

Physician Wife 1711

Chapter 1711 Mr. Gu

Huang Zichu had heard before that there was no illness that this pharmacist could not cure. However, they were very elusive.

Therefore, despite him sending in numerous requests, they all went unanswered. The other party simply ignored him.

Recently, he heard that the Imperial Phoenix Group had moved to the country. However, his legs had already atrophied after so long, so he had not immediately looked for them.

Therefore, Huang Zichu's eyes widened when he saw that Eric, the head of one of KE's branches, was actually the general manager of Angel Pharmaceuticals Research Base.

"Hello, Mr. Gu."

Huang Zichu was able to contain his shock and greet Eric properly. After all, Huang Zichu was still young, so he could not help but ask, "Is this the Angel Pharmaceuticals Research Base under the Imperial Phoenix Group?"

Eric smiled, "Yes." Huang Zichu became nervous, "Mr. Gu, then may I ask, is the legendary genius pharmacist from your medical research base?"

Eric was startled. He glanced at the smiling boss then proceeded to explain with a smile, "It seems that the chairman hasn't introduced herself to you. Miss Nangong Nuannuan is the chairman of our Imperial Phoenix Group. She's also the genius pharmacist from the Angel Pharmaceuticals Research Base. This is a separate base for our chairman. Since the chairman doesn't stay on-site, we usually stay behind closed doors. Now that the chairman is going to personally operate on you, his condition will definitely improve."

Eric was one of the rare good-looking mercenaries. His eyes were azure blue-light and beautiful. However, if one were to look into them closely, one would realize that Eric's azure blue eyes were dark and deep. They could easily suck people in.

At this moment, Eric smiled. He truly had the elegance of a gentleman, speaking reassuringly.

The Huang siblings looked at their sister-in-law in shock. It felt like they were dreaming

Nangong Nuannuan smiled at Huang Zichu and said, "Let's go. I'll bring you to the operating theatre."

"Thank you, Sister-in-law!"

Huang Zichu was in a daze. Huang Ziyu, who was also in a daze, pushed his wheelchair forward. They followed Nangong Nuannuan and Eric to the operating theater.

Eric was now called Gu Mingcheng. From being the head of KE's branch, he had now become the general manager of the Angel Pharmaceuticals Medical Base.

Nangong Nuannuan, their boss's fiancé, was actually the ox-nosed, third-ranked in the world chairman of the Imperial Phoenix Group! That huge corporation! More importantly, she was actually the genius pharmacist!

A genius pharmacist who knew how to shoot, was good at martial arts, and was also a chairman!

Their boss... as expected of Boss!

He really knew how to find a good partner!

Holding back the shock and joy in his heart, Huang Zichu was placed on the hospital bed. "Although I have my methods involving silver needles to anesthetize you, silver needles can only anesthetize the epidermis. The bone marrow and meridians in your bones are damaged. Therefore, during the surgery, I'll also give you general anesthesia to prevent you from consciously moving due to the pain. After all, it's a difficult task to resuture blood vessels and meridians."

"Okay," the siblings responded in unison.

"I'm not sure when the surgery will be. After all, this is my first time performing such an operation."

If Nuannuan's words had come from another doctor, Huang Ziyu would definitely not have been comfortable going through with it. However, since Nangong Nuannuan said it, the siblings nodded in agreement without giving it a second thought.

Chapter 1712 Resistance

Nuannuan was stunned. "You're not worried?"

Huang Zichu smiled. "Sister-in-law, my leg is already non-functional. As long as you don't kill me, the result will either be the same as things are now, or it will get better. What else do I have to worry about?"

Nuannuan thought about it and agreed.

"Alright, then lie down. I'll start the surgery right away. Ziyu, you and Mingcheng can wait outside."

"Alright, Sister-in-law. I'll leave my brother in your hands."

Nuannuan gave Huang Ziyu a reassuring look as she left.

Huang Ziyu was very nervous. She knew that even if the surgery failed, it would at most result in no change for her brother. However, as a younger sister, she knew how much her brother wanted to regain control of his leg to be able to stand again.

If the surgery failed this time, her brother would be suffering another blow.

