

Physician Wife 1011

Chapter 1011: Overloaded

However, Nuannuan was still wary of her family.

Facing the Nangong family, she found herself unable to be as carefree as when she was with Chi Yang, Chi Yang's grandfather, and Second Uncle.

Everyone could tell that Nuannuan felt uncomfortable, and how the brothers' hearts ached. They immediately changed the topic.

"Nuannuan, Zhong Kuijun has been arrested, and Jiang Shuwan is going to jail, but Zhong Qianqian is still free. Although we got her out of jail, sending her back in isn't hard," Nangong Jin blurted out.

"If you don't want her to go to jail and want her to experience hell on earth outside, I can make her suffer too," Nangong Yun added.

The rest of the brothers nodded in agreement. Their furious looks indicated that they were not satisfied with the outcome.

It was not just her brothers. Even Nangong Shu, Nangong Qin, and Nangong Zhao, who loved their younger sister so dearly, were very dissatisfied with Zhong Qianqian leaving so easily.

Seeing the anger that everyone shared for a common enemy, Nangong Nuannuan felt warm inside.

The discomfort she felt when dealing with her family lessened, and the tension in her voice loosened up significantly.

"I have no intention of letting Zhong Qianqian go just like that. My business with her has just begun. However, since she occupied a huge part of my life, I feel like I should be the one to dish out my revenge on her."

The men from the Nangong family who originally wanted to do something to Zhong Qianqian immediately nodded without any restraint.

Nangong Ze hurriedly inched closer to Nangong Nuannuan and asked, "Then, how do you plan to deal with her? I also want to participate."

"No need, I'll do it myself." Nuannuan rejected him immediately.

Nangong Ze, "... He looked like a little beast that was pouting in anger.

Lil Sun, who had been occupying the space on Nangong Nuannuan's knees, shook his head. Lil Ling'er, who was sitting on the other side, reached out to stroke Nangong Ze's head. "My heart aches for you, Sixth Uncle."

Nangong Ze looked at Lil Ling'er pitifully.

Heartache? Why could he not tell?

Even though she used to hate Nangong Ze the most in the past, Nangong Nuannuan pitied him too.

Clearing her throat, she could not help but blurt out, "My mother left behind a will that allows Zhong Qianqian to receive 100 million bucks from RS Bank after verifying her DNA from the blood test. If she was in trouble, she could also get 100 million bucks through the same verification.

"Now that Zhong Kuijun and Jiang Hanlin have been arrested, and Cloud Group has been sealed off, the Jiang family must be in need of money. So, Zhong Qianqian will definitely think of obtaining that money. Therefore, I plan to go back tomorrow to cut off her escape route."

As Nangong Nuannuan spoke, she could feel a dozen pairs of eyes beside her blasting at her like searchlights.

Even though this was a minivan that was supposed to fit only seven people at once, it was heavily overloaded. Meanwhile, those dozen or so pairs of eyes...

Nangong Nuannuan, who had been squashed into a pancake, expressed her inability to accept this.

"Zhong Qianqian is just a minor character. There's no need to trouble a noble young master like you to make a trip there."

Nangong Nuannuan thought that she was giving Nangong Ze an out.

However, there was that person who ignored her offer and immediately followed up with, "It's okay, I'm not busy with work. Even though Zhong Qianqian is just small fry, how can you not have an elder brother on your side when dealing with trivial matters like this?"

Chapter 1012: Taken Advantage Of

"With your elder brother by your side, I can help you block that disgusting woman from looking at you, lest her gaze dirties your clothes."

"I can block her too. I don't need to work," Nangong Yun immediately said.

"Normally, my elder brother is busier than me. He doesn't even need to go to work, much less me." Even though Nangong Yun's twin brother, Nangong Zheng, was driving, he did not want to be excluded at all.

"Me too."

"It just so happens that I'm on leave, so I don't need to go to the military base."

The few brothers expressed that they were also free to join her. Then, they looked at Nangong Nuannuan with their big begging eyes.

Nuannuan's head hurt. Just as she was thinking about whether she should agree, her three uncles also spoke sternly.

"Coincidentally, something happened to the military base in Jiang District recently. I need to go over there to take a look."

Nangong Nuannuan looked at Nangong Shu, "..."

