

Passive Skills 61

Chapter 61 How many is this one versus?

“Brother Liu Guan, how did you find him?”

Heart moves with me was a little strange. The group of people did not see the heaven and earth rabbit, so why did Zhang Shan see it?

Thinking back to how Zhang Shan had sneaked to the left, it was obvious that he had discovered the thief's tracks. It wasn't by luck that he broke through the thief's stealth.

” hunter skill, eagle eye. increases perception by 20%. it's also because the little bunnies of heaven and earth are too close to us. if we were further away, we wouldn't have noticed them. ”

“This Eagle Eye skill is really strong, it can see through a thief's stealth in advance.”

“although the skill is good, it also depends on who it is, right? Hunters don't have any skills to keep people alive. Once they can't kill them, thieves can still use [haste] to escape.”

Said Windcloud cannon gloomily. He had also learned Eagle Eye, but his skill level had not been raised, so the effect was not very good.

It could only be used to save one's life at a critical moment.

” that's right, brother six steward's attack power is too high. that instant-kill little rabbit just now, it should have dealt more than 3000 damage, right? ” more or less. With the Taoist priest's attack blessing, its attack power is close to 4000.

The attack attribute was the attribute that Zhang Shan had the most advantage over the other players.

His attack power was usually more than 1000. Unless he was fully equipped with red equipment, it was impossible to reach 2000. It was not even half of his attack power.

this was the most direct manifestation of a god-level weapon, which greatly widened the gap between the attack power of other players.

“Divine artifacts are so awesome. I wonder when we'll be able to get them.”

Every time they saw Zhang Shan's damage output, they were filled with an endless desire for a divine weapon.

Everyone arrived at the entrance of the ten thousand people Pit map, but they were not in a hurry to enter.

“How? The little Secretary asked.

He was just a meat shield. Although his equipment was good and his attack power was not bad, he did not have any skills to keep people alive, so it was difficult to kill. His only use was to tank the damage.

He still had to rely on others to kill. As long as he could hold on for a while longer, it was fine even if he died. As long as his teammates won, Windling would just pull him up.

“Windling will add attack blessing to everyone, and the others who have status skills will also add it first.”

When the priest’s blessing skill reaches level 10, it increases attack power by 20% for three minutes.

This was a very important status skill. It could be said that no matter how trashy the priest’s equipment was, it was still a very important status skill.

as long as he maxed out this newbie skill, he wouldn’t have to worry about not having a party when he leveled up.

“I wonder how many people the heaven and earth Guild has arranged to block the entrance? heart follows me said worriedly.

“Don’t worry. Even if they have more than two hundred people, we can still beat them.”

Zhang Shan was full of confidence. He had such strong equipment and skills, and his level was several levels higher than others. He also had the help of his teammates. It would be unreasonable if he couldn’t win. He was fearless.

“If everything is ready, I’ll go in, right?” The Secretary looked like she was ready to sacrifice herself.

“Hehe, little Secretary, don’t be afraid. We will remember you. Go in peace.”

” go in. share your view with us. i’ll follow up immediately. ”

“Alright. “After the little Secretary shared the perspective, she directly entered the ten thousand Pit map.

Through the shared view, he saw that the moment the little Secretary entered the map, people from the heaven and earth Guild were everywhere.

More than 200 members of the heaven and earth Guild were all there, and all kinds of skills were thrown at the little Secretary.

f * ck, how shameless. How can we get in like this? I only have 3000 HP. I don’t have any space to use it.”

“Yes, there are too many people. The key is that they have placed all the entrances. After we enter, we will only appear in the middle of them.”

While the others were still having a headache, not knowing what to do, Zhang Shan summoned his panda baby and followed closely behind the little Secretary, entering the pit of ten thousand people map.”

The moment he landed, all sorts of skills were thrown at him.

This was only the first wave of attacks that the little Secretary had taken. Zhang Shan had seized the moment when they were in the middle of casting their skills to enter.

however, the heaven and earth guild had a lot of people after all. many people did not have the chance to attack the little secretary in the first wave. it just so happened that zhang shan came in, and all kinds of skills were thrown at him.

“Six-barreled Bodhisattva, you’re looking for death. Do you think you’re invincible? i’ll make you roll back to dangyang city today.”

The heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber shouted arrogantly.

Zhang Shan didn’t have the time to bicker with him. All-mouthy King would only become a laughingstock.

The moment he landed, before the various skills could hit him, Zhang Shan seemed to have transformed into the governor.

With six tubes of blue fire in his hands, he dealt a terrifying amount of damage to the fragile classes of the world Guild.

There was no need for a second shot to kill. Other than the strength-type professions, the other professions currently had less than 4000 HP.

Even without a critical hit, Zhang Shan could easily kill him.

Although his hand cannon only had one barrel, with the attack speed of maedas “hand, it was much faster.

It was as if there were six tubes, and the bullets kept shooting out. He was not like a normal Hunter at all.

It was ridiculously strong.

quick, everyone with stun skills, don’t save your skills for thieves and archers. Stun him until he dies. You must kill six-barreled Bodhisattva first, don’t worry about the others.

Zhang Shan quickly took down a few of the long-ranged jobs around him, while the various close-ranged jobs were ignored.

At this time, he had lost more than half of his HP. At least a few dozen people had hit him.

It was the Panda baby that helped him take a lot of damage. Otherwise, he might have been killed in one round.

All sorts of damage skills, some at least 200 to 300, some at least 1000. Not to mention the fragile jobs, even the weaker meat shields would not be able to withstand it.

However, Zhang Shan was still alive. His HP was much higher than the average meat shield, and now it was 18000.

Without the support of his teammates, he would soon fall. No matter how high his blood volume was, he could only withstand one or two waves without anyone healing him.

activating a berserk skill would be useless. he might even die faster if he did so. after all, the damage he received would double after going berserk.

His friends outside the map were all stunned when they saw Zhang Shan's massacre.

brother divine artifact is so strong. He's taking on a hundred people? "

" stop bullshitting. let's hurry up. otherwise, they're going to die. "

That's right, the little Secretary who entered first was still alive.

The main thing was that Zhang Shan had entered quickly and helped him attract a lot of firepower.

After wind chimes entered the map, she raised her head and cast rejuvenation on Zhang Shan. His health quickly recovered.

...

A thief stunned Zhang Shan, and seven or eight meteor arrows were shot at him from afar.

If he couldn't get rid of the crowd control, he would fall immediately if he was stunned for a long time, no matter how much HP he had.

Activating the berserk skill would not only dispel the stun effect, but it would also prevent the user from being affected by any crowd control skills.

At the same time, it could also increase attack power and attack speed. Zhang Shan had already raised his berserk skill to level 9, and it would last for nine seconds.

In those nine seconds, with windchime healing him, he was an undying cannon.

you guys protect Feng Ling. As long as she's still standing, we'll definitely win.

Chapter 62 The great battle

After his teammates entered, the situation immediately reversed.

although the heaven and earth guild had more than ten times the number of players, most of them had not reached level 20.

Most of them were still level 15 equipment. Compared to Zhang Shan and the rest, who were all level 20 equipment, their attributes were much worse.

after activating berserk, zhang shan's explosive output quickly knocked down all the weak ranged players.

Seven to eight meteor arrows and all sorts of stun skills landed on him, but they were completely ineffective.

This was the power of the berserk skill. It was immune to all control skills, and any stunning skills would not have any effect on him.

Warriors, surround six-barreled Bodhisattva and trap him. Limit his range of movement. The rest of you, kill wind-blowing chimes first.

Seeing Zhang Shan killing in all directions, their long-ranged jobs had all fallen before they could even get close.

The heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber was anxious. It no longer had the arrogant look it had earlier.

“Everyone, come to my side and protect the support. If you can’t come over, just give it your all. Kill as many as you can.”

He called his teammates to get closer to him because Zhang Shan was unable to help them now. He had at least 20 Warriors and spellblades from the heaven and earth Guild with him.

There were even a few thieves who were blocking his way, taking advantage of the fact that Zhang Shan was only focused on attacking the ranged attackers on the periphery.

They were all madly slashing at him.

The berserk effect lasted for nine seconds and was about to end.

He had to defeat the thieves around him while the skill’s duration was still active. Otherwise, he would be stunned one by one.

Windling might not even be able to heal him.

Zhang Shan had defeated the last thief beside him. Most of his other teammates had broken out of the tight encirclement and were moving closer to him.

Only blade of wind and cloud was unluckier, as he was further away.

Most importantly, he was famous. The dozen or so people from the heaven and earth Guild had their eyes on him the moment he entered.

there was no chance to escape.

f * ck you. If you want to kill me, a few of you will fall.

windcloud blade was enraged. he charged at a mage not far away from him and used two-blade stream, instantly killing the mage.

