

Physician Wife 1131

Chapter 1131: Choose One

Wen Nuan was so angry that she swept all the pills and tea on the bedside table onto the floor.

"Godfather, look at his attitude! Everything that he has today was all thanks to you. Without you, does he think he can become King?"

Feng Tan rose to his feet and walked over to Wei Wan.

Looking at Feng Tan's cold gaze, Wen Nuan shuddered. She was about to explain herself when a slap landed mercilessly on her face.

To be honest, Wen Wan's facial features were quite pretty. She could definitely be comparable to Bai Liyue's beauty.

However, at that moment, five fingerprints burned red on her delicate facial features and fair skin as they started to swell. The redness turned deep purple, and there were signs of the marks slowly cracking.

Wen Nuan immediately switched her position from sitting into kneeling and shivered in fear.

"Godfather, I was wrong. Please forgive me this time!"

Feng Tan hit Wen Nuan once, but he did not hit her a second time, nor did he have any intention of punishing her. He only said sinisterly, "I didn't bring you here to set you up with Shengxuan. Our goal is to let Feng Shengxuan kill Chi Yang, or let Chi Yang kill Feng Shengxuan. I'll allow you to intensify the conflict between them, and also for you to side with Feng Shengxuan to kill Chi Yang. However... if you dare to target Nangong Nuannuan, I'll not save you for sure!"

Wen Wan looked like she had suffered a huge blow. "Why? Why can't I kill Nangong Nuannuan? Why can't I plot against her? Why must I stay far away from her? Feng Shengxuan pampers her and can't bear to kill her because he loves her. Why won't you allow me to provoke Nangong Nuannuan? She's not that scary! Give me another chance, I'm confident I can kill her!"

"Idiot!" Feng Tan rebuked angrily. "Chi Yang loves Nangong Nuannuan, and Feng Shengxuan loves her as well. These two people, no matter whichever, are willing to give up their lives for Nangong Nuannuan. If you harm Nangong Nuannuan, even if they're enemies, they'll join forces for Nangong Nuannuan's sake. Once they join forces, do you think we can still control Feng Shengxuan then? Remember, my goal is to kill Chi Yang or Feng Shengxuan. Nangong Nuannuan has nothing to do with me!"

Even though Wen Wan disagreed with Feng Tan, she still replied respectfully, "Yes, Godfather. I understand. I'll try my best to control myself from causing trouble for Nangong Nuannuan in the future."

"It's best for you. Anyway, don't go against my wishes in the back despite what you've promised me. Nangong Nuannuan and Bai Liyue are your enemies, but they're not the targets I want dead. So, even if you want to attack them, you should wait until my wish is fulfilled. Understand?"

"Yes. Godfather, don't worry. Feng Shengxuan likes Nangong Nuannuan so much. He'll definitely kill Chi Yang for her."

"It's the same for me if he dies instead," Feng Tan added.

"Yes."

After Feng Shengxuan boarded the helicopter, he called his subordinate. "What's going on? Haven't you found Bai Liyue?"

"I'm sorry, King. Miss Luna's phone is still switched off, and we can't locate her. I suspect that she has already disabled her last phone card."

Feng Shengxuan was furious when he heard this.

"Based on what you're saying, she's planning to ignore me forever? Without any regards on whether I live or die?"

The man at the other side of the line was silent. He thought for a while before saying—

Chapter 1132: How Well Done Should It Be?

"Everyone knows that you're the person that Luna cares about the most and loves the most. She's probably ignoring you because she's in a bad mood. When her mood improves, she'll definitely switch her phone on again."

"Then, when will she be in a good mood? She's just a suitor and a subordinate, so how dare she throw such a huge tantrum? I haven't vented my anger at her, so why should she?"

She was too much. She disappeared from yesterday afternoon until the next morning.

This was mutiny!

Speaking of which, where did she sleep last night? Who did she sleep with?

"King, I'd like to remind you that your flight is at 10 am today."

"Cancel it!"

Feng Shengxuan resented Bai Liyue so much in his heart.

After all, if not for Bai Liyue, he would be on his way to Camino and meet up with Nuannuan.

However, this woman usually went to the company or his place; nowhere else. He was too concerned to leave her alone in Sab since she did not have other friends other than Nuannuan and the rest.

