

Physician Wife 1791

Chapter 1791: Open Day

Looking at Nuannuan and Chi Yang together, he felt sad, and his heart ached.

Looking at Bai Liyue and Xiao Shenbin together, he was furious. He... wanted to kill someone.

Considering all this... did he like Nuannuan or Bai Liyue?

It seemed like everyone had their own feelings. It seemed like everyone had their own home. What about him?

Feng Shengxuan returned to his room and looked out of the window. He stared blankly at the night sky outside for the entire night.

The next morning, Nuannuan woke up in Chi Yang's arms and saw that Big Brother Chi Yang was looking at her with a gentle gaze.

She smiled sweetly at him.

"Good morning."

"Good morning." The cold lines on Chi Yang's face instantly softened at this warm smile.

Looking at this smile that was even more brilliant than the first ray of sunshine in the morning, Chi Yang said, "Are you still planning to go to the military hospital today?"

"Are you?" Nuannuan asked instead of answering.

"I have a day off today. No matter where you want to go, I can accompany you."

"Today is Parents' Open Day in Lil Sun's school. Big Bro and Eldest Sister-in-law are both busy, so Eldest Sister-in-law asked me to help her attend yesterday."

"Sure. Then I'll accompany you and Lil Sun there."

"Sure."

It was only seven o'clock when the two of them woke up. The school's Parents' Open Day would only open its doors at nine o'clock in the morning, while the students could enter at eight-thirty.

Because they did not live together, Lil Sun was sent to school by the driver, while Nuannuan and Chi Yang rushed over after breakfast. They arrived just in time.

Lil Sun and Lil Ling'er were the same age. They were both five years old and should have been in the kindergarten's intermediate class. However, because Lil Sun had learned too much and understood more than his peers, remaining in the intermediate class would have completely hindered his childhood development.

Therefore, even though Lil Sun really wanted to stay by his sister's side, Nangong Jin had still decided to separate them.

After Lil Sun entered primary school, he took an aptitude test. Although Nangong Jin and Mu Chenxiang had not hired any tutors for Lil Sun, his understanding of words and mathematics had already reached a certain level.

Based on his level of knowledge, Lil Sun should have been able to enter fourth grade. However, knowing that he was only five years old, his parents were afraid he did not have a good enough foundation yet, so they only allowed him to join the second grade.

Today was an open day for parents. It was to let them observe their children's way of life in school and how they got along with their classmates.

Nangong Nuannuan was wearing a pair of Vini white pants today from an issue of Harper's Bazaar. and a white handmade pink floral undershirt with detailed lacing. She also wore a sweater that was the same color as the undershirt.

Her hair, which was usually tied up to get it out of the way, was now draped over her back. She had braided it into a beautiful hairstyle.

She looked a few years older. She was not even 18 years old yet, but at this moment, she looked very womanly.

Chi Yang matched his wife's outfit. He was wearing a light gray shirt and a darker gray knitted coat. He looked elegant and handsome.

From the moment Chi Yang put on his clothes, Nuannuan was mesmerized by him.

She thought that besides wearing nothing, Chi Yang's best outfit was his battle attire. It was impossible for him to look more handsome than when he was in that.

Chapter 1792: That Must Be Him

However, when she saw him standing beside her in casual clothes rather than a military uniform, Nuannuan felt like her eyes were nearly blinded by the handsomeness of the man in front of her.

Chi Yang stopped the car and looked at this little woman's searchlight-like gaze. His eyes were smiling. He opened the door of the passenger seat, welcomed the little woman in, and asked with a smile, "Why are you looking at me like that?"

"Big Brother Chi Yang, you're so handsome! You're really the kind of handsome that could make the sky explode! Tell me, why are you so handsome? You're so handsome, it'll lower my IQ."

Chi Yang could not help but be amused by the little girl's words.

"Okay, I'm handsome, but why will that lower your IQ?"

"Because you're too handsome. As long as you're by my side, no matter what I do, I just want to look at your face. I give you all my attention, so I don't have the IQ to do anything else!"

