

Chapter 393

It's as if she is wearing this dress now, like a slightly delicate female student who doesn't know the world, like she just walked out of the ivory tower. Extremely pure.

Thinking of this, Suzi laughed at himself again, how can he boast himself like this?

And there!

Suzi, you can't be so immersed in it.

You have forgotten Sanford, where is Sanford now?

Is he okay?

Thinking of Sanford, Suzi felt a trace of sadness on her face. She never wanted to remember Joan again, especially in the company, when Rayna always yelled her as a mistress.

But at this moment, Suzi wanted to see Joan very much, and asked if Joan inquired about Sanford? After all, Joan promised her that he would help her find Sanford.

Thinking of these things, Suzi walked out dully.

She did not see the figure of Arron waiting outside, but heard an extremely cold voice: "I don't want you to think of any man in your heart! If you have other distracting thoughts, I will use my way to put you in your heart All the people who think about it are driven away!"

When Suzi turned around, he saw Arron in overalls.

He wears like a mechanic, and the work clothes are loose. It should have no shape, but he wears it on a man, but he has a different aura.

It is the kind of vigorous, sharp, and austere momentum.

Suzi's heart shrank in shock, and his words were not so neat: "Wh...what way?"

The man sneered: "For example, half of what we did when we taught you to practice the car last time, and for example, the last time we didn't actually continue. This time, I can have a complete and earth-shaking one.

Anyway, the field has been cleared. There is no one in a radius of more than ten kilometers. So, let's try the feeling of the wild, how about? "

Suzi: "..."

His face suddenly turned red like a ripe tomato.

She lowered her head and said, "When you practice a car, you can practice it. How can you think of that?"

The man laughed even colder: "Practicing is driving, do you know another meaning of driving?"

"I don't know!" Suzi suddenly thought, she stomped her foot, and immediately walked to the coach car not far away, got in the car, and wanted to drive away in anger, but she didn't even know how to start the car. Learn.

After the man came in and taught her hand in hand, she began to slowly start again.

"Hurry up!" the man ordered.

"I'm afraid..."

"What's so scary, the whole road is yours, the road is flat, and there is me next to it, you can drive boldly, don't panic when you encounter situations, so that you can practice driving skills!" The man's cold command gave birth to the slightest. Suzi is not allowed to shrink.

Suzi really hates it!

Why should he be her coach himself! Which coach will help others like him? Does anyone who learn to drive start with theoretical knowledge? Is there such a thing as him?

Hate it!

It's useless to hate it. The way he teaches her is intensive, and you have to adapt if you don't adapt. However, after more than two hours in the morning, Suzi was really forced by Arron and learned.

She can even turn around and reverse the car.

She couldn't help feeling that the flexibility of people is really great.

While Suzi was practicing reversing repeatedly, a man and a woman stood under the woods not far away. This couple originally came to practice the car and was temporarily notified to clear the venue. The two originally planned to make love in the woods. After a while, he saw Suzi who was in contact with the car backing up.

"Is it her?" When the woman saw Suzi, her expression was both surprised and disdainful.

Chapter 394

The woman who saw Suzi was a female employee of the company where Suzi worked. This female employee was a small clerk in the personnel department named Wen Cancan.

Wen Cancan usually has a close relationship with Linda.

"Do you know this woman?" Wen Cancan's boyfriend asked Wen Cancan.

"The designers who have just arrived in our company, even though they have only been here for two weeks, are the top people in the company." In Wen Cancan's tone, all were jealous and contemptuous of Suzi.

The boyfriend's tone is justified: "This woman is not a mortal at first sight, otherwise she learns a car, and such a big driving school can't clear the field."

"Hey! She can do it! Isn't it just being taken by Mr. Jun? What's so great! But... I think the man who taught her to drive is not like Mr. Jun. Mr. Jun is not so tall. "Wen Cancan couldn't see Arron's face after a long distance. Even if she could see it clearly, she didn't know Arron.

She just thinks that this man is typically a coach in a suit.

The boyfriend pushed Wen Cancan: "For what you thought, how could a young master like Mr. Jun who earn hundreds of millions of years be a coach here? Of course, that person is not Mr. Jun, it must be a certain coach here. This is so strange."

"It's probably the principal here. Otherwise, she would have cleared the school without such a big privilege." Wen Cancan analyzed.

The boyfriend said, "Well, what you said makes sense."

"You said, Suzi, how did you get along with the driving school coach? This woman is really not an easy one. She has a relationship with Rayna's brother-in-law, and now she is the driving school coach. There are so many clueless women outside. In front of Mr. Jun, he pretended to be like a green tea b!tch.

Most importantly, she had only been here for a few days before actually taking Linda's seat.

I have to take a picture of her and show it to Shao Jun. "

"Don't cause trouble, secretly taking pictures of others is an infringement of people's privacy and portrait rights!"

"I'll take a picture of the back, and I can't see my face." Wen Cancan picked up the phone and snapped it.

After the filming is over, I take my boyfriend away.

Suzi and Arron, who only practiced reversing over there, did not realize that they had been secretly photographed by others.

Arron is a man who has been in the special forces for several years. He has eaten everything. When he was in the camping forest, he had also been hungry for a few days without eating.

But Suzi can't.

She suffered from stomach problems due to malnutrition when she was pregnant. From then on, she suffered from stomach upset if she didn't eat in time. It was one o'clock in the afternoon, but Arron still didn't mention eating.

"I don't want to practice anymore." Suzi completely slowed down.

"No!" The man said in a nonchalant tone.

"I'm hungry, I want to eat." Suzi said in a defiant tone.

The man then subconsciously looked at the sun, and then raised his wrist to look at his watch. It was indeed past noon.

"Is it almost done?" the man asked.

The car is not difficult to learn, and he can teach her in a morning of intensive training.

Sure enough, Suzi nodded: "It's almost there."

"Go back!" the man said.

Suzi finally relaxed, she grabbed his arm again, and asked inch by inch: "Can we...can we go home to eat instead of eating outside?"

It's one thing that the food outside is not good, mainly because she practiced the car and was very tired.

She now wants to go home quickly, eat hot soup and rice cooked by Sister Li, and then take a bath and sleep well.