Huang Ziyu restlessly paced around outside the operating theatre on the third floor. In fact, it could be considered outside the laboratory. Suddenly, a glass of fruit juice was handed to her.

She was slightly startled. She raised her head and her gaze met the pair of dark blue eyes that seemed very shallow, but in fact, they were incomprehensibly deep.

“Thank you, Mr. Gu.”

Eric smiled and said to Huang Ziyu, “Since the chairman has agreed to personally treat your brother, he’ll definitely be cured. You don’t have to worry.” Huang Ziyu’s eyes lit up. “Really? But Sister-in-law just said that she has never done this kind of surgery before. How do you

“Because she is the chairman of the Imperial Phoenix Group. She is the legend who established the Imperial Phoenix business empire when she was just 12 years old. I’ve known her for many years. If she says she can do it, you can be sure that she can... Whenever she has said the words ‘I can’, she has never made a mistake. Moreover, she would never do something that she was not at least somewhat confident in. Therefore, based on my understanding of the chairman, she’ll definitely be able to cure your brother’s leg.”

Huang Ziyu stared at Eric with her big, watery eyes, which actually made Eric feel a trace of pity.

This girl was not old-she did not look much older than the chairman. However, this girl’s eyes were glowing with a special light.

Eric’s subconscious avoidance of danger made him shift his gaze away from her.

Huang Ziyu returned to her senses and suddenly realized what she had just done in her dazed state. She immediately retracted her gaze. At the same time, she was surprised that she had unintentionally used hypnosis out of sheer glee.

She was still confident in her hypnosis. After all, when the special forces interrogated their enemies, they would often ask her to help.

Only those with strong willpower would not be hypnotized by her.

For example, her boss, her brother, and top special forces soldiers like Ning Wenhao, Song Qing, and Xiao Shenbin.

Now Gu Mingcheng could be added to that list. As the general manager of the medical research base, he clearly had strong willpower.

Huang Ziyu quickly broke the awkwardness and said, “Really? That’s great. Thank you, Mr. Gu.”

Eric smiled at Huang Ziyu and responded, “Would you like to visit the ward to familiarize yourself with the facilities?”

“Yes, sure.”

Huang Ziyu followed Eric to the ward. This ward was more luxurious than the high-end VIP wards in any ordinary hospital.

Almost everything in the ward was electronic.

Eric switched on a control panel that was in front of the bed and said, “This is the electronic control panel. Once you switch it on, you can direct it via voice control.”

Chapter 1713 Voice Control

“How do I use the voice control system?”

Just as Huang Ziyu finished asking that, the voice of an electronic device rang out.

“Hello, I am an intelligent voice control system. My duty is to help you complete your instructions. What do you need?”

Suddenly, a 3D projection appeared in front of Huang Ziyu.

On it were the options (Ward service), [Body sensation], [Temperature adjustment], (TV), (Voice control network), (Under attack], and more.

There were many sub-choices under each of the main choices.

The voice continued to ring out. “May I know if you need anything? If you need anything else, I can help you contact the main channels.”

“How fancy!” Huang Ziyu stared at the huge control screen with her eyes wide open.

Although she had seen many amazing things as a member of the Eagle Special Forces, this was the first time she had ever seen such a cool ward.

The intelligent voice spoke again. “Thank you for the compliment. If you have any suggestions, you can let me know. My master will continue to improve on me.”

“I want to see all the gossip about Jason Neo.”

When Eric heard the name Jason Neo, his brows raised slightly. He did not expect this amazing girl from the Eagle Special Forces who knew hypnosis was also someone who enjoyed gossiping as entertainment.

That was right. Eric knew Huang Zichu’s identity the moment he laid eyes on him.

Although he did not know Huang Ziyu’s identity, based off of Huang Ziyu’s unintentional hypnosis of him just now, he could tell that this girl was probably the Master Hypnotist of the Eagle Special Forces.

Despite being a special forces soldier with special abilities in the Eagle Special Forces, this girl was actually asking such a fancy system about gossip. Moreover, it was gossip about Jason Neo. Eric felt that this was very interesting

“You like Jason Neo?”

