

Physician Wife 161

Chapter 161: You Are Shameless

“Rat-tat-tat... Rat-a-tat-tat...”

The Queen of Spades previously used poker cards to kill people, but this time she clasped a pink helmet under her left arm while shooting everyone massacre-style with a heavy machine gun in her right hand.

By the time the shooting stopped, almost everyone was dead, except for the man in black that had tossed his gun to her.

The man in black knew that he was dead for sure, and his body trembled violently. His tears and snot were mixed together, and he pointed at Zhong Nuannuan while complaining in a shaky voice, “You... You’re shameless!”

This person had previously used poker cards to kill people, so everyone was prepared for him to release the poker cards, so that they would then roll around. However, this shameless person did not use poker cards anymore, and had swapped a machine gun instead! It caught everyone by surprise.

“...Huh?”

The stunned Zhong Nuannuan started to scream as she saw the man in black urinating in his pants. She felt that she must have been too cruel and frightened him out of his wits.

In the end, Zhong Nuannuan decided to let this man go. After all, she had already retired from her brutal ways.

In less than ten minutes, all the gunmen in the club were dead.

However, where was the armory?

She remembered that her father, Zhong Kuijun discovered the armory in her previous life, and because of his major discovery, he eventually achieved a first-class merit like Chi Yang and finally became the captain that he had always longed to be.

Zhong Nuannuan activated her X-ray vision and looked at the ground intently. A moment later, she spotted a man taking an elevator to the ground floor.

When she traced the path of the elevator, Zhong Nuannuan realized that one elevator was completely embedded into the wall.

After that, she looked at the interior and exterior of the wall, and found out that one spot in particular was controlled by a hidden mechanism. Once the hidden mechanism was triggered, the wall could then be opened.

However, in such a large storeroom, how could she know where the hidden mechanism was? Thus, she casually picked up a metal hammer from the ground and slammed it against the weakest area of the wall.

Immediately after, a part of the wall collapsed under the violent force, quickly forming a hole.

After that, Zhong Nuannuan twisted her body with unbelievable flexibility and squeezed her body through the opening. Even so, she could not get her pink helmet inside, no matter how hard she tried.

Therefore, she had no other way choice to place the helmet on the ground and go down by herself.

The elevator never came back up after it went down, so the man had probably tampered with it. She took out a pair of gloves from her bag and kicked the elevator door open, then easily slid down the rope to the ground floor.

Subsequently, she opened the top of the elevator and strutted out.

The passage was very long, and she walked for quite a while before finally hearing the man's voice.

"Big Boss, you can rest assured as our armory has not been attacked. That person is probably from the underworld and has some grudges against us, which is why he killed people without saying a word. I'm the only person who knows about this secret passage, and I've never even told my most trusted men about this. When they were in the shootout earlier, I took the opportunity to sneak in here without being discovered. ...Yes, yes! Okay, I understand. I will keep waiting here for you to arrive, Big Boss. Okay, I won't hang up the video call."

As soon as he finished saying this, a poker card appeared in the man's throat.

Although he was involved with the dealings of the underworld and was usually used to seeing death, he had just seen the subordinate who he was just talking to die in front of his own eyes. The main point was that the armory he had just spent a fortune on had been completely exposed to the enemy just like that. This made Viper's heart tremble with shock.

The next moment, the scene in the video changed, and a 'Queen of Spades' poker card mask appeared in front of him.

Chapter 162: None Of Your Business

"Viper?"

The other party had a lazy voice, and it was too hard to distinguish whether it belonged to a man or a woman. Although the person was wearing a mask, she could guess that the person behind the mask had a breathtaking face.

"How may I address you, sir?"

"That is none of your business!"

Viper frowned, wishing that he could bore a hole into the Queen of Spades with his stare.

After taking some deep breaths, Viper continued, "I, Viper, have been on this road for 20 years, and I've never suffered such a large setback like I have today. I know that I've offended many people, and many brothers from other gangs have long wanted to take my life, but young man, I think very highly of you. If you don't despise me, I can hire you for a large sum of money. You can decide the price. No matter how much it is, I won't refuse!"

"Do I look like I'm stupid?"

Viper was speechless.

He could hear that the cursed Queen of Spades was even chewing gum behind the mask.

"Pop!"

There was a muffled noise.

D*mn it, he was even blowing bubbles!