Even though he had used charge and two blade stream to instantly kill a mage, he was quickly surrounded.

After that, he never had the chance to run out again.

after using charge, wind and cloud blade no longer had any movement speed or movement skills to use.

The dozen or so people from the world Guild didn’t have to worry about him using charge to lock onto the targets on the periphery and escape.

“Let’s go and kill wind cloud blade first. Damn it, a few days ago in Dangyang city, he killed quite a few of us. This time, we must kill him and guard his corpse.”

Without his skills, Windcloud blade was like a salted fish. He swung his axe left and right, but he couldn’t kill a single person.

Without the speed reduction of charge and the burst of two blade stream, no one would just stand there and let him hit them. After being hit by him, they would retreat and replenish their health.

on the other hand, windcloud blade had to take damage from all directions. although his equipment was impressive, under such circumstances ...

It could only delay the time it took for him to fall.

Many ants could kill an elephant. Windcloud blade did not struggle for a few more seconds before he was hacked to death by the chaotic moves and fell to the ground.

When the other team members got close to Zhang Shan, the Warriors around him did not dare to continue and scattered.

However, it was too late to escape. The wind Cloud Cannon, follow me, and the others swarmed forward.

Most of them were stopped.

let’s attack them together. I don’t believe that the 200 of us can’t beat the 10 of them. The heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber was enraged.

The heaven and earth Guild still had close to 200 people left. He thought that they could drown Zhang Shan and the others with their human wave tactics.

as soon as zhang shan’s words fell, the others no longer hesitated and continued to slash at the ten warriors who had surrounded and blocked zhang shan.

let’s charge together. I don’t believe that a divine weapon is this strong. Let’s charge forward and hack it down with our blades.

Close to two hundred people whizzed forward. Actually, due to the distance and position, there were only about ten people who could face Zhang Shan’s direction at the same time.

After the heaven and earth Guild’s wave of impact entered Zhang Shan’s range, a fierce output came from his hands.

The people in the front row who had charged forward had all fallen in a moment. They had no chance to get close to Zhang Shan.

Relying on his powerful damage output and super long range, the current Zhang Shan could completely prevent most people from getting close to him.

If it wasn't for the world Guild blocking the map entrance, they would have lost their chance.

In two consecutive rounds, Zhang Shan had defeated more than 20 people of all classes, even The Guardian of the heaven and earth Guild.

He also did not manage to reach Zhang Shan. Under Zhang Shan's fierce attacks, he fell on the road of impact.

At this moment, the wind and cloud Cannon and the others had also killed all the nearby players that could be attacked. The remaining players ran back to the large Army of the heaven and earth Guild.

They didn't dare to give chase. Not everyone was like Zhang Shan and the little Secretary, who could survive for a moment in the midst of an Army of tens of thousands of soldiers.

Feng Yun's little Secretary completely relied on his body, while Zhang Shan relied on half of his health. More importantly, he relied on his powerful damage output to quickly eliminate the threats around him.

With fewer threats around him, he would naturally be able to survive longer.

The battlefield was now in a stalemate. The heaven and earth Guild's people did not dare to continue their attack. They had no chance to rush to Zhang Shan and the others.

...

If they continued to go up, they would only be sending their heads in batches.

The heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber was no longer as confident as before. The advantage of numbers did not seem to be of any use against Zhang Shan and the rest.

Zhang Shan alone was like an invincible cannon, destroying their spirit. They had completely lost the confidence of the big guilds.

"six-chased bodhisattva, what exactly do you want? we only had a small conflict, do you have to chase us all the way to yingtian city? Do you really want to fight to the death?"

the heaven and earth dragon slaying saber's voice was harsh. although his tone was strong, it was obvious that he was admitting defeat.

Zhang Shan had no intention of letting them go. Ten thousand gold coins for a head, not to mention, even if he stopped here ...

The people from the heaven and earth Guild wouldn't give up either. As long as there was a chance in the future, they would definitely find ways to cause trouble for him.

Wolves travel a thousand miles to eat meat, dogs travel a thousand miles to eat shit. This group of people will never become friendly.

since that was the case, there was a chance to strike them hard now. why should he stop?

I didn't want to do anything. I took someone's money to help them solve their problems. I was just doing what I was paid to do. I didn't want to make things difficult for you.

Zhang Shan teased without a care.

this matter ends here. However much your heart is willing to pay, I'll pay double. The heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber really did not want to fight anymore.

Originally, their levels and equipment were already far behind the first tier players, and this time, so many of them had died.

If they continued to fight, the glory of the top ten guilds would never come back.

"Hmph, heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber, do you want to compete with me in money? Brother Liu Guan, continue to kill them. I'll pay 50000 gold coins for each of them, including the heads you've killed before."

let's go! let's go with the heart said excitedly. This time, he had followed Zhang Shan and the others to kill the heaven and earth Guild members and had greatly vented his anger.

However, it was still not enough. He was also the young master of a large family. When had he ever been slapped in the face like this?

Not only did the heaven and earth Guild kill him once, but they also publicly shouted in the world Channel. It was as if they wanted to whip his corpse for public display after killing him.

Didn't he care about his face? As for the money, he didn't care about it at all. Anything that could be bought with money was nothing to him.

Chapter 63 fleeing in defeat

His rich and overbearing heart was at his beck and call, and this directly stunned Zhang Shan.

50,000 gold coins per kill? There were more than 200 people in the heaven and earth Guild, which would cost more than 10 million gold coins.

There probably wasn't that much gold in the entire game, even though Zhang Shan couldn't really take down all the members of the heaven and earth Guild.

If they couldn't beat them, they would run away. Zhang Shan and the others had few people, and they couldn't chase down many people. However, it shouldn't be a problem to beat half of them.

In addition to the sixty or seventy that he had already killed, that would cost him millions of gold coins. If Zhang Shan had the patience.

They could kill more if they chased slowly, unless the heaven and earth Guild's people didn't leave the city.

Hmph, your heart moves with me. Don't be arrogant. In the game, money doesn't mean everything. This is a misunderstanding. Let's each take a step back and not pursue this matter. How about it? " the heaven and earth dragon slaying saber really thought that zhang shan and the rest had come all the way here to find trouble for the sake of money. how childish.

“dream on. you want to end this? unless you let me kill each of you once. since i’ve lost a level, then all of you will lose a level. that way, we’ll be even.”

Heart moves with me is the right move.

However, this was normal. If it was Zhang Shan, he would not give up just like that. Not only did he kill the other party once, but he also pulled it to the world Channel to whip the corpse.

And then, in one sentence, each of them would take a step back and not pursue the matter? Wasn’t this a joke? How could that be possible?

If there was a chance to do so, he would be a fool not to do so.

“That means this matter isn’t over?”

“I’ll still say the same thing. If you all let me die once, I’ll forget about this.”

” hmph, that’s impossible. you have to think carefully. six-pipe bodhisattva and the others are from dangyang city. they can’t possibly stay in yingtian city to protect you every day. ”

The heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber really wanted to admit defeat. However, he could not accept the price offered by ‘my heart moves’ at all.

If everyone died once, wouldn’t that mean that they had wasted another day? Not to mention, if he dared to agree to such a condition.

If that happened, the heaven and earth Guild’s people would probably be disunited immediately.

He would rather lose than agree to such a condition.

“So what? it’s enough as long as I can kill you all today. As for the future, I’ll just go to Dangyang city to develop myself instead of staying in Yingtian city. You all won’t dare to go to Dangyang city and cause trouble, will you?”

Heart moves with me was determined. He would not give up until he killed them once. This was exactly what Zhang Shan wanted.

He was afraid that follow my heart would give up. If that happened, he wouldn’t be able to find an excuse to continue messing with the heaven and earth Guild.

After all, Zhang Shan had a divine weapon in his hands and had a special reputation. He did not want others to think that he, Zhang Shan, was a master who used his power to bully others.

One had to be reasonable, and it was the same when playing games. One had to manage one’s reputation well. Only with a good reputation could one play smoothly.

Otherwise, their reputation would be as bad as the heaven and earth Guild’s and everyone would want to beat them up. Normal people wouldn’t be able to have fun.

“very good. in that case, let’s wait and see.” The heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber waved its hand after it finished speaking.

The remaining heaven and earth Guild members scattered and fled.

They were just bullying Zhang Shan and the rest because they had so few people. No matter how strong they were, it was impossible for them to chase after so many people at the same time.

stir up. If they can't win, they'll run away. This isn't the style of these idiots.

"Windling, pull brother Yidao up. We'll go after him quickly."

Zhang Shan did not have the time to talk nonsense. He quickly chased after them. He would kill as many as he could. They were all money.

Zhang Shan was equipped with The Red Shoes, and his speed was much faster than the average player.

He quickly caught up with one and shot him down. He didn't even have time to pick up the trash that dropped, so he took advantage of the fact that the world Guild's people hadn't completely dispersed to kill anyone he caught.