Huang Ziyu covered her mouth and chuckled, and her face turned a little red. “That’s right. I’m sorry for making you laugh.”

Looking at the little girl’s slightly reddened face, Eric suddenly felt that she was very cute.

Previously, Queen had told them that KE had already disbanded. From then on, they would live normal lives. She had even asked them to fall in love, get married, and have children. He still felt that such a thing was impossible for him to ever do.

However, meeting Huang Ziyu made Eric feel like falling in love could not be too bad if it was falling in love with a girl as adorable as this one.

W

Moreover, falling for her would definitely feel pretty good!

Hence, after hearing Huang Ziyu's reply... Eric could not help but add, "I know Jason Neo. If you like him, I can help you get his autograph. If he comes to Camino again, I can even get him to have a meal with you."

"Really?!"

Huang Ziyu, who had initially been very worried about her brother, had been quickly distracted by the intelligent system. Now, she was distracted again by Eric's suggestion.

Eric used Jason Neo to successfully build a bridge of communication between him and Miss Huang Ziyu.

Listening to Eric talk about Jason Neo made Huang Ziyu extremely happy.

Her previously nervous heart gradually relaxed inside the ward.

After Nuannuan injected Huang Zichu with general anesthesia, he quickly fell asleep.

Both his legs had been injured when the bomb exploded.

When the bomb exploded, a lot of broken shrapnel lodged into his legs. At that time, he had been able to save his legs and clean the wounds. He had considered himself lucky enough to not have to amputate them since there was a high chance the shrapnel could have caused severe inflammation.

Chapter 1714 Saving His Legs

It could be said that Chi Yang had tried his best to save Huang Zichu's legs.

The blood vessels and meridians in his legs were injured in many places, leaving his blood unable to flow. His meridians were blocked, causing numbness and pain. He had been unable to walk like a normal person.

Therefore, in order for Huang Zichu to stand up and walk like a normal person, his damaged blood vessels and meridians would have to be cut open. The thinnest thread and the thinnest needle possible would have to be used to suture his blood vessels and meridians. The middle of these blood vessels and meridians had to be hollowed out, while the outer wall was closed.

Ordinary people would not be able to see injured blood vessels clearly, let alone suture them. Therefore, no one dared to treat Huang Zichu's leg.

Even if they were lucky, it would still take about half an hour to open a blood vessel.

After all, this was a delicate job.

There were a total of 17 damaged blood vessels and meridians in Huang Zichu's legs.

Nuannuan finally experienced what it was like to perform surgery on someone.

After all, she did not consider Ning Wenhao's surgery a real one.

To her, only work that required extremely specialized manual skills could be called surgery.

On one hand, blood vessels and meridians were very important and fragile things in the body. They carried out transportation within the body. If one did not have extremely good hand control and one's hand shook even just a little bit, the thread and needle might pierce the wrong location-and if this needle was pulled out, it might cause even more damage.

One blood vessel needed half an hour to be sutured. Even if some of the 17 blood vessels and meridians were not severely damaged, Nuannuan would still have to perform a full seven hours of surgery.

Later on, Chi Yang came to visit. The surgery was still ongoing.

It was Chi Yang's first time coming to the Angel Pharmaceuticals Research Base. He saw that the person in charge of the research base was actually Eric, who had fought against him before and lost so terribly he had run away in a panic. Then, Eric actually smiled at him and called out, "Hello, sir!" Chi Yang knew about his wife's flashy past, so seeing his former opponent on the battlefield here did not faze him much.

After all, KE had already been destroyed. The current KE was not only his enemy, but also the enemy of the Eagle Special Forces and the enemies of Nuannuan and her companions. Of course, at the same time, subordinates who had previously been loyal to Nuannuan... were now their enemies too.

Therefore, when faced with the title of 'Sir', Chi Yang nodded at Eric with satisfaction, expressing his approval of his new identity and the way he was addressing him.

"Boss, I just found out that Sister-in-law is actually the chairman of the Imperial Phoenix Corporation! And she's also that genius pharmacist! You're really too amazing!"

When Huang Ziyu saw Chi Yang, she jumped over like a little fangirl.

Chi Yang had no expression on his face as he looked at this cute little girl. He asked in return, "Why am I the awesome one and not Sister-in-law?"

