

Physician Wife 1801

Chapter 1801: Just Let It Go

Yuan Mingbo watched as his parents walked out with pale faces and made some calls outside. His dad finally came back into the classroom, but on his way to his seat, he bent down while walking in front of Nan Xu's uncle. He kept smiling at Chi Yang, but Chi Yang did not even look at him.

Initially, Yuan Mingbo was the most arrogant child in his class. He always felt that his classmates were not as well-off as him. However, seeing his father nodding and bowing to Nan Xu's uncle now... Yuan Mingbo was so angry it was as if a ball of fire was burning in his heart.

However, when he thought about what Xiao Yushan had said to him, Yuan Anmin had no choice but to bite the bullet and repeatedly apologize to Chi Yang in front of the entire classroom full of parents.

Xiao Yushan had told him that the man whom he had provoked had an extremely powerful background. If she did not take back his shares, Hengliang Group might really be finished, even if they had the powerful backing of the Xiao and Ning families. The Hengliang Group was no match for whomever Chi Yang had on his side.

Therefore, she had asked him to apologize quickly. As for the shares... If the other party agreed to him being able to keep the shares and promised not to pursue this matter anymore, she would return the shares to him.

Therefore, although Yuan Anmin still did not even know who this big shot he had offended was, he knew from Xiao Yushan that this young man in front of him was definitely not someone he could afford to offend.

He had no choice but to lower his head and beg for forgiveness.

However, no matter how Yuan Anmin spoke to Chi Yang, Chi Yang ignored him.

Although the other parents were afraid of them and no one dared to ridicule them out loud, Yuan Anmin and his wife knew that everyone was laughing at them inside.

Madam Yuan saw this extremely handsome and powerful man completely ignoring her husband, so after meeting her husband's gaze, she had no choice but to look for Nan Xu's aunt.

She walked up to Nangong Nuannuan and glanced at this woman, who could be said to be both extremely beautiful and extremely dangerous. Madam Yuan knew about Nangong Nuannuan's and Chi Yang's relationship.

This woman was too beautiful, so she had managed to seduce such a powerful man. A woman who liked to seduce powerful men was likely also the kind of woman who liked to be pampered and who liked to show off to others.

Although Madam Yuan felt resentful that she had to lower herself in front of this woman, she had no choice but to do so right now.

"Miss, I know that we were in the wrong just now, but look, my husband just apologized to your fiance. Can you tell your fiancé to let this matter go?"

Nangong Nuannuan glanced at the woman and felt that this couple was stuck in an endless loop. If she kept silent like Big Brother Chi Yang was doing, who knew how long they would continue blabbing?

Therefore, in order to get rid of them once and for all, Nuannuan glanced at her and asked, "Do I look like I'll forgive you? If my fiance wasn't more powerful than your husband, would you and your husband have let us off just now?"

"Alright, I'll now invite all the students and parents who want to participate in the Sports Tournament to the playground. The students and parents who didn't sign up for the parent-child tournament can cheer on the sidelines."

Chapter 1802: Model Aunty

The moment Teacher Zhong finished speaking, the students all stood up. Nuannuan immediately walked to Lil Sun's side and walked out to the playground with Chi Yang.

"Lil Sun, your mother told me that you signed up. You did, right?"

"Yep." Lil Sun nodded.

"Your mother is a movie star, and your father is so famous. How do they usually attend your parent-teacher conferences?"

"Usually, the uncle butler comes instead."

"Other children's parents come for the conference, but you only have the uncle butler. Does that make you sad?" Nuannuan asked.

Lil Sun shook his head. "Dad and Mom have special statuses, so it's not convenient for them to attend these things. I'm not a three-year-old anymore! Why would I feel sad about it?"

Nuannuan glanced at Lil Sun, who was so sensible she could barely stand it. She felt that if she and Big Brother Chi Yang were to have a son as sensible as this boy in the future, it would be the most perfect thing in this world.

"In the future, as long as Aunty is available, Aunty will attend your parent-teacher conferences."

When Lil Sun heard this, his eyes instantly curved into little crescents as he smiled.

"Aunty, you're amazing!"

"I know your aunty is amazing. Later, during the competition, you should work hard to impress her." Chi Yang suggested from the side.

