

Physician Wife 1181

Chapter 1181: Anyone Else?

“Chairman, you’ve been very disappointing. I’d never expect you to continue employing an outsider who doesn’t know anything even though we’ve already brought it up so directly. Just as Vice President Leng said...”

“Leng Jinchen. She’s not the vice president anymore. I just accepted her resignation letter.”

Leng Jinchen, “...”

Meimei Department Store’s general manager, “...”

“All right. As Leng Jinjie said, Luo Cheng knew that he was coming to the Leng Corporation, so he memorized some data. I believe that even a high school student can memorize these data so thoroughly. However, memorizing data is useless in managing a company. I’m afraid the chairman will only understand this when Leng Group collapses. Since Leng Group will collapse sooner or later, there’s no need for us to stay any longer. I resign.”

“I’m resigning too.” Meimei’s general manager followed suit and handed in his resignation letter.

“I’m resigning as well.” Another former director submitted his resignation letter.

“I quit too!”

As more and more people stood up to submit their resignation letters—seeing that most of them were former shareholders—some companies that were not shareholders started to resign too.

The board meeting room was not too big. There were only 65 people who were considered important in attending this meeting.

Ever since the first resignation letter submitted by Leng Jinchen, more than 30 people had already submitted their resignation letters. Soon, only half of the people were left.

Leng Qirui took a look. 24 of the people who submitted their resignation letters were former shareholders—the directors of the Leng Group.

These people were all senior members of the company. The company treated them so well, but nothing could top how good they were at joining hands to betray the company.

When they transferred the shares to Ye Hai, not a single person reported this matter to the Leng family privately. If Leng Qirui did not know Ye Hai well enough to inform his grandparents about this matter beforehand, his grandfather would not have transferred the 20% shares in his possession to Leng Qirui immediately. Leng Qirui would not have been able to travel under Nuannuan’s protection either. If that was the case, the Leng Group would have fallen into Ye Hai’s hands.

However, to reap more benefits, these people were shameless enough to threaten him with their resignation.

A smile appeared on Leng Qirui's face, and it was growing wider and wider.

The number of people who resigned continued to increase, but the rate at which they stood up slowed down.

When there were only 17 people left, they finally stopped.

Leng Jinchen glanced at the people who had their heads lowered, not daring to look at her. She imprinted all of their faces into her mind.

Internally, she swore that once she regained control of the company, the first thing she would do was fire these people. Even if Leng Qirui did not allow her to fire them, she would find a way to transfer them out of positions of power.

What a bunch of traitors!

Leng Jinchen was quick to call them that, but she ignored the fact that she was like that herself too.

Seeing that no one else stood up, Leng Qirui asked, "Is there anyone else who wants to resign?"

Silence.

One of them suddenly raised his head and said, "Chairman, I'm the director of the Human Resources Department. I'm willing to follow in your lead in the company. If there is anything that the CEO needs my help with in terms of human power, I can recommend talents."

Luo Cheng nodded. "Alright. We'll discuss this when the time comes."

Chapter 1182: Thinking Too Highly Of Yourselfes

For one of them to start expressing their opinions, everyone else who decided to stay started to offer their services too.

Leng Jinchen's flashed with balefulness, but there was nothing she could do.

When those who resigned saw that there were still 17 people who had not resigned and were busy expressing their loyalty to the new chairman, they were filled with regret too, especially those middle management staff who were pressured by the higher-ups.

If he had not acted so rashly earlier and stayed behind, then they could have joined the CEO's circle of core members. Their position in middle management would have been promoted to a position in the upper management, and they would be the future core management.

Yet, they had already submitted their resignation letters.

They could only gamble now.

They could only gamble and pray that the law would not be enforceable when there were so many offenders.

They gambled on the possibility that after seeing so many executives resign, the chairman would be terrified enough to retain them.

