Chapter 1311: Livestream Your Apology

"Even though you won, you still intended to send Xia Anchen to his death. Zhong Nuannuan only went up to rescue Xia Anchen. There was nothing wrong with what she did. As for you, you've been pretending to be sick and seriously injured ever since Zhong Nuannuan poked the sole of your foot.

"We were invited here by your country's Education Bureau and can be considered as your country's distinguished guests. Yet, not only do you not have basic respect for us, you even provoked and caused trouble time and time again. Do you still want us to continue competing with you? "

"Mr. Guo, the Education Office called." Cheng Yu passed the phone to Guo Zhennan.

After Guo Zhennan spoke a few words to the person on the other end of the phone, he turned around to the person in charge of Yamato. "Just now, our Education Bureau called and said that we don't have to participate in this high school student tournament anymore. So... Mr. Kitano Satoshi, you don't have to worry about us agreeing to this competition anymore."

This time, both the person in charge and Kitano Satoshi were dumbfounded.

If the competition this time was canceled, and coupled with the stain he had brought to the Kitano family twice today, those old farts would definitely not allow him to take over the Kitano family. Would his efforts not all go to waste then?

Just as Guo Zhennan was about to leave with the Camino team, the person in charge from the Yamato team received a call from the Education Department. On the other end of the call, someone scolded the person in charge and told him to make the Camino team stay no matter what.

The person in charge of the Yamato team and Kitano Satoshi looked at each other and made a decision nearly simultaneously.

"Wait!"

"I'll apologize!"

Guo Zhennan finally stopped.

"I agree to apologize during the livestream."

"Oh?"

"However, can we discuss the time of the apology? Can we delay it until the end? After all, if we apologize before the start, it will affect our team's morale."

Guo Zhennan was considering whether this would work or not. Seeing this, Zhou Jimin said, "Teacher Guo, although Mr. Kitano has indeed gone too far, he has already promised to apologize. Why don't we continue with the competition? Our students have already worked hard for a month just for this competition. If we leave without even going through the competition, I'm sure everyone will feel regretful."

She thought that after she said that, the students would be unhappy again, but this time, almost everyone was on her side.

"That's right, Teacher Guo. We've been preparing for so long. It would be a waste to give up."

"For Kitano Satoshi to provoke us like this... To put it bluntly, he's just afraid that we'd win, isn't he? So, we must win tomorrow."

"Yes, Teacher Guo, let's accept the challenge."

Nangong Nuannuan added, "Teacher Zhou is right. Since we're already here, Kitano Satoshi might claim that we're so afraid of him that we'd run away at the last minute if we leave without accepting the challenge. Therefore, we might as well wait until we defeat him openly before leaving."

Nangong Nuannuan provided the solution to so many problems. She had become the backbone of the team, so Nangong Nuannuan's words were the most important to Guo Zhennan.

"Okay, then let's participate in the competition. Today, since so many reporters have already recorded what you've done, I'm not afraid that you'll eat your words tomorrow. If you can't make a public apology during the livestream tomorrow, I think I'll make an announcement to the Education Office and cancel all knowledge-related competitions with Yamato."

Chapter 1312: Stomachache

After saying this, Guo Zhennan left with the people from the Camino team. The person in charge of the Yamato team changed his attitude of ignoring them previously and hurriedly arranged for a car to send those representing Z away.

Since Kitano Satoshi was left behind, he found himself instantly surrounded by the media from Yamato.

At night, someone knocked open Li Youran and Xiang Liwen's door. A delivery man wearing a baseball cap handed them a carton of drinks with extra components added to it.

The next morning, Li Youran and Xiang Liwen gave each member of the Camino team a bottle of energy replenishing beverage. Everyone took the beverage and drank it happily, thanking them for their generosity.

Not long after they drank the beverage, someone started to say that they had a stomachache. The three people in charge immediately reminded everyone to solve their private problems in advance because they were not allowed to use the toilet during the livestream.

After a while, someone said that his stomach hurt again.

The match began as scheduled.

Everyone was in high spirits.

The competition started off with three categories.

The first category was a question-and-answer session where each team was allocated thirty questions. The second session was first-come-first-serve with thirty questions in total. The third question was a session that tested their memory, and each team was allocated five questions. Each question would give one point. If there was a draw, the competition would proceed with another separate round of first-come-first-serve session.