As a grand general, there was not a shred of relations between you and the Jiang District military base. What was the point of heading there?

As soon as Nangong Shu finished speaking, Nangong Qin, who was behind them, said, "As the chairman, I only go to the company when something important happens in the company or when there's a board meeting. I usually have nothing to do. Nuannuan, you can choose not to bring everyone else, but you must bring Second Uncle with you."

Nangong Nuannuan, "..."

"Previously, the Deputy Director of the Foreign Affairs Office had such a bright in Jiang District. In addition to the fact that he's also a member of the Xiao family, the Jiang District office keeps calling to apologize. I should go console them myself."

Nangong Nuannuan, "..."

"If all of you leave, are you planning to leave this old man in Emperor District alone? No way, I must go as well. Nuannuan, I heard from Elder Chi that you managed to pick 15 unassuming raw stones in Soaring Clouds Pavilion. This time, Grandpa will go with you. Can you help me pick up a few?"

"..." Nangong Nuannuan could not take it anymore and complained, "Grandpa, I've already picked up everything valuable from Soaring Clouds Pavilion in one go. Furthermore, I think I've already gotten blacklisted by Soaring Clouds Pavilion. They definitely won't sell me more raw stones."

Old Master Nangong, "..."

"It's fine. You can bring me to pick out some works of calligraphy or paintings."

Lil Ling'er smiled and said, "Auntie, I want to learn too. We're the same."

Nangong Nuannuan knew that Lil Ling'er possessed the same supernatural ability as her, but she was still young, so her X-ray vision was not as advanced yet. However, was the entire family planning to join her?

"Auntie, Lil Ling'er insists on going with you, and I can't be separated from Lil Ling'er."

Lil Sun had always been a reliable child. He was the last to speak, and he did not sound worried that he would not be able to go at all.

He knew that even if his aunt chose not to bring everyone, she would bring him and Ling'er along.

After all, both of them were more adorable than everyone else.

Eventually, Nangong Nuannuan had no choice but to agree to bring everyone back to Jiang District tomorrow if Zhong Qianqian wanted to return to Jiang District.

However, what incited everyone's interest to go to Jiang District was to check out the place where Nangong Yu once lived. They wanted to see the scumbag that their precious princess married. Most importantly, they wanted to see their little princess' 'fiancé'.

Although they were aware that Chi Yang had a great reputation and was Elder Chi's grandson, Chi Zehao's son...

The thought of their precious darling—someone they held so dearly in their hands for fear of falling; the candy they held in their mouths but afraid that it might melt—getting taken advantage of by a horny pig after reconciling with her family... She had not even experienced the princess treatment at home yet.

With that in mind, the men of the Nangong family blocked this question and discarded the thought subconsciously.

Chapter 1013: Pig Trotters

Although that pig was an excellent pig, it was still a pig!

Thinking about how their wonderful Lil Nuannuan would hug a pig trotter just like that stirred up plenty of discomfort in them!

Chi Yang, who was far away in Jiang District, had no idea that an excellent pig like him had become the Wolf King's target, and the Wolf King was bringing a pack of wolves over to eat up the pig. Chi Yang could not help but sneeze a dozen times. The guards thought that he caught a cold and silently prepared a box of flu-relieving medicine for him.

Due to the specially arranged afternoon press conference, everyone ate something before leaving in the morning. Therefore, even though it was already two in the afternoon when they arrived at Nangong Qin's villa, they were not hungry.

However, before Nangong Qin left in the morning, he instructed the butler to prepare pastries, fruits, and snacks that girls liked according to the best standards.

This was the first time Nangong Nuannuan stepped into Nangong Qin's luxurious mansion.

The mansion was located in Peninsula Mountain Resort. Since Nangong Nuannuan loathed the Nangong family and the Gu family in her previous life, she had never stepped into the mansion.

Passing through the door this time, she finally lamented at how impressive this place was.

Emperor District was a place where every inch of land was worth more than gold. It was different from the cities in Luntan. Luntan had a lot of land with a smaller population, so even though her manor was so big that it made one's hair stand on end, nobody would be as impressed by the land space.

However, Peninsula Mountain Resort was different.

It sat next to the national park, next to the mountains and rivers, like a hidden paradise separated from the rest of the world.