This girl was completely twisting logic, but Chi Yang liked hearing her talk.

"It's okay. I'm by your side, anyway. If you need to use your brain for anything, I'll let you borrow mine."

“Yes, yes! Big Brother Chi Yang is the best!”

Nuannuan held Chi Yang’s arm as if she was holding a piece of gold safe. She was keeping him warm. The two of them spoke in their private love language no one could understand, and just like that, they walked into Lil Sun’s school with a smile.

This was a premier school with a very good reputation. The school was not one that could be attended just because one’s parents had money or power. Students joining the school needed to have their own skills, in addition to their families having a certain economic and social status.

They either had good grades or were talented in other areas.

Therefore, this school was relatively famous among the premier schools in Emperor District.

At this moment, the parents were entering the school one after another. Nuannuan and Chi Yang entered the classroom through the back door. The door was not too large, so it was only big enough for one person to pass through. It would be very crowded for two people to try to enter at the same time, so Chi Yang let Nuannuan walk in front of him.

Just as Nuannuan was about to walk through the door, a woman wearing a large red mid-lengthmink fur vest squeezed in front of her and entered first.

Although Nuannuan was not hurt by this woman squeezing past her, she still felt uncomfortable being squashed like this. After all, this was very uncouth.

However, thinking about how this was Lil Sun’s school, she did not say anything else. She only frowned slightly.

Chi Yang was about to ask Nuannuan if she had been squashed, but a very fat man suddenly squeezed in from behind too.

He crowded against Nuannuan so hard that she staggered a step forward, as he snatched the opportunity to walk in. Then, he walked up to the side of the woman in red and asked, “Has it started?”

“Is that brat here yet?”

“Look over there! He’s so short. That must be him!”

The woman and the man looked aggressive. Seeing that they were pointing at some boy, Nuannuan guessed that perhaps this couple’s child had been bullied, and they were trying to find the bully. Thus, she tried not to mind their interruption too much.

When the woman pointed at the boy in front of her, the man rushed over aggressively. The woman followed the man and went over.

The other parents who had come to participate in the Parents’ Open Day activities today followed common decorum and watched quietly from the back of the classroom.

Chapter 1793: Are There Not Laws

There was an activity area the same size as the classroom at the back of each classroom, so even if there were many parents around, the room would not be too crowded.

All the parents at the back watched as a couple walked to the front and found a boy sitting in the front row. With no consideration for what he was doing, the man lifted the boy up by the collar as easily as he was lifting a little chick by the beak.

The boy was very confused. He had suddenly been lifted up by a strong force! His eyes were full of fear. Just as he was about to speak, the parents at the back came to their senses and were about to step forward to stop the man's behavior. However, the woman next to him slapped the boy's face before anyone could do anything.

A red palm print instantly formed on the boy's tender face, and the boy loudly cried out.

"What are you doing?"

The boy's mother rushed up from behind, wanting to protect her child, but she was pushed away by the boy's father. She staggered a few times before she eventually came to sit down on the ground.

The woman who had slapped the boy was still not satisfied. She started to slap the boy again. She hit him four more times before she stopped.

When the boy's mother saw her son being hit, she jumped up and pushed the woman who had hit her son. She used all her strength and pushed the woman to the ground. Then, she rose up and slapped the woman's face a few times in return.

When the arrogant woman's husband saw this, he threw the child who had been beaten to the side and kicked at the woman's back.

Fortunately, a group of teachers arrived in time and pulled the parents on both sides apart.

Seeing that a child had been beaten, as well as his own mother, the class teacher was very angry.

"Don't you parents know manners and common decency? You dare to even beat a child! If you have a problem, you can report it to the school. There's no need to attempt murder in public. Are there not laws?"

"Laws? What is law and order, pray tell? This brat extorted money from my son. Don't tell me I can't teach him a lesson! Do you know who I am? Bring up the law one more time! My cousin sister is the young miss of the Xiao family of Emperor District and a daughter-in-law of the Ning family. Are you sure you want to bring up the law?" The man's face was full of anger even when he was facing the class teacher. He did not give in in the slightest. He did not show any regret or contrition despite having hit someone.