Viper finally could not hold himself back, and asked angrily, "What exactly do you want? What do I have to do for you to leave my armory untouched? A lot of these arms have already been discontinued and cannot be obtained even on the black market. Even if you take them away, the moment they're used, we'll be able to track you down."

The two people behind Viper stared viciously at the Queen of Spades. Their gaze could almost kill.

"You'll do anything I say?"

"Yes, as long as I can manage it, I'll do it."

"It's simple. Actually, I wasn't even thinking of moving your goods away. If you kneel on the ground and kowtow three times in front of me, I'll forgive your... goods."

Although Viper's expression was distorted, he remembered that the entire room of arms had cost him almost ten billion dollars. More importantly, most of the arms were goods wanted by that person, so not even the slightest mishap could happen to it.

Hence, although he felt angry and humiliated, Viper could only compromise and buy himself some time. "I'm in a car at the moment. I can't kowtow."

"It's okay, don't you have people sitting behind you? Let them hold your belongings, and you can just kowtow on the car seat. I'm not that particular when it comes to formalities."

"Once I kowtow, you'll leave the goods behind?"

"I swear on my character. To be honest, I don't bear any huge grudges toward you, you just look offensive to the eye. Give me a kowtow, and I'll make a recording of the video so that I'll be in a good mood when I watch it every day."

"Okay, I'll kowtow to you!"

At that moment, he was on the chopping block, and he did not dare to publicly take a helicopter there. Even if they moved immediately, his people could only reach the scene in five minutes, which made every passing minute and second precious.

After he finished his sentence, Viper let a person behind him hold his cell phone, while he respectfully did three full kowtows in front of the perverted Queen of Spades.

"I've followed your orders, sir, I hope that you can keep your promise and have some conscience by leaving behind the items in my warehouse. My men will arrive in five minutes, so no matter how fast your people are, they'll be unable to fully move out all the goods in the warehouse. Sir, if you leave right now, there will be no future grudges between us."

"Sure, because you have kowtowed to me, I won't move your items. After all, I despise these items of yours."

After saying that, Zhong Nuannuan took out a timer from her bag and placed it in the armory, then closed the door.

Viper's eyes widened.

"You, you, you... You madman! What exactly do you want to do?"

"Pop!"

It was the sound of another bubblegum bursting.

Chapter 163: Prank

"Didn't you clearly see what I was doing earlier?"

Viper was so shocked that he fell off his seat.

Was this a problem of not seeing clearly?

This lunatic was not thinking of committing a heist against him, he just wanted to destroy all his goods as a mischievous prank! Even if the military base themselves discovered his goods, they would not destroy all these precious items!

"Who exactly are you? What grudges do you have against the Wute Organization?"

The veins in Viper's bloodshot eyes were almost going to pop, and he cast a deadly stare at the young 'man' in front of him, who wore a 'Queen of Spades' mask.

Since when did such a super bored pervert appear in the underworld?

This person had killed so many of his people and even destroyed 10 billion dollars' worth of his goods, but his ultimate goal was just to make him kowtow!!!

This man had crossed the line!!!

After Viper's video was transmitted to the cell phone, the video call that was still in the process of reconnecting suddenly switched scenes, such that the only thing that Viper could see was the ceiling.

"Come back! Come back here! Remove the bomb!"

Viper frantically roared from his end of the phone, but the perverted mask never reappeared on the other end of the line.

Viper slumped to the ground in the car, and the sound of an ear-shattering explosion suddenly came from the ongoing video call. "Boom!"

He was able to feel the earth-shattering shock even from across the phone screen.

There was some distance between the warehouse and the club, so the explosion in the warehouse had caused a shockwave in the streets.

Since it was a high-end club, the club was surrounded by greenery, and residents living in the community were not affected. However, after the residents witnessed such a terrible explosion, they expressed worry about the natural gas pipelines.

Because of this, staff from the natural gas company came to inspect all the natural gas pipelines in the entire area the next day.

Having said that, naturally, this only happened later.

Zhong Nuannuan walked out of the club with swagger as she clutched her pink helmet and munched on chewing gum.

Some of the guests who had been present at the gunfight came out alongside her, their knees weak from fright, making it such that they were not able to leave the scene until later.

When the two valets saw Zhong Nuannuan, they immediately crawled out of their hiding place and handed the scooter keys to her while sweet-talking her.

