Chapter 1101: Robbery

“Okay,” Su Ping agreed.

He, too, thought the efficiency was too low.

Besides, he also considered it as the best solution to the trial’s first test.

They could loot the ultimate treasures of other star zones first. In the end, those with the most treasures would be the most likely to win the competition over the key!

“Should we leave directly, or should we inform them?” asked Shuai Qianhou.

Either way, their teammates wouldn’t feel happy. Su Ping asked back, “What do you think?”

Lost for words, Shuai Qianhou cursed him for his cunning mind. If anything happened to their teammates, Su Ping would surely blame everything on him when their master asked them.

“I think we should inform them; they probably want to get away too. After all, they can’t possibly win the key if they’re stuck with us,” said Shuai Qianhou.

“Okay.”

Shuai Qianhou gathered everyone shortly after.

Once all the team was present, Shuai Qianhou informed them that he and Su Ping were going to attack the candidates of other star zones, and that their lives could be at risk if they tagged along. It would be time for goodbyes if they were unwilling to follow.

The others were smart enough to stay behind since he had put it so frankly.

Meanwhile, they were puzzled and shocked. Attack candidates of other star zones? Is it really appropriate?

Shouldn’t their priority be finding the key?

Wanyan Shuang frowned. She had wanted to leave the team, but hesitated when Shuai Qianhou offered the choice.

It would be difficult for her to survive without the ultimate treasure, if she encountered people of other star zones.

“If I follow you, can you give me one of the other star zones’ ultimate treasures?” asked Wanyan Shuang.

Shuai Qianhou glanced at her and said, “Of course not.”

There was no such thing as having too many ultimate treasures.

Besides, they weren’t really short of Wanyan Shuang’s help.

Shuai Qianhou would’ve finished her off if she hadn’t switched sides quickly.

Heaving a sigh in her heart, Wanyan Shuang said, "It's time we say good time then. Good luck."

"Same to you," said Su Ping, chuckling.

Diaz's expression changed constantly. He alternated between looking at Su Ping and then Shuai Qianhou, but he couldn't gather enough courage.

He suddenly thought he would have been better off staying on the branch continent earlier.

Competing over the key was too dangerous.

"Junior brothers, we'll only hold you back if we follow you. We can only wish you good luck now," said Yu Jingze solemnly.

Shuai Qianhou nodded.

"About the tokens..." Elena hesitated.

Shuai Qianhou raised his eyebrows and said casually, "I have to keep one of the tokens for myself. Although it's possible that I'll find more tokens, I'd like to make sure I have one right now. I gave away three tokens earlier, and I can only offer three more at the moment. Senior Brother Su, do you want one?"

Su Ping nodded. "If you insist, yes."

Shuai Qianhou was lost for words. The guy was speaking as if he were giving it to him forcefully!

"Only two tokens left," said Shuai Qianhou.

He had to cooperate with Su Ping, and didn't want things to become too intense between them.

Yu Jingze and the others looked at each other in bewilderment. Elena said, "We'll continue exploring as a team. Two tokens will be enough for us; maybe we'll pick up others."

"I don't need any," said Wanyan Shuang to them with a glance and a headshake.

Yu Jingze and the others felt relieved.

Shuai Qianhou immediately took out a pair of tokens and gave them to Yu Jingze. He then gave one to Su Ping and said, "It's time we say goodbye then. I hope you'll be lucky enough to find the key and the tokens."

"You should be more careful too," said Yu Jingze and the others with concern.

Su Ping looked at Diaz and said, "You'd better keep a low profile and hide when you find a token. I'm still waiting for you to catch up with me."

Diaz felt dazed. This time, instead of acting tough, he asked out of reflex, "You're not planning to win the legacy?"

"I'll try my best and see where fate leads me," said Su Ping with a smile.

Shuai Qianhou couldn't help but glance at Su Ping. He didn't believe that kind of crap.

Diaz snapped out of his daze. He thought that Su Ping had at first wanted him to catch up after reaching the Celestial State. Was he just being nice, or was it a provocation?

He shook his head and said to Su Ping, "In any case, I hope that you'll survive."

Su Ping was stunned for a moment. He then glanced at him and smiled. "I will." After everyone said their goodbyes, Su Ping and Shuai Qianhou quickly moved forward.

"Follow me."

Shuai Qianhou led the way as they dove into deeper spaces.

He had many advantages in those regions with his perfect path of space. He was able to detect traps with clarity, and was remarkably fast.

Su Ping quickly dashed forward with Void Walker and followed him. They were ten times faster than before!

It wasn't just because they were no longer held back by Yu Jingze and their other teammates; it was also because they didn't have to process the information on mud, trees, etc. to look for the key. They only needed to find living people!

If they found targets, they would rob them!

"Although there aren't any terrains marked on the map of the central continent that our master gave us, the continent clearly has the shape of a circle. There are twelve points at the edge of the circle where the winners of the branch candidates would be sent."

Shuai Qianhou said decisively, "We've been searching within one of the twelve locations, Let's go to the edge first, and then head to the other locations!"

"Sure." Su Ping gave him a slight nod.

The place was too big. They could get lost if they went straight to the center of the continent.

If others were also combing the place like them, they would surely be near the location where they arrived. It would be easy to meet them.

On their way, while avoiding dangers in the void, Shuai Qianhou asked, "Senior Brother Su, did you grasp the path of fire first, or the law of chaos?"

The trip was long and tedious, so he would rather talk to Su Ping.

"The path of fire," said Su Ping. There was nothing to hide about that. He asked back, "What about you?"

"Me too." Shuai Qianhou smiled. "It seems that we're quite similar."

Su Ping couldn't help but glance at him. He asked warily, "You're not gay, are you?"

Shuai Qianhou was instantly lost for words. "Senior Brother Su, you're overthinking. Cultivators like us don't have any sexual desires. I've done it in every way possible since tens of thousands of years ago."

"You have?" Su Ping narrowed his eyes.

Shuai Qianhou was amused by Su Ping's reaction. "Senior Brother Su, you are still a new cultivator. You lose interest in those things after cultivating for tens of thousands of years. After all, even the greatest excitement will become boring given enough time. Human beings only have limited patience for every matter; they would grow tired of anything sooner or later, however addictive it is.

"Leven lost interest in food when I started my twentieth millennium of cultivation, particularly because I didn't need food to survive. You'll get bored of it sooner or later if you're only enjoying it for fun."

"Can you ever be tired of having fun?" Su Ping was stunned.

"When you've cultivated long enough, Senior Brother Su, you'll realize that the older a cultivator is, the more indifferent they will be, until they're no different than rocks. Rocks are probably able to endure for countless years because of being emotionless," said Shuai Qianhou.

Su Ping didn't quite believe it. "What about people like our master, who has cultivated for hundreds of thousands of years? Are they even colder than rocks?"

"They're even colder than blades." Shuai Qianhou narrowed his eyes. But he soon added, "But I believe our master sincerely cares about us."

"So do I." Su Ping instantly nodded.

Shuai Qianhou glanced at him and smiled.

"If the two of us have to fight for the key in the end... will you go easy on me, Senior Brother Su?" Shuai Qianhou suddenly dropped his smile and stared at Su Ping.

Su Ping was stunned by the change. He said, "You've cultivated for fifty thousand years. How long have I cultivated? Shouldn't you be the one going easy on me?"

Shuai Qianhou's eyes glittered. He asked that question with another purpose, which was to test Su Ping's trump cards. Whether or not Su Ping gave a positive reply, he would be able to infer that Su Ping had other trump cards he hadn't used yet.

However, Su Ping's reply was quite surprising for him.

"It would be boring if we have to act brutally towards each other in the end," said Shuai Qianhou in a low voice.

Su Ping nodded. "In that case, you should just give it to me."

Shuai Qianhou stared at him. "What if I don't?"

"I'll just fight for it then," said Su Ping with a smile, "It's the opportunity to reach the Celestial State anyway. We'll see which of us is stronger."

"Okay!" Shuai Qianhou nodded quickly. "Let's find out!"

He then remarked, "To be honest, Senior Brother Su, although you're still young, I like you very much. I will still respect you as my senior brother if I do reach the Celestial State in the end."

"Okay." Su Ping smiled and then continued, "We haven't found anyone yet, but we're already talking about this. If anyone hears this, won't they think we're just spewing bullst?"

“probably,” said Shuai Qianhou.

They looked at each other, and then both burst into laughter.

Time flew.

The pair moved at full speed in the sixth space.

Even though Shuai Qianhou had grasped the perfect path of space, he wasn't as daring to enter the seventh space. Although he could survive there, that didn't mean he could do whatever he wanted!

‘There were dangers they had to avoid even as they traveled in the sixth space.

There were ferocious beasts hiding in the sixth space. Some even moved in hordes; the leaders of those hordes were usually Ascendant creatures.

‘They chose not to provoke the locals and continue traveling. Two days later, they finally met people from other star zones.

‘There was a whole lot gathered.

“Oh my. That's a lot of of them!” While hiding in the deep space, they carefully examined the sounds and inferred the number of people outside. They were quite surprised at the scale..

Chapter 1102: Sword Attack

There were hundreds of people who were traveling in the exterior.

They were mostly scattered. Su Ping and Shuai Qianhou were hiding in the sixth space; their cover was flawless, thanks to the path of space that Shuai Qianhou had grasped.

Nobody could detect them unless they were as strong as them.

Su Ping also covered their auras with the path of illusion.

Shuai Qianhou's eyes narrowed a bit when seeing the law of illusion; he had sensed how powerful it was, back when Su Ping used it in the previous battle. He suspected that some Heavenly Lord had created it.

“Let's not alarm them yet, not until we find their leader,” whispered Shuai Qianhou.

Su Ping didn't make a sound. He was as experienced in hunting as Shuai Qianhou was; after all, he had been to plenty of adventures in the cultivation sites.

They snuck closer, not even attacking those who were alone; all to avoid alarming them.

They soon discovered that there were a dozen people among the hundreds of travelers who had grasped perfect paths. Still, it was hard to distinguish their leader.

“The leader must be hiding on purpose, in case of potential ambushers. It's hard to tell which of them is the leader.” Shuai Qianhou's eyes glittered as he considered how to address the problem.

He didn't have the ultimate treasure anyway, and was inevitably concerned.

"Let's find out with the key," Su Ping said after thinking for a moment.

Shuai Qianhou was stunned. "They key? Do we even have a..."

He paused halfway, realizing what Su Ping was up to. He couldn't help but glance at him.

Is he really considering himself a hunter?

Indeed, they didn't have the key, but they could make up one!

Thanks to the information shared by their master, it was really easy for them to create a counterfeit with laws. They could make a key and see to whom the travelers would surrender it; that guy would surely be the leader.

Even though the key was fake, they had never seen the real key anyway, and they would have to hand it over to their leader.

That was the trick.

Shuai Qianhou nodded. Then, he saw the law of chaos gathering in Su Ping's hand. A broken black sword was soon manifested; it was exactly what the key looked like.

Shuai Qianhou was quite envious as he watched. He also knew the law of chaos, but his expertise wasn't good enough to construct anything as easily.

It was possible to even create lives with the perfect law of chaos.

However, it was rather difficult to create special lives, such as those with powerful constitutions; Su Ping would have to know the genetic information of those constitutions first.

They threw the broken sword in a place where two explorers would meet, all to prevent either of the two from claiming it.

Each of the two explorers noticed the sword shortly after; both were thrilled to see the key. They concealed their emotions and tried to hide the key; unfortunately, they soon noticed each other's presence.

Both of them became extremely anxious for a moment.

After a while, they confirmed that both of them were aware of the key.

That stimulated their determination to kill each other.

They gradually wandered off the team, displaying great acting skills. However, someone soon caught up with their abnormal behavior. It was a given; their supervisors weren't expecting them to dutifully surrender the key if they found it, so they had been observing with a keen eye.

The two were soon found and interrogated. Then, they revealed where the key was.

All the others were shocked to hear of the key's discovery.

They didn't expect their luck to be as good, to find the key shortly after they arrived.

Everyone gathered and dug out the key, which was buried deeply underground in mud. However, they could still detect it.

A dozen tough looking men in the crowd stood out. The key was later given to a golden-haired young man.

The latter wore a strange expression. Although he seemed calm, his excitement was obvious. His odd expression faded as he observed more carefully; he then gave the key to someone else, as if it were no big deal.

The man who received it was surprised to be given the key for examination. He accepted it in any case, and was delighted by the task. His delight was short-lived; he was going to say something when two aggressive auras darted out of the void.

Someone realized what was going on, and exclaimed, "Enemy incoming!"

However, the attack had landed thunderously just then.

The auras of a spear and a sword slashed at the golden-haired young man like a mountain.

Even though he had given the key to someone else like a lackey would, the first person to examine the key was undoubtedly the leader.

The golden-haired young man snorted, seemingly unsurprised; he had figured out the situation once he confirmed that the key was fake. Only those who received the Celestial experts' memories knew what the key looked like, and they must have forged a key as part of a trap. He was already prepared to defend himself; nevertheless, the two attacks were too powerful.

