

Physician Wife 1481

Chapter 1481: Causing Trouble

This horrifying act triggered Pang Long's bloodthirst and rebellion.

As Pang Long counterattacked Wei Du, Pang Long exposed everything that Wei Du had done to him.

Through this period of investigation, Pang Long had already found evidence that Wei Du used underhanded methods to remove him from his position as president. Se Ni and Ang Ji were not lovers at all, and she did all this simply because she had been bribed by Wei Du. Of course, Wei Du had also benefitted from all the enmity that Se Ni caused.

Ang Ji never showed Se Ni any of the confidential documents. The documents that Se Ni saw were all given to her by Wei Du to frame Pang Long.

When the people realized that they had been tricked, they tried to get Wei Du to step down. However, at that time, both sides had already started a war, and it was no longer something that could be solved with just a mere public demonstration. The entire Naboo had fallen into chaos.

Therefore, even though Wei Du was the president now, he was not popular among his people. Although Pang Long was the former president and the people were biased towards him, no one wanted war. Therefore, although the people felt that Wei Du was shameful, their aversion towards war made them stand on Wei Du's side for the sake of peace.

Therefore, whether it was Wei Du or Pang Long, they all hoped to be acknowledged by the biggest country around them, Camino.

An hour later, Chi Yang received news that a soldier from Camino had gone to Benevolent Angel Hospital. However, when the hospital staff saw that they were soldiers from Camino, the hospital waived all of the soldiers' fees. They said that their chairman had ordered them to do so.

"Commander, Pang Long's people and the citizens of Naboo have filled up Benevolent Angel Hospital, but the fees they charge are very expensive. They even said that they will turn away anyone who doesn't have money. They'll only let our soldiers be treated. Not only are our soldiers free of charge, but they're also giving them VIP treatment. What do you think..."

The corners of Chi Yang's lips lifted imperceptibly. "Since the hospital's chairman has already said so, we should all just go. I'll thank the hospital's chairman."

"Yes."

After Nuannuan settled the issue with the unknown virus, she kept Mu Chenxiang company as they kept watch over Nangong Jin in the hospital.

Mu Chenxiang only saw Nuannuan sitting on the sofa, typing away on the keyboard. She thought that Nuannuan was busy with work. After all, Mu Chenxiang's little sister-in-law was the real chairman of Imperial Phoenix Group, so there must be a lot of things going on.

Ever since Nangong Jin's fever had subsided, his temperature never went up again.

The inflammation in his wounds started to subside, and since his body had always been in good health, his wounds started to heal quickly.

Nuannuan had been here with Nangong Jin for a long time. Mu Chenxiang felt bad that Nuannuan stayed here the whole time. She said, "Nuannuan, your company has just moved from Sab to Camino. I'm sure you still have a lot of work to do. Your eldest brother is fine now. I'll just accompany him here. If you're busy, go ahead."

Nuannuan raised her head, looking confused. She had been curled up on the sofa for a long time, and a few naughty strands of hair had poked out from her bun.

"I'm not busy! Big Sis Yue and Aiden are the ones handling the company's matters. In the past, Big Brother and Big Sis Yue were the ones handling it. I've never managed it."

So, how did the Imperial Phoenix Corporation get to where they were today? Mu Chenxiang lighted some candles for Feng Shengxuan, Bai Liyue, and Aiden after knowing that they had such an unreliable chairman.

Seeing Mu Chenxiang looking at her computer, Nuannuan chuckled. "I'm really not busy. I'm playing games!"

Then, Nuannuan turned the screen around..

Chapter 1482: Shameless

"Although this game was developed by our company, I'm really just playing this for fun."

Mu Chenxiang, "..."

Thus, her little sister-in-law had been typing rapidly on the keyboard because she was playing a game?

After knowing that, Mu Chenxiang no longer tried to chase her away.

After turning the laptop back, Nuannuan pressed the enter button and the entire screen turned blue. There were photos of some people and information about them taking bribes and breaking the law. These people were all from the Shi family.

It was also fortunate that Nuannuan had yet to leave. Otherwise, she would have missed the big show that night.

