

PAW 801

Chapter 801: Reporting to the Commission for Discipline Inspection

It was almost winter, and the temperature had dropped.

Fen Zhou City's city area. Dong Xuebing drove his Porsche Panamera into Xi Ping District. Most of the City's Party Committee and Government departments are located here. Along the way, he saw many damaged or collapsed buildings from the earthquake. Workers were clearing the debris and tearing down those damaged buildings for rebuilding. He made a slight detour to look at the progress and nodded. The City will return to its former glory within a year.

The City Party Committee Building was in front.

Dong Xuebing looked at the building and drove into the compound.

The guard saw Dong Xuebing's car did not display the entry permit and had no intention to stop. He was about to block his path when he noticed the Porsche logo. He was stunned for a while and raised the barrier to let this almost 4 million RMB into the compound.

The City Party Committee Building compound.

Dong Xuebing parked his car in a random parking lot randomly. He got out of his car and looked around.

The building in the center should be the City Party Committee office building, and the building beside is the City Government building. Xie Huilan had not reported working, and Dong Xuebing doesn't know anyone. He didn't see anyone around and walked to the City Party Committee office building. He saw a few staff in the building and asked them where the Party Committee office was. After that, he went upstairs and found the City Party Committee office and the Organization Department Minister's office.

Knock, knock....

"Come in." A middle-aged man said.

Dong Xuebing entered the office with a smile. "Are you Minister Wen?"

Wen Shixiang found Dong Xuebing familiar. "You are...."

Dong Xuebing reached out both hands to shake his hand. "I am Dong Xuebing. I am here to report."

"Oh, Director Dong." Wen Shixiang laughed. He stood up and shook his hand. He looked at him from top to toe. "Young and capable. No wonder you can become our Fen Zhou City's earthquake hero."

Dong Xuebing smiled. "Minister Wen, I'm flattered."

Wen Shixiang waved his hand. "I had been waiting for your arrival. Have a seat."

"No need. I will stand." Dong Xuebing replied politely.

Wen Shixiang was Yang Zhaode's replacement as Fen Zhou City's Party Committee Organization Department Minister. The political rivalry and human connections are more complicated than at the county level at the city level. Many things cannot be explained with one or two sentences. That's why Yang Zhaode did not tell Dong Xuebing much when he asked about the situation in Fen Zhou City. He only told him to keep a low profile and establish a good relationship with the higher-ups. He got to find out the current situation by himself. Uncle Yang must have offended many people because of the earthquake and lost some of his former allies.

Ten minutes passed.

Both men chatted about the earthquake.

Wen Shixiang looked at his watch and said. "Let's go. I will bring it to the Commission for Discipline Inspection office."

"Thank you, Minister Wen. Sorry to trouble you."

"Haha.... Don't mention it. Let's go."

They left the City Party Committee office building and went to a small building on a corner.

The Commission for Discipline Inspection was a department under the Party Committee. The building was not far from the main building.

The City's Commission for Discipline Inspection has power over all government departments and staff in the City. They are an independent department with its reporting line. They addressed reports, investigations, interrogations, punishments, etc., against government staff. The Commission for Discipline Inspection and the Organization Department had conflicting roles. The Commission for Discipline Inspection is in charge of punishing staff. The Organization Department is in charge of the staff's promotion.

The Commission for Discipline Inspection office building.

Wen Shixiang did not inform anyone before he brought Dong Xuebing there.

They walked slowly, giving Dong Xuebing a chance to look around and familiarize himself with the environment.

The City's Commission for Discipline Inspection is a huge department with more than ten sub-departments. For examples, the Office Department, Inspection Office One, Inspection Office Two, Integrated Inspection Office, Regulations Office, Party Members Conduct and Government Building Office, Enforcement and Inspection Office, Trial Office, Public Complaints and Proposals Office, Promotion and Education Office, Correction Office, Cadre Office, etc. Because the Disciplinary and Inspections' duties are split, many offices had duplicate roles. Of course, the office staff is the same, but they had to take on multiple roles.

They went upstairs.

"Minister Wen."

"Minister Wen."

The Commission for Discipline Inspection officers and staff saw Wen Shixiang and greeted him. They noticed Dong Xuebing beside him and looked at him puzzledly. They smile or go up to Minister Wen to greet him like the staff from most departments. They were calmer. Maybe this was because of their work nature. Their job was to pick on others and charge them. They were more serious and seldom smiled or joked around.

This will be my working environment in the future.

Dong Xuebing nodded. He liked this working environment because he is a straightforward person. He doesn't like to beat around the bush and was frustrated by most staff's pretenses in other departments. They would act like friendly people in front of you and stab you in the back. He like this place, and this job suits his character. The nature of this job will offend many people, and this was what he was good at.

Upstairs.

The Commission for Discipline Inspection Secretary's office.

Wen Shixiang knocked on the door and entered the office with Dong Xuebing.

A middle-aged man was reading documents behind his desk. He looked up when he heard the door opening. "Oh, Old Wen."

Wen Shixiang smiled. "I had brought your man here."

He Suien looked at Dong Xuebing. "This is...."

Wen Shixiang passed the appointment letter to him and sat down. "He is your Commission for Discipline Inspection, Inspection Office One's Director, Dong Xuebing."

He Suien replied. "Oh, I thought you would be here a few days later."

Dong Xuebing reached out with both hands to shake his hand. "Nice to meet you, Secretary He."

He Suien nodded and shook his hand. "I had heard a lot about you. I got to thank you properly for saving us with your earthquake article."

Dong Xuebing quickly replied. "Oh, I didn't do much."

"You had risked your life to save others." He Suien praised. "You are too modest. Have a seat. I had been waiting for your arrival."

Wen Shixiang laughed. "Old He, I still have work to do. I will come back for the appointment announcement later."

He Suien looked at his watch. "Let's set it an hour later. I will get someone to inform you."

"Ok." Wen Shixiang patted Dong Xuebing's shoulder. He looked like a caring leader. "Drop by my office for a chat when you are free in the future." He said and suddenly laughed. "Forget it. You better not come to my office. Something bad will happen when someone from the Commission for Discipline Inspection visits."

He Suien smiled.

Dong Xuebing quickly stood up to send Wen Shixiang off. He did not walk him to the door as his new supervisor was behind the desk. The Commission for Discipline Inspection work is different from other departments. He cannot be too friendly to others as it will affect his work in the future. What would his supervisor think if a friend had committed an offense? Are you going to arrest him or let him off? He was prepared to maintain a distance from the staff from other departments.

Office.

He Suien exchanged some pleasantries with Dong Xuebing and made a phone call. "Hello, Gao Wenrong. Come to my office now."

A while later, a tall man in his late thirties entered the office.

"Secretary." Gao Wenrong greeted and looked at Dong Xuebing.

He Suien nodded. "Notify the rest of the departments for a meeting forty minutes later. We will read an appointment announcement. This is Dong Xuebing. Inspection Office One's Director."

Guo Wenrong was surprised and shook hands with Dong Xuebing. "Oh, you are Director Dong. I have heard a lot about you. I am Gao Wenrong. Deputy Secretary and Office Director of the Commission for Discipline Inspection. Let me know if you need anything in the future."

Dong Xuebing greeted him politely.

Gao Wenrong turned to Secretary He. "I will inform the other departments now."

He Suien nodded. "Xiao Dong, Xiao Gao will bring you to your office while the small hall is set up. Try to familiarize yourself with the surroundings first."

"Yes." Dong Xuebing replied. "Sorry to trouble you."

Dong Xuebing and Gao Wenrong left the office.

Dong Xuebing smiled. "Thanks for bringing me around, Brother Gao."

Gao Wenrong laughed. "Don't mention it. Just call me Old Gao will do."

The Commission for Discipline Inspection staff were friendlier towards their people.

Chapter 802: Feng Zhou City's Youngest Deputy Division Chief

Morning.

Commission for Discipline Inspection.

Three offices were at the end of the second floor's corridor of a small office building. The innermost office was a big office that could hold more than a dozen work desks. The Commission for Discipline Inspection staff were working and did not notice Dong Xuebing and Gao Wenrong.

