

Perfect WD 221

Chapter 221 - Honored Member of the Divine Mountain

The purple haired girl was quick and skillful. A thin layer of mist surrounded her, and the corners of her clothes drifted in the wind. Pure light scattered down from her body as she emerged from the earth like a lunar princess.

However, after hearing the little guy's words, she was no longer calm and collected like before, her pure and beautiful face had anger written all of it. It was simply intolerable. Every time she saw him, she would be called a vicious beast.

The purple-clothed girl's bright pupils flickered with with astonishing divine multicolored light. Her teeth began to chew on her bright red lips as she stared at him. She truly wanted to give him a really good beating.

"Vicious beast! Where are you going?!" The little guy rushed over with a whoosh sound, taking the initiative to pounce towards the purple-clothed girl. His eyes were filled with excited radiance.

Everyone became shocked. This pair of old and young that showed up definitely had shocking origins, yet the devilish brat actually rushed up like this! It was truly an example of the strong being daring as he rushed up without any fear.

"Disgraceful devilish brat!" The purple-clothed girl was outstanding and extraordinary, yet currently, she felt extremely angry. She truly couldn't stand the devilish child, because he was always so savage every time he met her.

With a weng sound, her slender jade-like hands made a stroke in the air. Brilliant symbols covered this place densely before descending like a rain of light, submerging everything in front of her. She made her move as well.

The little guy released a light shout, releasing a breath at full force from his mouth. It looked like a real dragon, surging with golden light before turning into a frantic gale. It wrapped itself around the golden symbols and charged forward.

In that instant, the silt and rocks immediately began to fly about in disorder. Earsplitting wuwu sounds could be heard as energy waves poured out like a hurricane. It pulled up the giant trees nearby by the roots and caused giant boulders to roll about before they all exploded high in the air.

With a hong sound, the golden symbols smashed into those symbols. It was as if it struck rotten weeds, directing breaking through the opponent's bone text precious technique. It was ridiculously powerful.

Everyone became frightened. Just how terrifying was this devilish brat? He merely spat out a breath of air, yet it was already so powerful! His power was a bit too excessive.

The purple-haired girl's expression changed. She was a heaven warping talent from the archaic divine mountain. Her identity was shocking, so she naturally saw how terrifying the devilish child was.

He opened the tenth heavenly passage after all! Symbols moved fluidly within his body as the force between the heaven and earth was seized. Just the raising of a limb would create a powerful attack, and even the essence energy he spat out contained powerful precious technique symbols that could destroy divine weapons.

“Vicious beast, where are you going? Today, my cultivation realm isn’t any lower than yours, so there’s no need to wrestle any more. I’m not scared of your precious artifact’s attacks.” The little guy shouted.

The purple-colored girl clenched her sparkling white fist. She hated the words ‘wrestle’ the most, because it was just too crude. Whenever she thought back to what happened in the Hundred Shattering Mountains, she would always feel like she was driven mad.

She was a goddess in the eyes of all clans’ geniuses, and was absolutely exceptional. Even the heirs of deities didn’t dare to treat her with disrespect. No matter where she went, she would always be held up like a moon among stars within people’s hearts.

Normally, who dared to speak so rudely towards her? Not to mention touching her body, there wasn’t even a chance for them to approach her. They could only admire from afar.

However, the devilish child on the other side was not like so. He was hateful to the point that it made her hair even stand up in anger. Within the Hundred Shattering Mountains, he grabbed her sparkling white neck and even bit her beautiful ear as they wrestled and tumbled about on the ground.

That was truly an experience that she did not want to recall. This fellow was definitely trying to destroy her ‘goddess’ image. If these events were made know to others, then it would create a huge uproar. Once news of this travelled to the purple-clothed girl’s world, the Archaic divine mountain’s extraordinary talents would immediately be stunned. They would undoubtedly say something like ‘why don’t you just drop down to hell’.

Fortunately, no one knew yet.

Chi

A transparent and divine horn appeared in the purple-clad girl’s hands. She slashed outwards as she ran over. The little guy immediately released a strange shout before quickly dodging.

This horn was quite special. The radiance it emitted could break apart bone texts and directly close in, making it impossible to guard against.

“Vicious beast, what is this? Are you forcing me to fight you in close combat?” The little guy widened his large eyes. His saliva gurgled as he once again threw himself over. He was not opposed to wrestling again.

The purple-clothed girl quickly retreated, because this was all happening under everyone gaze. She did not want to roll around on the ground with the devilish brat and wrestle. If something like this really did happen, she would immediately leave in anger.

Chi

Dazzling multicolored light shone. Around her ears, a sparkling and transparent radiance illuminated, forming a curtain of light. It hindered the little guy, preventing him from coming closer.

“That earring seems to be better than the last one. It was refined by a powerful individual, making divine force flow within it.” The little guy’s eyes lit up as he became increasingly lively. He charged forward with full force.

Hong!

As a result, his fist blasted over. Golden symbols covered the sky, piercing through that curtain of light. The tenth heavenly passage was unrivalled, and there wasn’t anything that could stop his advance.

“Vicious beast, you should just stand still and be captured!” The devilish brat shouted loudly, and with the Kun Peng precious technique revealed, gales of wind blew over. Terrifying aura overflowed into the heavens as the divine feathers directly submerged the area.

“He really is formidable!” Finally, the elder on the side spoke. His figure moved and blocked that attack. With a push of a palm, a loud noise rumbled. It was as if the heavens were being opened as a mist began to surge. Multicolored light shot towards the heavens.

Hong!

This was a world-shaking strike. A wave of golden ripples were emitted, and one could clearly see it rushing towards all directions. In the end, the nearby small mountains, vegetation, and boulders were all split apart.

It was like the ripple coming from a God. As it flickered with golden light, it seemed auspicious and peaceful, yet it was extraordinarily powerful at the same time. It was a force that couldn’t be defended against that swept through this area.

“My meat soup!” The little guy cried out loudly as he protected a certain area to make sure that it didn’t collapse.

In the distance, everyone was terrified. They were inwardly rejoicing that they stood far enough away, or else they would have immediately exploded into a bloody paste after being swept by the golden ripple.

This was just too terrifying... What kind of power was this?

Everyone shivered. What kind of background did that elder have? He seems to have the ability to fight with someone at the tenth heavenly passage. It was too shocking and excessively terrifying!

“Are you part of her clan?” The little guy was suspicious as he vigilantly observed everything in front of him.

This elder was too mysterious. The strength he possessed seemed a bit excessive. He was clearly just standing there, yet it gave people an illusory feeling, as if he stood aloof from the Void God Realm.

“Correct!” The elder nodded.

“But you don’t seem like a vicious beast.” The little guy scratched his head in puzzlement. He was a bit doubtful, because an aged vicious beast should seem more terrifying. They usually possessed a mighty divine innate gift. Currently, he only received a peaceful and auspicious feeling.

“Devilish child, you are speaking nonsense!” The elder reprimanded.

“Whatever. Big vicious beast, come again!” The little guy rushed over again. He was quite excited because he was able to meet this type of opponent.

After hearing how the little guy addressed him, the elder blew at his beard and scowled.

Hong!

A huge battle erupted between the two. The devilish brat shouted out before vigorously leaping over. His entire body surged with auspicious light, and it was so powerful that it made people feel despair.

His arms and legs began to move about. Every move and form possessed an extreme power, enough to push back anything. It was world-shaking.

The great powers’ experts were all trembling. This type of strength, this type of appearance was truly worthy of the words ‘Supreme Youth’. There was the disposition of an unmatched deity!

The elder was shocked. As the battle continued, he began to feel it becoming more and more strenuous. The devilish brat’s power was too fierce and firm, making his arm feel an almost unbearable pain.

“I know that there is a supreme treasure protecting your arms that possesses a divine creature’s aura. Otherwise, you wouldn’t be able to endure until now!” The devilish child realized that this elder had opened nine heavenly passages.

The tenth passage was supreme, and once matured, would overlook everything under the heavens. They would be able to command everything, because such a being would truly be unrivalled. However, it was truly a rarely seen thing.

“Stop, I have something to say.” The elder spoke.

“Hand over what’s protecting your arm.” The little guy attacked violently. His eyes were focused on that supreme treasure.

With a honglong sound, a purple Suan Ni rushed out, throwing itself towards that elder with a world-changing divine might. The tremendous lightning hid the sky and covered the earth, the electricity terrifying everyone.

Peng

Finally, the elder couldn’t support himself anymore and was sent flying. Smoke was emitted, and his entire head of hair stood erect.

“Stop, I came to look for you regarding some matters. Youngster, don’t be so impatient.” After the elder spoke, an imposing aura was released. It was as if a supreme deity was looking down, descending into this world.

However, the devilish child didn’t seem to care. His eyes lit up, and he wasn’t willing to give up on that armguard. He frantically attacked over with an inexhaustible strength around his body, not carrying the slightest hint of loosening up.

“Impudent!” The elder shouted loudly, his voice like thunder as it shook the world. His body lit up, and terrifying aura overflowed into the heavens. It was as if a supreme creature resurrected.

However, the devilish brat was completely without fear. He began to argue noisily, “You’re the impudent one.”

He was extremely energetic, striking frantically with a barrage of attacks. He had his eyes set on the elder’s armguard. His saliva watered, and he was brave to a ridiculous level as he became increasingly valiant.

Everyone was shocked.

The purple-haired girl was stupefied. This fellow was too violent! Could it be that he really couldn’t guess her grandfather’s identity? No matter what, the Archaic divine mountain was something that would make commoners tremble.

Hong!

The devilish brat was strong and powerful. The Kun Peng wings flapped, making the elder tumble back. Following that, the Suan Ni precious techniques flew out. The electricity made his entire body spasm out before emitting strands of black smoke.

“You are making me absolutely furious!”

The elder turned around and left, no longer fighting zealously. What kind of identity did he have? Yet in the end, he was given a beating by an immature brat. He truly did not want to stay here any longer.

“Where are you going? Leave behind my armguard!” The devilish brat cried out loudly. He was extremely brave, and after fighting to this point, he didn’t feel the slightest bit tired. He was still full of life as he rushed over.

Hong!

The two individuals tangled together, and the devilish brat began to fight fiercely with him. He was thrown down, and with a hong sound, a huge human shaped hole appeared as dust filled the air.

In the distance, the purple-clothed girl’s small mouth opened. “The elder is so powerful, ruling over an area of the Archaic divine mountain. Who would be able to put him in such a miserable state? Today, the devilish child was actually this stubborn, beating up such a supreme powerful existence.

“Absolutely infuriating!”

The elder was furious. His entire body erupted with symbols, making him truly seem like a deity. The little guy was overturned in an instant. He was seething with anger as he rushed over murderously.

Everyone was mind-blown. This elder shouldn’t be a true deity, right?

The little guy was joyful and not scared at all. He was still bold and unrestrained, crying out with ao ao sounds as he rushed forward. A large golden hand was formed, grabbing the elder by the neck. A fish carrying symbols immediately smashed over.

Peng

The elder released a muffled snort. He was beaten to such a state, and his eyes were even purple as he staggered in retreat.

“Great vicious beast, give me your armguard!” The little guy’s large eyes shone. He was like a lively monkey, arguing noisily as he jumped down to fight with the elder.

In the distance, everyone was petrified. The battle had reached such a state, making everyone frightened. They could guess just how terrifying the elder’s identity was. He came from the Archaic divine mountain, so he was definitely a supreme expert, and could even be a deity!

However, the little guy didn’t care about all this. There was a surplus of energy inside of him as they fought. He was not scared in the slightest, because even if heavenly deities came, he would still beat them up.

“Devilish brat, stop! This old one has a great fate for you, a huge opportunity!” The elder shouted.

The devilish brat temporarily stayed his hand. Before waiting for him to say something else, he once again said the sentence, “Give me the armguard!” His expression was fiery, and there was nothing else in his eyes. He had them set on the pair of supreme treasures.

“If you knew what kind of origins it has, would you still dare to ask for it?” The elder shouted.

“What kind of background?” The devilish brat asked.

“This is the weapon of a deity. After knowing this, do you still want to receive it?” The elder was extremely angry.

With this sentence released, the little guy’s eyes immediately became round. He seemed to have become dumbfounded, and didn’t say anything.

“Do you understand fear now?” The elder snorted.

“Give me the armguard!” The devilish brat began to shout loudly, seeming to be even more jumpy now. He seemed to be hopping as he rushed over, becoming even more like a monkey as he frantically beat up the elder.

Peng

The elder once again suffered a strike, receiving a black eye. He was so furious that he was driven mad as he roared towards the heavens. This f*cker truly did not follow heavenly reason! He had never met such a money grubbing devilish child that even dared to beat up existences from the Archaic divine mountain.

Originally, he wanted to discuss something with him. However, he never thought that they would fight fiercely, that the little guy would be stirred up like so. He shouted as he ran up to fight endlessly.

“Grandfather, since you are being suppressed here, let me help!” The purple-clothed girl spoke, because she couldn’t watch any more.

Her eyes flowed with multicolored light. She looked like she came out of a fantasy or dream. Her fine nose stuck out, her red lips were moist, and her white teeth were sparkling. She seemed extremely otherworldly and magnificent.

“Vicious beast, come over! Do you think I’m scared of you?!” The devilish brat shouted as he threw himself over. He penetrated the curtain of light to fight with her, and in the end, he grabbed one of her jade-like hands before directly wrestling with her.

“This devilish brat!” The elder was furious.

As for the purple-clothed girl, she was gnashing her teeth in anger. She was beyond angry at this point.

Chapter 222 - Technique from Archaic Vicious Ten

The little guy clung to his opponent’s arm, and threw her down. Burning symbols followed, and with a hong sound, she smashed into the ground, causing earth and rocks to fly everywhere.

At the same time, his palm began to surge with multicolored light. An expanse of golden symbols descended like a great downpour to subdue the purple-clothed girl.

With a weng sound, a curtain of light soared. The purple-clothed girl’s sparkling earpiece began to emit light. The radiance wrapped around her before quickly rushing out to avoid this strike.

“Youngster, stay your hand.” The elder once again arrived to fight the devilish child.

The little guy was looking for a gap to exploit while fighting him. The opposing party had that armguard, and even though it was suppressed by the laws of this world, it was still rather terrifying.

“Stop! I have something to say. I am going to give you a great opportunity.” The elder spoke in a deep voice that was extremely imposing. There was a type of intangible aura that poured over.

“Why are you making things sound so needlessly complicated? If you have something to say, then just say it.” The little guy didn’t seem to care about his proposal, and was even less scared of his prestige. Within this world, the tenth heavenly passage reigned supreme.

He naturally didn’t believe the opposing party. The purple-clothed girl was definitely an enemy not friend. After being chased after from the Hundred Shattering Mountains until now, how could she suddenly have a change of heart and give him a great opportunity?

“Are you doubting this old one?” The elder spoke. His words created a rumbling sound, as if thunder was echoing here.

“Your granddaughter hates me to death, and every time she sees me she would want to chew me out. Why would she bring you over to give me a great opportunity?” The little guy looked at him with contempt, as if he was looking down on him.

“Devilish child!” The elder’s face was thoroughly red. What kind of look was this? It had already been many years since the last time he was looked at like this.

Peng

As a result, because of a single mishap, he was struck by the little guy's palm. He was thrown back with a pu tong sound, smashing apart a stone mountain. Rocks were blasted into the air.

