

Physician Wife 1171

Chapter 1171: Why The Hell Are You So Agitated For?

Selina chuckled seductively.

“You’re so funny. Why are you asking me about your shares after losing them? Am I your butler?”

Leng Jinchun said angrily, “That day, Ye Hai kidnapped my son and daughter and cut off each of their hands, forcing me to sell my shares to him. Now that he’s dead, what about my shares?”

“Ye Hai kidnapped your children and forced you to give him your shares. Why don’t you ask Ye Hai for them? Do you think I’d collude with Ye Hai to take your shares from you?”

“You were the one who killed Ye Hai that day. The shares he took from us must be with you! Return them to us!”

“Woman, you’re so funny. You said that I killed Ye Hai? I can claim that you killed him too. Lady, do you know that you can go to jail for false accusations? You said that I killed Ye Hai. Do you have any proof? If you don’t, I can sue you for slander!”

“You—!!!”

Leng Jinchun was trembling in anger. She was on the verge of an angry outburst but Selina remained indifferent and calm.

“You were the one who killed Ye Hai that day. Since Ye Hai snatched our shares from us, the shares must be with you. If you know what’s good for you, hand it over immediately. Otherwise, I’ll call the police right now and get them involved!” Leng Jinjie suppressed her anger and said through gritted teeth.

“There’s no need to call the police for this kind of thing. You can find out where the shares went just by checking the internet. Why don’t you just search it on Baidu? Why must you accuse a good person?”

Shocked, Leng Jinjie hurriedly fired up Baidu on her notebook.

She typed Leng Group in Camino in the search bar, and...

Countless news articles popped up on her feed.

The international wanted criminal, Ye Hai, attempted to gain control over Leng Group to support an illegal force overseas. In the end, the military exposed his intentions. Not only did they end Ye Hai on the spot, but they also captured the higher-ups of KE who supported Ye Hai.

The shares of Leng Group were returned to the old chairman’s name, Leng Shen. The company’s prospects were looking optimistic, and their stock price had started to soar starting today.

Leng Jinjie and Leng Jinchun were trembling with rage.

Leng Jinchun cursed. “Selina, what are you up to? Those shares belong to me and my sister. What right do you have to transfer it over to my father’s name? Will you believe it if I tell you that we have the right to sue you?”

“Go ahead and sue me!” Selina was like a piece of stubborn meat stuck to the teeth to the Leng sisters. No matter what they said, she would only smile.

Just looking at her smile made them furious.

“However, before you send me your lawyer’s letter, or before you give me a warning, I hope you can go through the legal documents first and see if the contract you signed with Ye Hai is a voluntary transfer of shares. Since it is, the contract will take effect after you sign it. Regardless of whether Ye Hai’s dead or otherwise, you’ll no longer have anything to do with the shares. Therefore, after Ye Hai’s death, how his assets were dealt with has nothing to do with you. Why the hell are you so agitated for?!”

Leng Jinjie, “...!!!”

Leng Jinchun, “...!!!”

That was true, and so was the law, but...

Selina could have returned the shares to them, but she insisted on going against them. The b*tch had given the 30% shares to Old Master Leng, but he was still in a coma. How were they going to get the 30% shares back?

“Hmph!” Leng Jinjie sneered. “You just want to give these shares to the old master.. When the old master dies two days later, we’ll split them according to his inheritance. No matter what, Leng Qirui’s father will get 10% of the shares, right?”

Chapter 1172: The Kinship Card Is Useless

Selina still had a sweet smile on her face. “You’re overthinking it. My Young Brother Leng has me, so he doesn’t have to worry about the 10% shares you mentioned.”

Leng Jinjie fumed but she and Leng Jinchun could not out-talk this damn woman, so she could only divert the battle to Leng Qirui instead, “Lil Rui, how can you keep such an indecent girlfriend behind your family’s back? Do you know what she does for a living? Our Leng family is a second-tier wealthy family, and your father is the commander-in-chief of the military base. Yet, this woman works for some overseas mafia. How dare she call herself your fiancée in front of us? Do you think this is appropriate? This is the board of directors meeting. I hope you can abide by the rules of the board and send her out.”

