Chapter 1071: Dumb From All The Good Food

Looking at how the two elderly protected Leng Qirui from the left and right as though he was a treasure, going to the point of even giving Leng Jinpeng's yearly dividend to Leng Qirui, Leng Jinpeng's was furious!

This was also the reason why he had always raised Leng Qirui so harshly.

The child had been too pampered. Moreover, for him to be pampered in this manner, something would definitely go wrong.

"Sweetheart, it's all up to you tomorrow!" Grandma Leng held Leng Qirui's uninjured hand with a worried face.

"Don't worry, Grandma. This is a small matter to me. I do lead other people in my games too."

Seeing Leng Qirui's calm expression, Leng Jinpeng could not help but poke fun at him again. "You have the nerve to talk about leadership in games? I'm just afraid that even if you take up that position, you won't even dare to show up in front of anyone who tried to make things difficult for you!"

"Why do you look down on our Lil Rui so much? Are you his biological father? Our Lil Rui is a dragon among men. When he was born, I could already tell that our Lil Rui would achieve great feats in the future."

Leng Jinpeng sighed in spite of himself. "Mom, when I'm educating my son, can you stop going against what I say all the time?"

"You're obviously the one who chose the wrong education for him, yet you dare criticize your mother! How is your mother going against you all the time? I think your mother is pretty darn right! I agree that Lil Rui looks like a man who's meant for greatness!" Grandpa Leng supported his wife wholeheartedly.

In fact, one might even say that he would try it out if his wife told him poop was edible!

Leng Jinpeng cursed internally.

"Therefore, that is why your mother and I have transferred our 20% shares to Lil Rui in secret."

"What?!" Leng Jinpeng jumped to his feet.

"Didn't you hear me clearly? Your mother and I transferred all our shares to Lil Rui. Lil Rui is now the biggest shareholder of Leng Group!"

Leng Jinpeng's scalp went numb.

The reason why Leng Jinpeng dared to transfer his 20% shares to Leng Qirui earlier was that his parents still possessed the 20% shares that could suppress Leng Qirui.

Now, this unreliable person held the 40% shares and became the actual chairman...

Why did Leng Jinpeng feel like Leng Group was truly going to collapse?

“Dad, Mom, don’t you think you’ve gone too far?”

Grandma Leng said, “Too far? How? We just think highly of Lil Rui, and we’re willing to give the shares to him. Are you getting too used to being the Commander-in-chief that you want to control us now too?”

Grandpa Leng sang along. “I think you’ve gotten dumb from all the good food you had!”

Grandma Leng continued, “Exactly!”

Leng Jinpeng, “...”

Grandpa Leng added, “Why don’t you think about it from another perspective? If Nuannuan didn’t remind us about this, we would’ve been knocked unconscious and died. Are any of the two ingrates and the little ingrates that they gave birth to the best candidates to take over Leng Group?”

Grandma Leng matched Grandpa Leng. “That’s right! If the Leng family is destined to be destroyed one day, I’d rather it be destroyed in my sweetheart’s hands. Why should I give the shares to those two ingrates?”

Leng Jinpeng, “...”

Fine, pretend he never said anything.

In any case, even if he died in a car crash, the old couple would never have expected him to return to manage the company.

At nine o’clock the next morning, the headquarters of Leng Group was overcast with gloominess. Worry and concern were written all over the employees’ faces.

On the previous day, Vice President Leng Jinchen informed everyone in the company that the Leng family’s second-generation heir, Leng Qirui, was going to be the chairman.

Since Leng Jinchen and Leng Jinjie used to be afraid that Leng Qirui would take control of Leng Group, they set him up and embarrassed him on various occasions since he was young.

Chapter 1072: Business War

Therefore, Young Master Leng was a rich fop, a school bully, and a gangster—he had a bad reputation. Leng Group’s employees aside, everyone in the upper echelons of Emperor District who paid attention to the Leng family would know that.

Although the Leng family was powerful and had a reliable son like Leng Jinpeng, families usually would not stay rich for three generations. In Leng Qirui’s generation, they only had one good-for-nothing in the entire Leng family line. There was no way he could keep up to the family name.

