Chapter 571-city search

Looking at the heart of the demon Dragon in his hand, Zhang Shan hesitated for a while and decided to keep it for himself.

I'm not selling.

Not for anything else, but for the sake of challenging the demon God in the future, he had to keep the demon dragon's heart.

However, if he wanted to equip the heart of the demon Dragon, he would have to remove the hand of Madas.

But it didn't matter.

At most, he could just use the demon dragon's heart when fighting the demon God.

However, this would reduce the damage output by almost half.

but it didn't matter.

When players fought any BOSS, the first thing they had to consider was whether they could withstand the BOSS's damage.

In fact, he was considering whether his damage could kill the BOSS.

If he couldn't withstand the BOSS's damage, there was no point in thinking about it.

If the BOSS could knock you down with two strikes, then it would be useless even if you could do anything.

If he couldn't win, then he couldn't win.

In terms of survivability, Zhang Shan's damage output was not lacking.

even though the damage he could deal to the demon god would not be much, he was still very confident.

However, his level and attack power still had a lot of room for improvement.

As long as Zhang Shan's level rose to 80 or 90.

After that, he could upgrade his attack-type divine weapon to rank seven or eight, and perhaps he could try to challenge a Demon God again.

Even though upgrading a divine weapon was not something that could be done in a short period of time.

But this didn't matter, as long as there was a way out.

With a path to walk, Zhang Shan could slowly increase his strength.

In comparison, if he wanted to increase his maximum health, Zhang Shan really did not have much to go on.

In the game new world, there were too few ways for players to increase their maximum HP.

Especially for a fragile Hunter like him, he didn't have many ways to increase his HP.

This heart of the demon Dragon could increase his HP by two million, so he definitely could not give it up easily.

'Forget it, I'll equip this heart of the demon Dragon and see what happens.'

Let's see how much HP he can reach after changing to the heart of the Magic Dragon.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan quickly removed the hand of maedas and replaced it with the heart of the demon Dragon.

He checked his character's attributes.

Zhang Shan opened his Character panel to check. He saw that his current HP had reached an exaggerated 7.3 million.

This was very exaggerated.

He was even stronger than a BOSS.

One had to know that the weaker bosses only had a few million HP.

After equipping the heart of the demon Dragon, Zhang Shan's health could actually exceed the health of many small bosses.

He was really a little too strong.

zhang shan looked at his maximum health and nodded in satisfaction.

Not bad.

It was very powerful.

He even had the urge to challenge the godfiend immediately.

However, this thought only circled in Zhang Shan's mind for a while before it quickly disappeared.

It was better not to provoke the demon God for the time being.

although zhang shan's current hp was very high, his damage ability and level were still far from enough.

Even if he went to look for the ninth Demon God again, he would probably not have a good ending.

However, as long as he was careful, he would definitely not die.

Last time, Zhang Shan did not die. Now that he was equipped with the heart of the demon Dragon, it was even more impossible for him to die.

however, it was useless to just not die. with his current damage ability, zhang shan could not possibly kill the demonic god.

Since that was the case, why waste time?

if he had the time, he might as well farm for more saint relics and upgrade his divine weapon.

After a short while, Zhang Shan equipped the hand of maedas again and took off the heart of the demon Dragon.

When he was farming monsters, the hand of maedas was more useful to him.

The demon dragon's heart was only a spare tire, specially used to deal with demon gods. It was usually kept in his bag.

He might need to use the heart of the demon Dragon in other scenarios, but he definitely wouldn't need it now.

Now, Zhang Shan was planning to enter the city of the ruins again to farm the zombie monsters.

To other players, those zombie monsters were indeed unbelievably powerful.

However, to Zhang Shan, even if those zombie monsters could not be said to be weak, they were not that strong either. There was no need for the heart of the demon Dragon at all.

After Zhang Shan put the heart of the demon Dragon back into his bag, he even specially checked its attributes again.

[Demon dragon's heart (special item): condenses the life essence of the ancient demon Dragon, HP +2000000, increases HP recovery speed by 100%. Bound to player six-barreled Bodhisattva.]

as expected, it was already bound. after zhang shan had equipped it once, the heart of the demon dragon had already been bound to his character.

Now, even if Zhang Shan regretted and wanted to sell the heart of the demon Dragon, he could not.

In this game, many of the best items had a binding mechanism.

Some were bound immediately after they were obtained, while others were bound after the equipment was attached to them.

The heart of the demon Dragon belonged to the latter. As long as Zhang Shan equipped it once, this heart of the demon Dragon would forever be bound to his character.

equipment that had been bound could not be traded.

New world did not have a mechanism to unbind equipment yet.

This was good too. He didn't have to worry about it dropping after he died.

Although Zhang Shan was very powerful now, generally speaking, as long as he did not seek death, it would be difficult for him to die.

But everything was unpredictable, and no one could be sure.

It would be safer to bind it.

When Zhang Shan was checking on the heart of the demon Dragon, wind and cloud blade asked him a few times, wanting to ask what kind of heaven-defying item he had gotten.

however, there was no response from zhang shan. this made wind and cloud blade anxious.

He asked Zhang Shan again.

f * ck, six-barreled boss, what the hell did you get? let us see it.

that's right. Big brother, don't hide it. Share it with us so we can enjoy it.

Zhang Shan turned around and looked at everyone's anticipating expressions. He smiled and said.

"it's indeed a heaven-defying item. after you guys see it, don't be jealous, hehe."

"Why should we be sour? we've had enough."

"That's right, hurry up. Let's see what it is that would cause such a huge commotion when the treasure chest is opened."

"Haha, then you guys just watch."

After Zhang Shan finished, he displayed the attributes of the heart of the demon Dragon on the team channel.

After everyone saw the attributes of the heart of the demon Dragon, they were all silent for a long time. They were really shocked.

They had never thought that such a heaven-defying item would exist in this game.

The Magic dragon's heart was a special item that was extremely powerful.

It wasn't as if no one had ever obtained a special item that could increase health points.

However, those special items did not increase his health points by much.

So far, the most powerful item had only added 50000 HP. Nobody could compare to the demon dragon's heart, which had added 2000000 HP.

It was simply exaggerated, so strong that it exceeded everyone's understanding.

After a long while, wind cloud blade finally shouted.

"F * ck, isn't this too heaven-defying? Two million HP? This was way too strong. There's simply no justice in this world."

I'm so jealous. How can such a heaven-defying piece of equipment exist? isn't this destroying the balance of the game? "

"Where's the balance in this game?"

that's right. With the six-barreled boss around, the balance of the game has long been broken.

“But this is too exaggerated. This special item can actually increase our HP by 2000000. How are we supposed to survive this?”

“does it have anything to do with us? The six-barreled boss is naturally powerful. Even without the heart of the demon Dragon, we still can’t see his back.”

“Alright, what you said makes so much sense that I don’t know how to refute it.”

“It’s over, it’s over. I’m already in despair. When I saw the heart of the demon Dragon, I didn’t want to play the game anymore.”

” sigh, let’s give up. this game is really boring. the gap is too big. ”

“Haha, you guys are so weak.”

“That’s right, why do you want to compete with the six-barreled boss? Just treat him as a boss-level NPC. No matter how strong he is, it won’t affect us rookies pecking at each other.”

that’s right. Don’t compare yourself with the big boss. We’ll just play our own games.

“everyone, let’s go and kill some monsters.”

“Let’s go and farm monsters. Let him be strong, we’ll kill monsters for fun.”

“Haha, it’s good to kill monsters.”

“What else can I do? I have to comfort myself.”

“That’s right, we can only play by killing monsters.”

“Let’s go and kill some small monsters.”

After the monster attack ended, everyone opened a wave of treasure chests.

However, the majority of the players would only get the worst of the worst.

Most of them only got blank materials, and some didn’t even get a single blank material.

only a small number of lucky people would get equipment that was purple or above.

Actually, this was very normal.

after all, the monster siege event was an event that all players in the game could participate in.

As long as a player participated in the event, they would at least receive a 1-star Treasure chest.

With such a large amount of treasure chests, the chances of them dropping anything good were naturally very low.

A person like Zhang Shan, who had obtained such a heaven-defying item like the heart of the demon Dragon, was definitely a unique existence.

The event ended, and the treasure chests were opened.

With regret, everyone went their separate ways to farm monsters.

Originally, their wind and cloud Guild's harvest from this event was quite good.

They had killed a real-name BOSS and it dropped a divine weapon quest item and a divine weapon mold.

It was a big harvest.

However, no one was happy.

That was because their gains, compared to Zhang Shan's, were not worth mentioning.

How could they still be happy about this?

I'm just afraid of comparison.

Only after this comparison did they realize that they were nothing. They should just gloomily go and farm monsters.

After everyone had dispersed, Zhang Shan and his friends were still standing in their original spots.

At this moment, Zhang Shan took out his pass. He planned to continue farming the zombie monsters.

After all, it was still early. It was only nine in the evening, so he could still play for another two or three hours.

Just as Zhang Shan was about to leave, wind and cloud blade called out to him.

"Big brother, take us to a Demon City and help me take down a city so that I can become a city Lord."

hearing wind and cloud blade's words, zhang shan asked in confusion.

"have you found the demon city?"

in zhang shan's image, the demon cities should be deep in the map. no one should be able to find them.

Of course, with wind and cloud blade's current strength, he should be able to give it a try if he wanted to.

After all, blade of wind and cloud was very powerful now.

wind and cloud blade was equipped with four pieces of divine equipment, and his level was over 70.

if wind and cloud blade wanted to go to the territory of the demons and find a demon city, it should not be a big problem.

That was why Zhang Shan had asked. He had thought that wind and cloud blade had already found the demon City.

"No, I haven't. I'm afraid it's not safe to look for it alone. Let's go together."

Seeing the anticipation in wind and cloud blade's eyes, Zhang Shan could not refuse.

Everyone had played together for so long, and now that he was strong enough, he really had to help his brothers.

I'll accompany them to look for a city Lord position for my friends.

Just take it as a way to relax.

Zhang Shan had been in the city of the ruins and had been killing zombies for a long time. It was indeed time for him to relax.

He had been killing zombie monsters every day until he felt like puking.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan said to wind and cloud blade.

"Alright, then let's go together and see if we can find a few more demon cities and make you all city Lords."

really, brother Guan? I can be the city Lord too? "

Hearing that Zhang Shan was planning to build a city for them to be city Lords, the little fairy was instantly excited.

"Of course it's true. As long as we can find the demon City, the rest will be easy, right?"

that's right. With six-barreled boss's current strength, it won't be difficult to take down the demon City.

that's for sure. Big Boss six-Guan can even exchange a few blows with a Demon God. It'll be easy and enjoyable to take down a Demon City.

"Then what are we still talking about? let's go find a Demon City."

Hearing Zhang Shan's words, the Little Friends immediately became excited.

Not to mention the others, even the big boss, heart moves with me, was excited.

Although this Big Shot was extremely rich and didn't care about the gold coins earned from the city, he was still a very rich person.

However, to be able to become a city Lord, I'm also looking forward to it.

With the city Lord's name, how cool would that be?

In fact, they had long wanted to drag Zhang Shan along to look for the demon City.

It was just that Zhang Shan had always been grinding for saint's relics in the city of the ruins. They were not as thick-skinned as wind and cloud blade.

They were all too embarrassed to disturb Zhang Shan.

Now that wind and cloud blade had brought up this matter, and that Zhang Shan had agreed to go with them, they were all excited.

with zhang shan around, as long as they could find the demon city, they would definitely be able to hit it.

They didn't need to worry about not being able to take down the demon City.

With Zhang Shan's current strength, it could be said that he could kill any God or demon that stood in his way.

They didn't need to worry about how many bosses there were in the demon City.

Was the BOSS strong? was the demonic city strong?

They did not need to worry about these things at all.

all they needed to do was to find the demon city.

As long as they found the demon City, they would follow Zhang Shan and rush over.

When they killed the demon City Lord, they only needed to pick up the city Lord's golden seal and they could be city Lords in peace.

After deciding that they would go to the demon race's city together.

Everyone quickly returned to the city. Their friends resupplied in Dangyang city and then teleported to Fengyun city together.

When they arrived at Fengyun city, everyone rushed out of the West Gate and headed deep into the map.

as they advanced, demon monsters appeared around them from time to time.

From level 80 demon strongmen, these demon wild monsters gradually became higher and higher in level.

After running for a while, the level of the surrounding wild monsters started to rise to level 85, which was also a demon strongman.

As the number of monsters increased, Zhang Shan and the rest had no choice but to stop and clear the monsters.

If they didn't clear out the monsters on the road, they wouldn't be able to run at all.

After leaving the West Gate of Fengyun city, the demon monsters here were all very fierce.

It wasn't just because the monsters' levels were high and they dealt a lot of damage.

The key was that these monsters were all extremely crazy. If they didn't clear the monsters, they wouldn't be able to move at all.

These monsters would always chase after them.

if they didn't clear the monsters, more and more monsters would gather around them.

However, even though there were a lot of monsters along the way, they cleared them very quickly.

Zhang Shan's hand cannon continuously shot out bullets. With one shot, 12 demon strongmen fell to the ground.

Not only that, but Zhang Shan was also constantly using the pomegranate bomb skill. After a few waves of skills, he could clear a large number of wild monsters.

with the addition of boss wu's attack blessing, zhang shan's current theoretical damage had reached more than 600000.

even if these demon monsters had the holy demon's protection, their damage could be halved.

However, under Zhang Shan's intense firepower, they were still as fragile as paper. Countless demon strongmen fell to the ground like chopping firewood.

Actually, not only was Zhang Shan's damage high, but his friends 'damage was also not bad.

even though their damage was far less than zhang shan's.

But dealing with these level 80 demon strongmen still wasn't too much pressure.

They cleared the monsters along the way and slowly entered the demon territory.

Time passed slowly. Zhang Shan brought his friends and searched the demon territory for more than an hour.

However, they still didn't see any trace of the demon Race City.

After clearing a wave of monsters, Windcloud blade said gloomily.

where is the demon City? where are we going to find it on such a big map? "

"I don't know, it'll depend on luck. If we're lucky, we might be able to see a demon City in a few minutes. If we're not, we might not be able to find it even after a few days."

"It can't be. Are we going to spend a few days here?"

why are you thinking so much? if you really want to find a few days 'time, it doesn't matter. Anyway, I've been farming monsters every day and I'm tired of it. I'll just take it as a little exercise.

"you're right, let's take our time."

"Everyone, open the map and take a look to see where the most likely demon Race City is."

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he opened the map to take a look.

He felt that it wouldn't be a good idea to continue searching blindly.

Even though it would take some time, it didn't matter.

Anyway, he didn't lack that little bit of time.

More importantly, if they couldn't find a Demon City, it would be very annoying.

Zhang Shan still hoped that he could find the demon City as soon as possible and then solve the problem with a wave of attacks.

After all, they weren't. They just needed to find a Demon City.

if everyone wanted to be a city lord, then they would have to find four cities.

Zhang Shan opened the map to check.

But he looked at it for a long time and could not come up with anything.

The terrain here was different from the other places in Heaven's Gate.

In the other parts of the Heaven's Gate map, there were mountains, rivers, and other terrains.

However, after leaving the West Gate of wind Cloud City, there was only a vast plain.

It looked the same everywhere, so he didn't know where it was most likely that there would be a Demon City.

Zhang Shan did not know where to go to find it.

Everyone looked at the map for a long time, but they did not find anything special.

at this time, boss wu said.

"Let's just follow the main road. When we see a fork, we'll take the widest road. This should be the easiest way to find the demon City."

"Old Wu is right. There must be a main road to the demon City."

"Alright then, let's go along the main road. I don't believe that we can't find a Demon City."

after a short discussion, they continued to move forward.

As time slowly passed, they ran further and further away, and the monsters' levels became higher and higher.

At 12 o'clock in the evening, the demon strongman they encountered had already become LV 90.

However, his companions were all over level 70.

The level 90 demonic strongmen weren't easy to deal with, but they were high-leveled and well-equipped, so they weren't a problem for now.

However, their clearing speed was not as fast as it was at the beginning.

A level 90 demon strongman had close to 300000 HP.

Zhang Shan was still okay. His powerful damage ability could still kill a monster with one shot.

However, it was not the same for his friends.

even though they weren't at the level where they couldn't defeat the small monsters.

However, they were already exhausted from dealing with the level 90 demon strongmen.

although the equipment of his companions was not bad, each of them had four divine artifacts.

However, even if they wanted to kill a level 90 monster, it would still take them a while.

It was no longer as smooth as it was at the beginning.

Wind cloud blade kept swinging his divine weapon battle axe, hacking at the surrounding demon strongmen.

Every swing of his axe dealt around 30000 to 40000 damage. Moreover, he had the splash effect of the sky splitting axe.

wind and cloud blade slashed a large area.

However, these level 90 demon strongmen had nearly three hundred thousand HP.

Wind and cloud slash had to slash eight or nine times to kill a group of monsters. This efficiency was too slow.

They felt a little frozen. At this rate, they couldn't even find the demon City.

don't get surrounded by a large number of small monsters as you walk and can't rush out. that would be funny.

Chapter 572 The small village of the demon race

Zhang Shan brought his friends out of wind Cloud City and headed straight for the demon territory.

It was just that they had been searching for close to three hours and still did not see any traces of the demon race's city.

The demon cities were harder to find than everyone had imagined.

Everyone could not help but feel a little discouraged.

Originally, they thought that since this was the territory of The Fiend Race, finding a few Fiend Race cities should be an easy matter.

After all, when he was in Fengyun city, he could vaguely see the demon City standing in the depths of the map.

However, the truth was not like that.

They had been searching for so long, and the demon monsters around them were getting stronger and stronger, but they still didn't see any demon cities.

This made everyone a little depressed.

Wind and cloud blade said.

"We haven't even seen the shadow of a Demon City. Are we still going to continue searching?"

Zhang Shan looked at the time. It was already past midnight. It was a little too late.

therefore, he said to his friends.

"That's all for today. I'll continue searching tomorrow."

alright, we'll continue searching tomorrow. Let's have a good sleep first.

yes. We have a whole day tomorrow. I don't believe we can't find the demon City.

"time is not a problem. we have all the time we need. i'm just afraid that there aren't that many demon cities in this game. that would be nonsense. "

"Impossible. Are there only two demon cities in the entire game? This doesn't make any sense."

"There must be more demon cities, and there should be quite a number of them. It's just that we haven't found them yet."

"i think so too. the devil race is so powerful, it's impossible for them to not have a city. "

"Who knows?"

"Don't think too much, just continue looking tomorrow."

that's right. If we can't find it tomorrow, we'll continue the search the day after tomorrow. I don't believe we can't find the demon City after searching for a few days.

yes, yes, you're right. I'm going to sleep first. We'll continue tomorrow.

Everyone agreed on a time to go online the next day, and then they all went offline.

After Zhang Shan went offline, he casually packed up and quickly entered Dreamland.

The next morning, Zhang Shan looked at the time.

eight o'clock.

He went online and logged into the game.

After he entered the game, his friends had not entered the game yet.

Zhang Shan was farming monsters on the spot, while waiting for his friends to come online.

After a while, his friends came online one after another.

zhang shan said after seeing that all his friends had arrived.

let's walk faster today. If we can avoid killing monsters, we'll try our best to run deeper into the map.

"Alright, let's charge forward together. When we can't move anymore, we'll clear another wave of monsters."

Zhang Shan rode the red hares and led the way, his friends following behind.

along the way, they saw a large number of small monsters.

however, zhang shan did not care about these small monsters. instead, he led his friends and rushed over.

Normally, they were all riding hero mounts, so these demonic monsterlings should not be able to catch up.

But the problem was that they weren't the only ones. There were also demonic monsterlings chasing them.

On their way forward, there would be monsters that would appear and block their path.

in the beginning, zhang shan tried his best to avoid the small monsters and took detours to advance.

however, this was the territory of the demons. the entire map was filled with demons. even if zhang shan wanted to hide, he had nowhere to hide.

After a short while, the monsters around them grew more and more, and they slowly couldn't run anymore.

He had no choice.

he could only continue to clear the monsters.

Just like that, they cleared the monsters as they advanced.

But when night fell, they still hadn't found the demon City.

However, everyone was no longer as anxious as before.

The matter of finding a Demon City really couldn't be rushed.

There was no use in being anxious.

It must be known that Zhang Shan had run for a full three days before he had accidentally run into the demon suppressing city.

as for wind cloud city, it was found by other players after a long time.

Zhang Shan felt that perhaps the distance between these demon cities was very far.

They were only a day's journey away from wind Cloud City. It was normal that they hadn't found a new Demon City.

As long as they kept moving forward, there was no reason that they couldn't find a new Demon City.

Under Zhang Shan's lead, they cleared the monsters along the way.

They even managed to defeat three bosses in the day.

There were two red bosses and one orange boss.

And this was because they hadn't put their focus on finding the boss.

Otherwise, they would have been able to find more bosses.

Everyone only had one goal, which was to find a new Asmodian city as soon as possible and then take it down.

at this time, they were already very far away from the demon territory.

this was a place that no player had been to yet.

with every step they took, they were exploring a new map.

The demon minions around them had now become level 95 demon strongmen.

Level 95 monsters were already very powerful for his companions.

Seeing that the surrounding monsters were getting stronger and stronger, his friends felt a little guilty.