Leng Qirui, who just found out that he was Selina’s fiancé, had thrown caution to the wind after hearing his aunt’s words.

“Rules? As the chairman of Leng Group, I’m the embodiment of rules. I set the projection, and my words are the rules. Selina is my fiancée—the future Young Lady of the Leng family and Mrs. Chairman. Why isn’t she qualified to listen in?

“Speaking of rules, Ms. Leng Jinjie, please pay attention to the rules. I told you that there will be a board meeting today, but you’re neither a director nor a senior executive of the company. What right do you have to attend this meeting? Why are you bringing up the rules to me? Do you still respect me as the chairman? So, I hope you can get to your feet and leave this place immediately.”

Leng Jinjie, “...!!!”

“Leng Qirui, we’re your aunts!”

It was Leng Jinchun who butted in.

She, too, understood the principle of how the teeth were too closely interconnected to survive the cold without lips.

Therefore, to get her shares back, Leng Jinchun decided to join hands with Leng Jinjie.

The sisters who had been at odds with each other finally joined forces.

However, was that useful at all?

“Aunts? To me, you’re just two ingrates who wish for my grandparents’ and dad’s death so that you can take their shares for yourselves. My grandparents might acknowledge you as family; my dad might acknowledge you as family, but I... Sorry, even if you’re related to me by blood, you’re not my adoptive parent or guardian, so even if I don’t acknowledge you as family, there’s nothing you can do about it. So, don’t try to use the kinship card on me. It’s futile!”

Leng Jinjie, “...”

Leng Jinchun, “...”

“Leng Qirui, are you really so heartless that you won’t acknowledge your family for that bit of money?”
Leng Jinchun reattempted to use the kinship card.

Selina could not stand it anymore. She pursed her lips and said, “My Young Brother Leng has already said that playing the kinship card is futile. Don’t you have ears?”

“Shut up! Who do you think you are? Do you think you can become the young lady of the Leng family just because you’ve seduced Leng Qirui? With your lowly status, you can forget about stepping into the Leng family for the rest of your life!” roared Leng Jinchun after finally bursting from her pent-up anger.

When he heard his two aunts insulting Selina, Leng Qirui could no longer suppress the anger in his heart. His sleazy gaze turned sharp as he sneered. “My two aunts, what makes you say that? Do you think you can affect my life just because you’re my aunts? I don’t even acknowledge as my aunts. It seems that Grandpa protected you, two spoiled daughters, too well that you’re not only selfish and arrogant, but you’re also unbelievably conceited!”

Chapter 1173: Non-existent

“I’m not afraid of facesmacking you. Before you even think that you can stop me from marrying Selina just because you don’t like her, I think marrying her is still more important than both your lives combined even if you put a knife to your neck to stop me. So, don’t say such embarrassing things again. Selina is the woman I like and I make the decision in the Leng family as to who I like. Who do you think you are? Do you honestly think that if you don’t allow her to become the young lady of the Leng family, she won’t be the young lady of the Leng family anymore? Also, I’m the chairman of this company. I have the final say in everything company-related here. If I say that she has my backing to participate in this meeting, then she’s qualified.”

Leng Jinjie, “...”

Leng Jinchen, "..."

If facesmacks were made physical, the slaps would have echoed continuously.

In the face of the arrogant Leng Qirui, they realized that no matter what they said, they could not convince him. He was just like a piece of stubborn meat that refused to be cut or beaten into shape.

After opening this can of worms themselves, the two of them had nothing else to say and could only swallow their anger.

However, things were not over yet.

After facesmacking his two aunts, Leng Qirui looked at Leng Jinjie and said, "Eldest Aunt, you brought up the rules just now. Now that we're having a meeting, you're neither a shareholder nor a senior member of the company. Shouldn't you leave first?"

Leng Qirui's attitude toward his two aunts was firm and unyielding.

This was because they were ingrates who never included 'grateful' in their dictionary. Leng Qirui's father treated them so well, but not only did he not receive any gratitude from them, they even made an enemy of his father. They were classic examples of people who took others' kindness for granted.