“Sir, a lot of guests who didn’t drive here wanted to grab your battery-powered scooter to escape earlier, but we managed to stop all of them. Here are your keys.”

“Good job!”

Zhong Nuannuan was a generous person. After she started the battery-powered scooter, she reached into her bag for money, but realized that the bag was already empty. Upon seeing this, she readily threw out a gun that she took from the armory, then rode off on the pink battery-powered scooter.

The two valets did not see the item that was thrown at them clearly, but they knew that it was definitely something valuable, and reached their hands out to catch it.

After they managed to grab a hold of it, they opened it up.

“Ah——”

The valets, who originally behaved as though they had received some valuables, were instantly scared witless, and they tossed the gun to the ground as they fled hysterically.

When the news broke the next morning, Aiden felt that something was amiss. Even so, it was not until after he hacked the highest level in the public security system that he realized that his big boss had destroyed an armory worth 10 billion! The goods stored in this armory were probably the arms that Viper had previously come forward to trade in person, and which the military had failed in their operation to catch him despite suffering heavy losses. It was only after this arms deal bust went wrong that Chi Yang was dispatched to the area.

When she saw the incoming caller ID, Zhong Nuannuan answered her phone. Almost instantly, Aiden let out a deafening roar from the other end.

Chapter 164: Vixen

“Ah ah ah ah ah — Big Boss, you are too much. No wonder you didn’t let me destroy that club yesterday. You, you, you... boohoo. It was so large, so there was bound to be good stuff in it, yet you destroyed it all, leaving nothing for me. You are too much!”

Zhong Nuannuan used her face to hold her phone against her shoulder as she carried a stack of books from the academic affairs office. “What’s so good about that junk? If you really want something, go to Jeffrey’s to pick it out yourself.”

Aiden stammered, “The old guy sells his wares at such a high price...”

Zhong Nuannuan could not resist smiling. She knew that Aiden was going to blackmail her again, but still willingly responded, “Okay, I will report the expenses to you.”

“Then, I want to choose five things!” Aiden immediately picked up the Dragon Slayer knife to cut his boss.

“Less nonsense, choose at least ten things.”

“Oh—”

With a sharp sound, the phone hung up.

Thinking of what she had forgotten yesterday, Zhong Nuannuan called Selena.

“Big Boss, if you have any orders, the little ones will do it immediately!”

She suspected that Aiden’s phone had been on loudspeaker, so Selena probably heard it from the side. At this moment, both of their emotions were soaring at unprecedented heights, so flattery was unnecessary.

“I took another blood sample from Zhong Qianqian and once again did another DNA test in accordance with the previous methods.”

“Yes, Big Boss. After the first lesson, immediately take it to the second stall of the female toilet on this same floor.”

“Okay.”

After hanging up the phone, Zhong Nuannuan walked toward her classroom.

Zhong Nuannuan stood at the door, and the once quiet classroom instantly became rowdy.

After all, the death of Zhou Jinhui had a major impact on the school.

“Yo, look who it is? Can a murderer even come back to school? Being rich is different after all!”

The one speaking was Wu Wenqian, the class monitor. She had the best grades, which was why her seat was the first seat in the first row.

“It’s just a bumpkin from the countryside entering the city. Did you really think that becoming a member of the Zhong family makes you a noble lady? I don’t know what the Zhong family is thinking by actually bailing out this person. It's okay for her not to pay with her life for killing someone, but letting her come back to school... This will surely backfire on the Zhong family. What happens if she seduces another man, consumes their soul, and kills them? Wouldn't that be a pity?"

"Vixen."

The one accompanying Wu Wenqian was her deskmate, Li Shanshan, who was the study commissary of the class.

Jia Yong was very interesting, and was different from ordinary noble schools. Normal aristocratic schools called on children from wealthy families to attend them, but Jia Yong was different. Only half of Jia Yong's high schoolers were noble students, while the other half were known as "scholarship students."

These students had outstanding results, whilst their family conditions were normally very poor.

However, as long as their results from the high school entrance examination surpassed the insane baseline set by Jia Yong, the school would waive all the costs of these students. Subsequently, the noble students' families had to bear these costs.

The school's original intention in formulating this strategy was to allow scholarship students and noble students to help each other out as noble students could learn from scholarship students to improve their learning level and ability. Meanwhile, if scholarship students ever encountered any difficulties in life, they could seek work or help from the noble students.

