.

Not only that.

The ninth Demon God casually swung its scythe, and the damage dealt by this slash was not just single-target damage.

Instead, it was an area-of-effect attack with a large area of effect.

that was because zhang shan saw that the endless black light, after passing through zhang shan, was still extending into the distance.

He was the only player present, so he could not see any other damage values.

Zhang Shan believed that if there were other players around him.

No matter how many people there were, they weren't enough for luffash to kill.

The ninth Demon God's power was terrifying.

It was simply an instant-kill.

It was unbelievably powerful.

A BOSS like this couldn't be killed just by numbers.

Each of lufface's attacks was more powerful than the other bosses 'big moves.

and the range of damage was larger.

the black light extended infinitely, and it was as if a single slash could deal damage to the entire map.

At this point, Zhang Shan had no time to be emotional.

After lufaxi's first attack, Zhang Shan quickly fired back.

A series of bullets shot out from Zhang Shan's hand cannon, sweeping towards the ninth Demon God Lufasi.

Damage values kept appearing above Lufasi's head.

-56034,-43564,50064?

Looking at the damage value, Zhang Shan was speechless.

His current theoretical damage had already exceeded 320000.

Even with his powerful damage ability, he could only deal around 50000 actual damage to the ninth Demon God.

This was simply hard to believe.

Although the demon God's level was definitely much higher than his, and there was a level suppression.

But even so, it shouldn't have been suppressed so much.

At this point, Zhang Shan did not have much time to think.

As he fired, he quickly checked Lufasi's stats and skills.

However, the results of the investigation shocked Zhang Shan.

[ninth Demon God, Lufasi: level 100. Attack power?] Health points? Skill?

F*ck, other than his level, everything else was question marks.

What the hell was this?

Zhang Shan had never encountered such a situation before.

In the past, when he checked the BOSS's attributes, no matter how high the BOSS 'level was, he would not be able to do it.

As long as he could attack the BOSS, he would be able to see its attributes and skills.

But why not this time?

He couldn't see the ninth demon god's attributes and skills at all.

Were the ninth Demon God's attributes and skills already off the charts?

Or could it be that a powerful creature like the demon God could no longer be described by attributes and skills?

Seeing the series of question marks, Zhang Shan was very confused.

However, it was too late for Zhang Shan to consider these problems.

The problem he had to consider now was how he was going to escape.

Lufasi's damage was extremely high.

With Zhang Shan's 5000000 HP after activating God's descent, he could only take one hit.

By the time luffash made his second strike, he might be dead.

Actually, it didn't matter if he fell to the ground.

Zhang Shan still had the passive ability of rebirth, and he could stand up again.

But the problem was, what would happen after he stood up?

What was he going to do after he stood up?

the teleportation function of his positioning ball was still on cooldown and could not be used at the moment.

When he came over just now, Yi had used a positioning bead to teleport over.

If he wanted to use the positioning ball again, he would have to wait for three minutes.

However, in the current situation, how could he possibly wait for three minutes?

even if he were to add that, after he fell to the ground, he would only have ten seconds to lie on the ground and wait for the passive activation of rebirth.

he was still far from the three minutes.

what should he do now?

Was he just going to wait for death like this?

Wait for the ninth Demon God to beat him to death and then lose one level of experience?

Thinking that he might lose a level of experience, Zhang Shan was a little flustered.

It was not easy for him to level up now.

was he going to drop his level just like that?

Zhang Shan was a little unwilling.

However, before he could think about it, lufasi's second strike came.

[damage -2864596]

Another 2 million damage, but this time Zhang Shan did not fall to the ground.

Although the ninth Demon God lufasi's damage was terrifying, its attack speed wasn't very fast.

By the time the demon God had slashed twice, Zhang Shan had already dealt a few shots of damage, and had actually sucked back some of his health.

In addition to the character's own health recovery mechanism, Zhang Shan took the hit head-on. Lucifer's two slashes had dealt him damage, but he had not fallen.

However, that was all he could do.

Zhang Shan only had a sliver of health left. He could not block lufasi's third attack.

As long as he could wait for luffash's third slash, he would be dead.

no, he still had to run.

Regardless of whether he could escape, he had to try.

however, which direction to run in was a question that needed to be seriously considered.

Very quickly, Zhang Shan made his choice.

He didn't run to the east or west of the city, but directly to the north of the city wall.

Zhang Shan knew that there was no need to think about the East and West.

it was impossible for him to outrun the demonic god.

Only the northern side of the city had a slight chance of survival.

Although there was no city gate in the northern part of the capital, there was no need to worry.

Even if Zhang Shan ran to the base of the city wall, he would not be able to enter the city.

However, there was a Palace in the north of the city.

king chu's residence.

Zhang Shan thought about whether King Chu would stop the ninth Demon God Lu fasi when he reached the city wall.

this was zhang shan's only chance of survival.

As long as King Chu blocked lufaxi, he could run away with a thin bottle of wine.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan quickly ran towards the north side of the city wall.

However, before he could run a few steps, he was cut down by lufasi's sickle.

His first life had been handed over.

At that moment, Zhang Shan, who was lying on the ground, was panicking like an old dog.

He lay on the ground, silently counting the seconds while opening his backpack, ready to use the refresh ball at any time to refresh his big move.

After ten seconds, Zhang Shan stood up.

He quickly used the refresh ball to refresh all his skills, and then activated the God's descent skill again.

Then, he rode on the red Hare and continued to run toward the north of the city wall.

the entire set of movements was as smooth as floating clouds and flowing water. it was completed in an instant.

When Zhang Shan rode away again, the ninth Demon God lufasi's sickle came down again.

A huge amount of damage appeared above his head.

However, Zhang Shan completely ignored him and continued to run.

Only by running to the edge of the city wall would he have a chance of survival.

Zhang Shan was praying silently as he galloped on his horse.

He hoped that King Chu was a reliable NPC that could save his dog life.

No matter what, he was still a citizen of Chu.

He had always paid taxes when he repaired equipment and bought supplies in Dangyang city.

Moreover, he had to spend money every time he used the teleportation formation.

Zhang Shan was a proper citizen of Chu.

As the leader of the NPCs in Chu, the King of Chu should be able to save his life.

Zhang Shan ran as he prayed.

He quickly reached the northern wall of the capital, which was close to the palace.

However, lufface didn't stop.

The big BOSS, the ninth Demon God lufasi, took another step forward and appeared behind Zhang Shan.

It waved its huge sickle, ready to cut down at Zhang Shan again.

Just as luffash's sickle was about to hit him ...

a loud shout came from the palace in the north of the city.

"Demon, you're looking for death, how dare you cause trouble in my territory."

Chapter 558 The path to becoming a saint weapon

When Zhang Shan ran to the north wall of the palace, the ninth Demon God lufasi was still in hot pursuit.

The black scythe transformed into a life-threatening divine weapon and slashed towards Zhang Shan.

At this critical moment, a loud shout came from the palace in the north of the city.

A golden figure rose from the palace.

As the most powerful NPC in Chu, the King of Chu, who lived in the palace, finally made his move.