Therefore, Leng Qirui would never allow them to take advantage of him.

No matter what kind of little profit he had, he would rather lose the profit than give the profit to the two women.

"Leng Qirui, what do you mean? Are you chasing me out?" Leng Jinjie's eyes widened. She did not expect him to be so ruthless.

"Don't you understand human language, Eldest Aunt? Or do you think you're still a shareholder and have the right to sit here? Then, please show us your shares."

"You clearly know that Ye Hai threatened my shares away. That damn Selina not only chose not to return our shares to us, she even transferred our shares under your grandfather's name. How do you expect me to show you?"

"Now, not only does your grandfather have the 30% shares that 24 shareholders sold to Ye Hai, but he also has the 20% shares that belonged to each of your aunts. He now held 60% of the company's shares. As the biological daughter of the old chairman, I'm the successor of Leng Group. When your grandfather passes away, the two of us and your father can each have 20% of the shares. Even if your father transfers the entirety of his 20% shares to you and makes you the largest shareholder, I'll still have 20% of the company's shares. As a shareholder, can't I participate in this meeting?"

"I'm sorry to disappoint you. Grandpa is still alive, and 60% of the company's shares are still in his hands. You're not inheriting the shares. No one knows what the future holds, but now, you don't have any shares, so please leave."

Leng Jinjie, "..."

She glared at Leng Qirui so hard as though she thought she could poke a hole with her eyes.

"Lil Rui, we're all family, the closest relatives you have. There are some things that you shouldn't say so harshly," Leng Jinchen attempted to deescalate the situation.

"Family?" Leng Qirui rebuked. "It doesn't exist."

Chapter 1174: Agenda

"To you, only those that have some sort of values to you are family, while those who don't have any value to you are enemies. My dad didn't transfer his 20% shares to you, so even though he's been good to you for more than 40 years and gave you everything good, you still treat him as an enemy.

"It's the same for me. In the past, I've never treated you as my family, and neither will I now. This is a board meeting slash conference for the senior executives, and being unqualified means being unqualified. If she doesn't want to leave, I can get someone to chase her away."

"How dare you!" Leng Jinjie exploded.

In the next moment, Leng Qirui said to his secretary, "Get security to take Ms. Leng Jinjie out."

Selina did not like Leng Qirui's aunts, to begin with, so she volunteered herself. "Don't bother. It's a waste of time. Let me do it."

Before Leng Jinjie could react, Selina had already reached her, grabbed her by the collar, and dragged her out.

Selina used so much force that Leng Jinjie lost her balance and fell. However, with Selina gripping her collar, she did not end up plunging face down.

However, she still could not escape the fate of getting dragged toward the exit.

"What... what are you doing? Argh... What are you doing? Leng Qirui... curse you! You're betraying the teachings of your masters and destroying everything that your ancestors have built!"

Leng Jinjie screamed and shouted. She was already over 40 years old. As the third young lady of the Pei family, this was the first time she was treated so rudely.

"What do you mean by betraying the teachings of my masters and destroying everything my ancestors built? Are you my master? Are you my ancestor? Being someone who married into another family, you're nothing but a puddle of wastewater thrown out of the house. I really don't know where you get such thick skin to use such words on me."

Leng Jinjie wore a skirt to attend this important meeting. With Selina dragging her toward the door, the ends of her skirt kept getting yanked against the floor, exposing her panties.

Regardless of whether it was her inside or pride, Leng Jinjie lost everything.

With the loud thud of flesh hitting the ground, Leng Jinjie was thrown out of the meeting room.

The security guards were already waiting outside. When they saw Leng Jinjie getting thrown out, they pulled her up and forced her out immediately.

Leng Jinjie scolded the security guards as she was dragged away.

However, Leng Group intentionally employed security guards from Shengyang Group. They were all experienced retired soldiers, and they only listened to Leng Qirui and Selina. They would not care who Leng Jinjie was.

It was not until Leng Jinjie was carried downstairs and thrown out of the Leng Group building by the security guards that she finally realized something.