That night, after Mu Chenxiang wiped Nangong Jin's body clean and was about to let him rest early, a nurse knocked on Nangong Jin's ward door.

"What is it?"

Nuannuan was in the living room. When the nurse entered, she saw Nuannuan. Just as she was about to speak, a woman suddenly pushed the nurse out of the door and rushed in.

"Mu Chen..."

The woman started yelling at Nuannuan the moment she walked in. Seeing that it was not Mu Chenxiang, she asked with a grave face, "Where's Mu Chenxiang?"

After Mu Chenxiang married into the Nangong family, this yelling woman had a thorough understanding of the Nangong family. Although she had never met anyone from the Nangong family, she knew that there was no such woman in the Nangong family. Therefore, this woman had a very hostile attitude toward Nuannuan.

"Why are you looking for my sister-in-law?"

Nuannuan signaled the nurse with her eyes, telling the nurse to leave.

When the woman heard what Nuannuan called Mu Chenxiang, she immediately realized that this girl must be the granddaughter that the Nangong family had recently found.

None of the Nangong family members were here to keep watch. If she was the only one here, it was obvious that this girl did not have a respectable status in the Nangong family.

"Where's Mu Chenxiang?" the woman demanded haughtily. "Get her out here!"

"Who are you?" Nuannuan did not get angry. She sat cross-legged on the sofa, showing no intention of helping her summon Mu Chenxiang.

"Who am I?" The woman smirked. "I'm her mother! Call her out!"

"You're my mother? Why don't I remember crawling out from your stomach?"

Mu Chenxiang's cold voice echoed in the room.

The woman turned around just in time to see Mu Chenxiang come out from the room inside. She rushed over and said, "Mu Chenxiang, why are you so evil? You married into a rich family and immediately kicked us, your mother and younger sister, aside. Putting aside the fact that we're related, you're an elder sister. Muxi is your younger sister, after all. How could you let the people from Imperial Phoenix Group humiliate her like this? And now you even want to ban her! Since when has she relied on you to get to where she is today? Since she has never done that, what right do you have to ban her?"

"I order you to go on Weibo right now and immediately restore Muxi's reputation. Also, Selina said that she's Nangong Jin's sister and you are her sister-in-law. So, tell Selina immediately to let Muxi join Imperial Phoenix Group. From now on, Imperial Phoenix will nurture Muxi according to the Oscar-winning standards for Best Actress."

Emperor Phoenix Group's chairman, Nuannuan, who was sitting at the side, "..."

Nuannuan felt that she was looking at another Jiang Shuwan.

Mu Chenxiang sneered. "Fan Siyi, I'm surprised by how shameless you are. How dare you say such shameless things in front of me again? Didn't Dan Muxi tell you my last warning to her?"

The nurse knocked again and pushed the door open...

Chapter 1483: Disgusting

Behind her was a person who wore an oversized jacket, a pair of sunglasses, a mask, and a cap. The person looked like a man but was actually a woman.

“Miss, this person said that she is Miss Mu’s younger sister.”

Nuannuan glanced at the person and immediately recognized her as Dan Muxi. Therefore, Nuannuan waved her hand and asked the nurse to leave.

When she saw Mu Chenxiang, Dan Muxi immediately removed her mask and sunglasses, revealing a face that had gone through plastic surgery in many places.

“Big Sis, I merely said that you left in front of the organizing committee. I said that since you didn’t cherish this opportunity, you might as well ask the organizing committee to give it to me. Yet, Imperial Phoenix’s vice president was furious and said many bad things about me. I didn’t even know that Brother-in-law was injured. If I had known, I definitely wouldn’t have said that. Big Sis, please forgive me this once. It wasn’t easy for me to get the title of Best Actress, and my good life had just begun. Can you be magnanimous and not be calculative with me this time?”

Mu Chenxiang looked at the mother-and-daughter duo’s faces and felt disgusted.

“Big Sis? You’re as disgusting as your mother. When she came in earlier, she was ordering me around like she’s my mother, and now you’re begging me as a younger sister. It sounds like I’d be the cold-blooded one if I reject you.