"Yes, Uncle!"

Lil Sun saluted Chi Yang, making the eyes of the Yuan couple observing this trio shrink slightly.

Just now, based on Chi Yang's stance and his imposing aura, they had guessed he might be from the military. Now, seeing Lil Sun salute him, they were even more certain.

The parent-child sports tournament was attended by students and parents. The first event was hula hoop hopping.

There were 10 pairs total, with 5 pairs on each side.

The children were responsible for jumping from one hoop into another. There were only two hoops, so after the child jumped into a new one, their parent would have to rush to place the old one in front of them so their child could be the fastest.

This event tested a child's long jumping ability, as well as the speed and accuracy of their parents' cooperation. If the hoop was placed too close to the previous one, the child would be able to jump into it easily, but they would also move too slowly. However, if the hoop was too far, the child would not be able to reach it, and the referee would call them out for missing the jump.

Thus, a careful balance of distance had to be achieved so speed would not have to be sacrificed.

A girl standing behind Lil Sun suddenly patted Lil Sun's shoulder. He turned his head to look at this girl, who then asked coldly, "Nan Xu, can I pair up with you for the three-legged race later?"

Nuannuan glanced at the girl behind Lil Sun. Seeing her 'innocent and expectant' expression, Nuannuan did not say anything.

This was because the girl's eyes were not pure at all. Despite her young age, her eyes were already filled with scheming. After all, children did not know how to hide their emotions well. When the students saw that Lil Sun had a powerful background, it was clear that a few of them were going to immediately try to curry favor with him.

In the face of this little girl's expectations, Lil Sun did not say anything. The girl's mother revealed a gentle smile. "Children nowadays are so precocious. They already start to like boys at girls in the second grade. Back when I was in primary school, we did not know anything. Now, these kids understand everything."

Chapter 1803: Pressuring Lil Sun

The woman got closer to Nangong Nuannuan and asked, "You're Nan Xu's aunt, right? Your fiancé is simply too handsome! I see that you're not that old. You're probably not even 20 yet, right? How should I address you?"

It was not appropriate to directly ask about Chi Yang's identity, so this woman wanted to find out more about him through Nangong Nuannuan.

At the same time, she was trying to get her daughter closer to Nan Xu, since becoming his good friend would definitely be a great thing for their family.

However, whether it was this woman or her daughter, Nuannuan had seen this kind of attitude too many times.

She smiled at the woman. "My nephew is only five years old. Although some call him a prodigy, he is only five years old, after all. His emotional development has yet to reach the level of a second-grade primary school student."

After saying that, Nangong Nuannuan did not speak again. She did not answer the woman's question about her age or address.

Lil Sun looked coldly at the girl behind him who was filled with anticipation. He said, "My partner is Li Xinran."

The little girl revealed a sweet smile. "So it turns out that your partner is Sis. It doesn't matter. I'll go tell Sis about it later."

In her previous life, Zhong Qianqian had also been like this. As long as she wanted something, she always felt like she deserved it unconditionally. Whether it was her fiancé or her family, Zhong Qianqian took everything for granted and was never grateful.

Thus, when she heard the girl's words, Nangong Nuannuan could not help but laugh. She glanced at Lil Sun, wanting to see how he would deal with her.

Who could have guessed that Lil Sun would only glance at her indifferently and ignore her?

The girl thought that that was Lil Sun tacitly agreeing, so she smiled at her mother.

The competition was about to start, so all the parents and children got into position. When the starting pistol sounded, the parents quickly began to place the hoops down in front of their child. The child would jump one hoop forward, and the parents would immediately throw the previous hoop in front of them. The child would then hop to the next one, and so on.

All these parent-and-child pairs were doing well at the beginning. They were all moving quickly. Soon, some completed the 27-yard length and reached the opposite side.

The corresponding parent-and-child pairs on the opposite side set off immediately. They were not as fast as the first team, so the others caught up to them a little, but they still completed the task very well.

The children who were not participating in the tournament shouted with all their might from the sidelines. They all wanted their class to succeed.

The parent and child of the third pair of the event were Madam Yuan and Yuan Mingbo.