They stopped and stood in the corridor.

Gao Wenrong explained. "This is the Commission for Discipline Inspection's First Inspection Office."

Dong Xuebing nodded and looked around. "This is a nice environment."

"Shall we go in?" Gao Wenrong asked.

"Never mind. They seemed to be busy. It's not good to disturb them."

"Haha.... You are the head of the First Inspection Office. You don't need to worry about that."

"The official announcement is not released yet, and it's not good for me to disrupt their work. Let's talk about it again in the afternoon."

“Alright. Let’s go to your office. This is your office.”

They entered an office, and Dong Xuebing was blinded by the sun from the windows. He had to narrow his eyes for a while. The office had a north south-facing, and the windows were opposite the door. Two pots of flowers were placed by the windows, and a black solid wood desk was in front of the windows. There was a set of sofas on the left, and a bookshelf was placed against the wall on the right. A tall plant was placed near the door. This décor was similar to most leaders’ offices.

Gao Wenrong smiled. “I knew you would be coming and had asked the staff to tidy up the office. What do you think?”

“It’s great. Thanks, Brother Gao.”

“Let me know if you need anything. I will get my staff to prepare it.”

“This is fine. I will trouble you if I need anything. I hope you will not find me troublesome. Haha....”

“It’s not troublesome at all. Just look around yourself. Oh....” Gao Wenrong suddenly said. “Your apartment is not ready yet. The former First Office Director was injured during the earthquake, and he might take a few days to move. I contacted our City Party Committee’s Guesthouse to prepare a room for you. I will pass you the keys this afternoon. This is temporary accommodation, and I will let you know once there is an available apartment.”

Dong Xuebing was understanding and did not mind this arrangement. The City did not have enough apartments for its staff as many houses were damaged during the earthquake. “It’s alright, Brother Gao. There’s no rush.”

Gao Wenrong replied. “Ok. I shall go back now.”

Dong Xuebing tried to stop him. “Wait.... Stay a while longer. I will brew tea for you.”

“I will come again another time.” Gao Wenrong pointed at his watch. “Secretary He had instructed me to inform all department heads about the meeting. I also got to arrange the meeting room.”

Gao Wenrong left.

Gao Wenrong, the Commission for Discipline Inspection’s Office Director, should be holding the same rank as Dong Xuebing. He held the title of Deputy Secretary and had higher authority than Dong Xuebing. He was polite towards Dong Xuebing because the latter was the Commission for Discipline Inspection First Inspection Office’s Director. The First Inspection Office was the most important office in the City’s Commission for Discipline Inspection Department.

Simply put, it is. The Commission for Discipline Inspection’s First Inspection Office can investigate any District’s or County’s government officials, including the leaders. Dong Xuebing’s Office held the most power among the Commission for Discipline Inspection’s sub-departments. The First Inspection Office Director would also be a City Commission for Discipline Inspection Party

Committee member. But Dong Xuebing's length of service was too short, and he was promoted due to exceptional basis. He was not qualified to be one of the Party Committee members.

Dong Xuebing had asked Xie Huilan about the Commission for Discipline Inspection's work and internal structure. After understanding the department, he did not complain about not entering the Party Committee. He was satisfied with having the most power among all Deputy Division Chief positions. Moving from a Subdistrict Office Director to this position was considered a triple promotion. This was all due to his performance during the earthquake and the Xie Family's help. Without the Xie Family's help, it might take three to five years to get this position.

Dong Xuebing looked around his office and poured himself a glass of water. He felt he was dreaming as he looked back on his career.

Ten minutes....

Twenty minutes....

Half an hour....

The phone on the desk rang.

Dong Xuebing answered. "Hello."

It was Gao Wenrong. "Director Dong, the meeting room is ready. Secretary, He asked you to go there now."

"Alright. I will go now."

"The meeting room is on the top floor. See you in a bit."

Dong Xuebing straightened his shirt and tied it before walking quickly toward the top floor.

Dong Xuebing's previous appointments were head of the County's Investment Promotion Agency and Subdistrict Office. That's why he doesn't care much about those announcement ceremonies. This time was different. He was only the Director of a subdepartment, and there was a Leader, Deputy Secretary, and Secretary above him. He had to be early and could not be late.

The meeting room was a medium-size meeting hall.

Dong Xuebing entered the meeting room and looked around. He did not know anyone except for Gao Wenrong. Many other top leaders had not arrived.

The Commission for Discipline Inspection's staff noticed Dong Xuebing, and they were shocked.

Some of them had heard the Earthquake Hero, Dong Xuebing, would be transferred to the Commission for Discipline Inspection, but most had not met him before. When they saw a young man in his mid-twenties, they frowned and stared at him.

This guy is the Commission for Discipline Inspection's First Inspection Office Director.

The staff started to talk among themselves.

"That guy is Director Dong."

"Why is he so young?"

No one expected Dong Xuebing to be so young.

The staff did not know if there were Deputy Division Chiefs in their mid-twenties in other Cities. But they know this guy should be Fen Zhou City's youngest Deputy Division Chief!

Chapter 803: Official Appointment

City's Commission for Discipline Inspection.

Small meeting hall.

Everyone was whispering among themselves while looking at Dong Xuebing.

More staff arrived at the meeting hall and joined the discussion.

"I thought the First Inspection Office's Director would be someone in his thirties."

"That's right. How can they appoint someone like this to be the Director of the most important office?"

"This is not a surprise. Did you all forget about Director Dong's contributions during the earthquake?"

"I know about it. But the news report did not state he is in his mid-twenties."

"Yes. The newspaper only published a black and white photograph of him once, and it looked different."

"This is too much. Who would respect him with his age and experience?"

"That's right. I respect Director Dong's selflessness in risking his life to save others during the earthquake. But saving others have nothing to do with Commission for Discipline Inspection's work."

Dong Xuebing did not know what others were talking about, but he could guess it must be about his age. He was used to it. It was the same when he entered the Public Security Bureau as the Deputy Chief, the Investment Promotion Agency's Chief, and Subdistrict Office's Director. He walked to the Commission for Discipline Inspection's Office Director, Gao Wenrong, to greet him and sat at his designated seat to wait for the Leader to announce his appointment.

Suddenly, a middle-aged woman and a few Commission for Discipline Inspection staff entered the meeting room.

In her late thirties to early forties, the woman wore thick makeup, and her hair was pinned up in a bun with a green hair clip. It was almost winter, and she wore a white skirt and black heels. It was rare to see women of her age dressed up this way. She had a great figure and still looked attractive.

Dong Xuebing smiled when he saw this woman.

This pretty woman was no other than Luo Haiting.

Luo Haiting had called Dong Xuebing a few days ago and was posted to the City's Commission for Discipline Inspection immediately. The Xie Family acted fast.

Sister Luo had not changed her dressing style, but Dong Xuebing could tell she had held back a lot. After all, she was not allowed to go overboard with her dressing in the Commission for Discipline

Inspection. If she were in another government department, she would not be wearing this white skirt. She would be wearing a bright green dress. He had seen her wearing dresses with outrageous colors in Yan Tai County's Investment Promotion Agency.

Many people, especially the men, turned to look at Luo Haiting when she entered the meeting room.

Sister Luo had an emotionless expression as she entered the room. Maybe she was still adapting to the new environment, and she was nervous. But when she saw Dong Xuebing on the stage, she smiled sweetly at him.

Dong Xuebing did not greet her and looked away.

Luo Haiting knew this was not the right place to talk to Dong Xuebing, and she sat down. She continued to look at Dong Xuebing without blinking.

Dong Xuebing had his considerations for not greeting Luo Haiting. He was new and did not know about the rivalries in the department. So, he had to keep a low profile until he could establish the different factions. If he showed his relationship with Luo Haiting, people would know she was someone he brought in to help him. Of course, people will know their relationship if they look into their records. They had worked in the Investment Promotion Agency.

A while later, the leaders arrived.

Dong Xuebing stood up to welcome them immediately.

