

Perfect WD 391

Chapter 391 - Seizing God Essence

Blood dripped from the domain embodiment's body. Half of his body had been cleaved off at the shoulder from that streak of light. A large amount of blood and a few symbols flew out, dyeing the sky red.

"This..." Everyone became dumbstruck. How could they have predicted that this kind of thing would happen? The high and mighty domain embodiment, who represented the law and order of this place, was actually sliced apart by someone!

In the sky, the divine disk shone and gently swayed. That place immediately became indistinct. The mysterious male spewed out blood from his mouth; it was clear that the cost of using this precious artifact was quite significant as well.

Everyone was horrified. They were now convinced that this chaotic magical artifact had not even displayed anything close to its maximum power. Its true divine might should be at a level that was too frightening to even think about.

After all, only a few of the symbols on top of it were lit up. The rest weren't even being used.

On top of that divine disk, ancient symbols filled its surface like a heavenly book. However, only a few of them were flickering with light. Just how terrifying was this precious artifact?

The hearts of the supreme experts all trembled. Even if their ancestors, those true gods and devils revived, they would probably still be shaken by this sight. This kind of magical artifact was just too rare.

Similarly, everyone found it hard to imagine exactly what kind of great power made this divine disk split apart, making only a sixth of it remain. Whatever it was, it was definitely utterly terrifying.

The divine flame jumped. The male inside quickly flew out together with the divine disk to suppress the domain embodiment. He rushed down feet first, and together with the heaven overflowing divine might, he began to suppress downwards. noVe-lb-1n

With a hong sound, the entire world trembled. All types of symbols surged like a fiery volcano. This place exploded into action, turning into a sea of primordial symbols.

However, what was especially shocking was that the domain embodiment that had been sliced at the shoulder had not died. On the contrary, his eyes began to burn with an even fiercer radiance. His upper half shifted outwards, and as for his lower half, it ignited at its original location.

"Heavens!" Everyone cried out in alarm.

The upper half of the domain embodiment's body turned into the most foundational type of power. Divine chains of order began to shoot out one after another. They linked up together to form a sphere of resplendent light.

"This..." Everyone quickly flew out in retreat. These fluctuations were just too terrifying.

The domain embodiment's body turned into its original primordial natural law. After all, he was originally formed from the laws of this place. He now planned on using the remaining half of his body to suppress and kill the mysterious male.

Symbols engraved themselves into the air one after another. They carried a fiery light with them, lighting up the heavens in flames and shaking the entire sky.

An intense explosion sounded. The mysterious male's expression changed. He had never thought that the domain embodiment would be so powerful. It was as if an overwhelming divine cave was erupting with endless divine power.

Divine chains that seemed even more realistic than those formed from divine gold smashed about with hualala sounds.

They quickly flew out and wrapped themselves around his body like a roulette. They were trying to seize his essence.

Pu

Blood blossomed from the mysterious male's body. His shoulder's flesh had been pierced straight through by one of the powerful sparkling divine chains.

"This... battle is being turned around!" Someone said quietly.

The domain embodiment's chains of order were extremely dreadful. As soon as they entered the body, it would explode. Forget about flesh, even the most sturdy metal would be shattered.

Kacha

There were many divine chains that shot towards the shining disk, binding it firmly.

"Break!"

The domain embodiment shouted. He wanted to destroy the mysterious male and also seize this chaotic magical artifact. This item was too ridiculously strong, actually possessing the power to destroy the laws of the Void God Realm and harm this place.

Gabeng

The divine chains of order that twisted around the divine horn ring were all broken. This was not achieved through the mysterious male's intentions, but rather due to the autonomous trembling of the magical artifact. The energy that poured down onto the battlefield was so dreadful that it directly made many people's bodies become weak.

With a final pu sound, the last segment of the divine chains of order turned into flowing light, vanishing from this place.

How terrifying was this energy? Not even the laws of the Void God Realm could deal with it. The chains were crushed and destroyed by its endless power, leaving nothing behind.

At the same time, the chain that pierced the mysterious male also turned into a drizzle of light, disappearing from this place. Under the attacks of the divine disk, it couldn't injure him.

“This thing is too powerful! There is a connection created with that male’s blood, allowing it to protect him at a crucial point!” A supreme expert sighed.

Everyone revealed envious expressions. This kind of supreme precious artifact was hard to find in this entire world, yet it ended up forming a connection with this male. If he was allowed the time to mature, it will definitely fully acknowledge him.

No wonder he could travel across great regions and even have the desire of capturing the Heaven Mending Sect’s fairy. With this kind of divine object, he could practically take whatever he wanted.

In the distance, ripples could be seen in fairy Yue Chan’s expression, and it was the first time she seemed to be serious. This precious artifact really was a supreme treasure that could shake the world.

The domain embodiment stopped quite a distance away. His face was extremely downcast. With this chaotic magical artifact here, his attacks became ineffective, making him quite uncomfortable and worried.

Right now, everyone was greatly intimidated by that mysterious male. They were similarly speechless at the domain embodiment. He had already lost half his body, yet he seemed to still be perfectly fine.

Blood dripped out little by little from the sky, yet he didn’t show any signs of pain. The only thing that could be seen on his face was an overcast expression.

“Wu, seems like I’ve underestimated you. Worthy of being a will of this world, not being destroyed so easily and making it so difficult for me to obtain your core. However, you being more powerful only means that my spoils will become even greater. You truly deserve to be known as something left by the deities,” said the male in the divine flame.

Everyone became speechless. This fellow was truly conceited, daring to say words like these towards the domain embodiment. If it was any other day, everyone would have definitely ridiculed him, yet now, they were all silent. He possessed the qualifications to speak these words.

Shua!

Divine multicolored light blossomed. The domain embodiment’s lower half shone and began to reconstruct itself. Soon after, he was restored to his original state.

The crowd’s eyes widened. Their hearts were all shaking!

He truly deserved to be called the domain embodiment. He was actually this extraordinary! Losing half of his body meant absolutely nothing, since he could immediately recover it. What kind of power was this?

The supreme experts were paying close attention as well, but soon after, they understood what was happening. The lower half was reforming through the laws of this place. Many divine chains rushed over to replenish and reconstruct his body.

This was the Void God Realm, the birthplace of the domain embodiment, and as a result, he was naturally formed from the laws of this world and could easily replenish himself. This power made him practically unequalled in this place.

“Kill!” The domain embodiment released a soft shout. Following that, an expanse of brilliant colors illuminated. Countless blades of order scattered down like raindrops.

“How terrifying!” Everyone was convinced of his power, and at the same time, they were terrified. If any bystanders got caught in this attack, it would truly be hard for them to escape, since the scope of this attack was too great. How could ordinary people defend themselves?

“To withstand this attack, one would have to surpass this world. They would have to interfere and break free from the laws of this place.” A supreme elder spoke with a serious expression.

However, how many people possessed this kind of strength? Probably only individuals as dazzling as the two Stone brothers. They had the power to disturb the order of this world; otherwise, they would not have been invited into the sky battlefield.

However, how many people like those were there in this world?

Weng. The divine disk shone and began to release the a primal mist. It surrounded that male, protecting him within. Brilliantly colored lights flew about; the blades of order hacked down, but could not penetrate the mist.

“The divine laws are powerful after all! Even though it is restricted quite a bit here, it is still scary.” The eyes of the male in in the divine flame erupted with light as he spoke to himself. “However, your so-called undying body is still not good enough in front of my precious artifact.”

He was extremely self-confident. His eyes swirled with light, and the scarlet fiery light around him surged, bringing with it a tremendous killing intent. Within his eyes were the terrifying scenes of the six dao incarnations. Heavenly beings, grass, trees, and all types of things were swirling within, and even great stars were swirling one after another inside!

The fluctuations that were released were too terrifying. It shook the vast sky.

Meanwhile, blood continuously flowed out from the center of his palm onto the treasure, making it shine even more brilliantly. The divine power that erupted as a result seemed to almost tear apart this entire world.

Everyone was shocked to find that on top of that horn disk, two more patterns lit up. Even though it wasn't much compared to how many there were, this amount of power was enough to terrify everyone here.

A great battle had begun!

The male in the divine flame also knew that only by exceeding the laws of this place could he kill the domain embodiment and seize his original imprint. Only this chaotic magical artifact had the power to win.

The domain embodiment's expression changed. He then made his move with full force. His body became indistinct, transforming into a great sphere of symbol light. It solidified within this world and released a resonating sound.

“For disturbing this world, suppress!” This tremendous sound not only shook everyone, but it was actually a type of verbal law. It was a sound technique!

This was a great collision. Both sides brought out everything they had. This area was submerged under primordial symbols, and all of it was the most foundational type of power.

It was clear that the chaotic disk definitely possessed the advantage. It exceeded the laws of this place, leaving everyone frightened. Even the domain embodiment was wounded, with his body splitting open several times from this attack.

However, this was the domain embodiment's birthplace, and thus he could endlessly recover his body. Meanwhile, even though the male in the divine flame possessed a supreme precious artifact, he still took some damage. Blood was coughed out from his mouth.

"Bring some more sacrifices!" He shouted.

His followers took action. Those pure blooded creatures went mad and began to kill the cultivators here. They also released their own essence blood, and everything flowed towards the divine disk in the air.

Something else that left everyone shocked was that the witch took action. The two elders beside her began to attack with everything they had as well. They slaughtered the black-robed individuals that attacked them earlier on and threw them into the battlefield.

The crowd was shocked. The witch and the male were joining hands? Was there some kind of connection between the two?!

"Of course they would take action! Don't forget what their sect is called -- Sky Severing! How could they allow such a great chance to sever and seize the divine dao go?!" A supreme expert exclaimed quietly and exposed this information.

This was an intense battle. The male in the divine flame clashed against the domain embodiment in a great struggle. The precious artifact shone and became more and more powerful. The blood and crimson light from the fallen creatures were all devoured.

Hong!

This place was in utter chaos. Ghosts weeped and gods howled; it was as if this place was going to be destroyed soon. The world became dim, with the sun and moon losing radiance. It was as if great stars were dropping out of the sky one after another.

"Six Dao Reincarnation!" The mysterious male shouted loudly. Within his eyes, the scene of everything withering could be seen, and every living creature underwent reincarnation. Even the starry rivers of the universe were destroyed and drawn into the six dao.

At the same time, the horn disk shone. Many more of the symbols on its surface lit up, merging with the six precious techniques he released. The heavens and earth seemed to split open as the six dao underwent reincarnation. The scene was just too horrifying!

Everyone was in great fear. They noticed that they were all trembling inwardly from fear. What were they looking at? How could something like this even appear in the mortal world?!

This battle was incredibly ferocious, as well as extremely terrifying. It far exceeded their imaginations. The horn shone, releasing a chaotic mist that covered the skies and surrounded the domain embodiment. At the same time, six streaks of radiance shot down, wrapping him within.

“No!”

The domain embodiment cried out. This time, he separated into a dozen or so spheres of light with no way of recombining together.

Everyone sucked in a cold breath of air. The domain embodiment was killed? This was like something out of a legend!

No one could believe what they were seeing, yet the reality was right in front of their eyes. The domain embodiment was reduced to ten or so foundational imprints that were scattered in space. The laws of this place immediately became chaotic.

At this moment, several figures quickly moved. After coughing out a mouthful of blood, the mysterious male swooped in with the chaotic magical artifact to collect the items he needed.

“I’ve gained some insights recently that requires the divine law to comprehend. Today truly is a day of harvest.” When these words were spoken, everyone became incomparably moved. Using the divine law to enlighten one’s body; just how terrifying was this? It completely shocked all the outstanding individuals here.

Divine multicolored light flashed and the sleeves of a dress fluttered about. Fairy Yue Chan had also moved, rushing onto the stage to seize this original essence.

Outside of these two, the witch was even more prepared to take action. By displaying the profound mysteries of the sect, the sky here truly was being ‘severed’. The display of such a supreme profound mystery left everyone greatly shaken.

Shua

There were other supreme experts that couldn’t hold back and took action. After all, this was the origin of the laws left behind by deities. Even though they would never be able to pry into all of its profound mysteries, studying even a portion would allow them to break through.

Shi Hao was naturally stirred up as well. Moreover, with the great treasure he obtained following his battle, he immediately seized several pieces of foundational imprint.

Hong!

Unfortunately, both he and the mysterious male were focused on the same pieces of imprint, and conflict was unavoidably sparked.

However, the mysterious male took advantage of this situation and said, “Follow me, and these foundational imprints can all be given to you!”

Every move of his was terrifying. The horn lit up and chaotic energy began to diffuse outwards before suppressing downwards.

Just as everyone became fearful, feeling as if Shi Hao was about to be killed, everything changed. This place erupted with mysterious fluctuations and submerged this place with its power.

In Shi Hao's hair, the small pagoda moved. Chaotic energy surged as it began to confront the horn chaotic magical artifact -- the divine disk!

Chapter 392 - Supreme Treasure

The 'damaged disk' horn was extremely shocking. It merged with the six precious techniques and evolved it into the six dao incarnations! Great stars were destroyed and reincarnated in an endless cycle!

This scene greatly shook the hearts of everyone here, and all of them felt like they were clay sculptures. The energy of primal chaos continuously rolled over and over around the mysterious male and Shi Hao. No one believed that the injured Shi Hao could escape, and everyone thought that he was most likely captured.

They all thought that Shi Hao was strong enough and could fight against anyone here. Even if fairy Yue Chan or the others personally took action, they still wouldn't be able to catch him.

However, this mysterious male possessed the chaotic magical artifact. This was not something that the power of a mortal could deal with! Even the domain embodiment was killed and reduced to the most foundational laws. Who else could even do anything?

Right now, no matter who the male in the divine flame encountered, they would all be defeated. If anyone fought to the death against him, they would all die without any suspense!

Hong!

Primal chaos surged as if a mountain flood was descending. It was boundless and utterly terrifying. Even the supreme experts were all horrified as they backed up in retreat. They no longer dared to struggle for those divine imprints.

Other than fairy Yue Chan and the witch, everyone else backed off. Their faces were pale. The horn disk was just too terrifying! It released primal chaos and recreated incarnations; it was truly a heaven defying divine object.

No one could clearly see what was happening there due to the chaotic mist that covered everything. Without dual-pupils, no one could see through the haze.

At the center of the battlefield, the mysterious male was actually shocked. He never thought that there was someone could contend against his magical artifact. Once this item was revealed, even the sun and moon would become dim, and mountains and rivers would be destroyed. How could anyone defend themselves against it?

Yet today, he was shocked. Within the primal chaos, the incredibly wounded youth's gaze was clear, and it carried a bizarre expression as he blocked the divine disk.

To be more precise, it was the small pagoda in his hair. It flowed with brilliant lights and released chaotic energy as well to defend against the ruined horn disk.

What was this? The fiery light within the eyes of the male in the divine flames surged violently, and his entire body erupted with boundless killing intent. n--Ove

He, who had never had a rival, revealed a shocked expression for the first time. What was that small pagoda? Why had he never heard of such an object before? How could it match the magical artifact in his hands?

Honglong!

Chaotic energy continuously battered and collided fiercely between the two individuals. The two precious artifacts both shone. A terrifying whirlpool was formed that swirled with starlight.