Therefore, the entire Leng Group was in a state of anxiety. Everyone imagined that once Leng Qirui took over the position as chairman of the board, Leng Group would go bankrupt within three years.

Perhaps, it might not need three years. If he was worse than the rumors said, he could destroy Leng Group within a year and a half.

The employees who had high hopes for the Leng Group and wanted to make a name for themselves in the company now felt like ants on a hot pan. They could not help feeling that Leng Group was suddenly as unappealing as chicken ribs. They should leave such an unappetizing offer... but after so many years, they were truly reluctant to leave.

Therefore, when Leng Qirui got pushed through Leng Group's headquarters with his arm and leg covered in plaster and a severely bruised face—surrounded by a group of bodyguards—all the employees lost hope.

The new chairman of Leng Group looked very different from the handsome and elegant figures from the other big families. It was hard to describe Chairman Leng's looks.

What was the difference between him and those defeated Japanese soldiers fleeing for their lives?

He still had the cheek to call for a shareholders' meeting looking like this?

It hurt simply to look at him!

When Leng Jinjie and Leng Jinchen's employees saw the new chairman, they all took out the resignation letters they wrote yesterday and were prepared to hand them in collectively during the board meeting.

Vice President Leng said that strength was power.

If that spoiled brat, Leng Qirui, really wanted to be the chairman, they would collectively resign. Everyone would see if he dared to accept that!

In the most authoritative-looking board meeting room of the company on the 27th floor, Leng Qirui sat alone on the main seat while all other seats were empty.

Leng Jinjie, Leng Jinchen, and the 24 shareholders were all absent.

The chairman's secretary was Leng Jinchen's henchman. He gloated as he watched the new chairman sitting alone in the meeting room.

Vice President was right. Even if Leng Qirui had the most shares, he was just a piece of mud that could not even be used to build a wall. Once they gave him some trouble, Leng Qirui would immediately cower.

The chairman's secretary looked down at himself. However, in reality, he was laughing internally. He lowered his head in disdain.

"Secretary Chen."

Chen Shan was stunned when Leng Qirui suddenly called him. He replied, "I'm here."

"I asked you to inform all the directors about the board meeting yesterday. Did you inform them?"

"Chairman, I've informed them all."

"Are you sure?"

"Yes, Chairman, I'm sure."

Leng Qirui nodded.

Just when Chen Shan thought that Leng Qirui was going to go home and cry to his father after seeing that there was no one around, Leng Qirui took out his phone indifferently and made a call. When the call went through, he said calmly, "Come up."

Chen Shan was stunned once again. He did not know if Leng Qirui was trying to get reinforcements or something else altogether.

However, he soon found out who Leng Qirui summoned over.

Seeing a group of people in high-class suits enter, Chen Shan's eyes narrowed subtly.

Chapter 1073: Nervous

"Mr. Ma, this is the former chairman's secretary. Yesterday, I specifically asked him to inform all the other directors of the board meeting today, and also to retain a copy of the directors' confirmation that they received the notice. However, none of the directors appeared for the board meeting today. You're the best lawyer in Camino. As the chairman, do I have the authority to fire all of them?"

What? The best lawyer in Camino?

Ma?

Could it be Ma Xiaoping?

This person was the Nangong family's personal lawyer! He had never lost any lawsuit, settling at most.

He was definitely a genius in the legal world—someone with a scary existence.

Leng Qirui managed to invite such a terrifying person?

How was that possible?

The man wore a pair of gold-rimmed glasses above a gentle smile that oddly reminded everyone of a sly fox. He spoke.

"Chairman Leng, you're holding a board meeting today. Those directors all hold a part of the company's shares, so they have the right to participate or listen to the company's management report. In other words, you don't have the authority to remove them from the board unless they no longer own any shares."

Chen Shan wanted to laugh when he heard that.

Was that embarrassing enough for you, Chairman Leng?

"However..."