Dong Xuebing only knows two of the leaders. The Organization Department Minister Wen Shixiang, and the City's Commission for Discipline Inspection Secretary, He Suien. He had seen photos of the rest of the leaders on the internet and read their resumes. This was not the time for introduction as all the staff was waiting for them. He Suien waved his hand to get everyone seated.

The meeting started.

The host of the meeting was Office Director Gao Wenrong.

Gao Wenrong announced the agenda of today's meeting and passed the microphone to Wen Shixiang for him to make the appointment announcement.

Wen Shixiang looked friendly. Maybe it was because of the nature of his work. "Good morning, everyone. I am here to read the appointment announcement for Comrade Dong Xuebing. I believe all of you know who Dong Xuebing is. Even if you had not met him before, you should have heard of him. That's right. He is our Fen Zhou City's Earthquake Hero. He had risked his life to save many civilians during the earthquake. He is a good example for us to learn from." Wen Shixiang said before reading Dong Xuebing's official appointment announcement as the Commission for Discipline Inspection's First Inspection Office's Director.

Everyone clapped. Luo Haiting clapped the loudest.

Dong Xuebing was officially appointed as the First Inspection Office Director.

The Commission for Discipline Inspection's Secretary He Suien's speech was short, and he passed the microphone to Dong Xuebing.

Applause sounded again.

Dong Xuebing cleared his throat and spoke, "Thank you for the trust the Party and everyone gave to me. Thank you, Secretary He and Minister Wen, for acknowledging my work. This is an encouragement and also a whip for me to do better. Actually, I did not do much. I am a Party Member and a Civil Servant, and I have to do my best for the people. I will continue to serve the people under the directions of the City's Party Committee in the future...."

Dong Xuebing talked for five minutes. He was used to giving such speeches and didn't need scripts or notes.

Dong Xuebing did not talk for too long as he was only a subdepartment Director, not the department's Chief. He had to keep a low profile and avoid giving others the impression he was immature or arrogant, as it would hinder his future work.

Meeting dismissed.

The time was 11.40 pm.

He Suien looked at his watch and whispered something to Gao Wenrong.

Gao Wenrong immediately called the Guesthouse to make lunch arrangements. After that, he boarded a car with Dong Xuebing and a few leaders.

At the welcome lunch, Dong Xuebing got to meet all the leaders.

Chapter 804: Sister Luo is naughty again

City Party Committee Building.

The Commission for Discipline Inspection, Dong Xuebing's office.

Dong Xuebing was exhausted when he returned to his office. He slapped his forehead and drank a glass of warm water.

It was afternoon, and no one drank during the welcome lunch. Dong Xuebing was exhausted from talking and observing all the leaders and colleagues. He tried to find out about their relationships by observing them but failed. He could only remember their names in the end. The City's level was different from the County or District. Just the Commission for Discipline Inspection department alone had almost twenty subdepartments. The Leaders had double roles, making it harder to remember their positions.

Knock... knock....

Dong Xuebing put down his empty glass and sat up. "Come in."

The door opened, and a beautiful middle-aged woman entered. It's Luo Haiting.

Luo Haiting smiled brightly when she saw Dong Xuebing. "Director Dong, I'm here to report my work progress."

Dong Xuebing stood up with a smile. "Come over here."

Luo Haiting looked out of the door before closing it.

"I am the First Inspection Office's Deputy Director now. I am your subordinate again. Haha...." Luo Haiting walked over and shook Dong Xuebing's hand.

Dong Xuebing had not met Luo Haiting for more than six months and missed her. "This is fate."

Luo Haiting shook her head and looked at Dong Xuebing gratefully. "I was still suspended from my duties last week, and my transfer order was issued after I called you. I know you helped me get this transfer. I am grateful to you. Thank you. I thought it was the end for me, and I might be dismissed or transferred to other places. But that did not happen. I was promoted to Section Chief and transferred to the City's First Inspection Office as the Deputy Director. I don't know how to repay you."

"This is nothing, and you should stop thinking about it."

"It might be nothing to you, but it is significant to me."

Dong Xuebing knew the Investment Promotion Agency could not be compared to the City's Commission for Discipline Inspection. Even if Luo Haiting had gotten the same level transfer, it was considered a promotion. Furthermore, she was promoted from a Deputy Section Chief to Section Chief.

Dong Xuebing smiled. "Sister Luo, there's no need to say these things. I still need your help with my work in the future."

"Of course. I will do whatever you want with me."

Dong Xuebing was speechless when he heard this. Luo Haiting's reply seemed to have double meanings.

Luo Haiting looked sincere and seemed to be tearing up.

Luo Haiting let go of her hand after saying all these. But the next moment, Dong Xuebing felt a ticklish feeling in his palm.

This Sister Luo....

Old habits die hard. Why was she doing this again?

Dong Xuebing wanted to stop Luo Haiting, but he did not want to hurt her feelings. He did enjoy flirting with her as she could spice up the stern working environment. He would rather face a beautiful woman at work than those stern-looking men. This might be his subconscious thoughts when he agreed to help her without hesitation that day. He had always been weak towards beautiful women.

Dong Xuebing waved. "Sister Luo, have a seat."

"Ah.... Leader, you should sit too." Luo Haiting replied.

Both of them sat on the sofa.

Dong Xuebing smiled. "Stop calling me Leader. You are making me uncomfortable. Just call me Xiao Dong or Xuebing when we are alone."

Luo Haiting touched her long dress and smiled. "Ok. I will call you Xuebing when we are alone."

“That’s more like it.”

“I must congrats you on your promotion first.”

“Thank you. I did not expect to be transferred here.” Dong Xuebing did not hide anything from Luo Haiting. “The First Inspection Office’s responsibility is quite big.”

The First Inspection Office was a vital subdepartment, and it was stressful.

Luo Haiting replied immediately. “Xuebing, I am not flattering you. You are the most impressive and capable leader I have ever met. You can succeed in whichever position you are in.”

Dong Xuebing smiled. “Sister Luo, you must have worked with Panwei for too long and had improved on your flattery. Haha.... Let’s talk about you. How are you doing?”

“I am here for less than two days and am still familiarizing myself with the workplace.”

“How many people are there in First Inspection Office?”

“Other offices have one Deputy Director, but First Inspection Office is different. We have two Deputy Directors. The other Deputy Director is Liu Hanqing, and we have around six to seven staff. They are currently working in the big office. Do you want to visit them now?”

“Never mind. Tomorrow is my official first day at work. I will meet them tomorrow.”

“Our department’s staff are all the former Director’s staff. The former Director had retired after getting injured during the earthquake, and the staff is supporting Liu Hanqing now.” Luo Haiting explained. “Although I am here for a few days, I don’t have much power. Liu Hanqing is in charge of the First Inspection Office, and I have no say. I find Deputy Director Liu quite suspicious. I heard he had some backings in the City and is from a powerful family. He is driving a 400,000 RMB Toyota Crown.”

Driving a 400,000 RMB car is suspicious?!

Dong Xuebing did not tell Luo Haiting about his new car. His car was worth several times more than Toyota Crown. However, she had reminded him to be mindful of his conduct. He was the head of the First Inspection Office and should set an example for the rest. He decided to park his car somewhere and not let others see it before settling in.

Dong Xuebing did not talk about work after understanding the First Inspection Office’s situation. He knows Luo Haiting was still unfamiliar with this place as she was new.

Dong Xuebing looked at Luo Haiting. “Sister Luo, I was amazed when I saw you today. You had become younger and prettier.”

Luo Haiting laughed. “Oh, I am an old woman now.”

“Don’t be modest. Which old woman is as pretty as you?”

Luo Haiting touched her face and smiled. "Director, stop praising me. My clothes might look youthful, but my face is getting haggard."

"Nonsense." Dong Xuebing had gotten better at speaking after being with Xie Huilan.

Luo Haiting's mood got better after Dong Xuebing's praise. She smiled and stood up. "I will get you a glass of water. Director, do you prefer hot or warm water?"

"It's fine. Don't trouble yourself."

"The weather is getting cold. I will get you a glass of hot water."

Luo Haiting walked over to the water dispenser and bent over to get water. She back was facing Dong Xuebing, and her posture showed the curves of her perky butt. It looked full, and it must be nice to touch. She got a glass of hot water and returned to the sofa. Before passing the glass of water to Dong Xuebing, she blew on it to cool it down.

