Chapter 581-gathering bosses

After Zhang Shan saw the city Lord of the demon race's Eastern Wei city, he decisively used the positioning Pearl to teleport and escape.

How could they withstand this?

There was a real name BOSS, five red bosses, four orange bosses, and two barbarian cannons on the top of the city wall.

This did not even include The Sea of Monsters that swarmed over.

In such a situation, if Zhang Shan did not activate God's descent, he would not be able to withstand it.

However, he couldn't just use his ultimate skill the moment he touched the BOSS.

At the very least, he had to observe the situation first.

He still couldn't figure out why the BOSS in the Nephilim race's East Wei city had rushed out.

What kind of mechanism did these bosses have?

Especially the demon City Lord, shouldn't he be staying in the city Lord's mansion? Why did they rush out of the city?

In Zhang Shan's mind, there were still countless questions.

He didn't dare to use his ultimate skill without understanding the boss's pattern.

Although Zhang Shan had the God equipment refresh ball, which could refresh two big moves.

however, before he could figure out the mechanism of these bosses, it would be a waste even if he used his ultimate skill.

zhang shan couldn't possibly rely on a wave of big moves to wipe out all these bosses, right?

He wasn't that strong yet.

In a situation where he could not understand, Zhang Shan chose to run first.

However, before he was teleported away, he still marked a coordinate at the gate of Eastern Wei city.

This way, he would be able to teleport over directly the next time and would not have to suffer a few rounds of attacks from the barbarian cannon for nothing.

Regardless of whether it was useful or not, it would not be wrong to throw out the coordinates first.

When Zhang Shan was teleported back to his friends, he shouted.

run! The bosses in the city are all rushing out.

"Brother Guan, what happened?"

“Don’t ask, run further first.”

Zhang Shan brought his friends and quickly ran away from Eastern Wei city.

as he ran, he looked back to observe.

Let’s see if the demon City Lord will bring a bunch of bosses to chase us. If these bosses keep chasing us, it will be a big problem.

After running for a while, Zhang Shan quickly stopped.

Because he realized that the demon City Lord wasn’t chasing after him.

After Zhang Shan had teleported away, the demon City Lord brought a group of bosses and stayed at the city gate for a while before returning to the city.

Seeing such a situation, Zhang Shan finally heaved a sigh of relief.

fortunately, the bosses didn’t come after them.

If the city Lord of the demon race kept chasing them, it would be difficult to handle.

Even if they were riding on their hero mounts, they would not be able to outrun the BOSS.

Although Zhang Shan was not afraid of a single BOSS, or even three to five bosses together.

However, with such a large group of bosses, Zhang Shan really could not afford to offend them.

But now, it seemed like he didn’t have to worry too much.

The demon race’s city Lord would bring the group of bosses to the city gate and return.

As long as they were far away from Eastern Wei city, they did not have to worry about the BOSS catching up to them.

These bosses in Eastern Wei city would probably only guard the city and would not really fight outside the city.

Although these bosses had rushed out of the city when Zhang Shan was attacking the barbarian cannon, they were still too weak.

perhaps it was because zhang shan had attacked the demon city, and in order to protect the city, these bosses had rushed out.

However, these bosses should not be far from the city.

Otherwise, they would not be able to continue protecting the city.

This should be considered a kind of BOSS mechanism, right?

Now that he understood the BOSS’s mechanics, it was easy to handle.

Let’s try the next wave.

seeing that Zhang Shan had stopped, his friends were still in a state of confusion.

They had just seen Zhang Shan rush to the city gates of Eastern Wei city. They had been fighting, so why had he suddenly run away?

And he even brought them along with him. Had he seen a ghost?

His friends were a little far away. They could only see a large group of demonic monsters rushing out of the city, and then Zhang Shan had run away.

Were these demons that terrifying? It could scare Zhang Shan away.

Weren't these just small monsters?

His friends did not know that among these monsters, there was a real name BOSS and five red bosses.

They had thought that the ones who had rushed out of the city just now were all strong demons.

Wind and cloud blade asked Zhang Shan.

"Big brother, what are you doing?"

didn't you guys see a bunch of bosses charging out of the city just now? "

"No, weren't the monsters that rushed out of the city just a bunch of small monsters? There's still a boss in the middle."

yes, all the bosses in the city have come out. The demon City Lord and the five red bosses are all here.

f * ck, what's going on? we haven't even entered the city yet, how did these bosses come out? "

God knows what kind of mechanism it is. Anyway, this demonic race's Eastern Wei city is different from the two cities we've fought before. However, the bosses in these cities shouldn't be able to go too far from the city.

what the f * ck? there are so many bosses gathered together. How are we going to fight them? "

"I should be able to beat him, right? Brother Guan is still very strong."

Zhang Shan himself did not say anything, but the little fairy was very confident in him. This made him very speechless.

I know I'm strong, but with so many bosses, I can't fight them no matter how strong I am.

However, he could still give it a try. If he couldn't win, he could just teleport back.

these bosses wouldn't go too far anyway.

As long as Zhang Shan's positioning ball's teleportation function had cooled down, he would be safe.

Zhang Shan said to his friends.

let's wait for a while. When my positioning ball has cooled down, I'll go over and try again. I'll try to get rid of the two cannons on the top of the city wall first.

that's right. Let's do it this way. We'll take care of the easier targets first, then focus on the big BOSS.

"Yes."

Facing so many bosses, there was no future in fighting them head-on.

Zhang Shan planned to do it slowly in a few waves.

He would first take care of the two cannons on the city wall, then think of a way to get rid of the four city guards.

as long as he could take care of all these, there would only be five red bosses and the lord of eastern wei city.

Zhang Shan planned to fight these six bosses together.

Previously, at the demon clan's small village, he could block four orange-colored bosses at the same time, including the real name BOSS Cruz.

This time, they could hold on at the same time. The demon City Lord and the five red bosses should not be a problem.

If it really didn't work, he would use his big moves to fight first.

they would first take care of the red BOSS, and then the demon city lord.

After serious consideration, Zhang Shan felt that this was the only way. This was the only way for them to defeat all the bosses and take down the demon City.

If he still couldn't win, then he really had no other choice.

Three minutes later, Zhang Shan looked at the status of the positioning ball. The teleportation function had cooled down.

He said to his friends.

you guys wait here. I'll go and fire another wave. I'll blow up the two barbarian cannons first.

"Alright," he said.

After saying that, Zhang Shan braved the attack of the Barbazan cannon and galloped towards the demons 'Eastern Wei city.

As he neared the city gate, Zhang Shan quickly fired at the city gate guards in the distance.

This time, he had learned his lesson. He first attacked the guards at the city gate, and after he had fully absorbed his HP, he attacked the barbarian cannon on the city wall.

Zhang Shan held his hand cannon, and his fierce firepower swept across the city gate guards. Very quickly, he had fully absorbed his own health.

After seeing that his health bar was full, Zhang Shan instantly went all out.

He activated both berserk and fanatic skills at the same time, as well as shadow clone.

The three Zhang Shan's stood in a line, and the violent bullets swept towards the two Barbadian cannons on the city wall.

At this time, the sound of ten thousand horses galloping could be heard from the demon race's Eastern Wei city.

Zhang Shan knew that the demon City Lord was about to come out again.

However, he didn't care about it. He first blew up the two cannons on the city wall.

If Zhang Shan could not even handle these two cannons.

Then, their attack on the demon City could be declared a failure.

Of course, this was impossible.

the two barbatian cannons on the city wall each had 100 million hp.

however, after zhang shan went all out, the health bar of the two barbatian cannons was dropping at a speed visible to the naked eye.

With Zhang Shan's main body and his clone, the three of them attacked at the same time, and the damage was terrifyingly high.

In less than ten seconds, he had blown up two cannons on the city wall.

Without the threat of the cannons, Zhang Shan quickly turned the muzzle of his gun and swept it at the surrounding city guards.

Zhang Shan wanted to take advantage of the fact that the demon City Lord had yet to arrive to get rid of these city guards.

As for the four city gate guard captains, he didn't care about them for the time being.

As orange-colored bosses, these city gate guard captains should each have two billion HP.

If Zhang Shan wanted to settle this quickly, it would not be that easy.

It was better to take it slow and clear the small monsters first, and then attack the guard Captain in the next wave.

under zhang shan's fierce attacks, more than half of the two hundred city gate guards were quickly taken care of.

At that moment, the Lord of Eastern Wei city led a large group of bosses and monsters out of the city gate.

Zhang Shan took out his positioning ball and was ready to run away at any time as he continued to attack.

He didn't teleport away immediately, but continued to attack.

Zhang Shan wanted to see just how powerful this city Lord of the demon race's Eastern Wei city was.

In any case, his current HP was close to eight million.

even if the demon city lord brought along five red bosses, it would be impossible for him to kill him in one hit.

The demon City Lord led a group of bosses and countless demon strongmen and rushed to Zhang Shan's side.

However, Zhang Shan still did not care. He continued to clean up the city gate guards around him.

at that moment, the lord of eastern wei city of the demon race slashed at him with his blade.

[damage -1567812]

Looking at this terrifying damage value, Zhang Shan did not panic, but instead heaved a sigh of relief.

It was still considered good.

This Demon City Lord should be similar to clause in the small village.

They were both Max-level real-name bosses, so the damage was not much different.

He should be able to hold on for a while.

At this time, the other five red bosses also rushed up.

These red bosses were all brandishing their weapons, and one after another, they attacked Zhang Shan.

As Zhang Shan observed, he held the positioning ball in his hand, ready to escape at any time.

After all kinds of damage fell on him.

Zhang Shan's health bar was almost empty in an instant.

seeing such a situation, zhang shan did not hesitate. he quickly used the positioning pearl to teleport away.

There were too many bosses and they were too powerful for him to handle.

After teleporting back to his friends, boss Wu waved his magic sword. With a few Swish Swish Swish, Zhang Shan's HP was full.

Seeing that Zhang Shan had returned, wind and cloud blade asked him urgently.

"How's the situation? can you win?"

wind cloud blade could not help but worry. if even zhang shan could not hold them off, then their wave of attack on the city could be declared over.

Everyone could go back home.

Wind cloud blade did not wish for this to happen. He still wanted to be the city Lord.

If he didn't take down the demon City, how could he be the city Lord?

Faced with wind cloud blade's question, Zhang Shan did not answer directly.

he was still thinking about the details of the battle.

The damage that the demon City Lord had dealt to him was probably less than 1.6 million.

The five red bosses 'damage was less than 800000 each.

There were also four orange-colored city gate guard captains.

The damage that these orange bosses dealt to him was almost 200000.

If all of the bosses were to attack him at the same time, he would be the one to receive the most damage.

The total damage was around six million, but not even seven million.

Zhang Shan's current maximum HP was about eight million.

In theory, he should be able to withstand the damage of this group of bosses.

As long as Zhang Shan could withstand the BOSS's first wave of damage, he could also withstand the subsequent damage.

This was because Zhang Shan did not have to worry about the problem of endurance at all. Under the situation where the ejection passive could play its role.

With his powerful lifesteal ability, no matter how much health the BOSS reduced, Zhang Shan would be able to absorb it back.

The premise was that he couldn't be instakilled. If he was instakilled by a wave of damage, then no matter how strong he was and how much life-steal he had, it would be useless.

Now that Zhang Shan thought about it, under normal circumstances, he would still be able to withstand the damage from these bosses.

Of course, this was only under normal circumstances.

in fact, he was still lacking.

This was because they had not calculated the critical hit of the BOSS.

If the city Lord of the demon race or the five red bosses were to deal a few more critical hits, Zhang Shan would not be able to take it.

Especially the demon City Lord.

if the demon city lord dealt a critical hit, it would deal nearly 3000000 damage.

If the other bosses were added to the mix and dealt damage together, it would exceed Zhang Shan's tolerance.

He still couldn't take it.

Hence, Zhang Shan still had to think of a way to reduce the number of bosses.

At the very least, he had to deal with the four city gate guard captains first.

Zhang Shan considered it seriously for a while. He should be able to take care of the four orange-colored guard captains.

After the next wave of attacks, he would activate the [God's descent] and kill the four city gate Captain monsters.

As long as these city guard captains were killed, the remaining demon Race City Lord and red BOSS would be killed.

Zhang Shan should be able to hold on. Even if the BOSS were to deal a critical hit, he should be able to hold on.

It couldn't be said that the demon Castellan and the five red bosses could deal critical hits at the same time, right?

Something like this, which had a very low probability of happening, should not happen.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan said to wind and cloud blade.

it's fine. I should be able to defeat them. I'll try again in the next wave.

"That's good."

Hearing Zhang Shan's affirmative answer, wind and cloud blade finally heaved a sigh of relief.

It was good that he could beat them. He was just afraid that even Zhang Shan would not be able to withstand the damage of this group of bosses.

If that was the case, then there was really no other way.

In fact, Windcloud blade had thought of bringing his entire Guild to attack the city.

However, these max level bosses were too powerful.

What if this Demon City Lord was like clause, able to summon a Demon God?

No matter how many people he called over, it would be useless.

The demon God could kill everyone in half the map in one strike.

Against these top bosses, numbers were useless. They still needed someone like Zhang Shan, a powerful hand, to block the BOSS.

Hence, wind and cloud blade could only place his hopes on Zhang Shan, hoping that Zhang Shan would be able to withstand the BOSS 'damage.

After three minutes, Zhang Shan's positioning ball had cooled down again.

Zhang Shan said to his friends.

I'll head over first. You guys can come over depending on the situation. If I can destroy the four city guards, you guys can come over together.

"Alright," he said.

Zhang Shan once again galloped towards the demons 'East Wei city.

When he reached the city gate.

At this moment, there were only four Captain guards left at the city gate. As for the ordinary city gate guards, they had already been killed by him.

When they arrived at a place not far from the city gate, Zhang Shan quickly fired at the guard Captain in the distance.

After being attacked, the four city gate guard captains brandished their big knives and rushed towards Zhang Shan.

zhang shan activated his deity's descent skill and went all out.

He activated all of his berserk skills. He had to kill these four city gate guard captains in the shortest time possible.

The three Zhang Shans stood in a line, and the violent bullets swept towards the four Orange Guard captains.

Under Zhang Shan's intense firepower, the health of these city gate guard captains was dropping at a speed visible to the naked eye.

After activating his ultimate and berserk skills, this was Zhang Shan's strongest state.

In this state, Zhang Shan's attacks continued to hit the guard Captain.

One after another, massive damage values popped up above the four guard captains 'heads.

A single Holy attack dealt over-5000000 damage.

zhang shan's current damage was simply terrifying.

in just about ten seconds, zhang shan had taken down 30% of the health bar of these guard captains.

At that moment, the demon City Lord and the five red bosses rushed out of the city again.

But Zhang Shan did not care.

He was currently in the God's descent state and had close to 16000000 HP.

In such a state, even a Demon God could not kill him, let alone the demon City Lord.

As long as Zhang Shan's ultimate skill had not ended, he would definitely not die. He did not have to worry about the group of bosses brought by the demon City Lord.

Zhang Shan completely ignored the other bosses. He focused all his damage on the captain of the city gate guards.

Under Zhang Shan's brutal attacks, the four orange demon guard captains' HP dropped rapidly.

70%, 50%, 30%, 20%.

Before the God's descent skill ended, Zhang Shan had finally managed to defeat the demon City gate guard captains.

During this time, these city gate guard captains also released their big moves and various skills.

However, these were all useless to Zhang Shan.

In the state of God's descent, Zhang Shan was basically invincible.

No matter what skills the BOSS used, they could not do anything to him.

After seeing the four city gate guard captains being defeated, Zhang Shan finally heaved a sigh of relief.

With four of the orange bosses gone, he should be able to handle the remaining six bosses.

Zhang Shan quickly turned his gun around. He locked his target on one of the red bosses.

Demon blacksmith.

It's you then.

He would first blow up the demon blacksmith, then the demon pharmacist.

Zhang Shan did not do so. He went straight to fight the demon City Lord.

He planned to take care of these red bosses first, and the demon City Lord could be dealt with last.

As long as he killed two or three red bosses, the remaining bosses would not be able to do much.

His friends, who were standing far away, saw that Zhang Shan had taken care of the captain of the city gate guards and quickly rushed over.

Zhang Shan shouted at them.

"You guys stand by the wall, I'll lure the BOSS over there."

"Alright," he said.

This was because the demonic city Lord had not only brought five red bosses, but also a huge number of demonic strongmen.

Individually, these demon monsterlings were not much of a threat to his companions.

However, if there were too many of them, it would be a big problem.

If there were too many demon strongmen, his little companions simply wouldn't be able to hold on.

Thus, Zhang Shan had them stand by the city wall.

He was waiting for him to lure the BOSS over.

Then, they could lean against the wall and only need to deal with the BOSS and monsters in front of them.

There was no need to worry about being attacked from all sides.

Everyone's defensive area was small, so it was easy to deal with.

Normally, as long as they avoided the BOSS's big move, they should not die.

Zhang Shan's intentions were naturally understood by his friends. They quickly ran to the side of the city wall.

They were waiting for Zhang Shan to lure the BOSS over, and then everyone would focus their fire on the BOSS.

Chapter 582 Advanced combustion bomb manufacturing blueprint

After his friends ran over, they followed Zhang Shan's instructions and quickly found one. They stood firm near the city wall.

Then, Zhang Shan pulled the six bosses and slowly met up with his friends.

After a short while, the five of them gathered together.

Everyone surrounded the blacksmith from the Nephilim race's Eastern Wei city and began to throw out their skills.

as for the other five bosses, everyone ignored them for the time being.

They came one by one.

Easy at first, difficult later.

He would first destroy the Nephilim blacksmith, which was the easiest to deal with, and then deal with the other bosses.

After everyone had gathered, Zhang Shan finally had the time to observe these six bosses that had rushed out of the Nephilim's Eastern Wei city.

Eastern Wei city blacksmith, Eastern Wei city pharmacist, Eastern Wei city priest, Eastern Wei city garrison commander.

The names of these four red bosses were similar to the red bosses they had encountered when they attacked the city.

However, there were only four red bosses in the demon-suppressing city and Fengyun city, while there were five in the demon race's Eastern Wei city, and there was an additional red BOSS.

The guard of the demon race's Eastern Wei city.

there were a total of six bosses, including zemiski, the demon city lord.

There was a BOSS with a real name, the demon City Lord, and five red bosses.

Zhang Shan kept firing at the Nephilim blacksmith while observing the six bosses.

he felt that it shouldn't be a big problem. only the demon city lord was a real name BOSS, and the others were just normal red bosses.

With such a BOSS lineup, with Zhang Shan's current strength, he should be able to hold on.

Furthermore, Zhang Shan had already been holding on for a while. At the moment, his health bar was still relatively stable.

Although he would often be beaten by bosses until his health bar was below half, he was still a little weak.

However, Zhang Shan could quickly recover the health that he lost.

For the time being, they should be able to defeat him.

His friends attacked the Nephilim blacksmith while carefully watching the other bosses.

They were afraid that the other bosses would attack them.

In fact, there was no need to worry at all.

Although Zhang Shan's attack was also locked on the blacksmith, his catapulting damage could still hit the other bosses.

All the bosses 'aggro was firmly pulled by Zhang Shan.

there was no need to worry about the boss attacking the others.

The five of them, together with Zhang Shan's Panda dumpling and boss Wu's fairy baby, surrounded the demon blacksmith and slashed wildly.

Under their Swift and violent attacks, the health of the demon blacksmith was madly reduced.

In a short while, demon tie tie's health had been reduced to 80%.

A huge shadow of a Demon God slowly rose from behind the demon blacksmith.

the boss started to cast the demon's will skill, and everyone's hp started to drop.

However, they didn't pay much attention to the demon blacksmith skill.

After witnessing the true demon God's descent, this Demon God's will skill was nothing more than a small fry in everyone's mind.

Although a Max-level red boss could summon a demonic God's apparition, it was indeed very impressive.

It could take out 20000 HP per second.

However, his companions were all over level 70 and had more than 100000 HP.

Windcloud blade and heart moves had over 200000 HP.

With their high HP, they could withstand a wave of Demon God's will skills without any pressure.

As for Zhang Shan, there was no need to even mention him.

The demon God's will skill could take out more than 20000 HP in a second. To Zhang Shan, this was negligible.

With his current HP of close to 8000000, he was losing more than 20000 HP per second, which was not even as fast as his automatic recovery.

Needless to say, Zhang Shan's current damage output was full, and the lifesteal effect was explosive.

The demon blacksmith's skill was just an itch for him.

After the first wave of BOSS skills, everyone continued to attack the Nephilim blacksmith.

Slowly, the demonic blacksmith's HP was almost reduced to half.

Seeing this situation, Zhang Shan said to his friends.

"You guys go offline first and avoid the BOSS's big move."

"Yes, I'll go offline immediately."