"Just speak. What do you want with me? You better not bring up the bronze precious book." The devilish brat's vitality was too exuberant. He rushed over while shouting, continuing his attacks.

From his perspective, both of them were enemies. It was impossible for them to have a great opportunity for him, so there was no way he would be tricked. There was no way he would ever think that purple-clothed vicious beast would suddenly change her feelings for him.

"Grandpa!" The purple-clothed girl was startled and immediately rushed towards the pile of rubble. She feared that the elder suffered some serious injury, so she became even more furious. Her sparkling white beautiful face was full of unwillingness.

She wanted to beat him violently, but she was outmatched.

Her grandfather was what kind of person? If his identity was revealed, then this great wastelands would be shaking, yet currently, the devilish brat was sent flying. It was truly unbelievable.

"You guys shouldn't be attacking me for my precious bronze book, right?" The little guy mocked before attacking again.

He was quite sure that the purple-clothed girl always wanted to beat him up, so it was impossible for the grudge between them to vanish so fast. If not for his body being so strong when he fought her at close quarters, he would have been killed by her precious techniques within the Hundred Shattering Mountains.

From the beginning until now, the purple-clothed girl always wanted to get revenge, so how could she have suddenly changed her mind? Especially after inviting such a 'great vicious beast' over, he definitely had to stay vigilant.

As a result, the little guy wasn't moved in the slightest and continued to attack fiercely. The Horned Dragon didn't treat him well, and as a result was suppressed and almost turned into soup.

If the elder wanted to trick him, then there was nothing to be scared of either. He believed that he was unmatched here, so even if the opposing party brought over a deity, he would still be without fear.

Hong!

The Suan Ni precious technique was brought out, causing wind and lightning to fly about chaotically. Purple colored symbols began to arrange themselves, and they were absolutely terrifying as they submerged everything in front. The elder was once again sent flying.

If not for that armguard, then he definitely would have been blown to pieces since he wasn't the little guy's opponent. This was a supreme youth, and within this world, he could look down on all of his opponents.

"Fine, this old one admits that he wanted to suppress you, but after hearing that you broke through the tenth heavenly passage, I've changed my mind." The elder truly had enough and began to spill the beans. Otherwise, he truly feared that this devilish brat would never let him go.

"I want to ask, are you a divine creature?" The devilish brat's expression changed. He didn't understand what he was saying, but was actually somewhat interested.

"Why do you want to know such a thing?" The elder was astonished.

"Because I'm curious! After fighting like this, a small divine existence was even beaten up by me." The devilish brat spoke mischievously as he laughed continuously.

The elder's face immediately darkened. "Stop dreaming!"

This battle truly made him feel suffocated. Such an incredible supreme expert was fighting with a devilish child in such a vicious manner! If news of this spread, where would he even show his face?

Hong!

The little guy once again made his move. Thunder struck down, and the elder's entire body was charred black by the electricity. His hair was standing straight out, cutting a sorry figure.

"You still dare to attack?!" The elder was furious, his imposing aura surfacing again.

"What do I have to be scared of? You came because of your granddaughter to suppress me, so you're obviously an enemy." The little guy directly began to speak noisily.

"Are you not scared of my identity in the real world?"

"What is there to be scared of? Since I had the ability to open up ten heavenly passages, do you really think I would be inferior to you guys?" The little guy once again looked at him with scorn. It represented that he had power to back himself up as well.

With this sentence released, everyone began to feel their bodies shiver and their minds tremble from fear. There were people that had doubts a long time ago that this fellow's origins weren't simple, and that he entered the Heaven Mending Pavilion simply to train himself.

Now that he spoke these words, it immediately gave quite a few people a scare.

In addition, he had just given that elder a beating! It was done with absolutely no restraint, so after taking all of this into consideration, wasn't the credibility extremely high?

At this moment, quite a few people's fine hairs began to stand up. They felt a layer of goose bumps on their skin, along with a wave of dread. This was especially startling for those great hostile powers, because they were truly beginning to consider what to do.

Hong!

The little guy's tenth heavenly passage opened, and it was as if a volcano began to surge, causing 'magma' to boil. It was incomparably dazzling as it submerged him, replenishing his essence energy as he continued to battle.

Everyone was frightened. He established the tenth heavenly passage after all, and it was now real in front of their eyes, stirring up a huge commotion.

“Could he be the descendant of a deity?” Many people became uncertain after his words and actions. With the appearance of his divine might, they all felt that he did not speak nonsense just now.

The elder rushed forward to block the little guy. He fought while saying, “The things I need to discuss with you is extremely important and cannot be randomly shouted out. They need to be discussed in a quiet and peaceful place.”

“Give me one of the armguards then. You don’t have to hand over both.” The devilish child set a condition. He did not feel the slightest bit of reverence for an existence from the Archaic divine mountain.

The longer they were here, the more those people quaked in fear, feeling like this fellow’s background was incredible.

“What I want to say is -- A precious technique from the Archaic vicious ten, one that is countless times more precious than these artifacts!” The elder said under his breath.

The little guy suddenly stopped. His eyes widened until they were round, and his attention was finally attracted. This was truly what he wished for the most.

The Horned Dragon was lying on the ground with its body of brilliant scales unconscious this whole time. The little guy walked over and sat on top of him. After seeing this action, all of the outstanding heroes began to shake uncontrollably.

That was a pure-blooded creature, yet he just sat his butt down on it like that! It truly made people speechless.

“Smells so good!” The soup in the pot was sparkling and translucent. The little guy lifted it and began to drink as he ate the chunks of Horned Dragon Meat with delight.

The elder walked forward and began to sigh. He had truly aged... The things that this little fart of a child did truly amazed him. This was a bit too unbridled! No wonder he shouted for his granddaughter to protect his village! Comparatively, they were already rather fortunate, because this Horned Dragon was truly out of luck.

“You should just let him go. This old one can step in so that it doesn’t hold any grudges,” said the elder.

“Make your granddaughter not hate me first. She’s always forcing me to wrestle with her.” The little guy lifted his hand as if he was getting a headache from this helpless situation.

The purple-clad girl was extremely outstanding and otherworldly. When she heard this, she immediately wanted to bite him. Who wanted to wrestle with you? You’re always the one that gets stirred up, running and yelling at me.

“It’s always you that provoke me!”

“Nonsense! If it’s not because of you chasing me down every time you see me, why would I be forced to wrestle with you?” The little guy wasn’t going to yield. n-(Ovelb1n

“That’s enough, let’s stop this for now.” The elder spoke.

“Just what kind of race are you? What kind of vicious beast? Are you going to refuse following me back?” The little guy was hopeful as he looked at the purple-clothed girl.

Killing intent immediately soared, the chill making people feel cold to their bones.

“Hey, old one, she’s thinking of making a move again.” The little guy said.

The elder’s head began to feel sore. His granddaughter and this devilish brat truly did not get along.

Finally, these things were temporarily paused when the elder said, “Didn’t you say you liked this armguard? If you exchange with the precious bronze book, I can gift you a pair.

“There’s no need to exchange, I think I can steal it from you!” The little guy spoke valiantly. In the end, it turns out that it was as he anticipated and that this elder did still have his eyes on his precious book. Other than to suppress him, the other reason for his arrival must have been for this.

After noticing that another battle was going to happen, the elder immediately closed his mouth. He was extremely unsatisfied inwardly. He was such a magnificent honored individual that commanded the great wastelands, yet he was actually subdued by the devilish brat’s vicious might.

“Then fine, let’s talk about the Archaic vicious ten matters.” The elder slowly approached.

Within the Archaic divine mountain, there have been people that discovered traces of divine descendants. Rumor has it that there is an Archaic Kun Peng nest in the coastal regions of the wastelands, and that a long lost matchless precious technique was hidden within this place.

“What?”

When the little guy heard this, he was immediately shocked. His eyes were opened wide and his heart was beating quickly. This was the precious technique that he needed the most, because he had always walked this path.

“After finding such a great thing, why would you look for me?” Quickly, he had a look like he didn’t think it was worth doing. It was obvious that this elder was not a good person, and it was clear that he was trying to scam him.

The elder was completely silent. The devilish child was rolling his eyes at him and looking at him with disdain again. How many times was this now? It has been so many years since the last time he was treated by someone like this.

“It’s a forbidden land that has many requirements. Only individuals at the spirit transformation realm can enter and exit freely, and it must be someone that established ten heavenly passages there to open the path.” The elder said.

The devilish brat began to despise him even more, and he even almost directly attacked.

This old fellow wasn’t some good person. He definitely wanted to use the little guy to open the way, and later on will definitely kill him off. Would there still be any chance of survival here?

“You can be at ease. We won’t be fighting among ourselves while seeking out this unrivalled divine ability. It’s not only our group of men, so we need you to display your tenth heavenly passage strength.

The little guy was at the peak of the heavenly passage realm. The next realm he was facing was precisely -- Spirit Transformation.

"Do you even believe the words coming out of your mouth?" The little guy looked at him with disdain. Even though the Spirit Transformation stage was right around the corner, fighting with this old thing was still not possible.

"I believe that we can use a curse to seal a pledge. Should I ever endanger your life, then it will inevitably react." The elder spoke. They really needed someone at the tenth heavenly passage, or else it would be impossible to open the passage.

Ancient curses were extremely mysterious. Once affected, it was difficult to get rid of. The little guy had disturbed ghost grandpa before, and in order to get rid of it, he had to fulfill his promise within the Hundred Shattering Mountains.

However, the devilish brat still did believe him. There was no way he would think the other party was so kind and loyal. Who knows, as soon as he opened the passage, he might be killed off.

"I think it's more reasonable for you to go back with me to guard the village." The little guy spoke to the purple-clothed girl.

At that moment, a tense atmosphere immediately rose and another fierce battle almost broke out. The devilish child wasn't scared in the slightest as he looked face to face with the purple-clothed girl. She once again began to look at the elder with a rage.

"Please believe my words. The Kun Peng has fallen, but its unrivalled precious technique still exists in this world and truly can only be obtained from that region. I came here to speak to you about this, and I speak with complete sincerity and without harm." The elder spoke.

The appearance of the Kun Peng precious technique was definitely something that would shake the entire world. Even Archaic vicious beasts couldn't sit still and wanted to go compete, but with the restriction left behind by the Kun Peng, there was no way for them to enter.

When the little guy said that his heart wasn't moved, that was fake. He was currently walking down this path, so if he could truly study the true Kun Peng technique, then it would definitely link everything together.

Just like this, the elder began to persuade earnestly for a long time. The little guy's expression was cold the entire time and did not nod his head once.

He really wanted to go, but wanted to give this old fellow a beating even more.

The other party knew that he walked this path. It was so enticing, and he was clearly trying to sway his heart, but if he did go, he would most likely lose his life.

"Old man, I know that you never had good intentions. You will receive my help in opening the divine gate, and then take satisfy your hatred by getting rid of me. It really is killing two birds with one stone."

"Little friend, you are misunderstanding. How could I intervene in the struggles between the younger generation? Moreover, it is all on such a small scale, so it's something that can be dismissed with a laugh." The elder said.

"You came from the Archaic divine mountain... Help me find two individuals. If you can find them, then I'll consider it." The little guy suddenly spoke. He remembered that his own parents ventured into the Archaic divine mountain to pick divine medicine for his sake only to never return. As of today, there wasn't even a trace of them. Just thinking about this made his eyes turn red.

"Who are they?" When the elder saw that things were turning for the better, he immediately asked.

"Let me think things through. Wait here for now." The little guy turned around and ran away with whooshing sounds. Even the Horned Dragon was left behind.

"The great wastelands are going to become chaotic. If we can obtain this unmatched divine ability, then in the future, we'll have a stable foundation. Youngster, you need to properly consider this." The elder sent his words mentally, so no one else could hear this.

"Wait here for me!" The little guy replied. When he passed Huo Ling'er, he stopped and said, "Big fatty, thanks! In the future, I will definitely pay you back generously."

He knew that the fire emperor's troops were definitely sent because one, out of appreciation for him, and two, because of Huo Ling'er's contribution. After all, they stuck together together for a period of time within the Hundred Shattering Mountains, so it was extremely likely that she put in a word of advice.

Huo Ling'er didn't feel grateful and instead flipped out. "You are the fatty! Your whole family are fatties!"

The little guy ran away extremely quickly. The outstanding heroes frantically made room for him, not daring to obstruct him. This fellow even beat up a supreme expert from the Archaic divine mountain! With such recklessness, what was there that he didn't dare to do?

The little guy sped along, returning to the starting ground through the golden passageway. Following that, he once again opened some kind of passage to enter the ruined earth filled with primal chaos. The willow tree that took root within the void appeared again.

"Willow deity, I was informed about the nest of a Kun Peng..." He quickly told it everything. He wanted to ask whether or not the Willow Deity would be able to provide support when the time comes if he went.

In reality, he didn't believe that elder or any of the other supreme creatures. Even if they made an oath and used some kind of curse, it was still unreliable.

The only one he could rely on was the Willow Deity, and when the time came, if the Willow Deity was willing to help out and open up a passage, there would be nothing to worry about.

Chapter 223 - Deal Reached n)(O--v--ε/.l-(b.-1/.n

"Kun Peng... An unrivalled expert that fell after so many countless years. What a pity, it was so powerful, yet its powerful tradition was lost like this." The Willow Deity sighed with sorrow.

It was rooted within the void, and its thick scorched branches extended into the heavens. A light breeze was blowing about, and the primal chaos was moving about. More than ten green and lush willow branches gently swayed, almost as if it returned to the era of creation.

"It shouldn't be a mistake. If the Kun Peng precious technique still exists within this world, then it should just be within that sea area." The Willow Deity spoke after carefully thinking it over.

"Then can I go?" The little guy asked hopefully.

"You should go and compete a bit." The Willow Deity gave a decisive reply.

"Awesome!" The little guy was jumping with happiness. He was incomparably excited, because he truly wished for this kind of precious technique, and was finally going to take a look at such a unrivalled divine ability.

He began to carefully speak about everything that happened, not overlooking a single detail to let the Willow Deity understand. After all, he was going to encounter other creatures from the Archaic divine mountain, so it was extremely dangerous.

"Within that world, you can kill him." When the Willow Deity heard that the elder wanted to deal with the little guy before, he spoke peacefully like this.

The devilish brat was stupefied. The auspicious and calm Willow Deity was actually so aggressive. That was a supreme expert from the Archaic divine mountain! When it spoke, its voice was actually completely natural.

"Fortunately, he changed his mind." The Willow Deity said.

If not for the little guy breaking through the tenth heavenly passage to make that elder change his mind, then it could have been entirely possible for a bloody battle to have unfolded. At that time, it would have definitely shocked the world.

Wind blew over and mist filled the air as the Willow Deity stood in this world. Within these boundless ruins, the scorched black tree had brilliant green tender branches extending outwards. They were hazy and mysterious.

"Willow Deity, I opened the tenth heavenly passage, so do I still need to undergo a baptism?" The little guy was excited as he asked, because he wanted to share his joy with it.

"You are quite incredible, surpassing my expectations." This was a sincere praise coming from the Willow Deity. Originally, it wanted to use the baptism to give the little guy a helping hand, but never thought that he would break through on his own.

This was definitely rare ever since the ancient times. Normally, when a supreme youth broke through, there would always be a supreme expert for protection. They would lend their hand from the side, because this was just too incredibly dangerous.

The little guy came from an unorthodox background, and for him to forcefully break through, his bravery was just absolutely ridiculous.