He did not stop there. The man also shouted, "Go and find your principal immediately. Even if you hadn't brought up the law, I would have brought this up with him. If I don't teach this brat a lesson today, I'm not the vice chairman of the Hengliang Group!"

The parents at the back had initially wanted to help the child's mother when they saw the man beat her and her child. However, when they heard him mention the Xiao family and then the Ning family... In addition to that, he had even said that he was the vice chairman of the Hengliang Group. Everyone shut up and did not dare to say anything more.

This school was a premier school, so no poor family would be able to send their child there. However, compared to the Ning family and the Xiao family, most of the families sending their children to this school were nothing. The Ning and the Xiao family, as well as the Hengliang Group—a subsidiary of these two families—were not people they could afford to anger.

The homeroom teacher, however, was firm. She quickly helped the crying little boy up and said, “Even if you want to argue, you can’t hit a child! You hit a child, yet you’re still trying to justify your actions?!”

Chapter 1794: I Am Seven Years Old...

“What’s there to be dissatisfied about? We welcome everyone to bring up any issues they might have with the school authorities. You’re a grown man! What’s the point of you ganging up with your wife to bully such a young child?”

“Believe it or not, I’ll slap you if you keep blabbering! What’s wrong with hitting him? He deserves it! He’s already turning into such a bad apple at a young age, joining a gang of bullies to extort money from my son! If you don’t return that money to my son today and apologize to him, this won’t be the last you see of me!” The man fiercely roared.

“Who is your son?” The class teacher was still protecting the hurt student, completely unbothered.

“My son, Yuan Mingbo! This brat has stolen over 3,000 yuan from my son! Why would he need so much money at his young age? It’s simply too vile. If children like this aren’t well-disciplined by their parents, then parents like me have to pick up the slack!” Yuan Mingbo’s mother stood up at this moment, brushed her clothes off, and roared fiercely.

“Li Yangdi, what’s going on? Did you steal more than 3,000 yuan from Yuan Mingbo?” the class teacher asked.

Li Yangdi cried until he was shaking, his voice cracking. “No... No... I didn’t... Sob sob sob sob... it’s... It was Nan Xu... Nan Xu... Sob sob sob sob...”

“You still want to argue?” Yuan Mingbo’s mother had hit Li Yangdi, and now her face was as red with anger as his was red from pain. She shouted at Yuan Mingbo, who was sitting in the last row, “Mingbo, come here! Tell your class teacher who cheated you out of your money.”

Yuan Mingbo heard his mother call him. He was still stunned. He looked at Li Yangdi, whose face had been beaten until it was swollen, and swallowed a mouthful of saliva.

“Say something! Why are you as mute as a fool right now? Who cheated you out of your money? Speak up! Today, Daddy and Mommy will avenge you!”

“Daddy... Mommy... You... hit the wrong person!”

Father Yuan, “...”

Mother Yuan, “...”

“How could we have hit the wrong person? Didn’t you say that the boy who extorted you was some five-year-old kid from your class? He had a bad upbringing, so he decided to try to cheat you out of your money! I really don’t know how his parents raised him! And apparently, he’s some child prodigy! I think he’s just a fool, though!”

“But... But I’m already seven years old! I’m not five years old... Sob sob sob...”

Li Yangdi, who had been beaten until he was sobbing, defended himself.

Father Yuan, “...”

Mother Yuan, “...”

Nuanuan, who was remaining silent at the side, “...”

Chi Yang, “...”

This woman thought that the five-year-old child would definitely be the shortest one in the class, so she beat up the shortest one she could find.

She had not expected a five-year-old child to be able to grow very tall because of good genes, and to grow even taller than a seven-year-old child.

“Who is Nan Xu? Get out here!”

After realizing that she had hit the wrong person, Mother Yuan did not feel guilty at all. She immediately recalibrated her target onto Nan Xu.