The villas at the foot of the mountain were already very beautiful and exquisite. However, when she reached the top of the mountain and saw Nangong Qin's villa, Nangong Nuannuan could not help but lament in awe.

The villas at the top were completely different from the ones at the bottom. The villa belonged to one family and it was enough to occupy the entire peak of the mountain.

Even though they were on a mountain, it was more precise to say that they were on a mountainous range. The slopes were flatter than usual, and even at the top of the mountain, there was a huge piece of flat land that was several hectares wide. The Nangong family had used this piece of flat land to build a golf course.

The Nangong family's villa was a group of villas, divided into four parts.

The main villa was the largest. It had six floors, and there were two separate villas on both sides with five floors and four floors respectively. As for the villa with four floors, it looked very similar to her manor in Europe.

"In the middle is our home. Sometimes, when Grandpa comes over, he'll stay here too. The four-floor villa on the left is your eldest uncle's home. The villa next to your eldest uncle and ours is built for your mother. Even though she's no longer here, there are still her favorite things or paintings she made from when she was young and when she grew up. The four-floor building on the right is your third uncle's home." Nangong Qin pointed at the villa and explained it in detail.

Nuannuan listened attentively with mixed feelings.

Her mother had already passed away for so many years, but his family had built a castle-like home for her despite knowing that she was already dead. This showed how much her mother had been doted on by the Nangong family.

Sensing the sincerity in everyone's eyes, Nuannuan was awash with a spring that was pouring out endlessly. Warmth flowed through her heart.

In addition, the three brothers had always been on good terms. So, during the weekends, everyone would pick up the old master and spend time together here.

In a place like Emperor District where every inch of land was worth its weight in gold, the Nangong family's villa could be said to be very valuable. Many foreign tourists especially liked to take pictures outside the Peninsula Villa.

Chapter 1014: Hand In Hand

"Nuannuan, play with those brats for a while. I'll cook for you. What do you like to eat? What kind of flavor do you like?"

At this moment, Nangong Qin had already put on an apron and rolled up his sleeves. He looked like any typical househusband. Anyone who saw him like this would never have guessed that he was Chairman Nangong who could summon a storm at will.

"Anything?" Nangong Nuannuan looked at Nangong Qin.

"Hehe, Nuannuan, you've really underestimated your second uncle. The food he makes tastes even better than that of the Chi family's second uncle. Look at how much weight I've gained. It's all thanks to your second uncle's cooking."

Second Aunt-in-law knew that her husband had been busy cooking recently just so he could make something delicious for their little princess. Although she could not understand why the men of the Nangong family were so obsessed with their little sister, she should provide her husband unconditional support since she married him.

She knew that her husband's biggest goal at the moment was not to get a few small subsidiary companies listed on the market, but to defeat Chi Ziyao and successfully obtain the stamp of approval from Nuannuan's stomach. Therefore, her Second Aunt-in-law immediately stepped in to toot her husband's horn. Of course, she did not forget to snipe at the second uncle from the Chi family.

A smile flashed across Nangong Nuannuan's eyes. "I like spicy, sweet and sour, sour and spicy, sweet; I also like chicken, roasted duck, goose, fish..."

After hearing Nuannuan's long list, everyone was stunned.

In the end, Second Uncle was the first to react. He nodded and concluded, "My Nuannuan is a good girl who isn't picky with her food! Go play with Big Brother and the rest, I'll go cook."

"..." Nuannuan lapsed into silence. Was the phrase, 'not picky' correctly used here? She clearly had a big appetite, but she guessed that it was not wrong to interpret it that way.

Nangong Qin then shouted, "Nangong Zheng, go to the farm outside and catch two ducks, two chickens, and ten rabbits for me."

"Didn't Nuannuan say she wanted to eat goose?"

"I've already killed three of that this morning. I don't need more."

"Alright."

At home, the men in the Nangong family did not look like elite men with powerful auras.

At home, Old Master Nangong looked like the kindest grandfather in the world and was currently playing chess with her first uncle.

Her uncles and brothers all acted like they were good househusbands at home and assisted Nangong Qin.

On the other hand, the group of Nangong family servants had all left, leaving only the butler at home. Everyone was involved in making lunch and dinner.

Nangong Nuannuan wanted to see what the Nangong family's farm looked like, so she followed Nangong Zheng out.