To urge Leng Qirui to ask them to stay as soon as possible, Leng Jinchun spoke like a condescending elder, "Lil Rui, do you see now? Without me, the company will have a massive brain drain. The people at the meeting today are all senior executives and important leaders in middle management, but they have to resign because of your wrong decision.

"Of the sixty-five people who formed the pillars of this company, only seventeen are left, and they're all staff in middle management. Don't you think that the reason they stay behind isn't that they agree with you, but because they want to take advantage of the situation and get a better position? Lil Rui, don't you think that you've failed as the chairman? Don't you see how pitiful you are?"

Leng Qirui smiled. "Why would I? I think the company will become better without some parasites around."

Leng Jinchun, "..."

The 48 people who left, "..."

So, this chairman took these people for parasites?

"You've crossed the line!"

"Ignorant child!"

The general manager of Green City Group and Meimei Department Store snorted and blurted out their dissatisfaction.

Leng Jinchun continued, "You think that there's nothing to worry about because only 48 people left the company? Have you ever thought that most of these 48 people are the general managers of various subsidiary companies? After they leave, do you think the employees under the subsidiary companies will continue to work for you and not go back to their direct supervisors?"

"Hehe. Aunt Leng Jinchun, I knew you're simple-minded, but I didn't know you're this simple-minded. Take Green City Group as an example. Do you think that the employees of Green City Group applied for the job because they admire Leng Yuyang, the general manager of Green City Group? Aren't you guys thinking too highly of yourselves?"

Leng Jinchun, "..."

Green City Group's general manager, "..."

"If not for the second-tier wealthy Leng family and Leng Group, who does Leng Yuyang think he is? I'm afraid no one would recognize him even if he were to be thrown to the streets."

With that, Leng Qirui looked at Leng Yuyang and the 48 people who had submitted their resignation letters and sneered. "What are you still standing here for? Are you waiting for me to beg you to come back? You're thinking too much. I, Leng Qirui, am a person who would rather be a jade broken than a tile intact. I'd rather die with honor than survive in disgrace. Even if Leng Group collapsed as you so gladly wished for, I'd gladly accept your resignation still. A dog that bites its master, I, Leng Qirui, would rather beat all of them to death than make them watch the door!"

Leng Qirui's words sent a desolate thump in the hearts of all the higher-ups who resigned, and they all knew that they were in huge trouble.

However, they still had to put on a magnanimous front.

Chapter 1183: Arrest

"How did the old chairman give birth to a grandson like you?"

"Previously, we were skeptical when Vice President Leng said that you were a hopeless Dou, but now it seems that you're even worse than Dou! At least Dou listened to Zhu Geliang, but you..." the person who spoke shook his head.

Leng Qirui smiled. "That's the voice of a spy who's been leaking important information about Leng Group to the Pei family for years and selling trade secrets. For you to have the guts to say that you're Zhu Geliang, aren't you afraid that the respectable man would jump out of his grave and drag you down with him?"

That person was a high-ranking executive in the company. After hearing Leng Qirui's words, his face instantly turned pale.

How could it be?

How did Leng Qirui know that he betrayed company secrets?

Indeed, he had secretly leaked the company's base price to his competitors several times during a few of their competitive tenders. Ye Hai caught him with this information too, subsequently blackmailing him for his shares.

Did that mean he would be taken away by the police like Leng Zhongxun too?

For Leng Qirui to announce his wrongdoings like that, could it be that Leng Qirui had some sort of leverage on him too?

Just as everyone was still busy getting shocked, someone pushed the door open. A few more police officers came in and approached the side of said executive.

"Liu Boran, you're accused of selling trade secrets. The person involved has made a report at the police station. Please come with us."

Liu Boran immediately struggled out of his position in shock. "What police station are you talking about? Just because this ignorant boy's father is the military base's Commander-in-chief, you're abusing your authority for personal gain and collude with him to set someone up? I'm telling you, I have a lawyer too!"