As for Nan Xu... It was actually Lil Sun, Nangong Xu.

His surname, ‘Nangong’, was too special. It was different from the other three surnames of the four great families. In the entirety of Camino, only the first-rate family, the Nangong family, had this family name. Other regions and other branches of the extended family did not have the surname ‘Nangong’.

The Nangong family had a very special status in Camino. Therefore, in order to protect the children of the family, whether it was Lil Sun or Lil Ling’er, the ‘gong’ had been removed from their surnames.

Only the principal of the school knew about this. Not even the teachers knew.

Chapter 1795: Apologize

Nangong Nuannuan only recovered from her shock when she realized that the child this woman wanted to hit was her Lil Sun.

This woman had actually wanted to hit Lil Sun just now!!!

“I’m Nan Xu, but I don’t know how to ‘get out here’. If you know how to get lost, then I’d really like to see that!”

Nangong Xu, who was sitting in the second row, stood up. He showed no fear in the face of this couple’s cruelty.

After all, his aunt and his future uncle had come today. He could not possibly be wronged in their presence.

“You’re such a liar! You actually dared to cheat our Mingbo out of his money! I’ll beat you to death!”

After that, the woman raised her hand, about to hit someone again.

The parents at the back were completely speechless. They really wanted to ridicule this couple.

However, when they remembered that Yuan Mingbo’s father was the vice chairman of the Hengliang Group, everyone could only be angry but did not dare to speak up.

Just as this woman’s huge palm was about to hit Lil Sun’s face, it was grabbed by a slender hand the moment before it landed.

The woman turned her head and met Nangong Nuannuan’s harmless gaze.

This woman looked like a vixen, and it was obvious that she was very young. It was impossible for her to be the mother of a five-year-old child. Therefore, this woman immediately imagined some melodramatic plot of Nan Xu’s mother being replaced by this woman, her husband’s mistress, she opened her mouth and cursed loudly. “Let go of me, you b*tch! What right do you have to touch my hand? No wonder this damn kid has cheated and swindled mine despite his young age! It was because his mother was replaced by you, a shameless mistress. He had a mother, but not anymore! Ah... Ah—y-y-you... Let go... Let go! I said let go—”

The woman was still cursing without restraint. Nuannuan was only holding this woman’s hand to stop her from hitting Lil Sun, but when she heard this woman calling her a whore and saying that she was a mistress, her mood changed. She had even said that Lil Sun was motherless and acting like it. Nuannuan was very angry, so she tightened her grip, making the woman scream.

“What are you doing? You’re pissing the heavens off right now! Let me go!”

The man behind the woman saw his wife screaming non-stop because of Nangong Nuannuan. He had initially been stunned by Nangong Nuannuan’s looks, but when he saw that she was not giving him any face despite him being the vice chairman of the Hengliang Group... He decided to teach Nuannuan a lesson.

Yuan Anmin felt like some women just needed to be taught a lesson. ‘If you don’t teach her an unforgettable lesson, she won’t be afraid of you, let alone submit to you.’

Therefore, although Yuan Anmin had taken a liking to Nangong Nuannuan at just a glance, he instantly reacted and decided to teach her a lesson.

Who could have guessed that just as he was about to make a move, Chi Yang, who was behind him, would immediately block him?

“Scram!”

The man glared at Chi Yang and casually spat out the word ‘scram’. Only after he said it did he notice Chi Yang’s appearance and temperament.

Although the man in front of him was dressed in a very casual outfit, Yuan Anmin could sense a powerful aura coming off of him.

Chi Yang's warlord aura instantly emanated. He coldly looked at the man, making the man's legs instantly begin to tremble. The curses that were stuck in his throat could not be uttered no matter how hard he tried.

Mother Yuan's screams continued. Nuannuan only coldly demanded, "Apologize."

Although her wrist already hurt so much her eyes were starting to go black, Mother Yuan was still stubborn.

