

Chapter 133

It is nothing more than some of the top figures in Cloud City.

For example, the Fu family, Arron's little aunt and uncle, Joan, and even Arron's father and aunt did not rush back from abroad. There are also the Shu family and the Xu family.

These were all veteran families, and it was also because Mr. Fu insisted on inviting them, so Arron reluctantly invited these people.

If according to Arron's intention, he would not invite anyone.

Even he would not hold an engagement banquet, because his marriage to Lanita was only a matter of two people.

Arron knew in his heart that he married Lanita because Lanita saved her and Lanita was pregnant with his child.

He has no love for Lanita at all.

Even seeing this woman is annoying.

But for Lanita, this was already a great face.

The entire upper-class circle of Nancheng finally knew her identity as Lanita.

Even the eldest lady of the Shu family, Walton, usually doesn't catch Lanita in the corner of her eye. Even if Lanita polishes Walton's shoes, Walton feels dirty. But at this moment, when Walton saw Arron with one arm around Lanita toasting among the guests, Walton was frightened to death.

She used to scorn Walton.

I regret it now.

There was a smirk on Walton's face: "Mrs. Fu, we will eat together and go shopping together."

Lanita said arrogantly: "Let's talk about it!"

Walton: "... " It was jealous and hate in her heart, but she dared not say anything. Walton always thought that she was the most qualified woman to marry Arron in the National Games, but she didn't know that Arron's favorite object turned out to be Lanita.

It seems that she has no hope of marrying into Fu's family.

Since Arron could not marry, Walton had to retreat and be second best, and she immediately set her goal on Joan.

"Young Master Ling..." Walton came to Joan with her wine glass, and took the initiative to clink glasses with her.

Joan had a wicked smile on his face: "Miss Min, you don't usually look at me directly, what's wrong with this today?"

"Usually my grandfather takes care of me strictly. Today this is not because of the engagement party for Brother Arron, everyone is happy!" Walton said with a soft smile.

"I think you turned your target to this young master because you can't see the opportunity in my cousin?" Joan looked at Walton with a smirk.

"Death!" Walton pretended to be angry: "Just your mouth!"

"Drink a cup of wine?" Joan asked.

"Who is afraid of who." When the two people came to the corner, they really drank a cup of wine.

After drinking, Joan took out his mobile phone and dialed a series of numbers.

"Young Master Ling, who else are you calling." Walton pouted, already starting to become jealous.

Joan touched Walton's cheek: "I hit your rival in love."

Walton: "..."

At that end, Suzi, who had already passed lunch, had no appetite to eat. When the phone rang, she couldn't wait to connect: "Hey..."

"Come out now, I'll take you to a place." At the other end, Joan said in a commanding tone.

Chapter 134

"Okay." At this end, Suzi's tone was very gentle: "Where to go, where am I waiting for you?"

Joan thought for a while: "Wait for me at the door of the company where you work."

"Well, good." Suzi was very obedient.

On the other end, Joan's phone hung up quickly.

After closing the line, he and Walton looked at each other, and Walton smiled and said, "Since you have disclosed my love rival in front of me, that means you also want to choose me? Don't you?"

Joan sneered: "Little master, I know very well what a woman is for fun and what a woman can marry home. If I marry you, my grandfather will definitely raise his hands in favor. If you marry me, you Grandpa Shu would also be very suitable. After all, my cousin is already engaged. Isn't it?"

Walton nodded: "It makes sense."

"However, you can't stop me from having fun." Joan said drunkenly.

Walton was also drunk: "It depends on what you play."

Joan only laughed, but didn't tell Walton. He got up and swayed to the guests who were already toasting national wine. Now Arron, who was sitting at the main table in the cold chain, shouted: "Fourth brother."

Arron coldly looked at Joan's drunk appearance, and said, "What's the matter!"

Joan asked in front of Arron: "Cousin, have you completed the divorce procedures with Suzi?"

Arron: "..."

Although the mother's death was expected, it was also because after seeing the Fu family, she suddenly deteriorated and then died quickly. After his death, Arron was delayed for seven days in the funeral, and then it was the mother's three-day tomb.

Now that the first seven days have passed, where does he have time to go through the divorce procedures with Suzi?

Originally, the engagement banquet with Lanita was not planned so early, but Lanita's physical condition is always in poor condition. The old lady of the Fu family urged Arron again and again, saying that it was his mother's first seven days that he could get engaged immediately. . Father Fu couldn't wait a day.

Only then did Arron choose to hold the engagement banquet today according to the wishes of the Fu family.

Then wait until Monday to get the divorce certificate with Suzi.

This is not a conflict, after all, he and Lanita are only engaged, not married.

Even if Arron commits bigamy, who can control him?

But at this moment, Joan asked him what he meant? Arron said blankly: "No conflict! Suzi and I were originally married by agreement. To comfort your little aunt, I will go to her class for divorce on Monday. Why are you asking about this?"

Joan smiled: "What I mean by asking my cousin is to make sure, cousin, you will never regard Suzi as your Arron's wife anymore, right?"

Arron: "..."

Joan explained to Arron on his own: "I knew that my cousin never regarded her as a real wife. Take a step."

After speaking, Joan took Walton and ran away quickly.

Arron had a faint feeling, Joan asked Suzi if he had divorced him, it must have a profound meaning.

This Suzi!

Huo Jianshan on one side and Joan on the other. She is very busy all day long!

Watching Joan leave, Arron's eyes became more gloomy. An engagement banquet started very simply, and ended more hastily. Arron only asked Christopher to send Lanita back to his residence, and then he drove away alone.

The rest of Lanita, who had just been engaged, was full of melancholy.

But instead, Lanita was happy again. It was different from being engaged to Arron. Arron never let her enter his residence in the past, but now he asked Christopher to send her back to his residence in person.