As the monsters grew stronger, they felt more and more that they were not following their hearts.

Although their equipment was not bad and their levels were not low.

however, against level 95 monsters, they couldn't do anything at all.

These level 95 demon strongmen had over 300000 HP.

On the other hand, the damage dealt by his companions was only slightly over 30000 each time.

If they wanted to kill a small monster, they would have to hack it more than ten times.

There were so many monsters that their clearing speed was not as fast as the respawning speed of the monsters.

If not for Zhang Shan, they would not have been able to move an inch.

It would be good enough if his friends could guarantee that they wouldn't be killed by the monsters, let alone find the demon City.

Seeing such a situation, everyone was a little flustered.

wind cloud blade said to zhang shan.

"Boss, I don't think we need to keep looking. These monsters are getting stronger and stronger. If we keep going, I'm afraid we'll encounter Max-level monsters."

Zhang Shan did not seem to care about wind cloud blade's worry. He spoke.

don't worry, level 100 monsters aren't that strong. I can take them down with two shots. Just follow behind me.

To Zhang Shan, no matter how strong the monsters were, they were still small monsters.

Even if there were a lot of them, it didn't matter. He could still kill his way through.

so what if it was a max-level monster?

Zhang Shan could even farm the zombie monsters in the city of the ruins. Would he be afraid of these small monsters?

It must be known that the zombie monsters in the city of the ruins were all orange-Named Monsters.

Each zombie monster dealt a lot of damage, and their HP was as high as two billion.

Compared to the zombie monsters in the city of the ruins, these demon strongmen were just little brothers.

he didn't need to take it to heart.

although zhang shan did not mind, wind and cloud blade still gave up. he continued to speak to zhang shan.

"I'm not worried about these small monsters, but even if we take down the demon City now, it doesn't make much sense. the monsters around here are of such a high level. if we take down the demon city, i'm afraid we won't be able to defend it."

that's right. If the demonic monsterlings that are attacking the city are all Max-level monsters, how are we going to defend?"

"What should we do? most of the guild members were around level 40 to 50. If the demonic monsters attacking the city are all Max-level monsters, then there's not much point in asking them to help defend the city."

"Why are you all so worried? can't brother Guan build an arrow tower? Can't we just set up more arrow towers?"

"I'm afraid the arrow tower won't be able to block it. These demonic monsterlings have more than 300000 HP, but the arrow tower only has 50000 damage. I'm afraid it's not enough."

if it's not enough, we can build more. We can add a few more layers of arrow towers on the entire city wall. We can definitely defend the city. The arrow towers are not afraid of the level suppression anyway.

"How much would that cost?"

Of course, Windcloud blade knew that it did not matter how strong the demonic monsters attacking the city were.

As long as they could build more arrow towers, if 10000 was not enough, then they could build 20000. If 20000 was not enough, then they could build 100000.

when the entire city wall was filled with arrow towers, no matter how strong the attacking demons were, they could not rush over.

But the problem was that building arrow towers also cost money.

The material cost of the arrow tower was not cheap. Back then, Feng Yun realm had spent hundreds of millions of gold coins to collect the arrow tower materials.

although wind and cloud blade was not short of money, there was still a limit to how much he could afford.

Even if he had to spend money, he couldn't do it indefinitely.

At this moment, heart is with me said.

“You’re worried about this? That’s fine, when we take down the first city, let me be the city Lord, I’m not afraid of spending money.”

“Damn, this won’t do. Let me do it.”

Windcloud blade felt the disdain from his heart.

He immediately objected.

How could this be? he was the first to suggest coming out to find the demon race’s city.

The first city that was taken down would, of course, be his city Lord.

then what are you saying? let’s continue.

“Why are you thinking so much? we haven’t even found the demon City yet, and you’re already thinking about not being able to defend it. You’re really worrying for nothing.”

“that’s right, let’s find the demon city first.”

They cleared the monsters as they advanced.

After running for about an hour, Zhang Shan suddenly realized that in front of them, there was a small hill.

There was actually a small hill in this vast plain?

Zhang Shan was very surprised.

He said to his friends.

“Let’s go this way and take a look at the top of that Hill first.”

“Brother Guan, why are you going there? Didn’t we agree that we’ll just follow the main road?”

“So stupid, you can see far from the high ground. Let’s go to the top of the hill and see if there are any demon cities around.”

“Let’s go, follow me.”

Under Zhang Shan’s lead, they quickly ran towards the small hill.

However, the closer they got to the peak, the more demonic monsters there were.

Moreover, the monsters on the hill were all level 100 demonic strongmen.

Compared to the level 95 monsters, these level 100 demonic strongmen were freakishly strong.

Zhang Shan could no longer be like before, able to kill a monster in one shot.

although his damage was very high, when facing these max level monsters, zhang shan still had to fire two shots.

the theoretical damage of each of zhang shan's shots was more than 600000.

Meanwhile, the monsters here all had the Holy demon's protection, which reduced their damage by half.

In other words, without a critical hit, each shot of Zhang Shan's could only produce the effect of 300000 +.

This was without taking into account the level suppression of the monsters.

Zhang Shan's current level was 75.

And against a full-level demon strongman, he would still be suppressed by a level difference.

This greatly reduced the effect of his damage.

however, it was still okay. at least he could kill a group of monsters with two shots.

As Zhang Shan fired his gun to clear the monsters, he also took the time to check the attributes of these Max-level demonic strongmen.

[demonic strongman: level 100, attack 20000, HP 500000, skill: combined saber. Status: Holy demon's protection.

[one blade: increase damage by 50%]

Zhang Shan looked at the attributes of these small monsters and could not help but be a little shocked.

Were they still small monsters? He was probably not much weaker than the BOSS.

20,000 attack power and 500000 HP ... This was simply too much.

No wonder his little friends couldn't take it anymore.

In the beginning, wind and cloud blade and heart moves with me were still brandishing their weapons as they charged forward.

however, they soon realized that they couldn't handle these max-level monsters at all.

If the monsters came up one by one, it would be fine.

They had no problem dealing with one or two monsters at the same time.

However, the small monsters in the game would not talk about martial virtue. They would come in a large group.

Wind and cloud one blade and heart moves with me, after slashing at the front for a while, they quickly retreated behind Zhang Shan.

They didn't dare to be reckless at all.

If they weren't careful and were surrounded by a dozen monsters, they would probably die.

seeing how powerful the monsters were, windcloud blade said gloomily.

“F * ck, I didn’t think that even with four pieces of godly equipment, I still can’t beat the small monsters.”

it can’t be helped. The level gap is a Little Big, and the max-level monsters are indeed powerful.

“Yes, level is very important. After we become city Lords, we must go into seclusion and kill monsters to level up. if i don’t level up, it won’t be convenient for me to do anything.”

that’s right. You’re always suppressed by monsters without a level.

“don’t worry, i’ll level up sooner or later.”

I feel that there must be a demonic city nearby. Even a Max-level monster has appeared, so how far can the demonic city be? ”

“I hope so.”

“When we reach the top of the hill, we’ll see if there’s a Demon City around here.”

“brother guan zi, hurry up and take us to the mountain.”

Hearing this, Zhang Shan was a little speechless.

Damn it, his friends could not help much now.

little fairy and mr. wu were still able to deal some damage.

after all, little fairy was a long-range job. she could shoot from a distance without worrying about being cut by the monsters.

boss wu’s method was even simpler. he followed behind zhang shan and let his fairy pet farm monsters in front.

as for wind and cloud blade and heart with me, these two big shots were completely useless now. they could only follow behind zhang shan and shout six six six six.

This was because they didn’t dare to go up and kill the monsters.

if they wanted to kill monsters, they had to get close to the monsters and fight them. they didn’t dare to do so at all.

If they were surrounded by a large group of small monsters, wouldn’t they fall to the ground?

Although their equipment was good, these Max-level demon strongmen each had 20000 attack power.

if they were to face more than ten monsters at the same time, they would be cut down to the ground with just one slash from each monster.

therefore, there were only three people who could really deal damage.

Little fairy and boss Wu couldn’t deal much damage either.

if they wanted to kill a full-level demon strongman, they would have to fight for a while.

But even so, under Zhang Shan's lead, they were still steadily advancing to the top of the mountain.

His friends could not deal any damage, but Zhang Shan's damage was still very high.

With two shots, Zhang Shan could take down 12 full-level demon strongmen.

Although it wasn't like before, where he could instantly kill monsters.

However, Zhang Shan's speed of clearing the monsters was not too slow.

After a while, under Zhang Shan's lead, they gradually advanced to the vicinity of the peak.

Zhang Shan raised his head to look at the top of the mountain.

There was a small village on the top of the mountain.

eh? why is there a village here? "

I don't know. It's just that a village isn't a city. It's probably useless.

"I mean, if there's a hideout here, wouldn't there be a boss?"

"f * ck, you're still thinking about boss at a time like this. we're here to look for the demon city, not to fight a boss."

"alright," he said.

"Let's kill our way into the village and take a look."

Zhang Shan took the lead and headed straight for the small village on the mountain peak.

When they reached the edge of the Fort, four orange bosses rushed out.

The guards of the devil village.

f * ck, such a small village and there are four orange bosses guarding the door. Doesn't that mean there's a big Boss inside? "

"what kind of big BOSS can there be? It's just a red BOSS."

it's hard to say. Maybe there's a BOSS with a real name.

it can't be. If we really encounter a real-name BOSS, we won't be losing anything.

" what's there to lose? isn't it awesome to beat a real-name BOSS that will definitely drop a divine weapon mold? " why do I need a divine weapon mold? I want a ring and a necklace.

"Fuck, you really dare to think."

don't talk nonsense. There might only be four orange guards here.

that's impossible. An orange BOSS is guarding the door, so there must be a Big Boss inside.

"We'll only know after we charge in."

“Let’s clear out the village guards first.”

Zhang Shan held his hand cannon, and countless bullets were like raindrops, sweeping towards the four Fort guards.

As for his friends, they quickly cleared the surrounding monsters.

although zhang shan had already cleared the monsters along the way when he was rushing up, he was still a little worried.

However, there were still some small monsters in this small village.

However, there weren’t many of them.

Without Zhang Shan’s help, the demon strongmen in the village should be able to be taken care of by his friends.

As Zhang Shan fired his gun, he looked around.

He wanted to see if he could see the situation at the foot of the mountain from here.

He wanted to see if there was a Demon City nearby.

However, Zhang Shan looked around but could not see anything.

his field of vision was blocked by the fence of the village and he could not see the situation outside the village.

Zhang Shan looked into the village and saw that in the middle of the village, there was a high platform that looked like a Sentry tower.

Zhang Shan thought.

if he were to stand on that high platform, he should be able to see everything in the surroundings.

However, he was currently holding onto four orange quality Fort guards. If he did not destroy these four guards, he would not be able to leave.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan said to wind and cloud blade.

Yidao, go to that high platform and take a look. See if there are any demon cities around.

“Alright,” he said.

Zhang Shan felt that if there were demon cities around, he would definitely be able to see them from the high platform.

As long as they could find the demon City, their goal would be achieved.

Their goal this time was to find the demon race’s city.

If he couldn’t see the demon City from the high platform, then he would quickly leave after dealing with the four guards.

He didn’t want to waste his time with the small monsters in this small village.

there was no need for that.

if there were no demon race cities nearby.

Then they should hurry down the mountain and continue to search along the main road. There was no need to waste time on this small hill.

This Hill was covered with full-level demon strongmen.

he might not be able to finish it even by tomorrow.

It was better to have wind cloud blade go to the high platform to take a look first and confirm whether there were any demon cities nearby.

Chapter 573 A weaker version of the demon God?

After Zhang Shan rushed to the top of the mountain, his first thought was to confirm whether he could see a demon City from here.

after all, there was only a small hill around here.

If he stood on top and looked into the distance, he should be able to see far away.

if there was a demon city nearby, it should be visible from this small hill.

However, he could not see the situation at the foot of the mountain from his current position.

Zhang Shan's field of vision was completely blocked by the fence of the village.

Fortunately, there was a high platform in the middle of the village.

as long as they could get to the high platform, they would be able to clearly see the situation around them.

The high platform in the middle of the village felt like a lookout tower, a platform specially used to check the movements in the surroundings.

It was just that Zhang Shan could not leave now. He was being held back by the four Fort guards.

If he didn't get rid of these four village guards, he wouldn't be able to climb up the high platform in the middle.

even though these village guards were only orange bosses.

However, that would depend on the level of the orange BOSS.

a max-level orange-colored BOSS was still very powerful.

this was zhang shan.

If it was anyone else, they probably wouldn't even be able to stop a single village guard.

Zhang Shan held the four Fort guards back, not daring to be distracted.

He had to keep on attacking.

This was because Zhang Shan needed to rely on continuous attacks to deal damage to achieve the lifesteal effect.

if he couldn't suck blood, then these four fort guards could cut him down to the ground after a few continuous slashes.

The damage dealt by these orange-colored village guards was much more powerful than the zombie monsters in the city of the ruins.

The zombie monsters in the city of the ruins were also orange-Named Monsters.

however, they were only small monsters and had only one passive skill. the zombie monsters did not have any active skills.

However, these four village guards were different.

As orange-colored bosses, these village guards each had three skills.

With the support of the skill, the damage that each of the Fort guards dealt to Zhang Shan was close to 400000.

If it was a critical hit, it would deal close to 800000 damage.

This kind of damage was already very fierce.

Facing the four ferocious Fort guards, Zhang Shan had to take them seriously.

Therefore, he could only arrange for wind and cloud blade to take a look at the high platform in the middle of the village.

In any case, he only needed wind and cloud blade to confirm whether there were any demon cities in the surroundings.

He wasn't the one tanking the BOSS, so there shouldn't be a problem.

Windcloud blade quickly got away from the monsters and tried to run towards the platform.

in the middle of the village, there were still some small monsters.

Windcloud blade carefully cleared the monsters as he approached the platform.

Zhang Shan glanced at wind and cloud blade's actions and did not pay much attention to them.

He would wait until he reached the high platform.

Zhang Shan thought.

In this place, it was impossible for Windcloud blade to die.

As Zhang Shan fired his gun, he checked the attributes and skills of the guard.

[demon village guard (orange): level 100, attack 200000, HP 2 billion]

Skill 1, Iron Blood Blade technique, skill 2, edge breaker (passive), skill 3, eight barren divine slash.
Status: Holy demon's protection.

[Iron Blood Blade technique: increases damage by 100%.]

[piercing strike (passive): there is a chance to trigger piercing strike during an attack, dealing five times the damage.]

[eight desolations divine slash: the Fort guard slashes the eight desolations with his saber. Deals 500% damage to surrounding enemy targets.]

[damage range: 50 yards]

looking at the attributes and skills of the village guards, zhang shan finally understood.

No wonder the damage that these village guards dealt to him was so high.

200,000 ATK, plus the double effect of Iron Blood Blade technique, that was 400000 damage.

With four of them attacking him at the same time, that would be a total of 160000 damage.

It was simply terrifying.

not only that, but these village guards also had a very powerful critical hit passive.

Edge breaker, 5x critical hit.

A single village guard could deal close to 2000000 damage to him if it was a critical hit.

If the two Fort guards hit a critical hit at the same time, then wouldn't Zhang Shan be dead?

He was already so strong now, and there was still a possibility of being killed by the orange boss?

He didn't even dare to think about it.

Of course.

Two village guards striking at the same time was also a low probability.

Even though these four village guards were surrounding Zhang Shan and attacking him.

However, it was almost impossible for the damage dealt by these village guards to fall at the same time.

There had to be some sequence.

it was even more impossible for two or more village guards to deal a critical hit at the same time.

Fortunately, this was the case.

Otherwise, it would be very difficult for Zhang Shan to withstand the damage of these four village guards.

he might have to change to the heart of the demon dragon.

Just as Zhang Shan was continuously attacking the Fort guards.

At this moment, wind cloud blade was slowly approaching the high platform in the middle of the village.

However, just as wind cloud blade was about to step onto the platform, a blade light slashed down from the platform.

The miserable wind cloud blade was instantly cut down by this inexplicable blade.

Seeing wind cloud blade fall to the ground, Zhang Shan could not help but be shocked. He asked wind cloud blade.

“Yidao, what’s going on?”

Zhang Shan and the others were a little far away from wind cloud blade. They did not see clearly what had happened just now.

They only knew that a blade had mysteriously flown over from the high platform and directly chopped wind cloud blade to death.

This must be a ghost.

where did this blade come from?

Zhang Shan was not the only one who felt strange. The rest of his friends did not understand at all. They did not know what had happened.

Could it be that there was a powerful boss on the high platform in the middle of the village?

But they didn’t see their boss just now.

the blade light had come too quickly, and no one had seen it clearly.

After seeing Windcloud blade fall to the ground, everyone kept calling out to him.

“What’s the situation? How did you die in one strike?”

“Don’t tell me he was killed by the monsters?”

it shouldn’t be a small monster. Everyone saw the attack just now. How could it be a small monster that made such a flashy scene? ”

“Maybe it’s a cool little monster.”

“Nonsense, can small monsters be eye-catching?”

“yidao, say something.”

At this moment, wind and cloud blade, who was lying on the ground, felt extremely depressed.

Originally, Zhang Shan had asked him to go up the high platform and check the surroundings to see if there were any demon cities.

Initially, wind and cloud blade was very excited about this matter.

In the game, it was also fun to climb high and look into the distance.

When everyone encountered such a terrain, they would find a way to climb up and take a look at the scenery.

If they really found a demonic city, then wind cloud blade would be even happier.

However, who would have thought that he would be hacked to death by a blade that came out of nowhere before he could even reach the high platform?

Windcloud blade was very depressed.

was he that weak?

He was killed by a casual slash.

Windcloud blade felt that he was very strong.

In the New World, even if he could not compare to Zhang Shan, there were not many people who were stronger than him.

But why did he always fall to the ground?

he was a little unconvinced.

Why am I always the one getting hurt?

In the face of everyone's questions, Windcloud blade was a little depressed, but he still answered.

I didn't see it clearly. There should be a powerful BOSS on this high platform.

"F * ck, are you trash? You don't even know how you died?"

" f * ck, i was killed in a flash. it was so fast that i didn't even see it clearly. " that's impossible. The BOSS is already in front of you. Can't you see it clearly? "

I didn't pay attention just now. I was only thinking about going up the high platform. Who would have known that there would be a BOSS up there? "

"Fine, you're really trash."

"Let me take a look."

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he pulled the four Fort guards and slowly approached the platform.

He didn't want his other friends to test him.

Since the BOSS on the high platform could insta-kill Windcloud blade, it could naturally insta-kill the others as well.

Wouldn't it be courting death if he let his other companions continue to probe?

He should do it himself.

As Zhang Shan moved slowly, he put on the heart of the demon Dragon.

He was also a little afraid.

Tanking the damage from four orange quality Fort guards was already close to his limit.

If a powerful BOSS was added, Zhang Shan would definitely not be able to hold on.

He had to change to the heart of the demon Dragon.

After changing to the heart of the demon Dragon, Zhang Shan's HP instantly reached more than 7.3 million.

However, in this way, Zhang Shan's attack speed would be much lower.

After all, if he used the heart of the demon Dragon, he would lose the attack speed bonus of the hand of Medas.

Their attack speed would be reduced by 50%.

Originally, he could fire three shots in a second.

Without the bonus from the hand of maedas, Zhang Shan could only fire two shots in one second.

But it didn't matter.

It was just that he was a little slower.

In fact, Zhang Shan could do it too. He would first kill the four Fort guards, and then go to the BOSS on the high platform.

however, zhang shan was thinking that since there was still a BOSS on the high platform, it would be better to pull it together and fight it.

That way, he could play much faster.

If he killed these four guards first, then when he fought the BOSS on the high platform, he would be able to kill them.

His ejection was passive, so he could not display its effect.

There were no other targets. As a launching bridge, Zhang Shan's passive launching was completely useless.

That would instead make the fight even slower.

Most importantly, Zhang Shan felt that the boss on the stage was most likely a boss with a real name.

If that was the case, then all the more they should be pulled together to fight.

The real name boss dealt high damage and had high HP.

If they didn't rely on the damage from the ejection, they would have to fight for a long time before they could kill him.

Therefore, when they found out that there was another boss on the high platform, they were stunned.

Zhang Shan equipped the heart of the demon Dragon, pulled the four Fort guards, and approached the high platform.

No matter what the boss on the high platform was like, he had to pull it together and beat it up.

Anyway, he had the heart of the Magic Dragon. No matter what kind of BOSS it was, it was impossible to kill him.

Let alone an ordinary BOSS.

After he had changed to the heart of the demon Dragon, even if it was a Demon God, Zhang Shan could still hold on for a while.

Zhang Shan led the four Fort guards and slowly approached the high platform.

The rest of the team, after clearing the monsters at the entrance of the stronghold, also began to move closer to Zhang Shan.

When Zhang Shan was near the high platform, a blade light came from the high platform and slashed towards him.

[damage -1589135]

Fuck.

the damage was a little high.

A blade flew from the high platform, directly dealing close to 1.6 million damage.

It was simply ridiculous.

One had to know that the damage dealt by the ninth Demon God, Lufasi, was only three million.

Zhang Shan had not expected to encounter such a powerful BOSS on this small hill.

The damage was close to 1600000, and this was not even a critical hit.

If it was a critical hit, wouldn't the BOSS's damage be as high as the demon God's?