Just as Feng Shengxuan was sitting on the sofa watching television and waiting for Bai Liyue's reply, his phone rang.

Looking at the caller ID, Feng Shengxuan thought that his men found her. His lips curled into a smug smile as he picked up the phone. "Have you found her? Where is she?"

"King, we haven't found Miss Luna yet."

The faint smile on Feng Shengxuan's lips faded away. His expression darkened as he yelled into the phone, "Why are you calling me if you haven't found her? Do you want me to teach you how to find her?"

“King, it’s Da Bai. Da Bai went berserk and bit all the animals in the back mountain to death.”

Feng Shengxuan pinched his eyebrows in fatigue.

Da Bai was Nuannuan’s pet. Nuannuan left Da Bai here for them to foster before she left. Usually, Bai Liyue was the one who fed Da Bai. Da Bai must have run amok because no one fed it.

What an unprofessional woman!

In less than 24 hours after Bai Liyue left, Feng Shengxuan had already showered her with multiple labels like “nasty”, “petty”, “bad-tempered”, “unprofessional”, “uncaring if I live or die” ...

However, at the same time, Feng Shengxuan was even more exasperated with his subordinates.

“You didn’t feed Da Bai? You let it starve for an entire night?”

The subordinate on the other side of the line did not know what to do either. He explained, “We threw a few chickens at it, but it didn’t eat them!”

“Idiot! It doesn’t eat all of the animals on the mountain, why do you think it will eat your chicken? Why don’t you just turn into a chicken and let it eat you?”

“I’m sorry, King! Then... then what does it want to eat?”

“Fillet mignon!” Feng Shengxuan had no idea how Bai Liyue taught these guys. How did they not know anything and be as stupid as this?

“Yes. I understand. I’ll go feed Da Bai now. Then, may I know how well done should the fillet mignon be?”

Feng Shengxuan facepalmed his forehead. The pain from his stomach grew more intense. He roared at the other end of the phone, “Why don’t you cook some green pepper shredded beef to go with it? Put some lard in it too!”

His subordinate, “...???” What did that mean? Did he say something wrong again?

“It’s a lion! How well done do you think it should be? Idiot!”

Unable to continue on this conversation much longer, he smashed the phone. Feng Shengxuan went to sleep immediately, ignoring the bloodstains on the bed.

Just like that, he fell asleep in a daze and napped from noon until night. However, Bai Liyue still had not returned.

After so many years, Feng Shengxuan had gotten used to getting cared for by Bai Liyue. Even when Bai Liyue was busy with work, she would arrange everything for him.

Chapter 1133: Nuannuan’s Call

Bai Liyue would arrange everything for Feng Shengxuan—if there was a meeting that he needed to attend, she would remind him of the time one day before the meeting and then prepare everything for him one hour before the meeting.

When it was time for him to have breakfast, lunch, and dinner, she would make all the necessary arrangements for him. When the time came, she would force him to eat. Even if she was not around, someone would risk their lives to remind him what to do.

During mealtimes, she would remind him of his stomach conditions, telling him what he could eat, what he could not eat, and how much he should eat.

Whenever it was time to take his medicine, she would remind him too...

Feng Shengxuan woke up from the pain.

That was because he was very hungry.

Looking at the time, he realized that it was already seven o'clock at night, but there was still no news from Bai Liyue.

It was past dinnertime, but no one dared to remind him to eat, what more reminding him to take his medicine.

Feng Shengxuan peered at the bag on the table and recognized how similar it was to the bag that Bai Liyue was holding yesterday. Hence, he reached out to open it.

Were these not the medicine that the hospital prescribed him yesterday?

Since he had stomach cancer, there were a total of seven types of medicine in that bag, and they were twice the amount that he normally took.

Normally, Feng Shengxuan would lose his temper after taking three types of medicine. However, today, after Bai Liyue disappeared for 24 hours, he took out the medicine according to the amount the doctor had written on the medicine box. Then, he got someone to bring water over and swallowed the medicine.

The maid's jaw dropped when she saw that the murderous and violent demon of a boss who threw temper tantrums whenever he felt like it had taken his medicine himself.

After taking his medicine, Feng Shengxuan instructed the maid, "Someone dirtied my bedsheets yesterday. Take them and throw them away. Tell the kitchen that I want to eat."