At this moment, Zhang Shan was like a ferocious wild wolf, chasing after a flock of sheep, killing anyone he caught from time to time.

Slowly, he could no longer see the people from the heaven and earth Guild. In this round of pursuit, he had killed more than a dozen people.

He wondered how the others were doing.

"Is there anyone else from the heaven and earth Guild?" Zhang Shan could not find his target and could only ask in the team.

no, they ran away and directly cast a spell to return to the city. I didn't kill many. Windcloud blade replied unhappily.

he had been killed once by a group of people, but fortunately, he had a support who could resurrect him. otherwise, it would be a big loss if he lost a level.

" the rest of them have returned to the city. you'll know when you look at the regional chat channel. "

That's right. Zhang Shan and the rest had killed so many people from the heaven and earth Guild and brought them back to the city. It was normal for the chat channel to explode."

Yingtian city's regional chat channel.

"Haha, the heaven and earth Guild's people are running back to the city like dogs after being killed."

"Really? who killed them?"

"I don't know. I just saw the world Guild's people resurrecting at the resurrection point one by one. Not long after, the others returned to the city."

"haha, then they must've suffered a huge defeat."

"I Know Who Killed him. I was about to follow the trash from the wind and cloud Guild to cut the sky and the earth, but I was too slow. When I arrived, the people from the wind and cloud Guild were hunting me down all over the map."

“Brother, you’re awesome. Did you take advantage of the chaos to kill one or two trash?”

” haha, i really did manage to kill one. i happened to bump into a cigarette in that world. he was casting a recall bar like an idiot. i used charge and dealt a critical hit, killing him. i’ll go to big boss heart follower later to get the reward.”

“You’re awesome, brother. If I had known earlier, I would have tried my luck. If I killed one, I would have gotten 10000 gold coins.”

Seeing that the regional channel was filled with all kinds of ridicule towards the heaven and earth Guild, no one sympathized with them, they were really a failure to play the game to this extent.

The members of the heaven and earth Guild were completely speechless in the chat channel. No one came forward to say anything. This was a huge blow to them.

More than two hundred people were beaten up by Zhang Shan and the dozen of them and fled in panic. They had lost all their face.

However, Zhang Shan did not plan to let them off just like that. The great man had said it well. It was better to chase after the poor with great courage, not to assume that they were the top students.

Since he had already offended them to the core, he might as well offend them to the core.

“Brother heart follows, get someone to stand guard at the four city gates. Let me know when you see the people from the heaven and earth Guild leaving the city. I don’t need to pay for the ones I killed later. I wanted to cut them down anyway.”

“Brother Liu Guan, you haven’t killed enough yet.” Even the battle-hungry Windcloud blade was shocked.

This six-barreled Bodhisattva was a ruthless person. He didn’t usually engage in pk, but once he attacked, he would kill. He was truly a ruthless person who didn’t speak much.

no problem. I’ll get someone to stand guard. I’ll inform you as soon as they leave the city. Heart moves with me was very refreshing, and it felt much better to have his revenge.

He was a lone wolf in the New World. Although he knew a few people, they were not together and played on their own.

No one could help him even after he was slapped in the face by the heaven and earth Guild. It was Zhang Shan and the others who helped him vent his anger.

although he had to spend money, he could still vent his anger. spending a little money was nothing.

To “heart moves with me,” this was a small amount of money.

“We don’t need to count how many we killed. Let’s just count it as two hundred people. I’ll pay you ten million gold coins in total.”

Heart with me said heroically.

“There’s no need for so many, right? we can kill less than 150 at most.” The heroicness of “your heart moves with me” made Zhang Shan a little embarrassed.

let’s do it this way. I’ll exchange the gold coins later and mail them to brother Liu Guan. I might not be able to exchange so many gold coins in a short time. I’ll exchange them several times and pay them all within three days.

no problem. You’re welcome to develop in Dangyang city. You won’t be able to play in peace with the people from the heaven and earth Guild.

Feng Ling actually wanted to poach him.

“Well, it depends on the situation. I guess I can’t stay in Yingtian city anymore.”

“Then it’s a deal. We’ll go back to Dangyang city first. We still have to go back to find bosses to fight and get some equipment.”

then we’ll be leaving. Brother Liu Guan, you can play with the people from the heaven and earth Guild slowly. If you need help, just call.

“You guys go ahead. I’ll stay here in Yingtian city to kill some monsters and wait for them to come out.”

Zhang Shan waved his hand and said. He was really planning to go against the heaven and earth Guild. If he had the guts, he would not leave the city.

Chapter 64 The second spirit tool the others who had come with zhang shan had all returned to dangyang city. only zhang shan and his heart were still at the pit of ten thousand people map.

“Brother heart follows, why don’t we form a party to farm monsters? we can look out for each other.”

“Alright, then we’ll farm here first. This place isn’t too far from the city. If the people from the heaven and earth Guild leave the city, you’ll be able to intercept them in time.”

“I think so too.”

“there are two types of monsters in the pit of a thousand people. one is physical monsters, which are level 20 skeleton soldiers. the other is magic monsters, which are level 25 wandering souls. which type do you want to farm?”

Following heart was very familiar with the ten thousand man Pit map. The conflict between him and the heaven and earth Guild was triggered because he was farming monsters here and was cleared out by the heaven and earth Guild.

Level 20 and level 25 monsters were no different to Zhang Shan. They were all the kind of monsters that could not be killed with one shot, but with two shots, the damage would be a little over.

It wasn’t really suitable for him to level up, but he didn’t come here to level up.

He mainly wanted to guard the world Guild's people for a while longer. Leveling up was just a side effect, as long as the location was convenient.

"which one do you want to kill? a level-25 magic monster. do you have any pressure killing it?"

since they were almost the same, zhang shan naturally wanted to farm higher level monsters. after all, the experience points would be higher.

He just didn't know if it would be too inconvenient for a close-combat magic swordsman to farm magic monsters.

it's okay. Wandering souls should be easier for us to farm. They have weak defense and I can kill them with two slashes sometimes.

"That's impossible. A level 25 monster should have at least 5000 HP. How could you kill it in two strikes? do you have any powerful skills?"

Zhang Shan was very confused. He had to fire two shots at a monster with 5000 HP, but following my heart could actually kill it in two strikes.

This wasn't normal. He had a divine weapon, so his attack power was much higher than ordinary players.

following your heart did not have any godly equipment. right now on the equipment ranking, other than zhang shan's hand cannon, the best equipment was still the red equipment.

Spirit equipment had yet to appear. Could it be that 'heart moves with me' had an extremely powerful skill?

However, he didn't notice it during the chaotic battle just now.

"I have a special item that increases a Spellblade's attack by 50%. Otherwise, I wouldn't have been able to level up so quickly."

after saying that, moving heart took out a special item.

[sword spirit: special item. Bound to the player's heart, increases sword attack by 50%. Durability, never worn out.]

looking at the sword spirit's attributes, zhang shan was truly shocked. he had always thought that in the entire game, there was only one spiritual weapon, and that was his hand of madas.

He didn't expect to see the second one so soon.

In terms of practical effects, the sword spirit was even better than his hand of Madas.

Although both of them increased by 50%, the sword spirit increased the attack power, while he increased the attack speed.

Normally, the increase in damage output should be about the same. However, when facing a stronger target.

the effect of increasing attack power was much greater.

“Brother heart follows, isn’t this sword spirit item of yours a little too awesome? How did you get it?”

Zhang Shan felt a little strange. It couldn’t have been dropped by a small monster, right?

His hand of Madas was a gift from Master Lu, and he would not have a second chance.

He just didn’t know if other players could copy the way to obtain heart with me.

when I left the novice village, the village chief gave it to me. I don’t know what’s going on either. I didn’t do any quests. It was a free gift from the village chief.

“F * ck, there’s such a thing? Why would the village chief give you something for free?”

Zhang Shan was a little jealous.

Although he had better divine weapons, he had the task item first, and he had to go through a lot of trouble to get it.

‘What?! What?! What?! What?! What?!’ what?! ‘what?!’

I don’t know what’s going on either. Village chief said that I’m exceptionally talented, so he gave me this sword spirit. He said that this would help me grow quickly.

“you’re awesome,”

Zhang Shan was speechless. He had a strange character and was naturally gifted. Such a joke had really appeared in the game.

The two of them chatted as they ran, and soon, they found a large group of wandering souls.

after seeing the wandering souls, he didn’t say anything and summoned the panda baby to start farming.

There was no need to check its attributes. A level 25 monster, no matter what type it was, was just a dish to Zhang Shan.

He had already been killing level 30 wolves for two to three days, so killing level 25 monsters was nothing to him.

