

Physician Wife 1451

Chapter 1451: Baby

“Okay.” Although Nuannuan agreed, she was not an idiot. She knew that Big Brother Chi Yang’s mention of three and a half hours was definitely a discount.

Furthermore, she knew his physical condition very well. When he slept, he must hug her, and he must not be disturbed by the slightest breeze, or else he would wake up easily.

Therefore, among his three and a half hours, she believed that he had rested for at most one hour.

Her heart ached.

“Big Brother Chi Yang, there are medicine stores in Naboo. Take some notes, and I’ll tell you a few types of medicine. Get someone to buy some for you. Take them an hour before you rest. It will help you sleep. You have to remember that you don’t just have to avoid getting injured, but you have to maintain your sleep quality. If you don’t sleep well for a long time, it will cause irreversible damage to your mind, body immunity, and organs. We still have to give birth to a healthy baby in the future, right?”

Initially, Chi Yang did not want to trouble his teammates to buy medicine for him, but Nuannuan’s last sentence sent him into a frenzy.

Baby...

Without thinking, Chi Yang responded with an “mm”, picked up the pen on the table, and started to write in his notebook.

On the other side, Nuannuan told Chi Yang the names of the medicine while avoiding the cars behind her.

The car behind her kept trying to ram into the left side of the back of her car.

To her left was the mountain road, and to her right was the cliff. If they managed to send her car down, she would die.

Nuannuan understood that these people were after her life.

Nuannuan glanced at the cars behind her through the rearview mirror and coldness seeped into her eyes.

From the skills of the people behind her, she could tell that these people were not ordinary. Even though she faced such obstacles before, those were nothing to her.

This time, she bumped into real killers.

However, she did not know who was the one who housed such a deep grudge against her.

The first person that came to Nuannuan’s mind was Viper. However, in less than half a second, she had disproven this idea.

Viper knew about Nuannuan’s background. If Viper really wanted to send someone to kill her, she would never send someone of this level to follow Nuannuan.

Obviously, the people behind her did not know anything about Nuannuan. Whether it was their driving skills or their tracking skills, they were too inexperienced to Nuannuan.

Nuannuan drove the car with one hand while making a call on her phone. She told Chi Yang about the sweet nothings that she had kept to herself for a month.

On the other hand, Chi Yang was smiling as he listened to his wife say sweet nothings to him while writing down the names of the medicine that his wife had told him.

“Big Brother Chi Yang, have you lost weight?”

“No. What about you?”

“I’ve lost weight.”

Chi Yang’s hand that was still writing came to a halt. “What’s wrong? Did you not rest well or eat well? Don’t you like Second Uncle’s dishes?”

“I’ve lost weight from missing you!”

Chi Yang, “...”

“Big Brother Chi Yang, have you remembered the medicine I told you about?”

Chi Yang returned to his senses from his happiness. He could not help but smile. “Yes.”

“The ten medicines that I just told you about are commonly stocked in Naboo’s pharmacies. If you can buy all of them, you can eat the first and second types of medicine together. Don’t increase the dosage. The third and fourth medicine can be eaten together, and the fifth and sixth medicine can be eaten together while halving the dosage. The eighth or ninth medicine can be eaten together by halving their dosage too.. If you can’t buy all of them...”

Chapter 1452: Chase

“If you can’t get all of them to be mixed, then just eat them one by one. Just double the dosage; don’t increase the dosage too much. If one medicine doesn’t work for one day, then change to another the next day. Understand?”

Listening to Nuannuan’s incessant chatter on the other end of the phone, Chi Yang’s knotted forehead finally relaxed. Even the blood vessels in his bloodshot eyes eased up a little.

“Okay, got it.” Chi Yang’s voice was as soft as a puddle of water, sending the soldiers from the special forces into disbelief as they waited to report to him. With their mouths agape, they listened to their commander’s sweet nothings.

This was not something that could be easily heard.

Before they arrived for their mission, they had heard on the way that the commander was in a relationship. At first, they did not believe that any woman would dare to be in a relationship with the commander. Could the woman still be considered a woman? How could she not be scared to death by his piercingly cold aura when she was with the commander?

Now that they heard the commander talking to his girlfriend, they realized how gentle the commander was when interacting with his girlfriend.