After a boom, the golden-haired young man was blown into the void, right when he had just prepared his defenses; even space was shattered.

The ground within dozens of meters was obliterated.

The others had finally realized what was going on. Some of them moved back, planning to take advantage of the chaos and escape.

There was another explosion, and the golden-haired leader made an instant return from the void, with blood on his lips. His robe was already in tatters, revealing the dragon-patterned armor inside.

"Just the two of you?" The golden-haired young man narrowed his eyes and stared at Su Ping and Shuai Qianhou.

The latter was solemn; he and Su Ping had almost tried their best in their previous ambush. Their thunderous attack with supreme laws was unable to heavily wound the guy.

"He's mine. You take care of the rest," said Su Ping outright.

Shuai Qianhou's lips twitched. A lot of people present had grasped perfect paths; he was outnumbered. Besides, it was possible that there would be someone who had grasped a perfect supreme law, just like the red-robed young man.

Very soon, someone in the crowd recognized them.

"It's him, Shuai Qianhou!"

“know him, he’s the famous Star Lord from tens of thousands of years ago!

“The guy next to him is Su Ping. He’s the one who condensed a small world in the Fate State!”

Many of them were shocked to see Su Ping.

The guy was only a Star State warrior... Even so, was he bold enough to attack their leader?

Even more crazily, the terrifying sword aura released by Su Ping obviously contained a perfect path!

In the crowd—the dozens of tough-looking men were stunned after recognizing Su Ping’s level. They didn’t expect that anyone in the Star State could be as strong.

“Shuai Qianhou, we meet again. We fought in space thirty thousand years ago. Do you remember?” said an old man with a smile, as he walked out of the crowd.

Shuai Qianhou said indifferently, “I don’t. I never remember trivial matters.”

“Haha...” The old man laughed coldly. “You’re as pretentious as you were back then. Now that you’re here to get killed, I will certainly grant your wish. I heard that you are under Shen Huang. You got his ultimate treasure, didn’t you?”

Shuai Qianhou replied indifferently, “So, how do you want to die?”

The old man smiled coldly, not giving a response.

The golden-haired young man wiped his blood and looked at them coldly. He fixed his eyes upon Shuai Qianhou and said, “Finish off that Star State brat. I’ll take care of this one.”

Shuai Qianhou frowned and felt rather helpless. Everybody thought he was carrying the ultimate treasure. He actually became Su Ping’s cover.

He didn’t want to be anyone’s cover.

He would have a huge disadvantage if he fought without the treasure!

“I’m carrying the ultimate treasure. Let’s have a competition,” Su Ping stood out.

Everyone was stunned by Su Ping’s revelation. This Star State kid was carrying the ultimate treasure?

Su Ping was indeed a kid in their eyes.

He was only a Star State warrior. How many years could he have cultivated?

“Junior Brother Qianhou is but a new disciple. The ultimate treasure is too heavy a responsibility for him. It is his senior brother’s duty to look out for him,” said Su Ping.

Shuai Qianhou: ”

Everybody was lost for words again. Shuai Qianhou, who had been famous for tens of thousands of years, became the Star State kid’s junior brother. That was... hilarious!

The golden-haired leader raised his eyebrows in surprise, but he simply said with indifference, “It doesn’t matter. Finish him off. I’ll take care of this one.”

He didn't care whether or not Su Ping was telling the truth; he would finish the guy off with the ultimate treasure.

"Junior brother, take care of yourself," said Su Ping.

Then, while everybody was watching—he ruthlessly charged at the golden-haired young man, turning a blind eye to all the others.

Shuai Qianhou was rendered speechless. However, in terms of seniority, Su Ping was right and there was nothing he could say.

"He's only in the Star State, and yet he's provoking Lord Brian? Way to get himself killed!"

"Is he delivering the ultimate treasure to us?"

"Wasn't the ultimate treasure entrusted to the strongest disciple? What was Shen Huang thinking??"

Everybody at the edge was observing the battle; none were planning to participate.

Some captains were roaring, "The rest of you, pay attention to your surroundings. Beware of other ambushers."

They narrowed their eyes and observed the area; they found it ludicrous that only two people would attack them. How confident were those two?

But the next moment, Su Ping drew his sword.

The sword—with an edge made of the law of chaos—was formed in his hand. The intense aura of chaos made the void quake, like ripples on a lake.

An unimaginably powerful aura surfaced on Su Ping. It was the abundant deity aura that had been accumulating in his body.

"Slay the sky!"

Su Ping's eyes were like glittering stars, and the edges in the dark night. A terrifying sword aura was gathered in his hand. That sword had once cut apart the sky in ancient times; it was glowing again at the moment!

"Oh no!"

"Dodge!"

The people standing dozens of meters behind Brian fled in panic, awed by the terrifying aura..

Chapter 1103: Suppression

"Perfect level!"

Brian slightly narrowed his eyes upon seeing Su Ping's attack. It was the perfect law of chaos!

Besides, the attack was extremely powerful; he had rarely seen such an aggressive sword technique. The killing intent imbued in the attack was enough to make the proud dragons tremble!
However, he wasn't going to retreat!

After a boom, Brian's eyes had a dazzling glow when he activated his constitution. Another unparalleled aura rose to the sky, forcing everybody around him to retreat.

He was like a sun, bursting out and unleashing an infinite brilliance.

His battle style was especially to fight head-on!

'A golden spear appeared in his hand. Light burst out of the spear, almost freezing the flow of time; only Su Ping's and his weapons remained unaffected.

"Destruction!"

Brian roared, and slashed with his sword in the most splendid way.

'There was a boom, and the void was shattered. A terrifying amount of energy and laws formed a collapsed black hole where the sword and spear met, swallowing everything around them. The impact uprooted all the trees in the forest; not even the ground could bear the blast, and kept on collapsing. Everybody was appalled as they watched the shocking battle.

The most powerful laws going head to head. It was truly terrifying!

Out of everybody's expectation, Su Ping, a mere Star State warrior, was able to fight Brian who had dominated the universe fifty thousand years earlier!

Is that really a kid who has just stepped into the Star State?

Su Ping's eyes glittered with excitement. He had rarely gone all out ever since he started training in the cultivation sites. His sword had just been blocked, as if having struck a mountain. It couldn't move any further!

That was a sword technique able to cut the sky apart!

Deity aura was burning inside Su Ping's body. The sword light kept on bursting; instead of beating the guy, he simply didn't want to dishonor his sword!

However, even though he was using his full strength, he was only able to suppress his opponent. Killing him didn't seem like a possibility!

Brian was even more shocked. His spear was an ancient weapon too and had been unstoppable in front of the most formidable foes. And yet, it had been blocked by Su Ping's sword!
Furthermore, he felt that Su Ping seemed to have even more strength than he did.

It was as if there were a terrifying monster inside his body!

Is he really in the Star State?

"Annihilation!"

Brian attacked again; this time, without hiding his true abilities. Two supreme laws fused, resulting in a strange phenomenon that carried a suffocating aura.

Su Ping's expression had a slight change. He detected that his law of chaos was being swallowed at a fast pace!

The guy's paths of time and destruction were both perfect. He had grasped them so well that he could fuse their traits!

Fusing features of perfect paths was thousands of times more difficult than fusing fundamental ones, because perfect paths couldn't be taken apart!

He's better at controlling laws than I am!

Su Ping was quite alarmed.

As expected of an old famous Star Lord. There were too many unusual geniuses in the universe. He had only grasped the perfect law of chaos thus far. It was hard for him to win in a competition of laws. Path of fire!

Flames instantly started to burn on Su Ping's sword, with a ferocity that seemed about to drown everything!

But the next moment—the path of fire was blocked by the path of time. It was frozen in “the next moment.” The flames seemed to be burning, but they couldn't hurt Brian at the moment. Both paths were perfect, but the supreme law was unparalleled!

The path of fire was indeed powerful, but it couldn't exceed time.

The nearby onlookers held their breath and narrowed their eyes. They didn't expect that Su Ping had mastered two perfect paths, or that he could fight evenly with Brian.

Shuai Qianhou was observing with narrowed eyes, hoping to find out whether or not Su Ping had other hidden abilities.

But the next moment, Su Ping simply activated the stone shield.

The ultimate treasure was summoned!

Su Ping didn't invoke the power of his second small world. The stone shield was an already exposed trump card, while the second small world wasn't.

The stone shield seemed to have been unfrozen just then; it was releasing a dazzling black and golden light. Strange circuits appeared on its surface too, showing an extraordinary divine power. 'The aura of that power made everybody change their expression.

That was... the aura of the Ascendant State!

It was a subtle feeling.

It was a partially neutralized Ascendant State treasure, which wouldn't violate the ban of Ascendant State power on the central continent.

Brian's eyes glittered upon seeing that Su Ping was indeed holding the ultimate treasure. He no longer held back, as he chose to take out a golden flag.

He raised the flag, and stood like an Ascendant State expert.

"Freeze!"

Brian activated the golden flag and invoked its power.

The golden flag was significantly expanded in the wind, and rolled toward Su Ping's golden shield.

Once Su Ping went to the central continent, he detected that the golden treasure was unsealed and then learned of its abilities. The artifact offered the best protection, but it wasn't really a good weapon for offense.

Just after activating the shield, the golden flag moved forth and tied it up like a huge piece of cloth.

Brian was amused by the result and laughed aloud. "Ha, ha

"All the ultimate treasures were forged by the Federation's saints hired by the Celestial experts. To ensure fairness, every ultimate treasure would only have one Ascendant State ability. Yours must be defense, right?"

Brian was in a great mood. If he grabbed that defensive treasure, counting his golden flag, he would have two ultimate treasures. He would be invincible from then on!

He would truly be invincible if he could find an ultimate treasure with offensive capabilities!

His golden flag could suppress defensive ultimate treasures. It had the power to temporarily restrain an ultimate treasure!

The golden flag could be damaged if the ultimate treasure was too aggressive—

However, no defense treasures could break free from the golden flag. It was like receiving a pillow when he was feeling sleepy!

Brian currently felt he was the son of destiny; he fantasized about that day being his day.

"Huh?"

Both Su Ping and Shuai Qianhou changed their expressions upon seeing such reaction.

Needless to say, they had guessed the golden flag's ability.

It was the first time their ultimate treasure was used, but it had been completely suppressed before revealing its power. It was absolutely useless.

Shuai Qianhou changed his expression; his eyes glittered as he wondered if he should retreat.

He didn't want to. He looked at Brian, and gradually clenched his fists. Maybe he would have to use his real power to win the battle.

It was impossible to count on Su Ping.

‘That young senior brother of his was too young anyway!

“You dared to come here with a defensive ultimate treasure? You’re from the Golden Star Zone? Where are the others?” Brian was in a great mood; he looked at Su Ping as if he were a delivery boy.

Su Ping withdrew his gaze from the golden flag covering the shield; his eyes glittered. He had planned to defend himself with the ultimate treasure and then devote all his strength to attack until he won in a war of attrition. Unfortunately, it seemed that he would have to rely on himself.

“Your ultimate treasure doesn’t look so good.”

Su Ping looked at Brian and his mocking eyes, then sneered and said, “Even though you’ve disabled my ultimate treasure, you don’t have any ultimate treasure to use now, either!”

“Who do you think you are? You think I need the ultimate treasure to kill you?”

‘There was disdain in Brian’s eyes. He was shocked by Su Ping’s talent, but that didn’t mean anything if he died. The guy was a downright idiot!

Real geniuses never placed themselves in danger; nobody remembered the geniuses who had once amazed the universe to only perish quickly after.

‘They were just idiots buried in history!

‘Without further ado, Brian asked everybody to attack, “Mitch, Bourne, help me kill him. The rest of you, kill the other brat!”

By brat, he meant Shuai Qianhou.

He had cultivated for far longer than Shuai Qianhou had, so he was certainly qualified to call the other guy a brat..

Chapter 1104: The Second World

Brian called upon his men; two of them immediately dashed out of the crowd and approached Su Ping from two sides. They were going to help Brian suppress and kill Su Ping without giving the latter an opportunity to escape.

All the others fixed their eyes on Shuai Qianhou, who only seemed slightly graver than usual.

“Die!”

Brian cried out and attacked first. He instantly rose and stepped forward, breaking through space. He approached Su Ping and made a stabbing motion with his golden spear, using the laws of time and destruction at the same time.

Su Ping attacked with his sword. The scorching path of fire was swept out; the sword aura was splitting forth, then spreading into the void as an ocean of flames. It blocked both Brian and his two companions.

After a boom, the blade in Su Ping's hand shook. Fortunately, he had an abundance of deity aura. Even though his law of chaos was weakened, he was still able to endure the attack with his enormous physical strength.

Astral Painting force!

Su Ping unleashed his strength again. The aggressiveness and infinite variations of the Astral Paintings made him more agile than ever. He extended his arms and slashed Brian's chest with a strange sword technique.

Brian's expression changed a bit, not expecting that Su Ping would still be able to fight back with that much power, despite the suppression of two supreme laws.