Madam Yuan was obviously not in the mood for games. She would either react too slowly to Yuan Mingbo jumping from one hoop to another and not place the hoop in front of him quickly enough, or she would throw the hoop too far.

Yuan Mingbo stepped on the hoop twice because he could not jump that far.

If both his feet landed outside the circle, the whole team would be disqualified.

The teacher was watching from the sidelines and shouting hard, telling Yuan Mingbo's mother to speed up. She should not throw the hoop but gently lay it down. Otherwise, since the hoop was elastic, it would bounce away, and his whole class might be disqualified.

Later, once Yuan Mingbo's mother came back to her senses, she was slightly better. However, because she still had something on her mind, her movements were not coordinated. The other three classes that were competing with them all took this opportunity to surpass them.

Chapter 1804: Declare Bankruptcy

When Madam Yuan saw Nangong Nuannuan, her eyes lit up and she immediately came over in the middle of the race.

"Miss, which family are you the daughter of?"

"Nan Xu's surname is Nan, and you are Nan Xu's aunt. You should also be surnamed Nan, right?"

Nuannuan, "..."

"Miss Nan, as far as I know, there isn't a single family with the surname Nan that is either a first, second, or third-rate noble family in the Emperor District. Even though that man is your fiance, you must come from a powerful family yourself, right?"

Seeing that Nangong Nuannuan did not look like she was planning to reply, the other party thought she had hit the nail on the head. A disdainful sneer instantly appeared on her face.

"I believe you're with your boyfriend because you know how good it is to be part of a powerful family. So, you should know that first-rate noble families are not people that you should provoke. Even if your boyfriend's backing you up now, if he's as powerful as he seems to be, do you really think you'll actually be able to marry him in the future?"

Nangong Nuannuan looked at the child in front of her who had already jumped into the next hoop. She bent down and asked, "How far can you jump? Let me see."

Lil Sun jumped as far as he could.

Then, he turned to look at his aunt.

Nuannuan nodded. "I see. Come back."

"Okay." Lil Sun nodded and went to Nuannuan's side. He did not even look at Madam Yuan.

Madam Yuan realized that she was being ignored. She was very angry. She walked over in a few steps and said, "Miss Nan, I know that you are very proud that your fiance can do anything to our family. But you have to understand that he is only your fiance, not your husband. If you tell him to rescind Hengliang Group's decision, I can give you three million... No, five million! If you break up with him one day, you can at least live on this five million. But if you don't agree... Miss Nan, I can tell you this with assurance. Because you and your nephew are responsible for irreparable losses to our Yuan family, I will definitely get my revenge. Perhaps with your fiance here right now, I can't do anything. But one day, you two will have to break up. Then, with our first-class family's background, we will launch deadly revenge on you and your family. So, I hope you'll make the smart decision today. It won't be difficult for you to quietly take this five million and help us say something. I think anyone who isn't a fool should know the correct decision to make.

Since she was still eight yards away from the finish line, Nangong Nuannuan decided to finally entertain this horrid woman.

"So you haven't learned your lesson and still want to get revenge on me? In that case, I think was husband wasn't harsh enough earlier."

After saying that, Nangong Nuannuan took out her phone and made a call. The call was quickly picked up, and Nuannuan said, "Within a week, I want Hengliang Group to declare bankruptcy."

After saying that, she put her phone back into her pocket. She then smiled and welcomed the classmates and parents coming over from the opposite side. She took the hoop and quickly put it down. Lil Sun quickly jumped in. He had planned to wait until the next ring was put down like the other kids, but Lil Sun, who had just jumped into the ring, realized that his aunt had already moved the ring the moment he jumped.

Chapter 1805: Another Party

By the time Lil Sun landed, the next hoop was already on the ground. Therefore, he did not waste a single second and quickly jumped.

Under shocked gazes from the teachers and students, Nuannuan quickly moved the hoops as Lil Sun jumped. He did not even need to look before they landed under his feet.

Compared to other parents, who waited for their children to jump into a new hoop before they turned around and ran to get the previous one, Nuannuan and Lil Sun were at least three times faster.

Moreover, what surprised the judges was that every time Nuannuan released the hoop, Lil Sun would land right in the middle of it. It was as if he and the hoop were in perfect sync.