Mr. Ma digressed and said, "Since Secretary Chen has already informed them and they're aware that there's a board meeting today, their intentional absence or impunctuality means that they've given up their rights as directors. Therefore, Chairman Leng can continue the board meeting as planned. However, since no one is here to hold a board meeting, thus refusing the power given to them, Chairman Leng can be the sole decision-maker here. You may ask the secretary to present the established matters under each director.”

What?

Chen Shan’s eyes widened when he heard that.

Therefore, even if the directors did not attend the board meeting, Leng Qirui could give orders on his own?

Although Leng Qirui’s face was bruised all over, it could not conceal his originally handsome appearance. An evil grin cracked across his face and asked, “Then, what about personnel appointment and removal?”

Mr. Ma nodded. “You are the chairman. You have the right to appoint and remove personnel. However, you currently only hold 20% of Leng Group’s shares, and your grandfather still holds 20% of the shares, so you’re not the largest shareholder. You’ll need to have the approval of more than half of the company’s board members. However, if the company’s board members aren’t present and are unwilling to fulfill their duties, you can make the necessary changes directly. I will be your witness and you will have legal recognition.”

Leng Qirui nodded. “That’s good. If that’s the case, it’d be best if they skip the board meeting every time. Then, please be my witness. I wish to make some changes to the personnel.”

“All right.” Mr. Ma immediately took out his recording device and started to spread out his documents.

Chen Shan knew the situation was souring and immediately said, “Chairman, the vice president called me. She might be arriving soon. Allow me to answer the call outside.”

Leng Qirui looked at Chen Shan with a half-smile on his face that sent Chen Shan into a rising panic. After that, only did Leng Qirui waved his hand lazily.

Chen Shan let out a huge sigh of relief.

Only when he walked out did he realize...

Why did he need to inhale so deeply?

Did he not look down on this chairman?

Chen Shan had only been with Leng Qirui for less than five minutes, so how did he become so nervous?

Chen Shan wiped the nervous sweat off his forehead and suppressed his rising shock. He immediately called Leng Jinchen and told her that Leng Qirui came prepared.

Chapter 1074: Display Of Power

If the shareholders did not make an appearance, Leng Qirui could appoint and remove personnel under the witness of his lawyer.

Leng Jinjie and Leng Jinchen were sitting with the board members in the pantry downstairs, dissuading them not to go upstairs. After receiving this call, everyone rushed upstairs as fast as they could.

Leng Qirui smirked as he watched the directors rush in one after another.

However, the directors looked at Leng Qirui with mocking smiles on their faces too. It was a smile that only they understood.

“Looks like the previous chairman was too lax with his demands, causing everyone to lose track of time. However, that was in the past. Now that I’m the chairman, from now on, any directors who are late by more than five minutes will be considered forfeiting their rights as directors.”

Everyone frowned at Leng Qirui’s words. They were very dissatisfied with his bossy attitude, but none of them voiced out against him.

“All right, let’s start the meeting now.”

Leng Qirui did not have a pen, a notebook, nor a laptop. He only brought himself in his broken limbs and his mouth.

“Everyone knows that Leng Group’s chairman and his wife, who are also my grandparents, were hit by a car the day before yesterday. The doctor said that if they don’t wake up in 24 hours, it will be very difficult for them to wake up again. My grandfather assumed the posts as the previous chairman cum CEO. We can say that he shouldered all the responsibilities in Leng Group. Unfortunately, he’s now in bed. Although the company has me as the chairman, everyone must be aware that I haven’t graduated from high school yet. I still have to study for four years in university, so I can’t come to the company every day. Therefore, the company still lacks a CEO who can manage the daily nitty-gritty in the company.

“I have a good CEO candidate. His name is Luo Cheng. Everyone who familiarizes themselves with financial news should recognize this name. He’s a top manager. At the end of this year, he ended his contract with a global top 50 company and resigned from his position as the CEO. Therefore, I invited him to Leng Group. From now on, Luo Cheng will make the decisions on the daily affairs of Leng Group. At the same time, he will convey my orders. Does everyone agree?”

“I object!” Leng Jinchun was the first to jump up.

“Me too!” Leng Jinjie was the second to object.

“I object!”

“I object too!”

“Reconsider that decision!”

“Reconsider!”