“Not simple, exceeding my expectations!” The male in the divine flame said to himself. What these words actually represented was his newfound interest in Shi Hao’s precious artifact.

His two scarlet pupils shot out beams of symbol light. It was as if he had found an ultimate prey to hunt down, to the point where it made him even more excited than when he saw fairy Yue Chan.

“Your disk isn’t bad.” Shi Hao also said in a soft voice. He continuously looked at the ruined horn disk. Since it was able to make the small pagoda revive and interfere, it definitely was heaven defying.

This was the first time the small pagoda did such a thing. It was clear that it had met a worthy opponent.

“Wu, it seems like you are a blessed person with extraordinary luck. You’ve even obtained this kind of object.” The mysterious male stared at him without hurriedly making a move.

“Do you have anything else you want to say?” Shi Hao asked.

“I was just wondering, should your bone pagoda fall into my hands as well, wouldn’t I surpass the ancient and present? Wouldn’t it make me unrivalled in the future?” The mysterious male said to himself.

The heavens were dark, the earth was yellow. The universe is boundless, covered in primal chaos.

No one had dared to call themselves truly unequalled under the heavens. It was likely that every region had their own outstanding individuals, but once they clashed outside the region, then it would be difficult to say who was the best.

Every single region was vast and seemingly limitless. Outstanding individuals emerged in large numbers. The scene of regions clashing was difficult to imagine!

“I also think that your disk isn’t bad. Why don’t you just gift it to me?” Shi Hao replied.

“Then let’s see who wins here.” The divine flame jumped, and the fiery light engulfed the heavens. Blood continuously flowed from the mysterious male’s palm, and the disk became more and more brilliant.

Symbols continuously lit up on its surface, and the amount that shone seemed to be even a bit more than when he fought against the domain embodiment. If everyone else could see this, they definitely would have shivered in fear.

This disk was ancient and mottled with colors. Symbols covered its surface, and after a small region was lit up, it became more and more mysterious. A tremendous energy surged outwards, as if it had the power to make anything reincarnate.

“What era’s remnant is this object?” Shi Hao was greatly shocked. If he didn’t have the small pagoda, then today would have resulted in utter disaster!

If it was just a one on one fight, he wouldn’t be scared of anyone. However, when a magical artifact like this was revealed, forget about him, even the great powers of the ancient era would become jealous. They would back off even if they were fighting a war.

A peaceful ring of light appeared, surrounding his body. The small pagoda swayed within his hair. It also flickered, and symbols decorated its surface one after another like great constellations.

The collision this time was completely silent, yet everyone in the outside world felt their bodies go limp. They had no idea what was happening, because all they could see was the surging primal chaos. It was concentrated like a surging sea.

“Not good, the youth in the divine flame has captured the smaller Stone brother... With the magical artifact in hand, he is truly unrivalled here.” There was someone who sighed and produced this deduction.

“Truly unfortunate. The smaller Stone brother was truly breathtaking, possessing the power to fight against the dual-pupils and ultimately reign superior. If he falls here, it would be too regretful.” There were a few people who felt that it was a pity.

The two Stone brothers were absolutely exceptional, and their talents were hard to find in this world.

If Shi Hao was defeated here, then no one would think that it was because of his natural talents. What he lacked was definitely the heaven defying magical artifact, but where would he even be able to find a chaotic precious artifact?

Forget about a youth like him, even an ancient god or devil would become envious when they saw this kind of object. It was just too hard to obtain something like this in the mortal world.

This was true especially for the Western Sect, Sky Severing Sect, and other great powers outside of this region. They all felt that it was unfortunate, and that things were looking bad for Shi Hao. In the eyes of the people beyond this region, the wasteland region represented decline and desolation, an ancient and savage place. It was impossible for a heaven-defying precious artifact like the divine disk to appear.

However, what was actually happening within the surging primal chaos was an intense battle between the two youths!

The male in the divine flames activated the divine disk, making the horn magical artifact release resplendent radiance. It was as if it could wipe out everything in this world as it released strand after strand of chaotic sword energy.

This scene was completely hidden from everyone outside. If they saw what was happening, they would definitely become dumbfounded from shock.

This place was swept through with chaotic sword energy. Forget about the magical artifacts of supreme experts, even if more powerful precious artifacts were used in defense, they would still be shattered to pieces.

The world within the primal chaos was in disorder. Everything was hazy and obstructed.

However, Shi Hao didn't fall. The small pagoda scattered down tens of thousands of threads to block all of the sword energy and prevent them from approaching Shi Hao's body. Its power seemed to become even more unadorned and mysterious.

"How could this be?" The mysterious male's pupils rapidly shrunk. He felt as if the situation had become severe. The supreme treasure in his hands had actually encountered its match, and it might not necessarily win.

Shua

Six different colored streaks of light danced about, and when they descended, Shi Hao's area was divided into six small worlds. They then began to circulate and compress.

Even if it was a supreme expert, if they were surrounded like this, they would immediately be turned into a lump of bloody mist. They wouldn't be able to endure this reincarnation force at all, since it was just too deep and immeasurable.

However, the small pagoda similarly neutralized it. It swallowed and released the multicolored light like a millstone, making those six small worlds become dim. They became indistinct and gradually disappeared.

"So formidable!" The mysterious male said to himself. The light in his eyes began to shine even more brilliantly, shooting out as if they were the glints of a blade.

Shi Hao began to calm down. The inch tall small pagoda was not inferior to another and could definitely block the opponent's attack. There was nothing to worry about now.

"Little pagoda, don't just focus on defense. You should attack too and eat that disk. If you really don't want it, then collect it and give it to me." Shi Hao urged the bone pagoda to take action.

To his surprise, the small pagoda actually gave a rare response. Its voice was extremely calm, yet it was somewhat heavy. "This item is formidable. If I devour one of its parts, the other five pieces will emerge and fight against me to the death."

"What? What kind of object is it really?" Shi Hao was shocked. It actually made the small pagoda even hesitant, proving just how terrifying it was.

"It is best if you don't know. It won't benefit you at all." The small pagoda replied. It then no longer spoke.

The horn disk lit up once again. After absorbing the offerings, the spiderweb-like patterns on its surface began to revive. The fluctuations it released made this place unstable, as if it would crack apart at any time.

"We can't act recklessly. If we allow it to revive, then it would be a catastrophe." The small pagoda's voice was soft and rather serious. It then gently swayed and released an expanse of chaotic light. It turned into a large seal that descended onto that divine horn disk.

Hong!

The tremendous fluctuations engulfed everything, as if the heaven and earth were being recreated. This place was unstable, and a catastrophic ending was going to be produced. Fortunately, the small pagoda shook, and another expanse of symbols flew out. The fluctuations were stopped, stabilizing and restoring peace to this place.

The mysterious male was shocked. He found that his disk's power was gradually being tamed. It no longer accepted offerings, and only a layer of hazy light covered his body, protecting him.

"The pagoda's origins are shocking and cannot be lightly provoked." The divine horn disk actually transmitted sound to inform the mysterious male, leaving his thoughts in utter chaos.

"Formidable!" After calming down, the mysterious male rushed towards Shi Hao and shouted in a loud voice, "I won't use the divine ring against you."

When these words sounded from within the surging chaotic mist, everyone became shocked. This result was absolutely shocking. Could it be that Shi Hao hadn't been captured yet?

Everyone revealed strange expressions. The male in the divine flame decided not to use the chaotic magical artifact and was going to fight alone against the smaller Stone brother. Was this to thoroughly make his opponent surrender?

Many people shivered inwardly. This individual was too arrogant! To make those at the caliber of the two Stone brothers serve under him, just how terrifying was this? How many people in this world dared to do such a thing?

"Then a fight it is." Shi Hao replied. He was seriously injured, and his face was pale, but his opponent wasn't in the best shape either. When fighting against the domain embodiment, he was penetrated by the divine chains of order. He seemed unaffected on the outside, but he was actually suffering internally.

"Reincarnation Death!" The mysterious male shouted. He used an ultimate precious technique, drawing forth from his own dao. It was incomparably terrifying. This was the combination of several precious techniques, to the point where its origins couldn't be discerned.

However, there were definitely archaic vicious beasts' supreme techniques in there, and not only a single clan's divine ability. They were refined together, producing an utterly terrifying scene.

"Primordial True Fist!" Shi Hao shouted. His approach was completely different. Instead of using any precious techniques, he only used the most primordial symbols, evolving them to their limit to bring out a miraculous power.

This strike shook heaven and earth. The two individuals' magical artifacts were peaceful, so their attacks penetrated the chaotic mist and ultimately scattered it.

The two individuals' bodies were revealed. The attack was extremely fast, and after colliding, blood scattered outwards.

After this attack, the two did not decide to clash again. Instead, each revealed their own methods. Shi Hao stretched a Kun Peng claw, once again seizing several spheres of divine essence lights. The mysterious male did the same.

Some supreme experts rushed over to get a share of the spoils as well, but in just a split second, they were blasted flying. The mysterious male released a cold snort and swept his eyes over everyone.

At this time, fairy Yue Chan, the witch, and the others took action again, each receiving their own share of rewards.

"This..." Everyone was shocked. This was the imprint left behind by deities! It was mysterious and unfathomable. Obtaining a single piece was already sufficiently shocking, yet they each gained so many!

Shi Hao did not want to stick around for any longer, so he turned around to leave. After all, his harvest this time was tremendous, and he could obtain extraordinary enlightenment. He rushed towards the distance on the void beast skin.

Meanwhile, the mysterious male, witch, fairy Yue Chan and the others also turned around to leave. The supreme experts' expressions all changed as if they realized something, and they quickly moved as well.

Hong!

An indescribably energy spread from the nine heavens. It was as if a supreme existence was awakening, as if a deity was returning!

Chapter 393 - Divine Judgment

The energy that was pouring down was just too powerful. The cultivators here were blown around as if they were ants facing a great sea. They felt extremely insignificant as the great waves swept them everywhere.

This was a horrifying and helpless reality. When these powerful cultivators realized that they were absolutely nothing here, one can just imagine how they felt.

In that boundless heaven, a powerful will was reviving. A great rumbling sound rang through the air. The spiritual energy extended far into the distance and swept through everything.

The only good thing was that it did not seem to possess any killing intent. It merely swept over everyone here. This entire place was greatly shaken!

"What is that?" The supreme experts were all terrified. Just how powerful was this energy? It definitely exceeded the restriction here, far surpassing the limits of the laws.

"Domain Lord, it is definitely the revival of the domain lord!" There was someone whose mind worked extremely quickly and guessed the source of this power. The domain embodiment was killed, so it naturally stirred up an even higher level of existence.

The Void God Realm's will was also divided into ranks. Above the domain embodiment was the domain lord, and this was the existence that was truly in control of this region. The domain lord was omnipotent; in this world, the domain lord was just like a god.

The sky battlefield was overcast. A chain of order tore through the air, descending from the heavens. The light it released was incomparably blinding. It flew through the air and hacked towards a certain direction.

“Yi?!”

The people here didn’t know whether to be shocked or glad. The power of the law was too powerful, but it didn’t descend on them, but rather in the mysterious male’s direction.

“Even though he was powerful, he will still most likely still be in danger. In this world, the domain lord is equal to the reappearance of the deities’ will, omnipotent and simply inescapable.”

It was as if an immortal sword was hacking down. The noise was thunderous, causing everyone to tremble. Forget about experiencing that attack, just the shockwaves it produced was already enough to make them shake uncontrollably.

The supreme experts were all quaking in fear. Even if this wasn’t the Void God Realm and instead the real world, they still wouldn’t be able to endure it. It truly was divine judgment!

The deities declared their will, punishing the one that dared to cause trouble in this world. This is -- divine judgment.

With the appearance of this kind of tribulation, under normal circumstances, it was impossible to survive. It could even be said that the one punished would undoubtedly die.

Dang!

However, the bloody scene of blood splashing did not appear. The divine horn disk rose and blocked this strike. This time, it did not flicker with symbols, and was instead dim and without fluctuations; however, it was still able to block this attack.

Everyone sighed. Only this kind of chaotic artifact could stop the divine judgment. Anything else would be destroyed.

Up in the heavens, the will was rather shaken. It once again revived, and the energy it released this time was more powerful than the last. It was as if a great furnace was burning above the clouds.

Within the blinding radiance, several chains descended with hualala sounds. They were like precious chains made from divine gold. It wanted to incarcerate the criminal and restore justice.

“Chain of the gods, this kind of object truly appeared!” Someone cried out in amazement.

There were even more people who were now at a loss for words. During the ancient years, there was a legend that when the most powerful creatures caused trouble in the Void God Realm, they would be captured by these chains.

“It is rumored that the greatest criminals were sent into the Void God Realm’s prison where one has to fight against countless terrifying criminals. They would suffer from great torment there.”

“Yi, it was blocked again!”

The horn shone with light once again. Primal chaos diffused, and the mysterious symbols on its surface flickered. Ultimately, they formed a single character: Pardon!

Was it trying to converse with the domain embodiment? Everyone became stupefied. This magical artifact was truly heaven defying, actually conversing with the will deft behind by the deities. It was powerful to a ridiculous level.

“Is the domain lord going to forgive the male in the divine flames?” Someone guessed.

“The domain embodiment is ruthless and callous, after all, it is just a will, or a form of law. It could only strictly carry out what was agreed on back then. It most likely won’t compromise.

As expected, those chains continued to pursue the mysterious male. It seemed dead-set on capturing him.

“Aiya, this is bad! We are being expelled!” Everyone was still discussing how they weren’t involved in this attack, yet now, all of them cried out with fear. Strand after strand of black energy began to seep from their heads. These people were being forcefully kicked out of the Void God Realm.

They were not allowed to step foot into the Void God Realm again for several months to years until the banishment period had passed.

“Go!” No one else dared to speak any more nonsense. They all quickly left.

In reality, there were some that were the fastest and did not stay here for a second longer, and these included Shi Hao, the witch, and fairy Yue Chan. The only unlucky one was the mysterious male who was intercepted. Even though the others also seized the divine imprints, they weren’t labeled as ‘aggressors’.

Hong!

In the end, the fluctuations in the sky exploded. Several chains descended from the clouds, but right as it was about to bind up the mysterious male, it suffered the counterattack of the divine horn disk. An extraordinary radiance erupted.

This was a heaven defying sacred object after all. This world couldn’t suppress it. It could still continue to reveal its original divine might.

Chaotic light scattered downwards. All of the chains were blasted flying by the multicolored light, leaving everyone shocked. The will up in the sky was clearly angered when it saw that even the chains were blocked. It unleashed its power, releasing an extremely large sphere of light. It took on the form of a palm and grabbed downwards.

“Let’s go, we aren’t fighting against the domain lord. Otherwise, even if I leave this domain, I won’t be allowed to enter the other parts of the Void God Realm.” A look of worry appeared on the mysterious male’s face. It was clear that it was hard for him to calm down.

He directly punctured his own chest as sacrifice. A lot of his core blood was offered up to allow the chaotic artifact to bring him away.

Chi

A beam of light flew out from the chaotic disk, piercing through the void. It cleared up a path, and he immediately entered it. The horn magical artifact trembled slightly and followed afterwards. It then sealed up the entrance.