"we can't afford to offend the BOSS."

"it's so annoying. every time we see the BOSS 'big move, we either have to run away or go offline."

"What can we do? we can only say that we're too weak. If we were as strong as the six-barreled boss, would we still need to run?"

alright, brother pipe is a monster. He can tank the damage of six bosses without the help of a healer. We can't compete at all.

"six-barrens is really overpowered. five red bosses and one real-name BOSS couldn't even kill him, hehe."

"What are you talking about? if it wasn't for the six wardens, we wouldn't even be able to touch the edge of the demon City."

oh no, the demon blacksmith is about to lose half of his blood.

Seeing that the demon blacksmith's HP was about to drop to half, the friends quickly went offline and left.

They had no other choice. They were surrounded by bosses and monsters.

Even if his companions wanted to find a place to hide from the BOSS's big move, they had nowhere to go.

They could only go offline to avoid the BOSS's ultimate.

After his friends went offline, Zhang Shan continued to attack the demonic blacksmith.

in a short while, the demon blacksmith's health had been reduced to half by zhang shan.

When his HP dropped to 50%, the hammer in the demon blacksmith's hand waved faster and faster, stirring up a violent aura.

It was as if a gust of wind had blown past Zhang Shan's surroundings.

The demon blacksmith launched his big move, crazy devil hammer.

A huge amount of damage appeared above Zhang Shan's head.

As Zhang Shan fired, he stared at his health bar.

At the same time, he prepared to refresh his skills.

If he really could not block it, Zhang Shan was prepared to use the refresh ball to reset the cooldown time of the skill.

He used another wave of big moves to block this wave of big moves.

However, Zhang Shan quickly realized that he did not need to use any big moves to survive.

the damage of the demon blacksmith's big move was very high.

However, it could only deal less than two million damage.

Even with the damage from the other bosses, it was still not enough to threaten his life.

Soon, five seconds passed, and the demon blacksmith's big move ended.

after a while, his friends came online again.

everyone continued to attack the demon blacksmith.

After about two to three minutes, with Zhang Shan's critical hit, the demon blacksmith fell to the ground.

[system announcement: congratulations to six-barreled Bodhisattva, heart moves, and wind and cloud blade for successfully killing the demon blacksmith of East Wei city.]

Skill point +1, medal +100.

When the BOSS fell, everyone heaved a sigh of relief.

with one less BOSS, zhang shan's pressure would be much less.

Although everyone was killing monsters and blowing water at the same time.

He didn't seem to care.

In fact, everyone was very nervous.

No matter how confident they were in Zhang Shan's abilities.

However, facing so many powerful bosses, everyone was still very worried.

He was afraid that something unexpected would happen.

what if these six bosses all hit a critical hit at the same time? wouldn't that mean that zhang shan would fall to the ground?

If Zhang Shan fell to the ground, even if he could still rely on his rebirth to stand up.

However, without Zhang Shan in front of them, their little friends would not be able to survive.

with so many boss monsters, they would be crushed into pieces in an instant.

Even if they wanted to go offline to avoid it, they wouldn't be able to do it in time.

It was all good now.

The demon blacksmith had been destroyed by them, and there were only five bosses left on the scene. Then, the pressure on Zhang Shan to tank the monsters would be much less.

These bosses basically could no longer pose much of a threat to Zhang Shan.

Just now, when there were six bosses, Zhang Shan could handle them. Now that there was one less, it would naturally be much easier.

Everyone was very happy after the demon blacksmith was defeated.

At this time, other people in the game, some of the more observant players, had also noticed the announcement of Zhang Shan and the others 'first kill of the demon's East Wei city blacksmith.

The world Channel:

eh, is six tube Bodhisattva attacking the demon City again? "

I don't think so. Where did you get the idea that they're attacking the city? "

I'm looking at the system announcement. Didn't they just kill a BOSS? " what's so good about the BOSS first kill announcement? there's a bunch of them every day.

that's right. There's no direct relationship between killing the BOSS and attacking the demon race's city.

f * ck, you guys are so stupid. Look at six-pipe Bodhisattva and the others. What's the name of the BOSS they killed? "

"Hmm, let me see."

"A demon blacksmith from Eastern Wei city? is this another demon city?"

it must be. Otherwise, why would the BOSS's name be in Eastern Wei city? "

"Does anyone know where this demon race's Eastern Wei city is?"

"Who knows? maybe it's just a dungeon map."

"It shouldn't be. It's probably a Demon City."

"f * ck, the wind and cloud guild has already occupied two demon cities. are they going to continue to occupy more? In the future, the cities in the game won't all belong to the wind and cloud Guild, right?"

"Who cares? this matter is not for us little losers to worry about."

that's right. I guess those big shots won't be able to sleep again. Hehe.

haha, all the cities have been occupied by the wind cloud Guild. The other big shots in the game won't be able to sleep.

"that's strange. doesn't six-barreled bodhisattva already have a demon-suppressing city? Why is he still going to attack the city?"

"what are you saying? six-barreled bodhisattva has his own city, but the others in wind cloud guild don't have their own, right? He's probably helping someone else take down a city."

" i'm so envious of the people from the wind cloud guild. why didn't i get to hug onto a big thigh like six-pipe bodhisattva? " that's right, i'm really envious. If I can hug onto such a big and thick leg, wouldn't I be able to become a city Lord too? "

"You must be dreaming in broad daylight."

"I can't do it in reality, so I can only dream."

damn it! I just want to know where six-barreled Bodhisattva and the others found the demon City. Why can't we find it? " there's no need to ask. We'll definitely search outside Fengyun city. There must be other demon cities there.

that's right. As long as you're strong enough, you'll definitely be able to find the demon City there.

don't think too much about it. The monsters over there are strong and fierce. You'll be courting death if you go over.

"It's useless to say more. Strength is the foundation. If we don't have enough strength, we won't be able to take down the demon City even if it's right in front of us."

"Who said it wasn't? it's sad."

"Don't say anything else, let's go kill some monsters. When I reach level 100, I'll take down a Demon City and become a city Lord."

"Brother, you're thinking too far ahead. Do you know how long it will take to reach level 100?"

"who cares how long it will take, can't i just think about it?"

"That's right, one must have dreams."

"This is not a dream, this is a dream. By the time you reach level 100, no matter how many demon cities there are in the game, they'll have already been divided up by the big bosses. There won't be anything for us to do."

what are you afraid of? as long as I level up fast enough, those big shots won't be able to catch up to me.

yes, it's enough for us to work hard enough. We'll even drag down the big boss.

"alright, you're awesome."

After blowing up the demon blacksmith, Zhang Shan and his friends quickly changed their target to the demon pharmacist.

Everyone surrounded the demon medicine master and hacked at him.

compared to the beginning, everyone was still a little nervous, but now they were all relaxed.

They would lose one boss after another. After they killed all the bosses, they should be able to take down the Nephilim city.

Although the process seemed difficult, it seemed like they could still handle it.

Zhang Shan opened fire while checking his backpack.

He had killed four orange-colored bosses in a row, a red-colored Nephilim blacksmith, and two barbarian cannons.

He hadn't even seen what items were dropped.

The main reason was that he had been very nervous just now, so he didn't dare to be distracted and check his backpack.

It was all good now.

Now that there were only five bosses left, Zhang Shan had no pressure at all. He could take the time to see what items they had dropped.

Although the strongest BOSS that they had just killed was the red-colored Nephilim blacksmith, the red-colored Nephilim blacksmith was the strongest.

It shouldn't drop anything good.

To Zhang Shan, these were all small bosses. The items that dropped were not worth looking forward to.

But it's good to take a look, what if there's a surprise?

Zhang Shan opened his backpack to check.

There was another pile of trash in his backpack. There were more than a dozen orange equipment, three red equipment, and some materials.

As for the skill books, not a single one dropped, let alone a divine item.

suddenly, zhang shan's eyes lit up.

Eh, What's this?

Did he drop another blueprint?

In the corner of the backpack, Zhang Shan saw a blueprint.

he did not know which BOSS dropped it, or if it was dropped by the two barbarian cannons.

However, none of this was important.

The important thing was that he had to see what kind of blueprint it was.

Hopefully, it was a level 6 engineering recipe.

Don't try to get recipes for other living jobs.

If that was the case, he could only sell it.

Zhang Shan clicked on the blueprint to take a look.

[advanced incendiary bomb blueprint: advanced incendiary bomb blueprint. Requirements:] Level 6 engineering.

[advanced burning bullet: increases damage by 10%, with an additional burning effect. Deals 50000 damage per second, lasts for three seconds.]

F * ck, this advanced combustion bomb is awesome.

After seeing the blueprint and the description of the advanced incendiary bomb, Zhang Shan was a little shocked.

this kind of bullet was too awesome.

Not to mention anything else, just the burning effect that dealt 50000 damage per second was already overpowered.

it must be known that other than zhang shan, there were not many players who could deal 50000 damage per second.

In other words, other Hunter players would at least double the damage after using these bullets.

This was without taking into account the additional 10% damage bonus from the advanced combustion bomb.

such a powerful bullet had really exceeded zhang shan's imagination.

Could there be such a powerful bullet?

Wasn't this too exaggerated?

However, after seeing the materials required to make the advanced combustion bomb, he was shocked.

Zhang Shan's heart sank.

On the blueprint, other than the description of advanced combustion, there were also a lot of material requirements.

There were more than 30 kinds of materials.

Seeing this, Zhang Shan's initial excitement was instantly extinguished by half.

This was too f * cking cruel. Did he need so many materials to make a bullet?

Zhang Shan carefully estimated that a set of materials to make the advanced incendiary bullets would cost about 50000 gold coins.

even if he increased his proficiency and achieved a 100% success rate, he would be able to produce 10000 bullets with one set of materials.

Then, the price of these advanced combustion bombs would still be five gold coins each.

Five gold coins for a bullet, who could afford that?

they weren't shooting bullets, they were simply scattering gold coins.

It was as if gold coins were being thrown at him.

However, even though the materials for these advanced incendiary bombs were expensive, Zhang Shan still prepared them. When he had the time, he would make a batch.

These advanced incendiary bombs were indeed impressive, and not just to ordinary players.

Even for Zhang Shan, it would be a huge improvement.

Not to mention the 50000 damage per second, this advanced burning bomb could even increase the damage by 10%.

Just for this 10% damage, Zhang Shan had to prepare a batch of them.

Of course, he was just preparing for it.

Under normal circumstances, Zhang Shan would definitely not use such a bullet.

Whether it was when he was farming monsters or fighting bosses, he would never use it.

Using this kind of high-level bomb was simply burning money.

Even if Zhang Shan was someone who did not lack money, he did not want to burn money like this.

he planned to make a batch of high-level burning bombs to be used against the demon god in the future.

According to Zhang Shan's estimation, if he wanted to destroy the demon God, he was only lacking in damage ability and blood-sucking ability.

He had to try his best to improve his damage ability.

Whether it was upgrading a divine weapon or using this kind of awesome bullet, these were all feasible ways.

The other option was to farm more passive skills.

zhang shan believed that the day he would defeat the demon god was not far away.

The road was under his feet, he just had to take it slow.

he had already seen the hope of crushing the demonic god.

This was especially true after he obtained the heart of the Magic Dragon.

With the heart of the demon Dragon, Zhang Shan's biggest weakness was made up for, and his blood volume was pulled to a high enough level.

Zhang Shan basically did not have to worry about not being able to withstand the damage from the demon God. At least for a short period of time, he would definitely be able to withstand it.

What Zhang Shan needed to do now was to find a way to extend this time, until it was enough for him to blow up the demon God.

This required him to improve his damage ability.

As long as his damage ability was high enough, his lifesteal ability would naturally improve as well.

At that time, Zhang Shan could set off again to challenge the demon God.

Seeing the advanced incendiary bomb blueprint, Zhang Shan was very happy.

this blueprint came at the right time.

He loved her.

Chapter 583 Passive skill, destiny

Zhang Shan was elated that he had obtained another level 6 engineering blueprint.

Furthermore, this blueprint was of great use to him.

At the very least, these high-grade incendiary bombs would be very useful when fighting against the demon gods.

At other times, it would be nothing.

In any case, Zhang Shan would not normally use the advanced burning bomb to farm monsters, nor would he use it to fight bosses.

Even if it was a real name BOSS, Zhang Shan would not need to use the advanced incendiary bomb.

No matter what level the real name BOSS was, Zhang Shan could easily defeat it. There was no need to use such a high-level burning bomb.

since that was the case, why should he waste his money?

One had to know that a luxury item like a high-grade incendiary bomb was not something that ordinary people could afford.

Even for Zhang Shan, he did not dare to use it casually.

This thing really burned too much money.

Not including other costs, just the cost of materials.

These advanced incendiary bullets also cost five gold coins per bullet.

With Zhang Shan's attack speed, he could fire two hundred bullets in a minute.

If he were to use the advanced incendiary bomb, Zhang Shan would need to spend 1000 gold coins for every minute he fired.

Even Zhang Shan would not be able to afford such a consumption.

Of course, this was all a story for later.

He hadn't even made a single high-grade burning bomb yet.

It was still too early to think about this problem. At the very least, he had to wait for him to produce the first batch of bullets before he could consider it.

Zhang Shan kept his backpack.

As for the other items, he didn't look at them seriously.

They were all trash equipment anyway, so there was no need to share them with the others.

His friends didn't care about this trash.

Zhang Shan planned to return to the city to donate all these trash equipment to the Guild's warehouse after they had taken down the demonic race's East Wei city.

Time passed by slowly.

The red bosses in front of them were destroyed one by one.

In the end, only zemiski, the city Lord of Eastern Wei city of the demonic race, was left.

This time, everyone was completely relieved.

It was just a BOSS with a real name, so no one had to worry about it.

Although zemiski was a Max-level real name BOSS, it was still very powerful.

but so what?

It wasn't like they had never fought a Max-level real-name BOSS.

Just yesterday, they had beaten cruise.

Everyone believed that zemiski, the Lord of Eastern Wei city, was not much stronger than clause.

After all the other bosses had fallen, everyone quickly turned their fire on zemiski.

Windcloud blade raised his axe and continuously attacked as he happily shouted.

"haha, i'm about to blow up the demon city lord. don't fight with me, this eastern wei city is mine."

who wants to fight with you? aren't there three other demon cities nearby? why should we fight?"

"That's right, if we want to be city Lords, isn't that just a matter of time? Why would I need to snatch it?"

ignore him. This swordsman Yidao only knows how to show off.

The demon Castellan was the only BOSS left on the scene, even though there were still countless monsters around.

however, these small monsters would not affect the gains and losses of the city.

As long as they destroyed the city Lord of the demon race, the city Lord's golden seal would drop, just like before.

As long as they took the city Lord's golden seal and placed it on the stone monument of the city Lord's mansion, this demon race's Eastern Wei city would become a human city.

seeing that victory was in sight, everyone was particularly enthusiastic, and all kinds of damage skills were thrown at the city lord of eastern wei city, zemiski.

as zhang shan attacked, he checked zemiski's attributes and skills.

Before this, he had never seen the attributes of this Demon City Lord.

It was not because Zhang Shan did not have time to watch, but because there was no need to watch it before.

In any case, they didn't just focus their firepower on the demon City Lord.

Only Zhang Shan's catapulting damage could deal a portion of the damage.

This kind of damage wasn't very effective against the city Lord of Eastern Wei city, zemiski, who was a Max-level real-name BOSS.

After the five red bosses were killed, zemiski's HP was not even 10%.

The BOSS's health was low, so Zhang Shan and the rest did not have to worry about its attributes and skills.

In any case, when the BOSS was at full health, it would not release any skills.

but now, it was necessary to see what kind of skills zemiski had.

only after seeing the BOSS's skills would they be able to deal with it accordingly.

he couldn't be careless and let this demon city lord use some overpowered skills to deal with him.

Checking attributes:

Eastern Wei city Lord zemiski (red): Level 100, attack 800000, hp 50 billion.

Skill 1, berserk slash, skill 2, destiny (passive), skill 3, demonic descent, skill 4, bright King saber. [status: Holy demon's protection]

[berserk slash: the Lord of Eastern Wei city, zemiski, strikes with his blade like a madman, increasing damage by 100%.]

[destiny (passive): zemiski, the Lord of Eastern Wei city of the Nephilims, is born with the protection of destiny, greatly increasing HP.]

...

[demonic God's descent: when in danger, zemiski, the city Master of the demon race's Eastern Wei city, will summon the demonic god to assist in battle.]

[Ming King blade: the famous skill of zemiski, the city Lord of Eastern Wei city of the demon race. The body and blade become one, as if the Ming King had descended to the world, with infinite pressure.]

[range of effect: unlimited, 5x damage]

After looking at zemis's attributes and skills, Zhang Shan's heart did not waver.

it wasn't to say that this demon city lord wasn't strong.

In fact, as a Max-level real-name BOSS, the demon City Lord zemiski was indeed terrifyingly strong.

However, Zhang Shan had seen the demon God before. He had defeated the max level BOSS, clause.

In Zhang Shan's eyes, this zemiski was no different from clause.

At most, he would be slightly stronger.

After all, zemiski had a passive skill that increased its health points, which greatly increased its maximum health.

Cruz only had 10 billion HP.

Zemiski, the Lord of Eastern Wei city of the demon race, had 50 billion HP.

Needless to say, it must be because of the passive nature of the heavenly fate.

This was good too. Zhang Shan liked bosses with passive skills.

Especially this kind of passive skill that increased the maximum health, Zhang Shan liked it even more.

It was good.

He had taken a fancy to this passive destiny.

It's mine.

Zhang Shan thought to himself.

A puny Demon City Lord actually dared to call it a heavenly fate, but he was just a dead man.

Other than the passive skill, Zhang Shan was not interested in zemiski's other skills.

it was not that zemiski's other skills were not strong.

in fact, the skills of this demon city lord, be it the demon god's descent or the final move of the ming king saber, were all very powerful.

But Zhang Shan still did not take a look.

Zemiski's two skills were indeed powerful.

But that was for the others.

To his friends, this kind of skill would only kill them.

But to Zhang Shan, it was just that.

He didn't need to care at all.

zhang shan had the heart of the magic dragon with him now, and his blood volume was close to eight million.

no matter how powerful zemiski's skills were, it was all in vain. it was impossible to kill him.

everyone surrounded the city lord of the demon race and attacked him crazily.

However, the boss 'health bar did not decrease very quickly.

After all, it was a boss with 50 billion HP. It wouldn't be so easy to kill.

This was especially so since there were a sea of small monsters around them.

Zhang Shan's ejection was passive, and he could not focus on zemiski.

Every time he attacked, there would only be one line of damage that would land on the boss.

All the other bullet damage was transferred to the monsters.

But it didn't matter.

So be it, as long as they could be killed.

at least here, there were still small monsters that could make zhang shan's catapulting passive and play a role.

This allowed his lifesteal effect to be fully extended.

Otherwise, he could only rely on the damage dealt to the BOSS to trigger the lifesteal effect.

Zhang Shan might not be able to absorb all the blood. Even with boss Wu's healing, it might not be enough.

The sea of small monsters around him was not a problem for Zhang Shan. Instead, it was a great help.

These small monsters were the root of his blood-sucking.

Time passed by slowly.

the health bar of the demon race's eastern wei city's city lord zemiski had finally dropped to 80%.

At this moment, wind and cloud blade spoke.

"Brothers, let's go. The boss is about to start summoning the demon God."

"ah, let's go. I really want to see a real Demon God."

What are you looking at? even if you stay, you won't be able to see the godfiend.

that's right. The godfiend can turn you into dregs with one hand.

"Don't worry. When we've grown stronger, we'll definitely go fight the demon gods. When that time comes, we'll be fighting a real Demon God, not something that has descended."

"That's true, but when will we be able to defeat a true demon God?"

"don't even think about it. you still want to fight the demon god. Unless we can get our hands on a cloak that's a God equipment, we'll never get the chance to do so."

impossible. When I have a full set of Holy artifacts, I don't believe that I can't defeat the demon God.

"F * ck, you dare to think about a full set of Saint artifacts? Are you crazy?"

"So what if it's a Saint artifact? As long as there is equipment in the game, we will be able to make it sooner or later."

"That's true, but I'm worried that you might not be able to get a full set of Saint weapons even if you play until you die of old age, hehe."

haha, that's too hurtful. Can't you play games until you die of old age? "

"Isn't it like this? how many zombies and saint relics do i have to kill to upgrade my equipment to a saint weapon?"

" it's hard to say. in any case, it'll definitely be calculated in years. "

Hmph, I'll get a heart of the demon Dragon too. I'll go and watch the next time six-barreled boss fights the demon God.

"F * ck, that's a good idea. But Where Can I Get the heart of the Magic Dragon?"

"Fight the BOSS, keep fighting the BOSS, one day it will drop."