The police officer said, "Then, quickly hire a lawyer because the person has shown us enough evidence for your arrest. If you think we're abusing our authority for personal gain, you can sue us. However, we'll also sue you for slander, and that will add to your crime. So, before you slander the police department, please choose your words carefully."

With that, the police officer handcuffed Liu Boran, and everyone watched as another former director and company executive was taken away.

Strangely enough, only two police officers left after taking Liu Boran away. A few police officers remained at the door.

On the contrary, two more police officers walked in and approached Leng Yuyang, the former vice president and general manager of Green City Group.

“Leng Yuyang, you’re accused of being involved in a murder. Please come with us.”

Leng Yuyang’s eyebrows twitched. Although he was no longer calm, he was not as anxious as the two people who had been taken away. After all, he was sure that he was very discreet with his work. Although this was also the reason why Ye Hai threatened him to hand over his shares, the evidence in Ye Hai’s hands was incomplete. Therefore, Ye Hai had to use money to buy his shares over.

The reason why he sold Ye Hai the shares was that firstly, the evidence was enough to threaten the stability of his position in the company, and secondly, Ye Hai threatened to investigate this matter more thoroughly if he did not comply.

Therefore, Leng Yuyang believed that if Selina was the one who subdued Ye Hai, Ye Hai might have told Selina everything about the shareholders. That was why Leng Qirui was so fearless throughout this entire process.

At that moment, he regretted the decision he just made. Yet, at the same time, he was confident that if Ye Hai was the only one who found out about this, it would not be enough to send Leng Yuyang to jail.

Leng Yuyang said calmly, “I didn’t kill anyone. You must be mistaken.”

Chapter 1184: Shady Businesses

After that, Leng Yuyang looked at Leng Qirui and said, “Chairman, I understand what you mean now. As expected, each new generation surpasses the previous. Previously, Vice President Leng claimed that you’re just another Dou, but I see that you’re swift and decisive in your actions. You’re even more impressive than the old chairman when it comes to dealing with your enemies. I now acknowledge that you’re the chairman, and I won’t resign anymore. Can you let these two police officers leave? After all, you know very well if there is any actual evidence in your hands. Why do you have to ruin me before letting me out? I have nothing but submission and admiration for the way you do things now, sir.”

Leng Qirui was stunned. He did not expect that this person would still be able to say such shameless words considering how things had progressed. He could not help but retort this scum.

“Scram!”

Leng Yuyang, “...!!!”

“Let’s go!” The two police officers cuffed Leng Yuyang’s hands and were prepared to leave.

“I’m not leaving! I didn’t commit any crime! You don’t have any evidence against me, so why are you arresting me? If you want to arrest me, show me the evidence first. Otherwise, you’re slandering me or trying to defame me! I have my rights too, and I can't let you abuse the law just because Young Master Leng Jinpeng is the commander-in-chief!"

Selina, who had been silent the whole time, whispered into Leng Qirui's ear, "If he wants everyone to witness his crime, then let him witness it."

"Okay."

Since Selina had already spoken, Young Brother Leng gave her all the face she deserved.

Leng Qirui took out a USB flash drive and plugged it in. Then, he clicked on Leng Yuyang's folder and clicked on a video.

Since his laptop was connected to the projector...

On the screen, there was a house that looked like it was waiting to be demolished. After zooming in, a family of four inside the house, including a thirteen-year-old boy, appeared on the screen.

They were talking to Leng Yuyang in fear, but Leng Yuyang was sneering.

After that, Leng Yuyang ordered his men to cut slash their necks mercilessly.

The next part was a snippet of a video along with an audio file.

It was the recording of what Leng Yuyang said when he was on the phone.

"I've already dealt with the demolition on Huai Yang First Road. I hope you'll pay me the amount you've promised me."

"You were the one who murdered that family of four, right?" The man's voice traversed into everyone's ears clearly through the video.

"Don't spout nonsense. Didn't you read the newspaper? Their little brother seems to have provoked someone from War Leopard. Do you know what kind of organization War Leopard is? Even if Xu Feiyang has already gone to jail, they're still the number two gang in Camino. What can I do if the gang wants someone dead?"