King Chu's golden figure stood in the air, and the long sword in his hand slashed towards the ninth Demon God, lufasi, who was behind Zhang Shan.

a beam of golden light flashed across the sky and forced lufasi back.

Seeing such a scene, Zhang Shan could not help but heave a sigh of relief.

with lord chu's help, his dog life was finally saved. he no longer had to worry about dying and losing his level.

zhang shan stood in the distance, looking at king chu who was in mid-air, waving his long sword continuously.

He forced lufasi back with his sword.

This scene made Zhang Shan's blood boil.

he didn't even know if this was a battle scene or just an animation gg.

To be honest, Zhang Shan had been playing the game new world for a long time.

However, this was the first time he had seen an NPC in action.

In the past, during the country war, the city Lord of Dangyang city had also made a move.

It was just that with that kind of attack, Zhang Shan and the rest could not see the specific battle situation at all.

They could only see the red light in the distance. The city Lord and the big boss were fighting in the distance.

the players couldn't see it at all.

everyone just thought that it was a GG before the monsters attacked the city.

However, this time, it couldn't be considered as GG for the animation.

Lord Chu was right in front of Zhang Shan, waving his long sword continuously, forcing the ninth Demon God to retreat continuously.

Lord Chu was flying in the air, and no damage values appeared.

This was not much different from players fighting a BOSS.

Zhang Shan felt that this was a real battle scene.

However, at this time, Zhang Shan could not care so much. He had to run away quickly.

after lufaxi was blocked by king chu, zhang shan immediately started to channel his return channel.

He didn't dare to continue watching the battle. It was too dangerous.

It was not easy to save his life, so he must not throw it back again just because he was curious about the battle.

If that was the case, he would have suffered a huge loss.

Furthermore, even if King Chu killed the demon God, Zhang Shan would not gain anything from it.

When NPCs participated in a battle, neither exp nor items would be given.

Even if he wanted to follow behind and pick up a dead person's head, he simply couldn't.

There was no such loophole in the game system.

most importantly, zhang shan was afraid that the shockwaves from the battle between these two big shots would drown him.

Even though Lord Chu had forced the ninth Demon God to retreat.

However, the ninth Demon God was not to be trifled with.

It kept waving its scythe, slashing at King Chu again and again, sending countless black rays of light in all directions.

If Zhang Shan was still here and was swept by the black light, wouldn't he be dead?

If that was the case, he would not even know where to cry.

It would be safer to run away as soon as possible.

After a few seconds, Zhang Shan returned to Dangyang city through the loading bar.

As for the great battle between King Chu and the demonic god, he could no longer see it.

Zhang Shan, who had returned to Dangyang city, was still deep in thought.

He was thinking about what kind of game mechanism King Chu had used to block the demon God.

As for saying that Zhang Shan was a citizen of the Chu country, and that was why the King of Chu had saved him, that was pure nonsense.

King Chu was just an NPC in the game and was not that complicated. This must be a special game mechanism.

In reality, when Zhang Shan was running towards the north of the city, he had been considering whether King Chu would really make a move.

From Zhang Shan's point of view, as the boss of the Chu country's NPC, there were two reasons for the King of Chu to make a move.

One was that the demon God had chased Zhang Shan to the edge of the palace.

In other words, the demonic god had already approached the Royal Palace of Chu State.

It was equivalent to fighting at King Chu's doorstep. At this point, how could King Chu not make a move?

...

Unless Lord Chu was an NPC who could not move or had no combat power.

Otherwise, he would definitely have made a move.

The second reason was simple.

King Chu and the ninth Demon God had been at loggerheads for countless years, so there should be a red line between the two.

Both sides could not jump the line. As long as one side crossed the red line, they would inevitably fight.

The place where the demonic god had been staying was still a short distance away from the northern city wall of the capital.

this distance might be the psychological distance between the two sides. as long as the two sides did not cross the line, they would be fine.

once one side jumped, they would fight.

Zhang Shan had run to the city wall because he had considered luring the ninth Demon God out of the red line.

He wanted to pull the ninth Demon God to King Chu's side.

in reality, zhang shan had made the right bet.

...

Lord Chu had indeed helped him block the ninth Demon God.

In fact, if one thought about it seriously, it was just that.

As an Imperial City in the game, when there was no activity, they naturally could not allow the monsters to attack the city walls or even the city.

Otherwise, how could the players play?

Zhang Shan thought.

This was actually a boss-fighting mechanism.

When everyone was fighting a Demon God and couldn't win, they could run to the city wall and escape.

It couldn't be that they could only tank all the bosses, right?

If they could win, they would tank it to the end. If they couldn't win, they would just wait to be swept by the BOSS?

That didn't make sense.

There had to be some technical mechanism.

Perhaps the players 'technique of fighting the demon God was here.

.....

Zhang Shan carefully thought about the process of his fight with the ninth Demon God.

Although he only shot a few times and didn't even reduce lufasi's health bar by a bit, lufasi's health was still very low.

But no matter what, he was a man who had fought a Demon God.

And he even escaped alive.

You can still run after loading a batch.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan was a little excited.

It was a good thing that he wasn't a flamboyant person. Otherwise, he would probably be able to brag about it for half a year.

Zhang Shan looked at the screenshot that he had just taken.

The ninth Demon God lufasi's eye-catching appearance was enough to shake one's heart.

he had to post this on the forum and let the other players see how powerful the demon god was.

At the same time, from the side, it reflected Zhang Shan's strength.

If he wasn't strong, would he be able to attract a Demon God?

the other players could not even see a single hair of the demon god.

Zhang Shan could still fire a few shots. Although he could not hit the Asmodian Lord, he was already very powerful.

This screenshot had to be uploaded to the forum.

No, there was only a screenshot but something was missing.

Zhang Shan thought for a while and continued to look at the previous video records.

This was the good thing about new world.

Players can view all the video recordings of the past 15 days.

Zhang Shan kept looking forward and saw the scene of his battle with lufasi.

The battle between Lord Chu and lufaxi was also recorded and compiled into a small video.

Not only that, Zhang Shan also took a screenshot of the ninth Demon God lufasi's attributes.

Although he saw the attributes, they were all question marks.

however, it was these question marks that showed how powerful the demonic god was.

Data could no longer be used to display the demon God's power. If it could only be expressed in question marks, was that not strong enough?

After Zhang Shan was done with the video, he opened the game forum and uploaded the short video, as well as the demon God's attributes, to the forum.

Zhang Shan thought about it seriously for a while. He had to give the post an eye-catching title.

he thought for a while and picked a title.

[soaring demonic flames: the ninth Demon God is terrifying.]

After selecting the title, Zhang Shan uploaded the video and the screenshot.

After the thread was done, he had to consider how to set the fee for the thread.

The posts that players posted on the game forum could be divided into free posts and paid posts.

The free post was free for everyone to read.

The players 'paid posts could be set with different fees.

If other players wanted to read the thread, they would have to pay.

logically speaking, zhang shan would not be interested in the small amount of copper coins he earned from the fees.

He didn't need that little money.

He could just post it for free.

However, after some consideration, Zhang Shan still set the post to ten copper coins per view.