They wondered what kind of girl could make such a determined commander treat her so gently.

There were more and more people, and there was one minute left before their meeting started. Chi Yang had no choice but to say, "Nuannuan, I have to hang up now."

Nuannuan was stunned for a moment. Her eyes were flooded with a strong reluctance to part, but in the end, she could only agree.

"Big Brother Nangong got injured. I've already ordered someone to send him back today. You should go fetch him."

Only then did Nuannuan realize that her eldest brother had gone to Naboo with Big Brother Chi Yang. She was only concerned about Big Brother Chi Yang and did not care about her brother. When she heard that he was injured, she was shocked. Just as she was about to ask, Chi Yang said, "Big Brother injured his shoulder. It's not a big problem, but I'm afraid that there might be future complications with his shoulder blade and so, I thought I should tell you that. My men will contact you the first moment they can."

"Okay."

"Then, I'm hanging up."

"Okay, Big Brother Chi Yang, take care."

"Take care too."

She reluctantly hung up the phone. Thinking about how her eldest brother got injured, it could only mean that the situation in Naboo was getting worse. It was worse than she had imagined. Nuannuan could not feel better.

An indescribable sense of frustration and pressure caused her to look at the car that kept trying to knock her off the cliff, and the anger that she had no outlet for was directed at the car.

Nuannuan drove very fast. In front of her, there was a turning. Through the mountain, Nuannuan saw a truck driving toward her.

Nuannuan stepped on the accelerator, and the attack from the back missed again.

However, the people behind her did not seem to have any intention of giving up. Seeing that Nuannuan sped up, they thought that there was a small bend up ahead, so they followed her closely too.

Suddenly, a large truck appeared at the bend.

The killer following closely behind Nuannuan's car narrowed his eyes and hurriedly turned the steering wheel to the right, hoping that he could avoid this disaster when the truck hit Nangong Nuannuan's car.

The truck driver was also stunned by the sudden appearance and the speed of the cars.

When he saw that Nuannuan's car nearly collided with him, the driver subconsciously turned his steering wheel toward the outside, hoping to swerve into safety. Nuannuan, on the other hand, was prepared for this. She charged against the wall.

Pulling the hand brake rapidly, the car shot up vertically on its backwheels...

Chapter 1453: Brutal

Just as the entire car was about to flip sideways, Nuannuan lowered her hand brake. With a stomp on her accelerator, the entire car turned sideways. With the rocky walls on the left and the big truck's body on the right, Nuannuan's car brushed past between the two.

However, the cars behind her were not so lucky. Even though the truck driver had slammed on his brakes, two cars were still knocked off the cliff.

The truck driver was scared silly.

He... seemed to have killed someone...

No... that was not right. He did not kill them. These people suddenly rushed toward his truck. He had already stepped on the brakes, but he could not avoid them.

At that moment, the driver regretted saving money and avoided installing a car recorder.

Just as the driver was about to get out of the truck, Nangong Nuannuan got out of her car and walked over.

The people in the remaining three cars also rushed down as soon as they saw Nangong Nuannuan.

As long as they killed Nangong Nuannuan and this driver, their mission would be completed.

Therefore, in the eyes of these people, Nangong Nuannuan and the driver were already dead.

The driver was about to get out when he saw a girl walk to the front of the truck, and the people in the other three cars suddenly got out.

To the driver's dumbstruck surprise, all of them were holding... guns!

Holy sh*t!

Was he watching a gunfight scene from a movie?

The driver knew he was in trouble. It felt like someone pinched his throat. Sitting in the car, his limbs trembled, and he was so stunned he forgot to call the police.

The men who got out of the car did not even get close to her. With the intention of ending the battle quickly, they wanted to fire at Nuannuan from where they were.

However, before they could fire the trigger, the cards in Nuannuan's hands had already taken flight.

The men clad in their suave black suits did not even manage to fire a single shot before they screamed.

The driver's eyes widened.

What the heck? What did he see?

Did Brother Mark show up?

All of their hands, including their guns, had fallen to the ground. Not far away from them, there were poker cards embedded in the wall!

This was clearly Brother Mark's usual equipment!

Ah, that could not be right! Even Brother Mark was not that impressive.