There was a resounding boom, and then he activated his golden battle constitution, which was also one of the top ten divine constitutions. That also meant that he had a third perfect law!

"Golden Sun Constitution!"

His body, face and arms were covered in brilliant, golden tattoos. A storm of divine power surged in a blink. All the energy inside his body was temporarily transformed into pure divine power!

He currently became as ferocious and stoppable as an ancient god of war.³

He wielded his golden spear with quick motions, launching a barrage of auras that completely prevented Su Ping from moving.

The sharp and destructive spear auras could have easily dealt with normal Star Lords, but Su Ping was also moving quickly slashing away with his sword. Both the sword and spear auras were offsetting each other; their impacts made the soil resound like drums, constantly shattering the earth.

Su Ping seemed to have an inexhaustible deity aura. Even though he was only a Star State warrior, his energy reserves were as large as those of Brian. The latter was shocked, and was determined to kill Su Ping right then and there. He was sure that the man would grow and become a major problem for him!

"The Path of the Golden Sun!"

After fighting for so long and failing to kill the enemy, Brian finally made use of the path associated with his constitution. A golden sun seemed to be rising on the surface of a sea; it was so sacred and unworldly that many people's expressions changed.

Su Ping narrowed his eyes. Instead of resisting the attack head-on, he quickly moved into the void.

"Where do you think you're going?"

Mitch and Bourne—Brian's helpers—tried to block Su Ping when he was escaping.

Both had grasped more than one perfect path, but those paths weren't supreme; they didn't dare fight Su Ping head-on, and could only stall him.

"Tce!"

Bourne activated his path. Everything around him was slowed down and overtaken by frostbite. The ultimate state of the path of ice was stillness and absolute zero.

Given such circumstances, even one's mind would freeze; all atoms would be deactivated. If he wanted to, he could freeze an ordinary person for ten thousand years and then bring them back to life.

However, Su Ping remained unaffected while the wind and dust was solidified. The mixture of the paths of fire and illusion had weakened the ice and broken the absolute zero threshold, quickly thawing the ice.

Concurrently, Mitch had also activated his special path: faith!

Faith was a path that belonged to the mental class. It didn't look like the basic physical paths, such as wind, fire and lightning. It was similar to space, which existed in the universe but could hardly be detected.²

He could turn everything he imagined into reality.

He was also able to construct some strong living creatures.

Theoretically speaking, he could construct an Ascendant State body, as long as his body could hold up.

He was even able to transform himself into an Ascendant State expert through his faith in a special way. However, his status would be flawed compared to normal Ascendants. Furthermore, he had to sustain the status all the time and it couldn't last long.

The Ascendant State was forbidden on the central continent; that is why he didn't really dare to fight in an Ascendant State body.

Otherwise, he could have imagined an Ascendant State finger, which would have been a threat to many unparalleled geniuses.

It only took an instant; the most solid box made of faith appeared and covered Su Ping. It blocked everything, preventing him from escaping.

"Illusion!"

Su Ping quickly moved and melded the path of illusion into the path of chaos. Unfortunately, his path of illusion wasn't perfect yet; otherwise, he could have transformed everything in front of his eyes into an illusion!

Boom!

The power of chaos surged out. The supreme nature of the power of chaos immediately reduced everything into chaos and broke the cage. Mitch was heavily wounded too, but he was able to hold Su Ping back for one second.

The next moment, the brilliant sun was hurled along with the golden spear.

Su Ping had to turn around and resist it.

Bang!

His body was flung back; his skin burst open and his blood splashed all over. The terrifying heat covered his bones with golden, scorching flames.

It only took one strike; his flesh and blood was separated from his body, and he was turned into a burning skeleton—

But the next moment, a shriek that belonged to the dominator of the skies resounded. A pair of brilliant gold wings was unfolded, regenerating flesh and blood on the burning skeleton. The blood that had splashed over the mud was soon pulled back into his body. He was restored very quickly.

He was then shrouded in scorching flames, and his eyes were golden. He was as majestic as a king.

His ancient Golden Crow Constitution was activated and blocked the terrifying strike!

His body had approached the limits of the Star Lord State; he could endure any attack unless it was beyond the Star Lord State!

His Golden Crow Constitution wasn't as powerful in the past. After all, not even the Golden Crows were truly invincible on their level. However, his constitution absorbed the ancient power of chaos with the help of the Chaos Perception Dragon in the Archean Divinity; it had also developed special mutations, which further enhanced his power.

All the people on the battlefield felt frightened when Su Ping revealed his constitution; the pets currently merged with them also felt the threat and relayed their fear. All of them felt that their blood was freezing.

Is this his battle constitution?

Brian narrowed his eyes; he had never seen one like it. Also, the pressure was intimidating even for him, but he had one of the best divine constitutions. Did a constitution better than the ten main constitutions emerge in the universe?

Su Ping unfolded his wings, fanning flames that burnt through the void around him. The fire left the primary space and entered the deeper spaces.

The flames kept burning through the deeper spaces and didn't stop until it reached the sixth space.

Su Ping waved his wings and stepped out with Void Walker and Sun Chaser. He approached Brian in almost the blink of an eye, to slash brutally right after.

Brian was rather cold; although he was astonished at Su Ping's constitution, the outcome wouldn't be any different. He gathered the illusion of a small world on his golden spear and threw it.

After a boom, the illusion of the small world dispersed, but Su Ping was also flung back because of the blast.

"Let's get this over with!" Brian spoke solemnly.

He realized that Su Ping, despite being a Star State kid, had the ability of launching a deadly strike; he didn't want to get hurt.

Both Mitch and Bourne were serious; illusions of small worlds appeared behind them. Having the support of perfect paths, their small worlds were as solid as planets; both moved towards Su Ping to land a hit.

Su Ping narrowed his eyes. It was indeed high time to be done with it.

Brian was thus far the second strongest Star Lord he had ever seen!

The strongest in his books was Mo Feng, the prince of the Rain Clan!

There was a boom, while a small world appeared behind his back too. It wasn't the illusion of his small world, but his small world itself!

The other three mixed in the fight changed their expressions after seeing the vivid spear behind Su Ping's back. They didn't expect the latter to be as crazy and desperate to fight in such a manner!

The small world's illusion could always be re-condensed, but he could truly suffer from heavy injuries if it was broken. Was Su Ping going to launch a dying strike?

Brian felt gloomy as he sensed pressure from Su Ping's small world. He didn't hold back anymore, and evinced brutality in his eyes. Besides the two supreme laws and the golden sun path, he had also mastered three basic paths. He used all of them.

At the same time, his small world truly appeared behind him. The six perfect paths—like six golden dragons—hailed the small world and flew towards Su Ping.

Brian roared and wielded his spear, "Your ancestor was still a monkey when I traveled through space!"

"I know a person who also uses a spear. She's thousands of times stronger than you!" Su Ping's eyes were cold. He gathered his golden crow power into a hand, hurling down his small world!

After a boom, a dazzling brilliance burst out; it was as if a nuclear bomb would have exploded in the sixth space.

"Abbbhhhh...!"

Brian roared; his battle constitution was falling apart. He gathered all his power into an enormous golden spear, which extended from his small world and stabbed forward.

However, the illusion of a Golden Crow flew out of Su Ping's small world and grabbed the spear with its mouth. Then, the two small worlds collided without reserve; Brian was heavily wounded. He was flung back, spouting blood, as if having been hit by a train just then.

His small world was as brilliant as the realm of deities. And yet, it was full of cracks at the moment.

Su Ping's small world was the same.

However, Su Ping was standing right there. He wasn't pushed back.

"Time Reversal!"

Brian wiped off the blood on his lips and laughed. His broken small world and himself recovered. All the cracks faded; the wounds and blood on his body also disappeared. Everything was back to what it was before the collision. His used power was also replenished.

"Come again!"

Brian roared and stared at Su Ping aggressively.

Su Ping replied rather casually, "Okay!"

The next moment—the small world floating above his head quickly recovered, and all the cracks on the surface disappeared.

Brian was stunned by the scene.

But the things he saw next were the most unforgettable.¹

Another small world was rising slowly behind Su Ping's small world,

It was truly an unimaginable scene!

Splendid, great and terrifying!

That was... a second small world!

Not just Brian, even the aides Mitch and Bourne stopped to see. They were stunned and couldn't believe their eyes.

The two small worlds had overlapped; one of them was desolate, while the other was illusory and hazy. Such terrifying auras made them feel as if they would have faced the abyss.

"Come again!" Su Ping said.

In the next moment—the two small worlds were pushed forward..

Chapter 1105: Finished Off

"Huh?"

In the outside world—the currently surrounded Shuai Qianhou suddenly felt scared.

He had the perfect path of space, which had made his senses over space extremely keen. He had just detected some sort of dangerous power in the deep spaces nearby.

Did something pass by in a deeper space?

Or.

His eyes glittered. He looked at the golden flag in midair; the artifact which had entangled the shield was radiating Ascendant State power, preventing anyone from approaching.

That ultimate treasure had clearly acknowledged its master. It was still emitting its power, indicating that Brian was still alive.

Furthermore, the golden flag didn't return to the guy, another indicator that it still needed to restrain the shield. So, Su Ping was fine too.

Let's finish off those people first.

Shuai Qianhou jumped and dodged a few attacks. Then, he focused his attention.

While looking at his attackers, he coldly tore through the void. He made full use of the path of space, replacing the outside world with a deeper space.

The area within a radius of a dozen kilometers had collapsed into the deep space.

It reached the seventh space!

"Abbbh!"

"What's that sound? What is it?!"

"Nana? Is that you, Nana?"¹

Everybody was instantly drawn into the seventh space, as if they were drowning. Many were torn apart by the sheer spatial power; some heard whispers of the dead while others could even see their deceased family members in a blur.

"Damn it, let's go back to the outside world!"

Some of them had contorted expressions. They clearly had no advantage in a battle against someone who had the perfect path of space in the seventh space. Even though they had surrounded him, only some of them could make a difference in the outcome.

Very soon, another person controlled the space and swapped the deep space with the outside world, returning them to reality.

It seemed that there was someone else besides Shuai Qianhou who had mastered the perfect path of space.

Only a couple of seconds had passed, and yet a hundred people would remain stuck in the deep space forever. Many of those who had returned were still dizzy or were rendered mad due to the deep space's impact.

"Die!"

The dozen people who had mastered perfect paths launched an immediate attack, knowing that they couldn't rely on help from the others.

Shuai Qianhou took a deep breath and sensed an enormous pressure. However, he wasn't scared in the slightest; rather, he felt a passion he hadn't experienced in a long time.

It had been a long time for him to feel any threat, ever since he grasped the perfect path.

After all, even normal Ascendants would have a hard time killing strong Star Lords such as himself. This was especially so with those who controlled the path of space; he could race Ascendants in the seventh space.

Besides, he wasn't crazy; hunting an Ascendant was not something he would try.

If he wanted a sparring partner, the force backing him could easily find a lot of Ascendants so he could experience his ultimate strength.

However, he currently felt passionate in a battle against people on his level.

This is exactly why I've been cultivating!

Shuai Qianhou cheered inside, with coldness emanating from his eyes. Although excited, he remained absolutely calm. Let's get this over with. Maybe I'll have a chance to observe his performance. He looked at the two ultimate treasures in the sky with a strange light in his eyes.

Boom!

The next moment, he activated the Misfortune Constitution, choosing to no longer hide his strength.

It was impossible for him to hold back when facing attacks of a dozen formidable enemies.

Two of the dozen enemies had grasped supreme perfect paths; they were the ones who led the attack against him.

He was surrounded by the effects of those perfect paths.

"Destruction!"

Shuai Qianhou waved his spear, concentrating the path of destruction on the weapon and destroying the part of the effect of some paths. He then attacked the ones who had only grasped basic paths.

"Reincarnatio1

Shuai Qianhou instantly used another special path.

The destructive spear was shrouded in flames; he swung it furiously, making the void collapse. The paths around him were attracted to a strange power.

If Diaz were there—he would have discovered to his shock that Shuai Qianhou had perfectly grasped the path of reincarnation, the forte of the former's constitution!

"Block it!"

Aman was wary, feeling how his path had been bound by the path of reincarnation; he protected himself with his small world without hesitation.

The small world was indestructible with a perfect path. It was more solid than that of a normal Star Lord by far.

But the next moment, his small world was stabbed through by a spear.

The man vomited blood and was flung back. Some of the attackers instantly stepped in to reinforce him; they surrounded Shuai Qianhou with the illusions of their small worlds.

"Let me show you my small world!" Shuai Qianhou sneered, showing a brilliant small world behind his back; it contained two paths which looked like the backs of dragons. One of them was destruction, and the other was vitality, another supreme law!

Both paths were already perfect. He had grasped the path of reincarnation through birth and destruction, and it had already been perfected.

It was easy to infer that he had grasped two perfect paths many years before!

Shuai Qianhou's small world was not a projection; it was the real one. It flew out like a dazzling meteorite when it appeared. A lot of small world projections were instantly shattered; many men were flung back, heavily wounded.