These wandering souls were just like what heart follows me had said. They were easy to farm, but their defense was weak. The damage that Zhang Shan dealt with each attack was over 3500.

Even heart moves with me could deal more than 2000 damage. No wonder he said he could kill a wandering soul with two hits.

Zhang Shan checked the attributes of the wandering spirit.

[wandering soul: level 25, HP 4600, attack 780, skill: magic resistance (passive)]

[magic resistance: increases magic resistance and reduces magic damage.]

Another type of monster with passive magic resistance had appeared. This passive skill hadn’t appeared when he was farming the Demonkin.

Let's see if we have a chance this time. Zhang Shan planned to stay in Yingtian city today to keep an eye on the heaven and earth Guild.

After that, he would just kill some monsters and maybe get another passive skill.

Wandering souls gave less experience than wild wolves, but that wasn't a big problem. They were faster to kill, and overall, their leveling efficiency wasn't much worse than killing wild wolves.

As for heart moves, although he could also kill a wandering soul in two moves, his attack speed was much slower than Zhang Shan's.

Furthermore, melee players had to run and catch the monsters. Hence, his killing speed was slower than Zhang Shan's by half.

forming a team with him would slow down zhang shan's leveling speed.

but it didn't matter. no matter who he formed a team with, the leveling efficiency couldn't be compared to zhang shan's solo leveling.

He was still counting on following your heart to provide him with information about the heaven and earth Guild.

"The people from the heaven and earth Guild haven't left the city yet? It's been more than ten minutes. Could it be that they're so scared that they don't even dare to leave the city today?"

That shouldn't be the case. If they were discussing some sort of strategy, they should have already discussed it long ago.

It didn't make sense for them to not leave the city after so long.

" they should be out soon. they have more than 200 people gathered at the city gate. it looks like they plan to move together. "

that's more like it. Windcloud blade and the others went back a long time ago. The heaven and earth Guild should have found out about it. If they still don't dare to leave the city, it'll be a little unreasonable.

don't worry, they probably sent thieves to Scout ahead. They'll come out when they're sure you're not there.

"hehe, we won't be seen by their thieves if we farm here, right?"

"I don't think so. There's no need to go so far to Scout."

that's good. I hope they'll still come back to kill monsters with 10000 players. I'll give them a surprise then.

Chapter 65 Encountering a BOSS by chance zhang shan felt that the possibility of the world guild's people continuing to come here to farm monsters was very high. anyway, no one knew that he had not left.

To the heaven and earth Guild, without the threat of Zhang Shan and the others, they were still the overlords of Yingtian city. They could do whatever they wanted no matter where they went.

Of course, they would go to the most efficient map to level up and kill monsters. The pit of ten thousand people was the most suitable place for them to level up.

" they've set off. more than two hundred of them. "

"Hehe, you're finally willing to come out."

"What do you plan to do? They're all gathered together and won't be separated for a while. No matter how strong you are, you can't handle them alone, right?"

there's no rush. Let's wait for them to farm some monsters first. I don't believe that they won't split up when they're farming monsters.

" that's right. it's impossible for more than 200 people to fight monsters together. it's completely inefficient. "

" yes, after entering the pit of ten thousand people map, they should be separated. i'll go find them in half an hour. "

"Brother Liu Guan, you're so sinister."

&Nbsp; hehe.

zhang shan did not care whether it was sinister or not. it was good as long as he could achieve his goal.

after all, the people from the heaven and earth guild weren't good people.

zhang shan had always been brooding over the matter of the heaven and earth bunnies ambushing him when he was channeling back to the city.

The strange tube was in his backpack. If he died that time, the strange tube would burst out.

After that, the divine weapons were of no use to him.

It was because of that strange tube that he was able to go to the East Capital and obtain the God equipment, hand cannon, and the spiritual equipment, hand of Medas.

Without these two things, the current Zhang Shan in the New World was just a normal player.

How could he be like now, living a carefree life?

Therefore, even if he did not have a bounty on his head, he would slowly look for an opportunity to mess with the world Guild.

should we go further away to kill some monsters? we can't let them find us in advance. I haven't returned to Danyang city yet.

Zhang Shan was afraid of being discovered by the heaven and earth Guild in advance. If they were on guard, it would not be easy for him to deal with them alone.

If things didn't go well, he would have to return the message.

"Then let's go in. They don't know that you didn't go back, so there's no reason for them to search the entire map first."

Zhang Shan's heart moved with me, farming as he moved deeper and deeper, further and further away from the map entrance.

the monsters inside were very dense, and without the heaven and earth guild knowing, they would not have found this place no matter what.

Not long after, heart with me rose to level 21 again. Dying once had cost him more than 1000000 experience.

He had been almost level 22, and had dropped to level 20 after dying. Now that he had leveled up again, he still lacked a lot of experience compared to before he had died.

"I gain experience faster by teaming up with you. Brother six-eyed, your attack speed is too fast, and your efficiency in killing monsters is almost double that of mine."

"My attack speed is indeed faster than others. I have a special item that increases my attack speed, and it's also a spiritual weapon."

With that, Zhang Shan showed the hand of maedas.

"no wonder. i was wondering how you could be so much faster than me. so you also have a spirit tool other than a divine tool."

hehe, it's alright. I'm relying on these two pieces of equipment to keep up my reputation. The rest are basically purple equipment. I don't want to go to the auction house to buy expensive equipment, so it's unnecessary."

"of course you don't need to. you're already so strong, changing into a few pieces of orange equipment won't improve you much."

the two of them blew on the water while farming monsters. zhang shan planned to go to the heaven and earth guild later and let them farm in peace.

Eh? That ghost seemed to be a little special. Could it be a BOSS?

"brother mind following, look at that ghost. it looks different. is it a BOSS?"

"ah, then let's stay away. we can't beat the boss, there's only two of us."

"Let's wait and see. We can definitely defeat the purple BOSS, but we'll have to see how it goes for the orange one."

Zhang Shan slowly approached the ghost that looked different. It was really an orange boss.

However, this orange-colored BOSS was a little strange. Most bosses were a few times larger than normal monsters.

However, this one was actually the same size as a small monster. If not for Zhang Shan noticing that its body was emitting a different kind of light, he would not have been able to kill it.

They might really think that it was just a normal wandering ghost.

A level 25 orange BOSS was not easy to deal with. There were only two of them, and the problem was that they did not have any support to heal them. The two of them could not withstand the BOSS's damage.

"What should we do? should we call for reinforcements? we can't beat the orange BOSS with just the two of us."

Even though moving heart had never fought a BOSS in a new world, he had seen quite a few videos on the forum.

Orange bosses were all very strong. Without a tank or support, it was basically impossible to beat them.

"Even if we call for backup, it won't be easy for us to come over. The people from the world Guild are farming monsters at the entrance."

"why don't we stop fighting and just focus on killing monsters and leveling up?"

Following heart had no interest in fighting the boss as he did not care about the items that the boss dropped.

In any case, he could just go to the auction house to buy whatever equipment he wanted. The levels of tycoons were different.

some liked to fight bosses and make announcements, while others were like their hearts moved with their will and had no interest in these things. they were even more of a grandmaster than zhang shan and only wanted to farm monsters to level up.

"Brother xinsui, how much blood do you have?"

Zhang Shan still wanted to give it a try. He specifically looked for bosses to fight, but they were hard to find. In the New World, the bosses respawned at random.

It didn't mean that the boss would respawn after a certain amount of time. There was no such thing as waiting for the boss at a fixed time.

now that zhang shan and the rest saw the boss and did not fight it, it would be a waste.

"Around 10000. You can't be thinking of letting me tank the boss, right? I can't. A level 25 orange boss should have an attack power of close to 1500."

Of course, Zhang Shan did not want him to shoulder it.

A level 25 orange-colored boss should have around 2000 attack power, which was even higher with the addition of skills.

His heart moves with me definitely can't withstand it.

He was planning on letting the Panda baby Tank the damage. The Panda baby's HP was close to 15000, and its defense was high.

It had a passive skill that gave it a thick skin and could reduce a lot of damage. Right now, the Panda baby should be able to tank a lot of hits from the boss.

Of course, without a healer to heal them, they definitely wouldn't be able to hold on until the boss fell to the ground. This would require a little more effort.

He would let him free up time to summon and feed his pet again, and then continue to use his pet to tank the boss. It would probably take a few rounds of repetition before he could kill the boss.

"I'll try it out with my pet first. if it works, we'll do it together. two people fighting a boss will give a lot of experience."

Moving heart was not interested in fighting the boss, so Zhang Shan could only use experience to tempt him.

Zhang Shan did not wait for him to reply. After clearing out the wandering souls nearby, he controlled the Panda baby and started to attack the boss.

He had to find out the boss's attributes first. Without looking at its attributes and skills, he couldn't be sure if he could fight it.

There wouldn't be any danger anyway.