The group of assassins who were wearing black suits and earpieces earlier had fear on their faces. They covered their hands and prepared to run.

Even though the woman had just attacked, they realized that they were no match for her. Even if they had twenty more people with them, they would not be able to kill her.

F*ck, what kind of insane combat ability was this?

Nuannuan did not care what these people were thinking. After sending the cards flying, she immediately rushed forward and punched someone's chest, where his heart was located.

The killer behind the man realized, to his horror, that a bulge appeared on his friend's back.

In other words, not only did the woman punch his partner in the heart, but the punch was so heavy that it directly ripped his heart from his chest and through the back.

This was simply...

Too brutal.

Before the man behind her initial target could react, Nuannuan gave him a forceful slap and spun his head 160 degrees.

His neck broke on the spot. Before a sound could escape their lips, two people died within a second.

There were seven assassins behind the two. Seeing this cruel and inhumane scene, everyone was scared out of their wits.

Although they were all killers, none of them wanted to die!

Chapter 1454: What In The World...

Although the assassins did enough for Day 1, the dismayed Nuannuan did everything from Day 2 to 30.

Some of them tried to escape. Not only were they missing a hand, but each one of them lost their dominant hand. They no longer had any fighting capabilities. Even if they could fight, they could not escape.

Nuannuan was abnormally fast. Since the first few had been the ones who put in the most effort into chasing after her, they would die.

As for those in the back, she could keep them alive for the time being.

After all, she still needed to find out who sent these people.

Therefore, for the first few people, Nuannuan sent them to their deaths with a single shot. Even though she held back with the remaining five, she had already shattered their limbs, and there was no chance of recovery.

At that moment, the five of them were lying on the ground, their faces filled with terror.

Was she not supposed to be the daughter of a wealthy family? Did they get the wrong person?

What kind of rich missy could be so cruel?

Although they were not very adept, they were considered suicide warriors of the Shi family and had undergone professional training. However, they could not withstand a single blow from this woman.

The few of them watched in fear as Nuannuan walked to their side. Then, she lifted her leg and stepped on one of the men's chest. He screamed in pain.

"Speak. Who sent you to kill me?"

Nuannuan only asked one question before she saw the men grinding their teeth together.

Based on their lousy skills, Nuannuan did not expect them to be suicide warriors!

Nuannuan sneered.

She reached out and knocked the teeth out of the man that she was stepping on. It was fine for the rest of them to die, but Nuannuan could not be bothered to waste time on the last one either. She pulled out a needle and pierced it into the man's acupuncture point in his head.

Soon, the man's mind started to wander.

"Who sent you?"

"Miss... Miss."

"Which Miss?"

"Miss... Miss Shi."

Nuannuan, "..."

What in the world!

Was there something wrong with Shi Yalin?

Nuannuan racked her brain trying to figure out who it was. Viper was the one who had an irreconcilable grudge with Nuannuan but the possibility of Viper doing this had been eliminated almost instantly. Other than her, the only person Nuannuan could think of was Hong Feixu.

After all, Hong Feixu and Bian Yin were the only ones in Emperor District that ended up horrible by Nuannuan's hand.

Bian Yin did not look like a bold and capable person, so she had guessed that it was Hong Feixu.

Yet, much to Nuannuan's surprise, it was Shi Yalin.

She had only met this woman once, right?

Furthermore, even though their encounter with each other had been tense, the Shi family had sent people to Tianheng Holdings the next day to cause trouble. However, ever since Nuannuan reciprocated with ten thousand rats, they stopped trying anything horrible against Nuannuan's company.

It had been more than a month, but Shi Yalin suddenly ordered this fatal attack on Nuannuan without warning.

Claiming that this was a blow below the belt was an understatement!

Even if she was a mercenary, Nuannuan would not be so evil!

Since this man had spoken the truth, there was no need for her to keep him. After all, these people were here to take her life.

Nangong Nuannuan, who had been preparing to deal with cleaning up the murder scene, could not be bothered anymore after finding out that the mastermind was Shi Yalin. She left.

When Nuannuan walked up to the driver, the driver looked at Nangong Nuannuan as if she was a monster and his face was filled with fear.

Nuannuan stood in front of the truck and was about to tell him to leave quickly when the driver started sobbing.