Shuai Qianhou sneered. "You're just ants. What can you possibly do even if I'm outnumbered?"

He charged at the crowd, his small world ahead of him. Soon after, he ran a Star Lord through, one who had grasped a perfect path.

The Star Lord was an extraordinary figure who could easily make it to the top of a Divine Lord Rank. And yet, he died in anger and desperation at that moment.

All who witnessed this had changed expressions, not expecting Shuai Qianhou to be that strong.

Some of them had cultivated even longer than he had, but they had merely grasped one supreme perfect path; none of them could compare to Shuai Qianhou, at all.

In terms of combat ability, Shuai Qianhou was probably equal to Brian without the ultimate treasure.

"Damn it, why hasn't our boss finished off the Star State brat yet?"

"Is the boss trying to kill us with a borrowed knife?"

"I don't believe that it could take this long for Boss to kill that Star State brat!"

"Damn it!"

Everybody gazed at Shuai Qianhou, who stood like the god of war. They were infuriated by Brian, thinking that someone of his caliber should have easily dealt with a Star State brat, especially with the help of Mitch and Bourne!

Even though it was remarkable for Su Ping to have condensed a perfect supreme law with a Star State cultivation, he was only in the Star State anyway!

It should've been very easy for Brian to kill someone who had only grasped one perfect supreme law.

Shuai Qianhou felt intrigued by their remarks; he had done a similar thing before, when he tested Su Ping's combat ability through the red-robed young man and the others.

Could it be that Brian was observing the battle happening in the deeper space, dragging things on and not killing Su Ping yet?

The thought alarmed him; he no longer dared to waste time. He believed that Su Ping had other trump cards, but he didn't think he could possibly defeat Brian. After all, the latter had grasped two supreme perfect laws. It was unbelievable to think that Su Ping had also grasped two!

Besides, Su Ping would still lose in such conditions. After all, Brian had two helpers.

Adding the level gap, Su Ping would have to lose either way!

"Get the hell out of here, or I will kill you all!"

Shuai Qianhou was in such a terrible mood; he gave everyone a scary glare.

His attackers looked at each other in bewilderment, but none dared to retreat.

Although they knew that Brian might be using Shuai Qianhou to get rid of them, if they escaped, Brian would be invincible if he came out with two ultimate treasures!

Shuai Qianhou figured out what was on their mind, given his threat was useless. He was gloomy as he tore space open, trying to direct the battlefield elsewhere and meet with Su Ping. He couldn't let Su Ping die so easily.

It would be his turn to die if Su Ping was killed and Brian kept the treasure.

He knew Su Ping was probably fighting in the sixth space, as he didn't see him in the seventh space. Right when he tore space apart to enter the sixth space—a man suddenly stepped out. Shuai Qianhou instantly became nervous.

However, Shuai Qianhou was dazed after seeing who the person was.

Everybody else was stunned too.

The person who walked out was actually Su Ping.

His clothes were stained with blood. Most shockingly of all, he was dragging a bloodied man. The man's golden hair had been dyed red; it dangled like a rope.

It was none other than Brian!

Brian was on his dying breath at the moment.

His Golden Sun Constitution had been overspent, completely crumbling. There was only a slim chance of recovery if he had unparalleled medicine and attentive care.

Brian lost?

Everybody looked at the unexpected picture, completely unable to understand what it meant.

Where are Mitch and Bourne?

A lot of people felt cold. They were very likely dead already..3

Chapter 1106: Cultivation

"I cannot believe it..."

Everybody was thinking the same.

They couldn't believe their eyes!

After a momentary daze, the dozen Star Lords who had attacked Shuai Qianhou with perfect laws made the same choice—

Run!

Unbelievable as the scene might be, they were Star Lords who had been through countless battles; it didn't take long for them to realize that battling was hopeless now that Brian had failed.

Besides, Su Ping had two of the ultimate treasures. How could they possibly beat him?

Su Ping raised his eyebrows as he watched them disperse, but didn't give chase.

There were too many of them; it was impossible for him to kill them all.

It was one thing to kill them in a head-on clash, and a whole different matter to chase and eliminate each and every one.

"Are you going to unbind yourself from your ultimate treasure, or do you need me to do it?" Su Ping asked Brian, who was like a dead dog.

Brian breathed heavily as he watched his allies escape, and lost his last hope. He put on a bitter smile. What had he been looking forward to? Even if they were willing to charge for his sake, it would have been hopeless to think they would defeat that unbelievable monster.

"Why bother? You could just kill me," said a wheezing Brian.

Su Ping said casually, "I simply think it would be a shame to kill such a great talent as yourself."

"A shame?"

Brian's face twitched, and he felt even more bitter.

Was that condescension?

The guy whose level was much lower than his actually pitied him.

Brian asked back, "Are you not afraid that I'll retaliate later for what you did to me if you spare my life?"

Su Ping looked down at him and said, "That depends on whether or not you're smart. Besides, I didn't say I'd spare you. I'll kill you if you make me uncomfortable."

Brian was stunned and silenced.

A moment later, he quietly canceled his contract with the ultimate treasure.

The golden flag flew towards him soon after; the restraint over the shield was lifted.

Su Ping quickly grabbed the golden flag and the shield.

Shuai Qianhou was rather regretful as he saw that happen. He had already been prepared for the possibility of Brian killing Su Ping; he was going to fight for the ultimate treasures.

However, the opportunity was gone.

Shuai Qianhou felt angry and jealous, given that Su Ping had received two ultimate treasures. He was fine with losing an ultimate treasure to him over a rock, paper and scissors game, as he thought that he would get it back sooner or later. However, Su Ping was surprisingly able to defeat Brian.

That senior brother of his was truly unbelievable!

"Junior brother, were you hurt?" Su Ping greeted Shuai Qianhou after seeing him.

Shuai Qianhou's lips twitched; the greeting sounded rather insincere from every perspective.

"Senior Brother Su, congratulations on getting two ultimate treasures. Can you share one of them? We'll continue looting to find the rest," said Shuai Qianhou in earnest with a big warm smile.

Su Ping said in a concerned tone, "The ultimate treasures are too powerful. Junior brother, you're too inexperienced to fully bring out their power. Let me take care of them."

What the.

Shuai Qianhou felt like cursing.

However, he knew that Su Ping wouldn't give the ultimate treasures away; after all, there were only twelve in total. The golden flag and the shield were so powerful that Su Ping was probably able to defeat anyone from any star zone at the moment.

"I'm truly surprised, you defeated Brian who has been famous since tens of thousands of years ago, senior brother. You must've grasped two perfect supreme laws, right? Or maybe three?" Shuai Qianhou asked respectfully, with the same smile on his face.

Brian couldn't help but look at Shuai Qianhou after hearing that.

He put on a strange expression. It seemed that the so-called junior brother didn't know the truth about his senior brother yet.

"No. Brother Brian was accidentally hurt by something while in deep space. That's why I was able to beat him," said Su Ping while chuckling.

Shuai Qianhou felt like rolling his eyes.

Do you take me for a three-year-old?

He simply stopped asking and cupped his hands, knowing he wouldn't get any information out of Su Ping. "Senior brother, I'm sure you'll get the key with the help of the two ultimate treasures. I'm suddenly in the mood of enjoying a hot spring. See you later, Senior Brother Su!"

He then escaped into a deep space and disappeared.

Su Ping watched Shuai Qianhou flee, and could only shake his head with a smile. Am I that scary? The man escaped through the seventh space using his perfect spatial path.

He could understand the latter, though. The man didn't have a chance of winning against two ultimate treasures; he was probably scared of being killed.

"So, why did you have to show paper?"

Su Ping looked around, only to see that nobody was around except the dozen Star Lords who had grasped perfect laws. Only blood, items to loot and battle ruins remained.

Immediately after, Su Ping threw Brian down and said, "Take care of your injuries. Have some oranges. I'll be back."

Brian: "???"

The latter watched him leave, while trying to puzzle things out. Why did Su Ping ask him to have oranges? Still, it was a surprise that Su Ping had chosen to spare his life.

'Was Su Ping confident of finding the key, getting the legacy, and reaching the Celestial State?

'Was that why he wasn't afraid of any retaliation?

"It's true that all geniuses are excellent and confident!" Brian's eyes glittered. In any case, he had survived through the ordeal; this meant there was still hope in him.

Without further thought, he took out medications from his storage and healed his wounds.

Su Ping wandered for a while, and picked up the nearby loot. Then, he returned to where Brian was and asked, "How many tokens have you found?"

Brian opened his eyes. He had recovered a little bit, as he was no longer breathing heavily. "Sixteen; ten from our star zone and six we found here. But I gave some away to ensure the others' loyalty. I only have three tokens left."

Su Ping nodded. It would be pointless to have more tokens; one token each was already good enough.

Besides, they were very likely cores of the fruits Celestials had eaten.

Su Ping almost wanted to throw them away upon thinking that there might still be saliva on the cores.

He cursed the Celestials for littering and later asking them to search and fight for their garbage.

"Let's go elsewhere," said Su Ping.

Brian nodded. He rose and followed.

He then looked at Su Ping and hesitated for a moment, but didn't say anything in the end.

Su Ping moved in the void along with Brian while using Void Walker. They soon left the battlefield and stopped in a valley.

Su Ping stopped. "Let's take a break here."

Brian was surprised. "You have two ultimate treasures already. Aren't you going to look for the key?"

"We can get the ultimate treasures first and then find the key."

Brian finally realized why Su Ping and Shuai Qianhou had attacked him; they were only looking for the ultimate treasures.

"Aren't you going to look for others? Right now, the candidates of other star zones should be working alone; you can easily crush them with your two ultimate treasures and your own strength. You will surely become the winner of the first test then," said Brian.

"You need to recover. I don't want to bring a liability with me," said Su Ping.

Brian was stunned. Is he doing it for my sake?

Su Ping didn't say anything else. He summoned the Little Skeleton and the Dark Dragon Hound, both of which were good at survival; the Inferno Dragon wasn't as good in that aspect.

Su Ping asked the two pets to stay on guard. He also set up a barrier.

The battle against Brian made Su Ping realize how weak he was. He also witnessed the combat ability of some of the top Star Lords in the universe.

He wasn't sure whether or not there were stronger people in other star zones. But, Su Ping thought that the most important thing—except for fighting for the ultimate treasures—was to cultivate the eighth Astral Painting and a third small world. Then, he would be able to beat anyone.

The central continent would only be open for a month; ten days had passed, and there were twenty days to go.

Under normal circumstances, twenty days wouldn't be enough for him to condense the eighth Astral Painting and the third small world. However, he could use the law of time and slow down the flow of time by a hundred fold.

Su Ping then released his shield to protect himself.

He did not care about Brian. It was fine even if the man wanted to escape, as he wasn't a threat without an ultimate treasure.

Su Ping wasn't afraid that news of his second world was leaked, either; some trump cards would be rendered ineffective after exposure, but not that one.

It couldn't be handled even if it were to be known.

Besides, he would be further strengthened by the time he condensed his third small world. He would probably be able to kill Brian instantly.

Seeing what Su Ping was doing, Brian couldn't help but ask, "You're going to train in seclusion?"

Su Ping nodded. "Seize the time to treat your wounds. If you want to go, be my guest."

Brian was stunned. The urge to ask was too strong. "Aren't you afraid that I would tell everybody about your secret?"

"The sun illuminates space and never hides its light," said Su Ping.

After a moment of silence, Brian asked the question that he had been hesitating to pose, "Did your master teach you how to build the other small world?"

"No."

Brian was rather shocked, but he didn't ask any further; additional questions would touch upon his secrets.

Peeping into someone else's private matters could be very dangerous for him.

"Master said that the universe will be met with an unknown danger in the near future."

Su Ping glanced at Brian continued, "Maybe I'll teach you the cultivation technique after the trial is over. However, even if you do know the technique, it would still be extremely difficult to cultivate a second small world.."

Chapter 1107: The Third World, Path Source

“You’re going to teach us that?”

Brian looked at Su Ping with extreme shock in his eyes after hearing what the latter said.

He suspected that Su Ping was kidding; he wasn’t certain though, because Su Ping wasn’t smiling.

Brian suddenly felt that Su Ping meant it by the way he looked at him.

Are there really such people in this world?

Brian had been famous in space since tens of thousands of years ago, and he had a Celestial State expert backing him too. However, he had never heard about the possibility of cultivating a second small world! It had to be an unparalleled secret technique, one that had never been used in the universe before.

‘That also meant that Su Ping was unique. He had displayed a power that nobody else had!

In terms of path perfection, Su Ping wasn’t as good as him. After all, he had cultivated for far too many years more than Su Ping; his accumulation was much greater.

However, Su Ping had suppressed him with his dual small worlds.

The improvement of one supreme perfect path was not as significant as that of a new small world.

“I’m still considering it.” Su Ping nodded.

Although the secret technique was powerful, the cultivation process was very demanding.

So, even if he publicized the technique, it was up to a person’s own luck and abilities whether or not they could succeed.

He always thought that many techniques were eventually lost because those who knew them were afraid that it would bring them no good if they imparted them to others!