The first to answer was the Camino team. The host announced everything in full Luntanese, but there was a hint of the Yamato accent in his substandard Luntanese.

Everyone was not used to it. By the time the host announced that they had five seconds left to think, no one answered even until after four minutes had passed. Therefore, Nuannuan took the initiative to answer.

"Correct."

Following the host's words, the students were all very agitatedly thanking Nuannuan for earning the team their first point.

After that, it was the Yamato team's turn. Kitano Satoshi answered the question and he got it right too.

The host continued to read the second question, and it was time for the Camino team to answer again. After listening to the second question twice, everyone had gotten used to the host's accent. Therefore, Wang Geng answered the second question after thinking for four seconds.

After that, it was the Yamato team's turn, and the one who answered was Kitano Satoshi.

The audience applauded loudly.

Although Kitano Satoshi was a bully, it was undeniable that his looks and family background made him very popular among the students.

Therefore, when the first two questions were scored by Kitano Satoshi for the Yamato team, there was still a commotion below.

After that, everyone on the Camino team seemed to be more focused. Basically, after the host raised the question, everyone could answer in three seconds.

Seeing that everyone warmed up, Nuannuan no longer rushed to answer. In the question-and-answer session, Nuannuan only answered two questions, leaving the rest to the other members of the Camino team.

On the other hand, on R Country's side, Kitano Satoshi alone answered 17 out of 30 questions. The other team members were just fillers.

After the 30th question, both teams had the same score.

After the first round of the competition ended, they would rest for ten minutes before starting the first-come-first-serve session.

Everyone sat around Guo Zhennan and listened to him explain the important points in their next session.

Zhou Jimin suddenly clutched her stomach and said, "My stomach hurts. Does anyone want to go to the toilet with me?"

The students, "..."

Chapter 1313: Traitor

Guo Zhennan said unhappily, "They're in the middle of a competition. If you want to go, go yourself. Why must you invite them?"

Women were unbelievable sometimes. How could they be so clueless in prioritizing the situation? They even needed someone to accompany them to the toilet.

Zhou Jimin's ears turned hot from Guo Zhennan's rebuke, so she could only go by herself. Before she left, she glanced suspiciously at Li Youran and Xiang Liwen.

She finally realized that the two girls must have switched out the drinks.

Therefore, while she headed to the bathroom, Zhou Jimin took out another phone and plugged in another SIM card. Seeing that there was no one inside the toilet, she dialed a number.

"Zhou Jimin, what's going on over there? Why aren't the members from the Camino team having diarrhea?"

"It must be Li Youran and Xiang Liwen who didn't give them the drugged drinks. That's why none of them need to use the toilet."

"Our young master gave you so much money, but you can't even accomplish such a small task!"

Hearing that the person on the other side of the line was angry, Zhou Jimin admitted that she failed in her duty this time. She said apologetically, "The blame mostly falls on that Zhong Nuannuan. Previously, she said that she couldn't attend the training due to family matters, so I didn't investigate her. Who knew that she would go against Young Master Kitano all the time. Now that things have turned out this way, I have some responsibility as well. How about this, I'll return half of the money you gave me."

"Hehe." A low chuckle came from the other end of the line. "You'd better pray that our Young Master Kitano wins. If he loses, do you think this is something that can be solved with you returning half of your money?"

"That's not... Hey!!!"

Zhou Jimin still wanted to explain, but the person on the phone ignored her and hung up.

Zhou Jimin's face turned pale.

Recently, her family was in dire need of money, so when Kitano Satoshi's men found her and transferred two million bucks to her card, she immediately agreed.

After all, victory and defeat were common. She believed that if Camino lost this time, they would just win the next time around. However, if she did not have these two million bucks, her husband would not be able to repay his debts. Even if she divorced him after knowing that the man had gone behind her back to gamble and lost so much, the gangsters told her that they would make her husband use the house to repay the debt, even if they divorced.

Therefore, she could only take the risk.

Originally, it was a sure-win situation, but she failed to expect Zhong Nuannuan's participation to cause problems time and time again. As a result, before the competition even began, the reputation of the Yamato battle team had already been completely messed up.

However, she had already accepted the other party's money. If the other party were to expose this matter, she would not be able to stay at the Education Bureau either now, would she?

With that thought in mind, Zhou Jimin quickly dialed the number again. However, the person refused to answer her call.

Zhou Jimin was scared out of her wits. She kept dialing the number, but no one picked up.