Chapter 66 Killing a BOSS across cities

After the damage hit the boss, Zhang Shan quickly checked its attributes.

[commander of wandering souls (orange): level 25. HP: 1000000. Attack: 2000. Skill 1: soul orb. Skill 2: Mana Drain. Skill 3: magic resistance (passive).]

[soul orb: commander of wandering souls turns his soul into a magic orb to attack the target, increasing damage by 50%.]

[Mana Drain: drain the target's mana. When the target's mana is zero, it will drain the target's HP. 1000 hp is drained every second for five seconds.]

[magic resistance (passive): increases magic resistance and reduces magic damage.]

This ghost commander wasn't too strong, and its skills were average. It just had a lot of health, and it was a level 25 orange boss.

Its HP was the same as the level 20 red boss, the demon tribe's priest, which was one million.

It should work, let's try it.

Seeing that Zhang Shan had already started to attack the boss, follow me also went forward to attack.

The boss 'attack was 2000, and with the addition of skill damage, one attack should be 3000 damage.

However, the Panda baby's defense was relatively high, and with the damage reduction effect of its passive skill, the real damage it dealt was only slightly over 1000.

magic bosses had a slower attack speed. with the panda baby's hp, it should be able to hold on for close to a minute.

In just a minute, Zhang Shan and his heart were moving. With the addition of the Panda baby, they could deal at least 300000 damage.

In theory, the pet could tank the boss for three times at most.

"This pet of yours is very strong. It can actually withstand an orange-colored boss."

"It's just that this boss is a little weak. Stronger orange bosses can't hold on, mainly because there's no support to heal."

"yeah, brother liu guan, if you bring a support, the two of you can easily fight bosses below orange."

"More or less. Orange bosses aren't much, but red bosses are really strong. They need a group of people to fight them, and they might not even be able to take them down."

"It's so cool to have a class with pets. Not only is it easy to kill monsters, but I can also solo a small boss."

Seeing how easy it was to defeat the boss, heart with me was relieved. He was afraid of dying. If he died, he would lose another level. Then he would lose his second place on the level ranking.

Under their fierce attacks, the boss's HP dropped rapidly, and the Panda baby's HP was almost empty.

"brother heart follows, be careful. after my pet dies, you hold the boss for a while and wait for me to summon a new pet."

"But I don't have a stun skill, and I don't have any other aggro-pulling skills. I might not be able to hold the boss."

Oh my God, I didn't consider this problem just now. Spellblades aren't like other strength-type classes.

They would at least have a skill to pull aggro, such as charge.

he was a spellblade, but he didn't have that. he had miscalculated.

"Then I'll stop first and take back my pet. If I don't attack the boss, the aggro will probably be transferred to you. Try to hold it off for a while, and wait for me to feed my pet and bring its HP back up."

Zhang Shan stopped his attack and kept his pet.

The BOSS turned to attack heart of mine.

Zhang Shan quickly summoned the Panda baby again and fed it.

The feeding speed couldn't be fast. The Panda baby fed it when it was resting, and it took more than 10 seconds to fully recover its HP.

However, heart moves with me could not hold on for so long. Zhang Shan could only let the baby, whose health had not fully recovered, continue to hold on.

Heart follows me retreated and meditated, taking medicine to recover health.

I can't even compare to a pet. The Spellblade class is still too weak."

zhang shan's panda baby could tank the BOSS for about a minute, but he couldn't even last for 10 seconds.

The difference was huge, and it made him very unhappy. She was completely inferior to a baby.

"Not really. Spellblades have very high damage output, especially after they have more skills. They're just like mages, and their damage output is higher than many classes."

"That's true, but it's not easy to find skill books, and it's even harder to get skill points. I don't know how long it'll take to achieve the effect you mentioned."

"There's no rush. I'll slowly become stronger."

Speaking of which, spellblades were really the trashiest class at the moment, other than their efficiency in killing monsters and leveling up.

The rest of the skills were simply garbage to the extreme. There were no skills to deal with the enemy in a fight, so he could only run up and slash.

He was flying a kite like a fool.

He didn't have a strong presence when fighting bosses, so he could only deal damage and couldn't do anything else.

For the rest of the time, the Panda baby and heart took turns to tank the damage. The BOSS's health gradually dropped to 20% and it would go berserk soon.

"I'll recall the baby first and prepare for the BOSS to go berserk. You probably won't be able to hold on after the BOSS goes berserk, so we can only rely on the Panda baby."

"Alright, I'll try my best to delay them."

After restoring the pet's HP to full, the heart of substitution followed me and continued to withstand the BOSS 'damage.

Very quickly, the BOSS's health dropped below 20%. After going berserk, the BOSS's attacks became more intense, and the damage on the Panda baby's head was much higher.

He estimated that the baby would die in about 20 seconds.

“Brother Liu Guan, this won’t do. After the BOSS goes berserk, your pet won’t be able to hold on for long, let alone me.”

“Don’t worry, just focus on dealing damage. You don’t have to take the burden later.”

Zhang Shan activated his berserk skill. Level 9 berserk increased his attack power and attack speed by 18%.

The damage output was greatly increased, and soon the BOSS’s health dropped to 10%. The Panda baby’s health was also almost empty.

for the rest of the time, it would be up to zhang shan and heart moves with me. After the baby died, his happiness level decreased.

After it was summoned again, it had to be fed to increase its happiness before it could continue to help its owner fight monsters.

When the BOSS was at its last HP, he obviously didn’t have time to feed the baby, so he could only rely on himself.

“After the pet dies, continue to attack. I will pull the BOSS” aggro and let it attack me.”

“Can you handle it? the BOSS still has a lot of health left, and we’ll have to fight for at least 20 seconds. can you hold on for that long?”

Moving heart was in disbelief. Zhang Shan was just a fragile Hunter. No matter how good his equipment was, it was impossible for him to withstand the BOSS’s damage.

“It’s okay, I’m not afraid of dying. I still have a resurrection skill that resurrects ten seconds after death.”

“how could such a skill exist? Where did he get the skill book?”

...

“if i die, you lead the BOSS in a circle and stall for 10 seconds.”

“Okay, it’s not a problem to run away with it. Although the BOSS runs faster than me, it won’t be able to hit me more than a few times in ten seconds.”

Very quickly, the Panda baby fell. The BOSS charged straight at Zhang Shan, and a violent amount of damage landed on him.

zhang shan did not care at all. he focused on attacking and giving it his all. anyway, he still had his rebirth. he was not afraid of dying.

in the last continuous attack, zhang shan continuously struck out a heavy blow and a divine strike.

He quickly reduced the BOSS's health to zero and continued to attack it a few more times before the BOSS fell to the ground.

He didn't even need to use rebirth before he killed the BOSS.

[system announcement: congratulations to players six-barreled Bodhisattva and heart moves for killing the BOSS wandering soul commander.] Skill point +1, medal +100.

Chapter 67 Sword arts mental cultivation method

Zhang Shan and heart follows me killed the BOSS. This BOSS had not been killed by anyone before. A system announcement appeared.

This system announcement was not surprising to most players. It was normal for a boss with a divine weapon to get the first kill of a BOSS.

However, the people from the wind and cloud Guild and the heaven and earth Guild were different. The people from the wind and cloud Guild knew that he had not returned to Dangyang city.

He had actually defeated someone else's BOSS in Yingtian city.

The people from the heaven and earth Guild saw Zhang Shan and heart with me appear on the announcement at the same time and felt a little dizzy.

Only then did they realize that Zhang Shan had not returned to Dangyang city, but was still in Yingtian city. What was he planning to do?

brother Liu Guan, you're so mean. You said you'd stay in Yingtian city and run the heaven and earth Guild, but you actually secretly fought the BOSS.

windcloud blade was a little depressed. if he had known earlier, he would not have come back. he would have stayed in yingtian city and mixed around with zhang shan. he might even have been able to get the first kill of a BOSS.

it was an accident, an accident. I found a very weak BOSS, so I killed it.

"Did you hear that? It was a very weak BOSS and he could kill it easily. When would he be able to kill a BOSS easily?"

"You will have it in your dreams."

"That's right, can you compare to brother divine artifact? He could even solo a red BOSS, so what was a small orange BOSS?"

"F * ck, you guys sure talk big. Since when did an orange BOSS become a small one?"

"To us, every BOSS is very strong. To brother artifact, anything below red is nothing."

"Correct."

In contrast to the wind and cloud Guild's joy, the atmosphere in the heaven and earth Guild was a little gloomy after seeing the system announcement.

"What's going on? If my heart moves, why is he with six-pipe Bodhisattva? Did he go to Dangyang City as well?"

"That's impossible. In order to prevent the wind and cloud Guild from harassing us again, I've already arranged for people to guard the teleportation Hall. They didn't see heart follow me to the teleportation Hall at all."