"alright, good luck, young man. i have faith in you."

let's go. If we continue to talk nonsense, the demon God will come out.

"Let's go, let's go."

Seeing that zemiski had started to chant, his friends quickly logged off and left.

The demonic god was about to appear, and they really couldn't afford to offend him, so they decisively began to sneak around.

After his friends went offline, the ninth Demon God lufasi passed through the light door in the sky and gradually descended into the main world.

The demon waved its black sickle, and the terrifying damage was continuously slashed at Zhang Shan's head.

However, in the face of such terrifying damage, Zhang Shan did not panic at all.

to zhang shan, this was just a small matter.

Compared to when the six bosses were gathered together, the addition of the demon God was not a big deal.

Moreover, this Demon God was only a temporary product and would soon retreat.

It was impossible for him to pose too much of a threat.

Zhang Shan ignored the descending demonic god. His violent damage continued to hit the demonic city Lord.

Fifteen seconds later, the demon God slowly retreated from the light door in the sky.

The scene returned to normal, leaving only the demon City Lord, the boss.

And Zhang Shan's health bar was still full.

Just now, the demon God had attacked him for 15 seconds, but it had not reduced his HP at all.

Under the passive support of catapulting, Zhang Shan's powerful lifesteal ability was fully displayed.

It didn't matter even if he had to bear the damage of the demon God and the demon City Lord at the same time.

thinking of this, zhang shan could not help but sigh.

Why were there no monsters outside the capital?

If it was outside the capital, it would be like this, with countless monsters.

Then, he could go and challenge the demon God now.

As long as there were monsters, he would be able to use his catapults to their full potential.

Zhang Shan could completely rely on the lifesteal effect to withstand the damage from the demon God and fight to the end.

Unfortunately, he didn't.

There were no small monsters outside the capital.

There was only the demon God's lone figure.

even if zhang shan wanted to suck blood, he could only absorb the amount of blood of the demon god.

This severely limited Zhang Shan's lifesteal effect.

It was not enough at all.

The amount of blood that Zhang Shan had absorbed from the demon God was not enough to offset the damage that the demon God had dealt to him.

Zhang Shan's damage and lifesteal abilities had to be further enhanced.

But it didn't matter.

He could save the demon God for later.

Right now, Zhang Shan's target was only zemiski, the Lord of the demon race's Eastern Wei city.

He had to kill this guy first, take down Eastern Wei city, and let Windcloud blade be the castellan.

As for demon gods, he would go to the city of the ruins and farm for a while.

When he took out all the divine artifacts on his body and turned them into Saint artifacts.

At that time, he believed that it should not be a problem to blow up the demon God.

He might not be able to defeat the demon God with a divine weapon, but he would be able to do it after he equipped himself with a sacred weapon.

Although it was very difficult to get a holy weapon, it was a scam to turn a divine weapon into a holy weapon nine times, and the success rate was pitifully low.

but zhang shan was not afraid.

In any case, his grinding speed was very fast. As long as he could collect enough saint's relics, he would be able to kill them.

Then, even if the success rate was low, he was confident that he could turn a divine weapon into a holy weapon.

not long after the demonic god disappeared, his friends came online one after another, and everyone continued to surround the demon city lord and attack him.

After about ten minutes, zemiski, the Lord of Eastern Wei city, had almost lost half of his HP.

His friends went offline again.

After Half Blood, the demon City Lord would use a big move.

Moreover, zemisky's ultimate skill was very powerful.

They couldn't take it.

His friends could only go offline again.

Zhang Shan was alone, and he kept firing at zemis.

when his hp dropped to 50%, zemiski, the city lord of eastern wei city, suddenly let out a long roar.

The BOSS waved his long sword and jumped into the air.

as the BOSS's long sword danced in the air, the blade gradually merged with the boss.

Zemiski's body slowly glowed like an unmoving King as he slowly descended from the sky.

Endless light shone in all directions.

As the light shone on the ground, a huge amount of damage started to appear above Zhang Shan's head.

At this time, zemiski was still in mid-air, and Zhang Shan's shooting range could not reach him at all.

In order to recover his health, Zhang Shan decisively fired at the surrounding monsters, quickly recovering his health.

After a short while, zemiski returned to its original spot. Zhang Shan once again locked his attack on the BOSS.

After five seconds, the light slowly dissipated and the BOSS's big move ended.

Zhang Shan returned to his previous state, firing non-stop at zemiski.

Lines of damage appeared above the BOSS's head.

Other than the BOSS, Zhang Shan's ejection damage was also constantly jumping over the heads of the surrounding small monsters, helping him to absorb a large amount of health.

After a while, his friends came online again.

Windcloud blade shouted happily as he brandished his greataxe in a frenzied attack.

come on, everyone. Let's try to destroy the demon City Lord in one wave.

"Don't worry, this Demon City Lord can't cause any more trouble."

what's the point of it flipping? it's already used up its ultimate skill. The current Demon City Lord is just a wooden dummy monster that can be beaten up as much as it wants.

"It won't release a second big move, right?"

“Impossible. We won’t give it a chance.”

that’s right. We fought so fast that the demon City Lord didn’t even have the chance to use his big move again.

“Why are you thinking so much? just do it quickly.”

Everyone surrounded the demon City Lord and hacked at him.

Under their Swift and violent attacks, the health bar of zemiski, the city Lord of Eastern Wei city of the demon race, dropped rapidly.

50%, 40%, 30%.

Not long after, the demon City Lord was forced into berserk state by them.

After going berserk, the BOSS was even more ferocious.

but zhang shan completely ignored it.

He didn’t switch to the hand of maedas.

To be on the safe side, Zhang Shan was still equipped with the heart of the demon Dragon.

With his HP of nearly 180000.

After going berserk, the demon City Lord was just like that. He couldn’t cause any waves at all.

On the contrary, after going berserk, the BOSS’s defense became even weaker.

The damage that Zhang Shan and the others dealt was much higher than at the beginning.

The speed at which the demon City Lord lost HP was also much faster than before.

After a short while, zemiski, the city Lord of the eastern Wei city of the Nephilims, had been beaten to an empty HP.

Zhang Shan saw the opportunity and quickly controlled the Panda ball to move forward. He activated his combo skill and slapped the demon City Lord a few times in succession, directly killing him.

[system announcement: congratulations to six-pipe Bodhisattva, heart moves, and wind and cloud blade for successfully killing the Lord of Eastern Wei city of the demonic race, zemiski.]

Skill point +1, medal +100.

[system notification: your passive King talent has been triggered by killing zemiski, the city Lord of Eastern Wei city of the demons.]

Acquired passive skill, destiny.

After the demonic city Lord was killed, a golden seal slowly appeared where the BOSS had fallen.

the golden seal of the eastern wei city lord of the demon race.

As long as wind cloud blade took this golden seal and placed it on the city Lord's mansion's stone tablet ...

Then, he could start being the city Lord.

Chapter 584 The heavenly Knife City

The city Lord's golden seal had dropped, which meant that they had already taken down the demon City.

However, there were still countless demon strongmen around them.

How were they going to bring the city Lord's golden seal to the city Lord's mansion?

This was still a problem.

If he didn't place the city Lord's golden seal on the stone tablet in front of the city Lord's Hall, the city would still be a Demon City, and the demon soldiers in the city would not disappear.

when wind and cloud blade saw the city lord's golden seal, he quickly picked it up.

He held the city Lord's golden seal in his hand and looked at it for a while, then shouted happily.

"Haha, I'm going to be a city Lord too."

Zhang Shan quickly interrupted his sweet dreams and said.

"Don't be so smug. Quickly place the city Lord's golden seal on the stone tablet in the city Lord's mansion."

After being reminded by Zhang Shan, wind and cloud blade finally reacted. He looked at the small monsters around him. They had not disappeared. They were still densely packed and uncountable. He said anxiously.

f * ck, there are so many small monsters. Do we have to kill all the way from here to the city Lord's mansion? "

"What else? Don't tell me you can fly over?"

"Eh, it's not that we can't. Don't we have the title of human hero? It can teleport to any human city. Perhaps it can teleport over."

"You're dreaming. Do you think this is a human city? Look at the sign above the city gate, it's still the demon race's Eastern Wei city."

Windcloud blade raised his head to look at the top of the city gate.

The words 'Eastern Wei city' were still written on the horizontal board on the city gate.

Windcloud blade said gloomily.

what kind of setting is this? the city Lord of the demon race was killed, so how could it be a Demon City?

“Why are you thinking so much? let’s go.”

right, let’s go quickly. Don’t be late. It’ll be nonsense once the time limit is up.

“It can’t be, this Golden City Lord seal still has a time limit?”

“I don’t know. I’m just afraid.”

“Fuck, what are you thinking about?”

“Let’s go. We’ll quickly kill our way to the city Lord’s mansion and place the city Lord’s golden seal at the stone tablet. A long night may cause more trouble.”

“brother guan, open a path.”

Zhang Shan quickly opened up a path in front. Wind and cloud blade and heart moves with me brought up the rear, while boss Wu and the little fairy were protected in the middle.

the five of them quickly passed through the city gate and entered the city.

Although the city Lord of the demon race had been killed by them, the number of small monsters in the city did not seem to have decreased.

He reckoned that the system would have to wait for Windcloud blade to place the city Lord’s golden seal properly before the demonic monsterlings would be cleared away.

Otherwise, this place would still be the demonic East Wei city, and there would naturally be a large number of demonic monsterlings in the city.

Under Zhang Shan’s lead, they began to slowly push towards the city Lord’s Manor.

however, due to the large number of monsters, they could not advance quickly.

these max-level demon strongmen were really hard. their speed of clearing monsters could not be fast at all.

As Zhang Shan fired his gun to clear the monsters, he steadily advanced.

at this moment, he suddenly remembered that when he killed the demon city lord, he seemed to have obtained a passive skill.

After the Nephilim race’s city Lord fell to the ground, in addition to the BOSS first kill announcement, there was also a system prompt.

The passive skill of the demon City Lord’s destiny seemed to have been refreshed by him.

he quickly took a look.

Zhang Shan opened up the skill panel to check as he fired his gun to clear the monsters.

He quickly found the new passive skill that had just appeared.

[destiny (passive): increase health points by 20%. Talent obtained. Can not be upgraded.]

It was good.

Although the description of the skill was simple, the effect of the skill was very powerful.

This was a passive skill that increased the maximum health by 20%.

It was exactly what Zhang Shan needed.

Zhang Shan took a look and saw his current health limit.

Before he had equipped the heart of the demon Dragon, Zhang Shan's Original HP had increased three times due to the king's Cape. It was more than 3.2 million.

With this passive skill, his HP had increased by another 20%.

That would be an increase of more than 600000.

Zhang Shan's current HP had already reached almost 3.9 million.

And this was Zhang Shan, without the heart of the demon Dragon.

his blood volume could reach more than nine million, and he was just a little bit away from reaching ten million.

He was meaty than many mini-bosses.

As his attributes got higher and higher, the effect of these passive skills that increased his attributes by percentage became more obvious.

A passive skill was even more powerful than a divine weapon.

Zhang Shan liked this passive move.

This passive skill came at the right time.

With this passive skill, Zhang Shan no longer had to worry about his health.

The only thing he needed to do now was to continuously increase his damage ability.

When his level and damage ability were raised to a certain level, he would definitely be able to blow up the demon God.

Zhang Shan had never been so confident in his ability to defeat the demon God.

Perhaps he had to find time to try and fight another wave of demonic gods.

Even though he was still no match for them, he could at least test how much he was lacking.

However, Zhang Shan definitely did not have the time now. He still had to help his friends to take down the other three cities and defend them.

It would probably take about a week to get all these things done.

Take it slow, you have to eat one bite at a time, and do things one by one.

Zhang Shan gathered his emotions and continued to lead his friends towards the city Lord's Manor in Eastern Wei city.

As the city was filled with full-level demon strongmen, their speed of advancement was not fast at all.

Fortunately, after Zhang Shan switched to hand of maedas, his damage output had increased by quite a bit.

Otherwise, they wouldn't be able to move at all and would be trapped in place by the monsters.

Time slowly passed as they advanced towards the city Lord's mansion.

After about an hour, they finally made it to the gate of the city lord's castle.

Looking at the city Lord's mansion's door, Windcloud blade said in a slightly panicked manner.

"there can't be another BOSS in there, right?"

"f * ck, what are you thinking in that little head of yours?"

"How can there be another BOSS? We've already killed a bunch of bosses outside the city. It'd be weird if there were more."

"that's right. there are only so many bosses in the city. could it be that these bosses can resurrect in the city after we kill them? "

I hope there's still a BOSS. If that's the case, we can still farm another wave of monsters.

that's true. It's so hard to find a real-name BOSS. It's not easy to find one normally. If the demon City Lord could revive continuously, that would be awesome.

"that's right. i can't wait to have another demon city lord for us to fight. then, we can get another wave of divine weapons. "

Speaking of which, I suddenly remember what the demon City Lord dropped.

"That's right, brother Guan, what did the demon City Lord drop just now? Show it to me. "

Hearing his friends 'words, Zhang Shan was a little stunned.

He still hadn't split the items that the demon City Lord had dropped?

That seemed to be the case. After killing the boss, they went into the city to clear the monsters and did not distribute the items.

If it wasn't for the little fairy's reminder, he would have forgotten about it.

He had only been looking at his passive skills before, and after that, he had been clearing the monsters.

He had forgotten about the distribution of items.

Zhang Shan said to his friends, embarrassed.

haha, I forgot. I'm really sorry. Let me take a look first.

His friends were all speechless.

he had just defeated a real BOSS, how could he forget? They were not taking the drops of a real-name BOSS seriously.

Zhang Shan quickly opened his backpack to check.

There were three pieces of red equipment, one red material, and one divine weapon mold.

other than that, there was also a divine artifact mission item.

The broken iron sword.

It was another wave of explosions.

zhang shan looked at it for a moment. this broken iron sword should be a weapon used by a spellblade.

However, they didn't seem to have any use for this.

In their team, only mind follows me was a Spellblade.

He already had a God-level weapon and didn't need a second one.

It seemed that he could only sell this broken iron sword.

but this was good too.

A weapon-type divine artifact mission item should be able to sell for quite a bit of money.

after selling it, everyone would split the money and make a wave of income.

zhang shan did not think too much about it. he immediately displayed the items that the demon city lord had dropped on the team channel.

Seeing the items that Zhang Shan had displayed, everyone was elated.

haha, another divine artifact mission item dropped. I'm rich.

"it's useless. it's not a decorative quest item. we don't need a divine weapon like a long sword."

"How can it be useless? it can be sold for money."

that's right. A weapon-type divine artifact mission item should be able to sell for two to three hundred million gold coins.

"of course. those big shots have gone crazy in order to get divine artifacts. As long as we sell this broken longsword, there will definitely be a lot of people fighting for it. "

yes, yes. We'll split the money and make a small fortune. Hehe.

big brother, don't be so generous. This is a big fortune. It can be sold for 200 to 300 million gold coins.

alright, I'll give this divine weapon mission item to one blade first. Let him sell it, and we'll split the money after it's sold.

after zhang shan finished speaking, he handed the broken long sword to wind cloud blade.

the matter of selling items still had to be handled by wind and cloud blade.

if zhang shan were to do it himself, he would have to put it up for auction.

although it was possible to sell it for a higher price, it would not be very friendly to the big shots in the guild.

After all, there were only a few big shots in the wind and cloud Guild who had gotten their hands on a divine weapon.

as a member of the wind and cloud guild, they still had to take care of their own guild's big boss.

It was just that Zhang Shan did not like it. Dealing with those big bosses in the Guild, he would just let Windcloud blade handle it.

As for who he wanted to sell it to, it was up to him.

As long as Zhang Shan could sell it for a good price, it would be fine.

they believed that wind and cloud blade would not cheat them.

If he really screwed his own people over, who would play with him in the future?

After distributing the broken iron sword to wind and cloud blade, Zhang Shan gave the remaining god weapon mold to little fairy.

Because it was an agility bracer, and little fairy didn't have one yet.

Besides Zhang Shan, little fairy was the only agility-based job in the team. There was no need to ROLL anymore, and it would be given to her directly.

After the two God-level items were distributed, the remaining items were all trash to everyone. There was no need to distribute them anymore. Zhang Shan kept them for himself.

After a simple round of distribution, everyone began to charge into the city Lord's mansion.

After entering the city Lord's mansion, there were still demon strongmen everywhere, no less than the outside.

Under Zhang Shan's lead, they slowly approached the stone tablet in front of the city Lord's Hall.

After a while, they finally reached the stone tablet.

Wind cloud blade quickly took out the city Lord's golden seal and placed it on the gap in the stone tablet.

a beam of golden light shot up into the sky and spread to all the maps in the game.

Seeing such a scene.

Everyone knew that the third player city had been born in the game.

As expected, as wind and cloud blade's settings were completed, a system announcement sounded.

[system announcement: congratulations to wind and cloud blade for establishing heaven's blade City.
He is the third player to establish a city.]

All attributes +100.

When they saw the system announcement, countless big shots in the game were jealous.

How could they not be jealous?

The wind cloud Guild had already built three cities, while the other players had not even built a single city.

Such a gap made everyone extremely envious and jealous.

They were envious of the wind cloud Guild for having Zhang Shan.

Everyone felt that if it wasn't for Zhang Shan, the wind cloud Guild wouldn't even be able to take down a city.

Now, the People of the Wind and cloud Guild had latched onto Zhang Shan's thigh, which was why they could attack the demon race's cities one by one.

And that was the truth.

The only way for players to build cities was to attack the demon race's cities.

however, the fiend race's city was not that easy to defeat.

Even though it was hard to find a Demon City.

However, Zhang Shan felt that, compared to finding the city, the bigger problem was that the demon City was too powerful.

With the current strength of the players, they could not take down the demon City at all.

Otherwise, no one would have been able to take down Twin City, which had been in existence for so long.

In the end, they had to wait for Zhang Shan to reach level 50 before they could take down Twin City.

Feng Yun realm had become the second player in the game to become a city Lord.

as for the eastern wei city that they had just taken down, it was the same.

Everyone knew that there was definitely a Demon City in the depths of The Map of Heaven's Gate.

It was just that the other players were not strong enough.

They couldn't even get here, let alone attack the city.

Not to mention the others, even blade of wind and cloud and the others would not have been able to reach this place without Zhang Shan's guidance.

Since they couldn't come over, there was no need to attack the city.

After all, strength was the most fundamental.

Without strength, everything was just floating clouds.

Because Zhang Shan's strength was strong enough, he was able to lead the People of the Wind and cloud Guild to take down one Demon City after another.

Other than Zhang Shan, no one else in the entire game could do this.

In fact, if a person was not strong enough, they could not do anything except to be jealous.

As for attacking the city?

They would have to wait until they reached level 100. Before they reached level 100, they wouldn't even have the qualifications to explore the map's depths.

after wind and cloud blade finished setting up the city, he laughed out loud.

haha, this brother is now a city Lord. Please call me the city Lord of the heavenly saber city, hehe.

"Swordsman."

"Hmph, it's as if you're the only one who can become a city Lord. I'm about to become a city Lord too. I'll build a fairy city in two days."

Hearing the little fairy's words, Zhang Shan was speechless. He whispered to the little fairy.

"Don't you want to consider other names? the name 'fairy city' is a little too exaggerated."

"Hehe, I'm just casually saying. After we take down the city, I'll think of a cooler name."

"the city is finished, so let's go back."

"yes, i still have to go back to collect the materials and hand them over to the six-barreled boss so that he can help me make more of the barbatian cannon. Otherwise, it will be difficult to deal with the monster attack tomorrow."

Zhang Shan asked wind cloud blade.

"Did you receive the system prompt? Are there any monster attacks tomorrow?"

Although he and Feng Yun realm would have a wave of monsters attacking the city after they built it, it was still a huge problem.

normally, wind and cloud blade should be the same, unable to escape this obstacle.

This should be a fixed game mechanism.

However, he still asked Windcloud blade for confirmation.

Windcloud blade said gloomily.

“Yes, I received a system notification that there will be a wave of monsters attacking the city at 8 O’clock tomorrow night for two hours. The heavenly Knife City can only be considered to be truly established after it has survived the monster siege.”

if the city is broken through by the monsters, then the heavenly Knife City will be gone, and all our investments will be in vain.

There was a reason for wind and cloud blade’s worry.

he had invested a lot in building the heaven saber city.

Not only Zhang Shan and the rest, but they also helped to attack the city.

To them, attacking a city was not much of an investment.

To them, attacking a Demon City was the same as fighting a BOSS.

Wind and cloud blade did not spend money to recruit people to help them attack the demon City.

Although they didn’t need to invest in a siege.

However, when designing the city, wind and cloud blade had to invest a lot of gold coins.

For example, he could recruit NPCs and open up a teleportation portal.

This would require a huge investment.