It was not that he wanted to earn this bit of money, but Zhang Shan felt that free things were not attractive to everyone.

In everyone's subconsciousness, only those who charged a fee would have real value.

If he were to post a free thread, others would think that Zhang Shan was just spamming.

If no one read his thread, then wouldn't he have done it for nothing?

He also wanted to gain some influence.

After setting up all the posts, Zhang Shan chose to confirm and send.

Done. Closing forum.

Zhang Shan did not leave Dangyang city after uploading the video of the ninth Demon God to the forum.

zhang shan did not go to farm monsters, nor did he do anything else. instead, he stood where he was and opened the game's official website.

That announcement regarding the advancement of the divine weapon, Zhang Shan had yet to read it seriously.

Although the various channels in the game had already exploded, everyone was discussing the issue of the advancement of the divine weapon.

However, listening to other people's boasting was not as reliable as reading it on the official website.

What the other players said in the chat channel carried their own personal opinions, which would affect their own judgment.

If he wanted to know the specific situation, it would be more reliable to go to the official website and take a look.

after all, the announcement on the official website was the real authority.

Zhang Shan stayed in Dangyang city and opened the official website to check.

A new announcement was hung in the most prominent position on the official website.

Divine weapon advancement announcement.

Zhang Shan clicked on the announcement to take a look.

There was a lot of content in the announcement, and Zhang Shan read it seriously.

After he finished reading, he finally understood what this divine weapon advancement was all about.

According to the announcement, the advancement of the divine weapon here was probably equivalent to the equipment stars in other games.

However, in the New World, the advancement of divine artifacts did not require the use of various gemstones like in other games.

The advancement of the divine weapon here required the use of a saint's relic.

Moreover, only divine-level equipment could be upgraded.

Equipment below the level of a divine weapon did not meet the conditions for advancement.

In the announcement, it explained in detail how to operate the divine weapon's advancement.

The operation of upgrading a divine weapon was very simple. There was no need to find an NPC divine craftsman. The players could do it themselves.

After the announcement, a new item would be added to the player's equipment panel.

The players only needed to place the divine artifacts and the saint's relics in the reincarnation pool on the equipment panel and click 'confirm' to upgrade the divine artifacts.

Every time a divine weapon is successfully upgraded, it can increase the main attribute by 10%.

It was important to note that the main attributes mentioned here did not refer to attributes like strength or agility.

Instead, it referred to the equipment's function and attributes.

The main attribute of an attack-type divine weapon was its attack power.

the main attribute of a defensive type divine weapon was its defensive power.

For every successful upgrade of an attack-type divine weapon, it could increase the attack power of the equipment by ten percent.

For example, Zhang Shan's hand Cannon's current attack power was 12000, if it was upgraded once.

The attack power of the hand cannon could be increased to 13200.

Every time a divine weapon was successfully upgraded, the main attribute increase might not be that much.

However, if he leveled up a few times, the increase in attributes would be very significant.

If a divine weapon was upgraded many times, it could cause a qualitative change.

Each divine weapon could be upgraded nine times in total.

When a God tool reached the ninth transformation, it could advance to a Saint tool.

A God tool could actually advance to a Saint tool?

This was already very powerful.

Seeing this, Zhang Shan's eyes could not help but light up.

one had to know that in the game, no player had ever gotten their hands on a sacred artifact.

Zhang Shan used to think that in the game new world, the sacred gear might just be a background.

It wasn't something that players could get.

After all, even a divine craftsman-level NPC could only forge divine weapons. Zhang Shan had never seen a sagemaster who could forge sacred weapons.

If even NPCs could not forge sacred artifacts, where could players get them?

there was no way at all.

But now, it seemed that this was not the case.

After the divine weapon advancement announcement, the channel for players to obtain sacred weapons had been opened.

As long as the players kept upgrading the godly item, it could be upgraded to a sacred item.

Although Zhang Shan had never seen a holy weapon before, he could imagine the power of a holy weapon.

in the entire game, the only saint weapons that zhang shan had heard of were the emperor's sword and grand preceptor jiang's annihilation staff.

As long as one could get their hands on a Saint weapon, it would mean that their equipment would be on the same level as the Emperor and Grand Preceptor Jiang.

it was simply unimaginable how powerful such equipment would be.

In new world, sacred equipment was a piece of ceiling-level equipment.

Zhang Shan was willing to call the Holy weapon the strongest.

Of course.

It wasn't easy to get a Saint weapon.

Although the announcement said that as long as a god weapon was at the ninth transformation, it could advance to a holy weapon.

However, the nine transformations of a divine weapon was not that easy.

It was even possible that it only existed in theory.

It was almost impossible for players to truly make a divine weapon achieve the ninth transformation.

this was because not every ascension could be successful, and the success rate of a divine weapon's ascension was very low.

According to the official announcement.

the first ascension of each divine artifact required the consumption of a saint's relic, and the success rate of the ascension was 50%.

The second Ascension required the consumption of two Saint relics, and the success rate was 25%.

The third Ascension required the consumption of three Saint relics, and the success rate was 12.5%.

The fourth upgrade required the consumption of four Saint relics, and the success rate was six percent.

The fifth upgrade required the consumption of five holy relics, and the success rate was 3%.

The sixth Ascension required the consumption of six Saint relics, and the success rate was two percent.

The seventh Ascension required the consumption of seven Saint relics, and the success rate was one percent.

the eighth ascension required the consumption of eight saint relics, and the success rate was 0.5%.

The ninth Ascension required the consumption of nine Saint relics, and the success rate was 0.1%.

Looking at the official website announcement regarding the success rate of the promotion, Zhang Shan could not help but have a headache.

With such a low success rate, was it something that a human could do?

how lucky did he have to be to turn a divine weapon into a saint weapon?

It felt like the announcement on the official website was like painting plum blossoms to quench their thirst.

Although everyone could see the way to get a holy artifact, they were still very confident.

However, he would never be able to get his hands on a Saint artifact.

With such a low success rate, how could he successfully upgrade?

Especially when it came to the eighth and ninth revolutions of divine artifacts, the success rate was five to one thousandth of a percent?

Was he serious?

It was simply exaggerated.

How many Saint relics did he have to prepare to be able to handle this?

The key was that Zhang Shan still did not know if these Saint relics were easy to obtain.

But in Zhang Shan's opinion, things like the saint's relic should be very difficult to get.

Although the system had opened the city of ruins, as long as players obtained the pass, they could go to the city of ruins and farm for saint's relics.

However, would that kind of thing be so easy to obtain?

As for the city of the ruins, the official announcement also explained it.

This was a public instance dungeon.

In other words, any player could enter the dungeon as long as they had the pass.

no level or other restrictions.

Anyone could enter as long as they had a pass.

As for how to get the pass, the announcement also explained it.

All monsters, regardless of whether they were bosses or minions, had a certain chance of dropping a pass.

In addition, there was a higher chance of obtaining a pass by farming monsters in the city of ruins.

However, only God knew how high the probability was.

In any case, the announcement did not give a specific drop rate.

at least until now, the announcement had been out for more than an hour, and zhang shan had not heard of anyone who had obtained the city of the ruins 'pass.