"Sister-in-law is very awesome, but you're even more awesome! You managed to bag such an awesome woman and even made Sister-in-law love you and rely on you so much that she wanted to treat my brother's leg. You're the best." Miss Huang Ziyu offered all kinds of flattery.

Chapter 1715 Which Eye of Yours?

When Chi Yang heard Huang Ziyu's words, he was very pleased and asked, "Which eye of yours sees that your sister-in-law is very dependent on me?"

This question had always been something very frustrating to Chi Yang. Because his wife was too amazing, she could do everything very well without his help.

Besides being a docile kitten in front of him, Chi Yang knew that Nuannuan was a very assertive female boss most of the time.

Even in terms of wealth, something he was proud of himself about, Nuannuan was better than him. There was no way he could have afforded all the jades she had freely given him had he had to pay for them.

That was why Chi Yang had always felt like his wife did not need to rely on him.

After all, his wife had everything, whether it was martial prowess or money. She wanted for nothing.

However, Huang Ziyu's words struck right at Chi Yang's heart.

"I can see with both my eyes that Sister-in-law is reliant on you! No matter where you are, sister-in-law likes to cling to your side and snuggle up to you. No matter what you say or do, the reliance that Sister-in-law has on you will materialize in her eyes. If not for you, Boss, my brother might not have gotten the luck to be personally operated on by sister-in-law today. Sister-in-law is such a cool and powerful woman, but in front of you, she's like a little white rabbit. Isn't that dependence? If she didn't depend on you so much, Sister-in-law would probably be a fully-fledged boss by now."

Eric listened from beside them and thought to himself, 'Just a fully-fledged boss? She's clearly a Tyrannosaurus rex, okay? The top of the food chain!'

Chi Yang was delighted by Huang Ziyu's words. "Do you really think so?"

Eric could not help but roll his eyes.

Chi Yang had already been trying to deceive himself by asking this question once. Asking it twice was just showing off!

"Mm, I really think so. If you don't believe me, you can ask my brother. Yesterday, I told my brother the same thing."

The surgery went from 10 AM to 5 PM.

After Nuannuan finished suturing all the blood vessels and meridians on Huang Zichu's leg with self-dissolving thread, she broke his dislocated leg bone and reconnected it. After attaching the steel nail splint, she walked out of the operating theater.

"Sister-in-law, how is my brother? My brother, he..."

Huang Ziyu initially wanted to ask whether her brother would be able to stand up in the future, but when she thought about her brother's atrophying leg, she could not bring herself to ask the question.

Nuannuan smiled at Huang Ziyu and said, "I have already straightened out all his leg blood vessels and meridians. After that, I reconnected his deformed leg bones. I used our specially-developed human-like bone to fill in the broken parts and riveted them together with steel nails. When his vessels are completely unblocked, this human-like bone will be able to grow together with his real bones."

As Nangong Nuannuan explained, Huang Ziyu's eyes grew brighter and brighter. Finally, she asked, "Does that mean that my brother's leg can really be healed?"

"Yes." Nuannuan gave her a positive answer.

“But he will still have to suffer for three months and sit in a wheelchair. After three months will be the reconstruction. Because of the blockage in his leg, many parts of his leg have already atrophied. Therefore, though an ordinary person might only need half a year’s time, he might need a longer time. However, he used to be a special forces soldier. His endurance is better than that of an ordinary person’s, so I estimate that his rehabilitation time will only be half a year. It will take nine months for him to be able to use his leg normally again.”

Chapter 1716 Handsome

“However, I’m afraid it’ll be a little difficult to recover to the peak condition of a special forces soldier. Even if he continues to receive acupuncture treatment from me, it’ll still take at least two years.”

Huang Zichu’s leg was indeed severely injured. In addition to that, Nuannuan’s ability was currently very limited, so she still could not see many of his nerve cells clearly. Therefore, she had no way to make Huang Zichu recover immediately.

However, Nuannuan’s words shocked Huang Ziyu so much that her eyes widened and tears started to fall from them.