The amount of gold required to open the teleportation formation was a shocking number.

When the demon-suppressing city was built, Zhang Shan had spent 100 million gold to open the teleportation formation.

This was because the demon-suppressing city was a small city, so the gold coins spent were less.

Later on, when Feng Yun realm was building Feng Yun city, he spent one billion gold to open the teleportation array.

Wind cloud blade’s heavenly Blade City was much bigger than wind Cloud City.

Although Zhang Shan did not ask, he did not know how much gold he had spent.

however, it would definitely not be less than feng yun realm’s. it would at least start from one billion gold coins. in fact, it could be much more.

With so many gold coins, if they couldn’t stop the demonic monsters that were attacking the city tomorrow ...

In that case, the gold coins that Windcloud blade had invested would all be for naught.

Little fairy consoled Windcloud blade when she saw his worried expression.

don't worry, I'll ask brother Butler to make more cannons.

yes, fire the cannons and blast all the demonic monsters into pieces.

"Haha, you're so funny."

"Let's go back to the city to collect the materials."

After transforming the demonic race's East Wei city into the human race's heavenly Knife City, everyone returned to Dangyang city one after another.

As for the heavenly Knife City, he would leave it there for the time being. There was no need to care about it.

Anyway, the black-hearted wind and cloud blade had already set the teleportation fee to 10000 gold coins per teleportation.

There probably wouldn't be many who would be teleported over.

As for whether or not someone would cause destruction, that was even less of a worry.

The other players didn't know that as long as they broke the city Lord's golden seal, they could destroy the city.

In fact, even if others knew, there was no need to worry.

No one could easily break the city Lord's golden seal.

The city Lord's golden seal had tens of billions of HP, and it was not so easy to destroy.

If someone were to destroy the city Lord's golden seal, Windcloud blade would immediately receive a system notification.

All he had to do was call out, and the entire wind and cloud Guild would naturally come to his aid.

Who would not be afraid of death and come to find trouble with their own city in battle?

If they really fought, whoever came would die.

Guarding their own city, don't talk about any destructive people.

even if all the players in the game came together, they would be able to stop them.

did they really think that city defense equipment was to be trifled with?

Zhang Shan could just casually create a few rows of intermediate arrow towers, and no matter how many players there were, they would all be like floating clouds.

After Zhang Shan and his friends had settled a city, they quickly returned to Dangyang city.

As for the other three cities, no one touched them for the time being.

there was no need for that.

There was no rush, he would do it one by one.

take down a demon city, survive a wave of monster attacks, and then take down another city.

The rhythm had to be steady and not rushed.

In any case, the demon City would not run away.

If they didn't fight, no one would be able to.

Chapter 585 The ferocious Barbazan cannon

After returning to Dangyang city, Zhang Shan began to teleport around to clear the trash in his backpack.

he first teleported to the warehouse and stored all the materials that he had no use for at the moment.

Then, he teleported to the Guild residence and donated the orange and red equipment in his bag to the Guild warehouse.

These were all level 100 equipment. No one would be able to use them for a long time.

even if he donated it to the guild storage, no one would exchange it.

if no one could use it, why would they exchange it?

To ordinary guild members, this was a waste of contribution points.

But it didn't matter.

He would just treat it as supporting the Guild's warehouse.

No matter what, there were quite a few pieces of red equipment. At least, they looked very pleasing to the eye.

moreover, by donating equipment to the guild storage, he could also increase his guild contribution points.

While Zhang Shan was donating his equipment, he looked at the total contribution points of the wind and cloud Guild.

At the moment, the wind and cloud Guild was still a level 5 Guild. It was still a long way from becoming a level 6 Guild.

although there were currently 200000 members in the guild, even if everyone only donated one contribution point a day, it would still be 200000.

However, it was simply too difficult for a Guild to reach Level 6.

To raise the Guild to Level 6, it required 10 million contribution points.

With 200,000 contribution points a day, it would probably take almost two years to raise the Guild's level to Level 6.

this leveling speed was too slow.

They could only rely on everyone's donations to increase the Guild's leveling speed.

Previously, Feng Yun realm had said in the Guild channel that everyone should donate all the trash equipment that they had no use for to the Guild warehouse.

of course.

Feng Yun realm's words were only directed at the big shots in the Guild.

To ordinary guild members, they just wanted to find a big tree to rely on.

They couldn't be expected to donate to the Guild.

It wasn't easy for everyone.

It was already considered good if the ordinary guild members could maintain a contribution of one gold coin a day.

After all, he had to make a living.

Some guild members were still hoping to earn some money from the game to improve their lives.

It was unrealistic to ask them to donate to the Guild for free.

Feng Yun realm also knew about this so he did not force it.

If they were willing to donate, they would donate. If they were not willing, it was fine.

As long as one could maintain the contribution of donating one gold coin a day, they would be qualified to be a guild member.

They didn't need to worry about being kicked out of the Guild.

After clearing his inventory, Windcloud blade quickly found him.

He said as he handed a huge pile of materials to Zhang Shan.

boss, I'm counting on you. There are about 600 sets of materials here. I hope you can make more of the barbatian cannon.

Zhang Shan took a look. There were a total of six hundred and thirty sets of materials.

Normally, the first 200 sets of materials could only produce a few dozen finished products.

However, he should be able to succeed in the remaining 400 or so portions after he increased his proficiency.

In other words, the materials that Windcloud blade had given him could be used to make about 400 cannons.

The heavenly Knife City occupied a large area and had many areas to defend.

&Nbsp; however, the power of the barbatian cannon was strong, and 400 of them should be enough.

Considering that the materials used to build the barbarian cannon were extremely expensive, the Barbarian King's plan was to build the Barbarian cannon.

According to Zhang Shan's estimation, the price of each set of materials would cost about two to three hundred thousand gold coins.

Wind and cloud blade had probably spent hundreds of millions of gold coins on these materials.

However, when he thought about the cost of building a city, it would at least be one billion.

In comparison, the amount of materials he had collected to build the Lord of Bardi was only slightly more than 100 million.

Although the cost was high, it was not a big deal.

as long as he could defend the city, he would be able to earn back the blade of wind and cloud sooner or later.

Guarding a city was like guarding a treasure bowl.

As long as the game was still in operation, Windcloud blade would always be able to make a profit.

At most, it was just a matter of how much profit he would get.

After receiving the materials from wind and cloud blade, Zhang Shan suddenly thought of a problem.

Although the firepower of the barbarian artillery was strong, the rate of fire of these cannons was not fast.

The interval between attacks from the barbarian cannon was five seconds.

'Isn't it a little too one-sided to rely solely on the barbarian cannon to defend? did Windcloud blade not consider adding in other supplementary items?'

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan said to wind and cloud blade.

"Don't you plan to build more intermediate arrow towers? I don't think it's enough to rely on the barbarian cannon to defend."

"eh? Do you still want to build an arrow tower?"

that's true. We should build some arrow towers as a supplement. Otherwise, if we let the small monsters charge up the city walls, we might not be able to defeat them with just our guild members.

"Wait for me, I'll go buy some more materials for the arrow tower."

After Zhang Shan's reminder, wind and cloud blade quickly reacted.

the defense of the heavenly knife city tomorrow could be said to be completely reliant on the city defense equipment.

As for the Guild members, they were only there to help maintain the appearance.

They couldn't even deal with the boss.

Even ordinary guild members couldn't defeat ordinary demonic strongmen.

These Max-level demon strongmen each had 20000 to 30000 attack power and 500000 HP.

With such attributes, they were much stronger than ordinary players.

Even if the players had all kinds of skills, they still couldn't deal with these Max-level demon strongmen.

Apart from a small number of big shots, the rest might not even be able to defeat a small monster.

It was definitely not enough to rely on the barbarian cannon to defend.

This way, there would definitely be some monsters that would miss the cannon fire and rush to the city wall.

if that was the case, everyone would be in a mess.

Wind and cloud blade had obviously thought of this problem as well.

After he finished speaking, he teleported away and continued to buy materials.

Looking at wind cloud blade's hasty appearance, Zhang Shan could not help but shake his head.

it was not easy to be a city lord in this game.

even for big shot players, it was a rare opportunity to become a city lord.

With Zhang Shan's help, wind and cloud blade had finally managed to occupy a city. Of course, he had to do everything he could to defend it.

No matter how much money he had to spend, he would not hesitate.

After wind and cloud blade left, Zhang Shan did not go straight to the crafting of the Barbarian cannon.

He also teleported to the auction house.

Zhang Shan planned to first buy a batch of materials to make the advanced incendiary bomb and try to make a batch of advanced incendiary bombs.

Although he didn't need these amazing bullets for the time being, he could make them for future use.

After all, he still had to help Windcloud blade build the barbazu cannon and the intermediate-level arrow tower.

Since that was the case, he might as well make a batch of high-level burning bombs as well.

At the auction house, Zhang Shan bought about 300 sets of materials for making advanced incendiary bombs. Then, he teleported back to the Guild's base.

With these 300 sets of materials, he could probably make more than a million high-level burning bombs. He could also raise his proficiency to 100 points while he was at it.

With these millions of high-grade burning bombs, it should be enough for him to fight a few rounds of demonic gods.

Zhang Shan waited at the Guild residence for a while.

Not long after, Windcloud blade returned to the Guild residence.

He traded a large batch of materials to Zhang Shan.

After Zhang Shan received the materials, he took a quick look. There were about ten thousand sets of materials.

The materials needed to make the intermediate arrow tower were much cheaper compared to the Barbadian cannon.

These 10,000 sets of materials were probably less than 100 million gold.

furthermore, zhang shan's proficiency in making intermediate arrow towers had already reached 100 points.

In other words, Zhang Shan could basically guarantee a 100% success rate.

With these 10,000 sets of materials, Zhang Shan could make 10000 intermediate arrow towers.

With these arrow towers and a large number of Barbazan cannons, it should not be too much of a problem for Windcloud blade to defend the heavenly Knife City.

After Zhang Shan received the materials, he was prepared to use his Guild contribution points to enter the Guild workshop.

However, he quickly stopped in his tracks and said to wind cloud blade, "

"you also need to call two people over to help transport the arrow towers. Each of these intermediate arrow towers takes up a space in the backpack. I'm afraid you can't transport them all by yourself."

In new world, if players did not have any special opportunities, they would usually only have 95 slots in their backpacks.

Other than some essential items, no matter how much they cleared their backpacks, they would not be able to clear their backpacks.

That would at most have less than 90 empty slots.

To transport tens of thousands of intermediate arrow towers, it would take a lot of trips.

it was unlikely that wind cloud blade would be able to transport all of them by himself.

windcloud blade had to transport the arrow towers while setting up the arrow towers in the heavenly blade city.

Obviously, he couldn't do it at the same time.

He had to find two people to help him.

Last time, it was Zhang Shan himself who helped Feng Yun realm transport the arrow towers. Every batch that he made, he would transport another batch over.

However, it didn't seem necessary this time.

He would get wind and cloud blade to find someone to help him with the transportation.

He still had to make all kinds of items. He didn't have that much time.

If he asked for help, he could definitely increase the efficiency.

Upon hearing Zhang Shan's words, wind and cloud blade was suddenly stunned.

"There's such a thing? Then wouldn't we have to run more than a hundred times to reach the tens of thousands of intermediate arrow towers?"

"Yes, I am."

I understand. You can go and make it first. I'll call for help.

After saying that, Windcloud blade began to call for his underlings to help him.

In any case, Windcloud blade was an active member of the Guild, so he knew many people.

It was a piece of cake to get two people to help.

As for boss Wu and the others, after returning to Dangyang city and restocking, they had already gone to farm.

Hence, wind and cloud blade could only seek help from others.

However, boss Wu and the others didn't need to be the porters.

This was a bit of a waste of talent.

In any case, there were plenty of idle people in the Guild.

Zhang Shan believed that wind and cloud blade could easily find two people to come over.

After Zhang Shan finished talking to Windcloud blade, he used his Guild contribution points to enter the Guild workshop.

After entering the workshop, Zhang Shan quickly took out a set of intermediate arrow tower materials and placed it on the operating table.

A ray of light flashed, and a mini arrow tower slowly appeared on the operating table.

Zhang Shan had already done the intermediate arrow tower countless times and was very familiar with it. He could basically guarantee a 100% success rate.

Zhang Shan took the intermediate arrow tower from the console and put it into his backpack. Then, he put in another set of materials.

Just like that, he put in the materials one by one, and intermediate arrow towers were quickly built.

in just a short while, he had built up to a hundred intermediate arrow towers.

Zhang Shan thought to himself as he looked at his backpack.

let's go out and hand over these intermediate arrow towers to Windcloud blade. Let him set them up in the heavenly Blade City.

At this moment, wind cloud blade was still waiting outside.

Other than wind and cloud blade, there were two other guild members waiting there.

However, Zhang Shan did not know these two people. He also did not know where wind and cloud blade had found these coolies.

Seeing Zhang Shan come out, the two guild members shouted excitedly.

"six-barreled big boss."

Zhang Shan nodded his head and said to wind cloud blade.

"How many empty slots do you have in your backpack?"

"i cleared it just now. there are 91 slots now."

"alright," he said.

zhang shan quickly handed over the 91 intermediate arrow towers to wind cloud blade.

After receiving the arrow tower that Zhang Shan had traded, Windcloud blade's bag was instantly filled to the brim.

he said to zhang shan.

"Then I'll go to the heavenly Knife City and set up the arrow towers. After you're done, get these two brothers to help you transport it to the heavenly Knife City."

"yes."

Zhang Shan nodded his head to show that he understood.

He then entered the Guild's workshop and resumed his production.

Just like that, every time Zhang Shan produced a batch of intermediate arrow towers, he would leave the Guild workshop and hand the arrow towers over to the two guild members waiting outside. He would let them take turns to bring the arrow towers to the heavenly Knife City.

zhang shan's speed of making arrow towers was very fast. he could make an arrow tower almost every two to three seconds.

In less than three minutes, he could finish a batch.

The two guild members outside were transporting the arrow towers to the heavenly Knife City.

As for wind cloud blade, he was constantly installing these intermediate-level arrow towers on the city walls.

Zhang Shan continued to make the arrow towers. After about five hours, he had finally used up all the materials for the arrow towers.

After the arrow towers were completed, it was time to start making the barbatian cannon.

zhang shan took out a set of materials to make the barbadian cannon and placed it on the operating table.

a small flame flashed.

production failed.

It's okay, again.

Zhang Shan already had a lot of experience in making engineering products in this game.

A new blueprint would not succeed unless it failed a hundred times.

Even the materials used to make the barbatian cannon were extremely precious.

there was no other way.

He had to fail.

This was something that was inevitable.

Only when his proficiency increased would he be able to guarantee success.

Zhang Shan continuously placed the ingredients on the operating table.

Suddenly, a ray of light flashed.

A Mini Cannon slowly appeared on the operating table.

haha, i finally made my first cannon.

Zhang Shan removed the mini Cannon from the console and examined it in his hand.

[barbatian cannon: a peerless killing weapon created by the ancient divine craftsman barbatian. With a single shot, it can destroy the heavens and earth.]

Attack power: 500000, attack interval: 5 seconds, attack range: 500 yards, damage range: 50 yards. A special equipment for city defense. Effective when placed in the city.

Looking at the attributes of the barbatian cannon, Zhang Shan could not help but sigh. It was really too awesome.

Although he had already understood the power of the cannon from the blueprint, he was not afraid.

however, when zhang shan held the object in his hands, he could not help but sigh.

This kind of city defense equipment was truly a great killing weapon.

With the presence of the barbatian cannon, what kind of demonic monsters could attack the city wall?

It was completely destroying one batch after another.

no matter how strong the demonic monsters were, it was impossible for them to break through the barbazan cannon's blockade and rush to the city wall, right?

the only unfortunate thing was that a city-defense equipment like the barbatian cannon could not be used to farm monsters.

Otherwise, if Zhang Shan used these cannons to farm monsters, he would probably be able to reach level 100 in a short time.

However, he couldn't.

This kind of cannon could only be used to defend the city. Outside the city, these cannons could not be placed at all.

There were no loopholes at all.

Actually, this was normal.

It was impossible for there to be such a big BUG in the game for them to take advantage of.

If that was the case, then the engineering profession would probably be extremely popular.

No matter how strong a player's equipment was, it couldn't be compared to a piece of city defense equipment.

zhang shan sighed for a while and continued with his production.

He placed a set of materials on the operating table.

One after another, he continued to make the barbatian cannon.

After the first cannon was made.

After that, Zhang Shan's success rate was much higher.

Especially after he successfully made 50 cannons, he could basically succeed every time.

In a short while, Zhang Shan had consumed all 600 sets of materials and made a total of more than 450 cannons.

Zhang Shan kept all the cannons and then left the Guild workshop.

When he left the workshop, the two guild members who had been waiting outside were no longer there.

after the arrow tower was completed, the two men left.

unlike the intermediate arrow towers, the barbatian cannon did not require a large quantity to win.

Not only was the barbatian cannon powerful, it also had a long range of 500 yards.

A few dozen cannons would be enough to control one side of the city wall, unlike the intermediate arrow towers.

They had to cover the entire city wall to achieve a defensive effect.

Furthermore, the materials required to make the barbatian cannon were extremely expensive. Hence, Windcloud blade did not prepare too many of them.

A set of materials for the barbatian cannon would cost about 200000 gold coins.

if they could produce tens of thousands of cannons like the intermediate arrow tower ...

How much would that cost?

Even a tycoon like Windcloud blade would not be able to hold on.

with over 600 sets of materials, zhang shan had made a total of over 400 cannons.

With such a small amount, there was no need for others to help transport it. Zhang Shan could bring it over in one wave.

Zhang Shan's backpack, after being expanded by the Sumeru bag, had a total of 1000 slots.

Even if he had some other items in his backpack, it would not stop him from taking all the cannons with him at once.

however, it was only about 400 – 600 ba cannon.

Even if there were more, Zhang Shan could bring all of them over in one wave without any problem.

The space in the backpack was so big that he could be willful.

Chapter 586 Divine tool rank four

After leaving the Guild workshop, Zhang Shan brought along the newly-made Barbadian cannon.

he quickly teleported to the teleportation hall and then to the heavenly knife city.

Wind and cloud blade had temporarily received 10000 gold coins for the teleportation fee of the heaven Knife City.

but that was for outsiders.

The heavenly Knife City and the demon suppressing city only charged one gold coin to the members of their own Guild.

Zhang Shan spent one gold coin and teleported to the heavenly Knife City.

Through the party's information, he quickly found wind cloud blade's position.

Zhang Shan teleported over and arrived beside wind cloud blade.

At that moment, Windcloud blade had just finished placing the arrow tower.

He was standing on the East Gate tower of the heavenly Knife City, examining the layout of the city's defenses.

Zhang Shan teleported to the top of the city gate. He looked around and saw that the entire city wall of the heavenly Knife City was densely packed with arrow towers.

although the overall density was far from that of wind cloud city, it was enough.

moreover, these intermediate arrow towers were only supplementary to the barbatian cannon.

The main defensive force was still the barbatian cannon.

These intermediate arrow towers only needed to clear out the small monsters that had slipped through the net.

Wind and cloud blade did not need them. He relied on these intermediate arrow towers to stop the demonic Army that was attacking the city.

With the barbatian cannon, the demonic Army would not be able to get close to the city walls.

Those who could run over were only a small number of fish that escaped the net.

With more than 10000 intermediate arrow towers and 200000 guild members, they could easily deal with the enemy.

Seeing Zhang Shan walking over, wind and cloud blade said to him.

"the cannons are all done?"

"yes."

zhang shan traded the 91 cannons to wind cloud blade.

Wind cloud blade received the cannon from Zhang Shan and said happily.

"With these cannons, we should be able to defend the heavenly Knife City."

"it shouldn't be a problem. these barbatian cannons are very powerful. one shot from them will clear a large number of monsters. the monsters definitely won't be able to reach the city wall. we just need to kill the BOSS."

Upon hearing Zhang Shan's words, wind cloud blade felt sad. He pulled a long face and said.

that's right, it's still a little hard to defend. There are four city gates in the heavenly Knife City, and we can only stop the BOSS at one of them. What should we do with the other three gates?"

this was indeed a big problem.

Hearing wind and cloud blade's words, Zhang Shan fell into deep thought.

For players defending a city, the biggest threat was actually the boss that attacked the city.

As for the small monsters, they were relatively easy to deal with.

They could rely on numbers or city defense equipment to block the small monsters.

However, the bosses that attacked the city were not so easy to deal with.

The bosses that appeared during the monster sieges were simply too brutal.

Just like last time in Wind Cloud City, the demons' siege cannon could destroy a large section of the city wall with one arrow.

This caused Feng Yun realm to spend at least two to three billion gold coins to repair the city.

This was a very ridiculous number.

However, he had no choice.