After all, the number of players in the game was huge.

Logically speaking, as long as the drop rate of the pass wasn't too low, someone would have already obtained the pass in the past hour.

however, he didn't.

This meant that the city of the ruins 'pass was not that easy to drop.

Without even an entry pass, how could they farm for saint's relics?

Without a saint's relic, how could it be upgraded to a divine artifact?

Moreover, the success rate of the upgrade was still so low.

Wasn't this like painting plums to quench one's thirst?

It was like a vicious cycle that trapped the players.

The path to the advancement of a divine weapon was obvious, but no one could really handle it.

At least, Zhang Shan felt that this matter would not be simple.

This wasn't something that could be done in a day or two, or a month or two.

It would probably take years to get a holy weapon.

He wouldn't even think about it if he didn't grind for a few years.

unless the game was revised again to increase the success rate of leveling up or increase the drop rate of saint's relics.

But was that possible?

That should be impossible.

Since the game announcement had already been released, it would not be changed easily.

Zhang Shan read the announcement seriously and then closed the game's official website.

He could not help but sigh.

it would be very difficult.

Then the question was, should he go to the city of the ruins now and take a walk?

The other players had yet to obtain a city of the ruins pass, but Zhang Shan did.

After he had obtained the full set of divine artifacts, the system rewarded him with five city of ruins passes.

However, the pass to the city of the ruins was not like the dungeon Scroll, which could bring people in.

each pass could only allow one player to enter the city of the ruins.

He only had a total of five passes. How was he going to get them?

Should I give one to my friends so that they can all enter together?

or should he use one of them first and go in to explore? If he managed to get a new pass inside ...

Then, he would bring his friends in to farm for the saint's relic?

Just as Zhang Shan was struggling, wind and cloud blade sent a call.

six-barreled boss, what are you doing? did you go to the city of ruins to farm for Saint relics? "

"Not yet, I'm considering if I should go."

"Is there a need to consider this? Of course, we have to go and farm. If we can get a saint's relic and upgrade the divine weapon, wouldn't that be awesome?"

it's not that simple. I'm just afraid that this city of the ruins won't be that easy to farm.

"Don't you have five scrolls? Why don't we go and farm together?"

Regarding wind cloud blade's words, Zhang Shan was in a dilemma.

he only had five scrolls in total. if everyone went in together, they might not be able to get a new pass in the city of the ruins.

If he didn't get a new pass, he wouldn't be able to enter the city of the ruins.

After going in once, he would no longer have an entry pass. What would he do when he wanted to go in the future?

Could it be that he had to buy the pass?

I'm just afraid that this Heritage Site pass won't be easy to acquire.

Even if you have money, you're afraid of not having a place to buy it.

after all, they weren't the only ones with divine artifacts. the other big shots had quite a few divine artifacts as well.

Zhang Shan believed that the other big bosses with divine weapons would definitely want to enter the city of the ruins to farm for some Saint relics and upgrade their divine weapons.

The five passes in Zhang Shan's hands must be used with care.

He had originally planned to explore the city of the ruins by himself.

If possible, we'll go and farm it together next time.

However, Zhang Shan did not know what the situation was like in the city of the ruins.

What were the levels of the monsters inside?

If he went in alone, would he be able to brush it?

This was the problem with new world.

When exploring a new map, everyone was completely clueless.

there was no information on the monsters in the city of the ruins on the official website.

Moreover, no players had posted such information on the forum.

This was because no players had entered the city of the ruins yet.

Zhang Shan considered it seriously for a while.

Why don't we all go in together? it'll be safer that way.

In case he entered the city of the ruins alone and found out that the monsters inside were all monsters he couldn't defeat, it would be nonsense.

Although Zhang Shan was very confident in his own strength.

Zhang Shan felt that, other than the demon God, there was no monster that he could not kill in this game.

But that was only relative.

What if the city of ruins was filled with level 100 monsters?

What if the city of ruins was filled with boss-level monsters?

if that was the case, he might not be able to handle it alone.

he had to at least bring boss wu along.

Without the support of a support, his survival ability would drop by several levels.

Zhang Shan's current damage was sufficient, and he was very powerful.

His HP was also high, at 2.7 million.

However, his endurance was still lacking.

Even though he had a powerful ability to suck blood, it was not enough.

Especially when he was fighting a single powerful BOSS, he still needed support to heal.

He couldn't do it alone.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan said to wind and cloud blade.

"Then let's all go to the city of the ruins together."

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he quickly pulled his friends into the team and said on the team channel.

gather at Dangyang city. Let's go to the city of the ruins and farm for saint's relics.

you should've said so earlier, brother Guan. I've long wanted to try and get some Saint relics to upgrade my divine longbow a few times.

"Got it. I'll be there immediately."

Boss Wu said.

wait for me. I'll return to Dangyang city after I'm done collecting this material.

The other players had already forged their own divine weapon molds into divine weapons, so they were all farming monsters to level up.

Boss Wu was the only one who still needed a divine weapon mold and was farming for quest materials.

Therefore, he had to come later.

After all, collecting mission materials was also a serious matter.

Boss Wu had already gone to the place, so he naturally had to get that material before coming back.

Otherwise, boss Wu would have to go there again next time, which would be so troublesome.

alright, we'll wait in Dangyang city. Hurry up.

"Yes."

“don’t worry, big brother carry blade is killing monsters very quickly now. it won’t take him much time to get a quest material.”

After a short while, everyone except boss Wu returned to Dangyang city.

As long as boss Wu returned, they could set off to the city of ruins to farm for the saint’s relics.

Chapter 559 City of the ruins

Boss Wu was still collecting the materials for the mission. Zhang Shan and the rest of his friends could only wait for him.

Anyway, he would come back when he got a material.

Normally, it wouldn’t take too long to get a mission material.

If they were lucky, they might get materials after killing a few monsters.

If he was unlucky, he might need to farm for a few hours.

of course.

This kind of unlucky situation was not common.

Zhang Shan and the rest did not rush him. They just waited.

If boss Wu still didn’t get the materials after half an hour, he would have to come back.

He could not let Zhang Shan and the rest wait in Dangyang city all the time.

Zhang Shan spoke up when everyone was bored.

have you repaired your equipment? let’s repair your equipment first. Once we enter the city of the ruins, we’ll definitely have to grind for a long time. It’s not easy to get in, and if we don’t get something, we definitely won’t come out.

I repaired my equipment this morning, but I still have to repair it again to maintain full durability before entering the city of the ruins.

Oh my God, what were you doing just now? did you need brother Guan to remind you to repair your equipment? ”

“Wait for me, I’ll be right back.”

” sigh, the six-barreled boss is still the best. after getting a full set of divine equipment, i won’t need it anymore. i’m so worried about repairing equipment. ”

“Yeah, I’m really envious.”

damn it, I want to get a full set of equipment too. I remember when I was in the demon’s nest, my equipment didn’t have durability and it was very annoying.