In any case, the school's original intention was good. It was even praised by the State Education Bureau.

Chapter 165: Arrogance

However, after the practice was implemented, it was found that the scholarship students had failed to motivate the noble students to improve their results. On the contrary, many scholarship students lost their original mentality in this aristocratic school driven by materialistic desires, which led to their results plummeting.

Wu Wenqian and Li Shanshan were prime examples of this.

Back then, these two people were the top and third highest scorers in Jiang District, Qian District, and Wan District. However, after entering Jia Yong, the two gradually shifted their focus from studying to reeling in a wealthy husband.

This was worsened by them being roommates with people such as Zhong Qianqian and Xue Miqi, as the two were always thinking about finding a good man.

Thus, their mentality had changed to believe that no matter how good their grades were, it was all just to enter a good university. Without the help of an influential background, no matter how excellent they were, they would still only find a job that pays of a few thousand yuan a month.

On the flip side, if they could reel in a wealthy husband and become a rich wife, they would have buckets of money to spend even lifting a finger.

Although Wu Wenqian and Li Shanshan were still seated in the first and second seats in the front row, normally occupied by the top students, after this semester, they would have to move.

Having said that, there were also good noble students in their class. After passing the social practice prescribed by the second year of summer school, they were inspired and determined to study hard and lay a good foundation for their family businesses in the future. Their results improved drastically, thus surpassing the two students that they had once looked up to.

As a result, considering Wu Wenqian and Li Shanshan had neither background nor education, Zhong Nuannuan did not bat an eyelid at their remarks. She felt that they would only make themselves look dumb by doing this.

“Report.”

Upon seeing that even though Zhong Nuannuan had been to prison before and lost all her worth, yet despite this, was still ignored them like a stone-cold goddess, Wu Wenqian and Li Shanshan felt a wave of anger surge from within them. It was as if they had been slapped.

“What is this? You’re a murderer and yet you’re so prideful. You think you can act normally after committing murder? With that nasty look on your face, an uninformed person might not even know that you killed somebody. Instead, they might even think that your family was the ones who were murdered!”

“Yeah, look at our Qianqian, authentic, and of famous ancestry. She has always been polite to people, unlike this girl! She’s clearly a pheasant who has added a few feathers and is now pretending to be a phoenix. Fake b*tch!”

“I heard that the Zhong family is now ashamed of her.”

“Well! If you were a murderer, would your mother be proud of you?”

Before this, these two people only dared to say bad things about behind her back. A while ago, she had been stuck moping about in a prison cell, which seemed to have influenced their perception of her. Did they think that being in jail and having her family seemingly not care about her anymore had shaken her self-worth? That it had broken her completely?

She had no deep hatred for the two of them, but they were twisted with anger!

Although she generally did not care about these two mad dogs, Zhong Nuannuan was not the kind of person to just ignore it when people were insulting her.

That was not her style!

She was just about to speak when the vice class monitor, Guo Junhao, who was standing to the side, snorted at their remarks.

“Even if she has been in jail, she is still a daughter of the Zhong family. Her parents could still spend their wealth to allow her to return to Jia Yong to study. What about you guys? What do you guys have? You guys used to have good academic records, but now...” Guo Junhao sneered. “When the time comes for the college entrance examination, do not bother applying for a university if you haven’t yet reeled in a man!”

Chapter 166: Hegemony

Wu Wenqian and Li Shanshan were beaten, but they dared not speak up and verbally attack Guo Junhao. After all, Guo Junhao's family owned a technology company, which was said to now be developing a very promising online game. Therefore, it could also be said that Guo Junhao was one of their prospective targets.

Thus, at this moment, the two of them could only redirect their hatred toward Zhong Nuannuan. They were acting as though they wanted revenge after she had stolen one of their husbands or murdered their parents.

Things would be different if Zhong Nuannuan just so happened to become the school beauty with a good family background immediately after transferring here.

If she was the same as Zhong Qianqian, then fine. However, the problem was that she used to be poorer and even worse off than those "scholarship students".

Zhong Nuannuan was really too beautiful, so beautiful in fact, that people could not help but always turn their attention toward her. These two had tried very hard for a long time but still could not get this kind of attention, yet, Zhong Nuannuan did not need any to expend any effort at all but could still get the opposite sex to direct their gazes toward her.

Every time they saw Zhong Nuannuan, Wu Wenqian and Li Shanshan could not help that this was God's injustice.