They disappeared just like that, only leaving behind small ripples. Everyone watching was left in indescribable shock!

This was simply a miracle! Everyone here was utterly shocked.

Shi Hao left without leaving a trace. Right now, no one's speed was faster than his as he sped through this region towards the ruins. That was where he entered the Void God Realm from, and so that was the place he had to leave from as well.

Suddenly, he developed a really bad feeling. The enormous will in the heavens was like a tsunami as it swept towards him to lock him down.

The divine judgment rushed towards him to eliminate him.

"Why are you bothering me? I only grabbed a few imprints on the way," he muttered as he quickly fled. At the same time, he transmitted sound to the small pagoda, telling it to take action.

When he was escaping, he saw the mysterious male get attacked, and only when the divine horn disk took action was he able to flee.

"Wu, if you want me to take action, then you have to use a heavenly treasure in exchange." The small pagoda transmitted sound in a calm and unperturbed manner.

"This..." Shi Hao suddenly felt a great headache, as he truly wasn't willing. Using the small pagoda wasn't easy, as it required him to pay the great cost of divine-level materials.

Back then, things like the chaotic earth and deity blood were heavenly treasures. This fellow's appetite was too crazy!

"Fine, take action." Shi Hao said.

"You have to pay the cost now. The opportunities from before have already been used up," said the small pagoda.

"What?!" Shi Hao widened his eyes. He immediately became nervous. He only used the small pagoda once in Stone Country Capital, so he should still have one and a half uses left.

Last time, the amount of heavenly treasures devoured wasn't enough to count as a single use, so it was extra.

"Wasn't there clearly still a use and a half left? What do you mean it's gone?" Shi Hao asked

"Just now, I fought against the divine horn disk to protect your body. It was naturally used up," replied the small pagoda.

"Even that counts?" Shi Hao was dumbstruck. He didn't even ask the small pagoda for help. It was something that the small pagoda did itself after being stirred up.

"Of course it counts. That was a chaotic disk and it possesses astonishing origins. For me to confront it would actually require many offerings. The one and a half use was not even close to enough," said the small pagoda. ~~no-ve~~1b(In

“Why didn’t you try to steal it? Didn’t it just spit out some mist and release some beams of light? You didn’t even fight against it, yet you’ve used up my one and a half chance. You are still saying that it is far from enough?” Shi Hao was furious!

“Strictly speaking, you should have paid tens to hundreds of heavenly treasures for me to fight even once against it, moreover, they would all have to be true treasures and not a collection of inferior ones. You have already received an extraordinary deal.” The small pagoda replied with the truth.

“To fight against that disk requires more than a hundred ordinary uses?” Shi Hao stared stupidly with his eyes widened. This small pagoda was just too ruthless.

“I will forget about it this time and won’t make you pay compensation. However, if you want me to take action again, you should just offer up more divine treasures,” said the small pagoda.

“You cheapskate!” Shi Hao said furiously.

This fellow was like a bottomless pit. Just using him once required him to pay an extraordinary price.

Meanwhile, that mysterious male only needed to offer up some creatures as sacrifice to use the chaotic horn magical artifact. Shi Hao was extremely jealous. The horn was so much better than this cheat!

“Look at that divine disk, and then look at yourself. Both of you are precious artifacts, yet why are the difference between you two so big?”

The small pagoda replied in a serious manner. “This world is one of balance. What one receives, one must pay back in equal amounts. The reason why the divine horn took action could only result in two possibilities. The first is that the youth is helping it break free from its restrictions, and the second is that the youth will have to pay in full in the future.

“I’ve also helped you escape from your entrapment before. Why didn’t you reimburse me?” Shi Hao asked, but now, he seemed to lack as much confidence.

The small pagoda calmly replied, “If you dare to gamble with your future, then I will consider taking action.”

For some reason, when Shi Hao heard these words, he immediately trembled uncontrollably. In his mind, he saw the world being destroyed, great stars falling down one after another, and the entire heavens falling into ruin.

He immediately shook his head. Whenever the small pagoda spoke seriously about paying the price, he would always feel that heavy and suffocating feeling.

All of this happened in just a split second. The will descended from the heavens. The domain lord stretched down the enormous hand and grabbed towards Shi Hao.

“Willow Deity, this isn’t self-improvement anymore! I am going to die!” Shi Hao screamed. At this moment, he felt a terrifying fluctuation. If he stayed here anymore, if he didn’t die here, then he was going to be captured.

Without a word, the void was split open. Several sparkling branches surrounded by the mist of primal chaos reached out to block the will in the heavens.

This place was in chaos. No one dared to follow his route of escape, as they were busy trying to escape themselves. As a result, no one could see this scene clearly.

The branches were green and lush. They stretched towards the heavens and gently moved about. When it collided with the enormous sphere of light, a blinding light erupted.

Hong!

It was as if this entire world was going to be destroyed. Those branches flowed with resplendent symbols, forming a streak of green light. It rushed into the clouds into the heavens, as if it formed a type of decree.

Shi Hao was utterly shaken as he watched stupidly.

No one else could clearly see what was happening here. They all wanted to flee as quickly as possible.

Soon after, this world became calm again without any fluctuations. There were no divine chains of order, but instead peace and quiet. This left everyone shocked. What happened? Why did it suddenly become peaceful again?

“We’re leaving!”

No one wanted to stop for even a single second, and all of them fled.

The string of events that unfolded today was just too shocking. Everyone was flooded with emotions, and they needed time back in the real world to digest it all.

An hour later, the Void God Realm became incomparably quiet. However, in the real world, everyone was fervently discussing what happened, to the point where a great battle even erupted.

The battle took place precisely in the Demonic Spirit Lake. Following the battle of the Void God Realm, this place erupted into war. A few mysterious experts descended to capture this ancient restricted land.

“What? Powerful experts have arrived to seize the dual-pupiled individual’s corpse?”

The events that took place in the Void God Realm were too astonishing. Every creature in the wasteland region was discussing what had happened. However, while they were busy clamoring, another great matter took place.

Hong!

This battle immediately raised great commotion. Everyone rushed over, especially the experts from the Archaic Divine Mountains. Shi Yi’s body was definitely an unrivalled treasure.

Depending on how you looked at it, obtaining his flesh was even better than obtaining several great divine abilities!

Once one became a supreme expert, they would have a certain rate of success in exchanging their flesh and blood. This kind of precious body containing both dual-pupils and a supreme being bone was invaluable.

For many people, obtaining this precious body was the same as having a chance of being unequalled under the heavens!

Chapter 394 - Mysterious Female

Shouts of violence echoed through the Demonic Spirit Lake's skies. Large spiders that were as large as small mountains were being slaughtered. Great enemies had descended that day, and they were in imminent peril.

No one could have thought that a restricted land with such an ancient inheritance would suffer such a great disaster today. A powerful physical body was enough to draw all of these supreme experts over.

"Kill your way in! Our great fortune is just up ahead! The dual-pupils together with the supreme being bone, if these are both in our hands who would even be able to face us?!"

This roar reverberated through the restricted land. This was the roar of a supreme expert. The sound was like thunder, making many people's souls tremble.

After experiencing the Void God Realm's battle, everyone was able to see just how dazzling the older Stone brother was. With two heavenly gifts in his body, it truly was something that shook the old and illuminated the new. If it wasn't for the younger Stone brother being so monstrous, in the future, just how many people could match his power?

In reality, this battle had already begun a long time ago. When the battle between the two Stone brothers was about to end, there were already people stealthily moving out to steal that body, only, these people were stopped. After all, this was the ancestral ground of the demonic spider, and all types of restrictions were in place that made the supreme experts that invaded earlier suffer great losses. Only now did more people rush over.

Hong!

Heaven and earth began to collapse as all types of magical artifacts flew about. Powerful fluctuations were released, and many shrines and historical remains were blasted apart. This place was being completely overturned.

The mountain gate had been destroyed a long time ago. A few supreme experts barged in and unleashed a slaughter. Blood flowed from the bodies of many great spiders, and there were corpses everywhere

However, the power the demonic spiders were hiding was still quite great. Their ancestral formations revived, constructing a great and complex formation. It hacked out with sky soaring beams of light that swept through its great enemies.

"Truly hateful!"

The lord of the Demonic Spirit Lake was an elder that had been practicing the dao for many years. His cultivation was deep and profound. He personally passed on many great techniques to Shi Yi, but he always had some 'thoughts' himself. However, he never expected that so many people would rush over to seize the body today.

He never even had the thought that Shi Yi would lose and be killed by the smaller Stone brother, producing this kind of result.

Obtaining the dual-pupiled individual's body was naturally equivalent to obtaining a great opportunity. If one was able to make the new body synergize with their spirit, then cultivating with it might allow one to soar to an unmatched level. Of course, doing so would carry great risk, with the chances of both body and spirit being ruined during the process. After all, the danger of exchanging one's body was too great, and not many people dared to do such a thing.

The lord of the Demonic Spirit Lake wanted to raise Shi Yi, and unless he was left with absolutely no choice, he wouldn't try to steal this matchless precious body. Unfortunately, Shi Yi had died, and he was left with no choice. The body had drawn the desires of supreme experts outside.

"They are all supreme experts without many years left or those with unmentionable diseases. Their roads ahead are all cut off, and thus they've come here to steal it. The most important factor was that the battle in the Void God Realm stirred all of them up. They were able to witness that the dual-pupils together with the supreme being bone truly could become that powerful." One of the large spiders on the side spoke.

This was an absolute calamity for the Demonic Spirit Lake. If not for the great formation that was unleashed, surrounding this place with a thick mist, precious energy, and numerous symbols, this place would have been destroyed a while ago.

Despite all of this, there were still some supreme experts that rushed in. They destroyed great formations one after another.

"Kill!"

Blood flowed and figures swirled through the air. Precious techniques dazzled the skies.

Hong!

High up in the skies, a spider web appeared. It was sparkling, translucent, and decorated with the sun, moon, and stars. It rumbled with noise as it surrounded an invading supreme expert before refining him.

"This is bad. A damaged formation left behind by a deity has revived and is going to refine us!" Someone cried out. Even though they were smashing their way ahead, there were still dangers at every corner. After all, this was the ancestral ground of the demonic spider race. Formations were covering more formations, symbols interweaved on top of other symbols; there were just too many defensive measures in place.

In the past, great battles involving saints and divine wars have taken place here. This place did not fall even after such catastrophes, so this area naturally had areas it excelled in.

Even though these damaged formations were worn down by the years, the ones invading were not ancient powers, so the Demonic Spirit Lake might not necessarily be destroyed.

"Old spider, you dare... Ah!"

The entire body of the supreme expert within the spider web shone and began to emit a fiery light. After being captured by the deity's damaged web, he couldn't break free at all and was quickly refined. His body began to burn.

"This..." Everyone gasped.

This was just too terrifying! A supreme expert was going to fall here.

Pu n/-0Velb1n

A streak of fiery light soared. This place erupted with a tremendous surge of fluctuations. The true supreme expert exploded, turning into an abnormal fiery light that continuously burned.

The death of a figure like that created quite an impact. Many people began to feel restraining fear. The Demonic Spirit Lake wasn't an easy place after all, and one could easily fall here.

"Hand over that body!" Someone shouted.

Even though there was a powerful cultivator that died, the people here still didn't back off. There were a few that became even more crazy. Blood splashed outwards from time to time. The Demonic Spirit Lake suffered severe losses.

The supreme experts that came were not just from one power. A bloodbath was inevitable. Even if there were restrictions placed in defense, the demonic spider race had already suffered severe losses. If this continued, they were going to be wiped out.

Even though those that came were not as powerful as ancient powers, there weren't that many extremely powerful figures overseeing this place. It was in a decline.

Pu, pu...

Heads tumbled and blood surged into the sky. The Demonic Spirit Lake was dyed red in blood. Its disciples were slaughtered miserably.

Of course, the casualties of the invaders were high as well.

All types of restrictive formations appeared. There were supreme experts that fell. This battle was full of vicious slaughter. Many people's eyes were red from desire.

Spider webs covered everything. These were formed from the most powerful symbols. They were like starry streams as they suspended themselves in the heavens and suppressed in all directions.

The battle became more and more fierce. The ground was covered in blood, and corpses lied everywhere.

Hong

An ancient palace in midair was blasted apart, indicating that powerful supreme experts were going to break into the heart of the restricted land.

High up in the sky lied the most important location of the Demonic Spirit Lake, a particularly magnificent central palace. All of its inheritance was kept there. Shi Yi's body was also here.

“Yi, not good. Who is that woman?!” Someone cried out in alarm.

A female appeared within the battle field. As she strode over, the formation patterns couldn’t stop her steps at all. A single step covered thousands of zhang as she bore through the blood-covered ancient land to enter the restrictive land’s center.

“Who is this person?” Even the supreme experts were alarmed and turned around to look. There were even a few who directly attacked!

However, this woman was extremely unique. The ground seemed to shrink beneath her feet, and in just a few flashes, she avoided all of those terrifying attacks. None of the precious techniques touched her.

Everyone’s hearts were shivering in fear. This woman was definitely powerful and not a normal character. If she had any intentions on that body, then she would definitely be one of their formidable opponents.

Her body was covered in ash-colored clothes, and her long sleeves fluttered about. They covered her impressive figure and gave her a mysterious aura. Upon closer inspection, her clothes were extremely old, as if they were an ancient fashion style. This type of clothing was already rarely seen in this day and age.

A head of hair scattered down, covering her sparkling white and charming face. It was difficult to see what kind of expression she currently had. However, when half of her small face was revealed, it was enough to make everyone cry out in admiration.

It was a dreamlike face, like one out of a fantasy. Even though they couldn’t get a complete view, they could imagine just how wonderful it was. It was a face that only fairy Yue Chan or the witch could compare to.

Wind blew through her hair, giving them a brief glance of her eyes. They carried a watery mist, and from time to time, they swirled with an aged power that made many people tremble inwardly.

When she walked, it didn’t seem very fast, but every step would take her thousands of zhang away. The entire battlefield seemed to have shrunk under her steps, shocking many people.

“This is the earth shrinking technique, a great divine ability from the ancient era!” Someone said while narrowing their eyes.

A few supreme experts could tell that this was not just some similar divine ability, nor was it an exaggeration. This was the true earth withdrawal divine ability, and it was displayed right before their eyes.

One has to understand that once this kind of precious technique is raised to its limit, it would reach an inconceivable level. It was known as one of the world’s fastest techniques, fast enough to stand side by side with the Kun Peng’s speed.

Hong!

A great imprint descended from a certain direction. It flowed with auspicious rainbow colors and scattered down tens of thousands of threads. This precious imprint turned into an enormous divine mountain. It covered up the sky as it suppressed towards the woman.

“Earth Suppression Imprint!” Someone cried out in shock.

This was a powerful precious artifact, one that was extremely well known among precious imprints. During the ancient years, the Sky Overturning Imprint, Earth Suppression Imprint, and the others were extremely famous.

However, as the great imprint descended onto her, she merely opened her hand and produced a symbol from her palm. It directly propped up the enormous mountain and blasted it away.