These security guards were different from the ones that used to be under Leng Group's employment!

She wanted to rush in again, but the security guards lifted her and threw her on the street once more.

More and more onlookers started to gather around. To avoid being photographed, Leng Jinjie could only call the Pei family's driver and leave first.

Leng Qirui looked at Leng Jinchun—who gaped at him in disbelief—and smiled. He said in a business-like manner, “Luo Cheng, I asked you to distribute our agenda to all the higher-ups and staff in middle management yesterday. Have you done it?”

Luo Cheng was the professional CEO that Leng Qirui invited from overseas for the job through Aiden's assistance. In the previous board meeting, after Leng Qirui's overwhelming takeover, Luo Cheng was appointed as the CEO of Leng Group directly.

Hearing Leng Qirui's words, Luo Cheng immediately stood up and bowed to Leng Qirui. “Chairman, I've already sent the documents you requested to every higher-up and staff in the middle management of the corporation.”

“Good,” Leng Qirui replied and got his secretary to produce the hardcopy of their agenda.

“Lil Rui, I think there's something we need to discuss before we start.”

Chapter 1175: What Right

Leng Qirui looked up. “Vice President Leng, I hope that you can refer to me as Chairman in the company. This is the last time I'll personally bring up this issue. If you still can't learn from your mistakes, then I can only ask our CEO to train you personally. Once you understand basic etiquette, then you can finally work for the company again.”

Leng Jinchun, “...”

Without Leng Jinjie's help nor any of the company's shares, Leng Jinchun could only swallow her anger.

After taking a deep breath, she expressed what she wanted to say.

“Chairman.” Leng Jinchun started in a business-like tone, “The staff holding the top and middle management positions are mostly collateral relatives of the Leng family. Our Leng Group was able to expand our business so much and become a second-tier wealthy family in Camino because we, the Leng family, worked together.

“Don't you think it's a little inappropriate for you to suddenly make a stranger the CEO of the company? You should know that your grandfather... the old chairman has always shouldered the responsibility of being both the chairman and CEO of the company. Only then will he be able to manage the company properly. He's an outsider. Before we discuss whether he's actually competent, making people trust him is already an unknown. Moreover, you let an outsider be the CEO, but your families remain in the middle management or upper management of our other branch companies. This will only disappoint everyone. Let me ask you this—if everyone's disappointed, how are they supposed to work? Thus, I'm suggesting—of course, this is per the collective wishes of all leaders in the upper management of the company—that Luo Cheng resigns from his position as CEO because we'll never acknowledge him as the CEO."

Everyone nodded in agreement.

Leng Qirui gave Leng Jinchen a piercing glance. All of a sudden, Leng Jinchen felt a chill surging up her spine.

This was the first time Leng Jinchen took his nephew seriously.

Internally, she had always thought that this nephew of hers was a useless lump of mud that would not stick to the wall even when thrown. However, when did the lump of mud start having such a piercing gaze?

"Is everyone in agreement with Leng Jinchen and determined not to acknowledge CEO Luo's existence?"

"Vice President Leng is right. Luo Cheng is an outsider after all. What right does an outsider have to lead all of us from the Leng family's branches? Although I've already sold my shares to Ye Hai, I'm still the vice president of Green City Group under Leng Group. I'm in charge of all the real estate businesses in Leng Group. I've been in Leng Group for 32 years. Do you expect me, a senior member of the company, to listen to a 40-year-old young man? To put it bluntly, what right does he have to lead us?"

Everyone else in the upper and middle management nodded in agreement.

They were all relatives of the Leng family or had relationships of similar nature. They started from the bottom and slowly gained the old chairman's trust until they climbed to where they were today.

Of course, they were more than willing to listen to the old chairman. After all, most of these people were the old chairman's trusted aides. Otherwise, they would not have become people with great power.

Although Leng Qirui was the old chairman's grandson, he was a hopeless case. He held the Leng Group's lifeline in his hands, but no one believed that he could manage the company well.