He was often visited by people who wanted to kill him in his bedroom, but they would be wiped out completely. Therefore, his maids would never relate the blood on the bedsheets to the fact that their all-powerful King was now but an arrow at the end of his flight; that he was the one who vomited all the blood.

"Yes, sir. What would you like to eat, sir?"

He thought of the spicy seafood hotpot he ate yesterday. Although he still wanted to eat that at the peak of his hunger, he suppressed that thought.

"Something light. Plain porridge and some side dishes."

The maid's eyes widened and she immediately replied, "Yes."

After having some porridge and taking his medicine, his stomach felt much better.

There was no point watching television. Everything related to the company had been transferred to Camino. Aiden would probably have received the news by now.

In the future, these would be Aiden's matters, so he no longer had to worry about them.

Feng Shengxuan, who was suddenly free of responsibilities, scanned the huge room. In the huge manor, although many people busied themselves with work, he could not help feeling empty inside.

Since he had nothing to do, a wave of sleepiness overtook him and he fell asleep on the sofa.

At around ten o'clock, Feng Shengxuan's phone suddenly rang. He woke up instantly and picked up the phone.

That was because it was the ringtone that he had set for Nuannuan.

"Nuannuan."

When he called out at her, Feng Shengxuan's confidence was clearly lacking.

Imperial Phoenix Group was Nuannuan's, but Feng Shengxuan was the Chairman. All the companies were registered in Sab too.

Now, not only did he terminate all these companies without a word and shifted everything to Camino without any prior notice to Nuannuan, he even gave himself stomach cancer.

When Nuannuan left, she told him that as long as he followed the prescription she gave him and took his medicine, he would be cured of his gastric issues after a year.

Chapter 1134: Hanging Up

Yet, not only were Feng Shengxuan's gastric problems solved, it worsened into stomach cancer.

Even though he did it on purpose—since that was the only way he could stay by Nuannuan's side for a long time—he felt guilty too.

True enough, a burst of dry laughter came from the other side of the line.

"Feng Shengxuan, not bad, eh? I've only been gone for half a year, and you've managed to turn your gastric into stomach cancer. Have you ever considered going to Heaven instead?"

Nuannuan was angry.

Very angry.

Feng Shengxuan had severe gastric problems, so when she left, she had specially prescribed medicine for him. She thought that with Bai Liyue as the supervisor, he would definitely listen to Big Sis Yue. Much to Nuannuan's surprise, when she received Big Sis Yue's call today, she found out that this man now had stomach cancer.

Under normal circumstances, Feng Shengxuan would find his heart softening whenever he heard Nuannuan call him by his name.

However, it seemed like his brain had decided to board a different train of thought today.

“How did you know I have cancer? Did Bai Liyue tell you that? Where is she?”

Hearing the anxiety in Feng Shengxuan’s words, Nuannuan was convinced that he was a jerk.

“You made Big Sis Yue so angry that she no longer wants to talk to you anymore. Yesterday, she called me and told me that you were coming over today, so she has entrusted you to my care. I’ve waited for you for the whole day, but there was no sign of you. That’s why I called. But judging from your voice, it sounds like you haven’t left yet.”

“What bad things about me did Bai Liyue tell you?” Feng Shengxuan asked nervously.

“She didn’t say anything bad about you. She only called me to tell me that you have cancer, and you’re at the intermediate stage of stomach cancer. You no longer have the energy to manage Imperial Phoenix Group, so you’ve transferred the entire company to Camino and put it under my name. Then, she said that she’s tired of living like this and wants to spend some time alone, give herself some peace. So, she has entrusted you to me.”

In the past, when Feng Shengxuan heard that someone put him under Nuannuan’s care, smiles would bloom on his face like flowers.

Yet, today, when Nuannuan told him this, he was stunned for a moment before roaring in rage, “What does she mean she’s ‘tired of living like this’? I’m not tired of her, so what right does she have to be tired of me? She even entrusted me to you. What right does she have to say such things? Who does she think she is?”

Nuannuan rolled her eyes.

The Big Bro who had always pretended to be gentle when she was around finally revealed his most human side.