With a hong sound, the rainbow mountain was sent flying. The auspicious radiance it released illuminated the sky as it left the battlefield. It was actually sent flying out of here.

“Even though it isn’t the ancient earth suppression imprint, it is still a rare magical artifact, yet it was still swept away. This female is so powerful. Exactly what kind of background does she have?” Many people’s eyebrows began to jump, and many supreme experts began to pay close attention.

“It’s her!” The eyes of the Demonic Spirit Lake’s old spider lord rapidly shrunk. He recognized that female, since he had received a detailed report in the past.

When Shi Yi broke free from the Ancient Sacred Courtyard, the golden spider supreme expert that had once personally witnessed this mysterious female followed him out. The golden spider couldn’t see through her at all.

Only after the female disappeared without leaving any indication of her direction did the the great golden spider return. He wasn’t even able to see how she left, but when he returned to the Demonic Spirit Lake, a picture was drawn, informing the lord of what had happened.

When the lord of Demonic Spirit Lake saw this, he was naturally shocked. He firmly believed that the woman from back then had arrived. Her divine abilities were shocking, and it was difficult to see just how deep her power was.

Hong!

The deity’s formation descended. Despite being damaged, the spider web was still extremely powerful. It was difficult to deal with for most people, but this female’s body was extremely flexible. The way she moved was almost inconceivable as she moved through the chinks of the great spiderweb.

The formation’s symbols and patterns were pushed back by the layer of soft light as soon as they approached and completely dissolved.

The woman reached the central palace suspended in the heavens with a single step. She stepped onto the jade stairs and was about to enter the ancient palace.

Everyone gasped. This female was too powerful! She was in a level of her own. Even though all the supreme experts were able to invade the Demonic Spirit Lake by attacking and destroying many palaces, none of them could reach the central palace.

Yet she, who had just arrived, already accomplished this. It was just too terrifying. She made her way through the battlefield, avoiding all the ancient great formations to quickly reach her destination.

Chi

Precious light flew about and magical artifacts rushed about chaotically. The skies seemed to have exploded. Not only were the Demonic Spirit Lake's people trying to suppress that female, even the supreme experts took action. None of them wanted her to succeed.

However, in front of the heavenly palace, she once again used the earth withdrawal divine ability. Sometimes, she backed off, and other times, she approached. It dazzled those who watched. Each step she took resounded with great rumbling sounds.

"Heavens, she didn't stir up any of the symbols and directly entered the heavenly palace through the formation!"

Everyone gasped in shock. The divine lights and magical artifacts all exploded in front of the heavenly palace. When the great formation revived, it began to strike back against the crowd.

"Stop her!"

Demonic Spirit Lake's old spider roared. Many people moved forward. The central palace was thrown into utter disorder.

The ancient formation revived, and ancestral artifacts rumbled. Heaven and earth shook as this place became a land of calamity.

However, this female was too fast. Her steps looked light, but whenever her feet lowered, it was as if the great stars in the skies shifted and mountains and rivers changed. She arrived in front of a praying mat.

This was where a youth with sparkling skin sat. This was precisely Shi Yi, only now, there was no spirit moving within. His eyes were closed and his body motionless.

The Demonic Spirit Lake's lord personally blocked her way. However, with just a sweep of the female's sleeve, it was as if clouds and mists soared, blasting him out into the distance. He was left completely dumbstruck.

It was clear that the other party's cultivation was higher than his, but he wasn't clear just how much higher it was. This was a mysterious woman whose depth could not be seen through.

Her long sleeves shook, and Shi Yi disappeared from above the praying mat. She then turned around to leave. A single step took her hundreds to thousands of zhang away as she departed from the palace. When she moved again, she traveled several li away, crossing the battlefield. When her third step descended, she was already at the mountain gate.

Everyone's magical artifacts and divine abilities descended at the same time. They were all sent towards her body, not willing to let her leave.

The woman didn't seem to pay these attacks any attention and continued to take steps outwards. Her gray clothes were extremely spacious. When she took the fourth step, she directly disappeared from everyone's sight. All of the precious artifacts only hit empty air.

Chapter 395 - Fourteen-Year-Old King

“Too fast! Unbelievable!” Everyone there was completely shocked. Who exactly was this woman? She could actually travel unhindered through this battlefield and directly bring out Shi Yi.

Not only were the people of Demonic Spirit Lake stupefied, even the supreme experts were speechless.

The Demonic Spirit Lake’s ancient formations did not produce their proper effects. They didn’t stop the woman’s actions. She was on a level of her own, avoiding all of the killing symbols.

The supreme experts of the outside world weren’t satisfied with this result. They continued to rush and murder their way in. They were about to succeed, yet in the end, the supreme precious body was taken away by someone else.

“Hurry up and chase!” Someone shouted loudly.

This was just too ridiculous! Everyone had killed their way into the Demonic Spirit Lake, and there were corpses everywhere, yet halfway there, this kind of mysterious woman appeared and brought away Shi Yi’s body. Who would be willing to accept something like this?

Many figures chased after her, entering the boundless great wastelands. However, her figure was already far away. Where would they even go to look for her? The gray-clothed woman was just too fast.

With a single step of hers, the sun, moon, mountains, and rivers seemed to turn in reverse. This wasn’t something that the speed of man could chase after. Her long sleeves fluttered about, and in the blink of an eye, she disappeared from the limits of the horizon.

Endless mountains and peaks rose up and down. There were a few supreme experts who used their precious artifacts to move through the great mountain ranges. They were like streaks of flowing lights as they made their way through mountains and rivers, but not a single trace could be found.

She disappeared just like that, completely vanishing from this world after leaving the Demonic Spirit Lake.

“It’s not that we aren’t fast enough, but rather that she is just too fast. Other than learning the Kun Peng technique, only a few other techniques can even compare.” Someone sighed and said.

The supreme experts that rushed over were all furious. They were left in the dust just like that. They were truly unwilling to accept this!

Of course, if we were talking about who was the most depressed, then it was the people from Demonic Spirit Lake. Shi Yi was originally their ‘seed’ who they placed their greatest hopes on, yet in the end, he died in battle, so his body should belong to them.

Yet when they saw that woman bring Shi Yi’s body away before their eyes, they couldn’t do anything to stop her.

These people were beyond angry. Both sides suffered such heavy losses, yet in the end, neither side received anything. It was truly an example of wanting to cry but no tears coming out.

These experts were all looking, but there was nothing in the great wastelands. The gray-clothed woman had long vanished, leaving everyone in utter frustration and disappointment.

“Ah...” An old supreme expert roared. His lifespan was already short and he wanted to secure a future for himself, yet all he had now was stifling resentment.

“This is the older of the two Stone brothers we are talking about! It is a supreme body that is nearly impossible to find in this world, yet it is gone just like that!” Another elder with an incurable disease also clenched his fists.

“So hateful! Damnit!” Within the Demonic Spirit Lake, curses continuously sounded. The old supreme experts were all feeling great resentment. Their hatred was all directed at the mysterious female.

All of their hopes and efforts came to nothing. None of them were able to obtain anything.

Not long after, the supreme experts from outside this place backed off. The faces of everyone in the Demonic Spirit Lake were ashen. They were almost completely wiped out, yet in the end, they didn’t even obtain anything. How could they endure this?

Soon after, the result of this battle was announced to the world. Every single region was in uproar. The great battle of the Void God Realm had just ended, yet the Demonic Spirit Lake suffered a great disaster right after with many supreme entities involved. It created a huge storm of commotion.

Many people were extremely regretful for not rushing over to witness the Demonic Spirit Lake’s battle. It truly was a pity.

It was just one thing after the next in the wasteland region. This region couldn’t calm down at all. The string of events that took place was just too shocking, leaving everyone shocked.

The results of the Void God Realm battle between the two Stone brothers was revealed. It shook the entire world; Shi Yi was killed, and Shi Hao claimed the summit. He became the only supreme youth of the wasteland region.

What did it mean to be supreme? It naturally meant that there was only one! An individual who was incomparable!

Now, not even pure-blooded creatures were comparable. During that battle, Shi Hao’s performance was equivalent to that of a divine being, enough to subdue any peers. Within the wasteland region, it was hard for him to meet a worthy opponent.

“The greater Stone has died, and the smaller Stone is soaring into the heavens. Who could contend against him?” This was what made everyone sigh with regret.

What if they left the wasteland region? No one could be certain. After all, after the two Stone brothers’ great battle, there was even someone who dared to challenge the domain embodiment. There will definitely be a great disturbance in the future.

“The divine level stage will truly appear, and the day when the great talents of various regions clash isn’t too far off.”

“Fairy Yue Chan and the witch are extraordinarily stunning. These two will inevitably stand on the battlefield and look down on everyone their age.”

Afterwards, everyone was then reminded about the wasteland region's impending chaos. They couldn't calm down at all. The world was in disagreement, and it was possible that an extremely terrifying period of time was coming.

However, based on history, this was the period of time that produced the most outstanding experts. These troubled times were where the greatest talents appeared. This truly was the case.

The outside world was greatly stirred up and clamoring with noise! no ve. lB/1n

"It is truly a pity for the older Stone brother. With this kind of natural gifts, it was enough for him to look down on both the ancient and modern world. Yet in the end, he died an untimely death. Heaven is truly jealous of heroic geniuses!"

The restlessness that was stirred was even greater than everyone had expected. The great sects and ancient countries were all talking about the battle. As long as there were cultivators, there would be discussions on this subject.

"The younger Stone brother is just too formidable. Before the battle, there were only a few people that favored him. They all thought that he was inherently weaker and would be killed by the old Stone brother, yet how did it end? They were all wrong."

"I heard that not only that mysterious male wanted to capture fairy Yue Chan. I heard that the little Stone brother also wanted to forcefully carry the Heaven Mending Sect's fairy back to his so-called village!"

The outside world was stirring with activity. However, right now, none of this had anything to do with Shi Hao.

When he had just returned to Stone Village, the instant his spirit returned to his physical body, he grimaced in pain. His entire body was aching intensely. All of the wounds in the Void God Realm were brought back to his flesh.

This feeling was extremely strange! It was as if his body experienced the great battle and immediately suffered serious damage, making him nearly faint.

When he returned, he felt especially relaxed. When he was fighting the great battle, he was already almost completely depleted of energy. Right now, he couldn't budge an inch, and it was hard for him to even open his eyes.

"This is too awesome! Little Hao won!" Stone Village's people cheered with joy. They were all extremely happy for him.

"Can't sleep yet." Shi Hao grinded his teeth. He forcefully stirred his spirit. This battle was extremely dangerous. He encountered an utterly outstanding enemy and almost died himself. However, the benefits he received were tremendous as well.

He forced himself to stay awake. He brought out the praying mat he obtained from the Kun Peng nest and sat on top. He then began to carefully recall every last bit of this battle.

He was at the border between life and death as he fought against this evenly matched adversary. He would never be able to experience something like this normally. This was the toughest battle he had fought since he was born, so he had to carefully reflect and slowly study it.

When everyone in Stone Village understood Shi Hao's situation, they stopped their celebration and created a peaceful setting for him. They waited for him to stand up again.

Just like that, Shi Hao entered a wondrous state. He sank into a deep state of comprehension. The area between his brows continuously shone, and all types of patterns appeared on his body's surface.

He would wake from time to time and drink a cup of little devil wine to nourish his body and treat his wounds.

His injuries were extremely severe. He slowly recovered while comprehending the dao, creating a strange state of healing. Shi Hao studied the dao for an entire month, and it took an entire month for his injured body to make a full recovery.

When he finally woke, he stood up and noticed that he had already reached the consummate level of the Engravement Realm. He had truly reached the limit, and his strength had increased by a large amount again!

"I studied the dao for a month, and my recovery also took a month?" Shi Hao was completely astonished. This battle had injured him extremely deeply, and the damage had been truly severe.

However, this kind of great life and death struggle carried great opportunities within it. During this month of dao comprehension, he understood a lot more, to a point that it was difficult to express with words. It was extremely beneficial for his future cultivation.

Forget about the other benefits, just the fact that he went from the late stage to the consummate level of the Engravement Realm in one month was a cultivation speed that was absolutely horrifying! It was a speed that would leave everyone greatly shaken!

"Ah, Uncle Hao woke up!" A little brat ran over and cried out happily.

"This is too great! Little Hao is okay and made a complete recovery!" The village immediately bustled with noise. All of the villagers hurried over and released a breath. All of them had smiles on their faces.

"I'm fine. I've made you all worry." Shi Hao was extremely happy. The villagers were who he cared about the most. His loved ones' care made him feel warm inside.

This great battle shook the entire wasteland region.

Only at this moment did Shi Hao truly relax. The villagers were all extremely happy, and they celebrated around the bonfire that night. All types of prey were being roasted or stewed, releasing an extremely alluring fragrance. The fragrance of the little devil wine also wafted in the air far into the distance.

The village was full of activity. Everyone was extremely happy, as if they were celebrating a holiday.

Shi Hao stayed within the village for a while, because he still had important things to do. He had to study the divine imprint. Those lights had been collected into his body.

These things were without a doubt, heaven defying. For the sake of comprehending the dao even further, Shi Hao placed everything else down and sank into a state of isolation, almost cutting himself from the outside world.

“These imprints truly appeared at a great time.” Half a month later, Shi Hao muttered this to himself. He received astonishing gains. This might help him break through the Engravement Realm!

He was currently at the consummate level of the Engravement Realm. He now wanted to break past the paths of the people below him and take a step beyond the highest level of enlightenment. What was more suitable than the imprint of a deity for this?

These imprints were damaged and not complete, but they were extremely profound. They were difficult to thoroughly comprehend at his current cultivation realm. However, this was a type of reference. If he was able to comprehend just a portion, he would receive endless enlightenment.

“So it was actually like this!” He would receive benefits every day. The divine light within his body formed cauldrons, furnaces, bells... they continuously changed. In the end, they truly began to form the Kun Peng. He once again tried to challenge what he couldn’t complete in the past.

If the outside world knew about this, they would immediately be frightened. Even among the dazzling Noble King level figures, there weren’t many that made contact with the domain of transforming divine light into symbols.

Yet right now, Shi Hao was actually evolving them again within his body. He changed the divine lights into the form of a Kun Peng, and even though there weren’t many, it was enough to allow his attacks’ speed to greatly increase.

One day led to the next. Shi Hao had already stayed in the village for more than half a year. He was already a bit over fourteen years old. In the end, he completely broke through the limits of the Engravement Realm, surpassing the basic limits of this realm.

He carefully examined himself and noticed that his strength truly rose rapidly, leaving even him shocked. No matter who he faced in the past, as long as they were in the Engravement Realm, he had confidence in overwhelming them!

Several days later, his entire body shone brilliantly. He began to exceed the Engravement Realm, because there was no longer any reason to remain in this cultivation level. He began to advance into the next great realm.

An enormous hong sounded. He stepped into a different realm!

Now, he was a true Noble King, or more precisely, he could be granted the title king. A fourteen-year-old king; if this was announced to the rest of the world, it would definitely produce a shocking result.

Even if there were some in the past, there definitely weren’t that many. His age alone placed him high above others. He could now look down on everyone else his age.