Chapter 1455: Unashamed

"I didn't mean to hit you. I really didn't see you. I didn't record you killing anyone just now. I, I... don't kill me, please!"

Seeing him cry after being frightened, Nuannuan found him funny and said, "Mister, those people wanted to kill me, so I killed them. Didn't you see them raising their guns at me just now?"

"Yes, yes, yes! If you want me to be your witness, I'll definitely tell the police about them pointing their guns at you first when I give them my statement."

"Mister, I advise you to leave first. Leave this place before their people arrive. Otherwise, when that happens, you might find yourself never leaving."

After saying that, Nangong Nuannuan got into the car, reversed the car, turned around, and left.

However, the first three black cars were still in the middle of the road. There were only two paths on the mountain road. Driving a Ferrari worth more than 20 million, Nuannuan crashed into the black car.

Bang!

With a loud bang, the car shot two meters away by the Ferrari.

Seemingly dissatisfied with the previous collision, the Ferrari reversed ten meters. Nuannuan slammed her foot onto the accelerator again and crashed into the same car.

This time, the Ferrari sent the black car flying.

Not just that, the car was sent flying down the cliff.

Then, the red Ferrari left with a bonnet full of dents. It was very eye-catching.

That unashamedness was exactly the same as its owner!

The truck driver that Nuannuan left behind was utterly shaken.

Who did he meet?

This was supposed to be a society governed by law!

After murdering everyone, not only did she not kill him—her only witness—she did not even deal with the bodies on the road.

Even if there were no cameras here, there should be one at the foot of the mountain, right? Her car had appeared at the top of the mountain and then left from there. When she left, there were dents on the front of the car. Was that not obvious that she was the killer?

Did she not need to deal with the aftermath after killing so many people?

The driver was conflicted about whether he should call the police. Yet, after giving it some thought, he realized that these people would not care about law enforcement since they dared to commit murder in broad daylight.

In the end, the driver returned home with the dented truck.

He did not sleep for the whole night as he waited for the police to come and record his statement.

To prevent himself from being hunted down by his enemies, he had his wife and children hide for a while, and he recorded a video to explain everything that had happened on the mountain road.

However, one night passed, and the police did not come.

The next day, the police still did not come for him.

The third day, the fourth day... the tenth day passed, but the police still did not show up.

Meanwhile, the shooting on the mountain road did not seem to have happened at all. It was not even reported on the news.

However, Nuannuan would never let this pass easily after getting chased down like that.

She had already turned over a new leaf, but these people still wanted to force her to break her promise. What could she do? She was frustrated!

When she got home, she would never tell Old Master Chi and Old Master Nangong about Shi Yalin sending people after her head.

Especially her grandfather.

The Nangong family and the Shi family were already in a tense situation. If the Nangong family found out that the Shi family tried to kill her, they would definitely enter a state of irreconcilable hatred.

Now that she had returned to the Nangong family, the Nangong family was her family.. She would protect them well.

Chapter 1456: Have Not Eaten His Fill

At the same time, Nuannuan would let the Shi family know that even if the Nangong family did not make a move, they would definitely suffer if they provoked her.

As the saying goes, those who were barefoot were not afraid of those who wore shoes.

The Shi family had deep-rooted influences in Emperor District. It was too easy for her to cause trouble for the Shi family.

When they got home, Nuannuan called the automobile sales service shop and asked them to repair the car.

After entering the house, she saw that Feng Shengxuan treated Second Uncle with disdain.

Nuannuan was speechless.

Big Sis Yue had already gone to the Imperial Phoenix Group to oversee things and manage the company with Aiden.

Feng Shengxuan, who had nothing to do, was the only one who kept making things difficult for Second Uncle.

Nuannuan could not help feeling that Feng Shengxuan's temper had gotten worse.

In the past, when he was at the manor in Sab, Feng Shengxuan had a very bad temper as well. It could be said that he could kill people at the drop of a hat, and his methods were extremely cruel.

However, on the surface, he looked gentle and harmless.

That was why his friends were subconsciously wary of people like him. They would rather not interact with people like that. Whether it was Gu Mingzhe or Ye Hai, everyone would subconsciously think that such people were evil and vicious.

However, ever since she came to Camino, Nuannuan realized that Feng Shengxuan's temper had changed.