"You can go and give him your word. Leave quickly and come back quickly. It's about time I give you your baptism." The Willow Deity spoke.

The devilish brat shouted loudly, becoming even happier as he passed through the golden passageway as fast as lightning. He was returning to that world to see meet that elder.

"He came back!"

Everyone was astonished after seeing that the devilish child came back so quickly. They all revealed shocked expressions, and those that were about leave stopped their steps.

"After coming back so quickly, it seems like you came to a proper decision." The elder was all smiles. It was as if he was relieved from a huge burden.

"I still haven't agreed yet." The little guy sat his butt onto that Horned Dragon's body.

The Horned Dragon was truly unfortunate. The noble pure-blooded creature was almost eaten by the devilish brat today, and in addition became his exclusive chair. The people watching all became speechless.

"Could it be that you still have some other type of request?" The elder asked.

"Help me break open the eccentric symbols within this Horned Dragon." The little guy said.

"It's obvious that this Horned Dragon has some taboo symbols within its body. You should have been able to sense that you would explode as soon as you touch it. Even if a deity came, it would still be useless." The elder shook his head.

The little guy wanted to get his hands on the Horned Dragon's precious techniques, but in the end, it was just not possible.

"Sigh, that region is just so dangerous. If I were to help open up the passage for you guys, I wouldn't have the strength to protect myself. How can I dare to venture into such a place?" He seemed to be frowning and worried.

The elder's smile was frozen. He knew that this brat wanted to extort some divine ability, precious bone, or other things from him.

"I'm going to do my best for you guys, but won't even have any assistance to protect myself. It's just too terrifying!" The little guy began to shake.

"What do you want?" The elder asked.

"You clan's precious technique..." When the devilish child saw the other party's face darken, he quickly continued. "Of course you guys wouldn't hand over."

"Only if my clan was exterminated." The elder said.

"Then I don't have any other requests besides letting me borrow the armguard. I don't need both, just one is enough." The little guy said.

"Even if I gave it to you, you still wouldn't be able to bring it outside the Void God Realm." The elder spoke with his face darkened.

"I just want to borrow it and take a look. My request shouldn't be that high, right?" The little guy calmly spoke.

He naturally wouldn't believe the other party. If he truly went to the seaside, as soon as he lost value, then he would immediately be killed. Even though he already informed the Willow Deity, he still wanted to obtain a bargaining chip.

"After returning from the sea, the armguard will be returned to you." The little guy said.

The elder frowned. This was truly making it difficult for him, because if the brat was to die, then since the armguard wasn't in the Void God Realm, wouldn't it also disappear? This was going to be the case unless they quickly drew out its soul.

However, it was truly difficult!

That sea area was extremely dangerous. If he suddenly were to die in battle, then there definitely wouldn't be enough time.

When the time comes, there definitely won't be a single individual there. They all came from divine mountain or other restricted lands, and so there will be many fierce and great battles. The sea area will all be dyed red in blood.

"Could it be that you guys were going to get rid of me as soon as I became useless? Killing me immediately after opening the passage?" The little guy ridiculed.

"Sigh, this old one doesn't even know if my later generations are going to live or die after this. You are truly making it difficult for me." The elder shook his head.

"Then it's better if I don't go. Why would I throw away my life." The little guy seemed to be resolute.

Immediately, the atmosphere became tense. The place was stifling, and both sides became silent.

"Alright, I'll lend you an armguard." The elder nodded, and finally took off a precious artifact, handing it over.

The little guy calmly received it, but his heart was actually surging with waves. This Kun Peng precious technique was indeed shocking, actually making all of the Archaic vicious beasts come out. They were willing to pay any cost to fight for it.

"Grandfather, you cannot lose this supreme treasure! The purple-clothed girl reminded, revealing her anxiety.

"So selfish, what a waste for you to have grown so fat." The little guy muttered.

"You're the fat one!"

The little guy quickly put on the armguard. In that instant, he felt as if his left hand exploded with power, as if it could pierce through the heavens. However, it was soon suppressed by the restriction of this world, not allowing it to break through the heavenly passage gate.

Soon after, the little guy's expression became serious, and a bit of sadness appeared. He transmitted sound, and drew out the imagery of a man and woman, to allow the elder to search for news about them. This was the precondition to going out to sea with them; if they weren't found, then he would back out.

The elder was dumbstruck. This was truly a problem.

The devilish child's eyes turned red. He firmly required the elder to do this, as well as not leak out any information.

Finally, the elder compromised and agreed to his request.

"Since it's like this, then it's decided. You already reached the pinnacle of the heavenly passage realm, so you can enter the spirit transformation realm at any time. We will wait for you!" After speaking, the elder turned around to leave.

"Old one, don't leave! Let's chat for a bit longer, give this young one some guidance." The devilish brat urged.

"I still have things to take care of." The elder did not want to stay here for a second longer. After confronting this devilish brat, he ended up taking a beating. His face darkened, and truly did not want to even look at him again.

"How should I eat this dragon?" The little guy scratched his head. After drinking a bit of the soup, he felt the essence energy within his body boil with a powerful greatness.

Even though it was the Void God Realm and everything was created from essence energy, it was all similar to everything in the real world. Similar effects would happen, illustrating how terrifying the deities were.

"Why don't you hand over this small dragon to me? When we leave for the sea area, you guys might be crossing in the same boat." The elder said.

"It attacked me and became captured. If I let him go like this, then wouldn't it seem like just anyone could bully me?" The little guy definitely wouldn't let the Horned Dragon go.

"This is the descendant of someone from the Archaic divine mountain." The elder reminded.

The little guy had a look of disdain as he said, "So any creature from the Archaic divine mountain can forcefully attack others? Since it wanted to kill me, it should have been aware that there was a chance of being eaten."

"What are you going to do?"

"Use some kind of divine ability or precious artifact to exchange." The devilish brat spoke in a matter of fact way.

Dark lines began to appear on his forehead. This youngster truly angered both humans and deities alike, making people leave in fury. However, they still couldn't tidy him up.

"It wanted to kill me! Old one, are you saying that after catching it, I still have to send it off?" The little guy chewed on his lip.

"You shouldn't say it like this. As they say, you cannot know each other without fighting first. My little master will go out to sea with you, and after being around each other, all the past conflicts will disappear with a laugh. It can also be considered having a type of good karma."

Two tall and lofty figures appeared in the distance. They were dazzling and in human form, however, golden hair covered their entire body. Symbols were everywhere, and they were actually two golden beasts that were known as divine servants.

In the distance, everyone was shocked. It was truly worthy of being called the Archaic divine mountain. To have such powerful creatures as servants, who could compare?

The little guy shook his head and said, "If everyone came to kill me and then told me that it was for good karma, then I might as well commit suicide. This kind of life is too depressing."

"This old one is going to take his leave." The elder spoke stated before turning around to leave, no longer staying here. He believed that the devilish child wouldn't kill the Horned Dragon and only wanted to extort more out of him. Someone was going to be paying a huge cost.

The two golden beasts quickly displayed a great courtesy as they respectfully departed with the elder and purple-clothed girl.

The two golden beasts came from the Archaic divine mountain, and even though they were servants, their statuses were extraordinary. They possessed an innate powerful aura

"Youngster, we admit that you're powerful, but the Archaic divine mountain is not weak either!" A golden beast reminded.

"Are you threatening me?" The devilish brat directly rushed forward, and with a raise of his hand, golden symbols covered the sky, about to suppress those two golden beasts.

In the distance, the outstanding heroes were all shaken as they watched. This savage child was indeed intimidating, not fearing the Archaic divine mountain in the slightest. In his eyes, the two golden beasts reputed as divine servants were truly only servants in his eyes.

"Alright, we admit willing to recognize you as a young master." The two were a bit scared, because this devilish child even dared to give the illustrious elder a fat beating. If the two of them didn't back off, then it was possible that they would be eaten by those small savage teeth.

In the end, the little guy seemed satisfied. He obtained a lightning ancient technique that was incredibly profound. As soon as it was used, lightning flooded the heavens; it was extremely terrifying.

Unfortunately, this ancient technique was badly damaged and incomplete. It made him somewhat regretful.

Within Stone Village, a wind blew over. The great willow tree's body lit up, blossoming with auspicious brilliance. At the same time, the hazy mist of the primal chaos pervaded the air, making it appear extremely mysterious.

Half a month had already passed since the little guy returned, and during this period of time, the Willow Deity was always like this. It was as if it was making some kind of preparations. It was extremely solemn, and radiance began to flow and pour down like water.

This made everyone shocked. The Willow Deity seemed to be extremely serious.

“This world will become chaotic soon, so I should make a few preparation. This time, it is not just for your baptism. I also need to complete a transformation.” The Willow Deity dispelled their doubts.

At the same time, the Willow Deity pointed out that the Kun Peng technique was reputed as a unrivalled great divine ability, so it was difficult to predict just what kind of creatures will make an appearance. It needed to undergo a transformation and recover its wounded body.

Someone as formidable as itself also wanted to obtain that world-shocking precious technique!

It was not just one person that was saying that a great disorder was going to happen to this world. It made the little guy feel rather gloomy inside and an urgent need to become powerful quickly.

Chapter 224 - Extreme Baptism

Honglonglong!

The forest trembled, and the earth shook. All of the ancient trees swayed, and leaves flew chaotically into the air. It was as if a great earthquake happened.

A ground dragon roared. Its body was as large as a mountain, and it was over a hundred meters long. It was currently making its way through the forest, and a collision from a vicious beast like this was enough to collapse a small mountain.

A thick claw dropped down, crushing the ancient trees. Giant boulders flew in all directions as it directly trampled apart the mountain ground. Even though it looked rather clumsy, its figure was still enormous, so every step allowed it to travel a large distance.

However, such a ferocious beast was currently fleeing. Behind him, a small shadow was chasing from behind like a shooting star. Every single step he took would cause the ground to crack apart. Even though his figure was small, his strength was matchless!

Aohou...

The ground dragon roared. It realized that it could no longer move because that small figure grabbed his tail. It was as if he was carrying a sack as he pulled the ground dragon back.

Rocks tumbled about, and ancient trees collapsed. The little guy was dragging an enormous ground dragon as he walked out of the great mountains. Under the light of the setting sun, it was extremely horrifying to see such a small figure pulling a hill-sized giant beast behind him.

The sunset elongated their shadow, almost to a disproportionate length.

“The little guy is too strong!” In the distance, Pi Hou and Er Meng were stupefied.

In the past few days, the little guy underwent all types of training, and fighting giant monsters was undoubtedly the simplest and most direct way. He did not kill any of them, but rather captured the creatures near the mountain range that could threaten the villagers before dragging them far away.

This was already the eight giant beast subdued by him! It was absolutely shocking.

In the morning, the little guy got up early and left again. This time, he arrived at a waterfall that was five hundred li away. He stood below and resisted the force of the downpour.

A vast expanse of whiteness above him, and from time to time, huge stones would roll down. Light covered his body, and instead of using his fists, he used the dense symbols to defend against it.

“Rise!” he shouted.

Hong!

The vast white waterfall paused momentarily, and soon after, it actually began to flow in reverse, moving upwards. Golden symbols wrapped around it, as if it was a divine river.

When he trained his body in the past, he also endured the pounding of the waterfalls and the falling rocks. However, currently, it was completely different. With just a single breath of air, he released a shout that made symbols rush into the sky, propping up the enormous waterfall!

Within the eyes of mortals, this was simply a miracle. Golden symbols were everywhere, almost dying the waterfall golden. Symbols interweaved, imprinting them within the waters, making it look divine and incomparably gorgeous!

The little guy was training his body and consolidating the heavenly passage realm. He was waiting for the Willow Deity’s baptism, because it was possible that another miracle could take place!

He depended on himself to break into the tenth heavenly passage, surpassing the Willow Deity’s expectations. However, it still insisted on giving this child a baptism to see if he could bring about a new transformation.

At noon, the little guy arrived in front of a lake and suddenly jumped inside. Soon after, water immediately surged, and with a honglong sound, over a hundred jin of water rushed out. His body’s position became like a vacuum, separating a portion of the lake water and bringing it into the sky. He was like a flood dragon as he controlled and held the water in the air.

The little guy was training himself, but lifting rocks was already useless for him. Meanwhile, this type of practice was much more exhausting, challenging both his body and symbols. Even his mind and spirit were being used up.

With the opening of the tenth heavenly passage, the little guy could lock down everything within a certain area. Once this type of divine might was released, ordinary opponents would find it difficult to escape.

This was not some kind of precious technique, but rather an accumulation of divine might. After a large amount is gathered, it would erupt, almost forming a type of domain. This was what allowed him to force back all those heavenly passage realm enemies before.

He had reached the absolute peak of this realm, and could look down on everyone else in the heavenly passage stage like a god!

Finally, he once again exhausted all of his divine might. With a hong sound, the golden symbols disappeared, and the lake water descended with a sound of muffled thunder, shaking the great earth.

The little guy was directly pounded by everything. He was in a miserable state, and only after a long time did he crawl out from the great lake. He was completely spent as he collapsed on the grassy shore.

He had already trained to the peak of this cultivation, yet he was still not satisfied. He still wanted to advance more within the heavenly passage realm and break the limits of the tenth heavenly passage!

“I need to surpass the limits and become the strongest!”

The devilish child howled about. After getting enough rest, he began to throw everything into disorder again. The entire mountain range was not able to calm down, and all of the vicious birds and fierce beasts were frightened away.

Two months elapsed in a flash. The willow tree at the front of the village had shone the entire time. A hazy mist was floating about, and as the harmonious aura diffused through the air, it made people feel safe and relaxed. Cultivating here would result in twice the accomplishment with half the effort.

Recently, the big red bird, Ziyun, Little White the unicorn and the others all gathered around this place to cultivate, making great progress. n))0VεlB1n

The little guy spent his days leaving early and returning late. He would torment himself until he was completely drained to completely consolidate the heavenly passage realm. In addition, he was still trying to reach the highest level as he earnestly advanced.

Finally, the third month arrived. The Willow Deity once again became peaceful, however, this was only a temporary silence. It began to emit a divine sound, calling the little guy over.

Even though they were separated by over a hundred li of the great wasteland depths, the devilish child could still feel it. That type of imprint was like a streak of lightning as it sliced through the sky before appearing in front of him.

“It’s finally going to start!” He dropped everything and quickly rushed back to stone village.

The villagers were all alarmed. This was a major event, and everyone was nervous. Even Second Baldy, Octadic Treasure Chicken and the others were shivering with fear as they stuck their heads out to look around.

Hairy Ball was scratching itself nervously. It really wanted to rush over, but was blocked out, not allowed entry.

The little guy returned and caught his breath. He allowed the essence energy to fill up his body before sitting under the willow tree. He was extremely serious, no longer having his normal mischievous face.

“It’s starting.” The Willow Deity seemed extremely peaceful. It only spoke these words, and soon after, its body lit up. Over ten branches descended like divine chains as they emitted precious brilliance.

First, four jade jars were broken, and four drops of crystalline divine liquid flew over. With a honglong sound, they erupted into an expanse of magnificent multicolored light and surged like the waves of a vast ocean.

This was precious blood from the four great vicious beasts, individually created from the Heaven-Swallowing Sparrow, Mount Yi’s creature, Qiongqi, and Southern Meteoric Divine Mountain’s creature. It was a concentrated essence that had once been refined by the Willow Deity.