Chapter 396 - Formation Arrangement

Blood Transformation, Heavenly Passage, Spirit Transformation, Engravement; these four realms made up the complete cycle for most people. It was because it was too hard for them to break through even if they tried!

These were like four great mountains, each taller than the next. The farther one traveled along their path, the more difficult it became. It was like a small path carved on top of a cliff, one that was excruciatingly difficult.

Cultivation was hard for the human race in particular. If not for the ancient people carving out a path and imitating the primitive symbols, it was possible that there wouldn't even be the route that exists today.

The path of humans was full of dangers, one formed from blood and sweat. Generations after generations broke new ground, allowing the path to become wider and wider.

For human cultivators, the four great realms represented everything. Breaking past these was easy to say but nearly impossible to do. Most would only pursue this but forever remain on the road.

Fourteen years old, yet reaching into this fifth great realm; this was simply inconceivable. At the very least, it was a magnificent feat among humans. If this was announced to the rest of the world, it would trigger great commotion.

Formation Arrangement; this is an extremely profound and abstruse realm. Most people who were able to reach this stage were already well past their youth. Time didn't stop for anyone, so what kind of youth was there left?

Shi Hao stood on a tall peak and gazed down on the boundless great earth. The range upon range of mountains before him were lush green and full of life. The mountain rivers were extremely majestic, as if nothing could stop their flow.

He had finally advanced again. Now, in the wasteland region, he could finally be considered powerful no matter what type of race he was compared to.

Fourteen-year-old King; this was a true supreme youth. This fact wasn't exaggerated in the slightest bit. It was hard to find a second person like this throughout the entire great wasteland.

Those at the late stage of the Engravement Realm could be granted the title of lord if they were extremely great. Now that Shi Hao broke through his previous realm and entered a higher level, he could naturally discard the word lord and become a king[1].

"Formation Arrangement, this cultivation realm is quite special. It is complex and mysterious, with every person receiving completely different results. Only those that truly comprehend this realm could rise to greatness."

Shi Hao was speaking to himself. The more he learned, the more he felt that cultivating wasn't easy. After entering this realm, he truly understood how difficult the road before him was.

If the Engravement Realm was a process of imitating other races and carving their symbols in one's own body, then it could be inferred that Formation Arrangement was an even higher level of refinement where one would truly make use of these patterns.

Formation Arrangement was carving formations within one's body; what kind of concept was this? Compared to the realm of strength before, this was undoubtedly a crazy difference in strength!

However, those that actually dared to carve great complex formations within their bodies were few in number. Those that did so were all from clans with great inheritances with safe formations that they always used. However, those lacked the heaven defying possibilities of creativity.

Formation Arrangement; this cultivation realm was a clear divider of cultivators. Most people considered themselves successful after carving only a few simple precious technique formations. Only a minute number would push themselves further to form an inexhaustible killing formation.

Once they accomplished this, their fighting strengths would possess a world of difference.

As a result, even if two people are both at the Formation Arrangement Realm, the one that reached the absolute limit will possess far greater strength.

"The Willow Deity said that those that truly understand Formation Arrangement are few. What exactly is Formation Arrangement? It is a type of initiation, an impressive feat. It definitely isn't just carving some simple formation inside of oneself," Shi Hao said quietly to himself and carefully began to ponder.

He then leapt off the mountain peak and walked towards Stone Village. He had just broken into the Formation Arrangement Realm, so he wasn't in any rush to continue cultivating. Instead, he was rather relaxed.

"Uncle Hao, you've returned!" A small child with snot running from his nose ran over. Right now, Shi Hao was every child's favorite person.

It was because he could bring these little fellows into the mountains, allowing them to run around as they pleased in the great wastelands. They could steal from the nests of vicious birds and catch the young of wild descendants.

Zhizhi! On top of the wall, a small purple squirrel continuously made noise. There was a vertical eye between its brows.

Bark! Not far from there, three lightning dogs turned into golden lights and quickly ran around, Even though they were only half a meter in length, their speed was astonishing as they dashed about with lightning lingering around their bodies.

In the air, there were more birds crying out. Scarlet-feathered cranes spread their wings, and despite the fact that they couldn't fly yet, they glided down from the branches. Their bodies swirled with multicolored light.

Half a year ago, Shi Hao brought these kids into the mountains, bringing back these young creatures. They all matured quite well.

In the future, there really might be a legion of vicious birds and beasts!

"Uncle Hao, when are we going into the mountains again?" Some of the children asked. They all wanted to wander through the great wastelands. For them, visiting those mysterious and dangerous lands was the most exciting.

Not only could they obtain some old medicines and spiritual fruits, they might even pick up a few young beasts.

"All of you need to earnestly cultivate. I'll bring whoever cultivates faster into the mountains," Shi Hao said while laughing.

He helped these kids explain the methods of cultivation and gave them pointers for most of the day. Only when it was about time to eat did this group of lively fellows scatter.

The sound of bird cries ran through the air. A few enormous vicious birds descended, bringing with them a powerful gale. It was precisely Big Peng, Violet Cloud, and Little Green, the Green Scaled Eagle's descendants. However, they have long evolved, and their bloodlines were much stronger now.

These transformations were not unrelated to the Willow Deity. The three birdlings lived by the willow tree and continuously underwent development. They began to awaken their ancestors' bloodlines.

"Violet Cloud, you guys have to learn carefully. I'm going to teach you all a few things," Shi Hao said.

The three birds have also grown up. They were powerful, but Shi Hao still felt that they haven't yet received the primary inheritance of the archaic demonic bird Green Sky Peng, so he had to supplement their teaching. ~~no~~ ~~re~~ ~~lb~~ (In

The very first precious technique he received was from these three young birds. It gave him great enlightenment, and right now, it was time for him to repay this kindness.

The Green Sky Peng and the great Golden-Winged Peng were of a similar race. They were considered the most valiant existences within the descendants of the Kun Peng. Right now, Shi Hao used the Kun Peng's technique to peel back and reveal the techniques of Violet Cloud and the others!

"This is our ancestor's technique?!" Violet Cloud and the others were stupefied, and they all became incomparably excited. Even though their bloodlines were revived, the inheritance that was left behind was in fragments and had long become incomplete. However, they were now able to see such a wondrous and world-shocking thing.

During the following days, Shi Hao continuously broke down the demonic bird's inheritance and engraved it into their hearts, allowing them to slowly comprehend it.

In the end, the great aunt Green Scaled Eagle returned. After listening carefully, she gained profound enlightenment and went into seclusion training.

During the following days, Shi Hao cultivated while also teaching the children. He also divided the precious artifacts he received from the outside world among the villagers.

Zhizhi! A golden streak of light flew over. Hairy Ball had returned together with the big red bird and Second Baldy.

These three would appear and disappear unpredictably, and it could be seen how tenacious they were. They spent their days in the great wastelands in search of the supreme divine treasury.

Shi Hao suddenly thought of something and shot Hairy Ball a look. He learned from the little red bird in the Fire Clan's ancestral rounds that the mountain treasure ended up in the hands of the Zhuyan. His mind was burning with anticipation.

"Hairy Ball, where did you put the mountain treasure?"

His eyes were burning passionately as he looked at Hairy Ball's body. He noticed that some of this fellow's damaged symbols had revived, but other than that, there wasn't much.

Hairy Ball was rather curious and expressed that it had no idea what Shi Hao was talking about.

In the end, Shi Hao brought it back to that quiet place ten thousand li out. Back then, not a single blade of grass grew in that barren place, but now, it was rich with grass and renewed with life.

This was a dried up great lake, with no more water now. Shi Hao quickly returned to this place and carefully searched around.

There was a hole at the bottom of the lake. Back then, Hairy Ball had been buried right here. Shi Hao was immediately shocked when he came here, because there was someone who had rummaged through it already.

The hard and dry mud was clearly dug out. The deepest parts of this place had been scooped out.

Hairy Ball cried out loudly with zhizhi sounds. It then began to frantically scratch its own fur, as if it remembered something. It sent Shi Hao's thoughts and said, "My thing was hidden here. It's gone!"

"Oh no, someone else got to it first!" Shi Hao's mind sank.

Hou... Hairy Ball was furious. Even though it was only the size of a fist, an incredibly intense fluctuation was released. Its golden hairs all stood on end, and its eyes were fiery red, shooting out two beams of light.

The most shocking thing was that it now had three heads and six arms. The bones within its body continuously moved about and made sounds.

Ah... Hairy ball cried out loudly. It couldn't restrain its anger.

Shi Hao was dumbstruck, but soon after, he revealed an excited look. Did Hairy Ball return to how it was in the past? It actually revealed this kind of great ability. When he looked carefully, he noticed that its damaged symbols have recovered quite a bit.

"Zhuyan's precious technique, Three Heads Six Arms divine ability!"

There wasn't much to be gained here, so Shi Hao returned to Stone Village. He carefully studied Hairy Ball, and even though it didn't remember what had happened before, its strength increased by a large amount.

"Hairy Ball, teach me your precious technique." Shi Hao did not let the mountain treasure event get to him, and instead, he seemed rather excited.

"Not bad, the Zhuyan's body technique is definitely an enlightenment of the highest level." The Willow Deity spoke.

In the following half a month, Shi Hao carefully studied and tried to understand the symbols that Hairy Ball recovered.

Forget the others, just the Three Heads Six Arms divine ability was already exceptional enough and could stir up the entire wasteland region. This was an incredibly powerful precious technique that would make even the eyes of powers in the ancient era red.

Unfortunately, Hairy Ball still didn't fully recover. Shi Hao obtained a portion of the Zhuyan's technique, but just this portion alone was already much more powerful than the precious techniques of archaic descendants.

In the following months, Shi Hao earnestly cultivated within Stone Village. From time to time, he would bring the children into the mountains to pick precious medicines and hunt.

During this period of time, he fully cultivated the Zhuyan's technique. He now had another divine ability!

"Hairy Ball, one day, I'll be able to help you recover and restore all of your divine might," Shi Hao said.

Time flowed on, and in the blink of an eye, another two months passed. Shi Hao was almost fifteen years old. He created a stable foundation and further increased his strength. All of his divine abilities were pushed to their limits.

"Uncle Hao, what kind of fist technique is that?" A naughty brat asked.

"Lightning fist!" Shi Hao laughed and replied. He explained it to them. These were the symbols he obtained from the lightning dogs, which he passed onto the children.

Unfortunately, this kind of technique wasn't very useful for him. In the end, he mixed it into the Suan Ni technique, increasing the power of the lightning a bit.

Apart from this, there were still a few small divine abilities that he merged together with the important precious techniques he grasped to increase their power.

At the front of the village, eighty one shining willow branches extended from the thick willow tree. They were green and lush as they gently swayed about. They seemed rather indistinct as primal chaos swirled about them.

Under the willow tree, Shi Hao sat with his legs crossed and eyes closed. His mind was focused on studying a piece of beast skin.

This was something that he obtained from the Void God Realm, and recorded on it was the sword intent of a saint. There was also a small world sealed within that he wanted to open and thoroughly study.

Suddenly, the willow tree swayed, and the primal chaos that was being exuded became even more dense. It immediately surrounded this place, moreover, the Willow Deity transmitted sound mentally.

"The great chaos of the wasteland region is coming soon!"

"What?" Shi Hao's eyes widened. He had always been sitting under the willow tree these days and forgotten about the passage of time. This sudden news left him completely startled. Was this day finally about to arrive?

I translated 王侯 as lord, which is a lower nobility class than just 王, or King. This paragraph is talking about how the 侯 is being tossed from 王侯

Chapter 397 - One Stalk of Grass Cutting the Stars

He was already made aware of the wasteland region's impending chaos a few years ago. Was it finally going to start?

The Willow Tree was fresh and green. All of the charred black parts on its trunk have disappeared. Eighty-one lush and green willow branches descended. Primal chaos filled the air, creating a rather mysterious and great atmosphere.

"Willow Deity, when exactly will it begin?" Shi Hao asked.

"It can happen at any time, and it will take place before a year has passed." The Willow Deity replied in a calm manner. The enormous tree was a lush green and full of life. Green multicolored lights flowing with vitality shone.

Shi Hao sucked in a cold breath of air. Before, he felt that it was still rather far away, but now, it was suddenly about to arrive. It caught him unprepared and left him quite shocked. This signified the deaths of many.

He remained silent for a while. Then, he earnestly asked the Willow Deity for guidance. The two talked for quite a long period of time.

From that day forward, Shi Hao began to cultivate even more fervently to increase his own strength. His few precious techniques were advanced to their peak, and he opened up many new paths for himself.

Shi Hao comprehended the dao while sitting under the willow tree, bathed within its hazy radiance. He studied that piece of beast skin with great effort, trying to understand it by every means possible. The sword intent directly entered his sea of consciousness.

"What a powerful sword intent!" Shi Hao was not able to open up the small world within the beast skin. After calming himself down, he began to study the saint's sword intent step by step.

No wonder this sword intent could fight against him even while they were at the same cultivation realm. The one that created this sword intent was absolutely outstanding and definitely a great figure within the ancient era. His divine might was absolutely world-shaking. This sword intent contained too much; it was great and profound.

The more Shi Hao deduced, the more fearful he became. He could vaguely see the scene of the world being created. This kind of astonishing inheritance was truly rare.

"What kind of sword technique is this?!" He was greatly shaken. He had a feeling that the supreme expert that lost this beast skin must've felt incredibly regretful. This was an object that should have been passed on from ancient times.

After understanding this, he became even more engrossed. He immersed himself within the spiritual world and continued to understand more and more. Eventually, heaven and earth emerged, and a haze circulated between the two.

It was clearly a sword intent, yet it ultimately revealed a world. Heaven and earth seemed like they had just been divided, revealing this indistinct and hazy scene.

Following this, a streak of thick sword energy surged from the earth's surface, entered the clouds, and pierced into the sky. This was a sky connecting sword energy that could throw the heavens and earth into chaos!

"So powerful! It could run through the heavens and down into the earth. Is this a glimpse of being at the peak? If this landed on a creature's body, what would happen? This power is simply boundless!" Shi Hao said quietly.

Without mentioning anything else, just this beast skin obtained from the Void God Realm battle already made it worth it. It completely surpassed his expectations. This was a rarely seen killing technique inheritance.

Shi Hao carefully studied it and continuously polished his understanding. He wanted to thoroughly comprehend it, as he was absolutely fascinated. This was a precious technique derived from the offensive techniques of various families. These techniques were refined together to bring about the creator's own technique.

"Sword formation!"

When he reached this stage of his comprehension, Shi Hao was shocked. This was definitely established by a great ancient figure. He saw traces of many different precious techniques, and the most terrifying symbols were gathered and combined together.

"I still ended up underestimating this sword intent. It is more powerful than I had imagined..."

In particular, since he was currently in the 'Formation Arrangement' Realm, if he carved this formation inside of him, it would be an excellent choice. Shi Hao thought so highly of it that he felt that he could use one of his ten great heavenly passages to nourish this sword intent.

Shi Hao completely immersed himself within it. Ten days later, his understanding advanced a step, and the sword intent changed again.

Brand new symbols and profound meanings emerged.

It was still a hazy world that seemed like it had just separated. Mist curled about, but in between, stars appeared one after another. In addition, there was also a sun suspended in the sky.