Yuan Mingbo had now gone from first place to last place, to second last place, to back to tying with them for first place.

Nuannuan's near-perfect movements immediately captured the parents' attention. As Nuannuan continued with her strategy, the others began imitating her. Although they could not do it as swiftly as her, her method still helped them get a lot faster.

Nuannuan had managed to go from second-last place to first, but she was still tied. In addition to that, the parents were now a lot faster upon trying out her method.

On the other side, the scheming girl and her mother were slightly slower, but they were still able to maintain a good speed.

In the last group, the parents and children worked together. When they reached the finish line, there only a small distance between them and the second placers.

“Aunty, you’re so amazing!”

“Aunty, you’re so beautiful and amazing!”

“Aunty Nan, you look so young. I really want to call you Big Sis!”

The children instantly surrounded Nangong Nuannuan. Each and every one of them were as sweet as honey.

She smiled and spoke to everyone. The parents also smiled and greeted her.

Only Yuan Mingbo’s mother was completely dumbfounded. She still had not recovered from Nangong Nuannuan’s phone call just now.

After all, after experiencing Chi Yang’s wrath, she could not handle being scared anymore.

“Ming... Mingbo, what that woman said just now was just to scare Mom, right?”

Yuan Mingbo glanced at his mother. He felt that she had embarrassed him in front of Nan Xu. He glared at her and ignored her.

However, Yuan Anmin’s rage very quickly extinguished this little light of hope in Madam Yuan’s heart.

After Yuan Anmin received a phone call, he walked over aggressively. Under his wife’s expectant gaze, he gave her a loud slap to the face.

“Stupid woman, what did you do just now? I told you to talk to Miss Nan properly. What did you say to her? Why is another party cropping up now and insisting on shutting down Hengliang Group?”

Madam Yuan, “...”

Although the warm sun was shining on her head, she felt a bone-chilling coldness.

Another... another party???

Chapter 1806: Let’s Pair Up

What kind of power could Chi Yang possess that even the Xiao and Ning families, two first-rate powerhouses, could not handle?

It was one thing if the man had power, but why did his girlfriend seem to have so much too?

Nan Xu...

Nan Xu!

Which family in Emperor District had the surname Nan?

"I'm asking you a question! What the hell are you staring at? What exactly did you say to Miss Nan? Why did she threaten to shut down the Hengliang Group?"

"S-she did say she wanted the Hengliang Group shut down, but did her threat really reach the chairman? Is there even a wealthy family with the surname Nan in Emperor District?" Madam Yuan looked at the surrounding parents, feeling like she had lost all face.

"How the hell should I know? Just now, Cousin Sis called again and said that I was no longer her cousin. And not only did she want to strip me of my shares, but she also wants to take my company and all our real estate away. She said that even if she took them away, it wouldn't be enough to cover the bankruptcy of the Hengliang Group. You're a useless and destructive b*tch! Because of you, we have nothing now!"

However, all of this was useless.

Yuan Anmin's phone rang again, and he hurriedly picked up. After listening to the other side of the call, he shouted, "Damn it!" and ran away, leaving Madam Yuan and Yuan Mingbo behind.

"Hubby! Hubby..."

Madam Yuan's eyes were filled with fear. She did not know what had happened. She quickly got up from the ground and dragged Yuan Mingbo away, not even hello to the teacher.

After Nangong Nuannuan made the call, she had gone to the other side with Lil Sun. After the competition ended, she returned to her seat and ignored Madam Yuan.

Meanwhile, Li Xinran's sister's mother went to the other side and listened to the Yuan couple's conversation.

While she was shocked, she also knew that Nan Xu's aunt and uncle were both bigshots.

No. If Nan Xu's aunt and uncle were so powerful, his mom and dad had to be even more powerful.

Therefore, as long as her daughter clung to Nan Xu, the Li family would definitely reap the benefits.

The next event was the three-legged race. In order to be with Nan Xu, Li Xinjie ran up to Li Xinran and said to her, "Sis, I'll pair up with Nan Xu later. You can go pair up with Yuan Mingbo."

Li Xinran was at a loss.