“Really? Not only will my brother be able to stand up, but he’ll also be able to recover back to his peak condition? Sister-in-law, don’t lie to me! Sob, sob, sob... This is my brother’s biggest dream.”

Nuannuan walked up to Huang Ziyu and reached out to wipe her tears. Her gentle action immediately made Huang Ziyu stop crying. She looked at Nuannuan in a daze, her little heart pounding.

Nuannuan said with a gentle expression, “Don’t cry. If you continue to cry, you’ll become a little kitten. Don’t worry. I’ve already made you a promise. Your Brother will definitely completely recover without any trouble.”

Huang Ziyu looked at Nangong Nuannuan, who was half a head taller than her. Her heart thumped for a long time, and her face turned red. She couldn’t help but say, “Sister-in-law, you’re sp handsome!”

Chi Yang, “...” Eric, “...”

Chi Yang quickly walked in front of Huang Ziyu, blocking her burning gaze, and said, “Zichu is still inside. I’ll go and push him out. Do you have any specialized doctors and nurses here?”

Nuannuan had still been very manly and strong when she was facing Huang Ziyu a moment ago. However, in the next moment, when she faced Chi Yang, she immediately turned into a cute little kitten, her entire body leaning a few degrees toward him unnaturally.

“Big Brother Chi Yang, I’ll bring you in. I have specialized doctors here, but no nurses. The doctors here are doctors from the top five medical schools in Sab. With them taking care of Huang Zichu, there won’t be any problem.”

Chi Yang glanced at his wife and felt like he was Alexander the Great.

In the past, he had thought he was outstanding enough. If he really wanted to be with a woman for the sake of creating a new generation, he felt that he was worthy of any woman.

However, ever since he got together with his wife, Chi Yang had felt that he was not enough.

This kind of pressure made Chi Yang even more determined to strive to do his best.

Him wanting to protect his wife and make her rely on him for everything was a beautiful thing, right?

Nangong Nuannuan had no idea what her Big Brother Chi Yang was thinking. She held his hand and accompanied him to the operating theater.

Eric was dumbfounded as he looked at his boss. He felt like the entire world was merely part of his imagination.

After he realized what was happening, Eric immediately contacted the doctors in the base.

The doctors usually worked and studied in another building. They were not allowed to enter the main building.

It was a great honor for them to be summoned by Eric.

The doctors who were called to the main building to take care of the patients were all very proud. Huang Zichu's case had already been sent to the case mailbox in the deputy building through a 4D scan before the warm-up surgery.

The entire warm surgery had been made public to these doctors.

When the case was first sent to the doctors, all of them thought the surgery would never succeed. They even had an academic discussion about it.

Chapter 1717 Ruined Circulation

However, as the warm-up surgery progressed and these doctors saw Nangong Nuannuan's exquisite hand-stitching of blood vessels and meridians through the omnidirectional image, the entire base went up in an uproar.

This was the first time they were seeing the chairman perform a surgery. They were already full of admiration for her skill in dispensing medicine. At this moment, this kind of hand-stitching surgery seemed so intricate it was almost unreal... The doctors felt inadequate. Now that they had received the news from the nurse, everyone wanted to personally witness how an impossible paralysis case was going to be able to stand up.

All the doctors enthusiastically signed up. Eric chose two of the best doctors to go and observe.

The rest of the doctors also wanted to go. In the end, Eric decided that two doctors would take turns going to the nurse every day. The nurse was responsible for recording the recovery of Huang Zichu's leg daily in detail. Only then did the doctors stop complaining.

This was also the first time that Chi Yang had seen a fully automated ward.

When Chi Yang arrived at Nuannuan's medical research base, he had felt as if he was in a smart hospital from the future.

Huang Zichu slowly woke up from the anesthesia. When Eric told him that in the future, not only would he be able to stand up and walk like an ordinary person, but as long as he was consistent with acupuncture rehabilitation, he would also be able to recover to his peak as a special forces soldier... Huang Zichu was so excited he even grinned at Eric.

It was not until Chi Yang said that Nuannuan had not had lunch yet and that he was preparing to take her out for lunch that Huang Ziyu realized that she would have to stay at the base to guard her brother. Huang Zichu was so excited when she saw that her boss and sister-in-law had left that he had forgotten to tell Chi Yang that this person who had changed his name to Gu Mingcheng was actually Eric, one of the old KE leaders.