“Young man, just think about it. Do you think it’s so easy to get a full set of divine artifacts?”

it's not that difficult. I've already gotten four divine artifacts. If I get five more, I'll have a full set of divine artifacts.

you make it sound so simple. We'll talk about it after you've gathered all the accessories.

that's right. Defensive artifacts aren't hard to get, but decorative artifacts are too hard to get.

we've fought so many bosses, but only a few accessories have dropped.

let's take it slow. As long as the BOSS drops it, we'll have everything.

"you're right, we're not in a hurry."

they blew on the water while waiting for boss wu to come back.

Zhang Shan purposely took some time to check the forum for the post he had just posted.

It didn't matter if he didn't look, but he was shocked when he saw it.

his post had only been posted for a short while, but the view count had already exceeded a million.

it was simply explosive.

Zhang Shan could not help but sigh. There were so many players in this game who had nothing to do.

Did these people have nothing better to do than to read the posts on the forum every day?

Otherwise, how could there be so many people reading his post in such a short time?

One had to know that his posts were charged.

Although it was only ten copper coins, it was still money.

In just a short while, Zhang Shan had already received more than 1000 gold coins through the post.

This money was too easy to earn.

Zhang Shan felt that in the future, even if he did not earn money in the game, he could live a carefree life just by posting.

Was this the celebrity effect?

Speaking of which, Zhang Shan's reputation in new world was indeed quite big.

any simple movement would attract everyone's attention.

of course.

Zhang Shan felt that his post could become popular mainly because the content of the post was attractive enough.

how could a post about the demon god not attract people?

As the most powerful BOSS in the New World, the demon God was the ultimate goal of the players.

everyone had been thinking about this since the start of the game.

When would he be able to push down the demonic god?

However, the demon God's power was far beyond everyone's imagination. As soon as they left the capital, they were killed by the demon God's all-map damage before they could even see his face.

It was to the extent that no one had seen the demon God or what he looked like even after the game had been launched for such a long time.

Now that Zhang Shan had posted a thread about the demon God, it had greatly aroused everyone's interest.

if someone else had posted such a post, everyone would definitely think that it was a fake post and a lie.

However, Zhang Shan was different. As the number one person in the New World.

...

Whether it was players who liked Zhang Shan, or players who hated or were jealous of him, they were all convinced of his strength.

No one would doubt Zhang Shan's strength.

If there was anyone in this game who could get close to the demon God, it would definitely be Zhang Shan.

Therefore, when Zhang Shan posted this post, everyone subconsciously thought that there would definitely be something useful in this post.

Even if it was a pay-to-view post, everyone clicked on it to take a look.

Zhang Shan opened the post to take a look. He also wanted to see what kind of reaction the other players would have after seeing the content of the post.

Were they frightened by the power of the demonic god?

After clicking on the post, Zhang Shan saw that there were already countless comments below the post.

Everyone started to comment on the post, saying all kinds of things.

"Holy F * ck, is this a demonic god?"

the power of a Demon God is so terrifying. So terrifying.

...

what the f * ck, such a powerful Demon God, is it a BOSS that players can take down? " that's right, it's too terrifying. Every time the demon God cuts the six-barreled boss 'head, he deals nearly 3000000 damage.

" f * ck, i only have 50000 hp. i feel like i'll fall to the ground with just a breath from the demonic god. "

"Brother, don't be overconfident. Does the demon God need to blow air when he's fighting you? The powerful aura of a demonic god can crush you into dust."

" that's right. we're just small fries. we can't even see the demon god's appearance. why would we need him to blow at us? "

"I'm not the only one. In fact, other than the six-barreled boss, no one else in the game can get close to the demon God. Everyone is the same, they all fail."

that's right. We'll both fail. Don't say anything about each other. Haha.

did you guys notice that the demon God's attributes that the six-barreled Big Shot obtained are all question marks? what's going on? "

who knows? maybe the godfiend is too powerful.

"f * ck, is it that exaggerated?"

could it be that the demon God's level is too high? that's why I can't see his attributes.

that's impossible. When I was level 20, I could see the attributes of bosses over level 50. It must have nothing to do with level.

that's true. The BOSS's attributes have nothing to do with level. As long as you deal damage, you can see its attributes.

"Then what's up with this ninth Demon God? Why are its attributes all question marks?"

who knows? maybe it's a special mechanism? " perhaps at the level of the demon God, it can no longer be described as powerful with numbers.

that's impossible. No matter how powerful a Demon God is, it's just a few more zeros. Why can't he describe it? " you have to think of it this way. The demonic god is an existence on the same level as King Chu. Kings can not be spoken of, how can they be described with data? "

"alright, you make a lot of sense."

I was wondering why you guys only paid attention to the demon God and not the six-barreled Big Boss. The six-barreled Big Boss took two hits from the demon God and didn't die. He must be really strong.

"F * ck, I wouldn't have noticed if you didn't mention it. Damn it, the demon God's one strike dealt three million damage, and two strikes dealt nearly six hundred damage. How did the six-barreled boss survive?"

the six-barreled boss's HP can't have reached six million, right? is it that terrifying? "

" that's scary. i don't even have 60000 hp, but the six-barreled boss has 6000000 hp. are we even playing the same game? "

" i don't understand. the six-barreled boss's damage is so high, but why is his hp so ridiculously high? " that's normal. The six-barreled boss has a cloak that's at the divine level. It's not surprising that he has high HP.

"normal my foot. is a divine weapon cloak so abnormal? why don't i believe it?"

there should be something else. It's impossible to make the six-barreled boss 'HP reach such an outrageous level with just a divine artifact cloak.

sigh, I really don't know how the six-barreled Big Shot became so strong. I don't understand it at all.

yeah, even if he's fully equipped with a set of divine artifacts, he shouldn't be this strong.

I've been suspecting that Big Boss six has made some plug-ins and changed the game data. He's so strong that it's a little unscientific.

"Nonsense, how could there be such an plug-in? This is an official game."

"That's right, if there's really such an plug-in, please give me a dozen."

"then, why do you think the six-barreled bodhisattva is so strong?"

"Only the heavens know."

"i think it might be because of talent. This was because apart from the fact that every player's talent was different, everyone else was the same. They had the same equipment and skills. These are all public information that can be calculated."

indeed. Everyone can see six-barreled Bodhisattva's divine weapon on the equipment ranking. It's impossible for him to be so powerful with all these equipment combined.

"maybe he still has some hidden divine weapon?"

"Is there? Shouldn't all divine weapons be on the equipment ranking?"

"It's hard to say. Maybe there are some godly weapons that aren't on the equipment ranking? for example, the six-barreled big shot's godly equipment cloak can't be seen on the equipment ranking."

also, when they defeated the state of Zheng, they were also rewarded with a divine weapon. That divine weapon wasn't on the equipment rankings either.

alright, even if that's the case, it's still far from enough. Even if six-barreled Bodhisattva had two more divine artifacts, he shouldn't be this strong.

I don't think the divine weapon is the main reason. Everyone can see the attributes of the divine weapon. Even if six-barreled Bodhisattva has other divine weapons, he can't be this strong.

indeed, I also think that what the brother upstairs said just now makes sense. It's really possible that it has something to do with talent.

then the question is, who knows what the talent of the six-barreled Big Shot is?"