What she did not know was that the moment the man hung up, a group of police officers rushed into the man's room and captured him before he could react.

Until he was taken away, the man was still confused.

The second round of the competition began.

In this round, everyone was allowed to fight for the chance to answer. After the host gave out the question and asked them to start, whoever pressed the answer button first would win.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 1314: Why Bother

The second the host announced the first question, Nangong Nuannuan pressed the answer button on the machine and answered the first question.

However, after that, the second, third, fourth, and fifth questions were all snatched up by the Yamato team.

The expressions on the students' faces changed.

It was not until Nangong Nuannuan snatched the sixth question that the students' expressions softened.

However, after Nangong Nuannuan finished answering the question and confirmed that she obtained the point, she said, "Mr. Host."

"Student No. 2, what's the matter?"

"There's something wrong with our answering machine," Nangong Nuannuan said bluntly in front of the livestream.

The host smiled. "There will definitely be no problem with the answer button. This button has been reviewed by international judges."

Was he implying that they bribed the international judges?

"Of course, I believe in those judges, but I would like to ask, when did the judges examine the machine? I've already tried it earlier, and our buttons are slower than the opponent's button by 0.3 seconds. To ensure the fairness of the competition, I hope that the host and the international judges can help us examine the buttons again."

Below the stage, the majority of the audience did not express any opinion. At most, they felt that the Camino team was more troublesome. However, some of the less cultured audiences started to boo them.

The host refused to help the Camino team check the answering machine. He said, "Miss, our answering machine is definitely not problematic. This is because before you went on stage, our professional staff had just gone through the second examination. Nothing can go wrong."

"Then, please remove the staff who tested the machine earlier and find someone else to do the test for us, okay?"

The host did not know whether to laugh or cry at Nangong Nuannuan's words, but he had been rendered speechless for sure.

However, in an international competition like this, many people were watching. The other party's participants had already raised their doubts. If he refused, the people from Camino might really think that there was something fishy.

Therefore, the host had no choice but to get the approval of the staff on the program team before asking the people in charge from both the Z and R sides for their opinions.

To avoid exposing herself, Zhou Jimin took the lead to express her trust in the R's side. The host was ready to continue the competition before Guo Zhennan spoke up, "I'm the one in charge. What others say doesn't count."

Then, under Zhou Jimin's look that said 'why bother', Guo Zhennan demanded a detailed examination of the answering machine and firmly refused to let the staff who came up to check just now reexamine the machine.

The people from the television station checked the answering machine again and explained—

The answering machine had really been tampered with. The response time on Z's side was 0.37 seconds slower than R's.

The people below the stage were shocked. They did not expect the student to be right.

This was so embarrassing!

The host blushed and quickly apologized to Camino's team.

To ensure the fairness of the competition, the host suggested to the program team that they should clear up the points for the answers and start again.

The host's suggestion received the audience's support.

Even though they were all from Yamato, winning was winning, and losing was losing. If they lost, they would find their weaknesses and practice more, and they could still win next time. However, if they won the trophy through trickery, it would be an unfair and shameless victory.

Undeniably, Nangong Nuannuan had to admire how cultured the people of their nation were in this aspect.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 1315: Provocation

Kitano Satoshi's face had already turned as dark as the bottom of a pot. Originally, under his plan, the Yamato team would have been more ahead of the Camino team by a lot of points, but Nangong Nuannuan ruined it again!

He was so angry!

However, this was a national livestream, so he could not fly into a rage. He could only swallow this loss. In his heart, he had already thought it through. Since Nangong Nuannuan gave him so much suffering, so he would definitely let her know the consequences of offending him.

Since the offense was now too great to dismiss, there was no need for them to leave.

Provocation!

That was a serious provocation!

The real second round of the competition finally began.

Other than the disgusting schemes and plots, the Yamato team was actually pretty good. Unfortunately, they had utilized their smarts in the wrong aspects. In other words, this match might have been nothing but a cover to something else.

The questions were obviously much more difficult than the ones that they had to answer in the first round. Whether it was answering in advance or answering wrongly, all of them would be counted as a point.

R gave some free points to Z, and Z gave R some free points as well.

In this round, Nuannuan still did not answer much. Unless she noticed that the opponent's score had 2 more points than them, she would not take action.

After all, this was a competition for the whole world to see, and teamwork was what it was focused on. Even though these questions could not be any simpler for her, she must not steal the limelight from her teammates.