“There’s no need to be agitated. I came up with the word ‘entrust’. Big Sis Yue’s original words were, ‘I’m getting tired of this kind of life. I’m going to travel alone, so you shouldn’t go looking for me. As for your Big Bro, he’ll come to you tomorrow. If it’s not too much of a trouble, please take care of him.’ Then I asked her, ‘Where are you going? How long will you be back?’ She answered that she doesn’t know either. If she’s fast, she’ll be back in three to five days. If she’s slow, maybe thirty to fifty years.”

Feng Shengxuan felt his scalp go numb from anger. He sneered, “Thirty to fifty years? Very well! I want to see if she can last thirty to fifty years without coming back!”

Then, in a fit of rage, he hung up on Nuannuan.

For the first time in his life, Feng Shengxuan hung up on Nuannuan without realizing it himself.

When he realized that he had hung up on Nuannuan, fifteen minutes had already passed.

Damnit!

The call was from Nuannuan!

Chapter 1135: Hurting Each Other

Feng Shengxuan hung up on Nuannuan!

Feng Shengxuan hurriedly dialed Nuannuan's number again.

It rang several times before someone picked up the call. Feng Shengxuan quickly explained, "Nuannuan, I didn't hang up on you on purpose. I was just too angry just now. Don't take it to heart."

"Don't worry, she won't take such a small matter to heart."

Feng Shengxuan, who was already frustrated, became even more agitated when he heard the voice on the other end of the phone.

Chi! Yang!

That damned male fox who stole his girl!

"Who are you?" Feng Shengxuan asked even though he knew the answer.

"I'm her fiancé, Chi Yang."

"Hehe." Feng Shengxuan did not comment on the specifics of Chi Yang's words.

Fiancé?

Had he ever agreed to it?

"Then, do you know who I am?" Feng Shengxuan asked.

"I know. You're her Big Bro. I heard from Nuannuan that you watched her grow up. You're like a father to her."

Feng Shengxuan, "...!!!"

Was this damned fox saying that he was old?!

Internally, Feng Shengxuan dared Chi Yang to use worse terms to describe him! How dare he said that Feng Shengxuan was Nuannuan's father!

Therefore, Feng Shengxuan felt that the decision to kill Chi Yang was right. Although he failed to kill Chi Yang so many times now, Feng Shengxuan believed that the day would come.

However, he did not expect Chi Yang to be such a childish man.

Even so, a mere verbal provocation was nothing to Feng Shengxuan.

Disregard the fact that Chi Yang was merely Nuannuan's fiancé, even if he was her husband, Feng Shengxuan was confident that he could snatch Nuannuan back to his side. He would not mind that Nuannuan had already married someone.

Even if she already gave birth, Feng Shengxuan was willing to treat Chi Yang's children as his own. In any case, as long as they were Nuannuan's, Feng Shengxuan would be okay with it.

In short, Feng Shengxuan was a man who had no bottom line when it came to Nuannuan.

Feng Shengxuan cracked a smile and said in a voice that he thought sounded many times better than Chi Yang's, "That's right, I did watch Nuannuan grow up. The first time I saw her, she was only three years old. Her eyes are like the twinkling stars in the night sky. They shine and are especially beautiful. With just one look, I've been completely mesmerized by her. At that point, I've decided that I'll give her the best treatment I can. Therefore, I've participated in every day of her life after she turned three years old and watched her slowly grow up from a little bun to a little girl, then from a little girl to a wonderful and elegant lady."

With every word Feng Shengxuan said, Chi Yang's grip on his phone tightened.

Feng Shengxuan smiled and continued, "I know her personality. I know what every expression on her face means. I remember every little memory we had in the past 14 years..."

Crack.

Feng Shengxuan's smile broadened. He heard what sounded like Chi Yang gripping the phone until it started to crack.

Just as Feng Shengxuan was about to continue provoking Chi Yang, Chi Yang spoke.

"So what? Nuannuan is only 17 years old, and she still has many decades to live. Even though I can't be by her side every day for the next few decades, our lives will be tightly intertwined. She likes to snuggle up to me when she has nothing to do, read books, watch television, and sniff at me. When we sleep, she'll have to listen to my heartbeat before she can fall asleep. She..."

Crack— Beep beep beep...

Before Chi Yang could finish his essay, Feng Shengxuan probably lost control of his emotions and crushed the phone in his hand. With a pair of unreadable eyes, Chi Yang hung up when he heard the beeping tone coming from the other side of the phone.