However, his boss had already left, so Huang Zichu could only forget about it.

After all, his sister-in-law was not an ordinary person. Since he was able to become his sister-in-law's subordinate, he believed Eric would not come to Camino to do illegal things anymore.

Chi Yang brought Nuannuan back to the Chi family.

When Second Uncle heard that Nuannuan had not eaten lunch, he immediately went to the kitchen to cook for her.

Meanwhile, Chi Yang felt sorry for his wife, who had just completed a full seven hours of surgery. From the moment he got off the car, he had been carrying her and walking. He did not even want her to step on the ground.

He carried Nuannuan from outside the courtyard into the bedroom. Then, he placed her on the imperial consort's bed before squatting down and massaging her legs.

Big Brother Chi Yang's hands were very big, and his fingertips were very strong. When he pressed down, Nuannuan let out a sigh of comfort.

Hearing her warm voice, Chiyang's eyes suddenly darkened.

This sigh was now a trigger to him, and it made him wish he could press her against the bed and have his way with her.

"Big Brother Chi Yang, you don't have to give me a massage. And I'm not tired!"

Standing for seven hours would be too much for a doctor with ordinary physical fitness. In addition, Nuannuan's hands had always remained in position, and her movement had been extremely controlled. After all, she had been sewing up blood vessels and meridians. Any other doctor would have probably fainted by now.

However, for her, this level of tiredness was not a problem at all.

Still, Chi Yang's heart ached terribly, "Even if you're not tired, you still have to let me give you a massage. After standing for so long, all the blood has rushed to your feet, and your circulation is all wrong. Also, your hands have been sewing up blood vessels and meridians. They're such small things, and so delicate. Your hands have to be bent so sharply. If you don't let me give you a massage, your circulation will stay ruined!"

Chapter 1718 Big Bowl of Noodles

“That’s fine. If it really doesn’t work, I’ll just perform acupuncture on myself.”

“You’re a woman, and you’re my woman. You can’t live so roughly!” Chi Yang looked at Nuannuan as he said this seriously and discontentedly.

Nuannuan saw that Big Brother Chi Yang was unhappy, so she quickly got up and put her arms around his neck. Her whole body was nestled in his arms, and she said in a soft voice, “Okay, okay, don’t be angry. I was afraid that you would tire yourself out by giving me a massage.”

“You were afraid I would tire myself out by giving you a massage? But you made me watch as you researched medicine for my comrade for a few days straight. Then, you made me watch as you did a full seven hours of surgery to treat my comrade’s injuries. Wouldn’t you say that my hands aching is worth the heartache you gave me?”

His heart had ached to death!

“Lie down properly!”

After pushing this silly girl back down on the bed and making her lie down properly, Chi Yang continued to give her a massage. Big Brother Chi Yang’s large hands were especially comfortable when it came to massage. Coupled with his extremely good looks, he was like a perfect portrait from the annals of the internet. Nuannuan quickly fell asleep under this extreme comfort.

After Second Uncle finished preparing the dishes, he asked someone to go up and call the couple down to eat. Chi Yang heard him and walked out. He asked Second Uncle to warm up the dishes later and wait for Nuannuan to wake up before making her eat.

Resting was more important for her than eating at this moment.

After he finished, he returned to the bedroom. Seeing that his little girl was about to wake up, Chi Yang laid down on the imperial consort bed too.

This bed was very big. Even if two people were to lie on it together, it would not feel too cramped. He had definitely shaken the bed a lot, but after smelling Chi Yang’s cold breath, Nuannuan closed her eyes and subconsciously shifted closer to him.

After Chi Yang lay down, she naturally moved closer to his body until her entire head was resting on his left arm. Listening to his strong heartbeat, she fell into a deep sleep.

Chi Yang lay on the royal bed with his wife in his arms. He was not tired at first, but he soon fell asleep with his wife in his arms.

When Nuannuan woke up, it was already late at night.

When she opened her eyes, she saw Big Brother Chi Yang gazing at her affectionately.