Nangong Zheng smiled and asked, "Nuannuan, are you going to accompany me to catch some poultry?"

"Mhmm."

"Okay, let's go. I'll show you the animals that we rear."

After saying that, Nangong Zheng reached out and held Nuannuan's hand like it was the most natural thing in the world and walked out of the room.

Nangong family's uncles, "..."

The Nangong brothers, "..."

Old Master Nangong, "..."

"Auntie, I want to go too!" Lil Ling'er looked at the hand that held her aunt's hand and immediately got out of Nangong Shu's embrace. She hopped toward her aunt with her stubby legs.

Her aunt was hers. In this family, only she and her aunt were the same. So, they should be the closest! She must protect Auntie well.

"I'm going too!" Lil Sun immediately followed.

"Me too!"

"Nuannuan, I'll accompany you!"

"Since you're going, let's go together. Nuannuan, Grandpa will go with you too." Old Master Nangong stopped playing chess and stood up to walk toward Nuannuan.

Chapter 1015: Competition

Nuannuan was the granddaughter that he recognized first, yet Nangong Zheng had held his granddaughter's hand first without saying a word. The old master brooded about it.

Nangong Nuannuan was not used to being held by a man other than Big Brother Chi Yang. She could not get used to it even though that was her elder brother.

Therefore, after her grandfather spoke, she pulled her hand out subtly, turned around, and held Grandpa's arm instead.

Meanwhile, Nangong Zheng looked at Nuannuan with a blissful expression on his face.

The brothers glared at Nangong Zheng, the pig trotter, and gritted their teeth in anger.

So envious...

"Guns here."

Nangong Ze took out seven guns and passed them to the six grandsons and Nangong Nuannuan respectively.

Nuannuan raised an eyebrow. "Why do we need guns?"

"Because these animals are scattered on the mountain. When they see people coming, they'll know we're here to catch them. They'll run all over the mountain, so it won't be easy to capture them."

"Doesn't that mean there will be bullets in them?"

"I'm fine, I'm a doctor. I know how to remove bullets. Nuannuan, let's see who's faster in removing bullets later, okay?"

Nangong Nuannuan smiled and felt that Nangong Ze was exceptionally keen on doing nonsensical things. "If you want to compete, let's compete on who can catch the animals with their bare hands the fastest. Let's see who can catch the most and who can catch the biggest. As for the loser...how about washing the dishes after dinner?"

“Alright,” the six brothers said in unison, rubbing their palms together.

Four of them witnessed Nuannuan’s skills before. After hearing about her when the four returned, the other two who had never seen Nuannuan at work did not dare underestimate their little princess too.

They had always been on the same side and had never gone against each other head-on. As for the men from the Nangong family who were sent to the special forces to participate in various training since they were young, they all wanted to show off their strength in front of Nuannuan.

“Grandpa, Uncles, can three of you become the judges?”

Seeing the smile on Nangong Nuannuan’s face, how could the old master and her two uncles say no? They also agreed since their interests had been piqued.

This was an authentic little mountain.

There were small things left behind from camping in the small mountain. It was obvious at a glance that they belonged to Lil Sun and Lil Ling’er. There were also barbecue racks and picnic utensils. Clearly, weekends at the Nangong family were relaxing and happy events.

The group took the tour bus to the entrance of the mountain and then walked in.

Old Master Nangong and Nuannuan’s two uncles were waiting for everyone in the car.

Lil Sun and Lil Ling’er were grouped into a team, and they joined in the hunt for poultry.

“What we’re catching are ducks, chickens, rabbits, and fish. Other animals don’t count. You can catch as many as you want, but if you want to catch fish, you have to use a bucket. Also, be gentle when you catch them. After all, we can’t eat that much, so we’ll have to release the extras anyway.” Nangong Shu announced the rules and then said, “Begin.”

The group of young masters from the Nangong family dispersed. Nangong Nuannuan looked at Little Sun and Little Ling’er, feeling sorry for them.

“Even if the two of you are one, won’t you lose for sure?”

Lil Ling’er pouted. “Auntie, don’t underestimate me. Actually, my brother and I are very powerful. If you don’t believe me, you’ll find out later.”

Nangong Nuannuan rubbed her nose. “Alright. But if you lose, I can help you wash the dishes.”