‘There had indeed been many bloody cases where masters were killed by disciples.

However, this technique was different. Not everybody who learned it would succeed in the cultivation path.

That was also why the Heaven Path Institute didn’t regard it as an ultimate technique. New students would quickly have access to the technique.

They didn’t have to prove their aptitude or make contributions to learn the technique, because the technique was demanding in and of itself.³

Su Ping was already one of the best Star Lords throughout the universe. At that point no one could surpass him, even if he shared the secret technique. Besides, it was much easier for him to practice the technique with the help of the system’s cultivation sites.

Brian was intrigued. He wouldn't have lost as miserably in the battle against Su Ping had he known the technique and condensed a second world of his own!

"If you really teach the technique to me, I swear I will never be your enemy!" said Brian while staring at Su Ping.

Su Ping glanced at him and replied, "What are you talking about? Are you saying that you'll be my enemy if I don't teach it to you?"

"Well, not exactly." Brian quickly shook his head.

He didn't want to be killed yet.

Su Ping chuckled and said, "All right, treat your wounds."

He then closed the barrier and started his cultivation.

Brian gazed at Su Ping's closed barrier with glittering eyes, but then heaved a sigh a good while later. Whether or not Su Ping meant it, that day's battle was an eye-opener for him.

That unprecedented technique would be exposed sooner or later; it couldn't be kept a secret forever, even if Su Ping killed him.

The entire universe would probably be shocked once Su Ping did release the cultivation technique, including the twelve Celestials and the saints who lived on the primitive planet.

This cultivation technique has further improved the Star Lords' upper limit. Future Star Lords will be even stronger and more terrifying! Brian thought quickly about the implications, and had mixed feelings about it. He had heard of the universe's catastrophe in the past, but he didn't know the details. If Su Ping truly did that to resist the universal catastrophe, then he would be doing all human beings a great favor!

Inside the barriers—

Su Ping was seated inside the shield. He slowed down the time around him by a hundred fold, which was the minimum speed he could handle without affecting his cultivation.

After that, Su Ping took out the loot he had found.

The loot included all sorts of stuff, including many pieces of lingerie; Su Ping burned all of those useless things.

Su Ping found a lot of cultivation elixirs among the items.

All those who had died were top members of their forces. Su Ping was quite surprised at the amount of goods he found, which could easily be used to buy dozens of galaxies.

Some of the medicines were extremely rare. There were also ones meant to polish the body, some to improve the power of understanding, and others were meant for pets.

Su Ping was in dire need of energy. He piled all the medicines in front of him, and ate them all.

He needed energy to condense the eighth Astral Painting and the third small world.

Even though he had stored plenty of energy, it wasn't enough for his goals.

I'm going to establish a third small world first, and then cultivate the eighth Astral Painting! Su Ping quickly made a plan. He hadn't built a third small world with the law of source yet; it was a good opportunity for cultivation.

Time flew.

Su Ping ate the medicines one after the other; his body emitted a terrifying heat, just like a steamer.

That was the overflowing energy his body couldn't absorb in time.

Behind Su Ping's back—two small worlds appeared and blossomed like red lotuses.

Su Ping sank his consciousness into the small worlds. Condensing the double small worlds was quite arduous; it wasn't easy to grasp the path of illusion, and it was just as difficult to integrate the two small worlds.

Fortunately, he had already mastered the method for melding the two small worlds. It would be much easier to condense the third small world since he had found the law of origin.

He only needed to embed their cores further and more deeply.

Triple small worlds are what the teacher of the Heaven Path Institute is capable of making. However, not all triple small worlds are equally powerful. According to that teacher, mine should be very powerful; after all, each small world is close to the limits.

Su Ping's eyes glittered. His mind directed the power in his body and sent it toward his small world, all the while creating the shape of the third small world.

With the law of origin as core and his power as the content, something new was taking shape.

Su Ping had to constantly transmit energy in the process.

Fortunately, a huge amount of medicines were piled up in front of him; he recognized most of them. He could identify foods easily with the encyclopedia of pet food he had acquired from the system.

I found the law of origin from the Source World for the third small world. Where can I find the path for the fourth small world?

I should pay another visit to the Source World when I find some free time. There are countless paths inside; I wonder if I can find a path that doesn't exist in the universe.

Su Ping's eyes glittered.

However, he wasn't really hopeful about that. He simply wanted to try his luck.

If he did find unknown paths in the Source World, maybe it wouldn't be that difficult to condense multiple small worlds.

Only a perfect path had to be grasped. So, anyone could try their luck in the Source World and find more paths to condense small worlds.

On the other hand, people like Junior Brother Qianhou have been famous for a long time. And yet, they only know one or two more paths than I do. That's strange.

They also have access to the Source World. It should have been fairly easy for them to fully grasp other paths

Su Ping's eyes glittered. He thought about asking Brian when the seclusion was over.

Time flew.

Su Ping's third small world finally took shape after having almost ten precious medicines.

He called it the Path Source World.

He had named the world after the place where he found it.

The first small world was the Astral Power World, the second small world was the Illusory World, and the third was now the Path Source World.

The core was melted and embedded, and the Path Source World was soon combined with his double worlds.

The triple small worlds were finally integrated; their power was connected, and a terrifying aura started to emanate from Su Ping.

'The aura didn't leak out, thanks to the blockage of the shield and the barriers, but Su Ping could feel the astonishing changes inside his body. His willpower had been significantly improved, and his astral oceans were also expanded.

He was at least ten times stronger!

Is this the power of having triple small worlds? I feel like I can see the sixth space and even feel the seventh space!

Su Ping was shocked; he felt he was filled with power. If he repeated his encounter with Brian again, he somehow felt able to cut apart all of his paths with nothing but the world power he released.

He took a deep breath.

He eased the surging power inside his body, then glanced at his triple small worlds, which overlapped and blossomed; the Path Source World was on the top. Many paths were flying like dragons inside; the perfect paths were most eye-catching of all.

I feel that the paths are very active in the Path Source World. It looks like the path of origin is very intimate with plenty of laws... Su Ping's eyes glittered.

He had the feeling that those paths were alive.

Maybe they were life forms that human beings couldn't understand or define.

After observing them for a while, Su Ping looked away and checked the time. He had been training in seclusion for twenty-one days, but only a couple of hours had passed thanks to the slowed time.

Su Ping continued consuming medicines.

Pure power flowed into his body, filling up his expanded astral oceans.

He directed the power into the depths of his body and condensed more stars.

Back in the Source World, he had cultivated enough paths for him to condense all 72 stars!

More stars started appearing in his body as the medicines disappeared into Su Ping's mouth.

Each star contained a fully-mastered law.

Su Ping tried to embed the perfect path of fire into one, only to find that the condensed star was bigger and more brilliant!

Maybe when I understand and grasp enough perfect laws, I'll be able to reshape the eighth Astral Painting and later replace all of them with perfect paths! Su Ping thought.

Condensing stars with fully-mastered laws was just the minimum requirement of the eighth Astral Painting.

But that was not the upper limit.

I wonder what kind of change the eighth Astral Painting will bring forth when it's complete... Su Ping's eyes glittered. He looked forward to the result..

Chapter 1108: Central Area

For every new star that he condensed, Su Ping became ten percent stronger.
'There were fewer and fewer medicines in front of Su Ping, until they were all eaten up.

Su Ping opened his eyes after his cultivation session. He was rather stunned to see that all the looted medicines had been eaten up.

"They're gone..."

Su Ping was lost for words; those medicines could have raised a dozen top Star Lords, but they were finished so quickly!

Sixty-seven... I need five more. This is awkward. Should I just kill Brian?

Su Ping scratched his chin and considered.

Outside the barrier—

Brian was resting. He had slowed down time, and was making the most of it to heal his wounds. His recovery was mostly complete, but there were still some internal injuries he would have to ask someone else to treat.

But overall, his condition was already stable, and he was capable of fighting again.

All of a sudden—Brian felt ill at ease, as if some sort of disaster was going to befall him.

What is going on?

Brian opened his eyes in confusion; he looked around vigilantly.

People as strong as him wouldn't have such feelings for no reason; maybe someone was sneaking up on him.

He had the same feeling when Su Ping and Shuai Qianhou had ambushed him. That was why he had been able to avoid their strike.

He observed the surroundings, but didn't see anything wrong. The sense of foreboding was gone, yet he still felt shocked and suspicious. Then, he saw that the barriers next to him had been loosened, and Su Ping walked out.

Brian immediately stopped resting in seclusion. He was about to tell Su Ping about what he felt, but then his hair stood on end the moment he saw Su Ping.

Maybe it was an illusion, but he felt he was seeing a ferocious beast.

Su Ping evinced such a strong pressure that he seemed to be a walking giant.

He immediately concealed his aura with glittering eyes once he noticed Brian's expression; he still wasn't able to control his own strength after exiting his seclusion.

"Have you recovered?" Su Ping asked.

Brian snapped out of his stupor; he was slightly shocked and suspicious. Without a question, that young man had significantly improved again thanks to his recent seclusion.

Did he not reach his bottleneck earlier?

Is it possible that he grasped a new perfect path?

He didn't ask. Even though Su Ping was no longer thinking about killing him, he preferred not to risk it by asking inappropriate questions.

"Basically," replied Brian.

Su Ping nodded. "It's been three days. There's half a month to go; it's time to move."

Brian was alarmed. He gave a slight nod and said, "I'll try my best to help you if I'm needed."

"Okay."

Su Ping instantly summoned the Little Skeleton and the Dark Dragon Hound. He then took out his shield, in case anyone would attack him.

Eventually, he erased all traces around him.

"Let's go."

Su Ping used Void Walker, then took Brian into the mountain range. Brian had yet to master the path of space. He had his unique body movement technique, but it wasn't as fast and convenient as Void Walker.

Only the perfect path of space could possibly exceed Void Walker in terms of speed.

After all, it was a technique that even Celestials would use; it was undoubtedly effective.

"Do you have leads in regards to the other star zones?"

"No."

Brian shook his head. Then, he thought for a moment and said, "I pledged my loyalty to Xue Mei, a Celestial State expert. She offered me the ultimate treasure, a map of the central continent and a few tips. That's all."

Su Ping nodded. He had received the same things.

It seemed that there wasn't much the Celestials could do in the test.

But their efforts were probably enough.

"You've cultivated for a long time. You must have grasped perfect paths a long time ago, isn't it?" asked Su Ping again.

Brian nodded, and suddenly blushed. "I mastered a perfect path fifty thousand years ago, when your Junior Brother Shuai Qianhou wasn't even an egg yet."

Su Ping was lost for words. He didn't know how to argue with that.

"Then, how come you've only grasped only a few paths in such a long time?"¹

Su Ping asked the question which had been eating him. "If you have one perfect path, you should be able to enter the Source World, where you can grasp more paths even faster. You should have grasped all paths perfectly in the last fifty thousand years."

Brian was stunned by the questioning; he looked at Su Ping with a weird expression. "That's true. However... The Source World isn't the safest place in the world."

"Huh?" Su Ping was dazed. He suddenly remembered the finger that killed him, and realized what was going on.

"There are ancient creatures in the Source World. Not even Celestials would go there casually. You can only get to that place if you hold the special Heaven Path Stone. Otherwise, you will surely be obliterated the moment ancient creatures notice you!"

Brian assumed that Su Ping was too young a cultivator to know the dangers of the Source World.

However, Su Ping had already mastered two perfect paths, namely the path of fire and the path of chaos.⁴

However, he didn't encounter the ancient creatures in the Source World. Was he one of the lucky dogs?

Su Ping gave a slight nod. He had already realized what was going on.

'There were guards in the Source World; he couldn't enter it easily, even if he had a perfect path. He wouldn't have dared to go there without the system.

Whenever he died there, the energy points needed for resurrection were unbelievably massive.

However, he would gladly pay the cost because the training over there was very effective.

"What's the Heaven Path Stone?" asked Su Ping again.

"It's a special stone in the universe that contains a unique power which resembles that of Heavenly Tribulations; it helps you hide yourself in the Source World. However, such stones are extremely rare; even Celestials have only a few of them. Besides, the power on the stones fades away very fast; it's impossible to store them," confessed Brian.

Su Ping was greatly enlightened.

He had been through too many Heavenly Tribulations in cultivation sites, so he could emulate their aura, which helped them escape the attention of the guardians after he entered the Source World from the Archean Divinity.

As for the others, they had to count on the Heaven Path Stone.

After all, not everybody had the privilege of experiencing hundreds of Heavenly Tribulations and examining them carefully.

The system is truly great! Su Ping remarked in his heart.

The trip was rather boring; neither of them was really talkative, so they simply remained silent.

‘They avoided the beasts along the way, as hunting was pointless and only a waste of time.

They moved along the edge of the continent, finally arriving at the rendezvous point of another branch continent two days later. Alas, the place was already empty and the auras were covered.

“It seems that the people of other branch continents have left for other regions.” Su Ping stopped with glittering eyes.

“We can wait in the central area,” Brian suggested.