Previously, she agreed to pair up with Nan Xu. Yuan Mingbo already had a partner, so the teacher came over to coordinate everyone.

"Li Xinjie, Yuan Mingbo already has a partner. I'll arrange for Wang Hongjin to team up with you. Quickly go find him before the competition starts."

Li Xinjie smiled sweetly at Teacher Zhong. "Teacher, I'll be with Nan Xu. My Sis has also agreed to it."

“But your sister has trained with Nan Xu many times, so they know each other’s running style well. If you want to switch up partners at the last minute, you’re going to screw both your sister and Wang Hongjin over, as well as yourself and Nan Xu. The entire class will be slowed down.”

Li Xinjie’s mother suddenly stood up and spoke—

Chapter 1807: Not Easy to Fool

“Teacher Zhong, it’s just a competition between classes. Friendship comes first, and competition second. How could someone play well with somebody they don’t like? What’s the point of the game, then?”

Teacher Zhong was really speechless when faced with these rich and powerful parents.

Just as she was about to retort, Lil Sun stood up.

“But your daughter and I aren’t friends. I never agreed to pair up with her.”

Lil Sun’s words almost made Nangong Nuannuan laugh out loud.

He had not said anything earlier because he wanted Li Xinjie to draw some attention to herself first.

Under her mother’s depressed gaze and Li Xinjie’s reddened eyes, Lil Sun walked up to Li Xinran and asked, “You don’t want to be with me anymore?”

“I do!” Li Xinran quickly nodded.

Although she knew that this would make her aunt and Li Xinjie unhappy, she was ostracized in class because she did not have a mother. Only the little Nan Xu was willing to be her friend. She did not want to lose this friend, so even though she knew that her aunt would teach her a lesson back at home, she still nodded without hesitation.

Although Li Xinran was very afraid of the way her aunt was looking at her, she only bit her lips and did not change her mind.

“Since Li Xinran and Nan Xu have no intention of changing partners, Li Xinjie, you should team up with Wang Hongjin.”

“Teacher Zhong, wait.”

Li Xinjie’s mother quickly walked up to Li Xinran and bent down to say to her, “Xinran, you’re my niece. Usually, Xinjie lets you have anything you want. Why aren’t you willing to let your sister have this small thing?”

“So, in your eyes, am I just a commodity? You should let me decide what I want for myself. I’ve already said that I’m not friends with your daughter, yet you still insist on making me team up with her. What right do you have to do that?”

Seeing that Nan Xu was being so disrespectful at such a young age, even though Li Xinjie's mother was unhappy and felt that this child was too arrogant, she could not say anything. Even Yuan Anmin could not afford to offend his aunt and future uncle, let alone the Li family.

Li Xinjie's mother put on a smile, "Nan Xu, boy, you've misunderstood Auntie. How could Auntie treat you like a commodity? You and Xinran are good friends. You should know that Xinran and Xinjie are sisters, right? Think about it. You're both friends. If you only get along with Xinran but not with Xinjie, wouldn't Xinjie be sad? She and Xinran used to be so close. Could it be that they drifted apart because of you? If you can be friends with Xinran, why can't you be friends with Xinjie too? You should have a good relationship with the both of them. If you're friends with both of them, they'll both be very happy!"

"So you're saying that if I want to be friends with Li Xinran, I have to be friends with Li Xinjie too? And if I want to continue being friends with Li Xinran, I have to pair up with Li Xinjie in this competition?"

Li Xinjie's mother, "..."

Everyone said that children were easy to fool. Why was Nan Xu so hard to fool, then?

She had initially wanted her Xinjie to be friends with this bigshot and not let that little b*tch, her annoying niece, pair up with him. Who knew that this little bigshot would see right through her?

Chapter 1808: Bossy Little CEO

Li Xinjie's mother felt a little embarrassed when she saw many parents looking at her. She smiled sheepishly and said, "Of course I didn't mean that. I just want Xinjie to be your friend too, and for that, you two will have to get to know each other, right? That's why I wanted you to pair up with her. Of course, this is subject to whether you consent to it. Xinran is also Auntie's daughter. They are both my flesh and blood, and I deeply love them both. So, no matter who you become good friends with, Auntie will be very happy."