Therefore, this round ended. Out of the 30 questions asked, Camino scored 16 points, and Yamato scored 14 points. The difference was very small.

The third round's objective was to test the students' memory.

Many students had always wanted to know how good a brainiac's memory was. To explore this mystery, the program team summoned 300 workers and gave them a number each, ranging from 1 to 300. After that, the program team would get these 300 people to take out their phones and draw a pattern to unlock their screens.

Everyone would have five strokes for their screen lock patterns, and differing screen lock patterns for each person. The brainiacs not only had to remember the screen lock patterns of those 300 people, but they also had to remember the order of the strokes. Otherwise, even if the screen lock pattern was drawn correctly, they would lose if the strokes were drawn in the wrong sequence.

While these 300 people were displaying their patterns, Nangong Nuannuan noticed the look of absolute confidence on Kitano Satoshi's face.

After the 300 people slid through all their screen locks, the host gave everyone five minutes to recall the patterns and sequences.

To deal with such a task, the students from both parties were delegated their parts. Each person would memorize a group of 30 pictures.

Thirty was not a lot, but because they were all answers that required five strokes and some of the patterns were very similar, it was quite harrowing to memorize all of them.

"Nuannuan, do you remember the answers?"

"Uh-huh, don't worry."

"That's great." The students exchanged happy glances. After all, Nuannuan was their team's dark horse, and her memorizing skills were amazing.

After Nuannuan told Wang Geng what Kitano Satoshi said, Wang Geng immediately went to look for Guo Zhennan.

Guo Zhennan quickly went to negotiate with the host.

Kitano Satoshi had a bad premonition, but he could only give up after realizing he could not hear what the other party was saying.

While they were resting, the reporters that they arranged for suddenly ran up to interview the students on R's side—

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 1316: Suffering A Double Loss

The reporter asked the students if they felt stressed after seeing the 300 screen lock patterns.

Everyone answered according to their prepared script, indicating that there was no pressure on the R side, as they had Kitano-kun.

Kitano-kun had outstanding memory, and he was also the best among his team. Therefore, among the 300 unlocked patterns, 200 of them were delegated to Kitano-kun himself. As for the remaining 100 patterns, each of his team members memorized 10, which meant that there was no pressure for them.

Since it was a live broadcast, the reporters' interview was recorded.

When everyone heard how amazing Kitano Satoshi was, those people, who were dissatisfied with him and despised him after all the negative reports on his behavior, had this sudden urge to simp after him again.

On the other hand, Kitano Satoshi did not say anything. The scene that the reporters captured was how he was fully immersed in his thoughts. He should be memorizing the 200 pictures right now.

The third round of the competition finally began, and the host announced, "The third round is to test everyone's memory. Just now, our 300 staff members showed us the screen lock patterns to unlock the phone screen. Now, everyone needs to rely on their memory to unlock the screen.

"For the sake of fairness, for the following matches, we will have members from both R and Z sides test each other. If the opponent's answer is correct, the opponent will gain one point, and if the answer is wrong, the question setter will win."

After hearing the host's words, Kitano Satoshi was thrown into a tizzy.

He had already made arrangements with one of the staff for this round. Whether it was the questions the R team would be given and the answers to these questions, Kitano Satoshi had gotten the answers from the person in charge beforehand.

Now that the 300 people were done showing their patterns, they told him that the rules had changed. What was this if not to torment him?

However, the television station was not a place where he could cover everything he wanted.

The host could not change the rules on his own, so Nuannuan must have gotten the approval of the organizer to come up with this method.

What should he do then?

He had been planning this competition since a month ago, hoping to prove himself through this competition so that the people of the Kitano family would have a different opinion of him. Then, seeing that he had a powerful background, they would give Satoshi the inheritance.

Now...

Was he suffering a double loss?

The match had already begun.

Most of the people in the R team received Kitano Satoshi's bribes. Since Kitano Satoshi had memorized the first few questions, everyone would give him the chance to show off.

In addition to the knowledge that there was more than meets the eye in the third question, the students merely pretended to look at the 300 patterns for show. After all, they would not have the chance to answer the questions, so they gave up taking notes altogether.

For the first question, it was R testing Z. Since they did not bother memorizing, they did not know which questions were harder and which were easier, so they randomly picked the number 44. They were aware that the people of Camino disliked this number, so they hoped that this number would bring them bad luck.