In the past, his face was always warm and smiling. Now, he had more expressions and he always had a grumpy look.

To be honest, compared to his gentle and kind appearance, Nuannuan preferred his current personality. At least, everything was written on his face.

However...

Could he not always look at Second Uncle like that?

“Big Bro, what’s wrong with you?”

In the house, the old master was reading the newspaper as if nothing had happened. He did not mind that a person like Feng Shengxuan, who had taken over the house, was throwing a tantrum at his son all day long.

However, Nuannuan minded!

Upon seeing Nuannuan, Feng Shengxuan seemed to have found a pillar of support and immediately said, “Nuannuan, you came back at the right time. Your wonderful Second Uncle only treats me well when you’re around. When you aren’t around, huh...”

Feng Shengxuan looked at Chi Zeyao mockingly and disdainfully.

“What do you mean ‘huh’?” Nuannuan asked with a dark expression on her face.

“Let him tell you. See if he has the face to tell you the whole story.”

With Nuannuan around, Feng Shengxuan calmly crossed his legs and leaned against the sofa not far away from Old Master Chi, as if he was the owner of the house.

Nuannuan did not even need to ask. She snorted coldly and said, “Ask? Do you need to ask? Every time you and Second Uncle get into an argument, it’s either Second Uncle’s cooking isn’t good or Second Uncle hasn’t cooked enough. What’s the reason this time? Is the food bad or is it too little?”

Anger and guilt flashed across Feng Shengxuan’s eyes. He snorted coldly and shot a glance at Chi Zeyao before falling silent.

His silence meant that Nuannuan had guessed correctly again.

Nuannuan looked at Feng Shengxuan speechlessly until Feng Shengxuan felt completely out of sorts. Then, Chi Zeyao smiled gently and said, “It’s nothing serious. I saw that his stomach’s conditions have improved recently, so I made him some pancakes. He... probably hasn’t eaten enough.”

“I haven’t had enough?” Feng Shengxuan looked at Chi Zeyao. “I’m the vice president of Emperor Phoenix Group. What kind of food have I not eaten before? Why would I care about your pancakes? Are you kidding me?”

“Big Bro, that’s enough!” Nuannuan was speechless. “If you don’t care about the pancakes, why are you throwing a tantrum at Second Uncle?”

Chapter 1457: Stay Here Forever

“Nangong Nuannuan, can you be any more biased? Even if that pancake isn’t delicious, I’m a stomach cancer patient, so at least let me eat my fill! Do you know how many pancakes your wonderful Second

Uncle made for me? A palm-sized pancake with less than a quarter of the thickness of my thumb, that's just enough to fill the cavities between my teeth, okay? Am I a cat? Even cats eat more than this, alright? I'm still your honored guest, at the very least. Is this how they play host?"

It seemed like Feng Shengxuan had really been angered to the point of calling Nuannuan by her name.

"Yo, you realize that you're a stomach cancer patient! Other stomach cancer patients only eat porridge three meals a day, but we have to provide at least a dozen different dishes for you three meals a day. Although each dish is small, all of them are the best. With a combination of meat and vegetables; snacks and tidbits, have we left you out in any of them?"

"Do you know that the soup that you finish in two or three mouthfuls every day—the same soup that you deem fit to be fed to the pigs—was prepared by Second Uncle every day? He has to wake up very early every day and cook the soup for at least four hours, you know? You must know that Second Uncle doesn't have a strong constitution. I already told Second Uncle not to specially cook for you and just let you eat the dishes cooked by the Chi family's chef, but Second Uncle insists on cooking for you. Every day, to whet your appetite and let you eat more to recover, he has to torment himself from morning till night. Not only do you not care about his well-being, but you keep giving Second Uncle that attitude all day!"

The more Nuannuan spoke, the angrier she became. After shouting Nuannuan's full name, Feng Shengxuan became a little timid and kept quiet. After being smashed by Nuannuan's hard truth, he kept quiet as if someone jabbed his acupoint that froze his jaws.

After fuming for a while, Nuannuan finally said in exasperation, "Anyway, your condition has basically stabilized. I'm only giving you acupuncture once a day now. From next week onward, I'll be giving you acupuncture every two days. Aiden and the others bought a large villa in Peninsula. You can stay with them in the future. They've invited the same chefs you hired in Sab over. There are more than ten international chefs to serve you. That should be enough to satisfy you."