Lil Sun looked at the woman's face and felt disgusted. He had no intention of giving this woman any face at all.

"You're so biased, but you still claim that the both of them are your flesh and blood and that you love them equally? Auntie, do you think that just because I'm young, I'll be easy to fool? Your Li Xinjie is always recruiting other students in class to bully Li Xinran and me. If not for my good grades and the fact that Li Xinjie needs me to help her with her homework, she might have already beaten me up. Auntie, I think Li Xinjie's worldview is very problematic because she only likes rich people. Her best friend used to be Yuan Mingbo. My relationship with him has never been good, so I'm afraid I can't be friends with Li Xinjie. As for whether I'll stay friends with Li Xinran even though I won't befriend Li Xinjie, that's my business. Even my parents and my aunt don't meddle in my friendships, so what right do you have?"

After saying that, Lil Sun took Li Xinjie's hand and said, "Come, let's go tie up our legs."

Li Xinran was still a little hesitant. After all, she was a little afraid of her aunt. Her father had been away for business for the past few days...

"Let's go! Don't worry about her. She won't dare to do anything to you. If you're bullied, come and tell me tomorrow. I'll make her company go bankrupt."

Li Xinran, "..."

If the family company went bankrupt, would she still be able to attend this school?

Li Xinran glanced at Lil Sun and did not say anything. She silently followed him to find the assistant class teacher to tie their legs together.

The class teacher invited Li Xinjie and Wang Hongjin to partner up.

This was the first time Li Xinjie had been so wronged by Li Xinran. Tears welled up in her eyes.

Because Li Xinjie looked down on Wang Hongjin, and because the little tsundere was unwilling to spend the little bit of time they had before the race training with him, they had no choice but to go back to basics. They would chant, "One, two, one" and move their legs according to that. As long as they followed the rhythm, there would be no problem, right?

Who could have guessed that the two children's steps would be so different in width and Li Xinjie would not be able to maintain a steady rhythm of chanting? Despite the rest of their class being far ahead, Li Xinjie and Wang Hongjin fell down almost every two steps they took, seriously slowing them down.

Fortunately, Lil Sun and Li Xinran were very fast, helping the class not fall too behind. If not for them, Class Three would have placed last.

By the end of the competition, Li Xinjie knew that she had accidentally sabotaged the class. To stop the other students from disliking her and not wanting to be friends with her in the future, she walked to Wang Hongjin's side, in front of all the students, and said, "Wang Hongjin, don't be sad. This is all my fault. "When I was with Yuan Mingbo, he told me to listen to his commands. When he said 'one', we would walk on our unbound legs in tandem. When he said 'two', we would walk on our bound legs together."

Chapter 1809: One Two One

"He would give me the same 'one, two, one' command. We only tried it once, but it worked then. I thought it would be no problem for us to do the same thing now. How could I have known that your rhythm would be so awful?! If I had known, I would have practiced it with you beforehand!"

Their class had suffered a major loss in the competition because Li Xinjie had been unwilling to practice. The students had looked at Li Xinjie disdainfully, blaming her for their loss and feeling very dissatisfied.

Now, upon listening to Li Xinjie's words, they realized that it was Wang Hongjin's fault.

After all, her method had worked before.

As soon as Li Xinjie finished speaking, more than half of the students turned their displeased gazes toward Wang Hongjin.

Wang Hongjin's small face was flushed. He wanted to retort, but he did not know what to say.

When they were racing just now, she had been calling out “one, two, one”, but her footsteps were not in sync with her words. Now, she was pushing the blame onto Wang Hongjin.

Wang Hongjin was angry before. Now, after being provoked by Li Xinjie, he was furious. He stood up and pushed her.

Li Xinjie was pushed so hard that she staggered backward and fell to the ground. Her eyes reddened and tears started rolling down her cheeks.

Li Xinjie’s mother wanted to go over and teach Wang Hongjin a lesson, but then she noticed the other students start to scold him instead. Thus, she chose not to teach him a lesson but just helped her daughter up from the ground.

“That’s right!”

Wang Hongjin’s face turned even redder. Again, he wanted to retort but could not find the words.