"I don't know,"

"Does anyone know?"

everyone, look on the forum and see if six-barreled Bodhisattva has ever talked about talent.

what's there to find? six-barreled Bodhisattva didn't even post anything on the forum.

"What a mysterious Big Shot."

I won't say anymore. I'm going to go get a pass. After getting a few passes, I'll go to the city of ruins and get some saint's relics.

"F * ck, a Big Shot has appeared upstairs."

"Big brother, do you have a divine artifact?"

of course there is. Otherwise, why would he go and farm for the saint's relics? "

"I'm envious of the big shots with divine artifacts."

"i'm envious."

buying entry passes at a high price, 100000 gold coins for one. If you have any, please give it to me.

"F  k, are the advertisements all here?"

" you want to collect a pass for 100000 gold coins? are you dreaming? "

"That's right, the pass is in such high demand now that it's impossible to get it for 100000 gold coins. I just saw a Big Shot offer 500000 gold coins."

sigh, the other big shots are all thinking about the problem of advancing their divine weapons, but I'm still fighting for red equipment.

don't be jealous. Each has its own way of playing. Just treat it as entertainment.

that's right. You have to have a good attitude when playing games. Otherwise, you won't be able to continue playing.

.....

Zhang Shan looked at the long string of comments below the post and could not help but sigh.

These people's imagination was really strong. Why would someone think of his talent?

It had to be said that this brother's guess was really accurate.

Although, Zhang Shan's strength was not only due to his talent.

However, he had to admit that the passive King talent was indeed an important factor in his strength, perhaps even the most important factor.

Those passive skills were even more helpful to him than divine weapons.

If he didn't have the passive King talent, even if he was given a full set of divine artifacts, he would only have half of his current strength at most.

this passive king talent had helped him too much.

The number of passive skills that Zhang Shan had acquired was not considered too many. there were only about 30 of them.

It had already increased his strength by half.

Zhang Shan would definitely be able to get more passive skills.

As time passed, Zhang Shan's passive skills would increase, and he would become stronger.

This kind of power seemed to have no upper limit.

As long as the monsters in the game still had passive skills to farm, Zhang Shan could become stronger.

Perhaps one day, Zhang Shan would be strong enough to kill the demon gods like they were small monsters.

Just thinking about it made him look forward to it.

zhang shan browsed the posts and comments on the forum while waiting for boss wu to come back after collecting the materials.

about ten minutes later, boss wu returned to dangyang city.

the little fairy said happily when she saw boss wu.

"ha, old wu, you're pretty fast. you got the materials in about ten minutes."

Before boss Wu could say anything, wind cloud blade interjected.

"Of course, don't you know that big brother saber is very strong now? He's relying on summoning celestial beings to farm faster than you."

"Hmph, bad guy."

Windcloud blade's words instantly made little fairy unhappy.

What did he mean?

Did this mean that she was not even as good as one of boss Wu's summoned pets?

However, that was the truth.

At this stage, little fairy's farming speed was indeed slower than boss Wu's fairy baby.

The celestial Immortals waved their long sleeves and could knock down a large number of wild monsters with a few whooshes. They were much stronger than little demons.

Even though little fairy was now equipped with four divine artifacts, she was still not as good as boss Wu's fairy baby.

It wasn't that little fairy's attack power couldn't compare to fairy baby's, but that her AoE skills were several levels lower than fairy baby's in terms of damage range.

Little fairy's split arrow could only hit five or six monsters at a time, while fairy baby's flowing cloud flying sleeves could only hit fifteen or sixteen monsters at a time.

There was no comparison at all.

wind cloud blade's words left little fairy speechless.

at this moment, zhang shan helped her out of her predicament.

alright, let's stop talking nonsense. Let's go to the city of the ruins.

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he opened the five passes in his backpack and gave one to each of his friends.

After everyone got the pass, they entered the city of the ruins.

When Zhang Shan entered the city of the ruins, he suddenly realized that his friends were not by his side.

there were only a few orange-colored monsters around?

as for why he said that it was an orange name, but zhang shan still said that it was a small monster?

because from zhang shan's point of view, although the names of those monsters were written in orange, they were not the same.

However, the name wasn't domineering enough. No matter how he looked at it, it didn't look like a BOSS. It was more like the name of a monster.

dagger-headed zombie.

no matter how he looked at it, this name didn't seem like a BOSS.

Of course.

zhang shan's current focus was not on these monsters.

At this moment, Zhang Shan was thinking, where did his friends go?

Didn't we all come in together? Why did they not appear in the same place?

This map of the city of the ruins was a little strange.

Zhang Shan quickly checked the position of his friends through the team information.

It didn't matter if he didn't look, but he was shocked when he saw it.

What's going on? why are wind and cloud blade and heart moves with me 'names gray?

Could it be that these two big shots had died the moment they entered the map?

Zhang Shan was just about to ask about the situation on the team channel.

At this moment, wind cloud blade called out in a depressed tone.

"f * ck, i just came in and i'm dead?"

zhang shan asked him.

“What’s the situation? How did you die?”

when I entered the map, I just happened to land next to the monsters. The three monsters each attacked me and I was killed.

at this moment, heart moves with me gloomily said.

me too. As soon as I came in, I was hacked by a few monsters and died instantly.

Hearing this, Zhang Shan could not help but have a headache.

What the hell was this?

they had just entered the city of the ruins and two people had been reduced.

It was a good thing that boss Wu was still alive. As long as he met up with boss Wu, he would be able to revive heart moves and Windcloud blade.

Zhang Shan asked boss Wu and the little fairy.

“How are you guys? are you safe?”

At this moment, the little fairy shouted crazily,

“How can that be? you can’t outrun the monsters even on a horse?”

Zhang Shan found it very strange. This was just a small monster, and the speed of a small monster would not be too fast. The little fairy had a hero Mount, so how could it not escape?

you can’t ride horses here. I can’t summon my Mount.

“no way, there’s such a thing?”

zhang shan hurriedly tried to summon the red hares.

However, he did not summon the red Hare. Instead, he received a system notification.

[system notification: you can not summon mounts on this map.]

alright, this city of the ruins was a map that prohibited mounts.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan could not help but have a headache.

If they couldn’t ride horses, how long would they have to run before they could meet up?

Furthermore, they still had to go and revive Windcloud blade and heart follows me.

By the time he met up with boss Wu and ran over, the two big shots had been forced to respawn in the city by the system.

If that was the case, then it would be nonsense.

Chapter 560 heaven-defying small monsters

When Zhang Shan and the rest used the entry pass together to enter the city of the ruins.

They actually did not appear in the same place, but were scattered in various locations of the city of the ruins.

not only that, the two big shots, wind and cloud blade and heart moves with me, had actually fallen to the ground the moment they entered the city of the ruins.

The fairy was also being chased by the monsters in the city of the ruins.

In the city of ruins, players were not allowed to summon their mounts.

&Nbsp; he didn't know if the little fairy could escape the monster's pursuit with its two short legs.

If the little fairy also died, they would lose three people in the beginning if they went in with five people.

It was simply exaggerated.

One had to know that these little companions were not rookies.