A stalk of grass sprouted from the earth within the haze and blossomed with symbols. A sky piercing sword energy was released, hacking towards the sun, moon, and stars.

"This is..." Shi Hao was astonished. His eyes narrowed, and then they erupted with light. He watched carefully in fear of missing something.

When the sword energy filled the skies, some of the great stars began to tremble. As the sword intent passed by, it was as if they were going to fall. How shocking of a scene was this?

Soon after, the sword intent evolved again. The stalk of grass left the earth, and with a single strike, it pierced through a great star and sliced it open. Mysterious symbols bloomed and filled the skies.

“Is this the peak of evolution, or is it a realm only achievable in theory?” Shi Hao asked himself in shock. His mind continuously jumped about eagerly and anxiously.

Finally, all of the sword energy disappeared. Heaven and earth separated, and the mist scattered. The beast skin grew dim. All of the symbols merged together, forming a stalk of grass.

Everything vanished, and only traces of the stalk of grass were left behind on the beast skin. The symbols flickered before gradually growing dim.

“Just a single stalk of grass? The sword intent was birthed from something like this?” Shi Hao was utterly bewildered.

Finally, he began to carefully research it again. He saw a line of text on top of that stalk of grass, and he was immediately greatly shaken. The master of the ancient sword intent was just a stalk of grass!

“Even a stalk of grass could cut apart the sun, moon, and stars...” At this moment, Shi Hao became completely silent. He sat unmoving, as if his mind had received a great blow.

The original form of this ancient might was unexpectedly just a stalk of grass, yet its dao was so profound, reaching an unfathomable level. Shi Hao received a moment of enlightenment and immediately went into a wondrous state of mind.

He sat there just like that, as if he was a clay doll. Everyone within Stone Village had long grown accustomed to seeing this, and no one came to the willow tree to disturb him. They knew that he was cultivating and comprehending the dao on his own.

Almost a month passed just like that. Shi Hao finally began to wake up slowly. His ten heavenly passages then emerged and flickered with multicolored light. They glowed with hazy and auspicious colors.

In particular, symbols densely covered one of his heavenly passages. They ultimately condensed into a stalk of grass that floated within. The heavenly passages were used to nourish spirits, and now, a stalk of grass was added.

In addition, he began to engrave formations within his body, and continuously evolve them. The symbols and sword intent that could hack apart the sun, moon, and stars were like grass leaves as they emerged within his flesh.

Finally, the sword formation began to shrink, turning into a speck of light. Multicolored light was released with Shi Hao’s breathing, and these lights flowed through his blood.

Shi Hao was rather satisfied. Cultivating within the realm of ‘Formation Arrangement’ required one to carve and create formations. Now that he directly grasped this kind of ancestral killing formation, his strength was able to shoot up greatly.

It was clear that this was also a type of cultivation. He continued to move forward along this path.

After Shi Hao grasped this sword intent, the more he experienced it, the more broad and profound he felt it was. Even though it was the primordial symbols of a stalk of grass, he felt that it was incredibly powerful.

“Not even the inheritances of pure-blooded creatures were able to reach this kind of level. It might even be able to kill them!”

Shi Hao then tried to open up the small world again. With a honglong sound, a small crack emerged. The inside was hazy, and he once again saw the two words ‘six dao’.

Unfortunately, he still wasn’t able to truly open it in the end.

“Willow Deity, what is this?” Shi Hao asked for guidance. While comprehending the dao under the tree, he could consult the Willow Deity at any time!

“This piece of beast skin can be used to store things. When your cultivation realm is high enough, it will open by itself.” The Willow Deity replied.

Shi Hao immediately thought of many things. The stalk of grass’ technique was recorded on top of the beast skin, so the small world within must be absolutely astonishing.

Shi Hao continued to cultivate. He used another month’s worth of time to consolidate everything he had, and finally, he stood up.

At this time, he remembered that the Willow Deity had once said that it wanted to pass down its technique to him, only that his cultivation at the time might not have been enough. The Willow Deity had never mentioned it, and he never asked either.

Time continued to pass. Shi Hao was already fifteen years old. He had cultivated for more than a year in the village and felt that it was time to walk around. It wasn’t too good to always be cultivating alone.

Cultivation required a peaceful heart. Excessive stubbornness and effort won’t lead to an increase in speed, for the dao is a natural phenomena. Many people understood this, but it would still be overlooked from time to time.

“Can I still roam about outside?” Shi Hao was a bit worried. This region was about to become chaotic. If he leaves now, many unexpected things could end up happening.

“Go. The creatures from outside this region have arrived, so take a good look around. Interacting with others still has its benefits,” said the Willow Deity. Moreover, it told him that should the chaos ever break out and place him in danger, he could bring out that sparkling willow branch to immediately return to Stone Village.

Back then, the Willow Deity gave him a branch before he left for the northern sea. The dark green jade-like branch was still at his side since he never used it in the Kun Peng nest.

Shi Hao left Stone Village. This time, he brought the big red bird along to bring it to see its master. He gave the scarlet feather that little red gifted to Stone Village to it as well.

“Are you serious, the Fire Clan’s guardian spirit? Being the size of a bean, can it really teach me anything?” Along the way, the big red bird continued to chatter noisily because it was actually really excited.

The descendant of a vermillion bird could very well be its master; just the thought alone made it grin incessantly.

“Youngster, what are you trying to do?” Halfway there, the big red bird cried out miserably. Shi Hao splashed a special type of black paint on its body, making it completely pitch black. The scarlet multicolored light around its body was completely drowned out.

It turned into a crow in the blink of an eye. As Shi Hao flew through the great wastelands, many creatures cried out, thinking that this was an ominous sign.

“So unlucky! I saw a black crow spirit!”

“What a bad omen... No matter how you look at it, it’s a messenger of death.”

The big red bird’s nose almost became crooked from its anger. It was unwilling to suffer this as it flew past this boundless mountain range with Shi Hao on its back. They entered a place with cities and towns.

A month later, the big red bird brought Shi Hao to Fire Nation Capital. They had flown this entire time, so it was clear just how great the distance was.

They descended quite a bit of distance away from the city. The big red bird shrunk down on its own accord and stood on Shi Hao’s shoulder.

With even the big red bird’s body becoming completely black, Shi Hao naturally changed his appearance as well. The battle of the Void God Realm shook the entire world, and his name was still circulating about.

In particular, he killed a few supreme experts. If he just strutted into the big city, once someone discovered him, it could easily end badly. At the very least, there would be quite a few people surrounding him.

“Hairy Ball’s precious technique isn’t bad!” Shi Hao entered the town without a hitch. The war general that guarded the city gates only swept a glance over him. Their eyes didn’t stop on him for long.

Seventy-two Transformations[1], this kind of technique was simply amazing. Unfortunately, Shi Hao only obtained a portion of this inheritance.

An endless stream of horses and carriages ran through the main road, and there were people everywhere. Stores lined both sides of the street, and the shouts of auction houses continuously sounded. This place was bustling with activity.

The peaceful Stone Village and this great flourishing city were vastly different. It almost felt as if he had just been born into a new world.

Fire Nation Capital was extremely large, being one of the wasteland’s biggest cities. All types of creatures could be seen. Shi Hao was shocked to find a few powerful individuals as soon as he arrived. Moreover, they were all quite young, and they were of all different types of races.

“What kind of race is that? How come I’ve never seen it before?” The big red bird’s eyes narrowed as it stood on top of Shi Hao’s shoulder, staring at a few girls with pure white wings on their backs. His eyes revealed a rotten glint.

Shi Hao was also a bit puzzled. They were quite special and didn’t seem like normal feather race creatures, because there were also halos above their heads. They were all extremely beautiful.

Other than this group, they saw other races that they did not recognize. Only after asking around did they find out that these were all young experts from outside this region.

"The battle between the two Stone brothers shook the world. Even the cultivators outside of this region heard about it, and a few interested young experts came here as a result," someone said.

The great sects outside this region were already making preparations to march into the wasteland region.

"During the battle that year, the little Stone looked down on the world. There were creatures from outside this region who weren't convinced and came here as a result."

Soon after, Shi Hao heard a few rumors. Quite a few people knew that he was on friendly terms with the Fire Clan princess, so there were many young experts who wanted to find him through this path.

The dual-pupils shook the ancient world, yet in this era, he was killed. The commotion that was created as a result reached outside this region.

"I refuse to believe that this Shi Hao is truly that powerful!" There were a some creatures from outside this region that walked together and discussed among themselves. Some of them were especially arrogant.

Shi Hao's face remained calm when he heard this.

"Are the two Stone brothers truly that powerful? I want to see for myself just how dazzling they are." An extremely beautiful young lady spoke softly. She was so dazzling that others found it hard to open their eyes. There were a few young experts at her side.

"Yi, that's one of the mysterious region's ten beauties." From the distance, someone cried out in alarm while staring at her.

"Are the two Stone brothers that formidable? They don't seem that great to me. I really want to meet him." Another group of people walked over.

"The smaller Stone is too extraordinary. Who can compete against him? You wouldn't talk like that if you truly saw him." Someone said while sighing.

Quite a few cultivators from outside this region were in the city. They were all powerful.

"Unfortunately, after that battle, the smaller Stone brother never came out again. Some people said that he was suppressed by the Void God Realm's domain lord, and there are others that said that he was already half dead after fighting against the older Stone brother and that it was too hard for him to make another appearance. No one knows whether any of these news are true or false."

Shi Hao was shocked. More than a year had passed, yet so many people were still talking about him.

"I can wait! I want to see this smaller Stone for myself. If he truly dares to show himself, I want to give him a go and see what exactly he is!" Someone laughed coldly.

No one knew that this unreasonably young king was actually standing not too far from them, and that he had entered this great capital.

If you guys ever watched Journey to the West, the Monkey King was known for seventy-two transformations.

Chapter 398 - Divine Tree Guardian Spirit

Fire Nation Capital was extremely large, occupying a large amount of space. It had existed since ancient times, baptised by the endless passage of time. It did not collapse this entire time.

"How unfortunate. We've been here for so many days, yet we haven't encountered a single human race expert. Is the so-called battle between the two Stone Brothers really true? Otherwise, how could there not even be anyone that seems close to them?"

There were a few people who were doubtful. They came from outside this region and stayed within this large city for many days, yet in the end, they didn't even see a single exceptional youth.

"You can't say it like that. The Fire Nation's princess is not simple. She seems to possess the blood of the Vermilion Bird, and she is always changing. I have also seen her a few times, and each time I see her, she would always be much stronger. She isn't a simple figure."

These people temporarily stopped on the streets when they recognized each other. After chatting for a while, they separated again.

People continuously moved about in a seemingly endless stream. This majestic ancient city was flourishing with activity with who knew how many tens of thousands of people entering and leaving each day. It was extremely bustling. When people walked on the streets, their shoulders bumped into each other.

Of course, the most shocking thing was that there were creatures from all different races present here. There were even some races that they had never seen before.

Shi Hao saw many races with bizarre and monstrous appearances. He had never even heard of creatures like them before, but the other people on the street didn't dare to point at or talk about them. It was clear that these creatures were quite powerful, and the people here knew that a loose tongue would only cause trouble.

There were many stores at the sides of the streets, and they were all stores with well-established reputations. There was no lack of medicine, weapon, treasure stores, or restaurants. Many cultivators came in and out of their doors; business was booming.

Shi Hao was extremely relaxed as he walked about. He stayed over a year in the mountains where it was extremely peaceful, to the point where he became a bit lonely. Now that he entered such a bustling world of mortals, he felt extremely comfortable.

"After growing weary of the clamoring of the world, entering a world of peace is a type of pleasure. However, after staying too long in a tranquil place, spending time in a flourishing city has its own type of enjoyment."

Shi Hao spoke to himself. He was rather moved, but soon after, he became baffled. He made the connection that there were two types of cultivators: those that bitterly cultivated in isolation and the free and unfeathered eccentrics in the world of mortals. These were two completely different lifestyles.

“What a large tree!” Shi Hao was shocked. When he arrived at the eastern part of this ancient city, he saw an ancient tree that reached into the skies. It was truly enormous.

Its entire body was fiery red and surging with scarlet multicolored lights. Regardless of whether it was the branches or the leaves, they were all red. The treetop was like a large fan reaching into the sky as it towered in the city. It was clear that this tree was rather special.

What kind of tree was this? The diameter of this tree was at least a few dozen meters in length, and its old bark extended out layer after layer. It was clearly quite ancient. The enormous tree occupied quite a large region.

This tree was even taller than a mountain. It was simply impossible for an ordinary city to contain such a tree. Fortunately, Fire Nation’s capital was large enough and could occupy many enormous mountains. As a result, the amount of space this tree occupied didn’t matter too much.

“This is the Fire God Tree. Back then, it was also one of the Fire Nation’s guardian spirits!” There were people discussing. It was clear that Shi Hao wasn’t the only one that was shocked. Many people that had just arrived in the city had similar expressions.

This place was a well known tourist location. Those that visited the Fire Nation would all take a look here; otherwise, it would be rather regretful.

“This tree has existed since the ancient years and grew until today. Unfortunately, its divine fire has been extinguished and its divine awareness dried up. It no longer possesses any great divine abilities.” Someone said.

This used to be a divine tree guardian spirit? When Shi Hao heard this, his eyes began to dazzle. This was too shocking! He began to inspect it carefully.

This tree was truly enormous and ancient to a ridiculous level. For this tree to grow to this level and experience the endless passage of time, based on normal reasoning, even if its divine flame was extinguished, it should still be able to become great again. It was definitely not an ordinary tree.

However, after watching it for a while, he did not notice any divine fluctuations. It did not possess that kind of aura.

The things those people said weren’t untrue. It had once become a deity, but later on, its divine flame was extinguished. As a result, it became a regular tree.

Shi Hao was extremely interested. He asked around for guidance to find out more details.

“During the struggles between saints in the ancient years, deities fought. This was a period of brilliance, as well as a time of chaos for the world. Powerful figures emerged in large numbers and great talents soared across the sky. The great ancient countries first started during this era...”

This tree came from the Fire Nation’s ancestral grounds, just like the Vermilion Bird. Their powers were closely related, and they both became deities. They were incomparably valiant and surpassed all those around them.

When the Fire Nation became a country, it fought against all sides together with the Fire Nation’s Holy Emperor and established great achievements. Unfortunately, while struggling against large numbers of powerful individuals, it suffered a disaster. Its divine flame was attacked and destroyed, dropping down from the divine altar. The Vermilion Bird and the Holy Emperor were its old friends, and as a result, they brought it to take root in the Fire Clan, allowing it to continue living through great magic. ~~no~~ 11.1n

“Even though it survived, its previous will, the divine flame, and the rest have scattered. It is now simply an ordinary tree.”

“The reason it was able to live for so long is due to the moisture of the Immortal Sprint. However, it can no longer ignite its divine flame again, to the point where it cannot step on the path of dao again.”

Many people were discussing this, and all of them sighed with sorrow and regret. An ancient splendid divine existence ultimately ended up in such a state.

“Wu, you guys have only described one side of the story. It isn’t complete. There is another rumor, only that there aren’t many people that believe it.” An elder walked over and said.