Wang Hongjin’s mother was also very angry, but as an adult, she could not go up and start scolding the large group of students.

Nangong Nuannuan watched from the sidelines and said in a low voice, “Children nowadays are incredible. They can do so much even at such a young age. They are simply much more capable than we were when we were kids.”

Chi Yang reached out to hold his wife’s hand. “There are many such people in society who have been raised like this from a young age. However, their development in this regard may present as a limiting factor later on. The little cleverness they think they have limits their development of true, great wisdom. Nan Xu can handle his classmates. You don’t have to worry about him.”

As for Wang Hongjin, that poor child, Nuannuan did not consider helping him out. After all, he was not her responsibility.

“You guys make Wang Hongjin sound so unbearable. Why don’t you try pairing up with me?” Nan Xu suddenly asked.

“Nan Xu, you and Li Xinran were the fastest pair. Don’t swap partners now! You two are the best!” a classmate said.

“Since I’m the best, would you like to try pairing up with me? We’ll follow Li Xinjie’s method of counting ‘one, two, one’ We’ll walk alongside each other and see how we compare. It doesn’t have to be a competition. Let’s just treat it as a game.”

“Okay.” The student immediately agreed.

Thus, these two children were tied together. The other classmate called out “one, two, one” while Nan Xu followed his commands. Although he walked better than Li Xinjie had, the two of them still stumbled.

Chapter 1810: Nan Xu’s Aunt is Invited

The students widened their eyes and asked, “What happened?”

The students were silent.

“Walking with tied-up legs is not a test of how well one can walk. It is a test of how well two children can walk together. When two people have three legs and one of them is a shared leg, they need to cooperate and understand each other. Whether it’s cooperation or understanding, it takes time to get used to each other’s rhythm. If there’s no foundation of cooperation between the partners, it will be impossible for them to work well together. That is why Li Xinjie and Wang Hongjin lost the match. Do you understand?”

Nan Xu’s demonstration and Teacher Zhong’s explanation helped the other students quickly understand what was going on. Subsequently, they all looked at Li Xinjie with contempt once again.

After all, everyone’s opinion of Li Xinran was based on Li Xinjie’s words.

The open day only lasted half the day. In the afternoon, the parents would leave.

Nangong Nuannuan had planned to leave when all the other parents did. However, the class teacher, Teacher Zhong, unexpectedly asked her to stay behind—to head to the principal’s office with Nan Xu.

The principal knew Nan Xu’s true identity, so Nuannuan figured that the principal wanted to discuss his safety in the school.

Unexpectedly, when Nuannuan and Nan Xu entered the office, they saw another teacher, who was next to 30 students standing in the principal’s office with their heads lowered. Behind the children stood their parents. It was obvious that these children had done something wrong, or they would not be so ashamed to face others.

Nuannuan looked at Nan Xu and saw that he did not seem bothered. She could not understand what was going on, so she could only go with the flow.

“You should be Nan Xu’s aunt and uncle, right?” The principal saw Nangong Nuannuan and Chi Yang walk in and hurriedly stood up to greet them.

The principal knew about Nangong Xu’s identity and that Nangong Nuannuan was the eldest daughter of the Nangong family. Furthermore, during the incident regarding the poisoning epidemic, Chi Yang had stepped forward as a public spokesperson twice—one time even sitting right beside the president. Thus, the principal was very familiar with Chi Yang too.

Although many people had seen Chi Yang on television, at that time, he had been dressed in uniform and maintained the demeanor of an iron-blooded soldier. However, today, Chi Yang was dressed casually and even sported a pair of gold-rimmed glasses. His attire made him look refined and elegant. If the principal had not been paying close attention to the matters of the Nangong family, he would not have been able to recognize this iron-blooded general.

The fact that the principal did not choose to brag about his identity gave Nangong Nuannuan a good impression of him.

As expected of a premier school in Emperor District, the principal's demeanor was completely different from the behavior of teachers from the Jiang District's Jia Yong school.

"May I know why the principal has called us here?"

The principal glanced at Nangong Xu, whose expression remained unchanged. He chuckled and asked Nangong Nuannuan and Nangong Xu to sit down. Then, he said, "I've called the two of you here today to talk about Nan Xu's performance in school."