"Drink it. The temperature is just right."

"Thanks, Sister Luo."

Dong Xuebing took a sip, and it was the right temperature.

Suddenly, Luo Haiting moved her legs nearer to Dong Xuebing and let her knees touch his legs. Her long dress was covering his legs too. The next moment, he saw her lifting her legs slightly and heard the sound of high heels dropping on the floor. After that, he felt her foot pressing against his leg. She was wearing stockings, and her foot felt smooth. She caressed her foot against his foot and calf. Her dress covered her actions, and no one will suspect anything wrong.

This is killing Dong Xuebing.

What are you trying to do?

Dong Xuebing felt good, but he could not show it. This was torturing for him. Luo Haiting behaved as if she was not doing anything.

Both continued to chat.

In the end, Dong Xuebing could not stand it anymore. He stood up and said. "You must be thirsty. Let me pour you a glass of water."

Luo Haiting tried to reject, but Dong Xuebing still walked to the water dispenser.

Dong Xuebing saw Sister Luo wearing back her heels from the corner of his eyes.

Dong Xuebing smiled to himself as he gave her the glass of water.

Luo Haiting sighed. "Thank you, Director. You treat me better than my husband."

Dong Xuebing was dumbfounded again.

Chapter 805: Misunderstanding? Show of strength?

Next day.

It was winter, and there was lesser sunlight.

Today was Dong Xuebing's official first day at work in the Commission for Discipline Inspection.

Dong Xuebing woke up from the cold. He had kicked his blanket off the bed, which resulted in him sneezing. He looked at the time and realized he was late. He did not want to be late on his first day and quickly got out of bed to get ready. He finished brushing his teeth, got changed, and rushed out of Fen Zhou City First Guesthouse without taking any breakfast.

First Guesthouse was a hotel located outside of the commercial zone.

Although the Guesthouse was not far from the City Party Committee Building, the journey would take at least five minutes by car.

Dong Xuebing could not get a taxi because it was the morning peak.

Dong Xuebing looked at his watch. He still got seven minutes before work started.

After waiting for a while, Dong Xuebing still could not get a taxi. He did not want to leave a wrong impression on his leaders for being late on his first day. He made a decision and returned to the carpark behind the Guesthouse to get his Porsche Panamera. He could not care about the negative impact and drove towards the City Party Committee Building. It was rare to see a Porsche in Fen Zhou City, let alone a Porsche with a 9999 registration plate.

Two minutes to 9 am.

City Party Committee Building.

Dong Xuebing sped into the compound just in time.

Dong Xuebing visited the Party Committee Building yesterday and found out he could not park his car wherever he liked. The Party Committee Building had limited parking lots. Some lots were reserved for the City Party Committee, and some were reserved for the City Government leaders. Visitors had to park their cars at the temporary lots. The Commission for Discipline Inspection's designated lots were located behind the building. It was a row of fewer than ten lots.

Dong Xuebing drove towards his Department's designated parking lots and realized it was full of cars.

A few Audi A6L and Passat were parked in the lots and looked like government-owned cars. The Leaders' private cars were parked beside them. The cars were parked in the same lots as yesterday. It seemed that every Commission for Discipline Inspection leader had their lots.

Dong Xuebing looked around and saw an empty lot at the end.

But Dong Xuebing could not park in that lot because a black Toyota Crown in the adjacent lot had not parked properly. The right side of the car had encroached into the next lot. On the other side of the empty lot were the bicycle stands. He could not leave his car in the middle of the road as it was pretty narrow and would obstruct traffic. This black Toyota Crown made Dong Xuebing mad. There was an empty lot, but he could not park.

Who's car is this?!

Who is this ill-mannered fellow?!

A Toyota Crown was taking up two parking spaces?!!

Dong Xuebing did not say anything as he was new. He drove back to the parking lots in front of the Party Committee Building and circled to look for an empty lot. He found a lot after around two minutes and rushed to his office. He was late and could not care the parking lot belonged to who.

The Commission for Discipline Inspection.

Inspection First Office Director Office.

Luckily no one checked on Dong Xuebing this morning. If his superior did not question him, no one would dare to say anything at his level.

Dong Xuebing saw someone in his office when he entered.

Luo Haiting smiled. "Good morning, Director."

Dong Xuebing asked. "Sister Luo, why are you here? Is there anything for me?"

"No." Luo Haiting pointed at the clean desk. "I am cleaning up your office for you."

Dong Xuebing nodded. "How can I let you do this? You are a Deputy Director now.."

Luo Haiting smiled. "It's alright. I am free anyway. Oh, I switched on the water dispenser for you. The water is hot now. I will pour a glass of hot water for you."

"Thank you."

"Don't mention it. This is my duty."

It felt good to have someone caring for him.

It's been a while since Dong Xuebing enjoyed such treatment. He sat behind his desk and drank the glass of hot water. He looked at Luo Haiting. "Sister Luo, let others do the cleaning in the future. You are a Section Chief leader, and I will feel uneasy if you do this. I remember you had cleaned my office when I reported to Yan Tai County Investment Promotion Agency. Don't do this again."

Luo Haiting straightens her dress. "Haha.... I feel assured to do this myself."

Sister Luo wore a sweater and a knee-length skirt today. Is she not afraid of the cold?

Dong Xuebing looked at Luo Haiting's face and dressing and felt relaxed. She might be in her thirties, but she did not look her age. She was still beautiful.

Luo Haiting noticed Dong Xuebing looking at her and slowly straightened her back. She smiled and asked. "Director, do you have any orders for me?"

Dong Xuebing looked away. "Nothing. What is the arrangement for our Commission for Discipline Inspection's parking lots?"

Luo Haiting paused for a second. "We did not have any arrangements for the parking lots. But I heard the staff had been parking like this for years, and it slowly became an unspoken rule. Most leaders' cars and official duties cars will park there. But we have limited lots, and most staff members will park their cars outside."

Dong Xuebing frowned. "Do you know who owns that Toyota Crown parked in the outer-most lot?"

Luo Haiting replied without thinking. "I am not sure about other cars, but only one person drives Toyota Crown in the Commission for Discipline Inspection. He is our Inspection First Office's Deputy Director Liu Hanqing."

Dong Xuebing recalled. "Oh, you mentioned him yesterday."

Luo Haiting nodded. "Only Liu Hanqing comes from a wealthy family in our City Commission for Discipline Inspection. Of course, he cannot be compared to you."

"Does he park like this in the past?"

"Huh? How did he park? Are you talking about the car in the outer-most lot?"

"Yes. He took up two lots." Dong Xuebing looked at Luo Haiting and pointed outside. "His car had occupied two lots and almost caused me to be late today."

Luo Haiting walked over to the window to look at the parking lot. She frowned. "This is too much!"

Dong Xuebing wondered if Liu Hanqing had done this purposely after discovering he owned that Toyota Crown. He did not want to bring up this matter as it would make him look like he was making a fuss out of a small matter.

Luo Haiting knew what Dong Xuebing was thinking and said. "I did not notice it if you had not told me. Not many of our Discipline Inspection leaders own cars, and that's why a Sub department's Deputy Director Liu Hanqing gets to park there. We have more than twenty Deputy Directors in our Department."

The Commission for Discipline Inspection Secretary and Discipline Inspection Chief had designated parking lots each. But a lowly Sub-department Deputy Director occupied two lots. This was too much.

Liu Hanqing might know Dong Xuebing owned a car and had done this purposely to demonstrate his strength.

Dong Xuebing narrowed his eyes. "Tell me more about Deputy Director Liu."

Luo Haiting cleared her throat. "I have some brief information about him. He looked ordinary and appeared to be arrogant to many. I heard his mother was our Fen Zhou City's Executive Deputy Mayor in the past and was highly respected. She retired a few years ago due to health reasons, but she still has a strong influence on the City Government. His father is the head of a credit department in our City's bank. You should know about the banking industry. They have high salaries and bonuses, especially for the department heads. His family also has businesses and is quite wealthy."

Dong Xuebing listened and nodded.