"You're lucky this time. You actually managed to buy this piece of land at such a low price. However, you didn't buy this piece of land for your Green City Group but came to work with us instead. I'm scared that you're trying to fool me here!"

"What fool? Old Li, you're not being nice at all. Even though I'm the general manager of Green City Group, the Leng family is my boss, as you know. I put in so much effort to get this land, but the Leng family will only give me a meager bonus in the end. I only own 1% of the company's shares. Even if they give me 5% of the profits as a reward, how can it compare to your 15% offer? Furthermore, with the new regulation policy, property prices will definitely soar. I must be crazy to try to trick you."

"Hahahaha... Okay, okay, for the sake of our well-seasoned long-term cooperation, I'll give you this 15%! Your luck is unbelievable! Any piece of land that you have your eyes on will end up in your hands, no matter how many holdouts there are. Most importantly, there would be either a natural or human-caused disaster."

Chapter 1185: Trapped Beast

“Hahahaha... You see, luck is also a part of competence!”

Their conversation came to an abrupt halt. Leng Yuyang’s knees gave way and he fell to the ground.

He did not understand how these strange videos and conversations came into Leng Qirui’s hands without any surveillance or cameras around.

Everyone started to look at their new chairman differently.

The sudden turn of events at Leng Group allowed Ye Hai to take advantage of their fluster. The two sisters of the Leng family caused an uproar in the Leng family by fighting over the family assets and shares. However, Leng Qirui managed to deal with all of them so easily.

Not only did he put the Leng family’s situation under control, but he now held the lifeline of the high-ranking executives in this company.

Was it true that this boy who looked like a spoiled brat was only 18 years old?

Why was he so ruthless?

At this moment, everyone looked at Leng Qirui with extremely fearful gazes.

In particular, those who had ulterior motives were filled with fear toward him.

“Leng Yuyang, I’ve already shown everyone the evidence you wanted. You can have your peace of mind now, right?”

Everyone, “...”

How dark!

How was this peace of mind? This was clearly the act of beating someone to death without mercy!

“Chairman, Chairman, I was wrong. Please let me off! For the sake of my father since he’s your grandfather’s brother, please let me off this time. From now on, I’ll give my best to work for Leng Group. I’ll do my best until I die!”

“You can totally die now. Why should I wait for you to continue bringing Leng Group harm? Do I look like I have a loose screw in my head?”

Everyone, “...”

He did look like he had a loose screw in his head previously when he still acted like a useless second-generation heir. Not anymore, though.

Leng Yuyang’s eyes were filled with crazed despair.

He knew that they found four lives in his hands. If the police continued tracing his phone records, they might be able to find more.

He ended 15 lives and more than 30 people had been killed by his men.

Once he was arrested, he would never be released.

Since he was going to die anyway, how could he let off the person who brought him down from heaven to hell so easily?

Leng Yuyang's hands were handcuffed, so the police did not pay much attention to him.

Therefore, when Leng Yuyang suddenly pulled out a sharp dagger from his waist and rushed forward to stab Leng Qirui in the heart, the police had yet to react.

By the time everyone realized what was going on, the dagger was about to pierce into Leng Qirui's heart.

Leng Jinchen watched the entire scene unfold in agitation. When the dagger was less than 20 centimeters away from Leng Qirui's heart, her excited eyes could not help but shine brightly as a maliciously happy smile appeared on her face.

However, with Selina by his side, how could Young Brother Leng get hurt?

Seeing the dagger coming at him, Leng Qirui remained immobile. He knew that Leng Yuyang could never hurt him with such a powerful woman beside him.

As expected, when Leng Yuyang charged at him with all his might—when the dagger was 10 centimeters away from Leng Qirui—Selina raised her leg and gave him a flying kick.

Leng Yuyang was sent flying.