At this time, the four drops of blood burst open, emitting a divine might that made it seem as if the heaven and earth were collapsing. A powerful fluctuation like this was enough to completely destroy a village and the great earth around it.

However, all of these ripples were stopped by the ten or so willow branches. A vast wave of multicolored light was tamed, transforming into small streams. They converged to form a waterfall that poured down from the skies, cascading onto the little guy's body.

This was a type of miraculous scene, as if the world of immortals was being opened and the sweet dew of the immortal spring was descending. It nourished this youth in the secular world, refining his flesh and seizing the force between the heaven and earth.

The little guy closed his eyes, and his body began to shine with a brilliant luster. The divine light formed from the blood of those supreme experts entered his body and began to rumble. At this moment, all of his organs began to glow, and the multicolored light within his body seemed as if it could allow him to transcend.

Ripples were released one after another. The little guy began to feel bones burst and flesh move all around his body. With pipipapa sounds, it was like a segment of divine music, carrying with it a certain rhythm.

He had already reached the pinnacle of the Heavenly Passage realm, and it was difficult to advance even an inch further, so only his physical body was becoming stronger. Even though the symbols flourished magnificently both inside and outside his body, there wasn't too excessive of a transformation.

"I don't believe it! This isn't my limit, and I can still break through more!"

The little guy suddenly opened his eyes. His head of black hair drifted in the wind, and his eyes seemed to have streaks of lightning running through them. His body was surrounded by a rising haze of multicolored light, making him seem just like a supreme young deity that possessed a world-shocking aura.

Hong!

Within his vicinity, ten heavenly passage appeared simultaneously. This time, they did not pour out 'magma', but instead began to refine this multicolored light. They began to devour the divine essence of the four great supreme experts, causing rumbling sounds to sound incessantly.

Among them, the Heavenly Passage at the very peak was the largest, filling up the void as it commanded the other nine heavenly passage. It was incomparably powerful, producing an overwhelming pressure.

During these past days, he had continuously studied as to why the largest Heavenly Passage was different. He wondered if it was possible to make the other nine heavenly passage just as grand and imposing, because that would allow his divine might to increase greatly.

"This isn't going to be wasted, right?" In the distance, the old village chief was astonished. If the tenth heavenly passage was going to squander this divine essence, then it would truly be a pity.

"He is returning the favor. Normally, he draws divine strength from the tenth heavenly passages, but now, he is nurturing them back with the endless divine essence. Is he trying to establish more heavenly passages?" Second Baldy was puzzled. He had already conquered all ten heavenly passages, so what else could he do?

Suddenly, the little guy released a loud shout. The symbols around his body ignited; his bones began to crack with pipa sounds and his flesh began to move about as inexhaustible essence energy formed a true dragon that rushed out. It split into ten parts around his body before entering the ten heavenly passages.

Honglonglong!

The rumbling sounds of the ten heavenly passages fell incessantly on everyone's ears. They became even more brilliant and splendid, as if the immortal world was appearing. The ten heavenly passages were joined together, their dazzling brilliance shocking as divine radiance surged.

In the sky, the four great experts' divine essence turned into a waterfall and poured inside. It was as if the heaven and earth were being divided, and there was even a haze of primal chaos that filled the air.

The ten heavenly passages absorbed it all, but it was still not enough!

The Willow Deity took action, lowering more than ten of its tender and moist branches. Suddenly, they began to burn magnificently, and the most tender tips of each branch released a drop of liquid.

The divine light connected the heavens. This was the Willow Deity's divine essence, and when the drop fell, it was as if the life force of an ocean descended. This type of aura alone made all of the vegetation near Stone Village grow frantically, because the vitality was just absolutely shocking!

Within the grass and earth, many seeds directly took root and began to bud. They rose abruptly from the ground and grew at an amazing speed.

On that cliff, the withered old trees and giant dying vines instantly emitted light. They became rich and green, directly recovering and obtaining a new life force.

It was a miracle. The Willow Deity's liquid seemed like it could split earth and heaven apart to create a great world. Even at the end of the nothingness, a tremendous amount of life force appeared!

In front of the village, everyone began to feel relaxed, and even their old illnesses completely disappeared. There was an indescribable type of comfort, because the life force was just too rich.

Even the aged elders felt their complexions becoming rosy. The essence energy was exuberant, making them feel as if they became several years younger.

In the center of the courtyard, the little guy sat cross-legged under a willow tree. The scorched black tree stood behind him, and the fresh tender branches surrounded him. Sparkling liquid floated above him, making him feel a wonderful feeling that was difficult to put into words.

The endless essence energy surged with noise before completely entering his body. Following that, it began to flood into the ten heavenly passages and turn into countless symbols. They were densely packed and numerous, bringing about another shocking baptism.

He depended on himself step after step to reach this level. Only after reaching this extreme realm did the Willow Deity give him this baptism. It wanted to see whether he was going to be the same as others, or if with this help, create another miracle!

Weng

The great vitality rushed into ten heavenly passages and caused them to sharply inflate. The ten heavenly passages could barely hold divine essence from the Willow Deity. There was too much, and every single drop of divine essence was like an ocean to him.

A majestic aura spread. The tenth heavenly passages rumbled before fiercely expanding, almost running out of space for the willow deity's divine essence. It was an enormous amount, and every single drop was as vast as an ocean.

Hong!

The little guy's body shone, and he released a breath of air. His essence energy was refined into light, and after rushing out of his body, it flew into the ten heavenly passages.

At this moment, the world seemed to have calmed down. Everything seemed to have frozen, and all of it returned to the void. It was as if he traveled beyond time and space and built the sky and earth!

That instant of time felt like millions and millions of years. His mind traveled from the great emptiness to the splitting apart of the heaven and the earth. His essence energy merged with the ten heavenly passages, forming an Immortal Domain!

"I think I know what I should do!"

Chapter 225 - Reconstruct

He was deeply touched by this. It was as if he suddenly understood it all and knew what to do next.

A single thought traversed through the barren universe, roaming through the great emptiness. It witnessed the creation of celestial bodies and crossed the vast ocean of time without end!

The little guy's spirit merged with the ten great heavenly passages. It was as if he experienced the era when the heavens were opened. For just a brief moment, he could sense the true wonders of the great dao.

It was extremely vague, but it was still intimidating. He seemed to have witnessed the establishment of the world, the evolution of life and how all living things operated.

His mind was clear as he watched everything. He was appreciating the profound mysteries of the heaven and earth, understanding the transformations of the world.

The primal chaos undulated up and down. Specks of light appeared, turning into supreme creatures one after another. The spiritual mountain shattered, giving birth to spiritual wonders after seemingly endless years.

The little guy was in high spirits, and his mental state was calm. Even though he was young, his ability to grasp things was astonishing. He was trying to seize those fleeting imprints and keep them inside his heart.

Auspicious multicolored light surged and a bright mist filled the air. His mind was fixed here, becoming one with the heavenly passages. It was as if the formation of all living things were unfolding here.

“Open!”

Finally, he released a light shout, and his mind was integrated into a heavenly passage. He was going to reconstruct this ‘volcano’ and reopen the heaven and earth to expand it.

Honglonglong

Divine force fluctuated and brilliant auspicious colors lit up the area. Countless ripples proliferated, creating a divine rumbling sound. It made the little guy seem incomparably sacred. His body was completely still, yet it was shining.

His spirit left his body and mixed into his heavenly passages. However, he could still similarly resonate with his body. Threads connected the two, as if they were divine chains that connected the luck of the heaven and earth.

Nine out of the ten heavenly passage were overflowing, and all of the essence energy were concentrated at one opening. Even the willow deity was like so, and while sparkling brilliantly, it was like a vast ocean that poured down, centralizing at one opening.

“Heavenly passage, evolve further!” The little guy grunted. He concentrated all of his essence energy and poured it all into an opening, continuously reconstructing it.

Speck after speck of light appeared, as if they were living creatures. They flourished within this heavenly passage with life force.

The power of creation, something so exceptionally powerful was difficult for him to obtain. Since the ancient times, just how many people could do such a thing? He was trying to attempt it at the heavenly passage realm, and the creation and release of life force was still something he could test.

When his divine will was condensed within the ten heavenly passages, the great vagueness of the world seemed to react to it, becoming affected.

Divine multicolored light diffused and auspicious lights overflowed this area. The other nine heavenly passages’ magma began to pour into this heavenly passage opening. The willow deity’s liquid seemed even more like a seed of life, causing this place’s vitality to overflow with an aura of evolution.

It was indistinct, but it seemed to possess life.

“Open!”

The little guy shouted loudly and began to repeat this with the other heavenly passages to create vitality. He was hoping to make them greater like the tenth heavenly passage.

Sure enough, it was effective. Specks of light began to appear, as if they were growing living beings. They quickly grew bigger, making all of these heavenly passages bright and full of vitality.

It was just like this great world. After the heavens were opened, all types of living things came into existence. Only when all types of creatures were multiplying did it become more majestic. Its liveliness flourished, becoming increasingly magnificent and refined.

Tens of thousands of creatures were growing, also supporting the establishment of the world. The order of the world was developed like this, becoming increasingly eminent and unapproachable.

The force of life gradually increased, remodeling this heavenly passage. It seized the luck between the heaven and earth, and the little guy imitated this process on his small heavenly passage, using the endless divine multicolored light to analyze and continuously establish it.

However, in the end, the little guy released a sigh. He was still too young, and his cultivation realm wasn't high enough. It was too difficult for him to establish it.

In the end, he was still at the heavenly passage realm. The creation of life was far above the scope of what he could control, and to forcefully push further would only trigger bad omens.

"Is opening the tenth heavenly passage truly the limit? Why is it that no matter how much harder I work, it's still hard for me to advance even an inch further?"

The little guy spoke softly. He watched as the specks of light within the heavenly passage exploded one after another. The life force and refined spirit once again returned to being multicolored light. He silently observed everything and carefully began to think.

In regard to this, the Willow Deity did not say a single thing the entire time. He did not speak or give out any pointers, and merely watched him break through by himself.

In reality, the tenth heavenly passage was already perfect. He had already reached the peak of this cultivation realm, and so it was hard to find any more suggestions for it. The little guy could only depend on himself to advance, because everyone's path was different. With too much intervention, it will only lead to a confined way of thinking.

Mountain winds blew over, and a haze appeared around the great willow tree. Misty haze enveloped this area, and only the ten or so willow branches were sparkling and crystalline. They descended around the little guy's surroundings, once again protecting him.

"Have I really reached the end of this path? Maybe it was just not left behind in this world, and those individuals who truly reached it only sighed, not leaving behind a single word in this world." The little guy said to himself.

Above his head, the tenth heavenly was massive, surpassing the other nine heavenly passages. It was the most majestic when absorbing and releasing divine might. If the other heavenly passages could become like this, then the divine might will increase many times over.

He understood his situation quite clearly, but no matter how difficult he tried during the past three months, it was still extremely difficult for him to advance further. He wasn't able to carry out these plans and reach those results.

It seemed like he reached the end of the road. It was difficult to advance any further.

“Could it be that I really have to take the risk and give it a test?” The little guy revealed a serious expression. A brazen idea sprung up inwardly. This was what he was thinking, but in reality, it could easily result in death.

He had already established the tenth heavenly passage, and could be said to have reached a glorious level. Since ancient times, there hasn’t been any supreme youth who was like this, because there simply wasn’t any reason to risk such danger, as it was merely a little bit of unreconciled feeling.

It was possible that there was still more down this path, but the method was not passed down in this world. He wanted to take that step and cut down the obstacles in his path to tread on his own road.

However, it was just too dangerous. As soon as he failed, he would disintegrate. The ten heavenly passage legend would become a wisp of smoke, and at that time, it would truly be falling from the heavens into the underworld!

“Willow Deity...” The little guy raised his head and looked towards those green and lush willow branches, wanting to know its opinion.

“This is your own path. Whether or not you can succeed depends on your own self. I am merely a bystander.” The Willow Deity quietly spoke.

The little guy began to consider everything. When he lifted his head and saw the scorched black willow tree, he immediately decided that at worst, he would just try again. Even the willow deity could be reborn from such darkness, so if he lost, as long as he was still alive, then there was definitely a day when he could stand up again.

This was the stubbornness of the devilish child, and also his young savageness. However, sometimes, people truly did need this type of boldness, or else how were they supposed to become strong, advance, and persevere unswervingly from start to finish?

“Qingfeng, Ermeng, Pihou, if I am to fail here, you need to catch a big fatty for me in the future to take care of the latter half of my life.” The devilish brat shouted out. He was prepared to go mad.

Everyone was dumbstruck. This fellow was behaving as if he was putting his life on the line. Shouting out so noisily like this indicated that he was going to do something great that could affect him for the rest of his life.

“Be careful, do not act rashly!” The group of people howled loudly. They revealed anxious expressions as they reminded.

“What exactly is he trying to do?” Second Baldy was confused. Hairy ball scuttled towards his head and began to shout incessantly at the little guy with zhizhi sounds.

Hong!

The little guy gathered the force of the nine-heavenly passages and bombarded one of the heavenly passages. All of his essence energy withdrew, returning to their original states. They began to emit divine might before starting to firmly react.

“Heavens!” The big red bird cried out in shock.

Even the village chief’s face also became pale. He stretched out a trembling hand and shouted out nervously, “Child, don’t! You are already a supreme youth, do not act so impetuously!”

He was actually trying to destroy one of the heavenly passages. This was too crazy! Who dared to do such a thing? He could easily fall here, and a slight mishap might cripple him, wasting his lifetime of cultivation.

“This fellow went crazy!” Second baldy was stupefied. This was too terrifying! Was he trying to destroy himself? He was walking down a path of self-ruin!

The little guy did not say a single word as he sat there. He was isolated from the outside world, submerged within his own world. He exhausted everything he had to assemble the force of the other nine-heavenly passages into that one heavenly passage.

Hong!

Finally, that volcano cracked apart and magma surged. It shattered within the void, making it seem as if the heavens collapsed here, destroying everything.

More than ten willow branches swayed, causing green multicolored light to drizzle down and subdue all directions. It did not allow those divine multicolored lights to frantically rush out, forcing them to return.

The little guy coughed out large amounts of blood, and his body began to shake. That heavenly passage was struck to pieces, making him receive a grave injury. This was an extremely dangerous action, and if it was any normal person, he would have definitely shattered.

It was because that surging divine might was comparable to a stellar river. It rushed in every direction with the ferocity of an ocean, drowning him within.

The one thing he could depend on was how strong his body was. Even though one of his heavenly passages broke apart, there were still nine more. Moreover, his body began to turn sparkling and translucent, becoming closer to immortality.

He already opened ten heavenly passages, so even if he were to destroy one of the heavenly passages in this cultivation realm, he could still endure it and preserve his life.

However, the injurious were unavoidable, moreover, they were extremely severe. Streak after streak of terrifying wounds appeared, and in the end, his sparkling flesh split apart. Even a body as strong as his ended up like this, so one could see just how frightening it was!

“Child!” The village chief howled, almost coughing out a mouthful of blood. However, he didn’t dare to shout too loudly in fear of disturbing him.

Shi Linghu, Shi Feijiao and the others all clenched their fists. Qingfeng, Dazhuang, Snot baby and the others walked over as well. They were all extremely nervous, and even Ziyun, Hairy ball and the others felt incomparably concerned.

They could only watch from the distance, since there wasn’t anything they could help with.

To reopen the heavenly passage, once again evolving the force of life.