After all, Zhong Nuannuan satisfied all the characteristics of Cinderella.

Papapa!

The two were staring at Zhong Nuannuan when Teacher Liu's pointer hit their classroom desk loudly.

"This is a school, not a place for you to gossip. If I hear any more words that are damaging to the relationships of your classmates, you will stand on the rostrum at the side of the class for the rest of today!"

After roaring at the two of them, he looked at Zhong Nuannuan who was standing at the door and his face instantly became sympathetic.

"Nuannuan, you're here. The school is already aware of the court's verdict that you've been wronged. You haven't been to school for more than a month and are surely behind in a lot of homework. The back is too far away, and the teachers of other subjects may not be able to take care of you there. This place just happened to be emptied two days ago, so you can sit here."

Two days ago, one student's grades fell too far and his performance had also not been up to scratch. The student had also beaten a noble-born student and was expelled from the school. Thus, the middle seat in the third row from the front was vacated.

Wu Wenqian was the top scorer for the high school entrance examination, with good grades and high ambitions. After entering Jia Yong, it was originally the difference in status that led to the distortion in temperament. Now, upon seeing how the teacher had criticized them yet was treating Zhong Nuannuan so nicely, the wickedness in her heart could no longer be contained.

“Teacher Liu, it was clear that she had pushed Zhou Jinhui, which led to his death. This is something that all the teachers and students of this school know. She is a morally corrupt person who has no regard for law and discipline, so why isn’t the school expelling her? Is it because her family has money?”

“Wu Wenqian!” Teacher Liu roared angrily.

“Even if Teacher Liu wants me to stand on the rostrum for class today, I still want to finish what I’m saying. Zhong Nuannuan is not only a murderer, she is also placed last in the entire school. Our entire senior year was seated according to our grades, so why is it that Zhong Nuannuan should be treated specially and get to sit in the third row? Are you partial to her because you are afraid that the other classmates will harbor some opinions?”

Zhong Qianqian, who was sitting in the third row, heard Wu Wenqian’s accusations, but in order to prevent her own fragile image that she had painstakingly managed from being damaged further, she could only bow her head whilst maintaining a light smile.

This girl hated Zhong Nuannuan so much! She wanted everyone to know that Zhong Nuannuan was a female watch.

“Who said she was a murderer?”

The incomparably cold voice of a man suddenly interrupted her.

Everyone looked up and saw a bold and assured man in battle uniform walking toward the classroom. He had perfect posture, and every step gave off an awe-inspiring aura.

Chapter 167: A Man That Makes Others Screech

The morning light shone on him, painting the handsome face that practically made others want to screech in awe with a faint layer of gold.

The classroom, which was originally still clamorous, instantly became pin-drop silent.

The man stood by the rostrum, side by side with Zhong Nuannuan. His gaze swept freely across the classroom with dark eyes as deep as the vast sea. This intense stare gave off an unmatched coldness and pressure.

Finally, the man’s eyes fell on the first two seats in the front row.

Where had Wu Wenqian ever seen such a dazzling yet frightening man?

As he glanced over by her quickly, her whole face instantly turned red.

In her mind, this was the ideal man—— a tall and stern adonis of abstinence!

Not to mention, he looked like the male lead from Four Moons* (TN: the author is referencing the Mexican drama, Four Moons) at such a young age. He literally had a director-general level figure! It was a persona that was practically the same as the male lead from TV shows, and some would say that he was even more domineering and handsome than that!

"Were you the one who claimed Nuannuan was a murderer just now?" Chi Yang asked.

Wu Wenqian was still starry-eyed with infatuation, unable to recover from her initial shock. Facing Chi Yang's question, her brain instantly crashed and she could not help but ask shyly.

"You... who are you?"

"I am Zhong Nuannuan's fiancée."

Crash—

A basin of cold water was poured over her head. Wu Wenqian felt as if her heart had been bitten ruthlessly by a cold viper as her face went pale.

"For what reason did you proclaim that Nuannuan is a murderer? Didn't the school show you the court's decision?"

Chi Yang's aura was fully unleashed, the coldness emitting freely from head to toe. The temperature of the entire classroom dropped a few degrees.

The invisible force made Li Shanshan, who was sitting beside her tremble, let alone Wu Wenqian.

Boom!

Finally, unable to withstand the pressure, Wu Wenqian fell back into her chair, her face as pale as a ghost, not daring to say a word.