He flew backward and smashed into Leng Jinchen, who did not even have the time to retract her smile.

The huge impact caused Leng Jinchen to topple to the back.

Chapter 1186: All It Took Was One Thought

"Pfft!" Leng Jinchen spat out the breakfast she ate this morning after getting squashed so violently. Her vomit went straight onto Leng Yuyang's neck through his collar.

Everyone, "..."

Shocked, the police officers quickly pulled Leng Yuyang up and snatched the dagger from his hands. Then, they dragged Leng Yuyang, who fainted from the kick, away from the scene.

After Leng Yuyang was taken away, the situation had completely changed.

When another two police officers walked up to Leng Jianmin, Meimei Department Store's general manager, his legs went weak too.

"Liu Jianmin, you're charged with participating in illegal business competition and transferring Leng Group's assets. You're under arrest. You have the right to remain silent. Anything you say can and will be used against you in a court of law."

One by one, the board of directors and higher-ups were taken away by the police on various charges.

After the police left, only 17 of the 48 employees remained free from handcuffs.

Similarly at 17, their numbers now matched the number of people sitting in the conference room.

However, at this moment, the situation had completely reversed.

Initially, they expected the law to not punish the masses if there were enough offenders. If all the higher-ups and middle management resigned, and all the key employees left, the chairman would panic. If he panicked and tried to stop them from leaving, they would win.

This way, they could make use of the opportunity to make Leng Jinchun the CEO of the company, and Leng Jinchun could bring up their annual bonus.

Little did they expect things to turn out this way.

The twenty-four directors who had sold their shares were all arrested, along with some other high-ranking executives in the company. Only seventeen of them were left.

As for the leftovers, since they did not hold very important positions in the company previously—the fact that Leng Group's rules and regulations were relatively thorough—there was a limit even if they were to siphon the company's money into their own pockets. Furthermore, their thought that their positions and departments would not be affected much, they wanted to use this opportunity to threaten the new chairman.

However, instead of succeeding, they lost such good positions as employees in the upper and middle management of the company.

In the future, even if they went out to look for jobs again, they could never find offers for such good positions anymore. If they started businesses with their remaining money, nobody would dare to cooperate with those who were blacklisted by the Leng Group either!

At that moment, looking at the 17 people who were still sitting around the table, they wished they could rush up and drag them out of the seats so that they could take their seats back.

After all, half an hour ago, a majority of the people who were still seated were nobodies, but now, the two groups of people were worlds apart.

All it took was one thought...

All it took was one thought!

Sigh...

The 17 people on their feet looked coldly and angrily at the squashed Leng Jinchun as she was incapacitated by the pain.

If it were not for this woman who kept feeding them how useless the young master of Leng Group was; how blatantly arrogant he was; how bad his grades were, they would not be so against this new chairman.

No matter how they looked at it, everything was this woman's fault!

Those senior executives, who refused to admit that their greedy ambitiousness was at fault, now blamed Leng Jinchen for the mishap that befell them.

Leng Jinchen was furious too.

Putting aside the pain all over her body, this Leng Qirui actually sent all of her subordinates to the police station.

Chapter 1187: Come Back To Life

Leng Jinchen did not say anything earlier because she was still trying to catch her breath. Now, Leng Jinchen sat on the ground, pointing at Leng Qirui with trembling hands.

“You... are you crazy? If you arrest all the higher-ups in the company, how should the company operate after this? Do you know how long these people have been in the company? How much they have contributed to the company? How much trust does your grandfather have for them? Without them, do you wish to see the company collapse? Do you think that the whole company can afford to rely on only you, the chairman of Leng Group, and Luo Cheng, the CEO? How did a scum like you appear in the Leng family?!”

Hearing Leng Jinchen’s words, the remaining 17 people felt a ray of hope in their hearts. They hoped that the chairman would employ them again on account that they had not broken the law.

This way, even if they were not given any better offers, they would still work hard.

Unfortunately, the incident that would make them green with envy and cause them extreme regret had yet to come.