When the little guy's eyes opened and closed, divine light would erupt and shoot out. He had already reached the perfect tenth heavenly passage, and naturally had enough experience and understanding of this realm. He had to reform it once more. n(0VeiB1n

In particular, he thought back to when he established the tenth heavenly passage.

"He silently stabilized his breath and used the divine force to refine the Willow Deity's fluid. His body quickly healed and he started to create it.

"Exhausting everything, extinguish it all into nothingness before creating the heavenly passage once more."

He spoke softly. He thought back to his experience within the Void God Realm where he had to evolve further. To form the most powerful heavenly passage, he naturally couldn't follow the norm and had to go further, walking a different road.

Hong!

After recovering his wounded body, he earnestly pushed forward. However, after exhausting all of the divine might in his body to reconstruct the heavenly passage, an abnormality occurred. Right as soon as the heavenly passage was about to form, it suddenly exploded.

This time, the little guy's wounds were extremely severe. His body was in tatters, almost breaking apart. It was a spectacle that was too horrible to endure, and there were many parts where even his bones were revealed.

"Not good! After destroying one's heavenly passage, it's difficult to establish again. This is a type of inhibition, imprison by the laws of this world. After being destroyed, how could it be that easy to recreate." In the distance, Second Baldy as feeling a great fear inside.

The little guy however was not discouraged. If he couldn't even reconstruct a single heavenly passage, how was he going to complete what he had in mind? He was going to reopen the ten heavenly passages to become more powerful!

After walking to the limit of this road, he was not satisfied, and instead wanted to surpass it. He wanted to advance even further and break through this limit, stepping onto a path he could call his own.

"Again!"

His body was dripping with blood, and his body was splitting apart. The little guy frowned, but did not even make a sound as he began to try again. He was going to evolve the heavenly passage and reestablish it.

His mind and spirit were being challenged. His body shone, and the symbols that appeared were like golden butterflies as they danced lightly around his body. With a hong sound, a blazing divine light surged, piercing towards the heavenly passage that turned into nothingness.

This time, he used up everything he had to establish it as soon as possible. He repeated the process, and with the support of the other nine heavenly passages, endless divine multicolored poured over to stabilize it.

Unfortunately, he failed once again. The little guy cried out loudly as his body almost broke apart and blood shot out from his mouth. This was truly difficult to accomplish. To reconstruct a heavenly passage after destroying it was more difficult than even scaling the heavens.

Just like this, he continuously attempted it non-stop, receiving serious injuries several times. Finally, things turned for the better, because he could vaguely see the shattered fragments.

When that heavenly passage cracked apart, revealing fragments that flickered with symbols. This was a hazy expanse of the great dao's profound mysteries!

It was difficult to grasp completely, but even though it was like so, there was still a lot to be gained from even a mere glance. These were the world's natural laws, a part of an undisputable dao that was as old as this world.

His injuries were pretty severe, but he still continued to reconstruct the heavenly passage. During this period of time, he continued to study these shattered pieces. His body was already ruined to a point where it was almost beyond recognition, yet his essence energy seemed like it was improving, becoming more and more exuberant.

Hong!

This time, he was finally able to establish it. The heavenly passage was not destroyed, and those mysterious symbols that he was watching began to resonate, interweaving into his spirit. It made this heavenly passage release a rumbling sound, as if it had life once again!

This heavenly passage was extremely large, just like the tenth heavenly passage. It surged with auspicious colors that submerged this area, and a terrifying divine fluctuation.

He found the breakthrough point, and was about to exceed his current cultivation realm, advancing further!

Just like this, the little guy spared no effort to test every way he could, enduring the tormenting of having his body torn apart. Finally, after a day and a night, all ten heavenly passages were completely reestablished. All of them were now extremely massive, possessing fluctuations that were absolutely shocking.

"There seems to be some kind of new change!" He was astonished as he spoke to himself.

Chapter 226 - Change Again

"This is something that is going to frighten to death even those ancient powers!" Second Baldy was speechless, and even his eyes and mouth were opened wide. It simply couldn't believe everything it was seeing, because this was just too heaven defying. Was this still a human?

The big red bird was also stupefied, watching from the side with a stunned look. This was too scary. This did not follow conventional reasoning at all, and was definitely an oddity.

After the ten heavenly passages were all recreated, they all began to ring with honglong sounds. The divine might was like an ocean, causing immortal light and auspicious vapors to surge. If those geniuses saw this, they would definitely be scared to death.

The old village chief was shaking from excitement, and even his lips were trembling. He felt happy for the little guy, and his voice was shaking as he continuously praised the little guy

Even Shi Linhu, Shi Feijiao and the others were stunned. They were all shaken. Soon after, they used their large fists to beat their chest with excitement, expressing their joy.

“Too powerful!”

Pihou, snort baby, Huzi and the others were also excited. They cried out loudly in celebration. They were the little guy’s comrades from birth, and so they truly felt happy for him.

Under the willow tree, the little guy sat with his legs crossed. Around him, the ten heavenly passages rumbled, creating a truly magnificent sight. Every single one was incomparably large, as if they were holding a world of immortals in place. Precious splendor rose and auspicious vapors descended; it was truly spectacular.

These heavenly passages were extremely large, and every single one seemed like the tenth one. The essence energy they emitted was like a divine waterfall, pouring down in a ferocious and astonishing manner. Those that were watching couldn’t believe what they were seeing.

However, this was what was truly happening. The ten heavenly passages were large and perfect.

In addition, at this time, they had already transformed. They were no longer like volcanoes, but rather like monstrous and multicolored worlds, becoming true ‘heavenly paradises’.

This kind of transformation immediately made the little guy think for a bit. He felt that he could still transform a bit further. The little guy was stubborn, not willing to stop here.

Then ten monstrous and multicolored circles of light were like ten worlds. If he could join them together, just what would happen? When he reached this point, he became inspired. He decided to apply it and give it a try.

“Don’t take any more risks! This is already enough to scare all those ancient powers. Are you still not satisfied?” Second baldy shouted, reminding in a loud voice.

This was indeed already heaven defying, and could be considered standing on glorious peak. It was enough to overlook the heavenly passage realm and show disdain towards everyone else in the same realm. To continue any further would make everyone feel like he was going too far.

However, the little guy already decided to put it into action. He was going to merge all ten heavenly passages into one. All types of auspicious multicolored light surged, and this place became covered in dense essence energy. They continuously surged, making this place incomparably gorgeous and dazzling.

The little guy was unsatisfied. He attempted to refine them, and the ten heavenly passages violently shook. They turned into one mass, fusing together into a single world!

Everyone was mind blown. What kind of strange scene was this?

Within the vagueness, people could see images. Majestic spiritual mountains, elegant verdant peaks, and divine waterfalls were revealed one after another. Bright multicolored lights scattered down, and auspicious beasts and precious birds appeared.

This... is simply like an immortal domain!"

Of course, everyone understood that these were just images and weren't real. These were scenes that appeared when the little guy was opening his heavenly passages, and they were reappearing now.

When his large eyes were opened, lightning radiance shot about. Only when one carefully looked would they be able to see this.

The ten heavenly passages merged, turning into a great world. It was vast and borderless, as if it could hold the sun moon and stars. It seemed like it could lock in the heavens.

"So fierce and powerful!" Second Baldy exclaimed.

Hong!

As soon as its words were uttered, that world began to violently shake. The ten heavenly passages simply couldn't truly be fused together. They collided into each other, as if they were going to break apart this region.

Even the little guy's body was swaying. He received a tremendous attack, and a strand of blood immediately appeared on the corners of the little guy's lips. This was much more serious compared to before.

The ten heavenly passages began to shake at the same time. If they truly exploded into pieces after colliding, then his body and soul would inevitably be exterminated. Even if a deity intervened, he still couldn't be saved.

The little guy began to meditate with rapt attention, and was finally able to separate those ten heavenly passages, allowing them to rearrange in all directions. They released an undying fluctuation, creating a river of essence energy that flowed onto his body.

"Not good, this road is extremely difficult and won't work." He could clearly sense that it was difficult to make this process work. If he continued, it was extremely likely for his life to be put in danger.

However, the devilish brat's little 'savageness' wouldn't be calmed that easily. He was carefully testing and continuously coming into contact with it. He still wasn't willing to give up, wanting to see if he made some kind of mistake on this route.

If he wasn't mistaken, then no matter how difficult it was, he would still continue on. The only thing he was scared of was taking the wrong path.

Hong!

After unending refinement and repeated mixing, the ten heavenly passages finally reveal a hint of fusing together. However, there was a huge problem with his body. The ten lumps of light squeezed together to refine his body.

Sure enough, the ten great heavenly passages merged together, and his body was the hindrance, about to be exterminated. The lights congregated, becoming parts of a whole.

This made the devilish brat stupefied. If he wasn't even here anymore, what was the point? Was he supposed to be the sacrifice to leave behind a heavenly paradise world?

"Is this the wrong way?" The little guy became confused, and then began to continuously try again. He was so shaken that he began to cough out blood. The ten great heavenly passages weren't stable, almost creating a big problem.

In the end, he sighed. This route isn't clearing up...

"It truly is wrong." The willow deity spoke.

It had a powerful deductive ability, and after seeing the what the little guy was trying to do, it could tell with just a glance. This route was using his own body as a living sacrifice, so it was impossible to succeed.

"However, this can result in a type of taboo technique." The Willow Deity softly spoke, and then entered a state of silence. It began to quietly contemplate.

Finally, the Willow Deity sighed softly. This type of technique harmed the heavens. It was excessively ferocious, and continued use would most likely resolve in the wrath of heaven.

"Yi, I understand as well. If the enemy tried to kill me while borrowing power from their heavenly passages, I could use them as living sacrifices." The little guy was extremely sharp-witted when it came to cultivation, understanding in that instant.

Living sacrifice! If the opportunity was presented, then they could use the heavenly passages to turn the owner into a sacrifice, offering them alive.

This wasn't the time to be absent-minded. The little guy once again calmed down and concentrated on the difficulty in front of him. He continued to bathe in light like before, submerged under the flourishing radiance while he tried to break through.

Within the peaceful silence, the little guy felt that he truly reached the peak of the heavenly passage realm. There was no chance of breaking through, and it seemed like this was the end of this path.

"Willow Deity, in the past, has there been anyone like me, completely reestablishing the ten heavenly passages?" He asked.

"What do you think?" The Willow Deity did not answer his question directly.

"Endless years have passed, and there are countless creatures that have existed throughout the boundless land. I believe that there has to be someone who walked down this path, and don't think that I am the only one." The little guy said. He was clearheaded, and did not feel complacent over this.

"It is excellent that you can be alert and have this type of reflection. Everything else doesn't really matter." The Willow Deity said.

"I want to advance further, but there's no way. Willow Deity, do you have any other suggestion?" The little guy asked for guidance.

"It has been your own struggle from start to finish. In order for you to tread on a different path, I cannot allow my words to restrict your way of thinking." The Willow Deity was serene and tranquil like before.

"I understand, but I still want to advance further." The little guy was at a loss. His expression was a bit bitter as he carefully considered. However, he didn't have a better way.

Two hours passed just like this. The little guy knew that he didn't have any better ideas himself, and it was difficult to open up another path. There was a chance that only a last opportunity was left.

"Willow Deity, I am going to break through with all I have. I am going to try one last time and open the ten heavenly passages again, allowing it to soar past the extreme!" The little guy spoke. He wanted to carry out one final baptism.

"Give it one more push then." The Willow Deity nodded.

Within the void, the liquid was still there. They were sparkling, transparent, and brilliant. The little guy did not completely squander it, and was currently going to make an all out effort to make use of this divine liquid in one final push.

"Open for me!"

He released a loud roar, and the ten heavenly passages resonated. They were extremely stirred up, and as essence energy roiled, it became like magma before pouring down like a divine waterfall towards his body.

With everything he had released, the little guy threw caution to the wind. The ten heavenly passages flourished, releasing an immortal splendor. His body was also like this, and as dense symbols circulated about, it was as if his life was being ignited, blossoming with the most powerful strength.

He stood up and roared towards the heavens. His hand began to stand up, and essence was spurted out from his mouth. Symbols danced about, as if divine butterflies spiralled around his body. At this moment, his essence qi penetrated into the vast sky.

The little guy seemed to have ignited with energy. All of his power was released, reaching the most powerful point.

Hong!

The ten heavenly passages were opened, and they were all incomparably massive. They began to resonate, and as the little guy made them collide, precious splendor erupted.

"This..." Second Baldy's entire body was covered in goosebumps. His scalp was numb, and he quickly backed off. This was too crazy! The savage child actually advanced to such a stage.

Ten heavenly passage began to bump into each other, and it could easily end up in the destruction of both their body and soul. What was he trying to do? Did he go crazy?

With a wenglong sound, this entire place became distorted. The ten heavenly passages were going to become damaged. They continuously collided into each other,

The devilish child roared loudly, and was not willing to give up. At this time, he began to frantically spit out and take in while circulating the symbols around this entire body. He began to centralize them towards his chest, as if he was trying to resuscitate something.

Hong

They fiercely collided, and the large volume of divine might roared. Together with the crystalline liquid in the sky, this place began to boil with activity. It became a vast body of divine essence.

The little guy released and absorbed, making the symbols congregate towards his chest. It focused all of the essence energy into his body, entering his chest. They frantically stirred about, simply putting his body on the point of exploding.

Finally, a great might pressed down. A honglong sound continuously trembled, its terrifying might overflowed into the skies, making even people's souls tremble.

The little guy's ten heavenly passages resonated, shining from his chest region. He began to tremble noisily, and only light and essence energy were left behind here. Everything was submerged, and violent fluctuations were released. It was powerful to the extreme. novE(lb(In

If he didn't have the Willow Deity keeping things under control, then a great problem definitely would have happened. The surroundings would have received the most terrifying battering.

The heavenly passages collided, creating cracks. Then, under the oppressive attacks, the center underwent a terrifying change. In the end, a strange connection was actually formed between them.

"Burst forth for me, one more push!"

The devilish brat shouted loudly. He didn't want to destroy the ten heavenly passages, but rather wanted to join them together. In addition, he used the forbidden force from his chest, thinking of a way to make it resuscitate and participate in this process.

The ten heavenly passage revolved and collided. In addition, they were drawn towards the mysterious aura around his chest. They resonated with each other, bringing forth a mysterious transformation.

With a weng sound, the ten heavenly passages continuously revolved around the little guy. They were mutually linked together into a magnificent and imposing divine ring. It was splendid and dazzling, causing divine multicolored light to illuminate into the nine heavens.

Finally, they began to resonate, burning even more fiercely. It was as if a flourishing divine sun had appeared, suspending in the sky with the little guy at the center.

This type of scene made people feel fear. It was a world-shocking divine ring formed out of ten great heavenly passages. They were joined together with a single person at the center, overlooking the world.

Chapter 227 - Great Success

The divine ring up in the sky was absolutely dazzling as it surrounded the little guy. When it was calm, it was like a divine moon with a single figure at the center. Pure splendor scattered down, creating an auspicious and divine scene. When it was powerful and exuberant, the divine ring was like a fierce sun, and the figure at the center was incredibly terrifying.

This scene shocked everyone. He actually decided to go on such a path. The ten great heavenly passages linked together, fusing together and forming a divine ring. It truly was a marvelous sight.

Second baldy was immediately scared badly, muttering, "This isn't just enough to scare the great ancient powers, but even those great Archaic fellows might be startled..."