"That means that six tube Bodhisattva hasn't left yet and is still in Yingtian City?"

"It should be, and he's on the same map as us. We just didn't find him."

The problem is that the other members of the wind and cloud Guild have all gone back. What is he still doing here?"

Who knows? He's all alone now. Is he still going to harass us?"

"Then he's looking for death. There are so many of us, I don't believe he would dare to come here alone."

"You're right, maybe he's just here to level up and kill monsters. Boss, should we go and kill them?"

"Yeah, this is an opportunity. They only have two people left and they don't have a support. As long as we can find them, we can definitely beat the sh * t out of them."

"It's not easy to find them. The map is so big, it's not easy to find them. The key is that the six-barreled Bodhisattva is so perverted and can run fast, it's not easy to kill him."

The heaven and earth dragon slaying saber was also in a dilemma. He really wanted to bring a group of people to find Zhang Shan and hack him to death to vent his anger.

However, it was difficult to realize it. If a group of people didn't separate, how would they find someone? If they separated, they would be delivering food.

They were only afraid that Zhang Shan would stay here and not leave, and that he was coming for them. That would be troublesome, and they would not be able to level up and farm monsters in peace.

In his opinion, although the possibility of this was not high, he still had to be careful.

"Inform everyone in the Guild to gather together. Don't get ambushed."

"You don't have to be so nervous, right? Together, leveling up was too slow."

"Let's stay together and refresh the page slowly. If there's no movement after half an hour, we'll continue."

The heaven and earth dragon slaying saber's flustered mood, Zhang Shan did not know, nor did he care. He only wanted to see if the boss had dropped anything good.

He opened his backpack.

One was an orange equipment, a ring for agility-type players. This was not bad, he would be able to use it when he reached level 25.

All that was left were three trashy purple quality equipment and a material.

If not for the skill book, the drops from this BOSS's first kill would have been too low.

The first clear of an orange-colored BOSS only gave one orange-colored equipment?

"brother xinsui, let's discuss how to split the equipment."

"There's no need to discuss. I'll give them all to you. I didn't do much, and I don't have any needs for now."

"you'd better take a look first, hehe."

Zhang Shan displayed all the drops. There was no need to mention the equipment. Even if I wanted to, I probably wouldn't be interested.

however, he would not let go of that skill book.

[swordsmanship mental cultivation method: level 1. increases spellblade's attack power by 2% for 3 minutes. cooldown time: 1 minute. mana cost: 100. class requirement: spellblade.]

It would increase by 2% at Level 1, so it should increase by 20% at level 10. The effect would last for three minutes, and the cooldown would be one minute.

In other words, it could be maintained. It was a very practical skill. Zhang Shan had not seen anyone with it.

It should be a rare skill.

after moving heart saw the skill book, his expression turned a little awkward. this skill was very good, and he really wanted it.

However, he was too confident just now, so it wasn't good to change his words.

zhang shan understood that these rich bosses wanted face, so he said, "You can have the skill book, and I'll have the other equipment and materials."

Although this skill book was worth more than all the equipment put together, it had to be distributed this way when they were working together to fight a BOSS.

It wasn't a good habit to keep everything to himself. Besides, Zhang Shan wasn't short of money now. No matter if it was in the game or in reality, there was no need to scam others.

"thank you, brother liu guan. i really need this skill book. this skill can greatly improve me, but i didn't do much. how about i give you some gold coins?"

"No, we'll distribute it according to the normal rules of the game."

with that, zhang shan distributed the skill books to him and kept the rest.

he had gained quite a lot from this BOSS fight. his experience had increased by almost 1000000, and he had also gotten a ring that he could use immediately.

There was a small gain.

He should continue farming monsters. They had appeared in the system announcement together just now, so the world Guild must have guessed that he had not left.

Now, they were probably stuck together. If they went over now, they would be asking for trouble instead of looking for trouble.

After farming for more than an hour, his experience points had increased a little. Including the experience points from fighting the BOSS, he had less than two million experience points.

he was still far from level 25, so it was impossible for him to level up today. he would take it slow and go find trouble with the heaven and earth guild first.

brother heart follows, I'm going to find trouble with the heaven and earth Guild. You can take your time.

"Do you want me to go with you? It's easy for you to get beaten up by a group if you're alone."

"It's okay, I can run fast. I'll run if there are more of them."

alright, then be careful. This time, you're the one who took the initiative to attack, so you'll be red-named, and you won't be able to return to Dangyang city directly.

"it's okay. if you're red-named, you can just refresh your name here until it's white before going back."

Zhang Shan did not care at all. He had just gained another skill point and his berserk had reached level 10. The heaven and earth Guild could not do anything to him.

Chapter 68-collapse

After leaving the team that was farming monsters, Zhang Shan sneaked towards the map entrance.

it didn't take long for him to find a few members of the heaven and earth guild, who were killing monsters with all their might.

however, zhang shan did not touch them. there were only a few of them. let's not do it first and not alert them.

He would think about it after he found the heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber.

After slowly searching for more than 20 minutes, Zhang Shan finally found the heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber.

A group of more than 30 people were splitting up to kill the skeleton soldiers.

Zhang Shan observed from afar for a while. His field of vision was further than others, and when he saw someone approaching, he ran away.

He had been running around for so long, but the people from the heaven and earth Guild had not noticed him.

'Hehe, to capture the bandits, first capture the leader. I'll kill the heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber before I deal with the others.'

Zhang Shan quickly approached the target.

A member of the world Guild looked at him and said, " don't all come to us. Let's split up and fight together. We won't even have enough monsters to fight. F * ck, they're not our people?"

Zhang Shan was discovered when he was approaching the heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber.

There were too many people gathered in this area, and they could not go around them. The other party thought that Zhang Shan was one of them.

Pa, let's knock this idiot down with one shot first.

instantly, the heaven and earth guild was in an uproar.

stir-fry! Six-pipe Bodhisattva is here again. Everyone, move closer to the boss. Let's attack together and kill him.

Zhang Shan rushed towards the heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber without a care for anything else. Anyone who dared to block his way would be knocked down.

In fact, not many people dared to stop him. After all, no one wanted to lose a level of experience.

By the time the heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber had reacted, Zhang Shan was already not far away from him.

Once he was within attack range, he launched an attack on the heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber without hesitation. The bullets dealt damage rapidly.

The current heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber's equipment was already pretty good. In addition, he was a strength-type profession, so he had quite a lot of health.

It took four consecutive shots to knock him down. It seemed like the heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber had at least 12000 HP. It was tanky enough.

however, it was of no use. not only was zhang shan's attack power high, but his attack speed was also fast. before he could run out of zhang shan's attack range, he had already fallen to the ground unwillingly.

"F * ck you, six-barreled Bodhisattva, are you done yet?"

brothers, come over here. He's Red-named now. Kill him and loot all his equipment.

The heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber lay on the ground and kept calling out.

Zhang Shan did not have the time to argue with a dead person. His body kept moving quickly, constantly keeping a distance from the heaven and earth Guild.

He didn't give anyone the chance to attack him.

At this time, Zhang Shan was like a monster. He would catch up with one and beat one down. The only difference was that people would run away, while monsters would only attack and not run.

Seeing a few of them gathered together, Zhang Shan quickly chased after them and beat them up.

If he didn't give them a chance to gather, it would be easier to deal with them slowly if they were separated. If they were all gathered together, he couldn't do anything.

The heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber lay on the ground and kept calling for the support to pull him up. However, Zhang Shan was nearby and none of them could get close.

at the same time, zhang shan had also knocked down dozens of people. they had already given up hope. the entire guild did not have many resurrection skills.

The cooldown time of the resurrection skill was so long. Even if Zhang Shan left later, it was unlikely that they would be revived.

they could only choose to return to the city to resurrect.

zhang shan looked at the heaven and earth dragon slaying saber that was lying on the ground from afar.

'Forget it, I won't guard his corpse anymore. I'll continue to kill the others. I won't stop until I kill them all.'

He had no choice. He was alone, and if he wanted to guard the corpse, he couldn't chase after the others.

the heaven and earth dragon slaying saber would probably be pulled up by the support. he would not lose experience, and other than losing face, there was no loss.

To people like the heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber, face was the most important. Zhang Shan had slapped their faces time and time again. He was probably furious now.

Who cares, when they cut others, were they not angry? He didn't want anything, so he didn't give it to others.

A person who liked to stir up trouble Every Day should have expected such a day to come. If it wasn't Zhang Shan, there might be a li San.

At this time, Zhang Shan was like a homicidal maniac. His name was as red as blood, and he was hunting down members of the heaven and earth Guild all over the map.

It didn't matter if they knew each other or not. Those who didn't want to die had to return to the city or leave the heaven and earth Guild. Those who dared to stay here would be cut down.