“Trust? I’ve been wanting to deal with them for a long time. Unfortunately, these old foxes are too slick for me to catch them red-handed.”

Suddenly, an old and austere voice came from outside the door. Everyone’s eyes widened in shock as they watched the old chairman and his wife walk in with a group of bodyguards.

“Dad—?!”

Leng Jinchen looked at his father and mother in shock. They looked radiant and did not look as weak as they should be after recovering from a serious illness. She was speechless.

To be honest, the unaffected Leng Qirui was extremely difficult for her to deal with. Most importantly, it seemed like he would never let Leng Jinchen return to Leng Group after her resignation.

Leng Group was something she had coveted for many years.

Her eldest brother was the commander-in-chief of the military base. He should remain in the military base in this lifetime and not shift his attention to Leng Group.

Her eldest sister was the Third Young Madam of the Pei family and was the next successor of the Pei family. Leng Group should not fall into her hands either.

As for Leng Jinchen, she was not supported by an impressive background in the military base, nor did she have a husband from a second-tier wealthy family as her backer. As the youngest sister of the Leng family, she deserved Leng Group as compensation for her miserable life. How could she give Leng Group to someone else? Even if she had to be disgusting, she wanted to stay in Leng Group and disgust Leng Qirui to death.

However, Leng Qirui did not play by the rules. Her move was to retreat for the sake of advancing. It was originally a very good move. Yet, Leng Qirui took advantage of her retreat and ambushed her from behind, completely turning her subordinates and her plans upside down.

At this time, Leng Jinchen really missed her parents.

Therefore, she was happy to see her parents.

However, when she thought about how her parents held 60% of the shares and their biased love for Leng Qirui that was as high as the moon, they would never give her their 20% shares.

Even 20% would still be too little to her. Thus, why would she wish for the old couple to wake up and forfeit even the meager 20%?

Meanwhile, after his “accident” that landed Old Master Leng and his wife in the ICU, he finally saw through Leng Jinjie and Leng Jinchen when they found out the old couple might pass anytime soon.

Old Master Leng watched as a brief glint of happiness flashed across Leng Jinchen’s face before getting replaced by an unreadable expression. Old Master Leng immediately understood what she was thinking and sneered. “Why? Are you thinking about the 20% that you’ll never get since I’ve come back to life? You must be wishing for my death now, aren’t you?”

Chapter 1188: Insatiable Greed

Old Master Leng’s words stabbed straight into Leng Jinchen’s heart. With the sadness of someone who just got accused of something she did not do, she burst into tears.

“Dad, how could you say that about me? Didn’t you see how badly your grandson treats me? I...”

“Serves you right!”

Old Master Leng understood what happened in the board meeting. As for Leng Jinchen, he was now convinced that he had treated this daughter too well. He raised her into an idiot who was blinded by greed.

“Dad, how can you say that about me? Do you know what Leng Qirui did while you were unconscious? He actually got an outsider—that’s him! Luo Cheng!—into the company!” Leng Jinchen pointed at Luo Cheng and continued, “He insisted on making him the CEO. All the senior executives in the company strongly opposed it. To prevent Leng Group from falling into someone else’s hands, we could only collectively resign just to make Lil Rui take back his orders. But do you know what Lil Rui did? He sent those people to jail! He arrested those who were simply obeying orders to resign to prompt Leng Qirui to retract Luo Cheng’s appointment. Dad, Lil Rui is not suitable for this position at all. He has destroyed the senior executives of Leng Group and subsequently, Leng Group—!”

Leng Jinchen’s tearful complaints were met with only two words from the old master and the old madam—

“Bullshit!”

Leng Jinchun, “...”

“Jinchun, your mother and I both considered the fact that you don’t have a good marriage, and we want you to lead a better life in the future after we die. We want you to have something to rely on. After our discussion, we’ve decided to let you work in the company. However, you must understand that a married daughter is like spilled water. You made your choice that ended up in a bad marriage. You can’t blame anyone. We only have one son, and your brother only has one son, Lil Rui. Lil Rui will lead Leng Group in the future. There’s no doubt about that.