With that, the two children’s aching hearts were instantly soothed. Lil Ling’er revealed an extremely cute smile. “Auntie, you’re the best.”

Chapter 1016: Duck Hunting

Nangong Nuannuan was puzzled when she saw Lil Sun’s cool expression. “Lil Sun, why aren’t you smiling today?”

She remembered that even though Lil Sun was usually cold to others, he loved to smile at her!

Hearing her aunt’s words, Lil Sun closed his mouth even tighter, and a suspicious blush appeared on his face.

Lil Ling'er trolled her twin brother happily. "That's because Lil Sun's two front teeth fell out yesterday!"

Nangong Nuannuan, "..."

Looking at Lil Sun's embarrassed expression after being betrayed, Nangong Nuannuan could not help but pat Lil Sun's head. What a pitiful child. He was always so protective of his sister while his sister kept trolling him.

"Even though Lil Sun lost a few teeth, he's still a handsome guy. It's all thanks to your natural good looks, no?"

When Lil Sun heard that, his face involuntarily cracked into a huge smile.

Air could even pass through from the two huge holes where Lil Sun's two front teeth were supposed to be, and he looked hilarious. Nangong Nuannuan burst out laughing in spite of herself.

Lil Sun, who had been deceived and with the expression of a shattered heart, "..."

"Buahahahaha..." The old master and Nuannuan's two uncles could not help but laugh out loud when they heard the godly conversation between the three.

Seeing that Lil Sun was extremely displeased, Nangong Nuannuan realized her mistake. She squatted down and planted a small kiss on Lil Sun's cheek as an apology.

Lil Sun's angry face instantly smoothened out, and a cute blush appeared.

Lil Ling'er looked at Nangong Nuannuan and said, "Auntie, Auntie, I also want a kiss."

Without thinking, Nangong Nuannuan bent down and kissed Lil Ling'er's chubby face. Lil Ling'er smiled brightly and dazzled the eyes of the old master and two uncles beside her.

They also wanted a kiss...

Unfortunately, they were too embarrassed to say it.

After that, Nangong Nuannuan and the two children separated as well. The group of people began to disperse to catch poultry.

All of the animals on the small mountain were thrown into a frenzy because of the Nangong family.

Nangong Nuannuan found it strange. Why did everyone go to the other side and not here? Could it be that they had specially given her a headstart?

The corners of Nuannuan's lips curled up. Did she need a headstart? Even if all six of them worked together, no one could beat her.

Nuannuan walked to a small pond and saw a group of ducks playing with water. One of the ducks even had a square scarf on its head and a square apron on its butt.

When it saw Nuannuan, the duck raised its chin arrogantly and let out a few quacks. Behind it, a group of ducks followed the cue and jumped into the water too.

Nuannuan was super impressed.

That was the leader!

“Heh, your mates are all in hiding, but you’re here with a group of ladies. Are you sure you’re a good leader?”

Quack, quack, quack!

The duck continued to quack at the ducks behind it, completely ignoring Nangong Nuannuan. After a while, a group of ducklings came out from another direction, waddling out. They looked extremely cute.

The leading duck ignored Nuannuan. Although she also thought that this duck was too beautiful and plump to be eaten, but who asked it ignore Nuannuan?

“Hey, I’m talking to you! Why are you ignoring me?”

After saying that, Nuannuan reached her hand into the water. With a loud splash, she sent a fountain of water at the group of beautiful ducks and the ducklings.

Chapter 1017: The Nangong Family’s Supernatural Ability

The leading duck did not expect this woman to be so rude. It was drenched from head to toe—even its scarf and apron were wet.

The leading duck was angry and quacked a few times at Nuannuan. Then, Nuannuan realized that dozens of ducks started to surround her. The ducks came at her and flapped their wings aggressively, swallowing her in the shadows of their wings in the blink of an eye.

Without giving Nuannuan time to react, this group of ducks gathered to cause trouble and began to frantically peck at her legs.

“Oh, my god!”

For a person who had never gotten hurt before, she could not accept the truth that she got pecked by a bunch of ducks. Nuannuan was displeased.

She rushed out of the encirclement quickly and looked coldly at the Duck King, who was obviously not happy with its wet apron and scarf.

“You asked for it first, so don’t blame me!”

