

My Sweet Physician Wife Calls The Shots

Chapter 16: I'm Not Pushing You Away

The oncoming cars were rapidly swerving around whilst blaring their horns. Then, there was a sudden and loud bang as the Land Rover darted off the other lane, only to crash straight into a tree. Thus, the car finally came to a stop.

Looking at the airbag that had just been activated, Zhong Nuannuan was speechless.

“Chi Yang, do you feel unwell?”

Zhong Nuannuan looked at Chi Yang worriedly. She wanted to know how serious Chi Yang's illness was.

“No.” Chi Yang's voice was a little hoarse.

His anger was gone from the contact with Zhong Nuannuan's hand.

Chi Yang felt like his heart was not his and he was looking at Zhong Nuannuan with excitement in his eyes.

“But... if you're not feeling unwell, then why did you drive to the other lane and crashed your car?”

She wanted to help him turn the steering wheel just now, but his hand was it so tight heading toward the wrong side of the road. His arms were so stiff that she could not turn the steering wheel.

That was such a violent outburst, and he said he was fine?

“Chi Yang, now that we're engaged, we're one entity. If you feel unwell, you can tell me, and we'll face it together, okay?”

Chi Yang's lips were pressed together. The side of his handsome face was shone golden under the autumn sun. His strong features looked gentle and serene.

“Alright.”

Zhong Nuannuan smiled and looked at Chi Yang with her sparkly eyes. She was waiting for him to tell her his condition so that she could heal him starting from tomorrow.

But Chi Yang was only looking at her with a smile on his face. He did not say anything.

Zhong Nuannuan waited for a long time and still did not get her answer. She asked again, "So... what happened just now? Can you tell me?"

"Nuannuan..."

"Yeah?"

"You... touched my hand." And you were the one who took the initiative!

"You don't actually hate me."

Zhong Nuannuan, "..."

Were they talking about this?

Looking at Chi Yang's smiling eyes on his solemn-looking face, Zhong Nuannuan's brain stopped functioning momentarily.

How could someone be so law breakingly good looking?

4"You said before that you feel disgusted when you touch me. But today you hugged me and even touched my hand; which means you're not repulsed by me or maybe you're not sick anymore?"

2Zhong Nuannuan was speechless.

So, he was deliriously happy for such a reason which caused him to drive into the wrong lane and crashed into a tree on the other side of the road?

Her gaze fell lightly on his hand that she touched. He was still holding tightly on the steering wheel, and his hand seemed to be trembling slightly.

Everything suddenly made sense to Zhong Nuannuan.

Before they died, he had told her this when they were running for their lives. He told her not only he had an affective psychiatric disorder, but he also had something called allodynia that came with his illness.

8This kind of illness would cause someone to be extremely sensitive to touch.

If he was touched by someone he did not like, he would be uncomfortable and if it was really bad, he would feel nauseous and puke.

2She, however, was the complete opposite.

She was the one that he liked and also the one that he chose. That was why he did not reject her touch, in fact, he enjoyed it. However, there would be a huge reaction in his body simultaneously.

Even though he could get used to this kind of sensitivity after a while, but his whole body had frozen from her touching him just now. That was why he had lost control of the steering wheel and headed straight into the opposite lane.

Suppressing her throbbing heart and worries, Zhong Nuannuan smiled brightly under Chi Yang's heated gaze. "Yeah, I hugged you and even touched your hand. This means I don't hate you anymore."

Chapter 17: Once I Have My Sights Set, You're Mine Forever

She wanted to say 'I don't hate you, in fact I like you too. I love you!'

But she could not bring herself to say it.

After all, they were not getting along well at all in the past, and she could not have possibly changed that much in just a month.

Thus Zhong Nuannuan did not say anything. She decided that she would take things slow. Since Chi Yang was very smart, he would be suspicious if she suddenly liked him and fell in love with him.

1"Um... why don't we call the police first and let them handle this." Zhong Nuannuan broke the awkwardness in the car.

"Alright."

Noting that Zhong Nuannuan was embarrassed, Chi Yang grinned softly. He would go with whatever the wife said.

3After calling the police, Chi Yang gave his subordinate Ning Wenhao a call and asked him to give them a ride.