“But you? After something happened to us, you joined forces with your elder sister to threaten your big brother. After your big brother passed the shares to Lil Rui, you disregarded the kindness your big brother had shown you over the past few decades. Your accusations disappointed him. Honestly, when we watched how the two of you fought for the inheritance outside our ward, your mother and I really wanted to rush out and slap the both of you!”

Leng Jinchun’s eyes widened in disbelief. “You... you’re... you’re fine???”

“Yes, we’re fine. When Lil Rui was injured, he told us that Ye Hai was up to something and told us to be careful. Plus, Lil Rui’s friend, Miss Nangong from the Nangong family got someone to protect us, so your mother and I weren’t injured at all. Sorry to disappoint you two since you’re not inheriting anything.”

“Dad, it’s not like that at all. I’ve been worried sick when you and Mom were hospitalized!”

“Worried? Worried that you won’t have more shares in the inheritance? Leng Jinchun, do you know how ugly that greedy face of yours looks?” Grandma Leng usually treated her daughter the best because she felt sorry for Leng Jinchun. Therefore, it was understandable that her disappointment was tremendous.

Recalling how she yelled at Leng Jinchun repeatedly in the hospital, Leng Jinchun knew that she was doomed. Now, she could only pretend to be pitiful and let tears flow freely down her face. Then, she called out pitifully, “Mom!”

Chapter 1189: Orphans

“Through this incident, we’ve also seen everything clearly. Lil Rui is truly born to be a master of the business world. He’s more assertive and decisive than your father. Within our brief period of observation, Lil Rui has turned the tide and has proven himself qualified to be the chairman of Leng Group. Therefore, today, we’re bringing our lawyers over and transferring the remaining 60% of our shares to our grandson, Leng Qirui. We’ll do this in front of everyone in the middle and upper management of Leng Group. From today onward, Leng Qirui will be fully in charge of Leng Group. All the powers within Leng Group are now in his hands!”

“Mom!”

Even though it was the same word, the first one sounded pitiful while the latter sounded furious.

Leng Jinchun could not believe that the old couple was so biased that they could not even give her 1% of the shares.

"If you transfer all your shares to Leng Qirui, what will happen to me? Are you going to watch me, Lil Feng, and Lil Tong die? Do you know that Lil Feng is still in the hospital? The reason I lost 15% of my shares is to save your grandchildren!"

Old Master Leng sneered. "If you can disregard whether your mom and I die or live, why should we care about you?"

"But I'm your biological daughter!"

"Sorry, you're not!"

Leng Jinchen was taken aback briefly. "Mom, I know I made a mistake this time and made you guys sad. But have you ever thought of how anxious I was when your lives were hanging by a thread in the ICU? Big Brother has the military base, Big Sister has the Pei family, what do I have?"

"I think you might not have heard me clearly. You and Leng Jinjie aren't our biological daughters." Madam Leng threw the dynamite at everyone. The explosive nature of her words not only rendered Leng Jinchen speechless, but even Leng Qirui and Selina were stunned to hear that.

The old master patted his wife's hand and sighed.

"You're finally telling people about this!"

Leng Jinchen, "..."

A terrible premonition ambushed Leng Jinchen and triggered everything in her central nervous system, making her feel like the world was spinning.

"Grandpa, Grandma, what's going on? These two ingrates aren't your biological children? They're not your biological children but you've been treating them so well like your own?"

Leng Qirui's eyes widened as he looked at his grandparents. For a brief moment there, he felt like he was looking at his own father. Did his father not treat Ye Hai like his own back then?

Old Master Leng took out a document from his bag and handed it to Leng Jinchen.

"This is proof that your mother and I adopted both of you at the orphanage."

