

PEERLESS MARTIAL SOUL

Chapter 14: Kill the demon wolf!

This was not the most powerful monster he encountered after entering the Aomori Mountains, but it was the most cunning monster. The crack demon wolf doesn't fight him close, just launches the wind blade from a long distance, and keeps walking around, making him unable to make it out.

After this struggle, Chen Feng also discovered his own shortcomings-slow speed, single offensive methods, and no long-range attack methods.

The characteristics of the Bedoro leaf gold sutra: thick and simple, so Chen Feng's instinct is very vigorous, the meridians are very strong and stable, the strength is strong, close combat does not suffer, but he cannot reach far.

Chen Feng thought in his heart that it was time to increase some enemy means. Of course, the most important thing now was to get rid of this damned Gale Wind Demon Wolf.

He turned his mind and got an idea.

Chen Feng continued to confront the demon wolf. The demon wolf still fired wind blades from time to time, but did not fight close. Chen Feng seemed to have lost his patience because of his stimulation. He shouted and continuously condensed big handprints, and bombarded the Gale Demon Wolf, but either he couldn't reach that far, or he was avoided by the Gale Demon Wolf.

A hint of sarcasm flashed in the eyes of Gale Demon Wolf, and the reaction of this human being had long been expected.

Although he is a monster, his combat experience is not inferior to ordinary warriors.

Suddenly, this human being staggered, and the big handprints he made were a little weak. Before, the big handprints smashed the wind blade to pieces, but this time, it was dissipated by the wind blade.

The demon wolf let out a low growl in his throat and leaped forward, knowing that it was time to take the initiative to attack. Obviously, this human being has no physical strength, and his true energy is also consumed very little. Even if he is in close combat, he is not afraid of him. It used to fight like this and was very familiar with this set.

The demon wolf pounced at a distance of ten feet away from Chen Feng, and then opened a mouth, and a particularly huge wind blade formed, and pounced towards Chen Feng. It was still more cautious and decided to send a wind blade to try it out. Sure enough, as expected, Chen Feng could only barely escape, and was cut a big hole in the waist by the wind blade, and blood poured out.

At this moment, Gale Demon Wolf was completely relieved, roared, and rushed forward, his mouth opened, his sharp fangs gleamed with cold light, his eyes were cruel, it was about to bite this human throat! The blade of the Gale Demon Wolf is terrible, and the sharp teeth are even more terrifying. The bite force reaches thousands of catties, and the teeth are five times harder than ordinary iron. Steel can be crushed in one bite.

But at this moment, Chen Feng's eyes showed a terrifying sneer. Enraged, a huge golden handprint condensed in the air.

Gale Demon Wolf was horrified, this human being is full of true qi, where does it mean that the true qi is exhausted? It knew it was fooled and wanted to dodge, but where could it dodge?

The big handprint of Guangming hit its abdomen fiercely, and the Gale Demon Wolf let out a miserable howl, his body was beaten out several meters away, hit a big tree, and then bounced to the ground. The abdomen is the most vulnerable position of the Gale Demon Wolf. This time, the muscle that Gale Demon Wolf beat was broken and fractured, the internal organs shattered, the position of the chest collapsed, and blood leaked from it. It stretched its neck and vomited blood in its mouth.

But it seemed to still have a strong desire to survive, crawling hard in one direction, dragging a deep blood mark on the ground.

When Chen Feng went up, the big handprint blasted its forehead, smashing its skull, and it was killed.

Chen Feng sighed slightly, sat down and ran the Bedoro leaf gold sutra. The Bedoro leaf gold sutra had a very good healing effect. Soon, the wound on his waist healed, leaving only a shallow white mark. Just now, in order to lure Gale Wind Demon Wolf to come forward, he had to deliberately be hit by the wind blade, leaving him injured.

After healed his wounds, he walked to the side of the demon wolf's corpse and pried off the demon wolf's fangs.

This is the most valuable and expensive thing in the monster wolf. The fangs of the monster wolf are five times harder than ordinary iron, and they are extremely tough. They are one of the materials for forging many spirit weapons and are in great demand. Chen Feng knew that in Qianyuanzong's Waizong Square, someone set up a stall to buy the fangs of Gale Wind Demon Wolf.

He was about to leave when he suddenly yelled, feeling something wrong.

He glanced at Gale Wind Demon Wolf's dying eyes just now, but he didn't pay attention. Looking back now, his eyes were full of nostalgia and dismay.

Chen Feng pondered for a moment, and took a close look at the direction the Gale Demon Wolf was crawling, and flew in that direction.

He walked and looked for it, and sure enough, he had a harvest soon.

He found a stone cave under a stone peak. There were some wolf dung scattered around the cave. Chen Feng looked at it and confirmed that this was the wolf den of the Gale Demon Wolf, because the wolf dung scattered around was a customary declaration of his influence. Range of means.

Before he entered the cave, he heard a low roar, full of threats, but full of childishness. Chen Feng smiled slightly and entered the cave without paying attention, and saw a litter of wolf pups at the bottom of the cave. There are about five or six, all the size of a palm, and they are plump and tender, and they look very cute. One of the bigger ones was grinning at Chen Feng.