When Grandpa Chi, who had been reading the newspaper, heard Nuannuan's words, he put down the newspaper with a nervous look on his face. Second Uncle Chi, who had always been as gentle as jade, frowned ever so slightly when he heard what Nuannuan said.

Feng Shengxuan, on the other hand, was like an agitated rooster. He said arrogantly, "I'm still a patient! Patients should receive the best care. You were the one who brought me to the Chi residence. Before I recover completely from my cancer, I don't plan to leave."

After saying that, Feng Shengxuan did not allow Nuannuan any opening to snap back at him. He stood up and walked toward the solarium with a notebook in his hand, preparing to bask in the sun surrounded by the fragrance of flowers.

The veins on Nuannuan's head popped when she saw this shameless man swaggering around the Chi residence, treating this place like his own.

"Grandpa, Second Uncle, I'm really..."

Before the word 'sorry' slipped out of her mouth, Old Master Chi and Second Uncle stopped her.

“Nuannuan, as the saying goes, a family doesn’t talk about themselves being different entities. You’re our Chi family’s granddaughter-in-law, and also our Chi family’s granddaughter. That makes your Big Bro the grandson in our Chi family too.”

Chi Zeyao added, “Lil Xuan is a good child, although his temper is a little unrestrained. Even so, he’s still a rather nice person. From the moment he entered this house, your grandpa and I have treated him as one of us with utmost sincerity. So, Nuannuan, don’t ever say you’re going to ask him to move out again. Since he’s already here, he can stay here forever.”

Nuannuan, “...”

Chapter 1458: Nangong Jin Is Injured

Listening to her Grandfather and Second Uncle’s words, Nuannuan felt very warm inside. However...

“My elder brother had always been a child who never had any parents since he was young. He has relied on his power and strength to become an expert, so it isn’t easy to improve his temper. I’m just afraid that he’ll always be rude to Grandpa and Second Uncle.”

Grandpa Chi chuckled and said, “How could that be? Lil Xuan is just throwing a tantrum. Look at how many excuses he’s making just so he could eat more. Previously, you said that he didn’t have a good appetite, and he didn’t eat much in the past. Now that he has taken a liking to your second uncle’s cooking, both Second Uncle and I are very happy. So, you shouldn’t tell him off anymore. You keep saying that he has a bad temper but look at him. He’s an adult now but he’s always being threatened by you. That goes to show how patient he is already. Furthermore, with Lil Xuan at home and those children coming over frequently, our house is very lively now, isn’t it?”

Ever since Nuannuan moved into the Chi residence, the house had been getting more and more lively. Old Master Chi and Second Uncle loved this liveliness, and Second Uncle had even arranged five other bedrooms for them as a sign of welcome. The others were free to stay over at any time.

Fine. Fine. If her grandfather had claimed that she was threatening Feng Shengxuan too much, Nuannuan had nothing else to say.

As long as Grandpa and Second Uncle didn’t mind, he could live wherever he wanted.

“Oh, right. Grandpa, Second Uncle, I received a call from Big Brother Chi Yang today.”

The old master’s eyes lit up as he asked excitedly, “How is he?”

“He’s doing fine. However, it’s getting too chaotic in Naboo. There are still a lot of people that have yet to evacuate from the central district. This has delayed their return.”

“That’s fine, that’s fine!” The old master, who had been worried for a long time after Chi Yang left, kept nodding.

When people got old, they would not harbor other thoughts other than their children and grandchildren’s wellbeing.

Nuannuan did not mention that Chi Yang might be suffering from sleep deprivation. After all, if she did, the old master could only be worried.

“What about your Eldest Brother?”

Speaking of Nangong Jin, Nuannuan’s eyes darkened.

“Eldest Brother was injured and was sent back by Big Brother Chi Yang. He’ll be here later.”

“What?”

Hearing the shock in Old Master’s voice, Nuannuan quickly said, “Grandpa, don’t worry. Big Brother Chi Yang said that Eldest Brother’s injury isn’t serious. Firstly, the hospital over there isn’t safe, and secondly, Big Brother Chi Yang was afraid that Eldest Brother wouldn’t receive the best care, so he sent Eldest Brother back immediately. He said that he injured his shoulder.”