Chapter 1136: Changing Phones

Chi Yang looked at the slightly deformed phone in his hand and called Ning Wenhao immediately, urging him to buy another identical phone.

Since they kept working on Viper and Scorpion's case the night before, Chi Yang and Nuannuan did not get much rest. Even though Chi Yang was the commander, Chi Yang did not give himself the privilege of enjoying better facilities in his command center, since he wanted to share the joys and sorrows with his team members. He merely set up a resting room at the back of the office. There was only a 1.5-meter wide bed and a simple closet in the room attached to a very small bathroom.

After returning to Chi residence this morning, Nuannuan received a call from Bai Liyue. After knowing that Feng Shengxuan had cancer, Nuannuan phoned Feng Shengxuan angrily before returning to her room to clean herself up.

Chi Yang quickly followed suit after answering the call.

No matter what, even if they did not catch Viper, it was still a huge blow to KE. KE was a very large organization.. Since Chi Yang's grandfather's generation, KE had been playing tricks in Country Z. His grandfather might have dealt a heavy blow to KE back then, but he had not been able to destroy them. Later on, his father and the seniors from the Nangong family worked together in an attempt to destroy KE once more. Although they killed KE's old King, Chi Yang's father had also died in that battle without a single intact piece of his corpse left. Now, it was Chi Yang's turn. As far as he was concerned, for his grandfather, for his father, for Nuannuan's mother, and for Nuannuan, he swore to destroy KE completely.

However, there was no conflict between destroying KE and enjoying the life of having a wife.

It had been a long time since he last saw his wife. Of course, Chi Yang wanted to ensure that he cherished every second he had with his wife. He quickly ran to his grandfather's room for a shower before his wife was done showering.

This way, when his wife came out of the bathroom, both of them would smell nice and clean right on time for a meal.

The moment Nuannuan came out of the shower with a towel wrapped around her body, she bumped into a strong and muscular chest. At the same time, he pulled her into his tight embrace and lowered his head to look at her. Nuannuan could see her reflection in his eyes.

His profound gaze burned into her like fire, bright and dazzling, as it provided a stark contrast to his black pupils that were as vast as the universe.

How could Nuannuan withstand getting scrutinized like that? Her cheeks flushed slightly as she extended a fair and tender hand, preparing to push the man away.

The man let her push him away just that bit, but his hand never left her back. This little distance he moved away coincidentally exposed his perfect body for her ready eyes.

His healthy and tempting wheat-colored skin, broad and thick chest muscles, six beautiful abdominal muscles above his navel, and the tempting Apollo's belt under his abdominal muscles...

It was as though he was the most perfect statue in ancient Greece. The sight of him made Nuannuan's blood boil.

The man had obviously taken a quick shower before coming in. There were still water droplets on his head.

A crystal-clear water droplet slid off the tip of his hair. It brushed past his high nose bridge and slightly pursed lips, all the way down to his firm chin before passing his Adam's apple. Then, it landed on his collarbone, and finally trailed along his beautiful chest line. For the water droplet to have traversed such a long journey, there was nothing but leftover of the original bead of water as it hung there. It could not slide, neither could it dry.

Nuannuan felt her mouth go dry.

She smacked her lips together, unable to suppress her thirst. Then, like a cat, she leaned forward, tilted her head slightly, and kissed the water droplet off Chi Yang's chest for him.

Chapter 1137: Do Not Want To Talk

It had been days since Chi Yang last saw his wife. At long last, he finally got to see this beauty coming out of the bath. Before Chi Yang could even take a bite of her, his seemingly shy wife had already taken a bite.

The moment her warm and soft lips touched his chest, Chi Yang felt as if he had been electrocuted. All his organs, tendons, and pores were filled with a strange electric current.

After taking advantage of Big Brother Chi Yang, Nuannuan scratched her head. Her rationality made her feel a little embarrassed.

After crashing the bathroom several times, she felt that perhaps girls should be more reserved in this particular aspect when she was in Country Z.

Therefore, her eyes darted to the pink bead, gulped hard, before averting her gaze.

Looking at Big Brother Chi Yang's unbelievably attractive face, she asked a super useless question, "Big Brother Chi Yang, where did you shower just now?"