In fact, everyone present felt that if Leng Qirui continued to toy with Leng Group, it would eventually close down.

Chapter 1176: The Final Say

However, Leng Qirui shifted his body on the wheelchair and leaned in a different direction. He said, "Well, that's because I'm the chairman, and I have the final say in everything in this company. If I ask him to be the CEO, he has the right to be the CEO. From now on, everything he says comes from me, and whatever he wants to do will go through me first. Do you have any objections to that?"

"Chairman, I'm the vice president and general manager of Meimei Department Store. Like Green City Group, Meimei Department Store is also one of the listed companies under the Leng Group.

“Similar to Vice President Leng Yuyang of Green City Group, we both work for the old chairman. For us to achieve what we’ve achieved today, we can be considered the old chairman’s trusted aides. To be honest, you’ve never participated in anything related to managing the company before, but you’ve suddenly become the company’s top decision-maker. Everyone in the upper and middle management in the company is having cold feet on your taking over.”

“However, you’re the old chairman’s only grandson and the successor of Leng Group. It is only a matter of time before you take over the old chairman’s position. Therefore, you must believe us when we say that we have no qualms for your takeover.”

The vice president of Meimei Department Store had been very tactful with his words. He first managed to attract Leng Qirui’s attention before saying what he really wanted to say.

“However, an accident happened to the old chairman so suddenly and you’re only 18 years old. You’ve never received any training in corporate knowledge, and you’ve never even experienced any commercial wars before. Therefore, it will definitely be difficult for you to manage such a large corporation. To achieve that, you’ll have to choose a loyal assistant who knows everything about the company to assist you.

“We’ve all read Luo Cheng’s information. He’s truly outstanding and is an internationally renowned CEO. However, no matter how impressive he is, he doesn’t understand Leng Group’s operations! In addition, you don’t know what’s going on in Leng Group either. This means that the person who gives the orders and the officer who’s supposed to execute said orders are clueless about the company’s situation. This situation is very concerning.

“Therefore, as a senior in this company, I sincerely suggest that you let Luo Cheng go from the position as the CEO.”

Everyone felt that there was not anyone who could say this better than Meimei Department Store’s vice president. They were rather convinced that Leng Qirui finally listened and that they would most likely succeed.

Leng Jinchun also smiled.

“Then, who do you think is the most suitable to be the CEO?” Leng Qirui asked.

“We think that Vice President Leng Jinchun is the best candidate for this position. When the old chairman was still around, he asked Vice President Leng Jinchun to help manage the company. After so many years, we’re sure that Vice President Leng has a very good understanding of the company’s operations...”

“Vice President Leng, may I know how much Meimei Department Store earned in revenue in the third quarter of last year? What is the difference compared to Tianheng Holdings’ revenue? How great is the difference and where is the difference from?”

Leng Jinchun did not expect to be summoned. She was stunned for a moment before saying, “How can I remember that? I’ll only know the general amount after I check the data!”

Leng Qirui continued, “Luo Cheng, you tell them.”

“Yes.”

However, as soon as Luo Cheng stood up, Leng Jinchen immediately objected.

“Chairman, aren’t you going too far? Leng Group has always majored in three sectors—real estate, department stores, and cosmetics—as our flagship. There are also countless hotels and resorts under Leng Group. You want me to remember the sector’s numbers from each quarter of the year along with the numbers from other corporations. That’s impossible, isn’t it?”

Chapter 1177: Compete

“Oh, so if I can’t answer you, you’ll ask Luo Cheng to answer? If he manages to answer you, does this mean that he knows more than I do? Can you prove that you didn’t ask Luo Cheng to do his research beforehand?”

Leng Qirui sneered. “Vice President Leng, have you heard about the story of the frog at the bottom of the well? Although you keep calling me a flunkie, I’ve heard this story before at least. Why don’t we get Luo Cheng to show you what a frog at the bottom of a well is?”