“But Dan Muxi, when your mother married my father and brought you along, she swore in front of him that she would take good care of me, or both of you would die a horrible death. Yet, after my father died, both of you snatched my family’s assets from me and refused to let me go to school. Did you treat me like your family back then?

“When I dropped out of school to work, your mother stole the money that I worked so hard to earn and used it to buy you clothes that cost more than 2000 bucks. Did it ever occur to you that the 2000 bucks were my life-saving money, the money that’s supposed to pay for my tuition fees?

“I accidentally rescued Jin when he was injured and brought him to the attic to recuperate. You occupied my villa and only gave me the attic that we used as a storeroom. However, after you found Jin, you wanted to beat him and kick him out of the house. Not only did you call the police, but you also went around ruining my reputation. Later, when you found out that Jin was a young master from a wealthy family, you tried to separate us as though you never had a lower limit to your lack of morals. Dan Muxi even shamelessly drugged the injured Jin and tried to steal him. At that time, did you ever think that we were family? That you’re my stepmother, and she’s my younger sister?

“I was spotted by a talent scout and went to sign up for auditions. The director noticed me and I was on the way to shooting the first movie in my life, but you pushed me toward the road and let me get hit by a car. Then, you got Dan Muxi to take over the first movie on my behalf.

“Jin couldn’t stand watching this anymore, so he introduced me to the director he knew. When I first joined the entertainment industry, Dan Muxi was already quite famous. Had she ever helped me? Not only did she not help me, but this so-called sister of hers even defamed me in the entertainment industry and drugged me. She tried to force me to sleep with the director in exchange for a major role, but failed. Even so, that didn't stop her from getting people to gang-rape me. If Jin didn't save me in time, my life would have been destroyed by you and your daughter.

"Fan Siyi, you brought along your daughter when you remarried. My father doted on you and did his best for you, but what about you? After my father's accident, you're even more vicious than the evil stepmother in novels! You allowed your daughter to rob my life, rob my boyfriend, and use despicable means to steal my show..."

Chapter 1484: The Man Who Stood Up For Her

"You allowed your daughter to rob my life, rob my boyfriend, and used despicable means to steal my show. To hook up with the director, you tried to make me sell my body. After failing in that, Dan Muxi found someone to try to rape me and completely ruin me.

"The last time Jin caught Dan Muxi in the act along with evidence of her crime, he warned her and you to leave my life. Yet, what did you do? Not only did you badmouth me behind my back, you even rushed over to the hospital to order me around.

"Fan Siyi, are you crazy? Who are you to order me around?"

Nuannuan looked at the so-called "mother" and saw her stiffening her neck. In her persistent stubbornness, she exclaimed, "That's because I'm your mother! After your parents died, I'm your legal guardian!"

"Oh, you're my guardian! I couldn't sue you before, but now I have a plan. I'm going to sue you for child abuse!"

"You...!!!" Fan Siyi was furious.

"Big Sis, how could you do this? Ever since what happened last time, Jin has banned me for a whole year. Isn't that punishment enough? My mother and I have never bothered you after that. This time, it's indeed because you refused to walk on the red carpet that I recommended myself. If I don't put it more harshly, would the organizing committee give me the chance to go on the red carpet with the Best Actors and Best Actresses from Imperial Phoenix? You're well aware that sometimes we have to speak as the situation demands, so why must you take it so seriously? Big Sis, even if you don't acknowledge Mom and me anymore, at least don't send us all to our deaths, okay? I didn't do anything overboard, so it feels like you're the one who's taking revenge on me by ending my career!"

Mu Chenxiang chuckled. "After your attempt to get someone to gang-rape me failed, you knelt in front of me and asked me to let you go. I warned you that it would be the last time I'd tolerate you. From now on, I have zero tolerance for you. There were so many audiences at the International Film Festival watching, but you defamed me in front of the organizing committee. In the end, you brought it upon yourself and got banned. How dare you say that I'm taking revenge on you? If you hadn't defamed me first, why would Selina criticize you? Why would the media report it? Dan Muxi, you're just like your mother. Your worldview has already been distorted. Selina isn't the only one who's criticizing you now; the media isn't the only one who doesn't like you; don't forget the massive fan base. The ones who want to exterminate you are also our fans, not me. Your distorted view of the world has already cost you your public image. You brought this upon yourself! So, you and your mother should go back where you belong and stop coming here to disgust me. Otherwise, I can't guarantee what I won't do to you two."