Chapter 1796: If You Have the Guts

"Apologize? Why should I apologize to you? Your son cheated my son out of his money, yet you still dare to hurt me? Have you eaten a bear's heart or swallowed a leopard's courage? Let me tell you this! If you have the guts, you should kill me here today. Otherwise, after this matter is over, I will destroy your entire family!"

The woman's eyes were bloodshot as she glared at Nangong Nuannuan.

Lil Sun coldly watched this woman peacock in front of his awesome aunt. He could not help but coldly spit out the word...

"Idiot!"

"Little b*stard, what did you just say?"

With a boom, Nuannuan flicked her hand and slapped the woman.

The slap should have been enough to make the woman fall to the ground. However, to prevent herself from getting into too much trouble, Nuannuan still held tightly onto her, keeping her upright.

Thus, this slap almost made the woman's face go askew

"Who are you calling a b*stard? Who are you calling a b*tch? Who are you calling a b*tch? Who are you calling a b*tch?"

"Ah, so you actually dare hit me! Hubby, quickly teach this b*tch a lesson! I want her to die a horrible death!"

Slap! Another crisp slap came her way.

"Who are you calling a b*tch?"

The woman's chin had just fallen back into place. However, in the end, after being slapped by Nuannuan twice, her chin seemed to be stuck permanently askew.

"I think I might not have made myself clear just now. I am the vice chairman of Hengliang Group, and my cousin sister Xiao Yushan is the young miss of the Xiao family and the daughter-in-law of the head of the Ning family, another first-rate noble family. Are you sure that you can contend with two first-rate noble families?"

Yuan Anmin looked at Chi Yang, who was still blocking his way. He knew that as long as Chi Yang kept blocking his way, he would definitely not be able to move, but he believed that this man would definitely let him pass upon hearing his identity.

As for that woman... She was so young that she definitely did not know anything. That was why he had specially revealed his family background and loudly told her about his connections to the Xiao and Ning families.

He did not believe that this man would still dare to stand in his way. He also did not believe that this woman would still dare to be rough with his wife.

However...

"I asked you to apologize. Are you deaf?" Nangong Nuannuan threatened the woman again coldly.

Mother Yuan had heard her husband reveal his identity, but this woman still dared to ask her to apologize. Her eyes were wide, and she could not believe what she was hearing.

"If you stare at me like that some more, I'll dig out your eyes. Do you believe me?"

"Teacher Zhong, when I was teaching that kid a lesson earlier, you came to 'uphold justice'. Why aren't you helping me now that I'm being beaten up? Do you not want to be a class teacher anymore? Let me tell you this! From today onward, you won't have to work at this school anymore. You're fired!"

Teacher Zhong was a teacher with a lot of teaching experience. This private primary school had hired her with a large sum of money. She also had her own pride.

"Yuan Mingbo's parents, the two of you came to class and beat up a child without distinguishing between right and wrong. When you found out that you hit the wrong child, not only did you not apologize, but you just went on to try to hit another child. What you did was terrible. If the school really wants to fire me without any reason because of you, then I won't wait for their notice. I will leave before they can even threaten me. But for now, please apologize to Li Yangdi and Nan Xu's parents first."

Yuan Anmin looked at Teacher Zhong and narrowed his eyes dangerously. "Are you sure?"

"I'm sure!"

"Okay! Go apologize!" Yuan Anmin ordered his wife to apologize, furious.

Chapter 1797: I Did Not Hit Him

Madam Yuan was about to die from anger, but there was nothing else she could do but apologize.

Her face and hands were so painful they felt like they did not belong to her. There was nothing else she could do besides apologize.

"I'm sorry." Madam Yuan glared at Nangong Nuannuan and almost shouted from how angry she was.

"Sorry for what?" Nangong Nuannuan leisurely asked.

"I shouldn't have said that you were a b*tch or a mistress. I shouldn't have hit that Li Yangdi and your son. Can you let go of me now?"