"Chi Yang, I was looking everywhere for you, but it seems you've already walked in yourself!"

As he said this, Zhong Kuijun walked into the classroom accompanied by the Jia Yong chairman and six vice-chairmen.

"Chairman Li, this is my daughter Zhong Nuannuan's fiancée, Chi Yang."

Before Zhong Kuijun could even manage to introduce Chi Yang, Chairman Li had walked in front of the latter with a beaming smile, warmly extending his hand toward Chi Yang.

"Director-general Chi, hello, I'm Li Weimin, chairman of Jiayong. I'm glad to meet you."

Chi Yang would normally never reach out to shake hands with a person like Li Weimin, as he disliked physical touch.

However, seeing as how this person was the chairman of his Nuannuan's school, Chi Yang reluctantly extended his hand to shake it.

"Hello."

Chairman Li smiled brilliantly.

"Seeing that Chairman Li just so happens to be here, please explain Nuannuan's treatment to me."

When everyone saw that Chi Yang was not going to show any mercy, their hearts sunk and their expressions changed.

The sixth vice-chairman, who was the principal of Jiayong, hurriedly walked over. "Director-general Chi, did something unpleasant happen?"

"Everyone repeatedly promised me before this that Nuannuan would have a proper name at school. We came for an unexpected visit today, just to see if Nuannuan was being bullied at school. Just as I had just come over, I heard these two people saying that Nuannuan was a murderer, right in front of their classmates, and that she should be expelled from school. Does the school ever place emphasis on developing students' characters?"

Before Chi Yang finished speaking, Wu Wenqian gave him a pleading look, begging him not to talk ill of them in front of the school directors. As a result, Chi Yang not only spoke ill of them, but went one step further and berated the school.

Chapter 168: Chi Yang Is My Boyfriend

The faces of Wu Wenqian and Li Shanshan could no longer be described as pale. As they looked back at the faces of the principal and school directors, they felt as though their whole world had collapsed.

"Ms. Liu, just what is going on? The school has already announced Zhong Nuannuan as a student during the morning assembly a week ago. After that, didn't the homeroom teacher of each class notify the students about this matter three or five times throughout classes? Why did such a situation still occur?" The principal looked at the head teacher angrily.

Teacher Liu was also depressed. She had just been slammed by his student, and now she was being scolded by the principal. Thus, he did not plan to protect the student anymore and replied, "Principal, I don't think I can manage these two students anymore!"

"I've nagged them seven to nine times let alone three to five times, but there are some students whose mentality is just twisted and simply will not tolerate Zhong Nuannuan. Not only did she say she is a murderer, she also said that Zhong Nuannuan was a contemptuous existence for the Zhong family.

"I told them not to speak such nonsense, otherwise they would have to stand on the rostrum for the entire class. Nevertheless, the two became more brazen and immediately stood up to express their opposition, announcing that even if they had to stand for the rest of the class, they would still speak their mind.

"Headmaster, these two are scholarship students. They were the top 1 and top 2 students during their high school entrance examination. I suspect that it is because of this that their ego and arrogance are out of control. I feel that I'm completely incapable of managing these 2 students anymore."

Chi Yang blamed the school, the school blamed the teacher, and the teacher immediately pushed the responsibility onto Wu Wenqian and Li Shanshan. Who made it such that these two people would ever make light of her?

"The two of you are too impudent! Not having respect for either the school or the teacher... What kind of students are you? If all students were like you, not a school in the country would survive!"

Wu Wenqian and Li Shanshan both came from the Wan Province. Farming districts had only emerged in the past decade or so, which centralized the agriculture of the entire country of Camino. In doing so, the rural areas of the previously agricultural as well as less developed states had now joined the urbanization process.

As a once-large-scale state city, it could be said that Wu Wenqian and Li Shanshan were golden phoenixes that had emerged from their depths. Having said that, although their results were good, where would they have ever experienced such a situation?

Surrounded by school directors, the headmaster, teacher, Zhong Nuannuan's parents, and her fiancé, and with the other students' sneering eyes slowly cutting them apart, they felt a sense of total abandonment.

The two soon started crying because they could not stand the pressure.