After hearing that his boss got into an accident and that he crashed into a tree on the opposite lane, Ning Wenhao was confused and asked, "Boss, are you sick? Did you have a headache?"

Chi Yang's eyes became dark. He was afraid Zhong Nuannuan would hear the conversation, so he turned his body slightly and said in a low voice, "Just come if I tell you to!"

“Yes, I’ll come immediately.”

They were close and Zhong Nuannuan’s hearing was good.

So, he really did have an outburst just now.

Did his head hurt when he had an outburst?

No wonder his eyes would not be as bright as before after a period of time. His cloudy eyes would be heavily bloodshot.

Zhong Nuannuan felt her heart getting tight. She got so worried when she thought about his condition.

Both of them sat in the car silently waiting for the arrival of the traffic police.

“You...”

“You...”

Suddenly, both of them decided to break the silence at the same time.

The air in the car turned awkward again. Zhong Nuannuan said, “You go first.”

“Ladies first. You speak first.”

Zhong Nuannuan did not argue with him further, and asked directly, “What illness do you have? Will your head hurt?”

“It’s nothing major. It’s just that I get sick sometimes.”

“Chi Yang, we’re engaged, right?”

Chi Yang was startled with Zhong Nuannuan’s serious questions. He answered solemnly, “Yes.”

“Then we’ll get married in the future and we’ll build a family. And then we’ll have children, right?”

Chi Yang’s heart skipped a beat with Zhong Nuannuan’s words. His heartbeat rate increased, and he immediately nodded, “Yes.”

Chi Yang was excited about his future life when he imagined the family Zhong Nuannuan and he would build. Other than that, he was also excited with the fact that he would be able to sleep with his wife in his arms every night.

1Not to mention, his wife would give birth to a child that look like both of them.

It would be best if that child was a girl so that she would be just like her mother. Her hair would be in a cute bun, and mother and daughter would dress in identical clothes. He would be bringing the both of them that looked the same out in the streets.

6Chi Yang felt his heart getting warm thinking about that scenario. He felt so happy he could explode.

“Then you would want to stay with me for a very long time and not abandon me after a few years, right?”

Chi Yang looked at Zhong Nuannuan and with a serious look on his face, he promised her, “The word divorce doesn’t exist in my dictionary. If we’re together, then it’s for life.”

This was the exact thing that Chi Yang would say to her numerous times when she had wanted to end their marriage and when he caught and captured her in their previous life. Now when she listened to it once again, she did not feel disgusted, but instead, she felt that this was the most romantic words in the world.

Zhong Nuannuan smiled, “I’m just like you. Once I’ve made my choice, then it would be forever.”

Chi Yang squeezed his eyes shut and he felt his throat getting tighter.

She chose him!

“That’s why I hope to stay with you for a long time. Just now, I heard the person on the phone asking if your head is hurting.

I would worry about you if you continue to be like this. I would be even more worried when you’re going on missions or doing some other dangerous things. It would be so dangerous if you suddenly have an outburst.

Chi Yang, can you tell me what illness you have? So that I can be with you while you recover.”

Chi Yang stared at Zhong Nuannuan for a long time, until Zhong Nuannuan was about to believe that it was a taboo to ask and that he would not want her to know when he finally opened his mouth to speak.

“I was critically injured three years ago.”

Chapter 18: Don’t Leave Me

“...” Critically injured? He did not have an affective psychiatric disorder?

“A bullet went through my head at that time. I was on the brink of death. But I was lucky, the bullet did not take my life, but it fractured and penetrated my skull.”

1Seeing Zhong Nuannuan’s mouth gaping in shock and she looked very worried, Chi Yang explained quickly in case she despised and wanted to leave him, “I recovered completely after two surgeries. It’s just that I would still get headaches when the weather changes or it gets gloomy.

1“But these are nothing. I am healthy. As long as you’re willing, I will use my healthy body to continue living this life with you. If you don’t believe me, you can go to the military base to look up my information and my physical condition. Since I can still stay in the base and be the instructor and director-general of the special forces team, I think it’s obvious what my physical health’s like.”

2“...”

“...”

Chi Yang was so stern and strict with his words that Zhong Nuannuan felt helpless hearing all that.