Su Ping nodded. That was the only thing they could do.

Some of the people of the other eleven branch continents were possibly hunting other candidates, and some could be searching for the key like Brian was.

But either way, they would eventually reach the central area.

That is, unless someone found the key in advance and hid somewhere.

“The central area will be the final battlefield.”

Brian seemed to have realized something at that moment. He said, “Madam Xue Mei told me that the central continent will shrink as time goes by. Its edges will collapse into the void. Anyone who hides by the edge will fall into the void.

“There are ferocious beasts that the Celestials sent into the void; they’re not restricted by the rules on the continent. Anyone who falls there will surely die!

“This trial is all about screening and filtering. The Celestials won’t allow any lucky dogs to progress. The final battlefield will be the central area...”

“Seriously?”

Su Ping was stunned by the news told by Brian.

He hadn’t really heard about the matter when speaking with his master.

Brian confirmed something upon noticing Su Ping’s doubting face. He said, “Yes. I thought you knew it; but it seems that your master didn’t tell you that.”

Su Ping’s expression suffered a slight change.

He didn’t think Brian was lying to him.

It was unnecessary.

But why did his master keep such matters a secret from him?

If another Celestial revealed the information, his master could have also done it.

Is it possible that my master didn’t keep it a secret, and only told it to Junior Brother Qianhou? Su Ping suddenly thought of the possibility—

But he immediately frowned again.

Why did their master treat them differently and keep information from others?

Even if my master wanted Junior Brother Qianhou to get the legacy and thought that we were just helpers, he shouldn't have done that. Were we already seen as pawns destined to be abandoned?

Su Ping's eyes glittered.

The whole thing could be explainable, if they were considered pawns.

No wonder Junior Brother Qianhou asked him whether or not their master knew of his combat ability.

Maybe, his junior brother had already been aware that they were only helpers to help Qianhou win the legacy.

Did my master abandon me because he thought I was too weak? Or maybe, my master was vigilant of the system he couldn't see?

Su Ping's eyes glittered; he thought that both options could be the reason.

He suddenly felt some pain.¹

Even though he hadn't talked much to his master, the latter had truly trained himself well!

Elder Yan—his master's pet—had personally taught him, and devoted all resources possible to him without sparing any cost!

Maybe his master had been sincere back then.

However, the Celestial State legacy made everything different; the Celestial experts were also competing against each other, so naturally, trivial figures such as him would eventually be sacrificed when bigshots exchanged blows.

It seems that the chance for a new Celestial expert to emerge will truly change the paradigm of the universe.

However, no matter who wins the legacy in the end, there will be a new Celestial expert for all of humanity, right?

Su Ping found it hard to understand.

Is the chance to become a Celestial really that precious?

If a catastrophe were about to happen to the universe, shouldn't every genius be a precious warrior in the future?

Su Ping was unable to wrap his head around it. Maybe there was a misunderstanding; maybe he was just overthinking.

His expression changed quickly, which scared Brian; the man thought he had misspoken.

He sympathized with Su Ping; he would have felt uncomfortable too if his master would have exclusively told the information to someone else.

Besides, Su Ping was an even greater genius than Shuai Qianhou was.

It seemed that not even Shen Huang was aware of that.

After all, Su Ping had mentioned that Shen Huang didn't teach him how to condense double small worlds. Shen Huang would have probably prevented Su Ping from entering the trial after assessing Su Ping's true strength.

In Brian's eyes, even without the legacy, Su Ping would have still been able to enter the Celestial State with his own capabilities!

Which of the twelve Celestials in the universe had made Su Ping's achievements back in the Star State?

Brian wasn't an idiot who had just cultivated for a couple of years. He had been a Star Lord for tens of thousands of years; he knew of many great events of the universe. Also thanks to the forces backing him, he was aware of many top secrets too.

Sacrificing Star Lords that have been born in the past 100,000 years, and winning the favor of a new Celestial expert..."

Su Ping took a deep breath. Maybe Celestials hadn't seen a new member in 100,000 years; it was a fair deal to sacrifice all the Star Lords for a qualification.

Su Ping clenched his fist and said, "If the Celestials want us to brutalize each other in the central area by reducing the continent, let's just try our luck there!"

Brian glanced at Su Ping; he had no idea what was on Su Ping's mind, but they were already on the same boat; he had no retreat. Besides, he had decided to move forward.

He didn't think he would lose to anyone except Su Ping, provided they didn't use the ultimate treasure.

"Okay." Brian nodded.

Su Ping immediately moved towards the center of the central continent.

Half a day later—Su Ping ran into a Star Lord who was in hiding, but the guy was really weak. Su Ping didn't attack him after detecting him.

Since the continent was shrinking, those who had won the skies would eventually head to the central area. So, the mediocre Star Lords would lose the key, even if they were lucky enough to find it.

The Star Lord was rather surprised to find that Su Ping would spare him. Once Su Ping was leaving, he summoned his courage and asked Su Ping's name.

The latter didn't consider it a big deal; he left his name and went straight away.

Su Ping encountered a few more Star Lords on the way. All were relatively weak; they had escaped from the Celestial's disciples of their star zones during the chaos.

Su Ping interrogated them; he didn't get a lot of useful intelligence, so he simply allowed them to leave.

Two days later, Su Ping reached the center of the continent.

He concluded that it was indeed the center, based on the coverage of the continent he remembered and the distance of his travels.

Su Ping sat down on a hill and asked, "Did Xue Mei mention how small the continent would become eventually?"

Brian nodded. "Smaller than a branch continent. It'll be the size of a tier-3 planet; even if our senses are weakened here, it will still be possible to detect the entire area. Then, it'll be allies and ultimate treasures the tokens that matter."

He continued, "I was going to find the key, watch the others fight, and eventually take advantage of the situation."

Su Ping glanced at him. Considering the guy's golden flag, nobody would have dared to attack him until the very last moment—

Besides, he would become a great threat to others if he made other allies.

Half a day later—

Su Ping and Brian woke up from their meditation. They opened their eyes and looked at each other, both realizing what they were thinking.

"We're surrounded," whispered Brian.

Su Ping nodded and stood up. He looked around and said loudly, "Which star zone are you from, my friends? Instead of acting in such secrecy, why not come out and meet?"

His voice echoed in the valley they were in.

There was nothing but silence.

Su Ping's eyes were cold as he gathered a scorching blade of flames in his hand, to suddenly cut the void open.

There was a boom, then the void fell apart. The Star Lord in hiding lost his cool and ran out.

By then, some people revealed themselves elsewhere, but there were still other people who were hiding, as if thinking that Su Ping wouldn't detect them.

"Perfect path of fire!"

All the Star Lords were rather alarmed upon seeing the sword of law in Su Ping's hand.

Some of them recognized Brian, which was why they didn't act recklessly.

"He is Brian from the Bloody Shadow Star Zone. He's been famous in the universe for tens of thousands of years; I met him once in the past."

"I didn't know there were only two people left in the Bloody Shadow Star Zone."

Those Star Lords whispered to each other.

Someone was in shock after recognizing Su Ping just then.

Su Ping was from the Golden Star Zone, and was Shen Huang's disciple. Why was he together with Brian of the Bloody Shadow Star Zone?

Had Su Ping been tamed by Brian?

"Some of you are still hiding, my friends. Do you want me to force you to come out?" Su Ping's eyes were cold. He wasn't planning on letting anyone go, since those people had malicious intentions.

The people still hiding in deeper spaces realized that Su Ping had already realized it. Instead of hiding themselves, they simply showed up.

There were more than thirty people; they surrounded Su Ping and Brian.

"Brian, it's been a long time." A girl, apparently their leader, walked out of the crowd. She wore armor, and seemed rather attractive with her purple hair and fair skin. She coldly looked down at Brian.

She had dared to attack Brian, even though she was aware of his identity. It was clear that she was a very strong Star Lord too.

"Calivey!"

Brian's expression changed a bit, then he said to Su Ping telepathically, "She's a Star Lord that became famous seventy thousand years ago, even earlier than I did. I fought her once and lost; I was no match for her back then. Still, it's been thirty thousand years since then; it's hard to say who will win."

Su Ping's eyes were slightly cold. Another old Star Lord.

Star Lords usually lived for no more than 100,000 years.

"Lay spare your lives if you surrender your ultimate treasure."

Calivey looked down at them, not considering Su Ping a big deal.

She was slightly surprised at the man who had grasped the perfect path of fire, even though he was only a Star State warrior; but nothing more.

She had heard of similar figures born in the universe more than 100,000 years prior; however, the guy was clearly dumber than them. Given his talent, instead of keeping a low profile and cultivating, he showed up to compete with all the seniors present. He was too arrogant!

Brian was rather angry. He scoffed and said, "Do you think I'm the same as I was thirty thousand years ago? You've never been as unlucky in the past tens of thousands of years!"

Calivey said indifferently, "I don't want to waste my time talking to you. Let me say again: Surrender the ultimate treasure. I may spare your life, all for the sake of your hard work and talent!"

Brian sneered and said, "Is that so? For the sake of your hard work, I suggest you leave as quickly as possible, or you won't have a chance to!"

"You should have known better!"

Without further ado, Calivey waved her hand. "Go!"

Seeing how confident Brian was, she acted proudly but not recklessly.

While standing right where he was, Su Ping watched them charge in. He then said to Brian, "They're yours."

"It's fine. I can hold them back. She's all yours," said Brian. He was very confident in Su Ping. He could already imagine how badly Calivey would be beaten up by the latter.

The next moment, Brian simply activated his constitution, dragging everybody except Calivey to another point of time with his perfect law.

Su Ping and Calivey were instantly left alone on the battlefield.

"Huh?"

Calivey raised her eyebrows upon witnessing the scene.

She had already seen Brian's perfect law of time, and she was able to reach the point of time when he was fighting. Still, she didn't do that, because what Brian had done was very strange.

"Theard that you're also a genius." Calivey looked down at Su Ping, "You condensed a small world while in the Fate State. No one else has ever done that in the past 100,000 years. You even grasped a perfect path in the Star State. You're indeed well-tested, unparalleled geniuses. But you shouldn't have come here."

"Because I'll lose?"

Su Ping walked to her, crossing dozens of meters with every step; he was only a hundred meters away from her in the blink of an eye.

"Because you'll die!" Calivey's eyes were cold upon seeing his opponent's actions; the man was too arrogant and stupid; he was bold enough to enter her attack range without knowing what she was capable of. He was asking to be killed!

Chapter 1109 Domination

Boom!

Calivey suddenly attacked, unleashing infinite strength; time and space around her were lifted, and the distance between her and Su Ping was removed!

The two of them were instantly standing face to face.

The next moment, a sword aura filled with destructive power slashed out.

It was the perfect supreme path of destruction!

The sword aura was being unleashed with two narrow fingers; it seemed about to split up the world!

"Great sword!" Su Ping remarked and slashed upwards again.

The fiery blade was shrouded in the law of chaos while it also turned hazy. It wasn't worn out by the destructive sword aura in the end.

The fiery blade unleashed great power, instantly cutting the sword aura apart. Then, it moved onwards to cut Calivey's pretty neck.

She was rather astonished. Mastering the perfect path of fire was completely different from mastering a perfect supreme law.

The latter could be ten times stronger than the former!

She knew there had to be something unusual about the Star State kid, otherwise Brian wouldn't have left him alone to deal with her.

However, she didn't foresee such a situation!

Even so, was that nearly good enough for him to win the legacy?

He was being too greedy for his own good!

She stayed where she was, then pointed her finger at the fiery blade like a sharp spike. Light instantly burst out from her fingers, with an aura of aging and decay. The fiery blade faded away, as it was pierced through by her finger!

The path of vitality!

Su Ping saw it. He was already prepared, so he instantly threw a punch.

The aura of illusion was hidden in his fist. His violent divine power then burst out dazzlingly.

"Humph!"

Disdain flashed in Calivey's eyes. She didn't feel any perfect supreme laws; it seemed that he had only grasped one supreme law.

That was already extremely remarkable for someone in the Star State.

However, that was it...

Bang!

His furious fist aimed to smash Calivey's finger, which seemed to have been hit by a giant hammer upon contact. The sword aura and the decaying power on her fingertip collapsed instantly.

Calivey changed her expression, now showing fury and shock. She then saw the manifestation of a small world on Su Ping's fist!

It's not a projection, it's an actual small world!

Calivey almost lost it. Is this Star State brat out of his mind? He was essentially letting anyone stab his heart by exposing his small world.

It was as if he were trying to get killed!

"If you want to die, I'll grant your wish!"

Calivey waved her hand and summoned an unusual sword. It wasn't a law-based sword, but an ancient treasure. Its divine power was already gone, and yet it still carried some strange aura. It was a semi artifact. It was almost half an ultimate treasure considering the others in the central continent!

An intense power of laws was spread out, which then covered the sword. She then expanded the sword aura and slashed out immediately after.

Su Ping flipped his hands, releasing the defensive ultimate treasure.

There was a noise, followed by a burst of dazzling golden light. The sword aura struck the shield. Both supreme perfect laws were blocked, completely unable to damage the ultimate treasure!