Nuannuan really wanted to take a picture of his face with her phone to keep as a souvenir. This gaze was the most beautiful, most precious, and most beautiful gaze in the entire world.

“You’re not sleeping any longer?”

Nuannuan looked at the sky outside, a little embarrassed. "Yes, I'm not sleeping anymore. I can't. What time is it now?"

"11:30."

Nuannuan, "..."

"Are you hungry?"

Nuannuan touched her stomach. Actually, she had been woken up by her hunger, so she nodded without hesitation. "Big Brother Chi Yang, let's go out and look for food."

After all, it was so late, and Second Uncle was already asleep.

"Second Uncle stole your favorite stir-fried pork liver today."

Nuannuan's eyes lit up when she heard that.

Second Uncle had inherited Second Uncle-in-law's teachings, so the stir-fried pork liver he made now was no longer ordinary, and no longer just delicious. Thinking about the fat, thick, crisp, and tender pork liver that would leave a fragrant taste in one's mouth after just one bite, Nuannuan could not help but swallow a mouthful of saliva.

"It's so late, and you just woke up. The temperature has dropped a little tonight, so to prevent you from catching a cold, I'll go make you a bowl of noodles and put the pig liver and seasoning in for you, okay?"

At the thought of pig liver noodles, Nuannuan's warm eyes curved into a smile.

"Okay, okay, okay, Big Brother Chi Yang, I want to put more of the pig liver inside!" "I'll put in a whole plate for you."

Chapter 1719 Eat Up

"Yes, yes, yes." As expected, her Big Brother Chi Yang was the best.

Chi Yang looked at the girl languidly laying in his arms after waking up, her entire body emitting an unignorable aura that made people unable to take their eyes off her. She was like a night elf, inspiring people to be unable to extricate themselves from her. They had no choice but to bend down to kiss Nuannuan for how cute she was.

Hugging his soft little wife, Chi Yang initially only wanted to kiss her and then let her go. However, he could not resist it, and the kiss grew deeper and deeper. This time, he was completely unable to restrain himself.

Nuannuan felt Chi Yang's sharp weapon on her body. She was in a bad mood now! Both of her hands pressed against his chest, and her face had on a wronged expression. "Didn't you say you would let me eat? Big Brother Chi Yang, you are not a man of your word!"

She was already so hungry, yet he still wanted to eat her.

However, Chi Yang smiled evilly. He deliberately poked his little girl's body and said, "Oh, you'll be able to eat!"

Looking at him, Nuannuan, “...” This wasn’t the way to the kindergarten! Open the door! She wanted to get out!

Initially, Chi Yang really had been unable to control himself. He wanted to make his wife eat something else first.

However, just as he was about to take the next step, Chi Yang heard his wife’s small stomach growling loudly in protest. Coupled with her pitiful expression that was not even daring to beg for mercy, Chi Yang’s heart finally softened.

He rubbed her head, put on a thick jacket, and went out.

Chi Yang went downstairs quietly. After boiling the water, he threw the noodles inside the pot. On the other side, he took out the dishes Second Uncle had warmed for them in several electric rice cookers, carried the pig liver from the plate into the bowl, and picked out some fresh green onions.

The pig liver was already very tasty, so after Chi Yang cooked the noodles, he used a colander to drain the water, then put the noodles into the big bowl with the entire plate of pig liver, then mixed the noodles.

When Chi Yang carried the large bowl of noodles that even a grown man would not be able to finish into the bedroom, Nuannuan’s eyes lit up as she smelled the attractive fragrance from the massive bowl.

Looking at the bowl that was twice the size of her head and was taller than her own head, Nuannuan smiled like a little mouse that had gotten away with stealing some oil.

“Big Brother Chi Yang is really a good husband who has won my heart! Knowing that I could eat an elephant right now, he gave me such a big bowl of noodles. Hehehe, honey, don’t worry, I will definitely live up to everyone’s expectations and eat all of your... boiled noodles!”

I rem

Just as she was about to finish speaking, Nuannuan remembered that Big Brother Chi Yang, a veteran of the martial arts world, was actually acting like a hoodlum in front of her. Like a child who had just entered kindergarten, Nuannuan did not want to get into any trouble.