Did he think that she was going to leave him?

“Nuannuan, I am fine. Don’t leave me because of this, okay?”

He did not want to scare his future wife away with such a medical condition just as she was starting to feel good about him.

If he did not have her, he would not feel anything, but he would try hard to make her like him and in the end, fell in love with him.

However, he could not accept the fact that his wife would despise him and leave him for such a reason just after she had accepted him, and they were about to start their happy lives.

There were a lot of cases like that in the military base. The women would leave the soldiers or call off their marriages after they got injured or disabled in battle.

2He was afraid that he would be abandoned.

Zhong Nuannuan’s heart pained with Chi Yang’s words.

This man was like a god in front of her. As long as she did not mention breaking up or divorce, he would stay with her humbly and carefully. He had stayed with her like that for six long years.

Releasing her seatbelt, Zhong Nuannuan turned around and put her arms to hug Chi Yang at his waist. She buried her face into his chest, feeling the warmth of his chest and his strong heartbeat, only then she calmed down and promised him.

“I won’t! I won’t abandon you! No matter what you become, no matter what illness you get, I will never abandon you! I was just worried about you and I wanted to face your illness together with you.”

Zhong Nuannuan’s word startled Chi Yang.

Her face was in his chest, so she did not see Chi Yang’s unfeeling cold face broke into a smile because of her words.

Zhong Nuannuan was worried sick about him. She regretted exposing him so early and airing his weakness out in front of her.

It was her fault for being so impatient.

His illness only went out of control after six years. And now, it was just the beginning.

There were still six years left. She could open him up slowly and let him trust her and believe her completely. When he finally treated her as his, she would start healing him.

4After she was sure of her thoughts, Zhong Nuannuan said, “When you could not control the steering wheel, I was worried that you’re not feeling well so I asked you. You have to tell me if you’re not feeling well.”

Chi Yang caressed the head that was buried in his chest. She was so tame and his gaze on her was gentle. “Alright.”

Afraid that she would not believe him, he added, “It wasn’t an outburst that caused the accident just now. It was because you touched my hand so suddenly. I was excited and did not pay attention to where I was going, which then caused the accident. This will not happen again.”

“We’ll stay together forever, so please don’t get so excited.”

“Alright. Nuannuan, I’m sorry I scared you.”

Zhong Nuannuan shook her head. “I wasn’t scared. I was just worried about you.”

1She had finished asking what she wanted to ask. She remembered that Chi Yang had something to say and removed herself from his arms. "What did you want to say to me?"

Chapter 19: Get Down and Blow!

2

"Hmm?"

Chi Yang was extremely reluctant with the sudden emptiness in his arms and he was not paying attention to what Zhong Nuannuan was talking about.

"We opened our mouths at the same time. You let me asked my question first, what about you? What did you want to say?"

"I just wanted to know the name of the guard that bullied you in prison. Aside from punishing you to repent for ten hours, what else did she do? Did you see any inmates who were close to her?"

She was Chi Yang's woman. How could he let other people bully her? He wanted to investigate who was this person.

There was a knock on the car window when Zhong Nuannuan was about to speak.

Knock knock knock.

Chi Yang turned his head in frustration and gave the person outside the car a cold stare. When he saw that it was the traffic policeman, he rolled down the window a little.

When the traffic policeman arrived, he saw a Land Rover that had crashed into an old tree on the opposite side of the road. He was fuming.

When he was about to scold the driver that caused the ruckus, he was met with a glare as sharp as a knife. It caused shivers to run down his spine.

1When their eyes met, the traffic policeman was startled by his gaze.

The traffic policeman calmed himself down, puffed up his chest and ordered.

"Come down, blow!"

2It was obvious that this man was an experienced driver.

Who would believe that an experienced driver would drive like this without being under the influence of alcohol?

Zhong Nuannuan noticed that her demon had glared at the policeman. She felt embarrassed and put out her head from the side of the window and apologized sincerely.

2“I’m sorry, Mr. Policeman. I was talking to him just now, that’s why he wasn’t paying attention to the road and crashed into the tree. We didn’t drink.”