Leng Jinchen was unaware of how she took the documents from her father's hands. She only registered the view as she looked at the photos of a young her and Leng Jinjie on the document, as well as the signatures of the director of the orphanage next to their father's. Attached was also proof that their father heightened their status by changing their names.

"Your sister's real name is Wang Jie, and your real name is Wang Chen. According to the director of the orphanage, your real parents worked at the mine in the past. Due to improper handling, the mine collapsed. Not only did they kill themselves, but they also killed their workmates. The person in charge of the mine heard that your aunt was in Emperor District, so he found your aunt and gave her your parents' recompense. At the same time, he gave her the responsibility of being your guardian.

“Eventually, your aunt took the money and left with her family, leaving the two of you behind. A kind woman from the community council discovered both of you and sent you to the orphanage in Emperor District.”

Chapter 1190: Tragic Death

These were not what Leng Jinchun wanted to hear at all. She could not accept the looks of disdain from the high-ranking executives of the company and kept shaking her head.

“No, no! You must be telling me this because you’re trying to straighten things between me and Lil Rui after knowing that I’ve been harping on Lil Rui. I’m your biological daughter! How could I not be? If I’m not your biological daughter, why did you allocate 15% of the company’s shares to us? Why would there be anyone as idiotic as that?”

Selina had kept her silence and deliberately ensured that her presence had a minimal effect on the people around her. However, when she found out that the kindness that the Leng family’s grandparents had, and that they adopted the Leng sisters and gave them 15% of the company shares as dowry, she was reminded of what happened to her. How dare Leng Jinchun say something so disgusting after knowing all that?

When Selina was five years old, she still lived a rather happy life with her father even though they were poor. However, her father had fallen ill and was very sick. Since he was worried about her, he dragged his sick body over to Emperor District and found Gu Mingyan, Selina’s mother. He begged Gu Mingyan to take Selina in, but what had her mother said then?

Selina still remembered Gu Mingyan’s words down to the single pronunciation. “Palmer, are you out of your mind? Back then, when I insisted on having an abortion, you were the one who begged me to keep the baby. At that time, you promised me that you wouldn’t look for me again after giving birth to this child or I’ll never let you off easy. Are you really making this request right now? Don’t you know that I’m already married? I have a son and a daughter!”

Selina’s father insisted on fighting for Selina. He said, “Do you think that I didn’t know about you still going to the hospital for labor induction although you promised me to keep the baby? Yet, the doctor told you that the baby was already eight months old. Even if you induced labor, it would still have a serious impact on your body, and you might not be able to conceive again in the future. That’s why you spared Selina’s life. Gu Mingyan, it was you who fell in love with me back then. I didn’t beg you to like me. After that, I’ve accepted it in silence when you refused to marry me after you got pregnant. No matter what, Selina is your daughter. Can you bear to see her sent to an orphanage?”

However, Gu Mingyan slapped her father’s face and told him to shut up fiercely.

“If you dare say that Selina is my daughter again, do you believe that I’ll make sure that she can’t even reach the orphanage?! Palmer, I hope this is the last time you and your daughter come to me. I also hope that you can tell Selina the severity of the matter after you’re gone. I will never acknowledge her as my daughter, so please don’t come to me no matter what happens between you and her. Otherwise, I have my ways to make both of you disappear! I mean what I say!”

With that, she slammed the door in their faces and left.

After that, Selina's father fell to the ground in pain.

Selina threw herself next to her father and hugged him, trying to ease his pain, but her father cried apologetically to her, saying that he had failed to provide her with the basic necessities in life; that he failed her. He also said that after he died, she should go to the orphanage and never come back to look for her mother. She must never let herself be in danger. No matter how difficult life got, she must work hard to survive in this world.

After that night, his father's condition worsened. He passed away two days later in that extremely horrible motel.

She knew that she should go to the orphanage, but she could not bear to leave her father, so she stayed with him. It was not until five days later, someone smashed the door open and sent Selina, who nearly fainted from hunger, to the hospital...