“Since everyone here is a senior in the company, they must possess a great understanding of matters related to the company and the branch companies. Then, I hereby invite you to ask CEO Luo and Vice President Leng any questions. We’ll see who is more familiar with the company’s operations—will it be the CEO I’ve personally chosen or Vice President Leng? Of course, not only can you ask CEO Luo and Vice President Leng questions related to Leng Group, but you can also expand your questions to other industries and companies related to Leng Groups. We’ll talk about what happens next once we figure out the difference between a professional and someone who pulled some strings, shall we?”

There was a moment of silence before someone spoke.

“I’ll ask first. I’m the general manager of Liz Cosmetic Company. Since you remember the numbers from the department stores so clearly, do you know the difference in revenue between the fourth quarter of this year and the fourth quarter of last year for Liz? Compared to Kouzi and Limei, where are our advantages? Where are our disadvantages?”

“Are you only asking our CEO this question and not the vice president?”

Leng Jinchen sneered. “If I say it out loud, won’t he just copy my answers?”

“In that case, the two of you can do an industry analysis report on the spot. Project your findings five minutes later.”

After saying that, Luo Cheng immediately started typing on his computer.

Leng Jinchen sneered and thought about how much of an idiot they were. If she were to make an analysis report on a computer, she would be able to check the numbers, would she not?

She just so happened to remember this year’s numbers, but she could not remember the numbers from last year. So, Leng Jinchen immediately went to search for it on Baidu.

However, after pressing the search button—

“Why is there no internet?”

Leng Qirui smiled and said, “Vice President Leng, aren’t you funny? What we’re testing now is how familiar you are with the company. If you want to check everything from the internet, you’d better remove yourself from the fight to become the CEO. Go marry a chairman. That way, you can still live a blissful life.”

Selina said, “With her temper and personality, she’ll have to find someone to marry first! Chairmen aside, I don’t think anyone can withstand her.”

Leng Jinchun was furious, but she did not dare say anything else about Selina. “If I can’t look up information, why can he?”

“Ask the people standing behind CEO Luo to see if he has done any research on Baidu.”

The seniors’ faces were pale. Clearly, Luo Cheng had not looked anything up.

“Five minutes is up.”

Following Leng Qirui’s words, Selina walked over to Leng Jinchun and took her notebook away.

At the same time, Luo Cheng handed his notebook to Leng Qirui’s secretary.

However, when the contents of the two notebooks were displayed before the senior executives, they were rendered speechless.

“In five minutes, she only wrote about a hundred words, and she only wrote about our company’s revenue. She even said that our company is ahead of Limei. As for whether what she wrote is correct or not, I won’t talk about that. I believe everyone has an idea on Vice President Leng’s standard now that you’ve gone through the process.”

Chapter 1178: Something A Flunkie Would Not Understand

“Looking at the standards of the hundred words you came up with in five minutes, it would be degrading and blasphemous to compare Luo Cheng to you.”

Leng Jinchun, “...”

“Let’s look at what the CEO, Luo Cheng, wrote. Not only did he write out the numbers from this year and its disparity from last year, but he also explained in detail the reason for the decline in revenue this year compared to the high amount of revenue last year.

“He analyzed the gap between us, Kouzi and Limei, and pointed out our shortcomings. Although five minutes is pretty limiting, Luo Cheng’s analysis hit the nail on the head—brain drain!”

At this point, Leng Qirui slammed the booklet in his hand on the table, scaring the general manager of Liz.

“To make sure that your own pockets are full, you hired someone to steal the chief pharmacist’s craftsmanship, but you missed out on the most crucial part of the entire process. Eventually, you chased away Liz’s chief pharmacist and produced your own line of skincare products. However, the products you made don't have the same effects as before, and even the taste has changed. Consumers complained frequently, but you made an announcement that this was Liz's second-generation product.

"The company gives the chief pharmacist an annual salary of ten million every year. You swallowed it and gave your subordinates a million. When Ye Hai threatened you with evidence, you had no choice but to give him your shares to silence him and avoid going to jail. Leng Zhongxun, my grandfather trusts you. How could you deceive my grandfather like this and still call yourself a senior figure of the company in front of me? Hmm?"