Even the Willow Deity was shocked. Its ten green and lush willow branches began to move freely in the wind. Specks of multicolored light began to fill the air, making this place seem like the pure land of a deity.

As for Stone Village's people, they've had stupefied looks from a long time ago. This was simply too crazy! The little guy was like a heavenly deity as the magnificent divine ring circled about him with a stunning aura.

When had they ever seen such a scene before? They never even heard of something like this before. This was a path carved out by the little guy alone, his own dao that evolved to such a step. No matter who it was that saw this, they would all be shocked.

Hong!

Suddenly, the divine ring crumbled, and the ten great heavenly passages began to disperse. They curled and danced about, rising and falling within the little guy's vicinity.

"What happened? Could it be he failed?"

Everyone was suddenly alarmed. If the little guy were to fail here and suffer the consequences, his body and soul would definitely both be extinguished without doubt. That was truly something to be scared about.

"No, he is still fine!" The big red bird cried out.

The devilish brat stood up, seemingly a bit confused. It was because he could feel that there was a lump of light within his body that was currently expanding. It was extremely astonishing, somewhat surpassing his expectations.

With a weng sound, he once again fused the ten great heavenly passages, allowing them to mutually interconnect. A dazzling divine ring was formed, and as it surrounded him, it made him look like a young deity.

His black-hair scattered down. His eyes were bright and his body was sparkling. Together with the magnificent illustrious divine ring, no matter who it was, they would all tremble and feel like a deity was descending.

"Even deities would only have this kind of appearance. Moreover, this radiance is formed from interconnected heavenly passages, so if their cultivation levels are similar, then they are going to be inferior to this savage child!" Second Baldy sighed.

“What a strange feeling.” The little guy carefully felt about. After the ten great heavenly passages were linked together, they rushed towards him. The force of divine essence nourished his body, and his supreme being bone was comfortably warm. That lump of light also became increasingly rich and powerful.

Strand after strand of essence energy surged and surged, entering his body. His entire body lit up, and the supreme being bone in his chest was already calming down after absorbing a portion of the frantic energy. It went into seclusion, once again becoming dormant. However, his body was still emitting light.

Finally, the ten great heavenly passages rumbled with wenglonglong sounds. The divine ring was blinding, and the splendor was light water as it cleansed the little guy’s flesh, nourishing his body.

“This is...”

At this moment, everyone could see that something was different. The light being emitted from his entire body was abnormal. Why did it seem like the dazzling light was becoming brighter and brighter?

In the end, the light within his body formed a central lump that shone with absolute brilliance.

“The ten heavenly passages are being nourished, and strands of auspicious energy are concentrating at one point... Is his flesh becoming a heavenly passage?”

The big red bird was astonished, feeling an extremely weird feeling. The little guy seemed to have transformed into a heavenly passage himself, becoming extremely bright and resplendent. His divine essence was unending as it surged in waves.

The devilish brat was constantly puzzled. It was exactly this feeling that made him confused. The energy within his body was unending and extremely strange.

“This should have been caused by the divine ring, forming a flesh heavenly passage... It can’t be, is this real?!” Second Baldy went stupid. As he uttered these words, he found it difficult to believe.

The little guy stood at the center of it all, and was finally starting to understand. This wasn’t a heavenly passage, but was similar to one. Essence energy surged wave after wave, but it originated from the nourishment of the ten heavenly passages.

However, if he displayed his might right now, it would certainly have the effects of a heavenly passage. It truly was complicated and mysterious.

Was this a heavenly passage? What was he supposed to call this? Even the Willow Deity felt rather speechless, but there was still a great sense of admiration.

“This is the nourishment cooperatively produced by the resonance of ten great heavenly passages...”

The lump of light within the little guy began to flourish with increasing vigor as if it was a sun. The ten heavenly passages were interconnected, mutually discharging divine essence to form this central lump of light.

The rain of light was hazy. It was incomparably peaceful and auspicious, making this place extremely sacred as if it was a piece of divine land.

“How are you going to utilize it?” In the distance, Second Baldy’s gaze was fiery as he asked with curiosity.

“Isn’t it obvious? The ten great heavenly passages have to each nourish a precious technique, and in the future, so I will definitely have to find supreme abilities in the future. As for the one inside my body, it will naturally be used to command the ten heavenly passages, because it will nourish my unique and unrivalled precious technique.” The devilish brat said noisily.

The big red bird and Second Baldy became fearful. After thinking for a bit, they realized that this fellow truly was truly shocking.

The old village chief knew that this child wasn’t joking around. He had a supreme being bone within him, and if it was reborn in the future, it would definitely produce his own unmatched divine ability.

In addition, after going through nirvana, the precious techniques contained within would also become even more unordinary. They would transform along with his body, becoming completely different. It was difficult to imagine just how powerful they would become.

“Wu, ten heavenly passages with a precious technique in each. Now that there is a circle of light within my own body as well, then my own precious technique has a place to grow.”

The devilish brat was elated. He was so happy that his large eyes became like crescent moons.

This time, he created a new route that made him stand out from everyone else. Not only were the villagers shaken, even an old bird like Second Baldy became stupefied. The Willow Deity even became moved, feeling a sense of absent-mindedness.

Right, this even drew the Willow Deity’s attention. After thinking and carefully analyzing this situation, it released a sigh and said towards the little guy, “You are correct.”

Recently, the Willow Deity often praised the little guy, and these feelings were all sincere. The devilish brat was quite gifted in the area of cultivation, far surpassing those ordinary geniuses and often bringing surprises.

The little guy continuously formed the divine ring, and then separated them in an effortless manner. There wasn’t the slightest bit of hindrance, and as its divine splendor gushed out, it made people exclaim in admiration.

“This heavenly passage to raise the Kun Peng, this heavenly passage temporarily for the Suan Ni, this...” He began to count happily. His smile was extremely pure.

What made people speechless was that he was imposing and powerful just now like a supreme deity, yet currently, he was actually laughing like this.

When fighting, he possessed an intimidating divine might, but when he was calm, he was like the boy next door. It gave people a sense of familiarity, because the little guy was straightforward by nature and extremely ‘real’.

“Alright, your baptism is complete.” The Willow Deity said.

The mist dispersed, and those green and lush branches retreated. Multicolored light began to recede, allowing this place to return to normal, no longer being surrounded by the dense essence energy.

"I succeeded just like that?" The little guy scratched his head. Even though this process was extremely dangerous and his body was almost split apart, seemingly on the verge of being exterminated, he was finally able to stick it out.

The devilish brat seemed to be a bit dizzy as he reflected on everything. He was truly full of happiness, and in the end, he had a somewhat silly smile on his face.

The villagers woke up from their stupor, and a group of children rushed over. They were full of joy and excitement, and all of them cried out loudly. They threw themselves over, burying the little guy under them.

"You guys are crushing me to death!" The little guy shouted.

"Yeah, right! Even a mountain can't crush you to death."

"Exactly! Grandpa Chief said that if we don't put you down now, we will regret it in the future, and we agree. When you become a deity in the future and we become aged, we can tell our children that we even bullied a deity before. Wouldn't this be great to brag about?"

"Haha, subdue him!"

The group of children threw themselves over and began to wrestle and roll on the ground with him. It was just like when they were little; these comrades were extremely intimate, and their feelings for each other were extremely deep.

This kind of sincere affection and feeling will eternally be carved into the innermost parts of the little guy's heart. No matter how many years pass after this, no matter how the world transformed after this, he would never forget.

After tossing and turning about, the little guy crawled back up. The clothes on his body were wrinkled and dirty.

"Child, you aren't little anymore, and should go and marry a big fatty." Shi Feijiao walked over and stroked his head with a beaming smile.

When Shi Linhu heard this, he immediately walked up and grabbed the little guy's hand, saying, "What about our family's Huniu? Is she fat enough?"

"What? I didn't hear anything!" The little guy shook off his hand and ran into the wastelands.

"Haha..." The group of people all began to laugh loudly.

The little guy in the distance darkened his face as he tried to ignore them.

The group of adults were chatting, and they all seemed extremely happy because what they had discussed before was going to come true. With the little guy being so heaven defying, then it was entirely possible for him to bring back an Archaic vicious beast youth to protect this place.

‘Child, don’t be so embarrassed. We aren’t forcing you to marry a girl from this village. Is there someone outside that was to your liking? Hurry and bring one back! We are all waiting to drink at your wedding feast.’ Er Meng’s father spoke.

The little guy in the distance did not dare to reply.

“Right! Could it be that there’s already several fatties out there? Hurry and bring them all back. We are all waiting in anticipation!”

“Haven’t you seen brother Dazhuang already? There’s even a child now! We can feel at ease once you have a few descendants.”

...

The group of elders also began to laugh with hehe sounds. There wasn’t a single thing they weren’t willing to discuss.

In the distance, Ermeng, Pihou and the others were all making faces at him.

Only the little guy was completely silent. He ran away in a dejected manner.

“Haha...” Everyone laughed loudly.

“You can go to the Void God Realm now. You might receive some kind of reward.” Right at this moment, the Willow Deity spoke.

“What?” The devilish child quickly returned and ran towards the village entrance. He looked up towards the Willow Deity and said, “The rewards that I am receiving, are those the one that the Void God Realm owed me when I broke through into the tenth heavenly passage?”

This thought was constantly in his mind, and after coming back, he mumbled about it towards the Willow Deity quite a few times about how the Void God Realm still owed him this debt. Only, the Willow Deity never replied.

“After the passage of countless years, the Void God Realm’s laws and order is no longer as great as before. If there was someone that intervened, then a few changes could have happened.” The Willow Deity said.

The little guy immediately widened his large eyes and replied in astonishment, “Willow Deity, it shouldn’t be you, right?”

Could it be the Willow Deity that intervened?” He began to become somewhat suspicious.

“It wasn’t me. It is a problem with the laws and order itself.” The Willow Deity shook his head and said, “The Void God Realm has a spirit, something created by the deities of the past. No one is certain just what remains of it.”

“Will there be any dangers if I go then?” The devilish brat asked with astonishment.

“Unlikely. That was merely a rare accident.” The Willow Deity did not speak in detail.

“Then I’m going to go now!” The devilish brat was extremely stirred up as he cried out. He was happy and excited.

With a hong sound, the willow branch tore through the heavens and opened a mysterious gate. Lightning appeared and thunder roared as symbols covered the sky.

“My reward, I’m coming!”

After spending three months here, the devilish brat appeared once again in the Void God Realm. It naturally instilled a huge tempest. There were many people who felt reverence, and also many who were curious. With his appearance, a vast crowd immediately appeared.

The ones that were most anxious and hopeful were those from the Archaic divine mountain. They had been waiting for the little guy this entire time, and after disappearing for three months in one go, it made them impatient. They hoped that he would reach the Spirit Transformation realm earlier so that they could find the ten vicious descendants’ techniques.

Chapter 228 - First News

“The savage child returned! What is he trying to do now? He shouldn’t be trying to create some kind of heaven overflowing chaos, right?” Many people truly feared him. This fellow was full of energy, and only heaven knew what kind of things he was going to do.

Those great powers that were nearly flattened were feeling even more fearful. They were gnashing their teeth in anger after hearing about the devilish brat’s return, because who knew if they were going to be targeted. It was as if these people were facing a great enemy; their faces turned ugly as they nervously waited.

The little guy was completely unaware of this. After appearing, he seemed extremely familiar as he called out, waved his hand and patted the shoulders of random people.

“Why do you seem so familiar? I think I killed you before! You already recovered in just three months, truly not simple.” The devilish child was extremely friendly, giving people an unbearable feeling.

Those experts hiding within the crowd immediately felt their faces pale after being recognized. They took to their heels and fled frantically, because their injured bodies were far from being completely healed. They merely forced themselves to come to pass on some information.

If they were killed by the savage child now, then their true bodies would most likely be ruined as well. At the same time, they felt more and more suffocated and annoyed. In just a short period of time, a group of people were frantically running away.

“Ah, could it be that I’m familiar with so many of them? Were they all people that I killed before? Am I really that ruthless? I don’t recall killing so many...” The little guy scratched his head.

The group of people cursed silently. The amount of people you killed were few? After forcefully pushing everyone back, the Rain Clan, Tuoba Clan, four great families and many others all suffered disastrous losses, having their pure lands directly flattened.

The devilish brat appeared again, causing everyone to gather in this area. After returning to the Void God Realm, he became the hottest topic. No matter whether it was friend or enemy, they were all paying particular attention to him.

“Don’t run! Even though I still have some soul shattering needles here, they weren’t prepared for you. What’s there to be scared of?” The devilish brat blurted out with seemingly good intentions.

This was just too strong of a blow, clearly disrespecting them. Even though he felt that they weren’t worthy of the soul shattering needles, it truly made them feel upset after hearing his words.

It hurt their pride too much! The group of people were furious, especially those geniuses. They all felt an urge to never enter the Void God Realm again.

The devilish brat seemed extremely insensitive and enthusiastic. As he watched them flee frantically, he didn’t chase after them and merely saw them all kindly. He told them that he wasn’t actually going to chase them.

“Absolutely infuriating!” No matter whether it was the older or younger generation, they all felt the urge to spit out blood.

Rain Clan, Tuoba Clan, Western Tomb Beast Mountain and the others’ faces became ashen. They truly regretted coming here, because they truly felt stifled and wronged. This wretched brat.

The little guy also began to run with sousou sounds, leaving the starting ground. He entered the golden passageway and directly entered a higher level region to the place where he established the tenth heavenly passage.

“I’m coming! There is still a debt.” As soon as he arrived, he began to shout and scream.

Within the primal chaos and ruins outside the starting ground, the Willow Deity took root. More than ten tender branches pierced into the heavens, as if some kind of existence was being roused, causing the heaven and earth to tremble.

Within the heavenly paradise, an array of brilliant light descended from the skies. The rain of light seemed auspicious and holy as it swirled in the air, scattering down on this mountain range.

A circle of light descended, and keng qiang sounds rang out. Strand after strand of divine light burst forth, and streaks of auspicious light was spat out. Two pieces of bronze book appeared, dropping into the little guy’s hands.

The multicolored light receded and the mist of light began to recede. The bronze pieces were simple and unadorned with a few patterns carved on it.

The people who followed along were all shaken. Did this child defy the heavens? After howling towards the sky for how there was still a debt, the Void God Realm directly dropped down two pieces of divine book. This really made people speechless.

Everyone became stupid, this... Was this real? They didn’t see him do anything, yet he was able to obtain two pieces of bronze book so easily.

No one knew just how many people were watching from the distance, because the devilish child was too well known. As a result, there were many outstanding individuals that followed along to see just what kind of things he was going to do.

“So selfish. Where is the interest? Why are there only two pieces? It’s been accumulating for such a long time already!” The devilish brat was furious as he jumped and shouted towards the sky.

The outstanding individuals watching were all petrified. How freaking ridiculous was this?! To be unsatisfied with the law and order of the Void God Realm, this child was truly unmatched. He was truly hopeless and incurable.

Wenglonglong

Within the sky, a dark cloud began to roll about. It began to descend, moving towards the little guy’s head.

“I don’t want it anymore! You can keep the interest!” The devilish brat immediately took to his heels and ran. Back then, it was precisely this dark cloud that expelled him from this place and labelled him ‘unwelcome’. Now, it came again, and he truly didn’t want to be kicked out for two more years, because that would be too embarrassing.