Only then did Old Master Chi let out a sigh of relief.

“Did you tell your grandfather about this?”

“No.” Nuannuan shook her head. “I’ll wait until I see Eldest Brother.”

Thinking of Nuannuan’s medical skills, Old Master Chi could not help but nod. “That’s good! That’s good too!”

Even though injuries were normal for soldiers, as an old man, who would not feel sorry for their grandchildren when they were injured?

Chi Yang rarely changed his clothes in front of the old master, but every time his grandson was seriously injured, Old Master Chi would be the one to take care of Chi Yang. When Old Master Chi saw the scars of varying depths on Chi Yang’s body, he would feel very sad and heartbroken.

Therefore, when he thought about the torment that Old Master Nangong was going to experience soon, Old Master Chi empathized with him.

At that moment, Nuannuan’s phone rang. She picked it up. It was a call from one of Chi Yang’s subordinates, asking which hospital he should send Nangong Jin to.

Without thinking, Nuannuan said, “Send him to Benevolent Angel Hospital.”

After all, if he was sent to the military hospital or the Nangong family’s hospital, their family would know immediately.

Chapter 1459: Wait For Me

When Nuannuan was on the way to the Benevolent Angel Hospital, she brooded for a while before finally deciding to call her eldest sister-in-law, Mu Chenxiang.

“Hello, Nuannuan, can I help you?”

“Eldest Sister-in-law, Eldest Brother is injured and on his way back. This...”

“What? How’s Jin doing? Where’s he hurt? Is it serious? Is his life in danger? Where is he?”

Before Nuannuan could finish her sentence, the voice changed pitched on the other end of the line, followed by a series of questions.

Nuannuan answered them one by one while selecting the most important questions to answer first.

“Don’t worry, Eldest Sister-In-Law, his life is not in danger. Eldest Brother’s injury is his shoulder blade. Since the medical facilities there are limited and it’s not good to leave his injuries unattended, he’s getting sent back for proper treatment. I was afraid that Grandpa would be worried, so I asked them to send Eldest Brother to Benevolent Angel Hospital. I’m on my way there now, you...”

“I’ll be right there. Nuannuan, wait for me at the hospital,” Mu Chenxiang said anxiously before Nuannuan could finish her sentence.

“Sis Chenxiang, are you leaving? What about the red carpet tonight? You’re supposed to be the honored gu...”

The call ended. It was only then that Nuannuan remembered that tonight was the award ceremony of the Emperor District’s International Film Festival.

Mu Chenxiang was the only person in Camino who won an international Oscar award for Best Actress at the age of 26. In Camino, almost everyone knew Mu Chenxiang and Nangong Jin’s names.

Back then, the youngest and most promising officer in Camino, a young master from a wealthy family, had taken a fancy to a little girl who had no background.

To Nangong Jin who resided in the upper-class circle, the difference between Mu Chenxiang and Nangong Jin was as apparent as clouds and mud.

However, the Nangong family never despised Mu Chenxiang because of her background, and Mu Chenxiang had never relied on the Nangong family for a single cent. She relied on her superb acting skills to win the Best Newcomer Award in one fell swoop. After that, she starred in a period film and obtained the best-supporting actress award. Then, after a famous director took fancy to her, she starred in a huge production. In the beginning, she was the second female lead. However, rumor had it that the female lead found out about Nangong Jin and wanted to seduce him. Eventually, she went for wool and come home shorn. After offending Nangong Jin, Nangong Jin exposed how the female lead secretly tried to harm Mu Chenxiang, as well as her involvement in promiscuous sex and drug abuse. That sent the female lead’s career to the dust. Thus, Mu Chenxiang went from being the second female lead to the first female lead, subsequently obtaining the Best Actress Award through the film.

After that, Mu Chenxiang dominated the entertainment industry with her looks and capability, receiving awards until her arms went sore. At the peak of her career within the country, she went to Sab and spent a year and a half before winning herself an Oscar.

This was a girl who joined the industry when she was 21 years old. At 26 years old, she brought all the Best Actress laurel home. This was something that could make people gossip for three days and three nights. On the night she won the title of Best Actress, she had just returned to her home country and had just gotten off the plane when Nangong Jin proposed to her.