"Before Liu Hanqing's mother retired as the Executive Deputy Mayor, she was very close with some Commission for Discipline Inspection leaders." Luo Haiting hesitated for a few seconds. "He was supposed to take over the Inspection First Office after the former Director retired due to injuries, but you appeared. He must be feeling sore."

So, this is the reason.

Dong Xuebing felt this was a small matter. Still, he knew Liu Hanqing must be feeling sore for snatching the Inspection First Office Director position from him. Of course, he cannot confirm if Liu Hanqing had purposely parked his car this way and will need to meet him first.

“Let’s go, Sister Luo.” Dong Xuebing looked at the time. “Let’s take a look at the Inspection First Office.”

Dong Xuebing’s first task since his appointment was to unite his men under him, or else he could not get anything done.

Chapter 806: Serious problem in Inspection First Office

Commission for Discipline Inspection.

Inspection First Office.

Dong Xuebing and Luo Haiting walked toward the main office and heard someone lecturing the staff loudly.

“Xiao Chen, what are you doing? Can’t you do something so simple?”

“Director Liu, we had checked Deputy District Mayor Zhang’s bank account and did not find any problems.”

“What about his lover’s account? What about his relatives’ accounts? Why are you only looking into his account?”

“Huh? Yes. I will go to the bank again.”

“Get it done by tomorrow! The higher-ups are waiting for the results!”

“Yes. I will go now and report to you immediately once I find any clues.”

Luo Haiting’s face changed when she heard the conversation. She whispered to Dong Xuebing. “The one lecturing the staff is Deputy Director Liu Hanqing.”

So, this is Liu Hanqing.

They entered the main office and saw a middle-aged man in his forties standing in the office.

Dong Xuebing smiled to himself. You are instructing my men to investigate a case without informing me. This might be fine yesterday as Dong Xuebing was not officially appointed. But today is different. He is the Director of Inspection First Office, and Liu Hanqing is his deputy. No matter how highly respected Liu Hanqing was in the office, he had to report to Dong Xuebing on the latter’s first day. He did not report and continued to order the staff around. This is disrespectful.

Main office.

Everyone stopped what they were doing when they saw Dong Xuebing.

Liu Hanqing looked at Dong Xuebing and smiled. “Director Dong, you are here.” He turned to the rest. “Everyone had met Director Dong yesterday at the meeting. Let me introduce him again. This is our Inspection First Office Director, Director Dong.”

“Director Dong.”

“Director Dong.”

“Director.”

The staff greeted Dong Xuebing immediately.

Dong Xuebing ignored them and continued to look at Liu Hanqing. This guy is quite interesting. He introduced him as if he was the Director and Dong Xuebing were his deputy. Who is he to introduce Dong Xuebing?! Sister Luo was right. This guy was feeling sore against him.

Dong Xuebing ignored Liu Hanqing and told the staff after a short pause. “Hi, let’s have a short meeting first.”

Liu Hanqing immediately looked at the staff. “Director Dong wants a meeting. Go back to your seats and pay attention.”

Luo Haiting looked at Liu Hanqing. “Director Liu, you should also sit and listen.”

Liu Hanqing glanced at Luo Haiting and smiled before turning towards Dong Xuebing. “Director Dong, you can start now.”

Dong Xuebing was irritated by Liu Hanqing. He did not finish his sentence, and Liu Hanqing interrupted him. Did he think he was the Director? Is he trying to lead the staff to revolt? Dong Xuebing finds Liu Hanqing more interesting, and he smiles. He wants to see what he is up to.

Dong Xuebing smiled. “I believe all of you know who I am. Let’s introduce yourself first.”

Liu Hanqing interrupted again. He smiled and looked at a young man. “Xiao Ning, you go first.”

Dong Xuebing had spoken normally, but Liu Hanqing had used a provocative tone.

The staff looked at Liu Hanqing and Dong Xuebing, not knowing what to do.

The young man started to introduce himself. “I am Ning Shaoyang. I worked in the City Commission for Discipline Inspection for four years.”

A pretty young woman continued. “I am Zhu Zhu. I have been with the Discipline Inspection for two years.”

“I am Fei Fan.”

The staff introduced themselves.

Dong Xuebing remembered their names and asked about their work. He asked if they faced any difficulties and showed concern for their welfare. He showed no airs, unlike Liu Hanqing. During the process, Liu Hanqing interrupted Dong Xuebing several times.

The staff was relieved when they saw Dong Xuebing so friendly. They were afraid they would be caught in the crossfire between their superiors.

Dong Xuebing smiled and announced. “Alright. Carry on with your work. Meeting dismissed. Director Liu, I heard you recently took charge of the Inspection First Office’s cases. Tell me about the cases we are working on.”

Liu Hanqing replied. "I was about to tell you. We received a report about a Deputy District Mayor receiving bribes. The higher-ups instructed us to look into it."

Dong Xuebing looked at Liu Hanqing. "That's it?"

"Yes." Liu Hanqing smiled. "The rest are unimportant tasks."

Luo Haiting looked at Liu Hanqing coldly. "Does that mean you don't need to report those tasks?"

Liu Hanqing's eyes turned cold. "Investigation is our duty, and other tasks are not important. Director Luo, you are new and don't understand how we do things here."

Luo Haiting retorted. "This is new. Not reporting to your superiors?! Is this trying to hoodwink Director Dong?"

Liu Hanqing coldly replied. "Director Luo, don't accuse me. Do I need to report to you before Director Dong asks me?"

Luo Haiting got mad.

Dong Xuebing waved his hand and smiled. "Alright. I know. Director Liu is trying to share my workload. This is good as it showed his work attitude. Our Inspection First Office should have more people like him. Director Liu, if you think it is unnecessary to inform me of anything, you can don't report anything to me in the future. Just decide for yourself. Haha...."

Liu Hanqing's eyes darted around and replied. "I don't mean that. If you are interested, I will send you our previous few meeting minutes later."

Dong Xuebing looked at Liu Hanqing.

This guy is not easy to deal with.

Although Liu Hanqing had been trying to show his strength in front of Dong Xuebing with his words and tone, he did not say anything rude. He did not talk back to Dong Xuebing and admitted he was the subordinate. But everyone saw his disrespectful attitude.

This guy is a troublemaker.

It seems like the Inspection First Office has a severe problem.

Chapter 807: No parking lots again

Commission for Discipline Inspection.

Dong Xuebing's office.

Luo Haiting and Dong Xuebing returned to the office. She grumbled. "Liu Hanqing is too much! What is he trying to do?!"

Dong Xuebing laughed. "I think he is not trying to do anything."

"But his attitude and tone pissed me off! How can someone talk to his superior like this?!"

"Haha.... Sister Luo, go back to work and help me watch him."

“Leave it to me. I will report to you if he does anything peculiar.”

“Thank you. But you don’t need to be so serious. Focus on your work first.”

“Yes. Xuebing, I am going back to work. Call me if you need anything.”

Dong Xuebing would not say these to others, but he trusted Sister Luo.

Dong Xuebing took out a few case files from the shelves after Luo Haiting left his office. He read the files to familiarize himself with his work. Of course, he was also thinking about how to handle Liu Hanqing. His City’s former Executive Deputy Mayor’s mother had retired, and his father was working in the bank. He should not have any strong influence on the City Government. Dong Xuebing was in the same situation as him. Yang Zhaode was transferred away and could not help him now. His situation might be worse than Liu Hanqing’s, and he cannot use his backing to suppress him.

How should I deal with this troublemaker?

I cannot let this clown continue doing whatever he wants.

People might think Dong Xuebing was afraid of Liu Hanqing if this carried on. It will be a severe blow to Dong Xuebing’s reputation.

Dong Xuebing was also puzzled why Deputy Director Liu Hanqing dared to go against him? Luo Haiting was also the Inspection First Office Deputy Director, and Dong Xuebing could quickly transfer Liu Hanqing’s authority to her. Is he not concerned about his prospect? Showing attitude and disrespecting his superior is not a joke. Was he acting under someone? Did some leaders send him to test Dong Xuebing and try to take away his power? The higher-ups arranged Dong Xuebing’s transfer, and even the Commission for Discipline Inspection Secretary could not do anything with it. Furthermore, Dong Xuebing was acknowledged as an Earthquake Hero, and even the City Party Committee Secretary Wan Fanglei had visited him.