In less than 20 seconds after Leng Qirui spoke, all the shareholders voted against it.

Leng Jinchun looked at Leng Qirui smugly. “Lil Rui, I told you not to get involved, but you just wouldn’t listen. Look at you. We usually turn a blind eye to you bringing harm to the students in school, but this is our family’s business group. How can you make decisions on a whim? You even hired someone you don’t know to be the CEO. Who would believe him?”

“Vice President Leng Jinchun, we’re holding a board meeting right now. Please give me the basic respect as the chairman. Otherwise, I can chase you out for disrupting the order of the meeting.”

“...!!!”

Leng Jinchun inhaled sharply and put on a business-like expression. “Mr. Chairman, you only hold 20% of the shares, not absolute control, so your word alone doesn’t count. If you want that Luo Cheng you recommended to be the CEO, you need more than half of the board members’ votes. However, as you saw just now, all the board members have rejected your proposal, so your suggestion is invalid!”

Chapter 1075: Sell Them To Me

Leng Qirui beamed at Leng Jinchun, but his entire face was filled with a mocking smile.

“Oh, so what if all of them are against me? Do they have the right to object? Vice President Leng, you’ve been sitting in the position of Vice President the whole time. How do you not know that these people aren’t shareholders anymore?”

“What?!” Leng Jinchun and Leng Jinjie exclaimed at the same time. They looked at the sanctimonious board members in the conference room in shock.

The directors were surprised when Leng Qirui named them. After all, the directors sold their shares in secret. No one could have found out about it, but Leng Qirui did.

“Looks like the public has misunderstood the rumors about Chairman Leng. At the very least, even though Chairman Leng is just a young boy, he knows everything that Vice President Leng and Director Leng don’t.”

“Director Wang, what... what do you mean?” Leng Jinjie turned deathly pale.

“Director Leng, I mean what I said. All 24 of us have already sold our 30% shares to someone else. That was why when you came to us yesterday, we turned you down. It’s not that we don’t want to sell to you, but the shares are no longer in our hands.”

Another board member also sighed and said, “If it weren’t because the Leng family offended someone they shouldn’t have offended and destined for a downhill ride, we wouldn’t willingly sell our shares. With the Leng family’s status in Emperor District, what a pity it is.”

“Chairman Leng, we’ll take our leave now, then. Goodbye.”

Leng Jinjie and Leng Jinchun’s faces turned pale when they saw the directors getting up.

This was Leng Group, and it was the Leng family’s business. Initially, her parents owned 20% of the shares, her elder brother 20%, and the sisters owned 15% each. 70% of the shares remained in the Leng family members’ hands.

Therefore, they were never concerned that outsiders would try to take over their family business. After all, with these shares combined, outsiders would never own more shares than them.

However, now that their parents had fallen into a severe coma, the sisters wanted to fight for the 20% share. Yet, they were told by the notary office that their parents had already made a will, but it would only take effect after they died.

In other words, before their parents died, none of their children had the right to take the 20% shares.

If the same person bought over 30% of the shares, would that not mean that the Leng Group would be under someone else's control for a period of time?

Leng Qirui looked at Leng Jinjie and Leng Jinchun as if nothing had happened as the directors left one after the other.

"Aunts, someone has more shares than us now. How about... to prevent the Leng family's business from falling into someone else's hands, you sell your shares to me? I promise you that I will buy your shares at the highest share price. After that, Leng Group will continue to give you a 2% dividend every year. Second Aunt, you will remain the vice president. If you feel that it's unfair, I can let Cousin Pei be the vice president too. What do you think?"

This was Leng Qirui's last resort for his two aunts. He would either not inherit this company, or he would inherit everything. He hated sharing things with people the most, and he hated these two aunts. However, they were his father's biological younger sisters after all. Even if he became the chairman, he still had to take care of his father's feelings.

However...

Chapter 1076: Do Not Need It

"In your dreams, Leng Qirui! If selling is what you have in mind, you should be the one selling the shares to us!" Leng Jinchun's expression transformed into a sinister one as she slammed the table and berated Leng Qirui. It was obvious that she was furious and unwilling.