"Mu Chenxiang, are you threatening me?" Fan Siyi glared at Mu Chenxiang with hatred in her eyes.

"You can think that way!" Mu Chenxiang refused to budge.

Nangong Jin was woken up by the commotion outside the room. He walked out, but Fan Siyi and Dan Muxi did not see him.

Nuannuan blinked her big, gossipy eyes as she watched her eldest brother, whose face was as dark as an ink well, walk out the door. He was still wrapped in thick bandages and had the medicine she made applied to his wounds. Since the medicine was red, it stained the bandages red and made him look like his wounds were still bleeding. His iron-blooded, handsome, and sickly appearance could charm countless women.

"All she ever does is to threaten you, but she has never done anything to you."

Chapter 1485: I Know I Was Wrong

"But I'm different. You've hurt my wife multiple times. I've said it before. The last time you failed after hiring someone to gang-rape my wife, I'll forgive you for the last time on account that my wife was once your family. If you provoke my wife again, it won't be as simple as banning you. I wouldn't care about what happens in the entertainment industry, but it'd be best if your bullsh*t never reached my ears. Otherwise, I'd let you know what regret is. Now, you've hurt my wife again, yet you still have the cheek to ask my wife to remove your bad reputation for you, and demand Imperial Phoenix to sign a contract with Dan Muxi? Am I dead to you?"

Nangong Jin's words were powerful, which scared Fan Siyi and her daughter.

Dan Muxi's eyes brightened when she saw Nangong Jin wearing a pair of loose pants and his upper body was bare. An infatuated look appeared on her face.

She swallowed a mouthful of saliva and put on a pitiful front.

"Jin, I know I was wrong, but I did it because I can't give up my feelings for you! I know that the person you like is my sister, but I like you too! What's wrong with liking someone? Since... since you don't accept me, why do you have to trample on me again and again?"

"There are many women out there who like me. Am I going to allow my wife to be bullied for those irrelevant women? You don't have to explain yourself to me, and you don't have to beg Xiang'er to clear your name. Compared to being banned by the entertainment industry, going to jail will be a bigger obstacle for you.

Then, Nangong Jin put his phone to his ear and demanded into the phone that he had dialed at some point, "You heard our conversation just now? ...since you've heard me, come and take them away immediately. ...I have the evidence here. I'll hand them over to you tomorrow. However, the two pests must be taken away immediately."

Fan Siyi and Dan Muxi were stunned.

“What... what are you doing?” Fan Siyi asked.

“I’m handing over the evidence that you attempted to hire someone to gang-rape my wife five years ago to the police, of course. Gang-rape is evil and criminal. Even though it’s been five years, it’s still legally traceable. So, you don’t have to worry about the entertainment industry anymore. In the future, think about how to change yourself and become a proper person alongside your inmates!”

Fan Siyi, “...”

Hearing Nangong Jin’s words, the mother-daughter pair finally understood the meaning of fear and started begging Mu Chenxiang.

“Xiang’er, talk... talk to your Jin! I’m only here to help Muxi restore her reputation, but he’s serious about sending her to prison. Even if he’s a major general and a young master from a wealthy family, he can’t go overboard like this, right? It’s fine if he doesn’t want to restore her reputation, but he can’t really send us to prison, right?”

Mu Chenxiang had already walked to Nangong Jin’s side to prevent Dan Muxi and Fan Siyi from suddenly attacking Nangong Jin and touching his wound.

She knew that her man was her most supportive person in the world, and that was why she never cared to settle scores with Dan Muxi.

It was not because she was a saint or a magnanimous person, but because of all the grievances she had suffered, she knew this man would help her get everything back with added interest. He would never let her suffer.

Although he was a young major general and a young master from a wealthy family, his status was worlds apart from hers.. However, the moment she rescued him, he became her greatest support and love.

Chapter 1486: Family

Mu Chenxiang held Nangong Jin’s hand as she looked at the two women before her. “I still have some evidence of you abusing me back then. I’ll hand it over to the police when the time comes.”