Seeing that the headmaster's next sentence was to expel them, Zhong Qianqian stood up at that moment, and with a righteous tone, said, "Headmaster, Wu Wenqian and Li Shanshan are my roommates. They were intolerable of Zhong Nuannuan because they wanted to uphold fairness toward me. After all... after all, Chi Yang had been introduced as my boyfriend before."

1The voice fell and the whole class was in an uproar.

Although rumors of this matter had circulated before, the man from the legends was actually standing in front of them now, and the students could finally understand why the good sisters would quarrel so awfully because of this man.

"Moreover, Wu Wenqian and Li Shanshan are both good students with good academic performance and behavior, so I hope the headmaster can give them a chance."

Zhong Qianqian's hatred for Zhong Nuannuan had peaked.

It was because of her that she missed Jiang District's first lady, and at the same time, lost two outstanding men, Aiden and Gu Mingzhe.

Since Zhong Nuannuan was making things difficult for her, she would also give the b*tch tough time. Even if she could not get Chi Yang, she would still embarrass the two of them.

She did not think an imposing man like Chi Yang would ever bother explaining anything to such a large crowd. Therefore, after today, the whole school would know that Zhong Nuannuan, the b*tch, had robbed her of her boyfriend.

As Zhong Quijun was about to scold Zhong Qianqian, Zhong Nuannuan, who was normally always under Chi Yang's protection and did not have any chance to display her verbal combative skills, finally saw an opportunity to strike.

Chapter 169: I'm Not Blind

"If you are saying this, do you consider all the men introduced to you before this as your boyfriend too? I've always thought that only stallions are kept for selective breeding, but I never knew that mares are put out to stud as well. Zhong Qianqian, you're really an eye-opener."

"Nuannuan, how can you say such unpleasant words? Where has your ladylike demeanor gone? Where's the school etiquette that you've learned? What do you mean by 'put out to stud'? Is this a term you can use to describe your sister?" Zhong Qianqian seethed.

"Don't you understand? You consider all men who are introduced to you your boyfriends, but when someone else fancies me instead of you, you regard me as the person who robbed you of your partner. Following this line of logic, how many banquets have you attended since you were young, and how many times have you been introduced to someone? If all of these men are your boyfriends, Zhong Qianqian, what are you, if not a breeding horse?"

"You... You still feel in the right even after snatching my boyfriend?"

Zhong Qianqian's body shook with anger. At the same time, Zhong Kuijun felt a sharp headache, wishing that he could just knock Zhong Qianqian's lights out and drag her away.

"I'm not blind yet! Even if I'm blind, I still won't give you a thought!" Chi Yang, who had never spoken up until that moment, uttered those words coldly. His icy gaze stared straight at Zhong Qianqian, which gave her body the chills.

"Hahahaha..." Suddenly, there was a burst of laughter outside the door.

Due to the commotion in the Year 2 Senior class, some classmates from a few other classrooms on the same floor ran over to watch the excitement unfold. When they heard Chi Yang's words, which were like a slap in the face for Zhong Qianqian, the group of people headed by Ye Mengxi laughed wildly.

"Zhong Qianqian, I met Chi Yang on the same day as you, and it's an established fact that Chi Yang fell in love with me instead of you. Chi Yang has been my boyfriend ever since the start, and after your plan to seduce Chi Yang shamelessly failed, you slandered my name everywhere. Have you forgotten that my relationship with Chi Yang is protected by law? If I hear you and your pack of dogs say any more of these remarks, I can prosecute you on the basis of sabotaging a military marriage. When the time comes, we'll let the judge decide whether I've robbed you of your boyfriend!"

"Tsk ts, so it turns out that this army brother has been Zhong Nuannuan's boyfriend ever since the start!"

"Zhong Qianqian is so vicious, how could she let everyone in school think that her sister had stolen her boyfriend?"

"She's not just vicious, she's also shameless, okay? Didn't you hear that Zhong Qianqian once tried to seduce the army brother with aphrodisiacs?"

"Tsk ts, this woman maintains the image of a gentle and dignified goddess all day long, but in reality, she's a pretentious hypocrite from an upper-class family. She's just too disgusting."

As she listened to the discussions around her and looked at Zhong Nuannuan's assertive gaze, Zhong Qianqian trembled with anger.

She was about to say something when she heard Chi Yang say, “Apologize to Nuannuan! Otherwise, like I’ve said before, if you question my relationship with Nuannuan again, and arbitrarily slander the two of us, we’ll see you in military court.”