Leng Jinchun was not as confident as Leng Jinjie. After all, Leng Jinjie married into the Pei family, which was a second-tier wealthy family. In her early years, Leng Jinchun refused to listen to her parents' advice and married a man from the rural area who took his wife's name. However, after marrying him, she found out that he had another mistress. After divorcing him, she could no longer marry another man from another wealthy family anymore, so she had nothing to rely on other than the 15% shares in her hands.

Meanwhile, Leng Qirui actually wanted her to hand over the 15% shares? Dream on!

Even though Leng Qirui was in the middle of a lecture, he was as sleazy and stubborn as a mule. "Fine, don't sell. What nonsense are you talking about? You don't even want to sell your 15% shares to me. Do you expect me to sell my 20% shares to you? Since you don't want to sell, then we'll just wait for Leng Group to be taken over by others. I wonder who our new chairman will be?"

Leng Jinjie and Leng Jinchun's expressions grew distorted.

They were aware that they should prioritize the bigger picture right now. The best thing to do now was to allocate 5.5% of their shares to Leng Qirui each. That way, Leng Qirui would have 31% of the shares.

Then, no matter who bought Leng Group's shares in secret, they would not be able to take Leng Group for themselves.

However...

They could not make themselves do that.

"Aunts, you don't have to sell everything. Each of you can sell me 5.5%."

Leng Qirui did not get a response.

In the end, Leng Jinjie sneered. "Leng Qirui, perhaps others would be more suitable for the position as chairman than you."

Leng Qirui, "..."

He was always convinced that his two aunts were weird, but he did not expect them to be this weird.

"In other words, you'd rather our ancestors' business be ruined in someone else's hands than by their own nephew, Aunts? You've not disappointed my father's love for you huh, Aunts?"

"Hehe, are you sure that's love? If your father really loves us so much, he should've given us his 20% shares when he chose to join the military."

"Why? Doesn't my dad need to live anymore?"

"He's such a high-level official at the military base. The military base won't forsake him either, no?"

Leng Qirui sneered. "Just because he's an official in the military base, he doesn't deserve getting what his grandparents gave him? Just because he pampered you guys, he should give you his shares after becoming a military officer? Do you two women know what the word, 'shameless' entails?"

"As the saying goes, a married daughter is like spilled water. You should be grateful that your grandfather and grandmother weren't as biased as other traditional families and chose to give you only 5% of the company shares. Yet, you dare to greed over more. Just because my dad didn't give you his 20% shares, you canceled out all the good he has done for you."

Leng Jinchen sneered. "He can't even bear to give us a small portion of his shares and you still claim that he's good to us? Sorry, we don't need it!"

Leng Qirui was so angry that he laughed. "Is that so? Then, remember what you've said today, Aunts. You must know that I'm the chairman now. I don't have any feelings for you two. By the time you come crying to my dad, I won't pity you."

Chapter 1077: Disappointed

Leng Jinjie sneered at Leng Qirui too. "You'd be the one crying, no? When the new chairman comes, we'll just build a good relationship with the new chairman."

"Then... you might be disappointed, Aunts!"

A familiar voice came from the door. When Leng Jinjie and Leng Jinchen looked up, they saw the person they hated the most slowly walking in with a vain smile on his face.

“Ye Hai!”

“How is it you? You traitor, I knew from your shifty looks that you’re nothing good when my big brother brought you home.”

Leng Jinjie and Leng Jinchen glared at each other.

Compared to Leng Qirui, they hated Ye Hai even more.

It was also because Leng Jinpeng was the one who brought the background-less Ye Hai back, Leng Jinjie and Leng Jinchen would bully Ye Hai whenever they had the chance. Their parents did not like Ye Hai either.

Of course, they knew how much Ye Hai hated them. They also knew that if Leng Group fell into Ye Hai’s hands, it would all end. However...

They were unwilling to give up their shares to Leng Qirui!

Leng Jinchen looked at Leng Qirui angrily. “Aren’t you going to give us your shares?! Do you want to see Ye Hai, this ingrate, swallow our company? Who the hell provoked Ye Hai? If it weren’t for you guys, would a country bumpkin like him act like a tyrant in Leng Group?”