"This is my aunt, and he's my aunt's fiancé. My aunt isn't a mistress! If you don't understand something, then don't pretend like you do. Otherwise, you'll get beaten up for nothing. Who told you to have such a foul mouth?" Lil Sun interjected coldly from the side.

Nuannuan's understanding of Lil Sun's personality reached a new level today.

Whenever she met Lil Sun, he was always with Lil Ling'er. Wanting to take good care of his sister, Lil Sun always maintained a cute childlike innocence with her, like he was a little adult. However, at this moment, Nuannuan felt that Lil Sun was very much like his father, Nangong Jin. He was cold, handsome, and extremely intelligent. He looked very cool and powerful.

If it were not for the fact that this was a classroom and they were arguing with some people, Nuannuan would not have been able to resist kissing him.

After hearing Lil Sun's words, everyone learned that this girl was actually the child's aunt and not some mistress. Looking at the Yuan couple now felt like looking at a pair of twits.

Madam Yuan was so angry that she wanted to wave her hand and give this detestable brat a slap. However, when she thought about his aunt, who was astonishingly strong, and her own hand, which was being so tightly gripped, she had no choice but to give up.

"I've already apologized. Can you let go now?"

Nuannuan really did not want to do anything to this woman in public. After all, this was her first time attending a parent-teacher conference. She wanted to leave a good impression on Lil Sun's classmates and parents. Therefore, after this woman unwillingly apologized, Nuannuan let go of her hand.

"My wife has apologized. Now, can we talk about how your child cheated my son out of his money?"

"I didn't cheat him out of any of his money. He gave me money of his own accord. If you don't believe me, you can ask him yourself." Lil Sun did not accept her slander and defended himself.

"Mingbo, tell everyone and your teacher that you were truly extorted out of your money."

Yuan Mingbo was called out by his father. A trace of guilt appeared on his face, but when he saw the mean look on Nan Xu's face, he went against his conscience and said, "I had a question I didn't know how to do. Nan Xu passed by me and helped me answer it, but he asked me to pay 3,000 yuan in return. If I didn't, he would have someone beat me up."

Lil Sun looked at Yuan Mingbo coldly. Not only was he not angered by what the boy had said, he even looked like he was looking at an idiot.

"Nan Xu, is that so?" Teacher Zhong asked.

"Of course not! I'm a good child. How could I ask someone to hit him?"

"Of course you asked someone to hit him. My son is two years older than you and taller than you. How could you be his opponent?"

Madam Yuan was so angry her heart ached. She fiercely took a step towards Lil Sun. When Nuannuan saw this, she casually shot a glance at her. Madam Yuan immediately retreated in fear. However, her face was still covered in anger.

"I said I didn't hit him, so I didn't hit him."

Chapter 1798: Unbearable

"As for why he was beaten and why he gave me money, a few students at school know. If Yuan Mingbo isn't willing to tell the truth, I also have video proof on why he gave me money and why he was beaten."

Although he was only five years old, Lil Sun's words were very clear. His usual sunny demeanor when he was with Nuannuan and Chi Yang had been replaced with the dignity of a short yet powerful boss. Not only was he not intimidated by this man's fierce threat, but he even looked at Yuan Mingbo and threatened him back.

"Other than the first time you came to pick a fight with me and I didn't record it, every time you looked for me after that, we would hand over the money and the goods, and I would prepare the recording material. Are you going to admit it yourself, or are you going to let me see your face after I reveal the truth?"

When Yuan Mingbo heard this, his eyes widened. He never thought that Nan Xu would be so shrewd as to record everything that had happened to him.

At this moment, Yuan Mingbo's eyes fell under Lil Sun's threat. He weakly tugged at the corner of his father's shirt. "Father, why don't we just forget about this matter?"

Looking at his son's weak appearance and then at the fearless and confident Nan Xu, Yuan Anmin, an old fox who had been in the business world for many years, already knew the truth... His son, who claimed to have been bullied, had actually been the bully.

However, he and his wife had already beaten a boy up and caused so much trouble. It would be difficult for him to back down now.