Nangong Nuannuan glanced at everyone, only to see Xiang Liwen nod at her. She then stood up and started drawing on the board.

After the questions were answered, Staff No. 44 walked onto the stage and unlocked his phone in front of everyone. The pattern and steps were exactly the same as what Xiang Liwen drew.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 1317: Public Disgrace

Xiang Liwen gave the right answer.

Then, it was Z's turn to test R.

It was Nuannuan's turn to come up with the question. Since the 300 clusters had formed a solid pattern in her memory, she knew which pattern looked simple but was easy to get wrong. Therefore, she chose this particular one. Most importantly, it was the pattern that Kitano Satoshi was 'responsible' for memorizing.

"Number 22," Nangong Nuannuan announced.

The malice in Kitano Satoshi's eyes nearly took form. He was sure that this woman did it on purpose—she would do anything to make him embarrass himself in public.

However, in front of the camera, no matter how many vicious underhanded moves he could come up with, there was nothing he could do.

What should he do?

At this moment, Kitano Satoshi was overwhelmed with anxiety, but there was nothing he could do. In the end, he could only give a random answer using whatever impression he had left of this question.

The difference between these two answers was too great.

The host quickly helped Kitano Satoshi out of the situation, implying that the mistake was just an outlier. After all, everyone claimed that Kitano Satoshi had the best memory among them.

Since Kitano Satoshi failed to answer, Z scored.

Next, it was time for R's side to come up with the next question. Originally, it was Xia Anchen's turn to answer, but Xia Anchen was obviously not in his best today, so he was rather hesitant.

After asking Nuannuan, Nuannuan nodded to reaffirm his answer. Only then did he announce the answer officially.

After verifying it, Z's answer was correct.

After passing the questions around back and forth, Z answered two questions but obtained three marks.

The host did not know that the questions were already leaked out through other channels. Initially, this competition was meant to be Kitano Satoshi's solo show as he gained absolute control over the participants of two countries. Therefore, when it was time for the R team to answer the question, the host hyped up Kitano Satoshi once more.

After all, he had a good memory. After all, he was someone who was supposed to bring glory to Yamato.

When it was Z's turn to ask once more, Nangong Nuannuan took a look at the scoreboard and said, "Let's go with No. 1."

That no-brainer question translated to giving her opponent a free win!

Kitano Satoshi was responsible for memorizing the first 200 questions. As long as it was the first 200 questions, that was where his responsibility lied.

Therefore, picking a question randomly was not enough to destroy Kitano Satoshi's arrogance. To embarrass Kitano Satoshi for real, she must ask the questions in order.

This woman was definitely doing this on purpose.

Fortunately, he vaguely remembered the pattern drawn by Staff No.1. Therefore, Kitano Satoshi marked out the answer almost as soon as Nangong Nuannuan finished speaking.

Nuannuan blinked and thought to herself, 'Damn it, this idiot actually memorized a few.'

However, after Kitano Satoshi drew the pattern, Nuannuan was relieved.

Staff No.1 went on stage and unlocked the screen in front of everyone. Although the answer was similar to Kitano Satoshi's, Kitano Satoshi was still wrong.

Z gained another point.

After that, on Z's side, some students failed to memorize a few of them, so the last two questions were answered by Nuannuan. But on R's side, it was a tragedy. They got all the questions wrong.

Most importantly, everyone could tell that the students on Z team had been going easy on Kitano Satoshi, and still, he could not answer any of them.

Finally, at the final question, another student happened to remember the answer, so he helped Kitano Satoshi answer instead.

Eventually, all thanks to Kitano Satoshi, the Z team scored 9 points in the memorizing session. Added up with their previous 46 points, they scored a total of 55 points. The students on the R team only scored 45 points, making them the loser by 10 points.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 1318: Why Did You Not Apologize

Hence, the Z team came out the winner in the ZR Senior High School General Knowledge Competition.

Although everyone was not satisfied with Kitano Satoshi's performance, they acknowledged the competence of the students from the Z team. After all, they lost from something that was hard to deny.

Next, everyone waited for Kitano Satoshi to apologize to the Z team.

However, Guo Zhennan had already sent someone to approach Kitano Satoshi. However, Kitano Satoshi was completely unmoved. He even shouted at the staff sent by the Z team, "Get lost!"

While Z and R were thanking each other for this exchange in experience, Nangong Nuannuan smiled and asked Kitano Satoshi, "Mr. Kitano, what happened to your apology that we agreed on?"