It felt ridiculous.

After taking a hit, Zhang Shan finally saw the BOSS's appearance clearly.

It was a demon general in white clothes and armor, holding a long blade in his hand.

General of the four-sided demon guards, Clause.

It was a BOSS with a real name.

After seeing the real name BOSS, not only did Zhang Shan not panic, but he was even happier.

A real name BOSS was good.

When a real-name BOSS was killed, it would definitely drop some good items. At the very least, it would drop a divine weapon mold.

Although the value of a relic mold was definitely not comparable to a relic, and Zhang Shan himself no longer needed it.

however, no matter what, it was still a god-tiered item.

At the moment, each mold could be sold for at least 10 to 20 million gold coins.

It was still very valuable.

moreover, his friends had not even gotten their defensive divine weapons.

Each of them was still lacking two defensive divine artifacts.

wouldn't he be able to solve this problem if he killed this demon general of the four directions, clause?

In any case, Zhang Shan's four friends had all three professions.

as long as the mold dropped wasn't something they already had, someone would be able to use it.

They usually couldn't even find a real-name BOSS.

This time, it came to his door, so how could he not beat it up?

The general of the demons 'four directions guards, clause, jumped down from the high platform. He waved his long blade and slashed at Zhang Shan continuously.

It wasn't like the wind and cloud slash earlier, where he retreated to the high platform after a slash.

just now, wind cloud blade was too weak.

he fell to the ground with a single slash from clause.

After the players fell to the ground, the boss would not spawn guard.

It was understandable that clause had returned to his original position after killing wind and cloud blade.

Perhaps this general of the four directions demon guards, clause, had a mission while standing on the high platform.

As long as no players came close, he would stay there.

It was just that Zhang Shan was too strong, and clause could not kill him. That was why he did not return to the platform.

However, Zhang Shan was just making a casual guess and did not pay much attention to this.

who cares what kind of mechanism it was?

He just wanted the BOSS to jump down.

if not, Zhang Shan would have to think of a way to bring the four fort guards and ascend the platform. That would be so troublesome.

Now that Cruz had come down to fight him, it saved him a lot of trouble.

Zhang Shan held his hand cannon, and countless bullets were like raindrops, sweeping towards Cruz.

After Cruz jumped down, Zhang Shan quickly changed his target.

He locked his attack on Cruz.

This was a real-name BOSS, so its HP was definitely much higher than the orange-colored village guard.

By locking his attack on Cruz, the critical hit effect would only be triggered on Cruz.

Bullet damage didn't have a critical effect.

In that case, he could deal more damage to Cruz.

As for the four Fort guards, they would only take damage from Zhang Shan's attack.

In comparison, the damage received by the village guards would be much less.

Now, Zhang Shan could only hope that the other four village guards could live a little longer.

This way, his ejection damage could last longer.

It would be best if they could last until they beat up the demon general of the four directions, Cruz.
Of course.

That was impossible.

Although Zhang Shan had not checked Cruz's attributes, he knew.

As a real-name BOSS, Cruz's HP was at least several times that of the knockoff guard.

Even if he continued to deal critical hits, it would be impossible to bring the health bar of the knockoff guard to the same level as Cruz.

However, that didn't matter. As long as the four village guards could last a little longer, it would be fine.

As long as he could hold on until Cruz was at half health, it would be fine.

When Cruz had more than half of his health left, he had survived the big move. The remaining half of his health was even if he did not receive any bullet damage.

He could also slowly abort it.

Zhang Shan was facing one real name BOSS and four orange bosses.

Violent damage numbers kept appearing above his head.

The least was nearly 400,000, the most was actually 1.5 to 1.6 million, and when it was a critical hit, it was even more than 3 million.

It was simply terrifying.

The damage of these five bosses was really outrageous.

if zhang shan had not changed to the heart of the demon dragon in advance, he would definitely not have been able to withstand it.

Speaking of which, this general of the four directions guard, clause, was indeed a little too fierce.

The damage Cruz dealt to Zhang Shan was at least 1.5 million.

Zhang Shan could not help but sigh.

A max level real name BOSS was terrifying.

As Zhang Shan fired his gun, he checked Cruz's attributes and skills.

He wanted to see how strong a Max-level real-name BOSS would be.

Speaking of which, other than the demon God, he had never fought such a strong BOSS before.

Looking at the damage that clause had dealt to him, Zhang Shan felt that this clause was just a Smurf Demon God.

He checked his attributes.

General clause (red): Level 100, attack 800000, HP 100000000.

Skill 1, lunchknife, skill 2, fire beacon, skill 3, demon descent, skill 4, square. Status: Holy demon's protection.

[dark moon blade: the dark moon blade technique inherited by general clause of the four demonic armies. increases damage by 100%.]

[fire beacon: when the general of the demons 'four directions guards, clause, is under attack, it will light the fire beacon and call for reinforcements.]

[demonic God's descent: when in danger, the general of the demons 'four directions guards, clause, will summon the demonic god to assist in battle.]

[four directions: the famous ultimate skill of the demon general of the four directions guards, clause. The light of the blade envelops the four directions, and anyone who sees it will receive a fatal blow.]

[damage Range: Unlimited, 5 times damage]

Fuck.

After looking at clause's attributes and skills, Zhang Shan was simply shocked.

Could a Max-level real-name boss be this strong?

This general of the four directions demon guards, clause, was simply powerful to the point of being abnormal.

it didn't mean that this general of the four demon forces, clause, was powerful in one aspect, but in all aspects.

The attributes aside, Cruz had 800000 attack power and 10 billion HP.

Such an attribute was already very exaggerated.

The key point was that Cruise's skills were simply overpowered.

Other than the first skill, which was still considered normal, the other three skills of Cruz were all outrageous.

the first skill of the demon general of the four directions guards, clause, was only a skill that increased the damage by 100%.

This boss was exactly the same as the other real-name bosses. There was nothing special about it.

But what the hell were the other three skills of Cruz?

Zhang Shan could not understand.

what was the meaning of the fire beacon skill?

Cruz could summon reinforcements?

Was it the same as the ultimate skill of the garrison commander when they attacked the demon-suppressing city? would it summon a huge number of monsters?

But the problem was that the garrison commander's ultimate move had such an effect.

and this cruz, a small skill could actually compare to the garrison commander's ultimate skill?

this was too ridiculous.

alright, this was understandable.

After all, Cruz was a Max-level real-name BOSS, so it was reasonable for him to have some overpowered skills.

but what did cruz's third skill mean?

A demonic God's descent?

Weren't the other bosses 'skills all Demon God's will?

Why did it become the descent of a Demon God when it came to clause?

Could it be that clause could summon a real Demon God?

If that was the case, then it was really out of the ordinary.

Fighting a real-name BOSS and summoning a Demon God, wouldn't that be a scam?

Seeing this skill, Zhang Shan's heart felt a little flustered.

he couldn't defeat the demon god now.

Perhaps he had misunderstood. The demon God's descent skill should not have summoned a real Demon God.

It could only be a Demon God Phantom.

Even a real Demon God would not be able to stay there for more than a few seconds.

Otherwise, who would be able to defeat a BOSS with a real name and a wave of demonic gods? that shouldn't be the case.

Compared to Cruz's first two skills, its ultimate was easier to understand.

Cruz's big move was a super-large area-of-effect big move.

As for the damage range?

Only the heavens would know.

In any case, in the skill description, Cruz's big move, square, was mentioned.

The damage range was infinite.

A big move with unlimited damage range was ridiculous.

Was he going to be like the demonic god?

Back then, when the ninth Demon God, lufasi, had slashed at Zhang Shan, the light of his blade had also crossed the entire map.

It felt like it was infinite.

Cruz's ultimate skill actually dealt about the same amount of damage as the demon God.

Wherever Cruz's gaze landed, everyone would take damage from its big move.

In other words, as long as Cruz could see someone, they wouldn't be able to escape the range of his big move.

it was simply a BUG skill.

Fortunately, Cruz's big move only dealt five times the damage.

If Cruz's ultimate had been even more powerful, Zhang Shan might have been on his knees.

Cruz had 800000 attack power, so five times the damage would be 4000000 in theory.

If its four-sided ultimate skill dealt ten times the damage, then wouldn't it deal eight million theoretical damage?

Damn it, even if Zhang Shan had the enhancement of the heart of the demon Dragon, he could not withstand such damage.

Fortunately, Cruz's big move only dealt five times the damage.

He was really lucky.

Seeing the demon's four-sided guard general clause, with such powerful attributes and such an overpowered skill ...

Zhang Shan was on the verge of tears.

Initially, Zhang Shan had thought that with his current strength, any BOSS would be easy to defeat.

Other than the demon God, there was no other BOSS that he could not defeat.

However, this clause had really given Zhang Shan a lesson.

One should not be too complacent.

Although Zhang Shan was very strong now, if he had not just obtained the heart of the demon Dragon.

He probably couldn't beat this cruise.

Zhang Shan thought.

A BOSS as powerful as clause was probably not much weaker than the demon God.

Could it be that this clause was a weaker version of a Demon God?

Chapter 574 The four demon cities

When Zhang Shan saw the attributes and skills of the demon's general of the four directions guards, clause, he was shocked.

Zhang Shan was not worried that he would not be able to defeat this real name BOSS.

no matter how overpowered clause's skills were, zhang shan was not afraid.

If he couldn't beat clause even after he had the demon's heart.

How was he going to challenge the demon gods in the future?

If they couldn't even defeat a real name BOSS, then there was no way they could defeat the demon God.

Although this clause was very fierce, Zhang Shan was confident that he could still beat him.

However, Cruz's skills seemed to be a little too powerful.

Naturally, Zhang Shan was not afraid.

He wasn't afraid, but his friends probably wouldn't be able to take it.

Facing such an overpowered BOSS, it was best for his friends to help him deal some damage.

By the time the BOSS used its skills, they wouldn't even be qualified to watch the battle.

this was because the last three skills of cruz were life-threatening to his friends.

if his friends continued to accompany him and fight the BOSS together ...

He would probably die from an unknown AoE.

Zhang Shan was tanking the five bosses, his back against the high platform as he attacked non-stop.

At this time, the Little Friends had finally cleared the surrounding monsters and ran over.

Boss Wu Ran to Windcloud blade's side and used revive to revive him.

the four of them ran to zhang shan's side. they excitedly picked up their weapons and madly attacked the boss.

With a real-name boss to fight, how could his friends not be excited?

Killing a real-name boss meant that there would be a God-tier item dropped.

Compared to other players, they were indeed very strong. After all, each of them had a few divine artifacts.

However, he had yet to gather all the divine weapons for his companions.

Each of them only had four divine artifacts, and they were still quite far from it.

As a real-name boss, the general of the four demonic guards, clause, would definitely drop a divine weapon mold.

If he was lucky, he might even get some other good items.

as long as the divine weapon mold dropped wasn't a duplicate piece of equipment that they already had.

Didn't that mean that he had solved another problem?

Thinking of this, the Little Friends were all very excited.

Just as his friends were excitedly killing the BOSS, Zhang Shan reminded them.

"I think it's better for you guys to log off earlier."

"Brother Guan? Why do we have to go offline?"

"This boss's skills are too powerful. You guys won't be able to hold on."

"that's fine. when the boss uses its ultimate skill, we'll just walk a little."

it's not just the boss 'ultimate skill. The boss' other skills are probably very powerful as well. I'm afraid you guys can't take it.

that's impossible. We can't even Dodge the boss's small skills? "

"i guess so."

f * ck, what kind of crazy skills does this clause have? let me see.

With Zhang Shan's reminder, the Little Friends quickly checked clause's skill description.

After a while, when they saw the BOSS's attributes and skills, they were all dumbfounded.

f * ck, this Cruz's big move is awesome. Anyone who sees it will be affected by it, and it has an infinite range of damage. Is he serious? "

"It should be a virtual finger. It can't really have an infinite range. If that's the case, then wouldn't clause have to fight his way to Heaven's Gate from here?"

"It's impossible to fight all the way to heaven's Gate. however, the damage range of this cruz's big move will definitely be outrageously large."

" what's there to be afraid of? anyway, the description of the skill says that only those that cruise can see will be hurt. as long as we hide behind it, we'll be fine, right? "

"f * ck, is that how you understand it? Did your physical education teacher teach you Chinese?"

"Is there a problem with this understanding?"

"there's definitely a problem. the gaze should be referring to the range or distance, not the direction. if you stand behind the BOSS, you won't be able to avoid the damage from the boss "big move."

"There's such a thing?"

"That's for sure,"

"I say, don't think too far. We're still thinking about the BOSS's ultimate skill. With our small bodies, can we even withstand the BOSS 'ultimate skill? The BOSS "second and third skills, we can't even defend against them."

"F * ck, I was too focused on the big move to notice these two small skills."

"F * ck, what does this Demon God's descent skill mean? Will the BOSS summon a real Demon God?"

I don't know. Didn't all the previous bosses summon the demon God's Phantom? "

"I don't think a Phantom can be called a descent."

how are we going to stop it? if a Demon God really comes, even the six-barreled boss won't be able to stop it, let alone us.

"Just worry about yourself. Do you need to worry about the six-barreled boss? Even if the BOSS summons a real Demon God, there will definitely be a limit. Big Boss six-barreled will definitely be able to block it. "

"That's true, then what should we do?"

" what else can we do besides going offline early? "

f * ck, are we not even qualified to watch the battle? " it should be. Although I'm also very unwilling, it's the truth.

no, I won't go offline. I want to stay here and see what tricks this general of the four directions demon guards, clause, can play.

I won't go offline either. I'll just hang around here first. If I really die, I'll just ask big brother carrying a blade to resurrect me later.

"what about me?"

Boss Wu asked gloomily.

After seeing Cruz's overpowered skills, the others were still unwilling to go offline.

They wanted to stay and watch the battle, but boss Wu couldn't.

If the others died, boss Wu could revive them.

However, if boss Wu died, no one could be resurrected.

Thinking of this, boss Wu was very depressed.

Was he the only one who went offline?

of course you should go offline. We're counting on you to resurrect us.

"Alright, but don't panic. I'll go offline later."

Of course, boss Wu knew that. He had to avoid this one.

He couldn't die.

If he also fell to the ground, their mission to find the demon race's city would be a joke.

if he was already dead, why would he still look for a demon city?

If he fell to the ground, everyone would lose a level of experience, and they would have to start from the beginning.

It meant that their entire day had been wasted.

Boss Wu had no other choice. He had to go offline in advance before Cruz's demon's descent skill was activated.

Otherwise, what if clause really did summon a real Demon God?

A casual slash from the demon God could cut them all down to the ground.

Of course.

Boss Wu had decided to go offline in advance to avoid being hurt by cruise.

But there was no need to be so fast.

This was just the beginning.

Cruz's health bar had only been reduced by 3%. There was still a long way to go before the BOSS could cast its skill.

boss wu planned to go offline when cruise's health bar was almost at 80%.

Cruz's skills shocked everyone.

however, everyone only paid attention to cruz's demon's descent and his ultimate skill.

Everyone did not pay too much attention to it.

Wasn't it just summoning monsters?

They had seen many of such skills.

even though there were too many monsters, it was still a troublesome matter.

However, Cruz's skills could instantly kill people.

The fire beacon skill was much gentler.

At this time, Zhang Shan was enduring the damage from the five bosses and was shooting non-stop.

The rest of his friends followed suit, continuously throwing all kinds of skill damage at Cruz.

As for the other four guards, no one paid them any attention.

Zhang Shan's bullet damage could deal with these village guards.

under everyone's continuous attacks, the health bar of the demon general of the four directions guards, clause, had been steadily decreasing.

when his hp dropped to 90%.

Cruz waved his long sword and a huge fire suddenly burst out on the high platform in the middle of the village.

the fire and thick smoke soared into the sky.

Everyone was stunned when they saw this.

"F * ck, you can even play with a BOSS like this? Could it be that the high platform behind us is a beacon tower?"

"It should be,"

"But even if it's a Beacon, it's still a building in the game. Why can the boss's skill interact with the building?"

"who knows?"

"I've really gained some knowledge."

“The question is, what’s the use of Cruz lighting the beacon? There aren’t many monsters around here, where is it going to gather reinforcements?”

” don’t tell me it’s like the wolf king, summoning a group of small monsters from an alternate dimension? ”

“I don’t think so. If that was the case, the monsters would have appeared long ago. After the fire beacon was lit, we didn’t see any monsters.”

“Could it be that this Cruz is going to summon a small monster from the map?”

hehe, that’s great. By the time the monsters come over, we might have already killed the BOSS.

how is that possible? there’s no such stupid setting in the game.

“Let’s wait. We’ll probably see the monsters soon.”

“Cruise won’t gather all the monsters on the map, will he?”

I don’t know. Just pay more attention.

After the general of the four demonic forces, clause, used the Beacon fire skill ...

The high platforms on their bodies were instantly set ablaze.

it was just that no one had seen it yet. where were cruz’s reinforcements?

Where would clause gather the reinforcements from?

While everyone was discussing, they could vaguely hear the sound of a large group moving from the foot of the mountain.

The sound was getting closer and closer, and soon it gathered into the momentum of ten thousand galloping horses.

As Zhang Shan fired his gun, he looked towards the entrance of the stronghold.

Countless demon strongmen were pouring in from the entrance of the village.

Upon seeing such a stance, Windcloud blade could not help but swear.

” f * ck, why are there so many monsters? we can’t stop them. ”

“Block my ass, they’re all full-level demon strongmen. with our small bodies, i’m afraid we can’t even block five monsters.”

“we’re finished, we’re finished. are we going to log off now? It’s only at 10% HP.”

don’t panic. Let’s retreat to the platform and block the entrance. That way, the monsters won’t be able to hit us.

“Haha, that’s a good idea.”

His friends quickly retreated to the high platform. Zhang Shan pulled the five bosses and slowly approached the entrance of the high platform.

Very quickly, Zhang Shan blocked the entrance of the platform, and the five bosses chased closely behind him.

The new monsters were rushing over and quickly filled the entire village.

However, because the entrance to the platform was completely blocked, these monsters could not come up at all.

The monsters couldn't come up, so they naturally couldn't cut them.

Everyone was surprised to see so many demon strongmen gathered near the platform.

Cruz's beacon tower skill was a little awesome.

If it was not for the fact that they were blocking the entrance of the platform, other than Zhang Shan, the rest of them would have been drowned by the endless number of monsters.

"Fuck, just how many monsters are there?"

"God knows. If there must be words to describe it, I can only say countless."

"F * ck, countless is still okay."

there's a problem now. After we kill the boss, will these small monsters retreat? "

"That's hard to say. I don't think they will."

"Then how do we do it? Are we supposed to clear all these monsters after we kill the boss? Otherwise, we won't be able to get out of here."

"don't think too much, let's kill the BOSS first."

"You're right."

Looking at the countless monsters around them, everyone could not help but have a headache.

they had never seen such a situation before.

In their previous two sieges, they had been surrounded by countless mobs.

However, those small monsters weren't as fierce as the current demon strongmen.

The demon strongmen around them were all Max-level monsters.

in the face of countless max level monsters, other than zhang shan, who else could stand still?

Most importantly, based on their previous experience, these monsters summoned by the BOSS were all monsters that were not of the same level as the boss.

After the BOSS was killed, it would not disappear.

If they wanted to go down the mountain, they might need to kill their way through the small monsters.

This was not easy.

However, he couldn't care about that now. He had to kill the BOSS first.

everyone surrounded the BOSS and attacked it continuously.

Suddenly, he put away his axe and took a few steps back.

"You guys fight first. I'll go up to the top of the platform and see if there are any demon cities around."

"F * ck, you're so impatient. Let's kill the BOSS first."

"That's right, why are you in such a hurry? Even if there are demon cities nearby, you can't possibly fly over them. We still have to kill the BOSS first, then clear the monsters before we can leave."

"Don't worry, I'm not a part of the boss fight. I'll go up to the platform and take a look."

as soon as wind cloud blade finished speaking, he quickly ran up the platform.

After a while, Zhang Shan heard wind cloud blade shouting from the high platform.

"Haha, there really are demon cities around here, and there's more than one. There are a total of four demon cities scattered in the four corners of this small hill."

Upon hearing wind cloud blade's words, nobody believed him.

how could that be possible?

If there was a Demon City nearby, everyone would believe it.

However, no one believed that there were four demon cities. That was simply impossible.

How could there be four demon cities all squeezed together?

This didn't make sense at all.

stop talking nonsense. Hurry up and come down to kill the BOSS.

"It's true. There really are four demon cities. I didn't lie to you. If you don't believe me, you can come up and see for yourself."

"Don't mess around. No one will believe you even if you say something fancy."

"Fuck, it's true. big brother carrying a saber, come up and take a look."

No one believed what wind cloud blade had said, so he had to ask boss Wu to go up and take a look.

boss wu hesitated for a moment and then quickly ran to the high platform.

Soon, boss Wu said.

"Damn, there are really four demon cities."

"No way. I'll go up and take a look too."

“Old Wu, don’t tell me you’re lying to us along with wind cloud blade.”

it’s real. Come up and take a look. Four big cities are spread out in the surroundings. It’s a spectacular sight.

Upon hearing boss Wu’s words, the little fairy followed me and quickly left the battle and ran up to the platform.