In reality, be it wind and cloud blade or heart moves with me, they were both top players in the game.

They had all reached level 71 and 72, and they had four pieces of divine equipment.

Even so, he still fell to the ground as soon as he entered the map.

one could imagine how harsh the living environment of the city of the ruins was.

this map was not friendly to players.

When the five of them entered, two of them fell to the ground and one of them was chased by the monsters.

such an unexpected situation caught everyone off guard.

The only good news was that boss Wu didn't fall to the ground.

When boss Wu entered the city of the ruins, he also appeared beside the monster.

However, he reacted quickly. He quickly summoned his celestial pet and pulled away the monsters around him.

then, he would take the opportunity to escape.

However, the fairy baby that he had just summoned fell to the ground very quickly.

However, that did not matter. It did not matter if the fairy baby died. After the five-minute cooldown, he could summon it again.

It was fine as long as he didn't die.

For now, out of the five of them, only Zhang Shan and boss Wu were safe.

Seeing such a situation, Zhang Shan could not help but have a headache.

What the hell was he supposed to do?

They were here to farm for the saint's relic.

Now, they had not even seen a single strand of hair from the saint's relic, and two people had died.

Moreover, he didn't know if there was a chance to save the two guys who had fallen to the ground.

After all, the map of the city of the ruins was not small.

Furthermore, they were not allowed to ride horses here.

how were they supposed to save the two big shots on the ground?

It was a little too late to run over with his two short legs.

In the New World, players could only lie on the ground for an hour after they fell.

After an hour, if they were not revived by the support, they would be forced to respawn in the city by the system.

If that was the case, then wind and cloud blade and heart would follow his will. Not only would he waste a pass to enter the city of the ruins, but he would also not gain anything.

More importantly, they might even lose a level of experience for nothing.

If he fell to the ground without a support to pull him up, wouldn't he lose a level of experience?

They were already level 71 and level 72. If they lost one level of experience now, it would be too much of a loss.

He had to find a way to save her.

Even if he didn't gain anything, he couldn't let these two big shots be forced back by the system and lose a level of experience.

Zhang Shan checked the team's information and found the position of the young men.

The little fairy's current position was not far from Zhang Shan. The two of them should be able to meet up soon.

And boss Wu wasn't too far away from where 'heart moves with me' fell.

He should be able to run over first and resurrect with my heart.

In other words, heart with me could still be saved. As long as boss Wu ran over, he could be revived without worrying about losing a level.

However, the place where Windcloud blade had fallen was very far from them. If they wanted to head over and revive Windcloud blade, they would probably have to run for a very long time.

Zhang Shan said on the team channel after carefully looking at everyone's position.

old Wu, you go over first and revive Big Boss heart following. Then, move closer to one blade.

After he finished speaking, Zhang Shan was still a little worried. He asked again.

“Can you run over by yourself? Be careful to avoid the small monsters along the way. Don’t attract any small monsters.”

Zhang Shan was a little worried. He was afraid that boss Wu would be killed by the small monsters as he ran.

...

If that was the case, then their trip to the ruins would be a complete waste of time.

at this time, boss wu replied.

it’s fine. I’ll run a little slower. I’ll go around when I see a red dot. I should be able to run over.

” alright, be careful. don’t hang up. ”

After Zhang Shan finished talking to boss Wu, he continued to speak to the little fairy.

“qingqing, how’s the situation on your side? Have you shaken off the monsters chasing you?”

not yet. These two monsters are like dogskin plaster. They’ve been following me all this time and I can’t get rid of them at all.

Hearing the little fairy’s words, Zhang Shan was speechless.

The little fairy was so powerful, but it was being chased by two monsters.

What kind of map was this city of the ruins?

zhang shan looked at the few cricket-headed zombies not far away from him. he really wanted to go over and try shooting a few times.

...

He wanted to see how strong these monsters were.

why was it that he could kill wind and cloud blade and heart following movement in two or three strikes, and still chase after little fairy?

However, seeing how anxious the little fairy was, he knew that if he didn’t hurry over, he would be killed by the monsters.

zhang shan gave up on the idea of looking for these cricket-headed zombies and fighting them.

It was better to meet up with the little fairy first. After the two of them met up, they must try to fight a wave of monsters.

Zhang Shan gave up on the idea of Lu Yibo being a small monster and continued to speak to the little fairy.

“Don’t run around and don’t lure any more monsters. I’ll be there soon.”

“I know.”

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he began to run towards the little fairy.

As for the two big bosses lying on the ground, Zhang Shan did not say anything to them.

Since they were already lying down, what else could Zhang Shan say? he could only let them lie down obediently.

Zhang Shan would try his best to save him. If he really could not be saved, then there was no other way.

Zhang Shan strode with his short legs and started to run quickly. However, his running speed was too slow.

actually, it wasn't right.

In reality, Zhang Shan's current running speed was already very fast. After all, he had a pair of God equipment boots. Even if he was running, his speed was not considered slow.

It was just that after getting out of the mount, Zhang Shan had long gotten used to riding a horse to run. Now that he had to rely on his two legs to run, it made him especially unaccustomed.

However, they had no choice. In the city of the ruins, they couldn't even summon their mounts and could only rely on their short legs.

Zhang Shan ran forward quickly. Along the way, he saw all kinds of small monsters on the map.

These small monsters were in groups of three to five, about ten in a group. They were all zombie monsters, undead monsters, and so on.

Anyway, they were all dead things, and some of them looked a little scary.

in addition, the monsters in the city of the ruins map were completely different from the monsters they had encountered in other maps.

The mobs in other maps were usually in large groups, but the mobs here weren't alone.

however, there weren't many of them. they were usually a few small monsters mixed together.

Zhang Shan had seen the largest number of small monsters, but there were only ten of them. He had never seen a large group of small monsters with dozens of them together.

But this was good too.

The damage of the monsters here was frighteningly high. With the HP of Windcloud blade and the others, they could be cut down by the monsters in two or three strikes.

if these small monsters were also in a large group, he might not be able to defeat them.

Another thing that Zhang Shan found strange was that there seemed to be a lot of different types of monsters here.

although they were all zombies or undead, the names of these monsters were varied.

It was unlike other maps, where there were only one or two types of monsters.

There were actually many types of monsters here.

Just the names of the small monsters that Zhang Shan saw were more than a dozen.

Zhang Shan was thinking as he ran. He did not know if these monsters had any passive skills.

If these monsters all had passive skills, then he would be able to obtain a large number of passive skills.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan was a little excited.

if the monsters here really had that many passive skills, he would definitely farm them.

Usually, it was not easy for him to find monsters with passive skills.

Most of Zhang Shan's passive skills were from bosses.

However, there were only so many bosses, so he couldn't farm bosses every day.

If he wanted to get more passive skills, he had to think of a way. Spawns a bunch of monsters.

Wouldn't it be perfect if he could harvest a wave here?

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan's heart could not help but burn with passion.

He quickly met up with the little fairy. After that, he would find a few monsters and try to kill them.

Thinking that there might be a passive skill that he could farm, Zhang Shan ran even faster, feeling as if he was running faster and faster.

After a few minutes, Zhang Shan saw the little fairy.