Kitano Satoshi gritted his teeth and hissed in a voice that was only audible between them both, "Zhong Nuannuan, you've successfully made me angry! I'll make sure you know how regret feels like!"

"Oh? You're only angry now? I thought I've already angered you when I found the video yesterday morning and embarrassed you in front of all the reporters."

Kitano Satoshi sneered, "Don't think that just because you have some background, you can strut around with your little tricks. There's more to come. Those will turn your intestine green with regret."

Nangong Nuannuan laughed as well. "I don't know if I'll regret it, but you're definitely going to regret it until your intestines turn green."

Almost as soon as she said that, the conflict between Z and R from yesterday morning until last night started playing on the widescreen.

This interview with Kitano Satoshi was originally conducted by a reporter from the Capital City and it was not a bad one. However, once this livestream got broadcasted, it would share everything with the whole nation, or even the entire world.

However, the staff in charge of the screen was dumbfounded too because he did not queue any of these.

No one knew who or what was playing the video on the widescreen.

"Zhong! Nuan! Nuan!" Kitano Satoshi seeped with so much anger that he looked like he was about to devour someone.

"Since you don't plan to apologize when we ask you to, we can only resort to this. Otherwise, we would've suffered for nothing."

However, these were not the videos that sent Kitano Satoshi to the plank.

The video made a transition to show a man whose hands were in handcuffs, and his face was haggard.

"To ensure his victory, Kitano Satoshi asked me to approach Zhou Jimin from Camino a month in advance. He asked Zhou Jimin to find an introverted female student who can be easily manipulated—someone that is dragging the Z team down. After Zhou Jimin found this female student, I started to flirt with her and befriend her. Yesterday, when she arrived at Yamato, I went to see her and took a video of her to blackmail her."

The footage of Li Youran and Xiang Liwen in the corridor yesterday afternoon started playing. To ensure everyone understood, the timestamp on the footage had been highlighted by a red circle. The two of them entered a room, and after a while, a man came out of the room. Later, after Li Youran and Xiang Liwen were discovered, they cried and said that they met an online friend. The online friend knew that they were coming and asked to meet them. Eventually, after they entered the room, the man drugged them into unconsciousness and took indecent photos of them. Then, he threatened them to drag the members of the Camino team down. Otherwise, he would share these indecent photos of them with the world. Following that, the extremely shameless blackmail content started playing on the widescreen.

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 1319: Objective

Shockingly, the content of his messages was to ask for the Camino team to surrender.

Everyone was now convinced that the Yamato team caused so much ruckus just so they could win. How dare they came up with such a despicable idea?! The anger in everyone's eyes nearly seeped out from their sockets.

It was not their fault for siding with Camino. After all, the R team's methods were totally under the belt.

"Other than the videos of Li Youran and Xiang Liwen, we also gave them a box of drinks. We asked them to send it to the other students. That way, they'll have diarrhea during the competition."

The scene changed. It was Li Youran and Xiang Liwen distributing drinks to everyone this morning.

The audience from Yamato, "...!!!"

"I never expected Li Youran and Xiang Liwen to not heed my threat in the end. They even told their teammates about it in private. That's why the person in charge of the Z team called me earlier."

After saying that, the person in charge of the Z team, Zhou Jimin, appeared on the video.

Zhou Jimin's face had already turned pale the second she saw that person. However, at the time, she was still thinking that she had not used any of the money on that card. Furthermore, that card belonged to a relative, not her. If necessary, she could just claim that she did not know anything about this and was framed.

However, when Zhou Jimin saw the video, her legs gave way and she collapsed to the ground on her bottom.

Why was there a video of her? Why would there be surveillance cameras in the toilet?

In the video, Zhou Jimin surreptitiously checked every cubicle before making a call. After she dialed the number, the screen was split into three.

On one side, it showed the person who was at the police station confessing his crimes. On another was the same man answering a call in his hotel room. Finally, the last one showed Zhou Jimin speaking.

The content of the video was completely strung together, and the voice recording was loud enough for everyone to hear.

It was this woman who had accepted Kitano Satoshi's money and helped him harm the students of her own country.

Although it seemed like she made an unforgivable mistake, Kitano Satoshi was even more unforgivable than the person in charge of the Camino team, okay?

The Education Office of Yamato never forced him to participate in this competition. If they recalled correctly, he was the one who registered himself and insisted on participating in this competition, right?