Nuannuan picked up a small stone from the ground and aimed it at the arteries on the ducks’ necks.

After getting hit by the rocks, the ducks’ meridians were blocked and they slumped to the ground immediately.

The Duck King was a bit dumbfounded. It cried out angrily a few times before rushing toward Nangong Nuannuan desperately.

With an extended palm, Nuannuan grabbed its neck.

The duck was not an easy one. It turned around and bit Nuannuan’s hand.

Of course, Nuannuan was not someone to be trifled with too. The duck was fast, but she was even faster. With a slap, she sent the duck's head flinging to its side.

The time limit for the competition was fifteen minutes. After Nuannuan subdued all the ducks here, she saw a car parked next to the pond. Coincidentally, there were a lot of ducks in that area. Thus, she knocked out almost 100 ducks of different sizes and sent them into the car.

The Duck King's face was filled with anger and helplessness. Its eyes were filled with sorrow. Its headscarf and apron were also torn, and it looked like it had nothing to live for.

When Nuannuan arrived at the exit, the few brothers from the Nangong family had just arrived too. They were unloading their catch and letting their uncles count.

Seeing Nuannuan walk over, everyone smiled and immediately surrounded her.

"Wow, Nuannuan, you actually got a whole car full of stuff. Let's quickly count how many there are! I told them that we'd all have to admit defeat eventually when competing against you, Nuannuan!"

Nangong Ze was the first to rush forward. When the Duck King saw Nangong Ze, it immediately began to quack.

It knew Nangong Ze.

When he saw the Duck King, Nangong Ze's smiling face stiffened.

"Uh..."

Nangong Ze was stunned as soon as he got on the car. His brothers also approached him and were equally stunned when they saw the Duck King.

Nuannuan raised an eyebrow. "Why? Is there a problem?"

Unless... was this a duck that must not be caught and eaten?

Even if she could not turn it into a meal, she could use it to make up the numbers. She would definitely get first place anyway.

Grandpa and her two uncles also walked over. When they saw the thing with the headscarf looking at them pitifully, Uncle could not help but call out—

"Fatty?"

Quack!

When Fatty heard Eldest Uncle's voice, tears started to fall from its eyes. Its pitiful look resembled one of a grieving young lady after getting raped. It was so heart-wrenching.

"Is this a pet duck that we can't eat?" Nangong Nuannuan looked at the crowd. Seeing that nobody said anything, she blurted out, "We don't have to eat it anyway. I just caught it to make up the numbers. I didn't ask it to summon a bunch of ducks to peck at me, did I? Count the number of ducks on this cart. I won anyway."

Everyone fell silent.

Chapter 1018: Nuannuan's Home

Finally, Nuannuan's Third Uncle, Nangong Zhao, blurted out, "Nuannuan, other than having X-ray vision, can you understand the animals?"

"What? Are you saying that the women in the Nangong family not only have X-ray vision but they can also communicate with animals? I can't! I only have X-ray vision," Nangong Nuannuan replied honestly, amused by the idea.

Third Uncle nodded gravely. "Yes, the women in the Nangong family have X-ray vision while the men can communicate with animals."

"Is that so?" Nuannuan blinked at Nangong Zhao in a dorky but adorable manner.

Seeing Nangong Zhao nod seriously, Nuannuan's interest was piqued. Looking at the miserable fat duck, she could not help but ask, "Then, do you know what it is saying?"

Nangong Zhao nodded mysteriously. "Of course."

"What is it saying?"

"It says—I'm a goose! I'm a goose—!!"

"Pftttt— Hahahahaha—"

The men from the Nangong family could no longer hold back their laughter.

Nangong Nuannuan, "...-_-||"

She knew it. What kind of nonsensical supernatural ability was the power to communicate with animals? He was just mocking her.

Seeing that the female goose lost its hairstyle, and recalling that Nuannuan punched her butt several times out of anger, Nuannuan's heart was filled with guilt.

Goose, duck, or whatever. Her only responsibility was to eat and she never had to deal with them before, so...

For someone who could not cook like her—and someone who would only eat the best food—she never bothered to remember the difference between a duck and a goose.

To her, these things could only be categorized as edible or non-edible.

In the final match, Nangong Nuannuan lost. After all, geese were not included in the list of animals they were supposed to catch.