The only reason was Liu Hanqing had found a way out for himself. He knows he was not at risk for offending Dong Xuebing.

Dong Xuebing was unsure of his guess, but that’s the reason he could come up with. Alright. Just put it aside for now. I will just handle it as it comes.

Noon. Someone knocked on Dong Xuebing’s office.

Dong Xuebing looked up after he said to come in.

A young man and a young woman entered Dong Xuebing’s office. They are Ning Shaoyang and Zhu Zhu. “Director.”

Dong Xuebing remembered their names. “Oh, Xiao Ning and Xiao Zhu.”

Ning Shaoyang remained emotionless, and Zhu Zhu seemed surprised. She did not expect Director Dong to remember her name.

“What is it?” Dong Xuebing asked.

Zhu Zhu quickly places a card on the desk. “Office Director Gao asked me to pass this Cafeteria card to you.”

Dong Xuebing nodded. "Thank you, Xiao Zhu. I almost forgot it's nearly lunchtime."

"Don't mention it." Zhu Zhu looked at Dong Xuebing and quickly lowered her head.

Ning Shaoyang's tone sounded more natural. He was the first person asked by Liu Hanqing to introduce himself earlier. He passed a big brown envelope to Dong Xuebing. "Director Liu asked me to give you our past few meetings' minutes."

Dong Xuebing looked at Ning Shaoyang. "Where is Director Liu?"

Ning Shaoyang replied. "I am not sure. He had gone out and seemed to be in a rash."

Dong Xuebing nodded as he looked at Ning Shaoyang. "Leave it on my desk."

"Yes." Ning Shaoyang asked. "Do you have any instructions for us? If now, we will go back to work."

Dong Xuebing waved his hand, and Ning Shaoyang walked towards the door. Zhu Zhu seemed to have something to say, but she hesitated before leaving with Ning Shaoyang.

The door closed.

Ning Shaoyang must be Liu Hanqing's follower.

Dong Xuebing was not surprised to see people like Liu Hanqing when he came here. The Government sector would be a nice place to work if everyone was obedient and followed orders. Authority and respect can only be gained slowly. He looked at the brown envelope on the desk and scoffed. Liu Hanqing had said he would bring the meeting minutes to him personally. But it had been three to four hours, and a staff member brought it to his office. He did not believe Liu Hanqing was so busy that he could not spare a minute to send this document.

Lunchtime.

Dong Xuebing looked at his watch and went downstairs to have lunch.

Dong Xuebing noticed the Toyota Crown was gone from the parking lot when he walked out from the Commission for Discipline Inspection. Liu Hanqing had driven his car, leaving two empty lots. Dong Xuebing did not say anything and went back to his car. A few City Government staff members looked at him curiously as he boarded his car. He did not have lunch in the cafeteria. He drove back to the City Party Committee First Guesthouse to grab some belongings, like U-drive, files, seat cushion, etc. He had forgotten about it this morning.

After lunch.

Dong Xuebing loaded his belongings in his car and drove back to the City Party Committee Building.

Dong Xuebing did not park at the same lot he parked this morning, as that lot belonged to another department. He went straight to the Commission for Discipline Inspection building as Liu Hanqing had left, and there were available lots. As he drove closer, he noticed that Toyota Crown had returned and was parked in the outer lot. He got nearer and noticed the car was parked the same way as this morning. It had occupied two lots again.

Dong Xuebing was slightly pissed.

Liu Hanqing might have parked that way accidentally this morning. But what about this time?!

How can someone occupy two lots both times he parked? What's the meaning of this? Did you think you are the City's Commission for Discipline Inspection Secretary!? You are too arrogant!

Dong Xuebing stared to press his horn.

Beep... beep... beep... beep... beep... beep...

The Commission for Discipline Inspection staff heard the commotion and looked out of the windows. They were shocked when they saw Dong Xuebing in the driver's seat of a four million RMB car.

"Why is Director Dong driving a Porsche?"

"Oh.... This is Director Dong's car? I saw it parked in front of the compound."

"I saw this car entering our Party Committee Building yesterday and wondered which leader drove it."

"Maybe he had borrowed it."

"I think so too. How can a Civil servant afford this car?"

Civil servants' salary was not high, and anyone could borrow a car.

The staff discussed among themselves and noticed Director Dong was still sounding his horn. They realized Deputy Director Liu Hanqing's car had blocked another lot.

Zhu Zhu and Ning Shaoyang were among the crowd at the windows, and they reacted differently.

"Where did Director Dong borrow that sportscar?"

Zhu Zhu was not concerned about the car. She was more concerned about the parking lot. "Director Liu's Toyota Crown had occupied two lots."

Ning Shaoyang did not reply to Zhu Zhu. He was more interested in watching the show.

"I noticed it this morning." Fei Fan sighed. He felt Liu Hanqing was too much.

Not only did the Inspection First Office hear the commotion. All other Discipline Inspection's sub-departments heard it.

Everyone knew Liu Hanqing was not satisfied with Dong Xuebing, and he was using this method to piss him off. Of course, he might not have done this on purpose.

Beep... beep... beep....

One minute passed....

Five minutes passed....

Liu Hanqing might have pretended not to hear the commotion and did not come out to move his car. His office windows were opened, but there were no movements.

Dong Xuebing stopped pressing his horn. After all, this was the City Party Committee Building, which might piss off other leaders. He reversed his car and returned to the parking lots outside of the City Government building. At the same time, he was furious and curious about why Liu Hanqing, a Deputy Chief, dared to go against him.

Fine! Since you want to play this game, I will play with you!

No one in the City Government had heard of my nickname, the God of Plagues.

During and after the earthquake, the TV stations had reported about Dong Xuebing's previous achievements and portrayed him as someone kind and righteous. It almost convinced him that he was such a person. But anyone who knows him knew he was just a hooligan.

Dong Xuebing was a hooligan and will forever be a hooligan!

Chapter 808: The forgiving God of Plagues?!

The City Commission for Discipline Inspection building.

Words about the parking lot incident had spread, and everyone in Inspection First Office was watching closely.

"This is a show of strength between Director Dong and Director Liu."

"How can it be a show of strength between them? Director Dong did not do anything."

"Sigh.... Director Dong is too righteous. Maybe he is not used to dealing with such incidents."

"Maybe Director Dong is generous and wanted to avoid conflicts with Director Liu."

"That's right. Director Dong had saved over a thousand people and was almost killed when buried under the rubble. Anyone who is scheming will never sacrifice himself for others."

The staff was discussing the incident among themselves.

Dong Xuebing had guessed correctly. His glorious deeds during the earthquake had overshadowed his notoriety. Everyone thought he was a righteous and innocent person.

When Luo Haiting overheard everyone saying how generous and innocent Dong Xuebing was, she almost fell off her chair. She had worked with Dong Xuebing for a while and understood his character better than anyone else.

Second-floor corridor.

Dong Xuebing met Liu Hanqing along the corridor while walking back to his office. Liu Hanqing looked like he had just come out of his office. His office windows were opened, and it was facing the carpark directly. It was impossible for him not to hear Dong Xuebing's honking.

Liu Hanqing pretended nothing had happened. He smiled at Dong Xuebing. "Oh, Director Dong. You are back from lunch?"

Dong Xuebing looked at him. "Director Liu, is that Toyota Crown downstairs yours?"

"Yes. What's wrong?" Liu Hanqing asked.

Dong Xuebing smiled. "Nothing. I just want to remind you to park properly. You had occupied two lots today."

Liu Hanqing replied. "Oh, did I block the other lot? I didn't notice it. I will shift it now."

"Never mind. Take note of it the next time." Dong Xuebing appeared generous and showed no intentions of pursuing this matter.

Inspection First Office's Zhu Zhu passed by and overheard their conversation. She was impressed with Dong Xuebing for being so forgiving.

Liu Hanqing sneered in his heart.

Director Office.