“What other story is there?” Some people revealed looks of shock.

“It is rumored that this tree’s divine fire hasn’t been completely extinguished, but rather that it is undergoing rebirth,” said the elder.

“What?!” Many people became stupefied when they heard these words. If it was reborn again, just how terrifying would it be? It would be unbelievable!

You have to understand that it has existed from the ancient times until now! If this really was true, then who in this world could be its opponent? At the very least, if an ancient deity didn’t emerge, there would be no one that could be its opponent.

“Why do you think there are some great sects that came to form an alliance with the Fire Nation’s imperial family? Rumor has it that it is precisely because they are scared of this rumor.”

“Impossible!” Many people didn’t believe this.

“The descendants of the Fire Nation Capital City have all heard of this rumor, only, not many people seem to pay much attention to it now.” The elder shook his head and left with his hands clasped behind his back.

“There really was this kind of rumor. In the past, I’ve also heard a few elders that discussed this here.” There was someone else that spoke from the side and gave out even more detailed information.

It was rumored that during the country’s sacrifices, the ones that immersed within divine flames were not only the guardian spirit and Fire Emperor, but a portion of it was even poured here to nourish this ancient tree.

“Let’s go and get some tea and food while the sky is still bright.” Someone said and waved towards his companions.

There were many floating palaces in the sky. They were all extremely big and quite far from the ground. They were all located around this ancient tree.

"I believe that elder's words somewhat and don't think that it is too unreasonable. Every time I go up this palace, I always feel like it will help my comprehension of the dao."

After hearing these people talk, Shi Hao's mind was shaken. He looked towards those enormous palaces and revealed a look of shock. He wanted to go up and take a look.

However, just when he was about to pay it a visit, he was suddenly given a fright. The prices were ridiculous! Just a cup of tea was enough to make one go bankrupt!

Ordinary people weren't able to go up at all, and they couldn't fly into the sky either. These were truly like bejeweled jade palaces that were constructed in the sky. They were protected by mysterious formations that prevented them from falling.

The palace sparkled with brilliant lights. Clouds curled up around these palaces one after another. It truly seemed like an enormous divine hall.

Shi Hao walked up the jade steps and entered the biggest palace. He paid the high price and entered. What he saw was quite extraordinary.

Those that could enter were naturally all cultivators. Moreover, their identities weren't ordinary. Otherwise, how could the price be so high? It was enough to make normal cultivators shrink back.

In a sense, this place became the gathering place for Fire Country Capital's cultivators. After entering this luxurious place, Shi Hao encountered even more creatures from outside this region.

Soon after, he felt that the price he paid wasn't wrong and was still rather worth it, because he was able to learn some important information from their discussions.

"Supreme experts seem to have completely disappeared. They are all a bit scared of the imminent crisis and as a result they've gone into hiding."

This kind of news made Shi Hao's eyebrows jump; this was definitely good news. Since those kinds of figures weren't going to jump out, it wouldn't be a big deal even if he revealed his real body.

"The divine aren't better than the mustard seed. This is news obtained from the great sects from outside this region. It seems like those with greater cultivation will suffer a greater impact this time. We should still be okay, right?"

"Wu, I'm pretty sure that the information is valid. Even the supreme experts of the great sects outside this region are backing off, yet their young disciples have stayed behind. The day of great change doesn't seem to be too far off."

Shi Hao chose a location by the window where he could see the enormous ancient tree. He tried to cultivate and found that it was truly a bit easier.

Shi Hao took up residence here, and each day, he would ascend into the luxurious palace and cultivate here. Cultivating within the clamoring of the mortal world was a different type of experience.

The big red bird silently cursed. It couldn't sleep at all like this and could only unwillingly accompany him.

“Yi, something’s not right. This is so terrifying!” Several days later, he made a shocking discovery, because when he brought out the Vermilion Bird’s true feather he obtained from the Holy Emperor Palace, he experienced an ancient will that was difficult to comprehend.

If he simply tried to sense it without this true feather, he wouldn’t have experienced anything. However, when he held this precious red feather, he seemed to hear a great heartbeat.

This ancient tree wasn’t ordinary. It possessed a type of grandeur and a tremendous vitality, only, those outside couldn’t sense it.

At this time, even the creatures from outside this region that entered this place were ignored when they talked about him.

He hurriedly requested a private room, and then he used the ancient deity’s dual-pupil to inspect the enormous ancient tree. However, he was disappointed in the end, since he wasn’t able to see through it.

In the end, only when he held the Vermilion Bird’s feather again did some changes take place.

Shi Hao was astonished when he saw a few indistinct scenes within the tree. The dual-pupil alone wasn’t enough; he unexpectedly needed the sacred object of the Vermilion Bird race in order to see this.

“A door created from a pair of Vermilion Bird wings!” Shi Hao’s heart was greatly shaken. It truly were the wings of a Vermilion Bird within the tree, and it was flowing with auspicious light.

In addition, behind the Vermilion Bird gates was a golden coffin, and it blocked the cave entrance.

Shi Hao strained his eyes and did everything he could to the point where he was about to bleed from his eyes. Finally, he saw that there was a male within the golden coffin, and he wasn’t moving.

He immediately shivered. His heart began to pound intensely.

This male was too unusual. His aura was astonishing, and in addition, he seemed especially similar to a damaged statue he saw within the ancestral grounds’ Holy Emperor Palace. Huo Ling’er had told him previously that this was the Fire Clan’s Holy Emperor!

The golden coffin blocked the entrance to a cavern. What was inside? Shi Hao trembled inwardly. He never expected to encounter such a great secret!

Chapter 399 - Gathering of Creatures from Outside the Region

The Fire Clan’s former guardian spirit took root here, and at the base was a pair of Vermilion Bird wings that formed a door. Inside was the ancient Holy Emperor’s golden coffin which blocked the entrance to a cave.

How could anyone not be shocked by this scene? Shi Hao broke out in cold sweat. He felt like he had just stumbled upon a great secret.

“The Fire Nation is quite unordinary. Rumor has it that several great sects allowed their disciples to enter the Fire Nation’s ancestral grounds to search for something.”

“Could it be a secret to becoming a true deity? Even if there is such a thing, it probably wouldn’t be in the ancestral grounds.”

A few young experts from outside this region were talking among themselves. They didn't seem to be scared of anything.

Shi Hao was startled. Were the words of these people reliable?

There were a few who entered the luxurious palace and sat down and began to discuss a similar topic. However, the things they talked about were completely different.

"In my opinion, these great sects are looking for the source of the impending calamity. It is entirely likely for it to originate from this Fire Nation."

These words left many puzzled. Up until now, not many people truly understood the implications of the great disaster and why it was going to happen.

Shi Hao took a deep breath. He made his final attempt to see past the golden coffin into what lay inside the cavern.

He put in all his effort. The divine individual's eye shone, and then turned into dao patterns, merging together with him. His sight immediately pierced through the space in front of him.

Not only was the divine being's eye trembling, even Shi Hao's own eye was in pain. Blood trickled out from his eyes. He circulated his divine force to the extreme, since he really wanted to see the truth inside the cave.

Finally, he was able to see a blurry outline of what lied behind the golden coffin. The ancient tree was deep and immeasurable, as if it was connected to an ancient world.

A hazy mist wafted about. He saw what appeared to be a ground full of corpses as well as many ruined weapons. It seemed like a boundless and gloomy ancient battlefield.

However, in the blink of an eye, those things concealed themselves again. Holy radiance surged violently, and it was as if he was back at the Kun Peng nest where that gate of light was. Mysterious energy swirled about.

"Yi, Lady Qianqian arrived, one of the mysterious region's top ten beauties! She is an extremely well-known figure in the younger generation." Someone muttered with a fiery expression in his eyes.

Shi Hao had already completed his probing. When he looked outwards, he saw a young girl. It was precisely the beautiful creature from outside this region he saw when he had just entered Fire Nation's capital.

She was clearly not of the human race, since there was a rhombus shaped imprint between her brows. Apart from this, there was also a pair of jade horns on her forehead that seemed like dragon horns. They were quite short, and they flowed with radiance around her hair. It gave her an additional unique sense of beauty.

Apart from this, her stature was not much different than that of the human race. Her appearance was extremely gentle and beautiful, however, from time to time, a sharp glint would emerge from her eyes.

"Mysterious Region?" A flash of light flew past Shi Hao's eyes, because he knew that his own parents had entered the mysterious region. In the end, his grandfather also went there.

He really wanted to know the circumstances of that region, but rarely do creatures from that region enter this one. This time, cultivators from more than one region entered the wasteland region.

There were a few people around Lady Qianqian, and they were all quite powerful. It was clear that they were all well-known figures from the mysterious region. They picked a table and all sat together.

“Lady Qianqian, I’ve heard that your genius older cousin has had success recently and has returned from the western sect. Did he not come to the wasteland region? Based on his character, after hearing about the battle of the two Stone brothers, he definitely would’ve come!”

Many people trembled inwardly. Even though he was accepted into the Western Sect, he didn’t seem like someone from a sect like this at all. Every time he came down from the mountains, he would always challenge others. He was full of vigor, and it seemed like he would challenge whoever he saw. He was an extremely terrifying individual.

Rumor has it that he cultivated the Vajra Unbreakable Body and has reached the absolute peak with his physical body. He always plowed through his enemies and rarely suffered defeat.

The Western Sect was also known as the Western Paradise Sect. It was on a level similar to the Heaven Mending Sect and Sky Severing Sect. It was known as an immortal inheritance and crossed over several regions. The Vajra Unbreakable Body is one of their great secrets, and those that were able to obtain such an inheritance were all rather formidable.

“He probably came,” said Qianqian. Her hair scattered behind her. Her eyebrows were rather light, and when she smiled, it was as if a flower was blooming.

Many people were shaken after they heard this. Those from the mysterious region all knew how strong that madman was. He was someone that they never wanted to meet.

The mysterious region was an extremely great region. Not only was the territory that it covered vast, it was a famous place where numerous great heroes emerged from. The foundation of the Western Sect was in this region.

“It’s just a madman. He can only show off in the mysterious region.” Someone said this in an extremely cold voice. It immediately made the atmosphere more tense.

There was actually someone who dared to speak like this, as if they weren’t worried about that madman at all. That person’s strength was definitely unordinary. Everyone looked towards a jade table and saw that there was a single person sitting there.

His appearance was ordinary, and he didn’t seem to exude a particularly terrifying aura. He seemed like a human, but he definitely wasn’t, because behind him was a pair of pure white wings. Above his head was also a shining halo.

“A feather race expert with imperial blood!” Someone gasped. This was a rarely seen figure within the feather race, one with blood that surpassed the king blood. When he grew up, he would most likely become the race’s lord. nove)lb-In

What region did he come from? Many people were making their speculations, for the feather race was a large race. Its members could be found in each major region, so if the race truly united, their power would be terrifying.

The people from the mysterious region looked over and stared at him. The expressions of those by Lady Qianqian's side were all unpleasant. The atmosphere was a bit tense.

Peng

Right at that moment, the palace doors were pushed open forcefully by a few individuals. Several individuals entered, and their expressions were overcast. They didn't seem to be too happy.

"Yi, it's actually the flood region's creatures. From the looks of it, they definitely paid the princess a visit but only ended up before a closed door." Someone muttered this, because this wasn't the first time such a thing has happened.

Recently, the Fire Clan's Huo Ling'er had been pestered like crazy. There were many people who wanted to find the 'little Stone' through her, so in the end, she had to refuse everyone and disappear from the public eye.

"What is so special about her? Isn't she just the princess of some human race? The wasteland region is finished. Let's see how much longer she can remain arrogant for!"

The expressions of these creatures were downcast and full of anger. They weren't humans, but they were currently in humanoid forms. Black air seethed from their faces.

"The wasteland region is finished. In the future, the Fire Nation won't even exist anymore. At that time, this princess or whatever would be the same as a single stalk of grass!"

They were extremely angry. Their words were cold, and waves of killing intent seeped out from them.

Someone recognized that these were Black Cloud Race experts from the flood region. They possessed the demonic earth's black cloud force. They now took human forms, and every single one was strange and powerful!

When the flood region was mentioned, everyone thought of that black cloud demonic earth. It had produced an unequalled expert, and this individual even fought his way into the mysterious region to fight against the old sect master of the Western Paradise Sect.

From the ancient times until now, just how many were there that dared to provoke the Western Sect? The monkey, and a few of the Black Cloud Clan's supreme experts from endless years ago were probably the only ones reckless and daring enough to slaughter their way into the Western Paradise Sect.

"Could it be that you all still want to fight against the smaller Stone brother?" Someone asked while looking at the Black Cloud Race's experts.

"Heng!" One of the Black Cloud Race's experts snorted and said, "We don't care about him, but there are people from our race who want to talk to him."

Everyone revealed strange expressions. They had heard that the Black Cloud Clan was becoming richer and more powerful by the day. In recent years, they produced several formidable geniuses, and it was likely that these were the people who wanted to test out the little Stone.

“These creatures from outside this region are just too domineering. They are incredibly disrespectful towards our wasteland region.” Someone muttered. There were naturally quite a few human experts here.

“The wasteland region only has the Archaic Divine Mountains that have some kind of backing. However, during the great disaster, they will probably close their gates. As for the humans, they are truly weak...” A creature from the mysterious race shook his head.

Quite a few people agreed with these words, and quite a few of them were humans from outside of this region.

“If the humans here were like fairy Yue Chan or the witch, then those characters definitely wouldn’t suffer from such contempt. Currently, there is only that little Stone, and we don’t even know if he is dead or alive. Could it be that he truly died within that decisive battle, disappearing from this world?”

“Regardless of whether it is the bigger or smaller Stone, if they are still alive, a single finger would be enough to crush you all to death!”

Someone said this in a low voice. It wasn’t clear where this voice came from, making it hard to find out who it was that said this.

Shi Hao became speechless. This definitely wasn’t him boasting about himself. When he wanted to find out who it was that said that, the voice had already been cut off.

“Truly arrogant! You actually dare to show off in front of us. If you have the strength, then come out and fight!”

By coincidence, Shi Hao had just walked out from the private room. He wasn’t trying to face off against these people, but instead to head towards Lady Qianqian’s area to ask about the mysterious region’s situation. He wanted to see if he could get any information about his parents.

However, in those creature’s eyes, Shi Hao seemed like he was provoking them. Someone got up as soon as he finished speaking and even walked over. It was as if he was accepting his challenge.

“Good, you have guts, actually walking out. Do you want to fight it out against me?” This creature was seething with anger, and his eyes were cold.

“Your spiritual awareness seems to be a bit lacking. I wasn’t the one that spoke. You’ve got the wrong person.” Shi Hao shot him a glance and said these words.

Everyone became speechless. This human brat seemed rather wimpy, but weren’t his words just now a type of contempt? Was he mocking the senses of the expert from outside this region?

“You... are too arrogant!” This creature from outside of this region had a pair of fiery bull horns on his head. Even after changing forms, he still had this trait from his clan. It proved that he belonged to the Flaming Bull bloodline. Even his temper matched his race, he was easily angered.

Shi Hao naturally didn't bother paying him any attention. He walked with large steps over towards where Lady Qianqian was.