Only Zhang Shan was left at the scene, and he continued to fight the BOSS.

there was no other way. zhang shan could not leave.

he still had to block the five bosses and continue to deal damage.

if zhang shan had also run away, they would have fought for nothing.

When no one was attacking, the BOSS’s HP recovery rate was extremely fast.

If their damage was paused for more than 10 seconds, Zhang Shan suspected that these five bosses would be back to full health very quickly.

His friends all ran up the stage. Zhang Shan could only attack the BOSS while asking them.

“What’s the situation up there? Are there really four demon cities?”

“brother guan, it’s true. There are four demon cities here.”

that’s good. After we defeat the BOSS, we’ll attack the city one by one.

haha, you’re right. With the four cities gathered together, it will save us the trouble of looking for them.

“Oh right, what’s the situation around us? how many monsters are there?”

Of course, he was happy to find four demon cities at once. It was just nice for his friends to each occupy one city.

this matter was settled in one wave, saving them the trouble of continuing to search in other places.

Of course.

Attacking the city was a matter for the future.

their current problem was to defeat the BOSS first and then clear out the small monsters.

Otherwise, they would have been surrounded by the small monsters on the hill, leaving the Nephilim race’s city there.

they had no way of attacking the city.

there are a lot of small monsters. They’re all over the mountains. If we really want to kill them, we won’t be able to kill them all even if we kill them for a few days.

“Is it that exaggerated?”

“it’s not an exaggeration at all. not only is the entire hill full of small monsters, but there are also small monsters. Even outside the mountain, there are so many small monsters that I can’t see the end of it.”

“It feels like all the mobs on the map are gathered here.”

“Forget it, let’s not care about it. let’s kill the BOSS first.”

He heard his friends say that not only were there small monsters on this Hill, but there were also small monsters.

Even in places far away from the small hill, there were a large number of small monsters surrounding them.

Zhang Shan instantly lost all other thoughts.

Without saying anything else, he first killed the five bosses in front of him, then slowly cleared the small monsters.

If they didn’t clear out all the monsters, they definitely wouldn’t be able to get out.

Chapter 575-great way to go offline

After confirming that there were four demon cities in the surroundings, the little companions were all very excited.

As long as there was a Demon City, their dream of becoming a city Lord would be realized.

They hadn’t even started to attack the demon cities yet.

in reality, there was no need to talk about attacking the demon city.

They were still surrounded by a Sea of Monsters, and there were five bosses in front of them.

They hadn’t even touched the border of the demon City. They had to solve the problem before them before they could attack the demon City.

However, this did not matter.

Whether it was a small monster or a BOSS, it was not a big deal in the hearts of the players.

As long as Zhang Shan was around, these were just problems that could be solved with a little more time.

If they wanted to become city Lords, the most crucial problem was to find the demon City.

As long as they found the demon City, attacking it would be a small matter.

And Zhang Shan, a Demon City that he couldn’t take down?

Now that they had found demon cities, and four at that, they were all in a bad mood.

now, the only thing left to do was to deal with the BOSS and monsters in front of them. then, they could start attacking the nephilim race’s city.

his friends stood on the high platform and admired the scenery for a while. then, they came down and continued to follow zhang shan to attack the BOSS together.

under their continuous attacks, the health of the demon general of the four directions guards, clause, had been steadily decreasing.

As for the health of the four village guards, it was decreasing even faster.

it didn't take long for cruz's health to be reduced to 80%.

Boss Wu said as he took back the fairy baby.

"I'll go offline first, I'll come back in a while."

okay, you can go first. We still have to fight for a while. I want to see what the demon God summoned by this BOSS looks like.

"I'm just afraid that you'll be cut down in one strike as soon as you see the demon God, hehe."

that's nothing. Being able to be cut down by a Demon God is also a card.

you're right. Not everyone has the chance to be struck by a Demon God. Haha.

"Haha, you're right. Other than us, who else has the chance to let the demonic god cut him? This is also something that will give you a lot of face."

"Don't think too much. Even if the demon God wants to kill people, he will only kill the six-barreled boss. The devil God won't even look at us little losers."

that's true. I hope we won't be knocked to the ground by the aftermath of the demonic God's damage.

"I don't want to do other things. I just want to see if a real Demon God is coming out."

don't wait for half a day. Just another Demon God apparition will do.

I don't think so. This wave is probably a real Demon God. Otherwise, there's something wrong with the skill description.

"Do you know how many times a BOSS's skill description has a problem? How many times have we been scammed?"

I hope it won't happen this time. I really want to see the demon God's cool appearance.

yeah, we only saw the video that six-barreled boss posted last time. We haven't even seen the real Demon God yet.

"Let's hope a wave of true demonic gods comes."

"There should be,"

When Cruise's HP was slowly approaching 80%, Mr. Wu went offline.

Zhang Shan and his three other friends continued to stay where they were, and continued to deal damage to clause.

Under their continuous attacks, the health of the demon general of the four directions guards, clause, quickly dropped to 80%.

Cruz kept his long sword and began to chant.

The sky seemed to be splitting apart as Cruz kept chanting.

A huge light door appeared above clause's head.

A pitch-black sickle emerged from the door of light, followed by a huge arm.

The godfiend had yet to make an official appearance, but his imposing manner was already very frightening.

When the black sickle and the demon's arm appeared, the sickle swept towards Zhang Shan.

-2987624?

F * ck, it really was the demonic god Himself, not the demonic god Phantom.

looking at this huge damage value, zhang shan knew that this was the true appearance of the demon god.

The damage was exactly the same as when he had fought the ninth Demon God, lufasi, outside the Chu Kingdom's Royal City.

The damage that luffash dealt to him was almost the same.

The devil had yet to reveal himself, but he was able to deal such a terrifying amount of damage with just a sickle and an arm.

It was simply terrifying.

Not only that, after the black knife light hit Zhang Shan, the knife light continued to extend behind him.

The Little Friends standing behind Zhang Shan had not even seen the appearance of the godfiend clearly before they had all fallen to the ground and left.

one could imagine how depressed they were.

Originally, they had stayed here to take a look at the demonic god.

However, the result was that they were killed by the devil's scythe and an arm before they could even see the devil's appearance.

That's not right.

The demonic god didn't want to kill them.

The devil's sickle was aimed at Zhang Shan.

His friends had simply died from an unknown AoE.

They had been killed by the demon God's damage.

Wind cloud blade, who had fallen to the ground once again, called out in a depressed tone.

"F * ck, is a Demon God that cool? With just one arm, he cut us all down."

don't think too highly of yourself. The demonic god didn't even want to cut us with one hand.

sigh, we're still too weak. We can't even block a single bit of the demon God's damage.

there's no helping it. The demon God is too powerful. It's simply terrifying.

I really don't know what kind of strength I need to have to be able to defeat a Demon God.

don't think about it. This isn't something we can worry about. Let Big Boss six-barrel worry about blowing up the demon God.

Hmph! I refuse to believe that I won't be able to defeat the demon God once I reach level 100!

"brother, just thinking about it is good. With our current growth rate, even if we reach level 100, we probably won't be able to withstand the demon God's strike."

" this time, i've finally witnessed the terrifying power of a demon god. "

"Yeah, just thinking about it makes me despair."

Before the demonic god had even descended, he had already swept his companions to the ground with just one arm and a sickle.

Fortunately, boss Wu had gone offline in advance.

Otherwise, their search for the demon City would have been completely extinguished.

At least, boss Wu didn't die.

When boss Wu came online, he could resurrect his three friends.

It was not a big problem.

It was just that they needed to wait for some time to be resurrected.

After all, boss Wu was the only one who could resurrect others.

his resurrection skill had a long cooldown time.

If he wanted to resurrect all three of his fallen comrades, he would probably have to wait for more than ten minutes.

After the demon God slashed, the light door in the sky continued to expand.

A complete Demon God's true body slowly appeared.

"roar!"

The demonic god let out a loud roar and leaped out of the door of light in the sky with his sickle.

The demon's huge figure appeared in front of Zhang Shan with a single step. The black sickle cut through the air and slashed towards Zhang Shan.

This was the true descent of a Demon God, and it was very terrifying.

This skill of clause, the general of the four directions demon guards, was indeed a bit excessive.

This meant that when Zhang Shan was fighting the BOSS, he would have to take the damage of one more Demon God.

It was hard to understand why Cruise's amazing skill was only a minor one.

In addition to the demon God that had descended, there were a total of six bosses, and they were all slashing at Zhang Shan.

There were four orange-colored village guards, a real name BOSS clause, and the newly-arrived Demon God.

Huge damage numbers kept appearing above Zhang Shan's head.

Although Zhang Shan had changed into the heart of the demon Dragon, his HP had reached more than seven million.

However, facing such a fierce attack, Zhang Shan's health bar was still very unstable.

They were hit up and down by the BOSS's various damage.

Fortunately, there were a lot of targets here, so Zhang Shan's ejection was passive, and he could deal enough damage.

relying on the passive boost from catapulting, zhang shan's lifesteal effect was extremely powerful.

Every time his health bar was hit by the BOSS, the powerful lifesteal effect would be triggered.

It quickly sucked back Zhang Shan's health bar.

Under the attacks of the five bosses and the descending Demon God, Zhang Shan's situation seemed to be very dangerous, but in reality, it was not a big problem.

In fact, as long as the demon God did not deal a critical hit, it would not matter much.

before a critical hit was dealt, the damage dealt by a demon god's slash was less than three million.

Even though the damage was much higher than the other bosses.

however, after changing to the heart of the demon dragon, zhang shan could still hold on by relying on his high maximum health.

If the demon God could also deal a critical hit, then it would really be dangerous.

the demon lord's single slash dealt nearly 3000000 damage. if it was a critical hit, it would deal nearly 6000000 damage.

If the other five bosses were to deal high damage at the same time ...

That would most likely exceed Zhang Shan's limit.

However, for the time being, it should not be a big problem.

The demon God's attack speed was very slow, even slower than the attack speed of other bosses.

It took the demon God a long time to deal damage with one slash.

And this time, Zhang Shan did not see the demon God use any skills.

The devil just waved his black sickle and slowly cut down.

Perhaps the demon God was really a special BOSS without any skill damage.

However, thinking about it, it was normal. The damage of a Demon God was already ridiculously high.

If it was combined with a powerful skill, who could block it?

Not to mention others, even if Zhang Shan had the heart of the demon Dragon, he would probably not be able to block it.

Fortunately, the demon Lord did not have any skill damage. It could only use normal attacks.

Zhang Shan could still withstand such injuries for the time being.

however, there was a condition, and that was the demon god that clause summoned could not stay for too long.

If the godfiend stayed too long, there would be problems sooner or later.

If the demon God made a critical strike, Zhang Shan would be in trouble.

Zhang Shan kept firing while looking at the huge demonic shadow.

The ninth Demon God, lufasi (summoned by the demon general of the four directions guards, clause).

The demonic god that had descended this time was none other than the ninth demonic god outside the Chu Kingdom's Imperial City, lufasi.

They could be considered old acquaintances of Zhang Shan.

Not only that, but there was also a countdown above the ninth Demon God.

15,14,13.....

Seeing this countdown, Zhang Shan's heart was more confident.

The demon God that Cruz summoned could only last for fifteen seconds. Once the time was up, the demon God should return.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan finally felt at ease.

fifteen seconds was not a problem. he could still hold on for such a short time.

They were not outside the Chu Kingdom.

Outside the Chu Kingdom's Imperial City, there was only the ninth Demon God as a single BOSS. There were no other bosses or minions.

In that kind of environment, Zhang Shan's ejection was passive and could not be used at all.

He could only rely on a single attack to deal damage to lifesteal.

But here, there were countless monsters and five other bosses.

Zhang Shan's ejection damage could deal full damage and lifesteal infinitely.

As long as the BOSS could not kill him in one hit, Zhang Shan could rely on the lifesteal effect to achieve unlimited endurance.

He wouldn't fall so easily.

Fifteen seconds passed quickly.

The ninth Demon God lufasi, who had been swinging his sickle and dealing massive amounts of damage, suddenly stopped.

It began to slowly retreat into the light gate in the sky, and soon disappeared.

without the demon god, the remaining five bosses were easy for zhang shan to deal with.

After all his friends had fallen to the ground, Zhang Shan was the only one left on the scene. He continued to attack the BOSS.

As the surroundings were filled with small monsters, Zhang Shan's current damage output was much lower.

Originally, his ejection damage could be repeated between the five bosses.

But now, he could not.

There were countless demonic strongmen around the BOSS.

Zhang Shan's ejection damage could only hit the five bosses once each.

the remaining bullet damage all jumped onto the demon strongmen.

but it didn't matter.

Even if there were less damage from the ejection, it would not take long for Zhang Shan to defeat the general of the four directions demon guards, clause.

It would take at most half an hour. He estimated that it would be done in about 20 minutes.

After the demonic god disappeared.

After a while, boss Wu came online again. He quickly summoned his fairy pet and locked his attack on clause.

then, boss wu ran to heart with me and resurrected heart with a skill called resurrection.

After heart follows me resurrected, he once again brandished his longsword and joined the ranks of attacking the BOSS.

As for Windcloud blade and little fairy, who were still lying on the ground, he could forget about them for the time being.

Boss Wu's resurrection skill had a five-minute cooldown, so they had to wait a little longer before they could get up.

under the continuous attacks of the three of them, the health of the demon god's four-sided guard general clause was constantly decreasing.

Not only that, but the other four village guards' health bars were dropping even faster.

Although no one had taken the initiative to attack the Fort guards, Zhang Shan's bullet damage would jump onto the Fort guards.

however, these fort guards were only orange-colored bosses, and their health was much lower than clause's.

The health of the general of the four directions guards of the demons, clause, was 10 billion, while the health of these village guards was only 2 billion.

Even if they did not take the initiative to attack, just by relying on Zhang Shan's bullet damage, the health bar of these Fort guards was dropping rapidly.

When Cruz's health was at 70%, the health bars of the Fort guards were almost at half.

Zhang Shan said to boss Wu and heart moves when he saw that the health bar of the stronghold guard had almost dropped to half.

"You guys should go offline and hide for a while. These Fort guards are about to use their ultimate skill."

f * ck, we're even dodging the orange BOSS's ultimate skill. How annoying.

Boss Wu said gloomily. He had just come online to fight, and now he had to go offline to avoid the BOSS's skills.

It was simply annoying.

At this moment, heart moves said.

“There’s no need to go offline, right? why don’t we hide further away? That way, we can avoid the BOSS’s big move.”

“Where can we hide? there are demon strongmen all around us. We have no place to hide.”

“Alright, then I’ll go offline.”

That was indeed the case. They stood at the entrance of the Beacon tower. Other than the Beacon tower in the middle, the entire demon village was filled with demon strong men.

Even if they wanted to hide, they had nowhere to go.

The only place they could move was this beacon tower.

However, the problem was that the village guards ‘ultimate skill, divine slash of the eight desolations, had a damage range of 50 yards.

Even if they hid in other parts of the Beacon tower, they would still be within the range of the village Guard’s ultimate skill.

They simply couldn’t avoid the village Guard’s big move.

Thinking up to this point, moving heart didn’t hesitate any longer and logged off.

Boss Wu also went offline.

The situation was more powerful than the person, so they had no choice but to Dodge.

If they didn’t Dodge, the village guard would use a big move and they would all die.

These two little friends were completely helpless, and they decisively supported him.

he activated the log-off skill.

In the game, there was no better way to escape than going offline.

No matter how powerful the BOSS’s skills were, it couldn’t just follow the network cable and attack them, right?

Fortunately, they were fighting a wild BOSS and not in a dungeon.

Otherwise, he wouldn’t be able to go offline.

when players went offline in the instance and logged in again, they would appear outside the instance.

In that case, logging off would be meaningless.

However, when fighting a BOSS in the wild, there were no such concerns at all. They could go offline at any time.

This was also the ultimate technique that players often used.

After boss Wu and heart follows me went offline, Zhang Shan continued to attack by himself.

After a short while, the four Fort guards were hit by his bullet damage and their HP dropped to half.

One after another, the eight Barrens divine slash was unleashed.

Every time the village guard used the eight Barrens divine slash, Zhang Shan's HP would be reduced by nearly a million.

however, this was not a big deal.

These four village guards did not drop to half HP at the same time, and they would not use their ultimate skills at the same time.

there had to be some order.

a single eight barrens divine slash, to zhang shan, was nothing.

The damage of the orange-colored village guards 'ultimate skills was not even as much as the damage of lufasi's casual slash.

Such a small amount of damage was only a small problem for Zhang Shan.

after a wave of big moves, zhang shan continued to fire his gun. up until now, he had not even used a big move.

Even when he was facing the demon God just now, Zhang Shan did not activate his God's descent.

There was no need for that.

After switching to the heart of the demon Dragon, Zhang Shan's current HP was terrifyingly high. He did not need to use any big moves at all.

It was better for him to save that big move of his for now.

After defeating the BOSS, they still had to attack the Nephilim race's city.

Who knew if there would be any changes there?

Zhang Shan felt that if he could save those two big moves, he should try to save them.

This was to prevent any accidents from happening when they attacked the city.

Although he had the divine artifact refresh ball, which could refresh two big moves.

Normally, it didn't matter much if he used his big move first.

However, Zhang Shan had yet to use his ultimate skill.

Zhang Shan thought that it would be safer to have more backup plans.

After a short while, boss Wu and heart follows me came online again and attacked the BOSS together with Zhang Shan.

Just then, wind cloud blade, who was lying on the ground, asked boss Wu.

"Big brother carrying a blade, is your resurrection skill still on cooldown?"

it's still too early. It's only been two minutes. There are still three more minutes before the cooldown is over.

"Fuck, this is so depressing. Do I have to lay down and fight the BOSS like this?"

"Haha, it's not like you haven't laid down before. You should be used to it by now."

"F * ck, do I want to lie down? It was not like there was no other way. The bosses we fought were all so powerful that we couldn't even stand still."

Boss Wu said jokingly.

"Then why am I still alive?"

I just wanted to see the godfiend. Otherwise, I would have gone offline as well and wouldn't have died.

"what demon god, did you see it?"

"I saw it. I saw it when I was lying on the ground."

f * ck, lying on the ground and watching the demon God. That's not bad.

I'm lying on the ground. Even though it's a gray view, I still saw the demon God.

you're lying on the ground just to take a look at the godfiend. What's the point of that? " sigh, I can't get by lying down and fighting bosses every day.

"It's mainly because you're too wild, hehe."

Wind and cloud blade

Chapter 576 Crafting blueprint for the barabean cannon

Under their continuous attacks, the health bar of the demon general of the four directions guards, clause, continued to decrease.

It was slowly approaching half of his health.

Boss Wu and 'follow me' went offline again.

they couldn't even withstand the village guard's ultimate, so it was naturally impossible for them to withstand cruz's ultimate.

cruz was the fiercest BOSS that everyone had ever seen, other than the demon god.

The general of the four demonic forces, clause, had an attack of 800000. His ultimate skill, quintuple damage, would deal 4000000 damage in theory.

Not to mention boss Wu's heart, even Zhang Shan himself would have a hard time facing such an injury.

When his health bar dropped to 50%, Cruz slowly sheathed his sword.

After two to three seconds of preparation, Cruz unsheathed his long sword. Endless blade light began to spread out in all directions with Cruz as the center.

a huge amount of damage appeared above zhang shan's head.

zhang shan did not dare to be careless. he quickly activated his fanatic skill.

Fanatical. Double attack speed for six seconds.

under the support of fanaticism, zhang shan's damage was off the charts. the violent damage brought about a super lifesteal effect.

this allowed zhang shan's health bar to barely be maintained.

After five seconds, the blade light was still dissipating into the distance. However, around Zhang Shan, there was no longer such a fierce blade light.

As Zhang Shan fired his gun, he turned around to look.

The light from Cruz's blade was still spreading into the distance.

The clouds in the sky seemed to have been shattered by the endless blade light, and even the sky was flashing with blade light.

The BOSS's ultimate skill was terrifying.

It was hard for Zhang Shan to imagine how the players would be able to defeat a BOSS as strong as clause.

Usually, when players fought a BOSS, they had to rely on numbers.

This was especially true when facing powerful bosses. The other players could not stop them at all and could only rely on numbers.

even those super big shots couldn't withstand the BOSS's damage.

They had to rely on several Guardian Warriors to continuously tank the damage, taking on the next one when one fell.

However, a BOSS like clause, how was he going to build it?

There was no way to win against such a ferocious BOSS with numbers.

No matter how many people were fighting together, after Cruz used his big move, the so-called number of people was just floating clouds.

with one swing of cruz's blade, no matter how many players gathered, they were just chopping wood. all of them fell to the ground with a flash of the blade.

Zhang Shan thought as he fired his gun.

the bosses in new world were getting more and more perverted, and the players' growth was very slow.

He really didn't know how the players were going to fight bosses in the future.

Even if they had a full set of divine equipment, they probably wouldn't be able to stop a BOSS as powerful as clause.

And how were they going to get their divine artifacts?

Without killing a real-name BOSS, it would be difficult for it to drop a celestial-tier item. Without celestial-tier equipment, it would be impossible to defeat a real-name BOSS.

this was simply a paradox.

In new world, other than real-name bosses, there were also demon gods.

How were the other players supposed to fight the demon God in the future?

Even a real-name BOSS like Cruz would probably take a long time to defeat, let alone the demon God.

But it was normal.