Yuan Anmin said to Yuan Mingbo, "Son, remember, you are a member of the Yuan family and a relative to the Xiao and Ning families. Therefore, no one can act arrogantly toward us. Even if you were at fault, it is still wrong for them to beat you up. Therefore, I speak out boldly about this. No matter what it is, Father will take care of you."

However, Yuan Mingbo simply kept his mouth shut and did not dare to speak at all.

"As you can see, your son is in the wrong. He does not even dare to tell you why he lost 3,000 yuan and why he was beaten up. That means that I am in the right. So, I hope you can apologize to me. After all, from the moment you entered this classroom, you beat kids up and scolded me. It's been a hit to my reputation. So, I need the both of you to apologize to me."

Lil Sun's words made Yuan Anmin and his wife laugh out of anger.

"Apologize? You hit my son, and you want us to apologize to you? Kid, talk about being a prodigy! Why do I feel like you're just a big idiot?" Yuan Anmin sneered and said, "Let me tell you something. In today's world, good grades are not enough to get you anywhere. No matter how good your grades are and no matter how much of a prodigy you are, you still need your family to have money. When I bankrupt your family, you'll know that even if you're a prodigy, you'll grow up to be a mediocre and useless person once you can't go to school anymore. From then on, you'll always live at the bottom of society."

"So you're going to bankrupt my nephew's family?" Nangong Nuannuan asked with a sneer.

"That's right. Tell me his parents' names and their company's name. I'll show you tomorrow what it feels like to go bankrupt."

"No need for that. I can show you that right now."

Chi Yang spoke up.

This man had scolded his wife, bullied his future nephew, and even shamelessly boasted that he wanted to destroy his nephew's family. As a man, he could not tolerate this kind of behavior!

Chapter 1799: Finally, Silence

Chi Yang called Chi Zeyao before Nuannuan could. He told his second uncle's Shengyang group to make Wu Yuewen kneel in front of him and apologize within five minutes, or else the Wu family would be bankrupted. Chi Yang did not give the vice chairman of the Hengliang Group a chance to make a call. He did not know who he was talking to, but he still said, "The vice chairman of Hengliang Group. His surname is Yuan, and his cousin sister is named Xiao Yushan. Tell the chairman of Hengliang group to empty this person's shares and drive him out of the group, or else I will bankrupt Hengliang Group within a week."

After saying that, Chi Yang hung up the phone before the other party could even reply.

Yuan Anmin was stunned for a moment before he sneered.

"If Hengliang Group was a small company, perhaps I would believe you. It's not a bad habit for young people to show off a little. However, if they show off too much and offend someone they shouldn't, they would be fools.

Hengliang Group was a financial group under the Ning Group. It was a listed group. "As a shareholder, my shares are legally held. Hengliang Group can't illegally take away my shares just because of you. And you definitely don't have the ability to make the entire group collapse!

"But I'm different. Even if you don't tell me where you work and what company or business this brat's parents are in, I can still find out. And once I do..."

Yuan Anmin was still talking when his phone rang.

The call came in less than two minutes after Chi Yang made his call. Yuan Anmin looked at the caller ID. It was his cousin and his biggest backer, Xiao Yushan.

Although she was called his cousin, they were only distantly related. Because his mother was Xiao Yushan's mother's cousin, he had always called Xiao Yushan 'cousin'.

He could only meet this cousin once in a blue moon, and Xiao Yushan was an unexpected cousin to have.

Therefore, when he saw her call, his eyes burst with extreme excitement.

Before he could finish his words, he waved his phone in front of Chi Yang and Nangong Nuannuan and sneered. "Do you see that? This is my cousin! My biological cousin! She is the young miss of the Xiao family, a first-rate noble family, and the daughter-in-law of the Ning family. Her son is a grandson of the Ning family."

Then, he smiled at Chi Yang. "I want to see how you plan to make me hand over my shares and how you plan to make Hengliang Group go bankrupt."

Then, he ignored Chi Yang and Nangong Nuannuan and picked up the phone. He even put it on speaker.