“Mommy, I went to pack Daddy’s favorite porridge.”

Lil Ling’er’s voice chirped from outside the door before Nangong Xu, Nangong Ling, and the other young masters of the Nangong family walked in.

The quiet room was instantly bustling with merriness.

When Nangong Ling saw the two people in the ward, she immediately started to make a scene. “Eek, why are you two annoying people here? You’re not welcome here. Leave quickly before you disgust my mommy!”

Fan Siyi quickly pulled Dan Muxi and was ready to leave.

However, Nangong Jin did not intend to let them off this time. He said coldly, "Stop them. The police will be here soon."

Upon hearing their eldest brother's instructions, the Nangong brothers immediately halted the disgusting mother and daughter.

Fan Siyi and her daughter panicked.

"Big Sis, Brother-in-law, I know I was wrong. Both of you... please be magnanimous and forgive this despicable me just this once!"

"Xiang'er, you lost your mother when you were three years old. No matter what, we've lived with you for more than ten years. I... I won't ask you to restore Muxi's reputation anymore. Ask Jin to let us go. We'll figure out the rest ourselves! I swear I won't disturb your life anymore. For your father's sake, let us off!"

Mu Chenxiang looked at the two of them coldly. "If my father were to find out, he'd definitely raise both his hands and praise me for sending you to the police."

The police arrived.

After Nangong Jin made the call, the station chief immediately ordered the nearby police officers to take action. That was why they arrived at the hospital so quickly.

Fan Siyi and her daughter were in disbelief when they were arrested by the police. Seeing that Nangong Jin and Mu Chenxiang were determined to end them, the mother and daughter immediately spat out all kinds of malicious words.

When the police heard that these two dared to scold Major General Nangong and Lady Nangong, they were so frightened that they covered the women's mouths and took them away.

The next day, after a certain video was posted, Mu Chenxiang and Dan Muxi's Weibo went viral.

It was none other than Nuannuan who posted the video.

The content was the scene where Fan Siyi and Dan Muxi approached Mu Chenxi last night.

It was only then that the fans realized the reason Dan Muxi and Mu Chenxiang had always been at loggerheads with each other. They were sisters, and Mu Chenxiang was a classic Cinderella. All these years, she had been subjected to abuse by her stepmother and stepmother's daughter. It was only then that they found out that not only did Dan Muxi and her daughter disgustingly snatch away everything that should have belonged to Mu Chenxiang, but they also tried to lay their hands on Major General Nangong by drugging Major General Nangong. That was the moment everyone found out that the reason this vicious woman had been banned for a year was that she attempted to hire people to gang-rape Best Actress Mu.

The villainesses obtained the ending that she deserved. Looking at Dan Muxi's sorry state when she was sent to the police station, everyone applauded.

The fans who had stood on Dan Muxi's side when she was criticized and chased out of the entertainment industry by her fans felt like they had been tricked. They all turned against her.

At the same time, after hearing the conversation between Mu Chenxiang and the vicious mother and daughter, everyone's impression of this super Best Actress had improved once more.

Chapter 1487: Husband Is Too Handsome

However, it was not Mu Chenxiang who became the hottest topic in the video. Instead, it was the man whose body was wrapped in bloody bandages. His face was a little pale, but he still stood as straight as a pine tree.

Fans nearly licked the screen until their devices threatened to die on them. Nangong Jin did not have a Weibo account, so the fans had no choice but to follow Best Actress Mu and beg her to post more photos and videos of General Nangong.

Mu Chenxiang sat on Nangong Jin's bed and leaned against his uninjured side. She pouted as she looked at the screen full of the saliva emoji and typed a line of words.

[My husband is too handsome that I don't wanna post photos of him so easily.]

With that one sentence, the entire internet exploded.

150000 comments popped up under the new Weibo post. Everyone laughed at Bby Xiang for being petty, but almost all of her fans empathized with Mu Chenxiang's desire to protect her handsome husband.

After all, if they had such a handsome major general as a husband, who was also the Nangong family's young master, they would not want to show him to anyone either.