Chi Yang, “...”

He glanced at the noodles in his hand that would have been enough for him, Ning Wenhao, and Xiao Shenbin to share. He had originally planned to share the bowl with Nuannuan. The reason why he had made so much was firstly because he thought that the dishes would not be able to keep until the next day, so he wanted to put them to good use. Secondly, he figured that Nuannuan’s appetite would be a little big, so he had made more. However, he was still planning on eating half of the bowl. It would be good if he was unable to finish it all.

Who knew that his wife would actually tell him that she was going to finish this gigantic bowl of noodles... Finish... Finish!!!

The corner of Chi Yang's mouth could not help but twitch. He could not stop himself from asking, "Are you sure you can finish it?"

Chapter 1720 Eating the Whole Bowl

"Yes, yes, yes! If it weren't for the fact that I can't eat the bowl itself, I would have eaten it too."

Was his wife a taotie?

It was said that the ancient fierce beast Taotie had a stomach that could swallow anything.

Chi Yang quietly put the bowl down in front of his wife, then quietly turned around and went downstairs to make himself another bowl of noodles.

It was just one bowl, and it was not the biggest bowl.

After all, it was already so late. He was afraid that he would not be able to digest it if he ate too much.

He carried the noodles upstairs and pushed the door open. He saw that his wife was like a little groundhog, her mouth stuffed full of noodles. In the blink of an eye, the bulging stuff in her mouth was gone, and another large chopstick-ful of noodles was stuffed into her mouth again.

He had initially wanted to ask if the noodles were good, but as soon as the noodles entered her mouth, he heard the little foodie let out a satisfied sigh. That expression of her closing her eyes and enjoying herself after a mouthful of noodles... It made Chi Yang shut his mouth. There was no need to ask her if the noodles were good or not.

Walking closer to his wife, Chi Yang was surprised to see that the large bowl of noodles and vegetables, which was nearly three times the size of her entire head, had been eaten up by her in such a short period of time.

If she was an ordinary girl... let alone eating half of it, even eating a quarter of it would have been difficult. However, his wife could still let out such a satisfied snort after eating half.

At this moment, Chi Yang felt his empty stomach get a little bloated.

"Girl, you've already eaten so much, don't eat anymore."

Chi Yang quickly walked over, put down his noodles, and prepared to take the bowl from Nuannuan.

Nuannuan had just stuffed a big mouthful of noodles with two thick slices of pork liver into her mouth. Her mouth was unable to move at all, and she could only stare wide-eyed at brother Chi Yang's extended hand. Her entire body hurriedly shielded the bowl, her two hands flying over it. She looked at Chi Yang with an expression that said, "If you dare to snatch my food away today, I'll bite you."

Chi Yang, "..."

Looking at his wife's protectiveness, Chi Yang felt like he was training a waiter in this bedroom. "Aren't you full?" Chi Yang looked at the way she ate, which would make most people bloated. He was extremely worried.

At this moment, Nuannuan's mouth could move again. She quickly shouted

“I’m not full yet!”

Chi Yang felt like his whole body was not feeling well. Nuannuan was an illness! It was said that there was a kind of person who never felt full no matter how much food they ate. However, this actually meant that their bodies had already exceeded the limit of food they could accept. Their bodies were in serious danger.

“It’s already so late, you just need to eat until you’re 70-80% full.”

“Then why did you cook so much noodles for me? Didn’t you think I’d be able to eat so much, so you made this much for me? Let me tell you, I’m only 20-30% full now!”

Hearing that she was only 20-30% full, the corner of Chi Yang’s mouth could not help but twitch again.

“I made this for the two of us to eat. Later, I saw that you liked it very much, so I didn’t want to snatch it from you. I went to make another bowl of noodles. I thought that after I came up, you wouldn’t be able to eat anymore.”

“No, no, no, I can eat! Do you believe that I can actually eat as much as I want? Can I eat another bowl?”

...!!!

Nuan Nuan looked at Chi Yang seriously and noticed that the veins on his forehead were throbbing. She took the initiative to admit defeat and said, “Alright, alright. I will definitely not eat anything else after finishing this bowl.”
