

Passive Skills 73

Chapter 73 The attack of the wolves

Zhang Shan stood in the distance and activated berserk, madly dealing damage. At the same time, he also controlled the Panda baby to go up and deal damage.

A boss with 10 million health could not be defeated in a short time. No matter how strong Zhang Shan's damage output was, it was useless.

When fighting this kind of boss, they could only rely on numbers. They could deal all kinds of damage and not save any skills. Anyway, it would take a long time, and they would not be able to finish the skills before the cooldown.

although the wolf king was blessed with attack and had the title of nemesis of the demon race, its defense was not weak.

in addition to the level suppression, zhang shan's damage each time he attacked was less than 3000. as for the others, their damage was even less.

Their ATK was much lower than Zhang Shan's, and the level suppression effect was even more powerful. The ones with higher damage could only deal 700 – 800, while the ones with lower damage could only deal 300 – 500.

It would take 15 to 20 minutes to kill the wolf King if everything went smoothly. It would take even longer if they lost members halfway.

It was destined to be a long battle.

The wolf King's normal attack was a critical hit, and it was bleeding from its bite. A large number of damage values appeared above the little Secretary's head, and a group of support players healed him in an orderly manner.

Although the situation seemed a little tense, it was actually still okay. At least before the wolf King went berserk, there should be no accidents.

this Wolf King looks impressive, but he's actually pretty weak. He doesn't deserve to be a red boss.

yeah, it's just like cutting a wooden stake. It doesn't require any skill at all. It's simple.

"Don't be happy too early, be careful of the wolf King's skills."

"This boss's skills don't look like much, what's there to be afraid of?"

Before a certain idiot could finish his sentence, a huge shadow of a wild wolf slowly appeared behind the BOSS.

At the same time, everyone's HP dropped rapidly.

f * ck, how did his HP drop so fast? when we were in the dungeon, the will of the demon summoned by the priest only lost 100 hp.

f * ck, he lost 300 hp in one second. That's too scary.

how long will this skill last? it'll be fine if it lasts fifteen seconds like the priest, but if it lasts longer than fifteen seconds, we'll all be dead.

"F * ck, I can't even last 15 seconds. I just leveled up to level 20 and didn't have time to go back and buy a new cloak. Wuwuwu."

A certain fragile little mage cried out in despair.

then stop struggling. BrittleSkin definitely won't be able to last without a green cape that's above level 20.

don't be careless. Take your medicine first. It might really be more than 15 seconds.

"F * ck, that's 4500 HP in 15 seconds. If it lasts for 20 seconds, doesn't that mean 6000 HP? How can BrittleSkin take it?"

don't panic. Take the red to recover 500 hp. With your equipment and your own HP recovery speed, you should be able to survive as long as you have more than 5000 HP.

"boss, should i use my totem? If I use it, I should be able to survive this time."

Feng Yun Qing Qing's totem technique was a skill book that Zhang Shan had dropped in the beginner's village, and it was very powerful.

it could restore a group's health by a percentage, and it also increased attack, attack speed, and movement speed. it was a very powerful group support skill.

The most important thing was that the cooldown time of this skill was not long, only one minute. If a few more supports had this skill, they could maintain the group support effect.

"Hurry up and use it. I'm fainting. I forgot about this skill of yours just now."

Feng Yun Qing Qing cast a totem in the middle of the crowd, and everyone began to recover their health.

Although it couldn't completely offset the damage of the wolf God's will, it greatly relieved the pressure on everyone.

even the weak-skinned mage heaved a sigh of relief.

"F * ck, that was too dangerous. Thank God Qingqing saved my dog life."

Not only did the totem recover HP, but it also increased attack power, attack speed, and movement speed.

Attack speed and movement speed couldn't be seen, but attack power could be seen. Zhang Shan calculated from the attack power attributes on the character panel, and it should have increased by 5%.

A 5% increase in attack power for the whole team was really a very strong support skill.

With the help of Feng Yun Qing Qing's totem skill, everyone managed to survive the first round of danger.

Everyone heaved a sigh of relief and quickly took medicine to recover their health.

No one knew how long it would take for the wolf King to summon the wolf God's will, so they had to restore their health as soon as possible.

this BOSS is too shameless. He hasn't even lost 20% of his health and he's already using a big move.

this isn't the wolf King's ultimate move. The attack from the pack of wolves is its ultimate move. I guess that skill will be very terrifying. Not many people can survive it.

"Can't you say something nice to comfort me?"

brother, I'm just describing the truth. Don't mind me, hehe.

what are you hehe for? don't think that you can survive just because you're a Berserker with more HP than me. Maybe a pack of wolves will attack you.

you're joking. I'll kill a small wild wolf with one slash.

Under everyone's hard work, the wolf King's HP gradually dropped to 50%.

During this period, the wolf King also summoned the wolf God's will Phantom twice, but both were dissolved by the totem. For the time being, the whole team was intact and there were no fewer members.

Suddenly, the wolf King stopped attacking the little Secretary. It waved its front paws in the air.

It was as if a dimensional space had been opened, and a large number of wild wolves rushed out.

f * ck, how many wild wolves have you summoned? "

"quickly clear the wolves. everyone, prioritize clearing the wolves around the support. even if you die, you must protect the support."

...

zhang shan's berserk skill had already cooled down. he activated it and attacked the newly appeared wild wolves.

With the attack blessing status, Zhang Shan could kill one with two shots. However, there were too many wolves.

He couldn't clear all of them in a short time, so he put the Panda baby back to his side and activated Guardian mode to help him block the wild wolves around him.

And Zhang Shan himself would help the auxiliary jobs, and also clear out the wild wolves around them.

The wild wolves' attack power was more than 900. If several of them attacked a single person at the same time, the fragile professions would die very quickly.

The support couldn't die. Without the support's healing, the little Secretary was also dead.

Only by protecting all the support could they continue fighting this boss battle.

“What the f * ck, how many wild wolves are there? there are at least a thousand of them, right?”

“Even if there aren’t a thousand, there are at least a few hundred. Clear the monsters quickly and don’t talk.”

At this time, the mages and spellblades who had AoE skills were useful.

One by one, AoE skills were cast madly like a demon. The speed of clearing monsters was not slower than Zhang Shan’s.

...

With the buff, Zhang Shan could kill a Wolf in less than three seconds. He could kill more than 20 in a minute.

However, the number of wolves that the wolf King had summoned was simply too many. There were hundreds of them, and Zhang Shan could not possibly clear them all by himself.

Fortunately, everyone else’s equipment wasn’t bad. With all sorts of skills, they cleared the wolves rather quickly. It took them a full five to six minutes to clear all the wolves.

A few unlucky ones were surrounded by too many wild wolves and were unable to escape, lying on the ground.

However, the support and tank were still there, and they could continue to fight.