The traffic policeman saw Zhong Nuannuan through the crack in the window that Chi Yang had rolled down.

The young traffic policeman was startled by her beauty. His gaze lingered on her. He did not move his eyes away from her and he forgot what he wanted to say.

1When Chi Yang saw that his wife was being coveted, he was like a lion whose territory had been taken over. He was furious.

The traffic policeman did not even have time to react when Chi Yang swung open the car door with a loud bang.

The traffic policeman was standing right outside the car. He did not have time to react to the sudden rudeness, so his arm was slammed by the car door and he staggered and almost fell.

When Chi Yang opened the car door, he rolled up the car window at the same time. He got out of the car hurriedly and slammed the car door shut, blocking the traffic policeman’s view to his wife completely.

Zhong Nuannuan got out of the car immediately after Chi Yang when she saw how angry he was. She was afraid that he would beat up the traffic policeman.

When the policeman finally stood firmly, he got angry as well.

The young traffic policeman was about to shove Chi Yang.

It was then he saw Chi Yang’s military uniform and his epaulet with four moons sewn on it. His eyes opened wide and looked like they were about to fall out from his sockets. As he took a closer look on the specific insignia, his arms froze in mid-air and he did not dare to make another move.

When he came to his senses, he immediately stood at attention and gave Chi Yang a proper military salute.

“Good day, sir!”

The young traffic policeman’s heart trembled when his eyes met with Chi Yang’s unfriendly gaze.

Oh no, what did you do?

He just tried to intimidate a captain!

In a military base, a captain's rank held a position akin to deputy chief of staff!

Was there such a young deputy chief in Camino's military base?

Perhaps... Had he run into a fraud?

At this moment, the traffic policeman felt a pang of contradiction in his heart. One of his hands was giving a salute, and the other hand was holding onto the breathalyzer as he contemplated what to do next.

Chi Yang's facial expression grew dark. He looked at the traffic officer's appearance from top to bottom.

After determining this person's strength and appearance that had zero potential, the nefarious fire that was burning in his chest gradually dissipated.

He walked a few steps toward the traffic policeman. Just as the policeman retreated two steps from him out of fear, he reached out and took the breathalyzer from the other party's hand and blew into it.

The reading indicated that there was no consumption of alcohol.

By then, Zheng Nuannuan had exited from the car and saw how frightened the traffic policeman was by Chi Yang. She immediately held onto Chi Yang's hand.

The moment her fingers interlocked with Chi Yang's fingers, his ferocious and stern gaze transformed like a tree turning into spring and spurting water after a heavy rain. The slightly unkind and hostile glare that he gave to the traffic policeman disappeared instantly. Moreover, he plastered on a spring-like expression on his face as he explained nicely,

"Comrade, I wasn't drinking. I had poor maneuvering and got absent-minded earlier and ended up crashing the car into the big tree. Here's my ID, I'll take full responsibility for the penalty given."

The traffic policeman was stupefied by this chief officer's 180-degree change in attitude. He blinked his eyes and did not respond for a short while.

Zhong Nuannuan and Chi Yang's hands were intertwined together tightly. She would pinch his hand from time to time to help soothe his emotions.

Chi Yang behaved like a lion that had been soothed and his mane combed. Despite the unpleasant atmosphere around him, he was able to act like they were all invisible to his eyes.

After seeing that he was emotionally stabilized and was letting out a somewhat indolent sigh, she added, "Comrade officer, I disturbed my fiance earlier when he was driving. He was distracted and that's how the accident happened. I'm truly sorry."

Upon hearing Zhong Nuannuan admitting to the traffic policeman that he was her fiance, Chiyang's heart jumped ecstatically as if it was suddenly filled with flowers.

He liked the feeling of being acknowledged by her!

He liked how she held his hand and recognized him as her own in front of others, as it manifested the feeling of attribution.

However, the traffic policeman failed to notice the smug and proud expression in the chief officer's eyes.

When he opened up his military identification card earlier, not only did it state that he was the Jiang District's military base captain, there were also the five words 'Department of Special Forces Team' written on top of it. The traffic policeman immediately felt sick, and instantly regretted that he had been rude to his idol.

This was the Commanding Officer of the Department of Special Forces Team that he admired the most!