Therefore, reaching the end of the 150000 comments, the fans shifted their focus onto how Heartthrob Nangong looked like he was seriously injured. Thus, they would not beg Goddess Mu for his photos anymore. They only hoped that their goddess could take good care of their heartthrob so that he could recover as soon as possible. After he recovered, their goddess should post on Weibo to tell them.

Nangong Jin's gaze could not be any softer when he saw his wife nestled in his arms and reading the replies from her fans.

Finally, he reached out and snatched the phone from Mu Chenxiang's hand.

Mu Chenxiang's attention was instantly drawn to his injured shoulder.

Since she was pressing on his uninjured arm, Nangong Jin stretched his injured arm to do that. Mu Chenxiang's heart immediately ached, and she gasped, "Hey, be careful! Your wound might open up!"

Nangong Jin's shoulder was covered with the medicine that Nuannuan had specially prepared for him. It gave him the illusion that his wounds were still bleeding. Moreover, Nangong Jin's wound had undergone a second surgery and the surface of his wound had gotten bigger now. This worried Mu Chenxiang.

After Nangong Jin snatched the phone over, he took a photo of himself and his wife.

Nangong Jin's expression was solemn, but there was a smile on his face. Mu Chenxiang, on the other hand, looked as if her heart was aching for him as she reached out to touch his wound.

Nangong Jin immediately posted the photo on Mu Chenxiang's Weibo with the caption—

[For your welfare. Please take care of my wife in the future.]

Initially, Mu Chenxiang's single comment that her husband was too handsome attracted 150000 comments. Nevertheless, this post on Weibo garnered more.

Almost as soon as it was posted, Weibo exploded.

Originally, Mu Chenxiang only had about 30 million fans, but after this picture was uploaded, she realized that her number of fans had started to increase at an insane rate. In less than a day, it had reached 57 million.

The comments below were all about the interaction between Nangong Jin and her fans.

[Augh augh augh~ So cool! He's so charming that this maiden's heart is bursting with joy! Prince Charming, don't worry. We'll definitely take good care of your wife and not let her suffer any grievances.]

[Prince Charming, do you know it's against the rules for you to be so handsome? Since you're so handsome, we'll definitely kneel down and lick... take good care of your wife!]

[Thank you for the welfare, Prince Charming. I plan to use this as my screensaver!]

Chapter 1488: Trouble in the Shi Family

[Prince Charming, can I ask? Are all soldiers as handsome as you? In the past, I wanted to marry a social elite, but now I want to find my soldier boy!]

[Soldier boys are cool in the first place! Soldier boys are the cutest in the world! You'll know just by looking at our heartthrob here!] It was Mu Chenxiang who had been watching her fans spamming her with relish, but now Nangong Jin was enjoying the same thing.

Nangong Jin, who had just posted on Weibo and was about to put down the phone, could not help but add when he saw everyone saying that they wanted to marry soldier boys.

[I'm glad that you guys like soldier boys. I also welcome responsible, reliable, and willing girls to join the ranks of military wives!]

With the heartthrob interrupting again, Weibo continued on its strings of explosions.

A few hours later, the number of reposts on Weibo reached more than two million, and the number of comments reached more than seven million.

Entertainment media outlets and all sorts of gossip were reposting Nangong Jin's Weibo post.

Many years ago, Dan Muxi had been competing with Mu Chenxiang for the headlines, but no matter how big Dan Muxi's news was, Mu Chenxiang would always suppress her.

Originally, when Dan Muxi was arrested for suspected involvement in the gang-rape of a woman many years ago, it would have fulfilled her dreams of making the headlines.

Unexpectedly, Nangong Jin posted a picture that nearly triggered everyone to lick their screen clean. Thus, the headlines of the entertainment section the next day were still Mu Chenxiang's, while Dan Muxi's scandal was still ranked at the back.

It was not an exaggeration to say that it was extremely heart-wrenching.

There was something else that was simultaneously heart-wrenching but unknown to the public.

This was because an anonymous email had been sent to the director of the justice department early this morning. Upon reading the email, he realized he received evidence of five people breaking the law.