Leng Zhongxun, the general manager of Liz Cosmetics Company, was so scared that his face turned pale. He never expected that a question that he came up with randomly as a test, wondering if Luo Cheng could help him think of a way to deal with his current predicament, could cause so much trouble. Who knew that not only did Leng Qirui know about his incriminating matters, he even knew that Ye Hai blackmailed him to transfer his shares over.

Everyone looked at Leng Zhongxun in shock, and guilt flashed across some of their eyes.

On the other hand, Leng Zhongxun's expression was extremely twisted, but he was still pretending to be calm.

"That pharmacist is obviously intrigued by the money Limei offered that he betrayed our company. Should I kneel and beg someone like that not to leave? He..."

Before Leng Zhongxun could finish his sentence, a few policemen suddenly barged into the board meeting room. Under everyone's shocked gazes, they placed the handcuffs on Leng Zhongxun's hands.

"Chairman, it's not like that. Let me explain!"

Leng Qirui waved his hand. "I'm lazy and a flunkie. I can't understand you. Go and explain to the police."

Leng Zhongxun, "..."

The higher-ups, "..."

Leng Zhongxun never imagined that he would face such a calamity when he was only here for a meeting. Even when he was dragged out, he was still shouting that he wanted to give Leng Qirui an explanation. However, Leng Qirui was indifferent to the arrest of a higher-up in his company slash relative.

Accurately speaking, Leng Qirui was definitely the one who called the police. Even if Leng Zhongxun did not leap to his front today, Leng Zhongxun would still be arrested.

This was too scary. Leng Qirui managed to ruin the reputation of someone in the upper management of a company without batting an eyelid.

This new chairman...

Was he really as useless as the Leng sisters, Leng Jinchen and Leng Jinjie, described?

Be it in terms of his words, actions, or aura, he definitely did not look the part!

Those who looked down on the new chairman finally started to respect the eighteen-year-old chairman—an academic flunkie who only knew how to play online games.

Chapter 1179: Disappointed

“Who else wants to try?”

Hearing Leng Qirui’s words, the board of directors and higher-ups lapsed into silence.

One of the executives, who was not a director, had nothing much to fear. He only wanted the company to do good. When he heard that Leng Qirui was a hopeless case before this, he tried trying his best to protect Leng Jinchen for the sake of the company. However, now that he had experienced how assertive the new chairman was and how capable the CEO was, he wanted to test the new CEO.

“Let me ask a question.”

This person was a staff in the middle management of the main company. He was the director of the Human Resources Department, so most of the more comprehensive information about the company would be sent to him for compilation. Therefore, he had a good grasp of the company’s overall situation.

In the following questions directed at both of them, Leng Jinchen, the long-term vice president of the company, could answer about 45% of the questions related to the company, but she could only answer around 15% of the questions related to their competitors.

However, what was shocking was that Luo Cheng, this so-called “outsider”, understood everything there was about Leng Group before he was appointed as the CEO of Leng Group.

He knew everything that he should know and should not know about Leng Group. With help from Aiden and Dai Qi, who provided his hacking expertise, Luo Cheng quickly obtained all the information about Leng Group.

That was why Leng Qirui had so much reassurance in Luo Cheng.

Compared to Luo Cheng, Leng Jinchen was nothing but scum.

“That’s enough. There’s no need to compete anymore. Ten facesmacks are more than enough. If you still think that it’s not embarrassing enough, then I’m telling you the same thing—I’m the chairman of this company, and none of you here own any shares. Therefore, none of you have the right to reject my decision. If I say Luo Cheng is the CEO of Leng Group, then he is the CEO. If you want to refute my decision, or if you refuse to have Leng Group as your ally anymore, feel free to find another job. The door is always open.”

“Leng Qirui, aren’t you going too far? How can we let an outsider manage our family business that has been stable all this while? You’d rather trust outsiders than your aunt. If your grandfather finds out, aren’t you afraid that he’ll be disappointed?”

“Firstly, I told you not to play the family card with me. What aunt? Why am I unaware that I have an aunt?”

Leng Jinchen, “...”