Dong Xuebing returned to his seat and called Luo Haiting to his office.

Luo Haiting said the moment she stepped in. "Xuebing, our Inspection First Office staff are discussing the earlier incident. The other offices were also...."

"I know." Dong Xuebing replied. "I want to ask you something. You mentioned Liu Hanqing's father was working in the bank. Is he working in the Provincial branch or the City ICBC bank?"

Luo Haiting replied without thinking. "He is the City's ICBC bank's credit department's leader."

Dong Xuebing nodded. "What is his name?"

"Ah.... I think it's Liu Dong. Let me check and get back to you."

Dong Xuebing nodded. "Ok. Let me know his name and position before the end of the day."

Luo Haiting was speechless. She wanted those staff members to hear what Dong Xuebing said. Innocent and righteous?! Bullshit. He is asking about Liu Hanqing's family members now. She knew he would target Liu Hanqing's family members to get back at him. She started to pity Liu Hanqing. Ignorant people are not afraid of anything. Why did you provoke Dong Xuebing in the first place? If he could be bullied easily, he would have been dismissed many years ago. Didn't you find out what he did in the past? You are shooting yourself in your foot.

Luo Haiting had confidence in Dong Xuebing and knew he would never give in. Most of his opponents did not have good endings.

Luo Haiting suddenly remembered something. "Oh, Xuebing. I heard a piece of news, but I am not sure of the reliability."

Dong Xuebing looked at her. "What is it?"

Luo Haiting frowned. "I heard the Organization Department had wanted to promote Liu Hanqing to be Inspection First Office's Director before you came. The latest information I heard was he would be transferred to another Inspection Office as the Director or another City's Commission for Discipline Commission."

Liu Hanqing is going to be promoted? Did he use his family's connection to get it?

Dong Xuebing knew this information should be reliable. He immediately understood why Liu Hanqing dared to go against him. He is leaving this department and is not afraid of Dong Xuebing. He knew he could not do anything drastic as it would jeopardize his transfer, and he could only make small movements to gross Dong Xuebing.

Liu Hanqing.... You are too full of yourself.

Do you want to make me a fool before leaving?!

Dong Xuebing was amused. This was Liu Hanqing's plan. It's been a while since Dong Xuebing taught someone a lesson.

But how is Dong Xuebing going to teach him a lesson? He will come up with a plan.

Luo Haiting was relieved when she saw Dong Xuebing's reaction. She knew Liu Hanqing was a nobody to him. She smiled and asked. "Xuebing, I saw it earlier. You had changed car." Everyone thought Dong Xuebing's car was borrowed, and only she did not think like this. He drove a Mercedes MPV when he was in the Investment Promotion Agency and drove a Porsche Cayenne when he was in the Subdistrict Office. All his cars were over one million RMB, and she knew he would never borrow someone else's car to drive. She did not know where he got his money from, as the five million lottery winnings would not last so long from the way he spent his money.

Dong Xuebing laughed. "Yes. Porsche Panamera."

Luo Haiting gasped. "I know it's expensive from the name."

"It's not." Dong Xuebing pointed at his key on the desk. "Take it out for a spin if you want."

Luo Haiting waved her hand. "Thank you, Director. I dare not drive such an expensive car. Later, I will help you get our City Party Committee Building's entry permit."

"Ok. Thank you."

Chapter 809: Yes! I banged your car

It was a gloomy day with an overcast sky.

Dong Xuebing slowly washed up in his guesthouse room and looked out the window. He was wearing a sweater knitted by his mother last year.

Dong Xuebing's phone rang when he was about to leave his room.

It was Xie Huilan. "Haha.... Is my little husband still sleeping?"

Dong Xuebing was speechless. "Look at the time. How can I sleep when I got to work? I am about to leave for work now. Why are you up so early?"

"I am used to it. I woke up to do some reading."

"Are you still in Beijing? When will your transfer order be issued?"

"It's issued, and I will be reporting in a few days. Did you miss me?"

“Of course. Come over, and I can move into your apartment. I am staying in a guesthouse now.”

“Haha.... How was your work? I had called to ask you about your work.”

Dong Xuebing shook his head when he heard this. “Don’t talk about it. It is the same every time. Many people pick on me because of my age. It was the same in Public Security and the Investment Promotion Agency. You should have seen his face. He is only a Deputy Director, and he occupies two parking lots. He also has a disrespectful tone. I wonder if he is my superior.”

“Why did he go against you?”

“I had snatched this position from him. He was supposed to be promoted to Division Chief.”

“Ok. I can guess the situation. Wait for me to arrive.”

“It will be too late. Stay out of this. I have ways to deal with him.”

“We were married for a few days, and you had forgotten what I said. You must listen to me this time. Wait for me. You are new, and it’s not good for you to create a mess. Do you understand?”

“He had climbed over my head, and he will think I am scared of him if I don’t deal with him.”

“What I meant is not to be rash. Think before you act. Alright. I know you will not listen. Just do whatever you want. But you must remember to keep a low profile. Of course, don’t hold back if you are forced into a corner. We are not afraid of anyone.”

“Yes.... You are right. Let me think of a good way to teach him a lesson.”

“Haha.... That’s all. Kiss me before you hang up, ok?”

Dong Xuebing kissed his phone. “Did you hear it?”

“Yes.”

“You should also give me a kiss.”

“Haha.... I am busy now. Bye.”

“Hey, you still have not kissed me.”

“Go to work. You will be late.”

“Kiss me first. Hello?”

Du.... Du.... Du.... Xie Huilan hung up.

Xie Huilan loved to tease Dong Xuebing, making him speechless.

Nevertheless, Dong Xuebing would still listen to his wife's advice. Xie Huilan's words made him cold down slightly. He should not make a big deal as he is new here.

Morning, 8.40 am.

Dong Xuebing drove into the City Party Committee Building compound slowly after getting the entry permit.

When Dong Xuebing entered the compound, he saw two staff members from his department pushing their bicycles. They were Zhu Zhu and Fei Fan.

"Director." Fei Fan saw Dong Xuebing and greeted him.

Zhu Zhu quickly turned and looked at the car. "Good morning, Director."

"Good morning." Dong Xuebing nodded with a smile.

After that, Dong Xuebing did not return to the parking lot in front of the City Government Building. He drove towards the Commission for Discipline inspection building. He had warned Liu Hanqing yesterday and believed he would stop hogging two lots. Even Zhu Zhu and Fei Fan did not think Liu Hanqing would continue to go against him openly.

But the reality was different from their expectations.

When Dong Xuebing turned into the carpark, he got mad.

The parking lots were full again, and that black Toyota Crown had occupied two lots again! But today was slightly better than yesterday. He left a gap in the next lot, but its wheel had crossed the line. The space was not enough to fit a car. It was like this yesterday morning and afternoon.

Zhu Zhu and Fei Fan were stunned.

Director Dong had reminded Liu Hanqing yesterday, but Deputy Director Liu ignored and continued to provoke him.

What was Deputy Director Liu up to?

There were rumors that Liu Hanqing would be transferred. It must be true.

The fire started to build up in Dong Xuebing's chest. I ignored you the first time and ignored you the second time. Now, you are trying to stop me from parking here the third time?! Liu Hanqing! I had let you off the previous few times, and you think I am scared of you!?

Dong Xuebing started to sound his horn.

Beep... beep... beep... beep... beep...

Second floor. Inspection First Office Deputy Director Office.

Liu Hanqing was behind his desk talking to his father over the phone when he heard the horn from outside. He sneered and ignored it.

"What's that sound?" Liu Dong asked. "Why is it so noisy?"

Liu Hanqing laughed. "Someone sounds his horn. It's alright."

Liu Dong frowned. "I heard you are on bad terms with your newly appointed Director. What happened? Didn't I tell you to stay low these few days?"

Liu Hanqing replied. "Don't worry, Dad. I know what to do."

Liu Dong reminded. "I know you are unhappy with this transfer. But Dong Xuebing had been appointed, and we could not do anything to stop it. You can create some problems for him or refuse to support him at work. But you must not fall out with him. Your transfer order might be out today. Pack your stuff, and don't create any trouble. You are in your thirties and should be more mature. Your mother has retired, and we are not as influential as before."