Calivey was stunned. It was obvious that she didn't expect that Su Ping would be carrying the ultimate treasure, instead of Brian.

She smiled soon after, because the man was delivering treasures to her.

"Don't you know that whoever uses their trump cards first in a battle is bound to lose?" Calivey whispered. Crimson light surged while she talked; it resembled something like a short sword or a dagger. It contained a special power, which was able to cut abruptly.

Su Ping instantly detected that the shield was humming; it released dazzling golden light in response to the crimson light attack, countering the effect.

"A defensive ultimate treasure. Humph!" Calivey sneered. The shield wasn't enough to block all her attacks. She simply continued her onslaught.

Crimson light darted out and churned the void. Even space and time were being cut apart. Everything was chaotic; even the perfect laws would be cut apart!

The shield outside of Su Ping's body stood and continued emanating a dazzling golden light. The energy inside Su Ping's body was being quickly consumed too. Also, the defensive treasure wouldn't block attacks coming from the rear.

Shen Huang had left the ultimate treasure for Shuai Qianhou to prevent defeat. He could use it to freely attack and kill his enemies.

Even if his enemies had offensive ultimate treasures, as long as the defensive treasure could hold up, Shuai Qianhou would still have a chance to kill them.

Su Ping was at the moment condensing the law of chaos into a sword to cut his way forward.

His sword auras raged, and Calivey had to defend herself.

"I'm going to shatter this turtle shell!" Calivey was infuriated; she quickly wielded the crimson blade and slashed, but the shield remained perfect. This would go on, unless the energy inside Su Ping's body was drained.

To Su Ping's energy advantage, he had the Chaos Star Chart and the law of vitality that could replenish his deposits. Even though the consumption was massive, he was still able to sustain it for a while.

The longer Calivey fought, the more shocked she became. The ultimate treasures were connected to their owners and powered by them. She had used up almost half of her energy for the attacks, but her Star State opponent still seemed to be quite at ease.

This left her with a rather grim mood; she even realized why Brian had left Su Ping there.

Brian had planned for that Star State brat to keep her busy.

“Rot in hell!”

Calivey didn’t hold back anymore. She flipped her hands, instantly taking out a battle axe.

The battle axe was considerably heavy and rough; it didn’t seem to match her soft and slim body, at all. However, it seemed extra shocking when she grabbed it with her narrow arm. She slashed down brutally!

The shield trembled violently; the energy inside Su Ping’s body was lowered by one percent!

“Another ultimate treasure!”

Su Ping narrowed his eyes. Indeed. None of the guys who had entered the central area were simple.

He didn’t show any mercy either. He instantly summoned the golden flag and expanded it, surrounding Calivey.

Calivey narrowed her pupils in shock.

She could understand that Su Ping had an ultimate treasure. But how could he possibly have two?

What about Brian? Wasn’t he carrying an ultimate treasure?

Or maybe, did they have three ultimate treasures in total?

Calivey didn’t have a lot of time to think. She detected that a great restraining force came from the golden flag and tied her battle axe up so hard she couldn’t wield it anymore.

She slightly changed her expression; that was a suppressive ultimate treasure.

Her next move was a quick stab with her crimson blade, which left some vague traces in regards to the golden flag.

Su Ping’s expression changed a bit as he watched; the golden flag was not like the shield. Even though it had a unique function, it couldn’t resist sharp, and aggressive secret treasures.

“Break!!”

Calivey stabbed forth again. This time, she made use of her small world’s power of illusion of a purple, glittering, small world which appeared on her wrist, enhancing her with multiple paths and laws.

Su Ping was no longer able to hide it, so he quickly threw a punch.

Fist of Exorcist!

The ancient fist technique unleashed a dazzling light; it could suppress billions of demons. He had only cultivated three levels, but he had already approached the limits of the Star Lord State.

His fist was unstoppable; it went after Calivey's shoulder like a sharp blade.

Calivey narrowed her eyes and quickly turned her wrist, cutting Su Ping's fist with her crimson blade.

But the next moment—Su Ping's fist pierced through the void and smashed her shoulder even faster.

Calivey found it hard to believe, while being hit by the enormous force that felt like a landslide. She felt that a planet had just crashed into her; her body was out of her control.

"No way..."

Calivey was greatly shocked; she had mastered two perfect paths, but Su Ping had knocked her away with a single punch!

The void was twisted when Calivey was flung back, and someone quickly rushed out. He was none other than Brian who had run to another point of time.

Brian was covered in blood at that moment, looking rather awkward. He looked at Calivey who had been flung away, and the golden flag that was currently in the shape of an axe. He easily understood the situation.

"I can't hold much longer!" Brian quickly ran to Su Ping.

Su Ping was going to chase his opponent. He was rather surprised by the guy's miserable look. "What about the experts?"

"One of them has grasped the perfect path of time. Five have grasped one supreme law each. I can't resist all of them..." Brian felt rather humiliated.

Calivey didn't even attack him in person; her subordinates were enough to beat him.

"She carries two ultimate treasures too..." Brian looked at Calivey with a contorted expression. He had lost to the woman thirty thousand years prior; it seemed that he was on the losing end again.

Su Ping couldn't stay idle anymore, given the situation. "Just hang in there. I'll finish her off immediately."

Brian smiled bitterly, but didn't say anything. After all, the woman also had two ultimate treasures; it would be hard to defeat her.

"Be careful. The woman may have other trump cards," said Brian, before he escaped into the void again.

Several people returned from a deeper space, right when the latter had made his getaway. They glanced at Su Ping and Calivey in surprise; the former's ultimate treasures were particularly eye-catching.

They never dared to attack too recklessly because they were afraid of Brian's ultimate treasures. The Star State brat was holding them all this time?

"Boss, need any help?" someone shouted.

While holding back her fury, Calivey replied, "Go kill Brian!"

“Great!”

That was exactly what they hoped for.

They didn’t have ultimate treasures, and none of them wanted to fight Su Ping.

Calivey summoned her energy; she was going to say something when Su Ping charged at her again and forced her to stop. “You...”

Her anger reached new heights. She unleashed her constitution; tattoos akin to willow leaves appeared on her forehead, which further spread down her cheeks. Her aura surged like an ocean, just as if she would have received a shot with a powerful energy potion; her aura surged like an ocean. A purple and enchanting world appeared behind her, like the moon above the ocean.

“The Great Scaling Constitution!”

Calivey’s eyes were glowing; stars were falling in the void. Her constitution enabled her to attract the power of the stars that had existed since eons long past. She could use their power to suppress anything.

The perfect great scaling law surrounded her. It could shrink or expand things; it could also strengthen herself or weaken her enemy by ten times!

That was precisely the power of one of the top ten constitutions in the universe.

Starlight was gathering around him. Su Ping felt he was charging into a swamp because of the great scaling law. He was quickly weakened, and his strength was gradually gone.

“Get lost!!” Su Ping suddenly roared.

There was a boom, and his small world burst out.

His bleak and desolate small world manifested behind him; it looked like a world where everybody was moaning desperately.

The world was rising ever so slightly, and then an illusionary world blossomed like a flower.

The glamorous scene dazed Calivey who was at the moment using her divine constitution. Her pupils dilated; she couldn’t believe what she was seeing.

“Slay the sky!” Su Ping roared. He gathered his divine power and formed a sword, then filled it with all the power inside the small world!

The sword slashed the void open, destroying space and time. All the people sent by Brian to other points in time fell out, including Brian himself.

The sword aura was made with the law of chaos; it was unstoppable with its scorching fiery will!

The double small world enhancement made Su Ping’s laws twice as powerful as those who had a single small world!

Even the perfect law of chaos alone could not be countered by two supreme perfect laws when it was twice strengthened. It was a qualitative difference, just like a match versus a piece of iron!

“Well...”

All those who had fallen out of the void were stunned.

Calivey also snapped out of her shock. The approaching sword aura was suffocating her.

She was a sword wielder too, and was naturally able to tell how crazy, sharp and unstoppable Su Ping’s sword attack was!

It was indestructible, unavoidable even!

“Great scaling!” Calivey had goosebumps all over her body; she was actually calmer than ever in such a desperate moment. She activated her constitution and burned her essence. Her small world was quickly condensed and infused into the ancient sword she held.

She swiped the edge of the blade, filling it with all of her power.

An ancient sword technique—which had been lost for a long time—glowed dazzlingly in her hand, making everybody feel as though immersed in an ocean of swords.

Even their breath felt as if it were being cut apart.

The girl holding the sword was like a queen.

She was elegant and beautiful. She confronted the terrifying sword aura with unparalleled pride and determination on her face.

The next moment—

The sword aura was gone, and her blood splashed out.

Calivey was flung back. There was a vague mark on the ancient sword she held. The terrifying impact made it impossible for her to keep holding the sword.

She had never dropped her sword in all her seventy thousand years of cultivation.

But this battle... She was unable to keep hold of the weapon that had accompanied her for years.

Her pretty face was covered in blood, which flowed out of her eyes, mouth and nose, making for a sorry sight. Her armor was also bloodstained, and her beautiful hair was a mess.

She lost!

All the people chasing Brian were shocked beyond words.

Brian, however, gazed at Su Ping again; he had already witnessed that scene. Seeing the splendid overlapping worlds behind Su Ping’s back again gave him the shivers, yet he couldn’t move his eyes away.

It was like appreciating a wonderful piece of art.

He felt enticed by it.

Whoosh!

Su Ping descended like a devil, blocking the light in front of Calivey. He slashed with his burning blade; the weapon was so powerful it left ripples in the void.

Calivey narrowed her eyes. She wanted to resist it, but the sword was right in front of her before she could even raise her arm—

Then, the sword stopped right in front of her forehead.

“It wasn’t easy for you to cultivate to this point. Your life will be spared if you surrender the ultimate treasures,” said Su Ping indifferently.

Her expression changed a bit; she thought the phrase sounded familiar.

“How... How did you do it?” Calivey asked the question she had been dying to ask.

The double small worlds behind Su Ping were still floating like a lotus flower giving off immense pressure.

Calivey had fully activated her constitution. Her great scaling law was still working on Su Ping at the end of their battle, even weakening him by twenty times instead of ten! She still failed under such circumstances!

She might have been obliterated by the sword had she not weakened the law’s effect!

“Do you want to learn?” asked Su Ping indifferently, “I can teach you.”

Calivey was stunned.

Su Ping turned his wrist; his sword turned into particles which fused into his body. His two small worlds gradually disappeared too.

“Surrender the ultimate treasures,” said Su Ping again.

Calivey had a conflicted expression as she silently canceled her bonds with her ultimate treasures.

Su Ping instantly felt that the battle axe inside the golden flag had stopped struggling. He then summoned the golden flag as well as the battle axe.

He concurrently picked up the crimson dagger too.

Brian was greatly relieved to see Calivey surrender; he feared he would be killed soon if the battle didn’t stop.

He was on par with Calivey in terms of combat ability. Still, he had been wounded in the past, and he wouldn’t be a match for them.

“Four ultimate treasures...” Su Ping picked up all the ultimate treasures; he was going to bind Calivey’s offensive ultimate treasures. He now held four artifacts, which was almost half of the total available. Everybody looked at each other in bewilderment and shock.

Calivey’s failure was easily eclipsed by the double small worlds revealed by Su Ping.

All of them looked at Su Ping with a mix of shock and suspicion.

“Which star zone did you get the ultimate treasure from?” asked Su Ping.

“Gui Hong, of the Red Moon Star Zone.”

Calivey knew she was already out of the game; she wasn't qualified to compete for the key anymore, unless the very heavens delivered the key to her. However, she was rational enough to know it wouldn't happen.

Su Ping nodded. He didn't know the person, but he could always remember the name.

“Did you come to the central area for the key or just for hunting?” asked Su Ping.

Calivey couldn't help but glance at Su Ping. It was clear that Su Ping was there for the second purpose.

“Just like you,” she said in a low voice.

She was really feeling down at the moment; even before she became a hunter, she had already been hunted by a Star State warrior.

However, she wasn't too frustrated, as she recalled how Su Ping had defeated her. She was definitely intrigued about Su Ping's small worlds; she wanted to find out his secrets as quickly as possible. Still, she wasn't willing to act too recklessly; she couldn't even escape from Su Ping now that she no longer had her ultimate treasures, let alone defeat him.

“In that case, I will allow you to join us. We'll rob any newcomer together,” said Su Ping.

Calivey was lost for words.

He described enslaving as recruiting.

What a silver tongue!

But she didn't dare to say anything, as she had recruited her subordinates in exactly the same manner.

She had simply turned into one of them.

Su Ping glanced at the people in the distance and ignored them. He sat down and chatted with Calivey.

“Do you have any intel? Are there noteworthy guys from the other star zones? How many of them are as strong as you?”

Calivey was obviously not used to her new role yet, but it was impossible for her to enjoy herself as the winner anymore. She had to pretend and act docile, even though she was uncomfortable. “As far as I know, only three people are worth paying attention to, namely Lin Xiu from the Dark Star Zone, Qing Hongyue from the Void Star Zone, and Morret from the Doom Star Zone.