If Feng Yun realm did not repair the city wall, the system might determine that the city defense had failed.

If that was the case, they would have worked for nothing.

Once the city defense failed, then all the previous investments would be in vain.

Who knew what the monster attack on the Heavenly Knife City would be like tomorrow?

Zhang Shan also did not know if it would be like the last time in Wind Cloud City, where there would be a demon siege cannon that specialized in destroying city walls.

If there were also siege cannons tomorrow, it would indeed be difficult to deal with.

It was mainly because the defensive area of the Heavenly Knife City was too big. It was impossible for Zhang Shan to defend it all by himself.

He could only block the bosses in one direction. He couldn't care about the bosses in the other directions.

As for the other members of the guild, they were completely unable to stop the BOSS that appeared during the monster siege.

These Max-level bosses were supermodels for the players at this stage.

He was not someone they could deal with.

If Wind and Cloud Blade wanted to defend the city, he could only rely on the Barbadian cannon.

Other than that, there was no other way.

Only the Barbadian cannon could possibly deal with the bosses that appeared during the monster siege.

The firepower of these Barbadian cannons was extremely strong.

If a few cannons were to fire at the same time, the damage would definitely be stronger than Zhang Shan's.

With a few cannons firing at the same time, it shouldn't take long for them to take down a BOSS.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan said to wind and cloud blade.

"tomorrow, we'll guard one of the city gates. we'll deploy more barbatian cannons at the other three city gates. then, let the warrior players in the guild use their charge skills to hold the BOSS back."

Hearing Zhang Shan's words, wind and cloud blade's eyes lit up. He said hesitantly.

you're saying that we should let the Warriors in the Guild stall the BOSS while we use the barbatian cannon to take out the BOSS from a distance?"

"Yes, so this is the only way?"

This was indeed a good idea. A warrior's charge skill had a three-second slow effect.

Moreover, this speed reduction effect was mandatory.

even a BOSS would not be immune to this speed reduction effect.

As long as they had enough warrior players, they could keep using charge.

That way, the BOSS would not be able to get close to the city quickly.

This way, the barbatian cannonballs that were set up on the city walls could fire continuously.

As long as there were enough cannons, it was entirely possible to destroy the bosses before they even got close to the city.

Windcloud blade said as he stroked his chin.

"That's a good idea. Alright, we'll do that tomorrow."

As soon as wind cloud blade finished speaking, he quickly set up the barbatian cannons all over the city.

Especially at the city gate.

Other than the East Gate, which only had two cannons, Windcloud blade had tried his best to install as many cannons as possible on the other three gates.

Each city gate tower had twelve cannons.

It wasn't that he didn't want to put more aside, but that he really couldn't.

there was limited space on top of the city gate tower. after placing 12 of the 'barbatian cannons', the tower was already filled to the brim.

However, with 12 of the barbatian cannons, it should be enough.

A single barbatian cannon could deal 500000 damage.

If all 12 cannons fired at the same time, that would be a total of 6000000 damage.

With such powerful firepower, even a BOSS with 10 billion HP would not take long to kill one.

In addition to the city gate tower, Windcloud blade had also set up many cannons on the city wall.

basically, windcloud blade would place a cannon every three to four hundred yards.

In addition, there were so many intermediate arrow towers. Defending the city wall was not a problem at all.

Tomorrow, they would have to see if they could organize themselves and let the Warriors stall the BOSS.

as long as the warrior players in the guild were able to keep the BOSS outside of the attacking range of the city, they would be able to attack the city.

Then, tomorrow's defense of the city would be stable.

Zhang Shan followed wind and cloud blade and set up cannons everywhere on the city walls and gate tower of the heavenly Knife City.

In just a short while, more than 400 cannons were basically set up.

However, wind cloud blade did not deploy all the cannons.

He still had 40 cannons on hand, and planned to supplement them tomorrow as the situation developed.

in any case, there were already more than enough barbazu cannons and intermediate-level arrow towers on the city wall.

It would be a waste no matter how many arrangements were made.

There was no need for that.

After everything was settled, wind and cloud blade said to Zhang Shan.

"Thanks, Liu Guan."

"It's fine, it didn't take long."

Windcloud blade looked at the arrow towers and cannons that filled the city, saying this with a little worry.

"It all depends on tomorrow's defense. I hope we can hold the city."

"Don't worry, it shouldn't be difficult to defend the city. However, you still have to prepare some gold coins. It might be useful when we need to repair the city walls."

"Yes, I'll be ready."

Although they had already made the heavenly Blade City impregnable ...

However, tomorrow's monster attack would be extraordinary.

Just the mobs that were attacking the city were definitely the maximum level demonic strongmen. As for the bosses that were attacking the city, who knew how strong they would be?

However, they knew that there would definitely be a Max-level real name BOSS tomorrow, and there might be more than one.

it was indeed a great challenge for them to defend the city against such a force.

If they didn't need to take care of the city and only focused on fighting the BOSS, it would be easy.

With Zhang Shan around, they just had to kill the bosses one by one.

This was not too difficult.

No matter how many bosses there were, they could slowly take care of them.

But defending a city was a different story.

to defend the city, not only did they need to kill the BOSS, but they also needed to kill the BOSS.

More importantly, they could not allow the BOSS to destroy the city. This was a huge restriction for them.

however, they had already done what they could.

The rest would depend on tomorrow's performance and the lineup of the demons attacking the city.

after everything was settled, zhang shan bid farewell to wind and cloud blade and returned to dangyang city.

He still wanted to make another batch of high-level burning bombs.

After making the barbatian cannon, he had helped blade of wind and cloud transport it to the heaven Knife City.

He didn't even have the time to make the advanced combustion bomb that he needed.

He had to seize the time to do it.

after zhang shan returned to dangyang city, he immediately teleported to the guild residence and used his guild contribution points to enter the guild workshop.

he placed a set of materials to make an advanced-level incendiary bomb on the operating table.

After wave after wave of failures, he finally placed the materials on the operating table.

A ray of light flashed.

Rows of bullets, shining with a strange light, slowly appeared on the console.

Zhang Shan removed the bullet from the console and examined it.

Not bad.

The attributes of these high-level incendiary bombs were really powerful.

It was a pity that it was too expensive.

Not counting the proficiency, even if he had a 100% success rate, it would still cost five gold coins for a bullet.

Zhang Shan really could not afford such an expense.

However, it shouldn't be a problem to make a batch of them and use them occasionally.

After the first batch of bullets had been made, Zhang Shan continued to place the materials on the operating table.

Batch after batch of bullets were produced by him.

In just a short while, all 300 sets of materials had been consumed.

Zhang Shan had successfully produced a total of 1.3 million bullets.

One production could produce 10000 rounds of bullets.

In other words, Zhang Shan had used three hundred sets of materials and successfully made one hundred and thirty times.

He was quite lucky.

It was better than he had expected.

If the number of successful productions exceeded 100, then Zhang Shan's proficiency would have reached 100 points.

In addition to the 100 proficiency points of the Barbarian cannon.

Zhang Shan's current engineering was already a level 6 engineering Grandmaster, with 200 proficiency points.

As long as he could get another level 6 engineering recipe, he could advance his engineering level to Level 7 legendary master.

that was the same level as master lu back then.

Just thinking about it made him look forward to it.

However, a level 6 engineering recipe was not easy to obtain.

Although Zhang Shan had obtained two blueprints in a row this time, it did not mean that the blueprints were easy to obtain.

In reality, every crafting recipe wasn't easy to get.

it was almost impossible to get all the recipes if he relied on himself to kill the BOSS.

The main thing was that he had to buy them from the auction house.

In short.

He had to spend money.

However, Zhang Shan was not in a hurry.

A level 6 engineering Grandmaster was more than enough.

For the time being, he didn't dare to hope for a higher level life profession.

Even if he managed to become a level Seven teleportation master, he would not be of much use for the time being.

Not to mention anything else, just the materials that were Grade 7 and above were already frighteningly rare.

In the auction house, there would also be Grade 7 materials.

But the number was pitifully small.

And every time Zhang Shan made one, he would need a huge amount of materials.

To him, individual materials were completely meaningless.

Even if Zhang Shan were to buy all the level Seven materials on the auction house, it would not be enough for him to increase his proficiency.

Let's leave it at that for now.

For the time being, he did not need to level up his engineering.

Unless he could get his hands on a level 7 or higher blueprint.

if not, zhang shan did not intend to deliberately level up his engineering.

There was no need for that.

I'll leave it to fate.

After a round of production, Zhang Shan looked at the time.

it was now past 11 pm.

It was still a little early from his usual sleeping time.

ever since he started playing this game, zhang shan would go to bed after 12 o'clock every day.

but now, he seemed to have nothing to do.

There was definitely no need to farm monsters.

What's the point of spamming for just a few dozen minutes?

Zhang Shan was too lazy to run away.

As for going to the city of ruins to farm for the saint's relic?

it didn't seem appropriate.

Every time he entered the city of the ruins, he would need to use a pass.

Although Zhang Shan did not lack a pass, there was no need to waste it.

using a pass only takes a few dozen minutes?

Wasn't this a waste?

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan said to his friends.

"I'll go offline first, you guys enjoy your time."

Zhang Shan had just finished speaking when the little fairy teased him.

"Brother Guan, you're so early today? Do you have an appointment with someone?"

Upon hearing this, Zhang Shan was speechless.

What was he asking for?

As a single dog, who could he ask out?

He wanted to ask the little Vixen out, but he didn't know how to start.

Zhang Shan's relationship with the little fairy, other than him still freeloading off her every day, had not made any progress.

Although he liked the little Vixen a little, he didn't know where to start.

He was very conflicted.

forget it, i'll go offline and sleep.

Zhang Shan replied.

there's nothing to do today. I'll go offline and sleep. I'll come online earlier tomorrow.

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he went offline and exited the game.

The next day, Zhang Shan woke up early. He casually packed up, ate something, and logged into the game.

after entering the game, zhang shan immediately took out a pass and entered the city of the ruins.

He continued to farm for the saint's relics.

He still wanted to turn his hand cannon into a Saint after nine transformations.

If he didn't get more Saint artifacts, how could he get a Saint artifact?

if he wanted to turn the hand cannon nine times into a saint, wouldn't he have to store thousands of saint relics?

This was if he was lucky enough.

Otherwise, no matter how many saint's relics there were, they would be useless.

Zhang Shan did not think too much.

In any case, he just had to brush it with all his might.

when he had collected enough saint's relics, he would go for a divine weapon upgrade.

zhang shan was alone in the city of the ruins, quietly farming monsters.

He farmed all the way until night time when wind and cloud blade called out to him.

boss, are you back yet? the monster attack is about to begin.

"I'll be back immediately."

"Speed."

"yes, yes."

After Zhang Shan had destroyed a wave of zombies, he found a safe place to channel his return to the city.

After returning to Dangyang city, he opened his backpack and checked his gains for the day.

Not bad.

He had obtained a total of 21 saint's relics today.

besides, it was only seven o'clock. if he continued to play until he went to bed at night ...

As long as his luck wasn't too bad, he should be able to get 30 saint's relics in a day.

with zhang shan's level and damage ability, it continued to increase.

The speed at which he was killing the zombie monsters was getting faster and faster.

In the past, it would take more than 20 minutes to kill four zombie monsters.

Now, he only needed to fight for six to seven minutes and he would be able to take care of the four zombie monsters.

With an increase in his grinding speed, he would naturally be able to obtain more saint's relics.

And this speed would only get faster and faster.

That was because Zhang Shan's level was also slowly increasing.

Zhang Shan's current level was 77.

When he reached level 80, his farming speed would definitely have a qualitative change.

At that time, he might be able to get hundreds of saint's relics in a day.

The nine transformations of a divine weapon was very difficult.

However, to Zhang Shan, it did not seem to be something that he could only hope for.

Perhaps in a few more months, Zhang Shan would really be able to create a holy weapon.

Looking at the 21 saint relics in his bag, Zhang Shan could not help but feel his hands itch.

He thought.

Why don't I try using the hand cannon to charge a divine weapon rank four?

However, when he thought about the success rate of the fourth Transformation of a divine weapon, Zhang Shan felt a little unconfident.

The fourth Transformation of a divine weapon required the consumption of four Saint relics, and the success rate was only six percent.

Such a low success rate was enough to make one feel despair.

He felt that if he didn't have luck, it would be difficult to succeed.

Whatever, let's try it out first.

At most, I'll just treat it as a waste of time today.

He did as he thought.

Zhang Shan opened the equipment panel, removed Aglu's hand cannon, and placed it into the reincarnation pool.

Then, he took out the four Saint relics from his backpack and put them into the reincarnation pool.

Confirm promotion.

A dazzling light flashed, and the Ascension was successful.

Hahahahaha.

Seeing the flash of light, Zhang Shan's heart was practically blooming with joy.

It was a little unbelievable that he had succeeded in one go.

A success rate of 6% allowed him to succeed in one go?

It was wonderful.

Zhang Shan had not expected that his luck would be so good this time.

It felt like he was possessed by the God of luck.

Again.

If there was profit, he would continue to work.

zhang shan once again placed the five saint relics into the reincarnation pool.

Confirm promotion.

However, a gray aura floated past.

nothing.

This wave did not succeed.

The success rate of a divine weapon rank five was only three percent.

the difficulty has been doubled.

But Zhang Shan thought.

There was not much difference between 3% and 6%.

It all depended on luck anyway.

Again.

Zhang Shan once again took out five Saint relics and placed them into the reincarnation pool.

It was still a failure.

Looking at his bag, there were still eight Saint relics left.

Zhang Shan could not help but shake his head.

Forget it, let's call it a day.

If the situation wasn't right, they would stop their losses in time.

He couldn't do what he did last time when he obtained the tears of the heavenly Eagle King.

He had wasted over 90 Saint relics and still had not managed to get the Tear of the Sky Eagle King to rank three.

It hurt.

he had to learn to be more obedient in the future.

When he saw that the situation was not right, he quickly stopped.

He could save the saint's relic for now and come back for it next time.

Anyway, he had already made a big profit this time.

he had used fourteen saint relics to upgrade aglu's hand cannon to rank four.

Good luck is not common, one must be content with what he has.

Zhang Shan took Aglu's hand cannon out of the rotating pool to check.

Aruge's long-barreled hand cannon (God equipment, rank four): Physical attack: 17569-17569, agility: +1200

After the hand cannon had turned four times, its attack power had once again increased by 1600.

Taking into account all the various bonuses, it would increase his interface attack power by 3000 to 4000.

With the double effect of the killer book, his attack power had increased by more than 7000.

This was very satisfying.

He looked at his Character panel.

Looking at his current attack power, how strong had it become?

Checking attributes:

[character: Bodhisattva of six tubes]

[occupation: Hunter]

[title: human hero (equipped), nemesis of demons]

[merit points: 501698 (Eagle general)]

[level: 77]

[hp: 3910648]

[MP: 58800]

[physical attack: 142388-148776]

[strength: 3422]

[agility: 11986]

[intelligence: 3422]

[defense: 21669]

Luck: 9

[endowment: king of passive (every time you kill a monster, there is a chance to randomly obtain a passive skill from the monster. the chance of triggering it is one in a million.)]

Skill

Looking at his own character's attributes, Zhang Shan could not help but feel a little intoxicated.

he was simply too strong!

The attack power of Zhang Ji's panel had almost reached 150000.

including the killer book's double effect, that would be close to 300000 attack power.

Zhang Shan still had eight more, which were the special effect that increased damage by 10% and the set attribute.

In this way, his current theoretical damage was about 540000.

If you add the priest's attack blessing state ...

Then Zhang Shan's theoretical damage was about 640000.

With such terrifying damage, what kind of BOSS would he not be able to kill?

other than the demon god, zhang shan could fight any other BOSS as he pleased.

His current damage ability was stronger than most bosses.

Zhang Shan had truly grown into a boss-level player.

It was very beautiful.

Chapter 587 General strongman of the demon race

After upgrading ah Lu's hand cannon to a divine weapon rank four, Zhang Shan's strength had increased by a small amount.

Even though he already had more than 500000 damage in theory.

This time, it only increased the theoretical damage by more than 10000. It did not seem to have increased much.

but one had to know, this was only rank four.

he still had a lot of room for improvement.

Other than the hand cannon, Zhang Shan's God equipment accessories were only at the second class.

If he could upgrade the three accessories as well.

Then, Zhang Shan's strength would have a qualitative leap.

However, this had to be done slowly.

It was not something that could be done overnight if one wanted to upgrade a divine weapon.

As long as the path was still there, Zhang Shan's strength could naturally be gradually improved.

After activating the fourth revolution of the hand cannon, Zhang Shan quickly teleported to the teleportation Hall, and then teleported to the heaven Knife City.

When he arrived at the heaven Knife City, almost everyone in the wind and cloud Guild had arrived.

In the heaven Knife City, there were guild members wandering around everywhere.

in addition to the people from the wind and cloud guild, there were also some foreign players who were currently touring the heaven knife city.

It was not even 7:30 yet, and there was still more than half an hour before the monster attack.

Wind cloud blade had yet to give the order to clear the area.

For the time being, these foreign players could still walk around the heavenly Knife City.

After all, these people had spent 10000 gold coins on teleportation fees to get to the heavenly Knife City.

To Windcloud blade, these foreign players were his customers.

Only when there were players coming over from time to time would this heavenly Knife City bring benefits to wind and cloud blade.

Otherwise, why would he take down this city with so much effort?

It couldn't be that he had invested so much just for the title of city Lord.

Wind and cloud blade had taken over the city, but didn't he still value the benefits that the city would bring him in the future?

Since that was the case, he naturally wouldn't stop other players from visiting the city.

In reality, Windcloud blade could not wait for more players to come to his city.

Hence, up until now, wind cloud blade had yet to give the order to clear the area.

however, when the event was about to start, these foreign players would have to leave.

If they really did not leave, Windcloud blade would definitely order his men to clear out these foreign players.

They couldn't let these foreign players interfere with their city defense.

Originally, the defense of the city this time was already a little uncertain.

Here, they were all Max-level demonic monsters.

As for the Guild members, most of them were still around level 40 or 50.

in the face of these powerful monsters.

If someone were to cause trouble, would they still be able to defend the city?

After Zhang Shan was teleported to the heaven Knife City, he immediately checked the team information and found the location of wind cloud blade.

then, he teleported over.

ever since he had the title of human hero, it had been very convenient for him to run around in the city.

As long as it was a human city, they could use teleportation.

Zhang Shan teleported and arrived at the East Gate tower.

At this moment, Windcloud blade and the Guild's big shots were gathered on the city gate tower, talking nonsense.

Seeing Zhang Shan come over, a group of Guild bosses came up to greet him enthusiastically.

"The six-barreled boss is here."

"Big brother, help me conquer a city too."

that's right. Big brother, I also want to be a city Lord. Help me conquer a Demon City.

when the guild's big shots saw that wind cloud blade had taken over a city and become its castellan, they could not help but feel envious.

They also wanted to be city Lords.

When they saw Zhang Shan coming over, they wanted to cozy up to him.

Seeing these big shots being so enthusiastic, Zhang Shan could not help but be a little speechless.

Damn it, this was not a construction game. How could everyone have a city Lord position?

Where was he going to find so many Fiend Race cities and let these people become city Lords?

Zhang Shan said perfunctorily.

okay, call me when you find a Demon City. It's easy to attack a city. It can be solved in two or three hours.

right.

To Zhang Shan, attacking a Demon City was not a big deal.

As long as you can find a Demon City, I'll help you conquer it.

With Zhang Shan's current strength, he would be able to take down a Demon City in two to three hours.

As for whether or not you can find the demon City, that's your own business.

You can't expect me to help you find a Demon City, conquer it, and then you can be the city Lord.

This was a little inappropriate.

This was not how a nanny should be.

Of course, these guilds 'bosses were just envious of Windcloud blade, so they were just casually saying this.

they did not really expect zhang shan to help them take down a city.

This wasn't realistic at all.

No one knew how many demon cities there were in the game.

but there was definitely a limit to this, and it was impossible for everyone to become a city lord.

After all, there were only a few players who could become city Lords.

However, after Zhang Shan finished speaking, they became even more depressed.

“Where can we go to find a Demon City?”

that’s right. There are Max-level wild monsters all around us. As long as we leave the city, we’ll be killed by the small monsters. It’s impossible to move at all. There’s no way to find the demon City.

sigh, my dream of becoming the city Lord has been shattered in an instant.

haha, you can put your pillow higher when you sleep at night. Maybe you can become the city Lord in your dreams.

“Go to hell.”

Everyone waited quietly for the event to start while happily blowing water.

When it was 7:50 pm, Windcloud blade announced in the regional channel.

“Non-members of the wind cloud Guild, please leave the heavenly Knife City as soon as possible. The monster attack is about to begin, please do not interfere with our city defense. If you refuse to quit, we’ll have to take action.”