At this moment, little fairy was leading the two zombie monsters in circles.

Although there were only two monsters, the little fairy didn't dare to turn around and fight back. It just ran around in circles.

Moreover, she didn't dare to run far.

This was because she did not know the distribution of monsters in the surrounding areas.

if she wasn't careful and ran to a place with more monsters, she would be done for.

Hence, the little fairy could only stay there and lead the two zombies in circles.

The two zombie monsters behind her were also really ruthless. They kept chasing after the little fairy.

It had been a few minutes and they were still chasing the little fairy. It felt like the monsters here wouldn't let go of their target.

He was really a dog-skin plaster.

Fortunately, the little fairy's movement speed was not bad.

Although he couldn't get rid of the two zombie monsters, they couldn't catch up with her for a while.

The two of them kept a distance from each other as they circled around.

Zhang Shan could not help but want to laugh when he saw such a situation.

The little demon was good at playing the Qin Emperor circling the pillar.

.....

after seeing zhang shan running over, the little fairy could not help but cry out in joy.

“Brother Guan, come and save me.”

After the little fairy finished speaking, she no longer led the two zombies in circles. Instead, she charged directly at Zhang Shan.

Just now, she was alone and could not defeat the two zombie monsters. Now that Zhang Shan was here, the little fairy had confidence.

In the little fairy’s heart, as long as Zhang Shan was there, it would not be a problem to deal with these two zombie monsters.

The little fairy quickly rushed to Zhang Shan’s side. The two zombie monsters were still chasing after her.

zhang shan quickly opened fire and pulled the aggro of the two zombie monsters over.

Although he didn’t know how strong these zombie monsters were.

He could cut down his friends with a few casual slashes.

However, Zhang Shan was not worried at all. He would not be able to handle the two zombie monsters.

It was just a joke.

He could even withstand two slashes from the ninth Demon God, so why would he be afraid of these zombie monsters?

No matter how heaven-defying these zombie monsters ‘damage was, they couldn’t possibly be stronger than the demon God, right?

this was impossible.

Zhang Shan held his hand cannon, and the bullets swept towards the zombies. The damage was continuously jumping back and forth above the heads of the two zombies.

The two zombies were together, and it was just right for Zhang Shan’s catapulted damage to show its effect perfectly.

It felt so good.

As Zhang Shan fired, he observed the two zombie monsters.

The names of these two zombie monsters were a new species that Zhang Shan had not encountered before on the road.

Bone crusher zombie.

Well, it was a new species.

very good, he hoped that these two skeleton crusher zombies had passive skills.

It would be even more perfect if he was given a wave of passive skills.

As Zhang Shan fired rapidly, he checked the attributes and skills of the bone crusher zombie.

As for the bone crusher zombie, Zhang Shan did not care about the damage that he had received.

The damage of these two zombie monsters was indeed very strong, even much stronger than the red BOSS they had fought before.

The Zombie's normal damage was around 80000 to 90000, but when it was a critical hit, the damage was close to 500000.

but zhang shan still did not mind.

it was just a joke.

With his 2.7 million HP, how could he be afraid of the damage of these two little Zombies?

And it was two zombies at the same time. Zhang Shan's catapulting passive could bring out the effect perfectly.

If there was only one zombie, then Zhang Shan might have been more careful.

However, there was nothing to worry about when there were two zombie monsters.

Under the boost of catapulting's passive skill, coupled with his powerful lifesteal ability, Zhang Shan's lifesteal effect was able to suck up the air.

The damage that these two bone crusher zombies dealt to him was not even as fast as his lifesteal.

Checking attributes:

[bone crusher zombie (orange): level 100, attack 100000, HP 20000000, skill: bone crusher (passive)]

[bone shatter (passive): has a chance to deal 5x the damage in an attack.]

after seeing the attributes and skills of the bone crusher zombie, zhang shan could not help but be overjoyed.

Haha, as expected, these monsters had passive skills.

Zhang Shan's heart was burning. He wondered if the monsters in the city of the ruins all had passive skills.

If that was the case, then he would have to fight these monsters. He had to refresh all the passive skills in this place.

However, after being happy, Zhang Shan had no choice but to pay more attention to these zombie monsters.

these zombie monsters were indeed powerful and special.

The names of these monsters were all in orange, but Zhang Shan felt that they could not be considered bosses.

This was because these zombies only had one skill.

An orange-colored BOSS should have three skills.

this might be a special mechanism. perhaps in the entire game, only the monsters in the city of the ruins were like this.

a monster with an orange name was actually not a BOSS.

even though they were not bosses and did not have powerful skills, these zombie monsters were still very powerful.

Not to mention anything else, just that level alone was very scary.

These zombie monsters were all level 100 monsters.

Zhang Shan was only at rank 73, and his friends were only at rank 71 or 72.

When facing a level 100 zombie monster, they would be suppressed by a very strong level difference.

With Zhang Shan's theoretical damage of more than 300000, the actual damage he dealt to these two zombies was only a little more than 100000.

it had suppressed him by over 200000 damage.

Not only that, the passive skills of these two bone crusher zombies were also very powerful.

The 5x critical hit was triggered from time to time. Every critical hit would take away close to 500000 HP from Zhang Shan.

If the two bone crusher zombies were to deal a critical hit together, they would be able to take away nearly a million of Zhang Shan's health.

This was terrifying.

No wonder Windcloud blade and heart moves with me were killed by these small monsters when they first entered the ruins.

Such a powerful monster, in the entire game, other than Zhang Shan, how many people could take it?

Zhang Shan really wanted to know if the other players would come over to farm for it after they had obtained the pass to the city of the ruins.

If the other players also came to the city of the ruins, Zhang Shan really wanted to know what would happen to them.

Perhaps they were all lying on the ground in seconds after they came in.

even wind and cloud blade and heart moves with me could not stand there for two seconds.

After the other players came in, it would definitely be worse.

Those who were luckier might be able to choose to return to the channel when they saw that the situation was not right.

if they were unlucky and happened to land next to the monster, they would not even be able to escape.

Even if they reacted quickly and were not cut down on the spot by the monster, they could not escape.

At most, he could only lead the monsters around in circles like the little fairy.

however, that would only save his dog life for the time being, and he couldn't cast the spell back.

This was because players needed a safe period of time to cast a spell and return to the city.

If he was constantly chased by the monsters, he would not be able to cast a spell to return to the city.

There might also be a portion of players who would rush up to kill the zombie monsters after seeing them.

In that case, it would definitely be a tragedy.

These small monsters were stronger than many bosses. How could other players defeat them?

If they were to provoke these monsters, they would definitely fall to the ground.

if he had died somewhere else, they might have been able to call the support to revive him.

However, if they were to die in the city of the ruins, even if they wanted to find someone to resurrect them, they might not be able to find them.

It was because the city of the ruins entry pass was not easy to obtain.

Not to mention now, with only Zhang Shan's five passes, even in the future ...

The city of the ruins 'entry pass should not drop too many.

Hence, no matter what, there would not be many players in the city of the ruins.

Zhang Shan was looking forward to what would happen to the other players after they entered the city of the ruins.