The champion was actually the two little ones that Nuannuan did not have high hopes for. This was because this pair of twins each carried Papa Rabbit and Mama Rabbit in their arms, and then a group of little bunnies ran over to where their parents were. After all, Papa Rabbit and Mama Rabbit were close to the twins.

Eventually, everyone released all the animals they caught. After they left, the few elder brothers of the Nangong family sneaked to the back and stole the last few animals into the car.

The animals that had left earlier had no idea what happened and continued to think this was their happy playground.

Among all the caught animals, there were also Fatty with its swollen butt.

Seeing that Fatty's headscarf and apron were both gone, Second Aunt-in-law ran out and wrapped Fatty in her arms. "Oh, no! What's wrong with my poor Fatty? Why is your butt swollen? You must have gotten chased after by another male goose again, haven't you?"

Nuannuan, "...-_-||"

She just could not get it. It was just a goose. How did things get so dramatic?

It was only later that she found out that not long after the twins were born, someone sneaked into the Nangong residence to kidnap the babies. After they were discovered, they were quickly caught. Only one of them managed to escape to the small mountain, he dived into the pond and hid there.

However, Fatty was the one who discovered him. A huge gaggle of geese pecked him until he resurfaced.

Due to Fatty's great contribution to the family, the Nangong family decided to not eat Fatty. They wanted to let Fatty live freely until it died of old age.

Looking at how Fatty looked like in her Second Aunt-in-law's arms, Nuannuan was reminded of her Da Bai.

It seemed like...

It had been a long time since she last saw Da Bai, Feng Shengxuan, or even Bai Liyue.

The food that Nangong Qin made was extraordinarily delicious.

Nangong Nuannuan could not help but feel like it was nearly as good as Second Uncle Chi's cooking.

With everyone working together, the family finished dinner at five in the evening. Although Nuannuan lost the competition and had to wash the dishes, all the men from the Nangong family stood up the moment she got up to start washing the dishes. Eventually, all the dishes were washed and dried, but her hands were never wet throughout the process...

Chapter 1019: Devoted Family

After that, Nangong Qin brought Nuannuan to see her mother's castle-like loft. Although no one had ever lived here before, everything was spotless. Nuannuan was extremely touched.

Since Nuannuan was alone and it would be too empty for her to stay in such a big loft, her uncles brought her to see the room allocated for her in the Nangong residence from then onward.

Her room originally belonged to Nangong Yun, the all-powerful Vice President of Imperial Palace Group, the most valuable golden bachelor in Camino. Due to her joining the family, Nangong Qin kicked Nangong Yun out and sent him to just about any random room in the house.

The reason why Nangong Yun gave up his room was that his room was the best in the entire villa, second only to Old Master Nangong's room.

"Although your mother has already passed away, it's fortunate that she left you as a continuation of her bloodline. Nuannuan, from today onward, this will be your home. You, your husband, and your children will always have the right to stay in this house because we're all family here. You are an indispensable existence in our Nangong family."

Nangong Nuannuan was very touched when she saw the silver-gray decor in the room.

"Thank you Eldest Uncle, Second Uncle, and Third Uncle."

Nuannuan glanced at the men who resembled her somehow but carried themselves in a much more imposing manner.

So, this was how having a family felt.

It felt warm and caring, accompanied by the reassurance of continuity.

Nangong Nuannuan walked into her bedroom and sat on the comfortable soft bed. The decoration was minimalistic but not without warmth. It was inconspicuous without lacking a sense of luxury. Coincidentally, it was very similar to the room that Second Uncle Chi arranged for her.

Looking at the gazes of her three uncles, she knew that they wanted her to stay here today.

Logically speaking, she should be staying here, but...

Grandpa Chi and Second Uncle Chi must still be looking forward to her return.

The Nangong family was a lively one. It was already very lively for Grandpa Nangong to have such filial sons, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren to accompany him. On the contrary, Grandpa Chi only had Second Uncle Chi and Big Brother Chi Yang. Additionally, Big Brother Chi Yang was not by his side all year round, and they hardly see each other in the span of a year.

Therefore, even though she knew that her answer would disappoint everyone, she still decided to go back.

After staying in the room for a while, Nuannuan went downstairs with her three uncles.