After all, Cruz was a Max-level real-name BOSS. Other than the demon God, he should be one of the strongest bosses in the whole game.

Of course, such a BOSS would not be so easy to defeat.

The players still had a long way to go if they wanted to dominate the game.

However, Zhang Shan believed that the game's operation would not let the players have it easy.

Perhaps the game would change after the players became stronger.

When the new version was released, there would be even stronger bosses.

In short, if you wanted to play a game smoothly, you had to be at the top of the game.

Just like Zhang Shan.

With Zhang Shan's strength, no matter how the game was revised, he would not be afraid.

this was because he was the man who stood at the top of the game.

After surviving a wave of the BOSS's ultimate skill, Zhang Shan continued to fire his guns.

...

The bullets were like raindrops, sweeping toward clause.

After a while, boss Wu and heart follows me came online again.

After they went online, they joined in the attack.

Just like that, under Zhang Shan's lead, the three of them continued to deal out a crazy amount of damage.

The health of the demon general of the four directions guards, clause, was steadily decreasing under their continuous attacks.

After two to three minutes, boss Wu's resurrection skill was off cooldown. He waved his magic sword and used resurrection to resurrect wind and cloud blade.

So far, only little fairy was still lying on the ground.

Boss Wu had no choice but to arrange for the little fairy to be resurrected last since she had the lowest damage output.

The little fairy could only watch from a gray perspective as everyone attacked the BOSS. She could not do anything.

A person lying on the ground could not do anything.

Everyone was waving their weapons and attacking the BOSS madly. Cruz's health bar was dropping rapidly.

Time slowly passed. They fought for another five minutes, and boss Wu's resurrection skill was off cooldown again.

He used [resurrection] and revived the little fairy.

During this period of time, the general of the four demonic forces, clause, didn't release any more skills.

Not to mention the Beacon fire skill, the Beacon on the high platform was still burning, and around them, there were a sea of demon strongmen, so many that they couldn't count.

Zhang Shan felt that Cruz's [Beacon] skill might be a continuous skill.

But that wasn't important.

No matter how many demon strongmen clause gathered, it didn't have too much of an influence on them.

Since they were blocking the entrance to the platform, the monsters couldn't come up and interfere with their fight against the BOSS.

As for Cruz's demon's descent skill, he did not cast it again after that one time.

cruz had only used his big move once.

Without the threat of the BOSS's skills, everyone happily slashed wildly, dealing all kinds of damage to Cruz.

Cruz's health had been reduced to 30% by them.

As long as they continued to fight, they would be able to push it into berserk mode.

At this time, the four orange-colored village guards were almost out of HP and would be destroyed very soon.

Following Zhang Shan's ejection damage, it continued to hit. A village guard fell to the ground.

The system notification sounded.

≪ system announcement: congratulations to six-barreled Bodhisattva, heart moves, and wind and cloud blade for successfully killing the demon village guard. ≫

Skill point +1, medal +100.

Upon hearing the system announcement, Windcloud blade cried out happily.

haha, we finally took down a BOSS.

" what are you so happy about? it doesn't matter if you destroy these orange-colored village guards or not. "

how can it not affect us? we get skill points for the first kill of the BOSS. Don't skill points taste good? " alright, that's reasonable. It's not bad to get a skill.

of course. Although we've obtained many first kills for bosses, we never have enough skill points.

yeah, there are too many skills to learn. I have to learn all the useful and useless skills.

"We're still alright. After all, we've gotten many first kills for bosses. The other players are really miserable. They don't even have enough skill points to level up their skills."

"Why are you worrying about other people's Affairs? if they don't have enough skills, they definitely won't learn them. They're probably the same, they just need to learn a few main skills and they'll be done."

"Yes, it's almost the same. If you want to learn all the skills of your class, let alone others, even we can't do it. " that's true. There are too many skills in this game, and many of them are skills that we have never seen before.

"That's normal, all large scale games are like that."

.....

While they were attacking the BOSS and blowing water at it, the other three orange-colored Fort guards were also quickly destroyed.

The sound of a system notification rang in Zhang Shan's ears.

[system notification: your passive King talent has been triggered by killing the demon village guard.]

Passive skill obtained, piercing strike.

Hearing the system notification, Zhang Shan was very happy.

If it wasn't for the system notification, he would have forgotten that these village guards had passive skills.

It was normal for them to get their passive skills after killing four orange bosses in a row.

Zhang Shan remembered that this passive skill of the village guard was a critical hit passive.

He quickly checked the description of this skill and saw what it was like.

Zhang Shan quickly opened the skills panel to check.

[piercing strike (passive): there is a chance to trigger piercing strike during an attack, dealing 500% damage. The chance to trigger is 1%.]

Not bad, a 1% chance of triggering a critical hit with five times the damage. This type of passive skill was one of the ones that Zhang Shan had farmed the most.

right now, zhang shan had accumulated a terrifying amount of critical and passive skills.

Every two or three shots he fired would result in a critical hit, and most of the critical hits would deal five times the damage.

the divine weapon's special effect, holy strike, was ten times the damage that ignored defense, which was frighteningly high.

zhang shan thought.

He had to continue to work hard and do more critical hits. He had to try his best to achieve critical hits every time.

if that was the case, that would be great.

Zhang Shan kept his skill panel and continued to focus on attacking clause.

Now, all four of the Fort guards had been killed, leaving only clause as the BOSS.

Cruz's HP was also not much, only about 30%.

His speed was so fast that Cruz would explode, just in case.

Zhang Shan's thoughts were actually the same as his friends'.

In reality, they were even more anxious than Zhang Shan.

My little friends all want to be the city Lord.

If they didn't beat up clause first, how could they go out and attack the demon City?

He had to kill clause as soon as possible. Then, he would cut a bloody path through the numerous demon strongmen and directly attack the demon City at the foot of the mountain.

Everyone waved their weapons and tried their best to deal a lot of damage to Cruz.

Suddenly, Cruz sheathed his sword and began to chant a skill.

a door of light in the sky slowly opened.

Seeing such a scene, most of them were shocked.

Windcloud blade could not help but curse.

“F * ck, again.”

is this another f * cking Demon God’s descent? ” let’s not say anything else. Let’s go offline and hide. The demon God’s scythe is too powerful. We can’t stop it.

“Let’s go, let’s go.”

When the four of them saw the door of light open in the sky, they immediately went offline and left.

They couldn’t afford to offend the godfiends.

They wouldn’t be able to withstand the aftershock of the demon God’s attack, let alone a single slash from the demon God.

Just now, wind and cloud blade and the others had chosen to stay and watch the battle in order to take a look at demonic god.

In the end, before the demon Lord could officially appear, he was instantly turned into ashes by the demon Lord’s scythe and an arm.

And this was only because the demonic god had not locked his attack on them. Otherwise, they would have died even faster.

If boss Wu hadn’t gone offline in advance, they would have been in deep trouble.

If they all died in this damn place, no one would help them.

This place was filled with Max-level demonic strongmen, so no other players would come here.

he could only rely on himself if he wanted to resurrect.

It was fortunate that boss Wu was a coward and didn’t choose to stay and watch the battle like the others.

Otherwise, they could only choose to resurrect in the city, which would cost them one level of experience.

Not only that, but they would have to run back to the city after returning, which would take more than a day.

The problem was that they could not run all the way here on their own. They had to rely on Zhang Shan to open up a path for them.

From Fengyun city to here, all the demon strongmen were at LV 80 or 90, some even at the maximum level.

If they relied on themselves, they would not be able to make it.

Wouldn't it be a waste of time if he really did that?

It was a waste of their time to attack the demon City.

Then, if they wanted to become city Lords, they would have to delay it again.

When the general of the four demonic forces, clause, once again used the demon God's descent skill, everyone decisively cowered and went offline to escape.

This time, no one wanted to stay behind to see what the demonic god looked like.

Even if he wanted to see a demon God, it would still depend on the time.

If he stayed, he would not see anything other than falling to the ground.

this was because the demonic god could cut them down before they even appeared.

After everyone fell to the ground, although they were lying on the ground, they could still see the situation around them.

however, after the players fell to the ground, their vision was all gray.

What's the point of seeing a Demon God from a gray perspective?

It was better to stabilize the situation and directly go offline to avoid it.

If they wanted to see the demonic gods, they could go outside the capital to see them after they became stronger.

After his friends quickly went offline, the demon God's figure slowly began to appear.

It was still the same as before.

the moment the demon god revealed an arm and a sickle, it began to attack zhang shan.

However, Zhang Shan did not mind.

Just now, there were four more village guards, and he was able to take them all.

Now that there were no more Fort guards around, only the demon God, clause, and a few other monsters could attack him.

Zhang Shan could completely withstand such damage.

Zhang Shan ignored the damage from the demon God and continued to fire at clause.

Countless bullets were fired from Zhang Shan's hand cannon.

The ninth Demon God, summoned by Cruz, returned to the portal in the sky after the countdown ended.

In those 15 seconds, the demon God did not cause any trouble for Zhang Shan.

Zhang Shan treated it as if it did not exist and ignored it.

he just treated it as a normal BOSS skill and didn't need to do anything.

Zhang Shan did not need to use any explosive skills, nor did he need to use God's descent.

He had relied on the powerful lifesteal effect to easily survive the first wave of demonic gods 'descent.

Of course.

this was because zhang shan was equipped with the heart of the demon dragon.

If he didn't have the demon dragon's heart, he would have to use a big move to block the ninth Demon God lufasi.

After a while, his friends came online again. Without a word, they surrounded Cruz and continued to attack him.

Seeing Cruz's HP rapidly decreasing, Windcloud blade said excitedly.

"I wonder if there will be any good items this time."

I don't have many thoughts. Just give me a mold for a divine weapon that I don't have. Don't give me a duplicate.

"even if it's a duplicate, it doesn't matter. you can exchange it with someone else."

it's so troublesome to find someone to exchange for it. Let's be more direct and give us a divine weapon mold that we don't have. Then, it'll be over.

"It's good that you've thought of it, but how can there be so many beautiful things in this world?"

you're right. We're only missing two divine weapon molds each. The chances of a duplicate equipment dropping are still very high.

why do you care so much? even if it drops a divine weapon mold that you can't use, you can just sell it.

"f * ck, selling god tool molds? it's so extravagant?"

"What's wrong with that? We're following brother Guan, so why should we be afraid of not being able to get a divine weapon mold? there'll be a lot more in the future."

" well, you're right. we don't lack molds for divine artifacts, but we lack accessories. " don't even think about accessories. The drop rate of those things is too low. You have to take it slow.

Under their continuous attacks, the demon general of the four directions guards, clause, was quickly pushed into a berserk state.

After entering the berserk state, clause became even crazier, and the damage on Zhang Shan's body also became stronger.

however, zhang shan completely ignored it.

Zhang Shan even thought of replacing the heart of the demon Dragon with the hand of Madas.

this way, he could play faster.

However, this thought only went around in Zhang Shan's mind for a while before he gave up.

Forget it.

Don't be reckless.

As long as he could defeat Cruz, it did not matter if it took more time.

It's just a game, don't be afraid of wasting time, don't be anxious.

The best choice was to seek progress in stability.

After going berserk, although clause's damage was more severe, he had also become more fragile.

Zhang Shan and his friends had dealt much more damage to clause than before he had gone berserk.

At that moment, clause's health bar was dropping at a speed visible to the naked eye under their rapid attacks.

In less than three minutes after going berserk, the demon general of the four directions guards, clause, was beaten to a state of empty health.

zhang shan controlled the panda ball to move forward, looking for the right time to launch the combo skill. the panda ball waved its cute little claws, and with seven consecutive slaps, it directly slapped clause to the ground.

≪ system announcement: congratulations to six-barreled Bodhisattva, heart moves, and wind and cloud blade for successfully killing the four-sided demonic general clause. ≫

Skill point +1, medal +100.

The first kill announcement sounded again, and everyone received a skill point as a reward.

However, to Zhang Shan, skill points were of no use.

He couldn't even find a suitable skill to learn.

Zhang Shan was a person who relied on standing still and dealing damage for a living, not relying on skill damage.

therefore, ordinary hunter skills would have no effect on him.

The damage dealt by most skills was not as substantial as his normal attacks.

Zhang Shan could not be bothered to waste his energy to learn such a trashy skill.

Up until now, Zhang Shan had saved up more than 20 skill points. With so many skill points placed on him, it was completely useless.

It didn't matter.

Zhang Shan had never fought bosses for the sake of skill points.

He just wanted to see if the BOSS would drop any good items.

Even if Zhang Shan had a full set of godly equipment, the ordinary items dropped by the BOSS would not be attractive to him.

However, there would always be some items that he could use.

For example, items like the killer book and the positioning ball.

Such a top-tier special item was dropped by a real-name BOSS. If he could get another one, wouldn't he be able to fly?

Of course.

These items were so rare that they might even be the only items in the game.

They were existences that could be encountered but not sought.

If Zhang Shan wanted to get another similar item, it would be extremely difficult. He would have to rely on luck.

However, one must always have some dreams in case they were realized.

What if he really gave it to him and another awesome item dropped?

After the boss fell to the ground, Zhang Shan did not stop his attacks.

He stood at the entrance of the high platform, holding a hand cannon and sweeping it at the demon strongmen in front of him.

Although they had already defeated the BOSS, there was still a sea of small monsters around them.

Zhang Shan did not go up to the high platform to check. He only knew that in this small mountain village on the top of the mountain, there were many demon strongmen.

According to his friends, not only were the top of the mountain filled with monsters, but there were also countless monsters at the foot of the mountain.

In the distance, there were even countless demon strongmen running over.

If they were not standing on the stage, Zhang Shan would not have been able to protect the Little Friends behind him.

Facing the siege of so many small monsters, Zhang Shan himself had no problem.

In any case, the more monsters there were, the stronger his lifesteal effect would be, and he would not die at all.

However, his friends could not.

Facing these Max-level demon strongmen, they simply couldn't stop a few.

As long as there were more monsters, they would fall to the ground. Even if Zhang Shan wanted to fire his gun to save them, he might not be able to.

Fortunately, there was a beacon tower here, which could provide them with protection.

As long as they blocked the entrance of the Beacon tower, they could easily farm the monsters.

Of course.

If they wanted to clear all these monsters, it would probably take a long time.

however, there was no hurry. the monsters could be cleared slowly.

Now, it was time to look at the harvest.

After killing five bosses in a row, Zhang Shan had not even seen what items they had dropped.

zhang shan kept firing his guns to clear the monsters while checking his backpack to see what good items cruise had dropped.

Zhang Shan opened his backpack to check.

There was no need to mention the dozen or so orange-colored equipment, these were all dropped by the Fort guards.

it was completely worthless and did not attract zhang shan at all.

even a dog wouldn't want these pieces of level 100 orange equipment if they were put up for auction.

Who would still want orange equipment when they reached the maximum level?

Moreover, how long would it take for the players to reach the maximum level?

these orange equipment were destined to be lost in the guild's warehouse, and no one would exchange for them for a long time.

They could only be considered as enriching the Guild's warehouse and donating some Guild contribution points.

apart from the orange equipment, there were also four orange materials that dropped from the village guard. they were still useful.

The orange material could at least be used to make intermediate arrow towers.

The four village guards only dropped common items. Zhang Shan did not have any expectations that these orange bosses would drop anything good.

After playing the game for half a year, Zhang Shan finally understood.

If he wanted to get good items, he had to defeat the BOSS with the real name. The other bosses were all trash, so there was nothing to look forward to.

Zhang Shan continued to check.

He just wanted to see what cruise had dropped for him. What special good things did he have?

In Zhang Shan's backpack, other than the trash dropped by the Fort guards.

There was also Cruz, who had dropped three red-colored equipment and one red-colored material.

Apart from that, there was also a divine weapon mold and an engineering blueprint.

The divine weapon mold was a strength-type bracer, and it seemed like wind and cloud blade and heart movement were both missing this.

These two big shots would be able to use it, and they wouldn't need to exchange it with others.

This was also good. He didn't have to worry about it anymore. He could just let them ROLL later.

To Zhang Shan, there was nothing much to see about the mold of a divine weapon. However, the engineering blueprint had greatly attracted Zhang Shan's interest.

The blueprint was good. Zhang Shan needed something like this.

His current engineering level was still a level 5 Grandmaster, and he already had 100 proficiency points.

as long as he could get two more level 5 blueprints, zhang shan's engineering level would be able to reach level 6 engineering grandmaster.

After reaching Level 6, Zhang Shan could make red items.

In other words, as long as he had the corresponding blueprint, Zhang Shan could make a red flintlock.

If he could make the red flintlock of the current level, he would make a huge profit.

Red equipment was still quite valuable.

In particular, the red equipment suitable for current players, such as weapons, could be sold for 10000 to 20000 gold coins.

For the players, equipment below red was not too difficult to obtain.

in comparison, there were still many orange bosses in the game.

Only equipment above red were truly valuable.

After all, red bosses were relatively rare and more difficult to deal with.

Normal players, even if they formed a team of tens or hundreds of people, might not be able to defeat a red BOSS of the same level.

If they couldn't defeat the red BOSS, they wouldn't have any red equipment.

Therefore, there were not many players who had a full set of red equipment in the game.

Basically, they were all elite players from the various large guilds. Moreover, the elite players of the large guilds might not necessarily have a full set of red equipment.

Most of them only had one or two pieces of red equipment.

Red equipment was still quite valuable.

Zhang Shan had always wanted to push his engineering level to Level 6 and then think of a way to get a gun blueprint.

This way, he could mass-produce red flintlocks.

It was just that Zhang Shan's idea had never been realized.

He was still a level 5 Grandmaster. Without a level 5 blueprint, Zhang Shan's engineering level would not be able to increase at all.

The blueprint was too difficult to obtain.

They had fought so many different bosses, but they had only dropped a few blueprints.

However, he would occasionally find the engineering blueprints he needed in the auction house.

But Zhang Shan could not. He had to stay in the auction house every day. Even if there was a blueprint, it would have already been bought by someone else.

Zhang Shan had never managed to buy one.

This time, Cruz had dropped an engineering blueprint. Hopefully, it was a level 5 blueprint.

This way, he could quickly raise his engineering level to a grade-6 grandmaster.

Zhang Shan looked at the blueprint description.

[blueprint for crafting the cannon of barbabus] requirements: level 6 engineering.

[note: the baccedia cannon is a peerless killing weapon developed by the ancient divine Smith baccedia. Once fired, it can destroy the heavens and earth.]

Attack power: 500000, attack interval: 5 seconds, range: 500 yards, damage range: 50 yards, city defense facility.

Chapter 577 A little

When Zhang Shan saw the description of the barbatian cannon, he could not help but be surprised and overjoyed.

He was happy that this barbatian cannon was really awesome to the point of being perverted.

500,000 attack power was almost twice as strong as Zhang Shan's own attack power.

Not only that, the attacks from babado's cannons also had a large area of effect.

Damage range of 50 yards.

In other words, every shot from the barbatian cannon was equivalent to an ultimate skill of a player.

Moreover, such an ultimate skill could be fired infinitely, one shot every five seconds.

Such powerful firepower, it was simply unbelievable to Zhang Shan.

It was a great killing weapon.

Was there such an amazing item in the game?

Although the 'barbatian cannon' was only a city defense facility, it could not be used to PK with players, nor could it be used to farm monsters.

However, even if it was used as a city defense facility, the barbatian cannon was still ridiculously strong.

Zhang Shan had never built a city defense facility before.

The six-barrel Vulcan cannon and the intermediate arrow tower that Zhang Shan had previously made were all city defense facilities.

But whether it was the six-barrel Vulcan cannon or the attack power of the intermediate arrow tower, they were still within Zhang Shan's scope of understanding.

Although they were all very strong, they were only slightly stronger than players.

however, this 'barbatian cannon' was not something that players could compare to.

Not to mention the other players, even Zhang Shan himself was much weaker than the "barbatian cannon."

Not only was the barbatian Cannon's attack power strong, but its range of damage was too wide.

A damage range of 50 yards was simply ridiculous.

If they could set up a few cannons on top of the city walls, wouldn't there be no more pressure in defending the city?

The tide of monsters was nothing but a small brother in front of the barbatian cannon.

After a few shots, they would all turn into ashes.

Looking at the description of the blueprint, Zhang Shan was overjoyed to see the power of the barbatian cannon.

However, Zhang Shan was shocked again.

The crafting blueprint of the [barbatian cannon] was actually a level 6 engineering blueprint.

He could not learn a level six blueprint.

Zhang Shan was only a level five engineering Grandmaster. He was still 200 proficiency points away from becoming a level six engineering Grandmaster.

he still needed to get two more level 5 blueprints.

But the problem was, where was Zhang Shan going to get two level 5 blueprints?

Without a level 5 engineering blueprint, he would have to raise his engineering level to Level 6.

To Zhang Shan, it was just a flower in the mirror. He could see it but not use it.

He felt that it was a pity.

Zhang Shan thought.

should he find a few people to help him watch the auction house every day and see if he could buy a level 5 engineering blueprint?

Although engineering blueprints were rare, they would still occasionally appear in the auction house.

However, Zhang Shan was either farming monsters or on the road to farming monsters.

He didn't even have time to stay in the city and guard the auction house.

Even if the engineering blueprints that Zhang Shan needed appeared in the auction house, he would not be able to buy them. They would have long been bought by the big shots.

Zhang Shan would only know that such a drawing had appeared in the auction house after the event.