Ye Hai chuckled and moved a chair over to sit beside Leng Qirui, looking as if he was on the same level as Leng Qirui.

“You don’t have to fight each other anymore. I know your family very well. That’s the reason I dare to use my 30% shares to challenge the position of chairman. I believe that none of you will take a step back and share with each other.

“Of course, if the person sitting on the chairman’s seat today was Leng Jinpeng, he would definitely prioritize the big picture. Even if he held 20% of the shares, he would share the shares with one of you. Unfortunately, Leng Jinpeng is the Commander-in-chief of the military base, so he’ll never take up this position. Therefore, he’ll only transfer his shares to Leng Qirui. My two aunts, you know Lil Rui’s temper. He would rather die than live in dishonor. He’d rather see Leng Group die than give you a shred of the shares in his hands.”

Seeing that the three of them had stopped talking, Ye Hai smiled and looked at Leng Qirui like a victor.

“Lil Rui, you didn’t expect that I’ll step on your head so blatantly like this, did you? In the past, I have to do everything according to your moods. Every time I did something, I had to explain everything to Dad. Both of you kept claiming that you treated me like family, but you were always on guard against me. Although Dad said that he treated me as a son, he had never thought of giving me any of Leng Group’s shares.

“However, it doesn’t matter because from now on, Leng Group is mine. Don’t worry, I’ll bring Leng Group to the top and become an existence that surpassed a second-tier or even first-tier wealthy family.”

“Hur hur, such big words. Aren’t you afraid of biting your tongue after bragging like that?”

Ye Hai felt a little anxious at Leng Qirui’s calmness.

After all, Ye Hai knew Leng Qirui's personality too well. When facing Ye Hai, even if Leng Qirui could suppress Ye Hai one-sidedly, Leng Qirui would still fly into a rage.

Chapter 1078: Coercion

However, Ye Hai remained calm on the outside. After all, his people had already cleared his name for him. Even if the police came, Ye Hai had no fear.

In addition to his 30% shares, he would also be able to get the shares that Leng Jinjie and Leng Jinchen would offer him willingly tonight if everything went according to his plan. That would give him a total of 60% of Leng Group's shares.

Against Leng Qirui's shares that would only reach a maximum of 40%, Ye Hai was the winner.

As for Leng Jinjie, her only concern was whether her son could inherit the Pei family's assets. After all, the Pei family was not only related to Chi Yuansheng but also related to the Shi family. Their status was much higher than the Leng family. However, not only did Pei Jiaxiang hire someone to kill his cousin, Pei Jiadong—the eldest grandson of the Pei family—but Pei Jicheng, the third son of the Pei family—also known as Pei Jiaxiang's father and Leng Jinjie's husband—was also embezzling the Pei family's assets overseas. If that extremely fierce old grandmother from the Pei family found out about all that, Grandma Pei would definitely disown Pei Jicheng's entire family without mercy.

Although both the Leng and Pei families were second-tier wealthy families, Pei Jicheng and Pei Jiaxiang were the rightful successors of two different generations. Secondly, the father-son pair's shares in the Pei family would exceed Leng Jinjie's shares in Leng Group massively. Therefore, to shut Ye Hai's mouth, Leng Jinjie would surely hand over all of her shares.

As for Leng Jinchen, she was much easier to deal with. For a woman without a husband, her children were her weakness. Now that Leng Qifeng and Leng Yutong had been captured by KE, Leng Jinchen would definitely hand over her 15% shares to save them.

Therefore, it was a sure-win for Ye Hai.

Thinking about that, Ye Hai smiled. "Lil Rui, you'll find out soon enough whether I'm bullsh*tting. However, you only have 20% of the shares now while I have 30%. Shouldn't you sit over there with your aunts?"

Leng Qirui smiled and looked at Mr. Ma, the lawyer. Mr. Ma understood what he meant. He took out a contract from his briefcase and said, "Mr. Ye and Ms. Leng, Old Chairman Leng had previously made a secret notary in the notary office and transferred his 20% shares to Mr. Leng Qirui. Together with the 20% shares that Mr. Leng Jinpeng transferred to Mr. Leng Qirui previously, Mr. Leng Qirui holds 40% of Leng Group's shares. He still holds the most shares, so Mr. Leng Qirui is still the chairman."