“All of them became Star Lords earlier than I did. Both Lin Xiu and Morret have been Star Lords for more than 100,000 years. It's said that they're already capable of reaching the Ascendant State, but they've been postponing it because they want to find new powerful paths and become the strongest Heavenly Lords!”

Su Ping raised his eyebrows. Are there really such lunatics?

Still, he did admire them for that. He nodded and said, “Good for them.”

Calivey was silent for a moment. She glanced at him and said, “But they’re not that much stronger than me. The worst-case scenario I took in consideration is them having grasped all the four supreme laws to a perfect level. That’s why I wanted to gather more ultimate treasures to deal with them...”

“You’ve only mastered two laws, while they may have mastered four. And yet you claim they’re not that much stronger than you?” Su Ping looked at her strangely.

Calivey blushed and said, “That’s the worst-scenario. I think they’ve mastered three perfect supreme laws at best.”

“The worst-case scenario is the one with the most likelihood of being real,” said Su Ping.

Calivey instantly decided to stop talking. She was aware of that too; that was why she had been hoping to find more ultimate treasures.

“Clean this up, Brian. Establish a time point and let’s hide there,” said Su Ping.

Brian was puzzled. “What’s your plan?”

“Someone is bound to come here and check the battle; we’ll wait to fish them up,” said Su Ping.

Brian understood and nodded.

“Ask your subordinates to help,” added Su Ping.

Calivey had conflicting feelings, but she had to nod.

Soon after, everybody escaped to a different point in time on the hill. They then hid themselves in the deeper spaces and covered their auras with laws. Su Ping erased their traces with the path of illusion; it was barely possible for anyone to detect them.

Time moved on.

One day after the other went by.

A week passed in the blink of an eye; there were only ten days to go until the end of the trial.

Su Ping and the others hiding in the deeper spaces had been paying attention to their surroundings, but no strangers were found.

“Has no one from the other star zones arrived in the central area yet?” Brian was puzzled. It didn’t make sense; it was impossible that Su Ping, Calivey and he were the only three people with the thought of hunting in that place.

Great minds thought alike most of the time.

Su Ping found it strange too.

“Is it possible that people of other star zones have already fought each other, and are more cautious because of it?” asked Calivey.

“It’s been far too many days; some of the star zones were surely eliminated by now,” Brian looked at Su Ping and said, “Shall we go look for them? We have four ultimate treasures right now. Even if we meet anyone, we should be able to beat them easily.”

“Okay.” Su Ping instantly agreed.

He was also tired of waiting, and he had a bad feeling.

They chose to move right away. Brian and another man who had mastered the law of time covered them up.

They walked in the past, so that they wouldn’t be detected easily.

A few hours later, Brian suddenly stopped and said, “There are time flow traces here. Someone cut off the time here!”

“Be careful! There may be an ambush,” reminded someone.

Su Ping asked, “Can we trace them back through the changed time?”

“Yes.” Brian nodded, and instantly activated the law of time. Everybody then returned to three hours earlier in exactly the same place.

They were in the same place, but at a different point of time.

They were seeing different things and hearing furious roars.

A hundred people were fighting chaotically on a hill further ahead of them.

One of the people fighting suddenly looked in Su Ping’s direction. “Someone’s here!”

The two people who were fighting most intensely immediately stopped and backed off. They looked at Su Ping and his companions; their expressions changed when they saw Calivey and Brian.

Su Ping raised his eyebrows. One of them was among the participants that Calivey considered her biggest threats.

The group of people gradually stopped fighting after Su Ping and the others showed up; they looked warily at the newcomers..

Chapter 1110 What Do You Think?

“Calivey! Brian!”

“They’re cooperating.”

Everybody fixed their eyes upon Calivey and Brian, who had been famous Star Lords for years. Even though they secretly took part in the trial, the news still leaked. All the people present were vigilant of them.

Qing Hongyue and Claudia looked at each other, both realizing what they should do.

Cooperating was the better choice.

They first had to finish off Calivey and Brian first.

To think they were still fighting and trying to kill each other a second before—

But the next second, they quickly decided to cooperate.

They immediately relayed the plan to their subordinates. Then, Qing Hongyue said telepathically, “I’ll take care of Calivey; you’ll take care of Brian. How does it sound?”

“Okay.”

Claudia gave a slight nod.

Brian was once known as Emperor Brian. He was a famous Star Lord, but she wasn’t scared of him.

She was known as the Queen of Time.

She once heard that Brian had perfectly grasped the law of time too. Some even tried to compare them, but she thought the comparison was demeaning.

Is there anything remarkable about the perfect law of time?

There weren’t many Star Lords who were as strong as him, but he wasn’t unique. She was the only one known as the Queen of Time; she was much stronger than those who had mastered the perfect law of time.

“Let’s get this over with as quickly as possible!”

They wasted no time attacking once they picked their respective opponents.

Since their battle had attracted Calivey and Brian, it might attract others too; they shouldn’t stay there for too long.

Even though they weren’t afraid of the leaders of other star zones, they didn’t want to be taken advantage of.

“Indeed. The best solution to solve a conflict is to find a mutual enemy for the parties involved.” Brian looked at the two women who were charging at him and smiled.

Calivey glanced at him. “They seem to already be set on who to attack. Can you tackle them both?”

“I don’t think so, unless Brother Su is willing to lend an ultimate treasure to me,” said Brian.

Su Ping had taken possession of their ultimate treasures. He’d be fearless if he still had his ultimate treasure.

“That’s unnecessary.”

Su Ping said, “You’re both wounded; let me take care of them. Just deal with the rest.”

Both Calivey and Brian heaved a sigh; they were hoping to seize the opportunity and get their treasures back. Alas, it was clear that Su Ping wasn’t that stupid.

As for their wounds... They were indeed in need of recovery.

But wasn’t it your doing?

Both were at a loss for words, so they remained silent after that. They were looking forward to seeing Su Ping’s small worlds in action, hoping to observe them several times more and do their best to understand their mysteries.

“Die!!”

Qing Hongyue waved her hand. Dozens of top Star Lords under her command charged at Calivey’s subordinates.

Qing Hongyue simply charged at Calivey. She had black hair and fair skin; a classic beauty that seemed to have just walked out of a painting.

“Calivey, I’ve heard so much about you. Let me see if your star zone has been bragging about you with good reason,” roared Qing Hongyue.

Calivey pursed her lips; she wouldn’t have held back after such an affront if Su Ping hadn’t taken her ultimate treasure.

“Your opponent is me.”

Su Ping stepped up and stood in front of Qing Hongyue.

Qing Hongyue was dazed for a moment, seeing that Su Ping was only a Star State warrior. She obviously didn’t expect that anyone with such a low cultivation would be able to sneak into the core area of the central continent.

She simply yelled at him without a whiff of politeness. “Where is this brat from? Get the hell out of here!”

Su Ping’s reply was a punch.

A dazzling divine power burst out in an instant; his punch caused the stones near the hill to crumble.

Qing Hongyue was shocked; she changed her expression. Su Ping’s punch was mixed with the laws of chaos and fire. His fist aura was like a burning meteor when seen from a distance.

“What the hell?”

Qing Hongyue moved quickly and punched back. The entire void seemed to be lifted by her fist; it blocked Su Ping’s fist with an unstoppable power.

Even so, she was greatly astounded. The Star State brat mastered two perfect laws?

Su Ping’s eyes unleashed a dazzling coldness like stars in the sky.

He condensed a divine sword and slashed forth.

This time, he directly tapped on the power from his two small worlds. The explosive power in his arm was enough to shatter a special-grade planet into smithereens.

Qing Hongyue narrowed her pupils in shock, but she didn’t step back; her heart was filled with fury. This Star State guy is trying to suppress me?

No way!

After a boom, she activated her constitution and punched upwards.

But the next moment, her hand was cut and bleeding heavily. The overpowering sword attack connected; Qing Hongyue’s body fell quickly and crashed into the hill down below, making it collapse and leveling the area.

The scene came as a shock to all the volunteers fighting for Qing Hongyue and Claudia. They found it hard to believe.

They had experienced Qing Hongyue’s power in previous battles. The woman had mastered two perfect supreme laws and a dozen other perfect paths; she had also combined their traits to a virtually seamless level.

She was almost invincible as a Star Lord!

And yet, she had just been suppressed!

Boom!

A loud noise came from the ground. Qing Hongyue, unleashed a scorching light while shrouded in fierce flames. A pair of vivid phoenix wings unfolded behind her back; she had a special mutated constitution only recorded in her family.

The constitution was related to an ancient and extremely powerful phoenix. She had been able to grasp the perfect path of fire when she activated some of its potential.

Once she broke through and became an Ascendant, she would even be able to acquire the ancient Phoenix Blood Divine Mark from her bloodline, allowing her to easily become a Heavenly Lord!

However, she didn’t want to become a normal Heavenly Lord!

She was determined to become the strongest Heavenly Lord, one that could even trouble Celestials!

That was also the reason why she had cultivated for 90,000 years without advancing to the Ascendant State.

Not even the Ascendants in the outside world could do anything about her, considering the secret treasures that the forces backing him provided. Only Heavenly Lords would have a chance to kill her. Ascendant power was banned during the trial; many of her secret treasures couldn’t be used. Still, she was one of the strongest warriors!

“You’ve made me angry!”

Qing Hongyue’s phoenix-like eyes were filled with fury. She opened her hand, revealing an ultimate treasure that looked like a brilliant phoenix feather.

The entire void was immediately set ablaze as she waved her hand.

The path of fire? No, this is Ascendant State power!

Su Ping narrowed his eyes at first. The environment was so hot he felt like he was burning in an ocean of flames; his body was in excruciating pain because of the heat.

Still, he didn’t even bat an eye; he was already used to a pain ten times stronger.

Qing Hongyue thought that her ultimate treasure didn’t work on him, seeing his expression. However, her senses detected that Su Ping’s body was burning.

Does this guy not feel any pain? It’s not just physical pain; the fire also burns his soul at the same time. That is, unless he has an extraordinary willpower... Qing Hongyue was shocked and suspicious.

Su Ping activated the golden flag exactly at that moment.

The golden flag quickly passed through the blockage of laws and tied up Qing Hongyue’s red feather.

The artifact had been tailor-made by Qing Hongyue’s Celestial backer. She was the only one who could fully bring out its power; it would be awfully ineffective even if others claimed it, and not even as good as some top Star Lord weapons.

The golden flag was at the moment tightly ensnaring the red feather.

The scorching power was quickly dispersed.

“An ultimate treasure?”

Everybody was stunned.

Nobody expected the Star State kid to be holding an ultimate treasure.

Could it be that he’s the leader of his star zone?

So to speak, he was in partnership with Calivey and Brian!

Su Ping charged at Qing Hongyue again, before everybody figured out what was going on.

Qing Hongyue slightly changed her expression. She was surprised to look at Su Ping taking out an ultimate treasure, and even more surprised since it could tie her own. She believed that, given enough time, her ultimate treasure could burn the golden flag; Su Ping didn’t seem to be cutting her some slack.

“You think that’s my only ultimate treasure?”

Qing Hongyue flipped her hand and a blue ball appeared; it was round, like a ball of water.

Soon after, the ball covered her body through her fingers, turning into a blue shield.

She had obviously gotten the treasure from someone else, all because her ultimate treasure is fiery; she was able to kill that guy and loot the ultimate treasure.

“You think that’s my only ultimate treasure?”

Su Ping repeated exactly what she said while approaching quickly, stunning Qing Hongyue.

The next moment, a battle axe appeared in Su Ping’s hand!

The battle axe was filled with a wild and violent power; its shape suggested that it was a highly destructive, yet ultimate treasure!

Qing Hongyue immediately changed her expression.

Has this Star State brat killed the leaders of the other star zones?

One ultimate treasure represented a star zone!

All the others were dumbfounded. Nobody considered Su Ping a big deal in the past, even if they recognized him. They admitted that Su Ping was indeed talented, but that didn’t mean he was qualified to take part in the trial.

Once trying to get to the bottom of it, Su Ping was still too young.

Those who were qualified to compete were all top Star Lords who have cultivated for tens of thousands of years!

“Destruction!” Su Ping roared, suddenly activating the Ascendant power on the battle axe. A stream of power was swept out, which exceeded the destruction law’s power; such a strike was impossible to resist without an ultimate treasure!

Qing Hongyue also changed her expression; she was rather shocked and infuriated.

She stood her ground, and unleashed her strength to charge at Su Ping.

It was her belief that her ultimate treasure could block the strike, but she wouldn’t give Su Ping the opportunity to try.

Scorching flames seemed to be drowning the sky. A small world surfaced behind Qing Hongyue’s back. It was her ‘real’ small world; the power of laws and faith contained were then transferred to her body. A burning long spear appeared in her hand; she suddenly made a stabbing motion toward Su Ping.

“You think those are the only ultimate treasures I have?” asked Su Ping again.

The next moment, the shield appeared and shrouded his body..