Downstairs, the six brothers, Lil Ling'er, and Lil Sun all looked at her reluctantly. Guilt rose in the back of Nangong Nuannuan's throat.

However, when she thought about her lonely Grandpa Chi and Second Uncle Chi, her sense of guilt instantly disappeared.

"Nuannuan, Grandpa knows what you're thinking. You don't have to feel guilty. Although we all want you to stay, Chi Yang's Grandpa doesn't have a lot of family members. You're Chi Yang's fiancée, so it's only right for you to accompany his family on his behalf. We're your closest family, and this is your home. Here, you only need to treat us with the most relaxed attitude and stay as relaxed as you wish. Understand?"

"That's right, Nuannuan. Although we've never lived together in the past 17 years, getting together so suddenly might be strange and uncomfortable. Yet, as Grandpa said, you can do whatever you want in front of your family. A home is a place for you to relax. No matter if you're tired, hurt, sad, or happy, this place will always be your safest harbor. We'll always support you."

Nangong Nuannuan looked at Grandpa...

Chapter 1020: Cinderella And The Queen

Sweeping her gaze across the room and looking into the eyes of her three uncles, aunties, six brothers, and even Lil Sun and Lil Ling'er with their faces beaming with seriousness, Nuannuan felt her eyes started to sting.

Facing her family, she was so touched that she was at a loss for words.

"Auntie. Auntie."

Lil Ling'er walked forward and tugged on Nangong Nuannuan's clothes. She asked in the same adorable way she always said, "Can Lil Sun and I go to Grandpa Chi's house to play?"

Stunned, Zhong Nuannuan smiled and said, "Of course you can, but you'll have to ask your parents for their opinion."

Nangong Jin's wife, Lil Sun and Lil Ling'er's mother, was a famous Award-winning Best Actress, Mu Chenxiang.

Although she was a dazzling woman on the screen, in the Nangong family, she was a good granddaughter-in-law who did not speak much.

Nangong Nuannuan did not have much contact with her, but she was rather affectionate toward this gentle sister-in-law of hers.

When Mu Chenxiang heard Nuannuan, she could not find anything wrong with letting them go. "If you want to go, then go. You'll be with your Auntie anyway, so Mommy is reassured."

"Really? Mommy's the best!"

After Lil Ling'er praised her mother, she immediately looked at Nangong Nuannuan. "Auntie, Mommy has given us the green light. Can we go?"

Nangong Nuannuan smiled. "Of course."

Although she did not tell Grandpa Chi and Second Uncle Chi beforehand, she knew that they would definitely welcome the twins.

"Coincidentally, I have something to discuss with Old Man Chi as well, so let's leave it at that for today. You guys have fun, we'll head over with Nuannuan first."

Since Lil Sun and Lil Ling'er were going to their Auntie's place for a sleepover, they recovered their explosive energy after thinking that their exciting day was about to end. Now, it felt like the day had only just begun.

"Nuannuan, wait! Your second uncle made a portion for Grandpa Chi Yang and Second Uncle Chi when he was cooking today. It's not too late now. Give them a call and tell them not to cook tonight." As Second Aunt-in-law spoke, she handed several bags of cooked dishes to Nuannuan.

"Alright, thank you, Second Uncle! Thank you, Second Aunt-in-law."

"Child, why are you being so polite? We're already a family, there's no need to be this courteous."

"By the way, Dad, are we leaving tomorrow? Let me know so that I can book the flight tickets."

"Nuannuan, what do you think?" Grandpa Nangong looked at Nangong Nuannuan. Naturally, Nuannuan should be the one who called the shots on this matter.

"Ten o'clock?"

"Ten, then."

The whole family agreed with her.

Therefore, Nangong Shu immediately called his assistant and asked him to ready the private jet before ten o'clock tomorrow.

Old Master Chi watched the news at home alone. Chi Zeyao was feeling unwell in the afternoon and had not gotten out of bed yet.

Thankfully, the news announced that Nuannuan's incident today had been carried out perfectly.

Various news channels, newspapers, and online websites reported everything that happened that afternoon.

The old master asked the butler to dig out all the news from the television, internet, and newspapers. He read every single piece of news, refusing to miss any single one of them.

Thinking of the malicious treatment Nuannuan had been subjected to, he felt angry and heartbroken.