Looking at Ye Hai's darkening expression, Leng Qirui finally smiled at Ye Hai for the first time. "Now, shouldn't we invite Mr. Ye to sit beside my two aunts?"

A flash of malice flashed across Ye Hai's face, but he accepted his defeat and sat next to Leng Jinjie and Leng Jinchen.

When the two aunties heard that their father had transferred all his shares to Leng Qirui, they were dumbstruck for a while. It was only when Ye Hai sat in front of them that the two aunties started screaming and causing a ruckus.

“That’s impossible! My father would never give all his shares to a good-for-nothing like Leng Qirui. You must have done something in the back through your relations with the military base!” Leng Jinjie was displeased. She was convinced that at least 6% of the 20% shares would be transferred to her.

Leng Jinchun thought the same and was equally suspicious of this announcement.

Mr. Ma shook his head and played a video immediately.

“This is the video that Old Chairman Leng recorded before his car accident. It was a video recorded when he went to the notary office to transfer his shares. You may watch this.”

Even with the video, Leng Qirui’s two aunts refused to believe them.

“Leng Qirui, tell me, did you force your Grandpa to do this?”

Chapter 1079: I Have The Final Say

Leng Jinjie shouted, “Leng Qirui, you’re so cruel! You won’t even let your grandpa and grandma off just so you can get your hands on their 20% shares. How dare you inherit their property? I refuse to accept this! I refuse to recognize this 20%!”

Leng Qirui was not angry at his aunts for embarrassing him at all. He anticipated everything that happened today. Once Nuannuan and Selina were done with their side of the work, his job would be completed too.

Mr. Ma’s business-like voice sounded again. “Ms. Leng Jinjie, this is the shares that the former Chairman Leng personally transferred over to Mr. Leng Qirui. There is no coercion and no threat—everything is done in a fair and open manner according to his and Madam’s wishes. It’s useless even if you claim not to recognize it. The current chairman of Leng Group is Mr. Leng Qirui.”

Leng Qirui slammed his figurative gavel and announced, “Since we already know where the 30% shares are at and I’m the one with the most shares, can I appoint a new CEO now?”

“Yes, Chairman Leng.”

Leng Qirui smiled and said, “Then, let’s welcome our new CEO, Mr. Luo Cheng.”

Then, he started clapping without anyone else joining in.

Leng Jinjie, “...”

Leng Jinchun, “...”

Ye Hai, “...”

Luo Cheng was not surprised at all by the fact that there were only four directors present. He smiled and introduced himself appropriately, “Dear Mr. Chairman and directors, nice to meet you. I’m Luo Cheng, and I used to work for...”

Luo Cheng rambled on for a long time, sending the faces of the three sinking lower and lower.

“In the future, I’ll lead everyone in senior management, middle management, and all employees of the company in following Chairman Leng’s orders. With Chairman Leng’s far-sighted strategic plan, Leng Group will flourish. At the same time, I hope that the directors will help ease my future work.”

Leng Qirui nodded in satisfaction and said to Luo Cheng, “Mr. Luo, please take a seat.”

“Thank you, Mr. Chairman.”

Leng Qirui looked at the three grim faces under the podium. He was very satisfied with his position as chairman.

“The appointment of CEO is our first topic of discussion at today’s board meeting.”

Topic of discussion?

Discussion my ass!

He was clearly taking advantage of the fact that he owned the majority shares of 40% and making decisions on his own. Yet, he disguised them as topics of discussion...

Bah!

“The second topic of discussion today is to dismiss Vice President Leng Jinchen.”

“Leng Qirui!”

Leng Jinchen slammed the table and glared at him.

Leng Qirui pointed at Leng Jinchen. “This is the reason I fired her. As the company’s director and vice-president, Ms. Leng Jinchen has always been at odds with the chairman. Everyone knows that if a company is to progress, it’s best to avoid people who take advantage of their seniority and making decisions with their emotions, not their brains. Therefore, I suggest that Ms. Leng Jinchen be removed from her position as vice-president. The CEO, Mr. Luo Cheng, will recommend candidates for the post. As for the specifics, we’ll wait until the next board meeting. Those who agree, raise your hands.”