Upon hearing Windcloud blade’s words, the players from the various countries all left the heavenly Blade City.

However, not everyone was so easy to talk to.

Some of them were completely disdainful of Windcloud blade’s words as they ridiculed him in the regional channel.

“What city are you guys guarding? this city will definitely be broken. i’ll stay in the city and quietly watch you guys get chopped into pieces by the demon race monsters. if you have the guts, then come and kill me.”

“That’s right, what’s so great about being a city Lord?”

ignore him. Let’s play our own game. I don’t believe that wind and cloud blade would dare to cut us down.

After Windcloud blade finished speaking, most of the foreign players tactfully left the heavenly Knife City.

However, there was also a small portion of players who felt that they were the third boss.

Self-righteous.

They felt that wind and cloud blade did not dare to clear the field, or he did not have the time to care about them.

Therefore, they quietly found a place to hide in the city and prepared to come out and cause destruction when the monster attack began.

In fact, they would always encounter such idiots before they defended the city.

However, these people were not the least of his concerns.

For this city defense Battle, the wind and cloud Guild's 200000 members had all been mobilized.

With so many people here, it was simply too easy to find and kill the rats hiding in the city.

After announcing the clear, Windcloud blade immediately announced in the Guild channel.

"I'll have to trouble everyone to move and clear out all the non-guild members who haven't left the city."

haha, it's just a small matter. I love killing people.

"my babies, don't run. big brother is here, hehe."

The 200,000 players of the wind cloud Guild were quickly dispatched to search the heaven Knife City.

they quickly picked out some of the hidden foreign players and killed them.

A few minutes later, only the members of the wind and cloud Guild were left in the entire heaven Knife City.

As for the players who were originally visiting the heavenly Knife City, they had either retreated by themselves or had been cut down.

If they wanted to watch the monster attack of the heavenly Knife City, they could do so.

However, he could only lie on the ground and watch.

In the entire heaven Knife City, only members of the wind and cloud Guild could stand.

after clearing out all the outsiders, everyone quickly returned to the city wall and prepared to defend.

as for the people in the heavenly knife city, they didn't even leave a single person behind.

Windcloud blade had set up ten intermediate arrow towers outside the teleportation Hall.

With these arrow towers, there was no need to worry about people coming to destroy the city while they were defending it.

With the current strength of the players, it was impossible to break through the blockade of the ten arrow towers.

It was eight in the evening.

Suddenly, war drums were beating in the distance, and horns were blowing.

The monster attack on the heavenly Knife City had begun.

Zhang Shan stood on the East Gate tower, looking at a black line in the distance, quickly spreading over here.

It didn't take long for the black line to turn into a Black Sea.

Countless demon strongmen were rapidly approaching the heavenly Knife City.

When these demonic strongmen were 500 yards away from the heavenly Knife City ...

The cannons on the city wall fired.

the barbazu cannons began to fire, and one after another, they rapidly pounced towards the demon strongmen outside the city.

large groups of demon strongmen were directly cleared.

Every time a Cannonball landed, it would clear out a large open space.

The power of the barbatian cannon was terrifying.

No matter how many monsters were attacking the city, they could not get close to the city wall at all.

The cannons had cleared the area far away from the city walls.

Even if there were some who managed to escape, they could barely get within a hundred yards of the city wall.

They were also quickly swept down by the arrow towers.

as for zhang shan and the others who were defending the city, they had nothing to do.

Everyone could only stand on top of the city wall and watch the battle. They didn't even need to do anything.

Seeing the power of the barbatian cannon, everyone couldn't help but take a deep breath.

"holy sh * t, these cannons are too powerful."

"He's really fierce."

f * ck, these cannons are equivalent to countless players with ultimate skills.

"the players" ultimate skills can't be compared to these cannons."

"Yeah, these cannons are much stronger than the players 'ultimate skills."

that's right. The ultimate skill can only be used once a day, but these cannons can fire once every five seconds. It's unbelievably powerful.

I think that with these cannons, we don't need to defend the city at all. Let's just stand on the city wall and watch the show for two hours until the event is over? "

"That's impossible. Although we don't have to do anything now, when the BOSS comes out, these cannons won't be able to kill it. We'll still have to rely on ourselves to kill it."

Oh, that's right. There's still a BOSS in the monster attack.

"So here's the problem, how are we going to fight a max level BOSS? Can we win?"

"What are you thinking about? what does fighting the BOSS have to do with you? You just need to watch the show."

that's right. With the six-barreled boss, fighting the BOSS is as easy as cutting up a chicken. There's no need for us noobs.

you can't say that. There's only one six-barreled boss. How could he have killed so many bosses? " that's true. We'll just follow the arrangements. I just hope that Big Boss one blade will give out red packets later. I want to snatch a big red packet, hehe.

haha, you're right. It's been a long time since I've been on the Guild channel and snatching red packets. I really miss it.

When everyone was watching the barbatian cannon on top of the city wall unleash its power, they were completely helpless.

At that moment, Windcloud blade was discussing with Feng Yun realm about the next boss that would attack the city.

"Boss, you can start arranging the team. First, gather all the Warriors in the Guild and spread them out outside the other three city gates."

when the boss comes up, let the warrior players take turns to use charge to slow the boss down and buy time for the cannons on the city gate tower until the boss is killed.

This was the strategy that Zhang Shan and wind and cloud blade had discussed last night.

It was also the key for them to defend the heavenly Knife City.

This was because other than Zhang Shan, no one else would be able to take on the BOSS this time.

The bosses in this siege would definitely be max-level bosses.

Not to mention a Max-level real-name BOSS, even if it was only an orange-colored BOSS, others might not be able to beat it.

They had to rely on the Lord barbarian cannon on top of the city wall to have a chance of killing the BOSS.

Upon hearing Windcloud blade's words, Feng Yun realm nodded and said.

"You guys focus on defending the city. I'll make the arrangements."

After Feng Yun realm finished speaking, he began to gather the Warriors in the Guild outside the three city gates.

As for the East Gate, there was no need for them.

There was Zhang Shan here, so there was no need for any technique.

Even if Zhang Shan charged forward alone, he would still be able to kill the BOSS.

The wind and cloud Guild had 200000 members, and there were at least 50000 Warriors.

Both Guardian and Berserker classes had the charge skill.

Feng Yun realm arranged for the Warriors in the Guild to be stationed outside the other three city gates and pushed forward to a position of 500 yards from the city gates.

This was the maximum firing range of the barbatian cannon.

From there, they had to slow the BOSS down and use the cannon to kill the BOSS.

Time passed by slowly.

everyone stood on top of the city wall, quietly watching the cannon's might, and at the same time boasting.

Almost everyone didn't even move a finger. The demonic monsters that were attacking the city were all knocked down by all kinds of firepower.

When it was 8:30, a sharp-eyed guild member suddenly shouted.

look over there! Is that the BOSS? "

Zhang Shan followed the direction of the finger, but he did not see anything.

zhang shan did not see any special monsters.

In his opinion, all the demons looked the same. There was no difference.

As for the words of that guild member, Zhang Shan was very suspicious.

shouldn't the bosses that attacked the city be big?

If that was the case, there was no way he could not see it.

But the problem was, Zhang Shan did not see any tall figures among the group of monsters.

brother, where's the BOSS? why didn't I see him? don't you report to me so quickly.

it's true. I just saw a red monster name among the monsters.

that's impossible. Could the BOSS be hiding among the demonic strongmen? "

"No way, there's such a thing?"

Just as everyone was making all sorts of guesses.

The Warriors outside the other three city gates were also shouting madly.

"The BOSS is here, the red demonic general Hercules."

"are you sure? Are you sure you didn't see wrongly?"

"I'm not blind, how could I be wrong?"

The Warriors who were standing outside the city and preparing to slow the BOSS were even closer to the monsters.

They were standing 500 yards away from the city, so they could see the BOSS even earlier.

After double-checking, everyone knew that the BOSS had finally arrived.

zhang shan said to feng yun realm who was beside him.

“The BOSS is here, let’s go.”

“Let’s go,” he said.

Zhang Shan teleported below the city gate, and then took the lead, quickly rushing towards the group of monsters in the distance.

The bosses of the other guilds followed behind.

As for wind and cloud blade himself, he did not follow them.

As the city Lord of the heavenly Knife City, he had to stay in the city to observe the situation.

In case a BOSS attacked the heaven Knife City, he had to be ready to repair the city wall at any time.

For the sake of defending the city this time, unstable blade had prepared a large amount of gold coins.

Regardless of whether he could use it or not, he had to be prepared.

If they really could not hold on any longer, they would have to rely on gold coins to repair the city walls.

zhang shan quickly dashed into the distance.

After a while, he saw the BOSS hidden among the monsters.

the general of the demons.

The BOSS was hidden among the demonic strongmen and looked exactly like the small monsters.

no wonder they didn’t see it when they were standing on the city wall.

What the f * ck, the BOSS looked like a small monster, and they were so far away just now.

How could he tell?

At this moment, the general of the demonic race was charging out of the Horde of monsters and toward the heavenly Knife City.

The Barbarian cannon on the city wall was still firing non-stop, killing a large number of monsters.

A large area was cleared with one shot.

however, the general was still among the monsters in the distance. he had not yet entered the range of the cannons.

Zhang Shan rode on the red Rabbit horse, carrying the Aglu hand cannon, and directly charged towards the general of the demons.

Zhang Shan had no interest in using the cannons on the city walls to help him deal damage.

According to the game's mechanics, bosses that had city defense equipment participating in the attack would almost never drop anything good.

Not only would they not drop any good items, but their experience points would also decrease.

The system would deduct the damage dealt by the city defense equipment and the experience points earned based on the damage ratio.

in other words, if half of the BOSS's hp was dealt by the city's defensive equipment ...

after defeating the BOSS, they would only get half of the experience points.

anyway, it was just a normal red BOSS. zhang shan could totally deal with it.

He would not need to rely on the damage of the [barbatian cannon] to defeat the BOSS.

Zhang Shan cleared the monsters along the way, and the other guild leaders followed closely behind him.

But soon, these guild leaders couldn't move anymore.

Seeing so many demonic monsterlings around him, a guild leader called out in a depressed manner.

"Damn, we can't get through."

not only that, but we can't even stand on our own feet. A few random monsters can kill me.

"We're done, we're done. We can't fight this BOSS."

The big shots of the guilds couldn't block the attacks of the small monsters at all.

Even with Zhang Shan leading the way, it would not work.

Zhang Shan could only ensure that the small monsters in front were cleared.

however, there were still countless monsters coming over. they couldn't stop them.

No matter how strong Zhang Shan was, he could not clear all the small monsters from all directions.

The bosses of the guilds had no choice but to stand within the range of the barbatian cannon, unable to advance any further.

the number of guild leaders who could keep up with zhang shan, including feng yun realm, was less than ten.

This also included boss Wu, the little fairy, and heart moves with me.

However, Zhang Shan did not care about this.

In Zhang Shan's eyes, facing these max level monsters, those Guild bosses were actually not much different from ordinary guild members.

They could only watch the fun.

as for fighting the BOSS?

then i'd better wash up and sleep.

They were still far from it.

Zhang Shan quickly made his way from the group of small monsters to the front of the general.

Looking at the black-armored general with a black knife in front of him, Zhang Shan opened fire decisively.

Countless bullets were like raindrops, sweeping toward the general.

Damage was dealt continuously between the demonic strongman general and the monsters.

After being attacked, the general of the demonic race also quickly killed its way out of the group of monsters.

a blade was aimed at zhang shan's head.

Damage -783543.

It was alright.

Less than 800000 damage.

Although Zhang Shan did not have the heart of the demon Dragon, his HP was still more than 3.9 million.

A damage of less than 800000 was a piece of cake to him.

it was not a threat to him at all.

A normal red BOSS would be like this.

Even if it was a red BOSS at its maximum level, in front of Zhang Shan, it was not considered a powerful character.

To Zhang Shan, it was just a matter of time.

As for General Li of the demon race, he did not care about the damage that he had dealt to Zhang Shan.

Relying on the passive support of catapulting, Zhang Shan's powerful lifesteal ability was more than enough to deal with the boss's damage.

Chapter 588 There are always more solutions than difficulties

Zhang Shan killed his way from the group of small monsters to the front of the general of the demon race strongmen. Then, he started to fight.

Boss Wu and the other guild leaders, about seven or eight people, followed behind him.

As for the other guild leaders, they couldn't follow him.

They could not withstand the damage from the monsters, so they could only watch the show from afar under the protection of the cannon of barbarian.

Zhang Shan lifted his hand cannon and swept it across the general. He was not even interested in checking the BOSS 'attributes.

What's so good about a normal red BOSS?

Even if it was a max level red BOSS, Zhang Shan had no interest in it. He went to check its attributes.

It wasn't like he had never fought a BOSS like this before.

During the siege yesterday, he had killed five Max-level red bosses.

furthermore, he was fighting alongside the demon city lord.

Right now, it was just a single demon strongman general. Zhang Shan did not care at all.

Anyway, he could just casually call.

On Zhang Shan's side, they were holding the general of the demons and were attacking.

outside the other three city gates, the fire had already been set up.

Seeing the demonic general rush out of the group of monsters, the warrior players outside the city began to take turns to charge.

One of them charged forward and was instantly killed by the BOSS. The second person followed.

The BOSS's movement speed became slower than a turtle under their continuous charge.

the 12 barbarian cannons on the city gate tower continued to fire.

The health of the general of the strong demon soldiers dropped rapidly.

Twelve cannons firing at the same time, their damage was not any less than Zhang Shan's, and was even much stronger.

However, the attacking speed of the [barbarian cannon] was very slow. It could only fire a single shot every five seconds.

For the time being, it would be Zhang Shan who would deal with the BOSS first.

Wind and cloud blade stood on top of the three city gates, constantly using teleportation to observe the situation.

He was afraid that the warrior players would not be able to slow the BOSS down.

According to everyone's estimation, using charge would definitely delay the BOSS's advance, and then use the cannons to kill the BOSS.

But even so, who knew if there would be any accidents?

In the game, all sorts of accidents could happen at any time.

If the warrior players did not use their charge skill in time, the BOSS would be able to get close to the city wall easily.

If that was the case, he would need wind and cloud blade to repair the city wall.

This was only the first BOSS.

If they couldn't even stop the first wave of bosses, how were they going to stop the next two waves?
hence, wind cloud blade was extremely nervous.

However, from the looks of it, there shouldn't be any problems.

Under the continuous charge of the warrior players outside the city, the demon generals outside the three city gates were all held back.

All they had to do was wait for the cannons on the city gate tower to blow up the BOSS.

Not only that, but they also wanted to speed up the BOSS fight.

Windcloud blade had even called over some long-range professional players from the city walls who were watching the show.

They also joined in the attack on the BOSS.

Even though the damage they dealt was pitifully small.

However, it was also good to be able to deal more damage.

For Windcloud blade, he had to defeat the BOSS as soon as possible to prevent any accidents from happening.

Windcloud blade continued to make adjustments as he spoke in the Guild channel.

brothers, let's do it! We'll give out a 100 million gold coin red packet for every wave of bosses we kill.

"Haha, the boss is generous."

boss, don't worry. This wave of bosses is nothing. We'll definitely hold the BOSS back and won't let it have the chance to hurt the heavenly Knife City.

that's right. Boss, prepare your 100 million Yuan red packet. Hehe.

"My little finger is already thirsting for red packets,"

"I'm waiting for the big red packet."

While Zhang Shan and the others were fighting outside the city, the other guild members on the city wall were happily boasting.

They didn't have anything to do, and they weren't needed to fight monsters.

Of course.

Even so, Windcloud blade still managed to gather everyone in the Guild.

...

He didn't say that he would let these guild members go back because these people were useless.

It was still too early. Who knew if there would be any accidents later on?

If there was really an accident, they would use the human wave tactic.

Even if the effect wasn't that great, they had to rely on the number of players to delay the BOSS.

every second was a second.

Windcloud blade was more than happy to pull more people over to defend.

In reality, last night, Windcloud blade had really considered pulling in some players from other guilds to help defend the city.

However, after considering the issue of cooperation, he gave up.

in many cases, if they didn't cooperate well, it might even have the opposite effect.

If they pulled in foreign players to defend the city, there might even be accidental injuries.

This was very difficult to handle.

Hence, after discussing with everyone, Windcloud blade decided to only use his guild members to defend.

They didn't ask for help from the other guilds.

when wind and cloud blade announced that he would be giving out red packets, he greatly aroused the enthusiasm of the guild members.

The warrior players outside the city became even more desperate.

Even though they would definitely die immediately if they charged forward.

However, it did not matter.

It wouldn't be a loss to just hang here.

After the BOSS was defeated, the Guild's support classes would revive the players.

He didn't need to care at all.

Besides, in order to get a big red packet, even if he really died once, it wouldn't be a big deal.

To normal guild members, snatching a wave of red packets was better than anything else.

A 100 million red packet, all 200000 players in the Guild would fight for it.

If they were lucky, they might be able to get it. It would cost hundreds of thousands of gold coins.
it was simply a wave of sudden wealth.

Even if he was unlucky, he could probably get a few hundred gold coins.

After all, there were only a few people who had terrible luck.

even if everyone only managed to get an average of 500 gold coins, it would still be worth it.

For ordinary players, 500 gold coins was a small profit.

Everyone's enthusiasm was high. Facing the ferocious BOSS, they were not afraid at all. They kept using the charge skill to slow the BOSS.

Compared to the other three city gates, the warrior players had to use a suicidal charge to stall the BOSS.

On Zhang Shan's side, it was much easier.

Zhang Shan pulled the BOSS by himself, and the seven or eight people around him attacked together.

Under their continuous attacks, the general's HP was quickly reduced to 80%.

A huge Demon God's shadow slowly rose behind the BOSS.

Demon race's will skill.

As the BOSS used its skills, everyone's HP began to drop rapidly.

However, this did not matter.

The few big bosses who could keep up with Zhang Shan all had very strong equipment.

They could completely withstand the damage from the demonic god Phantom.

Besides, they still had boss Wu and Feng Yunqing, the two supports.

The two of them healed five or six people and easily survived a wave of the BOSS's skills.

After the wave of skills had passed, everyone continued to surround the demonic strongman general and launched a fierce attack.

As everyone continued to attack, the general's HP was dropping rapidly.

After a while, the BOSS's HP was almost reduced to half.

Feng Yun realm said.

"The BOSS is about to use its ultimate skill. How are we going to retreat?"

that's right. There are only small monsters around us. We can't retreat at all. Are we just going to wait for death? " retreat, my ass. Hurry up and go offline to avoid the BOSS's big move. We'll come back online later.

"Oh, that's right, we can also go offline."

"Haha, if I don't go offline now, when will I?"

In the past, when they fought a BOSS, they would usually clear out the surrounding monsters first.

That way, when the BOSS was about to use its ultimate skill, he could move freely.

However, he could not do that here.

The surroundings were filled with max level demon strongmen. Even Zhang Shan would not be able to clear all these small monsters.

faced with such a situation, feng yun realm could not react in time.

after being reminded by the others, he remembered that he could go offline in the game.

Seeing that the health of the demonic strongman general was about to drop to half, the seven or eight Guild bosses around Zhang Shan decisively chose to go offline to provide support.

Zhang Shan was the only one left on the scene, and he continued to attack the boss.

But it didn't matter.

Originally, the others were just slackers.

It didn't matter if they were there or not.

In fact, boss Wu, little fairy, and heart moves with me could still deal considerable damage.

the rest of them were complete hoodlums.

Their levels were too low, just over level 50.

Facing the demonic strongman general, a Max-level red boss, they simply couldn't deal much damage.

the majority of the damage was dealt by zhang shan alone.

Under Zhang Shan's continuous attacks, the demon strongman General's health quickly dropped to 50%.

The strong general of the demon race waved the big blade in his hand and slashed wildly in all directions.

Countless blade lights spread out in all directions.

huge damage values kept appearing above zhang shan's head.

However, Zhang Shan did not care about this at all.

It was just a small red BOSS. Even if it was a big move, the damage would only be so-so.

he couldn't be killed at all.

According to previous experience, a max level red BOSS's attack power was usually 400000.

Even if he used a high-level skill that dealt five times the damage, it would only deal two million damage.

although zhang shan was not equipped with the heart of the demon dragon, his hp was still more than 3.9 million.

With such a high HP, it was impossible for the general of the demon race's strongman to instantly kill him.

As long as he was not killed in an instant, Zhang Shan could easily survive with his powerful lifesteal ability.

after five seconds, the BOSS's ultimate skill ended.

Zhang Shan's health bar was still full.

The BOSS's ultimate skill, to Zhang Shan, was no different from normal damage.

After a while, the bosses who had gone offline went back online to attack the BOSS.

keep it up! Let's try to kill the BOSS in one go!