Finally, the black cloud dispersed, and the world became peaceful once again.

Everyone was astonished. The Void God Realm truly had a spirit and definitely shouldn’t be provoked! They began to revere this place even more. It was difficult to imagine just how the deities of the past founded this place. Could it be that some kind of existence was left behind?

A sparkling stone tablet appeared, and the words on top began to shine. The recording tablet arrived a bit late, but it still came in the end. There wasn’t that many words, only a few words: Heavenly Passage Sovereign.

Hong!

The outstanding individuals were shaken. Then, this entire area began to clamor with noise. The four characters were enough to explain everything, making everyone tremble!

Heavenly Passage Sovereign; this was a type of confirmation, and the pinnacle of glory. Even though there was only a few words, it still explained everything. Currently within the heavenly passage realm, he was the most powerful.

In other words, to be called the most powerful within the heavenly passage realm means that it is true at least within the wasteland’s Void God Realm, because no one has broke through like he had within the this spiritual world before.

“This fellow is so powerful! Suddenly rising to power and forcing people back the entire time, just how many years has it been since such a person appeared?”

“Within the boundless land, there exists countless creatures. Too many great experts have appeared, and as for how powerful those legendary figures are, no one can clearly say.” Someone shook their head in disagreement, because this was merely within the wasteland’s Void God Realm.

Someone so carefree and unrestrained like the devilish brat was still rarely seen. To attack in such an unorthodox methods, his mental state was too disgusting. Of course, one can also say that he had too much confidence.

The little guy was elated, jumping around as he looked at the bronze book. Now, he had a total of five pieces, or in other words, he had completed half of the entire book.

“Sigh, after flattening so many great powers, I haven’t seen any kind of reward. Could it be that some kind of problem occurred?” He looked towards the skies and really wanted to shout out.

“Of course there isn’t. There are those from the ancient times that were way more fierce than you. There was someone who completely wiped out ten pure lands, eradicating even more great powers than you.” Someone replied from the distance.

“But I’m so good and honest.” The devilish brat said to himself.

“Ah pei!” Many people spat out these two words from their hearts, and these were naturally the disciples of those ancient sects whose pure lands were destroyed. Even though they felt hatred, they still did not dare to come forward.

“Why isn’t there anyone trying to steal these now? I’m waiting here.” The little guy muttered. He held the pieces of bronze book in his hand as if they were bricks, lifting them up and down as if he was trying to see how heavy they were. His action were extremely provoking.

Everyone cursed silently. This child was deserved to be known as someone who angered god and human alike. In reality, many people wanted to steal them, but they truly didn’t dare to. They could only conceal their jealousy deep within them.

“Youngster, I finally found you. Your were running too quickly.” In the distance, several elders were gasping for breath as they followed over.

These people began to emit divine light one after another, becoming bright and dazzling. It was as if they were enveloped within divine rings; one of them was in a circle of silver light, another had purple mist around, and there was even one where specks of scarlet multicolored light floated about.

Everyone sucked in a breath of cold air. What kind of experts were these?! They were definitely not ordinary, and were likely all formidable characters from ancient clans.

“Why would I need to run? Could it be that you guys want to steal my divine book?” The devilish brat turned around with an extremely excited look on his face.

“No no, we don’t have those intentions.” Those individuals quickly shook their heads. They truly feared that he would make things difficult, mowing them down and stripping them clean.

Soon after, the little guy knew where these people came from. They came from the Archaic divine mountain, because all of them were unordinary and had strange appearances.

Among them, an elder shone with golden light like a divine sun. It was just like a golden beast in the shape of a human, but golden fur covered the entire body. His age was extremely great, and his teeth seemed to have almost all fallen off.

The other creatures were similarly in humanoid form, but weren't actually humans. For example, there was the spirit race with silvery light covering their bodies, or the wood clan wrapped in divine light. Their ages were great, and were old servants.

They came from the Archaic divine mountain, representing several different powers. They wanted to leave for the sea not too long in the future again, but could never find the devilish brat. Now that they saw him, they naturally rushed over.

"I still haven't entered the spirit transformation stage yet. Breaking through isn't something that can be rushed. Do you guys have some kind of divine text or supreme precious technique? Just give me some random guidance." The devilish brat spoke.

Several people began to stare blankly. Wasn't he speaking rubbish? He was already at the peak of the tenth heavenly passage and could enter the spirit transformation realm at any time, so how could he not succeed?!

"If you guys don't believe me, then just take a look. I really didn't break through yet. Give me some kind of Archaic divine mountain breakthrough sacred manual please." The little guy's skin was extremely thick.

"There isn't much time left. We are going to move out soon, and can't wait any longer." A purple-clothed girl with divine aura rising in spirals around her walked over. Her voice was slow and unhurried, as if they were the pleasant sounds of nature.

"What about the news I wanted?" The little guy asked. Surprisingly, the little guy actually didn't call the purple-haired girl a vicious beast. In addition, his face was serious without the slightest hint of a smile.

"It seems like you care about them quite a bit." The purple-haired girl said. She was extremely quick-witted, and an intelligent light flashed through her purple pupils as she tried to read the little guy's face.

"Turns out you are also a fatty. Hurry and tell me." The little guy urged.

The purple-haired girl's sparkling white forehead immediately revealed several dark streaks. She clenched her small fists, holding herself back. However, she truly felt like it was unbearable, and was already cursing inwardly.

"Nine years ago, there truly was an extremely powerful couple that once lingered around an Archaic divine mountain. In the end, they left the wastelands."

"What?!" The little guy was shocked. His eyes were widened, and it was unclear whether there was sadness or pain on his face. He didn't say anything for a long time.

"I still want to know more." Only after a long time did he say these words.

"They left the wastelands, so currently it's quite difficult to get any sort of news." The purple-haired girl said. Even the powerful Archaic divine mountain could not investigate everything, especially if they were no longer in this region.

The little guy's eyes were red, and he seemed completely different from before. He was extremely quiet, and it was quite a while before he recovered.

"I still want to know more detailed information." He put forth his requirement.

"We can only do what we can. Currently, you need to enter the spirit transformation realm, or else there won't be enough time. We don't know how many different powers are going out to sea, and so there will definitely be a disastrous war. Blood will die the sea surfaces red, and bones will fill up the seas. You need to quickly improve your strength to defend yourself."

"Fine, I get it." After the little guy said this, he turned around and left.

The old servants each represented different powers. They were going about to ask for a concrete period of time from him, because they truly didn't want to wait any longer.

In the end, they were all blocked by the purple-haired girl, not allowed to speak. It was because she knew the savage kid's temperament; forcing him any further wouldn't do any good. n./Ovεl&1n

"Father, mother, where are you guys?" The little guy walked slowly by himself. He stayed away from the outstanding heroes, quickly disappearing within the limits of the horizon.

Soon after, he began to pace between different ruins. The ruins of Rain Clan, the Tuoba Clan, and many others. He had visited these places before, and was currently thinking about his personal matters.

This made the various great powers all feel rather gloomy. They were truly unreconciled, because this was like visiting old memories. Was this an overview of his future 'glory'?

It didn't matter whether these outstanding heroes were content or not, because no one dared to go up and suffer misfortune. Currently, the devilish brat represented savageness, so no one wanted to provoke him.

Unknowingly, the little guy arrived at an extremely vast and majestic pure land. Spiritual energy descended streak after streak from the mountain tops, as if it was a small waterfall.

"Martial Imperial Mansion!"

The little guy suddenly lifted his head and saw a stone tablet sticking out from the pure land. On top of it were three words.

"Father, mother, you both definitely came here before, even though you are no longer here." The little guy clenched his fists. His gaze was intimidating, as if two streaks of lightning were shooting out.

A long time passed, and the terrifying aura finally disappeared from his face.

"Who is there? Freeze, you are not allowed to enter!" Right when he reached the gate, even though there was still quite a distance separating them, someone already shouted, coming out to obstruct him.

"You... What are you trying to do?" Someone cried out in shock after recognizing him.

"I'm coming as a guest." The little guy only had these four words.

Chapter 229 - Martial Imperial Family

When the devilish brat arrived, the Martial Imperial Family immediately became scared. This was simply a sign of murder. Even though he wasn't that old, he still stirred up the entire Void God Realm.

"You... What are you trying to do?" It was as if they were facing a great enemy, and someone quickly ran inside to relay information. With the appearance of this unrivalled disaster child, there wasn't a single person who wasn't nervous.

If they were in the the real world, then they would naturally be fearless. However, inside the Void God Realm, the devilish brat was invincible and could blast apart ancient great powers. After continuously eradicating the Rain Clan, Tuoba Clan and many others' pure lands, how could it not make people fearful?

"I came to visit, yet you guys are unsheathing blades and drawing bows. Could it be that you want to attack me?" The little guy asked.

The group of people backed up, but they did not let go of the weapons in their hands. Their great bows were drawn back, and it was clear that they were nervous to the extreme.

This was a special kind of power and influence. Even though the little guy was still young, no matter where he decided to travel to, there would definitely be people trembling in fear within that pure land, not daring to relax.

"Back down!" An elder appeared and shouted before coming over. "It is an honor to meet this little friend. Your presence brings light to my humble dwelling, we welcome you inside."

This was an elder from the Martial Imperial Family. After receiving news, he was the first one to rush over. He did not dare to show the arrogance of a king, but rather had a serious expression on his face. This child was just too famous, and he truly feared that the little guy might sweep this place clean.

"Elder is quite courteous." The little guy did not act disrespectfully and replied in a similar manner.

Within the mountain gates, the pure land's scenery seemed like it was carved from colored glass. Iris and orchids were everywhere, their fragrance wafting through the air. All types of rare birds and unusual beasts appeared. In the distance, mist was enshrouding a spiritual mountain, and essence energy was also curling about. It was truly a precious cultivating land.

There was even less of a need to describe the palace. It was grand and majestic, situated within the spiritual roots. It took in and sent out multicolored splendor, and as the dense vapors rose, it was like a divine temple.

"It truly is a good place. I wonder how many outstanding heroes visited this place to cultivate before advancing to higher regions." The little guy spoke.

The group of people felt rather strange, because they didn't know why he would mention such a thing.

"Sigh!" The little guy released a soft sigh and entered into the heart of this pure land. He walked past many enormous buildings, but he did not enter any. Instead, he merely wandered around outside.

Along the way, there was a palace pavilion with a small bridge with flowing water. Various hills towered from above, and there were spiritual springs that were rushing forth. The scenery was extremely beautiful; as essence energy was taken in and sent out, precious light shone brilliantly.

"Rumor has it that the Martial Imperial Family is affiliated with the Rain Clan?" The little guy asked.

When these words were spoke, they immediately made the others' hairs stand up straight. Many people became anxious and frightened, because their relationship with the Rain Clan wasn't shallow. They had actually sent out some troops to assist the Rain Clan not too long ago, but they were cut off by a great elder along the way and sent back. If everything was revealed, then it might truly end in disaster.

"There is a certain degree of relationship." The elder that was guided him replied while feeling extremely nervous inside. Did this murderous thing really come here to destroy everything?

However, who could have guessed that this murderous thing did not make things difficult and only uttered an oh sound. This gave them another wave of nervousness, because they didn't know what he was truly trying to do.

The little guy did not enter those palace halls and merely came to those cultivation lands to find clues of his parents. He walked by them one after another before ultimately releasing a sigh.

After arriving at this place, his mood immediately became complicated. He wanted to flatten this place out of fury, but when he actually stood here, he once again lost those feelings, because he didn't see the people from back then.

Back then when war broke out within Stone Mansion, there were many elders and great elders that took action. However, today, he didn't see any of them.

If those people were here, then he wouldn't mind suppressing them and bringing back a bit of honor for his parents. However, towards these unrelated people who looked like they were facing a great enemy, it made him lose interest.

It was quite obvious that these people were feeling incomparably tense.

"Now that I think about it, I also have some relations with you guys." The little guy suddenly spoke out like this.

"What kind of relationship?" The elder asked from the side with an extremely serious expression.

"Shi Yi belongs to your family right?" The little guy spoke.

"Correct, Yi'er is a dragon among men, and did indeed come out from my Martial Imperial Family." From the side, an elder couldn't help but open his mouth. A sense of pride clearly manifested from his confidence.

However, he snapped back to reality soon after. In front of him was a murderous being! He was similarly a dragon among men, moreover, his performance after entering could be described as excessively formidable.

When such praise was spoken about Shi Yi, would it lead to this youth being unhappy? He felt a wave of nervousness and immediately closed his mouth, no longer daring to say anything more.

"Shi Yi... How many heavenly passages did he open?" The little guy asked.

"This... I do not know." An elder from the Martial Imperial Family replied. What he said was the truth, because Shi Yi never allowed others to know about his cultivation. After breaking through to such a stage, the great elders of the family still did not know anything.

“Don’t tell me that he couldn’t even open nine heavenly passages, right?” The little guy said.

Within the Martial Imperial Family, a group of youth couldn’t hold themselves back. They were all roughly twelve or thirteen, and one of them was not willing to give in, saying, “The Martial King even came out from his seclusion, and many other supreme experts were invited to protect brother Yi together...”

“Shut up!” An elder shouted.

They didn’t know all the details, only that the Martial King who was previously training in isolation came out. As for how Shi Yi was being protected, they didn’t know.

When the little guy heard this, he nodded and said, “After all, he is still my senior brother. We both entered the Heaven Mending Pavilion, and so there is still a bit of camaraderie.”

Everyone became stupefied, not knowing how to respond.

“Only, after growing within the Heaven Mending Pavilion, receiving so many great resources and even entering the ancient divine courtyard, he didn’t even participate in the final battle. It truly is a bit unacceptable.” The little guy opened his mouth again.

“No one knows exactly when the ancient courtyard will open, and so Yi’er cannot be blamed for not participating in the battle. He didn’t even know about outside matters.” An elder defended.

“Did he really not know? It seems like the other great powers all heard about this and sent their own children to take advantage of the great opportunity to submerge themselves within the rain of the deity. It seems like this time, you guys benefitted the most. How could the ancient divine courtyard be an ordinary place?” The little guy said.

“We do not know about that. They were all arranged by ancestor Shi Li.” The people from the Martial Imperial Family were hesitant on this topic.

The little guy was not unfamiliar with the name Shi Li. Back then, this individual was the one that sent all those forces at his parents, and also the one that did everything he could to shield Shi Yi’s mother and the rest of her family. Within the old ancestors, he was ranked ninth, and his authority was great “Whatever.” He walked forward and said, “When is that senior brother coming back? I want to test myself against him.”

With these words released, the Martial Imperial Family’s people expressions immediately changed. Right now, who didn’t know about his ten heavenly passage? He was known as the supreme youth, so he definitely had the strength to subdue an entire region.

Shi Yi was similarly shocking and illustrated, but the most important thing was that he had many trump cards, so outsiders didn’t know just how powerful he was.

Stone mansion’s people all had quite a bit of confidence in Shi Yi. He possessed the divine gift of dual pupils from the ancient saints to open the world, so who could contend against him? This was a natural divine ability! Together with the mysterious divine being bone, he could be said to be without equal.

In reality, the little guy never had contempt for Shi Yi. Even though he opened up ten heavenly passages, he was still in a serious mental state. It was because he knew that this small big brother was truly terrifying on the field of cultivation.

The most important thing was that within the ancient sacred courtyard, should be, if he wasn't mistaken, the recorded Heaven Mending technique.