Looking at the girl who insisted on pretending to be a pet cat even though she was obviously a little leopard, the amusement in Chi Yang's eyes was so thick that it threatened to seep.

He bent down and lowered his head, slowly approaching her swan-like neck.

With her wolf blood long boiling, Nuannuan first felt a warm yet refreshing breath blowing on her neck, followed by the touch of his nose.

She shivered slightly and subconsciously moved closer to Chi Yang.

The moment her body touched Chi Yang's, his lips landed on her neck.

"Mm—"

An extremely soft moan escaped Nuannuan's nasal cavity. However, as Nuannuan's hot breath gushed onto his chest, the soft moan seemed to be the key to the floodgate of an erupting volcano.

Chi Yang's large hand suddenly tightened. He swept his wife up horizontally in his arms and placed her on the bed.

Nuannuan's body was still wrapped in a thick and soft towel. Although Chi Yang was eager, he slowly unwrapped his wife's towels the moment he placed her on the bed, like he was unwrapping the most precious gift in the world.

The towel was like the most exquisite gift box. After opening it, inside lay the most precious present in the world.

Looking at his wife's curvaceous figure and her porcelain white skin, Chi Yang's pupils suddenly contracted.

"Guess."

"Hmm?"

Nuannuan, who was in a daze, suddenly heard Big Brother Chi Yang say something. She heard him, but she was so confused that she could not register his words.

Chi Yang's Adam's apple moved slightly, like a wolf salivating over a delicious dinner that it was unwilling to gobble up too quickly.

"Didn't you ask me where I took my shower? I'm telling you to guess."

Nangong Nuannuan was speechless.

"Big Brother Chi Yang, if you don't want to talk anymore, you can choose not to." It was so silly to say something like that out of the blue.

"Don't regret saying this."

Chi Yang could not wait to pounce on her.

Nuannuan held herself back for too long and was more than willing to be entangled with Big Brother Chi Yang.

After a round of extremely tender loving care, Chi Yang was about to turn the distance between them into a negative. Suddenly, Nuannuan felt a surge of heat that gushed out from her abdomen. Just as Chi Yang could no longer contain himself and was about to send it in, Nuannuan shot up suddenly.

Chi Yang exerted strength, and so did Nuannuan.

Bang! Their heads collided.

In truth, both of them had great endurance for impact, but at that moment, they were both stunned.

Chapter 1138: Simpering

Chi Yang quickly pushed Nuannuan back down and rubbed her head. He looked at her now slightly red forehead and asked, "Does it hurt?"

It was not the first time tears were seen at the corners of their eyes after crashing into each other. Nuannuan shook her head out of kindness. "No."

"That's good. Let's continue then..."

After saying that, Chi Yang, who would probably be in trouble if he held it in any longer, decided to go straight in for the second time.

However, Nuannuan stopped him at the entrance.

Looking at the pair of hands pushing against his chest, Chi Yang suppressed the roaring flames in him and rasped, "Nuannuan, what's wrong?"

Nuannuan looked at Chi Yang bitterly and said, "Big Brother Chi Yang, my time of the month is here."

Chi Yang, "...!!!"

Although it was something as simple as having her period, Nuannuan witnessed how Big Brother Chi Yang wilted like a soldier sorely defeated by his enemy after trying his best. After that gigantic blow, he was not all right.

Nuannuan's heart ached.

Looking at the erect Lil Yang, a saying popped up in Nuannuan's mind—

Subduing an enemy without fighting.

Hmm... Nuannuan did not know why she would think of this saying either.

Chi Yang stared blankly at his wife for a long time. It was only after he confirmed that she was not joking with him that he collapsed onto the bed in exhaustion like a straight log.

At that moment, he experienced what was called cruelty.

At this moment, Nuannuan had completely turned into a timid little rabbit. She silently covered her body with a towel to prevent herself from provoking Big Brother Chi Yang.

Seeing the redness in Chi Yang's eyes, Nuannuan knew that Big Brother Chi Yang would not be able to have his release so quickly.

After waiting silently for almost a minute, she secretly glanced at Lil Yang, that stood as straight as Big Brother Chi Yang on the bed. Finally, she blurted out, "Big Brother Chi Yang, let me help you."

Chi Yang's eyes lit up slightly, and then a faint smile appeared on his once lifeless face. The smile grew wider and wider until his mouth was about to split behind his ears.