"Don't take another step!" The face of the young expert from the Flaming Bull race fell. He reached out towards Shi Hao's shoulder.

"Are you looking for a beating?!" The big red bird that was napping opened his eyes. Currently, his body was entirely black like a crow. When it saw the hand descend, it angrily widened its eyes.

With a hong sound, a pair of enormous wings reached out, creating a sharp pi pa sound. The big red bird directly slapped this Flaming Bull Race expert in the face. It was extremely loud and clear.

Everyone became dumbfounded. It was just a crow, yet it was so domineering. It gave a creature from outside this region a slap on the mouth!

"Don't provoke me, or this grandpa will beat you until you will wish you were dead!" The big red bird sad arrogantly. His heart was jumping wildly, because it never expected that the few methods that Second Baldy taught him would be so precise. It didn't miss, since the other side couldn't dodge at all.

"You... should die!" The Flaming Bull expert was about to rush forward. It was so angry that its entire body was shaking.

Pa

The big red bird was extremely straightforward. A wing that was seemingly formless sent the Flaming Bull expert flying out of the palace. It struck cleanly against his mouth.

"Second baldy was that powerful? He taught me a few tricks before leaving. If I knew how strong he was before, I would have made him spill everything!" The big red bird was extremely regretful. These were the few 'small abilities' that Second Baldy taught him before leaving Stone Village.

The creatures from outside this region were all shocked. Who was this person? Even the bird that he raised was so powerful. What about himself?

"Don't irritate this grandpa, or else I'll beat you all to death!" The big red bird swept his gaze through all the cultivators here.

The creatures here were all petrified. They were just looking down on the humans of the wasteland region, yet this kind of youth appeared. The bird he raised was already so arrogant and powerful to a ridiculous level. It made many of the creatures here go crazy!

Chapter 400 - Overbearing

Who was this youngster? What kind of background did he have? The current situation baffled quite a few people. The bird on his shoulder was enough to send the Flaming Bull expert flying.

Moo...

A long roar sounded. Outside of the palace door, by the jade steps, the expert that had been struck on the mouth revealed his original form. It was an enormous bull that was entirely blood red in color. It was suffused in a fiery light as it rushed towards the palace.

The horns of the massive bull were bright red like blood and sparkling with light. They were incredibly sharp as well. It directly charged at Shi Hao. Even though the hateful bird was the one who attacked him, he was going to get even through Shi Hao, because he was the bird's master.

"That bull really has a one-track mind, crying and hollering in my direction. Should I change my tastes? Recently, the food has tasted rather bland. How about I get a good meal out of this fat cow." The big red bird said.

With a xiu sound, it flew outwards. Its entire body was black, and it was like a black sun as it swooped down. Its sharp claws quickly enlarged; this was another one of the small abilities that he obtained from Second Baldy.

Dang

Sparks flew everywhere as one of the big red bird's claws struck against the bull's horns. Resounding noises rang through the air. An expanse of symbols appeared, and the other claw struck towards the bull's head. Rainbow colored divine light began to flicker.

Resplendent symbols blossomed. The big red bird's claw seemed like it was going to hack through the other party's skull, giving the Flaming Bull a great fright. It immediately lowered its body.

This bird was just too formidable, leaving the Flaming Bull completely shaken. It felt like the other party's divine strength wasn't that profound, but for some reason, it couldn't avoid any of its attacks. Regardless of whether it was the wings or those claws, they all possessed some kind of spiritual nature that made them accurately land on its body.

"Flying Phoenix Claw!" In the distance, the young Feather Race expert with emperor blood revealed a deep divine radiance within his eyes. His aura immediately erupted as he stared at the big red bird with astonishment.

"What? That's the divine ability of the phoenix - Flying Phoenix Claw?" Some people cried out in surprise from the side.

Quite a few people revealed looks of shock. As long as the technique was tied to the True Dragon, Divine Phoenix, and other creatures of that level, even if the technique wasn't complete, it would still be formidable and possess shocking might.

Techniques belonging to the Archaic Vicious Ten, even if they were only fragments and extremely damaged, would still possess great influence. It would even be enough to allow a sect to quickly flourish.

Flying Phoenix Claw was naturally one of the formidable precious techniques that the Divine Phoenix passed down. Only, this kind of divine technique had been lost in transmission since the ancient era and was no longer being passed down.

"It's extremely damaged and can only be considered a small divine ability. However, there is still a few interesting mysteries within it that are worth studying." Someone said in a low voice.

"Little calf, you better remember this grandpa's words and behave yourself. Otherwise, I'm going to eat you," The big red bird let this creature go and flew back to Shi Hao's shoulder.

When everyone heard this, they all felt that this bird was truly unbridled. This tone of voice was definitely not something that ordinary people could match.

Shi Hao didn't say much and continued to walk forward towards Lady Qianqian. He was not affected by the conflict at all.

The experts from outside this region all revealed looks of astonishment. They all felt that this youth wasn't simple. The bird alone was already formidable, so the owner definitely had to be much more so.

"Wait a moment!" A cultivator from the Black Cloud Race opened his mouth and walked over. "Was that precious technique the Flying Phoenix Claw?"

"Is there a need for me to tell you?" The big red bird show him a look of disdain.

Many people watched quietly. After all, even though the Flying Phoenix Claw was a damaged precious technique, there were a few shocking symbols inside. If they were refined, they could become extremely precious.

The faces of the experts from the Black Cloud Race became overcast.. He wanted to talk to Shi Hao, because in the end, the big red bird was just a pet raised by the other party. If he could only talk to this bird, then it would be lowering his own status.

"Friend, you seem to be a bit too self-confident. I am talking to you." The expert from the Black Cloud Race spoke. His eyes did not show good intentions as he stared at Shi Hao.

Shi Hao didn't even pay him any attention. He had already heard that there were several experts from the Black Cloud Race who wanted to find out his whereabouts from Huo Ling'er. They wanted to bring him back for interrogation; wasn't this a bit pompous and overbearing?

"You dare to ignore this grandpa, it seems like your mouth also deserves a few slaps." The big red bird revealed a vicious glint. It had never been of particularly good character; to be more precise, it wasn't some good bird at all.

"Friend, the Flying Phoenix Claw is tied to my race. It is a divine ability that one of my clan's supreme experts grasped. I want to ask how your bird was able to obtain it?" The Black Cloud Race's expert continued to press forward.

"You truly have no sense of shame. Just a guy that's randomly emitting black smoke, yet you want to say that this precious technique is your clan's precious technique. Are you trying to get it because it's righteous or something? Your reasoning is too stupid." The big red bird mocked.

The expert from the Black Cloud Race released a cold snort. When he saw that Shi Hao didn't pay him any attention, he brought out a precious technique. A haze began to spread outwards.

Scarlet multicolored light flickered within the big red bird's eyes. A wing quickly slapped over to scatter the black smoke, but it found that the haze didn't scatter at all and continued to surge forward.

"Do you really think that obtaining some odd bits and pieces of the Divine Phoenix precious technique would allow you to do whatever you wanted? It's just some small dao!" The black cloud expert sneered. Black smoke began to surge, and not only did it surround the big red bird, it was trying to suppress Shi Hao as well.

Suddenly, fiery light was scattered outwards. Not only were there the divine flames of the Vermilion Bird, there was also another type of divine radiance. They were also obtained from Second Baldy. They were currently being released from the big red bird's mouth. It immediately set the black smoke aflame, creating chi chi sounds.

The expert from the Black Cloud Race moved backwards. Half of its body was set aflame.

Pa

Immediately after, the big red bird stretched out a wing, similarly striking the mouth and sent him flying back to the jade steps below.

"Friend, you are a bit too arrogant. By using the vicious bird to inflict harm, are you looking down on us?" Several experts from the Black Cloud Race stood up at the same time and moved forward.

Everyone revealed strange expressions. This race was truly not good to provoke. They had formidable figures among their ranks. Endless years ago, their ancient ancestor had even fought against the Western Sect's master and displayed a part of the Divine Phoenix's precious technique. His divine might was matchless.

Hong!

The big red bird's entire body shone, and dazzling scarlet multicolored light bloomed from its pitch black body. It shone like a resplendent sun, exuding a terrifying might that seemed like it could destroy the nine great heavens.

This even left Shi Hao shocked. It seems like Second Baldy's background wasn't simple, and the small abilities he passed onto the big red bird weren't ordinary at all.

The creatures from the Black Cloud Race all backed up and were scared stiff. Their faces paled. This was truly a type of humiliation. That youth hadn't spoken a single word from start to finish, and just the bird alone blew all of them back.

"Don't provoke this grandpa. If you don't hurry up and make yourselves scarce, I'll pile you all up into a mound!" The big red bird said.

At this time, Shi Hao had already arrived in front of Lady Qianqian and paid the proper etiquette as a cultivator.

When those from the mysterious region first saw him come over, they all bore hostility. However, after seeing the 'crow' on his shoulder display its might, they all grew apprehensive and didn't dare to act recklessly.

However, these people were still a bit unresigned. Lady Qianqian was one of the mysterious region's top ten beauties and was extremely well known. Her status among the younger generation in particular was extremely high.

Yet right now, a youth from the wasteland region actually wanted to worm his way into being friends with the mysterious region's pearl and have a chat. This was like a direct provocation towards these young experts that were 'protectors of their flower'.

"It seems that I have yet to ask this brother for his name." Lady Qianqian spoke. Her pure white jade-like face carried a soft smile. She seemed to be a bit curious about this rather powerful youth.

"I remember! He is... That Bird Grandpa from the Void God Realm. He is on extremely good terms with the small Stone!" Suddenly, someone spoke up, as if he suddenly woke up.

"What? It was the shameless duo?" Someone cried out in shock. However, he shook his head again soon after. Bird and Coin grandpa weren't that young.

"It's definitely him. The bird on the shoulder has the same morality and conduct. As for age, it could naturally be covered up in the Void God Realm." Someone made this deduction.

Shi Hao didn't express any opinion. His face carried a faint smile.

"I have heard previously that the lady is a heavenly beauty with magnificent style and talent, a moon within the mysterious region. Today, I am able to see that it was a well-deserved reputation." Shi Hao flattered.

Everyone loved to hear praises, especially a beautiful girl, as they naturally liked hearing other people compliment their beauty. However, Lady Qianqian only smiled lightly and said, "This brother praises too much. I do not dare claim to be as such."

"I am particularly interested in the mysterious region and hear that there are many famous mountains, temples, and hidden treasures. I've always wanted to visit it for myself..." Shi Hao started a conversation. He wanted to learn about the mysterious region's great powers.

Lord Qianqian didn't know where he came from, but she didn't speak rudely. "The mysterious region is truly divine earth. No one knows just how many great experts rose from this place, the Western Sect's foundation lies there. In addition, there are remnants of the Vicious Ten, as well as the Immortal Mountain. If this brother wants to experience it for himself, there are many miraculous things to search for."

The two began to chat, and both of them had smiles on their faces. They seemed to be on rather good terms.

Right at this time, the palace's doors were blasted open, and several young experts walked in. They were all rather extraordinary, and one of them had a particularly impressive appearance. A head of purple hair scattered down on his shoulders, and streaks of cold lightning shot out as he opened and closed his eyes.

His physique was sturdy, and divine splendor flowed from his pores. There was an explosive force to his body, as well as a type of unruliness. "Who are you? Even someone like you dares to sit next to the lady? Get lost!"

Everyone became speechless. This was just too overbearing and tyrannical!

Even Shi Hao revealed cold light from his eyes. Ever since he left the village, he hadn't encountered someone who berated him like this yet. This fellow was ridiculously unbridled and aggressive.

The big red bird was also stupefied. He was speaking to the devilish brat like this? In the past, there had never been such an egotistical person like this. Those that dared to behave rudely were eaten, not to mention those who were unreasonable like this fellow.

Only those of the mysterious region shivered inwardly. They were well aware of this person's shocking identity. It was precisely Lady Qianqian's cousin that was known as a madman. They were all extremely fearful of the strength behind this individual.

After all, rumor had it that he was an important descendant of an important figure in the Immortal Mountain. His character had always been like this as well, extremely overbearing. The younger disciples that saw him walking around in the mysterious region would always avoid him, since they weren't willing to provoke him.

The Immortal Mountain was comparable to Western Paradise Sect. It had an extraordinary status and possessed an extremely terrifying inheritance.

However, this sect did not stretch across multiple regions, and its numbers weren't great. Its important figures rarely made an appearance in the outside world, and the sect did not expand outwards. However, it was still ranked above many of the great sects of the various regions.

Recently, this young man had always been chasing after Qianqian, so now that he saw a youth sitting next to her, chatting in such a joyous manner without even trying to cover anything up, he immediately became hostile, telling Shi Hao to get lost.

"Did you not hear him?!" Someone said from the side, and it was clear that this youth was trying to ride the momentum.

"You all are finished!" The big red bird cried out.

Shi Hao glared outwards, and his body erupted with a berserk aura in just a split second. Several individuals felt their blood and qi swirling uncontrollably within them from the pressure and backed up in retreat. Apart from that one youth, they all coughed out large mouthfuls of blood.

Everyone became shocked. The master of that crow was formidable after all!

"You are the one that's finished!" The youth shouted.

Shi Hao released a cold snort and reached out with a large hand. Symbols flickered, and with a honglong sound, it suppressed downwards. He caught him with a single movement and then began to violently give him a beating with pi pa sounds.

The cultivators from the mysterious region were all horrified. This youth had provoked a great disaster. He actually dared to beat the mouth of that person! Quite a few people in this palace might get caught up in this.

It was because they knew that the Immortal Mountain was fiercely protective of their people. Even though they didn't have many people, they were all shocking experts. The reason this youth was able to act so domineeringly was because no one dared to provoke him.

"You..." The youth shouted angrily.

Shi Hao reached out and pointed at the place between his brows and probed his sea of consciousness. In that instant, he understood a lot. He suddenly understood why he dared to act so overbearingly.

“So it seems like you are from the Immortal Mountain. Even though its numbers aren’t great, they are an ancient land that rivals the Heaven Mending Sect and Heavenly paradise Sect.” Shi Hao laughed coldly.

Soon after, his mind trembled again, because he received another extremely important piece of news. After his grandfather the Great Demonic God entered the mysterious region, he ultimately entered the Immortal Mountain.

“What?!” Shi Hao was greatly shocked. The Immortal Mountain might have been connected to his parents.

He carefully probed this youth’s sea of consciousness, and his face continuously became overcast. This arrogant and tyrannical fellow might even have an extremely faint blood relation to him.

This truly was an unexpected harvest. Just now when he was chatting with Lady Qianqian, he was just beating around the bush. Wasn’t information on his parents what he truly wanted to know? He never thought that he would be able to obtain such important clues from this domineering youth’s body.

“You dare to act against me...” When the youth was released, he glared at him angrily with vicious eyes.

“Who do you think you are? I’m going to discipline you properly in your parents’ place!” When Shi Hao finished speaking, he pulled him over and began to slap his face repeatedly. The sounds that were released were extremely ear-splitting.

Everyone became dumbfounded. Did this youth go crazy? Was he trying to get himself killed by the Immortal Mountain?!