If he wanted to participate in this competition, then he should compete properly!

It was such an important and official competition between the two countries, but he ruined it.

The audience stared blankly at the screen, not understanding why Kitano Satoshi would do this.

"Why would Kitano Satoshi do that? If he's afraid of losing, he can choose not to participate in this competition," the police officer inquired.

"That's because..." The man thought about the person who captured him and the threats posed. Even if Kitano Satoshi was very scary, he would just run for his life at most in the future. However, if he angered the person who captured him, death was his only outcome.

Therefore, after hesitating for a while, the man said, "That's because the Kitano family is about to choose their new heir. Kitano Satoshi is an illegitimate child. Even though he has a strong family background, his family background isn't as good as his elder brother's, and he hasn't been conducting himself better than his elder brother outside. To defeat his half-brother, he wants to use this knowledge competition to improve his reputation."

"So, he thinks that by tarnishing the reputation of a Camino girl and telling her not to answer the questions properly, and then give everyone diarrhea, he can win?"

The man shook his head. "No, he still has a backup plan."

Since he was already in trouble, he did not mind dragging a few more people down with him.

"He has already negotiated with one of the staff of the competition and gave the person some money."

Chapter 1320: Total Victory

"I don't know how much exactly, but that person can get their hands on the questions for the competition half an hour in advance. After that person gets the questions, they'll send the content to him first, and then he and the students of the R team can find the answers in advance."

"Not only that, to prevent their opponent from being too overwhelming, he ordered someone to tweak the answering machine and make it slower. At the same time, the person in charge also gave him the staff number he was going to draw for the third memorization question, as well as the screen lock pattern. This way, he could be a straight-A student for sure."

After that, the video transitioned again. This time, it switched to the person in charge backstage while the same person was currently watching with everyone else too. The spotlight shone on his face, and his face was a stark contrast to the video in the picture.

This scene was of him sneakily running to the conference room to take a photo of the questions and answers before they get handed over to the host. This was also the evidence that he had been passing the information to Kitano Satoshi.

Yamato was a nation whose citizens were filled with a strong sense of self-esteem. After witnessing Kitao Satoshi's disgusting and underhanded tactics, everyone was convinced that he was no longer trying to smear his name, but the entire country.

No wonder the host had changed the rules earlier. When Z and R picked the questions to let the other answer, R had lost so badly, especially Kitano Satoshi. He had not guessed a single one of them correctly. The difference between his answer and the correct answer was too vast. After so long, he only remembered the screen lock pattern of those very few numbers.

This was too much!

How shameless!

All to ensure his victory, he paid someone to seduce the students of the Camino team a month in advance.

The crowd was in chaos. No one could accept this result. His action not only insulted his opponent but also the entire nation.

Kitano Satoshi glared at Nangong Nuannuan with eyes that threatened to rupture, but at this moment, he was too powerless to reverse the situation.

He had done so many things and wasted so much money. If he did not speak ill of the members of the Camino team yesterday morning and stubbed his toe here, would that mean that Zhong Nuannuan would never have deliberately investigated him?

Then, would he have won this match?

Would he not only be able to earn himself a great reputation, but also the right to inherit the Kitano family?

However, all of that was impossible to him now.

Not only did he bring shame to the Kitano family, but he also insulted the royal family along with the entire Yamato.

From today onwards, he would forever be a sinner in Yamato.

All of this was thanks to this woman!

Amidst the crowd's anger, a group of police officers walked over and took Kitano Satoshi away for investigation.

Although his act of cheating in this competition was not illegal, he had already committed a crime when he paid someone to seduce Li Youran and Xiang Liwen, proceeding to take photos of the two Camino team members. Therefore, even if such an illegal crime could not make a powerful and influential person like Kitano Satoshi stay in jail for long, it was still enough for him to become a rat that everyone hated in the entire Yamato.

The Camino team achieved a total victory. They were supposed to have fun in Yamato and celebrate before leaving for their home country. However, it was New Year's Eve tomorrow, so everyone was anxious to go home for the New Year. Hence, Guo Zhennan brought everyone back home.

Of course, Zhou Jimin, Teacher Zhou, had also been temporarily apprehended by Yamato's police due to suspicion of committing a crime. When the time came, the police from Yamato would hand her over to Camino's police. Even if what awaited her was not imprisonment, it would definitely ruin her life.