"don't worry, we'll definitely be able to destroy it in one wave. It's just a small red BOSS, and it's nothing."

the six-barreled boss is still the best. Such a powerful BOSS was killed as easily as a chicken by the six-barreled boss.

of course. Look at the six-barreled boss's equipment. Do you think a full set of divine artifacts is a joke? " that's true. A full set of divine artifacts is terrifying.

"I wonder when I'll be able to get a full set of divine artifacts?"

"Don't even think about it. Without a year or two, I'm afraid there's no hope of getting a complete set of divine artifacts."

it would be great if I could get a full set of divine artifacts in one or two years. I'm just afraid that it won't work.

who knows? let's take it slow. We'll get a divine weapon.

that's right, there will always be godly items. Work hard. We'll definitely get a few godly items from today's monster attack.

yes, at the end, there will definitely be a real name BOSS. At that time, the God-tiered item will be here.

kill it quickly. Kill this demonic strongman general and wait for the next BOSS.

Under their continuous attacks, the general's health bar was quickly reduced to zero.

Zhang Shan's Holy shot dealt more than 6000000 damage, directly killing the BOSS.

≪ system announcement: congratulations to Feng Yun realm, six-barreled Bodhisattva, and heart follows me Pixiu for killing the demonic strongman general. ≫ skill point +1, medal +100.

“Haha, I’ve got one.”

“Let’s go. We’ll go to the other three city gates to provide reinforcements.”

After blowing up the general of the demonic strongmen outside the East Gate, Zhang Shan led everyone and quickly killed their way out of the group of monsters.

The BOSS on their side had been killed, but the bosses on the other three gates had not been killed yet.

Zhang Shan led everyone and quickly rushed out of the group of monsters, then returned to the city.

He teleported and arrived at the West Gate.

He looked at the countless warrior players in the distance, who were charging at the BOSS continuously.

The BOSS was at least 400 yards away from the city gate.

In other words, from the moment the BOSS had appeared until now, it had yet to advance by 100 yards.

During this period of time, the Barbarian cannon on the city gate tower continued to fire at the BOSS.

Cannonballs were fired continuously.

the general’s health bar had already been reduced by more than half.

Zhang Shan took a look. Even without his support, these warrior players could drag the BOSS to its death.

Thinking of this, Zhang Shan could not help but sigh.

as expected, there were more solutions than difficulties.

even though no one else in the guild could stop the BOSS.

After all, these Max-level demonic strongmen could deal close to 800000 damage with a single slash.

In the wind and cloud Guild, other than Zhang Shan, no one else had more than 800000 HP.

In other words, no matter who went up, they would be killed by the BOSS in one hit.

However, no one could stop the BOSS.

however, with so many warrior players charging at the boss non-stop, and with the help of the cannons on the city gate tower, they could still take down the BOSS.

The warrior’s [charge] skill, coupled with the [barbarian cannon], was the perfect combination to defend the city against the BOSS.

Zhang Shan watched from outside the city for a while, and then quickly rushed up.

He held his cannon and swept it towards the general. He quickly took over the BOSS's aggro.

Seeing Zhang Shan coming over, the warrior players on the scene quickly retreated.

With Zhang Shan around, there was no need for them. They could continue to go forward and court death.

Zhang Shan's strength had long been deeply rooted in people's hearts.

especially after zhang shan had posted the video of him challenging the demon god on the game forum.

Everyone had a clearer understanding of Zhang Shan's strength.

A man who couldn't even kill a Demon God, why would he care about a small general of the demon race?

After Zhang Shan had pulled the BOSS 'aggro, everyone quickly gathered around again.

They surrounded the general and used all kinds of skills.

Even though they didn't actually deal much damage.

however, they couldn't fight against so many people.

with so many of them, even if each of them could only deal one to two thousand damage, the total damage would be a terrifying number.

With the addition of Zhang Shan, they quickly destroyed the general of the demons outside the West Gate.

Zhang Shan looked at his backpack.

Nothing was dropped this time, only two white grade equipment.

It was really trash.

With the city's defensive equipment, the BOSS would not drop anything good.

The red BOSS had only dropped white grade equipment. It was unbelievable.

But that was the truth.

But to Zhang Shan, it didn't matter.

Even if it was a red equipment, he would not be interested in it.

After dealing with the general of the strong demons outside the West Gate, Zhang Shan quickly went to the other two gates to provide support.

After a short while, the strongmen of the demon race outside the other two city gates were also blown up by them.

with everyone's hard work, the first wave of bosses was easily taken care of.

Although it did not drop anything good, everyone was a little regretful.

However, he did not allow the BOSS to cause any damage to the heavenly Knife City.

as for the city, it was well protected.

it could be said that they had defended the city perfectly this time.

If the next two waves of bosses could be as easy as this, then wind and cloud blade would be able to save a lot of gold coins to build the city wall.

After all the bosses were killed, the entire Guild channel was in an uproar.

“One blade City Master, quickly send out red packets.”

“yes, hurry up and send out red packets.”

“I’m going to give you a big red packet.”

“I’m waiting for the big red packet.”

after the BOSS was killed, everyone urged windcloud blade to send out red packets.

This time, they had managed to hold their ground completely. They had not allowed the BOSS to cause any damage to the heavenly Blade City.

It was equivalent to saving wind and cloud blade a huge sum of gold.

if it wasn’t for everyone trying their best to stall the BOSS.

even with the help of the lord of barbarian’s cannon, they could not stop the BOSS from advancing.

The strong general of the demon race would definitely be able to get close to the city wall.

If that happened, the boss would be able to cut down a large section of the city wall with a few casual slashes.

If that was the case, the amount of gold coins that wind and cloud blade had to use to repair the city wall would probably be an astronomical figure.

By stalling the boss, everyone was actually helping Windcloud blade save gold.

since i’ve helped you save gold coins, shouldn’t i give you a wave of red packets?

According to what Windcloud blade had said, he would have to give out a 100 million gold.

Hearing everyone’s urging, Windcloud blade quickly sent out a 100 million Gold Red packet in the Guild channel and said generously.

the 100 million gold coins red packet has arrived. It’s all up to everyone’s luck now, haha.

f * ck, the red packets have been sent out. Everyone, hurry up and grab them.

why are you panicking? everyone has a share anyway.

“Ah, ah, ah, ah, why did I only get 10 gold coins? City Lord one blade, how big is your red packet?”

haha, I got 50000 gold coins. I’m rich!

“F * ck, I only managed to get 100 gold coins.”

“You losers, watch me.”

“Haha, 200000 gold coins in hand, I’ve made a small fortune.”

“F * ck, what the hell is this gold coin?”

” how embarrassing. you dare to speak after snatching a gold coin. ”

“Haha, there’s such a bad person? You only managed to grab one gold coin from a 100 million gold coin red packet. Don’t tell me you haven’t washed your hands in years.”

“Wahahahaha, I got 500000 gold. The club will still be open tonight, is there anyone who wants to go? I’ll pay.”

“F * ck, go to the sea and work.”

after windcloud blade sent out the red packet, the guild channel instantly exploded.

If some people robbed more, there would naturally be others who robbed less.

some people were happy, and naturally some were sad.

However, to everyone, this was just an unexpected fortune.

Most of them had not been of much help in the defense of the city.

it’s already not bad that there are red packets to snatch.

Even if they only managed to grab one gold coin, it was still like picking up money.

Other than blaming himself for his bad luck, he had nothing to complain about.

zhang shan opened the red packet.

Two million gold coins.

Looking at the value of the gold coins, Zhang Shan did not dare to speak at all.

200,000 people were snatching a red packet of 100 million gold.

He had stolen two million Yuan by himself. This was snatching away the shares of many people.

But he had no choice, he was just lucky.

When luck comes, it can’t be stopped, hehe.

Even though Zhang Shan did not say anything.

However, the fact that he had stolen two million gold coins was quickly discovered by everyone.

Everyone could see how many red packets each person had received on the Guild channel.

When they saw Zhang Shan, who had actually snatched two million gold coins, their eyes turned red.

f * ck, six-barreled boss just got two million gold coins.

“it can’t be. is it really that heaven-defying? Let me see.”

f * ck, the six-barreled Big Shot is too abnormal.

f * ck, I’m feeling unfair. I’m not as good at fighting as the six-barreled boss, but why can’t I win against him when it comes to snatching red packets? ” the boss’s power is indeed all-round. He’s even so good at snatching red packets.

“Child of games confirmed.”

who would still dare to play with him? he’s too abnormal.

sigh, I just got 500 gold coins, and now it’s gone.

f * ck, don’t give it to me. Do you think 500 gold coins is too little? ”

“get lost. get lost as far as you can think.”

“hahaha.”

After killing a wave of bosses, a wave of red packets was snatched.

Everyone was in a sea of joy.

As for the monsters outside the city, no one paid any attention to them.

With the barbatian cannon and the intermediate arrow tower, no matter how many monsters there were, they would not be able to charge in.

What they had to deal with was only the BOSS that appeared in the event.

After defeating the BOSS, everyone had nothing to do.

wasn’t this just bragging?

It was fine.

Chapter 589 Four demon generals in front, back, left, right

After the first wave of the BOSS attack, everyone happily snatched a wave of red packets.

This time, Zhang Shan had managed to snatch two million gold coins. It could be considered a small profit.

Although to the current Zhang Shan, two million gold coins was not much.

His daily income in the demon-suppressing city was more than a million gold coins.

Everyone's level had just reached level 40 or 50, so they had to go to the demon-suppressing city to hunt for monsters above level 50.

Other than the demon-suppressing city, there was not much to gain from farming monsters in other places.

As more people went to the demon-suppressing city, Zhang Shan's profits naturally rose as well.

Just the teleportation fee alone was a little frighteningly high.

the demon-suppressing city charged 200 gold coins for every teleportation, and 100 gold coins were confiscated by the system.

The remaining 100 gold coins went to Zhang Shan.

As long as 10000 people were teleported to the demon-suppressing city every day, he would get 1000000 gold coins.

And in the game, there were so many players.

Sooner or later, they would go to the demon-suppressing city to grind and level up.

As time passed, Zhang Shan would only earn more and more money in the demon suppressing city.

Besides the teleportation fees, Zhang Shan could also earn tax revenue from the demon suppressing city.

However, compared to the teleportation fee, tax was only a small part of it.

However, this was not enough to deal with the number of people.

The more people there were, the more they spent, and the more taxes they had to pay.

Zhang Shan was guarding the demon-suppressing city, which was like guarding a Gold Mountain.

And it was a Gold Mountain that would not dry up in the short term.

it was only in the later stages of the game that most players would have reached level 60 or 70.

That was why they would leave the demon-suppressing city and go to higher level places to farm monsters.

However, that was a matter for the future.

For a long time, most players would not be able to reach level 60 or 70.

In the New World, it was not easy to level up.

Now, the demon-suppressing city could bring Zhang Shan millions of gold coins in income every day. However, this was not the peak of the demon-suppressing city's income.

There were also many players who had not even reached level 40. They did not plan to come to demon-suppressing city to farm monsters.

But they would have to come over sooner or later.

When their levels increased, where else could they go other than the demon-suppressing city?

In The Map of Heaven's Gate, other than demon-suppressing city, there were no wild monsters around the city that were above level 50.

The wild monsters in wind Cloud City started at level 70.

For most players, it was still too early to go to wind Cloud City to farm monsters.

Zhang Shan believed that with the passage of time, the benefits that the demon suppressing city would bring him would increase even more.

At that time, his hands would be tired from collecting money.

In this red envelope snatching session, Zhang Shan had managed to snatch two million gold coins.

it was just a drizzle.

after killing the first wave of bosses, everyone continued to watch the show from the city wall.

As for the warrior players who had fallen to the ground outside the city, they had long been revived by the Guild's support.

They continued to stand outside the city, waiting for the next wave of bosses.

It was nine in the evening.

the second wave of bosses arrived on time.

The BOSS that came this time was still the demonic general Hercules.

however, the appearance of the general this time was not like before, where there was only one.

But two.

This time, two strong demon generals appeared at each gate.

The four city gates added together meant that there were eight red bosses.

However, with his previous experience, it was not a big deal even if the number of bosses doubled.

With the skillful cooperation of all parties, they quickly blew up the eight strong demon generals.

the heavenly knife city was still fine.

Wind and cloud blade happily sent out another wave of red packets.

To Windcloud blade, not having to spend any gold coins to repair the city walls was his greatest victory.

...

As for giving out a 100 million gold, that was a small problem.

Compared to the huge amount of gold needed to repair the city walls ...

A 100 million red packet was really nothing.

This time, Zhang Shan's luck was slightly worse. He had only managed to snatch 100000 gold.

But it was still okay.

A 100 million Gold Red packet for 200000 guild members.

On average, each person could only get 500 gold coins.

Zhang Shan had managed to snatch 100000 gold coins, which was already far beyond the average.

However, after two waves of bosses had passed, not only did everyone not relax, they became even more nervous.

This was because everyone knew that the final BOSS was the key.

only by blocking the last wave of bosses would their city defense be considered a success.

That was if they could not stop the last wave.

Then all their previous efforts would have been in vain.

At this moment, Windcloud blade was extremely nervous. He was constantly encouraging everyone in the Guild channel.

"Good luck, everyone. There's only one wave left."

"if we can survive this last wave and defend the city, i'll give everyone a 200 million gold."

"If you can defend the city without any injuries, i'll give you 500 million gold coins."

"F * ck, 500 million gold coins? Big brother, are you serious?"

Yidao has already gone crazy. In order to secure his position as the city Lord, he's already gone crazy. Hehe.

" of course it's true. as long as you defend the city without any injuries, i'll give you 500 million gold coins. i'm honest with you. " haha, good luck, everyone. Let's fight for the last wave. Don't let the BOSS attack the heavenly Blade City. Let's let the boss deal a huge amount of damage.

"Let's work hard together for the red packet."

"For the big red packet."

"For 500 million gold."

Wind cloud blade's words greatly aroused everyone's enthusiasm.

However, Zhang Shan knew that this last wave would not be easy to defend.

This was because in this wave of bosses, there would definitely be a BOSS with a real name.

However, Zhang Shan was not too sure how many real name bosses would come this time. If it was only one.

That would be easy.

He led everyone to block the real-name BOSS, while the others held the bosses back. The bosses at the other three city gates were enough.

What he was afraid of was that every city gate would have a real-name BOSS.

If that was the case, it would be difficult to handle.

Zhang Shan could not split himself into two, and he could only guard one city gate.

He could not take care of the other three city gates.

Only after killing the BOSS in his hands could he go to the other direction to provide support.

But this would take time.

Real name bosses weren't easy to fight, as they had at least ten billion HP.

No matter how high Zhang Shan's damage was, he would still have to fight for a long time before he could kill him.

Windcloud blade and a group of guild leaders stood on top of the city gate, discussing how they could better defend against the last wave.

"there's only one wave left. does anyone have any good ideas?"

"Don't worry, the heavenly Knife City can't be broken."

that's right, what are you worrying about? if the BOSS really hits the city, then you can just repair the city wall, hehe.

Upon hearing this, Windcloud blade was rendered speechless.

Was this a matter of building a city wall?

If he really wanted to continue cultivating without a bottom line, he was afraid that no matter how many gold coins he prepared, he would not be able to stop it.

Using gold coins to build a city wall was like a bottomless pit. No amount of money would be enough.

The best way was to keep the BOSS outside the city walls.

At the very least, they couldn't let the BOSS continue to attack the city walls.

Someone suggested.

why don't we ask six-barreled boss to let the BOSS go? don't rush into the middle of the monsters anymore.

"yes, we can't get through the monsters, and we can't beat the cannons on the city gate. He might as well just let the BOSS come over and fight it together. after we're done here, we can quickly send reinforcements from other directions."

"This is a good idea, we can try it."

"But the problem is, if the cannon hits the BOSS, it won't drop anything good."

"f * ck, you're still thinking of getting good stuff at this point?"

this is a real-name BOSS! It's guaranteed to drop God-tier items. It'll be a pity if we waste it like this.

it's not a pity. There will be bosses to fight in the future. This time, I'll help one blade defend heaven Blade City.

"alright, then let's let him go."

hearing what everyone said, zhang shan did not have any objections.

If it didn't drop anything good, then so be it.

Anyway, Zhang Shan did not really care about the items that the BOSS dropped.

For Zhang Shan, who had no more need.

No matter what items the BOSS dropped, they would be sold for money.

He didn't need it.

As for making money?

If Zhang Shan wanted to earn money, it would be easy.

He had plenty of ways to earn money.

One more time wouldn't make a difference.

When he attacked the city yesterday, he had killed the demon City Lord and obtained that broken iron sword.

They were all sold for 300 million gold coins.

The five of them split it, and each of them received sixty million gold coins.

this speed of making money was simply too fast.

However, Zhang Shan was not too obsessed with making money.

If he really wanted to earn money, wouldn't it be better to sell saint's relics?

If he was willing to sell the saint's relic, it would definitely be a hit.

there were already many big shot players who had gotten their hands on divine equipment.

However, they didn't have the ability to go to the city of ruins to farm for saint's relics.

Although the game had introduced a divine weapon upgrade system, those big shots could only watch.

without the saint's relic, the divine weapons and equipment on them could not be upgraded at all.

If Zhang Shan was willing to sell it, he believed that if he sold it for a million gold coins each, those big bosses would definitely snatch it.

to those big shot players, spending money was nothing as long as they could improve their strength.

However, Zhang Shan did not want to sell the saint's relic.

Although he could get more than 20 or 30 in a day, he still didn't want to sell them.

There was no need for that.

he was not short of money.

Why did he need so much money?

There was no end to earning money.

As long as it was enough.

There was no need to be obsessed with making money.

To the current Zhang Shan, it was all good as long as he was having fun playing the game.

He had already earned enough money.

After discussing everything, everyone stood on top of the city gate tower and quietly waited for the last BOSS to arrive.

it was 9:30 in the evening.

Someone suddenly said in the Guild channel.

discovered real name BOSS, right general of the Nephilim race, Loke.

we've also found a real-name BOSS here. It's the Nephilim left general, Cleveland.

our BOSS has also appeared on our side. It's the former Nephilim general, ravro.

"The demon Empress-general Mandel is with us."

bosses with real names appeared at the four city gates at the same time, and the situation became tense.

The four great generals of the demon race appeared at the same time. It would not be easy to deal with them.

Just by hearing the names of these bosses, one could tell that these bosses must be very fierce.

When the last BOSS appeared, the entire Guild channel exploded.

There were real name bosses in all four directions, so how could he block them?

In their previous two city defense activities.

There had only been one BOSS with a real name in demon-suppressing city.

However, the two real-name bosses were coming from the same direction.

Zhang Shan alone was able to block the two real name bosses.

The four real name bosses that appeared this time attacked from four different directions.

This was not easy to deal with.

It could be said that this was the worst case scenario that everyone had expected.

“What do we do now? We can’t stop a real name BOSS.”

what are you thinking about? let’s not talk about real-name bosses. Even if it’s an orange-colored BOSS, you won’t be able to stop it. We just need to stall for time.

that’s right. Everyone, try your best to hold off the BOSS. We’ll wait for Big Boss six-barreled to solve the problem and then come back to help.

“brothers, it’s time to go all out.”

Warriors outside the city, get ready to use charge. Don’t be afraid even if you die. Someone will resurrect you.

He looked at the BOSS in the distance, who was rapidly advancing toward the heavenly Knife City from the crowd of monsters.

Zhang Shan patted wind and cloud blade’s shoulder and said.

“Get ready to build the city wall. I’m leaving.”

After Zhang Shan finished speaking, he teleported outside the city and rushed towards the BOSS.

As for wind and cloud blade’s hope of defending the city without being injured, Zhang Shan could only say this.

It was impossible.

A real name BOSS was not something that ordinary players could stop.

Even if the warrior players used their charge skill with all their might, they would not be able to last for long.

And if Zhang Shan wanted to take care of the BOSS on this side and then go to other directions to help, that would also require time.

more importantly, there were bosses with real names at all four city gates.

Even if he went over to help, he would only be able to do so in one direction.

There would definitely be a city gate that would not receive his reinforcements.

there would always be some bosses that would rush to the heaven knife city and attack the city walls.

other than letting wind and cloud blade prepare gold coins to repair the city wall, zhang shan could only kill the BOSS as soon as possible.

As long as he was fast enough, the pressure on blade of wind and cloud to repair the city wall would be greatly reduced.

zhang shan quickly approached the group of monsters in front.

When he was 400 yards away from the city gate, he stopped.

This time, he couldn't rush into the middle of the monsters and fight the BOSS.

That way, only he and a few others would be able to hit the BOSS, and the others could only watch the show.

The monsters in the distance were also beyond the range of the cannons.

Four hundred yards away from the city was just the right distance.

here, the cannons on the city gate tower could unleash their full firepower.