"Sis, you called just in time. I just met two idiots at Mingbo's class's Open Day. They actually threatened me with Hengliang Group's shares, saying that if I was not stripped of them, they would make Hengliang Group go bankrupt. You're the chairman, after all. Do you think you'll take my shares?"

Yuan Anmin had initially turned the call to speaker mode to let everyone know that Hengliang Group belonged to his cousin. What Chi Yang had said just now was a slap in the face.

Unexpectedly, Xiao Yushan's exasperated voice came from the other end of the phone.

"Yuan Anmin, what the hell are you doing? Who did you offend? Do you know that my father and my father-in-law both called me at the same time and asked me to immediately take back your shares?"

Chapter 1800: Who Did You Offend?

"He said that if I didn't take your shares, my Hengliang Group would be destroyed because of you. You are a useless and destructive idiot! Who did you offend?!"

Yuan Anmin, "...?!"

Madam Yuan, "...?!"

Everyone, "...!!!"

Everyone looked at Chi Yang in disbelief.

This man, who was dressed in simple casual clothes despite possessing an extraordinary temperament, could afford to threaten Xiao Yushan, the daughter-in-law of a wealthy family?

No, no! What did Xiao Yushan say just now? She said that her father and her father-in-law called her at the same time! What was that about?

Her father and her father-in-law... Unless the people were mistaken, those two men were the current heads of the Xiao and Ning families, right?

Mother of God!

Who was this man?

With a simple phone call, he proved that even the head of the Xiao family and the head of the Ning family were unwilling to anger him!

Yuan Anmin was petrified.

He could understand every word that Xiao Yushan had said by itself, but they did not make sense to him when strung together into a sentence.

Xiao Yushan did not care about Yuan Anmin's current mood. She did not know what kind of situation he was currently in. She simply said to him, "Yuan Anmin, on the account that your mother is my mother's cousin and because I thought you were a good man who could be trusted, I gave you the chance to buy some shares. But I also said that you weren't allowed to do anything harmful to the Xiao and Ning families while my name was attached to yours or I would never forgive you!"

"Cousin Sis... Cousin Sis!"

"Don't call me 'Cousin Sis'. From now on, I am no longer your cousin! I don't care who you offend from now on, because Hengliang Group will be reclaiming all your shares! Also, don't try to challenge my patience. Don't force the other party into doing something even more outrageous! If anything happens to Hengliang because of you, Yuan Anmin, you know me. When the time comes, your punishment won't be as simple as me just taking back your shares!"

After saying that, she hung up.

"Hello! Hello?!"

Yuan Anmin still wanted to speak, but the call had already been hung up.

Looking at Yuan Anmin and his wife sizing up her Big Brother Chi Yang as if he was a ghost in nice clothes, Nangong Nuannuan revealed a wicked smile.

"Tsk tsk, wasn't he so arrogant when he insulted my nephew for apparently not having a mother? Why isn't the man who threatened to make my fiance lose his job and make my brother's company go bankrupt saying anything now?"

Yuan Anmin and Madam Yuan looked at Chi Yang and Nangong Nuannuan as if they were sizing up monsters. They could not figure out how this man had done so much after just a phone call. Why were Old Master Xiao and Old Master Ning so afraid of him?

Seeing that the two of them were not saying anything... Nangong Nuannuan opened her mouth and said, "Today, we're here to observe our children in class. There will be parent-child activities going on later. If the two of you don't plan to 'settle the score' with any other children, shouldn't you pass this time to the class teacher? After all, before you try to kick her out of the school, you should listen to her a little bit first, right?"

Nangong Nuannuan's words made Yuan Anmin and his wife's faces blush, then turn deathly pale.

If Chi Yang could make Old Master Xiao and Old Master Ning so fearful, how could he let the principal expel this Teacher Zhong, who had been defending them this whole time?

Was this not a slap in the face?

They had come in aggressively, causing chaos throughout the entire class. Finally, after Chi Yang's attack, the arrogant parents quieted down.