Zhong Qianqian’s eyes widened. She had never thought that Chi Yang would demand her to apologize in public, or otherwise sue her, just to protect Zhong Nuannuan’s image.

Was he still a man?!

All the students looked calmly at Zhong Qianqian. If she apologized, it meant that she had deliberately slandered Zhong Nuannuan all this while, and that she was immoral and two-faced. Subsequently, she would never be able to keep her head up in school ever again. If she refused to apologize, then she might end up in military court. Even if she was not sentenced to jail, the punishment for slandering a military officer, moreover a high-ranked military officer, was not going to be light.

Zhong Qianqian did not know what to do anymore. Only then did she turn her gaze to Zhong Kuijun, as though she wanted her father to come forward and say some good things on her behalf.

Chapter 170: Skyrocketing Combat Strength

Zhong Kuijun had already felt very humiliated. In addition to this, she had already ruined her chances with Aiden and Gu Mingzhe, so how could he dare to offend Chi Yang just to help her? Hence, he simply turned his head to the side and avoided looking at her.

“All of you are just too much!”

Zhong Qianqian shouted, then she rushed out crying.

While she applauded her own wits for not having to apologize, Zhong Qianqian also felt truly aggrieved.

“Haha!” In the face of such an outcome, the onlooking students burst into laughter.

After Zhong Qianqian ran away, Chi Yang immediately directed his spearhead at Wu Wenqian and Li Shanshan.

“Chairman Li, what do you plan to do with these two students?”

“Students like this are no longer worthy of the ‘scholarship student’ title anymore, and also contradict our original concept of introducing scholarship students. Such students...”

“Sorry, Zhong Nuannuan, it was our fault earlier, and I apologize.”

Li Shanshan was the first to step forward. When Wu Wenqian saw this, she quickly apologized as well.

“Yes, we were wrong earlier.”

“We did that because we all thought that you were the one who had stolen Qianqian’s boyfriend. Now that everything has been clarified, we won’t say such things to you anymore.”

Chi Yang sneered. “Since the two of you have good academic records, and are top students, then you must know that there’s a crime known as defamation! Not all apologies are worthy of forgiveness. Your malicious speech earlier had already caused harm to Nuannuan. Although the two of you are still students, you're already almost 18 years old, or may have even passed the age of 18, and you already possess the ability to fully pay for your actions. Since you believe everything Zhong Qianqian says, if Zhong Qianqian tells you to kill people, will the two of you immediately become executioners?"

Zhong Nuannuan looked at Chi Yang, who was reprimanding the students harshly, and felt that his verbal assault ability had gone through the roof.

This was always the case with her Chi Yang—he was fine whenever he was wronged, but he would never tolerate her suffering any injustice.

As she watched him act an old hen protecting its chicks, Zhong Nuannuan's heart almost bubbled over with warmth.

Faced with Chi Yang's harsh inquiry, both students went mute and did not dare to answer. Their heads were almost buried into their chests.

"Principal Wei, expel these two students immediately." Chairman Li ordered.

"Yes."

Wu Wenqian and Li Shanshan were shocked to the core, unable to even shed their tears. All they could do was stare blankly at the group of people standing in front of the podium, who were all wearing suits and leather shoes.

However, at the end of the day, Chi Yang was a soldier. The integrity in his bones made him feel angry, but he was still unable to watch the former top and third-highest scorers in the high school entrance examination fall to their demise just like that. After a moment of silence, he said,

"Although there's no need to go to the point of expulsion, their punishment should be severe. Otherwise, if every student in the school continues to defame Nuannuan like this, how is she going to live?"

"Yes. If so, what do you think is a better way of resolving this issue, director-general Chi?" Chairman Li asked modestly.

"A record of demerit must be written, and they must do extensive self-reflection and a public apology to Nuannuan in front of all the students and teachers in school. They also have to clean the toilets for one semester."

Wu Wenqian and Li Shanshan were stunned!

The students laughed. "...Hahahaha! This army brother is so cute!"

At the same time, Zhong Nuannuan thought, '...The toilets at the military base must be very clean!'

Chi Yang took out a piece of paper from his briefcase. "This is a photocopy of the court's Judgement. I hope that the school can clear Nuannuan's name at an important morning assembly. If I were to find out again that someone used this issue to criticize Nuannuan, call Nuannuan a murderer, or spread rumors, as a family member, I will legally prosecute that person for defamation."