"I know."

"Ok. Haha.... Although you cannot become the Inspection First Office's Director, getting promoted to Deputy Division Chief is a big improvement."

"Yes."

Liu Hanqing hung up and heard the horns outside. He laughed and continued to drink his tea and read a document.

Downstairs.

Dong Xuebing had attracted many people's attention with his constant sounding of the horn.

"Why is that Toyota Crown occupying two lots again?"

"What is Deputy Director Liu trying to do?"

"I heard he is going to be transferred. It will be happening either today or tomorrow."

"But he still should not do this. This is not the period when his mother was still working here."

Everyone, especially the Inspection First Office staff, was looking out of the window. Some Discipline Inspection staff were on their way to work and stood outside looking at the commotion. Zhu Zhu and Fei Fan pretended to lock their bicycles.

By right, the Commission for Discipline Inspection leader should have said something. How can a Deputy park his car in a way that blocks his Director from parking? It had happened yesterday, and no leaders had said a word. Dong Xuebing knew it must be either Liu Hanqing was close to the leaders, or he was not welcomed here. The second possibility stood a higher chance. The Commission for Discipline Inspection leaders refused to interfere because they tried to put Dong Xuebing in place and see how he would handle it. This is a test of his ability.

"Hey, what do you think Director Dong will do?"

"Liu Hanqing is going to be transferred away. It's hard for him to deal with him."

"What else can he do other than looking for another parking lot? It's almost time for work, and he can't be sounding his horn the whole day here."

Beep... beep....

Beep... beep... beep....

Liu Hanqing refused to come out, and Dong Xuebing continued to press his car horn.

At this moment, a Commission for Discipline Inspection leader shouted from upstairs. "Stop sounding your horn! If you can't park here, look for another lot! We have lots of parking lots here!" This leader did not show his face, and no one knew who he was. But no matter who he was, he held a higher rank than Dong Xuebing. Or else he will not speak to Dong Xuebing in this tone.

The staff knew the show was over as the leader had scolded.

But Dong Xuebing was pissed by what the leader said. Liu Hanqing had hogged two lots, pretended not to hear his car horns, and refused to shift his car. It was like this yesterday, and it was happening again today. Now, it had become Dong Xuebing's fault for sounding his horn, and he had to look for another lot outside.

Fk!

When Dong Xuebing's foul temper acts up, he doesn't care about the consequences.

The staff was about to return to work when they were shocked by Dong Xuebing's actions.

Dong Xuebing reversed his car at high speed to create some space. He stepped on the accelerator, roaring his Porsche engine, and sped forward.

Bam! The Panamera's hood hit the Toyota Crown and pushed it one meter back, creating a space.

After that, Dong Xuebing parked his car in the lot and got out.

No one dared to say a word.

Chapter 810: Fierce

Silence.

It was complete silence for a few seconds before the Commission for Discipline Inspection building went into an uproar.

No one expected Dong Xuebing to crash his car into the Toyota Crown to move it out of the way. The Toyota Crown's body was severely dented.

Everyone was stunned.

Director Dong was too fierce.

That was a Porsche, and the paintwork repair will cost more than the Toyota Crown's repair.

Dong Xuebing acted as if nothing had happened. He parked his car and looked at the hood of his car. Huh? There seemed to be some scratches on the paintwork. He sat in his car and focused on the front of his car while saying REVERSE one second to himself. The scratches immediately repaired themselves, and his car returned to yesterday's condition.

Dong Xuebing got out of his car and acted as if he had not done anything.

Luo Haiting, who had reached, saw the whole episode and was shocked.

Everyone upstairs in the Commission for Discipline Inspection building started talking among themselves.

“Is Director Dong mad?”

“Wow.... He dares to crash his car.”

“This is getting interesting.”

“Liu Hanqing had asked for it.”

“Using a Porsche to bang a Toyota Crown....”

Dong Xuebing noticed the commotion had attracted many people. A few leaders looked out of their windows and were stunned by what they saw.

No one had expected Dong Xuebing to react this way, and they were shocked.

Dong Xuebing did not think he had done anything wrong. This was his style of doing things.

Luo Haiting knew this well and knew what Dong Xuebing had done was nothing. She remembered the incident when Dong Xuebing’s relative got married. A Mercedes Benz blocked the wedding convey and ordered the Police Station officers to smash it. He was just a hooligan in the government sector, and there was nothing he didn’t dare to do.

The air became tense.

Many leaders from other departments in the Party Committee Building looked out of their windows. Was there a car accident?

The Commission for Discipline Inspection Building.

Liu Hanqing was enjoying his tea when he heard a long bang. He was stunned for a while before looking out of his window. He almost cried when he saw his car badly dented. He was furious and stormed downstairs. The Toyota Crown was a gift from his father and his prized possession.

The staff members saw Liu Hanqing and stepped back to make a path for him.

Liu Hanqing pointed at Dong Xuebing. “Dong Xuebing! What is the meaning of this?”

Dong Xuebing looked at Liu Hanqing. “What do you mean? Deputy Director Liu, this is the question I want to ask. How did you park your car?! Do you know how to drive? Our Discipline Inspection leaders had occupied a parking lot each. Why are you so special? Why are you hogging two lots?! Do you have any respect for the leaders and Secretary He?! What the hell are you trying to do?”

Liu Hanqing argued. “What nonsense are you spewing? This place is narrow, and it’s normal for someone to not park properly.”

Dong Xuebing laughed. “If you did not park properly, park again. You did not park yesterday morning properly, did not park yesterday afternoon properly, and you did not park properly today. What are you thinking? I sounded my horn for ages, and you pretended not to hear anything. But when I knocked into your car, you suddenly appeared. You should have come out earlier. Actually, I didn’t find anything wrong with the way you parked. I can still squeeze my car into the lot. Oh.... Send your car for repairs and pass me the receipt. I will return you the repair fees.”

What’s a car to a man? A car symbolized a man’s pride!

The Toyota Crown was severely dented and felt like a slap to Liu Hanqing. What's the use of paying for the repairs?!

Liu Hanqing's lungs almost exploded from his anger. He had wanted to shame Dong Xuebing, but he was shamed instead. This was a small matter if no one took note of it. Nobody will care, even if Liu Hanqing took up three parking lots. But Dong Xuebing had driven his car into the Toyota Crown, and the seriousness of this matter had escalated. Everyone knew about this, and those leaders feigning ignorance had to look into it. What's worse was Liu Hanqing was wrong. He did this to spite Dong Xuebing and did not want to blow it up.

Liu Hanqing's sidekick, Ning Shaoyang's face changed when he saw what had happened. But he laughed in his heart when he remembered Dong Xuebing's car should be in bad shape too.

Many people realized this as well and turned to look at the Porsche.

Liu Hanqing went closer to examine his precious Toyota Crown and looked at Porsche's damage. To everyone's surprise, Dong Xuebing's Porsche was not damaged. It did not even have a scratch. Impossible.

This might be a four million RMB car, but it is a sportscar.

How can a sportscar be so sturdy? It did not even have a scratch on it.

Liu Hanqing's face turned black, and his eyes nearly popped out of his sockets.

Dong Xuebing walked over to Liu Hanqing and patted his shoulder lightly. "Deputy Director Liu, send your car for repairs and practice more on parking. Stop parking like this again. Oh, I did not knock into your car purposely. I was careless and thought my car could fit into the lot. But your car had encroached too much into my lot." Dong Xuebing said one more thing before he walked off. "Oh, a friendly reminder. Don't get Japanese cars if you decide to change the car." He pointed at the Toyota Crown. "Look. It's not sturdy at all."

Dong Xuebing said and strolled into the building.

Dong Xuebing had banged his car, embarrassed him, and insulted him.

Zhu Zhu and Fei Fan exchanged looks and saw the shock in each other's eyes. Why did the higher-ups send a leader like this to the Commission for Discipline Inspection? Earthquake hero?! Which part of him looked like a hero? Everyone started looking at Dong Xuebing differently. The Inspection First Office's new Director was nowhere near the image the TV stations portrayed.