Originally, there were only two barbarian cannons on the East Gate.

In order to increase his firepower, Windcloud blade took out the items he had in his backpack.

There were also twelve cannons on the East Gate.

From Zhang Shan's position, he could get all the artillery support from the city gate tower.

The other bosses of the Guild could also join in the attack.

Zhang Shan brought the big bosses of the Guild and stood at their original position, waiting quietly.

They looked at the BOSS in the distance, who was quickly approaching them.

The general of the right of the demons, Locke.

the real-name BOSS that appeared in their direction was the right general of the nephilims, loke.

Why did Zhang Shan feel that this name was a little familiar?

He seemed to have heard it somewhere.

However, he didn't have time to think about this now.

When the BOSS came over, he just had to quickly kill it.

What's the point of thinking about those useless things?

In a short while, the right general of the Nephilims, Locke, rushed out of the group of monsters.

They directly charged towards the East Gate.

After the BOSS came over, the cannons on the gate tower quickly locked onto the BOSS.

The attacks of the city defense equipment were usually aimed at the target closest to them.

Now that the right general of the demons, Locke, was running fast, the cannons would naturally hit him.

However, although the Cannon's attack was locked on the BOSS, the cannon did not miss the other monsters.

The damage range of the barbatian cannon was a full 50 yards.

With such a large damage range, it could also cover the surrounding monsters while attacking the right general Loke.

Seeing the right general of the Nephilims, Locke, rushing over, Zhang Shan quickly opened fire.

Countless bullets were like raindrops, sweeping towards the right general of the demons.

In order to kill the BOSS faster, Zhang Shan did not change to the heart of the demon Dragon.

he was still equipped with the hand of madas.

The right general of the Nephilims, Loke, was a real-name BOSS, so he must be very powerful.

However, even without the heart of the demon Dragon, Zhang Shan's HP was still more than 3.9 million.

Zhang Shan thought.

He should be able to withstand the damage from the right general of the demons, Locke.

Zhang Shan opened fire and immediately pulled the BOSS over.

The right general of the demons, Locke, waved his large blade and appeared in front of Zhang Shan in an instant.

Loke's blade slashed down, stirring up an endless storm.

[damage -1589034]

the right general of the nephilims, locke, had taken away about 1.6 million hp from zhang shan with one strike.

Looking at the damage value, Zhang Shan did not panic.

It was alright.

he could still hold on.

As long as the Nephilim right general Loke did not have any outrageous skills, he would not need to use the heart of the demon Dragon.

When he equipped the hand of maedas, his attack speed could be increased by 50%.

This was very important.

Of course, his own safety was more important.

If he fell to the ground, it would be a complete mess.

However, for the time being, it seemed that he should be able to hold on without using the heart of the demon Dragon.

As Zhang Shan fired his shots, he checked the BOSS's attributes and skills.

Right general of the demon race, Locke (red): Level 100, attack 800000, health points 500.

Skill 1, Gale slash, skill 2, Storm Blade (passive), skill 3, demon descent, skill 4, flying slash.

Title: right general

[status: Holy demon's protection]

[Gale slash: when the right general of the Nephilims, Locke, slashes his sword, a Gale will blow, increasing damage by 100%.]

[storm blade (passive): when right general Locke attacks, there is a chance to trigger a storm, dealing five times the damage.]

[Demon God's descent: when in danger, the right general of the demons, Locke, will summon the demon God to assist in battle.]

[flying slash: the famous skill of right general Locke of the demon race. It pierces through the clouds and slashes in all directions.]

[range of effect: unlimited, 5x damage]

[right general (title): Locke is the right general of the Nephilims. He has the blessing of his race, which greatly increases his health points.]

[Holy demon's protection: Suan ni]

F * ck.

After seeing the skill of the right general of the Nephilims, Locke, Zhang Shan decisively switched to the heart of the demon Dragon.

Damn, I was too careless.

He almost flipped over.

He had never expected that Locke, the right general of the demons, would have a skill that could deal a 5x critical hit.

If this was a critical hit, wouldn't he die?

Right general Loke's attack was 800000, plus the damage from Gale slash, that was 1600000.

If it was a critical hit, wouldn't it deal 8000000 damage?

It was scary just thinking about it.

Fortunately, the boss had not dealt a critical hit.

Otherwise, there would be trouble.

Even if Zhang Shan died, he could still rely on his passive resurrection.

however, if he fell to the ground, what would happen to the guild leaders around him?

Without Zhang Shan holding the BOSS back, these people probably wouldn't even be able to last for ten seconds.

If they waited for Zhang Shan to resurrect and then fight the BOSS together, how much time would that waste?

To them, time was of the utmost importance.

They wanted to destroy the right general of the demons, Locke, in the shortest possible time, and then go to the other gates to provide reinforcements.

Fortunately, the BOSS did not deal a critical hit.

This would allow Zhang Shan to have time to change the heart of the demon Dragon.

after equipping the heart of the demon dragon, he didn't have to worry at all.

The right general of the Nephilims, Loke, could deal a terrifying eight million damage if it was a critical hit.

However, after Zhang Shan replaced it with the heart of the demon Dragon, his HP was already close to ten million.

No matter how high the BOSS's damage was, Zhang Shan would still be able to withstand it.

chapter 590-settling one when zhang shan saw that the right general of the nephilims, locke, had a passive that dealt five times the damage, he was dumbfounded.

He decisively put on the heart of the demon Dragon.

He couldn't do it without the heart of the Magic Dragon.

if he was hit by locke's critical hit, he would immediately fall to the ground.

Time was of the essence. They had to defeat the BOSS in the shortest time possible and then go to the other gates to provide support.

But safety was more important.

Even if he changed to the heart of the demon Dragon, Zhang Shan's attack speed would slow down a lot.

The damage dealt per unit of time would be much less.

But this was something that couldn't be helped.

compared to being defeated by the BOSS, it didn't matter if they were slower.

only zhang shan could withstand the BOSS's damage, then they could be said to be able to quickly defeat the BOSS.

If even Zhang Shan was killed, then they would have to go to the other city gates to provide support.

It would be good enough if they didn't destroy their own East Gate.

The more urgent the situation was, the calmer he had to be.

With stability in mind, they could help blade of wind and cloud defend the heavenly Blade City.

If chaos really broke out, then what was the point of them defending the city?

Zhang Shan's philosophy had always been to seek stability first, then speed.

If he couldn't stand firmly, everything would be for naught.

After Zhang Shan changed into the heart of the demon Dragon, he firmly held onto the right general of the demon race, lo.

-7862431 damage.

Close to 180,000 damage had almost emptied Zhang Shan's health bar.

Even if Zhang Shan had a strong blood-sucking ability, he could not suck back the blood in a short time.

The support boss standing behind Zhang Shan kept waving his weapon, quickly adding blood to his health.

Seeing the damage that the right general of the demons, Locke, had dealt to Zhang Shan, everyone could not believe their eyes.

Holy F * ck, that's blinding my eyes. That 7 million damage just now, was it for real? " how scary. This is only a real name BOSS, but it feels like it's even stronger than the demon God.

that's right. From the video that six-barreled boss posted, the demon God only dealt less than three million damage to him. However, this right general of the demon race, Locke, actually dealt nearly eight million damage. This is too fake.

that's not the same thing at all. The video that six-barreled boss posted was very short, and the demon God didn't deal any critical damage.

that's right. If the demon God also deals a critical hit, the damage will definitely exceed 10 million.

"F * ck, the bosses these days are getting more and more perverted. For weaklings like us who only have 100000 HP, there's no way we can survive."

"It's not like we can't do it, but we have to cross so many levels to fight bosses."

that's true. We can still fight a BOSS of the same level.

"Even if we can't beat a real-name BOSS of the same level, there shouldn't be such a big difference."

the six-barreled boss is still the best. He can still tank the BOSS's 8000000 damage.

"Yeah, he's more like a boss than a boss."

"A human BOSS, hehe."

"Don't talk nonsense, it's our turn."

" brothers, let's go! watch me, the mighty sky dragon! ha! "

After Zhang Shan had stabilized the BOSS, the surrounding guild leaders quickly followed up and attacked.

In addition to the other guild members, they had a few thousand people. They surrounded the right general of the demon race, Locke, and launched a rapid attack.

this time, it was different from before.

Previously, they could take it slow and not need too many people.

However, they were in a hurry, so they all swarmed up and threw their skills at the BOSS.

even though the damage dealt by the others was pitifully small.

Most of them could only deal one to two thousand damage.

some of them could only deal a few hundred damage.

compared to the 50 billion hp of the right general of the nephilims, Locke.

The little damage they dealt was not enough at all.

however, they had the advantage in numbers.

If one person dealt 1000 damage, 10000 people attacking at the same time could also deal 10 million damage.

All in all, the total damage dealt by everyone attacking together was still quite considerable.

Zhang Shan pulled the BOSS, and everyone surrounded it to attack. The twelve cannons on the city gate tower were still firing continuously.

Under their powerful attacks, the health bar of the right general of the demons, Locke, dropped rapidly.

As for the Warriors at the other three city gates, they were also charging forward with no regard for their lives.

They tried everything they could to slow down the boss's advance.

For the time being, it was still effective.

however, the bosses at the other three city gates were losing hp very slowly.

they did not have any powerful players to attack, so they were only relying on the damage from the twelve cannons on the gate tower.

It was not enough to defeat the powerful real-name boss.

In the direction of the other three city gates, the real-name bosses that appeared were not much different from Zhang Shan's right general Loke in terms of attributes and skills.

It also had 50 billion HP.

The boss had such a high HP.

If they were to rely on the barbatian cannon alone, it would probably take them half a day to kill the enemy.

But how could they have so much time?

Even though they were slowing the BOSS down, the BOSS was still moving forward.

Perhaps, the BOSS would be able to get close to the heavenly Knife City in about 10 minutes.

The key now was still on Zhang Shan's side.

Only Zhang Shan's side could quickly kill the BOSS and then go to the other three city gates to provide support.

Only then could they survive this wave of bosses.

Under the powerful attacks of Zhang Shan and the rest, the health of the right general of the Nephilims, Locke, was quickly reduced to 80%.

Boss Wu said to everyone.

"let's go offline and avoid the BOSS's skills."

Hearing boss Wu's words, the others were very confused.

Someone asked boss Wu.

"Why do I have to go offline? The BOSS's health isn't even at 80%. It's still far from being able to use its ultimate skill."

" we have to avoid the demon god's descent skill. this BOSS's skills are too powerful. we can't stop it. " they didn't understand what boss wu meant.

Did they even have to avoid the BOSS's small skills?

Moreover, he had to go offline to avoid it. Couldn't he hide further away?

"big brother carrying a blade, what's up with the BOSS's demon descent skill? We can't stop them?"

that's right. Isn't this skill similar to the demon God's will skill? " no, it's much stronger than the demon's will skill. The BOSS will summon the real demon.

what the f * ck? it's a real Demon God, not a Phantom? " haha, then I won't go offline. I want to see what the godfiend looks like.

"That's right,"

"I've played the game for so long, but I've never seen a real Demon God. What does it look like? Last time, I only saw it on the video of the six-barreled boss. This time, I must see the demon God in person."

What are you looking at? you'll all die before the godfiend comes out.

that's impossible. If the demonic god doesn't come out, how can we die? " when the godfiend reaches out an arm, he'll start chopping people. We can't even see the godfiend himself.

"Holy shit, there's such a thing?"

"I won't say anymore, I'll go offline first."

forget it, I'll avoid them too. Defending the city is more important. I'll find another chance to see the demon God next time.

"I'm off."

When right general Locke's HP was about to drop to 80%, everyone logged off and left.

Of course.

there were also some stubborn big shots who insisted on seeing the demonic god's appearance. they did not leave.

in a short while, the right general of the nephilims, loke's hp had dropped to 80%.

Loke kept his long blade and started to chant.

A huge door of light slowly appeared in the sky.

Soon, a black sickle emerged from the door of light, followed by a huge arm.

Before anyone could react, the devil's arm waved the black sickle.

A terrifying aura descended from the sky and headed straight for Zhang Shan.

The black blade light swept past Zhang Shan's body and swept towards his back.

With a loud boom, the saber Light swept directly onto the heavenly saber city's city walls, instantly knocking down a large portion of the city walls.

"Fuck."

Upon seeing the city wall collapse, wind and cloud blade quickly teleported to the stone tablet and began repairing the city wall.

As for the big bosses of the guilds around Zhang Shan who had not gone offline, they were directly swept by the light of the demon God's blade and turned into dregs.

Even the Guild members who were standing on the city walls on the east side of the city and watching the show were wiped out by the demon God's blade.

The appearance of a Demon God was terrifying.

This was only the appearance of an arm. The demon God's complete figure had not been revealed.

One of the demon God's arms and one of his black Sickles had wiped out almost a quarter of the members of the wind and cloud Guild who were defending the city.

All the players on one side of the city wall were wiped out.

Fortunately, the demon God's attacks seemed to only target players.

the defensive equipment on the city walls were not damaged by the attacks of the demonic gods.

otherwise, they would not be able to defend the city.

If the Archer towers and cannons on the city walls were also destroyed by the demon God, what would they use to stop the monsters that were attacking the city?

The max-level monsters were so strong that without the cannons and arrow towers, they would not be able to stop them.

Demon God killed all the Guild members at the East Gate with one strike.

The entire east side of the heaven Knife City was left with only Zhang Shan. With the addition of the city defense equipment, they still had to continue the defense.

Zhang Shan held the Asmodian Lord and the right general of the Asmodians, Loke, as they fired continuously.

however, many of the small monsters around him had been killed by the cannons on the city gate tower. Occasionally, a few small monsters would appear, but they were not enough for him to use his lifesteal. Zhang Shan decisively activated his fanatic skill.

[fanaticism: increases attack speed by 100% for 6 seconds.]

after activating the fanatic skill, zhang shan's health bar finally stabilized.

However, the demon God's descent skill only lasted for 15 seconds.

Zhang Shan did not know if he could survive this wave with his fanatic skill.

at this time, zhang shan did not like the cannons on the city gates.

The cannon was very powerful and wiped out all the small monsters.

He didn't even have a place to suck blood.

As Zhang Shan attacked, he stared at his health bar.

Zhang Shan thought.

If it really didn't work, then he would use the big move, God's descent.

After a short while, Zhang Shan's fanaticism ended, but the demon God had not disappeared.

zhang shan's health bar was already a little unstable from the start.

Seeing this, Zhang Shan decisively activated his God's descent skill.

He had no choice. He had to rely on his big moves to survive this wave.

Otherwise, he might have died.

He had no idea how the system had set up this Demon God that had been summoned.

He could only let the demon hit him, but Zhang Shan could not hit the demon.

If not, Zhang Shan's bullet damage could be bounced back and forth between the Asmodian Lord and Loke. That would be great.

However, things weren't like that.

Zhang Shan's ejection damage did not jump onto the demon.

After activating his ultimate skill, Zhang Shan's brutal damage swept towards the demon right general Loke.

Zhang Shan's current damage was terrifyingly high.

In the state of God's descent, Zhang Shan's attributes were doubled.

Originally, his theoretical damage was already over 600000. Now, he could deal over a million damage.

Other than doubling the damage, Zhang Shan's attack speed, under the blessing of the God, had also almost doubled.

Zhang Shan opened his big move, a Holy Strike, and directly reduced the BOSS's health by more than 10 million.

This kind of damage was ridiculously strong.

With the support of the gods, Zhang Shan no longer had to worry that he would not be able to withstand the damage from the devil and Loke.

It was just a joke.

After activating his ultimate skill, Zhang Shan's current HP was already close to 20 million.

And now, his damage was explosively high.

With high damage, lifesteal was naturally strong.

After 15 seconds, with the support of the deity's descent, Zhang Shan easily passed through a wave of deity's descent.

After a while, the big shots of the guilds who had gone offline logged back into the game.

When they saw the large number of guild members falling around them, they couldn't help but be shocked.

"What the f * ck, what just happened? Is this a world-ending disaster? Why did the people on the city wall fall?"

This is too terrifying. Is this a Demon God? "

It's hard to imagine that a BOSS like the demon God can be defeated by players.

terrifying. The power of a Demon God is completely beyond my knowledge.

"It is indeed terrifying."

"Don't talk nonsense, help speed up the resurrection of the people on the ground. Resurrect the people outside the city first, ignore the ones on the city wall."

The support players who re-logged into the game quickly revived the fallen players.

However, because many people had fallen to the ground just now, the support was completely insufficient.

Feng Yun realm quickly called for the other support players on the other three walls to come over and help revive.

After a series of operations, they finally revived all the players who were fighting the BOSS.

As for the players on the city walls, there was nothing they could do.

They could only lie down and wait for the support players 'resurrection skills to cool down before they could be revived.

After everyone was resurrected, they continued to surround the right general of the Nephilims, Loke, and threw out their skills to attack him.

As Zhang Shan was using the skill [God's descent], they were fighting very quickly.

Just as Zhang Shan's ultimate skill was about to end, right general Loke's health was about to drop to half.

With the support of his ultimate skill, Zhang Shan's damage was just that terrifying.

In a minute, Loke's health was almost reduced to 30%.

Of course.

This was also due to the efforts of the other players, as well as the firepower support of the twelve cannons on the city gate tower.

Just now, the others had also been attacking.

However, the damage they dealt was too little.

The total damage dealt by everyone was not even half of Zhang Shan's.

he saw that right general Locke's hp was about to drop to 50%.

Everyone decisively chose to go offline to provide support.

This time, no one was stubborn enough to stay and watch the battle.

No one said that they had to run further to avoid the BOSS's big move.

This was because everyone had seen the BOSS's skill description.

The demon right general Loke's ultimate skill, flying slash, was a terrifying skill with an infinite damage range.

Although this 'unlimited' was a little exaggerated.

However, everyone could tell from the skill's description.

Loke's flying slash skill had a huge damage range.

Even if they wanted to run further away to avoid the damage of the big move, it was not very reliable.

How far would they have to run to be safe?

It was more reliable to go offline.

Soon, everyone went offline.

Only Zhang Shan was left at the scene. He continued to fire at Locke.

In a short while, the health of the right general of the Nephilims, Loke, had been reduced to half by Zhang Shan.

When his HP dropped to 50%, Loke suddenly flew up, the long blade in his hand slashing in all directions. endless blade light slashed out in all directions.

Following a loud boom.

Another large section of the heavenly Knife city's eastern city wall had collapsed.

Hence, wind cloud blade could only continue repairing the city wall.

Before the boss had even appeared, he had already built two waves of city walls when they were close to the heaven Knife City.

This made wind and cloud blade extremely depressed.

These bosses were too powerful.

If not for Zhang Shan's presence, wind and cloud blade would have surrendered long ago.

What kind of city wall is this?

if they really wanted to build the city walls endlessly, even spending ten billion gold coins would not be enough.

Luckily, Zhang Shan was there.

Zhang Shan could quickly take care of a boss and then go to the other direction to provide support.

The four real-name bosses that appeared this time were all very powerful.

However, they could still kill them one by one.

As the number of bosses decreased, the pressure on wind and cloud blade to repair the city wall would be reduced.

In general.

Even though he still needed to spend a lot of gold coins to repair the city walls.

But at least there was hope that they could defend the city.

The right general of the demons, Locke, landed on the ground very quickly after slashing countless times.

Zhang Shan continued to fire.

after a while, the others came online one after another.

Everyone surrounded the BOSS and continued to attack.

come on, hurry up and kill the BOSS. We can't let it cause any more trouble.

"yes, we still have to go after this one. we're sending reinforcements to other places."

"Don't worry, we're very fast. We'll be able to kill this BOSS in less than five minutes."

"Good luck, everyone."

Under everyone's continuous attacks, the health bar of the right general of the demons, Loke, was dropping rapidly.

50%, 30%, 10%.

After three to four minutes, the demonic right general Loke's HP was completely depleted.

Zhang Shan quickly controlled the Panda ball to move forward, ready to let the Panda ball grab the final kill.

With the help of the city's defensive equipment, bosses would not usually drop anything good.

But he still had to fight for it.

Perhaps there was still a chance.

After all, most of the BOSS's damage was dealt by them.

The cannons on the city gate tower could not even hit a quarter of the BOSS's health.

Even if they were to be split according to their work, the system should at least let the BOSS drop some good items for them, right?

Zhang Shan saw the opportunity and controlled the Panda bear. With seven consecutive slaps, he directly smashed the BOSS.

skill point +1, medal +100.

≪ system notification: your passive King talent has been triggered by killing the right general of the Nephilim race, Locke. ≫ Passive skill obtained: Storm Blade.

"Haha, I killed one."

"Let's go to other places to help."

"Come with me. Let's go to the West Gate first."

After blowing up the general of the right of the demon race, everyone did not stop for even a moment. They headed straight for the West Gate of the heavenly Knife City.