Just thinking about it made him angry.

If he had known earlier, he would have found a few people to help him stand guard at the auction house every day and bid for the engineering blueprints he needed.

thinking of this, zhang shan could not help but feel a little unhappy with the setting of the auction house in the game.

Why didn't they set up the auction house like a mailbox? Players could view it at any time.

Now, if Zhang Shan wanted to buy something from the auction house, he had to return to the city.

And he didn't usually return to the city.

Zhang Shan only returned to the city once a day. And after he returned to the city, he would not stay in the city. He had no time to go to the auction house to check.

Even if something suitable for him appeared in the auction house, Zhang Shan would not know.

If the auction house was set up like a mailbox, how cool would that be?

That way, when Zhang Shan was farming monsters, he could check the information on the auction house while farming.

when they saw a suitable item, they could bid for it in time.

He wouldn't miss out on good things.

However, that was not the case. The game's settings for the auction house were not like this.

players had to return to the city if they wanted to put up an auction item or bid for it.

He had to do it in front of the auction house in the city.

In new world, the auction house did not support remote control.

This made Zhang Shan very annoyed.

He also knew if this setting would change in the future.

Zhang Shan was thinking, why not just hire a few people to help him guard the auction house?

Whenever he saw an engineering recipe that was Level 5 or above, he would help him bid for it.

However, he didn't know if he could make it in time if he started doing it now.

Because they would need it very soon, and if they were late, they might not be able to make it.

After all, a powerful city defense facility like the barbatian cannon looked impressive.

However, its range of application was very narrow.

Other than using it to defend against a wave of monster attacks after the Nephilim race's city was taken down.

At other times, it didn't seem to be of any use.

However, it was crucial to use it once.

just like the previous monster attack on wind cloud city, feng yun realm had spent two to three billion gold coins to repair the city wall.

If they had the barbatian cannon back then, they would not have to go through so much trouble.

All they needed to do was to install a few barbazu cannons on every wall of wind Cloud City and they would be able to defend the city easily.

This kind of great killing weapon was simply a perfect match for defending a city.

Right now, there were four demon cities nearby. Zhang Shan wanted to help his friends take down a city each so that they could enjoy being city Lords.

although everyone had considered that after taking down the demon city, defending the city would also be a big problem.

Previously, everyone had planned to let Zhang Shan build a massive number of intermediate arrow towers and use the arrow towers to drown out the attacking monsters.

However, this method might not be effective.

After all, there was only so much space on the city wall.

No matter how many intermediate arrow towers Zhang Shan built, there might not be a place for them.

Without a place to set up arrow towers, what was the point of building more?

Although no one said anything, Zhang Shan knew their concerns.

They were worried that they would not be able to defend the demon City after they took it.

After all, the demonic monsters that would attack the city would have to be at the maximum level.

it was impossible to rely on players to defend the city against these max-level monsters. they had to rely on powerful siege weapons.

not only were the players unable to do it, but even the intermediate arrow towers might not be able to do it.

The attack power of an intermediate arrow tower was only 50000.

A Max-level demon strongman had 500000 HP.

In other words, the arrow tower had to be hit ten times to kill one demon strongman.

When the monsters attacked the city, there would be a huge number of demonic strongmen.

There was no time to let the arrow towers slowly kill them.

If they couldn't insta-kill the monsters, no matter how many arrow towers they had, they might not be able to suppress the demonic monsterlings that were attacking the city.

Although the intermediate arrow tower was not possible, the Barbazan cannon was definitely capable of doing so.

With the devastating destructive power of the barbatian cannon, it was more than enough to deal with the monsters that were attacking the city.

as long as he could build it, then the demon cities that they had taken down could be defended.

He wouldn't let his friends only be city Lords for a day.

Zhang Shan thought.

He still had to try and see if he could buy two level 5 engineering blueprints.

He only needed two.

As for the rest, it was easy.

As long as he raised his engineering level to Level 6, he would be able to start building the cannon of Barbados.

Zhang Shan had looked through the list of materials needed to build the barabean cannon.

How should he put it?

the materials required to build the barbatian cannon were not particularly difficult to find. they could be bought from the auction house.

Of course.

These materials were generally very expensive.

After all, the materials required for a level 6 engineering product could not be too cheap.

Putting everything else aside, just the red-colored material required for each set of materials for the barbaean cannon was already not cheap.

This was only one of them, and it was not the most expensive one.

Zhang Shan took a look. One of the most expensive materials was called deep sea Mithril.

Zhang Shan had seen this kind of material at the auction house before. It was sold at a very high price.

A piece of deep sea Mithril was sold for 50000 gold coins, which was much more expensive than a piece of red material.

Not only that, but a lot of such materials were needed to make Baba cannons.

Zhang Shan did a rough calculation. Each set of materials for the barbatian cannon would cost about 200 to 300 thousand gold coins.

It was indeed very expensive.

However, compared to defending the city, this amount of money and materials was not a problem at all.

zhang shan believed that as long as he was able to build it, wind and cloud blade and the others would naturally be willing to pay for the materials.

after clause was killed, the others saw that zhang shan had been busy killing monsters and did not show the items that the BOSS had dropped.

Everyone found it strange.

Although they weren't in a hurry to distribute the equipment, they should at least let them see what kind of items they had dropped.

Wind and cloud blade asked Zhang Shan.

boss, don't just focus on killing monsters. Quickly take a look at what they dropped.

that's right, officer. Show us the items that cruise dropped.

"Oh, wait a moment."

His friends had thought that Zhang Shan had forgotten about this matter.

In reality, how could Zhang Shan forget?

He was only thinking about the blueprint for the barbatian cannon and how he was going to create this weapon of mass destruction.

Hence, for a moment, Zhang Shan had forgotten that he had to show the items dropped by the BOSS to his friends.

Under the urging of wind and cloud blade, Zhang Shan quickly displayed the items that clause had dropped on the team channel.

as for the orange quality items, he was too lazy to show them off. his friends probably wouldn't be interested in these trash items either.

The next time he returned to the city, he would directly donate it to the Guild warehouse.

After seeing the item that Zhang Shan had displayed, his friends immediately saw the blueprint for the barbatian cannon.

Wind cloud blade cried out in surprise.

six barrels. Can you make this barbatian cannon? ”

“If we can make this thing, then our future city defense will be stable.”

After seeing the blueprint for the barbatian cannon, his friends were all very excited.

Although they didn't need such a blueprint, the finished product made from the blueprint would be useful to them.

Moreover, they were in urgent need of it. After they took down the demon City, defending it was a big problem that they had to consider.

If they had the barbatian cannon, the problem of defending the city would be much easier.

With a few cannons on the city wall, no matter how many demons came, they would not be able to reach the city wall.

Thinking of this, the Little Friends were very excited.

However, Zhang Shan quickly poured a bucket of cold water on everyone's enthusiasm. He replied, ”

I can't. My engineering level is only at Level 5 Grandmaster. I still need two level 5 blueprints before I can reach Level 6 Grandmaster.

Of course, Zhang Shan also wanted to help his friends solve their problems. However, he could not do it now.

There was nothing he could do about this damned engineering level that he couldn't level up for now.

Hearing Zhang Shan's words, everyone was discouraged.

that's a pity. It would be great if we had such a cannon.

At this moment, wind cloud blade asked Zhang Shan again.

boss, are you only missing two blueprints? ”

yes, as long as you have the blueprint, and the materials required for the blueprint can be bought from the auction house, then it won't be a problem.

that's easy. I'll ask around and see if I can buy the blueprint.

After Windcloud blade finished speaking, he began contacting people everywhere.

In order to make Zhang Shan's engineering level reach Level 6, one blade of wind and cloud was even more enthusiastic than Zhang Shan himself.

They had no choice, they were in desperate need of the barbarian cannon to defend the city.

Even though they had not started to attack the city, everyone had already made reservations about the four demon cities at the foot of the mountain.

to them, attacking a city was not a big problem.

In the eyes of his friends, with Zhang Shan around, as long as they rushed to the edge of the city, they could completely flatten it.

The problem that the little companions had to consider was how to defend the demon City after they had taken it.

If they couldn't defend the city, they could only be city Lords for a day.

If that was the case, then it would be a little ridiculous.

Windcloud blade began to contact various parties in search of a level 5 engineering recipe.

Zhang Shan and his friends continued to farm monsters.

However, they didn't rush out of the stronghold. Instead, they kept their backs to the Beacon tower and blocked the entrance of the Beacon tower to kill monsters.

There were too many demon strongmen here, and they could not charge out at all.

he had to kill some of the small monsters first.

As for how long it would take for the number of monsters to decrease?

Only the heavens would know.

anyway, zhang shan had just heard from his friends that there were still countless demon strongmen in the distance, and they were coming over.

Of course, that was just now.

Clause had been blown up, and the Beacon on the high platform had been extinguished.

There shouldn't be any new demon strongmen now, so he would come back.

Zhang Shan suddenly remembered that he had not yet ascended the high platform to look at the surrounding scenery.

Just now, he had been tanking the BOSS, so he couldn't leave at all.

His friends had all gone up to take a look, except for Zhang Shan.

Thinking of this ...

Zhang Shan said to the young men.

you guys block the entrance and continue to brush. I'll go up to the high platform to take a look. I haven't gone up to take a look yet.

"Oh, then go take a look. The view on the high platform is really good, hehe."

Zhang Shan quickly walked up the platform, leaving his friends behind to continue farming monsters.

Since the entrance to the platform was very small, it was no problem for the four of them to kill monsters at the entrance.

He didn't need to worry about being surrounded and beaten by small monsters.

Zhang Shan jogged all the way and quickly reached the top of the platform.

Standing on the Beacon tower, the first thing Zhang Shan saw was the four demon cities occupying the four corners.

Around this small hill, there was a Demon City.

Moreover, these four demon cities all occupied a large area, much larger than Wind Cloud City. These were four giant cities.

Looking at the huge Demon City in the distance, Zhang Shan suddenly thought of something.

In such a big city, the BOSS of the demon race guarding the city would be stronger than Clouse.

However, Zhang Shan was just casually thinking about it. It was probably not possible.

After all, Cruz was a Max-level real-name BOSS. Other than the demon God, he was already a top-tier BOSS.

There must be other bosses in this game that were stronger than Cruz.

However, a BOSS that was much stronger than Cruz ...

Zhang Shan estimated that other than the demonic god, there should not be any more.

It couldn't be that a real-name BOSS over level 100 would appear, right?

That was impossible.

New World was only available up to level 100.

The maximum level for players was level 100, so the monsters and bosses should not be above level 100.

No matter how strong the bosses in these four cities were, they should not be much stronger than Clouse.

As long as there were no devils in these cities, it should not be a problem for Zhang Shan and the rest to take down the cities.

Moreover, the nine great demonic gods all had their own seats.

The demonic gods were guarding the human capital cities and the Eastern and Western capital cities, so it was unlikely that they would appear here.

Even if there were, it would probably only be for a short period of time, so it wouldn't be a problem.

The matter of attacking the demon City was not urgent for now.

In any case, the demon City was at the foot of this mountain. It couldn't run away, and it would be theirs sooner or later.

They wouldn't do it here. If other players came, they wouldn't be afraid of others getting there first.

Furthermore, it was not that Zhang Shan was looking down on such a powerful Demon City.

Even if someone else were to fight it, it would be impossible for the other players to take it down.

To Zhang Shan and the rest, what they needed to do now was to think of a way to kill their way out of the dense group of monsters.

Standing at the top of the Beacon tower, Zhang Shan looked at the small monsters all around him. His scalp was tingling.

It wasn't like he had never seen a time when there were many monsters.

However, Zhang Shan had never thought that there would be so many small monsters.

Countless demon soldiers extended from the mountain village to the outside of the mountain, even to the vicinity of the demon City.

zhang shan could not imagine how many monsters there would be.

how long would it take for them to kill all these demon strongmen?

In other words, he didn't have to kill all the small monsters. As long as he could kill them, he would be able to get out.

Even so, it probably wouldn't be easy.

These demonic strongmen were all Max-level small monsters and had very high damage.

even with zhang shan's current strength, it would be impossible for him to kill his way out from the middle of so many small monsters.

Not to mention, he had to protect his friends, which made it even more difficult.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan could not help but shake his head.

Forget it, I'll clear it slowly.

No matter how many small monsters there were, they would be cleared eventually.

at most, he would just stay here and farm for a few days.

They couldn't say that the number of these monsters wouldn't decrease even if they farmed here for a few days.

If that was the case, they would return to the city and make another trip.

Zhang Shan did not believe it.

By the time they returned, wouldn't the monsters disperse?

Zhang Shan stood at the top of the Beacon tower and looked at the scenery for a while. He then ran down to continue farming monsters.

they had to farm faster. they couldn't let these small monsters waste their time here.

Zhang Shan said to his friends after he got off the platform.

let's split the items first. One blade and Big Boss heart will roll for the divine weapon mold. The red equipment will be distributed according to needs.

forget it, you can keep the red equipment for yourself. We have no use for this trash.

that's right. What's the point of getting a level 100 red equipment? it's just going to be thrown into the Guild warehouse.

"Alright," he said.

His friends had high standards, so they didn't care about this trash equipment.

Zhang Shan was not conflicted. If you guys don't want it, then I'll keep it for myself.

The next time he returned to the city, he could sell it to the NPC shop or the Guild warehouse.

Zhang Shan would not mind.

Since his friends did not want the trashy equipment, the only item to be distributed this time was a strength-type bracer mold.

Zhang Shan quickly activated the ROLL mode and let blade of wind and cloud and do as you please roll.

At this moment, wind and cloud blade's mind was completely focused on purchasing Level 5 engineering blueprints.

He didn't care much about the mold, so he casually threw the die in his hand.

1 point.

hahaha, I've really learned something today. There's actually someone who can roll a point when he rolls.

it's lucky to be able to roll one point. It's not any easier than rolling a hundred points, hehe.

Looking at the number of points he had rolled, Windcloud blade was very depressed.

Even though he did not put much effort into rolling, his luck could not be that bad.

It was really amazing to throw one point.

Windcloud blade said to heart moves.

“Big brother heart following, you’re lucky this time.”

Heart moves with me smiled and casually threw the die in his hand.

16 points.

Alright, although this point was low enough, it was a point that completely crushed wind and cloud blade’s.

It goes without saying that this wrist guard mold will belong to whatever you want.

zhang shan assigned the god weapon mold to heart moves.

Chapter 578 Level-six engineering Grandmaster

After distributing the God equipment mold to moving heart, Zhang Shan kept all the other items that the BOSS dropped for himself.

Other than the blueprint for the barbarian cannon, the rest were all rubbish.

If his friends did not want it, then Zhang Shan would keep it for himself.

Of course.

it was not that cruise’s items were bad that he said they were trash.

In fact, it would be good enough if every BOSS dropped a useful item.

Cruz would drop a divine weapon mold and a level 6 engineering recipe.

To Zhang Shan, this was already considered very generous.

if every real name boss had such a drop, zhang shan would jump in joy.

After distributing the items, Zhang Shan brought his friends and continued to farm monsters with their backs against the Beacon tower.

as for wind and cloud blade, he was farming monsters while contacting people everywhere.

He wanted to help Zhang Shan find two level 5 engineering blueprints as soon as possible.

As long as he could buy two level 5 blueprints, Zhang Shan would be able to start forging the barbarian cannon.

This was a matter of whether they could defend the city or not.

Regarding this matter, Windcloud blade was very concerned.

He was even more experienced than Zhang Shan.

After all, the cities that they took down later would be theirs. Zhang Shan would not need to occupy any more cities.

Zhang Shan had the demon-suppressing city, and that was enough.

He didn't need to occupy a Second City.

Of course.

If there were more cities, he could occupy one more.

It was just that there were only four demon cities nearby. It just so happened that each of his four companions occupied one city.

Zhang Shan would definitely not fight with his friends for the position of city Lord.

Time passed slowly. They had been farming in the middle of the demon village for a few hours.

They farmed until 12 o'clock in the evening, but the demon strongmen around them didn't decrease.

During this period, Zhang Shan even tried to break out of the encirclement alone.

However, Zhang Shan had only taken a few steps before he was crushed by the dense crowd of demon strongmen, unable to move.

Left with no choice, Zhang Shan could only go all out and activate all his berserk skills to return to the vicinity of the Beacon tower.

Seeing that the number of wild monsters around them didn't decrease, everyone was annoyed.

They had come here to attack the demonic city, not to farm monsters.

Right now, they were surrounded by monsters that were continuously farming monsters. What was going on?

While they were killing monsters, everyone would run to the top of the platform from time to time to see if the number of demon strongmen in the distance had decreased.

However, every time they ran up excitedly, they would come down in a depressed mood.

No matter how hard they tried, the monsters around the small hill were still there.

At least, they could not see any changes with their naked eyes.

In the beginning, they were still very enthusiastic, but as time went on, everyone became more and more annoyed.

It wasn't a good thing to keep farming like this.

Especially after midnight, when they all needed to sleep.

However, everyone was still surrounded by monsters, which was very annoying.

The little fairy said gloomily.

“How long do we have to farm before we can attack the demon race’s city?”

how would we know? if we don’t kill more than half of the monsters, we won’t be able to get out of here.

“then what should we do? Are we just going to keep killing monsters like this? How long will it take?”

it’s hard to say. Maybe I’ll only need half a day, maybe a few days.

no way. I’m afraid I’ll go crazy if I farm for a few days.

” it doesn’t matter even if we grind for a few days. don’t we usually take it slow like this when we’re grinding monsters? ”

“How is this the same? there’s a demon city at the foot of the mountain to fight, but we’re here killing monsters. isn’t that awkward?”

“Don’t be too anxious, take it slowly. The demon City at the foot of the mountain won’t run away, so what are you worried about?”

“Alright,” he said.

Zhang Shan suggested after looking at the time.

“Why don’t we stop here for today? everyone, go offline early and sleep.”

It was already midnight, and it was time to sleep. They couldn’t rush out today anyway.

There was no need to waste any more time. He would continue farming tomorrow and try to reach the foot of the mountain.

“Alright, I’ll go offline and sleep. I’ll continue tomorrow.”

by the way, brother Guan, you have to be early tomorrow. You have to go online and stall the monsters first. Otherwise, we’ll be killed by the monsters very easily.

“Yes.”

Of course, Zhang Shan knew that he had to come online earlier than his friends.

Without him, if the monsters were stuck, his other companions would have been easily killed.

Unless they all went online at the same time and worked together, they would not be able to block the monsters with the terrain.

But how could they be online at the same time?

There must be some order.

Therefore, it would be safest for Zhang Shan to come online first.

This was because Zhang Shan was alone. Even if he had to face many small monsters, he was not afraid. just as everyone was about to go offline to sleep.

At this moment, Windcloud blade suddenly said.

“ wait a minute, i found a level 5 engineering recipe. i’m getting someone to buy it now. i’ll be able to get it soon. ”

Hearing wind and cloud blade’s words, Zhang Shan could not help but be overjoyed.

There was such a thing?

Wind and cloud blade was really quite capable.

He had searched for a long time, but he had not been able to buy a level 5 engineering blueprint. On the other hand, wind and cloud blade had only used one night to find the source.

It had to be said that a wily old fox like wind cloud blade really had a lot of connections.

Zhang Shan hurriedly asked wind cloud blade.

“How many can I buy? is there only one?”

Zhang Shan was more concerned about this issue.

If they could only buy a level 5 engineering blueprint, it would not be of much use and would not solve their problem.

He had to be able to buy two of them.

Wind and cloud blade replied.

“there are two, they will arrive soon.”

“Yidao, you’re really something. You can even buy this. Where did you find the source?”

where else can I buy it from? I’ll look for those game merchants.

Hearing wind and cloud blade’s words, Zhang Shan was shocked.

“F * ck, are game merchants that awesome? They actually have a supply of this kind of thing?”

“Don’t underestimate the game merchants. They have a lot of connections. as long as you’re willing to pay a high price, they’ll probably be able to sell even god tool molds.”

“Alright,” he said.

Zhang Shan’s knowledge had been broadened.

Originally, he thought that the game merchants were just playing around and using some cheap buy high sell tactics.

Furthermore, they would not have anything good in their hands.

After all, the truly good items were very rare. The majority of them were in the hands of the various large guilds, so they shouldn't be able to obtain them.

Now, it seemed that Zhang Shan had underestimated him.

Those guys who were game merchants had some skills.

After a short while, wind and cloud blade had traded the two level 5 engineering blueprints to Zhang Shan.

At the same time, he ridiculed.

f * ck, these game merchants are really evil. A level 5 engineering blueprint is actually sold for 100 gold coins each.

"It's so dark? Weren't all Level 5 engineering blueprints worth around 100000 gold coins? unless it's an extremely rare blueprint, the price is usually stable."

" we'll have to bid for the regular price ourselves. we'll have to wait at the auction house to bid. otherwise, where will these black-hearted merchants make money? "

f * ck, that's too much. They dare to earn ten times the price difference? " what can we do about it? he can only grab people like us who are in urgent need and slaughter us.

Zhang Shan said to wind cloud blade.

"I'll transfer the money to you."

"No need, do I need you to pay for this? Hurry up and level up your engineering, and then build the barbarian cannon. I'll go buy the materials the next time I return to the city. We'll split the cost of the materials equally."