Although Luo Cheng was the CEO, he did not have any shares, so he did not have the right to raise his hand. As for the other three, everyone remained silent. No one raised their hand.

Ignoring Leng Jinchen’s murderous expression, Leng Qirui chuckled. “It’s not easy for my two aunts to get along with Ye Hai like today. Let me give you two a thumbs up for that.”

The three’s expressions darkened even further.

“Since no one wants to raise their hands, then we’ll proceed with this the same way we did the previous discussion. I have the most shares, so I have the final say.”

After saying that, Leng Qirui looked at Chen Shan who was long frozen in shock...

Chapter 1080: Value For Money

“Secretary Chen, do you need me to teach you how to write the board minutes?”

Chen Shan broke out in cold sweat when he heard his name being called. Looking frightened, he stuttered, "No... no need!"

"That's good. Since you didn't know how to inform the directors about the board meeting properly, I expected you not to know how to write the board minute too. Yet, you call yourself the chairman's secretary... You must be the weirdest secretary in the world of secretaries."

Chen Shan was nearly scared to death. Even the vice-president had been dismissed, so how could he remain on the vice-president's side?

Therefore, he quickly corrected himself and said, "I... I know how to write board minutes!"

Hell! Who said that the new chairman was a lamb waiting to be slaughtered? Now, he had already stood on the wrong side instantly.

Damn it!

"You only know how to write? Do you know the process?"

"It's good enough that you know how to write a minute. Send it to me when you're done with the minute. After I sign it, it will take effect and be sent to all the employees in the middle management and above."

"Yes."

"Meeting adjourned."

Ye Hai walked out of Leng Group's building with a gloomy face and got into the car.

He thought that he would be able to facesmack Leng Qirui today, but after sitting there for so long, other than shocking the two disgusting women with his 30% shares, he did not pose any threat to Leng Qirui at all.

Ye Hai picked up his phone to make a call, but something occurred to him and hung up.

When he returned to his 'home' in Emperor District, confirmed that reception to all tracking devices had been cut off, while making sure that nobody followed him, Ye Hai called the man.

The phone rang for a long time before it was finally answered. A grim voice came from the other end.

"You made it sound like you're very powerful, but you can't even control a piece of trash. What value do you think you still have?"

With just two sentences, Ye Hai broke out in beads of terrified sweat.

"Sir, I'm sure you're aware of the situation today. Those two old farts have always doted on Leng Qirui, but who would've thought that they'd dote on him so much that they transferred all of their shares to him in advance? However, don't worry, sir. The people you've sent me are really impressive. They've already captured Leng Jincheng's children and sent the matter of Pei Jicheng and Pei Jiaxiang to Leng Jinjie. Before long, those two women will obediently transfer all their shares to me. That way, I'll have 60% of Leng Group's shares. It won't be a problem for me to control Leng Group. With Leng Group's support, your chain of capital will continue to flow."

Ye Hai rambled on for a long time until the man on the other end was somewhat satisfied.

“Then, do this well.”

“Yes! Don’t worry, sir. After I take over Leng Group, I’ll use Leng Group’s money to buy over the Huang and Gu Group immediately. Although these three families are only second or third-tier wealthy families, their assets are quite impressive once added up. They’ll definitely be able to support your financial needs for a while.

“When the time comes, I can also use the various networks obtained through the Leng, Pei, Huang, and Gu families to tamper with other noble families. As long as you give me enough power, I’ll definitely be able to give you money that you won’t ever be able to imagine.”

“Looks like all the time you’ve spent by Leng Jinpeng’s side isn’t for naught. Saving you is worth it after all.”

“Yes, sir. I knew that I would never be able to take flight if I depended on the Leng family. That’s why all these years, I’ve been researching the people in power in Emperor District and their relationships. I assure you that I’ll be able to prove that this exchange that we have will give you value for money.”