The fact that the director of the justice department was able to become the director of the executive hall or the supervisory and auditory hall, consequently obtaining the president's recognition, meant that this was a person who abhorred evil and would never tolerate this.

Although the email was anonymous, the content was extremely reliable and the evidence was conclusive. The people mentioned in that email had no chance of turning the tables.

However, the biggest problem was...

All five of them came from the Shi family. They were either side branches of the Shi family, relatives, or people who worked for them.

It was obvious that someone wanted to mess with the Shi family.

The director of the justice department could feel a headache coming with this piece of evidence. This matter involved the Shi family after all, and the Shi family was one of the Four Dominant Families. It was not something that a mere director of the justice department could decide on.

After watching the video for a long while, the director of the justice department decided to report this matter to the president and let him decide.

That day, there happened to be an assembly of the administrative halls. The president was in charge of the meeting. The most powerful man in the Shi family, the Fourth Master and 13th Officer of the executive hall, Shi Maowen, was also there.

After the meeting, the director of the justice department immediately tried to talk to the president, but Shi Maowen, the 13th Officer of the executive hall, stayed by the president's side.

Shi Maowen noticed that the director of the justice department looked like he wanted to say something, but he stopped himself. He smiled and asked, "Guangli, are you looking for the president? Is it something you can't tell me?"

There were 20 officers of the executive hall in total, and all of them had the potential to be the next president or vice president. Even if they were not selected, they could still become cabinet members as long as they did not commit any major mistakes.

Even though Shi Maowen was only ranked 13th out of the 20 people, one must know that a year ago, before the hospital made so many contributions, he was still ranked beyond 40.

Shi Maowen was an executive officer and a member of the Shi family, so it was not appropriate for Wang Guangli to refuse to answer his question, let alone lie.

Chapter 1489: Evidence

After all, Wang Guangli was sure that the Shi family would find out about it very soon. Therefore, Wang Guangli could only smile awkwardly at Shi Maowen's question.

Shi Maowen said, "I should take a step back if you have something to report to the president. However, since this matter is related to me, I hope that the president will let me listen by the side. If I or my subordinates have truly done anything wrong, I'm willing to accept punishment."

The president was a straightforward person, so he liked people who were equally straightforward too.

"Guangli, if you have something to say, just say it. Don't beat around the bush. You serve the executive hall, so you don't have to feel guilty about anything."

With the president's reassurance, Wang Guangli could finally relax.

"President, Officer Shi, it's like this. This morning, I received an anonymous email. After reading the email, I found evidence of five officials who are involved in acts of greed. Two of the officials are even involved in a murder case, and the other three are involved in indecent transactions. The nature of the crimes is rather horrifying, and these five officials have one thing in common—they're all relatives of Officer Shi's family or members of the Shi family."

When Shi Maowen heard this, his right eyelid twitched uncontrollably.

"An anonymous email?"

The president was never very interested in these anonymous emails.

If the person wished to sue the officials, they should report the criminals with their real name. If this person refused to reveal themselves but still wanted to drag their targets down, it would be an act that the president had always despised.

Of course, Wang Guangli knew what the president meant. He immediately nodded and said, "It's indeed an anonymous email. I originally planned to ignore it, but the video content is..." Wang Guangli looked at Shi Maowen awkwardly.

Shi Maowen immediately said solemnly, "Guangli, although this sounds like someone deliberately targeting the Shi family, the Shi family has deep roots where all kinds of ties are intertwined. Regardless of whether it's relatives, friends, or subordinates of the Shi family, there are always some people who won't listen to orders. I agree with the president when it comes to dealing with those people—if the evidence is conclusive, they won't be tolerated.”

Shi Maowen's words firstly informed the president that someone was targeting the Shi family with malicious intent, and secondly, he wanted the president to know his relationship with the people of the Shi family and his views on this matter. Most importantly, after he said that, he separated the main Shi family from everyone else, especially himself, so that the president would not think badly of him.

The president had a good impression of Shi Maowen's attitude, so he asked Wang Guangli to show him the video.

Although the video was sent anonymously, the evidence was thorough enough to include both the five people in the videos, along with their crime.

Those who embezzled money from the law either had videos of bribery, the content of their phone conversation before and after transactions, or accounts of various bank transactions. No matter how many times the money exchanged hands, the money ended up in their pockets.