What was the Heaven Mending technique? It was known to be able to mend the heavens, so as for how powerful it really was, it was difficult to imagine. What all people in this world felt was regret in their cultivation, yet this technique could make up for that, granting them another opportunity.

The little guy unknowingly arrived at the practice fields of this pure land. There were all types of weapons, as well as a few strange stone tablets that were emitting precious light.

"What is this?" He was rather amazed.

"These are our Martial Imperial Family's own record tablets." An individual spoke out.

The little guy was speechless. He looked carefully to see whether there were any traces left behind by his father, however, after looking everywhere, he could see experts from successive generations, yet there wasn't any records left behind by Shi Ziling.

This shouldn't have been the case, because every person had their own records, and only that generation was missing.

On the contrary, he found Shi Yi's monument at the most noticeable spot. It was incomparably dazzling.

"What kind of record did he establish?" The little guy asked.

"The stone tablet has the imprint he left behind. It allows others to see the laws and dao he comprehended." A white bearded elder spoke.

"Can I give it a try?" The little guy was curious.

Everyone frowned. Frankly, they really weren't willing, but since he already said these words, how could they refuse?

This stone tablet's materials were special. It was created from an otherworldly meteorite with mysterious force concentrated within. It was indestructible, and was truly a divine stone that was optimal for preserving this imprint.

It was sparkling and dazzling. There was a palm imprint on its surface, and even though it wasn't enormous, it was extremely distinct. Just by approaching it, one would be able to feel a wave of intimidating energy.

The little guy was extremely calm as he reached out with his palm, pressing into that imprint. In that instant, this place erupted with a most dazzling light that shook all four directions.

En?!

The little guy was shocked. He felt a type of mysterious energy that made his chest feel like it was burning. This was an imprint carved through the force of the supreme being bone. n--o(-v-)e.)|(-&./1./n

After learning about this, there was a bit of coldness within his eyes.

Hong

Suddenly, this stone tablet exploded, splitting into pieces in the ground. Divine light surged, startling everyone.

“What happened?” Everyone became shocked. This stone tablet was extremely special, and was known as a divine stone. It was difficult to shatter, so what was going on right now?

In addition, there was Shi Yi’s name imprinted on it. Even if the clan’s ancestors were invited over to cooperative take action, it would still be difficult to do anything within the heavenly passage realm.

But now, it was blasted apart on the spot!

“You...” Everyone began to glare at him.

“I apologize, it was not done on purpose.” The little guy did not lie, because his breastbone resonated, causing a terrifying wave to crush apart the stone tablet.

There wasn’t much they could say, because even though they were discontent, it was still a stone tablet in the end. Once Shi Yi returned, they could recreate it.

“After coming to my Martial Imperial Family and creating such a disturbance, do you think I’m nobody?!” Suddenly, someone released a low roar.

At the same time, the little guy’s body began to shine. All types of symbols interweaved like streaks of lightning around his body. This place immediately became so dazzling that it was hard to see anything clearly.

The great restrictive formation was activated, and the little guy was trapped within.

Someone had just returned from the real world, bringing back a group of experts and trapping this place. In addition, these people immediately made things difficult by activating the pure land’s great ancient formation.

“Are you trying to get rid of me?” The little guy calmly asked. He was standing at the center, not having taken a single step. It was as if he didn’t even notice the extremely powerful restrictive symbols below him.

“Stop, do not create any misunderstandings.” The elders that originally accompanied the little guy hurriedly spoke. They shouted loudly to stop the backup troops.

“After breaking into my pure land and destroying Yi’er’s record tablet, what kind of misunderstandings are there?!” An elder walked up. His pupils were like golden lanterns as they flickered with brilliance.

The little guy could tell with a glance that this was Shi Li, ranked ninth within the ancestors. His influence was extremely great, single handedly shielded Shi Yi and his mother as well as commanded everyone to hunt down his parents back then.

Chapter 230 - Simple and Direct

“Since there is no misunderstanding, are you going to kill me?” The little guy was very calm. As he stood at the center of the great formation, he looked at the group of people in front of him, particularly at the one in the middle.

Shi Li had blazing and powerful eyes. Though he was old, his mind was strong and his cultivation level was high. His posture was always extremely good, so living for several decades longer wasn't even a problem.

He squinted his eyes to stare at the little guy, and wisps of radiance came out from his eyes. There was killing intent hidden inside him, but he did not reveal it right away.

This was a powerful youth that was known as a supreme being. He could look down on the Void God Realm, establishing record after record, so he was a big threat to Shi Li.

According to what he knew, this young man could become a formidable adversary to Shi Yi. This made him feel like he had a thorn stabbing into his heart, so he had been paying close attention to the little guy this entire time.

When he heard that the devilish brat come to visit today, Shi Li's heart thumped. He rushed over immediately, because he wanted to deal with this at the earliest opportunity.

When he arrived, he saw the young man standing at the center of the great formation, right in the middle. He wanted to immediately kill the young man, because if he was able to kill him by activating the formation, then everything would truly be perfect.

He did not know why, but he felt uncomfortable the moment he saw this young man. He kept feeling like there would be great consequences in the future, as if ominous things were about to happen.

“Young man, you are too arrogant. My Martial Imperial Family isn't that easy to bully. By breaking in like this, you are challenging the dignity of an entire imperial country!” Shi Li shouted, finally making a firm resolution.

Although the young man was extravagantly powerful, he was now standing on the eye of the formation. Could it be that he was going to defy the heavens? You have to understand that this was an ancient great formation that was known as an ancestral formation.

The Martial Imperial Family was one of the bloodlines of Stone Country, it naturally possessed outstanding methods. This was a formation passed down from an ancient guardian spirit that possess endless power and boundless terror.

The guardian spirit, also known an ancient deity, was worshipped by the entire country. How could the things it left behind be low quality?

At first, Shi Li was worried. After all, this young man once ate the decree from the Rain Deity. However, after seeing him standing at the center of a formation that will certainly kill him, Shi Li immediately felt reassured.

Even though the devilish brat was ridiculously powerful and could break apart this formation, it was difficult for him to escape this disaster unharmed.

“Ancestral elder, he did not break in but instead paid a visit. We brought him inside to give him a tour.” An elder spoke righteously, but he was worried at the same time. He was scared that an accident might happen and turn the entire situation into a disaster.

Many people wanted to kill the devilish brat, but did any of them succeed? All of them died, even many big families; these are all examples that should be learned from. It was so destructive that even their sacred lands were wiped out.

“There is no need to be scared of him. You all dreaded his vicious might and tried to reach a compromise, but there is absolutely no need.” Shi Li spoke coldly.

“Did you finish talking? If you want to kill me, then you might as well make your move.” the little guy was very calm as he stood there, showing no fear at all.

“You...” The little guy’s reaction made Shi Li feel as if he only struck thin air. The little guy was too calm, leaving him an unsatisfied feeling inside. At the same time, his heart felt a wave of restraining fear, making him feel as if something wasn’t right. There shouldn’t be any unforeseen incidents that could happen here, right?

Even though the decree passed down by a guardian spirit deity would still be restricted, it shouldn’t have any problems killing the devilish brat standing right on the center.

Why did he still feel anxious? His eyes revealed his unsettled mood.

“If you continue to hesitate, then I am going to move and deal with you.” the little guy said.

He looked ahead. Other than Shi Li, there was still another group of people that all looked a bit familiar. After so many years had passed, he could still recognize their appearances.

They were from the same branch of the family, Shi Yi’s relatives. These people were precisely the ones that protected him and his mother, as well as the ones who attacked the little guy’s parents.

However, during that battle, these people were far from enough. They were all sent flying by Shi Ziling’s spear, and since the difference was so great, they all previously suffered serious injuries.

“Ancestral elder, please reconsider!” in fear of creating a huge disaster, an elder standing on the sacred land sent these words to Shi Li who had just rushed over.

“Kill!”

At that moment, Shi Li waved to give the order. The field was activated immediately, causing a bolt after bolt of multicolored lights danced towards every side. This place became so bright that it was a bit terrifying, as if it was a sea of blazing lightning.

The interconnected symbols concentrated at one point, heading toward the devilish brat. That was the center of the formation, and it was currently gathering all of the murderous power to smash the little guy into pieces.

However, at that moment, the devilish brat did not run away at all. He stood at the center without any movement, and a circle of indescribable radiance suddenly erupted from his body.

The ten heavenly passages appeared at the same time, and it seemed as if they had erupted. After they collided together, no one could see anything else.

The little did this on purpose. The integration and connection of the ten heavenly passages created an absolutely resplendent divine ring. However, no one was allowed to see it clearly. The essence that was released pierced towards everyone's eyes like divine needles, compromising their perception!

Within the vast expanse of whiteness, everyone's eyes began to bleed out, losing all of their senses. It was as if they were facing a supreme deity, filling them with dread. Was this still the strength of a human? Why was it so terrifying? They were all within the heavenly passage realm, yet the difference was like heaven and earth.

A deafening cracking sound was emitted from the formation. Those terrifying symbols were all burning, and as the two forces collided, it was as if two great mountains had smashed together. Following that, the symbols collapsed.

Shi Li's eyes were swelled. He began to retreat as fast as he could as fear grew within his heart. He never would have thought that the terrifying restrictive formation was not enough to immediately kill that youth.

This was just too terrifying! The formation had been passed down from Stone Country's guardian spirit, so it was definitely powerful to the extreme and possessed power at the peak of this world. After standing on the eye of such a formation, it was the same as if Stone Country's guardian spirit's strength directly hacked down on his neck, so just a tiny bit of force should have been enough.

Why did it end up like this? The formation was clearly releasing strength, even seeming to be getting more and more ferocious. However, that youth seemed like he was about to step out of it!!

"How is that possible?!" He became overwhelmed with horror as his face paled.

Within the center of the great restrictive formation, the little guy was surrounded by a divine ring. The ten heavenly passages interconnected into a divine ring, and as the domineering force released, it did not try to break the formation bit by bit, but instead crush it in one go.

The ten heavenly passage began to surge with divine energy, and as its power merged with his flesh, he began to destroy the symbols imprinted in the void as if he was tearing out rotten weeds; his strength was just too powerful.

Hong!

Meanwhile, the majestic and imposing ten heavenly passages were also terrifyingly powerful as they revolved around the little guy. They directly smashed apart the ground, collapsing the symbol-carved pure land and sweeping through everything.

This was a type of divine might, a true and unparalleled power!

The little guy forcefully pushed forward, destroying the great formation as he made his way out. As for the symbols within the formation's center, they were directly crushed under his feet and turned into powder.

This scene and might was just absolutely horrifying. However, thanks to the needlelike radiance released by the ten heavenly passages, no one outside could see what was happening inside, and so they thought that he was still trying to defend himself.

In this way, the little guy swept through this region, destroying most of the symbols. The entire great formation was about to sink into a deathly stillness, losing a majority of the sky-covering multicolored light and patterns.

“Heavens, what happened? Why did the great ancient formation lose its effectiveness? Why can’t i feel it’s fluctuations any more?”

Everyone was shocked. It was missing the divine fluctuations, a sign that its divine force had been depleted. Could it be that the essence energy within the great formation had dried up and its symbols obliterated?

Hong!

Finally, a loud sound rang out, and the rear formation was broken apart. A resplendent circle of light appeared, as if a divine god came down into the secular world. As he stood there, it was as if he was looking down at them.

The divine light around the little guy scattered, separating into ten heavenly passages. Despite this, he still seemed like a deity, giving people an unapproachable type of feeling.

“This was the great restrictive formation of the Martial Imperial Family? That’s rather disappointing.” The supreme youth shook his head and spoke calmly. Everyone who heard felt as if their ears were struck by thunder!

This was truly something straight out of a legend. It was just a single youth, yet he destroyed the formation left behind by Stone Country’s guardian spirit in just a split second. This... was this true? It was just too difficult to believe!

Everyone finally understood how horrifying the devilish brat was. He truly deserved his reputation of being ferocious; he was just too ridiculously strong!

At this moment, it was incomparably quiet. After snapping back to reality, everyone felt the hair on their body stand straight. It was because they knew that after taking the initiative to provoke the little guy, all hell was going to break loose.

The little guy began to move forward, directly rushing towards Shi Li. The ten heavenly passages shone, and with a honglong sound, symbols immediately lit this place up. This region immediately seemed like the world of deities.

“Ah...” Shi Li cried out loudly. He activated his precious technique, immediately turning around to flee.

However, the devilish brat’s movements were extremely simple. As soon as his hand was raised, golden symbols were imprinted into the space around him. Everything within this place seemed to have been completely frozen in place.

Following that, Shi Li flew out in reverse. He kept his original movement, only now he was quickly moving straight towards the little guy. The little guy grabbed him and threw his body down in one motion before stepping on it.

After that, all of the golden symbols disappeared. In this place, there was only a youth wrapped in light stepping on Shi Li's body. As the little guy overlooked Shi Li, he said, "Someone like you, killing me?"

It was only a few words, yet it immediately threw Shi Li's mind into disorder. He almost spat out a mouthful of blood. When was the last time someone treated him with such disdain? This kind of gaze was too scornful, as if he never thought much of Shi Li.

"You..." Shi Li's face was thoroughly red, however, while being stepped on, he couldn't move at all.

"What do you mean 'you'? For the Martial Imperial Family to have someone like you, it truly is embarrassing." The little guy shook his head.

Even though this youth was known as the heavenly passage supreme being, Shi Li still couldn't tolerate him. After living for so many years, his status was extremely high and his influence was heaven overflowing, yet he was currently being looked down with such despise from a mere child.

Ah pu... Shi Li spit out a mouthful of blood. He could not bear any more.

The little guy forcefully stepped down, causing Shi Li to spit out even more blood. Being stepped on like this, how could he defend himself?

Following that, the glint of a Soul Shattering Needle shone. It flickered with sparkling bloody light and released a terrifying chilliness.

At this moment, Shi Li became absolutely horrified. He immediately became motionless; who didn't fear death? There wasn't a single person, yet there wasn't anything he could do to prevent it. The great disaster that happened today was all caused by him alone, making him full of remorse.

"Using the Soul Shattering Needle on you feels a bit like a waste..." The little guy talked to himself.

When Shi Li heard this, he first felt a wave of relief, and then extremely anger surfaced. Who was he? He was a magnificent ancestral elder! Within the real world, he could make everyone tremble with just a stamp of his feet, yet he was currently treated with such contempt. This was truly more unbearable than even death.

"There are things that you still haven't seen the results of yet. If you were to die now, it would be letting you off too easily." The little guy said to himself.

He wanted to visit the Martial Imperial Family later in the real world and tell them that he, Shi Hao, was still alive and in this world! Moreover, he wanted to cut down the people who stole his supreme being bone, letting everyone who harmed him in the past personally witness this result.

In the end, he was still a child. There was anger and resentment in his heart, making him want to fight them.

"Return, clean up your own necks and survive." The little guy muttered. Not everyone heard what he said, so he shouted loudly, "Get lost! Don't disgrace yourselves any further!"

Pu!

He stamped his foot and killed Shi Li directly. Simple and direct, as if he had trample a worm.

“There is still you guys. You all don’t deserve to have Soul Shattering Needles used. It would be a waste!” The little guy spoke. He raised his hand, and golden symbols flooded the skies. Following that, pu pu sounds rang out, and they all exploded.

All the troops that came with Shi Li were obliterated, turning into a bloody mist.