Nuannuan, "..."

Honestly speaking, this was the first time Nuannuan had seen a simpering smile appearing on Big Brother Chi Yang's face!

Most of the time, Big Brother Chi Yang donned on a stoic face. If she was around, Big Brother Chi Yang's cold and stoic face would at least soften when he saw her.

Big Brother Chi Yang's most beautiful moments were when his eyes were filled with gentleness. His sexiest moments were when he burst out laughing in spite of himself. When that happened, just listening to his laughter would cause her to die of Chi Yang's attractiveness, what more looking at him.

Of course, his silliest and sweetest moments must be when he simpered like this.

Just like a child who was about to stuff the candy into his mouth a second before the candy fell into the drain. He was in a state of despair, but another candy was delivered to his hand. Big Brother Chi Yang's face went from beaming, stunned, and aggrieved, to coming alive again after hearing that Nuannuan would help him.

If all other men preferred the joy of entering the body of the women they loved, Chi Yang could proudly claim that Nuannuan's handjob was definitely not inferior to her body that could drive anyone crazy.

As Nuannuan caressed his most sensitive acupuncture points every time and gave the ultimate experience of pleasure, Chi Yang felt that his life could not have been any more perfect.

Chapter 1139: Digging A Pit For Herself

Normally, it would take an hour for Chi Yang to finish. Now, after Nuannuan's continuous massaging on his acupuncture points, Chi Yang experienced what he thought was the feeling of being thrown up into the clouds.

"Achoo!"

Since Nuannuan was not clothed the whole time, Nuannuan could not help but sneeze.

Chi Yang immediately got up.

Even though the heater was on, it was still winter after all. Other than Chi Yang, everyone else in the house was either old, weak, or sick. To ensure that they would not be affected by the extreme change of temperature when they went weather outside, the heater was not turned on to the maximum.

Chi Yang thought that he had been too careless. He looked around and quickly draped his sleeping robe over Nuannuan. Then, he rushed into the bathroom and turned on the shower.. When the water warmed up, he walked to the bed and said to Nuannuan, "Let's go and take another shower so that we don't catch a cold."

Nuannuan nestled comfortably in Big Brother Chi Yang's warm chest like a kitten. She knew that Big Brother Chi Yang loved her the most.

Even so, it was not as Nuannuan expected. They entered the bathroom and hot water poured from the showerhead. Knowing that Nuannuan would not be cold anymore, Chi Yang held Nuannuan's hand and placed it on his sensitive spot subtly while showering her.

He pressed his lips against Nuannuan's ear. "Wifey, I want more."

The tips of Nuannuan's ears started burning up as she pushed him away. "Go away, who's your wifey? You said you wouldn't take advantage of me before we get married, but in the end, not only did you take advantage of me, you wouldn't even go easy on me during that time of the month."

"Your period comes every month, but I don't get to see you often now!"

After that ensnaring statement from Chi Yang, Nuannuan's heart softened again. She worked hard to get him the release he wanted.

Under normal circumstances, Chi Yang would restrain himself and only ask for it once. After all, Nuannuan was still young.

However, that self-restraint disappeared without a trace the moment he felt Nuannuan's hand on him.

In addition to that, he wanted to make every second count.

Therefore, the two of them stayed in the bathroom for half an hour. Until Nuannuan felt her fingers nearly cramping up, only then did Chi Yang let her off.

On the bed, Nuannuan's eyes shot daggers at the man who was massaging her fingers with a resentful face. There was only one word plastered on his face—hypocrite!

What a liar!

She was kind enough to offer him a release so that he would not feel too uncomfortable, but he ended up enslaving her and worked her so hard.

More importantly, she had her needs too!

Even though it was that time of the month for her, it did not mean that she did not want it.

To ensure his satisfaction, she risked getting a nosebleed from the electrocuting stimulation of his statuesque body and continued to massage him. Not only did she have to observe her hand around his acupuncture points so that she would not overwhelm his senses, but she also had to listen to his moans while suppressing her own.

Nuannuan felt so dismayed that blood threatened to seep out.

On television, she learned that the time of the month was equivalent to a woman's days off. However, these days would probably become her worst due to her stupidity.

"Nuannuan, when your Big Bro is here, where do you plan to house him?"