Solid murder evidence was obtained on officials who killed for profit. There was even an officer who molested a boy to his death. To get away with the crime, they found someone to take the blame for them and promised to give them benefits.

Of these five people, one was at the military base, two were at the executive hall, one was at the treasury office, and one was at the health ministry.

These five people... were not ranked lowly in the Shi family.

Two of them were from the Shi family's collateral relatives, while the other three were loyal to the Shi family. It could be said that whatever was coming for the five of them would definitely cause quite a storm for the Shi family.

Most importantly, the positions of these five people were crucial.. At this critical juncture, the Shi family would find themselves lacking many opportunities without their help.

Chapter 1490: Defamation

However, these five people went overboard indeed. Now that they were caught red-handed, just by looking at the president's expression, it was clear that there was no saving these five people.

Before the president could get angry, Shi Maowen snorted. “This is simply... simply unbelievable! The Shi family has repeatedly told them that they must not do anything against their conscience or humiliate the Shi family, but they've simply defamed the Shi family!”

When the president saw these videos, his heart sank.

“Maowen, this matter involves your Shi family. What do you think?”

Shi Maowen said in a sanctimonious manner, "President, when these people did these, they're no longer part of the Shi family. Therefore, I feel that they should be dealt with in the punishment they deserve. We'll firmly condemn their heinous acts and punish them severely!"

The president nodded and said, "How about this? You'll be elected the team leader and investigate this matter thoroughly. If they were framed, show us evidence and prove their innocence. If these turn out to be true, you'll have to put justice before family and bring the perpetrators to justice. As the fourth master of the Shi family, you'll have the responsibility to teach the Shi family a lesson, along with the passengers who are riding on the Shi family's name. After all, the Shi family is a prestigious family in Camino. I don't wish to see what happened today ever again."

"Yes, President. Don't worry, I'll investigate this matter thoroughly. At the same time, I'll teach the Shi family a lesson. I won't allow them to do anything that will tarnish the Shi family's reputation. As for the family members of the victims, even though I can't revive the victims, I'll definitely seek justice for them and give them proper compensation."

Shi Maowen showed an attitude that was very, very, very good! Although the president was furious when he saw these videos, he could not criticize Shi Maowen much.

After all, the man was still an officer in the executive hall, and the Shi family did have deep roots that got tangled up with people of various descent and origins. There would always be some who were dumb enough to seek death in such a huge organization.

"After your investigation, give me the conclusion," the president ordered and left.

"Yes."

Looking at the president's leaving back, Shi Maowen's lowered eyes were filled with malice.

After leaving the venue in a sanctimonious manner, Shi Maowen found a secluded place and called Old Master Shi Gen, to tell him about this matter immediately.

"What? Even Shi Maorong is implicated in this matter?" When Shi Gen heard Shi Maowen's words, he felt extremely stifled.

Just by hearing the name, one could easily understand that Shi Maorong was from the same generation as Old Master Shi's son, Shi Maowen.

Old Master Shi came from a pack of six siblings in his generation, four of whom were boys. He was the youngest among them. Two of his three older brothers had died, leaving only one.

This Shi Maorong was the son of Old Master Shi Gen's third older brother. He was now the director of the Tourism Department, and it was a marvelous position to be in. As long as the Shi family continued their work, the next step would be for them to make him the deputy director of the Ministry of Tourism.

Once Shi Maorong became the deputy director of the Ministry of Tourism, the Shi family would have the power to ruin several projects undertaken by the Nangong family.

Recently, the Nangong family had set their eyes on a few excellent attractions. They wanted to spend a lot of money to develop them and make them part of the cultural industry. After driving the economy around, they would then start getting involved in real estate.

If they succeeded, the Nangong family would have a huge income in the future.

If the Shi family wanted to develop and expand, and if they wanted Shi Maowen to become the president, the Nangong family had to fall. Otherwise, the person who would go up the ranks would be the 12th Officer of the executive hall who was from the Nangong family.

“Dad, we have to investigate this matter thoroughly.. We have to find the person who did this to our Shi family.”