"Yes, brother Guan, you can do the work. We'll pay for it. You're not allowed to charge us for our labor, hehe."

hearing wind and cloud blade's words, zhang shan did not say anything else.

This was also good. He couldn't ask him to pay and work at the same time.

He would let his friends provide the materials themselves, and he would only be responsible for making the product.

Zhang Shan took wind and cloud blade and looked at the blueprint that he had traded.

He couldn't help but shake his head.

These two level 5 blueprints were both trash blueprints. Other than using them to increase his proficiency, they were completely worthless.

One of them was a level 60 orange fire gun blueprint, and the other was a toy, The Jumping Frog blueprint.

These two blueprints actually cost a million gold coins each. These game merchants were really evil. But it didn't matter.

To Zhang Shan, the purpose of these two blueprints was to increase his proficiency.

As for the product, it didn't matter if it was useful or not.

As long as he could raise his engineering level to Level 6, he would be able to do it.

Zhang Shan said to his friends after receiving the two level 5 engineering blueprints.

"You guys go ahead. I'll go back and level up my engineering."

"okay, we'll be going offline first. all the best, brother guan."

His friends went offline one after another. Zhang Shan took out a positioning ball and marked the coordinates of his current position.

After that, he used the positioning Pearl to teleport to the demon-suppressing city, and then through the teleportation array of the demon-suppressing city, he was teleported to Dangyang city.

As for why he had to take such a big detour to return to Dangyang city? This was something that could not be helped.

Because in front of Zhang Shan, there were still countless small monsters.

When players were attacked, they could not cast a spell to return to the city.

Zhang Shan could only use the positioning Pearl to be transported away.

Zhang Shan's fixed teleportation points were only the demon suppression city and the Imperial City.

He had left a coordinate in the demon-suppressing city because Zhang Shan had to go there occasionally to collect gold coins.

and the coordinates of the palace was because of zhang shan. he had to go there every day to train his mount.

as for the third coordinate of the positioning ball, zhang shan had always kept it for emergency use.

For example, he had set the third coordinate on the Beacon tower in the middle of the small village.

This was so that he could directly teleport back the next day after he was done with his business.

After returning to Dangyang city, Zhang Shan first teleported to the warehouse and took out some of the materials he had stored.

then, he teleported to the auction house and started to bid for a batch of materials according to the blueprint's requirements.

The two level 5 blueprints that wind and cloud blade had obtained had resulted in trash products.

Fortunately, the materials required for these two blueprints weren't too expensive, and they were all common materials that could be easily bought at the auction house.

other than the orange-colored material, there were a lot of other materials in the auction house.

Zhang Shan roughly estimated that the price of the materials for these two drawings was about ten to twenty thousand gold coins.

And if Zhang Shan wanted to raise his proficiency to the maximum, he would probably need to prepare close to 300 sets of materials for each drawing.

According to his previous experience, the first 100 sets of materials had a very low chance of making a finished product. He would just treat them as a stepping stone.

As for the remaining 200 sets of materials, it shouldn't be a problem for him to raise his proficiency to 100.

Zhang Shan quickly swept through the auction house and bought 300 sets of the required materials for the two drawings.

after settling the materials, zhang shan teleported to the guild residence and used his guild contribution points to enter the workshop.

Zhang Shan took out two blueprints and immediately used them to learn.

After learning the blueprint, Zhang Shan opened the life profession panel to take a look.

Level 5 engineering.

Intermediate arrow tower crafting (proficiency 100)

Grotte fire gun crafting (proficiency 0)

Making Jumping Frog (proficiency 0)

Although Zhang Shan had already learned these two blueprints, he had yet to successfully create a product.

Hence, their proficiency was zero.

As long as Zhang Shan successfully made 100 finished products, he could raise his proficiency to 100.

He had 100 proficiency points for both of them. In addition to the large number of intermediate arrow towers that he had made previously, his proficiency points had long reached 100.

The three proficiency points added up to 300 proficiency points. That way, Zhang Shan could learn the level 6 engineering blueprint.

His engineering level was now a level 6 Grandmaster.

Now that he had the blueprint and the materials, he just had to keep producing products and increase his proficiency.

everything was done with great enthusiasm.

Zhang Shan took out a set of materials for the glot fire gun and placed it on the operating table.

Soon, a small flame was ignited, and a cloud of green smoke rose.

Without a doubt, the production failed.

it didn't matter.

This was only his first attempt, so it was normal to fail. After he failed 80 times, he should be able to succeed.

Although he had failed, Zhang Shan was not discouraged.

It was normal to fail the first time.

If he could produce a product on his first try, that would be a heaven-defying thing.

Zhang Shan once again placed the materials on the operating table.

Another failure.

This process repeated continuously. Zhang Shan kept on placing the materials on the operating table.

He failed again and again.

however, zhang shan's face was expressionless. he continued to place the materials.

Even after he had used up more than one hundred and twenty sets of materials, Zhang Shan still had not succeeded in making his first glot flintlock.

This made Zhang Shan a little depressed.

Although it was normal to fail when making an engineered product for the first time, it was not a big deal.

However, he had already failed more than a hundred times. This was a little abnormal.

Even though the materials used to make the glot flintlock were not too expensive.

On average, the price of each material was about 20000 gold coins.

however, failing over a hundred times in a row meant that over two million gold coins would be wasted.

Even if Zhang Shan did not lack money, he should not be so wasteful.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan could not help but shake his head.

The life professions in the New World were really burning money.

Even though he had experienced failure after failure, Zhang Shan still continued to put in the materials.

If he failed, he would try again.

It was just money, he could afford it.

Zhang Shan did not know how many times he had put in the ingredients.

Suddenly, a ray of light flashed on the operating table, and an exquisite flintlock slowly appeared on the operating table.

Seeing this, Zhang Shan could not help but breathe a sigh of relief. He had finally made his first flintlock.

How many times had he failed?

Zhang Shan took a look. He still had more than 130 sets of materials for the Grotte flintlock in his bag.

okay.

He had failed a total of more than 160 times before he successfully made his first flintlock. This kind of probability was quite ridiculous.

However, now that he had made the first one, the rest would be easy to handle.

The subsequent production should be much easier.

zhang shan continued to put in the materials.

Time passed slowly. Zhang Shan put in the materials again and again. Some failed, some succeeded.

When he was about to put in more materials, he realized that the flintlock materials in his backpack had all been used up.

What the f * ck, 300 sets of materials, isn't that enough to raise his proficiency?

Zhang Shan opened the life profession panel to check.

[grotte fire gun crafting (proficiency 86)]

F  k, there really wasn't enough.

He didn't say anything else and continued to buy materials.

Zhang Shan left the Guild workshop, teleported to the auction house, and continued to buy 20 sets of materials for the flintlock.

Then, he returned to the Guild residence and continued to make flintlocks.

After a short while, Zhang Shan had used up all the materials for the flintlock.

he opened the life profession panel again.

Grotte fire gun crafting (proficiency 100)

It was good.

seeing this, zhang shan nodded his head in satisfaction.

He had finally managed to raise his proficiency by 100 points.

Even though he had spent 20 more sets of materials than he had expected.

But it didn't matter. 20 sets of materials wasn't a big deal. It would only cost a few hundred thousand gold coins.

Zhang Shan was rich and generous. He did not care about such a small amount of money. As long as the matter was done, it was fine.

With a blueprint completed, he no longer needed to make the glot flintlock.

This level 60 orange fire gun wouldn't sell for much in the auction house.

He didn't even have enough materials. He was far from it.

A normal orange equipment would only cost around 500 to 2000 gold coins.

For example, the glot flintlock, which was beyond the player's current level, could not be sold for a high price.

He estimated that even if it was sold for 500 gold coins, no one would buy it.

One had to know that for Zhang Shan to make a gun, even if he had a 100% success rate, he would still need 20000 Yuan of material capital.

The more products like this one made, the more losses one would suffer.

Since he already had enough proficiency, what was the point of doing it?

He could just treat it as if it didn't exist.

Zhang Shan kept the flintlock on the control panel and started to make the jumping frog.

This kind of toy-type engineering product was even more of a scam.

It had no use at all and could only be used to increase proficiency.

It was no wonder that the game merchants still had blueprints.

Only people like Zhang Shan, who wanted to level up in engineering, would need such a blueprint.

The others would not even look at it.

To think that such a trashy blueprint could be sold for 1000000 gold coins per piece. It had to be said that wind and cloud blade was a fat sheep today.

However, they had no choice. Who asked them to stretch their heads over?

It would be weird if someone didn't rip you off ruthlessly.

Zhang Shan placed the materials for making The Jumping Frog on the operating table and started making.

One by one, the ingredients were placed on the operating table.

this time, zhang shan's luck was not bad. he only used less than 200 sets of materials and his proficiency had reached 100.

As for the remaining materials, Zhang Shan did not continue to make them.

There was no need for that.

A toy product like The Jumping Frog would be trash if it was made.

As for the remaining materials, he would store them in the warehouse later. Perhaps they could be of use in the future.

Zhang Shan opened the life profession panel to check.

Intermediate arrow tower crafting (proficiency 100)

[gro's musket crafting (proficiency 100)]

Making Jumping Frog (100 proficiency points)

It was good.

The proficiency of the three mountain blueprints had all risen to 100.

he could now learn a level 6 engineering recipe.

From his backpack, Zhang Shan took out the blueprint for the Barbadian cannon and immediately started learning how to use it.

He opened the life profession panel.

Level 6 engineering master.

Barbarian cannon blueprint (0 proficiency).

not bad, not bad. i've finally learned this blueprint.

This meant that Zhang Shan's engineering level had already risen to Level 6.

Now, as long as he had the materials, he could start to make this kind of city-guarding weapon.

Once they took down the demonic city, wind cloud blade and the others could go and collect the materials.

As long as the materials were in his hands, Zhang Shan could start mass production.

Chapter 579 East Wei city of the demon race

After raising his engineering level to Level 6 engineering Grandmaster, Zhang Shan was feeling extremely good.

It had only been half a year since the game started, and he had already raised his engineering level to Level 6.

This speed was extremely fast.

Currently, there shouldn't be any players who had reached Level 6 in their living level, right?

Although Zhang Shan did not go out of his way to understand.

However, he estimated that no one should be faster than him.

let alone the normal players, even those who focused on working class shouldn't be able to reach level 6.

Zhang Shan had raised his engineering level to Level 6 in one go. In the field of life professions, he had once again left the other players behind.

Of course.

He had also spent a lot of money.

The gold that Zhang Shan had spent on engineering added up to a few hundred million.

Even though a large portion of this money was paid by others.

For example, in order to defend wind Cloud City, Zhang Shan had helped Feng Yun realm build more than 30000 intermediate arrow towers.

just buying the materials alone had cost him several hundred million gold.

However, this money was all from Feng Yun realm.

Feng Yun realm bought the materials and passed them to Zhang Shan. He did not need to pay a single cent.

He was only providing manual labor.

However, Zhang Shan's engineering profession did not always require money.

This life profession had also helped Zhang Shan earn some money.

The main thing was that Zhang Shan was honest. He had gotten the blueprint to make the fool's bomb, and then he had made it. For a long time, the fool's bomb had been put up for sale at the auction house everyday.

Just by selling the fool's bomb, he had earned at least a hundred million gold coins.

however, he couldn't make any profit now.

As the players' equipment and level increased, the fool's bomb became less and less effective.

The fool's bombs that could be sold for 1000 gold coins each in the past could probably only be sold for tens of gold coins now.

This amount of money was probably just enough to cover the cost of the materials.

After that, Zhang Shan was too lazy to do it again.

in general, zhang shan had invested a lot in his life profession, and his gains were not small.

He did not lose much.

Moreover, the products produced by engineers often had miraculous effects.

For example, the six-barrel Vulcan cannon, the intermediate arrow tower, and the Barbadian cannon.

If he hadn't learned a lifestyle class, he wouldn't have been able to make these city defenders.

Without these defensive weapons, Zhang Shan and Feng Yun realm would not be able to defend the city so easily.

Especially now, when Zhang Shan had to bring his friends to attack the demon City.

This time, if not for the Barbazan cannon, even if they managed to take down the Nephilim race's city ...

It was also quite risky to defend the city.

This was the benefit of leveling up a lifestyle class.

Many times, it might seem useless, but it could be very effective at the critical moment.

now that zhang shan's engineering profession had risen to a level six engineering grandmaster, his role in the future would only become more and more obvious.

Perhaps he would be able to make divine weapons after he leveled up two more times and became a rank-8 divine craftsman.

Just thinking about it made him look forward to it.

After learning the blueprint of the barbatian cannon, he had a rough idea of what to do.

zhang shan quickly left the guild workshop.

It was good that they had learned it. As for building the barbatian cannon, they would have to wait until they had taken down the demon City.

There was no rush now.

And Zhang Shan did not have the materials.

If he had the materials on hand, Zhang Shan would not mind making a few to try his hand.

But he didn't.

Furthermore, Zhang Shan did not plan to go to the auction house to buy the materials needed to build the barbatian cannon.

this thing was very expensive.

The price of each material was about two to three hundred thousand gold coins.

If he wanted to make the first barbarian cannon, he would need to prepare at least a hundred sets of materials.

This was also a large sum of money, about twenty to thirty million gold coins.

Zhang Shan did not want to waste his gold.

After Feng Yun realm and the others bought the materials, he would then go and craft it.

After settling the engineering level, Zhang Shan teleported to the Guild warehouse.

He donated all the useless equipment in his backpack, including the orange-colored flintlock that he had just made, to the Guild's warehouse.

Then, he cleaned up his backpack and logged out of the game.

He went to sleep.

He had been online for such a long time every day. If he did not maintain a good schedule, Zhang Shan was afraid that he would go crazy.

the next day, zhang shan woke up early. after washing up and eating something, he logged into the game.

Standing near the warehouse in Dangyang city, Zhang Shan used the positioning Pearl and teleported to the Beacon tower in the middle of the small demon village.

As soon as he landed, countless demon strongmen swarmed toward him.

Fuck.

After a night, the demon strongmen still hadn't dispersed. They were still surrounding the Beacon tower.

Seeing such a scene, even Zhang Shan was a little helpless.

It seemed like it wouldn't be easy for them to charge down the mountain and attack the demon City.

Zhang Shan lifted his hand cannon and opened fire. Countless bullets were like raindrops, sweeping towards the demon strongmen in front of him.

He had to clear these demon strongmen out of the Beacon tower and then block the entrance.

Otherwise, when his friends entered the game, they would probably be killed by these monsters.

Under Zhang Shan's intense firepower, the demon strong men in the Beacon tower were quickly cleared out.

Zhang Shan blocked the entrance and slowly killed the monsters. He did not try to rush out.

There was no rush for now. When all the friends were here, they would see what to do.

In any case, they really were. He had to think of a way. It wouldn't be good to keep brushing them off like this.

After a while, his other friends came online one after another.

The little fairy asked Zhang Shan.

boss, have you reached Level 6 in engineering? ”

“Yes, I did.”

haha, that's great. Then we can start gathering the materials and prepare to build the barbatian cannon.

“There's no rush. We haven't taken down the demon City yet.”

feng yun realm said.

how can I not be in a hurry? before I went offline last night, I already sent a list of materials to others and asked them to help me collect them.

Hearing wind and cloud blade's words, even Zhang Shan was a little stunned.

Was this guy in such a hurry?

They hadn't even touched the edge of the demon City. They had only seen the city on the mountain, and this brother was already preparing the materials?

What if they couldn't take down the demon City?

Then wouldn't the materials they prepared be of no use?

If it wasn't to defend the city, what was the point of having the barbatian cannon?

Shouldn't they be waiting for them to take down the demon City before they start collecting the materials?

Zhang Shan asked wind cloud blade.

you've been collecting materials since last night? ”

“Yeah, I think we've already bought quite a few by now.”

“Alright, you're really in a hurry.”

After confirming with wind cloud blade once again, Zhang Shan was speechless.

At this moment, Windcloud blade continued.

I think it's better to make some preparations early. Otherwise, we might be ripped off again when we buy materials at the last minute.

“That's true.”

Windcloud blade's words were also true. They definitely had four cities that needed the barbatian cannon.

He needed a lot of them, so he naturally needed a lot of materials.

If he bought them all at the last minute, he would be easily ripped off. It was good to prepare some in advance.

After his friends all came online, they started to get a little impatient after farming for a while.

The little fairy asked Zhang Shan.

“Brother Guan, is there no way for us to get out?”

Zhang Shan looked at the densely packed demon strongmen in front of him. He was also very helpless.

It wasn't that he didn't want to lead everyone to charge out and attack the demon City.

This was because there were simply too many monsters in the area.

More importantly, Zhang Shan did not know that other than the small monsters around them.

At the foot of the mountain, how many more demon strongmen were there?

Although they had gone up to the high platform to see it, they were too far away and couldn't see any difference.

In any case, it just felt like there were a lot of small monsters.

as for whether there were actually that many monsters, they could not tell.

Zhang Shan replied to the little fairy's question.

“We have to find a way to rush out. It's not good to keep farming monsters like this. You guys go up to the platform and see which direction has fewer monsters. We'll try to charge in.”

“Alright, I'll go up and take a look.”

without waiting for zhang shan to finish, the little fairy excitedly ran to the high platform to check.

After a short while, the little demon returned to Zhang Shan's side and said gloomily.

” it's the same everywhere. there are monsters everywhere. i can't even tell which direction has fewer monsters. ”

f * ck, what should we do? are there any more monsters coming our way? ” that shouldn't be the case. Clause has been dead for so long. The number of summoned monsters shouldn't have increased.

but why is it that even after we've been farming for so long, the number of monsters hasn't decreased?

“It's probably because we're not farming fast enough.”

that's true. These Max-level demon strongmen are very difficult to farm. Even the six-barreled Big Boss has to shoot two times to kill them.

that's right, we can't even cut it. We have to cut it more than ten times to kill a small monster. This kind of farming speed is really not fast enough.

As the level of these demonic strongmen was much higher than theirs, their farming speed couldn't be increased at all.

If it was like usual, Zhang Shan would kill the monsters in seconds. That way, he would not have to worry about being surrounded by the small monsters.

This was because as long as he farmed enough, he could kill his way out no matter how many monsters there were.

However, in this place, even though his attack power had increased by several times recently, he still had to be careful.

But Zhang Shan still could not do it. One shot, one kill.

He had to fire two shots.

to them, such a farming speed was indeed a little too slow.

Their farming speed wasn't fast, and their clearing speed wasn't even as fast as the growth of the small monsters.

As a result, they were still surrounded even after farming for so long.

However, no matter what, they had to rush out. They couldn't just stay here and kill monsters.

It would be too boring to farm monsters here.

These demonic strongmen were not easy to farm and did not give much experience.

Even if it was to level up, they shouldn't be grinding here.

There was no efficiency at all in grinding here.

Not to mention, their goal here wasn't to level up, but to attack the demon race's city.

Zhang Shan said after careful consideration.

"We'll rush out together. You guys pay attention and protect old Wu."

"Big brother, Are you sure? With so many monsters, can we charge out?"

even if you can't get out, you have to. Just make sure old Wu doesn't die. If he dies, then you guys can't do anything.

"Don't worry, even if I die, I won't let big brother carrying a knife fall to the ground."

" yes, i'll lead the way. you guys pay attention and follow closely. "

Zhang Shan considered for a long time and decided to charge out first. Whether he could do it or not, he had to try.

Anyway, as long as boss Wu didn't die, it wouldn't matter much even if the others died.

When the others fell, boss Wu could resurrect them.

after everyone had discussed for a while, zhang shan took the lead and killed the group of small monsters. his friends followed closely behind him.

zhang shan held the hand cannon, and the bullets kept on sweeping towards the surrounding demon strongmen.

a large number of demon strongmen fell to the ground, but even more were still charging at them.

Zhang Shan didn't care. He just kept shooting and sweeping. After killing a group of small monsters, he would take a few steps forward.

Boss Wu and the little fairy followed closely behind him. Wind and cloud blade and heart follows me were responsible for bringing up the rear.

They moved out with great difficulty and spent a lot of effort before they reached the entrance of the village.

It was just that after reaching this place, they could no longer charge forward.

The number of demon strongmen blocking the entrance of the village was exaggerated.

Even if Zhang Shan opened fire fiercely, he still could not kill the monsters.

The endless number of monsters, after he defeated a group, quickly squeezed into a new group.

No one knew what these demon strong men were doing, but they just charged into the village without any regard for their lives.

They were trapped at the door, and the situation was dangerous.

If they could not advance, then Windcloud blade and heart following, who were in charge of bringing up the rear, would not be able to hold on for long.

This was because a large number of demon strongmen were still behind them.

Seeing such a situation, Zhang Shan could not help but be angry.

Damn it, with his current strength, he was actually rendered helpless by a group of small monsters?

Seeing that there were more and more monsters around him, Zhang Shan decided to go all out. He had to kill his way through.

He activated his berserk and fanatic skills, and at the same time, he activated his shadow clone skill.

the three zhang shan's stood in a row, and countless bullets swept towards the demon strongmen at the entrance of the stronghold.

Under Zhang Shan's intense firepower, the demon strongmen blocking the entrance of the village were quickly opened up by him.

Taking advantage of this opportunity, Zhang Shan led his friends and quickly rushed out of the village and began to move down the mountain.

After rushing out of the village, Zhang Shan suddenly felt the pressure on him relax.