"He's already an adult. Do I have to worry about where he stays?" This question did not cross her mind until now.

"Even though he's a grownup, he's still a sick person, isn't he? I'm thankful that he helped you when you were weak and helpless. Now that he has cancer and is about to die, I hope he'll experience some comfort before he dies."

Nuannuan wanted to say that she would not let Feng Shengxuan die. However, when she recalled that Feng Shengxuan was suffering from mid-stage cancer that would develop into late-stage cancer within half a year, she swallowed the words that were about to come out of her mouth.

Chapter 1140: Scheming Yang

As for the details, it would depend on the development of Feng Shengxuan's illness.

"You mean..."

"Should we house him here?"

Nuannuan, "...!!!"

She thought she heard wrong.

"Big Brother Chi Yang, what did you say?"

"I said, we can let him stay here," Chi Yang repeated patiently.

“But from now on, I’ll be staying here when I go to university. Even if you return to Emperor District, you can’t come back every day. That’s isn’t appropriate, is it?”

Chi Yang smiled. “He’s your Big Bro, someone as important as a father to you. So, there’s nothing inappropriate about that. I’ll treat him like a big brother and take care of all of his daily needs.”

Nuannuan, “...” The corner of Nuannuan’s mouth twitched uncontrollably.

Why could she not shake off the feeling that something was amiss?

Big Brother Chi Yang planned to give Feng Shengxuan the elderly treatment? Not just that, he wanted to treat Feng Shengxuan as an elderly who was about to die?

Why did it feel like Big Brother Chi Yang was gloating at Feng Shengxuan’s predicament?

After observing him for a while, Nuannuan could only detect seriousness on Big Brother Chi Yang’s face.

“Are you... serious?”

To be honest, if she could really bring Feng Shengxuan to the Chi family, it would indeed be a good place to treat him.

After all, now that she was free, she would treat Second Uncle every day to delay the onset of his illness too. In the future, Feng Shengxuan and Second Uncle could keep each other company.

Chi Yang nodded.

“Second Uncle is also recovering at home. Your Big Bro and Second Uncle can be good friends.”

Chi Yang truly knew Nuannuan like the back of his hand. He thought of everything that Nuannuan might have thought of. However, only he knew his own intentions.

His enemies could not scare him if they were under his watch every day. It would only be scary if his enemies were far away or in hiding because Chi Yang would not know what he was up against.

Therefore, if he must deal with this, Chi Yang chose to deal with it head-on.

In any case, he had feasted on Nuannuan to the point where not even her bones were spared. Her body, heart, and soul belonged to him. He refused to believe that a certain someone would be able to stir up waves of discord between him and Nuannuan.

Nuannuan stared at Chi Yang, touched. “Big Brother Chi Yang, you’re so nice.”

Chi Yang stroke Nuannuan’s head, calling her silly internally. However, he said, “It’s good that you know how nice your husband is to you. Remember to treat him better in the future.”

As for what ‘him’ referred to, Nuannuan understood immediately.

Flexing her sore fingers, Nuannuan felt her dismay returning.

The two of them had not seen each other for a few days. Distance made the hearts fonder, and they barely left their room.

Knowing that his granddaughter had returned from the special forces with Chi Yang, Old Master Nangong noticed that Nuannuan still was not there to visit even though it was almost noon. He called but no one answered, so he rushed straight to Old Man Chi's house.

Old Master Chi received Old Master Nangong warmly and chatted with him. Second Uncle, Chi Zeyao, brewed some homemade flower tea and made some pastries that Old Master Nangong liked on the spot. They were light, sweet, and fragrant.

Since it was his own flower tea, it tasted much better than the ones commonly found in the commercial market.

The tea was fragrant and so were the pastries. Along with having his old friend play chess with him, this was definitely the best way to spend his life as an old man.

However, how could this fool Old Master Nangong?

He was already here but there was no sign of his granddaughter. Instead, he was tricked into setting up the chessboard.

After playing chess for 15 minutes, drinking a few mouthfuls of tea, and eating some pastries, his granddaughter still had not come down.

Old Master Nangong was a man with experience too. When he saw that Old Man Chi and the second son of the Chi family stayed downstairs with no intention of asking Nuannuan and Chi Yang to come down, Old Master Nangong was displeased.