“Secondly, you’re right. To me, I’d rather hand Leng Group over to a competent outsider than entrust the company to you. To put it bluntly, I don’t trust you.”

Leng Jinchun, "..."

"Thirdly, now you know how to say things like 'my grandfather will be disappointed'. Yet, you wished for my grandparents' death at the hospital, wished for my father's death, so that the shares would end up in your hands. Why didn't you think that they would be disappointed?"

Leng Jinchun knew that if she did not make her riskiest move now, she would never be able to turn the tables around.

Leng Jinchun glanced at the executives at the side and shook her head after receiving their hint. She sighed. "Lil Rui, it seems like you've truly harbored a lot of resentment toward me, your aunt. With this kind of relationship, it won't be good for the company if we continue to work together and quarrel. Since you dislike me that much, go ahead and hand Leng Group to Luo Cheng and give this CEO who has memorized everything about Leng Group full control over the company. As for me..."

Chapter 1180: Resignation

With that, Leng Jinchun retrieved a resignation letter from her bag and handed it to Leng Qirui. "As of right now, I'm resigning from my position as the vice president of Leng Group."

Leng Jinchun thought Leng Qirui would frown or be unhappy with her threat.

However, he did not.

Leng Qirui responded happily, "For you to make such a choice, it proves that you're not beyond redemption. As the saying goes, a mountain can never house two tigers. As the company's chairman, I hope everyone in the company will complete company-related tasks based on my orders. I don't wish to see employees who will rebut me with two when I clearly told them one. Therefore, I'm glad that you can offer to resign yourself because even if you don't, you might face a layoff in the future."

Leng Jinchun, "...!!!"

Why was everything not going according to plan?

The staff in the upper management of the company was not blind nor idiotic.

The Leng sisters had bewitched them from the very beginning, saying that Leng Qirui was a troublemaker who could never rise to his position. If Leng Qirui became the chairman, Leng Group would definitely collapse.

However, ever since Leng Qirui stepped through the door, everyone was shocked to discover that the supposed useless Young Master Leng, who was ridiculed and insulted by the two sisters since he was young, was actually not as stupid as they imagined him to be. In fact, from the moment he passed through the door, his two aunts, who had always thought that they were intelligent, were on a losing streak. Meanwhile, this Young Master Leng won easily.

At this moment, those higher-ups who had agreed with Leng Jinchun to submit their resignation letters were shaken, even though the collective resignation of all the staff in middle and upper management would definitely bring irreparable losses to the company.

However, what if this Young Master Leng stayed as ruthless as he had proven to be and firmly believed that there would not be any construction without destruction; that reconstruction could only happen after destruction? If he accepted all of their resignation letters, then what should they do next?

Some of them were former directors too.

Even though they did not have many shares in their hands, they betrayed the company and transferred the shares over to Ye Hai when Ye Hai came demanding them. Now that they no longer had any shares and the old chairman of the Leng family was unconscious, the new chairman did not owe them anything. If Leng Qirui allowed them to resign, what would happen to their lives in the future?

Therefore, after Leng Jinchun handed in her resignation letter and watched Leng Qirui gladly accept it, Leng Jinchun sneered and looked at everyone. The meaning in her eyes was obvious—

‘I’ve already submitted my resignation letter. Hurry up! What are you waiting for?’

Receiving Leng Jinchun’s gaze, the vice president of Meimei Department Store slash general manager and vice president slash general manager of Green City Group hesitated for a moment before standing up.

After all, Ye Hai had already taken their shares. If they did not take advantage of this conference to gain some benefits, their future would be very difficult.

These shareholders enjoyed the Leng family’s care and sat comfortably in their high seats. Yet, they refused to repay the Leng family’s kindness and failed thoroughly to become even a loyal shareholder. The reason why Ye Hai did not need to offer them a single cent before easily extorting their shares from them was that they were problematic in the first place. To cover up these problems, they were willing to hand over their shares and choose to let the matter rest.

Now, Ye Hai was dead, and they lost their shares.. To secure a good future for themselves, they started to flaunt their seniority without restraint, convinced that the law would not punish them if there were too many offenders.