At that time, people finally understood why no one had ever dared to threaten her into sleeping with them even though she was so beautiful.

It turned out that the person behind her was the Nangong family's Young Master!

While they were surprised that the Best Actress had such powerful support, everyone was relishing the story of Cinderella turning into Snow White.

After winning all the awards, the first thing Mu Chenxiang announced at the press conference after she returned to the country was to retire from the industry.

The reason behind her decision was that she was going to have her own family soon, and she wanted to focus on her own family in the future. She would not take on any more movies or dramas. At most, she would advertise for some or show up at shows..

Chapter 1460: Vice President of Imperial Phoenix

It was the award ceremony for Emperor District's International Film Festival tonight. Other than the famous celebrities from Camino, there would be many foreign movie stars attending. For example, most of the overseas movie stars who had been transferred over to the country under Imperial Phoenix Group would be attending too.

Today, Selina would bring them to attend the event with her.

As for Mu Chenxiang, she was the only big name in recent years who had won the Oscars for Best Actress. Naturally, she had to walk the red carpet alongside the international superstars from Imperial Phoenix Group.

This was an arrangement that had been set down with the agreement of the organizing committee. Yet, now Mu Chenxiang would leave without a word because Nangong Jin was injured.

Mu Chenxiang's actions would naturally cause dissatisfaction among the organizing committee.

Nuannuan had only thought of this when she heard the other person's voice on the other end of the phone. So, she called Selina immediately and told her that Nangong Jin was injured and that Mu Chenxiang was going to the hospital with her. Since Mu Chenxiang would not be able to walk on the red carpet, Nuannuan asked Selina to greet and inform the organizing committee for fear that the organizing committee would criticize Mu Chenxiang.

Over at the organizing committee, the chairman and dozens of vice presidents were receiving Selina and her team.

Selina had never appeared in public in such a high-profile manner before. Therefore, when the chairmen of the organizing committee saw Mike Beirut, the world-renowned best actor in action movies; Jason Neo, who was rumored to be a wonderful actor who could kill people with his melancholic eyes; along with the queen in film, music, and drama, Geri, everyone subconsciously treated Selina as a newcomer that the Imperial Phoenix Group was promoting.

Although they had never seen this newcomer before, the chairmen of the organizing committee had no intention of underestimating this girl who was so highly recommended by the Imperial Phoenix Film Industry.

However, they still had to greet the Best Actors and Best Actress first.

After all, these three people might choose not to attend international awards ceremonies sometimes. Today, although the three celebrities were not receiving any awards at the award ceremony of Emperor District International Film Festival, they attended. This gave the Emperor District International Film Festival great honor.

Therefore, all the members of the organizing committee took it seriously.

When they realized who they were, everyone immediately got up from their seats and extended their hands to Mike Beirut.

Upon seeing this, Mike Beirut immediately smiled and moved aside.

The chairman was also someone who attended many important events. Seeing Mike Beirut move aside, he immediately shifted his hands without a pause to the melancholic actor, Jason Neo.

Yet, Jason Neo stepped aside as well.

This made the chairman rather puzzled.

The Best Actress stood next to them. Should he shake hands with her first, then?

Even though Geri was popular, she was not as popular as Mike Beirut!

This was simply...

Just as the chairman hesitated and was about to extend his hand to Geri again, Geri spoke. "Let me introduce you. This is our vice president of Imperial Phoenix Group, Miss Selina."

What?

The vice president... of Imperial Phoenix Group?

The eyes of the chairman of the organizing committee and the group of vice-chairmen behind him widened slightly. They were all shocked by Selina's identity. After knowing that the chairman of Imperial Phoenix Corporation, Feng Shengxuan, was so young, they did not foresee the vice president to be so young either.

However, even though he was shocked, since Best Actress Geri had already made the introductions, there could be no mistake.

The chairman maintained a shocked expression, but he was two hundred percent enthusiastic.

"Oh, dearie me! Apologies, apologies! It is I who can't recognize a master when I see one.. I didn't expect Miss Selena to be the vice president of Imperial Phoenix Group at such a young age. I'm so sorry!"