Although it seemed that the number of small monsters in the surroundings was not much less than when they were in the middle of the village.

However, Zhang Shan felt that in this open space, it was easier for them to perform.

Their speed of advancement was much faster than when they were in the village.

It wasn't like just now, where every step forward required a lot of effort.

Upon seeing such a situation, Wind and Cloud Blade shouted happily as he brandished his axe in a frenzied attack.

"Haha, it seems like we can charge out of here."

"Yes, we should be able to rush out now."

haha! Hurry up and charge towards the demon City! I want to be the city Lord!

"Right, which of the four demon cities should we attack first?"

"What's the Difference? We'll just find a random one and finish it."

"Alright," he said.

Zhang Shan didn't think too much about it. He rushed towards the nearest Demon City.

Time passed by slowly.

After about two hours, they finally reached the foot of the mountain.

Although the number of demons here was not small.

However, compared to before, these small monsters were nothing.

Zhang Shan led his friends and quickly rushed to the nearest demon city.

Previously, when they were standing on the high platform, they could see the four demon cities.

However, this did not mean that these demon cities were very close to them.

That was only because they stood at a higher place and saw further.

After they left the village, they basically could not see the shadow of The Fiend Race City anymore.

Zhang Shan only followed the direction he had previously determined and charged forward.

As they moved further and further away from the small hill, the monsters around them had become very few.

Of course.

The rarity here was only relative.

Compared to when they were not fighting the BOSS, there were still a lot of small monsters around them.

At the very least, they couldn't run fast on horses and had to clear the monsters along the way.

However, this was already very good.

Although they couldn't advance on horses, they were still able to clear the monsters while advancing at a decent speed.

At least for now, they no longer had to worry about being surrounded by monsters.

Although the number of these small monsters was not small, under Zhang Shan's powerful firepower, they could not stop their advance.

after a while, zhang shan could vaguely see the shadow of the demon city in the distance.

Zhang Shan said to his friends.

"Good luck, we'll be able to start attacking the city soon."

haha, after two days, we're finally at the edge of the demon City.

"Everyone, hurry up and rush to the edge of the demon City."

windcloud blade cried out excitedly.

charge, charge, charge! I'm going to charge into the Nephilim's city and kill the BOSS!

"Come on, you want to kill the BOSS?"

don't listen to his bragging. With his small body, the BOSS can turn him into a slag with a casual strike.

"F * ck, can't I think about it?"

" alright, let's go and farm the monsters. let's not disturb him from his dreams, hehe. "

As everyone advanced quickly, they soon arrived near a Demon City.

Zhang Shan looked at the demon City in the distance.

The city gate was wide open, and two teams of guards each took a side.

A large number of demon strong men passed through the city gate.

The plaque above the city gate had the words " Eastern Wei " written on it.

In the demon race's Eastern Wei city.

After such a long battle, they finally saw the demon City.

It had to be said that the demon race's Eastern Wei city was very large.

Zhang Shan looked into the distance. The tall city walls stretched on endlessly. He could not see the end.

If the demon-suppressing city was a small city, and Fengyun city was a big city, then ...

then this east wei city of the demon race was a giant city with a radius of fifty miles.

This was only Zhang Shan's guess. Perhaps this demon race's Eastern Wei city had an even greater possibility.

From where they were, they could only see one side of the city wall of the demon race's Eastern Wei city.

As for the other three walls, they had no idea what was going on.

From their angle, they could see the other three walls of Eastern Wei city.

After they continued to run for a while, Zhang Shan stopped at a distance of five or six hundred meters from Eastern Wei city.

windcloud blade asked curiously.

"Big brother, why aren't you moving?"

zhang shan said to wind cloud blade.

"Look at the top of the city gate tower, aren't there two cannons?"

After Zhang Shan's reminder, wind and cloud blade quickly looked up at the sixth floor of Eastern Wei city.

Wind and cloud blade said in shock.

"Could that be the barbatian cannon?"

"I don't know, but we have to be careful. If it's really the barbatian cannon, it's not going to be easy. the barbatian cannon has a range of 500 yards and a 50-yard damage range. it's pretty strong."

it can't be. How could the demons have the barbatian cannon? didn't the blueprint say that it was a city-defense cannon invented by a divine human craftsman? "

"What's so strange about that? the demons have robbed so many human territories. Isn't it normal to Rob a few cannons?"

indeed, even the blueprint for the barbatian cannon was in Cruise's hands. It's only natural that they have a few cannons.

"Alright, this makes sense logically."

what do we do now? the barbatian cannon is so powerful. What should we do to get to the city gate? "

f * ck, we can't even get close to the city gate. How are we going to attack the city? " just because you can't get close doesn't mean that others can't get close to the city gate. Brother Guan is here, so why are you in such a hurry?"

that's right. Six-barreled boss, it's all up to you.

zhang shan looked at the distant east wei city of the demon race, and the two to six cannons on the tower of the city gate.

To be honest, he was also a little flustered.

It's a little difficult.

He felt a little weak just looking at the two cannons.

Chapter 580 Poking the hornet's nest

Zhang Shan stood where he was, looking at the distant East Wei city of the demon race. The two cannons on the tower of the city gate made his head grow big.

he did not know if these two cannons were the barbaean cannon.

However, Zhang Shan thought that it should be 80%.

It couldn't be that the demons had built other cannons, right?

He had just obtained the blueprint and had not had the time to make a cannon.

As a result, he saw these two big guys on the gate tower of the demon race.

If he were to do it himself, would he first experience the power of the barbatian cannon?

the problem was that he might not be able to withstand the damage from the two cannons.

If it was really the barbatian cannon on the city gate tower ...

the damage of these two cannons was a little scary.

The barbatian cannon had a range of 500 yards and an attack power of 500000.

If two cannons fired at the same time, that would be 1000000 damage.

Although Zhang Shan's HP was higher, he still found it difficult to hold on.

Even though the cannons had a long interval of five seconds before they could fire an attack.

however, with a shooting range of five hundred yards, how long would zhang shan have to run before he could reach the gate of eastern wei city?

He didn't want to be killed by these two cannons before he could even reach the city gate.

Zhang Shan calculated carefully. It was a distance of 500 yards.

With the speed of the red Hare, it would take him about twenty seconds to cover this distance.

In other words, Zhang Shan would have to take at least four to five rounds of cannonballs before he could get close to the city gate.

even if he used the heart of the demon dragon, by the time he reached the city gate, his hp would have been reduced by more than half.

What should he do?

With less than half of his health left, could he still hold on? could he blow up the two cannons?

Furthermore, the barbatian cannon was a piece of defensive equipment and could not be used to suck blood.

Zhang Shan's powerful blood-sucking ability was completely useless against the barbatian cannon.

However, this was not a big problem.

He could not draw any blood from the barbatian cannon.

However, when he did not have enough HP, he could first attack a wave of city guards.

There were still two teams of city guards at the gates of Eastern Wei city.

wouldn't he be able to suck blood by beating these city guards?

zhang shan carefully calculated for a long time and felt that it should not be a big problem.

After changing to the heart of the demon Dragon, he should be able to withstand it.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan quickly changed the heart of the demon Dragon.

After defeating Cruz yesterday, he had replaced the heart of the demon Dragon.

After defeating the BOSS, they would only need to kill the small monsters. Of course, they would not need the heart of the demon Dragon.

However, now that he was facing the powerful barbatian cannon, Zhang Shan would definitely have to replace it with the heart of the demon Dragon.

Otherwise, with his current HP, he would have been blown to pieces by the two cannons before he could reach the city gate.

After changing to the heart of the demon Dragon, Zhang Shan's HP had reached more than 7.3 million.

However, Zhang Shan still felt that it was not too safe.

He looked at the remaining ten Saint relics in his bag.

these 10 saint relics had been obtained in the city of the ruins.

This was because after charging for over 30 times, he still wasn't able to push the Tear of the Sky Eagle King to the third transformation.

After that, Zhang Shan gave up. He did not use the remaining ten saint's relics.

At this moment, Zhang Shan was thinking, should he try upgrading the king's Cape twice?

Zhang Shan's King's Cape had never been upgraded. Perhaps he could try to upgrade it.

as long as his luck wasn't too bad, ten saint relics should be enough to make the king's cape a second-grade divine artifact, right?

After the second profession upgrade, the king's Cape could give him more than 100000 HP.

If he counted the special effects and passive skills, he should be able to increase his HP by 400000 to 500000.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan quickly opened the equipment panel, took off the king's Cape, and threw it into the reincarnation pool in the panel. Then, he put it into a saint's relic.

[God equipment upgrade chosen.]

A gray aura floated past, and the Ascension failed.

Fuck.

Would the first transition fail?

...

Seeing such a situation, Zhang Shan was a little speechless.

Could it be that he was out of luck today?

One had to know that all the attack-type equipment he had obtained before were all successful in one go during the first transition.

He was not the only one. Even his companions had also changed their weapons, and they had also succeeded in one attempt.

What was wrong with him today?

he wanted to upgrade the king's cape, but he actually failed at the first transition.

Even though failing the first transition would only result in the loss of a saint's relic, it was not a big problem.

Previously, in order to help the Tear of the Sky Eagle King reach the third rank, Zhang Shan had wasted over 90 saint's relics, and he had not succeeded.

in comparison, wasting a saint's relic was a small matter.

But the problem was that this was not a good sign.

It felt like there were dark clouds covering the sky.

I don't care anymore, I'll just keep charging.

Zhang Shan did not believe that with a 50% chance, he could not keep on failing.

Even if he could not get the king's Cape to rank two, he should at least get it to rank one.

If he used up all ten saint's relics and still couldn't complete the first transition, he would just kill himself with a piece of tofu.

Zhang Shan placed another saint's relic in and chose to ascend.

However, he still failed.

Zhang Shan was numb.

It was really a ghost today.

Usually, he would succeed in one try, but today, he actually failed twice in a row. This was too much.

Again.

Zhang Shan was not convinced.

He put in another saint's relic and chose to ascend.

A dazzling light flashed.

The promotion was a success.

Seeing this, Zhang Shan finally heaved a sigh of relief.

he had thought that he would fail again.

If the probability was 50%, he could fail three times in a row.

That Zhang Shan was really going to shut himself up.

It was still alright now. He had only failed twice, which meant that he had wasted two Saint relics.

This result was still acceptable.

He looked at the remaining seven Saint relics in his bag.

zhang shan was a little hesitant.

His luck today seemed to be extremely bad.

Should I stop and not do it anymore?

One had to know that the probability of a divine weapon going through the second transformation was only 25%.

Just now, he had to exert so much effort just to complete one turn.

If he were to continue, he would be wasting the Holy relic.

However, Zhang Shan quickly changed his mind.

No, he had to continue.

if he wanted to do it, he would do it to the end. there was no reason to give up halfway.

Even if he failed in the end, it would only be a waste of six Saint relics.

With his current grinding speed, Six Saint's relics would only take him half a day to complete.

He continued to work.

Zhang Shan placed the two Saint relics into the reincarnation pool.

When the divine weapon was in the second transformation, it would require the consumption of two Saint relics.

The higher the level of a divine weapon, the harder it was to upgrade. It was not just because the success rate of the upgrade was low.

And the further he went, the more Saint relics he needed to consume each time.

The current situation was still considered good. The second transition only required the consumption of two Saint relics.

When the divine weapon reached the ninth transformation, it would consume nine Saint relics each time.

In addition to the divine weapon nine transformations, the success rate was so low that it made one's hair stand on end.

Just thinking about it gave Zhang Shan a headache.

he didn't know when he would be able to create a saint weapon.

however, now was not the time to think about these problems.

Right now, Zhang Shan only wanted to upgrade the king's Cape for the second time.

Let's hope it works.

After placing the two Saint relics, Zhang Shan chose to advance.

A dazzling light flashed.

The second transformation of the king's Cape was successful.

&Nbsp; hahaha.

He succeeded on the first try.

Could it be that my bad luck is over?

Seeing such a situation, Zhang Shan was very happy.

He put in three more Saint relics and continued to work.

While his luck was still there, he would do it again.

after placing the saint's relic in, he chose to ascend.

A dazzling light flashed, and the Ascension was successful.

zhang shan took out the king's cape from the ascending pool.

he couldn't believe the result.

Rank two and three were all successful in one try.

Was he really that lucky?

Unfortunately, there were only two saint's relics left in his backpack.

If there were four more Saint relics, Zhang Shan would definitely charge forward again.

He wanted to see if he could raise the king's Cape to a rank four divine weapon in one go.

It wasn't easy to encounter such good luck.

Unfortunately, he did not have enough saint's relics.

in zhang shan's backpack, there were only two saint's relics left. it was only enough for one second transition.

However, other than the defensive godly equipment that had not yet been upgraded, the rest of Zhang Shan's equipment had already been upgraded to the second or third class.

He didn't even have the chance to find a piece of equipment for his second transition.

As for those defensive artifacts, Zhang Shan had no desire to upgrade.

A defensive-type divine weapon could only increase its defensive power after a successful upgrade.

Why did he need so much defensive power?

In the game new world, unless one's defense power was high enough ...

otherwise, it would not be of any use at all.

he didn't have enough saint relics, so he could only stop at this point.

But this was fine too.

Zhang Shan had spent a total of eight saint's relics to raise the king's Cape to rank three. He was already considered extremely lucky.

One should not be too greedy.

He could take the rest slowly, he couldn't possibly become fat in one bite.

zhang shan looked at the king's cape in his hand and checked its attributes.

[King's Cape (special artifact): increases health points by 932170]

Equipment level (sealed): currently level 70. Godly equipment will gradually be unsealed as the player's level increases. It will be unsealed once every 10 levels.

[durability: never worn out]

[bound player six-barreled Bodhisattva: can not be dropped.]

It was good.

After the third transformation, the king's Cape's HP had increased by another 230000.

including the other bonuses, it was equivalent to zhang shan's hp increasing by nearly 500000.

It could be considered a small improvement.

Let's first look at the upper limit of his HP.

Zhang Shan opened his Character panel.

Checking attributes:

[character: Bodhisattva of six tubes]

[occupation: Hunter]

[title: human hero (equipped), nemesis of demons]

[merit points: 502698 (Eagle general)]

[level: 75]

[HP: 7903215]

[MP: 58600]

[physical attack: 138868-145254]

[strength: 3418]

[agility: 11924]

[intelligence: 3418]

[defense: 21648]

Luck: 9

[Endowment: King of passive (every time you kill a monster, there is a chance to randomly obtain a passive skill from the monster. The chance of triggering it is one in a million.)]

Skill

After equipping the heart of the demon Dragon and the third change of the king's Cape, Zhang Shan's current maximum HP was just a little bit away from breaking the eight million mark.

seeing his own powerful attributes, zhang shan was elated.

he was simply too powerful.

if zhang shan were to activate his god's descent skill, then wouldn't his health be almost 16 million?

Who could kill such a tanky Hunter?

It was a pity that the deity's descent only lasted for one minute.

If the duration of this big move was a little longer, Zhang Shan could really go and fight the demon God again.

with zhang shan's current hp of 16 million, no matter how powerful the demon god was, it was impossible for him to kill him in a short time.

Of course.

It was impossible to fight the demonic god, at least not now. He couldn't beat him either.

What Zhang Shan needed to do now was to first deal with the two cannons on the gate tower of East Wei city.

If they didn't take care of these two cannons, they wouldn't be able to enter the city, let alone attack the demon City.

he looked at his health bar, which had increased a little.

Zhang Shan's confidence in tanking the damage from the two cannons increased slightly.

The God equipment rank three King's cape only gave him an extra 500000 HP.

This increase in damage might seem like a lot, but it was actually not even enough to take a single hit from the barbatian cannon.

One shot from the barbatian cannon could deal 500000 damage to him, and if two cannons were fired at the same time, they could deal 1000000 damage.

even so, zhang shan's confidence had still increased.

With his current HP of close to 8000000, he could definitely withstand eight rounds of attacks from the two cannons.

The attack interval of the barbatian cannon was five seconds.

in that case, even if zhang shan did not use lifesteal, he should be able to hold on for more than 40 seconds.

Zhang Shan thought.

Such a long time should be enough.

Forget it, let's get ready.

Zhang Shan took out the positioning ball and canceled the coordinates in the demon-suppressing city.

Then, he would mark the coordinates of the current location.

It's better to have a backup plan.

If he really couldn't hold on, he could still use the positioning bead to return to the original place.

After everything was ready, Zhang Shan said to his friends.

"I'll go over and try. Don't come over."

"Don't worry, we definitely won't go over."

"With our small bodies, we'll fall to the ground after taking a single shot from the barbarian cannon."

"Yes."

After Zhang Shan had finished speaking, he rode the red Hare and quickly rushed towards the gate of the demon race's Eastern Wei city.

Zhang Shan had only run for a short while, when he was about five hundred yards away from Eastern Wei city.

Suddenly, they heard two loud bangs.

Boom, boom!

After Zhang Shan had run into the firing range of the cannons, the two cannons on the East Wei city wall opened fire.

Two cannonballs whistled through the air and exploded beside Zhang Shan.

-500000,-500000?

Two consecutive 500000 damage values appeared above Zhang Shan's head.

However, at this moment, Zhang Shan could no longer care about this.

He just kept charging forward.

Five seconds later, two more shots were fired, and Zhang Shan's HP was once again reduced by one million.

At this time, Zhang Shan was at least three hundred yards away from the gate of Eastern Wei city.

If he wanted to get close to the city gate, he would have to take at least three or four rounds of cannonballs.

At this moment, Zhang Shan only had one thought, and that was to run, run with all his might.

He had to rush to the edge of Eastern Wei city as soon as possible.

zhang shan lowered his head and galloped on his horse. the cannons on the city wall rang out continuously.

In less than half a minute, Zhang Shan had finally neared and was able to attack the position of the cannons on the city wall.

zhang shan quickly stopped the red hares, and raised his hand cannon to attack the cannons on the city walls.

Countless bullets were fired from the cannons, sweeping across the city walls.

Bullet damage kept jumping between the two cannons.

When Zhang Shan started to attack the cannons on the city wall, the guards who were originally guarding the city gate rushed towards him.

There were about 100 guards in each of the two teams, and there were four Orange Guard captains.

More than two hundred Demon City gate guards, under the leadership of the four city gate guard captains, quickly rushed towards Zhang Shan.

However, Zhang Shan did not even bother to look at these city gate guards.

Right now, in Zhang Shan's eyes, there were only the two cannons on the city wall.

&Nbsp; compared to the two cannons, the guards at the gate were not a problem at all.

There were more than 200 monsters and four orange-colored bosses. How big of a deal was this?

Zhang Shan did not care at all.

He kept firing while checking the Cannon's attributes.

[barbatian cannon: attack power 500000, HP 100 million, attack interval 5 seconds, range of 500 yards, damage range of 50 yards.]

Fuck.

It really was the Barbadian cannon.

the attributes of the two cannons on the east wei city wall were exactly the same as the barbatian cannon blueprint that zhang shan had obtained.

It should be the same thing.

However, compared to the blueprint, these two demonic cannons had an additional health attribute.

100,000,000 hp

However, compared to many bosses, these cannons '100 million health points did not seem very high.

However, as a defensive equipment, 100 million health points was a ridiculous amount.

The six-barrel fire god cannon only had 1000000 HP.

As for the intermediate arrow tower, its HP was only 5000000.

However, the HP of these two cannons were as high as 100 million.

This was a little exaggerated.

100 million HP, just 100 million HP.

For the current Zhang Shan, it was a piece of cake to reduce 100 million HP.

It would be even easier, especially when his ejection was passive and could be used.

in at most ten seconds, zhang shan would be able to blow up the two cannons.

After Zhang Shan checked the attributes of the barbarian cannon, he was ready to go all out and try to get rid of the two cannons in one go.

At this moment, he suddenly heard a series of rumbling sounds coming from the city.

At the start, Zhang Shan did not notice, but he quickly reacted.

Was this the demonic East Wei city? were there a large number of monsters rushing over?

This shouldn't be the case.

In the past, when they attacked the city, they didn't see the monsters in the city come out to fight.

were they attacking the city, or were the demons going out to kill them?

It was simply ridiculous.

Just as Zhang Shan was in a daze, the group of city gate guards, led by the captain of the guards, had already rushed forward and surrounded him.

The cannons on the city wall continued to fire, and tens of thousands of horses galloped in the city.

There was also a group of city guards surrounding him.

In such a situation, if it were any other player, they would definitely be dead.

However, Zhang Shan could still hold on for the time being.

he opened fire fiercely at the surrounding demon city gate guards and instantly filled his body with blood.

After Zhang Shan's HP was full, he was about to turn his gun and continue to attack the two cannons on the city wall, hoping to blow them up in one wave.

At that moment, a large number of demonic monsters rushed out of Eastern Wei city.

The leader was the city Lord of Eastern Wei city, along with five red bosses and a sea of demonic strongmen.

Seeing such a scene, Zhang Shan was completely stunned.

What the f * ck, did he have to be so ruthless?

why did even the city master of the demon race's eastern wei city come out?

Did he just poke a hornet's nest?

why did all the bosses in the city come out?

After the demon race's Eastern Wei city Lord had rushed out of the city gate, he had charged straight at Zhang Shan with a speed that was almost like teleportation.

At this moment, Zhang Shan had no intention of fighting.

He took out the positioning bead and was indeed teleported away.

He couldn't win.

She was not feeling well, so she slipped away.