As more and more people were defeated by Zhang Shan, they were gradually resurrected in Yingtian city.

the regional channel of yingtian city was on fire again.

f*ck, it seems like a lot of heaven and earth's players died and returned to the city. Did they get killed by the big BOSS? "

I don't know. The bounty on 'follow my heart' has already been canceled. He shouldn't have been killed by a player, right? "

"Are there any well-informed brothers who can tell me?"

"hey, heaven and earth guild, say something."

" they don't have the face to say anything. look at how well-behaved they are today. they're not as arrogant as they were two days ago. "

...

" if he doesn't dare to speak, then he might really have been hacked back. "

I wonder which great God was chivalrous enough to kill that bunch of trash even without a reward.

The heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber was still lying on the ground. He really didn't want to resurrect in the city, as that would cost him one level of experience. However, their Guild now had the help of the resurrection skill.

He would either die and return to the city, or he would cast a spell and return to the city. No one would come over to pull him up for a while.

the furious heaven and earth dragon slaying saber could not take it anymore and chose to resurrect in the city.

The world Channel:

"Six-barreled Bodhisattva, don't be too smug. Just because you have a divine weapon and superior equipment, you can kill people as you please. One day, you'll also be killed like a dog. Wind cloud Guild, I'm not done with you."

a big watermelon. I'm just an emotionless bystander. May I know what happened? " what else could it be? those fools from the heaven and earth Guild were killed.

haha, dragon slaying saber, you're not done with us. You've said this no less than 800 times. Come on, do something new.

"He deserves it."

...

I'm from Yingtian city. Haha, I was just wondering which great God had killed those dogs from the heaven and earth Guild and sent them back to the city. So it's the divine weapon boss. The boss is awesome.

"What the hell, alone? Kill all of the heaven and earth Guild's members?"

it should be the same person. I don't see any other people from the wind and cloud Guild.

"the divine artifact boss is so terrifying. i really want a divine artifact."

"Work hard, young man. There will be a divine weapon."

"there's everything in the dream."

Zhang Shan did not care about the heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber's clamoring. He would just cut them down one by one. In the future, if he encountered an idiot that he could not cut down, he would just run. If he could not run, he would just die once.

It's just a game, won't I level up again after some time? It wasn't like he was really going to die.

Zhang Shan searched the area near the entrance of the map, but he did not see anyone from the heaven and earth Guild.

At this time, his name was already red to the point of turning purple, and his sin value was more than 1000. He had just killed more than 100 people?

I didn't count it seriously, but I killed quite a lot. When will I be able to clear my name?

Forget it, let's go and farm Red names. I hope I can get rid of my evil score as soon as possible. Otherwise, if anything happens to the wind and cloud Guild, I won't be able to go back.

He would be locked up in a small black room if he went back.

Chapter 69 passive magic resistance

When things are done, one flicks one's clothes and leaves, hiding one's merit and fame.

The heaven and earth Guild had been completely annihilated, and they probably had no one left in the entire 10000-player pit.

With a big red name, Zhang Shan couldn't block the city gate, so he could only continue to farm monsters and level up.

He had heard that killing monsters would clear one's Red name much faster, but as for how much faster, Zhang Shan did not know in detail.

However, with his evil score of more than 1000 points, it would take a long time no matter how fast he was.

'ASIBA, you can't die at this time. If you die and go back, How long will you be locked up in the little black room?'

It was scary just thinking about it.

Let's go find heart moves with me first, it's good to have someone to take care of him.

Returning to the place where he had been farming monsters, his heart moves when he was still in the world of farming monsters. Zhang Shan had run over, and he had not even realized that he was a real player.

“Brother heart follows, you’re having a good time farming?”

When Zhang Shan spoke, heart with me jumped in shock.

Seeing Zhang Shan’s name that was so red that it was almost purple, he was a little confused.

“How many people from the heaven and earth Guild did you kill just now? why is his name so red?”

“I didn’t count, but there should be around a hundred.”

“Oh my God, are the heaven and earth Guild all pigs? How did I let you kill so many people? I thought you were just there to harass them.”

killing people is easier than killing monsters. The monsters have much more health than players. I can kill all the fragile classes with one shot.

then why didn’t they run? why did they just stand there and let you kill more than a hundred of them? ”

“at least they ran fast. otherwise, i could have cut more.”

did you cut down the heaven and earth Dragon slaying saber? that idiot is too arrogant. He’s the kind that people hate.

“I’ll kill him first. Didn’t you see the chat channel? he was challenging me in the world Channel just now.”

“no, i usually turn off all the chat channels when i’m free. it’ll affect my leveling up.”

He was really a good player. He didn’t pay attention to the outside world and only focused on leveling up.

“I really can’t go back now. I don’t know how long it will take to clear my evil score.”

I don’t know much about this either. You can go to the forum and check it out. There should be relevant data.

That’s right. He was asking the wrong person if he only wanted to kill monsters and level up. The Almighty forum god should be more reliable.

Through the forums, Zhang Shan quickly found the information he needed.

As for the red-name mechanism in the game, it was figured out by the players a few days after the game was launched.

The content of the post was as such.

The first point was 10 crime points for each kill. This was nonsense, everyone already knew.

the second point was that ten crime points would be automatically reduced every hour.

Then even if you do nothing and stand in the wild for an hour, your evil score will be washed away.

This point was meaningless to Zhang Shan. He already had more than a thousand sin points. He couldn't possibly stay outside for more than a hundred hours.

wasn't that bullsh * t?

The third point was that killing monsters could speed up the clearing of evil score. Killing 10 monsters would reduce one evil score.

However, it was not possible to kill any monster. The monster's level must be higher than the player's level for it to be effective.

if the monster's level was the same as the player's, or if the monster's level was lower than the player's, then the speed increase effect would not be effective.

When killing monsters of a lower level than the user, the speed at which the sin value decreased would be the same as when the user was in a normal hack. There was no acceleration effect.

fourth, red names definitely couldn't return to the city. once they returned to the city, they would be locked up in a small black room for the same time as when they logged in the wild.

This post, other than the third point, which provided Zhang Shan with useful information, was all about water.

Everyone already knew about this. However, to gain sin points, one had to fight monsters that were higher level than themselves. This was something that Zhang Shan had not known before.

Fortunately, the wandering souls here were level 25, which was higher than him. It was a good place to farm for sin points.

Ten monsters would reduce one's evil score by one point. With more than 1000 evil scores, killing more than 10000 monsters would be enough.

He could clear his name today.

It seemed that a red name was not too troublesome. It was not difficult to clear it.

Zhang Shan killed one ghost with two shots. One critical shot was enough. He could kill more than 20 ghosts in a minute.

It was more than 1000 Yuan per hour. In addition, the AFK itself could also reduce his evil score. At most, he would be able to get rid of his red name in ten hours.

He still needed more than 3000000 experience to reach level 25, and he could still get another 2000000 experience today. If he worked a little harder, he could reach level 25 by midnight.

However, there was no need to do so. There was no pressure now, so he didn't have to work so hard. He could just play normally.

≪ system notification: your innate skill, passive King, has been activated by killing wandering souls. You have automatically obtained the magic resistance (passive) skill. ≫

Eh? A passive skill?

Could it be that the probability of getting a passive from a red name would increase? It didn't make sense.

Who cares, it's good that he got it. Let's see how this skill is like. If it's like a small monster, magic classes don't want to attack it, that's good.

...

[magic resistance (passive): Level 1. Acquired. Can not be leveled up. Increases magic resistance and reduces magic damage by 10%.]

It only reduced magic damage by 10%, which was a little low.

However, it was still better than nothing. His opponent's attack could deal 1000 damage, but his magic resistance reduced it by 10%, so he only dealt 900 damage.

thinking about it this way, it was a very good passive position. the key was that he didn't have to pay anything.

he didn't need skill points, nor did he need to buy a skill book. he just gave him the skill for free, so he couldn't ask for too much.

farming monsters was a boring thing, unless there were some surprises from time to time.

However, this was impossible. After gaining passive magic resistance, Zhang Shan felt that his luck had run out.

He had been grinding for more than two hours, and the white board didn't drop a single item. This was too much. Was he a red name or was it affecting the drop rate?

It was a little sad.

From the looks of it, he should try not to kill people in the future. To Zhang Shan, reducing the drop rate was like losing a few small targets.

...

He wanted to find something to do to change his sad mood.

Let's see what the big shots in the Guild are busy with. It's good to chat with them when you're free.

"Bosses, what are you all busy with?"

I'm looking for bosses. I've been looking for them all day, but they're all purple bosses. I've only managed to get three orange bosses.

"Sure, we can fight three bosses in a day. Isn't that a great harvest? One must be content with what they have."

f*ck, you just killed one while you were at it. There were so many of us, but we only managed to kill three a day. You want us to be satisfied? you're too much, brother divine weapon.

bro, don't get too excited. You guys can find a red BOSS to fight. If you fight a red BOSS and it drops a few red equipment, that's not a Mezz.

"It's easy to say, where can we find it?"

there should be. There's only one red Priest in Dangyang city. No one has fought the other red bosses yet. It's impossible that there aren't any, right? "

"There are definitely some, but they're all high-level ones, so don't even think about it. We still haven't found a level 20 red BOSS."

"Then where do the people from the other cities fight?"

"We've asked them, but we can't find the map where they fought the BOSS. We don't know where the BOSS is hiding."

there are still too few people. The entire Guild only has 1000 people. If we spread out and search the maps one by one, we'll have to spend a long time.

"I hope we can find a red BOSS to fight today. By the way, if we find a red BOSS, can you come back?"

that can't be. I'm still a red name. I can only clear my name at 10 pm.

then what's the point of saying it? without you, even if we found it, we might not be able to beat it. How many people would die before we could kill it? " the problem is that we're going to clear the dungeon tomorrow. Boss said that he wants to try the hard mode. It's best if we don't die today. Otherwise, if we drop to level 19, we won't be able to wear level 20 equipment. We'll be weak chickens in the dungeon.

"What's there to be afraid of if I die? I'll just respawn."

They couldn't die today, and they still had to clear the dungeon tomorrow, which was Wednesday. It would be useless to find the red BOSS.

It was basically impossible to defeat the red boss without killing anyone, not even if Zhang Shan was there.

then you guys take your time to look for it. I'll be back after I erase my red name.

It was better to clear his red name first. It was inconvenient to do anything with a red name.

Chapter 70 the damaged ring time slowly passed as he buried himself in killing monsters. his experience slowly increased, and his evil score gradually decreased.

When it was past 9 pm, Zhang Shan finally cleared his sin points.

Phew, it felt good to not have a red name. In the future, if no one provoked him, he would not casually kill people anymore. It was too painful to clear his evil points.

he looked at his experience bar. it was less than 4000000. he estimated that if he went back to farm wild wolves, he would be able to reach level 25 in less than five hours.

By then, he would be able to upgrade another piece of equipment. Previously, the wandering soul commander had dropped him a level 25 ring.

After putting it on, his attack power should be able to increase by a hundred points.

Sigh, other than unsealing the divine weapon, the other equipment's improvements were too little. He had to think of a way in the future.

He had to find another passive ability like granting power. Otherwise, he wouldn't be able to increase his attack power. If this continued, he might be caught up by others very soon.

he had to be prepared for danger in times of peace.

"Brother xinsui, my red name has been washed away, and I plan to return to Dangyang city. Do you want to come along?"

Although moving heart was only a skill, he was a very rich skill. If possible, it was better to poach him.

let's observe the situation first. I don't plan on going over for the time being. I hope the people from the heaven and earth Guild will learn from this lesson and not cause trouble again.

"You're thinking too much. How can they not cause trouble? it's in the nature of a slut."

well, I know that they are that kind of people. Let's just wait and see. This time, they suffered a big blow, so they should be able to be quiet for a while."

"Alright, I'll go back first."

A brush would not easily want to move. Zhang Shan also understood that, just like himself, unless he was forced into a corner.

otherwise, he would have stayed in one place and had no intention of changing cities.

Now that his red name had been cleared, he had nothing to do in Yingtian city. He couldn't go and find trouble with the heaven and earth Guild.

He cast a return bar.

Back in Dangyang city, even though Zhang Shan had only left for less than a day, why did it feel like a long time had passed?

Well, he must have caused a lot of trouble, so it seemed like a long time had passed.

First, he went to the auction house to take a look. The boss had dropped three violet-grade equipment, so he would auction them later.

The current purple equipment's value had dropped drastically. Normal ones were only worth a few hundred gold coins, which was not even as much as Zhang Shan's gold coins from killing monsters for two days.

However, a mosquito's leg was still meat, and it was much better than being thrown into the store.

In addition, I'll see if I can pick up any scraps at the auction house later.

In reality, every time Zhang Shan returned to the city, he would come to the auction house to see if there was a chance to pick up a bargain.

His target was different from others. Others were thinking about whether there were cheap equipment or skill books to sell.

Zhang Shan was not. He only wanted to find divine materials.

At present, other than himself, no one knew what divine materials were used for. Even the people from wind and cloud Guild didn't know.

They only knew that Zhang Shan had gotten his hands on a special tube-like item, and then went to the East Capital to complete a mission. That was how he had gotten his hands on the divine weapon.

As for what else he needed, they had no idea at all. Since no one asked him, Zhang Shan naturally would not tell anyone.

the longer this secret was kept, the better. that way, he could secretly and slowly collect divine materials from the auction house.

Although the big bosses in the game wouldn't easily sell materials, the ordinary players would.

the description of the divine material was too simple. no matter how he looked at it, he could not be sure that it was valuable.

Just like the one that Zhang Shan had used.

It was a metallic material filled with a mysterious aura.

It was such a simple description. How the f * ck would he know what it was used for and whether it was valuable or not?

Perhaps many people would think that it was a material for blacksmiths to level up.

In short, there was a chance to pick up divine materials.

Moreover, the drop rate of divine materials should be much higher than the drop rate of divine weapon quest items. Zhang Shan had used one.

he still had one in his inventory. he had gotten one when he was soloing a priest, and it had been in his storage ever since.

He filtered the materials and removed all the common materials, leaving behind some uncommon materials with strange names.

After filtering, there were not many left. There were less than two pages and there were probably dozens of types.

Zhang Shan looked through them one by one, from the name of the material to the description.

however, he found nothing. there wasn't even the word "spirit ", let alone any mysterious aura. he didn't know if it was because there were too few of them or because there were too many smart people.

although he had not found anything, zhang shan was not dejected. it was normal that he had not found anything. if he could find divine materials with a simple search, that would be too heaven-defying.

Since he did not find any divine materials, he just browsed through the other auction items.

When he was looking at the miscellaneous items, an item attracted Zhang Shan's attention.

F * ck, someone would auction such an item?

[damaged ring: this is a severely damaged ring. It emits a faint mysterious aura. I wonder where it came from and what its use is?]

no wonder it was being auctioned. this description was different from the strange tube he had seen before.

There was no hint to look for an NPC to identify it. Hence, even if Zhang Shan guessed, this ring should also be a God equipment quest item.

...

However, after buying it, he didn't know where to find someone to repair it.

He was not like the strange pipe, which directly gave him a hint to look for Master Lu.

Although he didn't know who he would find to repair it in the future, he still had to buy it. This kind of thing was hard to come by.

There would always be a way after buying it. At most, he could just walk around the both of them and find all the NPCs related to accessories.

He could always find an NPC that could trigger it.

However, the person who auctioned the ring was a little sneaky. The starting price was 100 gold coins, and the buyout price was 1000000 gold coins.

Did he want to sell it but couldn't bear to, or did he want to fish?

No matter what the seller thought, Zhang Shan was planning to buy it at the buyout price.

If this fellow were to go back on his word and cancel the auction, wouldn't he be missing out on a divine weapon?

Hurry up and get some money.

He only had 500000 gold coins now. He sold the Cape to Feng Yun realm for 300000 and the two pieces of orange equipment for 100000 each.

...

He did not have enough money. He was still short of more than four hundred thousand.

my heart moves with me. this brush brother still owed them a bounty, so he had to give them some in case of emergency.

“Brother heart follows, do you have any gold coins on hand? I’m still short of 500000 gold coins for an emergency.”

“Wait a moment, I’ll go back to the city to exchange for it and transfer it to you in a minute.”

Not long after, heart with me replied, “I’ve already sent you 5 million gold coins. I’ll change the rest tomorrow. If I change too much, the ratio will rise too much.”

“Got it. I’m going to bid for something first.”

After checking the mail, he had indeed received 5000000 gold coins. After taking out the gold coins, he immediately bought the damaged ring at a fixed price, in case the other party went back on their word.

the rule of the auction house was that the buyer and the seller did not know who the other was.

Hence, Zhang Shan did not have to worry about others guessing that he had won the ring, even if the seller announced it.

Everyone would only say that he was a lucky guy. An item that was sold for one million was bought by some idiot who mistakenly bought it with a fixed price.

For a while, no one would think about the divine artifact.

Now that he had the quest item, he also had one divine material, but it might not be enough. The tube from before was well preserved.

The ring’s description said that it was severely damaged, so it might need more materials or other things. He would keep it for now.

in the future, when he was tired of killing monsters, he would run to the east and west with the ring and think of a way to trigger the NPC mission first.

as for the teleportation fee of 10000 gold coins to go to the capital? compared to a divine weapon, this small amount of money was nothing.

unexpected gain, mezz, let’s go farm monsters.
